Voters defy Naxals in their bastion

18 seats in Maoist bastions in Chhattisgarh witness 70 per cent voting

CRPF personnel help an elderly voter to reach a polling station for casting her vote during the first phase of Chhattisgarh Assembly elections, in Naxal-affected Sukma district, on Monday

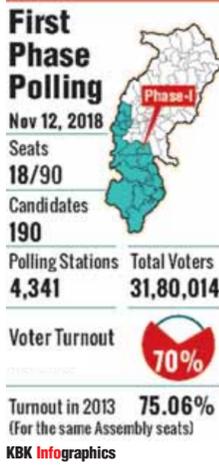

PNS ■ RAIPUR

Chhattisgarh's insurgency-hit 18 Assembly seats witnessed heavy polling on Monday as voters defied Maoists' boycott call. It has set the tone for the Assembly elections in five States that have been viewed as a "semi-final" before the country goes for the Lok Sabha battle in 2019.

The phase-1 turnout was estimated to be 70 per cent and significantly the Maoist bastions in Chhattisgarh recorded the highest-ever voting percentage amid peaceful polling for which about 1.25 lakh security personnel were deployed across eight districts.

Polling officials confirmed that restive areas — Bheji, Chintagufa and Injeram in Korta seat; Pamed and Bhopalpatnam in Bijapur seat — which had track record of almost zero polling recorded heavy turnout right from early hours of voting.

Government officials, political parties and intellectuals described the higher turnout as an indication of "Maoists losing influence in jungle areas where Naxals had a monopoly for over a quarter century".

The voting in 18 seats sealed the fate of 190 candidates, including Chief Minister Raman Singh from Rajnandgaon and his two Ministerial colleagues Kedar Kashyap from Narayanpur and Mahesh Gadda from Bijapur.

Rajnandgaon seat where Chief Minister Raman Singh is locked in a direct fight with Congress candidate Karuna Shukla, niece of late Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee, recorded 70 per cent polling.

Women voters mainly in tribal-dominated forested interiors were seen queued up in large numbers even after voting timing ended.

Chhattisgarh's Chief Electoral Officer Subrat Sahoo said that Khujji Assembly segment registered the highest turnout of 72 per cent and the poll percentage figure could go up after final compilation of voting data.

Union Minister and Rashtriya Lok Samta Party (RLSP) chief Upendra Kushwaha meets expelled JD(U) leader Sharad Yadav in New Delhi on Monday

Wary Kushwaha flexes muscles, meets Sharad

DEEPAK K UPRETI ■ NEW DELHI

Sharing a hostile political relationship with Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, BJP ally Rashtriya Lok Samta Party's (RLSP) president Upendra Kushwaha on Monday met Opposition leader Sharad Yadav, a friend-turned-foe of Nitish Kumar, with a suggestion that he is not altogether averse to switching camps.

Kushwaha met Sharad at the latter's residence and both the leaders were believed to have discussed the current political situation, especially in Bihar, RLSPP sources said. In a tweet, Kushwaha described the meeting as a courtesy call.

Seat-sharing within the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) constituents is not a settled matter even as BJP president Amit Shah last month announced here with Nitish by his side that his party and the JD(U) would contest equal number of Lok Sabha seats with other NDA constituents like RLSPP and Lok Jan Shakti Party (LJP) of Ram Vilas Paswan need to adjust with lower number of seats than they contested in 2014. The RLSP, which had fought three seats in 2014 and won all, is unlikely to be spared more than two seats by the BJP.

Kushwaha has maintained he is ready to "sacrifice" for the NDA and would like Prime Minister Narendra Modi to return to power at the Centre, but wondered as to why he was being kept out of the Nitish Kumar-led JD(U)-BJP coalition in Bihar.

The OBC leader, who is also a Union Minister, has once famously said "Nitish is capable of sinking any boat he rides on." He accused Nitish of conspiring to break the RLSP.

Kushwaha had also attacked Nitish for allegedly insulting him and had targeted him again on Sunday over reports that two MLAs of his party may join the JD(U).

The RLSP leader has kept the seat-sharing pot boiling by meeting rival Lalu Prasad's son Tejashwi with reports that he had sought six Lok Sabha seats but was "assured" only four. But Kushwaha described his meeting with Lalu's son as a Government guest house as a "chance meeting".

Ananth Kumar passes away

Union Minister dies in Bengaluru after battling lung cancer for several months

KESTUR VASUKI ■ BENGALURU

ANANTH KUMAR

← JULY 1959-NOV 2018 →

Senior BJP leader and Union Minister Ananth Kumar, 59, died at a private hospital here in the early hours of Monday, party spokesman said. He was suffering from lung cancer and had come back from the US in October after treatment at the Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Centre, New York. He is survived by wife and two daughters.

The Karnataka Government has declared a three-day State mourning till November 14 as a mark of respect to Ananth Kumar. His last rites will be performed on Tuesday with all Government honour, an official release said.

Ananth had built the BJP in Karnataka and was the sole Member of Parliament from the State.

His political journey began from Vidhyarthi Parishad and graduated through RSS to the national politics. Known for his integrity, Kumar had friends in the Congress and other parties.

As a Union Parliamentary Affairs Minister, his performance was appreciated by all. Even though he was identified as Advani's man, he succeeded in getting close to Narendra Modi later.

Mourning the death of Ananth, Karnataka Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy said, "Kumar's pro-people attitude and activities made him apple of the eyes of people."

"He always valued and had given priority to friendship. I have lost a great friend in his death," he said.

Ananth, was widely regarded as an able political organiser who helped the BJP expand its reach in country's south.

His organisational skills and proficiency in Kannada, Hindi, Marathi and English caught the attention of the party's top leaders like Atal Bihari Vajpayee and LK Advani, who made him a BJP national General Secretary at a young age.

An urban face of the BJP, Ananth was a six-time parliamentarian from the high-profile Bengaluru South Lok Sabha constituency since 1996. He became a Union Minister at a young age (37) in the Vajpayee's Governments of 1998-99 and 1999-2004.

In the 1996 Lok Sabha elections, the BJP denied ticket to sitting MP renowned economist Professor K Venkatagiri Gowda from Bangalore South and fielded a new face, Ananth Kumar. The move raised eyebrows.

CVC files confidential report on Verma graft

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) on Monday filed its preliminary enquiry report in a sealed cover before the Supreme Court against benched CBI director Alok Kumar Verma in view of the allegations of corruption levelled against him by his deputy Rakesh Asthana.

Following allegations of corruption, Verma and Asthana were divested of their supervisory authority in the CBI and sent on leave.

Acting CBI director M Nageswara Rao too filed in a sealed cover the decisions taken by him from October 23-26 with regard to the transfer of investigations and change of investigators of the agency. A Bench of Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi and Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul took both the reports on record and fixed November 16 as the next date for hearing in the matter.

SC to examine/hear case on Nov 16

Sources privy to the CVC enquiry said the report has flagged certain questions with regard to the probe against Verma for which a separate and further enquiry is required. It implies there is no clean chit to Verma and the CVC preliminary report has left it for the apex court to decide further course of action, the sources added.

The CVC and Rao placed three copies of their reports in compliance with the October 26 order of the SC.

"Report of the Central Vigilance Commission with regard to the preliminary enquiry held in respect of the petitioner — Alok Kumar Verma — in sealed cover has been submitted in court by Tushar Mehta, Solicitor General," the Bench said.

Likewise, the apex court noted in its order that the report of the orders passed by the acting director was filed in sealed cover, in terms of the earlier order of the court dated October 26, 2018, by Additional Solicitor General PS Narasimha.

"Both the aforesaid reports are taken on record. All the matters will be considered on Friday next i.e. November 16, 2018," the Bench said.

Abided by DAC to buy Rafale: Centre to SC

Govt submits price details in sealed cover

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Amid raging controversy over the ₹59,000 crore Rafale fighter jet deal with allegation of wrongdoing, the Government on Monday stated in the Supreme Court that it abided by the Defence Procurement Procedure-2013 and due approval was taken from the Defence Acquisition Council and the Cabinet Committee on Security.

The Centre also placed in a sealed cover before the apex court the price details of 36 Rafale fighter jets which India is buying in fly-away condition from France through a Government to Government deal inked in October 2016.

The SC will take up the case on November 14. The court on October 31 had asked the Centre to place before it within 10 days the pricing details of 36 Rafale fighter jets. In the last hearing, the Centre was reluctant to share the price details and Attorney General KK Venugopal had told a Bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi that pricing details of these jets were not even shared with Parliament.

The Centre made public the 16-page document titled "Details of the steps in the decision making process leading to the award of 36 Rafale fighter aircraft order," which stated the process as laid down in the Defence Procurement Procedure-2013 has been followed in procurement of the Rafale aircraft.

SIT summons: Akshay denies allegations through Twitter

Sukhbir says all record of his visits with Govt

MONIKA MALIK ■ CHANDIGARH

Bollywood actor Akshay Kumar on Monday took to Twitter to clear air on the allegations of mediating between the controversial Dera Sacha Sauda chief Gurmeet Ram Rahim and SAD president Sukhbir Badal. Akshay, in a detailed statement issued through the micro blogging website, clarified that he had never met Ram Rahim "in my life, anywhere".

His clarification came a day after the Special Investigation Team (SIT), probing the police firing incidents at Behlbal Kalan in 2015 on the sacrilege issue, issued summons to the Bollywood actor along with former Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal, his son Sukhbir Badal.

Akshay's name was mentioned in Justice Ranjit Singh Commission report on the sacrilege incidents, but the panel could not take cognisance of the allegations as it was not backed by an affidavit by the informant.

The Commission has taken on record a letter and subsequent testimony by one Harbans Singh Lalal, who among other things, talked about a meeting between the Bollywood actor, a senior Punjab politician and Dera Sacha Sauda head Gurmeet Ram Rahim Singh.

He had informed that the meeting was held at the Akshay's residence in Mumbai for the release of Ram Rahim's "Messenger of God" in Punjab before the grant of pardon to the Dera chief as the movie was expected to do business of ₹300 crore, if released in the State.

After the recommendations of the Justice Ranjit Singh Commission report, the Punjab Government had set up a SIT in September this year to probe the police firing incidents at Kotkapura and Behlbal Kalan in Faridkot in 2015 after a series of sacrilege incidents in the state from all aspects. In the police firing at Behlbal Kalan, two persons were killed.

Taking note of the Akshay's alleged role, the SIT had issued summons to the actor to appear before it on November 21 maintaining that his presence is necessary for the purpose of inquiry into the sacrilege and related firing cases and he needed to give such information relating to the same as he may possess.

Denying all allegations, Akshay tweeted, "It has come to my knowledge that some rumours and false statements are being loosely made on social media about my involvement with a person named Gurmeet Ram Rahim in the context of a fictitious meeting involving Sukhbir Badal."

"With all humility, I would like to state that I have never ever met Gurmeet Ram Rahim Singh in my life, anywhere...I learnt from social media at some point that Gurmeet Ram Rahim Singh resided for while at some place in my locality Juhu in Mumbai but we never crossed each other's paths," he added.

Maintaining that he had dedicatedly made films promoting the Punjabi culture and the rich history and tradition of Sikhism, Akshay said that he would "never anything that would even remotely hurt the sentiments of my Punjabi brothers and sisters for which I have utmost respect and love".

He added that his statement "is the utmost and absolute truth" while challenging anyone who can prove it otherwise.

Besides Akshay, the SIT has summoned the then Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal, and the then Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Badal to appear before it on November 16, and November 19 respectively, at Amritsar Circuit House.

The summons orders were issued separately for the three by SIT member and IG rank officer Kunwar Vijay Pratap Singh. Kunwar Singh said that the summons, relating to the investigation of cases originating from the various incidents of sacrilege in 2015, have been issued under Section 160 of the CrPC, requiring attendance at investigation, relating to Bargari sacrilege case, the Behlbal Kalan and Kotkapura police firing incidents.

Badals to join probe

The Badals fathers-son duo, who did not join the probe being carried out by the Justice Ranjit Singh Commission, have agreed to appear before the SIT, after receiving summons.

Even though the SIT was also constituted by the Congress led Punjab Government, the then Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal and the then Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Badal maintained that they are ready to appear before anyone to punish those responsible for 2015 incidents.

At the same time, Sukhbir maintained that the government and the Punjab Police had all information about his visits and meeting as he had Z-plus security, and the police keep record of his all whereabouts, whether in Punjab or in Maharashtra, or anywhere.

"If the government wanted, they can take out all the details about whether he met Ram Rahim in Mumbai," he said in Amritsar.

Capt inaugurates 100-bedded cancer hospital

Announces Oncology training centre in Sangrur

PNS ■ SANGRUR/CHANDIGARH

To take forward Congress Government's mission to provide affordable cancer care to the people of Punjab, the Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Monday inaugurated 100-bedded ultra-modern Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital in Sangrur.

The Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital in Sangrur has been established in association with the State Government, which has also planned a State-of-the-art Oncology Training Centre at the newly inaugurated hospital, said the Chief Minister, who was accompanied by Health Minister Brahm Mohindra and PWD Minister Vijay Inder Singla.

Capt Amarinder also launched a Cancer Prevention Programme for Sangrur district, under which intensive health education on the risk factors and preventive measures of the disease (cervix, oral and breast cancer) and easy access for diagnosis and treatment, would be provided to the people at their doorsteps.

The Chief Minister, who later reviewed the 300-bedded Tata Cancer Hospital being constructed at Mullanpur near Chandigarh, said that the facility will be made functional by next Diwali. He directed the concerned officials to expedite the construction of the hospital.

Capt Amarinder said that a tertiary cancer care centre at Fazilka was being constructed at a cost of ₹29 crore, which would be operational by September 2019. Besides, ₹114 crore State Cancer Institute would be set up at Amritsar. The Chief Minister also announced ₹7 crore for Sangrur Civil Hospital.

Accompanied by Brahm Mohindra and Vijay Inder Singla, the Chief Minister also went around the new Cancer Hospital to check out the facilities, and interacted with doctors and other medical staff.

The Health Minister said that the Punjab Government had taken concerted steps to

- 100-bedded ultra-modern Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital inaugurated in Sangrur
- Government planning State-of-the-art Oncology Training Centre at hospital
- Cancer Prevention Programme for Sangrur district launched
- Directions issued to complete 300-bedded Tata Cancer Hospital at Mullanpur by next Diwali
- ₹29 crore tertiary cancer care centre at Fazilka to be made operational by September next
- ₹114 crore State Cancer Institute to be set up at Amritsar
- ₹seven crore announced for Sangrur Civil Hospital
- Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital to add BSc ICU and Diploma on Oncology Nursing from next year
- CM asks Dr Badhwe to prepare database of cancer patients suffering from various types of cancer with early screening to ensure timely detection and treatment
- CM asks Health Minister to explore possibility of engaging companies supplying medical equipment and infrastructure to the Government hospitals free of cost
- CM asks Health Minister to rope in various philanthropic, NGOs, religious and social organisations strengthen the healthcare facilities and infrastructure in Government hospitals.

He said that 588 doctors would shortly be joining the Health Department, and they would be posted near their residential places to enable them to render their whole-hearted services to the patients.

"All tests of Tuberculosis and Hepatitis-C besides dialysis facility are being provided free of cost in all 22 Government hospitals," said Mohindra adding that the Government was working on a Clinical Establishment Act to regulate the services of private hospitals.

Singla recalled his maiden meeting with Tata Memorial Hospital director Padma Shri Dr RA Badwe on the directions of the then Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh for establishing cancer hospital in Sangrur. "The hospital would provide 66 per cent subsidy on medicines, tests on nominal rates, and free treatment after detection of disease," he said.

Dr Badwe, in his address, said that the Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital had been running five BSc courses through Baba Farid University of Health Sciences and one Master of Science in Histopathology was being added from this academic year.

He added that BSc ICU and Diploma on Oncology Nursing will be added from next year. Meanwhile, reviewing the progress of the Mullanpur hospital in Chandigarh later, the Chief Minister assured the Director of Tata Memorial Hospital Mumbai of all support and assistance to ensure timely completion of the ₹664 crore project.

Expressing concern over the high incidence of cancer in the State, especially in southern Punjab, the Chief Minister asked Dr Badhwe to further intensify their efforts to prepare database of cancer patients suffering from various types of cancer, with early screening to ensure timely detection and treatment.

Capt Amarinder also asked the Health Minister to explore the possibility of engaging companies supplying medical equipment and infrastructure to the Government hospitals free of cost to further augment state's efforts to ensure affordable and hassle-free treatment to the poor and needy.

He also asked the Health Minister to rope in various philanthropic, NGOs, religious and social organisations for this purpose.

Punjab Coop Dept to channelise energies on financial revival of cooperative societies

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Chandigarh: Punjab Cooperation Minister Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa on Monday directed Deputy Registrars of all the districts to channelise all their energies on the financial resuscitation of the cooperative societies. The directions were issued by the Minister while chairing a meeting of all the Regional Officers of the Department.

On the occasion, the State Additional Chief Secretary (Cooperation) and Agriculture Viswajeet Khanna, said that Markfed and IFFCO jointly supply 50 per cent fertilizers through the Cooperation Department whereas in the distribution of agricultural chemicals, this share comes down to less than 10 per cent.

"That makes it important that the top quality agricultural chemicals manufactured by the international companies and accredited by the Punjab Agriculture University (PAU), which are in great demand by the farmers, must be made available through Markfed to the cooperative societies along with the products manufactured by the Markfed," said Khanna. ## OP Soni accuses teachers' unions for 'using teachers for vested interests'

PNS ■ SAS NAGAR /CHANDIGARH

Mincing no words against the teachers' unions leading protest against the Government, Punjab Education Minister OP Soni on Monday said that these unions are using teachers for their vested interests.

Soni, during a function to give away appointment letters to SSA and other societies teachers at Punjab School Education Board, said the State Government has given both options to the teachers to continue their services under the societies or take the opportunity to regularise their services in the Education Department.

Teachers, under a joint front of various unions, have been protesting since October 7 against the State Government's proposal to regularise their services with a pay cut for first three years. The teachers have been demanding regularisation of their services with complete salary.

NEWLY APPOINTED TEACHERS WOULD BE GIVEN A CHOICE TO CHOOSE THE STATIONS

Later, Soni handed over the appointment letters to 650 teachers, who choose the option to regularise their services with the Education Department from Sarva Sikhya Abhiyan (SSA) and other societies.

Notably, the Punjab Government has issued the notification for regular appointments of teachers.

Till date, thousands of teachers, who clicked this option between October 8 and 23 have been given appointment letters.

Exhorting the teachers, Soni categorically said that newly appointed teachers would be given a choice to choose the stations.

Statewide campaign against drug abuse soon, says Himachal CM

PNS ■ SHIMLA

Drug abuse is a serious social problem and to prevent this evil, every person of the society must contribute significantly, Himachal Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur said on Monday.

He said a major campaign would be launched against drug abuse in the State and during this period awareness will be spread among children, youth of different educational institutions and all the people of the society against the drug abuse.

Presiding over a symposium organised by Sunil Upadhyaya Educational Trust here, the Chief Minister said that the State Government was concerned over the problem of drug abuse by a large number of youth and is constantly trying to curb the evil.

He said that although many laws are in force to punish drug peddling but there is a dire need to implement these laws effectively, adding that if the need arises the law would be made more stringent, so that the enemies of the younger generation can be put behind the bars.

Thakur said that one-third cases of the drugs trafficking registered in the State have neighbouring States connection, which is also a cause of concern for the Government, adding that time has come to launch a big campaign across the country against drug abuse.

SAD demands Cong Govt to release DA installments, arrears

PNS ■ SANGRUR/CHANDIGARH

Chandigarh: Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) on Monday took on the Congress-led Punjab Government on the issues pertaining to the government employees while demanding to immediately release the Dearness Allowance (DA) installments along with arrears of ₹4,000 crore besides regularizing services of all contractual employees as per the Act passed by the erstwhile SAD-BJP government.

The party also demanded speedy submission of the Sixth Punjab Pay Commission report. To force the Government to accept the genuine demands of employees, the Akali Dal has announced to meet all employee leaders and come out with a joint agitation programme. PNS

Capt assures farmers of lifting their every grain from mandis

PNS ■ SANGRUR/CHANDIGARH

Punjab Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Monday reiterated his Government's commitment to ensure that every single grain of the farmers is lifted from the mandis.

"I have already written to the Union Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution to resolve the moisture content issue," he said, adding that the problem had arisen due to untimely and excessive rainfall just ahead of the harvest.

Capt Amarinder, while addressing the media after inaugurating the Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital, said that in his communication to the Union Minister, he had sought diriage at the rate of 2 per cent instead of one percent of the minimum support price (MSP) so as to ensure hassle-free and uninterrupted procurement for the remaining Kharif Season.

On the issue of shortage of doctors in the Government hospitals, the Chief Minister said that 588 doctors would be posted shortly in all hospitals.

He said that he was in favour of posting of doctors close to their place of residence to ensure more effective functioning.

To a question on the ongoing teachers' protest, the Chief Minister said that the Government had given a fair offer to teachers to either join regular services as probationers or continue on contract basis, and "it is up to them now to accept or reject the offer".

Regarding the poll promise of smart phones for eligible youth, the Chief Minister said that the process of tendering had already been initiated and the distribution of phones would begin soon.

Asked on the announcement of candidates for the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, Capt Amarinder said that would be done after the polls are announced.

Khattar urges corporates to enhance their CSR contribution

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal on Monday urged the industrial and corporate houses in the State to enhance their CSR contribution from 2 per cent to 5 per cent of their profits and partner the State Government in the speedy execution of various CSR projects.

At present, the annual contribution under the Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) in the state is ₹350 crore and a target has been fixed to increase it to ₹1000 crore, Manohar Lal said while addressing the representatives of leading industrial and corporate houses at the Haryana CSR Summit-2018 in Gurugram.

Education Minister Ram Bilas Sharma, Public Works (Building and Roads) Minister Rao Narbir Singh and Industries Minister Vipul Goel were also present on this occasion.

Responding to the call made by the Chief Minister, various leading companies committed the contribution of over ₹177 crore under the CSR in the state in the key areas of sanitation, rural development, education, skill development, environment, health and women empowerment.

These companies included Maruti Suzuki India Limited, Hero Moto Corp, Honda Motors and Scooters India, Power Grid, DLF Foundation, India Oil Corporation Limited, NHPC, Jamna Auto Industries Limited, Startwire India Limited, Shivalik Prints Limited, Imperial Auto, GKN Driveline India Limited, Sledgehammer Oil Tools Private Limited, Reliance Foundation, Action Construction, India Autotech, Whirlpool India, Vamani Overseas Private Limited, Victora Auto, Maharani Innovative Paints Private Limited, Poly Medicure Limited, Showa Auto Tech and Fric India.

On this occasion, the Chief Minister also launched the Haryana CSR portal www.haryanacsr.org showcasing list of development projects district wise and sector wise to be undertaken in the State.

More than 341 development projects of seven departments including education, public health, rural development and agriculture are listed on the portal for corporate to pick and choose and contribute in various projects. In addition, details of the State Government implementing agencies were also given on the portal for corporate to contribute further in this regard.

The Chief Minister urged the corporate houses to contribute towards the CSR as a sense of service to the society and not as an obligation.

He also suggested carrying out special or internal audits by the companies to keep a check on discretion and ensure that the funds allocated for the CSR projects are fully utilized. Now the State Government has made a structured system through which they could choose the projects from the online portal of Haryana CSR and contribute accordingly, he added.

Manohar Lal said that though the State Government make adequate provision of budget for various development works yet there are several projects which could also be completed with the help of CSR.

He said that rejuvenation of 15,000 ponds, shamshan ghats (cremation grounds), pavement of village streets, environment conservation and beautification of rural and urban areas are among the key areas where the corporate sector could contribute. An amount of ₹3000 crore is likely to be incurred on the rejuvenation of these ponds. Similarly, for providing facilities in shamshan ghats including the boundary wall, passage, shed and water

Overwhelming response: CM

Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal on Monday said that Haryana CSR Summit-2018, the first of its kind initiative by the State Government, received a overwhelming response from the industry as senior business delegates from more than 250 companies participated in the event.

Various leading companies have committed a contribution of over ₹177 crore under the CSR in the state in different fields, Manohar Lal said while talking to the mediapersons at Gurugram. He said that the industries and corporate houses have been urged to increase their contribution under the CSR fund for speedy implementation of various projects in the State.

On this occasion, the Chief Minister expressed grief over the sad demise of Union Fertilizer and Chemicals and Parliamentary Affairs Minister, Ananth Kumar who breathed his last at Bengaluru. Ananth Kumar (59) was suffering from cancer and his demise is a huge loss to the Party, he added.

Development Department is soon going to launch its website namely 'Mera Gaon Mero Gaurav' with an aim to connect the people with their villages. A number of development works would be listed on the website that could be taken up by the industrial houses and corporates.

He said that the Rural

Besides, the Chief Minister also asked the corporate to take up selected areas in rural and urban areas for beautification and also contribute in environment conservation. The State Government has recently launched a campaign in the state under which 25 lakh saplings were planted by the school students. An amount of ₹75 crore would be spent on the plantation annually, he added.

He said that the Rural

In reply to a question, the Chief Minister said that the State Government has taken several steps to keep a check on pollution in the state.

The single use plastic bottles have been prohibited in all government offices and stringent measures have been taken to keep check on burning crop residue. Apart from this, a MOU has been signed with Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) for the setting of a plant in Panipat for preparing ethanol through stubble husk and straw, he added.

Earlier, a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) was signed between India Institute of Corporate Affairs (IICA) and Gurugram University. The State Government has also signed a MOU with Hero Motor Corps.

Devotees purchase necessary items for Chhatt Pooja at Sector 26 grain market Chandigarh on Monday. The evening offering to the setting sun will be on Tuesday followed by the morning offering to the rising sun on Wednesday

INLD'S AJAY CHAOTALA INVITES PARTY LEADERS FOR NOV 17 MEETING

Chandigarh: Amid the ongoing battle for one-upmanship in the Chautala family, Indian National Lok Dal secretary general Ajay Singh Chautala on Monday invited former MPs, MLAs and other office bearers for a meeting in Jind on November 17.

A day after meeting his younger brother Abhay Chautala in New Delhi, Ajay Chautala sent a letter to party leaders asking them to attend the party state executive meeting at Jind. Though the letter does not mention any agenda of the meeting, Ajay Chautala had earlier announced that he will be announcing his next course of action after this meeting. "All the State body office bearers/members, special invitees, executive members, sitting and former MPs and MLAs, presidents of the district units, state presidents and district conveners of all the Cells of the party and its bodies may kindly make it convenient to attend the State Body general meeting," wrote Chautala, who is also a former MP. All the party leaders have been asked to attend the meeting otherwise a disciplinary action could be initiated against them. PNS

Talks between Haryana Govt & roadways employees union fail

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Talks between the Manohar Lal Khattar Government and the roadways employees union on Monday failed to yield any result with both sides sticking to their previous stand on the issue of hiring of 700 private buses in the state.

The meeting was convened following the directions of the Punjab and Haryana High Court to the State Government and union leaders to make earnest and sincere efforts to sit together and resolve the issue.

Notably, the longest ever Haryana roadways employees' strike had come to an end on its 18th day on November 2, after the Punjab and Haryana High Court's intervention.

While their meeting failed to reach any consensus, the senior officers of State Government assured the union leaders to arrange their meeting with Chief Minister Manohar Lal soon.

The meeting was held under the chairmanship of Additional Chief Secretary (Transport) Dhanpat Singh in Sector 17 Mini Secretariat here.

After the meeting, Haryana Roadways Workers Union general secretary Sarbat Singh Punia said that the talks between State Government and employees unions failed on Monday.

The Government is not ready to withdraw its decision to hire 700 private buses and action taken against the roadways employees under ESMA,

HC had during its previous hearing asked the government to not take any action against employees under ESMA but the government is not following court orders. We will apprise the Court about the entire matter he said. The meeting was just a formality as the government is not interested in resolving our issues, he alleged.

Punia said that the HC had during its previous hearing asked the Government to not take any action against employees under ESMA but the government is not following court orders. We will apprise the Court about the entire matter, he said.

Hiring of private buses under kilometre scheme will not benefit the people of the state as well as roadways employees, he added.

The High Court will hear the matter on November 14. Under the kilometre scheme of Haryana Government, 700 private buses will be hired. Under this, drivers would be of the bus owner whereas conductors would be deputed by the State Government and the revenue generated would go to the State exchequer. Similarly, the route and time table would be decided by the state roadways.

Earlier, the State Government had offered to reconsider its decision on 190 private buses as the tenders for the same were yet to be finalised, but remained firm on 510 buses, saying it cannot be reworked as the Cabinet had already decided on this matter and signed an agreement to this effect.

The employees' union, however, has remained adamant on their demand that the tenders issued until now be cancelled under the kilometre scheme.

Notably, despite the Essential Services Maintenance Act (ESMA) being in force, the roadways employees had gone on strike on October 16 against the State Government's decision to run private buses. The strike had continued till November 2.

There are about 19,000 employees in Haryana Roadways, which has a fleet of more than 4000 buses in which nearly 12 lakh passengers travel daily.

The longest ever roadways strike had badly hit the public transport services despite the State Government making alternate arrangements, including appointing drivers and conductors and hiring buses.

PM to inaugurate KMP Expressway on November 19

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

The Prime Minister Narendra Modi would dedicate the Kundli-Manesar-Palwal (KMP) Expressway to people on November 19.

"The Prime Minister will also inaugurate and lay foundation stones of various development projects in the inauguration function of KMP at Sultanpur in district Gurugram on November 19," said Chief Minister Manohar Lal.

The Chief Minister was speaking after reviewing the progress of construction work of the Institute at village Devarkhana in district Jhajjar. He said that the construction work of Central Research Institute of Yoga and Naturopathy at village Devarkhana would be got completed soon.

The Chief Minister said that he would personally take up the matter at Centre regarding remaining work of the project and the Institute would be got started at the earliest so that local people and people from NCR would be benefited with naturopathy.

A sum of ₹57 crore had been approved for this institute of which construction work of about ₹34 crore have so far been completed under first phase. Almost 60 per cent work of the institute has been completed

He said that a sum of ₹57 crore had been approved for this institute of which construction work of about ₹34 crore have so far been completed under first phase. Almost 60 per cent work of the institute has been completed.

It is the priority of the State Government to start this institute at the earliest. Apart from this, the construction work of National Cancer Institute at Badhsa is in final stage. This area would be developed as a medical hub, the Chief Minister said. Manohar Lal also said that under first phase of Central Research Institute of Yoga and Naturopathy, construction work of 13 buildings, 48 staff quarters, OPD and general ward have been completed. The hospital of this institute would have facility of 200 beds, he added.

Punjab Local Govt Dept suspends Nabha MC head, EO, clerk

BUNGLING OF FUNDS UNDER 'HOUSING FOR ALL'

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Taking strong action against the prevailing corrupt practices and in the matter of alleged bungling of funds pertaining to 'Housing for All' and 'Swachh Bharat' schemes, Punjab Local Government on Monday placed the services of Nabha Municipal Council president Rajnish Kumar, executive officer Sukhdeep Singh Kamboj and clerk Harjinderpal under suspension.

Disclosing, the State Local Government Minister Navjot Singh Sidhu said that wrong payments with malafide intentions were made to the contractors with regard to the funds which were received by Nabha Municipal Council under 'Housing for All' scheme envisaging housing for poor families and those under 'Swachh Bharat'.

"Taking serious note of the matter, the Department's principal secretary summoned Nabha Municipal Council president, EO and clerk for presenting their side of the story and ordered the suspension of the trio after the hearing," he said.

Kejriwal again writes to CM Manohar Lal

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Monday again wrote to his Haryana counterpart Manohar Lal Khattar for a surprise cross-inspection of his 'Mohalla Clinics' and Haryana's schools and dispensaries.

Earlier, Kejriwal had written a letter to Manohar Lal on November 2 regarding the same issue.

"I have not received any reply from you regarding my previous letter written on November 2. Should I assume that you have accepted that Mohalla Clinics in Delhi are better and condition of Haryana's schools and dispensaries is not good," Kejriwal wrote in his letter to Manohar Lal on Monday.

The AAP convenor, Kejriwal added, "This time people will not vote on caste and religion-based politics. The next government will be formed by those who have build hospitals and schools and worked for the people."

In his previous letter, Kejriwal had expressed his desire to inspect some dispensaries of Haryana on November 12 and requested Manohar Lal to inspect 'Mohalla Clinics' in Delhi. Reacting to Kejriwal's challenge, Manohar Lal while talking to the mediapersons in Gurugram on Monday said that he (Kejriwal) should focus on the development of his state.

Eyeing a win in the Haryana Assembly polls next year, Kejriwal is hard selling his AAP led Delhi Government's achievements in the field of education and health sectors to the voters of Haryana.

The party has planned to contest on all 10 Lok Sabha seats from Haryana and also, on all 90 assembly seats, election for which are due later next year

'Tigress Avni shot from behind, not in self-defence'

Nagpur: Tigress Avni was shot "when she was facing away" from the gunman hired by the Maharashtra Government, the report of an independent Government-appointed expert revealed here on Monday.

The detailed analytical report has been prepared by Wildlife Biologist Milind Pariwakam of the Wildlife Conservation Trust, who attended Avni's autopsy as a representative of Maharashtra's Principal Chief Conservator of Forests.

Pariwakam's report raises doubts on the claims made by the hired shooter and officials that Avni was shot in "self-defence" after a darting attempt failed. "Bullet trajectory as inferred from the post-mortem observations shows that the animal was facing away from the person who fired the bullet," Pariwakam has stated in the report, which forms an annexure to the autopsy report released earlier.

Contacted by IANS, Pariwakam declined to comment as separate committees appointed by the Centre and the State Government are now probing the tigress' shooting. (IANS)

Stubble fire on wane, Delhi breathes easy

SAPNA SINGH ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi's air quality improved significantly from "severe" to "very poor" on Monday as stubble burning cases in Capital's neighborhood was recorded "marginal" down. Its contribution in Delhi's air pollution came down from 36 per cent to 7 per cent on the National Air Quality Index (NAQI) graph.

The week started on a good note in terms of air quality. System of Air Quality and Weather Forecasting and Research (SAFAR) in its air quality forecast said, "Air quality is likely to improve further by Tuesday but will remain in very poor category. The Particulate Matters (PMs) levels are declining and stubble related impact continue to remain nominal due to slow transport winds."

The SAFAR said the trend on stubble burning is fluctuating between 7 per cent and 10 per cent and will remain like this till November 15. Incidentally, on October 27, stubble fire's share in Delhi's pollution was 36 per cent, which was the highest of the season. Satellite pictures on SAFAR's website explained how winds played crucial role in transporting half-burnt particles in Delhi air.

Stubble burning data pointed out that the biomass burning was the highest contributor to air pollution since October 11. The SAFAR mentioned that the moderate north-westerly wind with abysmally slow speed of five kilometre an hour was the reason behind escalation of pollutants in the air.

"Surface wind at 18 km per hour, inversion layer height, favourable to moderate stagnation are the factors for better dispersion of pollutants," SAFAR mentioned in its report.

CVC files confidential report on Verma graft

Mehta, appearing for the CVC, told the court that former SC judge A K Patnaik has supervised the CVC enquiry as directed by the apex court and the probe was completed on November 10. To this, the CJI observed that the Registry was open on Sunday for one hour but neither the reports were filed nor any intimation was given to the Registrar regarding their filing.

"On Sunday we kept the registry opened for one hour but neither the reports were filed nor any intimation was given. How long will the Registrars wait?," the CJI said. The Solicitor General later tendered an apology and said though he was not explaining the circumstances, there was delay on their part in submitting the report.

In its order on October 26, the SC had set a deadline of two weeks for the ongoing CVC probe against Verma. The CVC probed the August 24 note/letter of Asthana to the Cabinet Secretary wherein he had alleged corruption by Verma and meddling in high profile cases in disregard of the CBI manual. The Cabinet Secretary had referred Asthana's complaint to the CVC for probe.

Sharad Yadav had snapped his ties with Kumar after the JD(U) chief joined hands with the BJP last year and currently working to rally the Opposition against the BJP-led NDA. Sharad recently also met with Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Chandrababu Naidu who has also been working with opposition leaders including Congress president to forge a national alliance against the NDA.

RLSP and LJP leaders and State presidents have insisted that both the parties have not agreed to the reduction of their LS seat share and would contest the same number of seats which were allocated to them in 2014. An old rival of Kumar, Kushwaha had also attacked the Chief Minister for allegedly insulting him and had targeted him again on Sunday over reports that two MLAs of his party may join the JD(U).

He had said he would apprise Shah of the "humiliation" he had suffered at the hands of Kumar and also request him to clear the confusion over seat-sharing among the NDA constituents in the State at the earliest.

Kushwahas have good 10 to 12 per cent vote share and are considered the second-most dominant caste in the OBC category after Yadavs (15%) in Bihar.

SIT summons: Akshay denies...

No role in sit summons to badals, akshay: Capt Punjab Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Monday made it clear that his Government had no role in the summoning of the Badals and actor Akshay Kumar by the Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing the 2015 sacrilege and police firing incidents.

"The SIT is an independent entity and is functioning without any Government interference," said Capt Amarinder in response to a question while addressing the media after inaugurating the Homi Bhabha Cancer Hospital at Sangrur.

"The Government's job is to form the SIT as per the unanimous decision of the Vidhan Sabha, which we had done. And now, the onus of investigation is on the SIT," said the Chief Minister.

Ananth Kumar passes away

Ananth Kumar was just 36 years old, a newcomer and an outsider from Hubli-Dharwad. The Congress had fielded Varalakshmi, the widow of former Chief Minister R Gundu Rao, against him. The Janata Dal led by HD Deve Gowda, was in power in Karnataka. Most thought that Ananth had no chance against such formidable candidates from the Congress and the Janata Dal, though Bangalore South had the unique distinction of electing only the Opposition candidates for decades. Proving the sceptics wrong, Ananth Kumar, the blue-eyed boy of BS Yeddyurappa, won his maiden election, beating Varalakshmi Gundu Rao by a small margin.

Born into a middle class Brahmin family in Bengaluru on July 22, 1959, Kumar went to school in the city and joined college at Hubli when his father HN Narayan Shastry, a Railway employee, was transferred to the northwest town about 400 km from here. His mother Girja was a home-maker. Kumar graduated in Arts from KS Arts College and in Law from JSS Law College at Hubli with BA and LLB degrees from Karnataka University in Dharwad.

Sahoo said five elite troopers from Commando Battalion for Resolute Action (CoBRA) were injured in an Improvised Explosive Device (IED) blast triggered by Maoists in Bijapur district. The IED went off when the CoBRA team was cordoning off a jungle stretch. The injured troopers were airlifted to Raipur for urgent medical attention. Political analysts say that Raman Singh's clean image and popularity could help the BJP to register the record fourth consecutive victory in the mineral-rich state. The second and final phase of polling in Chhattisgarh will be held on November 20 for remaining 72 seats. The counting will take place on December 11 along with four other States.

The document says after the Indian negotiation team submitted its report on fully-loaded Rafale jets on August 4, 2016, it was vetted by the Finance and Law Ministries within 20 days and the CCS approved the deal on August 24, 2016. The document also said the Government had no role in the selection of the Indian offset partner.

The Congress is alleging that the NDA Government nudged the French to opt for Reliance as an offset partner. Former President Francois Hollande also said he was nudged by the Indian Government to have Reliance as a partner in the offset deal with Rafale jet manufacturer Dassault.

The document placed before the court said the Indian Defence Ministry negotiated with their French counterparts for a year before signing the Rafale agreement. The details of the documents were shared with the petitioners as directed by the Supreme Court.

The petitioners include former Union Ministers Yashwant Sinha and Arun Shourie, along with activist lawyer Prashant Bhushan. They had sought registration of an FIR into the fighter jet deal alleging "criminal misconduct" by high public functionaries. The trio has also sought a direction to the CBI to investigate the offences mentioned in their complaint in a "time-bound" manner and submit periodic status reports to the apex court.

A team of Indian negotiators formed to buy 36 Rafale fighter jets had got a better deal on price and maintenance of the planes as compared to the earlier offer from French firm Dassault, according to the Centre's report on the purchase of the jets submitted to the Supreme Court last month.

The Indian negotiating team headed by a Deputy Chief of Air Staff rank officer carried out negotiations for over a year. This team submitted its report in July 2016 and the deal was cleared by the Cabinet Committee of Security and Defence Acquisition Council. India is buying 36 jets off the shelf from France and the entire lot will be delivered within 67 months after the contract was signed.

The Rafale fighter jet is a twin-engine Medium Multi-Role Combat Aircraft (MMRCA). The UPA regime was negotiating for a 126-jet deal with Dassault with 18 of them to be procured off the shelf and the remaining to be manufactured by the public sector Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) in India.

However, the proposed contract could not mature due to various issues and the NDA Government scrapped the earlier process and announced to buy 36 Rafales to meet the urgent requirement of the IAF to bolster its depleting squadron strength.

However, the Congress is claiming that price at which India is buying Rafale aircraft now is Rs 1.67 crore each, three times the Rs 526 crore, initial bid by the company when the UPA was trying to buy the aircraft.

RAJASTHAN ASSEMBLY POLLS

BJP fields 25 new faces

DEEPAK UPRETI ■ NEW DELHI

As the BJP released its first list of candidates for Rajasthan with 25 new faces and almost over with most of its 230 seats of Madhya Pradesh, the party is simultaneously engaging in the task of managing rebel candidates in the tough electoral battles with the Congress in the two States. The Rajasthan list of the BJP has 12 women candidates, 17 scheduled castes and 19 Scheduled tribes. The BJP has 25 new candidates while there are 85 sitting MLAs. Rajasthan is to go to polls on December 7.

Chief Minister Vasundhara Raje will contest from her traditional Jhalrapatan Assembly seat. It has fielded Home Minister Gulab Chand Kataria from Udaipur, Urban Development Minister Srichand Kripalani from Nimbaheda and Agriculture Minister Prabhulal Saini from Anta.

In both the States BJP is fighting long anti-incumbency and hence dozens of new winnable candidates have found place in place of some "veterans". The party has retained 85 sitting MLAs and dropped 26 MLAs, including two Ministers and one of two Muslim MLAs, while there is no change in the constituencies of 85 MLAs who have been retained.

Ministers Rajendra Rathore,

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP president Amit Shah during the party's Central Election Committee meeting for the forthcoming Assembly polls in Rajasthan at party headquarters in New Delhi on Sunday

Gulab Chand Kataria, Vasudev Devnani, Srichand Kripalani, Kiran Maheshwari Anita Bhadel, Ajay Singh, Krishnendra Kaur, Gajendra Singh and Prabhulal Saini have made it to the list.

The saffron party has also given tickets to family members of a few sitting MLAs and other leaders. These include Poonam Kanwar, daughter-in-law of former BJP MLA Devi Singh Bhati (Kolayat seat); Atul Bhansali, relative of Jodhpur MLA Kailash Bhansali (Jodhpur seat); Hemant Meena, son of Tribal Affairs Minister Nandlal Meena (Pratapgarh seat); Ramswaroop Jat, son of former MP Sanwar Lal Jat who died last year (Nasirabad seat); Sailesh Singh, son of former BJP Minister Digambar Singh who died last year, among others. Some of the candidates like Shambhu Singh Khetasar(Sardarpura), Sumit Godaria (Lunkaransar), Satish Poonia (Amber), Jaswant Gurjar (Bari), Babu Lal Kharadi (Jhadol) and Khemraj Garasia (Bagidora) had lost the 2013 Assembly elections.

The BJP has two sitting Muslim MLAs — Habibur Rahman (Nagaur) and Transport Minister Yoonus Khan (Deedwana). The party has dropped Rahman and the candidate for the Deedwana seat has not been announced yet.

Water Resources Minister Surendra Goyal and Tribal Affairs Minister Nandlal Meena could not make it to the list. However, the party has fielded Meena's son from his constituency. The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has also retained Deputy Speaker Rao Rajendra Singh and chief whip Kalu Lal Gurjar in the first list.

Jaisalmer-Barmer MP Sonu Ram was also given ticket from Barmer. BJP is almost over with its list of candidates for Madhya Pradesh as on Monday it released the third list of 32 candidates for the ensuing Madhya Pradesh Assembly elections. The party released the second list of 177 candidates on November 5 and first list of 17 candidates on November 2. The State is slated to go to polls on November 28 for 230 constituencies.

BJP has fielded national general secretary Kailash Vijayvargiya's son Akash Vijayvargiya from the Indore-3 constituency and former Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Babulal Gaur's daughter-in-law Krishna Gour from Govindpura constituency. Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan is will be contesting from his home constituency, Budhni.

BJP has denied tickets to over 35 sitting MLAs in Madhya Pradesh. Apprehensive of rebellion in the ranks, the party has deployed central state-charge and other senior leaders to placate party leaders who have not found their names in the lists.

A group of central leaders have been asked to monitor "rebel activities" and resolve issues before nominations are completed.

AJL moves HC against Centre's order ending National Herald building lease

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Associated Journals Limited (AJL), the publisher of National Herald newspaper, on Monday approached the Delhi High Court challenging the Ministry of Urban Development order ending its 56-year-old lease and asking it to vacate the premises in the press enclave area at ITO. Meanwhile, the Congress has accused the BJP-led Central Government of embarking on a "witch-hunt" and claimed that it was putting pressure on the machinery to revoke the lease of the Herald House at any cost, but its design would be defeated.

The plea, challenging the October 30 order of the Urban Development Ministry ending the lease and asking it to vacate the premises by November 15, is scheduled to come up for hearing Tuesday before Justice Sunil Gaur.

The plea alleged that the Land and Development Officer's order was "illegal, unconstitutional, arbitrary, tainted with malafide and without authority and jurisdiction". The petition, filed through advocates Sunil Fernandes and Priyanshu Indra Sharma, said that the Centre has warned them of action under the Public Premises (Eviction of Unauthorized Occupants) Act, 1971, if they failed to vacate the premises.

One of the grounds mentioned in the L&DO order is that no press has been functioning in the premises for last at least 10 years and that it is being used only for commercial purposes in violation of the lease deed. This allegation has been refuted by AJL in the petition.

Bjp leader Subramanian Swamy had approached the Urban Development Ministry to take over the Herald House citing that no newspaper activity publishing activity is going there.

Accusing BJP, senior Congress leader and party treasurer Ahmed Patel said National Herald, Qaumi Awaz and Navjivan — all the newspapers run by the National Herald newspapers from the Herald House had the spine to speak the truth, which made those in power uneasy.

"The BJP Government has embarked on a witch hunt and is pressurising the machinery to revoke lease of Herald House at any cost. National Herald, Qaumi Awaz and the Navjivan have the spine to speak the truth which makes those in power uneasy. "The Government's design will be defeated," he said on Twitter.

In December 2017, the Income Tax Department had imposed a fine of ₹250 crore on Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi-controlled firm Young India, which took over AJL through a "covert and fraudulent" way. The Delhi High Court ordered Young India to deposit ₹10 crore for entertaining its appeal against the Income Tax fine order.

In the trial court, the National Herald case is now in the process of submission of evidences by the petitioner Subramanian Swamy, who started his deposition on July 15. The next hearing of the date is scheduled for August 25. The accused Congress leaders in the case have filed a petition in the court for restraining Swamy from tweeting about the case details and defaming them.

India, Morocco sign pact to help in criminal matters

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

India and Morocco on Monday signed an agreement to help each other in criminal matters and provide legal assistance wherever required, the Home Ministry said. The agreement on mutual legal assistance in criminal matters was signed by Union Minister of State for Home Kiren Rijju on behalf of India and Mohamed Aujjar, the Minister of justice on behalf of Kingdom of Morocco, here.

The pact will strengthen bilateral cooperation with Morocco and enhance effectiveness and provide a broad legal framework for prevention, investigation and prosecution of crimes, as well as in tracing, restraint and confiscation of funds meant to finance terrorist acts, a Home Ministry statement said. Both the Ministers reiterated their resolve to jointly counter the threats posed by organised crime and terrorism, it said.

Govt cancels ED officer Rajeshwar's leave

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Government has cancelled Enforcement Directorate Joint Director Rajeshwar Singh's leave without citing any reasons. The leave was granted to him last month by the then ED Director Karnal Singh.

Singh is facing investigation for writing a letter against Finance Secretary Has Mukh Adhia earlier this year. In his letter, Singh had asked Adhia, who was then Revenue Secretary, if he had developed animosity against him by "siding with scammers and their affiliates".

The Department of Revenue (DoR), under the Union Finance Ministry, disallowed Rajeshwar Singh's study leave. However, the then ED Director Karnal Singh sanctioned his leave on October 27, days before his retirement on October 31. Rajeshwar Singh had sought leave for pursuing an LLM course.

IRS officer Sanjay Kumar Mishra was subsequently appointed the new ED chief following his predecessor's retirement.

The Department of Revenue has overturned Karnal Singh's order sanctioning leave to Rajeshwar Singh without citing any reasons, officials said. The ED functions under the Department of Revenue.

According to the leave sanction order approved by the former ED chief Karnal Singh, Rajeshwar Singh will be available whenever he is required for "assistance in investigations or trial in court" with regard to cases probed by him, including the 2G spectrum allocation and the Aircel-Maxis money laundering cases.

Rajeshwar Singh had last month also handed over his charge of joint director (Lucknow zone) of the ED after the leave was sanctioned. The Union Finance ministry had submitted a secret report to the Supreme Court in June, apparently carrying details of a phone call received by Rajeshwar Singh from Dubai.

The report was prepared by country's external Intelligence Agency Research and Analysis Wing (RAW) and handed over to the DoR.

The Government subsequently launched an investigation against Rajeshwar Singh for the letter against Adhia.

Develop cooling tech to combat climate change & win $3 mn, announces Govt

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

With demand for air conditioning units set to cross one billion by 2050 in India, the climate change-conscious Government is now looking for an energy-efficient technology that will have at least five times less climate impact than the standard room ACs sold at present.

To encourage innovation in this regard, the Government on Monday announced the launch of the first-of-its kind $3 million Global Cooling Prize, an international competition asking the researchers and innovators from across the world to develop such a cooling technology to combat the climate change threat.

Announcing the award, Dr Harsh Vardhan, Union Minister of Science, Technology and Earth Sciences said rising temperature will affect the health and productivity of billions of citizens. We support this innovation challenge, which aims to develop sustainable and efficient technology to provide thermal comfort to all, he said while speaking at the inaugural of the two-day Global Cooling Innovation Summit here.

Presently, there around 1.2 billion room air conditioning units in service around the world. The number is set to increase to at least 4.5 billion by 2050, according to an estimate. India alone will see over 1 billion air conditioning deployed in the market by 2050. The energy consumption associated with comfort cooling represents one of the largest end-use risks to the climate, putting the most vulnerable populations at risk.

The prize is supported by Government's Mission Innovation through the Department of Science and Technology and its partner organizations Ministry of Power, Bureau of Energy Efficiency, and Environment Ministry while a coalition of research institutes Rocky Mountain Institute (RMI), Conservation X Labs, the Alliance for an Energy Efficient Economy (AEEE), and CEPT University will oversee it.

John Loughhead Vice-Chair, Mission Innovation Steering Committee said, "This is exactly what Mission Innovation was set-up to deliver - new collaborations between governments, innovators and the private sector to unleash innovation in climate critical technologies."

Iain Campbell from RMI

said, "A technology developed through the Global Cooling Prize has the opportunity to capture a $20 billion market and transform the global AC market for the better."

Over $3 million will be awarded in prize money over the course of the two-year competition. Up to 10 short-listed competing technologies will be awarded up to $200,000 each in intermediate prizes to support the design and prototype development of their innovative residential cooling technology designs. The winning technology will be awarded at least $1 million to support its incubation and early-stage commercialisation, said an official from the S&T Ministry.

On the occasion, "Solving the Global Cooling Challenge" report prepared by the RMI was released. It said adoption of a 5X solution by year 2040, about 75 per cent less electricity will be needed globally to operate the room air conditioners in 2050. "The 5X solution can achieve cumulative emissions reductions of up to 100 gigatons by 2050 — equivalent to taking 50% of today's global stock of passenger vehicles off the road — and help mitigate up to 0.5° C in global warming impact," it added.

Buffalo meat exports down 5% at 6.18L tonnes

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Buffalo meat exports fell by 5 per cent to 6.18 lakh tonnes during the first half of this fiscal, but increased by 8 per cent in value terms to ₹12,980 crore, an official data showed. According to agri-export promotion body APEIDA, the country exported 6,18,559 tonnes of buffalo meat for ₹12,980 crore during the first six months of 2018-19 fiscal.

Buffalo meat exports stood at 6,21,541 tonnes worth ₹12,035 crore in the corresponding period of last fiscal. Vietnam, Malaysia and Egypt are the three major destinations for the country's buffalo meat shipments.

Total exports of agriculture and processed food products rose to ₹61,789 crore from ₹56,741 crore during the period under review. Of the total exports, cereals contributed maximum at ₹27,174 crore during the first six months of this fiscal as against ₹25,813 crore in the year-ago period.

India exported 20,82,583 tonnes of basmati rice for ₹15,331 crore as against 21,34,757 tonnes for ₹13,706 crore. Non-basmati rice exports fell in both the volume and value terms at 37,23,828 tonnes worth ₹10,426 crore from 42,86,605 tonnes worth ₹11,236 crore during the period under review.

The exports of livestock products rose to ₹15,272 crore during April-September 2018 from ₹13,707 crore in the year-ago period. Fruits and vegetables exports rose from ₹4,230 crore to ₹4,298 crore, while shipments of processed fruits and vegetables increased from ₹3,547 crore to ₹4,141 crore.

The exports of other processed food including sorghum went up to ₹10,080 crore from ₹8,808 crore.

Promoting role of family in diabetes management, care

PNS N NEW DELHI

With diabetes becoming a "family disease" that can potentially affect every household-emotionally as well as financially, this year's World Diabetes Day on Wednesday will highlight the role of caregivers in supporting the people living with the chronic disease.

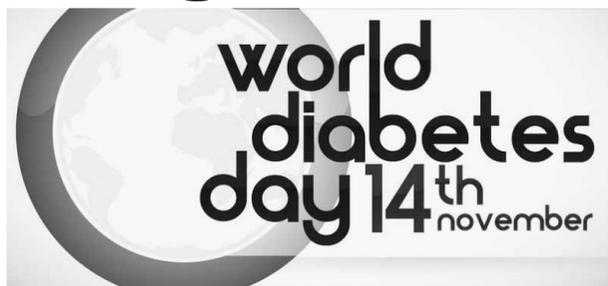

Applly themed "Diabetes concerns every family", by the International Diabetes Federation and WHO, the two-year-long awareness programmes will focus on raising awareness on the impact that diabetes has on the family, besides promoting the role of the family in diabetes management, care, prevention and education.

"Families have a key role to play in addressing the modifiable risk factors for type 2 diabetes, which can be prevented by adopting healthy lifestyle including regular physical activity, a healthy and balanced diet, and the promotion of healthy living environments," said an official from the Health Ministry.

Hence it is important that families are provided with the education, resources, and environments to help the patient live a healthy lifestyle, he said.

The official added that currently, at least 425 million people are living with diabetes. Most of these cases are type 2 diabetes, a chronic condition that occurs either when the pancreas does not produce enough insulin or when the body cannot effectively use the insulin it produces.

While the Union Health Ministry has planned a string of programmes focusing on diabetes awareness programmes for the ## Family as healthcare provider

- Diabetic patients show better adherence to treatment regimen if conflict level is low and high cohesion level prevail in the family.
- Family provides emotional & economic support, safe food; takes care intently to ensure the treatment regimen is being strictly followed, reinforce the fight against depression
- Even taking foods cooked by a family member helps to control blood glucose as well as serum lipid profile.
- Strong family ties can provide an ambience where the patients can receive the management with utmost satisfaction and happiness.

families so that they can help ease the life of the patient, the Ayush Ministry will have a special focus on educational programmes about the role of the traditional medicines in ayurveda, Unani and homeopathy can play in controlling the condition.

"There are many scientifically developed anti-diabetic ayurvedic medicines such as BGR-34 developed by CSIR using anti-diabetic and anti-hyperlycemic agents found in commonly used herbs like daruharidra, giloy, gudmar and bitter gourds. Similarly, the Central Council for Research in Ayurvedic Science (CCRAS) and Central Council for Research in Siddha (CCRS) have developed medicines like AYUSH-D and D5 respectively for Diabetes Mellitus," said an official from the Ayush Ministry.

Suggest two more names for CEO post: EC to Mizoram Govt

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Election Commission (EC) has asked the Mizoram Government to suggest two more names for the post of State Chief Election Officer (CEO). Earlier, the chief secretary of Mizoram has sent the three names — Lalhmingthanga, H Lalengmawia, and K Lalhawmmawia for the chief electoral officer's post. There has been no decision regarding the removal of CEO SB Shashank, who had courted controversy in the poll-bound State.

Sources in the EC said the poll panel has sought two more panel names for the CEO's post from the Mizoram Government.

The EC will only appoint someone as CEO if he or she is capable of conducting free, fair and peaceful election. Meanwhile, the EC will again be meeting Shashank to know what exactly the level is of preparedness and what should be done in Mizoram because the new incumbent will have very little time to deliver polls in the State, said officials.

Deputy Election Commissioner Sudeep Jain, who led the second EC team to Mizoram on Friday, had told officials that it would take two-three days to select and appoint a new CEO. Jain had also assured the NGO Coordination Committee leaders — who were spearheading the movement against Shashank — that the CEO would be replaced and the Bru voters housed in Tripura relief camps would exercise their franchise from Mizoram, which were the primary demands of the organisation.

The EC had initiated the process of finding an alternative to the Mizoram CEO on Saturday.

Thousands of people took to the streets and picketed in front of Shashank's office for two days last week. The protesters, under the aegis of the NGO Coordination Committee, had also set an ultimatum for Shashank to leave urgently.

SC declines to entertain PIL to make rape gender-neutral offence

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Monday refused to entertain a plea challenging the Constitutional validity of Section 375 of Indian Penal Code (IPC) which deals with rape on the ground that the provision is not gender-neutral.

A bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi and Justice S K Kaul said the issue raised in the petition is a subject matter of the legislature's domain.

"We are not inclined to interfere at this stage as the issues raised pertain to legislations to be made by the Parliament, for which adequate recommendations have already been made by the Law Commission," it said.

It said that NGO 'Criminal Justice Society of India' "may seek such other remedy, as may be available in law" and disposed of the PIL.

"The issue falls in the realm of the Parliament. We don't want to say anything on it right now," the bench said, while granting liberty to the petitioners to make a representation to the legislature.

While Section 375 of the IPC deals with rape committed on a woman by a man, Section 376 lists out the punishment for the offence.

The top court was hearing a petition filed by NGO Criminal Justice Society of India, through advocate Ashima Mandla, contending that Section 375 violates Articles 14, 15 and 21 of the Constitution as it does not account for rape of men and Transgender persons.

The plea sought that the definition of rape under Section 375 be held "ultra vires" for being "discriminatory and violative of Articles 14 (right to equality), 15 (prohibition of discrimination on grounds of religion, race, caste, sex...) and 21 (right to life and personal liberty) of the Constitution". The petitioner has submitted that the section applies only to women as victims and men as perpetrators. It does not take into account non-consensual sexual assault inflicted on a woman by a woman, on a man by another man, on transgender by another transgender or a man or woman, on a man by a woman.

The plea referred to the August 2017 order passed by a nine-judge bench of the top court that declared privacy as a fundamental right and also cited the NALSA judgment that recognised transgenders as the third gender.

"It is imperative to note that transgenders including but not limited to homosexuals & bisexuals, and men are sequestered from the point of view of victims of rape under the existing penal laws of the country, despite an impending need for the same", the plea said.

MODI IN VARANASI

'BJP has done politics for dev, not vote bank'

PM unveils a string of projects for Varanasi

RAMESH K SINGH ■ VARANASI

Making a scathing attack on previous Governments for wasting thousands of crores in the name of making Ganga river clean and pollution-free and neglecting rivers across the country, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has said that during the last four years the way development works have been carried out shows that the BJP has done politics only for development and not for vote bank.

"It is also a historic day when for the first time since Independence, waterways transportation began in the country," he said, adding that it is also the 'new vision of new India'.

Addressing an impressive gathering at Wajidpur near Harahuwa where he inaugurated projects worth over ₹2,400 crore on Monday evening, the Prime Minister said: "Contrary to previous governments, we are spending money in making the Ganga river clean and, in this direction, projects worth ₹23,000 crore were sanctioned and out of the same projects worth Rs 5000 crore are being allocated for Namami Gange project."

He said that in the last four years several sewage treatment plants were launched and out of them some were inaugurated, including Deenapur Sewage Treatment Plant (STP), to ensure that not a single drop of sewer water goes into the rivers of Ganga and Varuna. "And all these could become possible only with the cooperation of the people," he said.

Modi said that the government was aiming at the overall development of the waterways transportation which began from Haldia to Varanasi and would help the ancient city to become a gateway to development of the entire eastern India. "When four years ago, we had decided to start inland waterways between Haldia and Varanasi, the Opposition party leaders had made several comments that it could not be possible but today it has become a reality when container vessel (cargo) came here carrying 16 containers," he said, adding that it was not only cheaper transportation but also eco-friendly and hectic works were going on for the development of more than 100 such inland waterways in the country.

Earlier, Modi had inaugurated the country's first multi-modal terminal at Ralhpur in trans-Ganga Ramnagar development worth ₹208 crore where he also welcomed the first cargo from Haldia. "This will write a new chapter in the development of this city which would become a confluence of nature, culture and adventure," he said, adding that this would not only help vegetable growers of the region to send their products to other markets in eastern India easily but would also help the city to become a global hub for carpet exports from the region.

Modi began his address using local Bhojpuri dialects greeting people for recent festivals and also ended the same wishing good luck for the ongoing famous festival of Chhath. "We're working on the development of good connectivity and, in this direction, hectic work has been done during the last four years to improve road, rail, water and air transportation," he said, adding that prior to independent there was good waterways transportation in the country but shockingly after independence the government had totally neglected the same.

Earlier, the function was also addressed by the Union minister Nitin Gadkari, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath and state Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) president Mahendra Nath Pandey. The function was also attended by deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya, Union minister Satya Pal, UP minister Suresh Khanna, MP Ram Charit Nishad and many others.

Mizoram CM declares moveable assets worth over ₹1 crore

PTI ■ AIZAWL

Mizoram Chief Minister Lal Thanhawla has moveable properties worth over ₹1 crore and agricultural land valued at more than ₹2 crore, according to the affidavit submitted by him while filing his nomination papers for the November 28 State Assembly polls.

According to the affidavit, Lal Thanhawla has ₹5 lakh in cash, ₹1,28,06,007 worth moveable properties, ₹2.8 crore worth agricultural land and ₹20 lakh worth non-agricultural land.

He also has a land on which he has constructed a building at New Town, Kolkata worth around ₹3.1 crore and a residential house at Zarkaw in Aizawl, the value of which he has not declared.

Lal Thanhawla's wife, Lal Riliani, has ₹3 lakh in cash, movable properties worth ₹92,13,740.47 and agricultural land worth ₹25 lakh.

She also has non-agricultural land worth ₹15 lakh.

People's Representation for Identity and Status of Mizoram (PRISM) president and the party's chief ministerial candidate Vanlalruata has only ₹30,000 cash in hand and his wife has ₹5,000 in cash, according to the affidavit filed by him.

Vanlalruata has two bank accounts and the total amount of money in both the accounts is ₹2,175, while his spouse has ₹539 in her account with the Mizoram Rural Bank, Khatla Branch in Aizawl.

He has an agricultural land worth around ₹7.50 lakh.

Former two-time chief minister and Mizo National Front (MNF) president Zoramthanga has ₹10 lakh in cash and immovable properties, including cars and bank accounts, worth ₹57.22 lakh, according to the affidavit filed by him.

Zoramthanga has agricultural land worth Rs 20 lakh and a building at the Chaltlang locality in Aizawl worth ₹1.25 crore.

His wife Roneihsang has only ₹7 in cash, ₹43,756 in her bank accounts and moveable properties and a land and a building worth ₹1.5 crore at the Ramhlu Venglai locality in Aizawl.

Zoramthanga's son and daughter have ₹28,398 each in their bank accounts.

State Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) president John V Hluna did not mention the amount of cash in hand.

He has movable assets, including bank accounts, worth ₹20,05,147, according to the affidavit filed by him.

All the landed properties, both agricultural and non-agricultural lands were worth ₹1.30 crore.

People's Movement's (ZPM) chief ministerial candidate Lalduhoma has ₹70,000 cash in hand and moveable properties, including bank accounts, worth ₹18.34 lakh.

Lalduhoma's total landed properties are worth ₹1.9 crore.

Will move court if permission not granted for Shah's rath yatra: BJP

PTI ■ KOLKATA

West Bengal BJP president Dilip Ghosh on Monday threatened to move court if the State Government does not grant permission for the proposed rath yatra of party president Amit Shah in the State next month.

Ghosh said if TMC tries to disrupt the proposed rath yatra then the people of the State will come out in protest as it is meant for restoring democracy in Bengal.

"The police and the State Government are yet to grant permission. Time and again we have tried to meet the police officials and the Home Secretary, but in vain. Until and unless we have the permission how will we organize the entire route?" Ghosh said.

BJP national president Amit Shah is set to kick off three rath yatra which will cover all 42 Lok Sabha constituencies in Bengal on December 5, 7 and 9.

"If the Government is try-permission we will move court and fight it out," he said.

At the conclusion of the 'yatra', the party plans to hold a massive rally in Kolkata which is likely to be addressed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Deb: May Day is for workers, labourers, not for Govt employees

PTI ■ AGARTALA

Tripura Chief Minister Biplab Kumar Deb has justified the reason behind dropping May Day from the list of holidays in the State and said the decision was taken because Government employees did not need one on International Labour Rights Day.

Deb said that May Day is meant for workers and labourers and none else.

He claimed his Government has done justice by granting holiday on May Day only for workers in industrial sector.

Why do Government employees need holiday on May Day? ... I have noticed that it is a holiday on that day in very few States.

"What are the provisions for a holiday? They (previous Left Govt) used to grant holiday to the entire State on this day here," Deb told a conference of the Tripura Gazetted Officers Sangh here on Sunday.

The Tripura Government in a notification on November 3 had said that Government employees would be allowed to avail any four holidays chosen by them out of a list of restricted holidays during 2019.

The list of restricted holidays had 12 festivals or occasions in it.

These are New Years Day, Pous Parban - a Bengali harvest festival, Basanti Puja, Mahavir Jayanti, May Day, Ratha Yatra, Jhulanjatra - Samapan, Biswakarma Puja, Akheri-Chahar-Sumba, Bhratridiwitiya, Guru Nanak's birthday and the World Disabled Day.

There is holiday on May Day in the industrial sector. That holiday is still valid. But are you workers and labourers in the secretariat? The CM asked.

You (gazetted officers) are not labourers. No. Am I labourer? No. I am Chief Minister. So what for do you need holiday (on May Day)? What will you mourn for (Kya matam manayenge aap)? he asked.

The state government took the right decision by dropping May Day from the list of the holidays, he said adding holiday was granted to labourers on that day but not for Government employees.

RSS leaders call on Stalin as DMK, allies are busy formalising seat sharing

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

Hectic activities are on in the DMK camp to finalise the sharing of the 39 Lok Sabha seats from the State for the upcoming general election. The DMK has already agreed to give the lone seat from Puducherry to the Congress, according to party insiders. Sources in the DMK told this newspaper that the party would allocate seven Lok Sabha seats from the State to the Congress. "The CPI-M, the CPI and the VCK would get one seat each while the DMK would contest the remaining 29 seats," said the source.

If the alliance to be floated by Pattali Makkal Katchi, which may include some of the caste groups, joins the DMK camp, the party would release four seats to that group. "The DMK would like to contest at least 25 seats while accommodating as many alliance partners as possible," said the source privy to the discussions.

Meanwhile, MK Stalin, DMK president, had some special visitors at Anna Arivalayam, the party headquarters in Chennai on Monday morning.

A delegation of RSS leaders, a bete noire of Stalin, called on the DMK chief and held discussions with him for nearly 25 minutes.

RSS leaders calling on DMK chief MK Stalin on Monday

The RSS delegation consisted of Prof Kumaraswamy, Tamil Nadu president, PM Ravikumar, State organiser and Sambamurthy, State executive member.

In a gesture of goodwill, the RSS leaders handed over to Stalin a copy of the message adopted by the RSS all India meet held at Mumbai condoling the passing away of the DMK patriarch and former Chief Minister M Karunanidhi.

"We discussed with Stalin the good rapport the Sangh had with Shri Karunanidhi. While he was the chief minister of the State, Shri Karunanidhi had helped in organising the pathsancharan (route march) of the Sangh and Shri Stalin heard it with rapt attention," Prof Kumaraswamy told The Pioneer after the meeting.

The Sangh leaders also presented Stalin with copies of the speech delivered by RSS chief Dr Mohan Bhagawat during the three-day seminar held at New Delhi, a coffee table book on the Sangh and also some of the Sangh publications for his reading.

Senior leaders of the DMK, K Ponmudi and T R Balu were present during the meeting. Stalin has been severely attacking the BJP and RSS since he was anointed as the party president on August 29 following the passing away of Karunanidhi. The meeting between the DMK leadership and RSS delegation is keenly watched by political commentators.

"You cannot rule out anything in Tamil Nadu politics. The BJP has not given up the idea of forging an alliance with the DMK and may employ all tricks for the same," said Sam Rajappa, veteran commentator.

Soldier martyred in another Pak sniper attack at border

MOHIT KANDHARI ■ JAMMU

Sharpshooters of Pakistan Army on Monday evening targeted one of the forward Indian posts in Mendhar sector of Poonch, killing a jawan and grievously injuring another in a sniping incident.

Fresh sniping attack from the Pakistani side followed in response to a strong retaliatory strike carried out by the Indian army inside Pak territory to avenge the killing of Indian soldiers earlier.

According to unconfirmed reports, at least two Pakistani troopers were killed and five others received critical injuries in heavy firing from the Indian side on Sunday.

According to Ministry of Defence spokesman in Jammu, Lt Col Devender Anand, "at about 5.15 p.m on Monday Pakistan army resorted to an 'unprovoked' ceasefire violation in Krishna Ghati sector of Mendhar tehsil in Poonch in which one soldier attained martyrdom while another received critical injuries."

The deceased soldier was identified as Lance Naik

Antony Sebastian KM while injured soldier was identified as Havildar Mari Muthu D. According to Defence PRO, Lance Naik Antony Sebastian KM, aged 34, hailed from Ernakulam district of Kerala and is survived by his wife.

This is the fourth incident in a row in which Indian army has lost its third soldier while one civilian porter attached with the Indian army had earlier succumbed to his fatal injuries on Friday in Akhnour sector.

Meanwhile, situation continues to remain grim along the line of control as there has been no let up from the Pakistani side in 'provoking' the situation. According to Defence PRO, "Indian army too retaliated strongly and effectively targeting Pakistani posts on Monday evening".

Earlier, commenting on the repeated incidents of sniping along the line of control, Indian army Chief General Bipin Rawat had told reporters in Pathankot, "sniping has been a regular affair. We have got to make sure our drills are good and we don't give them the opportunity. We also have a snipers ready to snipe at him (adversary) and why just snipers, we should be able to hit him harder".

General Rawat also claimed, "Indian army is continuously engaging the 'adversary' and hitting back in equal measure". He said there is lot happening from our side also but we don't want to blow a trumpet unnecessarily.

Whenever he (Pakistan) is doing something it is a reaction to something. He doesn't take the initiative. He also knows that we are strong and we can take very strong action, he added.

REVISION PETITION AGAINST SC VERDICT

Sundaram recuses from Sabarimala case

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

In what is seen as a major setback to the Travancore Devaswam Board, senior Supreme Court advocate Aryama Sundaram recused himself from appearing for the former in the revision petition against the September 28 verdict by the apex court quashing the customary bar on entry of women in the child-bearing age in the Lord Ayyappa temple at Sabarimala. Sources close to the eminent advocate told The Pioneer that he may even appear for the petitioners challenging the court verdict.

The Pioneer had reported on Monday that Aryama Sundaram, grandson of the late Sir CP Ramaswamy Aiyar would represent the TDB in the apex court which is hearing the revision petition challenging the September 28 verdict delivered by the Constitution Bench on Tuesday.

The report had stated that Travancore Devaswom Board is a government department administering the temples in Kerala. Though no reason has been given by Sundaram for his decision to recuse from the case, sources close to the senior lawyer told The Pioneer that it could be due to two factors.

"He was under the impression that Travancore Devaswom Board was an autonomous entity like Thirumala Tirupati Devasthanam at Lord Venkateswara Temple. But when he understood that the Board was a CPI-M controlled body he was shocked and hence the decision. Moreover, he was initially told by the Board to justify the ban on the entry of women to the temple but later on it made a vault face asking him to fight against the revision pleas," said the source on condition of anonymity.

Protest rally held at Perumbavoor against Supreme Court verdict allowing women's entry in Sabarimala

The source also said that Sundaram had argued for another organisation justifying the ban on the entry of women in the holy shrine on an earlier occasion. "If he had appeared for the TDB, it would have been against ethics," pointed out the source.

A Padmakumar, president, Travancore Devaswom Board who is also a prominent CPI-M leader told reporters at Thiruvananthapuram that the decision of Aryama Sundaram to call off from the case was a political one and smacks of politics. Kerala saw massive protests all over the State against the Supreme Court verdict allowing the entry of women of child bearing age into the sanctum of the temple on Sunday and Monday. T V Mathew, a former judge and a devotee Christian inaugurated the protest rally held at Perumbavoor on Sunday which saw massive crowd participation. Mathew wanted all women representatives of the three-tier local bodies in Kerala should intimate their views to the Supreme Court while the revision petition is heard. "I see big opposition and resistance from the women to the verdict delivered by the Supreme Court and now it is time for the women members of Panchayath, district panchayaths, municipal and corporation councils to come together and take a call on this issue," said Mathew.

Sundaram had argued for another organisation justifying the ban on the entry of women in the holy shrine on an earlier occasion. "If he had appeared for the TDB, it would have been against ethics," pointed out the source.

Kerala Govt mulling all-party meet on Sabarimala

Thiruvananthapuram: The Kerala Government is likely to convene an all-party meeting to discuss various matters relating to the Sabarimala temple, which has been rocked by the issue of entry of women in the menstrual age, ahead of the annual pilgrim season commencing this week.

"We are thinking of having an all-party meeting. We have not taken a final decision yet. There are plans..." Devaswom Minister Kadakkampally Surendran told reporters here.

The hill shrine of Lord Ayyappa at Sabarimala opens on November 17 for the two-month long season in the backdrop of continuing protests against the Supreme Court order allowing women of all ages to offer prayers at the temple.

A batch of review petitions against the September 28 verdict that ended the ban on entry of women in the 10-50 age group into the shrine, will be heard Tuesday.

Surendran said a decision on the all-party meeting would be taken based on the outcome of the court hearing.

The temple and nearby areas had witnessed massive protests from devotees against the entry of young women into the shrine, when it was opened for monthly pujas on November 5 and 6 and for five days from October 17.

Over a dozen women under 50 had been prevented from reaching the temple. PTI

Bengal BJP wants to field more Muslims in LS polls

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Not only that the Bengal State unit of the BJP has been fiercely demanding to field party president Amit Shah as a parliamentary candidate from North Kolkata in an apparent bid to hammer home the party's sincerity vis-a-vis Bengal, but a large section of the State saffron unit is also wanting the leadership to field far more Muslim candidates in the next year's Lok Sabha elections, sources say.

"Yes we want Amit Shah ji to contest from North Kolkata. His candidature will spice up the workers not only in the city but throughout the State," Bengal BJP president Dilip Ghosh said expressing his wish to introduce more number of Muslim faces in the party's candidate list.

This considering the fact that the State has an effective 30 percent minority voters. "Already we had showed our intention fielding considerable number of Muslims in the panchayat elections to highlight Prime Minister Narendra Modi's philosophy of Sabka Saath Sabka Vikas," a State secretary of the party said adding how "we had fielded nearly 900 Muslim candidates in the rural polls."

Though Bengal has 27 per cent Muslim population the trend of polling brings the number to about 30 per cent as they vote in hordes and almost to the full strength of their community if compared to the Hindus and other communities who do not vote in such large

Though Bengal has 27 per cent Muslim population the trend of polling brings the number to about 30 per cent as they vote in hordes and almost to the full strength of their community if compared to the Hindus and other communities who do not vote in such large numbers, experts say.

Last time the BJP had fielded two Muslim candidates in the general elections "but that was a different story then as we were in number four position. But today we are the main opposition party and the people have started to visualize as the next rulers of Bengal. So we have to include a good number of Muslim candidates so as to reach out to the entire population. And in fact our party wants to reach out to the minorities, take them along in Bengal's development. We will show that the Muslims are not the jagers of Mamata Banerjee who has done nothing for them save giving lip service," said Hussain Ali another State leader adding the "decision however will be taken by the central leadership."

When asked as to why the RSS was proposing to rename Islampur in North Dinajpur bordering Bihar and Bangladesh as Ishwarpur if at all the BJP wants to project a truly secular face in the State, the leaders said he had no information about that.

Ayodhya issue: Efforts on for out-of-court settlement

Lucknow: Amidst the cacophony over Ram temple construction, efforts are being made to settle the issue out of court with the Muslim plaintiff, in this case, Haji Mehboob, writing a letter to spiritual guru Sri Sri Ravi Shankar in this regard.

An emissary of Sri Sri, Gautam Vig, met Haji Mehboob in Ayodhya on Monday and conveyed to him the feelings of the Art of Living leader about solving the Ram temple issue out of court. In the evening, Haji Mehboob wrote a letter to Sri Sri, showing his willingness to resolve the issue, but with some riders.

What exactly Haji Mehboob has written in the letter is not known but it is believed that he has shown his willingness to solve this vexed issue out of court.

Another plaintiff in the case, Iqbal Hashim, too, has shown his willingness to solve the issue out of court. He is on record saying that if outsiders leave Ayodhya, the residents of this city will solve the issue themselves.

The Art of Living founder is voluntarily mediating to help the warring parties settle the dispute amicably. Last year, in the mid of November, he went to Ayodhya and held a meeting with the sadhus. He also met Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath before visiting Ayodhya. After the meeting, Sri Sri was of the view that majority of Muslims were not opposed to the idea of building a Ram temple at the disputed site. PNS

Hiking cane price a pre-poll challenge for UP Govt

Lucknow: Ahead of the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the Uttar Pradesh Government faces the difficult task of satisfying the sugarcane farmers who are pitching for over 25 per cent hike in the State Advisory Price (SAP) of cane for the current 2018-19 crushing season.

If their demands are acceded by the Government, the sugarcane price will be ₹400 per quintal for the 2018-19 season. The sugar industry, which is predominantly in the private sector, on the other hand, has reiterated its inability to pay even the existing cane price of ₹315 per quintal (common variety) fixed last year for the 2017-18 season.

The farmers and their organisations raised the demand for hike in the SAP during the meeting of the cane price fixation committee headed by the Chief Secretary. The farmers' leaders made a strong demand for hiking cane SAP to ₹400 per quintal on the ground of rise in prices of agricultural inputs like diesel, fertilisers, seeds, etc.

"Both the Central and the State Governments have repeatedly affirmed their agenda of doubling farmers' income and yet there has been insignificant increase in the cane price in recent years," said representative of UP Cane Cooperative Societies, Arvind Kumar Singh, who participated in the high-level meeting.

The Centre has fixed the fair and remunerative price (FRP) of cane at ₹275 per quintal. UP traditionally announces a much higher SAP of cane to be paid by the sugar mills.

The millers have cited glut in sugar market due to record sugar production in last season (2017-18) which has resulted in high sugarcane arrears of the last season. Currently, the state cane outstanding stands at about ₹7,800 crore for the last season (2017-18). Around 75 private sugar mills have applied for collectively availing a ₹4,000-crore soft loan sponsored by the Yogi Adityanath Government to ease the cane arrears payment situation.

The mills maintain that the fact that the State announced the soft loan package is proof enough that the sugar sector is facing difficulties in making payments and any further hike in price will only compound the problem.

There are about 40 lakh rural households in UP directly associated with sugarcane farming with the sugar and by-products sector infusing as much as ₹50,000 crore in rural economy annually.

In run-up to the 2019 Lok Sabha poll, the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party can ill afford to antagonise the state farmers, especially in western UP that has higher concentration of sugar mills. So far, about a dozen sugar mills have started their crushing operations in UP, out of the total 119 units in the private and Cooperative sectors.

Minister of State for Sugarcane Development, Sugar Mills (Independent Charge), Suresh Rana on Monday directed sugar mills to commence cane crushing by November 25 and clear the cane arrears by November 30. PNS

VHP performs 'bhoomi puja' at 'dharma sabha' venue

PNS ■ LUCKNOW

The Vishwa Hindu Parishad performed 'bhoomi puja' of the ground in Ayodhya where the 'dharma sabha' is to be held on November 25, saying a very positive message will emanate from here regarding construction of Ram temple at the designated place and spread across the country within no time.

VHP national vice-president Champat Rai said that Hindus were hurt by the attitude of Supreme Court in solving this issue.

"We were quite hopeful about an early settlement of the case but by deferring the hearing to January, the apex court has played with the sentiments of the majority community," Rai said in a statement after the 'bhoomi puja' on Monday.

He said that those in power should realise that society was not indifferent to the Ram temple issue. He said over one lakh Ram 'bhakts' would come to Ayodhya on November 25 while over five lakh people would assemble in Delhi on December 9 for the 'dharma sansad' of saints and seers.

"We will organise such 'dharma sabhas' at 500 places across the country so that the court and the people settle the issue at the earliest. Our demand is simple, if the court is delaying the whole process, the government should step in and bring a legislation for construction of Ram temple. The BJP is in power not only at Centre but also in Uttar Pradesh," he said, adding that the common refrain was 'ab nahi banega mandir to kab banega' (if the temple is not constructed now, when will it be constructed).

The VHP vice-president said that since 1950, the issue was pending in the court, sometimes in the lower court and sometimes in the higher court. He said the Allahabad High Court gave a verdict but it was not acceptable to the masses.

"The verdict says the area under the dome is temple whereas we believe the whole land belongs to Lord Ram. One cannot change the birthplace. Will the court say Lord Ram was not born in Ayodhya," Rai said.

"The issue should have been solved by September but it was dragged, keeping Lok Sabha elections in mind. We want the temple to be constructed at the earliest. The sooner it is done, the better for the country," the VHP leader said.

Shiv Sena leader takes a jibe at VHP

Lucknow: Taking a jibe at Vishwa Hindu Parishad's proposed 'dharma sabha', Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut said that Hindu saints and leaders should stage protest outside Parliament House or the Supreme Court instead of holding meeting in Ayodhya if they really wanted a Ram temple.

"What is the use of this 'dharma sabha' in Ayodhya? It is clear now that the construction of temple can start only if the Narendra Modi government gets a legislation passed in Parliament regarding it. The sadhus should pressurise the government to bring a legislation (for Ram temple construction) at the earliest," Raut, who is spokesman of his party, said in Ayodhya on Monday.

The VHP has proposed a 'dharma sabha' in Ayodhya on November 25. The same day, similar meetings will be held in Bengaluru and Nagpur. On December 9, the VHP will organise a 'dharma sansad' in Delhi.

Raut said the Shiv Sena would support the Modi government if it brought a legislation to pave way for construction of Ram temple in Ayodhya. PNS

Congress calisthenics

The party's exercises for the Assembly polls are forcing some contortions but victory will make it all okay

The harsh political reality is that the Congress needs to win at least two of the four bigger States, plus retain Mizoram, of the States going to polls over the coming few weeks to be a serious contender for a leading role in the Opposition's plans to unseat the BJP from power in the 2019 General Election. It is, in fact, the worst-kept secret in town. And the leadership of the grand old party is aware of just how quickly all the Opposition bonhomie will dissipate and the Congress pushed into a 'supporting role' for a conglomeration of regional parties if it fails to perform at the hustings yet again.

In Mizoram, the party's last toe-hold in the North-east, the party has deputed AICC general secretary Luizinho Faleiro — who was recently brought back to New Delhi after a couple of years in his home State of Goa — to ensure that his 'magic touch' which saw Congress-led Governments in five North-eastern States till as recently as 2016 helps the party retain power in the face of the BJP and Mizo National Front strategy to fight the elections separately and then come together post-poll. It's a small State but it is vital for the Congress to retain it in terms of the Assembly elections score-line, so Faleiro is pulling out all the stops. That Mizoram is a Christian-majority State helps the Congress which has effectively mobilised Church groups and demonised the BJP — with a lot of help from the utterances of BJP leaders nationally, it must be said. But in the other four States, it's a different story. Madhya Pradesh has seen the party play what is known in popular parlance as the 'soft Hindutva' card with a vengeance. From promising a gaushala in every village and committing itself to promoting research and application of cow urine in medicine and healthcare, to Rahul Gandhi, Kamal Nath and Jyotiraditya Scindia paying obeisance to prominent Hindu temples complete with sacred thread, the party has gone whole hog. Further, in keeping with its strategy of portraying itself as comprising the 'real Hindus' and the BJP/RSS as katarvaadis (fundamentalists) within the fold, Congress has announced plans to re-impose the ban on Government employees attending RSS shakhas or allowing Sangh-related activities in government buildings if elected. Simultaneously, reports from the ground indicate that the Congress leadership, especially veteran Kamal Nath, has persuaded many of the candidates put up by the Bahujan Samaj Party and Samajwadi Party apart from lesser political groups to 'informally' support and vote Congress come polling day. This tactic, if the Congress can pull it off, may make the crucial difference between winning and losing in a State where the BJP and Congress are widely perceived to be running neck-to-neck. In many ways, Madhya Pradesh, an erstwhile Congress stronghold where the party has managed to retain its rural support base despite 15 years out of power, is the key State for it to win.

Rajasthan, as survey after survey backed up by anecdotal evidence from those who have travelled extensively in the State suggests, is in the bag for the Congress unless it shoots itself in the foot spectacularly. Chhattisgarh looks likely to re-elect Raman Singh as Chief Minister thanks at least in part to the Ajit Jogi-Mayawati combine drawing more votes from the Congress than the BJP though the Congress is still hopeful of propping up Jogi — a la HD Kumaraswamy in Karnataka — if the BJP falls even marginally short. TRS seems headed for a win in Telangana despite a Congress campaign that has over the past couple of weeks shown some signs of coming into its own.

If the above scenario holds, and this is before Prime Minister Narendra Modi has launched his election campaign in earnest please remember, the Congress could win in Rajasthan, Mizoram and Madhya Pradesh. With three out of five States in the bag it will be difficult for any Opposition alliance to ignore Rahul Gandhi as he would have finally delivered at the hustings. Congress has all to play for.

Safety last

Drunk drivers and inadequate road barriers; between idiotic users and poor infrastructure, India has a road safety problem

The news that an allegedly drunk female driver lost control of her car, crossed the divider and rammed into a car coming from the opposite side in Delhi a couple of days ago leading to a death is yet another fatal road accident statistic in India. Yes, as modern cars have become safer, fatalities have come down. But there are several worrying issues here. First, the driver is suspected to have been under the influence of alcohol but till a blood-test report comes in, one should treat this report with some scepticism as the police nearly always accuse the driver in an accident of being inebriated. That said, other than in Mumbai where police have done a stellar job in curbing drunken driving with a massive crackdown, our cities just haven't got this right. This must change and more police personnel should be posted to curb drunken driving; take some cops away from VIP security duties for a start.

The poor quality of road infrastructure in our country, though, often makes a bad situation even worse. Roads have to be as idiot-proof as possible because road users are often idiots. Concrete pavers doubling up as road dividers are not a safety feature. In fact, they can often make accidents worse because instead of absorbing the kinetic energy from an impact which metal and wire barriers do, concrete, particularly the low height concrete dividers that are used in India, can launch a vehicle into the air and into the path of traffic on the other side. And this can happen whether the driver is drunk, distracted or had deliberately rammed into the divider to avoid an accident. Worse still, there are far too many cases where we take road safety for granted. Work on the Delhi-Panipat stretch of National Highway 1 is ongoing with little or no concept of road safety being understood by the contractor. Across Indian highways, workers have little or no regard to their own safety and that of others, water tankers used to water plants on central verges have no warning lights and workers often use a tattered red cloth to warn oncoming drivers of a diversion. This was fine in the era of the Ambassador and the Padmini but today, with cars regularly capable of hitting 200-plus km an hour speeds, our concept of road safety needs to change on both highways and city roads.

Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan's failure to renegotiate parts of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) during his visit to Beijing in the first week of November affirms President Xi Jinping's inflexible commitment to making China a leading world power by 2049, the centenary of communist rule in that country. The Border and Road Initiative (B&RI) and military power are keys to this goal.

While President Xi is extending the B&RI's reach, he cannot be generous with countries that cannot push back like Malaysia, because China has been facing serious problems even prior to the spat with US President Donald Trump. As early as September 2016, the Bank for International Settlements warned that excessive credit growth in China could trigger a banking crisis within three years.

In May 2017, Moody's Investors Service downgraded China's credit ratings for the first time since 1989, saying growth would slow and debt would rise to 40 per cent of GDP by 2018, and 45 per cent by 2020. In October 2017, Standard & Poor's cut China's sovereign credit rating from A+ to AA- for the first time since 1999, because of risks from soaring debt. It lowered the rating on HSBC China, Hang Seng China and DBS Bank China Ltd. and warned that these banks would be "unlikely to avoid default should the nation default on its sovereign debt". Bloomberg noted growing concerns over China's ability to balance economic growth with cleaning up its financial sector. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) warned (December 2017) that China's growing debt-dependency could trigger a new global financial crisis. Credit growth has surpassed GDP growth; corporate debt is 165 per cent of GDP; household debt has risen 15 percentage points of GDP in the past five years and is linked to asset-price speculation. A serious problem is 'shadow banking' that Moody's in November 2017 put at $9.8 trillion ($8.5 per cent of GDP).

While Beijing has cracked down on debt and the shadow banking sector, the credit squeeze on some sectors has driven companies to the offshore dollar bond market; borrowings touched $322 billion at the beginning of 2017, a 154 per cent increase from 2016, according to China International Capital Corp. By July 2018, the National Institute of Finance and Development, a regime-affiliated think tank, warned of "financial panic", saying the economy may be on the edge of disaster due to increasing bond defaults, currency depreciation, tightening lending and liquidity, and trade tensions with the United States.

Amidst these pressures, Beijing gave Islamabad a one billion dollar loan to buffer its foreign currency reserves, thus

In the Dragon's embrace

Imran Khan has received a reality bite: No sops, austerities and repayment of Chinese loans from 2019, all amidst a disintegrating society lending Pakistan over five billion dollar in this fiscal year. Imran Khan fared better with Riyadh post-Jamal Khashoggi murder, but even six billion dollar in investments cannot keep Pakistan's precarious economy afloat. Khan's attempt to raise two billion dollar for two dams in ecologically fragile terrain will remain a pipe dream; an IMF bailout seems the only hope.

Beijing, meanwhile, will resist Washington's economic aggression with its Yuan-denominated oil futures contracts which, since March 2018, have broken the US Dollar's monopoly over the energy trade. Should the oil futures be convertible into gold, it would attract oil-producing nations like Russia, Venezuela, and Iran. Moscow and Beijing are also striving for a gold-backed post-Bretton Woods exchange system to curtail Dollar hegemony and evade US sanctions. Both have been accumulating gold reserves which, if greater than Washington's, can seriously undermine the US Dollar.

Given the scale of China's ambitions, it is not surprising that the joint communiqué appreciated the progress on early harvest projects, especially in the energy sector, and extolled the all-weather partnership in flowery language. Within Pakistan, the visit was perceived as a grand failure; Dawn columnist Adnan Rasool observed that the Pakistani State "is completely clueless regarding the larger objectives of the Belt and Road Initiative", of which CPEC is only one portion.

The B&RI covers around

60 countries and broadly comprises three overland and three maritime routes. Most projects have not been contracted between governments but between Chinese companies and state-owned enterprises (SOEs). Hence, any attempt to renegotiate contracts (the promise on which Imran Khan came to power) would have to be firm by firm, which is virtually impossible. Moreover, any arbitration involved during renegotiations will go to the B&RI court in Xi'an, under Chinese law, so Islamabad would need a law firm to represent it on each contract to be renegotiated or contest the cases itself.

The B&RI, Rasool asserts, is a system which countries join to share the Chinese Dream of sustained growth for China through trade. Partner countries tie their economic destiny to that of China — as China flourishes, so do others. Since Beijing does the "heavy lifting", it is the senior partner, but others must do their share. The CPEC is a series of projects that serve the larger B&RI scheme, and is not a credit line or bailout package. That is the crux of the matter.

Pakistan has to fix its own economy and use the B&RI to gain market access to other partner-countries, and boost its earnings. Perhaps such a clear understanding could have saved Sri Lanka, Myanmar, The Maldives, Tajikistan, Djibouti, and others from the indebtedness that forced them to make costly debt-for-equity deals with Beijing. With the Asian Development Bank estimating

B&RI to cost over $26 trillion by 2030, and China's foreign currency reserves hovering around $3 trillion, Beijing is in no position to cancel or mitigate debt.

Interestingly, the joint communiqué included a commitment by Islamabad to support China in safeguarding its sovereignty and security, and combating separatism, terrorism and extremism including the East Turkistan Islamic Movement (ETIM). Concerns for the CPEC's security made Beijing build a counter-terrorist base in Afghanistan's Wakhan Corridor in Badakhshan province, where Uyghur militants (ETIM) constitute a serious threat to Muslim-majority Xinjiang province. Kabul has refused to join the B&RI-CPEC because Islamabad continues to host the Taliban and Haqqani terrorist network which attack Afghanistan.

Pakistani doublespeak forced Beijing to take a tough line at the Financial Action Task Force in February 2018, where Pakistan was put on the watch list for financing terror. Imran Khan has received a reality bite: No sops, austerities, and repayment of Chinese loans from 2019, all amidst a disintegrating society as witnessed by the turmoil over Asia Bibi's exoneration by the Supreme Court. Pakistan is caught in a pincer: Faith and a bleak economic landscape make uneasy bedfellows.

Scope for improvement

Sir — This refers to the article, "Science in classrooms" (November 12) by JS Rajput. India's ranking in the list of 'ease of doing business' is laudable. The Government and entrepreneurs, in compliance with each other, have proved their calibre of being a development-savvy nation.

Finagled business units have been broken down by the Narendra Modi Government via steps like demonetisation and the implementation of GST, which in turn also raised the nation's GDP to an all-time high of 8.2 per cent. The scope for development has its doors wide open for India and its youth power. The need of the hour is to grab the opportunity and take it forward.

New weapon in India's bowling armoury

The India-West Indies series has thrown up a new kid on the block — Khaleel Ahmed. The player, who represented Rajasthan in the Ranji Trophy, gave the West Indies a dose of their own medicine especially in the final two ODIs. Good pace and reverse swing is a heady combo, more so if you are a left arm bowler, and Khaleel has both in abundance. The aggression on the pitch, the exultation on scalping a wicket and believing in giving the batsman an eye for an eye are all good attributes of a young fast bowler.

India captain Virat Kohli had praised Khaleel Ahmed by describing him as one of the finds of the ODI series against the West Indies. Khaleel apparently is working on both his bowling and non-bowling arm to better his game. Two former greats have played a significant role in honing the player's skills — Rahul Dravid and Zaheer Khan. In England, where the 2019 World Cup will be held, the conditions will be quite favourable to swing bowlers. Khaleel is one player India would hope to cash in on. The recent series and the upcoming ones are viewed as tests for players on the edge.

No offence

Sir — May be the proposals by the Uttar Pradesh Government to change the name of Allahabad to Prayagraj was unreasonable. But why was it necessary for Akbar to rename Prayag 444 years ago? If he ever needed a city named Ilahabad to chime with his Din-e-Ilahi, why was it justifiable to axe a holy place of the Hindus? If the name of an ancient Hindu tirth is restored, that should not be construed as an attack on Muslims. If the act of Akbar was right, as the critics make us believe, ipso facto the act of Yogi Government, too, is right, because different yardsticks cannot be used for the same act.

Brilliant innings

Sir — I appreciate the Indian women's cricket team, who chased down the target of 134 with six balls to spare, specially Mithali Raj who smashed an aggressive half-century to guide India to an easy 7-wicket win over Pakistan in the ICC Women's World Cup T20. One hopes that the team will continue to perform well and outclass opposition in the forthcoming matches too.

What went wrong?

The anti-immigrant hysteria is almost universal in Eastern Europe and it will bring more illiberal nationalist regimes to power before it is finished

GWYNNE DYER

I first met Viktor Orbán, the not-quite-dictator of Hungary, in 1989 in Budapest — and the man who introduced us was none other than George Soros. Orbán was then a firebrand student leader, anti-Communist and keen for Hungary to join the West. Soros, a Hungarian refugee who became an American billionaire, was devoting his time and money to finding and subsidising young Eastern Europeans who would lead their countries into the European Union and a liberal democratic future. But Orbán is now the Prime Minister of an 'illiberal' Hungarian Government that controls the mass media and regards the EU as the enemy. In last April's election, he portrayed Soros as the Jewish evil genius who, with the EU's help, was planning to flood Hungary with Muslim refugees and destroy the country's culture and identity. That's ridiculous, but Orbán won almost half the votes and more than two-thirds of the seats in Parliament. Poland, a far bigger country, now also has a far-right, 'illiberal' government that is ultra-nationalist and hostile to the EU (although both countries depend heavily on EU subsidies).

The extremists are not yet in power in other Eastern European countries, but similar trends are visible in the Czech Republic, Slovakia and Romania. The dreams and hopes that drove the anti-Communist revolutions of 1989 are not yet dead, but they are definitely fading. What went wrong? These countries are among the most ethnically homogenous in the world (due to the Holocaust and the widespread 'ethnic cleansing' that followed both world wars). They have admitted almost no refugees, yet their politics is dominated by the fear of being swamped by them.

It's beyond bizarre, but Bulgarian political philosopher, Ivan Krastev, has a persuasive explanation for it. He points out that the question "isn't so much where the nationalism has come from, but where it's been hiding all these years." His answer is that it was hiding in plain sight. During the 1970s and 1980s, the nationalists who wanted independence from Soviet rule, formed a close alliance with the pro-Western activists who wanted a liberal, democratic future. From Poland to Bulgaria, the liberals and the nationalists worked together, and even after the overthrow of the Communists in 1989, they continued to believe (or at least hope) that democracy could accommodate them both.

Maybe it could have, but the nationalist wars that destroyed the former Yugoslav federation in the 1990s put an end to the partnership. As Krastev says, the violence there persuaded liberals that "nationalism was the very heart of darkness, and that flirting with it could only be sinful." So, the liberals broke their alliances with the nationalists, and for a while the nationalists went very quiet. Nobody, not even Polish or Hungarian nationalists, wanted to be seen in the same light as monsters like Serbia's Slobodan Milosevic. But nationalism was the most powerful political force in Eastern Europe throughout the 20th century, and it wasn't going to just fade away. It re-emerged in the early 21st century, shorn of its liberal associations with tolerance and diversity, as a major political force in the region — and the driver behind it was what Krastev calls "demographic panic".

After 1989, many people in Eastern Europe not only aspired to emulate the prosperous liberal democracies of Western Europe. They actually wanted to live in them, and when their countries joined the EU they acquired the right to free movement. If Poles thought that life would be better in England, for example, they could just move there and find work — and a million of them did. Since 1989, 27 percent of Latvia's population has emigrated to Western Europe, and Bulgaria has lost 21 percent. Hungary is not so hard hit, but it has lost 3 percent of its population to Western Europe in the past ten years — and almost all the emigrants are young, leaving behind an aging population with a low birth rate. This is the real source of the demographic panic, but it finds its political expression in a paranoid fear that the country's dwindling population will be overrun by immigrants with a radically different culture, particularly refugees. It doesn't matter that there are virtually no immigrants in Hungary, and that it's about the last place a refugee would want to go. In these matters, perception is all.

The anti-immigrant hysteria is almost universal in Eastern Europe, and it will bring more illiberal nationalist regimes to power before it is finished. The remedy, if there is one, is for the liberals to acknowledge the nationalists' concerns and rebuild the old alliances with them without pandering to the panic. That's not easy to do, but it's what every Western European democracy has actually been doing for generations. Although they're not doing too well with it at the moment themselves.

Steady military modernisation

Efforts over the last four years by the Modi Government to upgrade India's armed forces despite financial constraints and a huge backlog deserve appreciation

PATHIKRIT PAYNE

From September 2019, India would start to receive the much-awaited Dassault Rafale combat aircrafts and the delivery and testing of the entire fleet of 36 fighter jets is expected to be completed by April 2022. India would also start receiving Apache AH-64E multi-role combat helicopters and CH-47 tactical transport helicopters, contract for which was finalised in 2015, as well as M-777 howitzers, which was signed under a contract in 2016. The Indian Army will also receive most of the 1.86 lakh bulletproof jackets, which were contracted for in 2018. From 2020, India would start getting delivery of S-400 air defence systems whose deal was signed last October. It is also expected that by next year, India would have in place a clear roadmap and contract in place for arming the infantry soldiers of the Indian Army with a battle-proven assault rifle to replace the obsolete INSAS.

What Modi inherited: Lack of modernisation of the armed forces for nearly a decade and challenges of grappling with obsolescence of existing equipment in the rapidly changing geopolitical landscape, were two major predicaments that the Narendra Modi Government had to confront in 2014. Rapid pace of military modernisation by both China and Pakistan exacerbated the situation further. There were only two choices in front of Prime Minister Narendra Modi — either continue to play politics of delay on big ticket defence acquisitions or take a decisive approach to modernise the forces while brushing aside all inhibitions and delaying tactics of the vested interests. The Prime Minister chose the latter. He preferred to go for fast-paced military modernisation.

First steps: In June 2014, the keel was laid for India's first missile tracking ship at Hindustan Shipyard after it was ordered by Modi Government as part of developing a robust nuclear shield. In less than four years since then, the 15,000 tonne ocean surveillance ship is almost ready and is undergoing trials before final commissioning. In 2015, the Modi dispensation gave approval for the construction of seven stealth frigates under Project 17A and six nuclear powered attack submarines. While Mumbai-based Mazagon Dock Shipbuilders Limited would be making four of the frigates, Kolkata-based Garden Reach Shipbuilders & Engineers would make the remaining three. The nuclear powered attack submarines would be built at the Ship Building Centre in Vizag.

Big ticket acquisitions: In September 2015, the Narendra Modi Government signed deals with Boeing for acquisition of 22 Apache AH-64 attack helicopters and 15 Chinook CH-47 tactical transport helicopters under a three billion dollar deal. Order for six more Apache AH-64 helicopters were given in 2018. The year 2015 also saw the Government giving nod to acquisition of 10 Heron TP armed drones from Israel for $400 million.

In September 2016, India and France inked deal for acquisition of 59 Dassault Rafale combat jets. The 59,000 crore deal, apart from a 50 per cent clause for offsets and local sourcing of components, also included a wide array of cutting edge weapon systems, including Scalp cruise missiles with 500-km range and Meteor radar guided beyond visual range (BVR) air-to-air missile with over 100 km of range. This apart, reports also indicate that the Rafales made for India would probably be capable of carrying nuclear warheads as well as BrahMos. With one squadron each for the eastern and western battle theatres, the Rafale fleet is expected to significantly boost the combat capabilities of Indian Air Forces. A follow-on order for four additional P8I Poseidon maritime reconnaissance planes for Indian Navy was also signed in 2016.

The Rafale deal was followed by Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) clearing the Acceptance of Necessity (AON) in November 2016 for acquisition of 83 Light Combat Aircraft or Tejas in the MK1A configuration, which would be equipped with AESA radars, self-protection jammers and air-to-air refuelling capabilities. A year later, IAF issued the Request for Proposal to HAL and reports indicate that Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) has submitted quotation for the same, which is under review by the Ministry of Defence. Incidentally, HAL is yet to get the final operational clearance (FOC) for LCA and conclude the delivery of the first 40 Light Combat Aircrafts (LCA), whose orders were placed in 2006 and 2010 respectively.

Modernising artillery: In the realm of artillery acquisition, the first major step by the Modi Government in restarting the modernisation of artillery regiments of the Indian Army was through selection of L&T-Hanwha Techwin combine in 2015 for making 100 self propelled K9 Vajra howitzers. The contract worth around ₹5,000 crore was signed in 2017. Further, a critical deal with the US was signed in 2016 for acquisition of 145 M777 ultra light-weight howitzers for ₹5,000 crore, a deal which was pending for years during the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) era. In 2016, approval was also given for raising two more regiments of Pinaka rockets for ₹3,300 crore and the fourth regiment of BrahMos for ₹4,300 crore with more advanced versions of the cruise missile, proficient in trajectory manoeuvrability and with deep diving capabilities, to be deployed in northeast.

Bulletproof jackets for infantry: If there was one product whose deficiency tormented the infantry soldier of the Indian Army for decades now, it has to be the availability of new generation bulletproof jackets. Like many other defence files, dust kept on piling on this one too for years. During the 11th five year plan (2007-12) Indian Army was supposed to receive 1,86,168 jackets but nothing much happened. Eventually, it was in 2016 that permission for a one-time interim emergency acquisition' by taking the 'revenue route' was granted by the Modi-led Government to the Indian Army for procuring 50,000 bulletproof vests for ₹140 crore from Tata Advanced Materials.

Later in April 2018, another contract worth ₹639 crore was signed by the Ministry of Defence with SMPP Pvt Ltd for procurement of an additional 1,86,138 bulletproof jackets. In 2017, a contract worth ₹180 crore was also given to Kanpur-based MKU for procurement of 1.6 lakh bulletproof helmets, an equipment as critical for the foot soldier, in the battle front, as bulletproof vest and assault rifle.

Modernising air defence: On the air defence front, in April 2017, India signed a two billion dollar deal with Israel Aerospace Industry and another Israeli company, Rafael, for supplying Medium Range Surface to Air Missiles (MR-SAM) to the Indian Army. Additionally, a $630 million contract in 2017 and a $777 million contract in 2018 were signed with Israel Aerospace Industries for Barak-8 Long Range Surface to Air Missile (LR-SAM) to arm India's frontline warships. This was followed by the mammoth $5.43 billion deal with Russia in 2018 for S-400 Triumf air defence systems, capable of shooting down almost all kinds of incoming missiles, fighters and drones.

The deal for 6,000 missiles and associated equipments, including jam resistant phased array radars, was inked in spite of threats of sanctions by US. This was followed in quick succession with a $950 million deal with Russia for two frigates of Project 11,356 class for Indian Navy.

In between, exclusive deals worth almost ₹20,000 crore were also signed by the IAF and the Indian Army for ammunitions, spares and engines to have enough reserve for 10 days of intense fighting in case of any eventuality. Many additional deals are in pipeline including 200 Ka-226 and 48 Mi-17V5 helicopters, acquisition of 464 T-90 tanks and local production of AK series rifles. Some are expected to be signed soon. Further, Prime Minister Narendra Modi's diplomatic efforts resulting in India being inducted into the exclusive Missile Technology Control Regime (MTCR) club and being granted Strategic Trade Authorisation (STA-1) status by the US also helps the country to enhance the range and quantum of warheads in imported missiles and get access to critical and cutting-edge defence technologies hitherto restricted for India.

Efforts over the last four years by the Modi Government to modernise India's armed forces in spite of financial constraints and a huge backlog deserve appreciation.

#MeToo: Clarion call to something bigger

Men should be educated about the nuances of their acts and the consequent impact that they have on a victim. Despite changes that are required in law, the movement should first ignite social change

RAGHAV PANDEY

NEELABH BIST

The common incidents that take place in almost every woman's life, incidents that were hushed behind closed doors, have finally found a platform to come out in the open, in the form of the #MeToo movement. The campaign has caused a ripple effect in India, which looks promising enough to bring about a change for good.

However, there is an underlying fear because of which certain women haven't come out with their ordeals — the fear of not being believed, the fear of loss of reputation and more importantly, loss of their jobs and the associated trauma.

Normally, the legal consequences of bringing out the misdeeds of someone can result in a nullity if there is no strong evidence to substantiate the claim. In fact, you can end up being the one on the wrong side of the law, as a defamation suit can be filed against you. The same had happened with writer-producer, Vinta Nanda, as a suit for defamation had been filed by actor Alok Nath as a reply to her harrowing contribution to the #MeToo movement.

The whole scenario leads us to essentially question the legal framework within which the #MeToo movement stands. Does it provide enough protection to the victims?

The answer is a big "no", as the accused can only be convicted on the production of substantial evidence against him, which is very difficult to obtain, especially in a sexual harassment case.

Now, if the accused cannot be convicted for his actions then what exactly can be changed so as to create the perfect balance wherein the victims of such harassment, or worse, can be protected, and at the same time, the framed people can enjoy their fair bit of protection as well?

From the experience drawn from the US, where the #MeToo movement had seen its inception, many valuable lessons can be learned on how to reform the law. The first change that the law should provide for is an opt out option in non-disclosure agreements (NDAs).

It was observed in the United States that a big impediment in the reporting of sexual misbehaviour was the NDA. In many cases, the NDAs were so much customised to such effect that a victim was compensated with a financial settlement while gagging him/her from speaking about the abuse.

Another big problem with the law is that it provides a time frame within which the complaint has to be lodged. Section 9(1) of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace Act, 2013 provides for three months from the date of the incident or the date of the last incident in case of a series of events, for reporting of the complaint. This can be increased to another three months by the internal or local committee adjudicating the claim.

Now, the narrative — that such a limitation should be placed so as to balance the interest of justice between the complainant and the accused — falls short on the count that this is a protective legislation. Such legislations are created because the subjects that they deem to protect are vulnerable and, therefore, need an affirmative protection of the State.

With limitations like that of time period, the Sexual Harassment Act tends to defeat the purpose for which it was enacted as it has to protect each and every individual who faces harassment without any prejudice to the time when she finally gathers the courage to speak up in the patriarchal system.

Further, in the court of law, if such a matter comes for adjudication, it should be reasonably expected from the court that they do not expect an exact testimony from the victim, in excruciating detail. This is to say that the courts usually expect the victim to recall their experience in a linear fashion by requiring them to provide specific names, dates and facts of the assault. In this manner, the legal system wants the victims to remember and pen down the horrendous experience which they usually try hard to forget. While the accuracy of the events does not destroy their case, it provides an easy way for the defence attorney to do the same by creating a reasonable doubt of the innocence of the accused.

Now comes the question which has created immense fear in the minds of many misogynists since the #MeToo movement has begun: How will the falsely accused men be protected? Well, these people will be happy to know that if a malicious or false complaint or a complaint made with forged or misleading document is made, then under Section 14 of the Sexual Harassment Act, action can be taken against the complainant.

However, it also provides that the mere inability to substantiate a complaint or provide adequate proof need not attract action against the complainant, thus protecting the victim as well.

Despite the changes that are required in the legal sphere, it can be safely said that the #MeToo movement should first ignite social change, which should then take the form of legal change.

Men should be educated about the nuances of their acts (which might seem casual or commonplace to them but is actually harassment) and the consequent impact that it has on the victim. #MeToo is being termed as a clarion call to something bigger, and with a Constitution which is feminist, hopes are high that India will finally wake up to a better future.

MISSING LEGITIMACY OF THINK TANKS

Brexit has changed the atmosphere of political debate in profoundly damaging ways. For the newly aggressive leave vanguard, represented by a clutch of think tanks, it has legitimised their dangerous heresy and redefined the previous orthodoxy as being biased and an out-of-touch remain, liberal worldview. # Sensex falls 346 pts as crude prices rise

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The equity benchmark Sensex on Monday dived about 346 points owing to an intense fog-end selling mainly in auto and energy stocks as fresh worries about weakening rupee and rising crude oil prices resurfaced.

Similarly, the NSE Nifty fell by 103 points to 10,482.20 points.

The benchmark Brent crude snapped its four-day losing streak and rose 2.09 per cent to 71.62 per barrel after Saudi Arabia, the world's top crude exporter, said Sunday it will cut oil output from next month, as major producers held a key meeting to discuss shoring up sliding prices.

Further impacting domestic market sentiments, the Indian rupee again breached the 73-mark, dropping 57 paise (intra-day) to 73.07 against the dollar.

Besides, a caution prevailed among investors ahead of key macro data — index of industrial production (IIP) for September and CPI inflation for October — to be released later in the day.

Mixed leads from most other Asian markets and a lower opening of European shares too fuelled the downward trend.

"Markets failed to hold the early gains and lost nearly a per cent, pressurised by weak global cues. Participants were in profit-taking mood from the beginning and mostly sectoral indices traded in tandem with the benchmark index. The decline was wide spread and broader market indices too ended with loss of nearly a per cent each," an analyst said.

The 30-share Sensex opened on a strong footing at 35,287.49 and advanced to scale a high of 35,333.22 in line with a firming trend at other Asian markets and fresh inflows of funds by foreign investors.

However, profit-booking by investors at better prices wiped out initial gains and the Sensex slipped to a low of 34,756.80 before settling 345.56 points, or 0.98 per cent, down at 34,812.99.

During the volatile session, it swung over 576 points on alternate bouts of hectic buying and selling. The gauge had lost 79.13 points on Friday.

The broader NSE Nifty slipped below the 10,500-mark by falling 103 points, or 0.97 per cent, at 10,482.20. It touched a high of 10,645.50 and a low of 10,464.05 during the day.

Meanwhile, on a net basis, foreign funds bought shares worth a net ₹614.14 crore, while domestic institutional investors (DIIs) sold shares to the tune of ₹337.28 crore on Friday, provisional data showed.

Selling was more pronounced in auto, oil and gas, PSU and banking stocks which dragged the indices into the negative zone.

Among Sensex constituents, Tata Motors was the worst hit, plunging 4.84 per cent, followed by Hero MotoCorp at 3.82 per cent.

Other laggards include PowerGrid 2.87 per cent, Maruti Suzuki 2.64 per cent, Adani Ports 2.61 per cent, Vedanta Ltd 2.59 per cent, Yes Bank 2.24 per cent, M&M 2.06 per cent, SBI 1.86 per cent, Bajaj Auto 1.80 per cent, Asian Paint 1.74 per cent, Coal India 1.55 per cent, HDFC Bank 1.35 per cent and RIL 1.34 per cent.

Also, ITC Ltd, HDFC Ltd, Sun Pharma, Axis Bank, Bharti Airtel, NTPC, HUL, ICICI Bank, IndusInd Bank, Wipro and ONGC succumbed to selling pressure and lost up to 1.23 per cent.

In contrast, Tata Steel, Kotak Bank, Infosys, TCS and L&T emerged gainers, rising up to 1.67 per cent. However, consumer durables index remained on the top by rising 1.38 per cent and IT by 0.46 per cent.

Retail inflation cools to year-low of 3.31 pc in Oct

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Retail inflation fell to a one-year low of 3.31 per cent in October on the back of cheaper kitchen staples, fruits and protein-rich items, official data released on Monday showed.

The inflation based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI) was 3.7 per cent in September 2018 and 3.58 per cent in October 2017. The retail inflation number is the lowest since September 2017 when it touched 3.28 per cent.

The rate of price rise in the food basket contracted by 0.86 per cent in October compared to 0.51 per cent rise in September, according to the Central Statistics Office data.

Vegetable prices declined by 8.06 per cent in October against a 4.15 per cent contraction in September.

Inflation also slowed to 0.35 per cent in the fruit basket as against 1.12 per cent recorded a month ago.

The retail inflation also cooled in protein-rich items like cereals, eggs, milk and related products.

However, inflation quickened to 8.55 per cent for the 'fuel and light' category against 8.47 per cent in the previous month.

₹ drops 39 paise as crude oil rebounds

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The rupee on Monday dropped by 39 paise to settle at 72.89 against the US currency as oil prices rebounded after Saudi Arabia announced plans to cut production and the dollar strengthened in global markets.

Cutting short the 10-day selling trend, crude oil prices rose by around 1 per cent to touch $71 per barrel mark after the world's largest oil exporter Saudi Arabia announced plans to cut production by 500,000 barrels per day from December and called for a global output cut of one million barrels per day to support oil price.

The dollar also rose to an 18-month high against its global peers after the British pound tumbled nearly 1 per cent due to growing worries about the Brexit deal with EU.

Weighted by heavy dollar demand amid firming crude oil prices, the rupee opened lower at 72.74 and fell further by 57 paise to the day's low of 73.07.

"Oil reversing successive days of fall, and dollar's resurgence dragged rupee lower today. This bucks the trend of strengthening rupee in the last few days, which was helped by FII buying in equities. Key retail inflation and industrial production data due for release later in the day also kept the rupee tentative," Anand James, Chief Market Strategist at Geojit Financial Services said.

The rupee finally settled at 72.89 per dollar, showing a loss of 39 paise or 0.54 per cent over the last close.

"OPEC talked of cutting supply next year to support falling crude oil prices. Traders rushed to cover their shorts and crude oil surged by 1 per cent in today's trade. Dollar strengthened across the board as jitters over the BREXIT deal in the UK stroked uncertainty in global markets. Rupee was also not spared," said V K Sharma, Head PGC & Capital Markets Group, HDFC Securities.

Domestic stock markets also tumbled on worries about resurging oil prices and caution ahead of the release of key macroeconomic data.

BSE Sensex dropped by 345.56 points or 0.98 per cent to close at 34,812.99. The broader NSE Nifty slipped below the 10,500-mark by falling 103 points, or 0.97 per cent, at 10,482.20.

FII remained net buyers in capital markets with net purchases of ₹832.15 crore, provisional exchange data showed. Foreign investors had put in more than ₹600 crore on a net basis on Friday.

Meanwhile, Financial Benchmarks India fixed the reference rate for the US dollar at 72.9078. It set the rate for the British pound at 93.9947 and at 82.4315 for the euro. Japanese yen was pegged at 63.91 for 100 yens.

Jet Airways reports net loss of ₹1,261 crore

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Jet Airways on Monday reported a whopping ₹1,261 crore in consolidated net losses for the three months to September against a profit of ₹71 crore in the same period year ago, impacted by higher fuel cost and the ongoing plunge in the rupee.

Already its larger rival Indigo had reported a net loss of ₹652.13 crore in the September quarter compared to a profit of ₹551.56 crore a year ago, making it the first loss since becoming a publicly traded company.

On a standalone basis, the Nareish Goyal promoted airline, which has been facing cash crunch from some time leading to delayed salaries and other payments, reported a net loss of ₹1,297.46 crore against a profit of ₹49.63 crore a year ago.

Total sales rose to ₹6,363 crore during the reporting quarter, which is a growth of 6.9 percent from ₹5,952 crore over the same quarter last fiscal.

Niti Aayog to hold meet with digital payments industry on KYC issue

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Niti Aayog will hold a meeting with all the stakeholders in digital payments industry over customer authentication issue after the Supreme Court verdict that restricted the use of Aadhaar details for KYC in availing host of services, including banking and telecom.

"I will have a round table with the stakeholders. There are some issues which have come up from the industry, we will sit down and see what the issues are and find out how to move forward. The industry is saying that it may hamper the digital payments system," said Ratan Watal, Member Secretary — PMEAC and Principal Advisor, Niti Aayog on the sidelines of a digital payments programme.

Ficci and the Niti Aayog on Monday jointly organised a workshop on the 'Online Digital Payments Programme' aimed at capacity building and imparting training to the officials working in this area.

In its ruling on September 26, the Supreme Court had declared the Government's flagship Aadhaar scheme as constitutionally valid but struck down some of its provisions including its linking with bank accounts, mobile phones and school admissions.

KOKILABEN DHIRUBHAI AMBANI HOSPITAL, MUMBAI

Take care of your bones

Women are more vulnerable to certain injuries like Anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) tears and stress fractures. Here's why, what you can do to prevent these injuries, and why women athletes should consider seeking care to maintain their health.

ACL

The most common injuries are ACL injuries and pain in the front of the knee joint. Inappropriate mechanics during a squat. As the athlete squats down the knee behind is in line with the second toe which is the proper form of squat. Women often move their knees inward and over the second toe when attempting to squat. This shows weakness of the muscles on the outsides of the hips. Women are also unable to control their knee position when landing from any jumping activity. This causes their knees to move forward and inward while landing, which puts them more at risk for an ACL injury. Such injuries are five times more common in women than men. Knee stability comes from the hip. Weakness at the hip will present as instability of the knee.

Prevention

With any injury, no prevention method is 100% guaranteed; but some approaches can help to reduce your risk:

- Braces. Support braces may help to support ligaments and keep the knee from twisting over overextending.
- Technique. Women athletes can learn proper techniques to land in stable positions that protect the knee.

PATELLOFEMORAL SYNDROME

This is characterised by soreness in the front of the knee and around the patella (kneecap). Symptoms include pain and stiffness which makes difficult to climb stairs or kneel.

Women can take steps to reduce the chances of ACL injuries if the muscles are strengthened, especially the hamstrings and the vastusmedialis

OTHERS

Ankle sprain: This is the most common sports injury in both men and women, but it's particularly common among women.

Shoulder troubles: Examples include rotator cuff problems (including tendon inflammation, or tendinitis) and instability.

Knee injuries: These include irritation under the kneecap (called patellofemoral syndrome) and ligament damage (including tears to the ACL), which is especially common among soccer and basketball players.

Stress fractures: These are especially common in the foot or lower leg (tibia) among women with the "female athlete triad," a combination of inadequate calorie and nutrient intake, irregular menstrual periods, and bone loss. Eating disorders, including anorexia nervosa, contribute to this triad.

Plantar fasciitis: Abnormal alignment of the foot and flat feet may contribute to these small tears in the supporting tissues along the arch and heel.

To avoid injury

Fortunately, women can take steps to reduce the chances they'll suffer these injuries. The rate of ACL injuries may go down if muscles are strengthened, especially the hamstrings and the vastusmedialis. Training to change direction from both feet (rather than one), training to land from jumps in a safer position, and weight-lifting programmes that target specific muscles may also prove effective. Bracing can help limit ankle sprains. Shoe inserts may provide support and re-alignment for those prone to plantar fasciitis or other foot injuries.

WARMFOODS

TULSI: Rich in vitamin A, C, calcium, zinc and iron, tulsi helps the body fight all cold borne diseases like cough, cold, sinusitis, pneumonia and all respiratory disorders. It is also a powerful antiseptic and anti-malarial agent. Taken raw with pepper and honey in empty stomach, it is an excellent remedy for cough and cold.

It acts as a detoxifying, cleansing and purifying agent — both from within and without. Therefore, it is good for skin — both when consumed and applied topically. It is also effective in treating skin disorders, itching and issues like ringworms.

It can be made into teas or can be had raw, powdered, paste or in form of herbal supplements. It has antibiotic, anti-viral, antibacterial and anti-carcinogenic properties.

Helps relieve stress, strengthen immunity, and facilitate proper digestion. Regular tulsi consumption can also aid in balancing various bodily processes. It counters elevated blood sugar levels and is therefore beneficial for diabetics.

It helps in regulating uric acid levels in body, thereby, eliminating risks of developing kidney stones. It is also beneficial for those who have kidney stones. It is great for healthy gums.

FOR HEALTHY CELEBRATION

This festive season, don't let health come in your way of celebrations. Follow these tips related to respiratory problems, burns and eye care, says PIONEER HEALTH

BREATHE EASY

With Air Quality Index at its worst, it is time that we took measures to breathe easy. Here are a few health tips to follow to protect yourself from the harmful effects of pollution.

■ Visit the doctor: Before the pollution affects your health, patients with asthma and other respiratory disorders should visit their doctors for a check-up and adjust the medication dose as per his advice if necessary.

■ Healthy lifestyle: It is important that the patient maintains a healthy lifestyle throughout the year. It includes good quality sleep, well-balanced nutritious diet, regular intake of water, regular exercise, breathing exercises, pranayam and yoga, stress reduction, avoiding smoking and alcohol intake. Medication dose should never be missed. A patient who follows a disciplined lifestyle will be able to cope up better with post Diwali pollution. Control sweet intake and stay well hydrated by regularly drinking water during this month.

■ Stay away from crackers: People suffering from asthma and other respiratory disorders should completely avoid areas and functions where there is too much pollution. Harmful pollutants such as toxic metals, carbon dioxide, carbon monoxide, and sulphur dioxide, which, along with the smoke in the air, can trigger an asthma attack in both children and adults.

■ Avoid polluted areas: It is also advisable to avoid places with high levels of pollution, as well as the use of strong incense sticks and scented candles. If you absolutely must go out during this season, ensure that you're carrying a handkerchief or a cloth, when stepping out of the house. The patients must carry their inhaler all the time.

■ Keep away from dust: During this time, try to avoid being a part of the cleaning, as the dust that is swept up can trigger asthma attacks and breathing problems. Keep your inhaler handy at all times as a quick-relief solution for breathlessness, before visiting your doctor.

■ Take a small holiday: If you find yourself unable to avoid the present situation in Delhi, get away from the city. Take a short vacation to a hill station or the seaside where the air is cleaner and dust free.

■ Keep emergency numbers handy: Respiratory symptoms are aggravated post Diwali. Hence, it is extremely essential to keep emergency ambulance numbers like 1298/108 and other local numbers within reach. Calling for help at the right time without losing valuable minutes can decrease the level of damage and raise the chances of recovery and survival.

To ensure a safe celebration for all, as responsible individuals, one should ensure to celebrate it eco-friendly way. This will help make it a truly happy festival, for yourself, as well as the environment.

EYE CARE

Exposure to pollutants present in the smog such as carbon monoxide, ozone, nitrogen dioxide and sulphur dioxide can cause itching, watering, unclear vision, redness, dry eyes and burning sensation. You are exposed to these harmful pollutants every time you step out of your home. Here are a few tips that can help you enjoy this festive season:

■ Splash of cold water: Always wash your eyes with cold water every time you are back from an outdoor site.

■ Minimise outdoor exposure: The protection you can give your eyes is from trying to reduce exposure to smog. The Government has issued advisory — avoid early morning outdoor walks as that is when smog exposure tends to peak. Protection from the eyewear like large size sunglasses is also not best suited, as the polluting fumes will find a way to get in your eyes.

■ Cool down the inflammation: Using traditional methods like placing cold cucumbers on your eyes, you can cool down the inflammation and relax. You can also use eye drops for lubrication as per recommendations from your doctor.

■ Strict no to eye rubbing: Don't rub your eyes if any tiny pollutants enter. Immediately wash it off with clean water.

■ Have a healthy diet: Eat healthy and include lots of carrots, almonds, green leafy vegetables, fish and berries in your diet. These are very beneficial for keeping the eyes healthy. Keeping yourself hydrated is of utmost significance. Do ensure that you keep yourself hydrated from water and non-caffeinated drinks.

■ Blink blink: While doing office work, regularly blink your eyes. This will help in lubricating them. Take regular breaks from your screen every 30-40 minutes. You can also close the windows of your vehicles when stuck in traffic to avoid direct exposure to the smog.

DENTAL CARE

With so much sugar coming our way in beverages, sweets and chocolates, your teeth are going to bear the brunt of this excess and you shall be blamed if they decay due to carelessness. There is no doubt that sugars form the perfect medium for cavity-causing bacteria to grow which are then responsible for tooth sensitivity or pain. Good oral hygiene habits like immediate rinsing after sweets or brushing daily before going to bed can surely ensure prevention of cavities," opines Lt Gen (Rtd) Dr Vimal Arora, chief clinical officer, Clove Dental.

There are precautions that will take care of your teeth. "Ideally, we should avoid having sweets before going to bed as the bacteria affect our teeth throughout the night and fasten the process of decay," says Dr Priyanka Mathur, Clove Dental. Hence, rinse your mouth immediately after snacking and meals to ensure that sweets do not get stuck in between your teeth. In case you feel, they do, chew a sugar-free gum.

Another solution is to brush the teeth after grabbing that laddoo. Eating and drinking food with sugar weaken the enamel on your teeth. You should first rinse your mouth with lukewarm water after you have had a heavy dose of sugary intake. Wait for an hour and then brush your teeth. Allow your teeth to settle, otherwise you could do more damage than good.

Dentists also advise to eat milk products and chocolates instead of sticky sweets. "You can keep the stickiness in your teeth away by having your desserts before the meals," adds Dr Mathur. This will reduce the risk of sweets staying stuck to your teeth which causes cavities. Have cheese after meal as this reduces the chances of developing tooth decay.

■ Brush your teeth: Brush your teeth after every meal to ensure that sweets do not get stuck in between your teeth. In case you feel, they do, chew a sugar-free gum.

Those living in Delhi are constantly inhaling impure air due to vehicular pollution. But the air quality worsens from October end. A few simple home remedies can minimise the ill-effects, says ROSHANI DEVI

People wait for this Festival of Lights; there is an air of happiness and celebration. But there is a flip to it as well when it comes to breathing clean air. During this time several things combine together to make the air poisonous. But a few simple home remedies can help reduce the ill-effects. Here's how:

We all know the benefits of neem when it comes to treating skin problems, but did you know that the leaf can also be used to reduce the effects. Boil neem leaves in water. Take a bath with this. It will help to wash off the pollutants that stick to your skin and hair.

Though the leaf is bitter to taste, try eating four-five leaves daily after washing them properly.

Tulsi is another leaf that can come to your rescue. If you don't have a plant, buy it today. It absorbs pollution. Also, drink 10 ml of tulsi juice.

After Jaipur and Ahmedabad, a team of experts has now reached the state of Madhya Pradesh to conform Zika cases. The team from the National Centre for Disease Control and the Emergency Medical Response has gone to the state following information about three persons being detected with the virus.

The virus is transmitted through the Aedes aegypti mosquito. It causes fever, skin rashes, conjunctivitis, muscle and joint pain. The virus is harmful to pregnant women, as it can lead to microcephaly, a condition in which a baby's head is significantly smaller than expected, in newborn children. The symptoms are akin to that of dengue and it is a public health emergency.

Dr KK Aggarwal, president, HCFI, said: "Last year in May, the WHO confirmed the first three cases of laboratory-confirmed Zika virus infection in India from Ahmedabad in Gujarat. With other such similar cases, it seems Zika is now here to stay in India. A pregnant woman can pass Zika virus to her fetus. Infection during pregnancy can cause serious birth defects such as microcephaly and other congenital malformations, known as congenital Zika syndrome. Other complications include pre-term birth and miscarriage. Pregnancy loss due to asymptomatic virus infection may be a common but under-recognised adverse outcome related to maternal virus infection."

The virus infection is also a trigger of Guillain-Barré syndrome, neuropathy and myelitis, particularly in adults and older children. The incubation period is three to 14 days.

The researchers used a compound called 5-aminolevulinic acid or 5-ALA, which glows pink when a light is shone on it. Before surgery, each patient was given a drink containing 5-ALA. Surgeons then used operating microscopes to help them look for fluorescent tissue while removing tumours from the patients' brains. The tissue they removed was sent to the pathology lab where scientists could confirm the accuracy of the surgeons' work.

■ Minor burns sustained during cooking or from fireworks can be treated at home. In such cases, the burnt part should be immediately placed under the tap water for 15 to 20 minutes.

■ Once it cools and the pain starts to subside, the patient should consult a burn specialist who is mostly a plastic surgeon in India.

■ For major burns of larger proportions, the burnt clothing is usually removed first and the patient is covered with a clean sheet and taken to the hospital. It is advised that no ointment or cream or anything like toothpaste or ink be applied to the burnt area as it makes it difficult for the specialist to identify the depth of burns.

■ The process of cleaning the wound can further damage the wound, so it's important to seek treatment from a burn specialist, and if he/she is not available, then a general surgeon can provide the initial treatment.

MYTHS ABOUT CONTACT LENS

SHASHWAT KEDIA busts myths associated with using contact lenses

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Contact lenses are great alternatives to regular eye glasses for correcting your vision problems. They are also ideal for patients with active lifestyles as they will not slip, fog or fall. But many avoid wearing them because they fear the many myths associated with wearing them. Here is the truth:

■ Myth: The lenses will get lost behind your eye.

Truth: This will never happen as a thin membrane called conjunctiva covers your eyes, making it impossible for your contact lenses to get lost behind them.

■ Myth: They can pop out of your eyes.

Truth: Modern contacts fit closer to your eyes, preventing them from falling out even during physical activities.

■ Myth: They require too much maintenance.

Truth: One has to follow the easy instructions provided by the eye specialists to make sure they stay clean before one wears them.

■ Myth: Contact lenses are uncomfortable to wear.

Truth: One might have to adjust to them at first, but they will get more comfortable over the time.

■ Myth: They can get stuck inside your eyes.

Truth: The solution that comes with your contact lenses keeps them moist, preventing them from sticking onto your eyes. Following the simple instructions from the lens company can make your tasks smooth.

■ Myth: Lenses can melt on your eyes.

Truth: Only high temperatures can melt the contact lenses, so they will not easily melt while you are wearing them. If you feel like your lenses are sticking to your eyes, all you need to do is to add more moisture.

■ Myth: One should put in contacts after putting your makeup on.

Truth: It is always advised wearing contacts before you apply any makeup, oil, or primers. Your hands should also be clean before you use your contacts. When removing makeup, make sure you remove the lenses first.

STUDYCENTRE

The cerebellum of our brain that was once believed only limited to movement control has now been associated with playing a key role in higher functions like attention, thinking, planning and decision-making, researchers have found.

The cerebellum is like the person at the end of an assembly line, the researchers said, adding "it's where all your thoughts and actions get refined and quality controlled."

The findings led by researchers at Washington University in St. Louis showed that the sensory networks — vision, hearing and touch — are missing from cerebellum's functions.

Only 20 per cent of it is devoted to movement, roughly the same amount as in the cerebral cortex — the crumpled outer layer of the brain, the remaining 80 per cent is occupied by networks involved in higher-order cognition.

These include the attention network; the default network, which has to do with daydreaming, recalling memories and just idly thinking; and two networks that oversee executive functions such as decision-making and planning.

For the study, published in the journal Neuron, the team had access to more than 10 hours of scans on each of 10 people and used the cortex's networks as a template to identify the networks in the cerebellum.

At least six killed in Kabul suicide attack

Kabul: Six people were killed when a suicide bomber blew himself up in Kabul on Monday, close to where scores of Afghans had been protesting against Taliban attacks on the minority Hazara ethnic group. The attack is the latest in a wave of violence across war-torn Afghanistan as the Taliban intensify pressure on beleaguered Government security forces, which are suffering record high casualties.

Interior Ministry spokesman Najib Danish said 20 were wounded in the blast, which struck in front of a high school in the downtown area of the Afghan capital.

Initial reports indicated most of the victims were members of the security forces, but Danish said civilians, including several women, had borne the brunt of the carnage. A photo shared on WhatsApp showed several bodies lying on the ground. "The suicide attacker on foot wanted to target protesters, but he was stopped at a security checkpoint some 200 metres (660 feet) from the site," interior ministry deputy spokesman Nasrat Rahimi said.

A police officer at the scene said he saw 10 to 15 casualties on the ground, as well as body parts. The centre of Kabul was blanketed with heavier-than-usual security for the protest, which began on Sunday night and continued into Monday.

"It was a huge blast near Istiqlal high school, very close to where the demonstrators were gathering," witness Qais Nawabi said. AFP

Trump largely alone as world leaders take aim at nationalism

AP ■ PARIS

For President Donald Trump in Paris, America First meant largely America alone. At a weekend commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I, the president who proudly declares himself a "nationalist" stood apart, even on a continent where his brand of populism is on the rise.

He began his visit with a tweet slamming the French president's call for a European defense force, arrived at events alone and spent much of his trip out of sight in the American ambassadors' residence in central Paris. On Sunday, he listened as he was lectured on the dangers of nationalist isolation, and then he headed home just as the inaugural Paris Peace Summit was getting underway. Back at the White House on Monday, Trump tweeted that "much was accomplished" in his meetings, but voiced a familiar complaint about America's allies. He said the US pays billions "protecting other countries, and we get nothing but Trade Deficits and Losses." He added: "It is time that these very rich countries either pay the United States for its great military protection, or protect themselves."

His France trip made clear that, nearly two years after taking office, Trump has dramatically upended decades of American foreign policy posture, shaking allies. That includes French President Emmanuel Macron, who on Sunday warned that the "ancient demons" that caused World War I and millions of deaths were once again making headway.

Macron, who has been urging a re-embrace of multinational organizations and cooperation that have been shunned by Trump, delivered a barely veiled rebuke of Trumpism at the weekend's centerpiece event: A gathering of dozens of leaders at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the base of the Arc de Triomphe to mark the passage of a century since the guns fell silent in a global war that killed millions. Bells tolled across Europe's Western Front and fighter jets passed overhead to mark the exact moment the devastating war came to a close.

With Trump and other leaders looking on, Macron took on the rising tide of populism in the United States and Europe and urged leaders not to turn their backs by turning inward. "Patriotism is the exact opposite of nationalism: Nationalism is a betrayal of patriotism," Macron said.

Saudi urges to cut oil production to 1 mn barrels/day

Cairo: Saudi Arabia's Energy Minister Khaled al-Falih on Monday said the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and its allies have agreed to reduce oil supply by 2019 to some 1 million barrels per day.

Al-Falih, who made his remarks at the Abu Dhabi International Petroleum Exhibition and Conference held in the United Arab Emirates (UAE), pointed out that the technical analysis reviewed on Sunday showed the reduction was required to rebalance the market, Efe news reported.

The Saudi Energy Ministry said on Sunday that Al-Falih appreciated the cooperation of all producers to ensure the "stability of the markets" and that there were "sufficient supplies".

For his part, Suhail bin Mohammed Faraj Faris Al Mazrouei, the UAE Energy Minister and President of the OPEC Conference in 2018 — said the member countries of OPEC, mainly the UAE and Saudi Arabia, were prepared to meet the needs of the world crude market in case of a fall in supply for political reasons.

The OPEC previously pointed to rising oil prices, while the experts of the organization pointed to geopolitical tensions, in reference to sanctions imposed by the US on Iranian crude since November 5. IANS

Lankan parties move SC against Parl dissolution

Colombo: Sri Lanka's major political parties and an election commission member on Monday dragged President Maithripala Sirisena to the Supreme Court, challenging his controversial move of dissolving Parliament, almost 20 months before its term was to end.

Sirisena dissolved Parliament on November 9 and announced snap polls to be held on January 5 next year after it became evident that he did not have enough support in the House to prove the premiership of 72-year-old Mahinda Rajapaksa, whom he has appointed PM after abruptly sacking Ranil Wickremesinghe on October 26.

Rajapaksa needed the support of minimum 113 parliamentarians in the 225-member House to prove his majority.

Wickremesinghe's United National Party (UNP), the main opposition Tamil National Alliance (TNA) and the leftist JVP or the People's Liberation Front (PLF) were among the 10 groups that filed the fundamental rights petitions in the apex court, seeking declaration of the president's action as illegal, officials said.

The petitioners also include Election Commission member Prof Ratnajeewan Hoole. The Supreme Court adjourned till Tuesday morning the hearing of the petitions. The petitions were taken up for hearing before a three-judge bench comprising Chief Justice Nalin Perera, Justices Prasanna Jayawardane and Priyantha Jayawardane. PTI

Grim search for more fire victims; 31 dead across California

AP ■ PARADISE

As wildfires raged at both ends of California, officials released another grim statistic: six more dead in a swath of Northern California wiped out by fire, raising the death toll there to 29. It matched California's record for deaths in a single fire and brought the statewide total to 31.

Another 228 remain unaccounted for as crews stepped up the search for bodies and missing people. Two people were killed in a wildfire in Southern California.

Ten search teams were working in Paradise — a town of 27,000 that was largely incinerated last week — and in surrounding communities in the Sierra Nevada foothills. Authorities called in a DNA lab and teams of anthropologists to help identify victims.

Statewide, 1,50,000 remained displaced as more than 8,000 fire crews battled wildfires that have scorched 400 square miles with out-of-state crews continuing to arrive. Whipping winds and tinder-dry conditions threaten more areas through the rest of the week, fire officials warned.

"This is truly a tragedy that all Californians can understand and respond to," Gov. Jerry Brown said at a press briefing. "It's a time to pull together and work through these tragedies." Brown, who has declared a state emergency, said California is requesting aid from the Trump administration. PTI

In China's Himalayas, a wine 'flying above the clouds'

Adong: A $300 bottle of wine sold in the US and Europe is made in the unlikelyst of places: at the foot of the Himalayas in China, where farmers sing traditional songs while picking grapes. A stone's throw away from Tibet, Ao Yun's vineyards are located beneath the sacred Meili mountain at altitudes ranging up from 2,200 metres in the southwestern province of Yunnan. Wine consumption is soaring in China, it is not known as major producer, but French luxury giant Moët Hennessy has bet on this remote location to show Asian country can produce first-class bottle of red.

It took four years to find ideal spot in vast country and result was Ao Yun, Chinese for "flying above the clouds", which debuted in 2013. "The place is magical, it has this wild side," Maxence Dulou, Ao Yun's estate manager, said as he carefully inspected grapes at one of vineyards. Dulou said he had "dreamed" of discovering a great "terroir" — the unique French term for the ground and climatic conditions in which grapes are grown — in China since his university days. The company wanted to show that a great wine could be made in China, where even local consumers trust French wines more than homegrown products, he said. AFP

China displays J-20 jet's missiles for the first time at airshow: Report

Shanghai: China has shown the missiles in its advanced J-20 stealth fighter jet to the public for the first time at its largest airshow, the Global Times newspaper reported.

The newspaper said two J-20 fighter jets opened their missile bay doors during a fly-past on Monday, revealing that each jet had four missiles in its fuselage and one on either side of the aircraft. Citing Chinese experts, the newspaper said the demonstration, which came on the 69th anniversary of the founding of the People's Liberation Army's (PLA) Air Force, displayed the J-20's superiority to the top US fighter jets, the F-22 and F-35, as well as the PLA's growing confidence.

It also quoted military expert Song Zhongping as saying the four missiles in the J-20's fuselage were long-range air-to-air missiles, while the two on the sides were short-range combat missiles meant for aerial combat. Agencies

69% Pakistanis between ages 15 to 65 don't know what Internet is: Survey

Islamabad: Around 69 per cent Pakistanis between the ages of 15 and 65 do not know what the internet is, an information communication technology (ICT)-based survey has revealed. The survey was conducted by LinreAsia, a think-tank based in Sri Lanka that carries out ICT research, Dawn news reported on Monday.

The report is based on a survey of 2,000 households in Pakistan. LimeAsia claims that the sampling methodology was designed to ensure representation of 98 per cent target population aged 15 to 65 at a national level.

Conducted between October-December 2017, this demand side survey helps understand how users use or do not use ICT services.

"The 152 million active cellular subscribers mentioned on Pakistan Telecommunication Authority (PTA) website, despite a good SIM registration system, tell nothing about the subscribers — whether they are men and women, rich or poor and does not really help understand access and usage gaps," LinreAsia CEO Helani Galpaya said in the report.

The study points out that lack of internet awareness is a considerable problem across Asian countries, including Pakistan, where just 30 per cent of the population in the age group of 15-65 is aware of the internet (they were asked if they use the 'internet' without explaining what it is). IANS

Anushka hopes to save tigers

Actress ANUSHKA SHARMA has joined hands with Discovery channel to promote a global awareness movement to save tigers from extinction. She will soon be promoting Project C.A.T. Conserving Acres for Tigers, aimed at raising awareness on tiger habitats. Says she, "Tigers, the glorious wild cats, are in real danger of getting extinct and they need our help. As a large predator, tigers are an umbrella species and play a critical role in ensuring the delicate ecological balance in the wild is maintained. The current situation is a sad reflection of us as human beings."

Actors FARHAN AKHTAR and PRIYANKA CHOPRA, who are in the capital to shoot for their next film The Sky is Pink, are battling the city's pollution levels with masks. Farhan uploaded a picture on Instagram in which both the actors are seen wearing anti-pollution masks. "Masking our emotions in the Delhi air. Priyanka Chopra, your pose is just," he captioned. Priyanka commented: "Arre Delhi... what has happened to you?" Priyanka shared a photograph of herself basking sun. "The sun and I.. Delhi here we go."

Miley, Butler lose house in wildfire

Hollywood celebrities MILEY CYRUS and GERARD BUTLER have completely lost their homes in the raging California wildfire, which has left filmmaker Guillermo del Toro's home partially damaged. Cyrus said, "Completely devastated by the fires affecting my community. I am one of the lucky ones. My animals and love of my life made it out safely and that's all that matters right now. My house no longer stands but the memories shared with family and friends stand strong. I am grateful for all I have left."

POP OUT OF THE JEWEL BOX

This wedding season, help a young couple set up a beautiful home instead. Here are a few ideas by TEAM VIVA

Wedding gifting in India has mostly been about ceremonial grandeur or scale. If it's not a piece of jewellery, then it has to be a fat ribbon-crust-ed gift cheque or an exotic vacation. Seldom do we realise that the couple intends to settle back into a normal life after the big day and could do much more with practical aids than having to think of a heirloom closet. A gift for a couple can be equally thoughtful, beautiful and no holds barred. Make sure that the gifts get out of the box and are used, touched and felt everyday.

If you do choose to gift jewellery, leave the traditional gold behind. Trust us it would only be transported to bank lockers and be taken out for other wedding soirees. Opt for a combination of coloured gems and diamonds that has a more cocktail feel. Gift a statement piece like a diamond earring with a square emerald stone or a floral design earring with a pearl and coloured stone that can be worn at any party.

If you must buy gold, opt for lighter designs that can be worn daily. Ear jackets, ear sliders, pendants, stackable bracelets, chokers and rings with coloured gems set in 18K gold make for beautiful gifts for the bride who will be the talk of the town much after the wedding day.

A young couple has to set up home after their marriage and decorative or special kitchenware are a priority for them. Present them with a silver plated and malachite stone tea set or a silver goblet that is equal parts ceremonial and attractive. These pieces can be passed down generations and become heritage pieces as well. Or opt for a Persian plate and saucer holder along with decorative plates and saucers or a cabernet wooden beer tray with beer mugs, if you want to gift something casual.

An antique coffee bean churner or leather boxes can be great pieces for the den of the house. Imagine how thankful a coffee loving couple will be with a churner that can get them a freshly ground brew every morning. The boxes bring character with their textured feel.

If you want to focus on the groom, ceremonial buttons, cufflinks, bows, shoes or even an attire like a bandhgala will be a great personalised gift. Present him with an emerald green bow, in Italian cotton velvet, embellished with a crown figurative embroidery with a famed designer. The small piece can amp up the groom's outfit.

Step away from the vases and miniatures if you want to gift home decor. The latest trend in wall decor comprises decorative plates and dimensional wall art like wall sculptures, 3D wall art and wall panels. Use of dimensional art gives the decor space a layered look that feels more complete. Wood carvings or even raw pieces of metal can solve the purpose of expressing your design vision. For a piece to decorate a table surface, opt for beautifully painted plates.

IF YOU'RE FOCUSING ON THE GROOM, CEREMONIAL BUTTONS, CUFFLINKS, BOWS, SHOES OR AN ATTIRE LIKE A BANDHGALA WILL BE A GREAT PERSONALISED GIFT

EXTRAORDINARY TAKE

Veteran actor SANJAY KHAN is ready to tell the world about his richly lived life

'TV is making much more money than films these days. It has a greater reach. I have some exceptional stories for that. There is one on the British Raj. It's called the Beginning of an Empire'

But what about going beyond mythology and historical genres? "In the larger packaging of my work, there would be stories of romance, etc.," he said.

He doesn't want to focus just on a love story.

"The value of love between a man and a woman is eroding. All kinds of things are happening. The mood of the world is different so, the best bet is catching historical and social-economic problems, which are perennial. Those are the problems that we can address," said Sanjay.

Talking about the content of films made by young Indian filmmakers, he shared: "I like some of them. Indian cinema is coming-of-age though the music is suffering. The lustre of music is gone. The technical quality has come up. Some very good films like Dangal have come out."

He is also interested in the digital medium.

"If there is an offer, subject or big companies come to me then I can talk to them," he said.

At the moment, he is focussing on promoting his new autobiography, The Best Mistakes of My Life, which takes the readers to his world of films, family, his near-death accident and more.

"I am happy that it has come out the way it has. I worked really hard on it. I had gone into my past and relived all those glorious times," said the actor in his 70s.

A wild wide world

Artist ROB divulges the secrets from his imaginarium. By ASMITA SARKAR

A dinosaur out of automobile parts or a spatula for painting with a playing card, materials can be used in multiple ways only if we let our imagination soar.

Harun Robert or Rob, who used to host the famous do-it-yourself TV show M.A.D on POGO, is bringing a live art show Imaginarium - It's a Wonderful World that aims to teach children about the importance of going green and recycling everyday materials like bottles, packets and more for decorative or functional purposes.

A performer and art educator, he's worked with children for years and understands what makes them tick.

"Children are interested in spending time outdoors and working with materials. So we wanted to create a space for them to watch and be part of it. This is a dream project of mine. I realised there are no live art shows where they can come and experience and be part of something as spectacular as we are planning," he said.

He also sees himself as a non-preachy green warrior. "You have to treat kids like adults and every time you tell them that you have to recycle and pollution is a problem, they won't listen to you because they are there to have fun. So, I only encourage them to recycle and use the materials lying around. If a child understands the value in recycling, they will get joy in creating something and will value materials and that they are contributing to a bigger change. My goal and mission is to focus on recycling materials," he added.

But how does he make children listen to him? "There is no formula. Kids are the most challenging audience to please and also the most honest. They'll appreciate an idea if you do something great and if it's not well done, they don't care how long you spent on it, they will let you know. I keep in mind that I don't talk down to them. I try to teach in a fun way. I show them that I am a friend not an art teacher and am having fun creating things with trash, so you can have fun too. I don't direct them to do stuff," he said.

Robert is a trained artist who studied art, animation and filmmaking at National Institute of Design. But even before that, with his curious mind, he started picking up things

'You have to treat kids like adults and every time you tell them that pollution is a problem, they won't listen to you because they want to have fun. So, I encourage them to recycle and use waste materials' to figure out what and how they are made. He spent hours wondering and converting discarded everyday materials to bring them to life. His most loved creation is a 20 feet dinosaur made with autorickshaw and scooter parts that was installed at NID, Ahmedabad. He is also proud of a mural with images of Mary Kom and Milkha Singh that he made on a flyover in Mumbai's Andheri to promote the motto he teaches children, to recycle and reuse. The most popular one though is a painting of Amitabh Bachchan that he made on his show for POGO.

Sometimes, before he starts teaching, he would start with a magic trick to get their attention. "When we are kids, our imagination is more vivid and wide. The growth process according to laid down norms only restricts us. Children absorb and observe. If you break it down, it's easier for them to follow through. Once, for the show, I broke down a really complicated method I learned in art school. And the children could easily follow it," he said.

Many of his creations need as much science as art, both different points on a spectrum of creativity.

"Science and art go hand in hand. When we were learning the basics in art school, we would use science. You need art too to make science workshop models or drawings. If you are doing something in a fun way, you can do anything. We do a lot of projects around science, history and geography. I try and add visual elements to most of my stuff and work with basic material lying around the house, so it's not a challenge for the child," he said.

There has been immense buzz ever since director SS Rajamouli has announced his next project. What makes the film more exciting is its massive star power with names like Young Tiger NTR and mega powerstar Ram Charan.

Creating euphoria amidst fans of Rajamouli, NTR and Ram Charan, the film was launched recently in the presence of industry bigwigs.

A special event was held on November 11 where Chiranjeevi, Prabhas, Rana and top directors from the industry were present.

Having the working title as RRR, the multilingual film is being touted as National Cinema's most ambitious project. The film makers are leaving no stone unturned to present a cinematic experience surpassing the grandeur of SS Rajamouli's last outing Baahubali: The Conclusion.

Speaking about the same, producer DVV Danayya said, "It is a matter of honour to be producing probably the most awaited film of Indian cinema. This whole project is like a dream or maybe I can call it a dream come true. Working on a film with the combination of stars like NTR, Ram Charan and Rajamouli is something that is really exciting for me. There are already great expectations on the film with both the Nandamuri Harikrishna fans and all movie goers expecting something out of the ordinary. I promise, I will make sure no stone is left unturned from my side in that regard. We will make no compromise on anything the movie requires. This film will surely remain as the pride of Indian cinema. The shooting of the film will commence on November 19. The first schedule will contain NTR and Ram Charan shooting for a high octane action episode. We will soon make an announcement about the rest of the cast." The dialogues of the untitled project are written by Sai Madhav Burra and Madan Karky and editing will be done by National Award-winning film editor Sreekar Prasad.

Rajamouli's next will also reunite the dream team that worked on Baahubali series with celebrated names like Vijayendra Prasad, who has penned the story, costume designer Rama Rajamouli, VFX Supervisor V Srinivasa Mohan, music composer MM Keeravani, production designer Sabu Cyril and cinematographer KK Senthil Kumar.

Presented by D Parvathy, the film will be made under DVV Entertainment banner. Rajamouli has worked on the film's screenplay as well.

Baahubali: The Beginning and Baahubali: The Conclusion had broken records to collectively earn more than ₹1,000 crores.

The Manipuri Raas Lila at the IIC Festival became the ultimate closure for a festival that celebrated the beauty and dynamic indigenous tapestry of the Northeastern states. The pristine sound of the instruments and the voice of the soloist became the invocation and the intonation for an evening of exquisite grace and divinity.

Lord Krishna dwells in those who believe in his presence. He embodies the supreme reality — the Brahma Tatwa, which is dense concentrated bliss, which is of the nature of the pure consciousness, which is without parallel or comparison and is totally free of time and space limitations.

SACRED AND SUBLIME

The recital opened with the Basanta Varnam, which describes the beauty of the van in Sringara Raas. Fluid movements and delicate flourishes echoed the trance that you could be drawn into. Haunting lyrics and pealing notes added to the evocation that stepped into the night.

The Natya Shastra states that Sringara has two varieties: union and separation. As the evening wore on, you sensed the articulation of an arduous theme that was deftly translated into dance. You also realised that an indigenous dance is able to educate both the connoisseurs and the uninitiated, making it a matter of edutainment. One wishes there was a commentary of the narrative to make the understanding of esoteric easier. The romantic verses of the narrative moved from physical yearning to spiritual elevation (masculine and feminine energies inherent in nature), the crux of the bhakti philosophy of those times and therein lay the power and the passion.

SWAN-LIKE GRACE

From the word go, the Basanta Varnam unravelled the epoch of the sthai bhava in which its soul depicts a bright attire; for whatever in this world is white, pure and beautiful is appreciated in terms of sthai bhava.

The second performance was the Samode Damodar (Hari Riha), based on the first canto of Jaydev's Geeta Govindam. This gave way to the incantation of the Manipuri folk song — Thoibi na Loi Karakpa — a rendition that was a repository of both resonance and heartfelt lyricism. The evening belonged to the finale, the heady Basanta Raas that celebrated the yearning as well as the union of Lord Krishna with Radha.

You could watch the swan-like grace of the dancers, watch their floating movements as if on a cloud and imagine the setting — the glances where the eyelids are not fully opened, the look of sweet surrender and serenity, perhaps tears of joy, in the alchemy of the moment which in the sacred texts is called snigdha (loving). It grows out of divine love.

IN RAAS LILA, THE FLUTE IS BOTH THE MELODY AND THE INSTRUMENT OF DIVINITY AND DELIGHT IN THE COALESCING OF DEEP LOVE. IF THE MELODY INVITES, IT ALSO ENCOURAGES US TO PARTAKE OF THE DIVINE PLAY IN FULL SPIRIT AND PURITY

MUSIC OF THE GODS

Lessons from the Puranas came through the exquisite evening. Watching them sail through the sacred notes, you imagine that every human being is at once milkmaid and Krishna. We yearn for the music of the Gods and are also capable of creating the music. Lord Krishna is like a universal goalpost embodying infinity that inspires. Can we in this millennial world full of materialism attempt to walk in that direction?

Scholars state that in the Raas Lila, Lord Krishna makes music not for his pleasure but for the uplift of the milkmaids. The flute is both the melody and the instrument of divinity and delight in the coalescing of deep love. If the melody invites, it also encourages us to partake of the divine play in full spirit but with purity in our souls.

KING BHAGYA CHANDRA

The evening bore testimony to King Bhagya Chandra who composed three of these dances and created history. Rajarshi Bhagya Chandra, also known as Jai Singh Maharaj and Ningthou Ching-Thang Khomba, the 18th century monarch of the Meitei people who adopted Gaudiya Vaishnavism, recorded and systematised Manipuri dance, elaborating the basics of dance in the text Govinda Sangeet Lila Vilasa. He is credited with composing three forms of the Raas Lila — Kunja Raas, Basanta Raas and Maha Raas, which were staged during his reign at Imphal's Sri Sri Govindaji temple.

SILENT BEAUTY

The leitmotif of the evening lay in the distinctive abhinay, the expression that is exhibited through the movements of the body and the feet and the face is cloaked and clothed in serenity with a diaphanous veil. All feelings emanate from the movement of the limbs, at once smooth as satin and flowing like a river. Shringar or love then consists of viyog (separation) and sambogh (union). Graceful restraint and unparalleled fluidity strung an evening worth remembering. The nodes of India's heritage lie in its indigenous arts and it needs to be supported, nurtured and cherished for the ages. For the North Eastern Council and the IIC, this was an epic statement. # 'Theatre is an exercise'

Learning isn't just confined to schools and classrooms anymore. And at a time of digital detoxification, engagement with culture and arts is a sureshot way of nurturing the creative potential of the next generation. Jashn-e-Bachpan, a nine-day theatre festival for children, brings in plays from various regions and languages under one roof, featuring some of the most eminent and emerging theatre directors and groups working with and for the children.

As the festival features more than 500 participants this time, director of National School of Drama, Suresh Sharma, felt, "It is one of the greatest achievements and accomplishments this year as the entries escalated to more than 200 groups. With a total of 221 entries, 24 groups have been selected."

The entries have come from various states like Maharashtra, Assam, Rajasthan, Gujarat, New Delhi, West Bengal, Kerala, Uttar Pradesh, Manipur and Tripura. The plays will be performed in a range of languages like Assamese, Marathi, Bengali, and Malayalam besides English and Hindi. Sharma lauded Ram Gopal Bajaj, who is responsible for all such festivals including this one, Bal Sangam and Bharat Rang Mahotsav.

As the festival is a part of Rang Sanskar Toli, an initiative by the Theatre-In-Education (TIE) Company, its chief Abdul Latif Khatana said that initially, it only aimed to attract more and more children to theatre. But "it has become an institution" that aims to teach children outside the conventional school classrooms. The tolis, through theatre, highlights various social issues that are crucial for children to know at a tender age, believes Khatana. He added, "Theatre is an exercise — physical, mental, emotional and social — that makes people capable of handling emotions as well as look at the world through a completely different perspective as it exposes them to a society that teaches through experiences."

He reveals that many children from NGOs around the country have also been considered to participate as they are "the unrecognized sections of the society who aren't much privileged of many such opportunities."

However, the question arises, what kind of an audience does it cater to? "It is a festival that not only acts or shows but also educates both the viewer and the actor. It is a dramatic representation of childhood, which if talking about a certain issue in the society or a background, addresses all kinds of families and their backgrounds — upper, middle and backward class. Because that is how they will relate to and understand whatever they are displaying."

'The idea behind the initiative is to celebrate childhood and hence children from even the underprivileged sections of Delhi-NCR have been invited to attend. It also aims to bring theatre into prominence as it has lost its sheen in the modern era due to technology and digital media'

The plays, hence, are divided into four categories — performance by children, by adults and children, by adults for children, and puppet performances.

While various Indian states will be a part of the festival, participants from three countries — Indonesia, Sri Lanka and Switzerland — will also be performing.

Sharma shared his vision, "The idea behind the initiative is to celebrate childhood and hence children from even the underprivileged section of the society from Delhi-NCR have been invited to attend. It also aims to bring theatre into prominence as it has lost its sheen in the modern era due to technology and digital media. None of the schools has theatre as a mandatory subject, hence they are not much aware of theatre these days. They watch films on cinema and mobile phones, but hardly take interest in drama."

(The festival begins from November 17 to 25 at the Sammukh, Abhimanch, Abhikalp, and the Little Theatre Group (LTG) Auditoria at National School of Drama.)

Epitome of emotions

Artist DIMPY MENON showcases bronze sculptures in an acrobatic motion. Flight of fancy perhaps? By AYUSHI SHARMA

From emotions like joy to sorrow, aspiration to celebration, artist Dimpay Menon has tried to convey all aspects of humankind in her works. With her elongated, elegant human forms that are sculpted in an acrobatic motion, she said that she conceived them as lyrical. "I have given the title as Breaking Bounds because it is basically about breaking boundaries and pushing limits. The forms in my works are very acrobatic and there's a lot of movement in them. Although there has been a certain evolution over the years, the human form has remained central in all of my works," said the sculptor.

She added, "I have used the 5,000-year-old lost wax process which has prevailed from the time of Mohenjodaro and Harappan civilisation. With progress and change, there has been a slight change in the treatment of the material. But otherwise the method is exactly same. It's a long and gruelling process. One has to work at high temperatures. The metal will melt at about 900 degree centigrade. It's a very arduous kind of job. It took me six months to create these sculptures."

Lost-wax process is a method of metal casting in which a molten metal is poured into a mould that has been created by means of a wax model. After the removal of the mould, the resultant wax shell is filled with a heat-resistant mixture. Wax tubes, which provide ducts for pouring bronze during casting, are fitted to the outside of the wax shell, which is then modelled by the artist. Next, the prepared wax shell is completely covered in layers of heat-resis-

Still on the wall

outer plaster and core are removed and the bronze is given the final touches.

Irony is evident in her works as she has used a tough medium of bronze to create the sculptures that appear weightless and in flight. It kind of defies the gravity of law. The artist said, "It is difficult using something that is so heavy to symbolise and capture the essence of lightness. It's not an easy acceptance of the way I have used the material."

Dimpay seeks inspiration from life. She believes that the resilience of the human form, both in terms of spirit and body, is inspiring. She said, "If we set our minds on something it can easily be achieved. We are the epitome of creation. And as I'm a figurative artist, I really like how the audience can effortlessly and immediately relate to a human form. That is the reason my sculptures are loaded with expressions and with great values of humans. With each work there is a different emotion and different content. I have used it, as one uses language to express oneself. It's the form that I have very lovingly nurtured and broken my back over. I have also used a lot of other elements too but the crust of my work has always been the human form. It majorly revolves around the human form, the rest is all embellishments."

The curator and founder of Art Pilgrim, Gayatri Singh, said, "Dimpay has created the work that truly integrates with the space it is built for and hence it is for both homes and public spaces. Her sculptures depict emotions through action and body language. It is absolutely amazing how she manages to make a 100 kg bronze figure appear so light."

Juventus keep flying high

Mandzukic and Ronaldo score either side of half-time while Higuain was sent off in Milan's loss

AFP ■ MILAN

Cristiano Ronaldo scored as Juventus bounced back from their midweek Champions League defeat by Manchester United with a 2-0 win over 10-man AC Milan in Serie A, as Gonzalo Higuain missed a penalty before being sent off for the hosts.

Mario Mandzukic headed in the opener in the eighth minute at the San Siro on Sunday with Ronaldo adding a second on 81 minutes as Juventus maintained their six-point cushion ahead of the international break.

It got the defending seventh Serie A champions back on track after suffering their first defeat of the season by United following two late goals despite Ronaldo's stunning volley.

"Winning tonight was the only way to put aside what happened in the final five minutes of the Champions League game," said Juve coach Massimiliano Allegri.

"It was important to win without conceding a goal and to regain the six-point advantage over Napoli who are having an excellent championship."

A third loss of the campaign, however, saw AC Milan drop out of the Champions League places behind Lazio who moved back into fourth despite a 1-1 draw at Sassuolo.

Juventus have 34 points from 12 games -- six ahead of Carlo Ancelotti's Napoli who Inter a further three behind.

"I'm very happy, especially for the team, because playing away to Milan is always very difficult," said Ronaldo.

"It was important to win, because Napoli beat Genoa last night and we had to keep our distance."

Allegri's side rarely looked threatened by AC Milan with Mandzukic rising highest to nod in an Alex Sandro cross to dampen spirits among the 75,000-capacity crowd at the San Siro.

The Croatian World Cup runner-up could have made it two shortly after, meeting a cross this time from Ronaldo but Milan skipper Alessio Romagnoli blocked.

Higuain returned from a back problem to face his parent club but it was to be a nightmare outing for the forward who had been loaned out to Milan last summer to make space for Ronaldo.

The Argentine missed a penalty awarded after Medhi Benatia handled in the area five minutes before the break with Juventus goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny tipping the ball onto the post.

Ronaldo tested Gianluigi Donnarumma in the AC Milan goal early in the second half before finally blasting in nine minutes from time for his first goal at the San Siro.

Minutes later Higuain saw red after shouting at the referee in frustration after a foul on Benatia, and was led off the pitch in tears.

"I told him not to exaggerate, to calm down and not to risk a major penalty," said Ronaldo of what he told Higuain on the pitch.

"He was nervous, he was losing, but we must not blame him, he didn't say anything."

"I know that we are an example for all children, for those who play football, for the people watching, but we are not robots, and we carry things within us," Higuain said after.

"We are human, we feel emotions, the game was not going the right way and it was one of those days."

"I think sometimes the referees should understand the situation," added Higuain, who won two Serie A titles with Juventus after joining from Napoli in 2016.

REAL WIN
Real Madrid director Emilio Butragueno has said the club are delighted with the win. "We are delighted with the win," said Butragueno. "We are delighted with the win, especially for the team, because playing away to Milan is always very difficult," said Ronaldo.

Madrid claimed a 4-2 victory at Balaidos and the expectation is Solari will now be given the job full-time, following a transformation in results.

Four victories during his tenure have brought 15 goals scored and just two conceded while Real have cut the gap behind Barcelona to four points in La Liga.

The win over Celta was the club's last fixture before Solari's two weeks as an interim coach ends during the international break.

"He has done excellently," Butragueno said on Sunday. "He arrived in a very particular moment and has achieved very good results, above all today against Celta in a very difficult game. It is a very happy with how things have gone."

Butragueno would not confirm whether Solari's position would be made permanent but it is likely the Argentinian will remain in the post, at least until the end of the season.

"We will see," Solari said. "I usually don't plan too far ahead but in principle, it's my day off tomorrow."

"The important thing is to do everything for the good of the team and Real Madrid. Nothing else is important for me," Madrid defender Alvaro Odriozola said the players are behind Solari.

"These things are decided by those at the top, we just have to work to get out of the crisis," Odriozola said.

"We'll go to the death with him, he's a great coach and of course we want him to continue."

Cristiano Ronaldo scores for Juventus.

Australia 'different ball game': Rohit

Limited overs deputy believes even without Smith & Warner winning first Test series in Australia will be a tough challenge

AFP ■ CHENNAI

Batsman Rohit Sharma said India were brimming with confidence after their crushing home victories over the West Indies -- but warned that winning their first Test series in Australia was a challenge of a different order.

India completed a 3-0 Twenty20 series sweep over the West Indies on Sunday, to add to their 2-0 Test whitewash and 3-1 victory in the ODIs, extending their dominating home form.

But Sharma said an away series against old rivals Australia, even without their batsmen Steve Smith, David Warner and Cameron Bancroft, who are banned for ball-tampering, would be a much sterner test.

"Australia is always challenging when it comes to going out there and performing. Every time you go there, you are tested as a player, as an individual and as a team as well," the veteran opener said after Sunday's win.

"I think we have got to be at our best and when you win a series like this (West Indies) and when you play like that in the tournament you are high on confidence. It's all about taking that confidence to Australia and doing what we did as a team."

India barely have time to catch their breath before heading on Friday to Australia, where the first of three T20 matches is in Brisbane on November 21. They will also play four Tests and three ODIs.

PREPARING FOR AUS TOUR BY WATCHING VIDEOS: SHAMI

KOLKATA: India pacer Mohammed Shami on Monday said he is preparing for the Australia series by watching videos of their opponents in order to get the line and length right.

The Indian pace attack impressed in England but it's the batsmen who let them down to lose the series 1-4.

"As a fast bowling unit, we did well in England. We are preparing for the Australia series and watching a lot of videos. The plan is to focus on the series as much as possible as the opponents are very strong. We will work on getting the line and length right," Shami told reporters here.

Shami, who was part of the Test and ODI squads in their just concluded series against West Indies, was back home and visited the Eden Gardens on the sidelines of Bengal's Ranji Trophy match against Madhya Pradesh.

"We will always try to do our best. Winning or losing also depends on luck. We will give our 100 per cent," Shami said.

According to reports, suspended duo of Steve Smith and David Warner may be reconsidered.

"If those two don't play, they will obviously be weakened. But in the end, you have to stick to your plan and work on your strengths," Shami added.

Asked if he's looking ahead to the World Cup next year, Bengal pacer Shami said: "It depends on who is fit and who is not during that time. My performance will be evaluated and I will expect to get a chance if I do well."

home, their form is fragile. They went down 2-1 in South Africa and then 4-1 in England this year.

Sharma said India must "start fresh" and forget about their recent wins if they are to take their home consistency to Australia.

"Australia will be a different ball game I completely understand. But I think the things that we have been doing as a team and as a player, we keep repeating it," he said.

"The best teams in the world keep repeating those performances. It will be important for us that we start fresh. Not think about what we have done in the past."

Sharma, the only batsman to hit four T20 centuries, is part of India's squad for the Tests which start in Adelaide on December 6 after being overlooked for the five-day games in England.

"I am someone who doesn't think too far ahead. So I am focusing on the T20 series first," said Sharma.

"Of course the Test match is something that I was looking forward for a long time and it will be nice to go out there and represent India in Tests, but we want to win the T20s first." He added: "The last time (2015-16) we played a T20 format in Australia we won 3-0."

Finch warns faltering batsmen of shake-up

AFP ■ HOBART

Australia's one-day batsmen are under mounting pressure to keep their places after a lacklustre series defeat to South Africa, captain Aaron Finch warned on Monday, with a potential shake-up looming.

Finch admitted "we're all under pressure when we lose, no doubt about that" and hinted at changes ahead of their next series against India, ranked two in the world, in January.

"Between the batting line-up not having got it right for a little while now there's going to be questions asked whether it's Maxi, Lunny, Heady, or myself or Stein," he said, referring to Glenn Maxwell, Chris Lynn, Travis Head and Marcus Stoinis.

"It's important that we really nut out the balance of the side and get that right over the next two months."

"We have to either adapt our game plan a little bit around the way the side structures up best or we slightly change our personnel to fit a style that we think can win."

Big-hitting Lynn was elevated to open the batting in Hobart in a bid to get quick runs on the board, but it failed spectacularly when he was out first ball.

Despite this, Finch said the powerful right-hander, a prolific scorer in twenty20s, is likely to open again as Australia look for more aggression early in the innings.

"Yeah, it could be a long-term plan," he said.

"It was an attacking option to put Chris at the top, to change him and Travis (Head), to put a couple of guys up there who can get us off to a flyer. It was an attacking move."

"If I had my time again I'd still do it."

Kuldeep reaches career-best T20 rankings

PTI ■ DUBAI

Indian chinaman Kuldeep Yadav, who played a key role in India's series win over West Indies, on Monday leapfrogged 14 places to a career-high 23rd in the latest ICC T20 rankings.

Yadav picked up five wickets in two matches at an economy-rate of 5.6 in India's home series 3-0 win over the current T20 champions.

Speedster Bhuvneshwar Kumar jumped nine places to break into the Top-20. He is placed at the 19th spot while Jasprit Bumrah gained five places to be world No 21.

Among the Indian batsmen, Rohit Sharma, who led India to the sweep, and opener Shikhar Dhawan made notable improvements.

Sharma (up by three places) is ranked seventh with Dhawan (up by five places) securing the 16th spot.

Pakistan and India retained their first and second place in the team rankings, collecting two and three points respectively. Pakistan moved to 138 points while India have 127 points.

There is no change in the top-four of the all-rounders' list with Australia's Glenn Maxwell leading the field.

Mohammad Nabi is second, followed by Shakib Al Hasan and JP Duminy.

Meanwhile, Australia will be involved in all four remaining T20s later this month. They will play South Africa in a one-off match in Carrara on November 17, before taking on India in a three-match series from November 21-25.

Ranji Trophy

DALAL, SHOREY FIFTIES LIFT DELHI

NEW DELHI: Hiten Dalal scored a brisk 79 on debut before Himachal Pradesh fought back to reduce Delhi to 305 for eight at stumps on day one. Dhruv Shorey (88) too made a significant contribution but missed out on a hundred on a day when some questionable umpiring calls were made. Gautam Gambhir smashed 44 while Nitish Rana (6) could not do much on his captaincy debut. Dagar was the pick of the bowlers for Himachal Pradesh, taking three wickets for 57 runs in 21 overs while off-spinner Gurvinder Singh took two for 57 in 21 overs.

GHOSH SLAMS TON ON COMEBACK

KOLKATA: Koushik Ghosh slammed his second first-class century in his comeback game, steering Bengal to 246/4 against Madhya Pradesh. Included in the side as an extra batsman, the left-hander repaid the faith in him with his 189-ball 100 (14x4). The 26-year-old, along with Abhimanyu Easwaran (86), stitched a 136-run partnership. But Madhya Pradesh ended the day on a positive note, picking two wickets — including Ghosh's — in two overs before bad light stopped play in 82 overs.

REDDY'S HELPS HYD TAKE HONOURS

TIRUNELVELI: Skipper Akshath Reddy led from the front with a superb unbeaten 114 to help Hyderabad make 249 for 3 to take the honours on the opening day of the Elite Group 'B' match against Tamil Nadu. Akshath found an able partner in Himalay Agarwal (29). The two were involved in a half-century partnership to steady the Hyderabad innings. After Himalay's dismissal the big partnership of the day came as Akshath and B Sandeep (73 batting) joined forces.

MILIND STARS FOR SIKKIM

DIMAPUR: Milind Kumar dished out an all-round show to guide Sikkim to 120 for 5 against Nagaland at stumps. Sikkim first bowled out Nagaland for 179 in 52.5 overs with Ishwar Choudhary (4/65), Bipul Sharma (3/46) and Milind (2/21) taking nine wickets among them. In reply, Sikkim had a jittery start with 9 for 2 in the fifth over. But former Delhi batsman Milind, continued his fine run, blasting an unbeaten 78 from 66 balls. Sikkim ended day one at 120/5, trailing Mizoram by 59 runs.

Santner predicts high-scoring India-NZ series

PTI ■ MUMBAI

New Zealand's left-arm spinner Mitchell Santner believes the upcoming limited overs series in his home country against India could be a high-scoring affair due to the nature of grounds and wickets and hopes to be a part of it.

India, who last toured New Zealand in 2014-15, will return to Kiwiland for a five-match ODI rubber starting January 23 in Napier, to be followed by best-of-three T20 Internationals (T20Is).

"Both teams have changed a lot since then (the 2014 tour). India have performed in England and against (Australia) in conditions similar to New Zealand. It's (depends on) how quickly they (India) can adapt to those conditions."

"If they can hit the ground running on those home conditions for us, it's going to make for a very interesting series. It can be a high-scoring series with the nature of grounds and wickets (on offer)," Santner said here on Monday.

Santner, along with compatriot Corey Anderson, spoke to reporters during a special interaction organised by Star Sports.

"Virat (Kohli - the skipper) and other Indian batsmen are scoring a lot of runs at the moment and they haven't been to New Zealand for four years. But they have played all round the country and scored runs everywhere."

"So they will probably like our conditions, where it's quite flat, with not a lot of turn. And obviously if there's not a lot of swing, it (series) can be high-scoring. So the batsmen will like it and hopefully the ball swings for us," added the 26-year-old spinner.

Santner also feels the two teams could take momentum from the series before heading into the 2019 World Cup, which starts in England at the end of May.

"The series will be a good test for

'World C'ship must for Test's survival'

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Former New Zealand coach Mike Hesson on Monday emphasised that the World Test Championship is "critical" for survival of the longest format of the game.

As per the International Cricket Council (ICC), the nine top-ranked sides will compete in the championship with each side playing six series on a home-and-away basis against mutually selected opponents in a two-year cycle.

The cycle will begin soon after the ICC Cricket World Cup 2019, with the Ashes in England set to kick-start the event. The top-two sides will then contest in the ICC World Test Championship final in June 2021.

"Test cricket will survive as long as there is context. The World Test Championship is critical to its survival. If there is no context to matches and they just operate bilateral tours in isolation, then the relevancy will disappear over time," Hesson said.

Hesson, who coached New Zealand for six years before taking over as head coach of IPL team Kings XI Punjab, stressed Test cricket even now generates a lot of interest.

"People are getting scared that Test cricket is disappearing, but I think that's not the case. There is still a high level of interest," added the 44-year-old Hesson.

NZ PLAYERS AVAILABLE FOR FULL IPL SEASON

MUMBAI: In a significant development, New Zealand Cricket has allowed their players to take part in the entire duration of the next edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL).

An announcement to this effect was made on Monday by James Wear, GM Commercial, New Zealand Cricket.

"One of the things New Zealand Cricket has decided is to allow its players to play in the Indian Premier League right till the end of the IPL," Wear told a select group of reporters here.

"So we are keen to give our guys as much experience playing all around the world as possible so that they get a great experience by playing in the IPL," explained Wear on the reason behind the Kiwi cricket board's decision even with the ICC World Cup following shortly after the conclusion of the T20 league.

"Last season we had 11 players playing in there (IPL), which was great for us and we are keen to continue that," added Wear.

both the sides leading into the World Cup and I guess in similar conditions. Both the teams will be looking forward to the competition and to take some momentum into the World Cup," he added.

According to Santner, India have a "strong batting line up" and the key for the visitors, with wrist spinners Kuldeep Yadav and Yuzvendra Chahar in operation, will be to get wickets in the middle overs.

"With the nature of flat wickets, the wrist spinners can spin the ball both ways. The key in ODI cricket is to get wickets in the middle (overs)."

"The wrist spinners - they might leak a lot more runs but have the option (chance) of getting more wickets (too)," he said.

All-rounder Anderson, on his part, said he would like to be in New Zealand's 2019 World Cup team.

Rahul Dravid in conversation with Prithvi Shaw

'Kiwi conditions will help seniors'

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The playing conditions will not be similar to Australia but it would be still be valuable match practice for the Test regulars, who are part of India A squad in New Zealand, insists Rahul Dravid.

India Test vice-captain Ajinkya Rahane, Rohit Sharma, Murali Vijay, Prithvi Shaw, Parthiv Patel and Hanuma Vihari figure in the A squad for the first unofficial Test, scheduled in Mount Maunganui from November 16.

All these six players have also been picked for the four-Test series in Australia, beginning December 6.

"I think it will be a very good opportunity for some of the boys who are requested by the senior team management to be a part of the A tour," Dravid told BCCI.TV.

"They will be able to gain some match-time experience even if the conditions are not going to be exactly the same or it is not like being in Australia. The A team format is pretty competitive and it is match-time experience. It is a good opportunity in the lead up to international tours."

India A are scheduled to play three unofficial Tests and as many One-dayers in New Zealand.

Dravid feels the youngsters in the squad will also benefit from the presence of seniors.

"What we see nowadays is that there is not much time for practice or practice games in the lead up to an international series because of the amount of cricket that is being played."

"From Indian cricket's perspective by organising these tours, we can give the boys a better chance to prepare for an international series. It is exciting to have the senior boys with us. The objective for us is to prepare them for Australia and at the same time, the younger boys get an opportunity to share the dressing room with them," said the former India captain.

The tour has gained more significance as India just play only one warm-up game before the first Test begins at Adelaide on Dec 6.

"It is really nice to be able to hold such tours just before the Indian team visits these countries. We are trying to achieve that with the A team programme. We are trying to have shadow tours. We did it in England and we could obviously not do it in Australia, but it is great to go to New Zealand instead," said Dravid.

The batting great said the focus will be on red-ball cricket during the team's stay in New Zealand.

"The focus on the New Zealand tour is more about four-day cricket and I think we are playing really good white ball cricket. We have been really competitive and building a very good bench strength."

"The push from my perspective and some of the thinking and planning that has gone into is that we try and improve our longer format cricket, especially when travelling overseas."

"Keeping that in mind, we have increased the number of Test matches. We are trying to increase the amount of red ball cricket that our boys can get to experience."

Rahim's record innings puts B'desh on top

AFP ■ DHAKA

Mushfiqur Rahim became the first wicket-keeper-batsman in history to score two double hundreds in Tests as Bangladesh built a strong total in the second Test against Zimbabwe in Dhaka on Monday.

Mushfiqur hit an unbeaten 219 to help Bangladesh declare their first innings at 522-7 an hour into the final session, before the hosts reduced Zimbabwe to 25 for one at stumps on the second day.

Tajul Islam removed Hamilton Masakadza for 14 after an edge flew to Mehidy Hasan at first slip for Bangladesh's first breakthrough.

Brian Chari, 10 not out, and nightwatchman Donald Tiripano (naught) prevented further damage.

Zimbabwe, ahead in the two-match tournament 1-0, needs at least a draw to win their first Test series in seven years.

Wicketkeeper batsman Mushfiqur Rahim kisses ground after scoring second double hundred in Test cricket

"I knew that converting a fifty would ensure a big score. I had a lot of self-belief. I had my preparations in place."

Mushfiqur, who played 421 balls and hit 18 fours and a six, also surpassed Shakib Al Hasan to become the highest individual scorer in an innings for Bangladesh in Test cricket.

Skipper Mahmudullah Riyad called the batsmen to the dressing room soon after Mushfiqur nudged Sean Williams for a single to pass Shakib's 217 against New Zealand at Wellington in 2017.

Mushfiqur shared a record 144-run in their unbroken eighth wicket stand with Mehidy

Mashrafe to stand in election

DHAKA: Bangladesh's one-day international captain Mashrafe Mortaza will stand in next month's election, the ruling party announced on Monday, after Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina endorsed the superstar's foray into politics.

A photograph of 35-year-old Mashrafe, who enjoys rockstar status in cricket-mad Bangladesh, alongside Hasina ran on the front pages of many newspapers in the South Asian nation of 160 million.

A spokesman for Hasina's Awami League said Mashrafe had been given the "green light" from the prime minister, who is seeking a third consecutive term in office on December 30.

"He plans to contest from Narail," said spokesman, referring to Mashrafe's hometown district in western Bangladesh. Mashrafe has not commented publicly on his running for the Awami League.

Mushfiqur also had a hand in the previous eighth wicket record when he added 113 with Naeem Islam against England in 2010.

Jarvis, who claimed three wickets on the opening day, removed Mahmudullah for 36 and Ariful Haque for four but Mushfiqur and Mehidy denied the visitors further success.
