India inches up in World Univ ranking

India has improved upon its World University Rankings showing a jump of 19 places to rank 250 globally. This improvement comes after the latest assessment by the Times Higher Education (THE) World University Rankings 2019, which places the country at 96th globally.

According to the rankings, India’s institutional growth is driven by eight top institutions that have performed well. The nation has 26 institutions among the top 1,000, which is a significant gain from just one institution 10 years ago. The ranks of Indian institutions have been improving over the years, with the top 10 positions now occupied by four Indian universities.

The Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) continue to dominate the rankings, with the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Madras occupying the third position globally, followed by the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bombay, which ranks 23rd. The Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Kanpur is ranked 85th, making it the third-highest-ranked university in India.

The Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Bangalore continues to perform well, ranking 116th globally. Other Indian universities that have performed well include the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) in Bangalore, which is ranked 180th, and the National Institute of Technology (NIT) Roorkee, which is ranked 374th.

The rankings are based on a variety of indicators including teaching, research, citations, industry income, international outlook, and international mobility. The THE World University Rankings are considered to be one of the most comprehensive and widely recognized rankings in the world.

These improvements come as a result of efforts by Indian universities to enhance their teaching and research capacities. The government has also been working towards improving the quality of higher education in the country through various initiatives such as the National Initiative on Quality and Technology in Higher Education (NIQTHE), which aims to increase the number of PhDs and improve the quality of research in universities.

Despite the gains, India still has a long way to go to become a global leader in higher education. The country needs to focus on improving the quality of teaching, increasing research output, and enhancing international collaborations to achieve this goal.

India has named dozens of people and entities, including the Pakistan army and military, the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), as responsible for "serious violations of international law," the country’s foreign minister said on Thursday.

"The Indian foreign ministry has so far not released any comments or statements on India’s allegations or the names it has named," said a senior Pakistan army official, who declined to be quoted.

India’s allegations come amid tensions between the two nuclear-armed neighbors, which have been at odds for decades over their disputed Kashmir region.

"We will continue to do what is necessary to defend our sovereignty and territorial integrity," the Pakistan army official said.

"India's allegations are baseless and without any evidence," he added.

UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres on Tuesday said there was nothing but dialogue during a phone conversation with Donald Trump on Monday, calling for a durable solution to the nuclear standoff with North Korea.

Guterres said he received a “positive response” from Trump to the UN’s proposal which was put forward by him and Kim Jong-un a few days ago.

“There was nothing but dialogue,” Guterres said in comments to reporters. “The president (Trump) is absolutely committed in his dealings with Kim, he wants to get a deal done and now the onus is on North Korea,” he added.

Trump’s White House press secretary Sarah Sanders told reporters that Trump, who is on his way back from his trip to Africa, was due to speak to Guterres later Tuesday.

Speaking on the sidelines of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation summit in Papua New Guinea, South Korean foreign minister Kang Kyung-wha said that she told Trump that the US has taken a “positive step” by accepting the UN’s idea of an inter-Korean summit.

Actor ARSHAKA SHARMA and VARUN DHAWAN tell ASMITA SARKAR how the biggest thing a film can do is bring change

When Arshaka Sharma, 26, was given the offer to play sandal, “a really sweet, really good girl,” in her debut film, she was ecstatic. “The fact that I was being offered a role which I think is quite different from what I did in school is so amazing.”

Arshaka is the daughter of legendary actor Anil Dhawan. “When I was young, I was always overwhelmed with the fact that I was his daughter. It was a constant struggle for me,” she says. “I’ve grown up in the industry, so I never really thought about it.”

But when she was offered the role, she jumped at the chance. “I was so excited to be a part of something like this,” she says. “I’ve always wanted to do something like this.”

Varun Dhawan, 29, was also excited about the role. “I was thrilled to be a part of something like this,” he says. “I’ve always wanted to do something like this.”

For Arshaka, the film is important because it’s about a girl who is trying hard to become a professional dancer. “I was shooting in Raipur for the last couple of months, and I was really excited about the role,” she says. “I’ve always wanted to do something like this.”

For Varun, the film is important because it’s about a couple who is trying hard to make it in theIMA. “I was shooting in Delhi for the last couple of months, and I was really excited about the role,” he says. “I’ve always wanted to do something like this.”

But the film is not just about the couple, it’s about the整个IMA. “I was shooting in Delhi for the last couple of months, and I was really excited about the role,” he says. “I’ve always wanted to do something like this.”
