India becoming global plastic dumping hub, even for Pak!

NEW DELHI

India is fast emerging as a global dumping ground for plastic waste. Several government officials, including members of the Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh assemblies, and businesses have confirmed the practice. A recent report by the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) has also highlighted India as a major site for plastic waste dumping.

According to the report, India has become a global hub for plastic waste dumping, due to lax regulations and lack of enforcement. The country is receiving large amounts of plastic waste from countries including the United States, Canada, Australia, and the United Kingdom. The plastic waste is then sent to landfills and incineration facilities, where it is burned or buried, releasing toxic pollutants into the air and soil.

The Indian government has been criticized for its lack of action on the issue. The Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change has failed to implement effective policies to tackle plastic waste. The country has also failed to comply with the United Nations resolution on plastic pollution.

India is one of the world's largest producers of plastic waste, with an estimated 40 million tons of plastic waste generated each year. The country has a history of lax waste management practices, and the situation has worsened with the rapid growth of plastic use.

The plastic waste is not only creating pollution but also affecting the health of millions of people. The burning of plastic waste releases toxic chemicals, such as dioxins and furans, which can cause respiratory problems, cancer, and other health issues.

The Indian government needs to take urgent action to address this issue. They must implement effective policies to reduce plastic waste generation, promote recycling and reuse, and implement strict regulations to prevent plastic waste dumping.

O July 22, as an amusing news item hit the papers, India’s Prime Minister Xi Jinping was in London to do the state visit “a real feather in the cap” for the UK and its Prime Minister. The trip was also an opportunity for India to make a mark in Europe in its quest to be a global power. Thus, it is no wonder that the media was abuzz with the details of the trip, and the local newspapers were filled with reports of the visit, and the impact it had on the UK and India’s relationship.

The state visit also marks a significant milestone in India’s relations with the UK, as it is the first state visit by a Chinese leader to the UK in over 13 years. This visit is also notable for the fact that it coincides with the 70th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The visit is also seen as a bid by India to strengthen its ties with the UK and cement its position as a global power. The visit is also seen as a significant step in the Indo-Pacific region, as it is the first state visit by a Chinese leader to the UK in over 13 years.

Fiscal deficit touches Q4. 4.32 lakh crore in Q1

The Government's fiscal deficit touched Rs 4.32 lakh crore in the April-June quarter, Rs 1.20 lakh crore more than the budget estimate for 2019-20. The disparity between the fiscal deficit for the quarter and the budgeted deficit is due to a tripling of the central government's expenditure on account of the coronavirus lockdown, making it clear that the Centre has not only been lax in controlling the fiscal deficit but has also not paid much attention to the problem of rising public debt.

The central government's expenditure for the quarter ended June 30, stood at Rs 23.34 lakh crore, up 20.1 per cent over the corresponding quarter in 2018-19. Of this, payment of interest on debt accounted for Rs 3.41 lakh crore, up 28.5 per cent over the corresponding period. In the fiscal year, interest expenditure has been pegged at Rs 15.07 lakh crore, an increase of 26.8 per cent over Rs 11.89 lakh crore in 2018-19.

The fiscal deficit was 6.7 per cent of gross domestic product (GDP) during the first quarter of 2019-20, while it was 5.2 per cent of GDP in the corresponding quarter a year ago. The Centre has pegged the fiscal deficit for the current fiscal at 4.5 per cent of GDP.

The robust growth in expenditure during the quarter, according to experts, has been linked to rising coronavirus-related expenditure, which has not only swelled up the fiscal deficit but has also swelled up public debt. Expenditure in the current fiscal is expected to remain high due to coronavirus-driven health and welfare expenditures, lowering of sales tax and local taxes, and increased expenditure under various Competitiveness and Investment boosters schemes.

Europe ‘obliged to let it sell and ship oil: Iran’

AFP/TEHERAN

The Iranian regime has renewed its demands that Europe should “obliged to let it sell and ship oil: Iran”. Tehran is seeking to counter US sanctions which have already triggered a global crisis in the world oil market.

Iran’s foreign minister, Mohammad Javad Zarif, has just told the Financial Times: “We must be able to sell our oil. We must be able to ship our oil. We have no option other than to sell oil. We have no option other than to ship oil.”

“Iran doesn’t have a choice but to sell oil. It’s a strategic issue for us,” he added.

Zarif said on Wednesday that European nations all party to the 2015 nuclear deal must “be obliged to allow it to sell and ship our oil and the same red tape must be observed over the source of tankers.”

The deal, now Europe’s nuclear programme has been withdrawn by the US, is facing a fate of its own.

But the US sanctions, which currently target Iran’s oil sector, have forced the country’s government to seek new markets and new partners.

The US has said it will consider a temporary waiver for countries that buy Iranian oil, but Iran’s foreign minister has warned that any such waiver would be insufficient to counter the US sanctions.

“Iran’s position is clear: Europe must be obliged to let it sell and ship oil,” Zarif said.

“The US sanctions are illegal and they must be lifted. Iran has a right to sell and ship oil,” he added.

The US has been pressuring Europe to stop buying Iranian oil, but the European Union has so far refused to comply.

“The European Union has a responsibility to protect Iran’s right to sell oil,” Zarif said.

“Iran is determined to sell and ship oil and we are not going to bow to US pressure,” he added.

The US has imposed sanctions on Iran’s central bank, which has had a significant impact on the country’s economy.

“The US has imposed sanctions on Iran’s central bank, which has a major impact on the country’s economy,” Zarif said.
