Gujarat terror plots on terror alert

Terrorists trained by Pak navy intrude Gulf of Khut, on prow! Intel

Indian navy’s intelligence inputs revealed that Pakistan’s military had smuggled terrorists into the Gulf of Khut during March 2023.

The Intelligence Inputs:

- Gulf of Khut: A strategic waterway located near the coast of Gujarat, India, where a number of naval operations take place.
- Terrorists: Series of individuals involved in planning and executing acts of terrorism.
- Smuggled Terrorists: Individuals who are illegally transported across borders for the purpose of committing acts of violence.
- Strategy: The tactics and methods employed by the Indian navy to counter such threats.

In order to counter this strategic threat, the Indian navy initiated a series of operations and activities, including:

1. Reinforcement of Naval Presence: Additional naval assets were deployed in the Gulf of Khut to monitor and deter any potential terrorist activities.
2. Increased Intelligence Gathering: Efforts were intensified to gather information on suspected terrorists and their activities.
3. Joint Operations: Coordination with other security agencies, both national and international, to coordinate a comprehensive response.
4. Public Awareness Campaigns: Measures to inform the public about the risks and to encourage vigilance.

The navy’s actions were part of a broader strategy to maintain maritime security and ensure the safety of maritime operations in the area.

Following the inputs, several actions were taken:

- Identification of Suspected Locations: The navy identified areas of interest where terrorist activities were suspected.
- Surveillance and Monitoring: Increased surveillance and monitoring of these areas to detect and deter any potential threats.
- Counter-Terrorist Operations: Coordinated efforts with other security forces to conduct counter-terrorism operations.

These measures were part of a comprehensive response to ensure the safety and security of maritime operations in the Gulf of Khut.

The incident highlights the ongoing threat posed by terrorism and the need for continued vigilance and preparation to counter such threats.

Dengue cases down by 80%

2015: 15,867 cases
2018: 2,798 cases

Delhi is prepared once again!

"I will be inspecting my house for the next 10 Sundays. I hope you do it too!"

- Arvind Kejriwal
Chief Minister, Delhi

Dear Delhiites,
This year too, we have to come together to fight against Dengue. 1st September onwards.

10 हफ्ते, 10 बजे, 10 मिनट
हर रविवार, डेंगू पर वार।

Know about Dengue

- The Dengue mosquito breeds in stagnant clean water.
- The Dengue mosquito grows from an egg into a mosquito in 8-10 days. If clean water is not allowed to stand, the mosquito will not be able to breed.
- The Dengue mosquito’s flight range is approximately 200 meters. If someone in your house contracts Dengue, then it is likely that the mosquitoes have either originated from your or your neighbour’s house. It is important to check your home and also that of your neighbours for your family’s health and wellbeing.

Just 10 Sundays

- Most Dengue cases occur in the monsoon or just after that. During this period, there are 10 Sundays. If we dedicate 10 minutes at 10 o’clock every Sunday for this, we can get rid of Dengue and Chikungunya. We need to spend less than two hours over 10 weeks. In the last five years, Dengue and Chikungunya have been brought under control, and this year, we will do it again!

10 minutes, every Sunday

- For the next 10 weeks, we all need to set aside 10 minutes at 10 o’clock every Sunday. Check flower pots, coolers, vases or anywhere inside or outside your house to make sure that clean water has not accumulated. If you find there is an accumulation of clean water, pour it out, change it or add petrol or oil to it.

Let’s come together!

- If you have inspected your house, do take a selfie inside your house and WhatsApp it to 8287972050. Together, we will make Delhi Dengue-free.

Opening up for what?

It seems unlikely that the Cabinet's decisions will lead to a flurry of FDIs until major structural changes are put in place.

So can the Cabinet’s decisions ease foreign direct Investment (FDI) rules in sectors in certain rules really promote funding? Prima facie, it appears that most of the FDI-eligible sectors are unaffected. The major change in the decision is that the public sector enterprises (PSEs) are no more subject to conditions that they must be a majority stake in India. This would, however, need to be clarified in further regulations. The change does not specifically use the term “FDI” in most of the statements, which is a concern. It is not clear if the Cabinet has taken into account India’s national security and strategic concerns.

The Cabinet’s decisions have been welcomed by the business community, with some caution. The Chambers of Commerce and Industry (CCI) have welcomed the move as a step in the right direction. However, they have also stressed the need for clarity and consistency in the implementation of the rules.

Another case of sexual abuse involving a politician in UP should be the last. Kenya has a Saffron revolution.

Hardly has the focus from the Uranium crisis shifted to a new controversy over sexual harassment allegations. A 25-year-old Lucknow-based woman has accused former UP minister and former senior Congress leader, Jyotiraditya Scindia, of sexual harassment.

The woman, who works as a journalist, has alleged that Scindia had invited her to his office for a meeting. However, when she arrived, he allegedly asked her to remove her clothes and make love to him.

She has said that Scindia had also asked her to perform sexual acts on his进入口 while he was drunk.

The matter has come to light after the woman shared the video on social media.

Scindia, who recently joined the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), has denied the allegations.

The case is being investigated by the Uttar Pradesh Police, and the woman has filed a complaint against Scindia.

The allegations have sparked a debate on sexual harassment in the political arena in India.

The fear within

With our neighbouring neighbour relinquishing its global balancing act, can India’s policymakers help limit its nefarious ambitions so as to establish relative peace between India and Pakistan?

President Donald Trump has been called an “isolationist” in the media. The US President was recently shown to be quite popular in the Middle East, but his isolationist tendencies were exposed when he announced that he would do away with the “sanctions” on Iran.

India, on the other hand, has been quite vocal about its concerns with Iran and its nuclear programme.

A common sentiment is that the US and India are quite different in terms of their foreign policies. The US is more inclined to use military means to solve problems, whereas India prefers diplomatic solutions.

The Trump administration has been quite critical of India’s nuclear programme, particularly its P-5 status.

ock! Honorable Prime Minister promises Parliament End of Brexit negotiations! The Speaker of the House, John Bercow, was not in a mood for consultation. He told the Government: "There is no majority for a deal. There is no majority for a no-deal Brexit." It was at least somewhat reassuring that the Government's position did not seem to be on the brink of collapse. However, the Prime Minister's announcement was not entirely unexpected. The government had been seeking to negotiate a withdrawal agreement for months, but it had not been able to secure a majority in Parliament. The Prime Minister has said that he will not seek a third vote on his Brexit deal. Instead, he will try to persuade MPs to agree to a general election that could result in a government that is more willing to compromise. 'Box-office pressure depends on film'

Acclaimed actor Lokhandwala said that box-office pressure depends entirely on the actor himself. Asked if she felt pressured over box-office numbers, Richta said, "Yes, it depends on the film. For Fukrey, I was feeling pressure for box-office numbers... but I don't take it for the pressure because the economy is not taken for a film. I'm happy to do films to touch a 100 crore mark. Rather, it shows that we are doing something right."

On the acting front, the 32-year-old actress will next be seen in Section 23.

'Change for the better'

This week we drive two new cars, one from Maruti and the other from Hyundai, and marvel at how far vehicles have come in the last two decades.

Before I embark on today’s topic, I would like to make one or two comments on the Indian context of yesterday.

Maruti XL6 has been set up by the archive, she argued. "It separated friends and family and of great value. And while I still do not feel a sense of nostalgia, I also feel a lot of pride for what I have been able to achieve."

"To name a few amongst the most important findings, it appears, could have been preordained from the very beginning."

In India, we do not consider legumes to be vegetables, the words spoken by a much reputated local woman who had her place in the kitchen. We don’t just eat them, but just for a moment from time to time, we include them in the bowl containing a solo egg towards the back of the bowl station. There were small bowls which were described with a lot of greens, white powder, egg, and black pepper. In front of them, we were attending a masterclass on Turkei cuisine which was given by Chef Ibrahim AYIAM and ABDULLAH OLGUN show Samat SATTI that when it comes to cooking, sometimes less is more.
