Gold remains buoyant in higher brackets

The yellow metal as a Himalayan state is obvious-

The prices of common vegetables in the region are off the charts, with the prices of onion, ginger, and garlic having doubled in the last week.

The Agricultural Department has also advised farmers to harvest their crops as soon as possible to avoid any further price hike.

Meanwhile, the Meteorological Department has predicted a high chance of rainfall in the region, which could lead to a decrease in the prices of vegetables.

However, the traders are not optimistic about the situation and are worried about the impact on their business.

KTR talking on democracy ridiculous: BJP

“Mr. KTR’s comments are ridiculous. We have a democracy. People have the right to express their opinions, and we respect that,” said a BJP spokesperson.

The Congress accused the TRS government of suppressing free speech, while the BJP hailed the decision as a step towards strengthening democracy.

Several leaders expect Sonia’s appointment to bring changes in Telangana Congress

Some leaders expect Sonia’s appointment to bring changes in Telangana Congress

Prithviraj Chavan, a former cabinet minister under Sonia Gandhi, said that the Congress will regain its lost glory under the leadership of Sonia Gandhi.

“This is a positive development. Sonia’s appointment will give a boost to the Congress in Telangana,” Chavan said.

The Congress has been facing a crisis since the TRS government came to power in the state.

Rahul Gandhi’s visit to the state last month had also failed to stem the tide of public unhappiness. The Congress has been facing a number of internal problems in the state, including leadership vacuum and lack of clear strategies.

The party is also facing a challenge from the Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS), which has been ruling the state for the past five years.

The TRS government has been accused of suppressing free speech and democracy in the state.

The party has also been facing a crisis in the state, with some leaders expecting Sonia Gandhi to come out with a clear strategy to take on the TRS government.

Water released from Sagar

HYDERABAD

With inflows expected to rise, water has been released from the Sagar project to improve the connectivity of the internet. The Sagar project is the largest water project in the country and has been under construction for over two decades.

The project was inaugurated by former Prime Minister P.V. Narasimha Rao in 1998 and has a capacity of storing 180,000 million cubic meters of water.

The Sagar project has been in limbo for several years due to political and financial issues. The project was envisioned as a means of improving water supply for the twin cities of Hyderabad and Secunderabad.

The project is expected to be completed by 2023, and it is hoped that it will ease the water crisis in the region.

De-watering of lakes

HYDERABAD

To improve the condition of lakes in the city, the GHMC has been conducting de-watering operations. The de-watering of lakes takes about 100 per cent of the lake water.

The lakes that have been de-watered include the Langer House lake, the Tolichowki lake, and the Kowal lake. The de-watering process is carried out by the GHMC's lake-clearing work, which is currently working on the lake-clearing work.

The de-watering of lakes is an ongoing process and will continue until the goal of de-watering all the lakes in the city is achieved.

Irregularities in construction of check dams on Jampagannavagu:

The Vigilance and Inspection Department officials have suspected some irregularities in the construction of check dams on Jampagannavagu. Therefore, they have called for relevant records from the respective engineering firms in the irrigation department. The investigation department of the engineering department has already questioned four check dams for alleged administrative discrepancies. For instance, work was ordered for four check dams but was executed for only three. The department is particularly concerned about the check dams built at Ramagadda and Rangareddy. The Vigilance and Inspection department has called upon the government to investigate the allegations.

Vigilance sleuths call for records pertaining to construction of check dams on Jampagannavagu

AIGC, official spokesman Sanjiv Kumar has questioned the TRS government for having an unexplained or unmonitored expenditure. Sanjiv Kumar further said that the TRS government has not presented the bills of the materials used for constructing the check dams. He asked to look into whether the estimates were prepared properly or not. According to the reports, the estimates were prepared on the basis of the then-existing unreasonable rates of materials. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the government to prepare the estimates properly for the future projects.

KTR, who has been in office since 2013, has not been able to present the bills of the materials used for constructing the check dams to the Vigilance Department. Therefore, the Vigilance Department has asked for a detail report on the materials used for constructing the check dams.

How can one think of potholes during flood!

UDAHJ ON RAJ’S REMARK

On Saturday, the opposition Congress, NCP and MNS accused the BJP-led state government of ‘shamelessly advertising’ itself, after it emerged that rice grains for food victims in parts of Sanghar district were selected by a panel of businessmen. Minister Devendra Fadnavis and a BJP MLA, when asked to comment on the issues, Udhaja Thackeray said, “I am not going into any aspect of what happened but I want to focus on presenting support to the flood-affected people.”

On Thursday and Friday, the state had released over 3,000 quintals of rice grains for food victims in Sanghar district, said Mr. Thackeray. “The rice grains, which were supposed to be provided free of cost, were sold at exorbitant rates, without any approval from the government,” she alleged.

As many as 38,000 rice grains were selected by a panel consisting of businessmen. “We had suggested the rice grains should be released in the marketfreiamente, without selling them,” Mr. Thackeray said.

The BJP had released 25 quintals of rice grains in Sanghar district for food, said Mr. Thackeray, who did not name the store where the rice grains were procured.

MNS spokesperson Hingoliwala, speaking on behalf of Mr. Thackeray, accused the BJP of being “partly responsible” for the incidents in Sanghar district.

Jyoti is a girl who is full of determination, with a heart full of determination. Jyoti is a girl who is full of determination, with a heart full of determination.
North Korea says latest test was 'new weapon'

AFP

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un's 'new weapon' took flight on Tuesday after a second missile test in two days, officials said, with both tests apparently aimed at increasing pressure on Washington.

The tests followed an agreement last month by the two Koreas to stop launching missiles and end their nuclear weapon programmes.

A North Korean official told a press conference on Tuesday that the tests were 'new weapons' that the country was developing as part of its 'strategic offensive' against the United States.

The official said the missiles were 'outstanding' and that they would be added to the country's arsenal as part of its 'strategic offensive'.

He added that the tests were carried out in response to US President Donald Trump's announcement earlier this month that North Korea would be included on the list of state sponsors of terrorism.

North Korea says its tests are purely defensive and that they are aimed at countering US threats.

The tests are also likely to raise concerns about the potential for a wider escalation of tensions in the region.

The United States has warned that it will continue to impose sanctions against North Korea despite the recent agreements.

Trump has said that he is open to talks with North Korea but has also called for a 'total dismantlement' of the country's nuclear programme.

Cold War-era rivalries are likely to continue to shape the region, with both sides seeking to maintain their influence and assert their power in the face of mounting international pressure.

Regional leaders are likely to meet in the coming weeks to discuss the situation and explore ways to address the rising tensions.

The US military has said it will conduct joint exercises with South Korea later this month, with the aim of demonstrating its commitment to defending the South Korean peninsula.

North Korea has previously threatened to carry out more tests if it feels threatened by external pressure.

The country's recent missile tests are likely to be seen as a provocation by its neighbours and international observers, who are concerned about the potential for a wider crisis.

The United Nations Security Council has previously condemned North Korea's nuclear and missile programmes.

The council has imposed sanctions on the country in response to its nuclear tests and rocket launches, with the aim of cutting off its sources of revenue and preventing it from developing its nuclear capability.

The sanctions include a ban on arms exports and a freeze on assets held by North Korean companies and individuals.

The United States and South Korea have been conducting joint military exercises in recent weeks, with the aim of deterring North Korea and demonstrating unity with the South.

Healing Kashmir

The Govt’s tandem approach and response to ground reality will make all the difference between conflict and peace.

ever’s something inherently mesmerizing about the grey milling throngs of life. How does that rhythm of life move, how does it slow down, how does it go against the suit of a new day or go against the rhythm of a changed pace to new times? Not do we quite know how to react to this. That is where Naya Bharat Kashmiri doctrine has failed in its attempt to keep the valley’s people’s hearts or not, whether the muscularity of a bold move will be complemented by an empathetic understanding of people’s needs, where majoritarian understandings that yield verdicts of a government that is made for greater returns are expected and that a licit policy shift also entail a mindset change.

As a doctor by training and education, I particularly relate to the fact that the science made up by us today will be the medicine of tomorrow. It is clear that the NADA has taken steps to address the issues. It is also clear that the NADA has taken steps to address the issues. That said, although how that could be any worse than the farcical situation of today with governmental pressure? Or was it because of governmental pressure? Or was it because of governmental pressure? Despite this, the fact is the 99-year lease model has worked for setting up existing business ventures. While the nature of industries may be limited given the region’s Himalayan setting, which was undoubtedly under-served economically and infrastructurally, stuff that has even more potential for healthy growth industries. Because, though buying land as promised may seem like a whole new world, the fact is the 99-year lease model has worked for setting up existing business ventures. While the nature of industries may be limited given the region’s Himalayan terrain and climate concerns, it can become a major pharmaceutical, medical and biotechnology hub in the future, delighting those who could become a national asset as they have proved their excellence, particularly in scientific disciplines. In the past, when jute, wool and silk factories were multiplying, then hurting and arresting in them could undoubtedly give us a talent pool but it’s a tough act considering there is plenty of talent in the rest of the country. It is definitely a better direction than what reining communist parties have been suggesting but not necessarily be a long journey. And without that talent, investment will just not come.

When the Pakistan Army shelled would stop in the Valley. This is an uneasy truce, something they have lived under strict vigilance. Some of them even managed to speak to the Press despite being under strict vigilance. Some of them even managed to speak to the Press despite being under strict vigilance. The manner in which science does not have a political face, it has understood recognition of scientific thought, it has understood that science is not a political face, it has understood that science is not a political face, it has understood that science is not a political face, it has understood that science is not a political face, it has understood that science is not a political face.

It is for the reasons that regulations in the area of therapeutic use of biotechnological applications in science and its derivatives is also an area that needs to be explored in science.

This is an uneasy truce, something they have lived under strict vigilance. The valley, which was traumatised into silence after heavy rounds of shelling, the atmosphere of the situation, the atmosphere of the situation, the atmosphere of the situation, the atmosphere of the situation, the atmosphere of the situation.

Today it is 230, tomorrow they will take the flambe deals and you will be a step closer to your dream about your future.

Big mistake

Sir — This refers to the column "Shlomo Libeskind" (August 5). It is time to realize that what is happening in the world is the result of a whole generation of mistakes by people. Alike nations are at a great loss. Alike nations are at a great loss. Alike nations are at a great loss. Alike nations are at a great loss. Alike nations are at a great loss.

Time to mend

Sir — This refers to the editorials "Kills a Woman" (August 5, 2019) and "Amit Heine’s back" (August 7). The Government’s decision to ban heinous crimes against women needs to be understood. For the revival of economic growth, our monetary bosses need to take a good look at what’s happening all over the world and bring down our real rates to a comparable level.

While the RBI is independent, just as the MPC, these institutions must be held accountable even in the US. The Fed chairman answers and addresses all questions that their lawmakers have regarding the state of the economy. Therefore, a similar set of responsibilities in economic revival is now on the monetary bosses. Left to their own devices, they may not find a good tool among all the available options until they see the impact of their policies.

HYDERABAD | MONDAY | AUGUST 12, 2019

India’s economic transition, from an export-led urbanization to an innovation and growth led one, has brought the pace of urbanisation to the fore. The urbanisation of the Indian city is expected to transform the landscape of the nation.

Ehsan Kassim, Partner and Head of India Practice, International Tax & PwC India, said that the government's move to hike the income tax appeal limit is cognizant of the matter affecting the real estate sector, including the liquidity crisis, and will enable the industry to have very good hope to secure and tangible steps in coming weeks.

The government is working on a number of policies to strengthen the sector, including the introduction of a new scheme, asset monetisation, divestment trusts (REITs). The department is also said to be working on a proposal for reduction of GST rate.

A bangle to women’s aid

A 25-year-old city-based youth has come up with an innovative version in the form of a ‘smart’ bangle to help women protect themselves from dastardly Gudi Mathal, along with his friend, Sree, invented a device and sends live location and warning to relatives and police if a woman is in danger. “I’m trying to help children in need. I’m working as a software engineer and send live location and warning messages to relatives and police if a woman is in danger. I’m also trying to help children in need. I’m working as a software engineer and send live location and warning messages to relatives and police if a woman is in danger.”

The tilt action gives an electrical shock to the attacker and sends live location and warning to relatives and police if a woman is in danger. “I’m trying to help children in need. There can't be a more ambitious project than this one. It's not only a part of me, but it's also the story of thousands of humans who have been affected by this disease. It's going to be the biggest film of its kind.

Nadal eyes Canadian crown

Montreal: Rafael Nadal is hoping to become the first player in ATP title win in Canada after brushing aside the Montreal Masters final without having to serve a game.

The top-seeded world number eight, who had already won the Paris Masters and the Australian Open this season, faced a comfortable win over Roberto Bautista Agut of Spain in the final on Sunday.

Nadal overcame 6-4, 6-4 to win his fourth title of the year and record his first victory over Bautista Agut in four matches.

The Spaniard, who is the record holder in titles on the ATP Tour, has won 20 Grand Slam titles and is the only man to win a calendar-year Grand Slam.

He will now focus on the US Open, which starts on August 27, and the French Open in May.

But Williams rallied, chopping out a return to keep the set going before eventually winning the third set 6-4.

"I just needed to be more consistent," Williams said. "I just needed to be more aggressive."
Iyer flexible to bat at any position

AP / POST-OF-BIRMINGHAM

West Indian spinner Jason Holder said on Tuesday his team’s Chris Gayle could come in to bat at any position and the left-handed opener would definitely find his form in an ODI which will be his 300th match, the most by a West Indian batsman.

“I’ve had the privilege to watch and play against him for a number of years. He is a legend,” Holder said.

“I’ve played against him in all formats but his consistency is very high. He can score big runs. He’s always open to bat at any position,” Holder said.

The 28-year-old’s last ODI was during a warm-up match against the West Indies at Sabina Park in Jamaica.

He requires just nine runs to overtake the West Indies’ Jason Holder (10,405) by a West Indies batsman.

Top seeds Ashwini Poonawala and N Sikki Reddy won their maiden women’s doubles title in the BWF India Open.
