The government on Thursday clarified that detention centres have been in existence for several decades in several states, and that their setting up is in no way related. The Minister for Home Affairs also clarified that the setting up of such centres is in line with various provisions of the law and the Constitution. The government statement lists the features and benefits of such centres that exist in several states and is likely to be implemented in the state.

Visakhapatnam: TDP Visakhapatnam District President D. Maheshwar Reddy, who welcomed the setting up of the centre, in a letter on Thursday, said that the TPD supports and instructed the officials to monitor the functioning of the centre. He also said that the TPD all the police stations would be in control of this effect. The police officials discussed various legal and administrative steps to be taken on the Disha Act. The Chief Minister directed the officials to develop an app called Disha App and apprised the same for the same. He also suggested the official to appoint ancdot of police official to monitor the functioning of the centre. The Chief Minister also directed the officials to complete the process of compiling the TPD and the media is supporting it.

#Jhoot: Rahul on ‘no Modi detention centres’ claim

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, who was in a position on Thursday to draw the attention of the government on the issue of detention centres, is against the TCAH Act. In an “open letter” that addressed Dhankhar as ‘Ex- Chancellor’, two leaders, including the opposition’s leader, accused the RSS of spreading lies on the CAA, and instead, they kept on beating around the bush. No discussion on NRC is a ‘tactical retreat’ in the face of nationwide protests against the Citizenship Amendment Act, said the print media. The Safety Department of Visakhapatnam has organized a road safety awareness campaign in the city. The campaign was aimed at raising awareness among motorists and pedestrians about the importance of road safety.

The Department of Road Safety, Visakhapatnam, worked in conjunction with the Police Department to conduct the campaign. The campaign was launched on Thursday, with the objective of educating the public about the importance of road safety.

The campaign featured a series of road safety messages displayed on electronic billboards and banners along busy roads in the city. The messages highlighted the dangers of reckless driving,酒驾, and other unsafe behaviors on the road.

In addition to the electronic displays, the campaign included a series of roadshows and awareness programs conducted by road safety experts. These programs aimed to educate the public about the consequences of road accidents and the importance of following road safety rules.

The campaign also featured a series of road safety advertisements on radio and television channels, reaching a wide audience. The advertisements emphasized the need for all road users to take responsibility for their safety and that of others on the road.

The Safety Department thanked all stakeholders, including the Police Department, road safety experts, and the public for their support in making the campaign a success. The department urged all road users to continue to remain vigilant and follow road safety rules to ensure a safer road environment for everyone.

The campaign was part of the department's ongoing efforts to promote road safety awareness and reduce the number of road accidents in the city. The department emphasized that road safety is everyone's responsibility and encouraged all road users to play their part in creating a safer road environment.

The Safety Department urged all road users to continue to remain vigilant and follow road safety rules to ensure a safer road environment for everyone.

While no party matched the KCR juggernaut when it came to elections, some speed-breakers on the way spoilt the year for the CM

A shock result in LS elections

The shock result in LS elections was an eye opener for the KCR juggernaut which swept the Telangana elections in October on a storming wave. It was a dream run for KCR before the LS elections which started a series of misadventures for the Telangana chief minister. But KCR did not allow any scraping of the platter when elections were around the corner.

KCR’s campaign in LS elections

KCR’s LS campaign was a result of the Telangana elections. In October 2018, he carried the campaign in all 13 LS seats. His LS campaign was based on a ‘two-pronged’ approach. He played on ‘statehood’ and ‘Telangana’ sentiments.

BIE’s goof-up costs lives

Appellate Court has ordered BIE to produce the results of the 2018 Telangana board examinations after BIE failed to publish the results as scheduled. It is now also responsible for funds of the public. The BIE failed to publish the results of the 2018 Telangana board examinations.

NIA searches Akhil Gogoi's house, seizes documents

The NIA on Thursday searched the residence of Assam & Tripura Congress leader Akhil Gogoi, and seized several documents from the premises.

The anti-terrorism agency conducted a search at Gogoi’s residence in Guwahati in connection with an investigation into his alleged involvement in violence during the anti-CAA protests in Assam in January 2020.

The NIA had earlier filed a charge sheet against Gogoi under the UAPA, alleging that he was an active member of the KMSS and had plotted and instigated violence in the state.

The search was carried out at Gogoi’s residence in the presence of his wife and other relatives. The agency also seized mobile phones, documents, and other electronic devices from the premises.

Gogoi, a prominent activist in Assam, has been a vocal critic of the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and the National Register of Citizens (NRC). He has been arrested and released multiple times in connection with cases related to the CAA protests.

The search was conducted under the supervision of a Special Judge in the case, and the seized documents will be sent for examination.

BJP distances itself from Yuva Morcha leader’s remarks

The BJP has distanced itself from the remarks made by its Yuva Morcha leader, who said earlier that he was the ‘leader of the opposition’.

BJP leader Ravi Shankar Prasad, who had earlier commented on the remarks, said the Yuva Morcha leader was not speaking on behalf of the party and the party has no role in such comments.

The Yuva Morcha leader had earlier said that the party was the ‘leader of the opposition’ and that the BJP was not the leader of the opposition.

The BJP had earlier praised the leader for his comments and had said that the party had no role in such comments.

Army Chief slams those leading violent protests over CAA, draws criticism

Army Chief General Bipin Rawat slammed those leading violent protests over the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA), saying that they were not guided by any political party.

General Rawat said that those who were leading the protests were not guided by any political party and that they were not the leaders of any political party.

He said that the Army was ready to work with any political party or leader to ensure peace and stability in the country.

General Rawat’s comments came in the wake of violent protests over the CAA in different parts of the country.

The Army Chief also praised the police for their efforts to maintain peace and order.

The comments came after a meeting of the Union Home Ministry with representatives of political parties, including the Congress and the Trinamool Congress.

Indians set to cross 100GW mark in renewable energy

India is set to cross the 100GW renewable energy capacity mark in 2022 and could reach 110GW by 2023, according to the 172GW+ ambitious clean energy target for 2022 set the government. The country has a clear strategy to achieve the goal of 450GW renewable energy capacity by 2030. To achieve this, the government has introduced a range of policies and incentives to attract private investment in the sector.

Together with other schemes being implemented by the government, a target has been set for a big boost in 2022 in order to expect RE capacity to grow rapidly. The strategy is focused on focusing on storage, RE and clean energy and technology.

Under the provisions of the Mines and Coal (Mines) Act, the government plans to push for private sector coal mining. This is expected to help the country inducting private sector coal mining in a big way. The move is in line with the govt’s plans to develop a robust coal market and reduce the country’s dependence on imported coal.

The government is also working on enhancing the coal gasification and coal bed methane (CBM) sector. New tax incentives have been announced for companies engaged in CBM extraction, and the government is also planning to establish a CBM corporation.

The govt plans big push to private sector coal mining

The government is supposed to announce the CBM Corporation (CBCM) Social Responsibility (CSR) report on 5th August, which will include a recognition of the company that has made a positive impact on the environment. Under the Companies Act, 2013, certain class of companies are required to spend at least two percent of their profits toward CSR activities. The government has also announced a clarion of a new policy on coal mining to attract private investors.

In accordance with the new policy, companies will be required to meet certain conditions to attract RE capacity in the country for a fixed period of time. The government is also planning to introduce a new policy to attract RE capacity in the country and allow it to operate for a fixed period of time. SOBHITA DHULIPALA: Society often makes a woman feel apologetic post miscarriage

A

Sobhita Dhulipala, who plays a traumatic pregnant woman in the upcoming Netflix anthology film ‘Gandu’, says the film’s treatment of the trauma attached to miscarriage and the way society treats a woman who is apologetic for the incident, is intimate and universal at the same time.

It is a very intimate and a reality for so many people. I know that it is a universal, “Sobhita told IANS.

Sobhita launched in Bollywood with Rajkumar Hirani’s film ‘R oa ra’ 2.6 and in the past, Sobhita says that she has been an amazing experience on Netflix from January 1.

Kashyap, Dibakar Banerjee, Karan Johar, Anurag Kashyap, in the horror film, Anurag’s maternal aunt who is a little boy and his pregnant mother with her existence for the rest of her life. If a woman loses a child — that is a very universal. When a woman loses a child, that is a miscarriage happens — she goes through a trauma.

It is a very intimate and a reality for so many people. It is universal, “Sobhita told IANS.

On top of that, her upbringing and social conditioning makes her think about miscarriage and the rest of her life. If a woman lives to give birth, society looks at her as if she is not woman enough — as if she is not capable of being a woman because she is not capable of giving birth. It is not a reality for one sector of society. It is universal,” Sobhita felt LASS.

The story revolves around the bond between a little boy and his pregnant maternal aunt who is desperately waiting for her child to be born, suffering and suffering a miscarriage in the past.

I have no first-hand experience of parenting, but I have spoken to so many people who have gone through miscarriages, Sobhita and how society makes it worse for them to deal with the trauma. They turn it into a taboo, there is a shame attached to it, but why? Why society shames women instead of making you move,” said Sobhita.

‘Uttara has all elements that attract youth’

Debutant Sriram Nimmala’s film revolves around an employed youth trying to make easy money, and his love interest, while capturing the natural beauty of rural Telangana.

BAAHUBALI PRODUCERS ANNOUNCE THEIR NEXT

The producers, after a long time, have announced their new film — Uma Madeshwara Ugra Roopasya — a Telugu remake of Malayalam film with director Venkatesh Maha.

Jagapathi Babu In Ashok Galna, Sri Ram Aditya film

The make-up artist of Ashok Galna, son of veteran B.J. Galla, who is an actor in Tollywood debut film has roped in Jagapathi Babu in a significant role.

The film directed by Sri Ram Aditya stars Bhishma Agrawal as female lead while Narath, Saiya and Archana Sivadasan will be seen in supporting roles.

The shoot of the movie will begin in July, which will be directed by Sri Ram Aditya and produced by Sri Ram Aditya and Prasad under the banner of Arka Mediap - Arka Mediaworks in collaboration with Mahayana.

RAKUL to foray in web series

Actress Rakul Preet Singh, who is currently busy with Marjaavaan, Milap Zaveri’s web series with digital giant Amazon Prime, if sources are to be believed, the actress is keen on exploring the digital space after she got a couple of interesting offers.

Rakul, who rose to fame with the critically-acclaimed film Prathikaram, the film is the official Telugu remake of Malayalam film released in 2018 which was directed by Srijan Prakash and starring Fahadh Faasil in the titular role. Made on a budget of Rs 18 crore in its theatrical run. The movie went on to attract youth and fan following and with terrific word of mouth.

SARILERU NEEKEVARU coming a day in advance, loss for ALA VAIKUNTHAPURRAMULOO?

The film that was announced to release on April 17, 2020 as a Tollywood remake of Malayalam film that released on January 5, 2017, has been announced to release on January 15, 2020.

With Mahesh Babu’s film set for release on January 2, 2020, and his upcoming film set for release on January 9, 2020, the film industry is eagerly waiting for Sarileru Neekevaru on its release day, will get the news around Telugu. Though some of them might switch to Ala Vaikunthapurramuloo on the next day it still means that Mahesh Babu’s film has a chance to get its full revenge ringing before Bunny’s film.

This has been the question of the crucial reviews that follow the film. But there have been instances where Mahesh’s film has no audience just because of the poor review on the morning shows.

Even in the overseas market the film has not got much traction. So the film is set for release on January 15 in overseas as well.

With Mahesh Babu’s film coming a day in advance, word is out that this will be a huge advantage for the movie.
Ishant Sharma bowled a sharp spell to pull off the all before former skipper Rahul Dravid's popular batting impression at the Hyderabad in the Ranji Trophy Group A match.

After scoring 284 in his first innings, Delhi dismissed visitors for 199 in 39.5 overs with 15 wickets to spare in the second innings. Ishant opened the bowling and as soon as he bowled out the opener in the very first over, Delhi got off to a winning start.

In their second innings, Delhi were 120 for 3 when Ishant bowled out the last wicket for a duck in the 52nd over to clinch the match by an innings and 154 runs. Ishant contributed 5-70 in the first innings and 2-25 in the second innings.

In the Group C match, Mumbai were bowled out for 168 in the first innings and for 229 in the second innings by theconsistent batting performance of the host.
