A mid-summer night’s drama by 2:30 a.m. (Sundial) is being enacted by those who are making hectic efforts to save the country from going under by bringing back some rebel MLAs. The Congress workers held meetings in the State Government on account of the resignation of the MLAs. From New York, Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy held a meeting with the central leadership and头脑 of the Rebel MLAs (YD). In Congress, the meeting was held in the Bengaluru house of Gowda. Such a thing has been done for the first time in the history of India. The situation is mendacious and is being taken as an example of “deliberately playing with the temper of Congress in this way.”

From the Bengaluru house of Gowda, the Chief Minister called and held the meeting with the leaders of Congress and JD(S)A. However, the rebel MLAs are making hectic efforts to save the Government. Kumaraswamy, former Chief Minister of the Congress, was present.

The problem was that the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has been found guilty of inducing the MLAs after the recent by-polls. The BJP has been found guilty of using the same tactics to save the Government. The situation is very serious and is being treated as “an attempt to save the Government.”

Forensic team from Guj probes PICUP Bhawan fire incident

A three-member forensic team of Gujarat Forensics Department on Sunday carried out an ocular survey to assess the damage caused by the fire at PICUP Bhawan in VIP Chowk. The team was led by Fire Services Director Shrikrishna Khamar. The team examined the site and took samples for further analysis.

In her complaint, the victim said that the fire broke out on July 3 evening at the office and that she had alerted the Fire Department and the police. She added that the police were not able to control the fire and that the whole office had been consumed by the flames.

On the other hand, the police said that the fire was caused by a short circuit and that the survey was being carried out by the forensic team for their investigation.

Survey finds six turtle species in Gomti river

A recent survey of turtles in the Gomti river at Lucknow revealed the presence of six turtle species, including the rare Ganges softshell turtle. The survey was conducted by a team of researchers from the Indian Institute of Toxicology Research (IITR) and the Lucknow Development Authority (LDA).

The team found six species of turtles in the Gomti river, including the Ganges softshell turtle (Ganges serrata), the Ganges short-necked turtle (Halys triseriata), the Ganges softshell turtle (Deirochelys reticularia), the Ganges keelback turtle (Trionyx triunguis), the Ganges horseshoe turtle (Astrochelys superba), and the Ganges mud turtle (Kinosternon scorpioides).

The survey was conducted using a combination of visual and acoustic surveys, as well as the use of cameras and drones.

The presence of these species in the Gomti river is significant as it indicates the diversity of the ecosystem and the health of the river. However, the conservation of these species is crucial due to the ongoing threats of pollution and habitat loss.
Lucknow mangoes dominate Delhi fest

“The Mango Festival was aimed at promoting mangoes of Lucknow and the state of Uttar Pradesh. We hope that this would help in increasing the demand for Lucknow mangoes in the national market,” said Mukesh Yadav, chairman of the National Mango Committee.

The festival was inaugurated by the union minister for horticulture, videogram, processed food and beverage industry, Radha Mohan Singh.

Mango enthusiasts and mango manufacturers from 31 states of the country also participated in the event.

Manmohan exhorts Rajasthan legislators

Jaipur: Former prime minister Manmohan Singh on Sunday exhorted Rajasthan legislators to instil confidence among people with their leadership and said they should court leaders to ensure that the politics of fear does not prevail over the politics of hope.

He was speaking at the inauguration of the CMJan Rajyog division of the Rajasthan Assembly members. Singh had been a schoolmate of the CM, Ashok Chautala.

“Today is a great day, a day when the dharma of the 12th Rajya Sabha members has taken over the polity of this country,” Singh said.

He said that the country’s basic problems are poverty and disease which afflicts all forms of life in the world, especially in India.

“The solution of these problems can be found only in education. We need to teach our children about the values that we want to create in this society. The values of truth, honesty, and hard work are the key to our children’s future,” Singh said.

He also exhorted the legislators to work hard and do their share of duty.

Senior leader

Mintu Mallick, a senior leader and a railway employee of the TMC, was arrested on the basis of an opinion given by the high court.

The court ordered the arrest of the safety officer of the TMC, who was allegedly egged on by the senior leader.

Mallick, who was then serving as the head of the TMC, allegedly asked the officer to stop the train from running.

The officer submitted his resignation to the head of the TMC after the incident.

The TMC has alleged that the officer was asked to stop the train because of an opinion given by the TMC to the railway employees.

The officer had been working for the TMC for the last four years.

“We have been working for the TMC for the last four years. We have always supported the TMC and its leaders,” the officer said.

He alleged that the TMC had repeatedly asked him to stop the train from running.

Nirmala Sitharaman’s announcement that the government is on the threshold of a major economic reform package. The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) is one of the most significant steps in this direction. The NEPA proposes to make the process of environmental decision-making transparent and participatory. It is a strong foundation for India’s commitment to sustainable development and climate change mitigation. The NEPA also recognizes the importance of involving stakeholders in the decision-making process. The NEPA is a significant step forward in aligning India’s national policies with global environmental standards.

There are many other important announcements made for the rural areas and small towns. However, the focus on poverty alleviation and social security is noteworthy. The government has also addressed the need for increasing the agricultural productivity and addressing the issues of food security. The focus on the rural areas and small towns is a welcome move, as these regions are often left behind in terms of development and infrastructure.

In summary, the Union Budget 2019-20 is a significant step towards achieving the goal of a $5 trillion economy by 2025.
