STAFF REPORTER NAIKAP

The National Mineral Development Corporation (BHEL) Limited at a notice to the company has invoked its termination clause against the BHEL in a reference in the MDMC's case, nullifying its previous order.

The MDMC, in its order, had given a go-ahead to the BHEL to proceed with its project by exploiting new opportunities in the market.

The termination clause invoked by the MDMC states that the company is in default of its obligations under the contract, and hence, the MDMC has invoked the termination clause.

The MDMC is also accusing the BHEL of not fulfilling its obligations under the contract, and hence, invoking the termination clause.

The MDMC has also accused the BHEL of not paying the agreed price for the material handling system package, and hence, invoking the termination clause.

The MDMC has also accused the BHEL of not providing the required documents and information, and hence, invoking the termination clause.

India will not succumb to the climate change

India is a large country with a diverse climate, but it is not immune to the effects of climate change. The country is already experiencing the impacts of climate change, such as increased temperatures, more frequent and intense heat waves, and increased rainfall events. These impacts are likely to become more severe in the future as the country’s population grows and its economy develops.

In a move to ensure last mile delivery, Delhi govt launches “Naagin” app

The Delhi government has launched a new app called “Naagin” to ensure that food vendors are compliant with safety and standards regulations. The app, which is available for downloading on Android and iOS devices, uses GPS technology to track the location of food vendors and ensure that they are following food safety guidelines.

The app also allows the government to monitor the quality of food being sold and ensure that it is safe for consumption. The government has also launched a website where people can report any violations of food safety regulations.

The launch of the app is part of the government’s efforts to improve public health and safety by ensuring that food vendors are following safety and standards regulations. The government has also launched a new campaign to educate people about the importance of food safety and standards.

The new app is a valuable tool for the government in its efforts to improve public health and safety. It will allow the government to quickly identify and respond to any violations of food safety regulations, and it will help to ensure that food vendors are following safety and standards guidelines.

Trump has reportedly told his "furious at what he sees as "unacceptable" tariffs on steel and aluminum. The US president fired off several tweets on Thursday, including one that threatened to "break up" the deal if "the Europeans and Chinese do not make commitments to substantially and meaningfully increase their purchases of US products."
A newspaper went out of a couple of weeks when the drenched Rajiv Gandhi virus struck. The first, the 30-day suspension imposed on the North Eastern States by the Central Government. The second, the 30-day appointment of the Prime Minister. These two events were both announced on the same day, the 29th of May. The first was a clear attempt to quell the rising tide of insurgency in the North Eastern States. The second was a desperate attempt to defuse the growing crisis in the country. Both were met with widespread condemnation and criticism. The first because it was seen as a violation of the basic principles of democracy and human rights. The second because it was seen as a thinly veiled attempt to suppress any criticism of the government.

A new Game of Thrones

While respecting trade with important countries such as China and India, the US must tread cautiously and decide after weighing all its options.

Organisations must ensure friendlier workplaces with supportive policies, curb cultural and social biases to increase output and improve performances by skilled women.

The missing link to nutritional safety

While the percentage of stunted children has seen marked improvements in recent times, progress has been rather slow. States must follow MORTH's guidelines approach to tackle the problem of child malnutrition.

HITTING THE WRONG NOTE

There's a dismal history of public policy in India when it comes to provocating art. Until 2017, the controversial 1966 music order was torn up 14 days in advance for London’s annual Proms. "predominantly female or MOCs performing in a recorded backing track" were targeted, and an "all-black, bloke-dominated audience" was to be disproportionately affected by authorities. Govt sets up working group to revise series of WPI

The Government Thursday announced the setting up of a 13-member working group for the review of the current series of Wholesale Price Index.

The revision of this series would help in better inflation forecasting and control of price rise.

The group will consist of economists from leading national and international agencies.

The working group will meet after the 3rd quarter of this calendar year.

The Government is also mulling to set up a 13-member working group to examine the series of Index of Industrial Production (IIP) and medium-term strategy of the Industrial Tide.

The working group will have the powers to look into additional issues related to the series of IIP and the Industrial Tide.

The group will meet after the 2nd quarter of the next year.

Men in Blue put up 762 on Kohli's 72 & Dhoni's 56*

Kuldeep, Chahal will be destructive for India

India to face Pakistan on September 28

Kuldeep Yadav and Yuzvendra Chahal should be destructive towards the business end of the tournament. They have taken 10 wickets so far and both are still short of their peak. India have a good combination in this pair. They will be looking to further tighten the screws against Afghanistan, who are yet to win a game in the tournament. Kuldeep's form was a big plus for India and he will be looking to continue that momentum. Chahal is a great talent and he has the ability to change the course of the match at any given stage. He has taken 4 wickets in the tournament so far and will look to get more.

Kohli and Dhoni have been the two big stars for India. Kohli has scored 200 runs in 5 innings and has been in top form. Dhoni has scored 60 runs in 4 innings and has been steady as well. The opening pair has been steady and has put up a good show so far. India will be looking to continue that momentum against Afghanistan.

Afghanistan are in a must-win situation and will be looking to put up a good show. They have scored 110 runs in 20 overs against South Africa and will be looking to put up more runs against India. They have a good unit and will be looking to put up a good show against India.

India will be looking to continue their good form against Afghanistan and will be looking to put up a good show. Kohli and Dhoni will be looking to continue their good form and will be looking to put up a good show. India will be looking to continue their good form and will be looking to put up a good show.
Kiwi do not panic in a hurry

The one thing New Zealand have not done during their run to the World Cup semi-finals so far is panic and panic is, for a long time, something that has not been in their nature. They have been playing a match of cricket that has defied expectations and now they have five games of cricket left, with one washout, at the SCG, 2019/20 World Cup semi-final, that will change that.

They have been playing a match of cricket that has defied expectations and now they have five games of cricket left, with one washout, at the SCG, 2019/20 World Cup semi-final, that will change that.

The nature of their big win against Afghanistan against Pakistan and the nature of the wicket, the match was won on one day cricket where 50 players had put it all right there, and made for an exciting day.

It brings the innings into perspective. One of the best over the province into it, as it turns out, and makes for an exciting day.

He's been the number one wicket-taker in the tournament. He's been bowling extremely well, and he's bowling consistently well, and it shows that the team is getting a lot of value out of his bowling.

But it doesn't feel like it, really. They have a two- footer and a feint, and things like this happen. You just have to work through the whole thing, and trust in the bowlers, to get through the whole thing.

The team have a lot of doing, but I think we have a lot of options. We have a lot of confidence, but we also have a lot of pressure. We have to be on our toes, because they can come at us at any time. We have to be prepared to go out there and take the game to them, but also be prepared for them to come at us.

We have a lot of options, and we have to make sure we pick the right ones. We have to make sure we pick the right wicket, and the right bowler, to make sure we get through the game. We have to be on our toes, and we have to be ready to go out there and take the game to them. We have a lot of options, and we have to make sure we pick the right ones.
