Opp flies into EVM rage

As tampering charges zoom, demand for VVPAT checks peaks

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Two days before the counting of votes for the Lok Sabha polls, the Opposition revived the charges of EVM tampering and moved the Election Commission (EC) to press for their demand for tallying VVPATs with the electronic voting machine figures. They also said the counting be first concluded in the centres where doubts have emerged. The EC has rejected the charges.

Leaders of as many as 22 Opposition parties, including those from Congress, TMC, SP, BSP, TDP, RJD and Left, met the EC and demanded verification of VVPAT slips of randomly-selected polling stations before the counting of the votes polled in the just-concluded Lok Sabha elections. They also demanded that if any discrepancy is found during VVPAT verification, 100 per cent counting of the paper slips of VVPATs of all polling stations of that particular Assembly segment should be done and compared with the electronic voting machine (EVM) results.

"We told the EC that the VVPAT machines should be counted first and if there is any discrepancy, then all of them in that segment should be counted. During elections, there were many EVMs which malfunctioned and in many cases, when votes for one political party were cast, it showed votes for some other party, specially the BJP. These things we have told the EC. We, in the last three-four years have been complaining about the EVMs in Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha and even in States," Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad said after meeting EC officials.

Azad's party colleague Abhishek Singhvi said despite requests to the EC since months, the poll body has now said it will meet on Wednesday to discuss the issue.

"Even if the EC disagrees with us, then they should consider that 75 per cent of the electorate represented by these 22 parties is before you how does it matter if they change the rules? It will be only a change in guideline or procedure. It is a no-brainer. The EC has not decided for six weeks and now they are saying they will decide tomorrow," Singhvi said.

Pranab: Onus on EC to put speculation to rest

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Former President Pranab Mukherjee on Tuesday expressed concern over the alleged tampering of voters' verdict saying the onus of ensuring institutional integrity lies with the Election Commission, which should put all speculation to rest. He also said there can be no room for speculation that challenges the very basis of Indian democracy.

"I am concerned at reports of alleged tampering of voters' verdict. The safety and security of EVMs which are in the custody of the Commission," Pranab said in a statement posted on his Twitter handle.

"People's mandate is sacrosanct and has to be above any iota of reasonable doubt. The onus of ensuring institutional integrity in this case lies with the Election Commission of India. They must do so and put all speculation to rest," he said.

Pranab said as a firm believer in the country's institutions, it is his considered opinion that it is the "workmen" who decide how the institutional "tools" perform.

Protests broke out in some parts of Uttar Pradesh on Tuesday after videos of alleged movement and tampering of EVMs went viral on social media, a charge dismissed by the EC as "frivolous" and "unfounded".

The former President on Monday had lauded the role of the poll panel saying the 2019 Lok Sabha polls were conducted "perfectly".

Speaking at a book launch event, Pranab said that right from first Election Commissioner Sukumar Sen to the present election commissioners, the institution is working very well.

Earlier in the day, several videos of alleged movement of EVMs from one unauthorised storage house to another went viral on social media. Videos showed some EVMs were reportedly stored at shops, others were seen stacked in the boot of private vehicles.

Terming it as frivolous and unfounded, the EC rejected allegations of discrepancies in the handling of EVMs and VVPAT (Voter Verified Paper Trail Machines) in some districts of Uttar Pradesh and maintained that all machines are safe and secure.

"After the close of polls, all polled EVMs and VVPATs are brought under security cover to the designated strongrooms, which is sealed with double locks, in the presence of the candidates and in the presence of Observers of the EC. The entire process of storage and sealing of the strongroom is covered under videography. Continuous CCTV coverage is done till completion of counting. Each strongroom is guarded with round-the-clock security by Central Armed Police Forces (CAPF). Further, the candidates or their designated agents remain present at the strongroom for 24x7 vigil at all times," the EC said in a statement.

"On the counting day, the strongrooms are opened in the presence of the candidates/agents and Observer under videography.

Arunachal MLA, his son dead in NSCN ambush

9 others killed as terrorists attack convoy

AGENCIES ■ ITANAGAR

Suspected NSCN terrorists on Tuesday gunned down sitting MLA and NPP Assembly poll candidate Tirong Aboh and ten others, including his son and security personnel, in Tirap district of Arunachal Pradesh, a top police officer said. Aboh (41), who represented the Khonsa West constituency, was seeking a re-election from the seat.

Initial reports suggested that seven people were killed in the attack, but Director General of Police SBK Singh put the death toll at 11 later in the day. Aboh was on his way to his constituency from Assam, along with family members, three police personnel and a poll agent, when the suspected NSCN rebels opened fire at their vehicles near 12 Mile area in the district at around 11.30 am, Singh told PTI.

One security officer, who sustained injuries in the incident, has been admitted to hospital in Dibrugarh, Assam, the DGP said, adding that the MLA and ten others were killed on the spot. Expressing his shock over the incident, Chief Minister Pema Khandu said the perpetrators will be hunted down.

"Action will be initiated to hunt down the perpetrators. My heartfelt condolences. May the departed souls rest in peace," he said.

Condemning the attack, NPP president and Meghalaya Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma sought the intervention of the Prime Minister's Office and Union Home Minister Rajnath Singh.

"The NPP is extremely shocked and saddened by the news of the death of its MLA Shri Tirong Aboh (Arunachal Pradesh) and his family. We condemn the brutal attack and urge @rajnathsingh and @PMOIndia to take action against those responsible for such attack," Sangma tweeted.

Meanwhile, the Arunachal Pradesh Congress Committee blamed the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party for the "prevailing lawlessness and chaos" in the State. "If elected representatives of the state are not safe under the present dispensations at the Centre and the state, how can common people feel secure," the party said in a statement.

Demanding a high-level judicial inquiry into the incident, it also said, "Chief Minister Pema Khandu and his BJP Government are solely responsible for lawlessness and all chaos in the State."

Aboh was elected from the Khonsa West seat in 2014 on a Peoples' Party of Arunachal (PPA) ticket.

Assembly polls were held concurrently with Lok Sabha elections in Arunachal Pradesh.

CO sacked, IAF officers face jail for copter crash

Role of ATC at Srinagar base also under lens

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Senior officers of IAF may face action for the helicopter crash near Srinagar on February 27 after it was shot by own ground air defence leading to the death of six IAF personnel on board and a civilian on ground. A Court of Inquiry is on to fix responsibility for deaths caused by friendly fire and the Commanding Officer of the Srinagar airbase has been sacked.

Though the IAF on Tuesday refrained from giving details of the incident or the findings of the probe, sources said the air defence fired an Israeli-made SPYDER surface-to-air missile on February 27 from the Srinagar airbase after it mistook the MI-17 helicopter to be hostile. If found guilty, the officers may be booked for culpable homicide not amounting to murder under the IAF Act 1950 and be jailed.

This lapse could have taken place as the entire IAF was alert that day as in the morning an aerial battle had taken place in Rajouri sector when the Pakistani jets had tried to target Indian military installations in retaliation to IAF air strikes in Balakot day earlier.

Sources said the entire shoot-down sequence from the moment the missile was launched to the moment of impact lasted approximately 12 seconds. The Mi-17 helicopter had no means of knowing it was under attack.

While the air battle was on, air defence was in full state of alert with surface-to-air missile units ready to engage any intruding Pakistani aircraft.

It was at this time that air defence radars at Srinagar airport picked up a low-flying aircraft on their screens. The senior officer manning the post of Terminal Weapons Director (TWD) at the time was likely the Chief Operations Officer of the airbase.

This officer may have given the final order to fire after the helicopter, designated a slow flying target, could not be identified through a critical system called the Identification, Friend or Foe (IFF) transponder, sources said.

IFF systems onboard an aircraft listen for an "interrogation signal" from the ground and then respond with a unique signal which identifies it as a "friendly". The system is specifically designed to ensure that friendly-fire incidents are avoided during the heat of battle. It is unclear if the IAF helicopter's IFF was functioning at the time.

There was a likelihood of not adhering to a series of additional steps which have to be followed in the moments prior to the launch of the SPYDER surface-to-air missile. The role of the IAF's Air Traffic Control (ATC) at Srinagar airbase is being looked into.

It is unclear whether the Terminal Weapons Director enquired and was told by the ATC that no friendly aircraft were flying in the area.

Yellow Line's Metro blues

Thousands stranded between Qutub Minar and Sultanpur metro section for 4 hours; chaos spills on to Delhi-Gurgaon road

GAYATHRI MANI ■ NEW DELHI

A 4-hour long technical snag in Delhi Metro's Yellow Line between Qutub Minar and Sultanpur section left thousands of commuters trapped in train coaches or stranded on the Delhi-Gurgaon road on Tuesday. As harrowed Metro passengers swarmed to the road for an alternative mode of transport, it had a spiral effect, ensuing in traffic snarls on the Delhi-Gurgaon road.

"The passengers from two trains, one in the section between Qutub Minar and Chhattarpur and the other in the section between Chhattarpur and Sultanpur (at Chhattarpur and Sultanpur), had to be deboarded," said DMRC in its report.

About 5,000 Metro passengers were evacuated to the nearest station through the train tracks, said a DMRC official.

To evacuate stranded commuters, DMRC frequented train services between Samaypur Badli and Qutub Minar at every 3 minutes, and between Sultanpur and HUDA City Centre at every 8 minutes. DMRC also deployed 29 feeder buses to cover the missing Metro link between Qutub Minar and Sultanpur via Chhattarpur till the Metro train services were restored, said DMRC sources.

Soon after they were evacuated, harrowed Metro passengers took to Twitter to vent out their ire at Delhi Metro.

"We were locked in a metro coach with no AC... We were evacuated after 30 minutes," tweeted Ish Chandra, and shared a picture of commuters walking on tracks towards another Metro station.

Questioning delay in repair and evacuation, Delhi Transport Minister Kailash Gahlot shot a show-cause notice to DMRC. He also asked why DMRC didn't immediately inform the transport department and passengers about the technical glitches.

Responding to the Minister, a DMRC official said,

"Two maintenance teams of DMRC technicians consisting of 16 officials were rushed to rectify the problem."

The 48.8 km-long Yellow Line has 37 stations and has an average daily ridership of about seven to eight lakh.

MCD to hold board meeting by first week of June

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Mayor Sunil Uniyal 'Gama' stated that the Municipal Corporation of Dehradun (MCD) is likely to hold second board meeting by the first week of June.

After a gap of nearly three months, the second board meeting will be organised to expedite pending works and pass proposals.

It is pertinent to mention that the first meeting of the present board was held on February 28 in which nearly 87 proposals were passed.

However, the work on majority of proposals did not start because of the model code of conduct which came in force by March 10.

Nearly for three months the tenders process and appointments in MCD along with various other works regarding street lights and releasing councillors fund were stuck due to the model code of conduct.

These works are likely to start after the board meeting. Addressing the media on Tuesday 'Gama' said, "As the Model Code of Conduct was active for nearly three months we were unable to do anything in particular.

There are some schemes which were put on hold like appointments of new staff in the MCD and many others which restricted us to do something new.

As the Model Code of Conduct will finally be over by May 23 we will look forward to enforcing the work of MCD."

Adding more in this he said, "The plan for the second board meeting is under process and we are working on it.

It is likely that it will be held in the first week of June. We look forward to implementing all the proposals we have passed in the first board meeting."

BJP will win again, says 'Gama'

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Dehradun Mayor Sunil Uniyal 'Gama' stated that as per the exit polls Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is set to achieve a victory in the Lok Sabha elections again. He said, "I want to congratulate all as the exit polls show that BJP will come in power and Narendra Modi will be the PM again."

MCD deploys two more Jatayu machines in City

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

In order to improve sanitation level in the city especially in the busy areas, Municipal Corporation of Dehradun (MCD) started operating two more Jatayu machines from Tuesday.

MCD already has one such suction machines working since the last week of January this year and two more started working from Tuesday.

Municipal commissioner Vinay Shankar Pandey said, "We have started operating two more machines in the city. The main aim is to keep the busy roads of the city clean.

We already bought one machine after a successful trial which showed us results and then we bought two more machines. The two machines, however, were unable to work for a long time due to pending clearance from the transport department which is finally done now. One of these machines is assigned to Rajpur Road, Clock Tower and one is on our premises which is being operated in response to complaints."

Guv's Golf Cup to be held from May 24

PNS ■ NAINITAL

The Governor's Cup Golf tournament will be held in Nainital from May 24 to 26. The governor Baby Rani Maurya addressed the media regarding this on Tuesday. Speaking at the curtain raiser ceremony on Tuesday at Raj Bhawan Golf Course in Nainital, Maurya said that the 17th Governor's Cup Golf tournament will be held here from May 24. A total of 117 golfers have been registered for this tournament.

She said that golf was generally considered a sport of the elite class and wealthy people but golf competitions of Raj Bhawan have connected the common people and school students with it. Local youths working as caddie are also being promoted and caddie tournament is also being held. She said that gold tournament is also boosting tourism in Uttarakhand, especially in Nainital. Cultural programmes consisting of Harul, Chhapeli and Chholiya folk dances will also be held on Saturday at Raj Bhawan.

Inter school golf Competition was organized in April here. The winners of this competition will also be awarded on May 26. The governor's secretary Ramesh Kumar Sudhanshu was also present on the occasion.

Activist advocates decentralisation of power

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Taking cognisance of a petition filed by social activist Subhash Sharma, the Uttarakhand High Court has asked ministries concerned and state government departments to respond within three weeks.

Addressing the media here on Tuesday, Sharma said that the purpose of bringing 73rd and 74th amendments was to bring a change in the structure of governance by decentralising power and control from the state government to the elected local bodies.

However, the state government opted to apply the literal interpretation of the amendment to its own benefit. He said, "I have nothing against the government departments or officials or any political party.

My fight is with the way they handle their power which is supposed to be used for the good of the people.

These departments are becoming money making machinery for the political parties. We the common people of the state are paying for the funds of these political parties.

I also want to make it clear that I do not hold any grudge against any officials or the government because some of my personal work was stuck. My petition is for the welfare of the people and if necessary I will take this to the Supreme Court."

Focusing on the need for decentralising power he said, "The departments like MDDA have been taking money from the people for every small and big construction which was supposed to be the municipal corporation or Gram Panchayat's duty. These bodies elected by us are now only confined to taking care of the cleanliness of the city or to collect house tax." Talking about the welfare of the people he said, "I agree that the people we elect in Municipal Corporation or Gram Panchayat are not above corruption but they are still answerable to the public.

On the other hand, bodies like the MDDA do little for public welfare."

Police take preventive measures on accidents

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

To prevent increasing number of road accidents district police has identified certain places where extra patrolling has been directed. In addition to this, district traffic department has installed boards warning against speeding. Dehradun Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP) Nivedita Kukreti said, "We have identified certain places on which there are reports of high number of accidents. One of those places is Nehru Colony, about which we have spoken to the Project Director of National Highway.

We informed them about the road conditions there, road there on the shoulder side is narrow, because of which vehicles lose control at that point. They are doing coal tar topping in the area which will hopefully bring some improvement." She further added, "Other than this, an interceptor vehicle has been stationed in Patelnagar area due to increasing number of road accidents.

The Interceptor will be patrolling the area in the evening." Superintendent of Police (traffic) Prakash Chandra Arya said, "We have installed boards warning against speeding and overtaking near Kuanwala and Balliwala flyover respectively. Road accidents are increasing in Kuanwala, it is a bottleneck area too. At the flyover, even now public doesn't seem to decrease their speed. This is basically to make people aware about maintaining their speed at these places."

CM, his friend bought land near Suryadhar proj: Cong

Deputy LoP, Karan Mahra alleges that 16 Bigha of land was purchased before announcing the project

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

In a development which could provide ammunition to the baiters of Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat, both within his party and outside it, the deputy leader of Congress legislature party and Ranikhet MLA, Karan Mahra has alleged that the CM and his close friend Sanjay Gupta first purchased 16 Bighas of rural land in Dehradun and later announced Suryadhar lake project in its vicinity. He claimed that the said land was purchased in many phases from the year 2012 to 2017 before the CM laid foundation stone of the project on December 25, 2017.

Addressing the media persons at Rajiv Bhawan on Tuesday, the Congress leader also showed the documents related to the purchase of the land. He said that after an audio of Sanjay Gupta went viral, the CM had claimed that he had no partnership with Gupta but these documents and photographs clearly show that Gupta was regularly in touch with CM and was with him on the date of inauguration of project. "The last registry of the lands purchased was done on July 31, 2017 while the project was inaugurated on December 25, 2017. The cost of Suryadhar project is Rs 70 Crore. The whole episode shows that the government money was misused and puts up a big question mark over zero tolerance policy on corruption," he said. Mahra also said that the CM has no moral authority to continue in the office and claimed that he has more proofs of corruption which he would produce later. He demanded that an inquiry headed by a sitting judge of High Court (HC) should be ordered in the case.

The Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) President, Pritam Singh who was also present on the occasion said that the much hyped 'Zero Tolerance on Corruption' of Trivendra Singh Rawat government is visible nowhere. "The government first said that a CBI inquiry would be ordered on NH-74 scam but later it backtracked. It was claimed that Lokayukt would be brought within 100 days but even after more than two years nothing is done on this," he said.

Kedarnath MLA, Manoj Rawat and Congress leaders were present on the occasion.

Congress concocting stories ahead of electoral defeat: BJP

I & CM WILL RESIGN IF CONGRESS PROVES ALLEGATIONS, SAYS CHAUHAN

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Accusing the Congress of desperation in view of impending defeat in the parliamentary elections, the Bharatiya Janata Party spokesman and MLA Munna Singh Chauhan said that if even an iota of corruption is found in the Suryadhar project as alleged by the Congress, he and the chief minister would resign from their posts.

Addressing the media Chauhan said, "It is disappointing to see how the Congress is stooping to concocted stories to attack the character of the chief minister Trivendra Singh Rawat and his family. In the Suryadhar project, neither the CM nor any of his family member has bought an inch of land. On the day of the foundation laying for the project, the CM, while addressing the public had exhorted the locals to desist from selling their land and start their own enterprises on their land instead," he said, while playing the brief video clip of the CM's speech for the media.

He went on to state that the detailed project report for Suryadhar project set the cost of the project at about Rs 48 crore during the term of the Congress state government. This was cancelled in 2018 and the revised project cost was brought down to about Rs 30 crore. He said, "Not only was the cost brought down by about Rs 18 crore but the height of the dam was raised by two metres. The Congress should answer where this Rs 18 crore was to be siphoned off. As far as the land purchased by the CM's family member is concerned, it is located in Chamasari, about 30 kilometres from the project site. One can only pity the Congress leaders for making such foolish statements. Do they mean to say the CM fixes the circle rates of land? It should be understood clearly that what one private individual says has nothing to do with the chief minister's functioning. If the Congress is able to prove its allegations, I and the CM will resign. I am throwing this challenge because I am confident that zero tolerance for corruption has been effectively enforced by the CM. Further, the CM had provided information about all of his and his wife's assets including the said land in his nomination filed during the Assembly elections. It is on record. The Congress should apologise to the public for making such baseless and concocted allegations," he stressed.

PNS ■ HARIDWAR

Thousands of ascetics from the three Bairagi Akhadas have refused to camp at the proposed site across the Ganga river during the 2021 Kumbh Mela in Haridwar. This decision was unanimously reached at in a meeting held at Siddhbal Hanuman temple in Bairagi camp. In the meeting president of Shripanch Nirmohi Ani Akhada, Srimahant Rajendradas said that Bairagis and Khalsas will not go beyond the Ganga river.

The president of Akhada further added that those people who had reserved Mela land for Bairagi Akhadas in the Bairagi camp area, must remove the illegal encroachments from the land. The ascetics have demanded from the chief minister of the state and the district administration that since the ascetics of the Akhada are in meditation and practicing austerities most part of the day, they would not camp in the area beyond the Ganga. The former spokesperson of Akhil Bharatiya Akhada Parishad, Baba Hathyogi said, "The administration must immediately remove the illegal encroachments done on the land and property of Bairagi Akhada." He further added that the Kumbh Mela was a unique representation of the Sanatan Parampara. With very less time left for the Kumbh Mela to begin, the construction of permanent infrastructural works must be started by the district administration, he added.

Srimahant Vishnu Das said that all the three Bairagi Nirvani Akhadas had their own place in the Kumbh Mela. The government must allot appropriate land to the Bairagi ascetics so that no problem is faced by any ascetic in the 2021 Kumbh Mela.

The national secretary of Nirmohi Ani Akhada, Mahant Ram Sharan Das said, "We are known across the world for practicing severe austerities so the district administration and state government must look into our interest and importance and launch anti encroachment drive in Bairagi camp area."

Activists to take pledge for clean Ganga today

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Remembering the fast unto death undertaken by Gyan Swaroop Sanand (GD Agrawal) demanding a law to protect the Ganga and other rivers, the 'Waterman of India', Rajendra Singh and a number of activists will take a pledge at Devprayag to work for making the Ganga's flow unbridled and keeping its waters clean on Wednesday.

Arriving in Dehradun on Tuesday, Singh said, "It is nearly a year since GD Agrawal started his fast unto death which ultimately resulted in his death on the 111th day. I along with a number of people who are actively involved in working for the Ganga will take a pledge at Devprayag to make the government understand that ab ki baar Ganga ki aviral dhaar, koi bhi ho sarkar (uninterrupted flow of Ganga, whichever the government). We will be generating awareness and mobilising the local communities in this initiative. After taking the pledge in Devprayag, we will go to Mana beyond Badrinath."

Regarding the condition of the Rispana river in Dehradun, he said that the condition of this river was now worse than before. Referring to the initiative undertaken by chief minister Trivendra Singh Rawat for rejuvenation of this river, he said that apparently the tree plantation done was more of a show. Encroachment, pollution and over-extraction are the major threats to any river and these need to be addressed effectively to revive and protect a river, he stressed.

SSP to write letters regarding street lighting

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

Lack of proper street lighting in Dehradun is becoming a problem for the District police in conducting investigations and proper patrolling. In the recent Samarjahan murder case, the area where the deceased was shot in the dark had no light because of which the eye witnesses were not able to correctly identify even the colour of the car that was used by the shooters.

Though, police cracked the case and arrested the culprits, the investigation would have been completed sooner had the street lights been installed properly. Similarly, in the recent case of a jeweller who was shot and looted at night in Rishikesh, police are facing difficulties in the probe as the scene of crime lacks street lights.

Taking cognisance of this issue, Dehradun Senior Superintendent of Police is going to write letters to the departments concerned.

SSP Nivedita Kukreti said, "We are identifying such stretches of roads and will then send letters to the departments concerned"

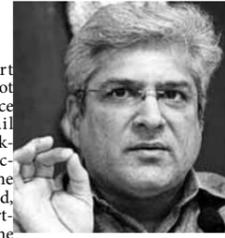

SSP Nivedita Kukreti said, "We are identifying such stretches of roads and will then send letters to the departments concerned. We sent a letter on the same issue earlier in 2017 too but the immediate result was not as fruitful."

According to police sources, while patrolling in the night they have found areas where even the street lights that are installed are not working properly.

The entire GMS Road, areas of Clement Town and Old Mussoorie Road are some places that lack proper street lights. This makes it difficult for the police to get a clear picture even through CCTV in case of crimes on the road during the night. Lack of inter-departmental coordination is stated to be one of the reasons for this issue.

Details on Metro glitches sought

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The Delhi Transport Minister Kailash Gahlot on Wednesday issued a notice to Delhi Metro Rail Corporation (DMRC) for taking such a long time in evacuating the passenger from the stalled trains. He also claimed, DMRC informed the department and Minister about the incident after the transport office got in touch with DMRC. The Minister also sought details of all incidents of breakdown in services of the Delhi Metro since 2011, with reasons for such disruptions, from the Delhi Metro Rail Corporation's (DMRC) managing director.

"On being contacted by my office, the DMRC sent the incident report. As per this report, the trains got stuck at 9.27 am due to an overhead electric cable fault and the evacuation started at 9.45 am. Evacuation of train no 6709 was completed by 11.10 am, while the evacuation of another train no 6732 was completed at 11.21 am. Would it mean that, while in one case, the evacuation was done in 1 hour and 25 minutes and in the other, it took 1.42 hours. The time, taken to evacuate the passengers from the train appears to be very high," said Gahlot in the statement issued to the DMRC.

A technical glitch hit the services on the Yellow Line for nearly four hours, leaving thousands of passengers stranded on the road, trapped in coaches and traffic snarls from South Delhi to Gurugram.

The Minister also issued directions, saying that the "DMRC must inform the commuters about such incidents immediately through its Twitter handle so that the commuters do not panic and (they) are kept informed."

Gahlot further asked the DMRC's managing director that responsibility needs to be fixed for the breakdown of services on the Yellow Line. Delhi

Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal earlier directed Gahlot to seek a detailed report and direct the Delhi Metro to fix responsibility for the disruption.

"The Transport Commission had to get in touch with the managing director for details of the break down. Such incidents must be reported to them immediately," said Gahlot in the statement.

However, the DMRC said, "Due to tripping of power supply, two trains which were in this section (Train-1 between Qutab Minar & Chattarpur and, Train-2 between Chattarpur & Sultanpur) went immobile and it was decided to deboard the passengers and take them smoothly towards the nearest Metro station. Special assistance was provided to 11 commuters (differently abled/not feeling well)."

DMRC official further said that the passengers (more than 4,000) stuck inside the train were safely taken from Train-1 were safely taken from the trains.

"It is noteworthy to mention that the deboarding process takes time as it requires use of emergency gate and also to ensure that no passenger's safety is at risk which includ-

EVMs are absolutely foolproof: Delhi CEO

NEW DELHI: Amid a slew of allegations by the Opposition about the reliability of EVMs, Delhi's Chief Electoral Officer Ranbir Singh said that the machines are "absolutely foolproof" and fulfil all "transparency and administrative protocols".

Singh said the EVM is "robust by design" and there is no way the machine can be tampered with, manipulated or hacked into because it does not have connectivity with the outside world.

"It does not have internet, wi-fi or bluetooth connectivity. This means you cannot access the mind of the machine. It has a one-time programmable chip," Singh told PTI.

The Aam Aadmi Party Monday asked the Election Commission to provide additional security at a counting centre in South Delhi, alleging that political opponents plan to tamper with EVMs ahead of the announcement of poll results on May 23.

The letter by AAP's South Delhi candidate and spokesperson Raghav Chadha said that "he has strong reasons to believe that the political adversaries will attempt to open the strong rooms and tamper with the machines as a handful of such incidents have been seen in the past".

Sidhu-Capt Amarinder spat reaches party high command

MONIKA MALIK ■ CHANDIGARH

Facing bouncers from team Congress in Punjab for his "rebellious" attitude, the cricketer-turned-politician Navjot Singh Sidhu on Tuesday virtually hurled the ball in the pavilion of the party's top leadership by seeking an audience with his "captain" Rahul Gandhi.

Even as the party high command has not yet sought a report from the state unit over the ongoing war of words between the Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh and his Cabinet colleague Sidhu, the former cricketer has decided to reach out to the leadership on his own and is scheduled to meet Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday night at his residence in the national capital.

It has been learnt that Sidhu has been seeking Rahul Gandhi's appointment from the past two days, and it was only in the evening that the meeting was fixed for Tuesday night. Amidst growing chorus of initiating a strong action against Sidhu by his own party colleagues and senior party leaders, the Congress' state leadership has, however, decided to wait till May 23 — the day results of recently-held Lok Sabha elections will be declared.

At the same time, the opposition parties in the state, including Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), Punjab Ekta Party (PEP), and Lok Insaaf Party (LIP), have come out in Sidhu's support and backing his claims of a "friendly match".

Notably, Sidhu, while addressing an election rally in Bathinda on May 17, talked about a "friendly match" without naming anyone, while asking the electorate to "punish" the "players" who have 75:25 share.

It is believed that Sidhu, in his speech, hinted at the rumoured pact between Capt Amarinder and SAD president Sukhbir Badal to ensure victory of their wives from Patiala and Bathinda. However, Sidhu has denied having said anything that suggested a collusion between the Congress and the SAD, while blaming the media for "putting words in my mouth".

Before that, Sidhu's wife and former MLA Dr Navjot Kaur Sidhu had blamed Capt Amarinder and state party affairs in-charge Asha Kumari for playing a negative role in declining her nomination from Chandigarh Lok Sabha seat.

Rubbing her allegations as "non-sense", Capt Amarinder had pointed out that he had no role in the decision-making for the Chandigarh ticket, while adding that Dr Navjot was asked to contest from Bathinda or Amritsar, but she refused. Coming to his wife's defence, Sidhu maintained that she "would never lie".

Taking the prevailing cold war between the two senior Congress leaders to another level on the polling day, Capt

Amarinder minced no words to say that the "ambitious" Sidhu might want to replace him as the Chief Minister. At the same time, he had maintained that it was on the high command to act against the Sidhu, while making it clear that the Congress has zero-tolerance policy against indiscipline.

"His ill-timed comments against me and the Punjab Congress leadership have damaged the party... If he is a real Congressman, he should have chosen a better time to air his grievances instead of just ahead of voting in Punjab. Perhaps he is ambitious and wants to be chief minister," Capt Amarinder had said on Sunday.

A senior Congress leader maintained that a report would be sought after the state president, and the Congress Legislative Party (CLP) leader regarding Sidhu's "indiscipline act" by the state party affairs in-charge Asha Kumari which would then be sent to the high command for action. But that would be done only after May 23 results. Despite addressing 100 rallies and press conferences across the country as the Congress' 'star campaigner' during 2019 general elections, Sidhu gave a miss to his home state. He addressed the party's first rally at Bathinda only after Priyanka Gandhi asked him to.

MORE LEADERS LASHED OUT AT SIDHU

After four Cabinet

Ministers and other senior leaders opening front against Sidhu, Cabinet Minister Tript Rajinder Singh Bajwa and former Minister Lal Singh on Tuesday too lashed out at the former cricketer.

Bajwa, in a strongly worded statement, asked Sidhu as a minister to quit if he cannot work with the Chief Minister as "he has refused to acknowledge the leadership of the Chief Minister".

"Since he does not know who the captain of the ship is, he should be removed from the Cabinet," he said.

Only a day before, the state Forest Minister Sadhu Singh Dharamsot had asked Sidhu to quit the state Cabinet, while the senior-most Minister Brahm Mohindra had already made clear his intentions of writing to the party high command.

Another senior leader, Punjab Congress Election Managing Committee chairman Lal Singh too criticised Sidhu for his "ill-timed and ill-advised" statement, saying that he "should not have aired his views in public on the eve of the elections as these created unnecessarily misunderstandings and may have adversely affected the party's prospects at a crucial time. In what is being seen an apparent attempt to shift blame on Sidhu in case the party performed poorly in the elections, Lal Singh said that Sidhu's "uncalled for outburst" at a wrong time has the potential of sabotaging the party's 'Mission 13'.

Haryana BJP gearing up for Assembly elections

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Even as the electoral process of Lok Sabha polls is yet to conclude, the Bharatiya Janata Party has begun preparations for the Haryana State Assembly polls, due to be held in October this year.

With most of the exit polls projecting the saffron party in a comfortable position on 10 Lok Sabha seats in Haryana, the BJP has now set eyes on Assembly elections in the state.

The Chief Minister Manohar Lal on Tuesday held a meeting with BJP MLAs and sought their suggestions for "Sankalp Patra" (election manifesto) of the party for assembly elections.

In the 90-member Haryana Assembly, the BJP has 48 MLAs. The BJP had made its maiden State Government in Haryana in 2014.

During the meeting with party MLAs, Manohar Lal also discussed ongoing development projects and schemes in the state.

He has directed the MLAs to expedite the development works in their constituencies. The Chief Minister also sought feedback from the MLAs on the 10 Lok Sabha seats in the state.

A day before also, Manohar Lal had held a meeting in Rohtak to take feedback from the party leaders on 10 parliamentary seats.

The polling was held on May 12 in Haryana and the results of the Lok Sabha polls will be declared on May 23.

In 2014 Lok Sabha polls, the BJP had won seven out of ten seats in Haryana.

While talking to the mediapersons, the Chief Minister denied the possibility of an early assembly election in Haryana.

When asked to comment on ongoing preparations, he said that the meeting of party MLAs is convened every month.

The assembly polls will not be held before the scheduled time, he added.

Giving details of the Haryana BJP legislative meeting, the state BJP chief Subhash Barala on Tuesday said we have decided to constitute a committee to prepare

"Sankalp Patra" of the party for State Assembly polls.

Discussion was held on the preparation of "Sankalp Patra" with the MLAs. A committee for this will be constituted in the next meeting, he said.

Barala said that the Chief Minister reviewed the ongoing development works and has directed the MLAs to ensure that various projects in their constituencies are expedited.

Discussion was also held on counting of votes on May 23.

The party is confident to win all 10 seats in Haryana. All MLAs have been directed to remain in their constituencies on the counting day, he said.

The Chief Minister will be either in Rohtak or Chandigarh on Thursday, he added.

In 2019 Lok Sabha polls, Haryana has witnessed a multi-cornered contest with BJP, Congress, Indian National Lok Dal, Jannayak Janta Party-Aam Aadmi Party combine, Loktantra Suraksha Party-Bahujan Samaj Party combine contesting on the 10 Lok Sabha seats.

Odisha Govt suggested for effective distribution of relief

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Civil Society Responds to Fani (CSRFP), a group of civil society organisations and concerned citizens who have come together to strengthen and accelerate the relief and rehabilitation efforts in the aftermath of the cyclone, on Tuesday presented various recommendations to the Government for effective distribution of relief and other supports.

Addressing at a Press meet here, former Information Commissioner and CYSD cofounder Jagadananda said relief of ₹2,000 and 50-kg rice per family is being given to only ration cardholders and a large number of affected

Mentioning about joint families with big numbers of members, he said such families having more than 14 people in places like Brahmania, Satapada and Puri have also suffered they were also given cash relief of ₹2,000 only. He demanded the State Government provide support on the basis of household size and household list as per the latest Government records.

CSRFP member and Vasundhara executive director Manas Ranjan Mishra lamented saying that MGNREGS job cardholders have not been given any work in the most affected blocks of Krushnaprasad, Brahmagiri, Puri Sadar, Satyabadi, Delang and Pipili during the current month. He demanded that people be given works and payment of wages in cash at the earliest.

The association demanded the State Government start procuring paddy from the affected areas as distress sale of paddy has already begun. It also demanded that Government purchase fallen trees from people at right prices.

Aaina secretary and CSRFP member Sneha Mishra demanded that all people who have lost livelihood assets must be compensated adequately. She also said there should be a combine household level limit of at least ₹2 lakh and all other limits such as number of cattle, small livestock, poultry, trees and others must be waived.

27-yr-old gym trainer shot dead in Delhi

New Delhi: A 27-year-old gym trainer was Tuesday shot dead by unidentified persons in the national capital's Najafgarh area, police said.

Mohit More, a resident of Bahadurgarh, was active on a social-networking app and had lakhs of followers, police said, adding that personal enmity is suspected to be the reason behind the killing.

According to a senior police officer, the incident took place at 5.15 pm when More came to a photostat shop to meet his friend.

Three men, of which two were wearing helmets, walked into the shop and opened fire at More, the officer said.

The assailants had come on a scooter which they parked at a distance and walked to the shop. They allegedly fired around five rounds at the victim, they said.

Opp flies into EVM rage

Before the counting of EVMs commences, the counting agents are shown the address tags, seals and serial number of the EVMs to satisfy themselves to the genuineness and authenticity of the machines used in the actual polls," the EC said. "The visuals seen viral on media do not pertain to any EVMs used during the polls," it added.

BJP leader and Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad took a swipe at the Opposition, saying EVMs were fine when its leaders like Mamata Banerjee, N Chandrababu Naidu, Amarinder Singh and Arvind Kejriwal win elections and come to power but they turn unreliable when "it appears that Modi will come back to power".

Earlier, in a meeting attended by Ahmed Patel, Ghulam Nabi Azad, Ashok Gehlot, Abhishek Singhvi of the Congress, TDP's Chandrababu Naidu, Satish Chandra Mishra of the BSP, Sitaram Yechury of the CPI(M), D Raja of the CPI, Delhi Chief Minister and AAP convener Arvind Kejriwal, Derek O'Brien of the TMC, Ramgopal Yadav of the SP, Kamimozhi of the DMK, Manoj Jha (RJD), Majeed Memon (NCP) and Devinder Rana (NC) among others discussed the VVPAT issue along with larger strategy of formation of a non-BJP Government at the Centre. The leaders then approached the EC to raise the issue of VVPAT.

"We are asking the EC to respect the mandate of the people. It cannot be manipulated. If there is a blood test and it shows some discrepancy, then the whole body should be scanned. Similarly, we demand that if discrepancy shows up in one VVPAT, then all of them in that Assembly segment should be counted," Naidu said addressing the media along with the other leaders.

BSP leader Satish Chandra Mishra alleged that "there is large-scale bungling relating to EVMs in Uttar Pradesh. We demand deployment of Central forces". The Opposition parties also raised concerns over the transportation of EVMs ahead of counting of votes and urged the EC to probe the issue.

Videos of alleged EVM tampering viral

■ EC rejects allegations of discrepancies ■ Parties allege EVMs were being changed in strongrooms in Ghazipur, Chandauli, Domariyaganj and Jhansi

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

A couple of days before the counting of votes, several videos of Electronic Voting Machines' (EVMs) alleged movement from one unauthorised storage house to another besides tampering went viral on social media prompting the Election Commission (EC) to issue a statement clarifying that all machines are safe and secure.

Terminating it as frivolous and unfounded, the EC on Tuesday rejected allegations of discrepancies in the handling of EVMs and VVPAT (Voter Verified Paper Trail Machines) in some districts of Uttar Pradesh, saying that each strong room is guarded with round-the-clock security by Central Armed Police Forces (CAPF) and further, the candidates or their designated agents remain present at the strong room for 24x7 vigil at all times.

The entire process of storage and sealing of the strongroom is covered under videography. Continuous CCTV coverage is done till completion of counting", the EC said in a statement.

"On the counting day, the strongrooms are opened in the presence of the candidates/agents and Observer

"The visuals seen viral on media do not pertain to any EVMs used during the polls," it added.

The EC's response came after political parties alleged that EVMs were being changed in strongrooms in Ghazipur, Chandauli, Domariyaganj and Jhansi in Uttar Pradesh at the instance of BJP. As the videos went viral, workers of various parties have started protests outside the strongrooms in these areas.

A video clip of EVMs being off-loaded and put in a room inside the counting centre complex in Chandauli was doing the rounds on social media. Referring to the incident in Chandauli, the EC said in its report that some people have made frivolous allegation and EVMs were kept safely in strongrooms. "Frivolous allegation by some people, EVMs were in proper security and protocol," the EC said.

Another video is from Ghazipur where SP-BSP alliance candidate Afzal Ansari is seen staging protest alleging that the administration was trying to change EVMs. In the video, Ansari and his supporters were seen having a heated exchange with a police officer. The officer is urging them to clear the area, but the leader and his supporters refuse to budge, claiming there was an attempt to take out a vehicle loaded with EVMs.

On allegations of EVM rigging in Uttar Pradesh's Ghazipur, the EC said, "There was issue regarding 'Having watch on polled EVM strong room by the candidates' which was resolved by conveying the ECI instructions (sic)."

In Domariyaganj too, some candidates had alleged that EVMs were not kept safely in strongrooms. The EC, however, rejected these claims too and said, "EVMs were in proper security and protocol. Agitation was unnecessary. They were convinced by DM and SP. The matter is resolved."

The poll panel said that in Jhansi too there is no issue with the storage and handling of EVMs as all machines are stored in proper security and protocol in the presence of political parties' candidates.

EC rejects by 2-1 vote Lavasa's plea to record dissent note in its orders

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Election Commission on Tuesday rejected with a majority 2:1 vote election commissioner Ashok Lavasa's demand that dissent notes should be recorded in its orders on model code violations. The EC said the dissent notes and minority views would remain part of records as it is the case now.

Lavasa has recused himself from MCC violation cases, saying his dissent was not being made part of the orders. He had dissented in at least six of the 11 decisions that the EC took on complaints against Prime Minister Narendra Modi and BJP president Amit Shah for alleged poll code violations. The two were given a clean chit in all the decisions.

The full commission of the panel, comprising Chief Election Commissioner Sunil Arora and two other members -Lavasa and Sushil Chandra-deliberated on the contentious issue, after which the Commission said that dissent notes and minority views would remain part of records but would not be part of its order.

"In the meeting of the Election Commission held today regarding the issue of MCC (Model Code of Conduct), it was interalia decided that proceedings of the commission's meetings would be drawn, including the views of all the commission members. "Thereafter, formal instructions to this effect would be issued in consonance with extant laws/rules, etc," the EC said in a statement.

The EC had maintained that since the poll code violation cases are not quasi judicial in nature, they are not signed by the chief election commissioner (CEC) and fellow commissioners, and thus, the dissent cannot be made part of the order.

"Status quo will be maintained. Dissent will not be made public but would form part of EC records," explained an official.

In a strongly-worded letter to Arora on May 4, Lavasa is learnt to have said that he is being forced to stay away from the meetings of the full commission since minority decisions are not being recorded. In Tuesday's meeting, Lavasa is said to have stuck to his ground, pressing for his demand to include dissenting views in the orders.

Earlier, in a press statement issued on May 18, CEC Arora said, "The three members of the EC are not expected to be template or clones of each other. There have been so many times in the past when there has been a vast diversion of views as it can and should be."

Earlier, in a letter on May 4, Lavasa wrote: "The main objective of the MCC is to ensure free and fair elections by providing a level playing field to all political parties and candidates and also to maintain a certain degree of decorum in the political discourse during electioneering."

Lavasa did not attend any MCC meeting after May 4. In the letter, he enforced the importance of the MCC, saying it "draws its strength and sanctity from the strict, prompt and non-discriminatory enforcement therein."

As per the law governing the functioning of the EC, efforts should have an unanimity, but in the case of a dissent, a majority (2:1) view prevails. The poll panel's rules express preference for a unanimous view, but also allow a majority decision.

At 67.11%, it's highest ever LS poll turnout

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The voter turnout for the just-concluded Lok Sabha poll was the highest ever, ever since the first elections in 1951, at a tentative 67.11 per cent, a jump of 1.16 per cent across 542 constituencies, barring Vellore where polls were rescinded.

But, the Election Commission (EC) figures are still provisional and are subject to change depending on the turnout in Vellore. The poll panel is yet to announce a fresh date for elections in Vellore. The EC had cancelled the polls there on the grounds of excessive use of money power.

The overall turnout in 2014 was 65.95 per cent. Lakshadweep recorded the highest turnout at 84.96 percent in 2019 LS poll, north-eastern states of Tripura (83.20 per cent), Nagaland (83.09 per cent) and Manipur (82.69 per cent) were not too far behind. The overall high turnout in West Bengal at 81.91 per cent was still short of the 2014 figure of 82.22 per cent.

The highest increase in the turnout between 2014 and 2019 was in Madhya Pradesh (71.2 per cent from 61.61 per cent, a jump of 9.59 per cent), followed by Himachal Pradesh (71.52 per cent from 64.45 per cent). The biggest dip in terms of turnout was in Jammu and Kashmir, with 29.39 per cent polling which is 20.33 per cent lower than 49.72 per cent recorded in 2014.

Two Hindi heartland recorded Bihar and UP recorded less than 60 per cent turnouts - 58.08 per cent and 59.6 percent respectively. Goa recorded 74.94 per cent, Gujarat 64.11 per cent, Haryana 70.30 per cent, Jharkhand 66.83 per cent, Karnataka 68.63 per cent and Delhi 60.63 per cent.+

In 2019, the voter turnout saw a decreasing trend from the first to the seventh phase, which took place on Sunday. According to data provided by the EC, in phase one, the turnout was 69.61 per cent. It went down marginally to 69.44 per cent in phase two and further down to 68.40 per cent in the third phase. In the fourth phase, the turnout saw a dip of nearly three per cent and stood at 65.50 per cent. In the fifth phase, the turnout was 64.16 per cent, but went up marginally to 64.40 per cent in the sixth and penultimate phase. In the seventh and the last phase, it was 65.16 per cent, according to the EC's Voter Turnout app.

The cumulative turnout figure of the first six phases stood at 67.34 per cent, which is 1.21 per cent more than the corresponding constituencies in 2014.

The lowest being in first election held in 1951 with 45.67 per cent voter participation. Thereafter turnouts were 47.74% in 1957, 55.42% in 1962, 61.33% in 1967, 55.29% in 1971, 60.49% in 1977, 56.92% in 1980, 64.01% in 1984-85, 61.95% in 1989 (when National Front won under V P Singh), 55.88% in 1991-92 (during which Congress president Rajiv Gandhi was assassinated), 57.94% in 1996, 61.97% in 1998, 59.99% in 1999, 57.98% in 2004, 58.19% in 2009 and 66.44% in 2014.

CPM demands repolling in Bengal's Diamond Harbour

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The CPI (M) has written to the Election Commission (EC) alleging "large-scale irregularities" in the May 19 polling held in the Diamond Harbour Lok Sabha constituency of West Bengal, where Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee's nephew Abhishek Banerjee is contesting.

In his letter, CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury alleged that the scale of irregularities were such that the EC should invoke Article 324 of the Constitution. Article 324 deals with vesting of superintendence, direction and control of elections in an Election Commission.

"The EC must ensure 'free-and-fair' elections by ordering re-polling in the entire constituency," Yechury said, while listing out the alleged irregularities underlined by the CPI(M) candidate from Diamond Harbour in the just-concluded Lok Sabha polls, Fuad Halim. BJP has also petitioned the poll panel demanding re-polling in the entire Diamond Harbour parliamentary constituency.

"It is clear that the state unit of the BJP has entered into an understanding with the TMC for the latter's support for its candidates in certain other constituencies like Mathurapur, Jadavpur etc., in return for the BJP's support to the TMC candidate for Diamond Harbour PC, who happens to be the nephew of the Chief Minister of West Bengal.

"I am besieging you to look into the large-scale, brazen irregularities which are clearly detailed in Dr Fuad Halim's letter, cancel the poll of May 19 and order a re-polling in the constituency," Yechury wrote in his letter to the EC.

SC rejects PIL for 100% matching of VVPAT slips with EVMs on May 23

New Delhi: The Supreme Court Tuesday dismissed a PIL seeking 100 per cent matching of Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT) slips with Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) during the counting of votes on May 23 for Lok Sabha polls.

A larger bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi has already dealt with the matter and passed an order, said a vacation bench comprising justices Arun Mishra and M R Shah and refused to entertain the plea filed by a Chennai-based organisation "Tech 4 All."

"The CJJ had dealt with this matter. Why are you taking chance before a two-judge vacation bench. We will not list any such case for urgent hearing," it said.

"We cannot override the CJJ's order... This is nonsense," the bench said. The apex court not only denied urgent hearing of the matter but took the PIL on "board" and dismissed it. A three-judge bench headed by the CJJ on May 7 had dismissed a review plea filed by 21 opposition leaders, led by Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu, seeking that random matching of VVPAT slips with EVMs be increased to 50 per cent.

The opposition leaders had said that the present system of 2 per cent of random matching of VVPAT slips with EVMs was inadequate and did not inspire confidence among the electorates.

Prior to this, the top court had on April 8 directed the Election Commission to increase random matching of VVPAT slips with EVMs from one to five polling booths per assembly segment in Lok Sabha polls, saying it would provide greater satisfaction not just to political parties but also to the entire electorate. ED gags media talk

Probe agency Director Sanjay Kumar Mishra issues a memorandum

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Enforcement Directorate on Tuesday issued an order to gag its officials from interacting with journalists and said non-adherence to the new directive would invite "punitive action."

ED Director Sanjay Kumar Mishra issued a one-page memorandum asking all its officers to keep away from "unwarranted interaction with the media."

"It has been observed that certain information relating to ongoing investigations have been published in the media. These information relating to impending action may jeopardise the interests of ongoing investigations," the latest order said.

Henceforth, it said, "any officer other than the authorised officer if found interacting with the media, the same should be brought to the knowledge of the principal special director or undersigned (Director) immediately." The order stated "any deviation will amount to dereliction of duty and liable for punitive action."

It added that an earlier circular issued in this regard in November, 2018 "has not been followed in right spirit."

The headquarters of the agency handles some of the most high-profile cases of money laundering and hawala transactions apart from supervising investigation of all its zonal offices in the country. Cases relating to fugitive liquor baron Vijay Mallya, Diamantares Nirav Modi and Mehul Choksi and those involved in the IPL scam.

The fresh order has been issued after it was found that the line of investigation to be taken by the agency was "leaked" to the press by certain officials and hence, it was required to check such instances, sources claimed.

The ED is a central probe agency that probes offences -- Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) and Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA)-- to check high-value economic crimes and black money involving money laundering and forex violations.

Centre, Rajasthan spat stalls recovery of 10th century antiquity from Switzerland

ARCHANA JYOTI ■ NEW DELHI

Caught in the procedural wrangling between the Centre and the Rajasthan Government, a precious antiquity - a 10th-century-old stone sculpture, Varah, which was stolen from an Indian temple two decades ago, is still stuck in Switzerland which had agreed to return it last year itself.

The treasured stone sculpture-- depicting Varah as a theriomorphic boar was stolen from the ruins of the Gargach temple in Atru town, a little-known site in Baran district, close to the Rajasthan-Madhy Pradesh border way back in 1987. Atru site alone has nine temples, including Gargach, Ganesh, Shitalamata and Nagdev Jain temple, all under the Archeological Survey of India (ASI).

An official from the Union Culture Ministry said that last year the Swiss officials had contacted the Indian Embassy there regarding its possession with a private person who offered to donate after it became known that it was stolen and clandestinely smuggled out of the country.

"They (the Swiss Government officials) asked us to produce the documents so that procedure for formal retrieval of the antiquity can be initiated," said the official.

He explained that since the sculpture was stolen from the temple in Rajasthan, the ASI on behalf of the Ministry has been asking the State (Rajasthan) police to furnish the documents such as FIR and relevant papers to expedite its retrieval. An FIR with the district police was registered on July 31, 1987 regarding the theft of the heritage item.

"But despite several reminders to the Rajasthan police, there has been no movement in the case. Sometimes they say that concerned officials have been transferred sometimes they make excuses that papers were being collected," rued the official.

The Gargach temple from where the idol which has images of lord Vishnu engraved all over is an ASI protected monument. In Rajasthan, 162 monuments are centrally protected under the ASI.

However, Varah is not the only antiquity that has been stolen from the country.

As per the ASI, at least 31 ancient items have been brought back from countries like America, Australia, Canada, Germany and Singapore among others between 2014 and 2017. India is a signatory to the 1970 UN Convention on Means of Prohibiting and Preventing the illicit Trafficking in cultural property.

Home Secy directs States to gear up ahead of monsoon

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Union Home Secretary Rajiv Gauba on Tuesday directed States to step up their preparedness by advance planning and deployment of human, physical and financial resources ahead of the monsoon season.

Addressing the annual conference of Relief Commissioners and Secretaries here, the Home Secretary also reviewed the preparedness for the South-West Monsoon expected to arrive by June 6 and disbursement of central assistance.

The Centre released over Rs 17,000 crore as assistance to states affected by natural calamities like floods, cyclone and drought last year, Gauba said adding the central government has sanctioned additional battalions of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) which are being raised in Jammu and Kashmir, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Delhi-NCR.

The Home Secretary said the Centre would provide all possible assistance under the NDRF and the SDRF besides mobilisation of central forces to the states and the UTs in connection with preparedness during the South-West Monsoon. Gauba said during the recent cyclone 'Fani', loss of human lives was minimal due to accurate and early weather forecasting by the India Meteorological Department (IMD) and timely mobilisation of resources besides better coordination between the Centre, state governments and other relevant agencies.

Speaking on the occasion, Director General, IMD, K J Ramesh said India has set a new benchmark in disaster risk reduction as demonstrated during cyclone Fani. The IMD is in the process of building the most advanced early warning weather system in coordination with various stakeholders, he said.

Apex court rejects plea challenging appointment of observers in Bengal

New Delhi: The Supreme Court Tuesday refused to entertain a plea challenging the appointment of two retired bureaucrats as observers in West Bengal for the Lok Sabha polls, saying the voting is already over.

While Vivek Dubey was appointed as a central police observer for West Bengal and Jharkhand, Ajay Nayak was appointed a special observer for West Bengal.

The petition had alleged that they had been appointed in contravention of the law so as to ensure "certain favours" are granted at the time of election.

A vacation bench comprising Justices Arun Mishra and M R Shah said: "Since the election is over, we are not inclined to entertain this petition under Article 32," the bench said.

The bench however granted liberty to petitioner Ramu Mandi, who contested the polls as an independent candidate from Barrackpore constituency of West Bengal, to approach the Calcutta High Court.

Barrackpore was one of the seven constituencies in West Bengal where polling was held in the fifth phase of the general elections.

During the hearing on Tuesday, the counsel appearing for the Election Commission (EC) said that polling for the Lok Sabha elections was already over.

The counsel for Mandi said that although the polling was over, results of the general elections have not been declared yet.

"The election process is still going on. Results are yet to come," the lawyer said. To this, the bench said, "You go to the high court. We are permitting you to go to the high court."

The petitioner's counsel then said that judicial work in the high court there was affected due to the lawyers' strike in Kolkata. PTI

Mamata may eliminate our candidate: BJP

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Amid ongoing post poll violence in different parts of Bengal, including Bhatpara-Kakinara industrial belt of North 24 Parganas in the northern fringes of Kolkata where the TMC and BJP workers continued to fight with crude bombs and guns for the third day on Tuesday senior saffron leader Kailash Vijayvargiya alleged that Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee could get his party's Barrackpore Lok Sabha candidate Arjun Singh eliminated in an encounter.

Arjun Singh a four-time TMC MLA and strongman from Bhatpara-Naihati region joined the BJP just before the Lok Sabha elections after he was refused nomination for the parliamentary seat. He is contesting on a Lotus ticket against the TMC's outgoing MP Dinesh Trivedi.

Vijayvargiya, also the party's observer for Bengal tweeted, the Mamata Banerjee had ordered the arrest of Singh who could even be bumped of in an encounter warning the Chief Minister would be held responsible if anything happened to his party candidate.

Violence continued to take its toll throughout Bengal while a youth was shot dead near Kharagpur IIT and another three persons getting grievously injured in a shootout at Sitai village in Coochbehar of North Bengal. In both the cases the BJP claimed the victims as their supporters accusing the TMC for the violence.

But the Bhatpara Assembly segment under Barrackpore parliamentary constituency remained the epicenter of violence with the supporters of BJP and TMC continued to fight overnight defying prohibitory orders.

Things took turn for worse when BJP workers blockaded road and suburban trains for three hours on Tuesday morning demanding arrest of the alleged TMC goons who had reportedly been on the rampage for the past several days. Train passengers narrowly escaped injury as crude bombs were hurled and stones were pelted at the static trains, sources said, adding police and the Central forces had been deployed and were conducting route-marches through out Bhatpara region known otherwise for its notoriety.

A group of BJP leaders led by State party president Dilip Ghosh on Tuesday met State Governor KN Tripathi 'drawing his attention towards the ongoing violence where the BJP workers are being targeted." Ghosh said, "never in the history of Bengal such things have been noticed," he said reminding "in 2009 Parivartan had ensued with the Left getting lesser seats than TMC in Lok Sabha elections. But there was no violence then. It was a smooth transition of power. The ongoing violence is only a prelude to what we are likely to see after the poll results are out." He warned "if the TMC goons resort to violence the BJP will give a befitting reply."

Meanwhile, the Election Commission on Tuesday ordered re-polling at one booth in North Kolkata where BJP's Rahul Sinha, TMC's Sudip Bandopadhyay and CPI(M)'s Konika Ghosh were engaged in a multi-cornered fight.

The election would take place at booth number 200 on Wednesday a day ahead of the counting of votes.

From guns to ghosts! Bengal polls replete with tales

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KALNA/BURDWAN

Though they have held their spirits high in an atmosphere of continuing bloodshed the election staff of Burdwan district find themselves snowed under by the fear of 'spirits'.

Cut to MBC Institute of Engineering in East Burdwan. The late evenings are quite uncanny for staff designated for counting duty. The employees fear to trade beyond the main gates of the dominating structure. The reason, "It is eerie beyond that iron gates. You feel the presence of some weird things upstairs," one of the staff say.

Biswajit Bagdi a local says, "I was going towards the wash-room when I felt someone was following me. It simply seemed so to me. I turned around to find none. It was just 8 in the evening."

Another person refusing to be identified said, "Often in the nights we hear mild jingles of ghungroo as though someone is dancing to the tunes of tabla and harmonium. We hear the sound of musical instruments very distinctly accompanied by faint wails of women though none of us have gathered the courage to go inside there."

Harijada Manna a local said "this was a place associated with the zamindars of the yore. The kings had built their elephant house somewhere here and there was a dance house too. It is said that the zamindars brought women from other places and enjoyed them here. Though I have not heard it myself I have seen people scurrying past this place in the evenings. Normally we do not venture this side."

However Chandranath Chakrabarty a history teacher call it a gossip spread by the local goons "who find this place suitable for their anti-social activities during the evening." There could be a bit of psychological aspect too in the whole story of fear as "some people get so overwhelmed by the stories that they would listen to some sounds of music or find some people trailing them."

Anurag Srivastava the District Magistrate says he did not listen to such stories let alone the sounds himself. The phantoms are often apprehensive of the IAS cadre, some of his staff say lightly while the DM gives a bureaucratic assures saying, "I have everything under CCTV surveillance. My work is to ensure security to the poll staff and everyone else and I am doing so."

Blood may spill on streets if results are manipulated: Upendra Kushwaha

PTI ■ PATNA

The Opposition Mahagath-Bandhan in Bihar on Tuesday alleged that attempts were being made to manipulate Lok Sabha poll results in favour of the ruling NDA and warned blood may spill on the streets on account of tremendous public anger.

These could be through manipulation of the EVMs or any other measures at the counting centres. The leaders of the NDA are hereby warned not to indulge in such a misadventure. There is tremendous public anger and blood may spill on the streets, for which we shall not be held responsible, Kushwaha told reporters.

At a joint Press conference here, which was addressed by RLSF chief and former Union minister Upendra Kushwaha, RJD State president Ramchandra Purve, State Congress president Madan Mohan Jha and other leaders of the Grand Alliance, they alleged exit polls prediction of NDA winning 30 or more seats in Bihar out of 40 was misleading and aimed at causing demoralisation among our cadres, with a mala fide intent. Earlier, we used to hear about booth loot. This time, it is suspected that attempts may be made to loot the results.

The exit polls appear to have been a step in this direction. We have all toured the state during elections and can say, without any hesitation, that we are set to win most of the seats in the State. Such has been the public response in favour of the Mahagathbandhan, he said.

Deora apprehends 'possibility of tampering' with EVMs, asks authorities to increase vigil

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Upping the ante on the "safety" and "security" of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) kept at various strong-rooms of six Lok Sabha seats in the metropolis, Mumbai Congress chief Murlidhar Deora on Tuesday apprehended that there was a "possibility of tampering" with EVMs ahead of the counting scheduled for May 23.

"I have received shocking feedback about the feedback about the tampering with EVM machines... Our Congress workers who are constantly looking after these (counting) centres from outside have informed us of some suspicious movements of few persons and few vehicles around these centres," Deora said in a letter written to Maharashtra's Chief Electoral Officer.

Deora, who himself is the Congress candidate from Mumbai south constituency, urged the CEO to increase vigilance and security at all the counting centres to ensure that EVMs were not tampered with in any manner so that the exact results were reflected on counting day for free and fair outcome.

He exhorted the CEO to permit its volunteers to remain outside the counting centres and provide his party the password of the CCTV cameras installed which they party volunteers could monitor along with the security personnel round-the-clock.

Deora, who forwarded a copy of his letter to CEO to the Mumbai Police Commissioner, urged the police chief to take necessary steps for ensuring safety and security of EVMs in the larger interest of democracy.

Meanwhile, Congress' Mumbai North-West candidate Sanjay Nirupam visited the counting centre in Goregaon east and personally monitored the safety and security status there. "The next two nights before the counting day are critical... All party workers and the people must keep vigil to find out whether the BJP activists are indulging in any mischief," Nirupam said.

Demanding to know whether the ECI all votes would be recounted in case of a mismatch between the voting figures in the EVMs and the VVPATs, Nirupam said, "In such an eventuality, all the VVPATs must be counted and the ECI must issue written orders to all Returning Officers, or it will create suspicions."

Karnataka Congress lawmaker slams party

Roshan Baig calls State party chief 'flop show', Gen Secy Venugopal 'buffoon'; slapped with showcase notice

PTI ■ BENGALURU

In a no-holds barred attack, senior Karnataka Congress leader Roshan Baig on Tuesday accused the State party chief of being a "flop show" and scoffed at AICC general secretary KC Venugopal as a "buffoon", prompting the party to issue a show-cause notice for his outburst.

Baig, a senior MLA, also slammed former chief minister Siddaramaiah for "dividing" the Hindu society by attempting to give separate religion tag to Lingayat community and "abusing" the Vokkaliga community during his tenure in the top post.

The attack by Baig who was miffed over being denied ticket to contest Lok Sabha polls came after the exit polls predicted a rout for the Congress-JD(S) alliance in Karnataka and NDA's return to power at the Centre. Baig also appealed to the Muslims to "compromise with the situation" (about BJP-led NDA being in power) and not to remain like "cattle" and be reduced to a vote bank.

"Venugopal (in-charge of party affairs in the State) should have resigned when the Congress got 79 seats in Assembly polls (a year ago). I feel sorry for such general secretary coming to our State..." he said.

"KC Venugopal is a buffoon, I feel sorry for him, I feel sorry for my leader Sri Rahul Gandhi ji," Baig told reporters here. He added, "Buffoons like Venugopal and arrogant attitude of Siddaramaiah and the flop show president Dinesh Gundu Rao...The result is this (Lok Sabha exit polls forecast)."

A red-faced Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee issued a 'showcause' notice to Baig for his outbursts. It said Baig's remarks were being considered seriously as an "anti party activity", and asked him as to why disciplinary action should not be taken against him.

Seeking Baig's explanation in a week, the notice signed by KPCC general secretary VY Ghorpade said, "On failing to reply further disciplinary action will be taken against you."

The notice has taken strong exception to Baig's comments against Venugopal, Rao and Siddaramaiah. "By making statements to the media and causing discomfort to the party and expressing your displeasure publicly through the media, you have conducted yourself by going against the party's principles. Your conduct has dented party's prestige," it said.

Baig said the "drastic decisions" led to the downfall of the party in the Assembly election and now the same was reflected in the Lok Sabha exit poll results too. "Nobody should divide the religion. A chief minister should behave like a statesman. What it means if he (Siddaramaiah) thinks he will win the election by dividing the religion? Isn't it madness?" he said.

Pak boat carrying heroin worth ₹600 cr seized

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

After an interception and a hot pursuit that followed, the Indian Coast Guard (ICG) on Tuesday apprehended a Pakistani fishing vessel off the Gujarat coast, took into custody its six crew members from the boat and seized 200 kg heroin worth Rs 600 crore in the international market.

Acting on a tip off that a Pakistani fishing boat was set to deliver a narcotics consignment off the Jakhau coast in Gujarat, an ICG ship intercepted Pakistani fishing boat 'Al Madina' in the wee hours of Tuesday.

The intercepted Pakistani boat indulged in "evasive manoeuvres" to avert getting apprehended. However, the ICG ship — braving rough weather conditions — chased the Pakistani boat and succeeded in apprehending the intruding boat within the limits of Indian waters.

"During the hot pursuit, crew of the Pakistani boat threw bags containing the suspicious material in the water. However, the ICG personnel boarded the Pakistani boat, took its six-member crew into custody and managed to retrieve the narcotics consignment from water," Additional Director General K Natarajan, Coast Guard Commander (Western Seaboard), said.

Having tested of a sample from the seized consignment using a drug detection kit, the authorities prima facie found it was Heroin.

The ICG personnel in all seized 195 packets weighing approximately 200 kg of Heroin which is worth Rs 600 crore in international market "which will further verified by appropriate agencies". "The ICG personnel are interrogating the apprehended crew members of the Pakistani boat," Natarajan said. Earlier on May 19, the ence input from the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) and other agencies that a Pakistani fishing boat was to deliver narcotics off Gujarat and that it was to be received by an Indian boat.

The ICG swiftly responded to the intelligence inputs, by diverting ships on deployment and rushing it towards the Pakistani fishing boat in the Arabian Sea off Gujarat's Jakhau coast in Kutch region, bordering Pakistan. The Coast Guard deployed Aranjay, a fast patrol vessel, two interceptor boats and an aircraft for intercepting the Pakistani boats.

Official sources said that the ICG intercepted and apprehended the Pakistani fishing boat nearly 200 nautical miles along the International Maritime Boundary Line off the Gujarat coast.

Woman opts for 'Chicken Dinner' with PUBG mate over hubby, kid!

IANAS ■ AHMEDABAD

Online game PUBG (PlayerUnknown Battle-ground) has taken the world by storm and has spawned myriad situations and new highs in addition.

Now take the recent case of this Ahmedabad woman, all of 19 and married with a year-old baby, who wants divorce from her husband, not because of any domestic feud or discord, but because of her immense indulgence in PUBG.

The case came to light when she called the 181 Abhayam women helpline seeking help to get divorce.

However, she did not mention this in the first place. She wanted to be lodged at a women's observation home, away from her family and her parents, so that she could play at leisure with her gaming partner.

"The girl called 181 and told us that she wants to be at a women's observation home as it is not working out with her husband nor she wanted to go to her parents' home as they had taken away her cell phone," says Falguni Patel, Coordinator at Abhayam.

"When we told her that she won't be allowed to use her phone or to go out from observation home since it is supposed to be for the protection of women, she dropped the idea. Then she sought help to reach her friend, who she revealed much later during the counselling session, was her PUBG gaming partner whom she came into contact while playing the game," Falguni Patel told IANAS.

Her husband did not like her obsession with the game and refused to let her play, which caused tension between them and she decided to leave her husband and went to her parents.

Even they didn't like her addiction and took away her mobile phone. Patel said the counsellors explained to her not to take such crucial decisions in a rush, just for the sake of a game as her marriage of two years, as well as the life of her child, was at stake.

Chicken Dinner

Even IPS officers in Kerala watch helplessly as CPI(M) cadre subvert poll process

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

Even as the Opposition leaders complained to the Election Commission of India about the "frauds" which could be committed by the BJP on the Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) and the Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT) machines, a former chief of the Kerala Police has come out with startling disclosures about how the CPI(M) subvert poll process in Kerala by casting fake and bogus votes with the connivance of friendly presiding officers.

TP Senkumar, who retired as chief of Kerala Police in June 2017, says in his service story that there is blatant violation of all democratic norms by the CPI(M) cadre in the State. "Elections are manipulated using all kinds of methods which include threats, physical assaults and impersonation with the connivance of the presiding officers," Senkumar has written in Ente Police Jeevitham (My Life in Police), his memoirs which was released on Sunday. Interestingly, 18 booths in Kerala's Kannur and Kasargod districts had re-poll on Sunday as per the directives of the EC following reports of widespread impersonation and casting of fake votes.

As a young superintendent of police in Thalassery, Senkumar had to stand helplessly outside the booth as many persons (women and men) cast fake and bogus votes with the connivance of the presiding officers. "I saw a woman entering the polling booth and casting her vote with the claim that she was the wife of Hareendranath.

Strangely, Hareendranath, was the booth agent of the Opposition candidate and protested against the woman being allowed to vote because she was not his wife. But the presiding officer as well as the agents of the CPI(M) candidate shouted him down and warned him that they would chop his hand if he utter a word. Even as Hareendranath watched with shock, the lady who claimed that she was his wife, cast the vote and went out of the polling booth," reminisces Senkumar.

"Two young assistant superintendents of police who were on polling duty saw a woman casting votes 33 times in a booth in Kannur district. When one of the ASPs asked the presiding officer how a person was casting 33 votes in a single booth, the latter told him to mind his own work and not

Former police chief has called for the immediate introduction of biometric system as well as linking of Aadhaar Card for foolproof election process to interfere in what was happening inside the booth. The police is not authorised to enter the booth without authorisation by the presiding officer. The presiding officer as well as the polling officer threatened the ASPs that if they complained to the authorities about casting of bogus votes, they would not be allowed to live peacefully in the State," Senkumar quotes the officers as telling him.

The former police chief has called for the immediate introduction of biometric system as well as linking of Aadhaar Card for foolproof election process. The CPI(M) cadre in the State identify those people whose names figure in the voters list but who are not present at the time of election and cast their votes through party workers.

Choking the Opposition

Emboldened by the euphoria over exit polls, the BJP is trying to destabilise MP, Karnataka Governments

Certain things just don't change in Indian politics no matter how historic a verdict is or how tectonically an election shifts. And that is the transactional nature of power players, the smaller ones trading their stock with the big brother and getting happy returns on investment. And the more we pontificate on ideology and extol the power of the ballot, the hollow they ring as the recipient of the people's trust, in the end, will always go to the highest bidder, the voters' fate be damned. And as is tradition, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), which exit polls have shown as comfortably cruising into its second term, is engaging in horse-trading to extend its territorial expanse in Opposition States where it is expected to wrest a healthy pick of Lok Sabha seats. And even though the voter may choose different parties for his local and national needs, fact is, despite a possible victory, the BJP is keen to push its unitary zeal in contravention of the federal spirit. So it is keen on using the Lok Sabha surge to make desperate State-level inroads lest it doesn't find a favourable circumstance later. In short, strike the iron while it is still hot to simplify a national narrative across the dizzyingly complex layers of our polity. For a "party with a difference," it is hell-bent on reinforcing the coercive politics of the past and falling back on comparative referencing to justify its acts — if they did it, why can't we? So the BJP leadership is looking to topple Karnataka and Madhya Pradesh governments first where the Congress is hanging by a thread. Expectedly, resort politics and cash doles are expected to dominate post-poll talks.

Ever since the Congress and Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) alliance assumed power in Karnataka despite inherent contradictions, the BJP has been relentlessly trying to destabilise it. Though the two allies jointly fought the Lok Sabha together, the Congress in 21 and the JD-S in seven, an adverse verdict may lead to an organic collapse. In the 225-member Assembly, the BJP has 104 seats, Congress 77, JD-S 37, others two. With a halfway mark at 113, an ambitious BJP can have a happy hunting ground among players who want to be relevant to a national party that has won convincingly. If the Congress loses two bypolls being held simultaneously, then the JD-S might get antsy and even look to the BJP for a lifeboat.

In Madhya Pradesh, the BJP has already moved ahead with its state unit asking Governor Anandiben Patel to convene a special House session to discuss key issues and test the Congress majority, which it feels has dipped since last December. Of course, the Congress is precariously perched here, with 114 out of 230 seats, two short of the majority mark of 116. The wafer-thin anxiety was the reason that the Congress went on the backfoot in effecting a generational change in State-level leadership. It brought in old warhorse Kamal Nath as the Chief Minister, who quickly got on board two MLAs of the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) and one of the Samajwadi Party (SP). The BJP is just a breath away at 109 seats. Though BSP chief Mayawati has been quiet to maintain some semblance of integrity, the fact is she is upset. First, the Congress poached on her Guna candidate. Second, her MLAs are yet to get berths. Third, while she had already threatened to pull out of the MP government over arrests of her supporters during Bharat Bandh, she has criticised the Ashok Gehlot government in Rajasthan recently over the gang-rape of a Dalit woman. While both Gehlot and Kamal Nath have resorted to old manipulations to keep her in abeyance, that agreement might not hold if the Congress' tally fares badly in these two States. And though nobody might state it explicitly, observers are wondering whether the CBI's clean chit to SP chief Akhilesh Yadav and father Mulayam is linked to withdrawing support to the Congress in Madhya Pradesh. It is a sad comment on our democracy that this wheeling-dealing is taking place despite a presumed single-party dominance and a decisive verdict. But with Prime Minister Narendra Modi himself declaring that some MLAs of Bengal Trinamool Congress would migrate to his side post-elections, everything seems justifiable. It seems the BJP doesn't believe such efforts are unethical in its larger pursuit. Elections, then, will soon become a tokenism.

Love has no boundaries

Dutee Chand has declared that she is in a same-sex relationship; she should be applauded for her bravery

Same-sex relationships in India have only recently become legal after the Supreme Court read down the infamous Section 377 of the Indian Penal Code last year. That was a long time coming and it finally allowed those with alternative sexual choices, rather non-heterosexual ones, to come out in the open without fear of harassment by the authorities. However, many people who have such sexual orientation still do not step out of the closet because of fear of ridicule, a loss of prestige and in many cases a genuine fear for their physical safety. For public personalities it is even tougher; coming out might mean abuse from co-workers (teammates in the case of athletes), fans, sponsors and being boxed in an image trap. And while we would like to believe that attitudes have moved on, the fact is that they have not. Not even in the developed world where same-sex marriage is a right enshrined by law. Therefore, ace sprinter Dutee Chand's decision to declare her sexuality and say that she has been in a long-term gay relationship should be welcomed. This will give hope and courage to others who are scared and not as privileged. Dutee herself risked ostracisation, coming as she does from the conservative interiors. While her family has threatened to disown her, fans and sponsors must stand by her and become her new family. That she chose to make the revelation during training for the World Athletics championship proves that sexuality is her private right and freedom and has nothing to do with her unwavering focus on sports. She was as committed to chasing excellence in a discipline that shaped her identity.

We have always believed what consenting adults do is their business and old social mores have to change in the modern world. India always seems like a country which has one foot stuck in the past and one in the future, but we cannot let our social values continue to be determined by laws from Victorian times. Therefore, not only should people like Dutee be allowed to love anyone they want to, going forward, India should look at modifying its marriage laws to allow for gay unions as well, just like Taiwan did recently. India can surprise people at times. It has, for example, accepted a one-time adult pornstar as a genuine Bollywood star today. So why can't we now move forward on this front as well? Sexuality has to be normalised in discourse. Social progress cannot be determined by those who claim to stick to "Indian cultural values" because these have mutated and Dutee is a shining example.

Engage with Taliban

While the US has made several U-turns in brokering peace in Afghanistan, India's biggest policy failure has been the inability to make its only military base in Tajikistan operational

ASHOK K MEHTA

The Afghanistan peace process has undergone nuanced changes and several U-turns under the Trump dispensation. These are worth reflecting upon.

■ It is no longer Afghan-owned, led and driven, but steered by an American Afghan Pashtun, Zalmay Khalilzad, who was appointed as Special Envoy in September 2018. Before that, it was Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary, Alice Wells, who ran the show and held at least three structured meetings with the Taliban at Doha and Islamabad, starting February 2018. She had ruled that the US could hold direct talks with the Taliban only after it had first engaged with the Kabul Government. That priority was overturned by the Khalilzad-led peace process, which has completed six rounds, the fifth being the longest, lasting for all of 15 days. The central issues of the framework accord: a) time-frame for withdrawal of US forces; b) no use of Afghan soil for terrorist attacks on the US and its allies; c) dialogue with elected Government in Kabul; and d) ceasefire. The Taliban wants foreign forces to withdraw in six months and not in one-and-a-half years as the US wants; dialogue with the Kabul Government; and ceasefire only after the withdrawal of foreign forces. According to the Taliban, only two issues — the first two — constitute the framework accord.

■ In his latest State of the Union Address, US President Donald Trump said, "great nations do not fight endless wars." Last December, he did a U-turn on Afghanistan. Having been reluctantly persuaded by his Generals to stay the course, in a policy speech in August 2017, he lashed out at Pakistan, saying all it has given the US are lies and deceit after receiving $31 billion and praised India for its constructive role in Afghanistan. The then Defence Secretary, James Mattis, issued a "last chance" ultimatum to Pakistan to act against the Taliban sanctuaries which did not work despite intensified drone strikes in Pakistan. Soon, Trump did multiple U-turns: Embraced Pakistan, criticised India for doing five minutes of work like building libraries in Afghanistan and replacing Wells with Khalilzad as an interlocutor to work out an exit deal with the Taliban.

■ Pakistan is now a key facilitator and de facto guarantor for the Taliban's attendance at the peace talks. In 2016, former US President Barack Obama ordered a drone strike against Taliban leader Emir Mullah Akhtar Mansour for playing truant on peace talks. Till 18 months ago, Islamabad used to say it has no control, only some influence on the Taliban, despite all its leaders residing in Karachi and Quetta. It says it has applied unprecedented pressure on the Taliban to open talks with Kabul. Now, Kabul has asked Washington to reveal the nature of the relationship between Pakistan and the Taliban.

■ Surprisingly, nowhere in the discourse is there any mention of US retention of its strategic assets in Afghanistan for which President Obama and former President Karzai signed the bilateral security agreement (BSA) in 2014, which provides US troops access to military bases like Bagram and Kandahar until 2024 and beyond. The agreement also states that the key American ally will not abandon Afghanistan militarily and financially for years after 2014, the then deadline for most foreign forces to withdraw. The treaty agreement was initiated by NSA Rangin Dadfar Spanta and US Ambassador Ryan Crocker. Why is the BSA under wraps? And why has the Taliban not raised the issue of foreign bases unless that is part of an unlikely secret agreement between the two?

■ If the mercurial Trump were to suddenly order troops' pullout, it could prove catastrophic. James Dobbins, a former US Envoy to Afghanistan, fears it could lead to a civil war — back to 1996. Gen Kenneth McKenzie of CentCom has said Afghan national security forces will dissolve without US support. In 2014, a report published by Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction (SIGAR) had made the assessment that ANSF would be capable of resisting the Taliban independently after December 2014 when International Security Assistance Force combat role ended but would require US air support and assistance in casualty evacuation. When Kunduz became the first provincial capital to fall to the Taliban in 2014, all hell broke loose in Pentagon, sparking fear of a strategic collapse.

China, Russia and the US this month issued a joint statement saying that "an inclusive Afghan-led peace process will ensure an orderly and responsible withdrawal." That is not the direction the Khalilzad peace process is headed towards. India has refused to engage with the Taliban because it will not negotiate with Kabul. New Delhi may be a key strategic US partner but in Afghanistan, Pakistan holds the cards. India's hesitation to start a back channel with the Taliban is unwise at a time when the organisation is known to be praising its development works and economic assistance in Afghanistan. Gen Bipin Rawat has said he favours engagement with the Taliban. India has not succeeded in creating strategic pressure points like activating its only foreign airbase in Ayni in Tajikistan even as Chinese troops are patrolling Wakhan corridor on Tajikistan's south-east border, 30 km from Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) to prevent Uighurs from returning to Xinjiang.

India secured operational clearance from Russia to use Ayni in 2002. It has not deployed combat aircraft but utilises it for airlifting relief and construction material to Ayni and on to Farkhor from where it is trucked to Afghanistan. It has invested $100 million for renovating Ayni and extending the runway to 3,200 m and built three hangars for MiG 29 bombers. Around 100 Indian Air Force personnel are deployed there for maintenance of the airfield. Still, India cannot use Ayni as an operational air base because of the Russia-China-Pakistan axis. It is one of New Delhi's foreign policy failures, which would otherwise have acted as a strategic fulcrum between Afghanistan and PoK. Modi 2.0 should work on Ayni.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Devalued predictions

Sir — This refers to the editorial, "Vote for leadership" (May 21). Whether it's about television rating points (TRP) or the love for Prime Minister Narendra Modi is another matter for debate, but it was shocking that the news channels started declaring the exit poll results within seconds of the last votes polled (6.30pm). The six main pollsters showed that for the second time, Modi's National Democratic Alliance (NDA) will rule, winning anywhere between 287 and 336 seats.

What's even funny is that the final tally each survey predicted was varied but were uniformly well above the 272 seats needed to form a Government. As if to provide some relief to the Opposition, two surveys showed the NDA falling short — by between five and 30 seats. Surprisingly, Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu mocked the predictions, saying "exit polls do not mean exact polls. We have to understand this. Since 1999, most of the exit polls have gone wrong".

I agree with the Vice President and want to mention here that exit polls after the 2004 Lok Sabha

Exit poll confusion

Exit polls have accorded the Modi Government moments to rejoice at least until the electronic voting machines reveal the final count on May 23. Almost all pollsters were unanimous about a saffron surge, with some projecting 300 plus seats for the NDA. One or two among them dared to stick their neck out at the risk of being dumped in the isolation ward. Yet, the exit poll predictions present a minefield of confusion to the curious observer. Pollsters reached the magical number of more or less 300 through various combinations and permutations, where the NDA tally in Uttar Pradesh ranged between 22 and 68, West Bengal four and 22 and Maharashtra 34 and 40.

As can be seen, pollsters converged on the same target through unpleen different ways. Die-hard sceptics have shown the fault-lines vividly. Exit polls have bestowed a cover of credibility to the numbers that are to emerge from the electronic voting machines. In the dawn after, the share market indices rose sharply and the polls had given 68 more seats to the NDA than it got. But after the results, we had the Congress-led United Progressive Alliance (UPA) ruling India for the next 10 years. It has also been observed that when forecasters made mistakes in a few States but got the bigger picture right, the error in one State was cancelled out by the error in another; if the NDA or the UPA did not rise to the expectations in one State, it excelled in another. Hence, there is nothing wrong with Naidu devaluing exit polls.

Much-needed break

Sir — It's good that this impatient nation gets a few days to ponder over the ethos, evolution and the economy of the period that we are passing through now. Nationalism cannot be reduced to gross majoritarianism. Likewise, politics does have its genesis in confrontation but the reverse would be the very antithesis of socio-political evolution. The "us versus them" needs to yield to the notion of "we and the problem."

R Narayanan
Navi Mumbai

May 23 drama

Sir — This refers to the editorial, "Vote for leadership" (May 21). In a way, National Conference leader Omar Abdullah closed the lid by saying that all exit polls cannot be wrong. The 2014 exit polls were quite close to the actual result. If we go by the same analogy, Modi is back, albeit with a lesser majority, thus forcing him to change and mellow down for greater acceptance. However, if the actual result throws up a variation of 25 to 30 per cent, the whole thing will become topsy-turvy. Then, it will be like opening a Pandora's box or releasing a can of worms. Opposition parties will be quick to make their calculations and either the mahagathabandhan or the federal front will succeed. But there are many ifs and buts. Predicting an election in the world's largest democracy is really difficult as several factors like caste, religion, region, money power and voting percentage matter.

Excelling in stock market moves

Having a good knowledge about continuation chart patterns allows investors to speculate positively about trends

HIMA KOTA

For a novice, stock price alterations are haphazard movements up and down without any rhyme or reason. However, a trained eye can see patterns in these random moves. Chart patterns are geometric shapes found in price data that can help a trader understand price action as well as make predictions about where the price is likely to go. Patterns can show both continuation as well as reversal trends. Continuation patterns, when they occur, indicate that a price trend is likely to continue and are a pause in the price action of varying durations as they generally occur mid-trend. A pattern is considered complete when it has formed and then 'breaks out', potentially continuing with the former trend. Continuation patterns can be seen both in bullish and bearish markets.

Continuation patterns like all price patterns are made of the following four pieces: Old trend: The trend that the stock price is in as it starts to form the price pattern. Consolidation zone: A constrained area defined by set support and resistance levels. Breakout point: The point at which the stock price breaks out of the consolidation zone. New trend: A resumption of the old trend that the stock price enters as it comes out of the consolidation zone.

Continuation patterns form in a few different shapes but for most part, they look quite similar. The only real difference one will see is in the shape of the consolidation zone. The consolidation zones of some continuation patterns have support and resistance levels that converge as the pattern forms while others have support and resistance levels that remain parallel. Every other aspect of the price pattern is identical. Common continuation patterns include triangles, flags, pennants and rectangles.

Flags and pennants are formed during a small period of consolidation or pause, after a defined uptrend or downtrend. After a sharp move, market takes a breather and moves sideways. A flag looks like a parallelogram, a bullish flag normally sloping downwards and bearish flag sloping upwards. These patterns are usually accompanied with heavy volume and mark a midpoint of a trend. A pennant is also formed during the period of consolidation (sideways movement) — the support and resistance lines converge each other (like a symmetrical triangle). Break of the flag and pennant indicate the continuation of the trend. Flags and pennants are short-term patterns that can last from one to 12 weeks. Ideally, these patterns will form between one and four weeks.

Triangles are of three types: Symmetrical, ascending and descending. Ascending triangle in a bullish trend indicates further bullishness and is considered continuation pattern. In an ascending triangle, the support line is sloping upward and resistance line remains a horizontal line. Descending triangle in a bearish trend can also be considered as a continuation pattern, indicating bearish trend to continue after a small pause. In this kind of triangle resistance, the line is sloping downwards while the support line remains as a horizontal line. A rectangle is a continuation pattern that forms as a trading range during a pause in the trend. The pattern is easily identifiable by two comparable highs and two lows. The highs and lows can be connected to form two parallel lines that make up the top and bottom of a rectangle. Rectangles are sometimes referred to as trading ranges, consolidation zones or congestion areas. Rectangles can extend for a few weeks or many months. If the pattern is less than three weeks, it is usually considered a flag and also a continuation pattern. Ideally, rectangles will develop over a three-month period. Generally, longer the pattern, more significant will be the breakout. A three-month pattern may be expected to fulfill its breakout projection. However, a six-month pattern might be expected to exceed its breakout target.

After a look at the types of continuation price patterns, let us understand what causes them. In an up trend, the momentum moves down due to periodic profit booking. A good lot of traders think that it is enough or that they have reached their target. So they want to sell their position. The supply increases reducing the momentum of price rise or the price might even drop. Buy smart money finds it an opportunity to add more to their position. So the price slows to drop or it may even rise. Similarly, in a down trend, a lot of traders, who are short, want to book some profit. Those, who think that the stock is available for a bargain, start buying. But smart money finds it easy to sell when there is increased demand. When supply becomes more than the demand, the price falls further. And the trend continues. This tug of war between buyers and sellers moves the prices up and down, causing continuation chart patterns in stock charts before they continue in the direction of the original trend. Having good knowledge about continuation chart patterns allows investors to speculate positively about the further course of the trend. It allows them to add more to their existing position and helps investors to hold on for a longer period without worrying about temporary setbacks in stock prices.

China's 'Taobao' model is worth emulating by Indian policy-makers to revitalise the e-commerce industry and harness multiplying effects of digital technology in rural areas

BINDU DALMIA

Soon, the din of a bitterly fought, fractious election, where the discourse veered around some of the most irrelevant issues, will recede and the focus of the new Government will revert to policy interventions and formulating the forthcoming Budget. Economic policies of an elected Government have the single largest bearing upon the destiny of its polity. An increase in per-capita disposable income is one of the most vital indicators of successful governance and one that invariably favours the incumbent. Undoubtedly, the predominant electoral issue, which was relegated to the background, hinged on declining rural and urban income, decreased savings and slowing consumption. Conversely, closer to voting, poll dynamics showed that by March 2019, "net future expectations about the economy clocked a positive 48.6 per cent" as people were more optimistic about the larger economic course of the country in the likely event of Modi's second coming.

With the median age of India's population being 30 years, this aspirational demograph has gone past the roti-kapda-makaan basics of the last century to mobiles, internet and entrepreneurship. As forward planning yields results only after gestation periods of a three to five year lag, policy-makers will have to find ways to leapfrog job creation once the new regime is in place by June. India's consumption story has been losing momentum in major sectors like FMCG, cars and two-wheelers and services activity — slipping to multi-quarter lows as income stagnates — which is reflected in declining rural demand. The next Government will be confronted with the challenging task of lifting investment sentiments by remonetising the economy as consumption fuels jobs and income from job-earnings fuels consumption in turn.

Policy-makers have a key role to play in fostering an enabling environment that supports innovation for both agri-entrepreneurship and micro-entrepreneurship. Consider this: The combined market cap of the three largest IT companies of the US — Apple, Microsoft and Amazon — equals India's GDP and importantly, just the Chinese e-commerce major Alibaba's m-cap equals 20 per cent of our GDP. These growth models necessitate that policy-makers fire on all cylinders with newer paradigms to kick-start innovation and growth in the IT enabled sectors as also focus on the nascent digital platforms as job-creators.

The focus of this article is specifically on rural e-commerce as a propeller for job-creation. This will need public-private-partnerships with the likes of Amazon, Walmart, Reliance Retail and other e-commerce platforms on a national scale. The nascent e-tail market in India is projected to grow at 30 per cent annually, targeting $73 billion by 2022. Herein lies the biggest untapped job-creation potential, a prerequisite for which is deepening electronic payments through smartphones in order to reduce cash payments and encourage digital mode of transactions for online commerce.

China embarked on creating rural jobs a decade ago by implementing the 'Taobao' model for expanding employment avenues, alleviating poverty and vitalising the rural economy by harnessing multiplying effects of digital technology in rural areas. Consequently, e-commerce grew rapidly in China as trade volumes increased from less than 1,000 billion yuan ($120.8 billion) in 2004 to nearly 30,000 billion yuan ($4.44 trillion) in 2017.

The prototype has thrown surprising results for India to emulate. Though e-commerce is always more developed in urban areas, surprisingly online retail sales in rural areas grew faster than the national average. From 2014 to 2017, online retail sales in rural China increased from RMB 180 billion to 1.24 trillion, a compound annual growth rate of 91 per cent, compared to 35 per cent nationally. So, replicating this model in India, we can just imagine how this surge can alter the rural job-scape, which is in need of policy interventions. The experience in Taobao villages has sparked strong interest among policy-makers to tap the potential of e-commerce as a tool for poverty alleviation, financial empowerment for stay-at-home employment and rural vitalisation. The breakthrough was seen most in the ratio increase of women-to-men entrepreneurs in e-commerce being at near parity, compared to a ratio of 1:3 in traditional businesses.

The Alibaba Group initiative of the Rural Taobao Programme, in collaboration with the Government, supported rural clusters with real-time access to a wide range of goods and services, replacing the expensive brick and mortar shop-floor business model. This helped farmers earn more for their produce as they could directly sell their produce to urban consumers in online platforms. The programme required job-stepping multiple initiatives to streamline cross-country linkages in infrastructure by laying the ground work for service networks in counties and villages; providing training in e-commerce and promoting entrepreneurship; and developing rural financial services through the Ant Financial subsidiary of Alibaba.

The Rural Taobao Programme has now expanded from 212 villages in 12 counties in 2014 to more than 30,000 villages in 1,000 counties in 2018, spreading from the coast to inland. It focussed on improving rural e-commerce supply chains, promoting connectivity between agriculture and commerce and enhancing e-commerce training. The scheme grew rapidly and by 2018, had supported 1,016 demonstration counties, covering 737 poverty-stricken counties (89 per cent of the total), including 137 counties with extreme poverty (41 per cent of the total). The experience in China offers a compelling model to pursue as a 'Global Best Practice' prototype for India. The report demonstrated how digital technology has the potential to harness inclusive growth, unlike previous revolutions, especially when policies and public-private sector work in synergy. Experience in other developed countries has made for a compelling case to adapt and integrate digitally enabled ecosystems as an engine for transformational growth in providing jobs and enhancing livelihoods to the rural population at their doorstep, without the need to migrate to bigger cities.

Achieving inclusive growth is a vital pillar to achieve Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations. To achieve this, digitisation has been proven to have had a multiplier impact on inclusive growth in China as its e-commerce market has become the largest in the world within a span of just 10 years, moving millions out of poverty. To further this model, it needs collective collaboration with best research minds globally to work together and evolve paradigms that will optimise the power of digitisation in order to bridge income and opportunity inequalities.

The data coming out of the Chinese model offers great insights into how India can integrate open e-commerce platforms with mobile payments and digitally based financial services "in order to support SMEs access larger potential markets than the gravity model for trade in the physical world." Why this model is best adaptable in India is because the platform-centered ecosystem has low entry barriers for capital requirements and also because education and digital skill requirements are minimal, which is a perfect fit to India's rural demographics, where people with low literacy levels can be gainfully employed.

China, too, was earlier a high-cash economy until the mobile payment revolution happened. Before the advent of digitisation, in the pre-digital commerce era, only proximity to a well-developed commercial area afforded residents access to an array of physical marketplaces and consumer products. Now through Alibaba's Taobao and Tmall e-platforms, the average shopping distance on these platforms is close to 1,000 kilometres, compared with a few kilometers in traditional retail markets.

And in less developed regions, people are buying a wider variety of consumer goods online, offsetting the disadvantages of their local markets. This has enabled 10 million SMEs and start-ups in remotest of villages to start businesses from home and work on flexi-timings, shrinking urban-rural income disparities.

As China leads the world in mobile payments and online money transfers with 1.25 billion internet users, digital footprints, Artificial Intelligence (AI) and algorithms are helping in risk-assessment in real time. "So now, Chinese startups have access to credit without collateral via the innovative '310' credit model: 3 minutes to apply for a loan, 1 second to get it approved, with 0 manual interference," signifying speed, precision and efficiency.

Digital platforms have evolved into an institutional form where they act as the nodal institutions to create an enabling environment for SMEs with support in marketing, product management, online operations, customer service, cash management, logistics, business advisory and data analysis, covering essentially every aspect of running a business. The Tao Factory platform on Alibaba connects 40,000 factories from more than 30 industries with Taobao sellers to form an integrated supply chain market. This calls for well-tested pilot-modules if the Chinese experience has to be successfully Indianised. Once disadvantaged groups can participate in the modern digital economy, positive results could follow in a sustainable way.

I personally anticipate unprecedented rapid structural and growth oriented reforms to gather pace under Modi 2.0 because 'Team Modi' will be on performance overdrive in his follow-on term. Modi has the pulse of the nation right, knowing too well that emerging India strives to enter the middle-income category, with a per capita income of $2,000, wherein the aspirational classes seek empowerment through an honourable livelihood instead of welfareist handouts by the State.

United colours of Opposition a pipedream?

Undaunted by exit polls, Opposition unity efforts have gained momentum this past week. Almost all players have at some point in time dreamt of the prime ministerial job but the road to it is strewn with many hurdles and their contradictions

KALYANI SHANKAR

Most exit polls have predicted a clear majority for the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) but this hasn't stopped the Opposition from going ahead with its plans of forming a non-BJP coalition to stake claim to power. Opposition leaders, including West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, have pooh-poohed the exit poll predictions, claiming they were all wrong. Congress leaders in private have rubbished them pointing out that the pollsters had gone wrong in 2004. It is this hope that is keeping the unity move going forward.

Opposition parties are preparing for a 1996 (United Front) or 2004 (UPA) post-poll scenario, expecting a hung Parliament. The Opposition unity efforts gained momentum this past week and is continuing to gather strength even after the exit polls.

Can the anti-BJP front become a reality? Most major Opposition parties are coming together as they don't want to be caught napping if the BJP fails to get a majority. UPA chairperson Sonia Gandhi has convened a meeting of 21 Opposition parties on May 23, the day when the results will be announced. Sonia Gandhi, who took a back seat ever since she handed over the baton to her son Rahul Gandhi last March, has come to the forefront again because the Congress feels that senior Opposition leaders like former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda, Nationalist Congress Party chief Sharad Pawar, Mamata Banerjee, Loktantrik Janata Dal (LJD) chief Sharad Yadav and others will have no hesitation to work under her. During the campaign, Sonia Gandhi had herself reminded people about the 2004 surprise victory of the UPA in spite of the "India shining campaign" of the BJP.

The main anchor for the unity move is Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu. Fearing a total rout in his State, Naidu has been busy looking for a national role. He has been visiting Rahul Gandhi, Mamata Banerjee, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav, Sharad Yadav, Sharad Pawar, Bahujan Samaj Party supreme Mayawati and others, holding intensive talks with them about staking claim with the President in case the BJP did not get the majority. Insiders say that they want to try the Karnataka model where the Congress prevented the BJP from forming the Government by supporting a junior party Janata Dal (Secular) though the BJP had emerged the single largest party. It is this 'keep BJP out' move which is binding the Opposition. But for all these, the results have to show a hung Parliament with the BJP getting less than 200 seats. Only then can the Opposition get a chance.

Let us once assume that there is a possibility of a situation as created in 1996 or 2004. In 1996, the Congress supported the United Front Government. The constituents chose Deve Gowda as Prime Minister though he was the fourth choice after VP Singh, Jyoti Basu and GK Moohan. Even at that time, it was not easy for the rag-tag coalition to decide as there were many aspirants. In 2004, the UPA won the race.

Naidu wants to cobble together a coalition of regional parties and take help of the Congress to form a Government at the Centre. Though the Congress may be the single largest Opposition party, Naidu expects it to play second fiddle and reserve the Prime Minister's post for a regional leader. There are too many aspirants for the post among the regional satraps. The Congress is the only party other than the BJP that is likely to cross the 100 mark and it would surely demand the top post for Rahul Gandhi. Pre-poll allies like Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam chief MK Stalin, Deve Gowda and Rashtriya Janata Dal leader Tejashwi Prasad Yadav have supported Rahul Gandhi's claim. Mamata Banerjee, too, is a front-runner for the post. Mayawati has not hidden her ambitions of becoming the Prime Minister since many years. Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrababhu Naidu believes that with his 16 seats, he can become the kingmaker. Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik, too, is demanding the price of a special status for his State.

Sharad Pawar is the seniormost leader, who has good relations with all players and had been nursing prime ministerial ambition for decades. How do you reconcile these interests for a single position, which is not vacant yet?

It is not going to be easy for the non-BJP parties to stake claim. They have to cross many hurdles, including choosing their prime ministerial face, a Common Minimum Programme and dealing with inherent contradictions in such a coalition among other things. Past record shows that there have been five non-Congress, non-BJP Governments so far and none of them lasted a full term. Four of them had the support of the Congress while the BJP supported the fifth one.

After May 23, if the NDA forms the Government, the Opposition should play a constructive role as a collective entity if they don't achieve their dream. They must remember that by staying divided, they helped Prime Minister Modi get a second term. Had they been united before the elections, they might have defeated the BJP.

FOREIGN EYE

THERE ARE NO WINNERS

The tangled global webs of interdependence between hardware and software, China and the West, show how vulnerable both sides are to the other and how impossible it is for either to achieve technological autarchy. But this struggle is not really about technology. It is about dominance: Who is to be the master. Whether it is China or the US, both sides will suffer and third parties will perhaps suffer most. India projected to grow at 7.1% in FY '20: UN

PTI ■ UNITED NATIONS

India's economy is projected to grow at 7.1 per cent in fiscal year 2020 on the back of strong domestic consumption and investment but the GDP growth is a downward revision from the 7.4 per cent estimated in January this year, according to a report by the United Nations.

The World Economic Situation and Prospects (WESP) 2019 Mid-year Update, released here Tuesday, said that the Indian economy, which generates two-thirds of the regional output in South Asia, expanded by 7.2 per cent in 2018.

"Strong domestic consumption and investment will continue to support growth, which is projected at 7.0 per cent in 2019 and 7.1 per cent in 2020," the report said.

The estimates for India, however, reflect a downward revision from the projections made in the World Economic Situation and Prospects 2019 report released in January this year. That report had estimated that India would grow at 7.6 per cent in fiscal year 2019 and 7.4 per cent in 2020. It must be noted that despite the downward revisions, India remains the fastest growing major economy in the world, ahead of China.

The WESP mid-year update noted that growth projections for 2019 have been revised downward in all major developed economies. The growth outlook for many developing economies has also weakened, it said, adding that despite downward revisions, growth in India remains "strong" amid robust domestic demand.

"The global growth outlook has weakened amid unresolved trade tensions and elevated international policy uncertainty. Across both developed and developing countries, growth projections for 2019 have been downgraded. Alongside a slow-down in international trade, business sentiments have deteriorated, casting a cloud on investment prospects," the report said.

World gross product growth is now expected to moderate from 3.0 per cent in 2018 to 2.7 per cent in 2019 and 2.9 per cent in 2020, reflecting a downward revision from WESP 2019 forecast released in January. In tandem with slowing industrial production, international trade activity has visibly weakened, reflecting in part unresolved trade disputes between the United States of America and China.

In the US, the growth momentum is projected to moderate as headwinds from trade policy are compounded by the waning effects of fiscal stimulus. Growth in China is projected to moderate gradually from 6.6 per cent in 2018 to 6.3 per cent in 2019 and 6.2 per cent in 2020.

In China, recent monetary and fiscal stimulus measures are expected to bolster domestic demand, partially offsetting the adverse impact of trade tariffs on overall growth. Nevertheless, these measures could also exacerbate domestic financial imbalances, raising the risk of a disorderly deleveraging process in the future.

South Asia remains on a strong growth path, even as forecasts have been revised downward. Following an expansion of 5.7 per cent in 2018, GDP growth is estimated at 5.0 per cent in 2019 and 5.8 per cent in 2020. However, across the region, output continues to be constrained by infrastructure bottlenecks.

The report added that India's exports remain more robust, as around half of exports are destined for faster-growing Asian markets, while geopolitical risks continue to confront Afghanistan and Iran.

The slowdown in global economic activity has triggered a shift towards easier monetary policy stances across many developed and developing economies, it said, adding that this shift is taking place in an environment of subdued global inflation, amid weakening demand and a moderate outlook for global commodity prices.

The service will be complimentary for the first three years and HMIL has also trained 615 'Blue Link Wizards' all across India to help new Hyundai customers learn the connected features of the vehicle.

The Venue, which will take on the Maruti-Suzuki Brezza, Mahindra XUV300, Ford EcoSport and Tata Nexon will come with three engine options, two petrol and one diesel. This includes a all-new one-litre turbocharged petrol engine which also features a seven-speed dual-clutch gearbox as an automatic option. A 1.2-litre petrol with a five-speed manual transmission and 1.4 litre diesel with a six-speed manual transmission will also be available. There will be four members of the media. HMIL has already seen over 50,000 enquiries and over 15,000 confirmed bookings for the Venue orders for which began earlier this month, two-thirds of the demand has been for petrol variants and there is also strong demand for the automatic according to HMIL officials. And Hyundai confirmed that they will continue to produce and sell diesel vehicles after the introduction of Bharat Stage 6 emission norms, this after rival Maruti-Suzuki indicated they would withdraw from selling diesels, the Venue is not BS6 compliant for the moment. The company also indicated that they would be adding some 50,000 new units to their production capacity in Chennai but have no plans to add another production line just yet and Kim refused to confirm if Hyundai would produce vehicles at the upcoming Kia facility in Andhra Pradesh.

China rebuffs US President's 'rip-off' charge

PTI ■ BEIJING

China on Tuesday dismissed as unscientific and unprofessional US President Donald Trump's charge that Beijing has ripped off America with unfair business practices for decades.

The US and China are locked in a bruising trade war since Trump imposed heavy tariffs on imported steel and aluminium items from China in March last year, a move that sparked fears of a global trade war. In response, China imposed tit-for-tat tariffs on billions of dollars worth of American imports.

Trump once again accused China of ripping off United States at a rally in Montoursville, Pennsylvania on Monday, attacking his potential re-election challenger Joe Biden for minimising the economic threat posed by Beijing. "They want Biden so that China can continue to make $500 billion dollars a year and more ripping off the United States," he said.

"Past leaders let China freely plunder the US economy and take the crown jewels of American industry," Trump said. Reacting to Trump's charge, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Lu Kang told media here that any trade deal should be balanced and mutually beneficial.

"It is necessary to distinguish between reciprocity and which side gains advantage. In trade relations, they are not the same thing. It is unrealistic to ask for absolute equal openness and not to mention that economic globalisation is a process that countries complement each other's advantages," he said.

Sensex slumps 383 pts on profit booking

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Benchmark indices took U-turn from record high levels touched during early trade on Tuesday, with the BSE Sensex tripping nearly 383 points and the NSE Nifty shedding over 119 points as investors hurried up to book profits.

An intense selling was seen, barring initial hours, across sectors after market participants sensed that exit polls euphoria over BJP's likely win in the general election has already been factored in appropriately.

After hitting an intra-day record high of 39,571.73, the 30-share index ended 382.87 points, or 0.97 per cent, lower at 38,969.80. The gauge hit the day's low of 38,884.85.

In a similar movement, the broader NSE Nifty plunged 119.15 points, or 1.01 per cent, to 11,709.10.

Tata Motors was the biggest loser in the Sensex pack, dipping 7.05 per cent, a day after the company posted a 49 per cent decline in March quarter profit. Maruti, IndusInd Bank, M&M, Bharti Airtel, SBI, PowerGrid, Hero MotoCorp, Tata Steel, ICICI Bank, Infosys, Yes Bank and TCS too fell up to 3.25 per cent.

On the other hand, RIL, HUL and Bajaj Finance ended in the green, rising up to 1.08 per cent.

The broader BSE midcap and smallcap indices ended in the red in line with benchmarks, falling up to 0.84 per cent.

Traders believe that though a profit-booking emerged at higher levels but election rally may continue if the election results come as per exit polls prediction.

On Monday, the 30-share index skyrocketed 1,421.90 points, or 3.75 per cent, to 39,352.67, and the Nifty soared 421.10 points, or 3.69 per cent, to 11,828.25.

The rally came after a majority of exit polls forecast Minister Narendra Modi. The results of the seven-phase polls will be announced on May 23.

Meanwhile, the Indian rupee was trading marginally lower at 69.76 against the US dollar.

Brent crude, the global benchmark, was trading at 72.01 per barrel, higher by 0.04 per cent.

Globally, bourses in Asia ended on a mixed note, while those in Europe were trading in the green in their respective early deals.

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The finance ministry has asked Airports Authority of India to issue shares in lieu of the Rs 656 crore capital it has received from the government, sources said.

AAI, a 100 per cent government owned statutory corporation, was constituted by an Act of Parliament and came into being on April 1, 1995, by merging erstwhile National Airports Authority and International Airports Authority of India.

The AAI is yet to issue shares to the government in lieu of the equity infusion worth Rs 656.56 crore made over the years. The matter came to the notice of the ministry last year during discussions over share buy back by profit making public sector enterprises.

Subsequently, officials of the ministries of finance, corporate affairs and civil aviation held discussions on corporatisation of AAI and legal opinion was also obtained on share issuance corresponding to the capital infusion.

"The finance ministry has written to AAI for issuing shares in lieu of the paid-up capital of Rs 656.56 crore infused by the Government," the sources told PTI.

Once the issuance of shares to the government is sorted out, steps would be initiated for converting the AAI into a company under the Companies Act. After conversion, the government can decide on divestment of equity, share buyback or listing of the AAI on the bourses.

NCLAT to hear plea against Flipkart

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The NCLAT has admitted a petition filed by an online vendors association challenging the orders of fair trade regulator CCI, which had absolved e-commerce major Flipkart of unfair practices using its dominant position.

The National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) has also approved the delay of 12 days in filing appeal (by the association) against the order of the Competition Commission of India (CCI).

"The appeal is admitted for hearing. As the respondents have appeared, no further notice need be issued," said the National Company Law Tribunal in its order on May 15.

A three-member NCLAT bench headed by Chairman Justice S J Mukhopadhyaya has directed to list the matter for hearing on July 30.

The NCLAT is the appellate authority for the orders passed by the CCI since May 2017.

Passing an order on November 6, 2018, the CCI had held that the business practices of Flipkart and Amazon are not in violation of competition norms and rejected allegations of abuse of market dominance made by All India Online Vendors Association (AIOVA).

AIOVA has alleged abuse of market dominance against Flipkart India Pvt Ltd, which is into wholesale trading/distribution of books, mobiles, computers and related accessories, and e-commerce marketplace Flipkart Internet Pvt Ltd.

The CCI had ruled that looking at the present market construct and structure of online marketplace platforms in India, "it does not appear that any one player in the market is commanding any dominant position at this stage of evolution of market".

While concluding that there is no violation of Section 4 of the Competition Act, which pertains to abuse of dominant market position, the CCI said that the Flipkart marketplace is required to comply with conditions applicable to entities involved in the business of e-commerce, as set out in the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017.

"As such, Flipkart Internet is bound by these laws, the compliance of which is ensured by the relevant authorities," the order said.

Citing the market construct and the context of examining allegations against Flipkart, the CCI noted that there is also no case of contravention of Section 4 by Amazon as well.

AIOVA, as mentioned in CCI order, is a group of over 2,000 sellers selling on e-commerce marketplaces such as Flipkart, Amazon, Snapdeal

Singapore, Canada seek to join WTO consultations against India

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Singapore and Canada have expressed interest in joining consultations in a case filed by Japan in the WTO's dispute settlement body against India's import duties on certain information and communication technology products, including mobile phones.

According to a communication of the World Trade Organisation (WTO), both countries have stated that they have a substantial trade interest in information and communication technology (ICT) goods.

On May 14, Japan dragged India to the WTO over the import duties imposed on certain electronic goods including telephones for cellular networks; machines for reception, conversion and transmission; or regeneration of voice, images or other data; and parts of telephone sets.

It alleged that imposition of import duties on these products by India infringes WTO norms as India has committed zero per cent bound tariffs on these products.

While bound tariffs or duties refer to the ceiling over which a WTO member country cannot impose import duty, the applied tariff is the duty which is currently in place.

In a separate communication, Singapore said it "desires to be joined in India's consultations with Japan".

"This is because Singapore, as one of the world's largest exporters of ICT products, with export value of USD 120 billion annually, has substantial trade interest in this matter," it said.

Similarly, Canada has said that during 2016-2018, India's imports from Canada of ICT products have aggregated at USD 28.7 billion.

"This reflected 31.2 per cent of India's total imports of ICT products from Canada. ICT is an important sector for Canada's economy which relies on access to global markets.

"Over 2016-2018, Canada's global exports of all ICT products averaged USD 11.3 billion and accounted for 2.8 per cent of all Canadian exports," the north american country said in its communication.

As per WTO rules, seeking consultation is the first step of dispute settlement process.

If the bilateral consultations requested by the complainant with India do not result in a satisfactory solution, it can request the WTO to set up a dispute panel to pass a ruling on the matter.

Singapore and Canada require approval from India and Japan to join the consultation process.

A WTO member country can file a dispute if it perceives that another country's trade policies or actions are violating global trade norms.

India's bilateral trade with Canada and Singapore stood at USD 7.23 billion and USD 17.7 billion respectively, in 2017-18. Chinese Taipei has also expressed interest in joining these consultations.

Dual hearings on Capitol Hill focus on Trump's Iran policy

AP ■ WASHINGTON

As questions mount over President Donald Trump's tough talk on Iran, top national security officials are heading to Capitol Hill to brief Congress. But skeptical Democrats have asked for a second opinion.

The competing closed-door sessions Tuesday, unusual and potentially polarising, come after weeks of escalating tensions in the Persian Gulf that have raised alarms over a possible military confrontation with Iran. Lawmakers are warning the Trump administration it cannot take the country into war without approval from Congress, and the back-to-back briefings show the wariness among Democrats, and some Republicans, over the

Pompeo says 'quite possible' Iran behind Gulf incidents

AFP ■ WASHINGTON

US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo said on Tuesday it was "quite possible" Iran was responsible for sabotage of Gulf oil interests as he prepared to brief lawmakers on rising tensions. Pompeo cautioned that the United States has not made "a definitive conclusion" that can be presented publicly over mysterious sabotage incidents of oil tankers off the United Arab Emirates or drone strikes on a crude pipeline in Saudi Arabia.

"But given all the regional conflicts that we have seen over the past decade and the shape of these attacks, it seems like it's quite possible that Iran was behind these," Pompeo told conservative radio host Hugh Hewitt.

White House's sudden policy shifts in the Middle East. Trump, veering between bombast and conciliation in his quest to contain Iran, threatened Monday to meet provocations by Iran with "great force," but also said he's willing to negotiate. "We'll see what happens," Trump told reporters as he left the White House for a campaign rally. He said Iran has been "very hostile."

Indonesia's Joko Widodo wins second term as Prez

AFP ■ JAKARTA

Indonesia's Joko Widodo has been re-elected as president of the world's third-biggest democracy, the elections commission said early on Tuesday, beating rival Prabowo Subianto, a retired general who has vowed to challenge any victory for the incumbent leader.

The commission was expected to announce the official results of the April 17 poll on Wednesday in the Southeast Asian nation of 260 million.

But amid fears about unrest and street demonstrations in response to the final count, the final tally was released early with little advance notice.

His challenger Subianto, 67, has vowed to challenge any victory for Widodo, alleging widespread voter fraud, and warned that it could spark street protests across the world's biggest Muslim majority nation.

"This ruling was announced on May 21... and will be effectively immediately," the commission's chair Arief Budiman said in a live streamed announcement that was broadcast on major media. Widodo, 57, had been widely predicted to win according to unofficial results. His challenger Subianto, 67, has vowed to challenge any victory for Widodo, alleging widespread voter fraud, and warned that it could spark street protests across the world's biggest Muslim majority nation.

May tweaks Brexit deal in last-ditch bid to win support

London: The British Government on Tuesday debated tweaking its proposed European Union divorce terms in a last-ditch attempt to get Parliament's backing for Prime Minister Theresa May's deal with the bloc.

The Cabinet met to work out details of what May has called a "bold offer" to win support for her Brexit agreement. But divided Ministers looked unlikely to support the kind of sweeping alterations that could change lawmakers' minds on a divorce deal that has been rejected three times by Parliament.

Britain was due to leave the EU on March 29, but the bloc extended the deadline until October 31 amid the political impasse. Talks on securing a compromise between May's Conservatives and the opposition Labour Party broke down last week. May says she will try again in early June by asking lawmakers to vote on a withdrawal agreement bill implementing the departure terms.

The bill is likely to include promises on issues such as workers' rights and environmental protections that are priorities for the left-of-center Labour Party. AP

Saudi media accuses Yemen rebels of missile fire at Mecca

Riyadh: Saudi-owned media accused Yemeni rebels Tuesday of targeting Islam's holiest city Mecca after Riyadh and its allies said they had intercepted two missiles over the kingdom.

The exiled Yemeni government, which is based in Saudi Arabia, echoed the claim but the Huthi rebels denied any such attack.

Coalition spokesman Colonel Turki al-Maliki said two missiles were shot down between Jeddah and Taiz districts of Mecca province on Monday but did not elaborate on the suspected target or who fired them. AFP

McGahn to defy subpoena for testimony, face contempt vote

House Democrats are facing yet another attempt by President Donald Trump to stonewall their investigations, this time with former White House counsel Donald McGahn defying a subpoena for his testimony on orders from the White House.

A lawyer for McGahn said he would follow the president's directive and skip Tuesday's House Judiciary hearing, leaving the Democrats without yet another witness — and a growing debate within the party about how to respond.

Serbian lawmakers OK's unconditional life sentences

AFP ■ BELGRADE (SERBIA)

Serbian lawmakers amended on Tuesday the penal code to introduce a life sentence without parole, despite concerns voiced by the Council of Europe. Until now, the maximum sentence in Serbia, which seeks to join the European Union, was 40 years in prison.

According to the new law, those sentenced to life imprisonment will be able to ask a tribunal to review their sentence once they have spent 27 years behind bars. But those convicted of rape followed by murder, or serious crimes against children or pregnant women, will not have that option.

Interdisciplinary approach towards education can help embed necessary soft skills in students and make them job ready. PROFESSOR RANJAN BOSE tells you how

INTER-ACT WITH YOUR SKILLS

Today, we face a wide range of challenges, such as controlling pollution, understanding global warming, disaster mitigation, traffic-safety, low-cost healthcare, energy and food scarcity, to name a few. All these challenges cross the boundaries of any one discipline. Experts from different domains must work together to provide practical solutions to these problems. In a nutshell, all these problems are interdisciplinary.

Education in India is presently going through interesting times and also facing some hard questions regarding its relevance in the current scenario. It has emerged that, of the 15 million graduates entering the market each year, about 75 per cent lack the basic soft-skills and technical know-how to execute even the core tasks of their job profiles. A McKinsey report indicates that only 25 per cent of Indian engineers are actually employable and the numbers can further fall down to less than 20 percent if the condition doesn't improve on time. What should be done to address the problem? Can interdisciplinary education address part of the problem by equipping our students with skills to understand and solve real-world problems? Can an interdisciplinary research mindset nudge our students towards creative problem solving? The words 'multidisciplinary', 'interdisciplinary' and 'trans-disciplinary' are used a lot. In a multidisciplinary approach, each discipline contributes a piece of the jigsaw and it is actually an addition of parts. Interdisciplinary approach, on the other hand, integrates domain knowledge of different fields, different ways of working and different methods of problem solving. So, it has a multiplicative effect. Trans-disciplinary work permeates through several disciplines in a manner such that the whole is greater than the sum of the parts.

THINKING DIFFERENTLY

The foundation of interdisciplinary education is based on the core idea of the constructive paradigm. It suggests that students can create their own understanding and knowledge of the world by integrating new experiences with alternate ideas through theoretical exploration and practical exposure. However, interdisciplinary education is much more than that. It enables us to learn how to think in a way that is different from the way we are used to thinking in our own field. It empowers us to break silos.

Towards this goal of thinking differently, our educational institutes should provide an enabling platform where students can develop their interdisciplinary skills along with their regular study programmes. For this to happen, the educators first need to get out of their silos. Class projects should be floated with students and supervisors from different disciplines. Experts from different walks of life should regularly interact with students to broaden their thought processes and the ability to assimilate new ideas. The whole college campus should be transformed into a tinkering-lab of ideas from various domains. This enabling environment should also teach our students to work in teams in a coherent fashion and respect alternate view-points.

DEGREES

From the perspective of education, there can be many different degrees of inter-disciplinarity. We can have inter-disciplinarity associated with class-activities and projects, for example, a class-project that requires students to build a mobile-phone based app to monitor and control soil-moisture remotely. Students from different disciplines/departments can work on such projects. At the next level of granularity, the courses can be interdisciplinary, for example, a course on Algorithms in Computational Biology. And finally, we can have entire programmes that are interdisciplinary, for example, BTech in Computer Science and Social Sciences.

From the perspective of research, there can also be many different degrees of inter-disciplinarity. An expert in computer science may collaborate with an expert in social sciences to solve a problem related to social-media analytics. Collaborations can happen between two areas of specialisation, for example, an expert in liquid crystals can work with a material scientist within the domain of applied physics to develop new types of sensors. Different domains can fuse together to generate new research areas, for example computational biology (which is itself interdisciplinary) has merged with gastronomy to produce the interesting area of computational gastronomy. As we go ahead with the notion of interdisciplinary education and research, we should be conscious about these different degrees of inter-disciplinarity and use them appropriately.

OTHER BENEFITS

Building connections amongst disparate concepts are crucial learning elements provided in the framework of interdisciplinary education. Here are some other benefits of interdisciplinary education:

■ Students are more likely to pursue interdisciplinary topics that are interesting to them, especially if they are rooted in real-world problems. Consequently, the learning has more meaning, coupled with a real purpose, and is likely to stay with the student for a lifetime.

■ Students learn to consolidate knowledge after synthesising ideas from different perspectives. This further develops critical thinking, unstructured problem solving and research abilities of the students and pushes them to think beyond boundaries. They appreciate the notion of similarity and differences by considering contrasting viewpoints from various subject areas.

■ Even in the slowdown phase of a particular industry, future engineers with a degree in interdisciplinary studies will have an edge to nimbly switch to another sector.

■ An interdisciplinary education can nudge students towards taking up entrepreneurial ventures.

■ It will teach our students to remain relevant in this ever-morphing world, where the expectations from engineers will undoubtedly change completely in the next decade or so.

Interdisciplinary education strengthens the cognitive abilities of students. The students learn to cross mental borders, respect other people's points of view and communicate their own ideas to people from other domains. They further develop the capacity to question assumptions, think in creative and innovative ways, and solve unstructured problems. Development of these important soft-skills are a direct consequence of interdisciplinary education.

It is the joint responsibility of the educational system and the student-body to become aware of our rapidly changing world and to take appropriate action from the perspective of interdisciplinary education.

R L TRIKHA, FIITJEE expert, shares do's and don'ts for JEE Advanced exam scheduled to be held on May 27

After the successful completion of the second session of JEE Main 2019 conducted by NTA in the month of April, many aspirants are eyeing to clear the JEE Advanced 2019 scheduled to be conducted on May 27, 2019. With NTA's decision to conduct the Main exam twice a year has provided many students with a second opportunity to enhance their performance. The best of the two scores will be considered to mark the rankings for getting shortlisted for the JEE Advanced. Around 2,24,000 students will be declared eligible to appear in JEE Advanced examination.

Students eagerly awaiting good score and ranking in the JEE Main exam are simultaneously getting ready to face the final JEE Advanced test. Organised by IIT Roorkee, both the papers — Paper I and Paper II will be conducted in computer-based mode and it is mandatory to appear in both. There are no changes in the pattern of the exam, the time duration allotted to each paper remains three hours with objective type questions from Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics with equal weightage. As in past, various types of questions are possible to be asked such as single/multi correct out of four given choices, Numerical Type with single digit/Decimal Type Answers, passage based questions having four choices with one or more correct, Matrix-Match/Matrix-List Type. It is thus advised to practise as many online mock tests/past papers as possible. In the era of cut-throat competition to get through the IIT's, preparation strategies play a major role in the road to success. The following tips will help students prepare well for the JEE Advanced 2019:

■ Keep your Focus right: As just a week is left for the exam, you have to keep your focus intact. Stick to your plan and strategy because a new strategy may give worst results.

■ Concept wise study: Go for concepts wise studies. This will help in fast learning.

■ Don't start a fresh topic: Don't start a fresh topic. Try to strong the topics and sections which are already been studied by you.

■ Create a bunch of flash cards: For all the important formulas and topics, try to make flash card as it will help in memorizing it quickly and easily.

■ Solve mock tests: Attempting the mock test will help to know your preparation level. Not only this, the students will get familiar with the computer-based test. Mock test is the replica of the actual exam; it will also help them to learn time management.

■ Stay positive: Take right amount of pressure. Don't let negative vibes affect your preparation level.

■ Do's:

■ Arrive early at the examination centre

■ Keep your admit card with you

■ Listen to the instructions given in the examination hall carefully

■ Do check for your name, photograph and your roll number in front of the computer system assigned to you.

■ Read all the questions carefully

■ Clear your doubts if any

■ Do remember to collect your admit card once the exam is over.

■ Don'ts:

■ Do not indulge in any unfair practice in the exam hall

■ Do not hurry while answering the questions

■ Do not disturb other candidates

■ Don't answer in a hurry. On the other hand, don't waste time also

■ Don't spare more than the required amount of time on an answer

■ Don't answer questions simply as you could lose marks if you answer negatively marked questions.

Technical education takes centrestage

Armoured with world class infrastructure and reinforced with eminent faculty, the Jaypee Universities have created a niche for themselves in revolutionising the field of technical education.

Located in Himachal Pradesh (Jaypee University of Information Technology, JUIT), Madhya Pradesh (Jaypee University of Engineering and Technology, JUET) and Uttar Pradesh (Jaypee University, Anoopshahr, JUA), the universities offer undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral programs in major branches of engineering, creating technocrats who are excelling in different spheres of life.

Talking about increasing the Universities' reach to a larger number of students, VC of Jaypee University Prof SC Saxena said: "In addition to increased professional counseling of outgoing class XII students in schools, in the first phase of five years starting June 2019, special incentives for wards of Defence/Paramilitary forces are being offered. There will be a reservation of 10 per cent seats for admission in all BTECH programmes offered in JUIT, JUET and JUA and special academic fee concession will also be offered." He further added that education is the most important tool for transformation and empowerment as identified by the founder of Jaiprakash Sewa Sansthan (JSS), Jaiprakash Gaur, who always emphasised that imparting quality education is the best service to the society. The special discount offer is dedicated to further the above cause.

The VC attributes the high ranking of the Jaypee Institutions to the Universities' key infrastructure and resources including well qualified and experienced faculty, fully equipped labs, well stocked library, separate hostels for boys and girls, good quality food, fully networked campus, facilities for games and associated utilities for student's comfort and providing excellent environment for teaching learning process. "Balanced faculty focus between cutting edge results and class room teaching has paved the way for imparting high quality education. Our faculty is encouraged to undertake research and have their papers published in highly indexed and cited international journals. It is important to note that to offer quality education, all

ICSI signs MoU for Int'l commerce olympiad

The Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) signed an MoU with Science Olympiad Foundation (SOF) at the ICSI Head Office, New Delhi for holding the International Commerce Olympiad (ICO) for the students of Class XI and Class XII, in schools across India, Dubai, Nepal, Singapore and Qatar.

The ICO, which was earlier known as the CS Olympiad (CSO), was first conducted by ICSI on September 15, 2016 & October 4, 2016, in the academic year 2016-2017 in association with the SOF. Thousands of schools since then have been actively participating in this single level examination that aims at promoting reasoning skills and creating awareness about the CS course and profession among the student community across the globe.

President ICSI, CS Ranjeet Pandey and Officiating Secretary ICSI, CS Ashok Kumar Dixit signed the MoU on behalf of ICSI, whereas SOF Founder Director, Mahabir Singh and Rajan Marwah were signatories from the SOF.

ICSI Central Council Members CS Nagendra D Rao and CS B Narasimhan were also present during the MoU signing ceremony.

AI route

Developments taking place in artificial intelligence are spreading across the globe on an unprecedented and unforeseen scale, says SACHIN DEV DUGGAL

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has touched every industry including education where it is changing the way students, teachers and administrators are moving forward. The developments taking place in the technology called artificial intelligence are spreading across the globe on an unprecedented and unforeseen scale. As per the AI Market in the US Education Sector report, the AI market in the US education sector is expected to grow at a CAGR of 47% from 2018 until 2022. Of the numerous ways artificial intelligence will change the education sector, we've outlined 10 ways below.

Enhanced teacher-AI collaboration: Physical, human teachers see certain limitations like there is no scalable way for students to participate with teachers. This leads to gaps between the lessons teachers submit to their administrators and the principles students understand. With better use of AI (as well as VR and other technologies), participation can become more scalable to allow engagement between classes of all sizes and teachers who have more time to focus on making their subjects as fun and interesting as they are engaging for their pupils.

Individualised learning: Since learning styles differ from child to child, personalised learning can assist those children who face challenges learning (children with ADHD, autism or dyslexia). While it's not manually possible for a teacher to cater to every child's ability in a class of 30 students, AI can. It can help kids experiment to find which is the best way they can learn new skills.

Making education accessible to all: AI-enabled tools make classrooms available to all despite language, location or physical impairment. This helps such students in pursuing education who might not be able to undertake education otherwise for variety of reasons. How? Think about a student who can take classes virtually because they've been in the hospital for eight weeks.

Automating admin job: A teacher spends hours weekly — even daily — in assigning and assessing homework and tests. With the help of AI, this task could be done faster and easier for teachers, who often take their students assignments home to grade them. This allows more time to teachers to invest in each student or other activities that engage the classroom.

Automated grading: Grading can be a difficult, and sometimes burdening, process for teachers. Instead, AI-based computer programs can replicate a teacher's behaviour to assign grades to students' tests. This standardizes assessing every child's knowledge and keeps the teacher available to do other more pressing work. Thereafter, feedback on performance and the plan.

Virtual teachers: Although it's happening slowly, some universities are introducing virtual teachers and faculty who are useful in helping students who may not be available in classrooms all the time.

Chat campus: International universities are using AI to design systems that could help students on the campus in various ways. The AI-enabled program or a chatbot called chat campus would be answering questions about the campus. For example, where will the next class take place or what are the details on the next assignment? These free up time from both teachers as well as administrators to do more pressing tasks.

Adaptive learning: This is assumed to be one of the most crucial areas where AI could be beneficial. Schools could be enabled to keep track of the progress of each student and make alterations in the course and update the teacher about the challenges that every student faces.

Better institutional management: With a growing number of schools across the globe, there is an increasing interest in school management platforms for educational administrators. AI helps create such platforms which can assist institutions with recruitment, student information and fee collection.

Safety and security: With the help of AI, spotting patterns in a student's behaviour or conduct to gauge violence in the school is made easy. Students who are consistently violent towards others can be handled with more humanity, but can also be better tracked to ensure their pattern of violence is stopped.

AI can overall improve the system for students, teachers and administrators. Though certainly, there should be consideration into the execution of these systems of AI, their development and utilisation can add value to institutions of education worldwide.

'Hospitality degree takes you high'

The hospitality industry is booming and offering plenty of lucrative options to those who have just graduated, says DR KULNEET SURI

While most graduates are concerned that almost all industries are drying up when it comes to jobs, there's one sector that is still booming and will continue to do so in the years to come. As our country's economy improves, people are starting to invest more in tourism which in turn is boosting the hospitality industry. There are more hotels than ever, flights are over-booked and the current technology is helping the cause. The demand for professionals is at an all-time high and you can easily secure your dream job right after you pass out.

Here is a list of the jobs you can grab as a fresher right after completing your hospitality degree.

Event Manager: This is probably the most widely available post now. You can be a part of small startups, grab a job in a top firm or start your own independent venture. Be it a corporate event like launching a product or announcing an idea, or any personal event like marriages or birthday parties, the demand for event managers are shooting up. A hospitality degree from the right institute will give you the best possible start and you can earn without limits in the right job.

You will be responsible for planning and managing an entire event. With frequent promotions, the role will increasingly become managerial and you will have to handle a team. This profile is not restricted to any particular sector as almost all industries have the requirement for an event planner now.

Flight attendant or cabin crew: The aviation industry is the most common choice right after you complete your air hostess training. Not that you can't land any other job in the hospitality sector with your degree but being a cabin crew is probably one of the most satisfying. Your pay scale is much higher as compared to any other profiles, it involves extensive travelling and no desks, and your hospitality skills are the only ones you will ever need to rise up the corporate hierarchy.

The salary of an airhostess is higher than a cabin crew. The main responsibility of both is to attend to the need of passengers during the flight and guide them through emergencies if the need arises. You can work with both domestic and international airlines and the only thing that changes are the type of passengers you have to deal with.

Dr. Kulneet Suri

Travel Assistant or Manager: While travel assistant will be the most available post on offer, but you can also land managerial posts if you can show a top institute like Doyens Fly. The latter will come with a better package, more responsibilities and less to frequent travelling.

Your task will involve direct interaction with the customers. You will have to prepare itineraries, take care of travel and staying bookings, notify customers about the date and time and so on. There will be times when people will contact you just to inquire about travel arrangements about the place they want to visit. So, part of your job profile will also include gaining knowledge about various places.

Hotel Frontend Staff: You can either apply for a hotel clerk or something like a bellhop. You can also secure trainee or assistant positions if your degree is from an accredited institute. Salaries start at a decent amount of mid-six-figures and shoot up to almost 3 times when you become a manager.

Responsibilities will include attending to the hotel's guests, taking care of the reservations, informing customers about the hotel's facilities and much more. You may sit at the reception, take care of the restaurant section or any other special facility the hotel may have. One degree is the ticket for any job profile and the hotel industry is the perfect one for fast growth.

Imagine you have to write down as many uses for a brick as possible. In general, people would just start listing all their ideas. However, what if you started from a broader perspective, such as thinking about the properties of a brick. It is heavy, so you could use it as a paperweight, to hold down a garbage bag while raking, as an exercise weight, to grill juicer chicken, etc. It is also thick, so you could use it to prop up a planter or as a doorknob. It is red, it is hard, it's rectangular and others.

Brain is highly responsive to visuals and graphics; it processes images faster than words. Nevertheless, what if I tell you that you could use a technique to advance your creativity, memory and problem-solving abilities. It will be great if you could expand your range of tools to get a competitive edge and leverage full potential of your brain. Would you still be limiting yourself to conventional ways? A powerful graphic process provides the absolute tools to unlock the dynamic potential of the brain.

To put it simply, this technique extracts ideas from your head to visually represent or outline information. It translates what is in your mind into a highly organised visual picture.

That is mind mapping: Once you start, the possibilities seem almost endless. By starting out with the basic questions—who, what, why and then following each thread. Mind map unleashes the power of the human brain it helps to keep your thoughts focused and organised. The concept that whether you are more of right brain person or a left-brain person has become quite popular in the recent times. If you put more use to your right brain, you think more logically and if you put more use to your left-brain, you think more creatively.

While scientifically speaking, a person always uses his whole brain, what mind mapping does is that it creates synchronization between both sides of your brain without any conscious effort. This helps the mind in building richer connections, which proves to be more effective in easily retaining longer and complex information in the end.

Mind mapping provides practical solutions and save so much time by focusing on the important aspects of your problem. With mind maps, you branch out all the aspects of your problem and are able to investigate each branch thoroughly. To find the 'solution' to your problem becomes your central idea. It also helps you to discover new relationships among unrelated ideas and lets you hold every little information, in order to help solve problems and make better decisions.

"Too much of anything is good for nothing." The statement holds true for the conventional methods of learning. However, with the help of mind mapping, you learn to focus on what is relevant and or valuable, and void out the rest, which makes complete learning process easier and less overwhelming.

Remembering even complex information is easy if you use the right approach. The shortcuts used in mind mapping help you make connections that you can easily remember and think with clarity. One of the major advantages of mind mapping is that it favors information retention and usage. It is more than visually processing/representing information, it is about finding ways to understand, store and use new information in an efficient, instant and productive manner.

Another advantage of it is that it is an integrated approach to information processing. It forces you to connect new to existing information, draw complex conclusions, see the bigger picture in order to transform it into knowledge.

HANDLING PRESSURE MOST IMP AT WC: KOHLI

Expecting tough competition Indian skipper stresses on the need to maintain intensity from first ball

Indian skipper Virat Kohli and head coach Ravi Shastri speaks during press conference ahead of India's departure for the ICC World Cup starting in England from May 30

PTI ■ MUMBAI

High quality rivals competing in a Round Robin format has made the upcoming World Cup the "most challenging" for India skipper Virat Kohli, who says maintaining intensity from the first ball will be key to his side's fortunes in the showpiece event, starting May 30.

Kohli, who has competed in two World Cups before, said they do not have much breathing space because they have four tough games upfront and in a way it should help them.

For the first time since the 1992 edition, all teams will play each other once to decide the semifinals. After opening their campaign South Africa on June 5, India will take on Australia (June 9), New Zealand (June 13) and Pakistan (June 16).

"Personally, it will probably be the most challenging World Cup I have been part of because of the format and also the strength of all the teams. If you look at Afghanistan from 2015 to now, they are a completely different side," said Kohli at the pre-departure press conference in Mumbai on Tuesday.

Kuldeep and Chahal are pillars of our attack: Virat

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Not overtly worried about Mahendra Yadav's lack of form during the IPL, skipper Virat Kohli on Tuesday said the Chinaman bowler and Yuzvendra Chahal are "pillars" of India's bowling attack, going into the World Cup.

Kuldeep was dropped from the Kolkata Knight Riders team during last month's Indian Premier League (IPL) because of poor form but Kohli felt it was a good reality check for the 24-year-old.

"In hindsight, if you look at it, someone like Kuldeep who has had so much success, it is important to see a period where things don't go your way. We are glad that it happened in the IPL rather than during the World Cup," Kohli said, firmly backing the spinner.

"So he had time to reflect and correct things and come into World Cup even stronger. We know the kind of skill set he possesses alongside (Yuzvendra) Chahal. They are two pillars of our bowling line-up," Kohli said at the World Cup pre-departure press conference here.

Apart from the two wrist spinners, the pace trio of Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammed Shami and Bhuvneshwar Kumar makes it probably India's best ever attack going into a World Cup.

Kohli also did not seem worried about all-rounder Kedar Jadhav, who too missed the latter half of IPL after hurting his shoulder.

"Kedar also, we understand the kind of pitches they got playing at home. We are not worried about him. He was looking in good space. Yes he did not get runs but Twenty20 is such a format in which you don't get runs and it can go on like that for a few games."

"Any team can upset anyone. That is one thing we have in mind. Focus will be on to play the best cricket that we can. You have to play to the best of your potential in every game because it is not a group stage situation."

"Playing everyone once is great for all the teams in my view. It is going to be a different challenge and every team will have to adapt quickly to," added Kohli.

Talking about his side's first four games, Kohli said, "That sets the tone nicely for us. Everyone will have to be at their best and maintain intensity from the first match onwards. You don't have any room for complacency and that is why it is the World Cup and the most important tournament."

"We expect that kind of pressure from the first second we step on the field. We are not going to let ourselves think that 'first week onwards we will get into it'. You have to arrive on the day match ready with hundred per cent match intensity and start building from there. This is the challenge."

The recent series between Pakistan and England saw 300-plus scores being the norm but Kohli said things could change in the quadrennial tournament.

"As I said the pitches are going to be very good. It is summer and the conditions are going to be nice. We expect high scoring games but a bilateral series can't be compared to a World Cup, it is very different."

"So we might also see 260-270 kind of games and teams defending it because of the pressure factor. We expect all kinds of scenarios in the World Cup."

More than the conditions, his team will have to come out on top in high-pressure situations, said the skipper.

"It is always good to go to any place in advance. It does (help) getting rid of the nerves you might have as a side going into the World Cup. White ball cricket in England, playing an ICC event, the conditions are not that difficult compared to Tests. Handling the most pressure is the most important thing in World Cup and not necessarily the conditions."

Kohli said his highly-rated bowling line-up is ready for the challenge.

Mahi's role massive in India's campaign: Shastri

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Mahendra Singh Dhoni will have a massive role in India's bid to regain the World Cup, coach Ravi Shastri said on Tuesday, harping on the veteran's ability to influence the game's little moments.

"Massive as it has always been," Shastri told reporters when asked what he thinks would be Dhoni's role in the ICC's upcoming showpiece.

"He is right there, his communication has been fantastic. As a keeper, he has shown over the years that no one is better than him in this format, not just in taking catches, inflicting those run-outs or stumping, these are little moments in the game which can change it on the head and there was no one better than him," he said.

Dhoni, who will be playing in his fourth World Cup, amassed 416 runs at an average of 83.2 in the last IPL and led Chennai Super Kings to the final, and Shastri said he was impressed with his footwork during the league.

"It is great to see the way he was moving in the IPL especially when he was batting, the footwork, the power with which he was hitting the shots, he will be a big player in this World Cup," Shastri said at the team's pre-departure press conference.

Shastri said it would be the most challenging World Cup considering the quality of the opposition teams and the change in format.

"It will be very challenging. If you look at 2015 and 2019 now, the gap has become closer between the teams. You see what Afghanistan, Bangladesh were in 2015 and what they are now, so it is a strong competition. West Indies, on paper, is as strong as any other team," he said.

The pitches in England have become flatter over the years with the recent ODI series, involving the hosts and Pakistan, witnessing scores over 350 runs almost regularly.

The former skipper said India will have to be flexible since overcast conditions can change things at the Old Blighty.

"I think our mantra will be to be flexible according to the conditions because this is one country in the world where the pitches may be flat but if there is overcast condition then you have to be up for it," he said.

"In no other country, overcast conditions matter so much but in England they do, London might not make that difference but if you go up north and it does get overcast then you will see things happen, so we have to be ready for that and prepare to be flexible."

Talking about the bowling attack, the coach said: "This is an experienced unit. They have been together for the last 4-5 years, they have bowled as a unit together, they accomplished what they set out to do in Tests and the endeavour will be the same here as well, to complement each other and keep the pressure right through the 50 overs."

Willey makes way for Archer in Eng squad

AFP ■ LONDON

Jofra Archer's late bid for an World Cup place was rewarded when the Sussex fast bowler was named in hosts England's 15-man squad for the tournament announced on Tuesday.

Barbados-born Archer only became qualified for England in March and has played just three one-day internationals.

He edged out left-arm quick David Willey, a veteran of 46 ODIs, after both pacemen featured during England's 4-0 series win at home to Pakistan which concluded Sunday.

There was no place also in a squad, again captained by Eoin Morgan, for back-up spinner and batsman Joe Denly, with slow left-arm Liam Dawson recalled as cover for Adil Rashid, who is nursing a shoulder problem.

Both Denly and Willey were named in England's provisional squad, as was opener Alex Hales.

James Vince came in after England decided against selecting Hales following the Nottinghamshire batsman's ban for recreational drug use. Even though Willey offered a different angle of attack as the only left-arm quick in contention, Archer's ability to bowl at 90 mph — and his variety of slower balls — has seen him get the nod. England squad: Eoin Morgan (capt), Moeen Ali, Jofra Archer, Jonny Bairstow, Jos Buttler (wkt), Tom Curran, Liam Dawson, Liam Plunkett, Adil Rashid, Joe Root, Jason Roy, Ben Stokes, James Vince, Chris Woakes, Mark Wood.

'Dhoni will be India's trump card'

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Brain" of his cricket team, Mahendra Singh Dhoni will be India's trump card at the World Cup because of his vast experience, reckons former Pakistan skipper Zaheer Abbas.

India grabbed the Twenty20 World Cup under Dhoni's leadership in 2007 apart from winning the ODI World Cup in 2011. The team also won the Asia Cup twice (2010 and 2016) under Dhoni and the Champions Trophy in 2013.

His lightning skills behind the stumps are still intact but his image of world's best finisher took a hit, recently.

However, Abbas said at a big event like World Cup, Dhoni's experience will count a lot.

"India has a genius called Mahendra Singh Dhoni in the team. He is the brain of cricket in the team. He understands the game so well and has experience of leading India in two WC wins. His experience will be vital for captain and coach and he can be their trump card," Abbas said.

"Also, it is the first WC under Virat Kohli's captaincy and he would be eager to prove his mettle as a captain," he felt.

Abbas also said the pitches in England will suit strong Indian batting line-up where 400 or 450 runs in an innings could be a possibility.

"We have seen that in the recently-concluded Pakistan-England series, that over 300 runs were scored and chased. Now in World Cup, 450 runs could be a possibility as there is no grass on the wickets and bowlers will get little help from the conditions," said the stylish batsman who was called Asian Bradman during his playing days. "In such scenario, India will benefit as they have one of the strongest batting line ups. English wickets are now batsmen's paradise," he said.

When asked about Pakistan team which has seen some last moment changes in the final squad, Abbas said that is the "best possible combination".

"They should now forget the loss against England and focus on World Cup. They must improve their fielding," said the veteran.

Pakistan could not win a single WC match against India so far. Can the team break this jinx this time?

"Record is with India but Pakistan can beat any team on their day. It will depend on who handles the pressure well. It will be the match of the tournament for sure, no matter who wins."

Zampa confident of posing dual spin threat with Lyon

PTI ■ LONDON

Adam Zampa believes his attacking leg-spin and Nathan Lyon's precise off-spin can play a huge role as Australia look to defend their title at the ICC World Cup.

Zampa and Lyon shared 12 wickets between them in the five-match ODI series win over Pakistan in the United Arab Emirates.

"I think it was a few months ago where we actually spoke to each other and said, 'I reckon we can play a huge role coming up in the World Cup together so let's do everything we can to make sure we're both there'," Zampa told reporters.

"We play two different roles. (Lyon) is so accurate, a beautiful off-spinner, bowls to his field really well and bowls really tight. That means I can attack from the other end."

Zampa, who has played in English conditions following a spell at Essex last summer, said communication is the key to their success.

"We've communicated really well over the last few months. We speak a lot in the nets, we speak a lot in the field, just about whatever - anything — spin bowling, field settings or how the ball's going to come out. Just anything," he said.

"I think it's going to play a huge role for us sometime throughout the World Cup. I don't know if it will be every game but I definitely see us playing a huge role together."

Zampa reckons taking wickets in the middle over will be key and said skipper Aaron Finch has backed them to go for wickets.

Archer targets Kohli scalp

AFP ■ LONDON

Jofra Archer marked his call-up to England's World Cup squad on Tuesday by setting his sights on taking the prized wicket of India captain Virat Kohli.

The 24-year-old, whose father is English, has already faced many of the world's leading cricketers while playing for the Rajasthan Royals in the IPL.

And the Sussex quick had no problems in naming some of the best batsmen in the game as his World Cup targets.

"I'd quite like to get Virat Kohli out because I wasn't able to in the IPL," Archer told Sky Sports. "Chris Gayle as well," added Archer, mentioning the big-hitting West Indies batsman.

And for all his lack of England experience, Archer believes the time he has spent in the IPL has been good preparation for the pressure of a World Cup. "I think I probably have a bigger advantage over some of the other guys in our team," he said.

"We play (these guys) twice a (season) in the IPL, so you know their weaknesses, you know their strengths, you know if they can't run between the wickets... it gets you an extra bit of inside information."

He added: "To be honest, I think international cricket is probably the same intensity as the IPL. I think the only thing that changes is the amount of overs."

Test experience helped Riaz in WC selection

PTI ■ KARACHI

Pakistan fast bowler Wahab Riaz on Tuesday attributed his inclusion in the World Cup squad, despite not being a part of the ODI squad in the last couple of years, to his experience of playing Test cricket in England.

Wahab, 33, said it is a dream come true to get a chance to play his third successive World Cup.

"It is a responsibility now because I have been recalled because of my experience. I have not played too many ODIs in England but playing in Test matches there has helped me a lot and I know the conditions and pitches well now," Wahab told the reporters in Lahore.

Wahab and another experienced left-arm pacer

Muhammad Amir won unexpected call to the national team for the World Cup after Pakistan's poor performance in the one-day series against England recently.

"I am confident that I can live up to the expectations and do the job given to me. I have become a mentally and physically stronger bowler now after playing a lot of domestic cricket and I hope that my team can benefit from my experience in the mega-event," he said.

While Amir was with the team in England, though he did not play, Wahab was not even named in the provisional squad of 23 players for the tournament.

Wahab said he was looking forward to the World Cup as the pitches were expected to be dry in England and that would help him reverse swing the ball.

He felt Pakistan were white-washed in the recent ODI series against England because of poor fielding.

"Fielders need to support their bowlers especially on pitches where conditions favour the batsmen."

Mary makes winning start in 51 kg to set up semifinal clash against Nikhat in Indian Open

PTI ■ GUWAHATI

Six-time world champion Mary Kom made a successful return to 51kg category by overwhelming her opponent Mala Rai of Nepal to reach the semifinals and be assured of a medal as Indians continued to dominate the Indian Open boxing tournament here on Tuesday.

Walking into the ring to the loud cheers of a packed crowd at the Karmabir Nabin Chandra Bordoloi Indoor Stadium here, the London Olympic Bronze medallist wasted little time in her 5-0 win.

Such was the aura of the 'Magnificent' Mary that even her opponent showed no regret in the loss as she was seen sporting a broad smile hugging the Indian boxing idol in excitement.

"It's also a learning experience for me. The Nepal opponent was experienced and quite strong. It's glad to be back in India. We all are trying our best to make the country proud," Mary Kom, who made her competitive debut at home in 51kg, said.

The celebrated Manipuri boxer had opted out of the Asian Championships last month in order to prepare for the World Championships.

Mary will be up against fellow Indian and Asian Championships Bronze medallist Nikhat Zareen in a blockbuster semi-final as the duo confirmed two medals for India.

Strandja Cup Gold medallist Nikhat was equally impressive with a flurry of punches against compatriot Anamika in her 5-0 victory.

Up against her 'idol', Nikhat will be looking to avenge her South Asian Games defeat to Mary Kom in the semifinals.

"I was nervous nervous last time but this time I'm well prepared and hope to give my best," Nikhat said.

Strandja Cup Silver medallist Manju Rani kept attacking her opponent, Cleo Claveras Tesara of Philippines right from the start to earn a win by RSC (Referee Stop Contest) in Round 1 to move to the 48kg semi-finals.

Monika was equally dominant in her quarter-final bout against Thailand's Apaporn Intongsee which she won 5-0.

Kalavani was declared winner by RSC in Round 2 over Bhutan's Tandin Lhamo while Nitu did not enjoy the same fortunes and was blanked 0-5 by former world champion Josie Gabuco of Philippines.

Earlier, Haryana youngster Pawan Narwal outsmarted Youth Olympics Gold medallist Brian Arregui Agustin in the 69kg category as all the five boxers in the men's section advanced to the quarterfinals.

The Argentine dominated the first round but the 21-year-old Indian slowly made a comeback with his clever footwork to win 4-1 in a split decision.

"It was a close fight. He was dangerous with his left hook and landed powerful punches. Pawan outworked him with his clever footwork which was the key," India's chief performance director Santiago Nieva said.

"He (Narwal) really applied the pressure and the Argentine could not sustain in the end. He scored very well from the outside. It was a fair decision," Nieva said of the bout, adding that the Haryana lad needs some more international exposure.

Narwal will next face Clair Marven of Mauritius for a place in the semifinals.

Having lost out four years of competitions at junior level due to suspension of boxing federation, Narwal from Rindhana in Sonapat joined the camp only last year and caught everyone by surprise.

In 2018, Narwal had settled for a Bronze at the Asian Games Invitational Test Tournament in Jakarta in February. He then went on to change the colour of the medal to silver at the Belgrade International Boxing tournament in August.

"We could not compete at the Junior Nationals for four years due to the suspension and made a direct entry to seniors last year," Narwal said.

Talking about the camp in Patiala, he said: "I've got some good partners in the camp and Santiago Sir is working really hard for me. There has been a huge improvement in me."

In the bottom half of the draw in the 69kg, experienced Dinesh Dagar, who won a Silver medal at the last edition of this tournament, was far from convincing but overcame Filipino Marjon Angcon Pianar 3-2 in a split decision.

"He can be better than he did today," Nieva said of Dagar who had defeated 2012 Olympic Bronze medalist Evaldas Petrauskas of Lithuania en route to winning Silver at the GeeBee Tournament in Finland in March.

Youth World Championship Bronze medalist Ankit Khatana (60kg) began the day for the Indian's in the men's section with a win over Ryan Boy Empoc Moreno of Philippines.

Ankit will take on Prakash Limbu Ijam of Nepal in the quarterfinals.

Ashish (64kg) and Manjit Panghal (75kg) also made the quarterfinals in their respective sections.

Indian shuttlers suffer 2-3 loss

PTI ■ NANNING

Sameer Verma suffered a shocking straight-game loss in men's singles on Tuesday as India were stunned 2-3 by a young Malaysia in a group 1D match to jeopardise their hopes of reaching the knock-out stage of the Sudirman Cup mixed team championship here.

Mixed doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Ashwini Ponnappa produced a brilliant performance to outdo Malaysia's Goh Soon Huat and Lai Shevon Jemie 16-21, 21-17, 24-22 in an hour and 10-minute opening match to give India a 1-0 lead.

But India's decision to field world No 13 Sameer instead of Kidambi Srikanth in men's singles backfired as the former couldn't get going against Lee Zii Jia, losing 13-21, 15-21 in 48 minutes to allow Malaysia lead the scores 1-1.

Olympic and world championship Silver medallist P V Sindhu then steamrolled Goh Jin Wei 21-12, 21-8 in 35 minutes to bring India back on track but doubles pair of Manu Attri and B Sumeth Reddy lost narrowly 20-22, 19-21 to Aaron Chia and Teo Ee Yi.

With India and Malaysia level at 2-2, Ashwini once again took the court — two hours after her mixed doubles match — along with N Sikki Reddy but the women's doubles pair couldn't get across the world No 13 pair of Chow Mei Kuan and Lee Meng Yean, losing 11-21, 19-21.

Eighth seeded India's hopes will now rest on their next match when they take on the mighty China on Wednesday.

China boasts of All England champion Chen Yufei and world No 2 Shi Yuqi besides three formidable doubles pairs — all figuring the world's top 10 and it will take a miraculous effort from India to overcome the 10-time champions.

India had reached the quarterfinals in the 2011 and 2017 editions of the Sudirman Cup.

Giroud gears up to face Arsenal

AFP ■ LONDON

Olivier Giroud is relishing the prospect of beating his old Arsenal team-mates when he lines up for Chelsea in the Europa League final in Baku on May 29.

The 32-year-old French World Cup winner's move across London 18 months ago has failed to deliver the regular first team football he hoped after falling behind compatriot Alexandre Lacazette and Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang in the pecking order at Arsenal.

However, he has played a huge part in the Blues run to the Europa League final and is the joint top scorer in this season's competition with 10 goals.

"I always like playing against my old teams," Giroud, won three FA Cups in five-and-a-half years at Arsenal, told the Daily Mail.

"It's going to be tough, and it could be painful if it's not going the right way, but you have to put the feelings and memories aside."

"I enjoyed the years I spent there. It has been a big part of my career, my first club in England and it will always be special, but now I feel my blood is blue. The same as the national team, blue suits me well."

Giroud on Tuesday signed a one-year contract extension with the Blues, believes there is a more cut-throat culture at his new club compared to the Gunners and part of the reason why Chelsea have outstripped Arsenal for silverware over the past decade. "Maybe you would get more time at Arsenal. They would be more patient," he added.

"At Chelsea you have to be ready quickly because in terms of trophies it has been the best club in England for the last 10 years."

"You don't have time at Chelsea and when you are young it is quite difficult to find your place. I don't want to kill the dreams of these young Chelsea players."

"They are very talented, but it makes sense because Chelsea invest more in every transfer window and they buy more top players in the world who are more experienced."

Giroud has scored 17 goals in 62 appearances for Chelsea since joining in January 2018, but has largely been used as an understudy to Gonzalo Higuain since Alvaro Morata's loan move to Atletico Madrid.

Chelsea director Marina Granovskaia added: "We are very pleased that Olivier will be a Chelsea player for another season. "Since joining us 18 months ago, he has at times had to be patient and wait for opportunities, but has still been able to make a positive contribution to the team."

"Whether it is his unselfish link-up play or his 10 Europa League goals this season, he has been a crucial member of the squad and we hope he will be able to pick up a second Chelsea winner's medal in Baku later this month to accompany last season's FA Cup win."

Mkhitaryan to miss Europa League final

AFP ■ LONDON

Arsenal's Armenian midfielder Henrikh Mkhitaryan will miss the Europa League final against Chelsea in Baku amid fears over his safety.

Mkhitaryan's well-being was a concern for Arsenal due to the tense political dispute between Armenia and final hosts Azerbaijan.

The Premier League club have decided against Mkhitaryan travelling with the rest of Unai Emery's squad for next Wednesday's game.

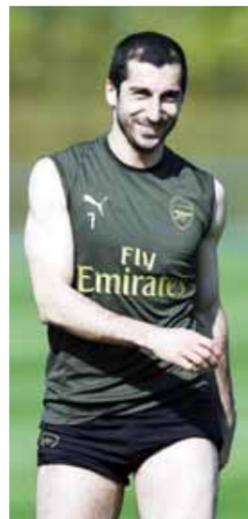

"We are very disappointed to announce that Henrikh Mkhitaryan will not be travelling with the squad for our UEFA Europa League final against Chelsea," an Arsenal statement announced on Tuesday.

"We have thoroughly explored all the options for Micki to be part of the squad but after discussing this with Micki and his family we have collectively agreed he will not be in our travelling party."

Azerbaijan's ambassador to the UK, Tahir Taghizadeh, had insisted Mkhitaryan would be free from any threat of violence, but it was reported the star didn't believe he would be safe on the pitch.

"Having considered all the current options, we had to take the tough decision for me not to travel with the squad to the UEL Final against Chelsea," Mkhitaryan tweeted.

"It's the kind of game that doesn't come along very often for us players and I must admit, it hurts me a lot to miss it. I will be cheering my teammates on! Let's bring it home."

UEFA, European football's governing body, insisted they had done all they could to ensure Mkhitaryan's safety in Baku.

Mkhitaryan had featured in 11 games during the Europa League campaign and his absence will be a big blow as Arsenal look for the victory they need to qualify for next season's Champions League.

Pain-free Murray optimistic about return

AFP ■ LONDON

Andy Murray is confident he can return to competitive tennis and has hinted at a doubles spot at Wimbledon, inspired by American doubles great Bob Bryan's return from hip surgery.

The two-time Wimbledon champion, 32, in January announced plans to retire after this year's Wimbledon due to injury, expressing doubt as to whether he would even make it to the All England Club.

The Scot has all but ruled out an appearance in the singles draw, nearly four months after surgery on a career-threatening hip problem, but he could return by playing in the men's doubles.

The former world number one told Tuesday Times there was "very little chance" he would play singles during the grass-court season.

"Potentially doubles, but I'm not trying to get ready for singles just now," he said.

"The thing I said before was that, if I wasn't feeling good, there was more chance that I would play and then stop after Wimbledon."

"Whereas if it's feeling good, it makes a bit more sense to give it time to make sure that it's as good as possible before I try to play singles on it."

HI names women's team for U-21 tourney

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Hockey India on Tuesday named an 18-member Indian junior women's team for the Cantor Fitzgerald U-21 International 4-Nations tournament in Dublin, followed by matches in Baranovichi, Belarus.

The Indian team will first travel to Ireland where they will play a match each against the Irish national team and Canada junior women's team on May 28 and 29 respectively. That will be followed by the Cantor Fitzgerald U-21 tournament featuring India, Ireland, Canada and Scotland which is scheduled to be held from May 31 to June 4.

The team will then play yet another match against the Irish national team on June 6 following which, the Indian junior team will travel to Belarus to play five matches with the host nation's senior, junior and development teams starting June 9.

The Indian team will be captained by Suman Devi Thoudam and her deputy will be Gagandeep Kaur.

Bichu Devi Kharibam and Khushboo have been selected as the Goalkeepers who will guard the goalposts, while Defenders Ishika Chaudhary, Priyanka, Mahima Chaudhary, Simran Singh will join Suman Devi Thoudam and Gagandeep Kaur in the backline.

Midfielders Preeti, Mariana Kujur,

Chetna, Ajmina Kujur and Baljeet Kaur will command the mid-field for India, while the forward-line will feature Mumtaz Khan, Beauty Dzungdung, Sharmila Devi, Reet and Lalrindiki.

Speaking about the team selection, coach Baljeet Singh said, "We have a good few weeks of matches coming up in Ireland and Belarus against some of the stronger teams in the world."

"We have selected our team keeping in mind the challenges we are going to face there, and I am sure both the tours will help our players in gaining further experience of playing quality teams at a high intensity. I am looking forward to seeing our team excel in foreign conditions."

Xavi's last match ends in defeat

AFP ■ TEHRAN

Xavi Hernandez's dazzling career came to a low-key end when his Qatari side Al Sadd were beaten 2-0 by Iranian giants Persepolis in their last group match of the AFC Champions League on Monday.

The 39-year-old midfield genius, who helped Spain win the World Cup in 2010 and won four UEFA Champions League titles and eight La Liga titles with Barcelona, was cheered by fans at the Azadi Stadium in Tehran where already-eliminated Persepolis produced an improved display to register only their second win in six matches.

Just 11,000 spectators were present in the 100,000-capacity stadium, mostly wearing the red of Persepolis, who won the Iranian league title days before this match.

Several home fans brandished banners reading "Adios Xavi" to show their appreciation of the player who with Andres Iniesta formed the backbone of one of Barcelona's greatest ever sides.

Xavi was also honoured by the Persepolis management who presented him with a jersey featuring the number six he has worn in his career.

But Al Sadd's second defeat in a row, following their 4-1 thrashing by domestic rivals Al Duhail in last week's Amir Cup final in Doha, meant Xavi's illustrious career ended in a low-key fashion.

Xavi, who became the first player in history to play 150 UEFA Champions League matches, has indicated that he will stay in Qatar to begin a coaching career, probably remaining in a highly-paid role with Al Sadd, rather than return to Spain.

"The idea is to start as a coach in Qatar, where there is less pressure, to test myself and get some experience," Xavi told Spain's Efe agency in Tehran just hours before facing Persepolis.

"I think football has bid farewell to one of the best players in the world ... it was beautiful to work with a player with Xavi's calibre," Al Sadd's current head coach Jesualdo Ferreira said after the match.

Ferreira has predicted Xavi "will be a great manager".

Fellow Al Sadd midfielder Gabi also paid tribute to his captain and fellow Spaniard, calling him a "role model".
