A 14 Lok Sabha constituency in Delhi, Pragati Vihar is going to polling today. The battle needs to be fought not between Aam Aadmi Party and Congress but between the backward castes and middle class voters. The candidates for the seat are AAP's Rajat Gaba from the party's keeral and senior Congress leader Manish Sisodia from the Delhi Congress. The seat has been a battleground for several years.

The past week has witnessed the election campaign being fought merrily in India. The last few days have seen lots of mobilisation and election campaign in the country. The election campaign is well and truly over. The Prime Minister, Narendra Modi is on a tour to rally for the party in the last phase of the election. The Prime Minister said that the election campaign is well over and the people of India have already decided their choice and that the voters have already given a mandate to the government. The election campaign has been fought merrily in the country and the people have already decided their choice.

Defending turf a big challenge for BJP

Bharatiya Janta Party has a tough challenge of defending its turf on the seventh phase of the Lok Sabha elections in which 146 constituencies go to polls.

The BJP had won 15 of these 146 seats in the 2014 election. With the Samajwadi Party-Bahujan Samaj Party alliance in place, retaining those seats will be an uphill task for the BJP.

Akhilesh Yadav is contesting from Azamgarh. The Congress has not fielded any candidate from Azamgarh; the party is assisting other parties to serve their petty interests.

Referring to the Bhim Party of Union Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia, Mayawati said: “One such party named Bhim has been formed at the behest of opposition parties to serve their petty interests.”

The Bahujan Samaj Party's chiefMulayam Singh Yadav condemned the Bhim Party's formation. He said, “One needs to have done serious things.”

The Bahujan Samaj Party's chief said that the police did not take cognisance of both the cases. The government should also take steps to remove the threat of lynching from the parties which have been formed at the behest of opposition parties to serve their petty interests.

One such party named after Bhim is Auntur Vasundhara is contesting the Lok Sabha election from Azamgarh constituency. The Bahujan Samaj Party's chief Mulayam Singh Yadav said the Prime Minister should be given capital punishment in the case of a gangrape victim.

The victim's husband had filed a case of solo rape and murder case against a gang of four. The police did not take cognisance of the case on April 30, but the FIR was filed on May 1.

The Bahujan Samaj Party's chief said that the Prime Minister should be given capital punishment. He said the UP Government had failed in its duties and the police did not take cognisance of the case.

The Bahujan Samaj Party's chief stated that the Prime Minister should be given capital punishment because the police did not take cognisance of the case. The Bahujan Samaj Party's chief said that the Prime Minister should be given capital punishment because the police did not take cognisance of the case.

It is most unfortunate that leaders of different political parties are continuously using abusive and derogatory language against women in the campaigning for the Lok Sabha polls to serve their petty interests.

Mayawati is contesting from Kannauj constituency. It is a continuous matter that the Bahujan Samaj Party's chief has said that the Prime Minister should be given capital punishment in the case of a gangrape victim.

Reframing to the gangrape incident in Alwar, Mayawati said: “One such party named Bhim has been formed at the behest of opposition parties to serve their petty interests.”

Landmark UN plastic waste pact gets approval, but not from US

AP CENSUS

The United Nations has approved a landmark pact to bar countries from shipping plastic waste to others, with the US opposing the measure. The US, which is the world's largest producer of plastic waste, is the only country to not sign the deal. The agreement is expected to come into force once 65 countries have ratified it. It is designed to prevent the illegal dumping of plastic waste, which is a serious environmental problem. The US has said it opposes the measure because it could limit its ability to deal with plastic waste at home. The agreement is expected to be signed in June and it is hoped that it will come into force by the end of the year. The US is one of the biggest producers of plastic waste in the world, and it has been called on to take responsibility for its waste. The agreement is expected to be a landmark moment in the fight against plastic waste.

Marital rape is a burning issue which has been pushed under the sheets in India. MUSBA HASHMI brings you a report on how there is need to talk about it and the society's need to broaden their horizon and see it as a punishable offence.

A recent comment from Dipak Misra, former Chief Justice of India, during a press conference shows how regressive mindset of the society in which we come to live. ‘Marital rape is not rape’ is the attitude of many to keep this issue away from the society.

The fact is that women do not have legal protection in the case of marital rape. Many women have also been avoiding reporting the case for fear of social stigma, boycott and social ostracism.

The wife not being under 15 years of age, is not rape.” Marital rape should be seen as a violation of the body. The exceptions clause should be deleted and it should be considered as rape. Force can be imposed in any case. The court can sentence the man who commits marital rape to life imprisonment.

He has given the judgment on adultery perception is that he is pro-women judge. The fact that a prominent person from the judiciary has given a judgement in this case is enough to show that how marital rape is treated in the society.

The first and foremost thing that the victim has to do is to tell her parents what has happened. The victim can approach the police to file a complaint.

Mathew Hale, Lord Chief Justice of England in the 17th century England. He said, “It is not rape if marriage is consensual by that time that they want to abandon the marriage, the husband can raping the wife at will. Hale also said that the husband had no right to force the wife to have sex against her will. In case of marital rape the victim has to go to the police and file a complaint.

There have been reports of the cases of marital rape, but there is no data on the number of cases filed or reported till now. The fact in itself is enough to show that how marital rape is treated in the society.

There is no need to talk about it, we should not speak up about it. They treat their physical or complete but completely ignore the mental trauma which marital rape has caused. Studies have shown that women who have faced marital rape, don’t ignore it at all. It is only after subjected injuries and years of abuse when they finally speak up on the case. Medical professionals can help these women. It is not that they only need psychological help. They are economically dependent on their husbands so they need financial help too, the said.

Prerna Kishan, Secretary, All India Women’s Conference also feels that it is difficult for marital rape victims to come across and speak up about their miseries.

It is very difficult for women to speak up. They hesitate in filling complaints and rushing out to the police in such cases. The first and foremost thing that the victim has to do is to tell her parents what has happened. The victim can approach the police to file a complaint.

According to the latest World Health Organization report, in India 21% of women have experienced marital rape. These assaults involve torture and/or perverse sexual acts and are often aimed at the woman’s health and survival. The assaults are typically after the woman has refused sexual intercourse.

In India, a woman is seen as a sex object who is available all the time. After marriage, the man gets stamp of approval to have sex with his wife whenever he wants, irrespective of the wife’s wishes. The woman has no right to refuse sex with her husband. "The victim has to go to the police and file a complaint. The law is silent on the accused as a possible remedy to prevent further sexual abuse. The police is part of the society, and the police should behave ethically and not use force. "The police should not force the victim to have sex against her will. The victim has to go to the police and file a complaint.

Celebrate motherhood

Today is Mother’s Day. SUNDAY PIONEER brings you ways to honour the great moms in your life.

Women are inherent born bosses of hard work, commitment and success. Being committed fully to work and family is an impossible task that working mothers and entrepreneurs diligently pursue.

There can be a fulfilling career while taking an active role as a mother, in a daunting task. But it can be wounding if it’s a strike to a balance that works beautifully.

Value quality over quantity: Create memorable and long-lasting moments with your family. Make sure to have a million-dollar recipe for your loved ones. The recipe should include tradition and culture.

Deciding and planning work schedules well in advance can prevent you from getting tired out.

Flexible work culture: Many working mothers want to continue working and provide to the best they can give their children with flexibility while on board a fringe or scheduling conference calls during the commute.

The repercussions of the Easter Sunday blasts in Sri Lanka will be felt in India in the near future, with Islamic terrorists expanding their areas of operation from Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan to the South Asian region.

External vigilance is the price we have to pay for liberty, writes KUMAR CHELLAPPA

According to Christian belief, it was on the Easter day that the world saw a miracle unique in human history. From uncreate and unconquerable, suffering and vanquished, the Lord Jesus rose from the dead on the Resurrection Sunday. The tomb of dawn was bleached from death and the sepulchre consecrated in the dew of resurrection. While the world that had been fast- ing and mourning in the depths of sorrow, vanquished in its sin, the son of the Lord appeared bleaching the sepulchre with the splendour of omnipotence. His disci- ples had been afraid. And they reacted by singing “balaclava!”. Since then, the world has been serving because of the Resurrection Sunday, a day which Christians now worship as the Lord’s Day.

Not anymore. The 2019 Resurrection Sunday saw hopes and dreams getting blown to pieces as a group of Islamic bomb blasts walked into the Easter congregations being held in many churches in and around Colombo in Sri Lanka, resulting in deaths and destruction, leaving more than 258 killed and 500 maimed for the rest of their lives. The suicide bombers owing allegiance to the Sri Lankan National Thowheed Jamaat did not have even of the five-star hotels in Colombo owned and operated by the Christian community. The UNDERLINED and murdered, which shook the global conscience, was not for money and gold stored in the churches or hotels, the scenario portrayed in the Spaghetti Western. All terrorist groups in this generation have a media wing which around the world were permeated as part of the “Island of Islamism” described by Samuel Huntington, the Harvard University professor and social scientist in his book, The Clash of Civilizations and the Remaking of World Order.

For the first time in history, global politics in both multi-polar and multi-civilis- ational modernisation is distorted from the Westernisation and is producing neither a universalistic nor a Western-centric order. Nor is the Westernisation of non-Western soci- eties seen as a stepping stone to it. It is being seen that Islam can never co-exist with other religions in the world because it teases its followers to kill all non-believers. “The knee and other statements of Muslims contain few pro- hibitions on violence, and concept of non- violance is not acceptable from Muslim doctrines and practices,” wrote Huntington.

Obama had once said those who took over from him the leadership of global Islamic terrorism have declared that their aim is to create a Darul Islam (pure Islamic State) and unite Muslims all over the world. They have also declared Christians, Jews, and Hindus as their main enemies. All terror- ists act which takes place in the world since the emergence of bin Laden and his fol- lowers have been targeted against these three “enemies” of the Muslim world.

Why Sri Lanka and why Colombo? The answer is simple. The Sri Lankan Government, which came to power in the 2015 Mahinda Rajapaksa administration, dealt stringent security measures and laws brought to its by its predecessor, the Mahinda Rajapaksa Government. It became easy for terrorist organisations to operate in all over the island after the sinhala was made one of the official languages in 1974 and the “mother land security bill” was changed. —from love and respect to that of pas- sion—sentiment towards the barbarians, too, has turned out to be the Sri Lankan Thowheed Jamaat

IS to come out with video statements claiming the IS was behind the blasts. There is no guarantee for life in these States of today’s India, 29 are afflicted by terrorism. India is today a securely terror free nation which has inherited national security implic- ations. This was written in 2008 and the country has undergone many political changes since then. Even as the representatives of Colombo Maha- Mylana are left in the Tamil Nadu and Kerala, as an organisation the Tamil Nadu Thowheed Jamaat has started running for cover. It issued daily statements claiming it does not have any ties with the National Thowheed Jamaat of Sri Lanka. But R Ashok, the General Secretary of Tamil Nadu’s National Thowheed Jamaat, is on record declaring that the two organisations are bound by common ideology and are propagating true Islam unadorned by mis- interpretation and political manipulation. The intelligence agencies in India have gathered details of how the Thowheed Jamaats in Tamil Nadu and Sri Lanka mobilised billions of rupees from Saudi Arabia and other Gulf countries. In January 2015, the then Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu declared that the Tamil Nadu Thowheed Jamaat had 7.7 lakh active members. Jayalalitha was an ardent politician and whatever she said would be based only on facts and figures which she had gathered from the intelligence agencies. She also cautioned the media from terming Thowheed Jamaat as a fringe element. She was not wrong, the media did not report about the starting discussions made by her since then, the Thowheed Jamaat has gone from strength to strength in Tamil Nadu and Kerala.

Kushal Madhepurookha, Sri Lanka’s Chief of Army Staff, recently told a global news agency that some of the suicide bombers behind the Easter Sunday blasts had travelled to Kerala, Karnataka, and Maharashtra in the General, true to his reputation as an officer with a still upper lip, also said that the trip could have been made as part of a training programme.

The truth is that the LTTE and the IS have changed — from love and respect to that of pas- sion—sentiment towards the barbarians, too, has turned out to be the Sri Lankan Thowheed Jamaat

According to the data released by these agencies, 5,788 died in terrorist attacks in India from 2004 to 2013. Most of the international agencies spec- ialising in terrorist-related studies say India expen- dures more terror incidents annually (3,000) and ter- rorist-related deaths (8,100) per year than any country other than Iraq, where IS and the Talibins have been causing mayhems.

IS and the Transnational Government of the LTTE have used the Sri Lankan Thowheed Jamaat to operate freely all over the island. The Rajapaksa Government dumped all stringent security measures and the 18+ laws with the decision of the Sri Lankan Government was to ban the Muslim UnderLINED. which came to power in the 2015 Elections, which were busy with shadow-boxing and the game of one-upmanship, paid scant regard to the political and security situation of the country.

The attitude of the self-styled secular, liberal intelligentsia towards the barbarians, too, has changed — from love and respect to that of passion—sentiment towards the barbarians, too, has turned out to be the Sri Lankan Thowheed Jamaat

The Sahel, a vast Sahel-scrubland, has witnessed the emerence of the Sahel from the 1960s. By 2007, a local political group in the area was breed-ed as a result of the violence in the Islamic Middle East. The Sahel is a region in northern Africa that is characterized by arid and semi-arid climates. It is inhabited by a variety of ethnic groups, including the Tuaregs, Fula, and Malinkés. The Sahel region is known for its rich wildlife, including elephants, giraffes, and lions. It is also known for its history of conflict, particularly in the Sudanese civil war.

disguise, remnants of al-Qaeda, ISIS and their local variants are appearing across the world.
