Cong goes into overdrive to save Govt in K’taka

K'taka Cabinet expansion

An expansion or reshuffle in the K'taka Cabinet is on the cards as the ruling BJP in the state is facing a turmoil after the landslide victory of the Congress in the Lok Sabha elections.

The BJP would wait for the Congress Government in Karnataka to collapse on its own. The BJP would do nothing, said Dr BS Yeddyurappa, a senior leader of the party.

"Hitting out at the ruling party after its stunning defeat in the Lok Sabha elections is not doing the job and may create a rift in the party," the former Chief Minister told reporters.

"I don't think anything that we do will bring about a change," he added.

The BJP is banking on the fact that the Congress-JDS coalition government will collapse on its own. The party is waiting for it to collapse and take advantage of the situation.

The BJP had won 105 seats in the Lok Sabha elections, while the Congress-JDS had won 90 seats.

The BJP's strategy is to keep the Congress-JDS coalition government in K'taka at bay, hoping that it will collapse on its own.

The BJP is planning to increase its strength in the state assembly by winning more seats in the upcoming bypolls.

The party is also planning to bring in more leaders from the Congress and JD(S) to the BJP fold.

The BJP is also planning to use the power of the central government to pressure the K'taka government.

The party is planning to use the strength of the NDA government to bring down the K'taka government.
Didi’s reality check

While the Jews adopted an algorithm-based lunar calendar at least a millennium ago, the Muslim world still finds the idea deeply polarising. Pak’s venture is interesting, but...
How Congress let down its young leaders

Rahul Gandhi went after the youth who rejected them or reacted with indifference. Maybe he and his mother ignored the party’s capable and dedicated BJP teammates who had been let down by the Congress. Perhaps they did not realize that a few of their most vocal critics were indeed being set up for political persecution or dismissal.

In 1979, the Congress went up in flames in the state Assembly elections. Among other things, the Akalis had proclaimed that they would see the “establishment of a separate Sikh state in the Indian Union.” In the wake of anti-Sikh riots in 1984, the Congress party, led by Rajiv Gandhi, was forced to call an early general election to save its political existence. Rahul Gandhi had been anointed as the party’s successor, and the Congress manifesto had promised the restoration of the independence of Jammu and Kashmir. But the Congress party was defeated, and theBJP came to power with 376 seats. Rahul Gandhi then decided to drop out of politics, and the Congress party went into a tailspin.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the Congress party had a poor showing, winning only 44 seats, and Rahul Gandhi resigned as the party president. The party also faced a leadership crisis, with several prominent leaders quitting the party. The Congress party has been in power in India for over four decades, but the elections results have been disappointing, with the party losing in every major election since 2014.

The Congress party has been criticized for its inability to connect with young voters, its lack of innovation, and its failure to attract new leaders. The party has also been accused of being complacent and out of touch with the concerns of the young voters. The Congress party needs to come up with new policies and strategies to attract young voters and to ensure its survival in the face of increasing competition from other parties. The party also needs to address the concerns of its traditional voters, who have been disillusioned by the party’s failure to deliver on its promises.

It is clear that the Congress party needs to make some serious changes if it is to remain relevant in the Indian political landscape. The party must focus on connecting with young voters, developing new policies, and attracting new leaders. The Congress party must also work to address the concerns of its traditional voters, who have been disillusioned by the party’s failure to deliver on its promises. The party must also work to change its image and become more transparent and accountable.

In conclusion, the Congress party needs to make some serious changes if it is to remain relevant in the Indian political landscape. The party must focus on connecting with young voters, developing new policies, and attracting new leaders. The Congress party must also work to address the concerns of its traditional voters, who have been disillusioned by the party’s failure to deliver on its promises. When the #MeToo movement hit India, actor Arjun Kapoor said, “I don’t want to reply saying it is ‘easy to type and judge.’” The paper wrote, “You have your father’s second child because your lover left your mother and decided to do her in when she was 11 years old. Kohl's passion pitted against Smith's and Morgan's ambition in battle of the best

Bouncing to be the wicket-taking
Cricketer

Hasan Ali, at 40 years and 63 days is the oldest player in this World Cup. He is participating in WC for the third time, trying to bowl good balls.”

“Not really (expecting swing). Maybe a bit over the past 20 years,” Cummins said. “He has got the least swing out of all of them and gives his all. That’s what makes him a great talent.”

Former West Indian batsman Ramón Brathwaite, who played 48 Test matches, also felt that the spin option for West Indies will be thinking about the combination that comes his way to stay ahead in one or two innings in the tournament.

“THERE IS A LOT OF BELIEF IN THE TEAM. WE ARE CONFIDENT IN OUR CRICKET. THEY ARE THE HOME SIDE,” Morgan said.

Morgan has got the job of putting on a show at the Oval on Thursday. England's batting line-up is laden with talented cricketers with multiple skill sets that can upset a few plans of the traditional powers. Rashid Khan has already established himself as one of the top international powerhouses. Rashid Khan has proven he is one of the best spinners in T20 cricket. England will begin with a formidable look.

Add to it, Usman Khawaja, skipper of Australia, who has been at this form of game for more than 12 months, is batting conquests are on his mind. Khawaja is batting on 58 runs in his six overs and picked up two wickets. England are also chasing the milestone – but Hope is looking at the appropriate players to do the trick.

The bowling looks suitably reinforced, so it is important that Archer hits the mark.

During the next six and a half months 10 countries will play against each other for global cricket's most coveted crown – World Cup.

Watch out for

England and South Africa on Thursday.

South Africa: 354-6 in 50 overs at Cape Town 27-11-2009

England: 399-9 in 50 overs at Bloemfontein 03-02-2016

DURING THE NEXT SIX AND A HALF MONTHS 10 COUNTRIES WILL PLAY AGAINST EACH OTHER FOR GLOBAL CRICKET'S MOST CovetED CROWN. WHILE INDIA, ENGLAND AND AUSTRALIA HEADLINE THE EVENT, A DISCIPLINED NEW ZEALAND, THE AMERICANS FROM PAKISTAN AND THE FLAMBAYNT CARIBBEANS ARE WELL CAPABLE OF WINNING THE TITLE.

Full squad list for each team.

Protesa look to spoil Hosts’ party

Hitting one of five victories comfortably within the 20 overs, the Indian team went to the semi-final stage of the World Cup by playing to the very best they could have done. “Shahid (Ahmed) had a big heart, but he has the experience to come back in a great way,” said Chetan Sharma. “He is a very wicket-taker and bowler.”

NOTICE:

Jofra Archer (England)

The batting looks suitably reinforced, so it is important that Archer hits the ground running for England to establish an equally potent bowling unit.

The bowler takes the wicket of the batsmen from his team and it is evident in the way he is looking for the left-handed batsman.

Kohl’s passion pitted against Smith’s and Morgan’s ambition in battle of the best

Bouncing to be the wicket-taking Cricketer:

Imran Tahir (South Africa)

Quelling runs and taking wickets in this middle order will be vital to prevent an astronomical England total, and Tahir will be the man tasked to do it.

CRICKETER:

Jofra Archer (England)
