JNU protesters jolt Delhi to a halt

Students marching to Parliament detained, later released; HRD Ministry forms panel on hostel fee hike

SHEKHAR SINGH ■ NEW DELHI

Traffic in parts of Lutyens' Delhi was hit as students of Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) carrying placards and chanting slogans marched towards Parliament on the first day of the Winter Session on Monday demanding the rollback of the proposed hostel fee hike. But they were stopped by the Delhi Police on the road outside the Safdarjung Tomb.

The protesters sat on the road leading to jam on Aurobindo Marg and choking arterial roads with the cascading impact felt till C-hexagon, the Indian Gate roundabout.

Vehicles on Nelson Mandela Marg, Aurobindo Marg and Baba Gang Nath Marg moved at a snail's pace, a senior police officer said. The Delhi Metro closed entry and exit points of three stations near Parliament for a few hours due to the protest.

Many commuters took to Twitter to vent their ire as they got stuck in bumper-to-bumper traffic for hours due to protest.

Around 100 JNU students, including students union president Aishe Ghosh, were detained and released later. Devesh Srivastva, the Joint Commissioner of Police, Southern eastern range, said that the protest ended around 7.30 pm after talks following which students moved towards their campus.

Following the students' protest, the Ministry of Human Resource Development on Monday appointed a three-member committee to recommend ways to restore normal functioning of JNU. The panel includes former UGC Chairman VS Chauhan, AICTE chairman Anil Sahasrabudhe and UGC Secretary Rajnish Jain.

"With a view to restore the normal functioning of JNU through dialogue with all stakeholders and to advise the university administration for resolution of contentious issues, the Government has appointed a three-member high power committee," HRD Secretary R Subrahmanyam said.

"The committee will initiate dialogue with the students and varsity administration immediately and submit recommendations. The UGC will provide required support for functioning of the committee," Subrahmanyam said.

Maha Pawar play: Talks with Sonia yield no results

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The much-awaited meeting between NCP chief Sharad Pawar and Congress president Sonia Gandhi on Monday did not throw up a decisive word on the future of a Government in Maharashtra involving them and the Shiv Sena, which continues to wait in anxiety having staked everything in a bid to corner the Chief Minister's post.

In an interesting turn of events, just ahead of Pawar-Sonia meeting, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday utilised his address during the 250th session of the Rajya Sabha to praise the NCP for discipline in the House. "Today, I want to appreciate two parties, the NCP and the BJP. These parties have wonderfully adhered to parliamentary norms. They have never gone into the Well of the House (to protest). Yet, they have made their points very effectively. Every political party, including my party, should learn from them," Modi said.

While efforts are on for the Shiv Sena, the Congress and the NCP to come together, there has been a buzz also about the BJP and the NCP exploring an alternative possibility for Government formation in Maharashtra. The formation of a Government in Maharashtra will take some more time to become a reality as both the Congress and the NCP decided to hold talks with their allies in Maharashtra before taking a final decision.

But the BJP, the Congress and the NCP have all opted out of fray for the November 22 mayoral poll in the BMC, India's richest civic body. While Sena retaining the mayor and deputy mayor's post is thus a mere formality, it has increased Sena's importance and also the suspense over who will it eventually ally with.

Addressing a press confer-

Modi reaches out to NCP, praises it for decorum on Parliament floors

ence after the meeting, Pawar said he briefed Sonia about the political situation in Maharashtra but surprisingly, claimed, there was neither any talk on Government formation in the State nor the Common Minimum Programme (CMP) for the three parties. The three parties had earlier met in Mumbai to chalk out a 40-point CMP. "We have discussed in detail the political situation in Maharashtra," he said, adding senior Congress leader AK Antony was also there.

"Certain leaders of both (Congress-NCP) parties will meet and discuss further and get back to us. We will keep an eye on the situation in Maharashtra. The Congress and the NCP leaders will hold further talks on the future course of action," he maintained. Sources said the NCP has called its leaders like Ajit Pawar and Jayant Patil to Delhi to hold the talks.

Pawar has been keeping the guessing game on ever since the talks between the three parties started. Before his meeting with Sonia too, Pawar came out with a remark that puzzled all.

RS marshals' uniform given total makeover

#ZehrilaPani: Kejriwal calls report fake; test yourself, dares Paswan

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

As #DilliKaPaniZehrila, trended on Twitter on Monday, Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal rejected the report prepared by the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) as "false and politically motivated". Union Food and Consumer Affairs Minister Ram Vilas Paswan challenged him to name officials for a team comprising city and Central officials to test the water quality.

In the first phase of its survey, the BIS had found that all the 11 samples drawn from Delhi did not comply with the quality norm and failed on all 19 parameters.

Dismissing the BIS report, Kejriwal said, "Between January and September 24, Delhi Jal Board (DJB) collected 1,55,302 samples, of which 2,222 samples failed to meet the standard. This means 1.43 per cent samples failed."

"But 98.5 per cent samples did meet the standards. Similarly, the data for October showed that out of the 16,502 samples, only 658 failed to meet the specified standard," the Delhi CM claimed.

Kejriwal argued that as per the World Health Organisation (WHO) standards, the sample needs to be collected for every 10,000 people and only then can a study come to a conclusion. In this case, at least 2,000 samples would have been collected.

Kejriwal also pointed at the contradictory statement of Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekawat, who had said Delhi's water quality was better than the European standards. "Both Shekawat and Paswan are in the Cabinet of the Central Government. Let them decide who is correct," Kejriwal said.

He argued that Delhi water quality should not be judged on 11 samples. The Delhi Government said in the coming days it would collect five samples from each municipal ward in Delhi in the presence of the people, media and the Opposition for testing.

Kejriwal also invited Paswan to be present on the occasion.

DALIT YOUTH KILLING

Govt assures job, ₹20L relief for family

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

The impasse over the death of the Dalit youth on Monday came to a "conditional" end with the Punjab Government assuring the widow of a job and ₹20 lakhs compensation for the family, among other things.

A 37-year-old Jagmail Singh succumbed to his injuries he suffered after he was brutally beaten up allegedly by upper-caste men, and was also forced to drink urine when he asked for water. Deceased's family, besides various farmers and dalit organizations, are staging protests demanding stricter punishment for the accused and suitable compensation for the family which has lost its sole breadwinner.

Under attack from various quarters, the State Government swung into action on Sunday evening with its senior Cabinet Minister Sadhu Singh Dharamsot reaching out to the family, which had refused to accept the body and even not allowing to conduct the autopsy, with "assurances" which were rejected right away.

The government had offered Rs 8.5 lakh compensation, Rs 5,000 monthly pension to the family, a government job among other things.

The Chief Minister, who is currently on 14-day "part official, part private" visit to Europe, had reportedly directed the state Chief Secretary Karan Avtar Singh and state police chief Dinkar Gupta to punish the culprits within three months.

On Monday, a battery of Cabinet Ministers and senior leaders held a meeting with the family members at the Chief Minister's office wherein the two sides agreed upon eight conditions, and the family decided

GOVT-FAMILY AGREED UPON...

- ◆ Rs 20 lakhs compensation for family
- ◆ Group D job for widow near her residence giving relaxation in prescribed educational qualification
- ◆ Free ration up to six months to the family
- ◆ Entire expenditure on bhog of deceased to be borne by the State Government
- ◆ Govt to provide Rs 1.25 lakh for repair of Jagmail's house
- ◆ Govt to provide free education to deceased's three children studying in Classes IX, VI and I, up to graduation level
- ◆ Comprehensive probe handed over to ADGP rank officer
- ◆ Police to file challan within a week
- ◆ Assured to make all efforts to ensure stringent punishment for culprits within three months to call off the stir, and agreed to cremation.

The protestors also agreed to lift their dharna outside the residence of former Chief Minister Rajinder Kaur Bhattal in her native village Lehra.

Cabinet Ministers Tript Rajinder Singh Bajwa, Charanjit Singh Channi, VijayINDER Singla, and CM's political secretary Capt Sandeep Singh Sandhu represented the government at the meeting with the deceased's widow Manjit Kaur and other family members.

Following the meeting, the spokesperson said that the State Government, acting on the Chief Minister's directives, announced Rs 20 lakhs in compensation for the family of the Dalit man.

It was decided in the meeting that the deceased's widow would be provided a group-D job near her residence, thereby giving relaxation in the prescribed educational qualification. It was also decided to provide free ration up to six months to the family. The entire expenditure on the bhog of deceased would be borne by the State Government.

Further, the State Government would provide Rs 1.25 lakh for the repair of the residence of former Chief Minister Singh's house. The Government has also decided to provide free education to the deceased's children studying in Classes IX, VI and I, up to graduation level.

Spokesperson said that the family was informed that the Chief Minister has ordered a comprehensive probe by an Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) rank officer into the murder case.

The Chief Minister has ordered the police to file the challan in the case within a week, said the spokesperson adding that all effort would be made to ensure stringent punishment for the culprits within three months.

The ADGP has also been mandated to probe the lapses by the officers, if any, to fix their accountability.

Spokesperson disclosed that DGP Dinkar Gupta had deputised ADGP Gurpreet Deo to undertake the enquiry and to submit a list of recommendations so as to prevent such unfortunate incidents or delays, if any, in filing the case, in the future.

The enquiry officer's responsibility should also be fixed to initiate disciplinary proceedings against the erring officers, said the DGP.

OPPOSITION TAKES ON GOVT

Opposition parties in Punjab on Monday lashed out at the ruling Congress party over the horrific incident of dalit youth's murder.

While the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) questioned the Congress national president why the Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh was not asked to cut short his "European holiday" to address grievances of the Dalit family, its ally the Bharatiya Janta Party (BJP) has demanded Rs 50 lakh compensation for Jagmail's family.

The issue was also reverberated in the national capital when the Aam Aadmi Party's Punjab unit president and Sangrur MP Bhagwant Mann raised the issue on the first day of the Parliament session while demanding Rs 50 lakh compensation for the family.

Taking on the Gandhi family for its double standards, SAD legislator and the former minister Bikram Singh Majithia asked the Congress president Sonia Gandhi and her predecessor Rahul Gandhi why they had neither visited Punjab nor directed the Chief Minister Capt Amarinder to cut short his European holiday and address the grievances of the Dalit family whose sole earning member died a gory death after being tortured in Lehragaga in Sangrur district.

Air quality improves marginally but remains poor

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Even as the air quality in several parts of Punjab and Haryana on Monday saw marginal improvement, it remained in the poor category.

According to the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB), Mandi Gobindgarh town of Punjab's Fatehgarh Sahib district and Jind in Haryana reported their respective Air Quality Indices (AQIs) at 294 and 280.

The AQIs recorded in Yamunanagar, Panipat and Ambala districts were 243, 202 and 204 respectively.

The districts in Haryana where the AQI was in "moderate" category were Fatehabad (182), Gurugram (140), Hisar (178), Rohtak (199), Karnal (132), the CPCB said.

A few places in Haryana and Punjab had reported AQIs in "very poor" categories two days ago.

In Punjab, the respective AQIs of Jalandhar, Ludhiana and Khanna were in "moderate" category at 171, 119 and 122.

Chandigarh, the common capital of both the states, witnessed air quality index at 102, it stated.

Nowhere in Punjab and Haryana was air quality reported in "very poor" and "severe" categories.

An AQI between 0-50 is considered "Good", 51-100 "Satisfactory", 101-200 "Moderate", 201-300 "Poor", 301-400 "Very Poor" and 401-500 "Severe". Above 500 falls in the "Severe plus" category. Meanwhile, the number of farm fire incidents, considered a major reason for the pollution in the two states and neighbouring areas, including Delhi, had dropped significantly over the past few days.

In all, the total farm fire incidents between September 23 and November 17 this year in Punjab were 49,157 as against 43,288 and 48,604 in corresponding period of 2017 and 2018, respectively, an official of Ludhiana based Punjab Remote Sensing Centre said.

On Sunday, 352 farm fire incidents took place in the state, the official added.

Haryana has reported a total of over 6,000 farm fire incident in this season so far, he said.

Farmers' outfit Bharatiya Kisan Union (Ugrahan) and BKU (Dakonda) on Monday announced to stage sit-in protests in front of Deputy Superintendent Police (DSP) offices throughout the state on November 25 to press for withdrawal of FIRs lodged and fines imposed against farmers for stubble burning.

BKU (Ugrahan) General Secretary Sukhdev Singh Kokrikalan said if the cases were not withdrawn against farmers, then they would "gherao" police offices in the state.

In Punjab, more than 1,500 FIRs had been registered against erring farmers for defying the ban on stubble burning and a fine of ₹3.01 crore had been imposed on more than 11,000 farmers for stubble burning, while 71 harvesting machines had been impounded.

The Punjab government had disbursed over ₹19 crore to 29,800 non-basmati paddy cultivating small and marginal farmers from across the state, who did not burn the paddy residue.

The State Government had decided to give ₹2,500 per acre as compensation to those small and marginal farmers, who have refrained from burning paddy straw.

UT Admn proposes physical verification of 'heritage items'

NISHU MAHAJAN ■ CHANDIGARH

In a bid to ascertain the "genuineness" of identified heritage items in the city, the Chandigarh Administration has proposed to carry out "physical verification" of as many as 12,793 heritage items with the help of experts.

According to the inventory prepared by the UT Administration in the year 2012, Chandigarh has 12,793 heritage items designed by city's creator French Architect Le Corbusier or his team associated with the founding and planning of the city in 1950s and 60s. There are 190 different categories of the heritage items including drawings, murals, models, tapestries, chairs, tables, among others.

As only three-member Chandigarh Heritage Inventory Committee, constituted by UT Administration, was involved in the finalization of heritage inventory in the year 2011 and 2012, doubts looms over the "genuineness" of identified heritage items in the city.

Among various departments, the UT Government Museum and Art Gallery has possession of large number of heritage items including furniture, drawings, murals, models among others made by renowned architect Le Corbusier and his other associates. Besides, Punjab and Haryana Civil Secretariat, Punjab and Haryana Vidhan Sabha, Punjab and Haryana High Court also have huge stock of heritage furniture including chairs and tables.

And, even the later on established departments like Chandigarh Housing Board (CHB) have huge stock of the heritage items, as per the inventory prepared by the Administration. The heritage protection cell under the Chandigarh Heritage Conservation Committee has now proposed to carry out "physical verification" of these heritage items.

"It has been proposed that several teams of experts should be constituted to ascertain the authenticity of heritage items and the process could be completed in three months time. The experts will visit all the Departments to check the authenticity of the items included in the heritage list. These teams would comprise of architects, faculty of Chandigarh College of Architecture, historians, experts from Government Museum and Art Gallery and others," said a member of CHCC while talking to The Pioneer.

The CHCC member said that the entities including furniture, tapestry, drawings and other things, which were designed, made and used by city's creator French architect Le Corbusier, his cousin Pierre Jeanneret and others associated with the founding and planning of Chandigarh in the 1950s and 60s, comes under the category of heritage items.

As the inventory of 12,793 heritage items has not been prepared by experts, there are doubts that many items including furniture are not "genuine" heritage belonging to the city, the member said. The Department of Urban Planning will take the final call on the proposal of carrying out the physical verification of heritage items, the member added.

Notably, the UT Administration had in the year 2014 sought Archaeological Survey of India's assistance in establishing the "genuineness" of heritage items, identified during the finalization of heritage inventory made in 2011 and 2012 here. However, the ASI had turned down the Administration's request for providing assistance in establishing the "genuineness" of heritage items, besides conducting preservation works.

Quoting "The Antiquities And Art Treasures Act, 1972", the ASI had stated 'Antiquities' which have been in existence for not less than 100 years viz. sculptures in stone, terracotta, metals, ivory painting in paper, wood, cloth, skin etc and manuscripts are covered under the Act while the heritage items in the city are less than 60 years old. Hence, the ASI will not be able to assist the Administration in conservation works of heritage belonging to Chandigarh, stated the letter.

At that time, the UT Administration had recommended that after identifying genuine heritage items, these heritage items should be given the status of heritage formally and tagged as 'art heritage'.

Museum of heritage furniture proposed to be established

The UT Administration has proposed to convert the iconic press building in Sector 18 here into a museum for heritage furniture and vintage cars. It is proposed to keep all heritage items on the first floor of the press building. Also, it has been proposed to depute dedicated staff to conserve the heritage items and also, to curb their theft.

Notably, the Administration had ordered that the four-storeyed, glass-facade government printing press will stand closed following the directions of the Central Government. Built in 1953, the building has seen the city grow.

Auction of Chandigarh's heritage items

In the past, renowned foreign auction houses have shovelled in millions through the auction of city's heritage items. New York-based auction house—Phillips de Pury and Company, Paris-based auction house—Artcurial, Paris-based auction house—Marselles and many others have organized auctions of heritage items belonging to the city.

While the UT Administration had in the past taken up the matter with British Embassy and French Embassy to put an end to the auction of the drawings, sketches and furniture designed by Le Corbusier and his associate Pierre Jeanneret, many auction houses continued to put under the hammer lots of furniture designed by city's creators.

Interestingly, famous American singer Kanye West had went on to credit the concrete light fixtures at Sukhna Lake as his muse when he was creating the 2013 album Yeezus, saying "this one Corbusier lamp was like my greatest inspiration". Kanye West, who along with his celebrity wife Kim and her sister Kourtney Kardashian boast of over a dozen Jeanneret chairs and more.

Despite this, they have failed to visit the State and commiserate with the victim family," he said. Majithia said that the State Government had already been caught sleeping with the FIR in the case being registered five days after the incident on November 7. "The financial aid and other benefits offered by the Congress government to the family of Jagmail also happened only after farmer unions and Dalit outfits started a blockade of the Lehragaga-Sunam highway.

250TH SESSION OF HOUSE

RS should have greater say in creating States, UTs: Manmohan

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Without mentioning J&K, which was recently bifurcated into Union Territories, Former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh on Monday said as a Council of States, the Rajya Sabha should have a greater say in legislations dealing with redrawing boundaries of States. Participating in the discussion on the "Role of Rajya Sabha in Indian Polity and Need for Reform" on the first day of the 250th session of the House, Singh said, "On some matters, this House should be given greater respect by the executive, that is not the case now. For example, important issues like redrawing the boundaries of a State. Converting them into Union territories, is such a far-reaching proposal or legislation, this House, a Council of States, should be given more powers to deal with these issues."

"The Government should consult with the council of States much more effectively before such drastic measures can be considered by the House as a whole," he added.

On the issue of scrutiny of bills by parliamentary committees, Singh said, "For our chamber (Rajya Sabha) to fully function, it is required that we scrutinise the bills more thoroughly in (parliamentary) committees, where not only the members can apply their mind, even the opinion of stakeholders can be solicited."

He told the House that in the 16th Lok Sabha, only 25 per cent of the bills introduced

In 16th Lok Sabha, only 25% of the Bills introduced were referred to committees, much lesser than 71% and 60% in 15th and 14th Lok Sabha respectively were referred to the committees, much lesser than the 71 per cent and the 60 per cent in the 15th and 14th Lok Sabha respectively.

"I would assert that regardless of what the other House does, it is crucial for our House to form select committees to ensure that the bills receive the detailed scrutiny that they deserve," the Congress leader said.

The Rajya Sabha committees had done a commendable job of improving legislations, he said, adding, "I would urge that we should follow this practice for all the bills which come before this august House."

On the misuse of the provisions of money bills, Singh said, "Article 110 allows precedence of Lok Sabha over the matters in money bills. In the recent past, we have seen instances of misuse of money bills' provisions by the executive, leading to bypassing the Rajya Sabha."

"Today, as we celebrate the 250th session of the Rajya Sabha, it is appropriate for us to reflect on whether we lived up to the expectations of the framers of our Constitution," he said.

Opp terms Farooq's detention illegal, asks Centre to let him attend House

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Protesting over the continued detention of sitting National Conference MP Farooq Abdullah in J&K, Opposition members on Monday described it as illegal and demanded that he be allowed to attend the House even as the Congress raised the issue of removal of Special Protection Group (SPG) security cover for its president and his family.

Congress was upfront from the word go with its members in good strength moving to the well of the house and charging the Government with attacking the opposition and foisting false cases against it.

Their protests continued until end of the question hour when Speaker Om Birla allowed Congress leader in the Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury to make his comments on the detention of Abdullah.

Opposition leaders also raised the issue of MPs not being allowed to visit Jammu and Kashmir after abrogation of its special status under article 370 whereas parliamentarians from Europe allowed to go there. Chowdhury described the EU delegation as "bhade ke tattu" (hirelings).

"Our leader Rahul Gandhi was not allowed to visit (J&K), several MPs were sent back. Whereas bhade ke tattu from Europe were being taken there. Isn't it an insult to all MPs. I want to ask MPs of ruling alliance don't they think it was their insult," Chowdhury said. On the detention of Abdullah, he said the NC supremo has been under detention for 106 days and it is his constitutional right to attend the House.

Raising the issue during Zero Hour, Chowdhury said it was an "atrocious" not to allow the former J&K Chief Minister to attend Lok Sabha proceedings.

Giving an account of sequence of events, the Speaker said when Home Minister Amit Shah informed the House in the previous session that Abdullah was not under detention, he was then correct. The written information of his detention was received later by the Lok Sabha secretariat, he said.

He said now he has written information that Abdullah is under detention. DMK leader TR Bалу sought Birla's intervention in the matter, saying the speaker is the custodian of the House and should ensure that members are allowed to attend the House. "What has happened with Farooq is illegal. You are custodian of the House. You have to make intervention," Bалу said. The DMK leader also said that same is the case with Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) leader and former J&K Chief Minister Mehbooba Mufti and noted that her daughter has said that the PDP leader has been manhandled. National Conference MP Hasnain Masoodi said the former Chief Minister was under preventive custody not under judicial custody and it can be revoked by the Speaker's order.

"Farooq Sahab represents Srinagar and it is right of the 20 lakh people of Srinagar that their voice be heard in the House. I have proof that he is not in judicial custody, he is in preventive custody.

Your one order can revoke it," Masoodi said while addressing the Chair. Similar sentiments on Abdullah's arrest were made by TMC leaders as well. The issue was also raised by RSP leader N K Premachandran when he was given a chance to ask a supplementary question related to the Finance Ministry.

Chowdhury also raised the issue of withdrawal of SPG cover of Former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh and the Gandhi family. He said as Former Prime Minister, late Atal Bihari Vajpayee remained under SPG protection.

PM Modi praises NCP, BJD for adhering to parliamentary norms

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday utilised his address during the 250th session of the Rajya Sabha to call for a disruption-free House proceedings and also, perhaps, to reach out to NCP chief Sharad Pawar just ahead of the latter's meeting with Congress chief Sonia Gandhi over the issue of Govt formation in Maharashtra.

"Today, I want to appreciate two parties, NCP and BJD. These parties have wonderfully adhered to parliamentary norms. They have never gone into the well of the house (to protest). Yet, they have made their points very effectively. Every political party, including my party, should learn from them," Modi said.

His remarks came just hours before Pawar was scheduled to meet Sonia in view of the Maharashtra impasse, which has brought the ideologically-opposite Shiv Sena and Congress along with the NCP on one platform to explore the possibility of forming a Govt in Maha.

While efforts are on for the Shiv Sena, Congress and NCP to come together, there has been a buzz also about the BJP and the NCP exploring an alternative possibility for government formation.

As for disruptions in Rajya

Sabha in the past hindering passage of crucial legislations, Modi said a distinction needs to be drawn between checking and clogging. "The Rajya Sabha is about checks and balances. This is absolutely essential for our democracy. Debates have to be many and effective. But, there is also a difference between checking and clogging (and between) balance and blocking," he said.

With some within the ruling party questioning the effectiveness of Rajya Sabha as crucial legislative work got stalled because NDA lacked majority in the House, Modi recalled the then Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee's words that the Upper House "may be the second house but no one should think of it as a secondary house."

"Today, I echo the sentiments of Atal Ji and add that the Rajya Sabha must be a vibrant supportive House for national progress," he said, adding makers of the Constitution envisioned a bicameral legislative framework and this vision has enriched the democracy. He, however, wanted the House to function and not disrupt work. "Our Constitution inspires us to work for a Welfare State. It also motivates us to work for the welfare of states. The Rajya Sabha, as the Council of States, enables us to further the spirit of cooperative federalism," he said.

Curbing pollution in Delhi: Lax officials to face action

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Intensifying its steps to ensure clean air in smog-hit Delhi, the Government on Monday said concerned officials found guilty of any kind of deliberate omission or negligence in controlling pollution in Delhi will be held responsible and punished.

This was decided at a high-level meeting on air pollution chaired by Union Environment Ministry CK Mishra and attended by Chief Secretaries of Delhi, Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh besides representatives of Central Pollution Control Board and other stakeholders.

"We will act decisively. The officials found deliberately neglecting action to check the pollution will be held responsible and penalized. Also violators will be punished. In the next fifteen days we will intensify the crackdown on violators, illegal constructions and action will be taken to reduce emissions. New technology is also being worked upon," Mishra told reporters after the meeting.

The northern States have been witnessing severe air pollution since last month, with the air quality even touching the 'emergency' mark, triggering anger among citizens.

The air pollution in the national capital was so toxic after Diwali that the Environmental Pollution (Prevention and Control) Authority (EPCA) had declared a public health emergency in the Delhi-NCR and had advised people, especially children and the aged, to refrain from venturing outside their homes.

Also, a meeting of a parliamentary standing committee to discuss the rising levels of air pollution in the national capital was postponed as most participants, including Member of Parliament from East Delhi, Gautam Gambhir, skipped the meeting.

The Delhi Government had urged the Centre numerous times to take steps to deal with the air pollution as it has blamed the stubble burning in the neighbouring states for the deteriorating air quality here.

A few days ago, Prime Minister Narendra Modi's principal secretary PK Mishra had reviewed the air situation in Delhi and other parts of north India wherein it was decided that the chief secretaries of the affected States will monitor the situation round-the-clock and take steps to tackle the menace.

The Environment Ministry official said sprinkling of water has been advised in many parts of Delhi to ensure dust settles. Punitive action will be taken over construction activities and Delhi has been asked to stop all waste burning in industrial areas, he added.

Mishra said he will be personally monitoring the situation on the daily basis. We discussed accepted air pollution plan while within the next fortnight, we will intensify our anti-pollution measure and review the situation as directed by the Supreme Court.

Don't turn Lok Sabha into West Bengal Assembly: Birla

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Irked with the frequent face-off between the BJP and TMC MPs from West Bengal, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Monday warned the members not to turn the Lok Sabha into West Bengal Assembly. The war of words between the MPs started during the debate on the Chit Fund (Amendment) Bill. "Don't turn the Lok Sabha into the West Bengal Assembly," warned Birla.

The war of words broke out when BJP member Locket Chatterjee alleged that the "entire TMC is involved in chit fund irregularities, duping gullible investors of their hard-earned money". She alleged that the West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee was protecting those who had run away with poor people's money. Chatterjee also alleged that 40 per cent of the money collected by the various chit funds in West Bengal had gone to agents, who were members of the TMC.

Hitting back at Chatterjee, Kalyan Banerjee of the TMC rejected her allegations and soon started again arguments and shouting by the MPs. This led to the Chair to intervene and urge them against making personal remarks.

The Bill was moved by MoS Finance Anurag Thakur. The Bill proposes to amend certain definitions to enable the increased investment in Chit Funds.

Shiv Sena raises farmers' plight, stage protest in Parliament

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Taking its new role as an "Opposition party" seriously after its recent break-up with its NDA ally, the BJP, in Maharashtra, the Shiv Sena on Monday raised issues relating to farmers in the State in the Lok Sabha, staged protest inside Parliament premises and sought the 'Bharat Ratna' for social reformer Jyotiba Phule.

RSP MP Premchandran raised the death of an IIT-Chennai Girl-student in a suspicious circumstances and sought a judicial inquiry into it as he said name of professor was doing round for humiliating her.

While Congress-led opposition protested against the detention of the house member Farooq Abdullah in J&K, members of the Shiv Sena, the oldest ally of the BJP which has snapped its ties with the ruling party, also raised slogans and demanded relief for farmers in Maharashtra and later walked out of the House. Shiv Sena members were seen sitting in the opposition benches after their party broke ties with the BJP with one of its member in the Modi-Cabinet already putting-in his papers.

One of the Shiv Sena MPs during the zero hour sought 'Bharat Ratna' for famous social reformer Jyotiba Phule who had worked for the upliftment of dalits and did pioneering work for the girl education.

Shiv Sena MPs also protested inside the Parliament premises demanding that the Government declare unseasonal rains in Maharashtra as natural calamity. MPs Sanjay Raut, Arvind Sawant and others were present at the protest which comes on the first day of the Parliament's Winter Session, which will end on December 13.

Unseasonal rains in Maharashtra have damaged crops on 70 lakh hectares of land, State Maharashtra Finance Minister Sudhir Mungantiwar had said a couple of days earlier.

According to Government officials, the loss could be to the tune of over ₹5,000 crore across 30 of the state's 36 districts.

Navneet Rana, an Independent MP from Maharashtra, however, went hammer and tong against Sena for what she said giving 'lip sympathy' to farmers while not allowing a stable Government in the state.

Four members -- Prince Raj (LJP), Himadri Singh (BJP), Shrinivas Dadasaheb Patil (NCP) and D M Kathir Anand (DMK) -- took oath as Lok Sabha commenced its proceedings for the day. The House paid tributes to 10 members, including from the Rajya Sabha, who passed away recently.

They included former Union ministers Arun Jaitley, Sushma Swaraj and Ram Jethmalani. The House also stood in silence as a mark of respect for the departed souls.

Chidambaram moves bail application in apex court

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Jailed Former Finance and Home Minister P Chidambaram on Monday moved a bail application in the Supreme Court. The matter was mentioned before a bench headed by Chief Justice of India (CJI) SA Bobde where senior advocate Kapil Sibal sought urgent listing of the plea. Sibal told the bench that Chidambaram has been in jail for around 90 days.

"We will see," the bench told Sibal, adding that the bail plea would come up for hearing either on Tuesday or Wednesday. Meanwhile in the afternoon the Delhi High Court clarified that the facts of another case mentioned in the order denying bail to Chidambaram are only for reference. Justice Suresh Kait said it was nowhere mentioned in the November 15 order that the observations made in a particular paragraph are of Chidambaram's case. The court's clarification came while taking up the matter suo motu (on its own) following news articles that there is 'cut and paste' work in the judgement. The High Court Ordered Chief Editors of 'Indian Express' and 'The Hindu' to publish clarification on Tuesday itself.

Earlier, the Enforcement Directorate approached the Delhi High Court seeking rectification of an "inadvertent" error in the order denying bail to Chidambaram in the INX Media money laundering case.

In a first, elders pay tributes to 5 late RS members

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

In a departure from convention, the Rajya Sabha on Monday allowed leaders of various political parties to speak and pay tributes to five late members, Arun Jaitley, Ram Jethmalani, Jagannath Mishra, Gurudas Dasgupta and Sukhdev Libra, instead of just the Chairman making obituary references.

Usually, the chair in the Upper House reads out obituary references before members rise as a mark of respect to the memory of the departed. The House adjourns proceedings if a sitting member passes away and takes up listed agenda soon after the mourning in case of former members. But since the obituary was of Jaitley - a man who had personally touched political lives of many leaders across the political spectrum, Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu allowed members to speak.

Once leaders had spoken, Naidu adjourned the proceedings till 2 pm as a mark of respect to Jaitley and Ram Jethmalani, both sitting members.

In his obituary reference, Naidu described Jaitley as a "quintessential politician" and a "man of impeccable integrity" whose stellar contribution is a matter of record.

many landmark legislations including the Goods and Services Tax (GST), Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, Benami Act and the merger of Rail Budget with General Budget. Naidu also mentioned passing away of Jethmalani on September 8 at the age of 95 as well as former member Jagannath Mishra (82) on August 19, Sukhdev Singh Libra (86) on September 6 and Gurudas Dasgupta (82) on October 31.

While Leader of the House Thawarchand Gehlot said Jaitley's death was a personal loss to him, Leader of the Opposition and senior Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad said the personal relationship that the deceased member shared with other members turned political bitterness into sweetness on most tense issues.

"We haven't seen such a media savvy minister and leader," he said, adding Jaitley did not stop meeting media personnel and friends even when he was ill during his last days.

Derek O'Brien (TMC) said

Jaitley was a mentor to many of the new entrants in Parliament despite having diagonally opposite political ideology. He recalled how Jaitley had taken positively his comment on him being a "plantation manager who planted stories" in media sitting in Parliament.

Azad described Jethmalani as perhaps the only practising lawyer and a player in his mid-90s.

Ram Gopal Yadav (SP) recalled the contribution of Dasgupta and termed him as "sharp leader".

Senior NCP leader Sharad Pawar recalled the contribution of Jaitley to sports. He said Jaitley often used to discuss issues related to cricket with him. The House observed silence as mark of respect to the late leaders.

CITIZENSHIP AMENDMENT BILL

BJP's trap to target Bengalis, cries Didi

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Like she did during the implementation of National Register for Citizens in Assam, Mamata Banerjee on Monday cried out against the proposed Citizen's Amendment Bill calling it a "trap" laid down by the BJP to target the Bengali-speaking population — Hindus and Muslims — and implicated All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimen chief Asauddin Owaisi for conspiring with the saffron outfit to vitiate the political climate of Bengal.

Like it did in Assam where it implemented NRC to throw out lakhs of Bengalis from that State the Centre was planning to introduce CAB as a "trap" which it would use against the Bengali people, she said.

Addressing a meeting at North Bengal town of Coochbehar bordering Assam, Banerjee said, "Let me tell you that the Centre is bringing Citizen's Amendment Bill which is another trap like NRC to cast out the Bengalis from the list of legal citizens and make them refugees in their own country."

She asked, "Where is a need of granting new citizenship to people when there are enough documents like land deeds, voter cards, ration cards, driving license, birth certificates, Kanyashree and other government documents," asking the people to remain alert and united against the BJP's nefarious designs.

The Centre proposes to bring the CAB in the Winter Session of Parliament. The Bill proposes to grant citizenship to Hindus, Buddhists, Jains, Sikhs, Parsis and Christians who had migrated from Pakistan, Afghanistan and Bangladesh provided they have already spent seven years in India.

In the wake of alleged faulty implementation of NRC in Assam that omitted the names of more than 19 lakh people from citizenship register a possible implementation of NRC in Bengal had created a panic claiming 11 lives in the state during the past two months.

Though she would not name any Hyderabad leader openly Banerjee apparently opened a new battle front against All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimen chief and MP Asauddin Owaisi calling his party an "agent" of the BJP that had conspired with the saffron outfit to destroy the healthy political climate of Bengal.

Aware that the MIM was expanding its activities in the State which has about 30 Muslim votes, Banerjee said, "some minority groups from Hyderabad are taking money from the BJP with an offer to protect them. But I ask you not to fall in their trap because they are coming here to divide you and help the BJP."

Protests were held in the north eastern States on Monday opposing the proposed Citizenship (Amendment) Bill and effigies of Prime Minister Narendra Modi were burnt in Assam.

The protest rallies coincided with the first day of the winter session of Parliament during which the bill is proposed to be introduced.

Sit-ins were also launched in various places of Guwahati and effigies of Assam Chief Minister Sarbananda Sonowal were burnt by youth organisation AJYCP in different parts of the State as a mark of protest against the CAB.

The protests were held by the North East Students Organisation (NESO), the region's umbrella organisation of students unions, its constituents, farmers' body Krishak Mukti Sangram Samiti, youth body Assam Jatiyatabadi Yuba Chatra Parishad (AJYCP) and Left-Democratic Mancha, Assam among others.

NESO submitted a memorandum to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah against CAB through the governors of the north eastern States.

ards against the CAB.

"Assam and the north east are not dumping grounds for illegal Bangladeshis. As per the Assam Accord we have already accepted all Bangladeshis - both Hindu and Muslims who entered Assam illegally upto 1971. We will not accept those who entered Assam after that year," NESO and AASU chief advisor Samujjal Bhattacharyya said.

"The Central Government is trying to impose on Assam all the illegal Bangladeshis who entered the country in the next 43 years by fixing the cut off year as 2014. We won't accept that. We oppose it," he iterated.

"This movement in Assam and the north east region will continue," he asserted. Commenting on the contention of Assam Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma and other BJP leaders that a lot of problems will be solved if the CAB is enacted, Bhattacharyya said "The Bill will safeguard the vote bank of BJP. They (BJP) want the votes of illegal Bangladeshis. They have the numbers in Delhi (Parliament) and they will impose the CAB on us.

"We will not accept CAB and that is why we have launched our agitation against the Bill," he added.

AASU president Dipanka Nath said, "The CAB is the death knell for the Assamese community. It will make the Assamese people extinct. It will open the door for more Bangladeshis to enter Assam."

Claiming that Assam has rejected the CAB, Nath said "We will oppose till our death this Bill, which is harmful to the existence of the Assamese community."

AASU general secretary Lurinjyoti Gogoi said that Assam and Tripura have taken the largest burden of illegal Bangladeshis.

"Imposition of CAB in the north east is unacceptable to its people as their sentiments have been ignored despite the public rejecting the bill," he added. In neighbouring Meghalaya Khasi Students Union, an influential students body in the State, held a sit-in near the third secretariat here protesting against the contentious bill, which it said, will have a negative impact on the people of the entire region.

A group of anti-CAB protesters will launch a stay off the road protest from 7 pm on Monday till 6 am Tuesday.

State Chief Minister Conrad Sangma had met Shah last week and urged the Centre to consider withholding passing of the CAB in its current form.

A rally was taken out in Aizawl by the Mizoram apex students body Mizo Zirlai Pawl (MZP) on Monday in protest against the CAB.

Expect Mamata to brief me about Bulbul losses, says upset Guv

Siliguri (WB): Expressing anguish over West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee not informing him about the losses incurred by the State due to cyclone 'Bulbul', Governor Jagdeep Dhankhar on Monday said he expects the CM to brief him on it within a few days.

Dhankhar said as per the Constitution, it is the duty of the Chief Minister to brief the State's governor on important developments.

"And, 'Bulbul' is certainly an important development which calls for the Chief Minister to keep the governor abreast of developments with regard to it," he told reporters here. "I am sure she will brief me within a few days," the governor said.

In a report to the visiting central team, the West Bengal Government on Saturday said the State incurred a loss of ₹ 23,811 crore in the devastations caused by 'Bulbul' that has affected around 35 lakh people in three districts.

Dhankhar also noted that there have been several important developments in the state in the over 100 days since he took over as governor on July 30, but Banerjee "has not briefed him" on any of these, despite Constitutional obligations.

The governor reiterated his denial of the Trinamool Congress chief's accusation that he is running a parallel Government in the State. "The CM has never written to me that the governor has exceeded his powers".

The TMC had recently slammed the governor for allegedly exceeding his brief and wondered whether he understood his "constitutional bindings". PTI

Nirmohi Akhara wants to be part of Ram Temple trust, to meet PM this week

PTI ■ AYODHYA

The Nirmohi Akhara, a main litigant in the Ayodhya case, has decided to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi this week over its demand to be part of a trust for the Ram Temple construction here, the organisation has said.

In its judgment in the Babri Masjid-Ram Janmabhoomi title case, the Supreme Court on November 9 had cleared the way for the construction of the temple at the disputed site here, and directed the Centre to allot a 5-acre plot to the Sunni Waqf Board for building a mosque.

It had also said the mosque should be constructed at a "prominent site" and a trust should be formed within three months for the construction of the temple at the site many Hindus believe Lord Ram was born.

The akhara's chief seers and members of the executive body met here on Sunday and decided to meet the Prime Minister this week over its demand for "important" posts in the trust's management, its counsel and spokesman Ranjeet Lal Varma said.

These post may be that of president or secretary, he said, adding the akhara also demands that the right to worship the deity Ram Lalla be given to the Ramanandiya Vaishno Sect, to which the akhara belongs.

Varma said hence, the right to worship the deity historically remains with the akhara.

"The Nirmohi Akhara will meet the PM, its executive body will again be meeting in Ayodhya to discuss whether we have been given appropriate place as mentioned in the verdict," he said.

₹2,600 cr EPF scam: UPPCL employees boycott work

PTI ■ LUCKNOW

The Uttar Pradesh Power Corporation Limited (UPPCL) employees on Monday began their 48-hour work boycott against the provident fund scam and sought a Government guarantee for the safe return of their money invested in the DHFL.

Over ₹ 2,600 crore of the State power employees' provident fund (PF) was reportedly invested in the scam-hit Dewan Housing Finance Corporation Limited (DHFL), prompting the State Government to order a CBI probe.

However, the units generating power have been exempted from the protest to prevent grid failure.

Led by Vidyut Karamchhari Sanyukt Sangharsh Samiti (VKSSS), a joint forum of power employees and engineers, about 45,000 employees of the power department began their protest at 8 am on Monday for 48 hours, its convener Shailendra Dubey said.

The employees are demanding issuance of a notification by the Government taking responsibility for safe return of their money, invested in DHFL by the Uttar Pradesh Power Sector Employees' Trust.

The employees are also demanding arrest of the former chairman of the corporation and other IAS officers responsible for the scam, Dubey said, adding that they converged at the Shakti Bhawan in Lucknow while in other districts also they held protest meetings.

The State's Power Minister Shrikant Sharma, while terming the work boycott as politically motivated, said that Government was taking full care of the employees.

"The employees are like a family for us. We are taking full care of them to ensure that they do not face any problems. The work boycott is politically motivated," Sharma said.

The home department has also directed all district magistrates and police chiefs to ensure proper security of all employees who are not taking part in the work boycott and vital installations in their areas.

Centre should take steps to control deteriorating economy: Gehlot

Jaipur: Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Monday asked the Centre to take steps to control the "deteriorating economic condition" in the country.

He alleged that the Union Government did not implement the Goods and Services Tax (GST) properly, resulting in reduction in revenue collection of the Centre and States were facing its repercussions.

"The economic condition of the country is deteriorating. Both the Centre and States are heading towards a crisis situation. The Centre should take steps to control this in time," Gehlot told reporters in Ajmer.

"They are being arrogant that everything is going well. Their thought is that when people are travelling by air, in cars, paying toll tax, where is the economic slowdown. But our thought is that the economy is suffering.

"Economists are saying this too. Even the husband of the Union finance minister is saying that the Government has no understanding of the economy," the Chief Minister said. He reiterated that the Government should follow the economic policies of former prime ministers PV Narasimha Rao and Manmohan Singh.

Expressing concern over the issue of adulteration in the State, he assured that his Government will look into what can be done. PTI

Botulism kills 17K migratory birds in Raj's Sambhar Lake

Jaipur: Nearly 17,000 migratory birds have died so far at the country's largest inland water saltwater lake near Jaipur due to botulism, a serious and fatal illness that affects the nerves, a forest official said on Monday.

The deaths were reported in Jaipur, Nagaur and Ajmer districts of Rajasthan, he said. "The death toll has increased to nearly 17,000," Chief Wildlife Warden of the Forest Department, Arindam Tomar, said.

Jaipur collector Jagroop Singh Yadav informed that carcasses have been disposed. PTI

Nearly 8,500 birds have died so far in Jaipur itself, Yadav said. Initially, it was suspected that the birds died due to avian flu but the report from a laboratory in Bhopal has ruled this out.

On November 10, thousands of birds, including Northern Shoveler, Ruddy Shelduck, Plovers, Avocets, were found dead in the 5-7 km area around Sambhar Lake.

This was the second such incident in the State within a week.

On November 7, 37 demiselle cranes were found dead in Jodhpur's Khinchana area. PTI

Shrine receives ₹3.30 cr as revenue on opening day

PTI ■ SABARIMALA

The Lord Ayyappa temple here received over ₹ 3.30 crore as revenue on the first day when it opened on Saturday as compared to the ₹ 2.04 crore last season which was marred by protests by a section of devotees and right-wing outfits over the women's entry issue.

Over 70,000 devotees have offered prayers at the hill shrine since the temple opened on November 16 evening for the two-month long Mandala-Makkarvilakku puja. Travancore Devaswom Board President N Vasu on Monday said there was an increase of over 50 per cent in the revenue when compared to last year and the pilgrimage season this year has been going well.

"There is a huge increase in the number of devotees this year. We got ₹ 3.32 crore revenue on the first day compared to ₹ 2.04 crore last year. The devotees who visited this year are satisfied with the facilities we have arranged," Vasu told the media.

Unlike last year when the temple complex witnessed violent protests after the State Government decided to implement the September 28, 2018 verdict of the apex court allowing women of all ages to enter the shrine, this year the devotees expressed happiness as there were no restrictions.

Vasu also said 'Annadanam' for around 40,000 people have been arranged.

Annadanam is offering of food for the devotees. "We have stored enough drinking water to cater to the needs of the devotees. We aim to make Sabarimala plastic free pilgrim centre.

We have started a campaign to avoid plastic from the irumudikettu (sacred bundle containing offerings to Ayyappa)," Vasu said.

Though the apex court did not stay its September 2018 order allowing entry of women into the Ayyappa temple, the LDF Government in Kerala this time said the shrine was not a ground for activism and made it clear it would not encourage women who want to visit the temple for publicity.

A five-judge Constitution bench of the Supreme Court had on November 14 in a 3:2 verdict decided to refer to a larger bench to re-examine religious issues including those arising out of its 2018 verdict lifting a centuries-old ban on women of menstruating age visiting the shrine.

The TDB, which administers the shrine, and the temple itself suffered huge loss last season due to the protests by the right-wing outfits.

The shrine and adjacent areas, including Pamba and Nilackal, were on high-alert last year due to the Supreme Court order on women's entry.

Hospitalised leaders of RTC employees continue fast

Hyderabad: Leaders of striking employees of Telangana State Road Transport Corporation (TSRTC) continued their fast in a State-run hospital here on Monday even as doctors advised them to end their protest in view of their health condition.

Aswathama Reddy and Raji Reddy, both hypertensive and diabetic, were developing ketone bodies, and have been advised to call off their fast as its continuance may lead to health complications, the hospital sources said.

On Sunday, police up Aswathama Reddy from his house and shifted him to the Osmania General Hospital for treatment, where Reddy said he would continue with the fast.

Ashwathama Reddy began the hunger strike on Saturday. Similarly, another TSRTC Joint Action Committee leader Raji Reddy was also taken into custody from his house on Sunday.

Meanwhile, the indefinite strike by the RTC employees over various demands entered the 45th day on Monday.

The employees began their strike on October 5, and have since been making various demands, including merger of the corporation with Government, pay revision and recruitment to various posts.

The employees unions have recently announced that they are ready to set aside their main demand of merger with the Government.

The unions demanded that the Government hold talks with them to resolve the issue.

The State Government had earlier said the employees' strike was illegal as they caused immense inconvenience to the public.

The Government has engaged the services of temporary drivers and conductors to operate buses. PTI

AMMK weakens as workers on leaving spree

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■
CHENNAI

Dynamics of Tamil Nadu politics are undergoing changes on a weekly basis with homecomings and deserts by one time loyalists of party supremos. The last to join the bandwagon of cadre deserting the Amma Makkal Munnetra Kazhagam (AMMK) an outfit launched by TTV Dhinakaran, nephew of the jailed V K Sasikala, is V Pugazhendhi, a close associate of the former.

Pugazhendhi declared on Sunday that he would join the AIADMK, his parent organization, once deputy Chief Minister O Panneerselvam returns from a foreign tour. Last week saw Former Minister Patchaimal and loyalists who were with the AMMK staging a homecoming by rejoining the AIADMK.

But what has surprised political commentators in Tamil Nadu is his announcement that Sasikala, who is serving a jail term in Parappana Agrahara Central Jail in Bangalore in connection with the Disproportionate Asset Case too would re-join the AIADMK once she completes her imprisonment which is expected to end in 2020.

"Having been part of the AIADMK for more than 30 years, Sasikala will take a decision on rejoining the party herself," Pugazhendhi told reporters at Thanjavur. He was all praise for Chief Minister Edappadi Palaniswami whom he described as "Hero of Tamil Nadu".

The AMMK has been jolted by the number of senior leaders ditching the party to join the parent body. Only one leader, Thanga Tamilchelvan, has joined the DMK much against the wish of the cadre belonging to the Dravida major. The weakening of the AMMK because of the switching over of party leaders to the AIADMK is being seen as a setback for Dhinakaran.

"Things are not moving as per the expectation of Dhinakaran. Over the last two years, Edappadi Palaniswami has consolidated his position in the party as well as in the Government. Panneerselvam, the one-time challenger to the chief minister too has fallen in line and as on date, Dhinakaran is not in a comfortable position," said T Ramakrishnan,

Pugazhendhi declared on Sunday that he would join the AIADMK, his parent organisation, once deputy Chief Minister O Panneerselvam returns from a foreign tour author and columnist. Ramakrishnan, who has been a keen observer and analyst of the Dravidian politics for more than three decades said it was difficult to say something about the future of the AIADMK. "It all depends on how OPS and EPS handle the situations as they unfold," he said.

Though he said that Tamil Nadu is doing well in economy, particularly in agriculture, tax mobilization and realization, and inviting investment for rapid industrialisation, it was not an indication that the AIADMK would win the next Assembly election due in May 2021.

"That depends on how the AIADMK succeeds in patching up an effective electoral alliance at the time of the Assembly election. We may be able to say something only after the local body polls due next month," he said.

Veteran commentators are of the view that any kind of cohesion and unity seen in the AIADMK will not be in the interest of the DMK, which is having a dream run by winning the Lok Sabha polls and majority of the by-polls held in April 2019. "There is no doubt that the AIADMK Government is doing some good work for the farmers in the State by helping them with the Prime Minister's Crop Insurance Scheme and strengthening of irrigation projects. But that need not lead them to an electoral victory," said Kattumannarkoil Kannan, farmers leader and author.

Ramakrishnan said the possibilities of Dhinakaran joining hands with the DMK could not be ruled out. "Vaiko who was the number one enemy of Stalin had no qualms in joining hands with the latter. A similar situation may emerge in course of time," he said.

Pak violates ceasefire along LoC in Rajouri & Poonch

PNS ■ JAMMU

Despite suffering heavy losses in strong retaliatory firing from the Indian side, Pakistan is bent upon escalating tensions along the line of control in Jammu & Kashmir.

A day after, an Indian soldier lost his life in a suspected IED blast along the LoC in Akhnor sector, the Pakistan Army on Monday targeted several forward areas of Rajouri and Poonch districts with mortar shelling.

The Pakistan Army may have provided cover firing to heavily armed group of infiltrators to sneak inside the Indian territory, official sources said.

In Jammu, Defence PRO Lt-Col Devender Anand said, "The Pakistan Army initiated 'unprovoked' ceasefire violation in Sunderbani sector of Rajouri around 4.15 p.m." He said, "The Pakistan Army fired mortar shells in the forward areas." "The Indian Army retaliated strongly and effectively," he added.

Late evening, the Pakistan Army also targeted forward areas of Shahpur and Kirni in Poonch sector.

According to ground reports, Pakistan army was indulging in intense mortar shelling in the area till the time last reports came in.

Search op launched to track down suspected ultras in Poonch

Jammu: Security forces have launched a search operation on the basis of a tip-off about the movement of suspected militants in Jammu and Kashmir's Poonch district, officials said on Monday.

The Army and police launched a search operation on Sunday following the information provided by some villagers about the suspicious movement in a forest area of Surankote, they said.

The operation is on to track down the suspected militants, they added. PTI

Kaiga Nuclear power plant expansion sparks stir

KESTUR VASUKI ■
BENGALURU

Hundreds of people have thronged in Mallapura, a tiny town on the river Kali valley in Uttara Kannada district in Karnataka to protest against the expansion of Kaiga Nuclear power plant in the sensitive western ghats on Sunday. Mallapura is an adjacent town near the nuclear plant.

The protest was led by powerful religious pontiffs in the area which include Vishwesha Theertha Swamiji of the pejar mutt in Udipi. Addressing the huge gathering he called on the people to resist the expansion plans of the Kaiga Nuclear plant. He said "Scientists have explained what will happen here and we must resist the expansion of this power station."

Environmental activists, religious leaders, community leaders, political activists have demanded government to stop its expansion of Kaiga nuclear plant on the banks of river Kali which flows in the eco sensitive region of the Western Ghats.

The Kaiga plant had started commercial operations in November 2000, after being commissioned in 1989. The plant set up 56 km away from Karwar, currently has four functional units generating 220 MW of power. 33% of the power generated is reserved for Karnataka. This protest was organised after the authorities got all environmental regulatory hurdles were cleared at the state and Centre level on August 29. Kaiga Nuclear plant currently has four units but the Nuclear Power Corporation Ltd. under the Department of Atomic Energy has proposed a fifth and sixth unit.

The protesters argue that expanding the Kaiga plant will take up 54 hectares of forests in the eco-sensitive Western Ghats in the buffer zone of Kali Tiger Reserve. They urged the Government to consider replacing it with other safer and cheaper power generating options like solar and wind energy. They also fear with lack of safety protocol the project will put the lives of the people surrounding villages in danger.

According to Shankar Sharma a power policy expert this would lead to over dependency on water and has always the danger of contamination. According to him these units once commissioned will consume 7500 cubic metres of water per hour which is sufficient for the livelihood of 15 lakh people.

The protesters refer a Tata Memorial Centre report in 2010 had said there was a spurt in cases of cancer over the past two decades in Kaiga. Experts insist that this is because of the radioactive pollution caused by the nuclear power plant.

The Government has neither acknowledged such reports, nor has it carried out any assessment on its own.

Professor TV Ramachandra, an expert in water management from IISC, a premier Scientific research Institute in Bengaluru, who took part in the protest said "Today, science, spirituality and the culture of this region has come together because we have not received a response from the Indian government."

In December 2018, local environmental groups — Uttara Kannada Zilla Praisara Samrakshana Samiti, Bedti Aghanashini Kolla Samiti and Vruksha Laksha and residents of the area — had also opposed the expansion of the power plant during the mandated public consultation process.

Recently, even Gangadharendra Saraswati Swamiji, the seer of Sonda Swarnavalli Mutt, had also opposed the nuclear plant's expansion.

Bypoll outcome will not bring stability to BJP Govt in K'taka: KPCC chief Bengaluru: Asserting that Congress would win two-thirds of the 15 Assembly seats going to bypolls on December 5, state party President Dinesh Gundu Rao on Monday claimed the outcome would not bring stability to the BJP Government in the State.

He also said the Congress was prepared to face a mid-term poll if the situation arose, adding none of the parties, however, wanted a snap election to the Assembly.

Rao claimed BJP would get only lesser number of seats in the bypolls and the outcome would make the Government unstable while expressing confidence that Congress would win 10-12 seats.

"You (BJP) destabilise a Government and then you want to form a stable Government, it is not going to be possible. There will be no stability in this Government," he told PTI.

The Congress and JDS have accused the BJP of engineering the rebellion by 17 of their MLAs that led to the fall of the Government headed by H D Kumaraswamy in July.

The BJP, which came to power following the fall of the Congress-JDS coalition Ministry, needs to win at least six of the 15 Assembly seats in the bypolls, necessitated by the disqualification of the 17 MLAs, to keep its majority in tact. In a democracy, when no stable government can be formed, ultimately we will have to go back to the people. Let us see what happens after the bypoll results, how things works, what all happens, Rao added. PTI

Sena set to retain Mayor's post, BJP opts out

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

With the BJP backing out of the contest, the Shiv Sena was on Monday poised to retain power in the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC), the country's richest civic body, after its victory in the mayoral and deputy mayoral elections became a foregone conclusion.

While Shiv Sena's Kishori Pednekar was set to get elected unopposed as the Mumbai Mayor at the elections scheduled for November 22, while the election of Sena's Suhas Wadkar as the Mumbai's deputy Mayor became a mere formality.

Pednekar and Wadkar were the only candidates who had filed nominations for the November 22 Mayor and deputy Mayor elections respectively, when the deadline for nominations ended on Monday.

The BJP, which has a

Shiv Sena's Kishori Pedekar set to be Mumbai's new Mayor strength of 83 corporators as against the Shiv Sena's strength of 94 corporators in the 227-member BMC, pulled out of the prestigious mayoral race, saying that it did not have the sufficient numbers to bag the prestigious post. Similarly, the BJP did not put up any candidate for the deputy mayoral post.

Interestingly, the changed political equations in the state have had a fallout on the BMC Mayor elections. In the previous polls to the posts of Mayor and deputy Mayor held in 2017, the BJP had thrown its weight behind the Shiv Sena, the Raj Thackeray-led MNS (with then seven members) had boycotted the polls and 16 corporators — including 15 of those belonging to NCP and Samajwadi Party had chosen to remain neutral in the polls.

However, this time around, the BJP — with having snapped its ties with its oldest ally at the state level — is not supporting the Shiv Sena in the BMC's Mayoral and deputy mayoral polls.

The Congress — which had put up candidates against the Shiv Sena nominees in the mayoral and deputy mayoral polls in 2017 — has chosen not to field candidates for the twin polls, thus making matters easy for the Shiv Sena.

The Congress, which has a strength of 29 corporators in the BMC, will be indirectly supporting the Shiv Sena in the twin polls of November 22. The Congress' decision to extend covert support to the Shiv Sena stems from its growing proximity with the Congress at the state-level.

Ahead of the expiry of the deadline for the filing of nominations to the November 22 polls, BJP's former Mumbai unit president and minister Ashish Shelar said: "We don't have the required numbers in the BMC. We do not enter into an illegitimate alliance with opposing ideologies. But, in 2022, we shall win the Mumbai Mayor post on our strength and numbers."

It may be recalled that the BMC polls held in 2017 had thrown up a hung house. The Shiv Sena had emerged as the single largest party with 84 seats in the 227-member BMC, followed by BJP- 82, Congress- 31, NCP- 9, MNS- 7 and others-- 14.

Army patrol hit by Siachen avalanche, four killed

PNS ■ JAMMU

A patrolling party of the Indian Army, guarding the highest battlefield in Northern Siachen Glacier in Ladakh region, was stuck under snow after an avalanche hit an Army post, at an altitude of over 19000 feet, late Monday afternoon.

According to initial reports, at least 8 Army personnel were part of the patrol party which was hit by an avalanche around 3.30 pm of which four died.

The Indian Army had immediately launched search and rescue operations with sophisticated equipment to track down the foot prints of the soldiers.

On February 3, 2016, 10 soldiers were swept away by an avalanche in Northern Siachen glacier.

Lance Naik Hanamantappa Koppad of 19 Madras Regiment was extricated from his fibre-reinforced hut, buried under the 35 feet deep snow wall after a gap of 140 hours, but he could not survive even after he was airlifted to Army's Research and Referral hospital in New Delhi for specialised medical care.

Meanwhile, the rescue teams were reportedly working round the clock and observing all precautions since the unstable ice and snow in the region could trigger fresh avalanches.

The rescue teams, armed with sophisticated equipment, have been camping in the area to rescue members of the patrol party, official sources said.

Dealing with a new Lanka

India has to amp up its strategic engagement and economic presence to neutralise Gotabaya's pro-China tilt

In a multi-polar world that's grunting through protectionism and a slow economy and where every nation is trying to steer its course, each has been unanimously electing a muscular leadership to helm its destiny. In that sense, the victory of Gotabaya Rajapaksa, the nationalist strongman of the Sri Lankan People's Party (SLPP) and the brother of former President Mahinda Rajapaksa, in the island nation's elections does not come as a surprise. Particularly in the aftermath of the Easter bombings, which showed how scattered IS modules were choosing virgin targets, the Sinhalese Buddhist majority consolidation has been complete. And from the citizens' perspective, they elected a militarist who was responsible for the clean-up of the Tamil movement and its fighters earlier and whom they believe can tackle terrorism as well as execute what's best for them. At the same time in a revisionist throwback, they have entrusted their collective fate to the Rajapaksa clan. For with Gotabaya as President, he is sure to bring in brother Mahinda as Prime Minister (he has been President before but can still be PM) and as is their wont, the power structures are expected to be concentrated in a family that has been punishing to Tamils, worrying for India and benevolent to Chinese strategic interests and investment. Going by India's troubled relationship with Mahinda and the Tamil wipeout, there are stressors no doubt and apprehensions about Gotabaya. Apart from taking down Tamils, Mahinda sought to reduce dependence on India by aggressively pursuing the Chinese, accusing New Delhi of intervening in the internal affairs of Sri Lanka by propping up his own protegee Maithripala Sirisena against him and ensuring he lost the elections. Sirisena's SLFP and ally UNP, whose leader Ranil Wickremesinghe became Prime Minister, formed a coalition Government which was pro-India. The Indian establishment was also too overt rather than being covert about its interventions. So a hurt Mahinda never settled down, his party scoring in local elections till he forced a coup last October, subduing Sirisena, getting him to sack Wickremesinghe and becoming Prime Minister for 51 days. Gotabaya took charge of Defence and Security, kept the Tamil-majority areas under strict military vigil and put Indian diplomats under surveillance. It is this distrust that needs to be healed now for geo-strategic reasons if we don't want China to run far ahead.

Of course, India's latest diplomacy in the neighbourhood has factored in the pragmatism by smaller neighbours, who have successfully played on its anxieties with China and are negotiating the best of both worlds given the competitive muscle-flexing by two Asian majors. Bangladesh, Nepal and Sri Lanka are all happily walking the trajectory of "trade ties" with China and "historical linkage" with India to buttonhole both nations into giving concessions. Gotabaya, too, has seized the PR advantage by calling India "our relative" soon after his win and holding his oath ceremony at Anuradhapura, the city born out of our historical linkages. The Modi Government has changed tack over the last year and is pushing proactive participation over historical assumptions in its Lanka policy. The Chinese are way ahead here and we cannot be immune to their growing footprints. They have a 99-year lease on the Hambantota port after Sri Lanka's failure to repay loans and are using it to enhance their military arc in the Indian Ocean region all the way to east Africa. The Chinese have even created an island off Colombo, a new financial hotspot and a key conduit to east Africa, besides securing hold of the island nation's infrastructure sector, hospitality and supply chains. And while we may be debating about the adoption of Huawei's 5G technology in the country, Sri Lanka has made it abundantly clear that it has no security fears about the new-generation mobile telephony technology. India has, therefore, got to do a very tightrope act with Lanka if it wants to protect its strategic interests amid a Chinese swamp. That, too, without compromising too much on Tamil and minority interests. Economics is a good starting point. We need to work on investment and project partnerships, encourage soft diplomacy via people-to-people contacts and strengthen an institution like BIMSTEC to ensure a more multi-layered communication. Thankfully, Gotabaya has good personal equations in the power corridors of Delhi and will be amenable to negotiations. But for a win-win, India has to be a respected stakeholder, not appear like an exploitative neighbour.

Drowning cacophony

It's unfortunate that while key players in the Ayodhya case are keen for closure, Asaduddin Owaisi has struck a discordant note by saying that Muslims don't need charity

A SURYA PRAKASH

The unanimous verdict of the Supreme Court in the Ram Janmabhoomi case, which has brought conclusion to a vexed issue that has disturbed communal harmony for early five centuries, as also the responsibility and Constitutional correctness displayed by Hindu and Muslim leaders in the aftermath of the judgment, will certainly make November 2019 a memorable month in the history of democratic India. That all of this is happening at a time when the nation gears itself up to celebrate the 70th anniversary of its Constitution this month, is indeed a happy coincidence and augurs well for our democracy.

The judgment has been well-received across the country in a spirit of harmony and universal brotherhood. In fact, while both sides were apprehensive before the verdict was delivered, they committed themselves to accepting the order, whatever the outcome. Prime Minister Narendra Modi appealed to the people to accept the apex court's verdict, irrespective of which way it went. Union Home Minister Amit Shah sent out a similar appeal and supervised the extensive preparatory work to ensure peace after the verdict. A day after the judgment, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval invited the top leaders of both communities for a discussion at his residence and secured their unflinching commitment to the maintenance of peace and communal harmony. All of them swore by the Constitution and said that the November 9 verdict of the apex court must lay the foundations for a new India built on harmony and universal brotherhood.

Though the one billion-strong Hindu community finally got the plot of land, which it so deeply reveres as the birthplace of Lord Ram, it conducted itself with utmost sensibility and level-headedness. Similarly, although the Muslims lost their case, they remained committed to the pre-judgment resolve that they would accept the outcome, whichever way it went.

There can be no doubt that this was the result of a close coordination between the Union Government and the leaders of the two communities in the weeks before the order. Can there be a better example of good governance in the most diverse nation in the world? In fact, India's response to the Ayodhya verdict should be a lesson in democracy for nations around the world.

The post-verdict scenario has left the doom-sayers — especially the international media and some of their cousins in our country — totally flummoxed.

The general acceptance of the verdict had a lot to do with the way the Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court examined the issues before it and its reasoning vis-a-vis its verdict. For example, while the Hindus have been asserting that it is a matter of faith, the court made it clear that this was a dispute over immovable property and that it does not decide title on the basis of faith or belief but on the basis of evidence. It said in deciding title to a disputed property, it applies principles of evidence.

After weighing the evidence, it held that "on the balance of probabilities, there is clear evidence to indicate that the worship by the Hindus in the outer courtyard continued unimpeded in spite of the setting up of a grill-brick wall in 1857. Their possession of the outer courtyard stands established together with the incidents attaching to their control over it." Further, the court held that in the inner courtyard, "there is evidence on the preponderance of probabilities to establish worship by the Hindus prior to the annexation of Oudh by the British in 1857."

These two conclusions of the court, coupled with the fact that the Muslims offered "no evidence" to indicate that they were in exclusive possession of the inner structure prior to 1857 since the date of the construction of the mosque in the 16th century, weighed heavily in determining the outcome of this litigation.

While holding that the suit filed on behalf of the deity was maintainable, the court directed that a trust be constituted for the construction of a temple and to deal with related issues and the allotment of an alternate land to the Muslims for the construction of a mosque and associated activities.

Significantly, it observed that the allotment of the land to the Muslims was necessary because "though on a balance of probabilities, the evidence of the possessory claim of the Hindus to the composite whole of the disputed property stands on a better footing than the evidence adduced by the Muslims", the fact remained that the Muslims were dispossessed following desecration of the mosque in December 1949, and later because it was destroyed on December 6, 1992. In other words, the court noted that there was no abandonment of the mosque by the Muslims.

In view of these facts, the court said it would exercise its powers under Article 142 of the Constitution to ensure that a wrong committed is remedied. It said, "Justice would not prevail if the court were to overlook the entitlement of the Muslims who have been deprived of the structure of the mosque through means which should not have been employed in a secular nation committed to the rule of law. The Constitution postulates the equality of all faiths. Tolerance and mutual co-existence nourish the secular commitment of our nation and its people."

Therefore, in order to provide restitution to the Muslim community, the court used its powers under Article 142 and directed that they be granted five acres of land within the city of Ayodhya. This Article empowers the court to pass a decree or order "for doing complete justice" in any cause or matter pending before it. It can provide relief where there is "palpable injustice." In fact, the court has held in the past that it is advisable to leave the power undefined so that it has the elasticity to mould the relief.

This is a power that is used sparingly and is indicative of the court's desire to go the extra mile to ensure balance. While several key players in this litigation are keen to apply the closure, the All India Muslim Personal Law Board (AIMPLB) has decided to file a review petition. This is a legitimate move because the court's procedure provides for it.

However, it is unfortunate to hear Asaduddin Owaisi, AIMIM chief and MP from Hyderabad say that the Muslims do not want this "charity" of five acres of land. Fortunately, such discordant notes in the post-judgment phase are far and few. That is why the symphony of democracy and constitutionalism across the country has completely drowned the attempts at cacophony by a few disruptors.

Perilous for pedestrians

The number of walkers killed on India's roads has nearly doubled in four years. What can be done to reduce that?

According to statistics released by the Union Ministry of Road Transport and Highways, the number of pedestrians killed on India's roads climbed from 12,330 in 2014 to 22,656 in 2018 — an increase of 84 per cent in just four years. Many things can be extrapolated from these numbers. The first, of course, is the dramatic expansion in the country's road network. The other quite obviously is the total lack of pedestrian safety in the country. There are no pavements or sidewalks left beyond central Delhi and select other Government zones in other cities, which have not been occupied by hawkers and parked cars. There are a few crosswalks or an alternative method to cross major thoroughfares. The traffic police and transport authorities, in their desperation to make traffic flows smoother, have also done little to chalk out a plan for pedestrians, who come last in their scheme of things.

However, blaming the authorities and the rash driving habits of Indian drivers is a valid criticism. While studying pedestrian deaths, there should be far more planning to ensure their safety, including in vehicle and road design. Pedestrians themselves should share a lot of the blame. Even when there are overpasses, underpasses and traffic lights to cross roads safely, they blithely ignore these and cross the roads in the face of oncoming traffic just sticking their hands out. With little or no understanding about how much faster vehicles have become, pedestrians often take their lives into their own hands. Crossing a road, even at a traffic light in one's favour while staring down at a phone, is downright dangerous. Driving down any of the new high-speed expressways, you will find pedestrians without a care in the world crossing the road while cars zoom by at speeds well over 100 km per hour. With such blatant disregard of road use and behaviour, no matter what is done, pedestrians will still die. And the number of deaths can easily be brought down. One method is to teach schoolchildren the basics of road safety, both as pedestrians and drivers. The other is to build proper methods for people to cross the roads and stop encroaching them. India's roads are horribly bloody as it is and far too many people die on our roads every single day. In any other country this would be a national emergency. In India, this is barely given a second thought. That needs to change urgently.

Task cut out

Sir — Gotabaya Rajapaksa's presidential win was pretty convincing. As for Sajith Premadasa's defeat, it is no doubt painful for him as it would be for any presidential hopeful. But there may be some consolation for him with the fact that he can now forget about his election promises, which he would have been required to fulfil if had he been elected.

Gotabaya played his cards well. In times when Sri Lanka is faced with several problems, including the state of the economy, fears set off by the Easter Sunday bombings and not to forget the revulsion towards corruption, he refrained from taking on his opponents, especially Premadasa, and conducted himself in a business-like manner. This approach came as a breath of fresh air in the electoral politics that is generally vitiated by effrontery and name-calling. Thus, he must have endeared himself to the voters, who were fed up with the present state of affairs.

Finally, winning the executive presidency is one thing and living up to the expectations of

The quest for equality continues

The Supreme Court's decision to refer the review pleas made in the Sabarimala case to a larger seven-judge Bench elicited a mixed reaction. One is inevitably led to ask if the apex court lost its earlier conviction to look kindly on the review petitions and not dismiss them even in the face of no "apparent error" in its original historic judgment. Nevertheless, it was some solace that it did not reverse or stay its judgment allowing the entry of women of all ages into the Sabarimala temple.

Even though women in the 10-50 age group can still legally enter the temple, the prospect of them being allowed to have Ayyappa darshan looks bleak. Belligerent opponents of women's entry seem to be determined to put blockades to prevent women in the menstruating age from entering the temple "to preserve the sanctity" of the temple. Last time, frenzied attacks and "purification rituals" made headlines. It is not clear when the original ruling stands, why the State Government now deems it right to ask women to get Supreme Court's order for "protection." The Left Government seems to have developed cold feet for fear that it will have to face a political backlash from "true Ayyappa devotees."

The top court's decision to bracket women's entry with other issues of gender inequality and refer it to a larger Bench "to consider all issues" pertaining to faith vis-a-vis women's rights and gender equality is certainly amenable to be interpreted as a dilution from its earlier position. Parsi and Muslim women, too, should be able to enter their places of worship; it is not clear why the present case should be mixed up with the denial of rights to those women.

the people is another. Politics in Sri Lanka is characterised by the lack of military precision. The biggest challenge before Gotabaya or for that matter any politician — be it in Sri Lanka or India — is to bring order out of chaos in the public sector if they have to carry out their plans. Gotabaya is known for his China tilt and hardline views. He should ally India's fears here.

Politics of convenience

Sir — This refers to the editorial, "Three men in a boat" (November 18). The editorial lucidly lays bare the dire exist-tial needs of the three parties — Shiv Sena, Congress and Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) — who have come together to forge a strange, new alliance.

Anybody will agree with the fact that between the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and the Shiv Sena, it was the latter which had shown a greater and stronger commitment to the concept of Hindutva and Hindu nationalism.

Meanwhile, the Congress had always been critical of the Sena's ideology, dubbing it as "extremist", "fascist" and "chauvinist." The Shiv Sena on its part treated the grand old party as its most serious opponent. Yet, both parties have instantly shed every inhibition, resentment, repugnance and ideologies to form a Government.

Such forsaking of whatever they stood for to share power and pelf is business as usual for political parties. But the least one expects is that they do not loftily pretend that it is all pro bono publico (for public good). This will be tantamount to "hypocrisy."

Equal education, equal chances

Stakeholders really need to understand the essence of the National Education Policy, 2019 and the challenges connected with it

MADHURI DHARIWAL

“We are our choices,” said Jean-Paul Sartre, the French philosopher, political activist and literary critic. Most people don’t realise how big a privilege it is to have the freedom of choice. I teach students ranging from five to 26 years, none of whom got to choose whether to work or study in a regular school. Eight-year-old Preeti is always hungry and 17-year-old Vijay seeks to escape a drunken father’s beatings, while fending for his siblings. Both were at a standard one learning level. However, I also had students who were receiving quality education, free of cost and guaranteed until class VIII and this was possible due to the Right to Education Act (RTE), 2009.

The Right of Children to Free and Compulsory Education Act, 2009, is the legislation which provides free schooling to kids aged 6-14 years. A section of the Act, linked to the aspect of school “choice”, is Section 12(1)(c), which made it mandatory for all private, unaided, non-minority schools to reserve 25 per cent seats for children from a socially and/or economically disadvantaged background. This gives parents an opportunity to apply to schools they had hitherto lacked access to. The spirit of the Act, was to foster an environment of social inclusion, along with developing empathy for marginalised communities. However, there were many challenges, including clarity on the letter of the policy that had to be addressed first. Across the country, over 20 lakh seats must be reserved per year in private schools, according to the provision of the Act and there have been over 41 lakh admissions until 2018. The Draft National Education Policy (NEP), 2019, presents certain recommendations and challenges with respect to Section 12(1)(c). The recommendations are mainly centred around uniform technology usage for transparency and accountability; funding to be received on time; correct reporting of numbers; no discrimination in schools and extra support to students falling behind. An NGO working in this space, has come up with a Sustainability Benchmark, based on its experience of operations over the last six years. If implemented, it would address the recommendations/challenges mentioned in the NEP Draft, 2019 as well. States can be classified into three categories, based on their implementation standards — Mature, Maturing, and Nascent. This is not an attempt to rank States in an order, rather, a self-evaluation for them, to seek areas of improvement. Another motive of the benchmark is to highlight the bright spots in implementation in States that are doing well, in different aspects of the policy. The current scenario in the country and criticism around this policy is linked to multiple factors: A competition between Government and private schools; perceived discriminatory behaviour in private schools; low self-confidence among children enrolling through RTE due to the vast socio-economic differences; schools wrongfully claiming minority status to avoid 12(1)(c) admissions and delays in private schools receiving reimbursements, among others. However, there are many studies that highlight factors such as high self-efficacy in girls, more pro-social, generous and egalitarian behaviour in “richer” students with “poorer” classmates and also, how a lack of integrated classrooms will lead to a further segregated society. There needs to be a better system of monitoring and regulation of private schools, as there are concerns being raised about their quality. This is linked to parents making less-informed choices while selecting schools. However, a Bright Spots Report, 2019, based on its survey, shows that the top five factors affecting school choice are proximity to home; quality; transportation provision; board of education; results — in that order, thus showing that school quality is an important factor in parents’ choice.

Another current issue raging in the country, with respect to 12(1)(c) is the judgment by the Karnataka High Court in May, which accepted the petition, to read down the provision, thereby making admissions in private schools conditional upon the non-existence of Government or Government-aided schools in the neighborhood (i.e. Government schools are filled before parents can choose to send their wards to private ones). With over 6.5 lakh children studying under the provision in the State in 2018-19 and having received around 88 per cent of its reimbursement for the same year, as claimed from the Centre, it is a massive setback to the State and by extension to the nation, to see a State like Karnataka reduce the number of 12(1)(c) seats from 1.52 lakh to about 17,000 per year. The judgment was challenged in the Supreme Court (SC), through a Special Leave Petition. The SC has issued a notice to the Karnataka Government to reply and the verdict is pending. With the current version of the NEP 2019, which was released at the end of October, the stance on 12(1)(c) is lacking clarity. There are no details on implementation of the policy and hopefully the Winter Session of the Parliament will provide more lucidity. Stakeholders really need to understand the essence of the policy and the challenges connected with it, by engaging in constructive dialogue about the practical implications of the policy and how it affects lives and giving fact-based rationale for the same. It is for stakeholders to think about the choices they are making, as it impacts the right to choose, for millions of children in our country.

POINT COUNTERPOINT

KEJRIWAL IS GIVING POISON TO DELHIITES IN THE NAME OF FREE WATER. DELHI WATER WAS FOUND TO BE THE MOST POISONOUS IN A SURVEY OF 20 CITIES.

—UNION HEALTH MINISTER HARSH VARDHAN

SIR, YOU ARE A DOCTOR. YOU KNOW THIS REPORT IS FALSE AND POLITICALLY MOTIVATED. A PERSON LIKE YOU SHOULD NOT BECOME A PART OF DIRTY POLITICS.

—DELHI CHIEF MINISTER ARVIND KEJRIWAL

Hello Minister! Can you hear me?

While no country has reconciled regulation with free enterprise, it is imperative to find a way out. One parameter in our ease of doing business that needs tweaking is dispute resolution, particularly in telecom

BINDU DALMIA

When the big boys of India Inc. are pushed to the wall in a market slugfest of the kind that’s playing out in the telecom sector since three years, it’s an area angels fear to tread. And, only a collective call by the Government comprising a cross-section of stakeholders from the Department of Telecommunications (DoT), Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) and the high-powered Committee of Secretaries (CoS) has the power to intervene in a timely and judicious way. Because it is already a case of “too little, too late” to salvage the near-collapse of an erstwhile profitable sector, now laden with debt of over ₹7 lakh crore.

Telecom as a sector is “too big to (let) fail”, a theory that asserted when certain behemoths that comprise a sector “are so large and interconnected, their failure would be disastrous to the greater economic system and that they therefore must be supported by the Government when faced with potential failure.”

With increasing teledensity and internet penetration, telecom services are today consumer essentials, much like FMCG or pharma goods, and are consumed by every section of society. And like power, telecom and internet are deemed essential utilities and the vehicles forwarding the digital revolution.

India is currently the world’s second-largest telecommunications market with a subscriber base of 1.20 billion and is amongst the top five employment generators in the country. Which is why there is cause for alarm with the second quarter losses posted by listed telecom companies after the October Supreme Court (SC) order crossing unsustainable levels of ₹1 lakh crore in debt, with Vodafone-Idea, RComm, Airtel and TATA Tele being the worst-hit in a descending order.

One shares the Prime Minister’s optimism to aim for a $5 trillion economy, as much as one lauds the Finance Minister’s interactive-resolution modus, which is a refreshing departure from her predecessors in not procrastinating decision-making till the annual Budget to address the industry’s pain points. And pain points abound, from the beleaguered banking, automobile, realty, power and aviation sectors, with the latest crisis in telecom having overtaken all others.

While India’s improved ranking in the World Bank’s Ease of Doing Business index (EODB) is an outcome of the Modi regime’s commitment to reforms, one parameter in the EODB that requires improvement is dispute resolution, particularly in the crippled telecom industry. Resolution and relief are very much within the Centre’s discretion, as they are the winners in this case and need to make concessions in the overall interests of the sector. Regulatory uncertainties in the distressed sector are casting negative ripple effects on the already subdued business sentiments within the country. While Indian business has been reluctant to commit to fresh capital expenditure (CapEx) investments, we can ill-afford a negative perception amongst foreign direct investors. The National Digital Communications Policy 2018 envisaged attracting investments worth $100 billion in the telecommunications sector by 2022, which is only possible in an enabling environment, where time is spent on growth instead of fighting fires. Given that the beneficiaries of the trade diversion from the US-China trade wars have been Vietnam and

“IDEALLY, THE GOVERNMENT AIMS AT THREE NON-STATE PLAYERS, PLUS ONE PUBLIC SECTOR TELCO IN THE MARKET, BECAUSE INDIA NEEDS MULTIPLE CARRIERS TO RIDE THE DIGITAL REVOLUTION FORWARD. THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS NOT IN FAVOUR OF A MONOPOLY IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. BUT TO AVERT MONOPOLISTIC CONDITIONS, OR EVEN A DUOPOLY, INTENT MUST BE FOLLOWED THROUGH BY SUPPORTIVE ACTION”

Taiwan in preference to India, for the country to make a global impact, we need a more facilitatory approach so that multinational corporations (MNCs) view it as a potential centre for making profits.

To attract Foreign Direct Investment (FDI), “India needs to salvage even the recent entrants like Flipkarts from making losses that are giving nightmares to Walmart, the Paytms to Alibaba and the Vodafone’s giving nightmares to its UK parent.”

Vodafone is the largest foreign direct investor in the country and its year-old joint venture with Idea Cellular is the worst hit, with net losses at ₹50,922 crore. This is unfairly the second setback for Vodafone after the UPA-2 had amended its tax laws with retrospective effect with claims of $2 billion in taxes. The entire sector is today at risk of lowered credit ratings, jeopardising the asset quality of banks that have an exposure of ₹1 lakh crore. This will further deepen the existing Non-Performing Assets (NPA) crisis, as borrowers become unable to service debt due to contingent liabilities.

The distress in telecom is largely attributed to Reliance Jio’s entry three years ago that disrupted the economics of the sector. Jio’s hyper-competitive pricing triggered massive consumer attrition, giving it a vantage particularly in rural areas and eroding average revenue per user and user-counts of competitors. The problems of the industry have been compounded by the SC judgment that favoured the Government in the dispute between DoT and telcos. The Government’s demand to include non-core items while computing Adjusted Gross Revenue (AGR) has had a crippling effect on 15 telcos asked to shell out a staggering ₹1.3 lakh crore.

Let’s remember that “the Supreme Court is fair, but not infallible.”

Besides, the Indian telecom market, which is the second-largest in the world in terms of data consumption, is too large to be held hostage by either erstwhile cartels, or the likely emergence of a duopolistic scenario, or the eventuality of allowing single-player dominance. Which is where we are headed if the Government fails to salvage existential issues facing two out of the three private players, Vodafone-Idea and Bharti Airtel.

Ideally, the Government aims at three non-State players, plus one public sector telco in the market, because India needs multiple carriers to ride the digital revolution forward. That the Government is not in favour of a monopoly is a decision in the right direction. But to avert monopolistic conditions, or even a duopoly, intent must be followed through by supportive action.

So what are the relief measures sought by the industry? They hope for positive recommendations from the CoS committee to restore the health of the sector by the regulator setting minimum floor tariffs for mobile calls and data; a moratorium on spectrum payments/a longer tenure to pay up spectrum liabilities through staggered payments; a waiver on interest and penalties on the AGR-related dues; lowering of taxes and levies; freeing up of ₹7,000 crore of blocked Goods and Services Tax (GST) input credits; a favourable review of the SC ruling, failing which they plan a curative petition before a five-judge Bench that may deliver a better judgment than the one on October 24, and lastly that TRAI restore its credibility by playing neutral.

Empirical evidence in economic history points to signs of distress showing up much before a cancer turns full blown and incurable. Even the global economic crisis of 2008 was preceded by symptoms like bubbles in asset value of stocks and real estate. Nations, sectors or corporates don’t collapse overnight but show symptoms of malaise much ahead of an impending crisis.

Governments play an important role in gauging the declining health of sectors ahead of time by assessing risks, whether they are caused due to corporate misgovernance, faulty policies, or bought on by cyclical market conditions, or a slowdown caused by de-globalisation. A case in point is the timely intervention by the Union Minister for Commerce when he recently chided e-commerce companies indulging in predatory pricing which adversely impacted small retailers, a regulatory role TRAI should have played three years ago by setting a floor price. Because predatory pricing is as damaging as surge-pricing.

India’s private sector players are capable of delivering quantum “Winning Leap solutions” if regulators, courts and Government policies make it easy to do business. While no country has struck the perfect balance between regulation and free enterprise, it is imperative to find a way out of the impasse, as all interlinkages in the modern industrial supply chain get affected and risks that beset one sector cascade through the rest of the economy. And if unresolved, the disruptions could extend for years, destroying value for all involved.

Big ticket privatisation move welcome

With a Government that is looking at the sale of PSU assets including under-utilised plants and land, it makes sense to look at rapid denationalisation, thereby creating a vibrant space for the private sector

KARAN BHASIN

The Finance Minister has indicated that BPCL (Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited) and Air India are likely to be privatised by March 2020. This is an extremely significant development as India hasn’t seen big ticket privatisation since the Atal Bihari Vajpayee Government between 1999-2004. Although, there were attempts to privatise Air India in the previous tenure of the Narendra Modi Government, however, the terms didn’t generate adequate interest. Things have changed since then and we’ve seen many investors express interest in acquiring Air India. Privatisation of Air India is not just about freeing critical taxpayer resources that are deployed to keep the debt-ridden airline alive but it is more about a signal to the world, that the Indian Government is finally back on track to gradually move out from businesses. This implies a greater role for the private sector in the Indian economy — a welcome sign for the rest of the world that is looking at India as the next driver of global growth.

The fact that we’re looking at privatisation should not come as a surprise given that Modi himself mentioned how the Government has no business to be in business. Therefore, a mandate of 303 gives him the necessary political capital to denationalise many of our public sector assets. The sale of BPCL is perhaps more significant as unlike other Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs), it is not exactly a loss-making enterprise funded by taxpayer largesse.

However, its operations in an oligopolistic setting mean it is yet one of the least-efficient companies in the sector. Therefore, clearly, the new rule for privatisation is not just about getting rid of loss-making PSUs but instead getting rid of any inefficient unit that can be better operationalised in the hands of the private sector.

This renewed approach towards privatisation is indeed required in order to transform the Indian economy and therefore, while political opposition may persist to the move, the potential benefits from such a move will overshadow any such resistance. It is important to recognise that a major share of wealth created in India happened post-1991 reforms where the Indian Government removed the policy of licensing.

In fact, ever since such requirements began to be muted in the 1980s, we see a sharp increase in India’s growth rates. All of this reveals an undeniable fact that India’s growth has accelerated ever since we embraced private capital. Therefore, getting rid of these companies will result in an overall value creation, not just for these firms but also for the rest of the economy.

The biggest advantage of privatisation over disinvestment is that it facilitates the change in management of these PSUs. A major reason why the PSUs are not as efficient as the private sector is their management and the lack of an incentive structure that focuses on economic efficiency and generation of private profits.

Therefore, while disinvestments would result in non-tax revenues for the Government, the management remains largely the same. However, the management remains largely the same. Therefore, there are limited implications for broader wealth creation for these companies through disinvestment.

The timing of privatisation is also critical as it comes at a juncture when our growth has slowed down. Therefore, privatisation will have two positive implications for the economy. First, it will revive the sentiment and since economics is about self-fulfilling prophecies, a positive sentiment is critical towards accelerating the process of growth recovery. The second aspect is more transactional as it is to do with public finances.

During an economic slowdown, a Government’s tax revenues don’t grow as per expectation. We see some of this in the current financial year as there’s a major revenue shortfall which is likely to affect the financials of the Government. The other aspect is that since deficit is reported as a percentage of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP), slow growth will amplify the amount of deficit during slow growth years.

However, privatisation can bridge the deficit through non-tax revenues and its positive impact on sentiment will also have a muted, yet important second order effect on growth rates. Just as the Government is looking to privatise Air India and BPCL, it is also looking to revive BSNL (Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited) and MTNL (Mahanagar Telephone Nigam Limited). The plan to introduce a voluntary retirement scheme and to merge these two enterprises is good. However, it will succeed only if we scale down their operations significantly. That is, the Government should downsize the merged entity and retain only the strategic operations of the company while the rest of it and its assets can be sold off to private players.

With a Government that is looking at the sale of PSU assets including under-utilised plants and land, it makes sense to look at rapid privatisation, thereby creating a vibrant space for the private sector. The exit of the Government from production will free up critical resources that it can then devote to enhancing State capacity and provisioning of the public goods and services.

FOREIGN EYE

POLITICIANS MUST WAKE UP TO CRISIS

Germany’s economic pre-eminence means that its response carries a special weight within Europe. It has narrowly avoided going into recession. Its economy remains strong but the boom has ended and German politics will have to respond with more expansionary strategies. Stability has long been the dogma in Berlin, but 60 years after the legacy of Marx and Engels was discreetly put to one side by the SPD, revisionism is in the air again.

NITI mulls healthcare system for middle class

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

NITI Aayog is mulling building up a healthcare system for the middle class which is still not covered under any public healthcare system, the Government think-tank said on Monday.

The healthcare system would exclude those covered under the newly-launched Ayushman Bharat scheme that mainly caters to the bottom 40 per cent population of the country.

India has low level and very fragmented risk pooling, with household out-of-pocket funding at 64 per cent of total expenses dominating the overall system financing, NITI Aayog said at the launch 'Health System for a New India: Building Blocks — Potential Pathways to Reform' report.

The report was released by NITI Aayog Vice-Chairman Rajiv Kumar in the presence of Bill Gates, the co-chairman of Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

The healthcare system would exclude those covered under the newly-launched Ayushman Bharat scheme that mainly caters to the bottom 40 per cent population of the country

NITI Aayog Adviser (Health) Alok Kumar said the report intends to prepare the road-map to build a health system in the medium — to long-term for those belonging to middle class as the poor have been taken care of now through Ayushman Bharat while those in the top have the capacity to bear their medical exigencies.

"So nearly 50 per cent are still not covered under any public healthcare system and the idea is to pool their risk assets which will cater to the health care needs of the middle class," Kumar said.

Kumar opined that people falling under the middle class will not bother if they have to pay nominal ₹200 or ₹300 towards building a good public healthcare system in the country and the plan looks feasible.

Bill Gates said India's future is very bright because of its young population, and highlighted that human capital of any country is the sum total of its healthcare, educational and nutritional investment for its citizens.

"Our vision for a healthy India and quality health for all requires us to holistically transform the delivery of healthcare services in both the public and private sectors across all levels of care," said Rajiv Kumar, Vice Chairman, NITI Aayog.

Under the PM Jan Arogya Yojana (PM-JAY), the bottom 40 per cent of the population gets ₹5 lakh cover for secondary and tertiary care against nearly 1,350 disease conditions.

Yes Bank drops 4%

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Market benchmark Sensex dropped by 72 points to close at 40,284.19 on Monday due to losses in private banks, IT and energy stocks amid concerns over the economic slowdown.

Despite positive cues from global markets, sentiment in the domestic market was subdued on account of multiple reports suggesting that the pace of India's economic growth may falter further, traders said.

"Post Q2 results, market seems to have entered an indecisive period of trade having rallied well in the last two months and lack of major data releases this week. Globally, investors are awaiting triggers on resolution of US-China trade tension and future interest rate trajectory of US central bank. In the short-term volatility may stay but banks are expected to do well given a new life to distressed asset," Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services said.

Markets remained flat throughout the day as investors were cautious, Paras Bothra, President of Equity Research, Ashika Stock Broking said.

Sectorally, BSE capital goods, auto, energy, FMCG, IT and industrials indices fell up to 0.68 per cent. While BSE telecom, metal, basic materials, healthcare and utilities indices rose up to 3.42 per cent.

Metal stocks closed higher as the sentiment turned positive for base metals with the news that US and China are progressing gradually and in a more constructive manner on trade tariff front, Kotak Securities Senior Vice-President, Equity Technical Research, Shrikant Chouhan said.

NSE Metal index rose by 1.79 per cent, led by gains in Tata Steel (4.41 per cent), Hindalco (3.33 per cent) and SAIL (2.75 per cent).

Market breadth was negative as 1,404 stocks declined while 1,154 gained on BSE.

Bourses in Hong Kong, Tokyo and Shanghai settled on a positive note amid optimism about US-China trade talks while those in Seoul ended in the red. European equities were trading on a mixed note in their respective early deals.

Meanwhile, the Indian rupee depreciated marginally to 71.79 against the US dollar intra-day.

Brent crude futures, the global oil benchmark, rose 0.09 per cent to $63.36 per barrel.

IT firms may shed 30,000-40,000 mid-level staff: Mohandas Pai

PTI ■ BENGALURU

India's information technology services companies may shed 30,000 to 40,000 mid-level employees this year as growth slows down, IT industry veteran TV Mohandas Pai said Monday.

The former Chief Financial Officer of IT major Infosys Ltd termed these job losses as once-in-five-years normal phenomenon with maturing of the industry.

"As in all sectors in the West, in India too when a sector matures so many people will be there in the middle level who will not be adding value to the salary they get," Pai told PTI.

Promotions are okay when companies are growing fast but when it slows down, people getting fat salaries will aggregate at the higher level, prompting companies to periodically reset their pyramids, and shedding people, he said.

"It's going to happen again and again and again every five years," said Pai, Chairman of Aarin Capital and Manipl Global Education Services.

"Nobody is entitled to a fat salary and high-paying job unless you perform, right? You have to deliver value."

"All across industry, may be 30,000 to 40,000 in a year..." he said when asked about the number of middle-level staff who would lose their jobs.

Indians studying in US increased by nearly 3%, says report

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The number of Indians studying in the United States increased by almost three per cent to over 2 lakh in the 2018-19 academic year, according to a report.

Indians make up over 18 per cent of all international students in the US and the number of foreign students is at an all-time high in 2018-19, the fourth consecutive year with more than 10 lakh international students, according to the 2019 Open Doors Report on International Education Exchange. The Open Doors report, conducted by the US-based Institute of International Education (IIE), is an annual survey of foreign students and scholars studying in the country and American students studying abroad in credit-bearing courses.

"Student exchanges between our two countries help strengthen the foundation upon which our strategic partnership is built," Charisse Phillips, US Embassy minister counsellor for consular affairs, said at the launch of the report in Delhi on Monday.

"Indian students are looking for a great education and the United States offers the best return on this investment," Phillips said.

According to the report, data from the US Department of Commerce stated that international students contributed $ 44.7 billion to the economy in 2018, an increase of 5.5 per cent from the previous year.

Vodafone Idea to raise mobile services rates from Dec 1

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Debt-ridden telecom operator Vodafone Idea on Monday said it will raise mobile services rates from December 1 in the wake of ongoing financial stress.

"To ensure that its customers continue to enjoy world class digital experiences, Vodafone Idea will suitably increase the prices of its tariffs effective December 1, 2019," Vodafone Idea said in a statement.

Vodafone Idea did not disclose the quantum of hike in tariff it is planning from December 1. The company at present provides monthly mobile services at starting price of Rs 24 without data, and plans with data service starts from Rs 33 onward. Vodafone Idea last week reported consolidated loss of Rs 50,921 crore - highest ever loss posted by any Indian corporate - for the second quarter ended September 30, on account of liability arising out of the Supreme Court order in the adjusted gross revenue case.

The Supreme Court last month ruled in favour of the government and directed telecom companies, including Vodafone Idea, to pay dues as demanded by the Department of Telecom. Vodafone Idea said that its ability to continue business will depend on reliefs sought from the government and positive outcome of the legal option it has.

"The acute financial stress in the telecom sector has been acknowledged by all stakeholders and a high level Committee of Secretaries (CoS) headed by the Cabinet Secretary is looking into providing appropriate relief," the statement said.

Both Vodafone India and Idea Cellular merged their telecom business to handle the tariff war in the sector, triggered by the new entrant Reliance Jio in 2016.

"By 2025, India will be a five trillion dollars economy," he said.

RBI plans to set up college of supervisors: Das

Mumbai: The Reserve Bank is in the process of setting up a "college of supervisors" to augment the supervisory skills of its key personnel, governor Shaktikanta Das has said.

The development can be attributed as a response to the massive scam at Punjab & Maharashtra Cooperative (PMC) Bank, which for three years hoodwinked the regulator with cooked up books—something the annual inspection by the RBI supervisors could not notice and take preventive action.

The RBI has already created a unified department of supervision and a unified department of regulation from November 1 this year, which will strengthen the oversight of commercial banks, cooperative banks and NBFCs, Das has said.

The governor was addressing a closed-door conference on '50 years of bank nationalisation' organised by Ahmedabad University over the weekend.

"It is our endeavour to update the knowledge and skill levels of supervisors on a continuous basis. We are adopting a multi-pronged approach in this aspect. We are in the process of setting up a college of supervisors to augment and reinforce supervisory skills among regulatory and supervisory staff," Das was quoted as saying in a statement issued by Ahmedabad University. Take care of irregular beat

If you have an irregular pulse, experience palpitations, shortness of breath, chest pain, fatigue, and weakness, you could be suffering from a heart disease called atrial fibrillation (AF).

It is a condition that involves irregular beating of the left atrium (upper chamber) of the heart that increases a person's risk for stroke by four to five times when compared with the people who do not suffer from it.

Therapies like patent foramen ovale (PFO) and left atrial appendage (LAA) closure are performed to close the hole or defect in the heart of patients suffering from cryptogenic & non-valvular atrial fibrillation respectively.

Digital innovations are revolutionising healthcare and technology in medicine is paving the way for better treatment. When suffering from this condition, blood clots are most commonly formed in LAA.

LAA and PFO implants have proven to reduce strokes in patients. It can also reduce the risk of bleeding associated with long term use of blood thinners

If you take a blood thinner for AF, you are probably aware of the bleeding risks that come with it. Most people can take blood thinner for years without a risk.

PFO and LAA closure therapies are performed to close the hole or defect in the heart. These procedures do not require open-heart surgery. A permanent device that doesn't have to be replaced and can't be seen outside the body is used.

LAA and PFO implants have proven to reduce strokes in patients. It can also reduce the risk of bleeding associated with long term use of blood thinners that have been used conventionally.

Stroke is becoming a major cause of death in low-income and middle-income countries like India. To prevent AF and stroke, there should be a focus on early diagnoses, public awareness and capacity building at different levels of health care.

WARMFOODS

SAFFRON: The saffron is a spice derived from the flower saffron crocus. The vivid crimson stigma and styles, called threads, are collected and dried to be used mainly as a seasoning and colouring agent in food.

Saffron is rich in antioxidants mainly crocin and picrocrocins that help fight against oxidative stress and free radicals in the body.

It is also hailed for its anti-inflammatory properties. Take a pinch of saffron add it to a cup of warm milk and drink. You may also add turmeric. This will help in reducing muscle cramps and body aches. It also helps in fighting common cold, flu and even asthma.

Saffron contains more than 150 volatile compounds that is good for the overall well-being of the body.

EYE SUGAR LEVELS

According to the International Diabetes Federation, people with Diabetes are expected to develop some form of eye disease, leading to reduced vision or blindness. DR ARINDAM DEY tells you how to keep the disease at bay

The risks associated with Diabetes are becoming increasingly evident. Consistently high blood sugar levels can lead to serious health problems, such as negative effect on heart and blood vessels, kidneys, nerves, coupled with higher risk of developing infections.

It is critical to increase the level of awareness of Diabetic retinopathy amongst individuals with diabetes mellitus for early diagnosis and management.

Evidently, Diabetes is the primary cause of blindness in adults between the ages of 20 to 74 worldwide. With approximately 72 million of people in India suffering with diabetes, it accounts for nearly 7.1 per cent of the country's adult population.

All Diabetes patients — both Type I and Type II — are at risk of Diabetic retinopathy. The longer someone has Diabetes, the more likely they are to develop Diabetic retinopathy.

People with Diabetic retinopathy have damaged blood vessels in their retinal layer; a light-sensitive layer at the back of the eye.

WHILE THERE IS NO CURE FOR DIABETIC RETINOPATHY; EARLY DETECTION AND TIMELY TREATMENT IS OFTEN EFFECTIVE IN PREVENTING, DELAYING OR REDUCING VISION LOSS

Prolonged high blood sugar levels in Diabetics can cause damage or swelling to the small blood vessels in the retina. Retina is the light-sensitive tissue at the back of your eye and needs a healthy retina to have a clear vision.

Diabetic retinopathy can be managed through regular eye check-ups. Many Diabetics are unaware that chronically high blood sugar may result in eye damage. Diabetes is still majorly associated with kidney failure and cardiovascular problems. It is time to raise the awareness levels and encourage diabetics patients to go for periodic eye consultations.

Symptoms: Ideally, Diabetic retinopathy does not cause noticeable symptoms until significant damage has occurred. It usually affects both eyes and complications that indicate the onset of Diabetic retinopathy.

- Blurred or distorted vision, or difficulty in reading
Floaters, which are dark objects that float across the field of vision
Distorted colour vision
Partial or total loss of vision cure for diabetic retinopathy; early detection and timely treatment is often effective in preventing, delaying or reducing vision loss. Further, Diabetic patients should make dietary changes to control their glucose and lipid levels.

Diabetic retinopathy can be a big problem for pregnant women who have Diabetes. To protect vision, women at risk should have a comprehensive dilated eye examination upon confirmation of pregnancy, as well as additional medical tests as recommended by the doctor.

Adolescent Diabetics must have their eyes examined at least once a year after the age of 12 years, as diabetic retinopathy is rarely known to occur before puberty.

SAY NO TO DULL HAIR

It feels great to run fingers through soft hair but due to various factors, our hair aren't as silky and smooth as we want them to be.

DR NIRANJANA RAJ shares tips that can help to maintain the tresses

Shiny, healthy, and tangle free strands are what everyone desire. On the other hand if you like to style your hair with hot tools, experiment different products, and also color it regularly; then silkiness seems only a dream.

When shampooing, we usually pile our hair on top of our head and wash the entire length of the hair. This method not only forms tangles but also dry the ends of the hair which already lack moisture especially in curly hair.

Be mindful when shampooing
When shampooing, we usually pile our hair on top of our head and wash the entire length of the hair.

It has been observed that most people do not brush their hair gently, which impedes hair from looking its best. The best way to detangle hair is using a wide toothed comb when your hair is wet or can use a brush specially designed for wet hair or to brush when hair completely get dry.

Use T-shirt instead of a towel to dry your hair

We always knew the basic method to dry our hair was rough drying that is by rubbing a towel back and forth; touching it but the fact is that we have wrongly learned it. This method generates friction which fluffs up the outer cellular layer of the hair.

Always finish blow dry with a blast of cold air

It sounds little time taking step, but the fact is after the hair is dry the key for locking the amount of volume, movement of your hair and direction of your style is finishing a blow out with cold air. It also helps close the outer cellular layer of the hair.

If you are taking Omega-3 pills or relish two-three servings of Omega-3 rich fish a week, you can continue with those, without worrying about its potential prostate cancer risk that some previous research with preliminary findings have reported in the past.

The researchers at the Intermountain Healthcare Heart Institute in Salt Lake City, Utah, US who continue to research the potential benefits and risks of this popular fish oil supplement especially when it comes to prostate cancer risk and heart health have found no link between the two.

Viet T Le from Intermountain Healthcare Heart Institute said they undertook this study in light of findings from a 2013 paper from the journal of the National Cancer Institute that suggested a possible link between higher Omega-3 plasma levels and the development of prostate cancer.

The Himalaya Drug Company brings its flagship initiative — Muskaan to West Bengal. Championing the cause of treating cleft for children in need, Himalaya Lip Care launched its campaign 'Ek Mutho Hanshi' in Kolkata on November 18, 2019 in collaboration with Smile Train, the world's largest cleft charity, to provide free life-saving cleft surgeries to children.

"This study is important because we looked at how omega-3 helps patients who have already developed disease, and its effects on survival - both in getting to the first angiography to be diagnosed (vs. having a heart attack or worse before even knowing they have heart disease) and thereafter," Le elaborated.

While a seeming association between higher plasma Omega-3 levels and the findings of severe heart disease upon initial angiogram might raise alarms that Omega-3 isn't beneficial, "they did live to see a doctor and get diagnosed," Le added. — IANS

Telling the difference between a teen's normal ups and downs or something bigger is among the top challenges parents face while identifying depression among the youth, says a new study. Forty per cent of parents struggle to differentiate between normal mood swings and signs of depression, while 30 per cent are tricked as their child hides his feelings well, according to a new national poll in the US.

According to the researchers, some parents might be overestimating their ability to recognise depression in the mood and behaviour of their own child. An overconfident parent may fail to pick up on the subtle signals that something is amiss.

The poll also suggests that the topic of depression is all too familiar for middle and high school students.

One in four parents say their child knows a peer or classmate with depression, and one in 10 say their child knows a peer or classmate who has died by suicide. This level of familiarity with depression and suicide is consistent with recent statistics showing a dramatic increase in suicide among US youth over the past decade.

Rising rates of suicide highlight the importance of recognising depression in youth. Compared to the ratings of their own ability, parents polled were also less confident that their preteens or teens would recognise depression in themselves. — IANS

Fire holds off Hong Kong Police at protest campus

Hong Kong: A large fire held off an apparent police advance on the Hong Kong campus where hundreds of pro-democracy protesters were holed up on early Monday, hours after officers warned they may use "live rounds" if confronted by deadly weapons in a dangerous escalation of the near six-month crisis engulfing the city.

Protests have rocked the global financial hub since June, with many in the city of 7.5 million people venting fury at eroding freedoms under Chinese rule.

China has repeatedly warned that it will not tolerate the dissent, and there have been concerns that Beijing could send in troops to put an end to the spiralling unrest.

Several loud blasts were heard around dawn on Monday before a wall of fire lit up an entrance to the Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU), AFP reporters said, as what appeared to be a police attempt to enter the campus was repelled by protesters determined to hold their ground.

Police said they had fired three live rounds in the early hours of Monday at a protest site near the university but that no one appeared to have been hit. Intense clashes throughout Sunday, which saw a police officer struck in the leg by an arrow and protesters meet police tear gas with volleys of petrol bombs, rolled overnight across the Kowloon district, as a call went out to defend the besieged campus.

There, protesters had hunkered down under umbrellas from occasional fire from police water cannon and hurled Molotov cocktails at an armoured vehicle, leaving it ablaze on a flyover near the campus.

Police declared the campus a "riot" scene — rioting is punishable by up to 10 years in jail — and blocked exits as spokesman Louis Lau issued a stark warning in a Facebook live broadcast.

"I hereby warn rioters not to use petrol bombs, arrows, cars or any deadly weapons to attack police officers," he said. AFP

New SL Prez says will remain neutral on foreign policy

Colombo: After swearing-in as the seventh Executive President of Sri Lanka, Gotabaya Rajapaksa stressed that Sri Lanka wants to stay out of conflicts among the world powers and would remain neutral in its foreign policy.

"We will maintain friendly and cordial relationship with all the nations and we don't want to be caught between power struggles of international politics among different nations," Rajapaksa said after he took oath at the historic Sinhalaya Buddhist city of Anuradhapura.

"In maintaining relationships with us, we urge all nations to respect our sovereignty," he added.

Rajapaksa announced he would soon form a new Government to implement his policies.

Former Defence Secretary-turned President had selected Ruwanveli Mahaseya, a massive temple built by valiant king Dutugemunu in north-central city of Anuradhapura, situated 200 km from capital Colombo. He was sworn in besides the statue of King Dutugemunu (161 BC-137 BC). According to historical chronicle Mahawamsa, the King unified the country overthrowing Tamil prince Ellalan from Chola Kingdom.

"I was able to address the nation as the President in front of the statue of one of the greatest kings of Sri Lankan kingdom Dutugemunu because of the historical mandate given by the people," said Rajapaksa. IANS

Emirates announces $16 billion deal to buy 50 Airbus 350

AFP ■ DUBAI

Emirates Airline said Monday it would buy 50 Airbus 350-900 widebody aircraft in a deal worth $16 billion, with delivery to begin in May 2023.

"I am happy to announce we are purchasing 50 Airbus 350 for $16 billion," the carrier's chairman and CEO Sheikh Ahmed bin Saeed Al-Maktoum told reporters at the Dubai Airshow.

Emirates serves a global network spanning over 158 destinations in 84 countries. Its fleet stands at 267 large aircraft, including more than 100 Airbus 380 superjumbos.

Its move earlier this year to reduce its total A380 orders triggered Airbus to pull the plug on the costly plane, which airlines have struggled to fill to its capacity of 500-850 people.

At the time, Airbus said it would buy smaller A330 and A350 models instead.

Libyan officials: Airstrike kills 7 workers in Tripoli

Cairo: An airstrike slammed into a biscuit factory in the capital, Tripoli, on Monday killing at least seven workers including five foreign nationals and two Libyans, health authorities said.

Tripoli has been the scene of fighting since April between the self-styled Libyan National Army, led by Gen. Khalifa Haftar, and an array of militias loosely allied with the UN-supported but weak government which holds the capital.

The Tripoli-based health ministry said the airstrike took place in the capital's Wadi el-Rabee neighborhood, the south of the city center where fighting has been raging for months.

Malek Mersat, a spokesman with the ministry, told The Associated Press that the dead included five workers from Bangladesh, and two Libyan nationals.

The airstrike also wounded at least 15 foreign workers, mostly from Niger and Bangladesh, who were taken to nearby hospitals for urgent treatment. AP

Conservative candidates vow to back Brexit deal: UK PM

London: British Prime Minister Boris Johnson has revealed that every Conservative Party candidate standing in the country's general election on December 12 has personally pledged to back his Brexit deal.

In his first major newspaper interview of the election campaign, Johnson told the Sunday Telegraph that he has asked all 635 of his candidates to sign up to a pledge to back his Brexit Withdrawal Agreement in the House of Commons.

"If we get a majority Conservative government, we can deliver and there will be no more wrangling or dither or delay," Johnson said, Xinhua news agency reported.

He said he plans to end Britain's membership of the European Union (EU) in January if he wins a majority that keeps him at 10 Downing Street.

"Of course there will be many who voted Remain, many who voted Leave, people with different views, and they will come together to get it done, and come together in the interests of the whole country."

The Telegraph commented that highly unusual decision by Johnson is designed to help convince voters who support Britain leaving the EU that the Conservatives will deliver Brexit if they return to government.

Meanwhile the newspaper reported the latest opinion poll, carried out by Savanta ComRes, puts the Conservatives on 41 per cent, the highest level in one of the poll company's surveys since the last general election. Labour remains eight points behind, but has risen to 33 per cent, its highest level since April. IANS

The actor wears a pink and grey-checked shirt and grey trousers with a powder pink turban. He can also be seen sporting a long beard.

The film is an adaptation of Forrest Gump, Robert Zemeckis' multiple Oscar-winning film which was released in 1994 and starred Tom Hanks with Robin Wright.

'Nowadays, there is a trend of taking steroids but it's a very wrong thing to do. I feel no one should use steroids. In fact, a lot of people misuse them, which could be bad for one's body as it can damage the liver and kidney. There are a lot of people who have died doing exercises in the gym because of heart failure. A body made from steroids cannot last long.'

Actor NEHA DHUPIA has an adorable birthday wish for her daughter Mehr, who turned one on Monday.

The actor took to Twitter to share a couple of photos. Neha wrote, "Happy first birthday our little angel. My heart is so full of love. I don't know what I am capable of giving you but you gave me the best gift of my life, the gift of motherhood. May god bless you. Guru 'Mehr' Karein."

Kylie sells stake in beauty brand

Reality TV star KYLIE JENNER is selling a stake of her beauty brand to Coty, the owner of CoverGirl makeup.

Coty Inc. will pay $600 million for a 51 per cent stake in Kylie Cosmetics, valuing it at about $1.2 billion. Coty says it plans to launch more products under the Kylie brand and sell them in more countries around the world.

Jenner, part of the Keeping Up with the Kardashians reality show family, founded her company four years ago, relying on her hundreds of millions of social media followers to promote the brand, which includes her popular lip liner. Last year she struck a deal to sell her goods in 1,100 Ulta Beauty stores.

Coty says Jenner will still be the face of the brand and be involved in creating new products.

What makes one a true gentleman? Do the likes of a certain Mr Darcy or Rhett Butler come to your mind? Or is it the more contemporary take by actor Ayushmann Khurrana who points out the gender stereotypes that men are bogged down by even today? In the latest ad by the grooming brand, The Man Company, the actor makes the point that in recent times, being called a 'gentleman' has less to do with the last name or profession and more with the mindset and attitude. The narration of the video goes on like... Mard ka ek stereotype hai. Woh ghar chalayega, woh ladki ko bi bachayega, woh rokega nahi, weak nahi hoga... Lekin jisko dard hota hai asal mein vahi mard hota hai (Man has been stereotyped with cliches like he runs the house, saves the girl, doesn't cry or fall weak... But the one who feels the pain is the actual man.) He then breaks this mould through his own life and aspirations by saying that he wanted to be a man who is true, one who could sing and cry and if he could, save someone too. He mentions that a man can like anything from the colour pink to the rock band Pink Floyd. The ad breaks the age-old notions about masculinity in a patriarchal society and conveys a message that being 'soft' doesn't necessarily stand in contradiction to masculinity rather strengthens it. He believes that men and women are different but that should not form the basis of differentiating between the two.

Advertisements in India have increasingly become focussed on gender roles, family hierarchy and traditional marriage practices now. International Men's Day is a good occasion to analyse how ads are evolving with time and normalising men breaking gender stereotypes now.

The Ariel ad made one question the assumption that household chores are a woman's domain. It opened with an older man sitting and observing his daughter performing all the household tasks along with a call from work while her husband sits and watches the television, asking her to prepare his evening tea. Her father's off-screen voice reads a 'Dear Daughter' letter in Hindi as he is stunned to see the pressure his 'girl' is facing. He admits later that he is sorry for having provided her with a wrong role model. It simply talks about how we are conditioned into believing that some chores are only for women, while

Better half

Advertisements are increasingly turning gender roles on their head and projecting a man who is not defined by stereotypes. AYUSHI SHARMA maps changing perspectives on International Men's Day others are confined to men.

Remember the Airtel ad where a strict and stern female boss ordered two male colleagues to get an assignment done, with one of them protesting its feasibility? The boss still demands that they should manage. Later, in the evening, only one man is seen working over-time. He receives a call from his wife (who also happens to be his boss) asking what he wants to have for dinner and requesting him to come early. The ad clearly portrays the strong female boss at work, on one hand, and a caring wife on the other. The roles have been reversed and yet the man seems to be comfortable with it. No display of affronted male egos here.

Next comes the Havell's #HawaBadlegi advertisement where a couple goes to a marriage registrar's office. The husband chooses to take the wife's last name, making the official do a double take. A brilliant yet another simple take to shatter the ceilings. The campaign portrays how men are changing their attitude towards the women in their lives.

A commercial of Biba too normalises how men could be on the other side of the so-called gender divide. The ad showcases the father of a girl who demands that the boy should also learn to cook for his wife to take care of his daughter in the future. He asks, 'Beta, khaana bana lete ho?' (Can you cook?), presenting a situation, where usually the opposite happens. The boy responds by inviting his in-laws to come over for dinner for 10 days. It projects the man who is more accommodating and not helmed in by watertight ideas of gender while making the arranged marriage set-up fair to both genders.

With more marketers and advertisers understanding the importance of gender equality today, brands are understanding the responsibility that they have towards the public in how they choose to market their products. It works for the cash registers as well as 65 per cent of youth, who are more likely to purchase products on how they perceive the brand, as per Vice Media. A Nielsen report also shows that 65 per cent of total sales of consumer goods measured globally are generated by "brands whose marketing conveyed commitment to social or environmental value." Cheers to a more progressive advertising!

THE FAUX EFFECT

Blending materials on a single tile makes for interesting floor layouts

People have been surfacing floors and walls in tile for hundreds of years. It's one of our oldest materials but the industry keeps reinventing the product. Digital printing and fabricating advances can now realistically replicate wood, metal, textile, leather, brick and paper in a sustainably made, durable tile form.

"Tile companies have made great strides in suspending my disbelief that these aren't actual stone or other real materials," says New York-based designer Daniel VanHall. "A lot of the really imaginative designs are like theatre in tile form. It's pretty exciting."

MATERIALS MATCH-UP

The blending of materials on a single tile makes for interesting floor layouts. Today's iterations of wood-look tile are almost indistinguishable from the real deal, since realistic hues and textures can be printed onto slab, plank or square tiles.

The tech is also being used to marry disparate materials into cool new versions: pieces of wood paired with slivers of metal, say, or wood embedded in stone. The juxtapositions are intriguing and easier both to install and walk on than if real wood, real metal and concrete were fused together. Sant-Agostino's Timewood has a geometric pattern of wood-look strips in a cement-look matrix; Provenza's Alter takes the look of shards and panels of reclaimed oak and blends it seamlessly with a ceramic base to create a kicky, midcentury modern design.

Antique silks were the inspiration for Florim's Filati di Rex collection, comprised of floral, jacquard, baroque and geometric patterns drawn from the renowned Italian fabric house Rubelli. Tile designers are also using antique rugs and tapestries as inspiration.

VINTAGE MODERN

Nancy Epstein of Artistic Tile sees a resurgence in age-old techniques like encaustic tile, where the pattern is made with pigmented cement rather than painted on.

"We're finding that people are much more open to colour and pattern than they've been for years," she says.

This year, at both Cersaie, Italy's international tile fair held in Bologna, and Cevisama, Spain's version held in Valencia, there were nostalgic nods to both countries' renowned ceramic history. Matte-finish tiles were printed with motifs referencing centuries-old intarsia and majolica patterns, and designers liked the idea of using them in contemporary spaces.

Cle Tile, based in San Rafael, California, has several artists' collections of handmade encaustic tile, ranging from modern takes on Old West patterns, to midcentury graphics. Erica Tanov has translated some of her vintage textile archive into cool cement tile designs, in on-trend hues of cream, charcoal, federal blue and soft pink. Los Angeles-based graphic designer Joy Cho has created a playful collection inspired by bubbles, streamers and confetti.

BOLD BOTANICALS

Katie Michael-Battaglia, design director for Nemo Tile and Stone in New York, says another trend builds on a kind of pattern that's been growing for the past few seasons: flower, leaf and tree motifs.

"What's interesting now is to see the explosion of botanicals, typically seen on fabrics and wallpapers, but now moved to porcelain tile," he says. And again, the wow factor is how accurately new printing techniques can reproduce leaves, grass or even pebbles. With some of the exceptional versions, like Casalgrande's Padana Limpha ivy-look tile slabs, there's an almost 3-D effect of a 'living wall.' The Casalgrande tiles are even treated so when they're exposed to sunlight, air pollutants and dirt don't adhere as readily, making them easier to clean.

But the hand of the artisan can also be appealing. At Artistic Tile, Michael Aram's Orchid collection features carefully crafted 3-D flowers on a black or white background; a panel of the tiles would make striking wall art. And at Tilebar, there are copper-glazed tiles that look like embossed or braided leather.

Michael-Battaglia mentions one other major tile trend, which is also capitalizing on fabricating advancements. "Designs are pushing the boundaries on imitating natural stone," he says. "Terrazzo is a great example of this; companies are playing with scale and color with almost cartoonish liberties. Manufacturers have started elevating designs to mimic exotic stone like onyx and gemstones. They've moved away from just the imitation of classic stone — marbles, lime-stones and quartzes — and are creating their own mashups, a stone you don't see in nature."

Giant slabs of onyx-look tile are cladding bathrooms from floor to ceiling, including vanities and tub aprons. Companies are offering marble-look tile in unexpected hues like magenta and green, or with veining in gold or copper. And there are imaginative takes on terrazzo with pink, blue or green backgrounds and exploded, oversize patterns.

As VanHall says, "I can do a whole room in porcelain tile, yet it can all look different."

'UPSET ABOUT HOW government treats artists'

Bollywood veteran Rishi Kapoor is upset because he feels the government does not treat the artists' community well. He says artists are not honoured enough in India, the way it happens abroad.

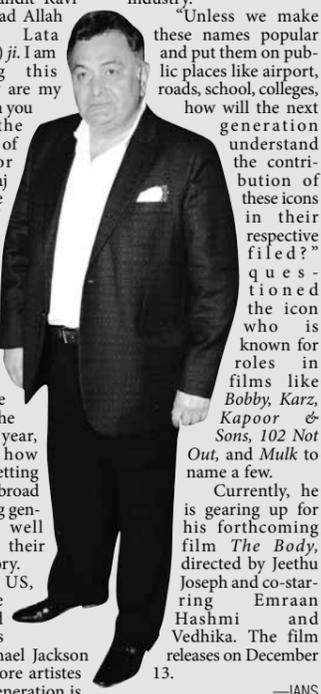

"I really am upset when I think about how our government treats our artists. We are the nation that is known worldwide for cinema, music and culture. But look at how our icons are treated. Does the government recognise our icons as much as other nations? All the new roads, flyovers, airports are so far named after politicians. Why not name these after artists?" Rishi said. He added, "We have icons like Pandit Ravi Shankar, Ustad Allah Rakha, Lata (Mangeshkar) ji. I am not saying this because they are my family but can you overlook the contribution of Raj Kapoor and Prithviraj Kapoor in the business of entertainment? They are celebrated worldwide but not in my country. Why so?"

Kapoor, who came back from the US after a year, observed how artists are getting recognition abroad and the young generation is well versed with their cultural history. "In the US, there are places named after Elvis Presley, Michael Jackson and many more artists and young generation is well aware of their contribution. Here, everything is named after politicians. We have achievers like astronaut Kalpana Chawla. She is an inspiration for many youngsters. How well versed are our kids about her? Politicians are only changing names with an agenda. Our artists are not honoured enough in their lifetime," said the actor, who has received several awards including the National Award as Best Child Actor for his debut role in Mera Naam Joker (1970). He was also conferred an award by the Union Ministry of Culture of the Russian Federation for his contribution to the Hindi film industry.

"Unless we make these names popular and put them on public places like airport, roads, school, colleges, how will the next generation understand the contribution of these icons in their respective filed?" questioned the icon who is known for roles in films like Bobby, Karz, Kapoor & Sons, 102 Not Out, and Mulk to name a few.

Currently, he is gearing up for his forthcoming film The Body, directed by Jeethu Joseph and co-starring Emraan Hashmi and Vedhika. The film releases on December 13.

An Indo-French exhibition, drawn from the archives of the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris and the city's National Museum, opens a historical window into the linkages that existed between 1750-1850. By SAKSHI SHARMA

REFLECTIONS OF THE PAST

The Jardin de Lorixa (The Garden of Orixia), a botanical exhibition with paintings representing more than 740 plants from India some of which have been lost forever, remained unknown for almost two centuries until Kapil Raj identified it.

It is one of the many hitherto unseen exhibits which have come up for viewing at the exhibition — Rajas, Nawabs and Firangees, Treasures from the French and the Indian archives (1750-1850) drawn from the archives of the Bibliothèque Nationale in Paris and the city's National Museum. It portrays the lives of 12 Indian rulers and French-speaking officers serving under them from 1750-1850. It also showcases never-seen-before manuscripts, paintings and artefacts that offer glimpses of the Indian court life, through the eyes of French-speaking officers.

In the first section, on display are portraits of 12 pairs of French officers, and the Indian rulers in whose court they served, covering Indian territory that lies in present-day region which stretches from Kerala to Punjab, through Bengal, Awadh, Delhi, Rajasthan, Pune, Hyderabad and Madurai.

Many of the paintings, especially those depicting court scenes, have a complex interplay of mirrors where the technique and style seem to represent the machinations and politics that are practised here.

One of the first paintings that the viewer encounters is that of French leader, Colonel Antoine-Louis Henri Polier, donning a mustard jacket and white gown, sporting a long moustache. A hookah is placed beside him as he watches a nauch in an open space. The setting makes one reminisce the house or a palace of an Indian noble rather than of a Frenchman. Clearly both the cultures were in close contact and influencing each other as much, if not more, than happens in contemporary times.

However, one wonders where the idea of curating never-seen-before manuscripts and paintings emerge from. Curator Dr Samuel Berthet says, "The proposal came from Colonel Pillay to highlight the

The exhibition's third leg points towards the rich and complex theme of firangee paintings where the subjects are essentially French. It answers how foreigners projected themselves during their sojourn in the East, and how they were represented by indigenous miniature artists. There are paintings of French-speaking travellers such as François Malherbe, Manucci, Bernier or Tavernier too.

The show also displays European themes in Indian court paintings. This took place as many western images circulated in Indian court and local painters were inspired by them and adapted their works to these. There were also books on Indian culture (botany, history and numismatic) commissioned by French and painted by Indian artists for a French readership.

The display also spans Indian paintings representing Indian divinities and communities commissioned by French administrators to Indian painters of the Tanjore tradition.

Very little is known about the artists of these works. When asked if Samuel had met someone who recalls any incident related to any of the paintings he says, "Roger Faligot, a French writer came to me few years back for his research on François Malherbe, the first European, possibly the first person in the world, to travel across the world, by sea and land. He was a merchant, who had to change or adapt his identities many times and had accumulated a lot of knowledge on the way. He was also welcomed in the court of Akbar." Through a careful study of his dress, painter Roger Faligot identified him in two early 17th century miniatures from the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Interestingly, during the 19th century scholars such as Burnouf or Max Muller studied India in the libraries and built a knowledge of the world on the basis of the materials collected. It changed the way we look at the world history. Such paintings are of an immense aesthetic value. But since it was impossible to exhibit them as preservation is not an easy task, they remained unknown.

Transporting them is often impossible as given their antiquity, these are fragile and also expensive. Besides, one can exhibit only one image per album, while some of them contain hundreds of pictures. "So we have digitalised it as it becomes easier to consult the documents, and also to exhibit them. It will enrich our knowledge about the past and have a more accurate understanding of the present," says Samuel.

role of French speaking officers serving the Indian rulers. I then proposed to extend the theme to the cultural exchanges triggered by those officers."

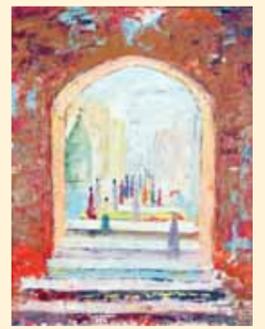

From there he got the idea to use this opportunity to reveal the Indian treasures in the French collections. The Bibliothèque Nationale de France has more than 3,000 manuscripts — 2,000 in Sanskrit and Prakrit from all over

India and 1,000 in modern regional languages including 600 in Tamil. There are at least 50 painting albums which contain around 3,000 pieces from different regions and schools which were largely untapped by researchers.

"I spent innumerable hours consulting with researchers and scholars such as Jérôme Petit to compose the text. It was also important to understand what the images tell us about the Indo-French relationship of that time, and how it evolved," he adds.

The second part shows a wide collection of Indian sacred texts preserved in the Bibliothèque Nationale. Apart from the ones which centered around different aspects of Hinduism, the collection also has those related to Islam, Buddhism, Tantrism, Jainism and the ancient religion of the Parsis.

Emerge, reappear and rebuild

Dr SURYASNATA MOHANTY portrays the abstracts of city architecture and impressionist imagery of ancient temples that form vantage points of human realities

The knife work and occasional brush work on the background is what a viewer witnesses as they enter the exhibition — Submergence and Emergence: The Continuum of Structures and Being by Dr Suryasnata Mohanty at India Habitat Centre. It portrays the abstracts of city architecture and impressionist imagery of ancient temples that form vantage points of human realities.

The chronicles of this everlasting survival are quintessentially the tales of submerged beliefs, faith and struggles that may temporarily go beneath the visible. But they emerge, reappear and rebuild themselves over time. This forms the philosophy of artist Suryasnata's works.

Vilay-the Impermanence is an abstract work of a partially submerged citadel with a flight of steps carved in dark brown. It leads to a ruined multi-storied monumental structure against a white and grey background. It symbolises the fate of all structures, material or non-material things, reiterating that nothing is permanent.

On the other side is Tales of Cities, an abstract work with a backdrop of earth-brown shades. It reasserts the continuity of civilizational existence that life continues in new shapes and no destruction is permanent.

"The origin and continuities of life is a complex narrative, which continues in cycles. Numerous vantage points that construct human reality merge, overlap and occasionally blur out in the paintings of Suryasnata Mohanty," describes Avijna Bhattacharya, art curator.

Her upbringing in Bhubaneswar inspires her current works on surviving temples and continuities of faith.

Artist Shobha Broota also visited the exhibition and appreciated the subject and techniques Suryasnata uses to mix various colours and depict the complexities of the subject.

Swapna Drishti — A Journey in Dream is curious mix of colours with a blue background, which showcases ancient temples, depicting the vision of a lost city.

Another painting, Emergence in Submergence portrays a temple which is half submerged in water and half in sky, with a few stones at the corner.

The thread of moli shown as a rope to hang the temple bell in the painting — The Calling Bell — presents a unique thought and application of symbol, imagery and colour. "Bold treatment of colours and confident strokes bring out the maturity of Suryasnata's works that are not only thoughtful but also a visual treat," Broota remarked.

Sculptor and the current director general of National Gallery of Modern Art (NGMA), Adwait Gadanayak also viewed the works such as The Lone Hope and End is the Beginning. While the former has a silhouette of a temple placed against the evening sky, the latter is an abstract work depicting a curious blend of black, bluish-green brick walls along with a threaded loop of pathways.

Multiple human faces

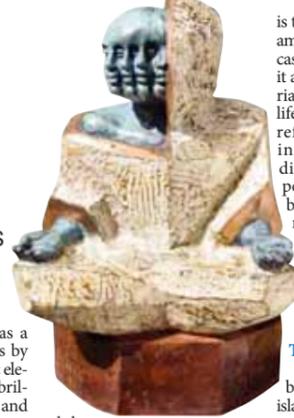

ARUN PANDIT, through his sculptures, shows mirror images of bulls and humans emerging out of a cocoon, says UMA NAIR

Arun Pandit, Lalit Kala National Award winner for sculpture in 2010, could well have been overlooked at the ICCR gallery in Kolkata. He is one of the great discoveries of the curator/collector Amal Allana who found him after a long journey of struggles.

Pandit's bronze sculptures have taken on the look of granite and rock rather than metal. Asserting strongly the three dimensionality of his figures, Pandit, through his sculptures, shows bulls and humans emerging out of the cast, as if from a cocoon. He creates repeated mirror images and multiple reflections of the same figures.

Elegiac elegance
Resonance in Time has a series of quaint sculptures by Pandit that echo the elegiac elegance of his thoughts, the brilliance of his conception and compositions that keep man at the centre of his universe. "I found that he had poetry, spirituality, irony and humour in his works," says Allana, the daughter of the connoisseur Ebrahim Alkazi who set up Art Heritage many moons ago.

Allana discovered Pandit at the solo show Power and Pathos at the Lalit Kala Akademi in 2016. Pandit's bronze and fibre glass sculptures talk to us about the power of man as much as the uniqueness of creating an alchemy of realist as well as cubist elements to bring forth a synergy that is at once unique and deeply resonant in its rhythms. It evocatively echoes our own thoughts.

Half world, half material
Nationally known to Tirupathi devotees for his Garuda installation, Pandit considers Picasso, Moore and Brancusi as his role models. Today, in our country, Pandit is the only one who creates an amalgam of mould and bronze casting in his sculptures to give it a rare half world, half material chemistry that showcase life's leanings as much as it reflects the inner deeper instincts of man's many dichotomies. His Couples point to the resilience and beauty of the institution of marriage. His Musicians is a work that brings forth the cubist brilliance of angularities and the magic of antiquity in vintage realism.

Tensile tenors
Pandit works with bronze to create his own islands of reflection "to see how much continuity and depth there is in one single material." In many other works, I saw the split mirror images of a single face which add poise to the idea of repetition and multiplication in a techno-crazy age. Each sculpture becomes a project on its own. Pass your eyes over this brilliantly designed and installed show and you'll see that it's not just bronze but each element which fights silently for dominance. In his works, Pandit is more interested in continuity and conversations that the viewer can interpret as he tries to do something different with each composition — having a different response to each fact.

Ways of seeing
"Not all of my sculptures are beautiful. Many are challenging and awkward — the viewer has to move around to find the moments or facets of the gestures I use. But once you decide how to look at something, you can apply that to everything," said he.

Pandit's interest in ways of seeing things stems from his childhood in Patna where he studied the creative practices of life and the architectural symbolism of housing as well as observed people. Known for having created public works in the city these sculptures tell us that a thought is a physical thing which is subtle but at the same time very real in this world. We understand that there's an intellectual as well as an aesthetic dimension to that.

The beauty of Pandit's sculptures is his passionate sense of perfection not just in his figurative creations but the tinge of spirituality that he weaves into his work. There is an amalgamation of different moods, myriad responses and reflective contemplation.

All the world's a stage
This is perhaps a rare brand of syncretism. It has its own melancholic quietude. It amalgamates spirituality and illusionism, pervading every aspect of his work. "When you put something on a pedestal, you're saying that we can play with the idea of space and different dimensions that change over passage of time. When you change the position of the pedestal, it's like you're bringing back a perspective of your own idea of reality. Ultimately, it's all in our minds. And the most important thing is that we create works that give us a certain identity. Sculpture, for me, is about creating my own language within the beauty of the gravity of bronze. And the human figure is my elixir. It is the substance on which I contemplate the contexts of life's hidden drama as all the world's a stage."

PTI MUSCAT

Winless in four games so far in an increasingly disappointing campaign, the Indian football team faces higher-ranked Oman in a do-or-die World Cup qualifying round match here today.

A first half strike from Sunil Chhetri gave India hopes of beating Oman in the first leg in Guwahati in September but it ultimately turned out to be so near-yet-so far as the Gulf nation struck twice in the final 10 minutes to outwit the home side.

Oman are coming into this match after an emphatic (4-1) win over Bangladesh on November 14.

India, on the other hand, are struggling after an impressive goal-less draw against Asian champions Qatar as they needed late equalisers in their identical 1-1 draws against lower-ranked Bangladesh and Afghanistan.

After three draws and a defeat, India are fourth in the Group E table with three points while Oman are second with nine points from four matches. Qatar are on top with 10 points from four matches.

NEW KING OF LONDON

Tsitsipas topples Thiem to become first Greek player to win ATP Finals title

AFP ■ LONDON

Stefanos Tsitsipas battled back from a set down against Dominic Thiem to win the ATP Finals title on Sunday night, emphatically staking his claim as the leader of the next generation of aspiring global superstars.

The Greek 21-year-old, who won, 6-7 (6/8), 6-2, 7-6 (7/4) is the youngest champion since Lleyton Hewitt in 2001 and the fourth first-time champion at the season-ending event in as many years.

It is Tsitsipas's third title of the season and comes a year after he was crowned champion at the Next Gen ATP Finals in Milan.

He has charmed the crowd at London's O2 Arena all week and earned his place in the final with an impressive straight-sets win against six-time champion Roger Federer.

"I can't sum up my emotions right now," said Tsitsipas. "It's amazing to be remembered as the 2019 champion. It is a dream come true and the best way to end this match."

"I did get nervous at some points in the match but I managed to forget about how I felt and I had momentum in the tie-break which was really tight."

"My fighting spirit and me constantly trying to push myself to do better got me there in the end."

Defeat is a bitter disappointment for Thiem, who won five titles this year, including the Indian Wells Masters, and reached a second successive French Open final.

There was little to choose between sixth-seed Tsitsipas who beat his opponent in three sets in the Beijing final last month, was under pressure, spraying a forehand wide to concede first break of the match.

Tsitsipas held with ease and then produced a forehand down the line to break again, with Thiem threatening to unravel. Tsitsipas had won 12 out of 14 points in the set.

Thiem, who like Tsitsipas plays with a single-handed backhand, stemmed the tide but could make little impression on his opponent's serve and lost the set 6-2.

Thiem was rocking again at the start of the deciding set. He saved two break points in the first game but looked increasingly shaky and was broken to trail 1-2.

The Greek was now well on top but out of nowhere Thiem was level at 3-3 after Tsitsipas put a backhand wide. The Austrian was now playing with much more confidence, unleashing a series of blistering winners and edged ahead 5-4 after another service hold but the rest of the set went with serve.

In the deciding set tie-break Tsitsipas took a 4-2 lead but was pegged back to 4/4.

But on the next point Tsitsipas earned a mini-break, giving him the chance to serve out for the match and he made no mistake, closing out his biggest victory of his career.

Tsitsipas has competition among his peers as the new generation attempt to dislodge Federer, Novak Djokovic and Rafael Nadal, who have dominated the men's game for the past 15 years.

World number four Daniil Medvedev won two Masters titles this year and reached the US Open final while Alexander Zverev was in London defending the title he won last year.

But Tsitsipas, who has beaten every member of the "Big Three" in 2019, will go into the new season with the belief he can take the next step towards the apex of the men's game.

and Austria's world number five Thiem in the first set as a total of five break points went begging.

Both players had impressed on serve during the tournament, with Tsitsipas's figures especially striking — 44 service games won out of 47 leading into the final.

In an inevitable tie-break Tsitsipas saved a set point at 5/6 but Thiem clinched his second set point with a powerful serve that the Greek returned into the net.

TSITSIPAS BREAKS
But Tsitsipas regrouped and within minutes Thiem,
