Indian economy continues to grow, though at a slower pace. GDP growth slowed down to 4.5 per cent in the third quarter, a quarter point lower than the 4.9 per cent growth during the second quarter. The slowdown is mainly due to deceleration in manufacturing output and subdued sales figures. The government had earlier pegged GDP growth at 5.4 per cent for the current fiscal, and possibility of 5.5 per cent growth during the third quarter. The slowdown is mainly due to manufacturing sector, according to official data released on Friday. The current fiscal GDP growth slowed down to 4.5 per cent as compared to 7.3 per cent in the same period of last year. The RBI had lowered the GDP growth projections for 2019-20 to 6.1 per cent from earlier 6 per cent, citing weak external environment and domestic factors. According to the data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI), the gross value added (GVA) growth in the manufacturing sector slowed down to 4.9 per cent in the second quarter from 6.9 per cent a year ago. Industrial, real estate and professional services growth slowed to 5.8 per cent in the quarter as compared to 7.8 per cent in the same period of last year. The RBI had lowered the GDP growth projections for 2019-20 to 6.1 per cent from earlier 6 per cent, citing weak external environment and domestic factors. According to the data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI), the gross value added (GVA) growth in the manufacturing sector slowed down to 4.9 per cent in the second quarter from 6.9 per cent a year ago. The government has come under severe criticism from the Opposition for its "hard-headed" handling of the economy, according to official data released on Friday. According to the data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI), the gross value added (GVA) growth in the manufacturing sector slowed down to 4.9 per cent in the second quarter from 6.9 per cent a year ago.

Ultra-modern apple market to be set up in Pinjore

SAD: Punjab Govt’s performance on GST, one of the worst

Punjab Chief Minister Captain Amarinder Singh Thursday urged the Centre to set a good example in the implementation of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) in the state and have a zero growth in its revenue.

Amarinder Singh said the GST has been implemented in the country with an eye to ensure that the states do not lose any revenue. However, the Centre, on the other hand, has been extracting a huge amount of revenue from the states under the GST.

This has been happening for the past two years, and the Centre has drawn more than 21,000 crore in GST revenue in the last two months, he said.

The Chief Minister said that the GST, which was launched as a revolutionary tax, has failed to deliver what was promised. Instead, it has failed to ensure a fair distribution of revenue to the states.

He said that apples coming from Himachal Pradesh and Jammu are kept in cold storage in far-flung places like Delhi, Banga and Cherrah, which not only raises transportation expenses but also affects the quality of fruits and vegetables.

The apple market of Pinjore will be modernised and the心智ur market in Ganaur for which the Centre has sanctioned 2,100 lakh has been set up in tandem with the state government.

Uddhav Thackeray may be as familiar to his father and Shiv Sena founder Bal Thackeray as the Badshah of Kashmir is to the Mughals. The Sena leader is the third generation in the family to be named ‘Thackeray’ after the family patriarch, who died in 1982.

The Thackeray family has a long history of political involvement. The founder of the Shiv Sena, Bal Thackeray, was a prominent leader in Maharashtra politics, and his son, Uddhav Thackeray, continues this legacy.

In this article, we explore Uddhav Thackeray’s political career, his family’s influence on Indian politics, and the impact of the Thackeray family on Maharashtra’s political landscape.

Uddhav Thackeray’s Political Career

Uddhav Thackeray entered the political arena in the late 1980s as a supporter of his father’s party, the Shiv Sena. He quickly rose through the ranks, becoming a key figure in the party’s decision-making structure.

In 2006, he was elected as the MLA from Virar East in the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly, and in 2009, he became the Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly after the BJP-NCP coalition government fell.

Uddhav Thackeray was appointed as the Chief Minister of Maharashtra on November 28, 2019, after the resignation of Devendra Fadnavis. He is the first Marathi-speaking chief minister of Maharashtra in recent times, and his appointment has been seen as a significant step towards bridging the linguistic divide in the state.

Influence of the Thackeray Family

The Thackeray family has had a significant impact on Maharashtra politics. Bal Thackeray’s rise to prominence was largely due to his ability to mobilize the Marathi-speaking community, and his son, Uddhav Thackeray, continues this tradition.

The Sena’s political success is often attributed to its effective mobilization of the Marathi-speaking electorate, and its ability to address the concerns of the Marathi-speaking community. This has helped the party to maintain its stronghold in the state, and it has played a crucial role in the politics of Maharashtra for over three decades.

Impact on Maharashtra’s Political Landscape

The Thackeray family’s influence on Maharashtra politics is evident in the state’s political dynamics. The Sena has been a key player in the state’s political landscape, and its success is often seen as a reflection of its ability to represent the interests of the Marathi-speaking community.

The Sena’s political success has also had an impact on the state’s governance, with the party often using its political influence to promote the interests of the Marathi-speaking community. This has led to a significant degree of political stability in the state, and it has played a crucial role in the development of the state.

In conclusion, the Thackeray family’s influence on Maharashtra politics is significant, and its impact on the state’s political landscape is evident in the party’s ability to represent the interests of the Marathi-speaking community. The Sena’s success is a testament to its ability to mobilize the Marathi-speaking electorate, and its influence on the state’s politics is likely to continue for many years to come.

Central Govt extends mandatory FASTag roll out date to Dec 15

New Delhi: The Government on Tuesday extended the date for mandatory integration of FASTags on all vehicles to December 15 from December 10. The government said the Department of Road Transport and Highways has extended the schedule for mandatory FASTag installation on all the vehicles to December 15, 2019, from December 10, 2019. The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways had announced this mandatory FASTag installation on all the vehicles. The government had earlier announced the mandatory FASTag installation on all vehicles from December 10, 2019. The mandatory FASTag installation is already being implemented from December 1.
Hong Kong set for fresh weekend protests

Police end university siege

Hong Kong police on Friday cleared more than 100 students from a university campus besieged by protesters, resulting in the first casualties of a pro-democracy protest that has split the city in two and caused clashes with police.

But the calm spell looks set to end as public anger grows once more over the lack of progress in talks between Beijing and Hong Kong leaders.

In a rare show of co-operation, both sides have agreed to hold talks, but the timing and venue are yet to be decided.

Erdogan slams ‘brain dead’ Macron over NATO comments

Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan lashed out at French President Emmanuel Macron over his criticisms of NATO, saying it was “brain dead” and threatening to disrupt meetings.

The comment, which came hours after Macron expressed concern over the security of the alliance, touched a nerve in Turkey, a key NATO member.

Erdogan, who has a history of rocky relations with NATO allies, said Macron’s comments were “insulting” and that Turkey would not attend the upcoming summit.

S Africa’s Zuma loses bid to appeal against trial

South Africa’s former President Jacob Zuma lost his latest appeal against a corruption trial, a court ruled on Friday.

Zuma, who has been facing corruption charges since 2016, had sought to delay the trial, saying the case was politically motivated.

But the Eastern Cape High Court dismissed his latest bid, saying the trial would go ahead.

Iraq cleric urges cabinet to reform, calls for protests regroup after crackdown

An Iraqi cleric has called on the government to reform, saying it is failing to address the needs of the people.

Grand Ayatollah Ali Sistani, a leading Shia cleric, said the government was not doing enough to address the economic and political challenges facing the country.

In Antarctica, tourists swim among penguins

Tourists have been able to swim with penguins in Antarctica for the first time, after a group of tourists were allowed to enter the protected area.

The trip, which was organized by a local tour company, has been met with mixed reactions, with some environmentalists concerned about the impact on the local wildlife.

VLADIMIR MAASYEL and HARLEEN SETHI tell Rossana Anava, that season 2 of Broken But Beautiful will see a complete switch in their characters.

Vikram and Pavleen have found favour with the director in the role of best friends. With this, a reappearance in another season of the show is a welcome addition to theperl.

Vikram talks about his character and says, "It is poles apart and the audience will notice the difference. Things just fell in place. I am very happy to have been given the opportunity to reach out to the audience."

Harleen talks about her character and says, "It is a very simple character to portray. I am not an actress but I feel like I can do it."

The second season of Broken But Beautiful is set to release on December 1.

What are the future projects that you are working on?

I have a new script that we would be shooting next year but I am not too sure about them.

Did you think that the idea of erotic romance was a difficult one?

I think I think the biggest challenge was in getting the right balance between the two. What I tried to do was create a world where these two elements coexist and work together.

Farah, 36, won the Chicago Marathon in 2013 and 2014 after missing the 2012 London event through injury. He was widely expected to compete in the 10,000m at the Tokyo 2020 Games this year, but he announced on Friday he is to retire from athletics.

Farah said on Friday: “It’s been an honour to represent my country, to be a part of the Olympic Games, to win multiple medals and to be a part of history.”

Farah’s decision to retire comes after a tumultuous year for the athlete, who has been troubled by injuries and a drugs controversy.

Gunnar's fire

Farah, who retired from track in 2017, has been critical of the sport in recent years, particularly after testing positive for a banned substance in 2017.

Farah will now focus on his business interests, which include a London-based property development company and a clothing brand.

Farah has also been involved in the world of boxing, having invested in the promotion of his cousin, David Haye.

Farah is also a co-owner of the London-based football club Fulham, which he helped to buy in 2016.

Farah's retirement comes after a career that saw him win multiple Olympic and world championship titles.
