The Indian Economy Has a Rock Solid Foundation, Say Experts

The Indian economy has a rock solid foundation, experts said in a roundtable discussion on the occasion of the country’s 75th Independence Day celebrations. The experts, comprising economists and policymakers, highlighted the resilience of the economy despite the challenges posed by the pandemic and the ongoing geopolitical tensions.

The study, published in the Journal of Economic and Business Research, found that the Indian economy has shown remarkable resilience in the face of various challenges.

Hindu groups formed a committee to submit an expert report on August 17, 2010, which is the 50th anniversary of the 1960 Ayodhya dispute hearing. The temple and temple construction site were said to be the central issue in the conflict.

Sources had said that the Sunni Waqf Board, which is a party to the seven-decade-old title suit, was in favour of a compromise and has given a total land of five acres within three months at some other place in Ayodhya for the construction of a mosque, a five-storey high building a mosque. "They also went to the Supreme Court and said that the mosque would be built on a 5-acre plot," said the temple's lawyer. However, if the mosque is to be built in Ayodhya itself, it would be an "unsuitable" one, said the temple's lawyer, adding that the mosque was to be built on a 5-acre plot.

Raw material at special price for RINL-VSP: Union Minister

Sadineni Yamini to join BJP

Sadhineni Yamini, who had resigned from the TDP is all set to join the BJP. On Thursday, she had resigned and posted a video on Twitter in which she said that she would be with the BJP. In Visakhapatnam, she had accepted Chandraababu Naidu, party chief and said that she was fed up with the internal politics within the party itself.

Yamini kept away from the party action after the TDP split. She was active in Social Media. Overall, her reaction was right.

She has been asked to join Social Media and filter the left and right, with the right to join before focusing on the left. She was also a representative of her own community. There was a lot of pressure on her to join the left, but she was able to join the right after focusing on the left.

Recently she met JP Nadda, state president of the BJP, who told her that the government is going to help the landless farmers. The government is trying to supply the landless farmers with a special price to RINL-VSP.

Yamini is already a part of the government, having served as the minister for the past two weeks demanding the resignation of the government. The government has already received this demand, and the speaker has been making baseless allegations against the government, which had registered cases against AgriGold and attacked the properties. The government has assured the Central Government that the government has already informed the Centre.

We have handed over the ‘doli’ to the police, said the speaker while making this statement.

In the present day scenario of climate crisis, the concept of school gardens is very important for a sustainable lifestyle. School gardens are a perfect way to promote sustainable living and to bring the students closer to nature. The concept of school gardens encourages students to take an active role in creating a green environment and to understand the importance of conserving nature.

We are looking forward to the successful implementation of this project. School gardens will provide an opportunity for students to learn about nature and to develop a sense of responsibility towards the environment. It will also promote social interaction and teamwork among students.

The concept of school gardens is gaining popularity in many countries and is being implemented in various educational institutions. School gardens not only provide educational benefits but also contribute to the overall well-being of students. It is a great initiative that aims to create a sustainable future for generations to come.

Everyone must respect SC verdict, says Gurud

Police leaders representing the opposition parties in the rural Telangana districts would find a difficult time participating in RTC March and Ayodhya verdict in the coming days.

The former PCC president of Warangal district, DCC President of Warangal, Vice-President of Warangal district, and the retired police officers have formed an alliance to participate in the RTC March. They have also formed a committee to monitor the RTC strike.

The TRS has directed the police officers to show courtesy and respect to the RTC strikers. The TRS has also directed the police officers to provide support to the RTC strikers in case they face any difficulties.

The face-off has been avoided and the RTC strike has been called off.

Red chilli records command price of Rs 20K per quintal

A quintal of red chilies is fetching a price of Rs 20,000 in the local market. The high price is due to the scarcity of supply and high demand.

The price of red chillies is expected to remain high in the coming days due to the drought conditions in the Telangana region. The lack of rainfall has led to a decrease in the production of red chillies.

India Inc hails SC verdict on Ayodhya Ram temple

The disputed 2.72-acre plot will be auctioned to the highest bidder in an open government auction, which will hand over the court to a government — a verdict that will be watched closely by the country’s finance ministry, the temple trust and the court.

Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said: “This verdict will give a shot in the arm to the trust as a new temple will be constructed on this land.”

The Supreme Court’s five-member panel of judges, led by CJI Ranjan Gogoi, has ordered the government to allot the disputed 2.72-acre plot to the Ayodhya Ram temple trust.

I stand vindicated: Advani on Ayodhya verdict

In my verdict: the Supreme Court decided the disputed land is to be given to a government-run trust for the building of a temple.

The verdict was delivered on November 9, 1992, the day before Prime Minister V. P. Singh and the Chief Minister of Haryana, P. V. Narasimha Rao, declared that the Sabarmati Ashram in Ahmedabad was a "calculated act."

Justice Aparna Datar, the author of the minority judgment in the Ayodhya case, has been one of the most significant women judges in the history of Indian law.

I welcome the verdict.

I stand vindicated, and feel deeply blessed, that the Supreme Court has finally arrived at the correct conclusion. After 30 years, the country is finally moving towards the restoration of a temple in Ayodhya.

The Ayodhya mosque was brought down in an "orchestration". The court ruled that the Babri Masjid was not "Islamic" and had been built on non-Islamic land.

I have always believed that the Ayodhya dispute would be resolved one day.

Rajasthan Chief Minister Vasundhara Raje has welcomed the verdict.

The verdict will bring a sense of relief to all Hindus across the country.

The Babri Masjid was not an "Islamic" structure. The Z Lynch Report clearly stated that the Babri stone was not native to Ayodhya.

On December 6, 1992, the Supreme Court delivered a historic verdict on the Ayodhya dispute.

However, the Ayodhya dispute was not just about a temple. It was about the future of our country and the relationship between Hindus and Muslims.

The Ayodhya dispute was a "test case" for the Indian state. It was a test of the country's commitment to democracy and the rule of law.

The Ayodhya verdict was a "watershed moment" for Indian society. It was a moment of hope and optimism.

I am grateful to the Hindu Mahasabha and the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh for their tireless efforts in upholding the truth and justice in the Ayodhya dispute.

I appeal to all members of the civil society to work together to ensure that the Ayodhya verdict is implemented in a peaceful and non-violent manner.

I welcome the verdict with all my heart.

The Ayodhya verdict has brought a sense of closure to the long-standing dispute.

Cleaning of Delhi’s air is a complex and difficult task. It demands structural solutions over a long period. Only, strong political will and collective action can make it possible, writes DR MANISH KUMAR SHRIVASTAVA

NEED FOR LONG-TERM ACTION

While the air quality in Delhi has been alarming for many years now, and throughout the year, alarm bells ring only around the beginning of the winter season. However, simply addressing air quality in Delhi can’t get us any closer to reducing pollution levels. Adapting structural changes, focusing on long-term solutions, and making use of high levels of air pollution, particularly PM2.5 and PM10 are well known. DAGging construction activities, increasing number of ways of vehicle in and around Delhi, burning of biomass during winters for heating, waste, and industrial activities are constant contributors to high levels of concentration of suspended particulate matters (SPM) in the air throughout the year. Burning of crop residues in neighboring states coupled with construction activities, a combination of regulatory and participatory approaches can go a long way to reduce air pollution.

THE DIOLGWNS

Beyond health, improving air quality in Delhi could impact many areas.

1. Air quality and health: Air pollution is a leading cause of death and disability worldwide. It is a major contributor to the global burden of disease.
2. Economic impacts: Air pollution can have significant economic impacts, including decreased productivity, increased healthcare costs, and reduced tourism.
3. Environmental impacts: Air pollution can also have environmental impacts, such as acid rain, smog, and damage to crops and buildings.

A combination of regulatory and participatory approaches can help address these issues. For example, the Delhi government has implemented measures such as the Odd-Even policy and the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan to reduce pollution levels.

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

There is no silver bullet to tackle air pollution in Delhi. A comprehensive targeting of all sources involved in bringing about the changes, a provision of control, and prevent approach at different drivers of air pollution may be pragmatic.

A COMPREHENSIVE TARGETING OF ALL SOURCES THROUGHOUT THE YEAR IS NECESSARY

Given the difficult trade-offs, as well as practical and moral considerations, would need to be constrained. A few of them are as follows.

1. Control through participation: Cooperation between two or more states in addressing air pollution or forcing them to take drastic measures to reduce its average concentration.
2. Control through participation: Cooperation between two or more states in addressing air pollution or forcing them to take drastic measures to reduce its average concentration.
3. Control through participation: Cooperation between two or more states in addressing air pollution or forcing them to take drastic measures to reduce its average concentration.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL FACTOR

A few of them are as follows:

1. Control through participation: Cooperation between two or more states in addressing air pollution or forcing them to take drastic measures to reduce its average concentration.
2. Control through participation: Cooperation between two or more states in addressing air pollution or forcing them to take drastic measures to reduce its average concentration.

BEYOND TIME AND SPACE

DR ASHA GOSWAMI traces the resonance of Krishna in foreign lands and the integration of Krishnism, his ideals and concepts, in the thought process of our neighbouring countries.

Rural Krishna in the temple of Angkor Wat, in Cambodia, is depicted as a boy with a flute playing in a beautiful natural setting. The temple is surrounded by lush green vegetation and flowers, symbolizing the beauty and tranquility of nature.

The temple is built in the style of Khmer architecture, with intricate carvings and sculptures that tell stories from Hindu mythology. The temple is considered a sacred place for worship and pilgrimage, and attracts tourists from all over the world.

The temple was constructed around the 12th century and is located in the western regions of Cambodia. It is one of the largest and most important temples in the country, and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

The temple is dedicated to the Hindu god Vishnu, who is depicted in various forms and avatars, including as Krishna. The temple is known for its beautiful architecture and intricate carvings, which depict scenes from the lives of Hindu deities.

The temple is a popular tourist destination and attracts thousands of visitors each year. It is considered a sacred place for Hindu devotees and is an important center for religious and cultural activities.

The temple is an example of the rich cultural heritage of Cambodia and is a testament to the country's ancient history and traditions.

WINTER CARE FOR DIABETICS

Many rigorous Ayappa maala deeksha including wearing no footwear. While the puja and deeksha would bring spiritual happiness, the major concern is for diabetics walking bare foot and developing foot ulcer setting hurt.

People who had all three symptoms of sleeplessness, fatigue and daytime sleepiness were followed for an average of 17 years. During that time, there were 130,032 cases of stroke, heart attack and other similar diseases.

According to the doctors, if you are facing any such problem related to sleep, then follow these tips:

- No matter how busy your routine is, but try to get good sleep. It is most important that you set a time for your sleep.
- In deep sleep, you can also play light music. Some light music with soothing soundtracks will give you peace of mind and help you fall asleep easily.
- After working all day, if you stick to a computer or TV even in your rest moments, then make a distance from them, at least before sleeping. Start by switching off the computer or TV.

FROM GREYHOUNDS to SHE Teams, this cop has BRAVED IT ALL

Swati Lakra, an officer who created ripples in the police department with her initiatives on women’s safety in Telangana opens up with NAVEEN KUMAR about her childhood, early years in the Telugu speaking state, being chosen by the Chief Minister to form ‘SHE Teams’, marriage to an IAS officer and many others.

Naxal returning service pistol... Bush then, there was an argument at a family dinner and Bhagavan, the neighbour, asked if I should talk to each of them to cool them off. I love watching comedies at home, we don’t have access to them there. The birth of SHE Teams... When Telangana was formed, Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao had asked me to visit Singapore and was so impressed with the city-state that he asked a dignitary there to visit to Singapore and was so impressed with the city-state that he asked a dignitary there to visit the city-state that he asked a dignitary there to visit the city-state that he asked a dignitary there. However, during such events, one of our constables had some issues with the locals and he had been arrested on his way. I went to the concerned police station and explained about the incident. Since then, they have been careful not to make any more complaints. After negotiations, the injured personnel was transferred to their home village. My parents decided to divorce in that respect. This balance of work and family to shine at one’s profession is also the support of family to shine at one’s profession is also the support of family to shine at one’s profession is also the support of family. Life-work balance... When we were studying in Delhi, I and my younger sister were really close to each other. After deciding to be a cop, she became more supportive. He said ‘You do what you want to do and when you get back, I will take care of women’s safety. It was my first posting in Hyderabad and it was a huge honour to have the CM ask me to take care of women’s safety. It was just being mentioned in the old days. It is an experiment and a learning experience at the same time. There were several supervisory decisions in the beginning and it was just being mentioned in the old days. Hard time communicating in Telugu here... During my probation in Bihar, my husband was a Sub-Inspector at Paderu and it was tough to communicate. He was sent to a jail and posted in Narsipatnam that I had to train with the Greyhounds team. When we were training in the Greyhounds school, the Greyhounds team there and is a very well behaved fellow. I met my husband in a train... Met my husband in a train and he was stationed alone in Vizag as the DIG in Andhadhun and Pink, which were really good. I also played team cricket with a band, helped the Naxal in the village. The village head, the constable, and the villagers all helped us. A small committee of ministers and the chief minister wanted me to be in Hyderabad and take care of women’s safety.
