Art 370 India’s internal issue: EU MPs
Say media coverage biased: JD(U) raps Govt for allowing foreign team to visit J&K

In a letter to the European Parliament, 74 Members of the European Parliament (MEPs) demanded the government to take immediate action to stop crop fires in the state of Uttar Pradesh.

The letter stated that the rapid spread of crop fires in the state of Uttar Pradesh on Tuesday, “is an international issue”.

Sena had taken exception saying the government would not have liked the visit as it was in controversy over the involvement of a private lobby and the Opposition for compensation for allowing the foreign delegation which were put up in the country’s own MPs from UP state and it was merely a question of the ground situation there.

Adding to the Government’s discomfort, after Shiv Sena another BJP partner, JD(U), on Wednesday put the government in a spot by joining hands with the Opposition parties to protest against the Government in a spot by joining hands with the Opposition parties to protest against the Government in the country’s own MPs from UP state.

According to the Sena, “the move to regularise the unauthorised colonies in Delhi is in contradiction to the government expression that it is not dealing with such colonies. The government had said that the process of unauthorising and regularising the colonies is necessary to stop theشكل الجريمة ودفنه (shrinkage of urban colonies)”, the letter added.

The letter added that the process of regularisation of unauthorised colonies was against the wishes of the people of Delhi and the state that are together, but things have to happen as was decided earlier.

As we celebrate the 150th birthday of the Mahatma, we will do well to re-think about his values, principles and goals, which have been ignored unnecessarily.

Gandhi for generations ahead

One of India's foreign policy achievements has been to bring India into the UN, not as a friend, but as a pivot.

For decades India and Saudi Arabia had a strange relationship. The Saudis were relatively poor and they had a general financial crisis and their debt to the United Arab Emirates was 150 billion dollars. And when their nationalisation of various things was challenged, they became hostile to India. And India was also hostile to their policies.

However, a protracted war with Iraq, which changed the status quo and started a review of various things, and the role of the UN in the world and the role of Israel and the Arab world, started another round of thinking.

Yet, in the entire melange in the Arabian peninsula and the Levant, Saudi Arabia and the last two nations, the United Arab Emirates, have remained steadfast friends with India. Not just to cultivate a country to invest money in but also as an Asian neighbour that shares some of their values and policies. And even the current Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the Indian Prime Minister, in their various statements, have always spoken of the need for a dialogue between India and Saudi Arabia.

In the last few years, we have seen a new kind of relationship between India and Saudi Arabia. The two nations have signed various agreements, including a defence agreement, a mutual defence pact, and a joint statement on counter-terrorism. The two nations have also agreed to work together on various issues, including the fight against terrorism, the promotion of regional stability, and the promotion of economic cooperation.

In addition, India and Saudi Arabia have also worked together on various international issues, including the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic, the promotion of peace and stability in the Middle East, and the promotion of global development.

Overall, the relationship between India and Saudi Arabia has been strengthened in recent years, and it is expected that the two nations will continue to work together on various issues in the future.

Gandhi's message resonates today

Gandhi's message resonates today more than ever before. It is a message of non-violence, self-reliance, and the need to work towards a better society. His message is relevant not only in India but also in the world at large. It is a message that calls for peace, harmony, and cooperation between nations.

Gandhi's message also resonates in the context of today's global challenges, such as climate change and the need for sustainable development. His message of self-reliance and the need to work towards a better society is particularly relevant in the context of the current global pandemic, where the need for a global response is greater than ever before.

Therefore, it is important that we continue to study and learn from Gandhi's message. It is a message that calls for peace, harmony, and cooperation between nations, and it is a message that is relevant not only in India but also in the world at large.

Our cup of plastic woes is blooming over

A study has revealed that 82.4 per cent of India's tap water is contaminated with microplastics out of the 17 samples collected from New Delhi, 14 had microplastic fibres in them.

The US had the highest contamination with microplastics, followed by China, South Africa, Italy, and Japan. India's contamination of 82.4 per cent is much higher than the global average of 17 per cent. The presence of microplastics in water bodies is a serious concern as they can penetrate even the smallest aquatic organisms and make their way into the food chain, eventually affecting human health.

Global warming trends are increasing, which is affecting the rate of evaporation. The warming of water is also changing the flow of water bodies, increasing the risk of contamination with microplastics.

The UK’s Brexit deal estimated to cost almost $100 billion

UK is aiming to negotiate a new trade agreement with the bloc after the UK leaves the EU on January 31 next year, more ambitious than the one already signed with the EU.

The UK government, led by Prime Minister Boris Johnson, has insisted that any future trade deal with the EU is a priority for the country’s economy.

But Johnson’s government has been facing pressure to make progress on a deal with the EU as soon as possible.

The UK’s current deal with the EU, known as the Withdrawal Agreement, was signed in 2019 and is due to come into force in January 2020.

The agreement includes provisions for a transition period during which the UK will continue to follow EU rules and regulations.

But Johnson has made it clear that he wants to see a new trade deal with the EU as soon as possible, as it is crucial for the UK’s economic recovery.

The new trade deal will be negotiated with the EU, and the UK is expected to make a formal bid for membership of the bloc, similar to that of Switzerland, after the UK leaves the EU.

The UK government has already begun talks with several countries, including the US, Canada, and Australia, about potential new trade deals.

It is not important to consume healthy breakfast every day however, doing so helps you keep energised, says Team Viva

PROBABLY THE MOST APPEALING BENEFIT IS THAT BREAKFAST JUMPSSTARTS YOUR METABOLISM AND, THUS, HELPS YOU BURN MORE CALORIES THROUGHOUT THE DAY

Breakfast is an excellent occasion to start your day the right way. This especially applies to your first meal of the day. The next time you wake up, think about the last time you ate – it might be anything up to ten hours so why make yourself wait longer? Our Bodies need energy to function, and that energy comes from food. As soon as we start eating – it might be anything up to ten hours so why make yourself wait longer?

Breakfast balances blood sugar levels. Eating in the morning helps your body better break down glucose, also called blood sugar. In fact, you can avoid glucose fluctuations throughout the day by eating fruit, grains, and lean protein within two hours of waking.

Breakfast kick-starts your metabolism. Breakfast jump-starts your metabolism and, thus, helps you burn more calories throughout the day.

When you eat breakfast you’re telling your body that there are plenty of calories to be had for the day. When you skip breakfast the message your body gets is that it doesn’t have to conserve rather than burn any incoming calories: Breakfast helps you reach your daily recommended servings of fruits and vegetables. Those who eat breakfast also tend to consume more milk and whole grains than those who skip the meal. And as you probably know, milk offers up important calcium for your body.

Breakfast also fills your stomach, helping you to avoid overeating and snacking later in the day.

TODAY, one might give a whole new meaning to the words antique textiles that sit as trinkets from the 17th to 19th century. But one would never say no to grandmas’ hand-tanned leather or a satin or satin muslin. It would in fact occupy the realm of dream and vintage. It’s said that Padma Shri Shobha Deepak Singh, a Padma Shri Awardee, decided to put what was once a Vastra Shobha when she realised that there is a niche market for antique textiles.

The disciplinary arm of the All England badminton body also ordered Bulgaria to close their doors, but that punishment is expected in a “provisional period” of two years. The punishment means Bulgaria will play their final 2023 World Championship qualifier at home to the Czech Republic, on November 17, in the absence of CEFA. The English FA was fined £65,000 for the same offence.

The match at the Vasil Levski Stadium was halted twice for crowd disturbances. In the first half the players left the pitch due to abuse from sections of the home support, including more than 600 fans.

Despite the abuse, the English FA decided to carry on with the match after consulting with the home federation and UEFA officials.

Bulgaria has recently recognised the ISL as the country’s top league and asked about the international standing of their domestic clubs.

“Now the team trains better than before, and so we can be confident that we will have a positive result,” said interim head coach Ilian Stoev.
