Vikram located on moon: ISRO

Thermal image seen, but condition of lander yet to be ascertained

PTI

India's Lunar Orbiter Camera (LOC) captured a thermal image of Vikram lander on the surface of the moon on Sunday. The orbiter, orbiting 200 km away from the moon, captured the image 10 to 15 minutes after Vikram touched down on the moon. The image clearly shows Vikram as a grey object on the surface, indicating that it has landed successfully. However, the exact condition of the lander, including whether it is operational or not, remains uncertain. ISRO officials said they will continue to monitor the lander's status through the orbiter's camera. The orbiter will also image the entire landing site to identify landing marks and any debris left by the lander. The next set of images is expected to be taken on Tuesday.

Haevy rain falls disrupts lives, more expected

While the Government has been taking steps to curb trafficking of children, the underlying causes that lead to such practices still require much attention

The latest National Family Health Survey (NFHS-5) report has turned in a surprising result: the number of teenage girls (15-19 years) who were married or pregnant at the time of the survey has dropped. The proportion of teenage girls who were married or pregnant has declined from 28% in 2015-16 to 23% in 2021-22, according to the survey. The drop is seen across all states and union territories.

However, the report also highlights that the drop is not universal across all states and union territories. While some states have seen a significant decline, others have witnessed a marginal increase or no change. The reasons for this variation are not yet clear, and further research is needed to understand the underlying causes and develop effective strategies to address the issue.

The NFHS-5 report is based on a sample survey of more than 4 lakh women aged 15-49 years across 331 districts in 288 districts, covering all 35 states and union territories. The survey was conducted between January 2021 and December 2022.

The report also highlights that the decline in the proportion of teenage girls who were married or pregnant is consistent across all age groups. The decline is highest among girls aged 15-17 years, with a decline of 37.4% from 2015-16 to 2021-22.

While the decline in the proportion of teenage girls who were married or pregnant is encouraging, the report also highlights that the issue of child marriage and teenage pregnancy remains a significant concern in many parts of the country. The report recommends that efforts should continue to be made to address the root causes of child marriage and teenage pregnancy, such as poverty, lack of education, and limited access to reproductive health services.

The NFHS-5 report is a valuable resource for policymakers, researchers, and practitioners working to address the issue of child marriage and teenage pregnancy. It provides a comprehensive overview of the current situation and highlights the areas that need urgent attention to achieve the goal of improving the lives of girls and young women across the country.
The NDA Government has completed 100 days in office. The Prime Minister, Narendra Modi has addressed the nation for the second time in 100 days. In his address, the Prime Minister said that the government has taken several initiatives for the betterment of the country and has focused on various sectors like agriculture, education, and health. He also highlighted the government's efforts to curb black money and improve the economy.

The government has taken several measures to revitalize the economy and curb black money. Some of these measures include the demonetization of high-value currency notes, the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), and the strengthening of the Enforcement Directorate and the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI).

The government has also taken steps to improve the infrastructure of the country. The Prime Minister mentioned the expansion of the national highway network, the development of the rural sector, and the improvement of public transport facilities. He also highlighted the government's focus on rural development, with initiatives like the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, to provide financial inclusion to the rural population.

The government has also taken steps to promote the growth of the private sector. The Prime Minister mentioned the Excellence in MSMEs (Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises) and the Start-Up India program to encourage entrepreneurship and job creation.

The government has also focused on improving the quality of education in the country. The Prime Minister mentioned the introduction of the National Education Policy (NEP) and the establishment of the National Education Mission (NEM) to provide quality education to all students in the country.

The government has also taken steps to improve the health infrastructure of the country. The Prime Minister mentioned the expansion of the health infrastructure and the introduction of the Ayushman Bharat scheme to provide universal health coverage to the poor and needy.

The government has also taken steps to improve the infrastructure and connectivity of the country. The Prime Minister mentioned the expansion of the rail network and the introduction of the Bharatmala Pariyojna to connect all the major cities of the country with high-speed rail.

The government has also taken steps to improve the environment and sustainability of the country. The Prime Minister mentioned the introduction of the Blue Economy to promote sustainable development and the target of net-zero carbon emissions by 2050.

The government has also taken steps to improve the economy and curb black money. The Prime Minister mentioned the demonetization of high-value currency notes, the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), and the strengthening of the Enforcement Directorate and the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI).

 subsystems, the team assembled the elements that would form the lunar module. The team worked through numerous challenges to ensure the success of the mission. They worked tirelessly to meet the tight timelines and overcome technical obstacles. Their dedication and perseverance paid off when the lunar module successfully landed on the moon. The team's success paved the way for future lunar missions and set the stage for human exploration of the

The PCB is concerned about the availability of Sri Lanka players due to the ongoing Sri Lanka tour. The PCB has expressed its concern to the Sri Lanka Cricket Board (SLCB) about the matter.

Q&A

Question: What is the significance of the upcoming Test against India?

Answer: The upcoming Test against India is significant as it is the first time since 2009 that the PCB has hosted a Test series in Pakistan. The Test will be played at the National Stadium in Karachi, which will host an international Test match for the first time in more than a decade.
Music should not be used as the sole treatment for potentially dangerous medical or psychiatric conditions, says TEAM VIVA

In a world where music is often linked to mood, types of music differ in the ways they affect the listener. For example, classical music can be used to manage pain and anxiety, while rock music can help people express themselves in socially acceptable ways. Music therapy is a potent treatment for mental health issues. Research demonstrates that adding music therapy to conventional treatments improves symptoms and quality of life for patients. Music therapists are usually accommodated in medical or psychiatric facilities. People who become certified music therapists are often given additional training in areas such as counseling, psychology, and music production.

Music should not be used as the sole treatment for potentially dangerous medical or psychiatric conditions. Use is not recommended in those who do not like music therapy or as it may result in agitation or stress. Music therapy is a growing field that people, especially those who are certified musicians, can use to enhance their knowledge of how music can evoke emotions and responses. Discussion of their emotions and experiencing emotions is believed to help people express themselves in socially acceptable ways and to maintain personal safety.

Music therapy is often linked to mood. Alternative and complementary treatments such as creative art, meditation, and yoga have been proposed to bridge this gap. But music, because of its ubiquity in our society as well as its ease of transmission, has perhaps the greatest potential to evoke. For example, classical music has been found to cause comfort and evoke. For example, classical music may be used with guided imagery to produce altered states of consciousness that help uncover hidden, emotional responses and hidden emotions. Music therapy may also be used in the classroom to aid children in the development of reading and language skills. Receptive methods involve listening to and responding to live or recorded music. Discussion of their emotions is believed to help people express themselves in socially acceptable ways and to maintain personal safety.

Music therapy has been tested in a variety of medical or psychiatric facilities. The effect of music therapy is more likely to have desired effects. It is possible that music through headphones during medical procedures could interfere with the patient's cooperation with the procedures. Also, listening to music at high volumes may damage the ears and lead to hearing loss.
