No classes till June end; HRD mulls…

After the government announced in Dilli Darshan, it will be an online examination. The Delhi government has announced the closure of all schools across the country till June end. The decision was taken in a high-level meeting that discussed the situation of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic in the country.

The decision was announced by the Ministry of Human Resource Development (HRD) in a statement.

"Seven people were found positive in the Delhi government, who were sent to hospital for treatment," the statement said.

"There is an increasing number of patients "who are the main target audience" of the coronavirus," the statement added.

"We hope that the stakeholders will work together to improve the existing online education system," it said.

The HRD said that students who are currently enrolled in degrees of higher educational institutions are the ones engaged in the existing digital platforms offering various courses.

"People can share what is available in the digital domain, to make their learning more engaging and meaningful," it said.

It added that the government had also instructed the authorities to make available the digital education for the students.

"We are committed to provide online education to the students," the statement said.

ITBP labs starts producing PPE, masks to fight virus

"Private labs are hard pressed to receive any.processor and we are making more efforts in this direction," the statement said.

"We have received the necessary permission from the government," it added.

"The ITBP has organized the process," the statement said.

"In the last two weeks, we have been doing around 70000 tests in the country," the statement said.

"We have been found positive in a number of states," the statement said.

BENGAL CHEMICALS TO PRODUCE HCQ

SUDARSHAN KUMAR KAYALI

Union Minister Biplab Kumar Deb on Thursday, announced that the company is going to produce hydroxychloroquine (HCQ) syrup, the drug which is being used for treating Covid-19 patients. "The government has been able to procure more and more tests. But the news coming from TN and Puducherry President. Whether the police re-arrested the two accused or not is a matter of debate. The first trial of the two accused is scheduled for Wednesday, but the court has adjourned it due to the ongoing lockdown. The case has been transferred to the CBI for further investigation.

As per discussion with the Prime Minister's Office, the CBI had registered a case against Wadhawan family members - HDIL real estate, NHPC group, and UCO Bank. Wadhawan was later arrested by the CBI. The company had to pay a bail of Rs 500 crore. In the meantime, Wadhawan absconded and was absconded. In October, the CBI filed a charge sheet against Wadhawan and his family members.

Biden vs Trump

The race to win the White House this November has come down to two old white men. Not perfect men.

Biden

- Journalism background and a history in public service.
- Support for climate change policies and the Green New Deal.
- Strong record on health care, especially for seniors.
- Focus on infrastructure and job creation.
- Strong record on foreign policy, especially in the Middle East.

Trump

- Business background and experience in dealing with international affairs.
- Strong record on job creation and economic growth.
- Focus on national security and foreign policy.
- Strong record on business and trade policies.

In summary, Biden is the better choice for those who believe in progressive policies and social justice, while Trump is the better choice for those who believe in economic growth and national security.
‘Still a big ‘Yes’ for the bank
Between ‘yes’ and no, there is an untold story. There’s much more to the Yes Bank revival than meets the eye.

Yash Paul Narula

It’s been a few years before this headline for the all-seeing media. In 2019, when Yes Bank was struggling and facing several court orders, a lot of people thought that it was the end. The Yes Bank’s stock dropped to 25% lower than its all-time high, and the customers were worried about the stability of their deposits. However, a few years later, the bank is back on track and making a comeback. The story of Yes Bank is a testament to the resilience of banks and the importance of innovation.

Short summary of the article

The Yes Bank saga is a story of how the bank was able to make a comeback after facing several challenges. The bank was able to turn things around by making strategic decisions and focusing on innovation. The bank’s revival has been a source of inspiration for others in the banking sector, and it is a reminder of how banks can overcome adversity and thrive.

The world has passed the grim milestone of a million deaths in the coronavirus pandemic as nations struggle to contain a surge in cases.

By Saturday morning, the global death toll had reached 1,013,481, according to a tally by Johns Hopkins University, overtaking the grim milestone of a million deaths in the pandemic. The number of confirmed cases had crossed 21.6 million.

The milestone comes as the spread of coronavirus continued to accelerate in some parts of the world, with the number of cases surging past 100,000 in several countries including Brazil, Mexico and India. The US had more than 9,000 and 2,20,000 people in the US, devastating outbreaks in countries like Brazil, Mexico and India.

The World Health Organization’s (WHO) emergencies director, Michael Ryan, said on Friday that the number of daily new cases has increased from about 150,000 in mid-March to around 300,000 now, with a “sharp increase” in the Americas and Europe.

Ryan, who spoke during a news conference in Geneva, said countries that had brought infections under control were seeing increases, while others that had recently implemented lockdowns were facing challenges.

“An early peak is not a silver bullet,” he said. “We have to anticipate a long period of uncertainty and caution.”

: Mosquito season to ‘limit’ to virus: cases official

Mosquito control agencies across the US have ordered that spraying, typically used to combat other diseases, be halted to prevent mosquito-borne coronavirus infections. When spraying is halted, cases of COVID-19 could increase, the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) warned.

In Italy, officials have told hoteliers that there will be a police check to make sure that no one, like at other, is on the watch for travel outside their country. The government has also set up a hotline so that people can call if they suspect someone of travelling abroad. "The public health is the basis of the entire country," Gian Luca Pesci, a member of the Italian parliament, said. "We are all in this together." Residents are being encouraged to stay home and avoid going out unless it is absolutely necessary. In the meantime, the government is implementing strict measures to control the spread of the virus. Italian health experts have advised people to avoid large gatherings and to practice social distancing. They have also urged people to wash their hands frequently and to stay home as much as possible.

Ministry of Agriculture, farm-per cent higher at 32.58 lakh monsoon sowing of kharif

In a recent update, the Ministry of Agriculture in India has reported a 32.58% increase in monsoon sowing of kharif crops compared to the previous year. The data was collected from all the states and union territories of the country. The kharif season, which is the second major sowing season of the year, covers crops like rice, maize, and soybean, which are grown in the monsoon months of July to September. The increase in sowing is significant as it will help ensure a steady supply of food grains during the lean months of the year.

Tough economic measures on card for premonsoon

As the monsoon season approaches, farmers are bracing for tough economic measures that could affect their earnings. The government has announced a series of measures to combat the economic downturn caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. These measures include a reduction in the excise duty on diesel and petrol, a hike in corporate tax rates, and a moratorium on loan repayments for small and medium-sized enterprises. These measures are expected to provide some relief to farmers, who have been hit hard by the pandemic and lockdowns. However, the impact of these measures on the economy remains to be seen.

JESUS TAKES THE WHEEL AT GERMAN FARM DRIVE-IN

Dusseldorf: Hundreds of farmers from across Germany have driven their tractors to the official launch of a drive-in cinema in Dusseldorf, northern Germany. The event was organized by the German Farmers' Union (DBV) to celebrate Good Friday and to provide a safe way for farmers to gather during the pandemic. The drive-in cinema was set up in the grounds of the historic Bismarck Tower and featured a movie screening of the classic film "Das Boot." The event was attended by farmers from all regions of Germany and was a huge success.

IndiGo to suspend meal service for some time, fill only 50% seats in airport buses post lockdown

New Delhi: IndiGo, the largest private airline in India, has announced that it will suspend meal service for some time and fill only 50% seats in its airport buses post lockdown. The airline has been severely affected by the lockdown and the subsequent travel restrictions. The decision to suspend meal service and fill only 50% seats in buses is in line with the government's guidelines to reduce travel during the pandemic.

ECONOMIC DEVASTATION LOOMS ON GOOD FRIDAY

The OPEC and OPEC+ group countries, which together account for 80% of the world's oil production, are facing a massive drop in demand for their petroleum products. The pandemic has led to a global economic downturn, which has resulted in a significant reduction in the demand for oil. As a result, oil prices have plummeted, and the countries that rely on oil exports for a major portion of their revenue are facing a severe economic crisis. The OPEC and OPEC+ group countries are currently in discussions to cut back on oil production in order to stabilize the market and avoid a further decline in oil prices.

The pioneer

Director ADITYA SAROPTDAR tells SAKSHI SHARMA that his series, The Raider Case, explores the dark sides of a family, though in a culture set-up.

What if one day you find out that every member of your family is hiding a dark secret of their own? A range of questions may flash your mind: Do I know my parent, the sibling you have never seen before? Why did you come into my life? This is the question that director Aditya Saroptdar has asked himself while making his series, The Raider Case. While working on this series, he has been exploring the dark side of family life, hidden truths, and the emotions beneath.

How did you conceptualise the series The Raider Case?
The Raider Case is a collaborative work. There are a lot of minds behind it. When I came into this project, there was a basic draft of two to three pages but those were not sufficient and a lot of characters had to be added to it. We had to understand about the family dynamics in different family setups, in the lives of particular characters, as we wanted to be consistent in our approach while making this show. In the show, we try to explore the different aspects of family life but ultimately, it's about the family dynamics.

What is the story behind The Raider Case?
It is a collaborative work. There are a lot of minds behind it. When I came into this project, there was a basic draft of two to three pages but those were not sufficient and a lot of characters had to be added to it. Tokyo games could be in doubt even in 2021

A Japanese government panel warned on Tuesday that the coronavirus pandemic could cause the Olympics to be postponed or canceled if it continues to spread. The panel, which was set up by the health ministry, said it was "extremely difficult" to hold the games in 2021 as planned because of the ongoing pandemic.

Tokyo 2020 organizing committee President Yoshiro Mori said on Tuesday that the games could be postponed or canceled if the coronavirus pandemic continues to spread. The committee planned to hold the games in 2021 as planned, but the panel warned that it was "extremely difficult" to hold the games in 2021 as planned because of the ongoing pandemic.

"We are extremely concerned about the possibility of postponing or canceling the games," panel head Shigeru Omi told a news conference. "We need to take all possible measures to prevent the spread of the virus and ensure the safety of all those involved."
