Workers at sweet shop mourned over woman

A 35-year-old woman who owned a sweet shop was murdered in a three-storied apartment in Basheerbagh. The woman Srushti Sai, who was the wife of her brother, said, "The shop had to close down during lockdown, which was very tough for us. It makes us wonder how we will start up our shop again." She said that the woman was staying in a different flat in the apartment.

Doctors refer cases to private hospitals, loot Covid patients

Several doctors, medical & health personnel, ambulance drivers and paramedics have done away with ethics by taking any and every means of stealing patients by getting them treated by them. They are referred by general practitioners to the nearest hospitals, but they generally go to their own private hospitals. If a patient suffers from any disease, they will refer him to the hospital which is nearer to them. And if the patient is referred from outside, they will ensure that he is treated by the doctor who has been referred. The patients are forced to pay.

The government will soon start monitoring the movements of hospitals.

The reputed hospital keep buds under reserved capacity. Many doctors and private practitioners are entering into agreements with small hospitals to keep the reserved capacity of these hospitals under the roof. The patients are referred to the hospital where they have been referred by their doctors. The patients are forced to pay.

The government has to start monitoring the movements of hospitals.

The transformation of the profession from one of information management to strategy-making is tremendous. An accountant, who was more of a back-end person, has been catapulted to the front.

It is not just commerce in physical commodities but on the digital internet and associated applications and content. The speed of change has been so fast in this digital age. It is not just commerce but it is commerce of data. The accounting profession was used to dealing with revenue calculation and so on, but now it is dealing with data. This has been a huge shift in the culture of the profession. Even the future will not be the same because of the use of technology.

There are many changes in the current business trends and consequently, the accounting profession is also going through a lot of changes. There is shift in the way businesses think about the use of technology. Accountants are no longer just deal with data. They are now dealing with data and its analysis. They are becoming the gateway to big data in the world, which is a huge shift.

The profession of accounting has come a long way. It has already become hard-core technical and quantitative without even looking at ethical and moral problems. The profession of accounting has been identified with the word ‘account’. It used to deal with data entry and emphasis is still on this. But now, it is a science of understanding business. It is a science of decision-making. It is a science of future.

Accountants are now an integral part of the business decision making. They are helping businesses to strategise and figure out what is the right decision to be taken. Accountants are helping businesses to look into the future and make informed decisions.

Slew of reform measures need of the hour, says report

India's GDP needs to rise annually at 8-8.5 per cent to compensate for a decade of stagnating growth or else the country risks becoming an 'middle-income trap', according to a report.

The commerce ministry's investigation arm DGTR has found that the domestic market in India faces a closure of around 12-18 per cent due to increased production and capacity utilisation from outside the country.

Growing the urbanisation is likely to create sharpened competition between industrial workers in search of employment. Increased competition will result if the consumers in India will have to find jobs or other income outside the non-farm jobs per year from formal economic growth. India's decade of stagnating growth or quality will lead to the need for the government to reduce fiscal and promote private expenditures, it said.

Gold, silver decline tracking weak global trends

Gold prices declined Rs 210 to Rs 45,950 per 10 gram in the national capital on Wednesday following a strong trend in global market and rupee strengthening.

The precious metal in the national capital closed below Rs 46,200 per 10 gram in the previous trade. The metal was quoted at Rs 46,157 per 10 gram from Rs 46,373 on Tuesday, following a weak trend in global bullion market and a strengthening of the rupee.

The rupee settled 77.35 against the US dollar on Wednesday, gaining 0.39 per cent or 0.42 paise in the interbank foreign exchange (Forex) market. The benchmark 10-year government bond yield declined to 6.10 per cent from 6.11 per cent in the previous trade.

CONSIDER GOING VEGAN, BECAUSE WHY NOT?

Dr Apoorva Rawul, who had taken the initiative to encourage people to turn vegan, recently held a talk at Achari Aloo Gobi in Hyderabad. This is a special talk for choosing to influence others to follow suit.

So, how can a vegan diet benefit you?

There are a lot of myths surrounding eating plant-based foods, but in reality, it has been shown that a vegan diet can be nutritious, delicious, and even more convenient than a meat-based diet.

1. A fresh start: Going vegan can be a great way to start fresh and make some changes to your lifestyle. By adopting a plant-based diet, you can improve your health and reduce your environmental impact.

2. More variety: A vegan diet can offer a lot of variety in terms of food choices. There are many fruits, vegetables, grains, legumes, nuts, and seeds that can be used in a vegan diet.

3. Better for the planet: Eating a vegan diet can help reduce your carbon footprint. This is because the meat industry is responsible for a significant amount of greenhouse gas emissions.

4. Better for the animals: Adopting a plant-based diet can help reduce the suffering of animals. By not consuming animals, you can help to reduce the demand for meat and other animal products.

5. Better for your health: A vegan diet can be very healthy. It can help you to lose weight, reduce your risk of chronic diseases, and improve your overall health.

Hence, it is highly recommended to go vegan and help to save the world.

Azmi ke Alfaaz inspiring several women

Sabina Azmi who hails from the city of Ahmedabad, is an inspiration to many. Her works of art are known to be thought-provoking and encourage people towards empathy and self-reflection.

The story is based on her father’s interviews with a filmmaker and brought out the impact of society on all levels of society. It is a story of the pain and suffering of people caught up in the middle. The story is about the need for education and the role of parents in the lives of their children.

The Muslim community in the city of Ahmedabad is highly influential and is a force to be reckoned with. The novel highlights the importance of education and the role of parents in shaping the lives of their children.

Preventing the exploitation of animals is not only the reason for becoming vegan, but it is the most important one.

The question is, are you ready to make a change in your lifestyle and choose to go vegan?

Most awaited Asian art auction announced for Fall

As one of the most anticipated art auctions of the season, Christie’s 2021 Autumn Sale in New York has been announced. On November 14th and 15th, Christie’s in New York will unveil a comprehen- sive collection of Asian art, including works from China, India, and Southeast Asia. The auction will feature a diverse array of objects, including paintings, sculptures, and textiles, spanning centuries and cultures.

Christie’s announced that the sale will include more than 1,000 lots of art, representing a wide range of artistic styles and periods. The auction is expected to bring in millions of dollars, reflecting the growing interest in Asian art among collectors and investors.

Highlights of the auction include a selection of Chinese paintings and calligraphy, ranging from traditional landscapes to modern abstract works. There will also be an extensive collection of Indian art, featuring a range of religious and secular themes, as well as a selection of Southeast Asian art, including textiles and earrings from Indonesia.

The auction is part of Christie’s global art sales, which have shown strong growth in recent years, with Asian art leading the way. In 2020, Christie’s sold more than $400 million worth of Asian art, setting new records for individual artists and establishing new benchmarks for the overall market.

The auction is being held online, with live bidding from Christie’s New York, London, Hong Kong, and Singapore. Bidders will have the opportunity to view the works in person at Christie’s New York prior to the auction.

Christie’s has also announced a series of events leading up to the auction, including lectures, workshops, and viewing sessions, which will provide a platform for collectors to explore the rich history and culture of Asian art.

In a statement, a spokesperson for Christie’s said, “We are excited to bring together a unique collection of Asian art from around the world, representing a wide range of artistic styles and periods. This auction is a testament to the growing interest in Asian art, and we look forward to sharing it with our clients and the broader art community.”
A director’s life.

For Nani says an upcoming film, T, is special to him as it marks his 25th release. This trilingual directorial debut of Gopal Varma, who was a collective decision to approach the P tejo director with the screenplay and that the project will move ahead only if the writer was happy with the overall script. I had no issue at all. I went in for a different reason and was set for a cold response. But, I was shocked and surprised when the director said yes. What must I have asked for?“ Kartik asks. The Pioneer exclusive.

Interestingly, Varma tells the story last but chip in as a screenplay writer. When I’m not with a change he proposed, he asked me to come with three-four other alternative ideas. For any artist, it is a big deal to have major films. To have more than one release in the same year is an out-of-the-world feeling to see your work getting appreciated. The movie is special to me as it delves into the life of a police officer played by Sudheer Babu, who is a known radical thoughts on the genre, his look would be in the late 70s, he promises to do away with all the commercial potboilers, and take the audience on a new style of writing for the audience. He believe that the film will be set in the underbelly of the Kolar Gold Fields. And the whole film would be in Kannada language. I’m doing my best. I know a lot about the region and don’t need to rely on any reference. I’ve done research on the subject for this role.” Prakash Raj.
