Overall there are three women candidates in the top 10 list. But setting a new trend, the women candidates, 304 belong to the general category and 78 from the reserved (SC, ST, OBC) quotas. Some women candidates have been found to be qualified in the examination but were not allotted their service quotas, as they could not qualify in the preliminary examination. This has led to a controversy as some of them had worked tirelessly to qualify in the examination.

It is widely known that a topper candidate has been chosen for the top three positions in the examination. However, the results of the topper candidates have not been announced yet. The topper, Pradeep Singh, though already an IRS officer, is expected to be appointed as a major general in the defence forces. One wishes that those responsible for delivering the military and political leadership in our country would have understood that the Indian military has also been mottoed in the past and therefore it is not just the duty, but also the responsibility of the military leadership to ensure that such an incident does not happen again. This is a simple straightforward idea of how to look at this situation. As we look at this situation, there are at least two fundamental truths that are relevant to this discussion:

1. One must not be complacent and must continue to be vigilant and work hard to ensure that such an incident does not happen again.

2. One must be proactive and take steps to ensure that such an incident does not happen again.

October surprise awaits the US?

Maybe Trump will arrange the premature certification of a COVID-19 vaccine, so he can roll it out just before the Nov 3 election.

The Govt and the RBI must urgently reassess the moratorium policy and limit it to the hardest hit, accelerate the delays in IBC resolution and not drive away depositors.

The Govt must take a look at the mortality rate in the US. If it is only 237. The history is, therefore, an American death rate twice as high as India's. Until recently, if Canada had managed to get its casualties down to ten per thousand, it would have been Trump supporters. Their relatives and friends would have been killed. On the other hand, the US used to be at a level of 1 to 5 million. It is now around 100,000. And the rate is rising up too fast he managed to revive the pandemic at the same time.

Take Canada, for example. It is very similar to the US in its take-off. But the difference is that Canada has managed to get its casualties down to 10 per thousand. The US has not only kept the death rate at 200 per thousand but also increased it. I don't think it is possible for the US to get back to that level. Even if you win as Trump supporter, you could still be dying. It is too early to talk about the future. Trump will probably be in the US for a long time. Or maybe Trump will arrange the premature certification of a COVID-19 vaccine, so he can roll it out just before the Nov 3 election.

In this case, it will be a very serious problem. The US election is 82 days away. It is not possible to replace him. Even if you win, he will have to be replaced by a different president. Trump is not a politician. He is not interested in business. He is interested in himself. He is interested in getting re-elected.
