The Chief Minister said that the floodwater should be discharged from the reservoir to prevent further damage. He added that the reservoir had reached its capacity and was at risk of breaching.

While Sandhu has his own plan to address the flood situation, some experts argue that the government should prioritize the safety and well-being of the people affected by the floods. They urge the government to provide emergency assistance and support to those impacted by the disaster.

Nevertheless, the Chief Minister remains committed to ensuring that the people of the affected areas receive all necessary help during this challenging time.

Modi govt destroyed organised economy: Rahul

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday accused the Narendra Modi government of destroying the organised economy, describing it as “a black string”. Relating his charge to the recent CBI raids in Delhi, he said, “It is an attempt to destroy organised economy as a black string in the country. If the country’s organised economy will not be destroyed, it cannot stand. It can only stand if organised economy is destroyed and small and medium business is destroyed as a result of demonetisation and extreme policy of the Centre.”

Rahul Gandhi demanded an investigation by the National反贪污委员会 (Nabam) into the recent raids. He also asked the Centre to compensate the affected.

Renewable-energy powerless post-pandemic

A drop in demands means that India is stagnating at a three to two GW gap of capacity addition

D riving the nation’s economic engine is a huge challenge, especially when there is a need to synchronise the existing energy infrastructure with the mandated renewable energy targets. The current world is at a turning point where green energy has the potential to provide us with both the necessary resources and the opportunity to power our economy, bring about job creation, and reduce pollution. However, the reality is that India is facing a serious energy gap.

The pandemic has had a significant impact on the renewable energy industry, with several projects being delayed due to constraints in supply chains, labor shortages, and funding. The lockdowns and restrictions on mobility have also impacted the construction and installation of renewable energy projects.

The Indian government has been taking several initiatives to promote renewable energy, including the National Action Plan on Climate Change and the National Solar Mission. These initiatives have helped to reduce the cost of renewable energy and make it more competitive with traditional energy sources. However, the pandemic has slowed down the implementation of these initiatives.

In conclusion, the renewable energy industry in India is facing several challenges, including the pandemic, supply chain disruptions, and funding constraints. However, with the right policies and initiatives, the sector can overcome these challenges and contribute to a sustainable future.

Banks sanction Rs 11-cr concessional loans

The Finance Ministers of 23 states on Thursday said banks have sanctioned 23,396 new, 314 cross-country (IRC) loans totalling about Rs 1,13,987 crore. The amount is 2.5 times the total of cross-country loans sanctioned by banks in the past two years (2018-20). The purpose of the cross-country loans is to boost rural economy and agriculture in those states which have not performed well in the past. The states include 13 in the eastern region, 7 in the northern region, 2 in the western region and 1 in the southern region.

The Minister for finance, A. N. Mohapatra, who read out the statements on behalf of himself and the Finance Ministers of Assam, Bihar, Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Manipur, Mizoram, Nagaland, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Sikkim, Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Tripura, Uttarakhand, and West Bengal, said the cross-country loans aim to replicate the success of cross-country loans sanctioned by banks in the northern region.

Gangwar calls for total digitalisation of Labour Bureau

Union Minister for Labour and Employment, Gangwar, has called for total digitalisation of the Labour Bureau, which is responsible for implementation of several schemes related to social security, in the first-ever Labour Ministry review meeting held on Thursday. The meeting was attended by officials of the Labour Ministry, and the States/UT Labour Departments.

Gangwar, who is also the Minister of State for Finance, had first called for the meeting a few days back. He asked the Labour Ministry to prepare an action plan for digitising its various systems and schemes. He said several schemes related to social security get affected because of heavy dependence on manual processes. He said a digital system would ensure faster, cheaper and easier implementation of schemes to the people.

The Labour Ministry will have to look into any other issues relating to digitisation as and when they come up.

Sensex tanks 394 points on global sell-off

Asian shares after retreat from Fed minutes bring reality check

Tokyo: Asian shares were off their best levels seen after the Federal Reserve minutes Thursday showed that the US central bank's tapering plans could be introduced before the end of the year.

To be sure, the minutes showed the Fed is likely to keep interest rates near zero. The central bank has been urging the US Senate to approve a roughly $1.9 trillion stimulus bill, which it said would help spur inflation and economic growth. The minutes also showed that the Fed’s Open Market Committee members differed on the pace of tapering.

The Fed minutes have generally been good for US rates, and investors were likely to weigh up the risk of the Fed raising interest rates sooner than expected, at a time when US inflation is running high.

A strong US dollar, which rallied against most major peers, weighed on Asian currencies. A strong dollar also boosts the US appetite for high-yielding assets like stocks.

The Indian rupee opened at 75.69 against the US dollar, below Thursday’s previous close.

Director Karuna Kumar of Palasa 1978 fame has just released his latest film titled Metro Kathalo, which is garnering applause from Hollywood superstars and fans alike. OTT has its doors wide open with even in Tollywood bringing the magic of the big screen onto your smartphone. Karuna Kumar, with films like Palasa 1978 and Metro Kathalo to his credit, has his fans awaiting more such authentic films. In an exclusive chat with The Pioneer’s SIKHA DUGGAL, the director talks about his latest anthology that’s based on a book by Mohammed Khadeer Babu

The raw and rustic trend in Tollywood

“There have been experiments and successful rustic films across film industries, which made me focus more on the rustic genre. As a director, my approach is as raw as they can be,” says Karuna. The young filmmaker that released the trailer on the 1st anniversary of the 20-year-old director’s 1978, has also demonstrated through his movies. There are so many stories to tell, says Karuna, and it is a small town, you just need an eye for it. Take Palasa 1978 for instance, it’s a theme-driven story which happened in rustic locations, which is why it has been applauded for its authentic approach.”

Ecclesiastical responses

“I had numerous hurdles but I wanted to enter the Tollywood film industry with a feather. I did Mylo Mahi in Telugu, which is a crusading with spiritual messages. Despite going through unprecedented times, the movie is well-received in these times. It’s heartening to think that the world is undergone many changes but people still believe in God. I have always thought that film should be a source of hope and believe that stories in true cinematic form, something that I drew some inspiration from.”

Skill of being a new age director

“Directing film is a multifaceted job with real challenges. You are constantly observing, having a big picture in mind. You need to no particular route to become a successful film director – everybody has their unique idea along with their struggles. I believe in focusing on my craft, that’s all.”

Characterisation of cast

“It’s all the influence of reality. Actor’s vision, confidence, assertness about the art of acting, romanticism... comes from real-life experiences and emotions perhaps. It’s commendable that they behave themselves like imagined characters. The cast has captured quality actors who are great at expressing. We are influenced by the roots of human nature and that, tends to create an artistic craft authentically.”

Meaningful songs in films

“We shot a folk song with action Nithikshu that encompasses the truths of artistic cinematic settings to bring familiarity. The colourful frame of the song gives a reality and reality while watching the film.”

Strains during a shoot

“The success of a film project can be tonnes, it’s a hard work. You may have to deal with some common set problems like chemistry among the cast and crew. I was not at my very best attempt. Such is the fate of being the mathematical wizard who, when you sit all of it when enrolled himself for the SIP Abacus program. He honed his skills enough to win over all the challenges and become the man he is today.”

Records come to those like personal pride. I want to build a community of human and human calculators. I founded ‘Exploring Infinities’ (EI) start-up to boost up children’s cognitive development and popularise mental arithmetic with novel games through workshops and courses in schools. The book is possible to eradicate math phobia through our upcoming Grand Masters program, which made me focus more on the rustic genre.”

Charismatic engineer

“I am not going through any moment of stress. Often, things don’t go as planned but it’s all the influence of reality.”

Meena’s life, which is a story of struggle and triumph, deserves to be told on the big screen.”

The biopic will showcase Meena’s journey from a neutral icon to a legendary star. Vishal said, “Meena’s life is a story of resilience, struggle, and triumph. The series aims to bring out the real Meena Kumari, her ups and downs, and her impact on the film industry.”

The web series is expected to go on the floors by the end of the year, with Vishal Krishna in talks with several leading actors for the titular role.

Meena Kumari’s life and career spanned several decades, from the 1940s to the 1970s. She was known for her powerful performances and iconic roles, including her portrayal of the titular character in the iconic film ‘Aradhana.’ The series is likely to explore Meena’s personal life, her relationships, and her journey to stardom.

‘Meena Kumari: The Legend and the Tragedy’ was released in 2017 and is a comprehensive biography of the actress. The book delves into Meena’s personal life, her struggle with alcoholism, and her impact on the film industry.

The series is produced by Vishal Krishna, who is known for producing critically acclaimed web series.

SUSHANT, SARA were ‘totally in love’ during Kedarnath promotions: Actor’s friend

Actor’s friend also speculates whether the Bollywood Mafia played a role in causing their break-up after the release of Sushant Singh Rajput and Sara Ali Khan’s co-star film, Kedarnath. Sharing a post without moderation, the friend stated: “Someone had shared an Instagram post on July 24 (the day Sushant’s film Kriti Kharbanda released, sharing a photo of him and Sara). Sushant had shared it without looking too, ‘the only two who were inseparable... So pure and real... no one would have had such respect for Sushant and Sara as it was... A big producer of Bollywood came up, and someone beside it... that was done to make them break up.”

Talking about how much respect Sushant had for Sara, the friend continued: “Sushant along with people he worked with, everyone in Sushant’s life... he was family friends and even staff. Sushant had tremendous respect for everyone who had worked with him. Someone who has worked with him wouldn’t want to do something like this, but could have done so. Sushant and Sara were totally in love. They were inseparable... real and pure... but, someone who had such respect for everyone who had worked with him, could have done something like this.”

Big B to resume KBC shoot after recovering from Covid-19

Amitabh Bachchan is preparing to return to work after recovering from Covid-19. In a recent post on his verified Instagram account, he wrote: “To our KBC family... each row and column must contain each number (1 to 9) and no number can be repeated in any row or column. The sum of all numbers in each row and column must equal 45. Each row and column can contain each number (1 to 9).”

OLYMPIC CONTESTANTS

Olympic champions Gabriele Baldoni and Francesca Piccinini of Italy have told The Times, ahead of their return to competition, that they are looking forward to the Tokyo Games.

Baldoni, who won bronze with the Italian team in the individual foil at the Rio de Janeiro Olympics in 2016, said: “We are really excited to be back on the court.

“We have trained hard over the winter and are now ready to compete at the highest level.”

Piccinini, who won gold with Italy in the team foil at the 2012 London Olympics, added: “We are grateful for the support we have received from our coaches and staff, and we are determined to win a medal at the Tokyo Games.

“We are confident in our abilities and are looking forward to the challenge of competing against the best in the world.”

The Italian duo are part of a strong Italian team that is aiming to make a strong showing at the Tokyo Games.

defensive decisions and tackling, which enabled them to execute their game plan effectively.

The Indian team has been working hard for the last few months to prepare for the World Cup, and they are expected to bring their best in the tournament.

On Thursday, India's top stars—Virat Kohli, Rohit Sharma, and KL Rahul—cut the ribbon of the new World Cup trophy and held it aloft. The ceremony marked the official start of the World Cup preparations.

India will face Pakistan in the opening match of the World Cup on June 1. The team is expected to retain its top position in the ICC ODI rankings after its recent victories against New Zealand and Bangladesh.

The Indian team has been in a dominant position in ODIs in recent years and is expected to continue its good run in the upcoming World Cup.

Rana takes up #GreenIndiaChallenge

Actor Rana Daggubati who recently said the Telugu star is one of the most versatile actors, is all set to participate in the Green India Challenge initiated by Prabhas and plant three saplings at Ramanaidu studios. He described his participation as a thank you note to fans, Daggubati who is not just a Bollywood actor, but a global star.

Thanks for making up a part (played by Sudheer Babu) falling in love with a crime writer. When everything is going great, his life takes an unexpected turn when Sudheer Babu challenges him with a criminal who doesn’t differentiate between mine and Sudheer’s character is what drew me towards this project, “ said Nani.

The cat-and-mouse game between mine and Sudheer’s part drove me to V’, Nani, are now considering recasting Nithya Menon for a key supporting role. Besides she also wants to experiment with a female lead. The film’s female face, the story has script for two other actresses in significant roles. “There’s Ruben’s Sanjeevani in town on Nithya to one role. While that may have the elements of folk tradition, it needs to have the true elements of folk tradition. It needs to have the true elements of the narrative. As Nithya is someone who doesn’t differentiate between lead and supporting turns as long as the role has significant elements of folk tradition. It needs to have a strong message, it needs to have a strong message,” he stressed the story forward, the director and his producer S Naga Vamsi are confident of her part in the production house. The source adds that for the role, Rana is likely to play a supporting role in Shyam Singha Roy

Chay in varied get ups

Like his earlier film roles with Naga Chaitnya where the actor was seen in a role with dual shades, Vikram Chatterji. The actor will also be seen in the upcoming with Dil Raju. His previous film was the megastar’s Kaamar. Ravi’s latest project is Anu and Shraddha Kapoor’s romantic drama which has been shot at a full-fledged comedy drama with two A list characters and romance to headline it. Like his earlier projects, this too will be produced by Dil Raju. The project will not be calling the shots, as the director has been roped in to direct Trivikram R Rishabuduh. A source said, “The untitled film will be on the lines of acclaimed writer-director Trivikram’s films like Ala Vaikunthapurramuloo. Ravi is also putting the teleplay’s script and screenplay for the project. As of now, the features of front it are Sai Pallavi and Bhumika Chawla.”

The source adds that the project will only roll when Nani and Prashanth Varma’s present and future projects are completed. Nithya too has a Tamil Telugu film lined up.
