Shaheen Bagh sticks to its guns

Protesters refuse to lift blockade until CAA goes; mediation to continue

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Supreme Court-appointed Sinterlocutors advocates Sanjay Hegde and Sadhana Ramchandran visited the Shaheen Bagh protest site on Wednesday and held talks with the protesters for almost three hours but could not persuade them to shift from the spot. Former CIC Wajahat Habibullah accompanied the two interlocutors.

Refusing to budge from their earlier stand of continuing their sit-in until the CAA is scrapped and NPR and NRC process stopped, protesters told the interlocutors that they are open to further talks. Hegde and Ramchandran said they will visit the protest site again on Thursday to resume the dialogue with the protesters.

Protesters have blocked an important arterial road connecting Delhi and Noida since December 15 last year, causing trouble to commuters and schoolchildren.

First, Hegde explained in detail the SC order to the protesters, who had turned up in large number. It was translated into Hindi by Ramchandran. Later addressing protesters, Ramchandran said, "The SC has upheld your right to protest but then other citizens also have their rights and it should also be maintained. We want to find a solution to the problem. We will listen to everyone."

During the talks, women, young and old, tried to explain their point of view to the inter-

Supreme Court-appointed interlocutors Sanjay Hegde and Sadhana Ramchandran interact with the protesters at the site of their ongoing agitation against CAA and NRC at Shaheen Bagh in New Delhi on Wednesday locutors. There were tears and defiance too as they poured their hearts out to the two interlocutors on Wednesday, the first attempt to reach out to those sitting in protest against the citizenship amendment legislation for more than two months.

Responding to the concerns raised by the women,

Ramchandran said all the points will be put forward before the SC and discussed in detail. "However, I want to say one thing. A country that has daughters like you can never face any threats," she said.

A woman broke down while talking to the mediators. She said they are protesting to save the Constitution but people see only the inconvenience of commuters who have the option of taking so many other roads. "Aren't we facing inconvenience sitting here in cold nights taking our children to the protest. We are ourselves so troubled, what trouble will we cause to citizens?" she said.

She scolded the allegations that they are not letting ambulances and vehicles pass. "The road hasn't been blocked by us. In fact, it is the Centre that has blocked freedom in this country," she added.

Bilkis, an elderly woman, said they wouldn't move an inch even if someone fires a bullet. She said the main tent where the podium has been erected covers only 100 to 150 metres of the road.

She claimed, "We have not blocked the whole stretch. It is the Delhi Police which barricaded the whole road in the name of security. Why don't you get that removed first? We never asked police or any authority to block the roads for us. It is they who did it and are now blaming us."

"We are being called traitors. When we pushed Britishers out of the country, who is Narendra Modi and Amit Shah? You remove NRC and CAA, we will clear the site in no time," she added.

Another woman described their ongoing protest as mental trauma. She said they jump up even at the slightest noise at night, fearing police action.

On Monday, the SC observed that the blockade of the road at Shaheen Bagh was troubling and suggested the protesters go to another site where no public place would be blocked. It, however, upheld their right to protest.

The SC asked Hegde to play a constructive role as an interlocutor to persuade the protesters to move to an alternative site.

Mahant Nriya Das picked as Ram Mandir trust prez

Modi's ex-aide Nripendra Misra heads construction committee of trust

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Mahant Nriya Gopal Das was elected president and VHP leader Champat Rai general secretary of the Sri Ram Janmabhoomi Tirth Kshetra Trust at its first meeting here on Wednesday.

The meeting, held at the residence of senior lawyer K Parasaran, also elected Prime Minister Narendra Modi's former principal secretary Nripendra Misra as the head of the temple construction committee of the trust.

The meeting was aimed at working out modalities to speed up the construction of the Ram temple in Ayodhya. It was also decided to open an account in Ayodhya's State Bank of India branch for donations for the Ram temple construction, Champat Rai told reporters after the meeting.

Swami Govind Dev Giri of Pune was appointed as treasurer of the trust. Among those present at the meeting were the Central Government representative, Additional Secretary in Home Ministry Gyanesh Kumar, UP Government's representative Avinash Awasthy and Ayodhya District Magistrate Anuj Kumar Jha.

After the Supreme Court verdict, Modi had announced the formation of the 15-member trust in Parliament on February 5. The Trust has seven members, five nominated members and three trustees.

Senior lawyer Parasaran was named as the head of the trust and its other members include Jagatguru Shankracharya, Jyothishpeethadheeswar Swami Vasudevanand Saraswati Ji Maharaj from Allahabad, Jagatguru Madhavacharya Swami Vishva Prasannatheerth Ji Maharaj, Pejajar Math in Udipi, Yugpurush Paramanand Ji Maharaj from Haridwar, Swami Govinddev Giri Ji Maharaj from Pune and Vimalendra Mohan Prapat Mishra from Ayodhya.

2 groups clash in Bhadrak Cong office

PNS ■ BHADRAK

Two days after a group clash at the Puri Congress Bhawan, a similar scene was witnessed at the Congress party office in Bhadrak town on Wednesday.

While a meeting was underway in presence of AICC secretary Rudra Raju, Congress Odisha In-charge Jitendra Singh, PCC president Nirajan Patnaik, two groups of Congress activists fought a pitched battle in the office premises.

Former Student Congress president Balarm Rout was allegedly attacked by a group of party workers and later an FIR was filed with Bhadrak Town police station in this connection.

On February 17, three Congress activists were injured after a fight between two groups broke out on the premises of Puri party office.

Trump relishes prospect of 70 L welcoming his Ahmedabad rally

POTUS for 'big deal', but raises concern 'India not treating US' well in trade

PNS/PTI ■ NEW DELHI/ WASHINGTON

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and US President Donald Trump will hold extensive talks here on February 25 on a whole range of bilateral issues, including defence and trade. Trump is scheduled to arrive in India on a two-day visit starting February 24. While looking forward to his visit, Trump said he is saving the "big deal" in trade for later and voiced concern over "India not treating US" well in trade.

Explaining the contours of the high-profile visit, Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shrigla said on Wednesday Modi and Trump will hold talks to deepen cooperation in a range of key sectors, including defence and trade. The US President will be accompanied by First Lady Melania Trump and a high-level delegation, he said, adding India and the US have an unprecedented level of convergence.

Though Trump is not happy with the bilateral trade ties, he praised Modi and said he is looking forward to his visit to India. "I happen to like Prime Minister Modi a lot," Trump said.

Min: Houses to bear both PMAY, BPGY logos

MLAs want over 300 houses be allotted by them

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Panchayati Raj and Drinking Water, Law and Housing and Urban Development Minister Pratap Jena on Wednesday told the State Assembly that henceforth, both PMAY and BPGY logos would be put on the houses provided to people under the rural housing schemes.

The Minister said this while replying to an Adjournment Motion titled "Why the Government is naming PMSY houses as BPGY" brought by BJP members.

The Minister further informed that Government has simplified payment of installments to beneficiaries through mobile apps and to put boxes at block offices for receiving fresh proposals from people to get houses.

He said beneficiaries who had received an installment under the Indira Awas Yojan but failed to construct house would be re-allotted a house under the PMAY or BPGY if he returns the IAY installment money and applies for a fresh house.

The Government is giving priority on providing land and house to the landless, he said.

He said the State Government is putting the name of Biju Pucca Ghar Yojana on PMAY houses because it bears 40 per cent of the cost. If incentives are added, the State share would be 44 per cent, he said.

While BJP members had earlier alleged that figures of construed houses are not true, the Minister said, "The Centre has already awarded Odisha for securing first position in construction of highest number of houses."

Earlier BJP Chief Whip Mohan Charan Majhi demanded that the Government provide a detailed list of houses constructed under different rural housing schemes. Mukesh Mahaling and Bhaskar Madhei had alleged that there has been irregularities in allotment of houses. Leader of Opposition Pradipta Kumar Nayak demanded that the Government soon exclude ineligible beneficiaries.

Congress member Santosh Singh Saluja, Mohammad Moqim and Tara Prasad Bahinipati slammed both the BJD and the BJP for fighting to name houses saying the scheme was first named Indira Awas Yojan and later changed to PMAY.

BJD members Ashwini Kumar Patra, Ramesh Sai and Prafulla Samal refuted the charges made by the Opposition members.

Almost all participating members demanded that all MLAs be given power to allot more than 300 houses in their respective constituencies.

During the Minister's reply, BJP members staged a walkout expressing dissatisfaction over Minister's reply

Matriculation exams begin in State

BSE rubbishes reports of question paper leak

PNS ■ CUTTACK

Scotching all rumours, the Board of Secondary Education (BSE) clarified that no High School Certificate (HSC) Examination question paper was leaked on the first day of the examination on Wednesday.

BSE President Ramashish Hazra said the pictures circulated on social media do not match with that of the original booklet prepared by the Board.

"Some mischievous elements, who are out to defame the Board and at the same time inflicting extreme mental agony on the students are at it again", Hazra said adding that the Board has taken adequate precautionary measures to ensure that the questions do not get leaked before the examinations."

"The examination went off smoothly in all the centers barring some minor hiccups. At least 44 students from different districts were booked for "malpractice" as they were caught adopting unfair means during the examination," s Hazra here after the first day's examination," he added.

Examination Controller Nihar Ranjan Mohanty said that strict instructions have been issued to ensure that except the Center Superintendent, nobody carries a mobile phone into an examination center. Even the Center Superintendent is also not allowed to carry phone inside the examination hall, he said.

Earlier in the day, the fortnight-long HSC (Class-X) examinations for Odia medium students, conducted by the BSE in which more than 5.47 lakh students wrote their first paper on the day in about 2,888 examination centers spread across the State.

CCS OK's $2.6 bn deal for 24 US naval copters

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Head of US President Donald Trump's maiden visit to India, the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday approved a $2.6-billion deal for buying 24 multi-role Naval helicopters. The deal is likely to be announced during Trump's visit to India.

The helicopters manufactured by Lockheed Martin will be procured through the Foreign Military Sale (FMS) wherein the US Government will stand guarantee for all issues, including meeting time lines, spare parts and other contractual obligations. Incidentally, India and US defence trade has crossed the $18 billion mark in the last few years.

The 24 MH-60R Seahawks will replace the ageing Seaking and Kamov helicopters flown by the Indian Navy. The approval for buying new helicopters was given by Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) in 2018. At present, the Navy has 12 British made Seakings and ten odd Russian manufactured Kamovs.

These fourth-generation MH-60Rs "Romeos" helicopters will come loaded with both torpedoes and missiles which can be used to target submarines. A 30 per cent off-set clause could be a part of the deal. The deal could include training, support, spares and air-to-ground weapons also.

From the day of signing the contract, these helicopters will be delivered in five years. India will pay an initial 15 per cent installment for the helicopters. The first lot of helicopters will be delivered in two years, sources said.

MH-60 was earlier selected through a competitive process for 16 helicopters with an optional clause for eight more, but the deal fell through due to pricing issues and other development leading to tender's cancellation.

'Centre hasn't given fund for Odia promotion'

Minister's reply not appropriate, says Narasingha

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Odia Literature, Language and Culture Minister Jyoti Prakash Panigrahi on Wednesday informed the State Assembly that the Union Government has not made any allocation for promotion of Odia language after it got classical status on March 11, 2014.

The Minister stated this in response to a related issue raised by Tara Prasad Bahinipati on Tuesday. Speaker Surjya Narayan Patro had directed the minister to give a statement.

The Minister further informed that the State Government has taken various steps for promotion of the language.

"A different Government department named Odia Language, Literature and Culture, introduction of Administrative Odia Dictionary, establishment of Odia Chairs in JNU and Banaras Hindu University and establishment of Odia University are some of the initiatives taken by the Government," claimed Minister.

However, Leader of Opposition Narasingha Mishra expressed unhappiness saying that the Minister didn't reply what Bahinipati had asked to know.

"Bahinipati had wanted to know whether the State Government had written to the Centre for support for promotion of Odia language and, in case of yes, whether the Centre responded or not. But the Minister didn't reply to this," said Mishra.

However, Speaker said any discussion on the Minister's reply is not allowed as rules of the House.

Members resent paddy procurement delay

Speaker asks Min to resolve issue, submit report

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Members in the State Assembly across party lines on Wednesday expressed resentments over irregularities and delay in paddy procurement in the State Assembly to which Speaker directed the Food Supplies and Consumer Welfare Minister to resolve the issue and submit a report in the House soon.

While responding to three separate questions of Mukesh Mahaling (BJP) Dr Nrusingha Charan Sahoo (BJD) and Santosh Singh Saluja and many other members during Question Hour, Food Supplies and Consumer Welfare Minister said 43.39 lakh metric tonne paddy out of targeted 50 lakh metric tonne for 2019-20 Kharif season were procured by January 13. Farmers, who have not sold paddy yet for different reasons, would be given another chance to sell the crop. Token has been issued to 8,13,636 farmers. However, members alleged the reality of paddy procurement is different from what the Minister claims.

"I have received so many complaints from farmers that paddy is not being procured from them by mandis until the miller doesn't reach there," alleged Congress Legislature Party Leader Narasingh Mishra.

During Zero Hour, BJD MLA Bhupindra Singh alleged that many of farmers have not received tokens and those who have got tokens have not been able to sell out all their produce due to limitation of procurement from individual farmers.

BJP member Jayanarayan Mishra said the token system has disturbed paddy procurement in the State. Leader of Opposition Pradipta Naik demanded a ruling from the Speaker asking the Government to procure all paddy from the farmers.

Speaker Surjya Narayan Patro directed the Food Supplies and Consumer Welfare Minister to hold meetings at district level with MLAs and Government officers and resolve the issue at the earliest. He too asked the Minister to make a statement in the House soon.

'Nandankanan Zoo kept pangolins in captivity'

CZA urged for release of endangered species into wild

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Wildlife Society of Orissa (WSO) has alleged that the Nandankanan Zoo has kept pangolins in captivity in violation of the Central Zoo Authority (CZA) policy on captive breeding, rules regarding ban on procurement of wild specimens for zoos and the Wildlife Protection Act, 1972.

WSO secretary Biswajit Mohanty in a letter to the Member Secretary, CZA, New Delhi, has urged for the early release of all captive bred, seized and rescued pangolins in the Nandankanan Zoo into the wild.

Notably, in 2009, the Nandankanan Zoo had started a pangolin conservation breeding centre duly authorised by the CZA with an objective of ex-situ breeding followed by release into the wild. The zoo has a total stock of 23 pangolins as of now.

Similarly, since November 9, 2007, the zoo has received 24 pangolins including two babies. Except for one pangolin from the Visakhapatnam, all the rest 23 pangolins were either seized or rescued from the wild in various parts of Odisha.

Mohanty told that pangolins whether captive bred or seized or rescued were supposed to be released into the wild. He also urged the CZA to reassess the need for continuing the pangolin conservation breeding programme run in the zoo, which, he said, had failed to achieve its stated purpose despite expenditure of nearly Rs 46 lakh.

Give equipment details: HC asks Govt MCHs

PIL on machineries worth crores lying defunct

PNS ■ CUTTACK

The Orissa High Court on Wednesday asked major Government medical college hospitals (MCHs) of the State to appraise it of the sophisticated medical equipments and the number of technicians available to operate them.

Taking up a suo motu PIL case a two-Judge Division Bench comprising Acting Chief Justice Sanju Panda and Justice SK Sahoo directed the Government medical colleges including SCB Medical College and Hospital, Cuttack and Saheed Laxman Naik Medical College and Hospital, Koraput, to inform about important machines present at different branches.

The court further asked the medical colleges to tell whether they have written to the Odisha

Government for the sophisticated machines. Besides, the HC wanted to know whether trained technicians are available to operate these machines.

Based on news reports claiming that medical machinery worth crores of rupees are lying defunct, the HC took up the matter for hearing on its own.

Pradhan urges Centre, State for med college in Bhadrak

Also for minority girls' hostel in BBSR

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan has urged the Centre and Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik for establishment of a hostel in Bhubaneswar for girls belonging to minority communities and a medical college in Bhadrak district, which has a sizeable minority community population under a Central scheme.

In a letter dated February 14, 2020, Pradhan said the Union Ministry of Minority Affairs sanctions projects under the Pradhan Mantri Jan Vikas Karyakram (PMJKV) only in the identified Minority Concentration Areas where there is more than 25% minority population and the area is relatively backward in socio-economic and basic amenities parameters compared to the national average.

He urged Minority Affairs Minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi to allow projects like girls' hostel, residential schools, ITIs skill centres in locations where students belonging to minority communities migrate to in search of better facilities for education, skill, healthcare in the State capitals and other metropolitan cities.

"I request you to instruct expeditious action for making provisions to cover major cities as well as state capitals under PMJKV scheme so that infrastructure support in priority sectors such as education, health, skill, women empowerment etc, can be made available in these cities as well," Pradhan wrote.

Moreover, in view of need for tertiary medical facilities in Bhadrak district, Pradhan has requested CM Naveen Patnaik to set up a medical college in the district under PMJKV.

In a letter to Patnaik dated Feb 17, Pradhan hasaid that having a medical college in Bhadrak would be extremely helpful in providing the required healthcare facilities for people in and around Bhadrak.

He said the PMJKV, which is implemented by the Ministry of Minority Affairs, provides for creation of community assets and health is one of the priority sectors. The State Government may forward duly-approved proposal to the Ministry for consideration of the aforesaid requirement.

"I request you to give necessary instructions to the concerned, to send a detailed proposal for a medical college in Bhadrak district to the Ministry of Minority Affairs under the PMJKV scheme," Pradhan stated in the letter.

The Centre bears 60% of the capital cost of the project while the remaining expenditure including manpower is provided by a State.

2,585 high schools have no headmasters

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

As many as 2,585 High Schools in the State are functioning without permanent headmasters, informed School and Mass Education Minister Samir Ranjan Dash in the State Assembly on Wednesday.

Currently, students are studying up to Class-X in 8,076 High Schools in the State.

In written reply to a query by BJD MLA Amar Prasad Satpathy, the Minister said that due to pending court cases and other legal hassles, the vacant headmaster posts have not been filled up.

Satpathy said that due to the absence of permanent headmasters, quality education is not provided to students. When senior teachers are given the headmaster charge, education takes a backseat and students suffer, he said.

Replying to another question by BJP MLA Mohan Majhi, the Minister said that 115 schools in the State lack own buildings. Students of 90 Primary Schools are forced to study under open sky due to absence classrooms. Computer lab facilities are absent in as many as 1,048 High Schools. Of them, computers could not be operated in 28 schools due to lack of power supply. Besides, 261 schools do not have library facilities.

The Minister further said 315 schools have strength less than 10 students.

Unauthorised leave: 'No work no pay' for college teachers

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Higher Education Department has introduced a 'No work no pay' principle for teachers and other staffs of Government and Aided colleges following reports of their unauthorised absence on multiple occasions.

The department has made it clear that the teaching and nonteaching employees can avail leave only after getting approval of the principals. In a letter to the principals of the colleges, the department has mentioned, "It is seen during the visit of colleges that a number of teaching and nonteaching employees remain on leave without prior approval of the principals or without prior intimation to the principals. In this connection, it is hereby clarified that as per relevant Service Rule/Leave Rule, leave is not a matter of right. An employee can take leave only if the leave sanctioning authority permits him to take leave."

The department further clarified that leave without the permission of the principal would be treated as unauthorised absence resulting in deduction of remuneration for the period of absence.

The principals have been directed not to sanction leave to the teachers and other staffs for participating in agitations. Participation in such agitation activities would be treated as unauthorised absence.

"Leave shall not be granted for participating in any agitation activity such as rally, dharna, demonstration, etc. If any employee participates in any such activity by remaining absent from duty, that should be treated as unauthorised absence from duty with 'No work no pay' principle. Participation in any agitation activity shall be viewed adversely which may lead to premature retirement in case of Government employees and withdrawal of Government Grant-in-Aid in case of employees of Aided colleges receiving Government GIA," the letter said.

"Principals have to ensure that no employee of their respective college participates in any form of agitation. If any principal sanctions leave in favour of an employee thus helping him to participate in any agitation activity, the principal shall be held responsible for aiding and abetting such activity," the letter added.

Double murder

Sai taken on 3-day police remand

PNS ■ JHARSUGUDA

The Raigarh Chief Judicial Magistrate (CJM) in Chhattisgarh on Wednesday allowed the Chakradhar Nagar police to take arrested former Brajarajnagar MLA Anup Kumar Sai on a three-day remand in connection with the case of the murder of a woman and her daughter.

The police had prayed before the court for a seven-day remand of Sai for interrogation and a narco analysis test. But the CJM did not take a decision on narco test. Also, the court granted a one-day remand of Sai's driver Bardhan Toppo, who was arrested on February 14 in connection with the case. The court directed the Raigarh police to produce Sai before it on February 22. Earlier in the day, Sai and Bardhan had been brought to the court amid tight security.

KALIA figures given by Ministers vary

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Figures on the number of beneficiaries of the Kushak Assistance for Livelihood and Income Augmentation (KALIA) furnished by different Ministers at different times are different.

While Agriculture Minister Arun Sahoo had earlier stated that 51,50,290 farmers had received money under the KALIA scheme, Finance Minister Niranjan Pujari on Tuesday informed the State Assembly that only 43 lakh farmers have got assistance under the KALIA scheme.

To a question Madan Mohan Dutt (BJP), Agriculture Minister on Wednesday also informed the Assembly that 45,965 ineligible beneficiaries have been identified so far and steps are being taken to get the money back from them.

He further said that as many as 1,873 such beneficiaries have already returned the money and efforts are on to recover the money from the bogus beneficiaries.

The Minister also clarified that there is no plan to merge the KALIA scheme with Centre's PM-KISAN Yojana.

Six-lane road in city

Salia Sahi dwellers' protest stalls eviction drive

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

As an eviction drive for a six-lane parallel road between Jaydev Vihar and Patia Square to ease traffic congestion began on Wednesday, protests by Salia Sahi slum dwellers temporarily stalled the drive.

The eviction drive was being jointly carried out by the Bhubaneswar Development Authority (BDA), the Bhubaneswar Municipal Corporation (BMC) and the Commissionerate police to facilitate a vacant lane for the emergency vehicles, which get stuck in traffic congestion in the city.

There are plans to build a six-lane road (three-lane each) on either side of the road connecting Jayadev Vihar and Patia square. However, Salia Sahi dwellers came forward in protest of the eviction drive demanding the implementation of the Forest Rights Act and 20x30 square foot residential plot within the city. In view of this, BMC Commissioner and BDA Vice-Chairman Prem Chandra Chaudhary said commercial spaces in the area would be demolished in the first phase. A rehabilitation colony would be established and the people would be relocated after the HSC Examination concludes.

Cuttack's Shibun topper in ICSI quiz

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Shibun Mishra of the Stewart Science College, Cuttack, was selected as the Odisha topper in the final round of the first online all-India quiz on current affairs and general knowledge for Classes-XI and XII conducted by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) on December 16. The award was presented to Mishra on January 18 by Chairman, ICSI Bhubaneswar Chapter CS Prabhat Kumar Nayak in the presence of Principal of the college Dr Debasish Acharya.

Former chairman, CS Soumya Sujit Mishra and executive officer UC Mishra of the ICSI, Bhubaneswar Chapter, faculties and students of the college were present during the award giving ceremony at the Stewart Science College, Cuttack.

HITTING THE BULL'S EYE

Good bureaucrats motivate masses by own acts

BISWARAJ PATNAIK

Secretary of State for India, a member of the British Cabinet. Legendary VP Menon, who drafted the 'Instrument of Accession', was the Secretary of State during Partition under Home Minister Sardar Patel. He had risen to the lofty position from an ordinary clerk. Those days, talent mattered the most. One could rise to highest positions of authority from the lowest rung in Government job cadres.

At the beginning, almost all the top thousand ICS members were British who had been educated in the best British schools. The All India Services were designated as Central Superior Services in 1924. After 1939, the number of Indians in the service increased because of non-availability of Europeans. By 1905, five per cent were from Bengal. By 1947, there were 322 Indians and 688 British members. After Independence, the ICS became the Indian Administrative Service (IAS) in 1950.

Over the years, particularly after the British left India,

IAS officers turned rather arrogant due mainly to the illiteracy of politicians and their sharp knowledge of basic things. Most politicians, until recently, depended heavily on the skills and knowledge of the IAS officers. Even the other civil services, officers including the IPS and Allied cadres are literally controlled by the IAS community. The system is such as to make it irreversible today, and for good reasons. This situation turned some IAS officers very arrogant and insensitive to public sentiments. Absolute authority made some of them absolutely indifferent to public problems. But as time rolled by, literate people entered mainstream electoral politics; and the arrogant bureaucrats began mellowing down in their conduct. It is also true that politicians assumed enormous powers and started calling all last shots. Without much fear, the majority of them engaged in amassing ill-gotten wealth, mostly bribe. They forced fallible bureaucrats to connive with them to make benefits. So, unethical bureaucrats fell in line and guided the rogues so as never to get into trouble with law. This culture remained live for long.

Eventually God became kinder in good time; and now, Indians have a good number of compassionate and highly motivated IAS and other civil service officers who are making waves across the country. India is heading for better times than ever before. At least one in twenty IAS officers is making a huge difference in public service. He is unflinchingly putting his foot down when political crooks happen to persuade him or her to abuse public office for private gain.

Some of these young officers are now models for the entire nation, especially youths: A devoted pair of civil servants in Kolkata decided to get married in office to keep the wedding event ideally simple. IAS officer Tushar Singla and his partner IPS officer Navjot Simmi signed their marriage certificate at Singla's office recently. This great thing happened at a time when public officials including Ministers splurge millions in feasting and show of glitter. Singla is a 2015-batch West Bengal-cadre officer currently SDO at Uluberia, and Simi, a 2017-batch Bihar-cadre IPS officer posted as DSP in Patna. The couple has promised friends a good dinner after the West Bengal elections are over.

When most people with money and authority shudder at the very idea of sending their children to Government schools considered poor in standards, in Chhattisgarh, Balrampur Collector Awanish Sharan got his daughter admitted into a Government school. While Sharan feels it was not at all newsworthy, he has in a way set a trend and attracted great attention from the media and other well-meaning bureaucrats. He is known for his commendable job in uplifting the education system in Balrampur district in last two years of his posting. Inspired by his act, a Parliamentarian, Shivshankar Paikra, has got his son admitted in a Government school in Jashpur district of Chhattisgarh.

A very dynamic lady IAS officer, R Lalitha, put her daughter in a Chennai Corporation primary school. Lalitha, Deputy Commissioner (Revenue and Finance), Greater Chennai Corporation, is proud that her daughter is enjoying her time at the school as she herself did at a Government school during her student days. Lalitha says the facilities in the corporation schools are absolutely at par with private schools in terms of joyful learning and other group activities. Lalitha's husband E Sumanth, an aviation specialist, has wholeheartedly supported her initiative. Lalitha has made many people willing to send their kids to State-run schools to avoid blood-sucking private institutions.

A young Andhra Pradesh IAS officer, L Shiva Shankar, Project Officer of ITDA, sent his son to the local Anganwadi Centre at Seetampeta, a tribal hamlet. The toddler, he says, is enjoying his time at the humble school learning Telugu and English alphabets and rhymes while mingling freely with his classmates. He drops the boy on his bike at the centre. The teachers have been sincerely requested by him not to pamper the kid or give any special treatment. Shankar's wife is also an IAS officer. The parents even celebrated Sohan's birthday at the Anganwadi Centre rendering the entire region inspired. They believe the child should grow as an ordinary student so as to pick life skills faster.

Similarly, when Government-run healthcare facilities are perceived to be substandard, dirty and not fit to deliver quality service, an Odisha-cadre bureaucrat put his wife in a Government hospital when he could have got her admitted into a swanky corporate healthcare facility without difficulty. Malkangiri district Collector Manish Agarwal's wife Sonam delivered a boy at the District Headquarters Hospital on July 4 in 2019. Doctors performed a caesarean section on her. Most senior officers go away to nearby Visakhapatnam for even having a sneeze problem fixed. Malkangiri is a remote Maoist-infested, tribal district. Manish, despite all the apparent odds, opted for the Government hospital only because he wanted to send out a strong message. He dispelled the common belief that Government things are all bad, unacceptable. Health facilities, especially SNCU, at the Malkangiri DHH are way better compared with the neighbouring districts. Manish, as the principal district administrator, has ensured that ordinary people get extraordinary service at Government facilities.

Times are changing. Corrupt bureaucrats are reforming themselves; and more significantly, highly sensitive young people are entering the top service. Besides, amazing technological developments have made everything so transparent! No one can do much by hiding. Erring crooks are visible anyway.

BJD wins Rayagada ZP president bypoll

Cong, BJP allege horse trading

BADAL TAH ■ RAYAGADA

Ruling BJD nominee Ganagadhar Puala won the by-election for Rayagada Zilla Parishad President held here on Wednesday by a margin of 13 votes. The by-poll had been necessitated after the District and Sessions Judge Court declared election of late Purussottam Gamang of the Congress null and void in December last.

Congress candidate Asutosh Kilaka got five votes though the party had 10 members in the 21-member council before. Earlier, the BJD had seven members, the Congress 10 and the BJP four members.

Though BJP State president Samir Mohanty had issued a whip for his party members to abstain from voting, two of them, Netrananda Kaibarta and Pushpanjali Mutuka, disobeyed it and cast their votes.

Both BJP and Congress leaders shouted demanding ouster of both the ZP members from the conference hall and urged the Election Officer not to allow them to vote. They claimed that the BJD resorted to horse trading in the election.

Following the declaration of the results, BJP and Congress workers gheraoed the Collector's office alleging horse trading by the BJD.

On December 24, Purussottam Gamang of the Congress died in a road accident hours after his election was declared null and void by the district Judge. Gamang was elected as Rayagada ZP President on March 12, 2017. BJD candidate Gangadhar Puala challenged Gamang's election in the district court that nullified it in December 2018. The Congress leader then moved the Orissa High Court (HC) against the ruling. In September last year, the HC directed Gamang to present his stance in the Rayagada District and Sessions Judge Court, where the judge nullified the election again.

Schoolboy falls off overloaded auto, dies

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

A Class-I student died when he fell off an overloaded auto-rickshaw while going to his school in the Digapahandi area of Ganjam district on Wednesday. The deceased was identified as Ajay Pradhan, a student of a private school.

According to reports, Ajay was travelling in the auto-rickshaw along with 15 other children. He was sitting on the extreme side in the auto-rickshaw and fell from the vehicle when he lost his balance near the school. He sustained severe injuries in his head. Locals rushed him to the Digapahandi Community Health Centre, where he was declared dead.

Following the incident, irate locals staged a road blockade disrupting vehicular communications on the Digapahandi-Chikiti road. They demanded stringent action against the auto-rickshaw driver and the school authorities for the fatal incident.

Later, police reached the spot and seized the auto-rickshaw and pacified the crowd.

As per traffic norms, a maximum of five children aged below 14 years can travel in an auto-rickshaw. But the rules are seldom followed.

Coronavirus

Odia youth on Japanese ship appeals for release

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

An engineer from Odisha, who is in quarantine for deadly novel coronavirus on the Diamond Princess cruise off Yokohama in Japan, has urged both the State and Central Governments for his safe release.

Shivashish Nayak of Brahmapur is among 142 Indians aboard the Diamond Princess ship locked down for two weeks after outbreak of coronavirus (now officially named COVID-19) that has claimed over a thousand lives in China.

In a video, Shivashish said 142 Indians have been confined on the ship and all have tested negative for COVID-19 except six crew members. However, the Japan authorities are not allowing the passengers to leave the vessel.

"We have spent 14 days in quarantine. However, as per the Captain's announcement, we, especially the crew members, would be put under quarantine for another 14 days. Even being passengers, we are staying inside the crew cabin. That's why the Japan Government restricted us to go out of the ship," said Shivashish.

Through the video, he has appealed to the Government of India as well as Odisha Government to take steps to evacuate the passengers from the cruise. "Or else, the things will be going on very worse," he said.

"Already, 545 persons have tested positive for coronavirus on the cruise. I appeal to the Government to rescue us from being infected by the deadly virus," he added.

Ganjam Haat tender process begins

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

The Brahmapur Municipal Corporation and Brahmapur Development Authority Vice-Chairman Chakravarti Singh Rathore have informed that a tender floating process for the Ganjam Haat scheme has begun from February 18.

The Haat has been planned to provide a platform for rural artisans to display and sell their products and also for recreation of common people.

In a Press meet, Rathore told about the Rock Garden and sub soil water conservation works in Brahmapur, where local MP Chandra Sekhar Sahu, MLAs Bikram Panda, Pradeep Kumar Panigrahi and BDA Secretary Sambit Routray, among others, were present.

It was informed that in the Ganjam Haat, a park, parking facility, water fountains and 117 shopping rooms would be constructed and tender papers and other related documents could be obtained from the BDA office.

Patient's death sparks tension in B'pur hosp

Kin allege medical negligence, seek action

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

Tension prevailed on the premises of the Gurudev Hospital here on Tuesday night when a woman patient's relatives and locals manhandled doctors of the hospital alleging medical negligence.

As per reports, the patient Aiswarya Singh Deo (24) was admitted to the hospital after she complained of stomach-ache in the evening. After examining her, the doctor said she was having appendicitis and carried out an operation. But the woman died while being taken out of the operation theatre.

"We brought Aiswarya to Gurudev Hospital at 6.30 pm. According to Dr Pravat Panigrahy, she was having appendicitis and suggested for an operation. But she died as the doctors gave her high doses of anaesthesia causing her cardiac arrest. This is because of the negligence of doctors," said a relative of the deceased woman.

Though the concerned doctor was not available, a woman doctor of the hospital said Aiswarya was a chronic patient of bronchial asthma and used to take inhalers. "When she was taken out of OT, she collapsed after some time," the woman doctor said.

Worth mentioning, two months back another patient died at the private hospital reportedly under similar circumstances.

Later, police personnel were deployed in the hospital premises to prevent any further flare-up.

Action Month Against Child Labour

7 kids rescued from Ganjam eateries

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

Seven child labourers were rescued from five eateries in Baidyanathpur area by a task force set up by the Ganjam district administration. Of them, five children belong to Ganjam district and two from Gajapati district, sources said.

The task force comprising the District Labour Officer (DLO), Brahmapur, a member of the district Child Welfare Committee (CWC), the District Child Protection Officer (DCPO), a member of Childline, Brahmapur, and police conducted raids in several hotels and fast-food centres within Baidyanathpur police station limits on Tuesday. "The children were rescued from at least five eateries. We will verify the age of the children. If their age is found to be below 14 years, we will register a case against the owners of the eateries under the Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act for engaging them as labourers," said Brahmapur DLO Babul Patra.

The district task force would conduct raids in different areas of the city in the next few days. The raids will continue till the end of the month to rescue child labourers as part of the campaign, "Action Month against Child Labour," sources said.

PNS ■ BHAPUR (NAYAGARH)

A man was arrested and forwarded to court on Tuesday for allegedly torturing his wife for dowry in Chhelia village under Bhapur block of Nayagarh district.

After FIR by wife

He was identified as Mayadhar Dakua who had married Namita Sahu of the same village five years back but often Mayadhar tortured Namita demanding money and different articles. As per FIR of Namita, Mayadhar had threatened his in-laws and set ablaze a scooter of their house over the dowry row. Police registered a case under various sections of IPC against Mayadhar.

Mishap victim dies as onlookers take pictures

Locals' apathy draws flak

PNS ■ BHADRAK

It was a case of shocking public apathy. On NH-16 near Sahapur Chhak in the district on Wednesday, an accident victim was lying in a pool of blood while locals were taking photos and recording videos of the incident instead of rescuing and hospitalising him.

A cement-laden truck had hit a motorcycle by which two persons were travelling. While both fell from the two-wheeler, the truck ran over the pillion rider leaving him critically injured.

Passersby soon gathered at the spot but none of them came forward to help the injured person. The victim remained unattended till arrival of police, who rescued him and rushed him to the District Headquarters Hospital.

However, doctor declared him dead at the hospital. Police said that had medical assistance been provided earlier, the victim could have been saved.

The incident drew severe criticism for the lack of empathy on the part of onlookers. Many also questioned the extremes the selfie trend prevailing among people.

Unsold Paddy: N'pada farmers stage protest

PNS ■ NUAPADA

Hundreds of farmers of N'pada district under the banner of Jai Kishan Sangram Parishad held a rally and staged a dharna in front of the Collector's office on Wednesday.

They pressed for three demands -- procurement of paddy, payment of crop insurance and filling of vacancies in agriculture and allied departments.

Jadumani Panigrahi, who led the farmers, informed that over 75,000 bags (37 quintals) of paddy of hundreds of farmers, who have already been allotted tokens, are lying unsold in the mandis of the district as the administration is not taking any step for its procurement.

Further, the farmers have also thousands of bags of paddy in their houses which they are unable to bring to the mandis because the tokens are yet to be generated for it.

About the nonpayment of insurance, Panigrahi informed that more than 2,700 eligible farmers of the district have not been paid insurance against loss of crops during the 2017 Kharif season. Besides, 60% of the posts of officials in agriculture and allied departments are lying vacant. The Sangram Parishad has given an ultimatum to the district administration.

"We have informed the ADM, who received our memorandum today that if the demands are not fulfilled in next few days, we will resort to agitation again," said Panigrahi.

Other leaders present were Prasanna Padhi, president of District Bar Association, Atindrajit Singh Mallik, Kamalesh Dikshit, Lalaram Sahu, Bharat Raut, Gobinda Sahu, Chensingh Majhi, Minketan Majhi and Gaurishankar.

Body carried in B'pur in trolley-rickshaw

As MKCG authorities fail to provide hearse van

PNS ■ BRAHMAPUR

A woman had to carry her mother's dead body in a trolley-rickshaw in the town when the MKCG Medical College Hospital authorities denied her a hearse vehicle on Wednesday afternoon.

Reports said Santoshini Behera and her brother Trinath Singh from Gate Bazaar had admitted their mother Chandrama Singh at the MKCG Hospital after she complained of illness on Monday. However, Chandrama died while undergoing treatment at the hospital at 10 am on the day.

Santoshini and her brother being poor did not have enough money to arrange a hearse van. They requested the hospital authorities to provide a vehicle to carry their mother's body. But the hospital authorities expressed their inability to provide a hearse vehicle as the sister-brother did not deposit the requisite money.

According to the Government guidelines, one has to deposit a certain amount to avail the hearse vehicle services.

Finding no other way, Santoshini and her brother took her mother's body in a trolley-rickshaw from the hospital.

DAV Kalinga Nagar students blessed

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

A sacred Hawan was organised to bless the board examinees of classes X and XII at the DAV School, Kalinga Nagar on Wednesday.

The students of Classes-X and XII, teachers and Principal of the school Bipin Kumar Sahoo participated in the event performed along the line of the Vedic philosophy of Swami Dayananda Saraswati, founder of the Arya Samaja. The Principal advised them to be sincere, honest and hardworking and gave them three vital secrets for success.

Free encroached Swargadwar lands: Saluja

Cong MLA demands in State Assembly

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Congress MLA Santosh Singh Saluja on Wednesday demanded in the State Assembly that all encroached lands of the Puri Swargadwar be freed soon.

Raising the issue during

Zero Hour, Saluja said while most parts of the Swargadwar area have been encroached by influential persons, the Government is protecting them instead of arresting them.

"Every day 80 to 90 corpses come to the Swargadwar for cremation. Due to lack space, they are put in a queue and their family members are asked to wait for their turn. There are now shades or other facilities at the cremation ground," said Saluja.

He demanded that the Speaker give a ruling to the Government to make all encroached area free soon in the interest of people.

Jagatsinghpur man looted of ₹2 lakh

Miscreants snatch cash after he withdraws from bank

PNS ■ JAGATSINGHPUR

Two motorcycle-borne miscreants looted Rs 2 lakh from a man while he was returning home after withdrawing the money from a bank.

Reports said that Satyabrata Biswal, a resident of Anakhi village under Biridi block, on Tuesday had visited the United Bank of India branch in Jagatsinghpur town and withdrawn Rs 2 lakh from his account. Holding the cash in a bag, he was returning to his village along with a friend Sudip Singh in a bike.

However, all on a sudden, two motorcycle borne miscreants waylaid them at the College Chhak and snatched away the cash bag from Satyabrata before fleeing the spot. The victim tried to chase the miscreants but failed and finally lodged an FIR in Jagatsinghpur police station. An investigation was underway, police said.

'Odisha Govt not utilising Central schemes properly'

Says BJP national leader Madhav

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The current Union Budget would be favourable for the country's farmers. Especially in a State like Odisha, this Budget would be more beneficial for Dalits, tribals and OBCs, said BJP national general secretary Ram Madhav here on Wednesday.

Madhav said Odisha Government does not submit new proposals for Central schemes while it failed to utilise the funds sanctioned by the Central Government. In many cases, the State Government has only utilised four to six percent of the grants sanctioned by the Centre for various projects.

extend full cooperation to the State," said Madhav.

State focuses on structural transformation: Fin Secy

Meena says priority laid on health, mining, tourism

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

State Finance Secretary Ashok K Meena during a discussion on the Odisha Budget 2020 said that the State aims at bringing out structural transformation and the 5T was a substantive step in that direction.

Meena said the State had introduced strategic budgeting to bring clarity in the resource allocation to each department. "Under the strategic budgeting each department will now have an idea regarding the possible ceiling in the allocation to the department in the coming year. Therefore, each department may undertake proper planning within the budget limit, instead of the Finance Department pruning down the demand for grants submitted by the departments," he told.

He said the focus in the Budget has been health, mining and tourism sectors. The Government wants to upgrade the SCB Medical College Hospital to AIIMS plus status. Similarly, additional 2,000 posts of doctors, 6,000 posts of nurses and 2000 posts of other paramedics during the year 2019-20 have been created, the Finance Secretary informed.

Meena further told the debt of the State was well within limit of the target given by the Union Finance Commission. The State wants to keep the debt stock within 20 per cent of GSDP and needs to borrow to catch up with the national level of per capita income, he told.

Many of the panelists raised concern over the health sector allocation in the State which was low. In order to effectively implement the Biju Swasthya Kalyan Yojana (BSKY), the State needs to substantially increase the budgetary allocation, they opined.

Concerns were raised on relying on mining industry, which was causing huge environmental damage, to finance the budget. Revenue from mining industry involves notable uncertainty. This may pose problems before the Government in financing the budget, said the experts.

However, the Finance Secretary allayed the fear and said that the State had accumulated huge amount of money in its sinking fund that could be used in the difficult times.

It was also discussed that Odisha had a very good pupil-to-teacher ratio. However, the quality of education remained very low. The pupil-teacher ratio of Odisha is much better than neighboring States and even neighboring countries of India, they said.

While the seminar was organised by the Department of A and A Economics, Utkal University and the Orissa Economics Association, eminent experts in the field who joined included Orissa Economics Association secretary Dr Amarendra Das, Prof Srijit Mishra, Prof Satyakam Mishra, Dr Satyapriya Rath, Prof Kishore Chandra Samal, Sourendra Kumar Sahu, Dr Chitta Ranjan Nayak, Dr Sarot Kumar Rout, Dr Shiba Shankar Mohanty, Rajesh Mohapatra, Prof Bhabesh Sen among others. While welcome address was given by Prof Mitali Chinara, the vote of thanks was given by Dr Alok Ranjan Behera.

Swachh Bharat fund misuse: Puri BJP stir enters 2nd day

PNS ■ PURI

BJP workers led by district party president Asrit Patnaik have begun a dharna since Tuesday near the Collector's office here over alleged fund misappropriations in the Swachh Bharat Yojana and Kalia scheme and compensation for Fani damages.

Demanding high-level investigations into funds spent in the Centre-sponsored programmes, the BJP workers alleged a big scam in nexus with ruling BJD leaders and Government officers.

The BJP workers, who have come from Sakhigopal, Brahmagiri, Pipili and Puri, spent the whole Tuesday and night at the dharna site and continued their stir throughout Wednesday, waiting Collector Balwant Singh to arrive at the spot and receive their memorandum. They decided to spend another night till Thursday in wait of the Collector.

Among others, Brahmagiri MLA Lalitendu Bidyadhar Mohapatra and Sakhigopal leader Om Prakash Mishra are present.

They alleged that 1 lakh latrines shown as completed in Government report in the district for 2018-19 are false as only 30 per cent have really been completed.

Notice to Puri hotelier for CRZ norms breach

SCZMA orders action against 6-storied building on beach

PNS ■ PURI

The State Coastal Zone Management Authority (SCZMA) issued a notice to a hotel on the beach of Puri for CRZ norms violation.

The SCZMA also took a serious note of the lapses of the district administration in allowing construction to rise up to six stairs illegally.

The six-storied building on the beach near Chakratirha area, which is at final stage of construction, would face brunt of bulldozers with criminal actions against its owner. The coast regulatory body observed that the Environmental Protection (EP) Act had been breached blatantly by the hotelier.

Reportedly, the district Collector and the Sub-Collector are only two designated officers of district to deal with sea coast under their limits.

Sources said the premises was presently under occupation of a servitor of the Jagannath Temple who had many hotels in the city. The place having an old house there earlier had sought permission from the Puri Konark Development Authority (PKDA) for plan up to three stairs. With allotment of plan by the PKDA to the occupant upon his request, the bidder started works and raised it up to six floors by being hand in glove with officials in violation of the CRZ guidelines.

Sources said a few months ago when a complaint was made for crossing the approved three stairs, the administration swung into action and simply clamped 144 there. But despite the order to maintain status quo restricting further works, the bidder went on constructing up to six stairs breaching the approved limits.

However, the SCZMA issued order to the administration, after it got a complaint, to take criminal actions against owner and the developer.

Buddha idol placed at BBSR Mahabodhi Society

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

A consecration ceremony for the installation of a new idol of Lord Buddha was held at the Mahabodhi Society of India's Bhubaneswar centre on Wednesday under the Holy Bodhi tree amidst the chanting of hymns.

Mahabodhi Society of India general secretary Sewali Thero and other monks with many members of the society placed the statue in a new pedestal. Society Odisha Centre president Dr Bimalendu Mohanty and secretary Sourendra Mohapatra and national vice-president Aryakumar Jnanendra along with other members were present.

The 63-year-old Bodhi tree is a direct descendant of the original Bodhi tree at Gaya, under which Gautama Buddha had attained enlightenment. A seedling of the original Bodhi tree, which was planted in 288 BCE at Bodhgaya, was taken to Sri Lanka by Emperor Ashoka's daughter Sanghamitra in the third century BC and planted at Anuradhapura. On May 13, 1957, a seedling obtained from Sri Lanka was planted in the premises by the then Myanmar Prime Minister U Nu.

Last year, Cyclone Fani had virtually ripped off the Bodhi tree in Bhubaneswar. It could not withstand the ravage and was uprooted, damaging the multitude of statues surrounding the base. The uprooted tree was made upright and has sprung to life again. The Buddha statues along with 28 smaller statues were replaced.

Tune into past with retro radio collector

PARVINDER BHATIA ■ JAMSHEDPUR

As most of us don't get to live and follow our passion but there is a man who has been following his passion since past several decades. Sixty-four-year old Chinmoy Mahto has been carving radios in various shapes and sizes.

"Radios have always fascinated me. As my parents used to say I fell in love with radio when I was only four year old. My father was in air force and when he was posted in Burma, he brought a Japan made radio and I fell in love with it. I still vividly remember that people used to gather at house to listen radio," recalled Mahto. Over the years, he started collecting radios and has preserved them with care.

In an attempt to preserve radio sets for posterity, set Chinmoy Mahto of Kadma on a strange task fuelled by passion to collect discontinued sets. With nearly 200 radio sets of different era in his kitty, Mahto is on the lookout for more to expand his collection.

A slight turn towards the right side of his room gives you a glimpse of an extraordinary collection of vintage radios starting from a Philips model of 1957 to transistors.

Through his journey of collecting radios right from childhood, he kept his passion alive during his professional life too. "People have different hobbies, but from childhood, radios have been my first love. Initially, I used to collect radios from my friends. They used to give it for repair, but with the TV hitting the market, many gave their sets to me," he says. He made new friends, who extended their support in his endeavour of collecting vintage radios.

This strange passion for vintage radios led him to collect models of various brands though he is modest about his range. "Old radios are like a treasure for me. Though I do not have all the vintage models and am focusing on collecting as many as possible," he said.

Most of his collections are drawn from well-known brands such as Philips, Sanyo, Sony, Phillips, Siemens, Kaide, Elta besides a working model of a radiogram, which combines a radio with a record player. An advocate by profession he also runs a driving school.

Mahto, heads the Guide International Radio Listening Club (GIRLC) that he started with four other radio passionate in 1974. GIRLC still has about a 100 members today and regularly meets to discuss about radio programmes.

His life revolves around radio and various programmes that go on air every day. He starts listening to the radio from 5 am every day that continues till late night.

He is keen about programmes in Bengali, Hindi, English and Urdu that are aired from across the globe.

He added listening to the ear-friendly radio kindled creativity in listeners to visualise things as they emerged, unlike the television sets that just made one sit glued to the screen.

Outbreak to hit drug supplies

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

With no let up in coronavirus cases in China, the Niti Aayog on Wednesday held a meeting with pharma industry to discuss the impact of disruption in supplies of active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) while a Government panel has suggested a ban on export of the 12 APIs and formulations, including antibiotics, such as Chloramphenicol, Neomycin, Metronidazole and Vitamins B1, B12, B6 along with progesterone, among others.

India has a high dependence on China for fermentation-based APIs and intermediates.

In the meantime, the third and final batch of 406 inmates quarantined at the ITBP facility here after being evacuated from the coronavirus-hit Chinese city of Wuhan was discharged after being declared free of coronavirus by the doctors.

Sources said Niti Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant had a meeting on Wednesday which was attended by Pharmaceutical Department Secretary PD Vaghela and Biocon Chairperson and Managing Director Kiran

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had on Tuesday met the representatives of various sectors, including pharmaceuticals, textiles, chemicals, electronics and IT hardware, solar, auto, surgical equipments, and paints, to review the situation following the outbreak of the deadly virus in China.

She had said the Government would soon announce measures to deal with the impact of the coronavirus outbreak on the domestic industry.

There has been no supply from the neighbouring country for the past 20-25 days, mainly due to Chinese New Year holidays, sources had said. Companies have been maintaining 2-3 months inventory of these APIs and intermediates, Indian Pharmaceutical Alliance (IPA) Secretary General Sudarshan Jain had earlier said.

AHEAD OF SHAH'S VISIT

Border guards prepare action plan to reduce threat along frontiers

As an outcome of Shah's visit, vital installations in the border areas are proposed to be brought under the coverage of anti-drone technology

The proposal for revamping the border security will also incorporate quality and number of manpower, technical requirements and budgetary provisions needed to securing the frontiers and reducing vulnerabilities

RAKESH K SINGH ■ NEW DELHI

Following the visit of Union Home Minister Amit Shah to the headquarters of various paramilitary forces, the border guarding forces are working on a proposal to conduct vulnerability mapping of the respective borders under their area of responsibility and prepare an action plan to reduce threat along the frontiers in the next five years.

As an outcome of Shah's visit, vital installations in the border areas are proposed to be brought under the coverage of anti-drone technology.

The proposal for revamping the border security will also incorporate quality and number of manpower, technical requirements and budgetary provisions needed to securing the frontiers and reducing vulnerabilities.

The Ministry has also invited suggestions for recruiting 50 per cent of the personnel in the border guarding forces from the States along the borders.

The border guarding forces have also been advised to identify groups of young officers who will cover the frontiers on motor bikes and identify loopholes in the security paraphernalia along the frontiers.

The plan to strengthen the borders also includes a proposal to train jawans in the languages spoken by people across the borders. A training scheme is proposed to train the jawans in such languages.

The forces have also been asked to identify vacant land in the bordering areas to settle former paramilitary forces' personnel to check migration of population from such areas. The forces have also been asked to seek suggestions from the jawans to check migration of population from bordering areas.

Officials said there is also a proposal to formulate a mechanism for reporting by the border guarding forces with their respective headquarters for holding institutional meeting by the forces with the district/state administration in the border areas.

The border guarding forces have been asked to tie up with the Border Security Force (BSF) to install Comprehensive Integrated Border Management System (CIBMS) on a trial basis along the frontiers with Nepal, Bhutan and Myanmar.

Two pilot projects covering about 71 km on India-Pakistan Border (10 km) and India-Bangladesh Border (61 km) of CIBMS last year. The next phases of CIBMS seek to cover about 1,955 km of the border which cannot be physically fenced. The CIBMS project will vastly improve the capability of BSF in detecting and controlling the cross border crimes like illegal infiltration, smuggling of contraband goods, human trafficking BESIDES and cross border terrorism smart fencing comprising an array of technological gadgets.

While the BSF guards the Indo-Pakistan and Indo-Bangladesh borders, the Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) secures the frontier along China. The Sashastra Seema Bal (SSB) guards the frontiers along Bhutan and Nepal.

Cabinet approves Assisted Reproductive Technology (Regulation) Bill

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved the Assisted Reproductive Technology (Regulation) Bill which proposes establishment of a national registry and registration authority for all fertility clinics and medical professionals serving in the field. The Bill also proposes stringent punishment for those practicing sex selection and sale of human embryos or gametes. Giving details of the Bill, Union Minister Smriti Irani said sex selection and sex determination prohibited are under the proposed legislation.

"Ensuring confidentiality of the commissioning couples, women and donors will also be done under the aegis of this proposal of the Cabinet. The Bill also has a provision that those involved in trafficking and sale of embryos will be fined ₹10 lakh at first instance and in second instance the person could be imprisoned for up to 12 years," she said. Irani said the Bill also seeks to protect the reproductive rights of not only the commissioning couple but also the lady who will be part of this process.

"This particular decision of the Cabinet seeks a central database in the country through which details of all clinics and banks, including the nature, kind of services provided, outcome of the services provided will be obtained on a regular basis," she said. "The data generated from the national registry will also be used for research purposes in this particular segment of health," she added.

According to an official statement, the national board lays down code of conduct to be observed by persons working at clinics, to set the minimum standards of physical infrastructure, laboratory and diagnostic equipment and expert manpower to be employed by clinics and banks. The States and Union Territories will constitute the State boards and State authorities within three months of the notification by the Centre. The State board shall have the responsibility to follow the policies and plans laid by the national board for clinics and banks in the State, the statement said.

The major benefit of the Act would be that it will regulate the assisted reproductive technology services in the country. Consequently, infertile couples will be more ensured/confident of the ethical practices in ARTs. The Bill follows introduction in Parliament of the Surrogacy Regulation Bill 2020, and the approval of the Medical Termination of Pregnancy Amendment Bill 2020, said the Minister, detailing the provisions of the new Bill.

Climate change, harmful products impacting children: Report

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Ecological degradation, climate change and exploitative marketing practices that push heavily processed fast food, sugary drinks, alcohol and tobacco are fast taking a toll on the health and future of the children with no country taking adequate protecting measures.

Painting a gloomy picture on the status of the future of the children, the report, "A Future for the World's Children?", released on Wednesday by a Commission of over 40 child and adolescent health experts from around the world notes with concern that every child worldwide now faces existential threats from climate change and commercial pressures.

The experts have called for a new global movement driven by and for the children.

While the poorest countries need to do more to support their children's ability to live healthy lives, excessive carbon emissions — disproportionately from wealthier countries — threaten the future of all children, said the Commission convened by the World Health Organization (WHO), UNICEF and The Lancet.

"Despite improvements in child and adolescent health over the past 20 years, progress has stalled, and is set to reverse," said former Prime Minister of New Zealand and Co-Chair of the Commission, Helen Clark. "It has been estimated that around 250 million children under five years old in low- and middle-income countries are at risk of not reaching their developmental potential, based on proxy measures of stunting and poverty. But of even greater concern, every child worldwide now faces existential threats from climate change and commercial pressures.

"Countries need to overhaul their approach to child and adolescent health, to ensure that we not only look after our children today but protect the world they will inherit in the

A MANIFESTO FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION ON CHILD AND ADOLESCENT HEALTH

- Stop CO2 emissions with the utmost urgency, to ensure children have a future on this planet
- Place children and adolescents at the centre of our efforts to achieve sustainable development
- New policies and investment in all sectors to work towards child health and rights
- Incorporate children's voices into policy decisions
- Tighten national regulation of harmful commercial marketing, supported by a new Optional Protocol to the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child ty, or income gaps. According to the report, while the poorest countries need to do more to support their children's ability to live healthy lives, excessive carbon emissions - disproportionately from wealthier countries - threaten the future of all children.

The only countries on track to beat carbon emission per capita targets by 2030, while also performing fairly (within the top 70) on child flourishing measures are Albania, Armenia, Grenada, Jordan, Moldova, Sri Lanka, Tunisia, Uruguay, and Vietnam, shows the analysis.

"From heads-of-state to local government, from UN leaders to children themselves, this Commission calls for the birth of a new era for child and adolescent health. It will take courage and commitment to deliver. It is the supreme test of our generation," says Dr Richard Horton, Editor-in-Chief of The Lancet family of journals.

PM's surprise visit to Hunar Haat

Relished litti-chokha, kulhad tea; interacted with artisans

Prime Minister Narendra Modi eats 'litti-chokha' at a snacks stall at 'Hunar Haat' at Rajpath in New Delhi on Wednesday

DEEPAK K UPRETI ■ NEW DELHI

The ongoing 'Hunar Haat' at Rajpath here had a special guest on Wednesday. It was none other than Prime Minister Narendra Modi who paid a surprise visit to 'Hunar Haat', where he relished 'litti-chokha' and 'kulhad' tea and interacted with artisans. Minority Affairs Minister MA Naqvi accompanied the PM who headed to the Haat soon after chairing the meeting of the Union Cabinet.

Later, Naqvi told The Pioneer that the 'Hunar Haat', which is making the rounds of several cities in the country with the next destination being Ranchi, Jharkhand, has already given employment to over three lakh artisans in three years. "It is a revolutionary event," he insisted.

The Haat is organised by the Ministry of Minority Affairs. Works of artisans, food and music were in full play in different stalls as visitors streamed in and out, enjoying a balmy afternoon.

Officials of the Ministry at the event were surprised when they came to know about the Prime Minister's visit. Modi tweeted several photographs from his visit to the Hunar Haat in which he is seen interacting with the artisans and appreciating the traditional handicrafts at various stalls.

Modi, who stayed in the venue for over 50 minutes sat in a woven cot and 'mooda' (cane chair) and ate litti-chokha, a dough ball made of whole wheat flour and stuffed with sattu, and paid ₹120 for it. The dish is popular in Bihar, eastern Uttar Pradesh and Jharkhand. He also had tea served in kulhad with the Minority Affairs Minister and paid ₹40 for two cups. The Prime Minister along with Naqvi went round the Haat and stopped at several stalls to interact with master craftsmen and artisans and made queries on various fine artifacts.

Master artisans, craftsmen and culinary experts, including more than 50 per cent women, from across the country are participating at the Haat. "Spent a wonderful afternoon at Hunar Haat on India Gate. It showcases the best of products including handicrafts, carpets, textiles and of course, delicious food! Do visit it," PM Modi tweeted. The participation of people from all across India makes 'Hunar Haat' a vibrant place, he said.

"Had tasty Litti Chokha for lunch along with a hot cup of tea...," he said in another tweet.

The Prime Minister also picked up a traditional musical instrument at a stall and tried playing it.

Artisans participating in the event told Modi that traditional arts were dying, but the 'Hunar Haat' initiative had given a new lease of life to them.

Modi interacted with a specially-abled painter who benefited from the government's Hunar Haat initiative.

The 'Hunar Haat', which will be open until February 23 in the national Capital, will move to Ranchi, Gurugram, Bengaluru, Chennai, Kolkata, Dehradun, Patna, Bhopal, Goa, Kochi, Guwahati and Bhubaneswar, among other places in coming months.

Cong demands scrapping of CVC

New Delhi: Terming the process adopted for appointment of the next Chief Vigilance Commissioner (CVC) as "illegal, unlawful and unconstitutional", the Congress on Wednesday demanded its immediate scrapping. The party also said US President Donald Trump's remarks ahead of his India visit is an insult and affront to country's dignity.

The Congress said arbitrariness in top judicial institutions is fatal for democracy and alleged there is no place for transparency, accountability and constitutional processes in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 'New India', which was fatal for democracy.

Congress chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala charged that appointments of CVC and CIC are being made arbitrarily on the lines of 'khum ja sim sim' (open sesame). "The appointments of CVC and CIC are being made on the lines of 'open sesame'. Bring out names from the pocket and make appointments, that's it. There is no place left for transparency, accountability, constitutional processes and compliance of law in Modi ji's 'New India'," he charged on Twitter.

Sanjay Kothari, the Secretary to the President, has been selected as the new CVC by a high-powered committee headed by the Prime Minister. The committee has also chosen by a majority decision, former Information & Broadcasting Secretary Bimal Julka, currently serving as an Information Commissioner, as the new CIC in the Central Information Commission.

TAPAS PAUL'S DEATH

Didi holds Centre, CBI responsible

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday slammed Narendra Modi Government for taking out his political revenge on the Opposition parties. Speaking at the funeral of Bengali cine star and former TMC MP Tapas Paul who died in Mumbai on Tuesday suffering a severe heart attack, Mamata said that Paul was a victim of BJP's vendetta politics. "Tapas Paul was a great actor who had to pay with his life for no fault of his. He had to die untimely because of Centre's political vendetta and tormenting psychological pressure brought on him by a Central Agency. He was put in jail for more than a year just because he worked as a Brand Ambassador of some company under investigation."

The Chief Minister was apparently referring to the CBI Investigation into the multi-crore Rose Valley chit fund case. "All the film personalities who work as Brand Ambassador's are at a risk of being framed by this Government.....Tapas was the third victim of this vendetta politics. Earlier our MP Sultan Ahmed and the wife of another MP Prasun Banerjee died a similar death" Banerjee said. Reacting to her comments, Congress leader of Lok Sabha Adhir Chowdhury and Senior CPIM leader Samik Lahiri said that Banerjee too followed similar vendetta politics in Bengal putting hundreds of Opposition workers in jail. Lahiri said Pal's death is a glaring example showing whosoever gets close to Mamata Banerjee is at a risk of facing similar faith.

Maoists blow up school building in Bihar, leave anti-CAA pamphlets

Gaya: Suspected Maoist rebels blew up a school building in Bihar's Gaya district and left behind pamphlets denouncing the CAA-NPR-NRC and the 'fascist BJP Government', a senior police official said on Wednesday.

Rajeev Mishra, the Senior Superintendent of Police of Gaya, said nobody was injured in the blast that razed the empty school building in Banke Bazaar police station area late Tuesday night. A CRPF contingent was stationed there till recently.

"A team of 153 Battalion of CRPF had been camping in the area since March 18 last year when naxals had carried out an attack ahead of the Lok Sabha polls. They had been putting up at Sonedaha High School and shifted to their own camp in the thick of the jungle nearby on February 08," Mishra said.

Hand-written pamphlets have been recovered from the site which bear slogans against "Brahminvadi, Hindutvavadi fascist BJP Government," and question "occupation" of school buildings by security forces.

The pamphlets also urge people to "unite against draconian measures like CAA, NPR and NRC", the SSP added.

We have inputs about Maoists active in the area lending their support to the protests against CAA-NPR-NRC. On Sunday last, nine women suspected of naxal links were rounded up in Gaya town while they were on their way to Shanti Bagh where a round-the-clock demonstration has been under way," he said.

The SSP claimed that during interrogation one of the women confessed to being an active member of the banned CPI (Maoist) and others said they had received Rs 300-400 each for attending the Shanti Bagh protest. Joint search operations by CRPF, Combat Battalion for Resolute Action (COBRA) and STF of Bihar police were on to track down the perpetrators, Mishra said. PTI

Anti-CAA rally by Islamists pass off peacefully in Chennai

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

A massive demonstration held by Federation of Tamil Nadu Islamic and Political Organisations in Chennai on Wednesday against the CAA concluded peacefully without any untoward incident reported from anywhere in the city.

Thousands of people belonging to the Islamic community marched through the streets of Chennai, shouting slogans against Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and the Citizen Amendment Act.

More than 5,000 police personnel have been posted along the route to Fort Saint George (Tamil Nadu Secretariat) and unmanned aerial vehicles were deployed to monitor the movement of people.

Though the Madras High

Court on Tuesday had denied permission to representatives of various Islamic organisation to lay siege to the Secretariat, the FTNIPO, claiming to represent 23 Islamic organisations undertook the rally demanding the scrapping of CAA. They also demanded the Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly to pass a resolution demanding the negation of the CAA.

Since the police had barricaded the one kilometre stretch from Anna Salai to Secretariat, the demonstrators called off the rally after the community leaders delivered the routine speeches. The rally came to an end at 12:45 pm with the participants singing the National Anthem.

MH Jawahirullah, leader of Tamil Nadu Muslim Munnetra Kazhagam, who addressed the rally said that the demonstration was for the entire Indians because the CAA would make it difficult for all Indians to survive in the country. "Had MGR (former Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu) been alive today, it would not have been possible for him to live in Tamil Nadu because his birth place was Kandy in Sri Lanka," said Jawahirullah.

Elsewhere in the State, members of Islamic community staged rallies condemning the CAA. But all rallies and demonstrations were peaceful as no untoward incidents were reported. The sit-in at Washermenpet area in Chennai continued for the fifth day without any unpleasant experience.

PAN card, land & bank documents no proofs of citizenship: Gauhati HC

Guwahati: PAN card, land and bank documents do not prove one's Indian citizenship, the Gauhati High Court has observed while dismissing a woman's plea against a tribunal order that rejected her citizenship claim.

A division bench comprising justices Manojit Bhuyan and PJ Saikia dismissed Jabeda Begum's plea as the documents submitted by her could not establish her linkage to her projected father or brother.

Begum submitted 14 documents, including her PAN card and ration card, two bank pass-books, the NRC details of her father Jabed Ali, voter lists where the names of her grandparents, parents and her along with her husband were published and several land revenue receipts.

The Foreigners Tribunal in Baksa district had earlier issued a notice to her on the basis of a reference made by the Superintendent of Police (Border) to prove her Indian citizenship.

She appeared before the tribunal and filed her written statement along with the 14 documents, claiming to be a citizen of India by birth.

The tribunal held that village headmen are not entitled to issue certificates supporting the citizenship of a person and also rejected the bank documents as these adequately do not prove to be her's.

The tribunal held that the petitioner failed to file documents linking herself with her projected parents.

She appealed against the tribunal's ruling in the high court, which observed that it has carefully gone through the direction of the tribunal and found that she could not file any documents to link herself with her projected parents. The high court had already held in another case in 2016 that PAN card and bank documents are not proofs of citizenship, the division bench observed.

Certificates issued by a 'Gاون Bura' or village headman also cannot be the proof of citizenship as such a certificate can only be used by a married woman to prove that after her marriage she had shifted to her matrimonial village, the court ruled.

The court observed that the tribunal has correctly appreciated the evidence placed before it and there was no perversity in the decision of the tribunal.

The judges ruled that the petitioner has failed to prove her linkage with her projected father and her projected brother and as such this writ petition is devoid of merit and disposed of accordingly. PTI

CAA, media freedom come under scrutiny at Difficult Dialogues

NAVIN UPADHYAY ■ DONA PAULA (GOA)

From Citizenship Amendment Act to freedom of speech, from Uniform civil code to judicial accountability, a wide range of constitutional and legal issues, which have rocked the country for some time, were debated by India's best known legal experts, academicians and civil right activists at a three-day conference at International Centre, Goa between February 14 and 16. International legal experts also shared their insights and experiences so that the benefits of global best practices could be dovetailed into the proceedings.

The conference-the fifth edition of Difficult Dialogues-came out with series of recommendations for improving the State of the law in the country. The policy recommendations would be published in the form of actionable white papers that could make a difference.

The highlight of the engagements was a panel discussion on Free speech, censorship, and the media attended by Kerala Governor Arif Mohammad Khan. Supreme Court advocate Geeta Luthra and two retired judges.

The panelists agreed that dissent was a key element of any democracy and diversity of opinion has to be respected. The Governor, who seemed to reluctantly endorse this view, insisted that right to dissent didn't mean any one has the right to impose his views on others.

Later, in an interaction with the media persons when the Governor was asked for his reaction on tendency to brand traitors those dissenting against the Government's policy, the Governor referred to a report by a Pakistani NGO that more than 1000 Hindu women were kidnapped and forcibly converted in that country. "When such things happened across the border, these are bound to find an echo in India, too," he said.

When asked what it has to do with the right of the citizen's dissent against the Government, the governor virtually lost his cool and said most of those out on the streets are following "fatwas" issued by their masters.

While CAA remained a topic of discussion, both formally and informally, at the conference, the panelists also went at length into others issues such as: After the Aadhar judgment: Do individuals have right to privacy in India? Accountability vs independence of Judiciary: Is the balance right? Reforms in the administration of justice: What can help? Discrimination law and minorities: Is justice done? Making environmental laws effective: How to achieve sustainability?

Commenting at the conclusion of the three day summit, Surina Narula, Founder & CEO of Difficult Dialogues said, "In the fifth edition of Difficult Dialogues this year, we were able to discuss the State of Law in the country, identify the various issues and problems that exist, and come up with action points that could help in the speedy and equitable dispensation of justice to all. As an outcome of the Difficult Dialogues 2020, we will be documenting all the recommendations that were tabled in the form of actionable white papers for the benefit of all."

This year the Knowledge Partners for Difficult Dialogues include the Centre for Socio-Legal Studies, University of Oxford, (CSLS, Oxford), Bar Association of India (BAI), O P Jindal Global University, Centre for the Study of Law and Governance, Jawaharlal Nehru University (CSLG, JNU), the Goa University (GU), and the International Centre Goa (ICG).

The conference concluded with 'Daring Debates' - a platform for the students-in which eight finalists from different colleges from across the country took part. The regional winners were invited for the grand finale where the topic was 'Environment Protection: A Case for State Surveillance or Individual Discipline?' The debate was moderated by wildlife film-maker Malaika Vaz. Erenbeni Humtsoe of St.Anthony's College, Shillong was declared the winner with Manish Kumar Jha of IMS Law College, Delhi adjudged as the first runner-up and Saha D'Souza of DnyanprassarakMandal's College and Research Center, Goa adjudged as the second runner-up.

Didi likely to attend Shah's Bhubaneswar meet

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee is likely to attend the Eastern Zonal Council meeting on February 28, on internal security to be chaired by Union Home Minister Amit Shah at Bhubaneswar, State Government sources said.

The meeting will be attended by all the Chief Ministers of the eastern states.

Sources at State secretariat at Nabanna said that the Chief Minister has been invited by the Union Home Ministry on February 28. "There will be a EZC meeting on internal security where Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee has been invited," sources said adding "the Chief Minister is likely to attend the meeting."

Sources also said that if the Chief Minister got preoccupied in other engagements then State Finance Minister Amit Mitra could be sent to attend the meeting.

Apart from Banerjee Chief Ministers of Bihar, Jharkhand, Odisha and Sikkim have also been invited and all the Chief Ministers are likely to remain present in the meeting.

With Banerjee taking the centre stage in her consistent anti-Narendra Modi and anti-BJP campaigns galvanizing the other parties in one place with particular reference to the ongoing struggle against the controversial Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and National Register for Citizens (NRC) all eyes are likely to be on the outcome of the Bhubaneswar summit.

While the top TMC leaders refused to make open comment on any likelihood of Mamata-Shah parley in the sidelines of the main meeting critics said the Chief Minister might hold talks with Shah on a number of issues like the State's financial dues.

"She even met Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the peak of anti-CAA movement when he came to Kolkata in January," said BN Chakrabarty a professor of political science and political analyst.

After his meeting with the Prime Minister the Chief Minister told the media that she had met him as it was the tradition to welcome a guest adding how the talks between the two leaders remained confined to the financial demands of the State Government.

If the meeting between Shah and Banerjee takes place at Bhubaneswar it will be the second such meeting in the past five months or so as the two leaders met in Delhi late last year when Banerjee went to the Capital to meet the Prime Minister and the Home Minister leading the opposition parties to attack the Chief Minister for her double standards.

Incidentally Banerjee's Delhi visit had coincided with the CBI's relentless pressure on the then ADG CID Rajiv Kumar who was allegedly gone underground with the Agency sleuths hot in pursuit.

Kumar was wanted by the CBI for his role in the investigation of the multi-crore Sharada chit fund case. Even as in subsequent hearing Kumar got reprieve in Calcutta High Court which provided shield to him from arrest the State Opposition cried foul alleging the CBI once again withdrew into its shell following Banerjee's urgent visit to Delhi.

Reacting to the February 28 summit State Congress leader Manoj Chakrabarty said "whether this meeting in Bhubaneswar is really on internal security or the TMC leaders' security will only be revealed subsequently."

K'taka: Poet, journo held over recital of anti-CAA poem at Govt function

Bengaluru: A poet and a journalist have been arrested in connection with recital of a poem against CAA and NRC at a Government sponsored function in Koppal district of Karnataka last month, police said on Wednesday.

The arrests were made based on a complaint from a BJP functionary alleging that Siraj Bisaralli, a poet had recited an anti-CAA poem at 'Anegundi Utsava' in Gangavathi town of Koppal district in January and Rajabaxi, editor of an online news portal uploaded it on social media.

Police had registered a case against them under section 505 of IPC (statements conducting to public mischief).

On Tuesday, Bisaralli and Rajabaxi surrendered before a court in that district, which rejected their bail plea and remanded them to police custody for investigation into the matter.

"Siraj had recited the poem and Rajabaxi had shared it on the social media. Based on a complaint by a BJP leader the case was registered under section 505 of the IPC. They went absconding after that and surrendered before the court on Tuesday," a police officer told PTI.

The duo sought an interim bail, which the public prosecutor objected to and sought police custody to conduct inquiry.

The court granted sent Bisaralli and Rajabaxi to police custody till Wednesday afternoon.

"We may not seek further extension of their custody until some fresh evidences surface. We have seized their mobile phones to ascertain whom they had shared the details with," police said. PTI

BJP's defeat in Delhi signals beginning of change: Pawar

Lucknow: NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday said the defeat of the BJP in the Delhi Assembly elections signals "beginning of the change".

"The BJP is tasting defeats - be it in the elections in Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan or Delhi. In Delhi, the BJP had put all its strength and even Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah campaigned there," Pawar said at a party workers' meeting here.

"UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath and chief ministers of other BJP-ruled states also campaigned in Delhi. But people of Delhi showed that the beginning of change has started," he said.

(AAP) stormed back to power in Delhi by winning an impressive 62 seats, while the BJP could work its magic only in the remaining eight seats in the national capital.

On the Ram temple issue, Pawar said, "We accept the construction of Ram temple. The way in which a trust was set up for it, there should be a similar body for mosque. The country and the government belong to everyone and every religion."

Noting that the atmosphere in the country was "different" now, the NCP leader lamented, "Those in power are ignoring problems of common man. Uttar Pradesh gave many leaders to the country, so the state has an important role in politics. The state has the capacity to bring the country on the right track". Senior NCP leader Praful Patel said his party has decided to strengthen its organisation in Uttar Pradesh. "We have started establishing party organisation at every district and village level in the state," he said, adding people were disappointed by the politics of SP and BSP in Uttar Pradesh, which was capitalised by the BJP and it came to power in the state with a majority.

Patel later told reporters that there was no difference of opinion among the NCP, Congress and Shiv Sena over the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and National Register of Citizens (NRC). PTI

GFP: Like Goa CM, Centre should remove anti-people policies

Panaji: Goa Forward Party (GFP) chief Vijai Sardesai on Wednesday said the Centre should learn from Goa Chief Minister Pramod Sawant and withdraw its 'anti-people' policies.

He was referring to the Sawant-led Government's recent decision of withdrawing section 144 of the CrPC in North Goa and the roll back of the order notifying 56 villages in the state as urban areas.

Speaking to reporters in Margao, Sardesai congratulated Sawant for withdrawing the notifications that had met with Opposition from various quarters.

"I appreciate the Chief Minister for rolling back anti-people decisions," the Fatorda MLA said.

The Centre should take cue from Sawant and withdraw the anti-people laws, he added. "The Union Government and the national leadership of the BJP should learn from Sawant and roll back their anti-people policies," he said. PTI

Prashant Kishor defends 'pichhlaggu' jibe at Nitish, linking BJP with Godse

Patna: Defending his 'pichhlaggu' (underling) barb at Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, poll strategist-politician Prashant Kishor on Wednesday said he was upset with the JD(U) chief's 'surrender' before the BJP just to cling to power without extracting any benefit for the State.

Facing flak for linking the BJP with (Nathuram) Godse, while having worked with the party in the past, Kishor asserted that public praise of Mahatma Gandhis assassin by a mainstream political outfit was "a recent phenomenon, seen in the last six to eight months".

He said in the seven decades since Independence only fringe elements extolled Godse here and there.

"It has been only after the last Lok Sabha polls that we have seen workers of a mainstream party chanting slogans in his praise, even a Member of Parliament doing the same on the floor of the House," he told a news channel here, referring to the incident involving Bhopal MP Sadhvi Pragya Thakur.

The expelled JD(U) vice president lamented the pity was that, "those aligned with the BJP, did not muster the courage to even condemn the outrageous act".

Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Sushil Kumar Modi had on Tuesday taken a swipe at Kishor, saying the man who had cut his teeth as an election strategist for Narendra Modi in 2014, was now accusing the BJP of following "Godse".

"As regards the controversy over picchlaggu remark, I have been expressing my reservations about people of the state accepting a leader who appears to be playing second fiddle (to the BJP). I might be wrong, but that is my view," the election strategist said.

"However, I was ready to accept the surrender before the BJP had it been for extracting benefits for the state from the party in power at the Centre. If the capitulation is just to ensure continuance in power in the state, that might be detested by the people", he added.

Former BJP president and Union Home minister Amit Shah has already announced that Kumar would be the face of the NDA in the Bihar assembly polls to be held later this year. During his press conference the previous day, Kishor had referred to denial of special status to Bihar by the Centre and Prime Minister Narendra Modi not entertaining Kumar's request for grant of central status to Patna University. # Three HM terrorists killed in Pulwama

MOHIT KANDHARI ■ JAMMU

Three dreaded terrorists of pro-Pakistan Hizbul Mujahideen (HM) terror outfit were eliminated by the joint team of security forces in Sherabad area of Tral in South Kashmir's Pulwama district early Wednesday morning.

Director General of Jammu & Kashmir Police, Dilbagh Singh, in Srinagar said, "in the ongoing anti-terrorist operations, three Hizbul Mujahideen terrorists were gunned down by the security forces in Sherabad area of Tral early Wednesday morning".

He said since January 2020, a total number of 23 terrorists have been eliminated by the security forces in 10 operations across the State.

DGP said, "the three terrorists killed during the operation were identified as Jahangir Rafiq Wani, Raja Umer Maqbool and Uzair Bhat. He said two of them were residents of Tral and the third one was native of Bijbehara. He said, Jahangir had taken over the command of Hizbul Mujahideen in the area after the elimination of another top commander Hamad Khan in January 2020."

"Jahangir along with Raja Maqbool were involved in at least eight terrorism related incidents and had spread region of terror in the area. They were involved in civilian killings, torching religious places, chemist shop, trucks and targeting security personnel", DGP added.

Referring to the security measures to prevent any terror strike in the run up to the visit of US President Donald Trump to India, DGP said, "We are taking all necessary measures...we are hopeful that this visit (of the US president) will pass off peacefully."

Singh said foreign dignitaries visited Jammu and Kashmir recently and their visits passed off without any incident. "Two groups (of ambassadors) visited Jammu & Kashmir and they left without any incident taking place here," he said.

The DGP said Pakistan was trying its best to keep the militancy going in Jammu & Kashmir by sending in militants from across the Line of Control (LoC) and the international border under the cover of ceasefire violations, especially after the abrogation of Article 370 of the Constitution, which gave a special status to the erstwhile state of Jammu & Kashmir, on August 5 last year.

"The number of ceasefire violations has increased after August 5, 2019. Pakistan is trying to keep the borders hot in order to push in as many terrorists as possible. While some attempts of infiltration have been successful, many have been foiled," he said.

Singh said a Pakistani drone recently flew over a BSF picket in the Ghagwal area of the Jammu region for around 10 minutes, but was pulled back after the troops of the border-guarding force opened fire.

In response to a question, the DGP said he would not be able to give the exact number of militants waiting to infiltrate into Jammu and Kashmir from across the LoC, but maintained that terror launchpads were active during the winter months as well.

"Normally, there would not be much activity at the launchpads during the winter months as snow would cover the passes. This winter, however, the movement at the launchpads did not reduce," he said.

UP BJP MLA among seven booked for raping woman

PTI ■ BHADOHI (UP)

An FIR was lodged against local BJP AMLA Ravindra Nath Tripathi and six others here on Wednesday for allegedly raping a woman repeatedly for a month in 2017, police said.

The 40-year-old woman, who is a widow, had lodged a complaint on February 10, they said.

The woman alleged that she was first raped by Tripathi's nephew Sandeep Tiwari, who has also been named in the FIR, in 2016. She said she did not lodge a complaint back then as Tiwari had promised to marry her, Superintendent of Police (SP) Ram Badan Singh said.

She has alleged that in the run-up to the 2017 Uttar Pradesh Assembly polls, she was kept at a hotel for a month by Tiwari. All the seven accused would visit the hotel and repeatedly rape her, the officer said.

She also claimed that she got pregnant and was forced to undergo abortion, he added.

A probe in this regard was handed over to Assistant Superintendent of Police Ravindra Verma. On the basis of his report, an FIR was registered against the seven men at the city police station, the SP said. Singh said the woman's statement will be recorded before a magistrate and further action will be taken in the matter as per law.

Man gets death penalty for rape-murder of minor girl

Mumbai: A court in Maharashtra's Parbhani district has awarded death sentence to a man for raping and brutally killing a five-year-old girl, observing the crime was 'more cruel' than the act of the most dreaded animal.

Special Judge (POCSO cases) S G Inamdar in his order on Tuesday pronounced the accused, Vishnu Gore (30), guilty under Indian Penal Code Section 302 for murder and provisions of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act.

According to the prosecution, the girl lived with her grandparents, who worked as farm labourers, at a village in Parbhani, located around 500 km from here.

On October 27, 2016, when the grandparents returned home from work, they did not find the girl at home.

After unsuccessful attempts to locate her, they filed a missing person's complaint at Sonpeth police station two days later.

During the course of investigation, the police found the girl's body in a well near a field in the village on October 31, 2016 following which they arrested the accused, who worked as a labourer and resided in the same district.

As per the prosecution, the accused kidnapped the victim from outside her house, sexually assaulted her and then strangled her to death with a nylon rope. He then wrapped the body in a gunny bag and threw it into the well.

While there was no direct evidence, the prosecution relied on circumstantial evidence to prove its case.

They examined 23 witnesses, including the victim's grandfather and the person who had last seen the girl with the accused.

Additional Public Prosecutor S D Wakodkar told the court that the case was proved beyond all reasonable doubt, and sought death sentence for the accused.

"This falls under the ambit of the 'rarest of rare' case. It is a case of aggravated penetrative sexual assault on the minor girl and killing her," Wakodkar told the court while praying for capital punishment.

Finding merit in the prosecution's arguments, the court awarded death sentence to the accused, observing that he acted in a manner "highly repugnant to the morals and committed diabolic, premeditated, brutal, pre-planned aggravated penetrative sexual assault and cold-blooded murder".

Dalit girl alleges sexual harassment by three youths

Muzaffarnagar: A 16-year-old Dalit girl has alleged she was sexually harassed by three youths when she was on her way to a brick kiln at a village in Shamli district, police said on Wednesday.

They said the incident happened at Bhabisa village under Kandhla police station on Tuesday when the girl was going to the brick kiln site with lunch for her kin.

Station House Officer SK Dube said the girl's brother has filed a complaint, alleging the three youths allegedly sexually harassed her on the way to the brick kiln.

Dube said the three accused, one of whom has been identified as a 23-year-old man, have gone absconding.

An investigation in the matter is underway. PTI

Karate instructor gets 4 years RI for sexually harassing girls

Mumbai: A special court here has sentenced a martial arts instructor to four years of rigorous imprisonment for sexually harassing his 13-year-old girl student during a camp in suburban Borivali in 2015.

Special Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act court judge, S U Baghele, convicted the man and awarded the sentence on Monday.

The accused knew the victim and her family for eight years before the incident, the prosecution told the court. He used to run martial art classes, which the girl would attend. In February, 2015, the man had organised a karate training camp at the Sanjay Gandhi National Park in Borivali, which was attended by the girl and five other students, the prosecution said.

After the camp got over, the accused asked other students to proceed to their homes. Thereafter, he asked the victim to accompany him on his motorcycle.

As she was pillion riding, he stopped his two-wheeler at a secluded place and sexually harassed the girl, the prosecution said.

MARIA BOOK REVELATIONS ROW Congress says BJP using book to mislead people

BJP demands reprobe into 26/11

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

As they exchanged charges and counter charges over the revelations in Mumbai's former Police Commissioner Rakesh Maria's book "Let Me Say It Now", the ruling Congress on Wednesday rubbished the BJP's efforts to use contents of book to mislead the people and the BJP demanded re-investigation into the 26/11 terror attacks.

On a day when State BJP leader and senior MLA Atul Bhatkalkar shot off a letter to Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray demanding re-investigation into the 26/11 attacks, Maharashtra Pradesh Congress Committee Secretary Sachin Sawant said: "Here is a party (BJP) that has shielded accused in the terror acts like Malegaon blasts and Samjota Express blasts and put pressure on the public prosecutors to water down the charges and seek the release of the accused from the cases. Its demand for re-investigation into the 26/11 sounds like Ulta chur kotwal ko daante."

"It was the Congress Government that caught 26/11 attack accused Abdul Ajmal Kasab alive and executed him after a proper judicial process due to which real face of Pakistan and its support for terrorism got exposed internationally, whereas the tacit support of the BJP helped the accused in Malegaon bomb-blast go scot-free," Sawant said.

Reacting to the BJP leaders' claim that the phrase 'Hindu terror' was coined post 26/11 attacks, Sawant tweeted: "The book of Rakesh Maria hypothetically discusses if Kasab was not found alive, media would have projected him a Hindu. It doesn't mention any conspiracy. #BJP can stoop to any level because of its dirty mindset"

"#PragyaThakur in failed attempt to pull wool over people's eyes is using Rakesh Maria's book with a false pretense. Book mentions nothing that's not included in Kasab's chargesheet. Crime of Kasab is same as to what she is charged for. Unfortunate that Anti-India BJP gave her ticket," Sawant said in another tweet.

In his letter to the Chief Minister, BJP's Bhatkalkar made a strong case for the re-investigation into the 26/11 attacks. "After the 26/11 attacks, the Congress leaders indulged in a false propaganda that it was not Kasab but the Hindu terrorists who killed like Hemant Karkare and Ashok Kamte who were among the senior police officers martyred in the 26/11 attacks".

"In view of the revelation made by Maria who investigated the 26/11 attacks that Pakistan's intelligence agency ISI attempted to depict Kasab as the Hindu terrorist, it is essential for the Maharashtra Government to order a comprehensive re-investigation into the Mumbai terror attacks. The re-investigation is essential as it involves national security," Bhatkalkar said.

Bhatkalkar claimed that former Union home secretary in the Rajiv Gandhi Government and former chief secretary of Maharashtra, Ram Pradhan, who headed a two-member committee appointed by the then Congress-led DF Government, had in a media interview said that there was "local connection" to the 26/11 attacks and that then Union Minister and senior Congress P Chidambar had

SC wants to hear Gadkari on electric vehicles policy

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday expressed a desire to interact with Union Transport Minister Nitin Gadkari in open court on the Centre's plan for introduction of electric vehicles (EVs), noting he has been making statements on this subject for reducing vehicular pollution.

The top court, however, did not seek Gadkari's presence after the law officer, appearing for the Centre, raised objections, saying there could be a "political issue" if the minister makes a court appearance.

The court, hearing a PIL seeking implementation of National E-Mobility Mission Plan (NEMMP), 2020 said it would like to interact with the minister as he has been talking about the use of alternative fuels in private and public transport vehicles modes. The plan recommended gradual conversion of public transport and government vehicles into EVs.

"Your minister talks about it. We would like to hear him. Somebody responsible should come," Chief Justice S A Bobde, who headed a three-judge bench, told Additional Solicitor General ANS Nadkarni, who was representing the Centre.

The bench, which also comprised justices B R Gavai and Surya Kant, then asked can the minister come and explain the proposal to introduce non-polluting vehicles that can run either on electricity or hydrogen.

4 Bangla nationals held

Erode (TN): Four Bangladeshi nationals have been arrested at nearby Perundurai for not having proper travel documents, police said.

They were later sent to Puzhal prison in Chennai, the police said.

The four were standing near a Magaliamman temple near Perundurai in Erode district of Tamil Nadu on Tuesday and were interrogated by the police on routine rounds.

On inquiry, one of them identified himself as Farooq Haji (38) employed in SIP-COT as a casual labourer, they said.

The remaining three were Hemul Islam (22), Siraj Haji (45) and Rafiul Islam (35). None of them had proper documents, they said.

So, the police arrested them and checked the premises where the four were residing on rent.

WTI: Whale shark population declined by 63% in 75 years

Gandhinagar: The population of whale sharks, one of the endangered migratory species, has declined by 63 per cent in last 75 years in the Indo-Pacific region, a nature conservation body has said while urging the Government to intensify steps and train enforcement agencies to conserve the species.

Wildlife Trust of India (WTI) said whale sharks, the largest living fish in the world, are vanishing from the face of the earth due to factors like climate change, rampant fishing and ocean pollution.

However, a senior official from the Union Environment Ministry said efforts were on to revive the number of whale sharks and if needed, the Government will spend around ₹2-3 crores annually for its conservation.

Whale sharks have been classified as endangered in the red list of International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN), and are also called 'Gentle Giants' with maximum aggregation off the Gujarat coast.

Sajan John, marine expert from WTI, said these giants are mainly targeted for their meat but ocean pollution and warming were also affecting them.

Top court directs Raj Govt to Stop illegal sand mining

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday took strong note of rampant illegal sand mining in Rajasthan and directed the State Government, collectors and SPs to take immediate steps to stop it and file an action taken report (ATR) within four weeks.

"We find that it is not disputed by anybody that illegal sand mining is rampant in the state of Rajasthan and this cannot be allowed to continue," the top court said, coming down hard on the authorities.

"Therefore, we direct the state of Rajasthan, District Collectors and Superintendent of Police (of each district) to take immediate steps to stop illegal sand mining as there was no doubt that...Illegal sand mining is likely to damage the environment irreparably," it said.

A bench comprising Chief Justice S A Bobde and Justices B R Gavai and Surya Kant also directed the apex court-appointed Central Empowered Committee (CEC) to look into the issue of illegal sand mining in Rajasthan and submit a detailed report including suggesting measures to deal with the issue within six weeks.

The apex court, which had stopped the sand mining in the state by its order in 2017, said that the CEC was empowered

SC directs CBI to file report on probe against ex-CBI chief

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the CBI to file fresh status report within four weeks on probe into the charges of 'abuse of official position' by former agency chief Ranjit Sinha and the progress made in over 500 coal scam cases.

A bench of Chief Justice S A Bobde and Deepak Gupta granted time to the agency after it sought time.

Sinha is accused of trying to impede the CBI's investigation into the cases, which emerged in 2012 after a report of the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) was leaked to the media. The apex court dismissed the plea filed by lawyer M L Sharma seeking a direction to the CBI to take coercive steps against Naveen Jindal, allegedly main beneficiary of coal scam cases.

Bending backwards

Over-the-top preps for Trump visit invite criticism. Do the poor need to be swept under the carpet?

At one end, there is the propagandist accusation that we do not own our Indianness enough as a people or aren't proud of it. On the other end, there is this relic of a colonial obsession, rather subservience, to please the White world. What else explains our bending backwards to roll out the red carpet for US President Donald Trump? To begin with, the Yamuna will be flowing as it should, clean and swirling, for the day that Trump is going to be here. The Uttar Pradesh Government will be releasing 500 cusecs of water to clear the river of contaminants and toxic waste, making what usually is a smelly canal look like a river. On other days, Delhiites only deserve the sewage drain avatar. The one-day wonder is supposed to make us feel proud of living in a waterfront city. Poor monkeys are being chased off the Taj Mahal stretch. And in Ahmedabad, where the POTUS will be landing first, masons are hastily finishing a half-a-kilometre wall along the stretch between the Ahmedabad airport and Gandhinagar to shut off our putrid slums from the eyeline of a speeding limousine. While authorities defend the social barrier as one prompted by security concerns, the real intention is not lost, ensuring pleasing visuals of Indian exotica and a swachh Bharat to one of the most important men on the planet. As if that would soften his stand on trade ties with India. Apparently eviction notices have been served to 45 families living in another slum near the biggest cricket stadium that Trump is gushing about. Following the mantra of Atithi Devo Bhava is one thing but disowning our truths is quite the other. Yes, India as an emergent economy with a massive population has its own warts, inequities and dualities to live with. But why deny our composite existence or be insensitive to the lesser privileged? For in the end by walling off our imperfections into ghettos, we end up reinforcing old stereotypes instead of changing them and perpetuate Western biases. By acknowledging the existence of the underlings, we give them dignity, prize their contribution to society and mainstream them as a reality that has to be dealt with, not hidden away. Of course, other than the very Indian affliction of undervaluing ourselves while putting our best foot forward, there is the other problem of sustaining the myth of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's development work in his own State as Chief Minister. And a gaping slum certainly wouldn't be a glorious ode to his helmsmanship in that capacity for 12 years. So the Modi Government is going all out to strengthen its leadership credentials even if possibilities of a trade deal with the US look remote, particularly over the thorny issue of dairy exports.

The Modi Government has gone to the extent of pulling out all stops to reinforce a crafted image of the country and promote its leadership credentials before Trump. Contracts worth ₹85 crore, from the construction of the stadium, which supposedly has the maximum seating capacity, to the beautification of cities, have gone out to various agencies. The depreciation has already begun with Trump tweeting dissatisfaction over the way India-US ties have shaped up over trade, a clear indication that war on that front will be hard-nosed no matter what the trimmings. Questions are also being raised about Gujarat being chosen simply because it is the Prime Minister's home State. Others are wondering if it wasn't better for the makeover funds to have been diverted to slum cluster improvements instead. Simply on qualifiers, there were other "better-looking" States. Gujarat was ranked 22nd among Indian States in the human development index for 2018. The Maternal Mortality Rate was 91 per 1,00,000 live births in 2016 as compared to 66 in Tamil Nadu and 88 in Telangana in the same year. According to crime data, the suicide rates there due to poverty increased by 162 per cent in 2018. Last year, the UK, too, rolled out the red carpet for Trump for a formal State visit, provoking protests from none other than the London mayor who said that such treatment shouldn't be extended to someone whose "behaviour flies in the face of the ideals America was founded upon — equality, liberty and religious freedom." He had even highlighted Trump's endorsement of far-right nationalism, picking on minority groups and the marginalised to manufacture an enemy. Perhaps, there's a commonality of perception here that doesn't make Trump look like so much of an oddity in the first place. One would have understood if the "good friend" vibes resulted in friendly deals. But other than "feel good" vibes, which have been around anyway because of improved diplomatic ties of the last couple of years, this gush seems a tad too obsequious.

Gross indignity

When teachers and spiritual leaders endorse myths around menstruation, policies don't mean anything

For a Government which is prioritising menstrual health and hygiene as part of policy, its loyalist followers are harming it by perpetuating medieval myths around a biological process. And it comes as a huge shock when educators of a modern society — women at that — subject others to the cruellest form of mental and emotional trauma over something as natural as menstruation as was done recently in a college in Gujarat. Sixty eight students at a hostel in Bhuj were made to strip before teachers to prove that they were not menstruating. What led to this outrage was the fact that the girls, who are undergraduate students at the Shree Sahajanand Girls Institute (SSGI), run by the Swaminarayan sect, were flouting a set of preposterous rules set by the college for them to follow during their periods. The discriminatory and utterly humiliating diktat bars students from entering the college temple, kitchen or touching other girls. In the classroom, they are expected to sit on the last bench and at meal time they have to sit away from others like pariahs and clean their own dishes. Not just this, the hostel keeps a register on when the students get their periods over a two-month cycle. Quite understandably not one girl had entered her name in it. Ironically, after the traumatised students raised a hue and cry over this nightmarish incident, the Principal squarely blamed the students for not following the rules and thus bringing the outrage upon themselves. What made matters worse was the statement by Krushnaswarup Dasji, a religious leader, that menstruating women, who cooked for their husbands, would be reborn as dogs and men consuming such food would be reborn as bullocks! This beats all evolutionary theory and entrenches the worst superstition.

Such words, coming from people who wield influence over the minds of others, particularly in rural India, are disturbing due to the sheer lack of sensitivity and violation of human rights, apart from the fact that they perpetuate illogical beliefs. Myths and taboos surrounding menstruation have to be broken down and a scientific temper has to be developed before Government schemes, incentives, health workers and social organisations succeed in their efforts to improve the lot of women. Over 60,000 cases of cervical cancer deaths are reported every year, mostly due to poor menstrual hygiene. A whopping 23 million girls drop out of school annually. This in a country that has a temple dedicated to fertility.

New dawn for the military

With the apex court ruling in favour of equality for women, the armed forces will have more candidates to choose from. In defensive engagements, they could well be superior to men

PRAFULL GORADIA

Women soldiers would be a serious problem if and when they happen to be taken prisoner. But as commanding officers, they would seldom be in the first line of infantry fighting. Nor are cavalry officers acutely vulnerable. This question of prisoner of war possibly confused the entire issue of command qualities. The question of strength and stamina has fortunately been resolved as infantry weapons have become light and fire-efficient. There is no comparison between the .303 and today's assault rifles. Even this writer found the former heavy to lift and carry for long.

For the rest, the issue of women as jawans or officers was highly relevant, dominated by the bias of tradition and mindset. Until firearms came into existence, prospects for women were indeed not that bright as the "sword" or the "lance" was heavy and needed strong arms. Women were also weaker due to the quality of diet and the number of childbirths. Mumtaz Mahal, queen of Shah Jahan, who was possibly the wealthiest man in the world of his time, bore 14 children, of whom only seven survived. Imagine the waste of female stamina and strength; how could they be soldiers? She, who cannot be a soldier, cannot be an officer and in turn a commander. To add to this was the patriarchy that refused to see women as anything else, except as householders and mothers.

The invention of the musket in the 16th century sprouted the first ray of hope for the woman as a soldier. The gender of an individual pressing the trigger makes no difference to the target. Early models, however, were very heavy and were often operated by two soldiers resting the weapon on a portable table. This innovation by itself limited chances for women. As the weapon became better and lighter, the lesser was the muscle required. The better and stronger the vehicle, the lesser was the stamina needed. The lesser the child-bearing, the stronger the woman remained. We have arrived so far through four to five centuries.

There has been a new dawn for the military. The armed forces have many more potential candidates to choose from now. Women can make equally good fighting stock whether on land, air or sea. In fact, in defensive engagements, they could well be superior to men. For instance, a tigress or any female animal protects her young, quite ferociously. Arguably, the male may not be so determined while defending even his own house. When a woman defends her homeland, this writer believes, she would be equally committed to saving her progeny. A brave man would defend his country with equal zeal but when he finds his situation hopeless, he is likely to retreat or even surrender. A woman is less likely to give up on protecting her own people, like her own children. An order like "victory or death" is less difficult for a woman to obey than for a man. Apparently, the braver the commander, the more courageous should be the battalion.

The recent doubt, which the Supreme Court had to clear about whether women officers would make equally effective commanders, is unusual. The male ego fattened since the beginning of time, which, it is widely believed, could find it difficult to obey a woman in public. In private, it is different and even a stronger, wiser person has been listened to readily. Shorn of such mindsets, the issue is one of leadership. In the 1960s, who could have believed that former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi would have made a leader superior to say, Morarji Desai? This question is one of leadership and neither of statesmanship, nor prime ministership.

Indira Gandhi retained the leadership of her party, the Congress, until her death. True, she had the advantage of being former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's daughter, which gave her an enviable start. After that, she had to rely on her own wit and resources in order to survive and succeed.

The problem hitherto is that women do not get the exposure and opportunity to be able to perform on the right platform and at the right level; at least in most fields. Kanshi Ram, the founder of the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), gave a start to Mayawati and she came up to be the Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh. Trinamool Congress (TMC) chief Mamata Banerjee has risen exclusively on her own initiative; she has demonstrated eloquently the qualities needed to make nine crore people of West Bengal to follow.

For some time, maybe some years, women commanders would have to develop superior qualities such as military knowledge, bold initiatives and quick decision-making. Leaders must be superior to their followers. Once that is demonstrated, there should be no difficulty. There is a phenomenon generally not remembered and at times not known. This writer can communicate it through his experience during physical training in college. The Elphinstone College in Mumbai had no ground and, hence, its physical training (PT) classes were occasionally held at the neighbouring Oval maidan. The entire class of 110 students would together move to this ground. There were less than 25 boys, the rest were girls. The latter were given light exercises, which could be done while wearing sarees (this is what most girls wore 65 years ago). However, boys had to sprint, do sit-ups, push-ups et al. This writer was neither strong nor practised and by himself, could do no more than 15 to 17 sit-ups and push-ups. At the Oval, however, in the presence of girls, he could go up to 50 of them. The only explanation for this was gender pride. How could he let his pride down? If this gender pride could percolate to the armed forces, we can expect extraordinary performance from our sailors, soldiers and airmen in an inclusive atmosphere.

When we move from the commander to the level of a senior general, the situation would change. The progress from tactics to strategy is a big leap. The former is adequate for a skirmish or a limited battle. Anything bigger or more on-going would call for greater military imagination to be able to visualise what is neither visible nor obvious. And women make for good strategists. A well thought-out strategy must ensure that the war plan is not upset even if the future brings forth enemy action that is surprisingly different. World War II German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel is probably the most famous General. But when compared with Field Marshal Erich von Manstein, Rommel is considered an exceptional tactician. Whereas Manstein, by his defence and in-depth strategy, delayed the Russian Army from reaching Germany by a whole year. The Manstein brilliance lay in retreating faster than the Russians could move, then wait on the sidelines until the Reds had arrived, only to be surrounded and taken prisoners in thousands.

France has six borders beginning with the North Sea in the west, then Belgium, then the German border, which was defended by a chain of fortresses called the Maginot line. The Ardennes forest was considered impassable as it would have led to Germany, then Switzerland and finally Italy. Berlin was in search of a point of utter surprise attack. Manstein suggested the presumably impassable Ardennes forest. France had left it undefended; his idea was accepted. It took only 40 days to compel France to surrender. That was gem of a strategy. An integration of genders would mean that many evolved minds are at play.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More power to women

Sir — This refers to the editorial, "Lead from the front" (February 18). India has a history of women commanders, who fought wars against formidable adversaries. The name of Rani Lakshmbai tops this list. While we often cite the protective-destructive capabilities of Shakti, Durga and Kali, it is ironical that it took a Supreme Court order for female officers in the Army to get the same status as their male counterparts. The top court's order, upholding the right of women to equal opportunity in the Indian armed forces, is landmark. It has paved the way for all serving Short Service Commission (SSC) women officers to be eligible for permanent commission at par with their male colleagues. They will now get the same kind of promotion, rank, benefits and pension as that of their male counterparts but in non-combat support services only.

Women are still excluded from combat roles. This should change. Women should not just have the right to permanent

Act now to save our birds

A recent report, titled State of India's Birds 2020, has revealed that the count of the house sparrow, the Indian peafowl and certain other avian species in India has increased. Though the fact remains that sparrows have disappeared from most big cities, their numbers have remained stable over a period of 25 years. This factoid is some relief. What is concerning, however, is the fact that several other kinds of birds such as the red-necked falcon, the Indian cuckoo and the blue rock thrush have decreased in number and are struggling to survive. Several reasons such as habitat loss, the use of pesticides, hunting and trapping have pushed them to the edge. Despite earlier calls to end the use of pesticides, its usage continues to plague the environment. Habitat loss, too, continues unabated and a rapidly-growing population isn't going to ease pressures any time soon. Rising temperatures, changing vegetation and extreme weather conditions have played their own role in deteriorating conditions of the birds.

Now that we have comprehensive data, which was compiled on the basis of observations made by over 15,500 bird watchers, we must make the best use of it. It is up for the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change to secure a future for the birds by taking urgent steps to save threatened species. Resolute steps taken to protect forests and tree cover can offer multiple benefits.

China leads the way

Sir — Whereas the US dictates monetary transactions globally, China has usurped the manufacturing sphere so much that its transient, if extended, disruption will make every nation feel the chill. Over the past three decades,

China leads the way

China has quietly become the axis of the global economy. Even as it rules heavy industries such as coal, steel, cement and rare-earths among others, it holds equal strength on items as varied as electronic components, solar cells, clothing and air conditioners, to name a few. High volumes of production have brought down costs of items to such a level that advanced nations have been forced to wind down their own capacities. We may find fault with China's autocratic nature but the fact is, its politics was made to subscribe to the economy. Yet, when it came to combating Coronavirus, China did not give a second thought to the perils of an economic plunge. It went on to take unprecedented and peremptory steps to contain the virus. It is this singular goal clarity that has made it what it is today.

Right to liberty reaffirmed

The apex court in a recent decision said that anticipatory bail once granted cannot have an expiry date until specified by the court

MADHAVI KHANDLWAL

SHAKEIB NARU

The Supreme Court in its recent decision in the Sushila Aggarwal and Others vs. State (NCT of Delhi) case declared that anticipatory bail once granted to an accused under Section 438 of the Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC) cannot have an expiry date until explicitly specified by the court. This verdict is indeed a cornerstone in reaffirming the right to life and liberty of citizens as guaranteed by our Constitution. Authored by Justice MR Shah and Justice SR Bhat, this verdict has resolved the controversies created mainly by two judgments viz., Salauddin Abdulsamad Shaikh and Siddharam Satlingappa Mhetre, with both of them taking completely opposite views. Salauddin narrowed the scope and jurisdiction of the courts under Section 438 by mandating imposition of strict conditions while granting anticipatory bail. However, Mhetre ruled that grant of bail for a limited period or with any such conditions is contrary to the legislative intention and settled tenets of criminal law. These seemingly incongruent strands of reasoning, stemming from the two distinct lines of precedents and spawning divergent approaches to the scope of jurisdiction under Section 438, impelled a reference to the larger Bench. Before going into the nuances of this verdict, we must understand the meaning and definition of anticipatory bail and its governing parameters. The CrPC, 1973 does not define anticipatory bail and rather provides only the mechanism for availing it through Section 438. However, the apex court defined anticipatory bail as “bail in anticipation of arrest” in the case of Balchand Jain for the very first time. Further, it was also laid down that the power to grant anticipatory bail rests only with the Sessions Court and the High Court. Here, it is interesting to note that the old code of criminal procedure, 1898 did not contain any provision for anticipatory bail and it was adopted only after the recommendations from the 41st Report of the Law Commission of India. Now coming back to the recent judgment in Sushila, the Constitution Bench decided upon a bunch of controversies, cleared some major confusions and passed some landmark orders, which are as follows:

Reiterated the law laid down by the Constitution Bench in Gurbaksh Singh Sibbia and others vs State of Punjab (Sibbia case): There is nothing in the CrPC to indicate that the grant of pre-arrest/anticipatory bail should be time-bound. However, the court concerned has the discretion to impose conditions for the grant of anticipatory bail, including a limited duration of protection, on a case-to-case basis, depending on the stage at which the application for anticipatory bail is moved. As a rule, there should be no time-limit imposed in granting pre-arrest protection. The duration of an anticipatory bail order does not normally end when the accused is summoned by the court. However, it is up to the court to impose additional restrictions if there are peculiar circumstances warranting the same.

The life of anticipatory bail does not end when the accused is summoned by court: The court found that ordinarily, the protection given through anticipatory bail would not automatically come to an end if the person is summoned as an accused in the case by a court. However, if there are special or peculiar circumstances necessitating the same, the court has the power to limit the tenure of anticipatory bail.

Time-limits may be imposed by courts but not as a rule: All the same, the court further noted as per the Sibbia case, the competent court still retains the discretion to impose time-limits or other conditions, on a case-to-case basis, if required. However, it added that such limits should not be ordinarily imposed. The Supreme Court, therefore, has answered the first issue in the following terms, “The protection granted to a person under Section 438 of the CrPC should not invariably be limited to a fixed period; it should inure in favour of the accused without any restriction on time. Normal conditions under Section 437(3) read with Section 438(2) should be imposed; if there are specific facts or features in regard to any offence, it is open for the court to impose any condition...”

Guidelines on grant of anticipatory bail: Before parting with the matter, the Bench also issued some more guidelines on the grant of anticipatory bail. It ruled that the anticipatory bail applications should be based on concrete facts, not vague or general allegations, relating to a specific offence. It is advisable that the court, depending on the seriousness of the threat of arrest, issue notice to the public prosecutor to obtain facts. Nothing in the CrPC compels or obliges a court to impose conditions limiting the grant of anticipatory bail. The need to impose restrictions during grant of anticipatory bail would have to be judged on a case-to-case basis. Such special or other restrictive conditions may be imposed if the case or cases warrant but should not be imposed in a routine manner, in all cases. The gravity of the offence and the applicant's role should guide the court in deciding whether or not to grant anticipatory bail in its discretion. Anticipatory bail granted can (depending on the conduct of the accused) continue after filing of the chargesheet till end of trial.

Sustainability is your business

Sustained activity, both in words and actions, backed by strong leadership is the need of the hour to achieve the goal of net-zero emissions by 2050

HIMA BINDU KOTA

Climate change is a grim reality faced not just by mankind but everyone who inhabits the Earth. The rising global temperatures are affecting seasons, so winters have become shorter and spring is early to arrive. These shifting seasons impact many life cycle events which in turn have a major impact on agriculture and global food production. What is challenging is that the changes are happening too fast and many species may not be able to adapt to these unprecedented fluctuations. The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) has reported a global warming of 1.5 °C, which is enough to put 20-30 per cent of species at the risk of extinction. Sadly, many of us are not even aware of it, let alone work towards mitigating them. And this goes for individuals, societies and businesses. Of the three, businesses all around the world are the biggest contributors to global warming since they are responsible for at least 70 per cent of all carbon emissions. So, on humanitarian grounds, there should be an extreme urgency by businesses to slow down and reverse climate change. Sustained activity, both in words and actions, backed by strong leadership is the need of the hour to achieve the goal of net-zero emissions by 2050. This can only be done by being a part of the solution rather than a part of the problem. And this is how some companies are doing it:

Investments in renewable energy sources: Several big firms are investing in renewable energy sources to reduce their greenhouse gas targets. McDonald's is leading the way with the large-scale purchase of virtual power that will support wind and solar energy. This renewable energy generation can be equated to taking 140,000 cars off the road for one year. In the furniture industry, IKEA has invested $2 billion into renewable energy projects and is planning to build 416 wind turbines. It has already installed around 750,000 solar panels on its stores. One of the most powerful corporations in the world and Google's parent company, Alphabet Inc, has also been named as one of the most eco-friendly firms. All offices and company buildings, including Google headquarters in Silicon Valley, are powered by 100 per cent renewable energy, which removes an estimated five million tonnes of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere each year. By purchasing a 1.6-gigawatt renewable energy package, Google has made its clean energy portfolio large enough to power a country of the size of Uruguay. Similarly, Microsoft boosted its renewable energy portfolio to more than 1,900 MW, which is enough to power 1.5 million homes. Swiss fragrance and flavour manufacturer Firmenich is one of the most sustainable companies in the world, operating on 78 per cent renewable energy and working with other CEOs and politicians to help limit global warming to above pre-industrial levels. Apart from Firmenich, L'Oréal was the only other firm to receive an 'A' (the highest score) across all three areas of the CDP's (formerly Carbon Disclosure Project) rankings — climate change, deforestation and water security. It is committed to zero deforestation by this year-end and has revamped more than one-fifth of its entire product range to reduce dependence on petrochemicals and encourages the use of plant-based, renewable resources. Johnson & Johnson has taken several steps to ensure that all packaging is recyclable, reusable or compostable by 2025. Its operations are currently powered by 31 per cent renewable energy and it plans to increase this to 100 per cent by 2050.

“ COMPANIES IN 35 COUNTRIES, INCLUDING THE US, HAVE EXPERIENCED GROWTH IN THE LAST 15 YEARS WHILE REDUCING THEIR EMISSIONS. ACCORDING TO THE NEW CLIMATE ECONOMY REPORT, THE DECISION TO REDUCE EMISSIONS WILL BE GOOD FOR THE JOB MARKET AS IT WILL CREATE 65 MILLION NEW LOW CARBON EMISSION JOBS WHILE GENERATING ENTERPRISE VALUE WORTH $26 TRILLION TILL 2030 ”

Collaborating for saving the environment: Earth cannot be saved without proper collaboration among different actors in society. One of the major efforts towards this is found in the collaboration between Walmart, several environmental groups and over 1,000 suppliers, known as project Gigaton, to overhaul the company's supply chain worldwide by reducing greenhouse gas pollution by about a billion tonnes by 2030. Nearly 94 million metric tonnes of emissions have already been reduced since its launch. Another global corporate leader and a champion for environmental sustainability is Unilever that is collaborating with farmers worldwide to reduce harm to the environment. It is aiming to procure its agricultural materials from sustainable sources by the end of this year and eliminating single-use plastic packaging in the UK by 2025. It also plans to become carbon positive by 2030 by reducing or totally eliminating the use of fossil fuels and generating more renewable energy than it consumes. Several food companies have also collaborated with sustainable management consultants to assess the deforestation risk developed due to their operations and take steps to create a sustainable food system. Nestle, the largest food company on Earth, uses satellite technology to ensure that no deforestation is taking place in its supply chain. It has also committed to using 100 per cent responsibly-sourced palm oil by 2020. It has been severely criticised in the past for using palm oil that led to deforestation. Danone, a company producing yogurts, water and plant-based food and drinks, is working in collaboration with farmers to reduce soil degradation and water usage, in the process reducing the company's carbon footprint by 25 per cent.

Say “no” to plastics: In India, the Philippines and Indonesia, Unilever has found itself under pressure over plastic packaging. Earlier this year, the company was named by the “Break Free From Plastic” campaign as one of the firms most responsible for plastic pollution in these countries. On its part, to help the environment, IKEA plans to ban single-use plastic products from its shops and restaurants by 2020. The company wants to purchase 100 per cent renewable energy by 2020 and use only renewable and recycled materials in its products by the same year. It plans to make its deliveries emission-free by 2025.

Innovation to save the environment: As it is rightly said, “Necessity is the mother of all invention.” Stopping and reversing climate change is the necessity to save our planet now. However, organisations lack awareness on specific technologies that can help them reduce emissions and boost sustainability. Several entrepreneurs globally are trying to bridge this gap and start-ups are being funded to help companies solve sustainability challenges and make progress toward the 2025 climate goals. Danish shipping company Maersk is using biofuels to help it achieve a carbon-neutral status by 2050. It piloted tested biofuel made from cooking oil to run its cargo ship from Rotterdam to Shanghai and in the process reduced an estimated 1.5 million kg of carbon emissions. Tesla, the electric-car maker, has a holistic environment protection policy where they make sure that the suppliers work without harming the environment, responsibly manage all waste and efficiently use water and energy resources. Microsoft, on the other hand, is using new age technology like artificial intelligence for several sustainability initiatives, forecasting wildfires and risks related to them, minimising the environmental costs of farming, planting trees and protecting endangered species. The Nike Air range of trainers uses at least 50 per cent recycled materials and diverts more than 95 per cent of waste from landfills. Plus the company is soon to release a range of trainers coloured with plant-based dyes, which reduces pollution of waterways.

Accepting climate change at the policy level: Voluntary efforts are good but not enough to tackle the real threat of climate change. Businesses should be open to developing climate policies and governments should support companies in implementing the same. This trend had started now with CEOs of several companies like Dow Chemical, BASF and Lafarge Holcim stressing on bringing about new regulations that check and penalise higher carbon emissions and incentivise lower carbon footprints.

This brings us to the question whether trying to protect the planet is also economically viable? Data suggests so. Companies in 35 countries, including the US, have experienced growth in the last 15 years while reducing their emissions.

According to the New Climate Economy report, the decision to reduce emissions will be good for the job market as it will create 65 million new low carbon emission jobs while generating enterprise value worth $26 trillion till 2030. By reducing emissions, companies will witness two-pronged benefits — a higher economic value and a boost to reputation value, from the point of view of the entire stakeholder group, including employees, investors, suppliers and customers. It is a win-win for all.

The huge human cost of stress in mining sector

A survey observed a strong connection between unemployment due to mining closure and mental distress across States. Workers exposed to the negative labour demand shock are facing very low chances of re-entering the job market

CHARUDUTTA PANIGRAHI

Recently, we celebrated 71 years of India's existence as a Republic and thus it would be pertinent to remember Article 21 of the Constitution, which deals with fundamental rights without which a republic would mean nothing. The fundamental right to life as enshrined in Article 21 includes the right to work. It is time for civil society to start talking collectively about livelihood which is recognised as a human right in many communities.

We need to get a more inclusive understanding of what we mean by livelihoods: Life engagement with land, water, forest, right to food, income, food security and the like. So, the first step in building up a narrative is building up a common understanding of what we mean by right to livelihoods.

As we know, livelihood encompasses issues of productive resources and access to resources and involves concerns in labour and goods markets. Work conditions in all sectors are central to the discourse and in particular recognition of work, generating employment, job security and wages.

The mining sector in India has witnessed largescale loss of livelihoods in recent times. On one hand India is aiming for a $5 trillion economy and on the other we are now finding it difficult to compete with emerging economies like Vietnam and Egypt. It is imperative to focus significantly on the mining sector with concerted efforts to regain its three per cent share and more in the GDP by 2024-25. The sector's GDP share in 2018-19 was 2.6 per cent, down from three per cent in 2011-12. Ever since the Supreme Court cancelled 88 mining leases in Goa on February 7, 2018, life has come to a grinding halt for more than 3,00,000 mining dependent. The State, once the richest economy in India, is now sluggish and the complete closure of mining activities has devastated families and brought about unimaginable misery in the lives of people. In neighbouring Karnataka, too, the ban on ore exports, e-auctions and quota systems in ore production have led to a floundering economy, severely denting the State's development and growth.

The recently-published sourcebook of FIDR, Mining: A Prudent Perspective, is based on a survey of 2,415 people from five major States whose economies are mainly mining-driven, namely Goa, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha and Karnataka. It would not be an exaggeration to say that this is the first-ever such report about the people's perception and attitudes toward the mining industry. The study has clearly brought out the impact of the uncertainties due to the ban on mining in these States. The social set-up and the families of miners are in the doldrums due to joblessness and deprivation of livelihoods.

In Goa, the closure of mining has resulted in a State-wide economic crisis of sorts. Karnataka has witnessed similar economic plight in the wake of the curbs. The FIDR survey indicates that in the five States, mining contributes to over 12 per cent (on an average) of the State's GDP. In Goa, stoppage of iron ore mining has impacted revenues worth ₹34 billion and the livelihood of several dependent segments as it has left stakeholders without an alternate source of income. This repeated stoppage of mining in Goa, Odisha and Karnataka has also led to loss of investor confidence which would have a long-term impact on their economies.

Almost all the respondents (over 90 per cent) agree that the mining sector has brought significant economic benefits for their communities and generated fiscal revenue, export earnings, relieved constraints to investment, spurred economic growth and created jobs. It has also contributed to infrastructure building. However, they also opine that realising and enhancing these benefits require action, primarily from the Government, but also from mining companies, local communities, employers and businesses in the country. Fiscal revenues from the extractive industry — taxes, royalties and other payments — are the major reasons why governments seek to promote its growth in their States. However, revenues from mining and benefits from them do not flow in automatically. To translate fiscal revenues from the extractive industry into sustainable development benefits, governments need to design and institute fiscal regimes that ensure a fair share of benefits to the States/country, which are also attractive for investors.

About half of the respondents believe strongly that mining drives economic growth through its linkages with the rest of the economy, such as by buying goods and services from suppliers (backward linkages) and by supplying minerals (forward linkages). Barring about 13 per cent, a majority (about eight of 10 stakeholders) describe mining as beneficial as long as the industry works to mitigate its impacts or it is properly regulated.

The findings from the survey suggest that the more the participants felt that mining created economic, employment and community benefits, the greater was their acceptance of it. This sounds obvious but should be viewed in relation to the unshakable faith these communities repose in nature, the ecology and the environment. Like in Odisha, all the mines are located in the remote, low-income, tribal-inhabited geographies. The forest dwellers have deep faith in nature, the flora and fauna which they revere. Hence social licence to operate in these areas would directly relate to how community perceptions of mining associated impacts and benefits relate to its endorsement.

It is clear, that the closure of mines has spiked vulnerability of the community. The survey observed a strong connection between unemployment due to mining closure and mental distress across States. Workers exposed to the negative labour demand shock are facing very low chances of re-entering employment. Either they lack the required skill set appropriate for other industries and line of work or there are no available employment opportunities. This leading to long unemployment spells resulting in spiralling of large-scale mental health problems. One in every five persons is suffering from depression and other forms of mental issues.

The survey also discovered that the psychological cost of parental unemployment has been higher on children, leading to general despondency, while teenagers are starting to feel pressured to take on more responsibility in the family. Many have become more aware of the social stigma associated with having jobless parents. It is imperative that the judiciary, legislature and the executive take cognisance of the grim livelihoods scenario threatening all of us. Necessary remedial measures need to be taken at the earliest to help these States, particularly Goa, tide over a catastrophe of inconceivable ramifications — social, economic and intergenerational.

DoT still working on final calculation of AGR dues

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Department of Telecom is still working on final adjusted gross revenue dues that service providers have to pay as it has detected variation in accounting practices adopted by different circle offices, according to official sources.

The licence finance wing of the telecom department (DoT) on February 3 issued a letter with guidelines to all controller General of Communication Accounts to reconcile AGR dues and asked them to give 15 days time to operators for the submission of appeals and documents related to deductions they make in the final payment, sources said.

The letter was a follow up to a previous note sent by the licence finance wing on December 4 and a follow-up on December 13 to the circles for re-verification of debit voucher reports (DVR).

"The department has been facing a challenge in carrying out the revised assessments due to various issues related to DVRs. Telecom operators, including Airtel and Vodafone Idea, have challenged many DVRs.

"Also, circle offices have not adopted uniform practice in accounting. The DoT has asked them to re-verify DVRs at the earliest in the light of Supreme Court judgement," an official source said.

Telecom operators have been submitting two separate audited details of deduction towards interconnection usage charges and roaming fee to the DoT. In one set, deductions have been claimed by telecom operators on a paid basis while on an accrual basis on the other.

"DoT noticed that many Controllers of Communication Accounts have been cherry picking the figures claimed by telecom operators in their final DVRs. In some cases, DoT guidelines regarding deduction verification issued in 2014, 2015 and 2016 have not been followed. There have been cases where one CCA has allowed one kind of deduction and another has disallowed," the source said.

According to estimates prepared by the DoT, Airtel owes nearly ₹35,586 crore, including licence fee and spectrum usage charges, to the government.

Vodafone Idea is staring at dues worth ₹53,000 crore, which includes up to ₹24,729 crore of spectrum dues and another ₹28,309 crore in licence fee. Tata Teleservices owes around ₹13,800 crore, BSNL ₹4,989 crore and MTNL ₹3,122 crore.

While the deadline to make AGR payment ended on January 23, 2020 as per Supreme Court order, the DoT has been following up with circle offices to verify DVRs of 10 years starting from 2006-2007 which involve around millions of entries in a quarter and then start verification for 2017-18 and 2018-19.

The DoT on December 13, 2019, gave 15 days time to submit the re-verified accounts but the same could not be done in absence of uniform guidelines.

"The headquarters will also need time to check DVRs once they are submitted by the circle office. Thereafter notice will be sent to telecom operators for submitting appeals and documents related to claims that are not admissible," the source said.

Voda Idea shares surge over 38%

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Vodafone Idea's shares on Wednesday closed over 38 per cent amid reports that the government is unlikely to invoke the company's bank guarantees as of now.

On the BSE, the stock gained as much as 48.18 per cent to ₹4.49 during the day. It closed 38.28 per cent higher at ₹4.19.

On the National Stock Exchange (NSE), the scrip rose 48.33 per cent to touch a high of ₹4.45. Later, after shedding some gains, it settled 40 per cent up at ₹4.20.

The stock has ended the day in green after declining for seven consecutive sessions.

The NSE saw an exchange of more than 100 crore shares of Vodafone Idea, and over 14 crore units were traded on the BSE. In this regard, the BSE sought a clarification from the telecom service provider about the sudden movement in the stock price.

The company said all the information furnished by it is in public domain and there is no price-sensitive information pending which is to be disclosed to the stock exchanges.

"There is no such announcement or price-sensitive information, which is pending to be intimated by the company to the stock exchanges.

"All the information furnished by the company is in public domain and the company will comply with the Sebi Regulations, 2015, and duly keep the stock exchanges informed of all the price-sensitive information," the company said in its clarification to the BSE. According to the latest media reports, the government is unlikely to invoke bank guarantees of Vodafone Idea as of now.

Encashing of the bank guarantees may sound the death knell for companies such as Vodafone Idea which has been struggling to garner the dues.

A financial bank guarantee is equal to two quarters of licence fee and other dues. This amount could be in the range of ₹5,000 crore each for Airtel and Vodafone Idea.

Mittal, Birla meet Finance Minister as AGR crisis looms over telecom sector

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

With the Supreme Court-mandated liability pushing telecom companies to the brink, industry honchos Sunil Bharti Mittal and Kumar Mangalam Birla on Wednesday met Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman as their firms scrambled to meet payment deadlines.

While the two refused to comment on discussions they had with Sitharaman, Mittal said the telecom sector has been under stress for the last three-and-a-half years and the government should focus on its sustainability.

Mittal, who heads mobile service major Bharti Airtel, first met Telecom Secretary Anshu Prakash before going to the meeting with the finance minister. Birla, who is the chairman of Vodafone Idea Ltd, had met the telecom secretary on Tuesday.

It was not immediately clear if the two telecom tycoons met Sitharaman together or separately. Emerging out of the North Block after meeting Sitharaman, Mittal told reporters that the issue of pending dues arising out of the Supreme Court ruling on Adjusted Gross Revenue (AGR) was not discussed.

The telecom industry, he said, is vital to India's digital agenda.

"This industry is very vital to the nation's digital agenda, and many other industries that ride on it...Employment, government taxes...The only thing government needs to focus on is how to ensure sustainability of the sector," Mittal said.

Mittal -- whose company Bharti Airtel is confronted with over Rs 35,000 crore of statutory dues -- did not elaborate on the relief mechanism that the telco is pitching for. The industry as such has been battling for reduction in levies like licence fee and spectrum charges.

No end in sight for auto slump: Fitch

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The slowing economy and weakening consumer sentiment will continue to weigh on auto sales and the marginal improvement seen in December quarter, driven by festive discounts, is unlikely to sustain, a report said on Wednesday.

The GDP growth slowed down to 6.1 per cent in 2018-19 and is projected to hit a 10-year low of about 5 per cent in 2019-20, primarily due to falling consumer demand and poor financing options for high-value items like automobiles.

"Slowing growth and weak consumer sentiment will continue to weigh on auto sales and the marginal improvement seen in the December quarter driven by festive discounts is unlikely to sustain," Fitch said in a report, without stating when the volumes will begin to pick up or how long the slump will persist.

Vehicle sales have been hampered by weak consumer sentiment and still-weak availability of financing following tighter liquidity at non-banking lenders since the middle of 2018. The sector also faces additional challenges from the adoption of stricter emission standards from April 1, the report said.

Automakers could also face production disruptions if the novel coronavirus outbreak in China leads to a prolonged halt in supply of required auto components, as the industry sources as much as 27 per cent of its demand from China worth around $5 billion, according to many analysts.

Many auto original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) like Mahindra have warned that if the Chinese epidemic lasts beyond February and if the supplies don't normalise by early March, the transition to BS-VI will be a challenge and they may have to move the Supreme Court to get some concession to sell BS-IV models beyond April 1 deadline.

India should capture apparel market ceded by China: Textile Secy

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The textiles ministry on Wednesday said the domestic industry should take advantage of the huge $20-billion space vacated in the global apparel market by China, which is going through a tough time following outbreak of the deadly coronavirus.

Addressing a symposium on emerging opportunities for Indian textiles, Textiles Secretary Ravi Capoor said domestic textile exports have plateaued during the past 5-7 years, which is a "very worrying proposition for the government."

"India should step in at this stage to take the advantage although not a good way to project ourselves but every crisis has its own silver lining and I think while we are with China with all our emotions and financial, political and diplomatic help but still there appears to be a big economic opportunity which is coming up our way," he said.

In this background, Capoor said it would be the right time to bring the industry together and have a small dialogue to "see how the industry associations are prepared for this opportunity."

As the exports have plateaued, he said the government understood that one of the major issues is that "take up the space that has been vacated by China other than this present crisis (coronavirus)".

The secretary said $20 billion worth of apparel space, mostly in the man-made fibre, has been vacated by China in the past three years and taken away by Vietnam

The secretary said $20 billion worth of apparel space, mostly in the man-made fibre, has been vacated by China in the past three years and taken away by Vietnam.

"Now is a situation where we are in a position and the (textile) minister has just spoken to Finance Minister (Nirmala Sitharaman) also this morning. We are working towards seeing that the GST inversion on man-made fibre is also taken care of."

"With all the efforts, if we are able to succeed in the removal of the inversion, then man-made fibre itself becomes a huge opportunity wherever China cedes space. India should step in a very big way," Capoor said.

Textile minister Smriti Irani was also present at the symposium.

Coronavirus to hit global growth; to have limited impact on India: RBI Gov

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The coronavirus outbreak will have a limited impact on India but the global GDP and trade will definitely get affected due to the large size of the Chinese economy, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das has said.

Only a couple of sectors in India are likely to see some disruptions but alternatives are being explored to overcome those issues, he said.

The deadly virus has brought a large part of the world's second-largest economy China to a standstill and its impact has been felt across industries. India's pharmaceutical and electronic manufacturing sectors are dependent on China for inputs and they may be impacted, Das told PTI in an interview here.

"It is definitely an issue which needs to be closely monitored by every policymaker whether in India or any other country. Every policymaker, every monetary authority needs to keep a very close watch. So coronavirus issue needs to be closely watched," he said.

First 5G handset in India likely to be priced at ₹50K

PTI ■ KOLKATA

The first 5G-enabled handset in India to be launched by Chinese smartphone maker, realme, is likely to cost around ₹50,000, a company official said on Wednesday.

The 'realme' that came into existence in 2018 is all set to become the first brand to unveil 5G ready smartphone in India on February 24, even though the "network is not available in the country", he claimed.

"realme 5G handset will be powered with 865 snapdragon chipset and available at around ₹50,000," an official, who did not wish to be identified, told PTI. A leading website, which compares mobile phones, estimates that the price of 5G smartphone handset with a lower chipset version could be available at ₹25,790 per unit.

The company wants to offer future-ready products and people, who travel abroad, can use the handset as the technology is available in many developed countries, the official said. The X50 Pro 5G handset will be launched simultaneously in Spain and India by realme after the world's largest mobile trade show

1 India will switch to Bharat Stage-VI (BS-VI)

BS-VI is the most advanced emission standard for automobiles

In order to reduce vehicular emissions that are one of the reasons for the choking pollution in major cities

About ₹35,000 crore spent to upgrade plants that could produce ultra-low sulphur fuel by state-owned oil refineries

Stage	Roll-out Year of	Sulphur Content parts per million
BS-III	2010	350
BS-IV	2017	50
BS-VI	2020	10

Reduction in NOx in BS-VI compliant vehicles

Petrol Cars 25% ↓

Diesel Cars 75% ↓

It was a conscious decision to leapfrog to BS-VI as first upgrading to BS-V and then shifting to BS-VI would have prolonged the journey to 4 to 6 years. Besides, oil refineries, as well as automobile manufacturers, would have had to make investments twice - first to producing BS-V grade fuel and engines and then BS-VI

Sanjiv Singh, Chairman of Indian Oil Corp (IOC) - the firm that controls roughly half of the country's fuel market, said almost all refineries began producing ultra-low sulphur BS-VI (equivalent to Euro-VI grade) petrol and diesel by the end of 2019 and oil companies have now undertaken the tedious task of replacing every drop of fuel in the country with the new one.

India will join the select league of nations using petrol and diesel containing just 10 parts per million of sulphur as it looks to cut vehicular emissions that are said to be one of the reasons for the choking pollution in major cities.

Govt to frame rules to implement Consumer Protection Act

New Delhi: The Government will frame rules and set up an authority to implement the new Consumer Protection Act by April this year, Food and Consumer Affairs Minister Ram Vilas Paswan said on Wednesday while stressing on the regulation of the e-commerce sector with a rise in online transactions.

Parliament last year approved "The Consumer Protection Bill 2019", replacing the Consumer Protection Act, 1986. The law seeks to revamp the process of administration and settlement of consumer disputes, with strict penalties, including jail term for adulteration and misleading ads by firms.

Liquor industry urges Govt not to yield to Trump on duty cuts

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Ahead of US President Donald Trump's visit to India next week, the Indian alcoholic beverage industry has urged the government not to reduce customs duty on wine and spirits.

The US President has been pushing for reduction of customs duty on American liquor, particularly bourbon whiskey, and Indian liquor manufacturers fear that any tinkering with customs duty vis-a-vis US imports would have a domino effect as European Union would also push for slashing of customs duty.

Sensex soars 429 pts; RIL, HDFC sparkle

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Equity indices clawed back most ground on Wednesday after a four-session falling spree as investors took heart from a decline in new coronavirus cases in China and the Indian government's assurance on tackling the economic impact from the epidemic.

Starting off on a strong footing, the BSE barometer gained strength during the session to touch a high of 41,357.16. The index finally settled at 41,323, clocking a gain of 428.62 points or 1.05%.

Likewise, the NSE gauge Nifty shot up 133.40 points or 1.11% to close at 12,125.90.

Market heavyweight Reliance Industries spurted 2.60%, accounting for the majority of the Sensex gains. Other winners included Bajaj Finance, HUL, ONGC and HDFC, rising up to 2.79%. On the other hand, Sun Pharma, TCS, Bharti Airtel, L&T and IndusInd Bank shed up to 1.33%.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday met representatives from various sectors, including pharmaceuticals, textiles, chemicals, electronics and IT hardware, solar, auto, surgical equipment, and paints, to review the situation following the outbreak of the deadly virus in

Gold jumps ₹462 on global cues, silver soars ₹1,047

New Delhi (PTI): Gold prices on Wednesday jumped ₹462 to ₹42,339 per 10 grams in the national capital on positive global cues, according to HDFC Securities. Silver prices also surged ₹1,047 to ₹48,652 per kg, from ₹47,605 per kg on Tuesday. The yellow metal had closed at ₹41,877 per 10 grams in the previous trading session.

"Spot gold of 24 karat in Delhi crossed the ₹42,000 mark, gaining ₹462 with strong international prices. The strong demand from wedding season and rally in global gold prices pushed spot prices higher for the day," HDFC Securities senior analyst (commodities) Tapan Patel said.

Besides, gold also witnessed safe-haven buying after Apple Inc warned of missing its revenue forecast in the March 2020 quarter due to the coronavirus outbreak, Patel said. In the international market, both gold and silver were trading higher at USD 1,606.60 per ounce and USD 18.32 per ounce, respectively.

China. She said the government would soon announce measures to deal with the impact of the coronavirus outbreak on the domestic industry.

"Positive cues were witnessed in the market on hopes that the government is planning to consider some relief measures for the ailing telecom players. On the global front, there is a decrease in new virus cases and close to 80% of the Chinese enterprises are back to work indicating a possible economic recovery," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services.

ICRA: Indian auto industry to be negatively impacted, supply chain disrupted if coronavirus persists

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India's automobile industry is likely to be negatively impacted and supply chain disrupted if the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak in China and South-East Asia persisted longer, according to ratings agency ICRA.

These countries play a critical role in automotive supply chain and domestic OEMs source critical components and sub-components including fuel injection pumps, EGR modules, electronic components, turbochargers from these markets which in turn directly or indirectly depend on China.

China accounts for 27% of India's auto component imports valued at USD 4.8 billion and, the impact is estimated to be higher for high value-add and customised components, while commoditised products could shift to alternative suppliers, ICRA said in a statement.

Commenting on the development, ICRA Ltd Vice-President (Corporate Sector Ratings) Shamsheer Dewan said India's automotive supply chain could get disrupted if the manufacturing activities in China continue to remain impacted owing to coronavirus outbreak.

Dewan further said, "Moreover, given that OEMs are currently in the period of transitioning to BS-VI production, disruption in supply of critical components required for the same has the potential to impact smooth transition to new emission norms."

Solar capacity addition down 12% to 7,346 MW in 2019: Report

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India's solar energy capacity addition dipped 12% to 7,346 megawatts (MW) in the calendar year 2019 from 8,338 MW in 2018, according to a report by Mercom India Research.

While 2019 was a lost year for the country's solar sector, Mercom India Research expects solar installations to rise by 17% year-on-year (y-o-y) to about 8,500 MW by the end of 2020.

"The country installed 7,346 MW of solar in 2019, a 12% decline year-over-year (YoY), compared to 8,338 MW installed in 2018," according to the report titled 'Q4 & Annual 2019 India Solar Market Update'. It also estimates solar installations in the range of 65-70 gigawatt (GW) by 2022, based on the current market conditions. The government has set a solar installation target of 100 GW by 2022. The large-scale solar projects accounted for 85% of installations with 6,242 MW in 2019 and saw a 7% y-o-y fall, and rooftop solar made up the remaining 15% adding 1,104 MW, a 33% drop y-o-y.

Karnataka was the top state for solar in 2019 with 1.8 GW, followed by Rajasthan and Tamil Nadu. Together, these three states accounted for almost 70% of solar installations in 2019.

"The demand outlook for 2020 looks better with a stronger project pipeline, and we should see the solar market resume y-o-y growth again," said Raj Prabhu, CEO of Mercom Capital Group in a statement.

He also said that a lot would depend on the economy and lending situation getting back on track, the impact of coronavirus, and the outcome of the 20% basic customs duty announced in the recent Budget.

At the end of 2019, cumulative solar installations reached almost 35.7 GW. Large-scale projects accounted for 31.3 GW (87.6%), whereas rooftop solar installations accounted for 4.4 GW (12.4%). The large-scale solar project development pipeline stands at 23.7 GW, with 31.5 GW of projects tendered and pending auction at the end of the fourth quarter of 2019.

The Indian solar market added 1,897 MW in the October-December 2019 period, a 12.8% fall as compared with 2,177 MW installed in the preceding quarter. However, installations were up by 15.6% compared to 1,641 MW installed in the fourth quarter of 2018.

In the fourth quarter of 2019, large-scale solar projects came to 1,593 MW, while rooftop solar installations came to 304 MW, an increase of 24.1 per cent compared to 245 MW in the third quarter of 2019, it added.

Multiple reasons led to the fall in large-scale solar additions in 2019 including elections, a slowing economy, liquidity issues, tariff caps, lack of financing, curtailment, payment delays, and power purchase agreements renegotiations in Andhra Pradesh.

Rooftop installations declined for the first time in five years. The report pointed to the slowdown in the economy in 2019 as a significant factor, along with liquidity issues in the market following the NBFC crisis that made it difficult for installers to finance rooftop projects in a tough economy.

"There are several challenges facing the industry but a few fixes, that could immediately turn around the sector, would be to remove tariff caps in reverse auctions, getting government agencies to make timely payments and facilitate lending to get the solar market moving in the right direction again," added Prabhu.

After five consecutive years of decline, coal accounted for a majority of the power installations with 7.8 GW and made up 44.1% of the installed capacity, followed by solar with 7.3 GW. Wind energy accounted for 2.4 GW followed by small hydro and other renewables with 154 MW and 82.5 MW, respectively. Even with coal installations rising, renewables collectively still made up a majority of the installations in 2019.

DEATH TOLL FROM CHINA VIRUS SURGES PAST 2,000

Beijing: The death toll from the coronavirus epidemic in China crossed the 2,000-mark on Wednesday with the death of 136 more people, while the overall confirmed cases climbed to 74,185, authorities said.

The National Health Commission said in its daily report that 2,004 people had died of the disease known as COVID-19. NHC said 1,749 new cases of novel coronavirus infection have been confirmed.

Of the new deaths, 132 were reported from the worst-hit Hubei Province and one each from Heilongjiang, Shandong, Guangdong and Guizhou.

Another 1,185 new suspected cases have been reported. On Tuesday, 236 patients became seriously ill, while 1,824 people were discharged from hospital after recovery.

The commission added that 11,977 patients remained in severe condition, and 5,248 people were suspected of being infected with the virus, the state-run Xinhua news agency reported.

By Tuesday, 62 confirmed cases including one death had been reported in Hong Kong, 10 confirmed cases in Macao and 22 in Taiwan including one death. China's daily number of newly recovered novel coronavirus patients has surpassed that of new confirmed infections for the first time, according to NHC.

So far, 14,376 patients infected with the novel coronavirus had been discharged from hospital after recovery, NHC said.

On Tuesday, Dr Liu Zhiming, president of Wuhan Wuchang Hospital in Hubei, died of the novel coronavirus pneumonia highlighting the risks posed by virus to the medical staff.

Liu was a leading neurosurgeon in Wuhan.

Last Friday, the NHC said a total of 1,716 medical workers had been confirmed contracting the infection. As of February 11, six medical workers were killed while treating patients. This included the whistle-blower ophthalmologist, Dr Li Wenliang who was reprimanded by police for alerting about the virus over the social media in December. PTI

Passengers leave Japan virus ship

Yokohama: Relieved passengers began leaving a coronavirus-wracked cruise ship in Japan on Wednesday after testing negative for the disease that has now claimed more than 2,000 lives in China.

The Diamond Princess has proved a fertile breeding ground for the virus with at least 542 positive cases, and there is mounting criticism of Japan's handling of quarantine arrangements as passengers ready to disperse into the wider world.

The ship is the biggest cluster outside China, where new figures showed the death toll surging beyond 2,000 with more than 74,000 infected. Hundreds more cases have been reported in two dozen countries.

For some 500 passengers allowed to disembark after testing negative, a difficult 14-day quarantine period has come to an end after their dream cruise turned into a nightmare of fear and crushing boredom confined in many cases to small windowless cabins. AFP

Coronavirus reaches Iran

Tehran: Two people in Iran tested positive on Wednesday for the deadly new coronavirus, the Health Ministry said, in the Islamic republic's first cases of the disease. Kianoush Jahanpour, a Ministry spokesman, said the cases were detected in the holy city of Qom, south of the Iranian capital. "In the past two days, some suspect cases of the new coronavirus were observed in Qom city," he said, quoted by state news agency IRNA. AFP

XI CALLS FOR PROTECTION OF MEDICAL STAFF

Beijing: Chinese President Xi Jinping called for greater protection of medical workers fighting the coronavirus after casualties among them showed an upward trend as the death toll from the epidemic crossed the 2,000-mark on Wednesday, authorities said.

China's National Health Commission (NHC) in its daily report said that 136 people died on Tuesday taking the total death toll to 2,004 so far due to the virus also called COVID-19. PTI

China expels three Wall Street Journal correspondents

Beijing: China on Wednesday expelled three Wall Street Journal correspondents, the largest expulsion of overseas media men from the country in more than three decades, after the newspaper declined to apologise for a column which Beijing criticised as "racist" and tarnishing its efforts to combat the coronavirus epidemic. Chinese spokesman said China made repeated representations to the US newspaper over the opinion piece which had the headline: "China is the real sick man of Asia" but regretted that it had not offered a public apology. PTI

South Korea coronavirus cases jump by two-thirds in one day

Seoul: South Korea reported 20 new confirmed cases of the novel coronavirus on Wednesday — increasing its total by nearly two-thirds — including a cluster of at least 16 centred on the southern city of Daegu.

The trade-dependent nation has been hit by the economic fallout from the virus outbreak in neighbouring China, but until Wednesday's jump, its own case numbers had hardly changed for several days.

The Korea Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (KCDC) said in a statement that 20 new coronavirus cases had been confirmed, raising its total from 31 to 51. Of those, 18 were in Daegu and neighbouring North Gyeongsang province, with 15 of them believed to be linked to a single patient, a 61-year-old woman.

Fourteen of them attend the same church as the woman, the KCDC said, while the other one had come into contact with her at a hospital.

She had first developed a fever on February 10 but reportedly refused to be tested twice for the coronavirus on the grounds that she had not recently travelled abroad. AFP

HK REPORTS SECOND FATALITY

Hong Kong: An elderly Hong Kong man who contracted the new coronavirus died on Wednesday, authorities announced, the second fatality from the outbreak in the semi-autonomous Chinese city.

"A 70-year-old male patient who was infected with the novel coronavirus deteriorated and succumbed in Princess Margaret Hospital this morning," the Hospital Authority said in a statement.

Officials said the man was taken to hospital on 12 February after a fall at home. He had a fever and tested positive for the virus, dying a week later. AFP

CHINA TURNS TO INTERNET FOR FOOD SUPPLIES

Beijing: Wang Feng, household by China's virus outbreak, counts on the parka-clad delivery drivers of e-commerce giant JD.Com to keep her kitchen stocked. Demand for online food vendors has surged since China's Government told the public to stay home as part of the most sweeping anti-disease controls ever imposed.

On Tuesday, Wang's phone buzzed with a text message that a delivery had arrived. The retiree bundled up against the winter cold, put on a face mask and emerged from her apartment complex to collect walnut milk and other goods. AP

Bloomberg would sell business interests if elected president

Sacramento (US): Mike Bloomberg would sell the financial data and media company he created in the 1980s — which bears his name and made him a multibillionaire — if he is elected US president, a top adviser has said.

Bloomberg would put Bloomberg LP into a blind trust, and the trustee would then sell the company, adviser Tim O'Brien said Tuesday. Proceeds from the sale would go to Bloomberg Philanthropies, the charitable giving arm that funds causes from climate change to public health and grants for American cities.

The only restriction Bloomberg would put on the sale is that it not be sold to a foreign buyer or a private equity company, O'Brien said. Bloomberg, a Democrat, is currently chief executive of the company.

"We want to be 180 degrees apart from Donald Trump around financial conflicts of interest," O'Brien told The Associated Press.

"We think it's one of the biggest stains on the presidency, and Trump's record is his refusal to disengage himself in his own financial interests. And we want to be very transparent and clean and clear with voters about where Mike is on these things." AP

Boeing finds new issue with Max, debris in fuel tanks

Paris: Boeing said on Tuesday that it found debris contaminating the fuel tanks of some 737 Max jets that it built in the past year but was unable to deliver to airline customers.

A Boeing official said the debris was discovered in "several" planes but did not give a precise number. Boeing built about 400 undelivered Max jets before it temporarily halted production last month.

The fuel tank debris was discovered during maintenance on parked planes, and Boeing said it immediately made corrections in its production system to prevent a recurrence. Those steps include more inspections before fuel tanks are sealed. AP

A Boeing spokesman said that the issue would not change the company's belief that the Federal Aviation Administration will certify the plane to fly again this summer.

An FAA spokesman said the agency knows that Boeing is conducting a voluntary inspection of undelivered Max planes.

The FAA "increased its surveillance based on initial inspection reports and will take further action based on the findings," said spokesman Lynn Lunsford.

Metal shavings, tools and other objects left in planes during assembly can raise the risk of electrical short-circuiting and fires. AP

Chance of a deal with Taliban: Trump

Washington: Ahead of his visit to India next week, US President Donald Trump has reiterated that he sees "a chance" of a peace deal with the Taliban to withdraw troops from Afghanistan.

The US has been negotiating with the Taliban and Trump earlier, too, suggested there had been progress between the two sides to reduce violence in the war-torn country and end America's longest war, for 19 years.

"We are negotiating with the Taliban. We've been negotiating with them for a while. We will see what happens. There's a chance of making a deal. There's a chance," Trump told reporters at Joint Base Andrews Tuesday afternoon local time.

Marvin G Weinbaum, Director for Afghanistan and Pakistan Studies at the Middle East Institute, has said the US appears well on its way to signing an agreement with the Taliban later this month. Trump is scheduled to visit India on February 24 and 25. PTI

Blagojevich released from prison after Trump pardon

Chicago: Rod Blagojevich walked out of prison Tuesday after President Donald Trump cut short the 14-year prison sentence handed to the former Illinois Governor for political corruption.

The Republican president said the punishment imposed on the Chicago Democrat and one-time contestant on Trump's reality TV show "Celebrity Apprentice" was excessive. "So he'll be able to go back home," Trump told reporters. "That was a powerful, ridiculous sentence in my opinion and in the opinion of many others," Blagojevich landed at Chicago's O'Hare airport on Wednesday a free man, promising judicial and criminal justice reform while maintaining his innocence. "I didn't do the things they said I did and they lied on me," Blagojevich told WGN-TV as he walked through the airport shaking the hands of travelers who welcomed him home. AP

EU to target stolen artefacts in post-Brexit talks

Brussels: Europeans could include the issue of stolen cultural artefacts, especially Greek or Roman antiquities, in negotiations on their future relationship with Britain, according to the draft of the EU negotiating mandate. The mandate, seen by AFP, sets out the EU's objectives and red lines and now includes a call on the parties to "return unlawfully removed cultural objects to their countries of origin". Early reports, denied by officials on Wednesday, said the mention pertained to the Parthenon marbles, the ancient sculptures commonly known as the Elgin marbles that are on display in the British Museum in London. AFP

No visas for low-skilled workers: UK

London: Low-skilled workers would not get visas under post-Brexit immigration plans unveiled by the British government. It is urging employers to "move away" from relying on "cheap labour" from Europe and invest in retaining staff and developing automation technology, the BBC reported on Wednesday.

The Home Office said EU and non-EU citizens coming to the UK would be treated equally after UK-EU free movement ends on December 31.

Labour said a "hostile environment" would make it hard to attract workers. IANS

Trump will have a triumphant visit to India: Top former US diplomat

Washington: Donald Trump will have a triumphant visit to India, a top diplomat in the previous Obama administration has said, asserting the US president has energised the Indian-Americans as a result of which Democrats might not be able to hold on to this community as they did in the past.

"My expectation will be — my guess is that President Trump will have a triumphant visit in Delhi," Kurt Campbell, a former assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific Affairs, said.

Currently the chairman and CEO of Asia Group, Campbell said Trump's primary interest is not about America's role in the world. "His primary interest is his reelection. It's how that will manifest in terms of his potential reelection in November," he said in response to a question at an event at the Brookings Institute think-tank last week. PTI

Deepika shares her first look of 83

Actor DEEPIKA PADUKONE unveiled her look as Romi Dev, wife of cricket legend Kapil Dev, in the forthcoming film 83.

She says the film is an ode to every woman who puts her husband's dream before her own.

She captioned it: "To be able to play a small but significant part in a film that captures one of the most iconic moments in sporting history has been an absolute honour. I've seen very closely the role a wife plays in the success of her husband's professional and personal aspirations in my mother and 83 for me in many ways is an ode to every woman who puts her husband's dream before her own."

'Portraying a young girl from Bombay who saved the lives of the 359 passengers was not only challenging but also a great honour. As the film completes its fourth anniversary, I would want people to recall how fear gave courage to the young Neerja Bhanot. She was the true icon of bravery, strength, and sacrifice for our country. She continues to be an inspiration to everyone.'

—Sonam Kapoor

Actor DIA MIRZA loved playing the character of someone who makes choices on her own in the new film Thappad.

Sharing her experience on how she prepared for her role in the film, Dia said: "Playing any character is a combination of both, preparation as well as spontaneous emotions. Many years ago, one of my friends told me that one must meet opportunity with preparedness, one should understand the story from all the perspectives and not just the character's side."

Britney gets injured while dancing

Singer BRITNEY SPEARS was hospitalised after a dance move went wrong.

The 38-year-old was left with a fractured metatarsal bone and her foot in plaster. Her boyfriend, Sam Ashghari, shared photos of the star in a hospital on his Instagram page. He revealed that the singer had fractured one of a group of five long bones in the foot, located between the tarsal bones of the hind and mid-foot and the phalanges of the toes.

Posting several photos and videos of themselves in hospital, Sam showed that Britney was laid up in the emergency room with a cast on her foot, on which the word "stronger" had been written.

WHEN VICKY WAS TRICKED

The actor tells CHAHAK MITTAL that working for Bhoot: The Haunted Ship not only compelled him to face his worst fears but also taught him how a horror film requires an artiste to give a lot of calculated expressions

What would it be like to react to something that is not even present in front of you? Confused? Well, now you can imagine what actor Vicky Kaushal's situation might have been when he was acting for Bhoot: The Haunted Ship. Be it romance, comedy, thriller or biopic, other drama genres hold a lot of facts from real life for actors to abide by. However, the expression of horror follows no grammar. Acting for a horror film is like acting for something that's not even real. And for Vicky, this was the trickiest part.

He tells us, "I was purely following Bhanu's (Pratap Singh, director) orders and vision. Everyday I would come on set and just ask him a number of questions. 'What are we exactly doing?' 'What does he want and how?' 'How are we going to create that fear?' The actor had very little to work with. There were no props on the set, neither was there any sound track which is overlaid later.

He says, "There were times when I would find myself looking at the monitor, which I don't usually do. I would ask Bhanu what the background music would be like and what effects are going to be added in the post-production. It would require a lot of focus from all the departments together and then with myself to create that kind of atmosphere for the audience in the theatre. Hence, the grammar was very new to me. But there was a lot of conviction and clarity in Bhanu's narration, which made me think and act the way he wanted me to. I think! (Laughs)"

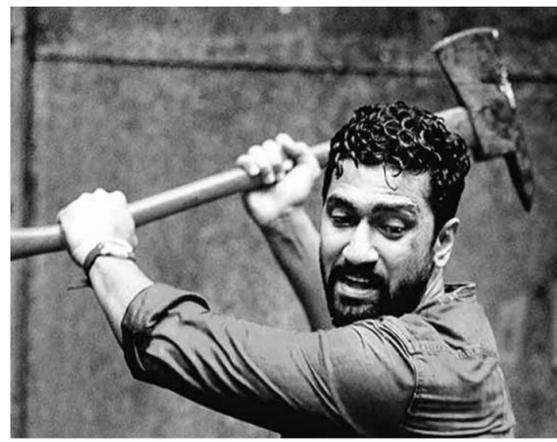

Vicky explains how he worked on the process. He says, "When you're doing a scene for a drama or comedy film, in your heart, you know that you've hit the right emotion. But with fear, it is always the planned emotion. It doesn't come to you naturally, especially if there is nothing around you. I am walking in a haunted ship and there's something I hear from the back. But that is only something that I have to imagine. It hasn't happened in reality. It is going to be added later. Yet I have to react, imagine the intensity of it and then come to an intensity of fear that can be visible from my facial expressions and body language. All of that is a very calculated process. You know that you are going to react in this way. You don't leave it to the moment. So this planning of reactions and still making it seem natural is very tricky!"

He accepted the film because Dharma Productions was in charge. "I was called by the production house when Raazi was going to be released. They wanted to have a discussion with me about doing another film with them, which was, surprisingly, a horror one. I was intrigued. I wondered 'kuch toh baat hogi'. My mind was blown after I the script. I thoroughly enjoyed it."

The film, also starring Bhumi Pednekar, revolves around the real-life haunted ship which was washed ashore on Mumbai's coast. The strange part of it was that when it hit the sand barrier, there was nobody on it, including the crew members. The mystery was undetected and alarmed the people when it went aground off the coast one day. For Vicky, the script was written in a way that it stuck to the genre authentically. There wasn't any Bollywoodisation of the theme. "It was fresh and had no unnecessary subplots or dance. I was very happy doing that. Aesthetically, it was rich. The geography, which plays a very important part in a horror film, was able to perfectly define the seriousness of the situation that was being created. There have been abandoned homes or a cemetery to showcase a horror element. But this one was a ship, which I thought was quite fresh and gave a lot of scope to explore the genre. In that container ship, there are about a hundreds rooms — engine room, pump room, staircases, lifts, which are all worn out because it's a dilapidated, old ship. And there's nobody inside. So I thought it became a great setup, which was properly exploited too."

With films like Masaan, Love Per Square Foot, Raazi, Uri, and now Bhoot... there has been a whole range of genres that Vicky has explored — arthouse, romantic comedy, action, drama and horror. So how has such a variety of roles transformed him? He says, "Every film does that in some way or the other. Masaan just gave me a new perspective about life. Spending so much time in those ghats, where dead bodies are burnt, one realises the finality of life. Whatever you do or achieve, this is the real truth, where we all are going to end up one day. When I was shooting for

'A HORROR FILM IS AN EXPENSIVE ONE, WHICH REQUIRES A LOT OF POST-PRODUCTION WORK. WE HAVE TRIED TO NOTCH UP THE AESTHETIC SENSE OF THE FILM AND GIVEN IT ELEMENTS TO CONNECT ON AN INTERNAL LEVEL SO THAT THE HORROR ENTHUSIASTS AND NON-HORROR ENTHUSIASTS CAN WATCH IT TOGETHER'

Uri, it gave me such a new understanding about the lives of military personnel and their families. I realised what they go through. Aap kitna hi kitaabo mei padhle, but to actually live their stories, changes you."

Vicky hasn't been a fan of horror films himself and like most, also flinches at the thought of it. So how was it working for one? "When you do a horror film, being that person from the audience who is very scared to watch such films, you kind of overcome that fear. You face it while being a part of it directly. I am very afraid of water. And in this film, there were a lot of underwater sequences. I had to literally face my fear in a very genuine way. It hit me very personally. But yes, eventually, it also becomes a very liberating process. And that experience changes you, slightly."

Horror as a genre hasn't been explored in India much. Like The Conjuring, Annabelle, Paranormal Activities, there are no Hindi equivalent. Why? For Vicky, it's because a horror film does not comply with the entertainment needs of the majority. He says, "There are people with nine to five jobs. They are not willing to watch a serious rather tension vaali film after a tiring day. Not everyone is able to enjoy a horror film. That's why producers do not want to invest in such a film. And even when such films are made, they are made on such a low budget because of the fear of not earning enough. Eventually, it looks tacky. A horror film is an expensive one, which requires a lot of post-production work. We have tried to notch up the aesthetic sense of the film and given it elements to connect on an internal level so that the horror enthusiasts and non-horror enthusiasts can come and watch it together."

Well, the film's trailer looks promising and certainly makes one feel that this could be India's The Conjuring. It is certainly no cliched 'mehelein vaali bhootiya kahaani' (haunted house story) anymore. "We are trying to give the audience a feel that it's fresh. Give us a chance, the ship will sail! (Laughs)"

The class satire

Filmmaker BONG JOON-HO feels happy as Parasite succeeded despite exposing the brutality of disparity in modern society

Oscar-winning Parasite director, Bong Joon-ho said that the film's "biggest pleasure and the most significant meaning" to him is that it succeeded even though the audience might feel uncomfortable with his explicit description of bitter wealth disparity in modern society.

Bong's dark comic thriller about two families on the opposite ends of South Korea's social spectrum is a history-making film. It won best picture at this month's 92nd Academy Awards ceremony, becoming the first non-English-language film to get the top honor. Bong and his film clinched three other Oscars.

He told reporters that the film's story has not only "funny, comic" elements but also "bitter, painful natures" of the disparity between the haves and have-nots in modern society.

"I didn't want to avoid such a part even a little," Bong told a nationally televised news conference. "Audience might hate that or feel uncomfortable to watch it... but I thought the only option I can have for this film is depicting the world we live as frankly as possible, though that might be risky commercially."

Noting that Parasite was already commercially successful in North America, France, Vietnam, Japan, the United Kingdom and his native South Korea even before his Oscar triumph, Bong said, "Regardless of the (Oscar) wins, the biggest pleasure and the most significant meaning was the fact that the audience around the world of our times responded to the film."

The class satire tells the story of how a family of four poor, unemployed people living in a slum basement apartment comically infiltrates a wealthy family residing at a luxurious mansion before things unravel violently and tragically.

Bong already had commercial and critical success with his 2013 sci-fi film Snowpiercer, which starred Chris Evans and Tilda Swinton along with South Korean Parasite actor Song Kang-ho. But nothing that's come before has been remotely as successful as Parasite, a profoundly South Korean film shot in the Korean language.

Along with the best picture award, Bong was also named best director and co-shared another Oscar title, best original screenplay, with Parasite co-writer Han Jin Won. The film won best international feature film as well.

The film, which is also the first South Korean film to win an Oscar, has made Bong a national hero. Ahead of April's parliamentary elections in South Korea, some politicians even proposed setting up a Bong statue, establishing a street named after him and rebuilding the house where he was born. Asked about such proposals, Bong joked, "I hope people will talk about such things after I die."

He said that he will leave it to critics, journalists and fans to analyse the film's commercial appeal and that he'd fully focus on working on this next film.

At the same news conference, actor Lee Jeong-eun, who plays a live-in housekeeper for the wealthy family in Parasite, said the film portrayed universal problems such as unemployment "in a very interesting yet an in-depth manner." Han said he believes audience sympathised with the film's 10 main characters, who "have their own dramas and have their own reasons to live."

Bong said he was ready for a break after a successful yet exhausting Oscars campaign. But he said prominent American director Martin Scorsese pleaded that he get back to work quickly. "I just read his letter a few hours ago and it was an honour," Bong said. "He said I did a good job and should rest but only a little because he and everyone else was eagerly waiting for my next film."

He had mentioned his admiration of Scorsese while receiving the directing Oscar, inspiring an impromptu standing ovation from the crowd. He said he was discussing with HBO making a TV adaptation of Parasite, with American director and screenwriter Adam McKay agreeing to be a writer on the series, which could run five or six episodes. "We have smoothly taken the first step with HBO," said Bong, while denying reports that Mark Ruffalo and Swinton have been finalised as cast members.

"The TV adaptation of Snowpiercer is planned to air in May, but since we started talking about it in 2014 or 2015, it took about five years. (The TV version of) Parasite might take quite a while too," he said. —AP

Women power drives Karan Johar's Guilty

Filmmaker-producer Karan Johar, whose digital content production wing Dharmatic has collaborated with streaming giant Netflix for a venture named Netflix, has said that his forthcoming edge-of-the-seat thriller film has intrigue, resonance and relevance, combined by some terrific performances. Guilty is led by women in all departments — be it in acting, direction, writing and production — and Johar declares he will continue collaborating with female talent in future, too.

At the trailer launch, Johar was accompanied by the film's director Ruchi Narain, writers Kanika Dhillon and Atika Chohan, and cast members Kiara Advani, Gurfateh Singh, Pooja, Akansha Ranjan Kapoor and Taher Shabbir. Srishri Behl Arya, director, International Original Film, India, Netflix, was also present, as were Apoorva Mehta, CEO, Dharma Productions, and Somen Mishra, head of creative development at Dharma Movies.

On the female-centric cast and crew, Johar said, "It's quite interesting that it is such a strong female-led narrative, led by a mainstream female actor, directed by a woman, creatively nurtured by a strong woman and all of us at Dharma are such strong feminists including Somen (Mishra), Apoorva (Mehta) and me. We feel proud to tell this story."

In Guilty, Kiara essays a musician's girlfriend. The story explores the different versions of truth that emerge when a small town girl accuses her college heartthrob of rape.

"The film has a strong narrative and storytelling along with terrific performances," said Johar. After her grand web debut with Karan Johar's segment in the anthology Lust Stories (2018), Kiara returns to the digital space with this one.

Talking about his collaboration with Netflix, Johar said, "This is the first time that Dharmatic and Netflix has come together. All of you know that Netflix is a tremendous global platform and they really encourage and nurture strong content, so to collaborate with them was an honour and also a privilege to be able to tell stories we really want to with the abundance and the craft and creativity."

Guilty will stream on Netflix from March 6. —JANS

JAIPUR TO HOST 48TH DAIRY INDUSTRY CONFERENCE

Rahul Saxena, Secretary General, 48th DIC and Secretary, RSC

The 48th Dairy Industry Conference is being organised by Indian Dairy Association (North Zone) in association with Indian Dairy Association (Rajasthan State Chapter) during February 20 to 22 at Birla Auditorium, Jaipur.

The conference will include dairy experts from the country and abroad, who will share cutting edge technology and experience in the field of dairy development. The theme for this year's conference is Dairying for Health and Wealth. In addition to dairy experts, professionals associated with dairy industry, central and state government officials, representatives of private and cooperative dairies, researchers, entrepreneurs, milk producers and more than five thousand participants including students.

Director of the 48th Dairy Industry Conference, Dr Himmat Singh, said that a grand exhibition will also be organised in the Birla auditorium, which will have stalls of prestigious brands like Amul, Mother Dairy and REEL and IDMC will also display their products.

The Pink city was founded in 1727 by Maharaj Jai Singh II, who ruled from 1699 to 1744. Initially, his capital was Amber, which lies at a distance of 11 km from Jaipur. He felt the need of shifting his capital city with the increase in population and growing scarcity of water. Jaipur is the first planned city of India and the king took great interest while designing this city of victory. He consulted several books on architecture and architects before making the layout of the city.

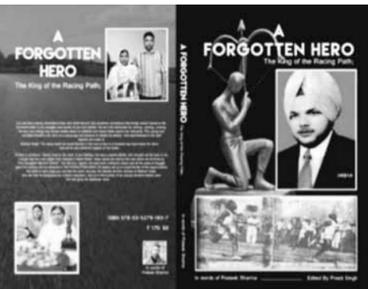

It holds a distinct position among popular tourist places in India due to the immortal royal vibes that are an inseparable part of its existence. The major highlights of the city are: Amber Fort, Nahargarh Fort and Jaigarh Fort. Hawa Mahal or The Wind Palace is another major attraction that impresses spectators with its wonderful architecture and forces them to click pictures. Many other must-visit places in Jaipur are, Albert Hall Museum, Jal Mahal and Jantar Mantar. They are special spots as every bit of them reflects the presence of royalness in this city.

The Ghaziabad Development Authority will once again give notice to the bank branches and ask them to move from residential areas to commercial areas. In this regard, the authority administration is preparing to give notice to banks on a large scale. This information was given by GDA officer Sanjay Kumar on Tuesday. He informed that notices are being issued to ten bank branches operating in residential areas near Rajnagar extension. After this, banks operating in other residential areas of the metropolis will also be brought under eviction. Kumar informed that banks have opened their branches in various apartments of Rajnagar extension which are against RBI norms. The privacy of the local residents is affected due to the crowd coming in the banks. The traffic is also being disrupted due to the congestion. This action is being taken on the complaints of the residents of colonies and apartments.

Makhan Singh's journey on silver screen

At a time when Bollywood has been flooded with biopics, the initiative of producer, K Ranjan along with Prateek Sharma is commendable. The athlete who holds the reputation of defeating the legendary Milkha Singh brought a lot of accolades for his country.

It is a sheer irony that the sportsman, Makhan Singh, who brought honours to his nation lived a life in poverty. The heart-rending fact that his wife was compelled to sell the prestigious Arjuna Award. When the avid writer and entrepreneur, Sharma, got a chance to meet Singh's family, his heart got a thorough setback. He decided to bring the story of this star athlete in front of the world.

Ranjan has been working in the B-Town from more than three decades. Apart from producing films, he has also produced soap operas, more than 25 almost.

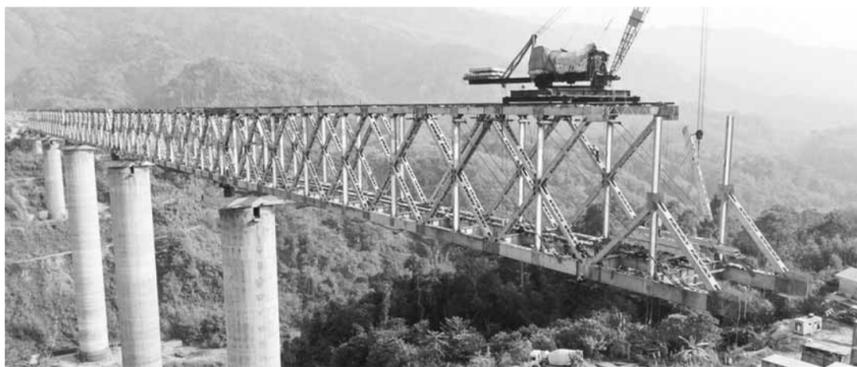

Lok Sabha Speaker Shri Om Birla and Union Minority Affairs Minister Shri Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi visiting Hunar Haat, India Gate Lawns, Rajpath on Tuesday.

Any mission is incomplete without citizens' participation: Dinesh Chandra

Without public participation, no challenging mission can ever be completed. Inspired by the citizens of Ghaziabad in making the city beautiful and clean, the Municipal Corporation will carry many challenging tasks.

Talking about the completion of one year tenure in the Municipal Corporation, Dinesh Chandra, Municipal Commissioner said that the work of cleanliness and development will be taken forward continuously. The works will also be completed within the time limit. He informed that the citizens have sent their complaints about monkeys and dogs in urban areas, which they will resolve soon. Stray dogs and monkeys are being released from Ghaziabad border from Delhi side. A letter in this regard is also being sent to MCD of Delhi.

Chandra added that a task force has been constituted to deal with the occupiers on government lands. Its charge has been handed over to retired Colonel Deepak Sirohi. On the question asked on the issue of cleanliness survey, he said that Ghaziabad will now be identified with a clean toilet.

First ever 100m pier bridge built

NF Railway Construction Organisation has recently achieved a major advancement in constructing first ever 100 metre tall pier bridge coming up across river Makru in Tamenglong District of Manipur, in Indian Railways.

The bridge is a part of Jiribam-Tupul-Imphal new BG line project (111 Km). There are total 47 tunnels in the project. The longest tunnel, Tunnel No 12 with a length of 10.280 Km. will be the longest railway tunnel in the Northeast.

The 555 metre long bridge is being constructed across the valley of river Makru in Tamenglong district of Manipur with a pier height of 100 metre (equivalent to 33 storied building). The steel girders are pre-fabricated in a workshop at Kolkata, transported in segments and erected at site by Cantilever launching scheme which requires very meticulous planning and execution. Indian Railways Engineers have successfully demonstrated their expertise. It is mentioned that during the entire works of open web Girder launching, no mishapening has occurred.

Despite facing difficult terrain, plagued by poor infrastructure facilities the last Open Web Girder of the Bridge launched successfully on Friday.

Obey Vedic principles

It is unfortunate that nowadays, humans are facing many diseases. The outbreak of coronavirus has been detected a few weeks ago. God being our real father gives us the knowledge of four Vedas to destroy illusion and solve all kinds of problems, including those of medical science. Many fatal infections can be destroyed if we simply perform daily Agnihotra in our homes.

When we obey the Vedic principles of God, diseases are either destroyed from its roots or do not even generate. Vedic mantra states that agnihotra purifies food grains, water, and bestows mental and physical strength so that people can enjoy prosperous life.

Everybody must offer aahutis in the fire of havan-kund. The nature of that fire is such that it purifies the entire atmosphere and prevents diseases. In shloks of Bhagwad Geeta, Yogeshwar Sri Krishna Maharaj states that Oh Arjun, when Yajyen is performed, the atmosphere is purified, which will in turn purify our food too.

Dr Kundanlal conducted an experiment taking twelve test tubes filled with food particles. He filled six of them with fresh air and rest with air generated from agnihotra. He found that food of the test tubes filled with air started decomposing much earlier than the food filled with the air of agnihotra. It proves that air generated by agnihotra is pure and further purifies the atmosphere.

According to Atharvaved mantra by performing Yajyen, the human beings protect themselves from all kinds of sufferings including diseases. Yajyen is basically performed by using wood of mango tree. A scientist named Trelle of France did experiments on Yajyen. He found that when the mango wood is burnt then a gas — formic aldehyde — is liberated, which destroys the harmful bacteria. Another scientist named Tautlik came to know that when Yajyen is performed with samagri containing raisins and black currants and if we stay inhale its smoke, the germs of typhoid and TB are destroyed.

Ingredients to prepare the samagri of Yajyen:

1. Honey, jaggery or raw sugar
2. Antibiotic herbs like gyoil
3. Ghee and dry fruits
4. Fragrant materials like cardamom or dried petals of flowers

If people start performing agnihotra with Vedic mantras daily, he would surely protect himself, his family and the surroundings from all kinds of diseases and problems.

Better call Saul

Níguez's early strike punish Liverpool on return to Wanda Metropolitano

He sprung a surprise by starting Thomas Lemar for the first time this year while Alvaro Morata and Diego Costa both returned from injury, the former from the start and the latter off the bench in the second half.

Liverpool, who began with their expected eleven, have blitzed numerous opponents with explosive starts but they were the ones rocking early on as Atletico snapped at their heels, pressed hard and relished being first to every loose ball.

They took the lead, aided by a hint of fortune as Liverpool failed to clear the corner and the ball cannoned back off the foot of Fabinho for Saul to stab in from three yards.

On the sideline, Simeone beckoned his players to stay calm but they were celebrating in the corner while in the stands, the fans were delirious and given hope. Atletico were given a lead to defend and the rest of the game was largely a picture of Liverpool dominating the ball but failing to break down the 10 red and white shirts in front of them.

Erling's double gives Dortmund edge over PSG but Neymar strike keeps tie alive

AFP ■ DORTMUND

Teenager record-breaker Erling Braut Haaland scored twice as Borussia Dortmund sealed a 2-1 win over Paris Saint-Germain, for whom Neymar scored on his return to action, in Tuesday's Champions League last 16, first leg in Germany.

Forward Haaland took his tally to 11 goals in seven games since Dortmund paid Salzburg 20 million euros ($22 million) for the 19-year-old with second-half goals either side of Neymar's equaliser.

Having also scored eight times for Salzburg in the group stage, Haaland now has 10 goals in just seven Champions League games this season.

"These are the moments you play football for. I really enjoyed it," beamed the Norwegian.

His performance left Kylian Mbappe and Neymar in the shade, with the latter struggling to truly make his mark having been kept on the sidelines for the last two weeks ahead of this game due to a rib injury.

However, the Brazilian superstar's away goal means PSG remain very much in contention to reach the quarter-finals after three consecutive exits in the last 16.

The presence of the world's most expensive player was a major boost for his team, after he missed last season's surprise last-16 loss to Manchester United with a foot injury.

He also sat out the second leg of their defeat by Real Madrid at the same stage in 2018.

However, Dortmund deserved the win as PSG's star-studded attack, with Angel Di Maria supporting Mbappe and Neymar, was repeatedly frustrated by the home side, for whom the midfield duo of Axel Witsel and Emre Can regularly helped snuff out attacks.

There was little to separate the teams in the first half although Dortmund's English winger Jadon Sancho squandered one chance on the counter-attack and then forced a fine save from Keylor Navas just before the half-hour mark.

After the goalless first half, Dortmund poured forward and kept finding spaces to exploit down the flanks.

Dortmund's Swiss coach Lucien Favre then brought on Giovanni Reyna, who only turned 17 last November, for his Champions League debut midway through the second half.

Moments later Haaland got the breakthrough when he stabbed past Navas from close range after Thiago Silva had blocked a Raphael Guerreiro shot.

The game had now come to life, and with their German coach Thomas Tuchel frantically urging them on, PSG drew level six minutes later when Mbappe unpicked the Dortmund defence and presented Neymar with a straight-forward finish.

However, the scene was set for Haaland to continue his phenomenal scoring run with a stunning finish from the edge of the area following a Reyna pass.

SINGLES

AL SADD BEAT SEPAHAN, DUHAIL SHOCKED

DOHA: Qatari sides had mixed luck in the Asian Champions League on Tuesday as Xavi's Al Sadd eased past Iran's Sepahan 3-0 in Doha while Al Duhail crashed to a 2-0 defeat against Saudi Arabia's Al Taawoun in Buraidah. Akram Affi opened the scoring while veteran Hassan al-Haydos scored a brace at the Sheikh Jassim bin Hamad Stadium as the side coached by the former Barcelona captain grabbed their first win after having drawn against Saudi side Al Nassr last week.

CASILLAS TO END PLAYING CAREER

LISBON: Porto president Jorge Nuno Pinto da Costa said that Iker Casillas is set to retire, a day after the World Cup-winning captain announced he would run for the presidency of the Spanish Football Federation. Casillas had been expected to bring an end to a glittering playing career after making the announcement but has never confirmed that he was hanging up his boots. "Before announcing his candidacy, Iker Casillas came to see me to inform me of his decision to end his career," Pinto da Costa told Portuguese media on Tuesday.

PUJARA SIGNS UP WITH GLOUCESTERSHIRE

LONDON: India Test specialist Cheteshwar Pujara was on Wednesday signed up by Gloucestershire for the first six matches of the English County Championship. His stint will be from April 12 to May 22. "I am really excited to get the opportunity to represent Gloucestershire this season. The Club has a rich cricketing history, and this is a great opportunity to be a part of it and contribute to its success," Pujara said. The club took into consideration his ability to bat for long periods. He will bring his experience to a Gloucestershire side, which will be playing in Division One of the County Championship for the first time in over a decade.

10-YEAR-OLD HANSINI SET FOR ITTF DEBUT

CHENNAI: Following impressive performances on the national circuit, 10-year-old M Hansini is all set to feature in her maiden ITTF junior circuit event, Swedish Junior and Cadet Open, to be held in Orebro from February 19 to 23. It has been a memorable year for Class V student who bagged Bronze medal in cadet girls' singles at the 2019 National Table Tennis Championships and will start the upcoming season as India No1 in the U-12 category. Hansini has been placed in the Group 8 in junior girls' singles alongside Germany's Naomi Pranjikovic, Sweden's Hannah Holgersson and England's Amy Marriott.

INDIA WILL HOST 2022 AFC WOMEN'S ASIAN CUP

KUALA LUMPUR: India will host the 2022 AFC Women's Asian Cup as the sport's continental body awarded the showpiece to the country with an aim to maximise the promotion of the game. It was felt that India, which will also have the experience of hosting the FIFA Women's U-17 World Cup later this year, was best placed among the three bidders - Chinese Taipei and Uzbekistan were the other competing candidates - to maximise the promotion of the women's game. The venues proposed by India - D Y Patil Stadium, Trans Stadia Arena and Fatorda Stadium - are also being used in the FIFA tournaments, the AFC said. The dates of the tournament are likely to be in late October and early November 2022 and the match schedule will be worked out keeping in mind the start of the 2022 FIFA World Cup in Qatar.

B'DESH RETAIN MASHRAFE AS ODI CAPTAIN

DHAKA: Bangladesh pace bowler Mashrafe Murtaza will lead the country in the forthcoming three-match one-day international series against Zimbabwe despite uncertainty over his future. Mashrafe has not represented Bangladesh in any ODI since the ICC World Cup last year, and in January withdrew his name from a lucrative national team contract. But Bangladesh Cricket Board officials said he would skipper the side despite his apparent lack of commitment. "At this moment we don't have a substitute for a captain like Mashrafe," president Nazmul Hassan told reporters in Dhaka. "If he is not fit, that is another issue." Hassan said while Mashrafe's captaincy was vital to the team, it was also time for him to decide his future. "We have to decide about our next captain very soon," he said.

Usual suspects need to be wary of lesser opponents

NEW DELHI: The Ranji Trophy quarterfinals begin across four venues today with usual suspects such as Saurashtra and Karnataka taking on the lesser teams capable of springing a surprise.

On paper, the most well contested quarterfinals should be between Saurashtra and Andhra in Ongole, Andhra Pradesh as both teams go into the knockouts from the elite cross pool.

Last year's runners-up Saurashtra are expected to go past Andhra, having shown solid form in the league stage to finish with three wins, four draws and a loss from eight games.

Seasoned pacer Jaydev Unadkat will be expected to fire once again, having taken 51 wickets this season at an average off 11.90, continuing his stellar form from last season. In the batting department, Sheldon Jackson has stepped up in the absence of Cheteshwar Pujara and is the leading scorer of the team with 605 runs at an average of 55.

Andhra go into the game after back-to-back losses towards the end of the league stage. However, their rampaging run in the first half of the season, when they were leading the table, helped them advance in the competition. They will rely a lot on in-form medium-pacer K V Sasikanth and batsman Ricky Bhui in the must-win game.

In Jammu, the mighty Karnataka take on the spirited bunch of J&K players. Karnataka finished third in the elite pool behind Gujarat and Bengal and scripted important wins over Tamil Nadu and Mumbai.

They play Group C top-pacers J&K, who lost only to Haryana in the league stage. Captain Parvez Rasool has led from the front scoring 403 runs at 44.77 and 25 wickets at 14.56. Another player who has contributed massively to the success of the team is batsman Abdul Samad who has amassed 547 runs.

In Cuttack, a comfortable win is expected from Bengal against Odisha. Their confidence must be sky high following memorable victories over Rajasthan and Punjab in the last two games. They chased down 320 against Rajasthan before beating Punjab in a low-scoring game on a difficult track in Patiala.

Manoj Tiwary has been their go-to batsman and left-arm spinner Shahbah Ahmed their stand out bowler. At the Sardar Patel in Valsad, hosts Gujarat would be overwhelming favourites against Goa who advanced from plate group having suffered relegation last year.

Gujarat made it to the last eight after topping the elite cross pool with five wins from eight matches and three draws.

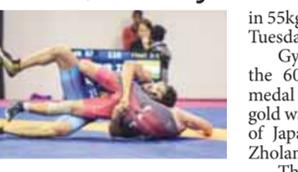

Goa will have their hopes pinned on their leading run-scorer Amit Verma (791 runs) and S K Patel (751 runs) and would want them to play another crucial knocks in the marquee clash. But the quarterfinal will be a different ball game as they face a formidable Gujarat attack led by Roosh Kalari, who has taken 30 wickets so far. PTI

Ashu, Aditya win Bronze

India's Ashu and Aditya Kundu won a bronze medal each in 67kg and 72kg Greco-Roman categories respectively on the second day of the Asian Wrestling Championships here on Wednesday.

Ashu beat Syria's Abdulkarim Mohammad Al-Hasan 8-1 while Kundu defeated Nao Kusaka of Japan 8-0 inside one and a half minutes in a lop-sided 72kg bronze medal bout.

India has so far won four medals in the championships, after Sunil Kumar's historic Gold in 87kg and Arjun Halakurki's Bronze

Saina advances to 2nd round but Prannoy loses

PTI ■ BARCELONA

India's Olympic Bronze medalist shuttler Saina Nehwal advanced to the women's singles second round of the $170,000 Barcelona Spain Masters with a 21-16, 21-14 win over Germany's Yvonne Li here on Wednesday.

Sania took just 35 minutes to beat her opponent in the first round match.

Pranaav Jerry Chopra and Sikki N Reddy also won their mixed doubles first round match against Denmark's Mathias Christiansen and Alexandra Boje 10-21, 21-16, 21-17. However, H S Prannoy lost to Malaysian Daren Liew 18-21, 15-21 to bow out of the tournament.

Poker majorly is game of skill

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The game of poker is majorly a game of skill which decides the winner says India Poker Championship 2020 winner Rubin Labroo, who won this year's championship which took place at Big Daddy Casino in Goa last month.

"Technically Poker is a mind game played with a lot of strategies. Obviously, luck is involved but a lot of it can be beaten by your skills and how good you understand how the game is. It's a very strategically motivated game," says Ruben who was introduced to the sport during his college days back in 2006.

Talking about the skills involved, he said: "It's a long term game and the result doesn't depend on what happens in one game."

"On a given day one might beat me but on the long term you will not be able to do so, that's the idea of a game. It's long term strategy you put in volume, numbers and over a period of time. If your math is strong and you are strategically better you will definitely beat the odds."

"In terms of skills edge, there is a lot of maths involved, selling and buying courses. There's a lot of studies involved, people study online, live and books written on this and it's basically a statistical probability game. And also there is a lot of live tells that you can pick up on the table. Different kind of people drop hints via hand movements and this all understanding will come with experience.

The 2020 edition was his second appearance in the IPC and speaking about the experience of playing in it, he said: "I was playing in some other tournament before the IPC and was not in good touch, so I booked my ticket back home and decided to skip the event. But then on my friends' insistence, I decided to play and I am glad that I stayed back and won the tournament," he said.

Gunathilaka out of Windies ODIs

AFP ■ COLOMBO

All-rounder Danushka Gunathilaka will miss the three-match one-day international series against the West Indies due to injury, the cricket board said Wednesday.

The 28-year-old was excluded from the 15-member squad as a recurring back injury had worsened, a board official said.

He is replaced by Shehan Jayasuriya.

The first ODI is on Saturday in Colombo, while the second takes place in Hambantota on February 26.

The final will be held on March 1 in Kandy.

After the ODI series the sides will play two Twenty20 matches. Squad: Dimuth Karunaratne (c), Avishka Fernando, Kusal Perera, Shehan Jayasuriya, Niroshan Dickwella, Kusal Mendis, Angelo Mathews, Dhananjaya de Silva, Thisara Perera, Dasun Shanaka, Wanindu Hasaranga, Lakshan Sandakan, Isuru Udana, Nuwan Pradeep and Lahiru Kumara.

We can put any team under pressure: Harman

PTI ■ SYDNEY

India captain Harmanpreet Kaur on Wednesday said her team has the ability to put pressure on any side in the upcoming ICC Women's T20 World Cup if it stays in the right frame of mind.

Insisting that positivity is the biggest strength of this Indian team, Harmanpreet said they are eagerly waiting to face four-time champions and title holders Australia in the tournament opener tomorrow.

"The nerves do start to kick in because we are very excited about that opening game and we're looking positive in that," said Harmanpreet, who knows the city well after her stint with Sydney Thunder in the Women's Big Bash League.

"We are a side that can put pressure on any team, we just look to stay in the right mindset and play in the way we can because that is our biggest strength."

"In sport, sometimes you are in good form and others you are not. I know that everyone playing in this tournament will look to be positive, and that is good for our team," she added.

With less than two days remaining for their clash against Australia at the Sydney Showground, Harmanpreet said a slow track and a huge Indian diaspora augurs well for her side.

Kenin loses to Rybakina on WTA return

AFP ■ DUBAI

Sofia Kenin lost her first SWTA match since winning the Australian Open earlier this month as she went down 6-7 (2/7), 6-3, 6-3 to Elena Rybakina on Tuesday at the Dubai Championships.

American Kenin played a pair of non-Tour Fed Cup matches immediately after her Melbourne win over Garbine Muguruza, who cut short Kim Clijsters' comeback on Monday.

The 21-year-old went down in just over two hours to her 19th-ranked opponent who stood 192nd in the world a year ago.

"There's a bit more pressure coming from my side

(after first Grand Slam win). But I've just got to try to manage it for the next tournaments," said Kenin. "I just didn't feel my game really well. I just made too many unforced errors, I didn't take my chances. I felt really off the whole match."

Kazakh Rybakina won the Hobart title in January and reached the final last weekend in St Petersburg.

"I prepared with good practice. I didn't expect that I would win. I tried to do my best," she said.

"I wasn't nervous (after flying here from Russia) at all because I knew it's going to be tough. I didn't think about that she just won the Australian Open, I know that now everyone can beat everyone," she added.

Seventh seed Aryna Sabalenka set up a potential quarter-final clash with world number two Simona Halep after seeing off Greek Maria Sakkari 6-2, 4-6, 6-1.

ISHANT, SHAW TO PLAY IN 1ST TEST

PTI ■ WELLINGTON

India captain Virat Kohli on Wednesday dropped enough hints to indicate that seniormost pacer Ishant Sharma and young opener Prithvi Shaw will be in the playing XI for the first Test against New Zealand at Basin Reserve.

If India's net session on Wednesday is taken into consideration, Wriddhiman Saha is starting as the wicketkeeper ahead of Rishabh Pant for the series opener beginning tomorrow.

Hanuma Vihari, team's designated No 6 batsman for away Tests, will be the fifth bowling option with Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammed Shami and Ishant being three specialist pacers.

Ravichandran Ashwin is in the mix for the lone specialist spinner's spot though Ravindra Jadeja's all-round skills can't be ignored either.

Ishant, who was out for three weeks with ankle injury sustained during the Ranji Trophy game, bowled full tilt at the nets and even earned appreciation for troubling batsmen with his pace and bounce.

"He (Ishant) looked pretty normal and pretty similar to what he was bowling before the ankle injury. He is hitting good areas again and he has played (Test cricket) in New Zealand couple of times, so his experience will be useful to us. It was really good to see him bowling with pace and in good areas," Kohli said during media interaction.

The skipper also said in as many words that the team wouldn't like to change Shaw's natural stroke-play which was a good enough hint that Shubman Gill will have to warm the benches for now.

"Prithvi is a talented player and he has his own game and we want him to follow his instincts and play the way he does. Look, these guys have no baggage and are not desperate to perform in any manner," the skipper said.

The skipper wants Shaw to take a leaf out of Mayank Agarwal's performance in Australia back in 2018-19 when he hit back to back half-centuries in Melbourne and Sydney.

"They don't have any nerves to do well overseas. Like a clear head with which Mayank played in Australia, Prithvi can do the same in New Zealand.

"A bunch of guys playing with fearlessness, something that can motivate the whole team, gives us start that the team wants and not get intimidated by the opposition in any way."

The skipper downplayed India's below-par show in the three-match ODI series, especially that of Agarwal.

"Prithvi, I think you can call him relatively inexperienced and Mayank, I wouldn't call him that inexperienced because he has scored a lot of runs last year. So he understands what his game is like in Test cricket.

"I think sometimes in white ball cricket we try to do too much but once you come into red ball cricket, you fall into that disciplined mode of batting, which obviously suits him much more at this stage."

While he didn't give an answer on the Saha-Pant debate, the burly Delhi keeper had precious little to do at the main nets and was seen spending more time doing his keeping drills and only got an opportunity to bat when the first team completed its routines.

New Zealand are likely to go with an all-pace attack but the Indian captain wants to stick to his team's strengths which is play with one spinner in the four-pronged bowling attack.

"If it had been a Johannesburg pitch, I could have said it's a possibility (to play four pacers) but our team has that skill that we can bowl out other teams with only three fast bowlers," he sounded confident.

"But you need one world class skillful spinner, who can take wickets on any pitch. We won't copy the home team. We would rather figure out what is the most lethal combination, which gives us balance," he added.

"As a bowling group it's better than the one that came to NZ last time and that is why we have got so many teams all out in last two and half years. We would like to repeat that here also," Kohli added.

Will play all formats for at least 3 more years: Kohli

Virat Kohli attempts to take catch during India's practice session ahead of 1st Test BCCI

PTI ■ WELLINGTON

India captain Virat Kohli is preparing himself for a "rigorous three years" of playing all three formats after which he might reassess his workload amid a "transition phase" setting in.

The world's premier batsman is looking at the "bigger picture" in Indian cricket with two T20 and one 50-over World Cup in the next three years after which he might decide on playing two of the three formats.

"My mindset is on the bigger picture as I prepare myself for a rigorous three years from now and after that we might have a different conversation," Kohli replied when asked if he is having second thoughts about quitting at least one format after the 2021 World T20 in India.

"It's not a conversation you can hide away from in any manner. It is around eight years now that I have been playing 300 days a year, which includes travelling and practice sessions. And intensity is right up there all the time. It does take a toll on you," the Indian captain was forthright in his reply.

The skipper understands his presence and peak performance is crucial till the 2023 World Cup after which he understands that the next phase of transition will set in.

"I can keep going on with the same intensity and also understand that the team wants a lot of my contribution in the next two to three years, so that I can ease into another transition that we faced five-six years ago," he said referring to the retirements of Sachin Tendulkar, Rahul Dravid and VVS Laxman.

Ishant adds new dynamic to Indian bowling attack: Taylor

PTI ■ WELLINGTON

A fit-again Ishant Sharma will add a fresh dimension to India's bowling attack, says seasoned New Zealand batsman Ross Taylor, who foresees trouble for his team if focusses only on tackling Jasprit Bumrah during the upcoming Test series.

Taylor is only two days away from becoming the first cricketer to play 100 games across formats. Less than three weeks away from his 36th birthday, he has already competed in 231 ODIs and 100 T20s.

"I think if we just look at Bumrah, we are in trouble. I think their whole bowling line-up is fantastic. Obviously, Sharma coming back will bring new dynamics to the team," Taylor told reporters.

Ishant is returning to the Indian squad after recovering from an ankle injury sustained during a Ranji Trophy clash last month.

"They have got a world-class batting line-up as well and we have to get through that. But they are the No 1 team in the world for a reason and we know we have to be on our game to be successful against them," he added.

HENRY CALLED AS WAGNER'S COVER

WELLINGTON: New Zealand on Wednesday called in pacer Matt Henry for the first Test against India as cover for Neil Wagner, who is awaiting the birth of his first child.

Wagner is among New Zealand's senior pacers alongside Trent Boult and Tim Southee. The left-arm fast bowler has an impressive record in Tests, having taken 204 wickets in 47 games at an average of 26.63.

"Neil Wagner will not be joining the squad in Wellington ahead of the first Test as he and his wife Lana await the birth of their first child. Wagner will remain in Tauranga until the birth. Matt Henry joins the squad tonight as cover," the Black Caps tweeted.

Though Kyle Jamieson is in line to make a Test debut, Henry, who has played 12 Tests and 52 ODIs, is also in the mix.

Test C'ship pinnacle of all ICC tourneys

WELLINGTON: India captain Virat Kohli on Wednesday rated the World Test Championship as the biggest among all the ICC events in the wake of revelations that the game's governing body is planning to have more flagship white ball tournaments during the next eight-year cycle from 2023-2031.

According to ICC's proposed 2023-2031 Future Tours Programme (FTP) cycle, a proposed T20 Champions

Cup is earmarked for 2024 and 2028 and an ODI Champions Cup in 2025 and 2029, alongside the T20 World Cups in 2026 and 2030, and the ODI World Cups in 2027 and 2031.

"I think World Test Championship as an ICC tournament should be right up there. All the other tournaments for me they start under that. This is probably the biggest of them all as every team wants to make it to the final at the Lord's. We are no different.

"We are in that zone. We want to make sure that we qualify as soon as we can and be in that frame of mind to hopefully win that (championship)," said the Indian skipper ahead of first Test against New Zealand.

Kohli has no doubts that World Test Championship has added a context to the traditional format making the contests more exciting with points on offer.

"It has made Test cricket more exciting and that's something we have experienced as a side although we haven't had too many games away from home. Couple of games in the West Indies and we haven't had a tour of Australia as a part of Test Championship. This is our first away tour since the start of home season," said Kohli.
