The change of guard at the ITI Police Station in New Delhi has coincided with the return of the normlessness in the crime-ridden areas of North-east district in the national Capital. Street vendors, hawkers and petty traders functioning and patrolling have encouraged young people to move about in essential supplies such as milk, vegetables, bakery items and newspapers using private vehicles on the road.

Newly-appointed DSP Pradeep Singh, who is a pro-activist, has said that the people he is patrolling have been providing the police with all the necessary help to maintain law and order in the area. The officers are often asked by the public to analyze the reasons behind the increase in crime in the area.

All the peace committees and the other paramilitary forces that have been deployed have been in a state of lockdown. The police have been patrolling the streets every day, which has been helping the people and maintaining law and order for them, said the DSP.

He has asked his team to continue functioning for the betterment of the people and maintain law and order in the area.

Cloud of uncertainty over Olympic Games in Japan

The fate of world’s biggest sporting event, the Olympic Games, hangs in the balance as Japan’s government has announced that the Games, which is scheduled to start on July 24 and end on August 9, will proceed without foreign spectators.

A day after Friday’s notes on the Games were leaked to international media, the motive was to attract attention to the Games in India and to draw attention to the security situation.

India’s economic growth rate, which has been affected by the coronavirus pandemic, is predicted to be lower than expected. The government has already announced that the Indian economy will grow at a rate of 6.5 per cent in the fiscal year 2020-21, which is lower than the 7.5 per cent growth rate predicted earlier.

Three years after the Supreme Court’s historic verdict, the Centre has failed to implement the recommendations of the seven-member panel appointed by the court. The panel had recommended that the SC/ST reservation be abolished in all sectors.

The violence in Delhi brought forth many things including wall paintings in Dehradun. It brought to light how unequal and unjust the society is. This report contains the result of the real problems that have come up in society for decades.

The author(s) are also highlighting biases towards certain groups and have presented a distorted picture. There is much evidence that could support the black spin on the facts.

The author(s) believe that this is the time to shift focus from the real problems and its effects especially through the social media.

As a result, various factually correct stories are smothered by many inaccurate stories that have flooded the social media. However, this makes it very difficult for the media to highlight on all the facts especially since we have often proven ourselves to be lacking in maturity needed to acknowledge facts with a cool head.

The author(s) add that this is not really the time to elicit focus and its effects, especially through the media.

The author(s) present through visual shows using technology. The pilgrims visiting the Haridwar Kumbh Mela 2021, the officials and members of the Akhada Parishad, Haridwar SDM Rajvir Singh, and Dr. Rajesh Bhandari were present.

These and other stories will be presented. For example, the story of the Ganga and Kumbh Mela.

Ktka CM calls Centre for notification on river water share

PTI

Karnataka Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa on Friday had the notification, allowing the state to draw 13.42 TMC of water from the Mahadayi river, which has been a bone of contention between Karnataka and Goa.

The notification was issued on Thursday by the Supreme Court

Chief Minister said.

The notification came a week after the Chief Minister had sought an order allowing the application filed by the state to draw water from the Mahadayi river.

According to the agreement signed between the two states, the bulk of the river's water is drawn by Goa, leaving very little for Karnataka. However, in recent years, Karnataka has been drawing a substantial amount of water from the Mahadayi, which has led to a dispute between the two states.

The notification allows Karnataka to draw 13.42 TMC of water, which is less than the 15 TMC that Karnataka had been claiming.

The Chief Minister had said earlier that if the Centre does not allow Karnataka to draw water from the Mahadayi, he would take the matter to the Supreme Court.

He had said that the Centre should also consider the state's claims to the river's water, which he said were based on historic rights.

Karnataka has been drawing water from the Mahadayi for many years, but Goa has been opposing it, citing the 1975 treaty between the two states.

The notification is likely to be challenged by Goa in the Supreme Court, which is scheduled to hear the case on Monday.

The Pioneer group is expanding its umbrella of connecting with thinking minds through live talks. Called The Pioneer Agenda series, we hope to generate awareness on ideas that will shape India in 2030 and could be a template for policy-making. The first such dialogue, Exotica Tourism Summit, Exotica being the group’s travel and wellness magazine, was held at Shangri-La hotel, New Delhi on February 26. Since tourism is poised to become a major growth driver and employment generator of the economy, the day-long event had interactive sessions with Union Ministers, industry heads, travel operators, tourism boards, the hospitality sector and brand creators.

H ow do we expand the horizons of our experiences to inspire the traveller to keep coming back? How do we nurture the best ideas and turn them into contemporary sentiments? How do we customise tours to make new memories? How has theme travel changed the way we live and think? These were some of the questions that the catalyst of Indian tourism, Aman Nath, Maha Sharma, Sumitra Senapaty, Arup Bhaty and Sandeep Shah of the last session of the Exotica Tourism Summit.

DON’T LET HISTORY BECOME A BYGONE

Historical architect and writer Aman Nath is the co-founder and creative director of the Neemrana Group. Since 1991, the company has built up an empire of 30 properties in 18 states of India. He was joined by co-founder, Shilpa Sharma, who is today credited for pioneering themed hotels.

Both are today credited for pioneering restoration-for-reuse, “he said.

“IT was a dream that I had since childhood. One day, while I was looking into the past, I heard stories about the glorious past of India. The architecture in every state varied just like the food. The idea was to make journeys of orientation, rebuilding and revitalisation of rural architectural wonders and offer unique accommodation options. It was to turn urban scenes into mainstream assets, which nobody looked at and which could contribute to society. The term sought equals the term heritage, and it can actually create a habitat in the wilderness. Now, there are rest places and you also use it in a way that it sympathises itself. What you know as the Neemrana Fort Palace Dbullsagar highway – actually a 10th century heritage hotel. We have a historic 700-year-old property as the Hill Fort, Kangra in Nainital. All efforts have been made to maintain the old charm of the palace. We have come to associate with the changes in history since the 10th century. Then we have the Bungalow in the last session of the Exotica Tourism Summit.

During the event, the couple discussed how they should invite some more people, locals of various countries and other states in India. “It gives you the chance to think on your feet for all to see. It’s not the opportunity for any travel. It is comforting because being in a group you get a sense of safety. We do travel every year over 50 destinations. These destinations range from Rishikesh to Amritsar and beyond. Future plans include the Arctic circle, Greenland and Antarctica. For me, it started when I was out, there were women who asked me if I travel. This is a lovely concept! But we will get back to you after the weekend. I would like to discuss it with my family and see what happens. Hopefully, they never get back the family and why are you going with them? Why not us? Indeed, later, woman did come back. And how?"
