India paying price for not sending Muslims to Pak: Giriraj Singh

The "remarkable" decrease in the number of ration cards between 2016 and 2018 in states with a large Muslim population is not due to the policies of the central government, Giriraj Singh has said.

"The fact is, the states of India have been roads for the economic progress of the country. The central government has kept the interest of the country at the forefront," he added.

A Chinese conundrum

As that nation catches a cold, the world solves. But the virus spread has led to a crawling structural backspace too.

The effects of Coronavirus, now called COVID-19 by the World Health Organization (WHO), has led to a surge of containment measures, including social distancing and self-quarantine. The virus has spread across the world, causing a global pandemic that has claimed thousands of lives and disrupted economies. The measures taken by China to contain the virus have been praised, but other countries have been criticized for their response.

In India, the government has imposed a strict lockdown to control the spread of the virus. The lockdown has been extended multiple times, and the country is currently in its second phase. The government has also taken several other measures, including禁止 foreign tourists, musicals, and dramas, to curb the spread of the virus. However, some experts argue that more measures are needed to control the spread of the virus.

The government has also faced criticism for its response to the March 2020 elections, which were postponed due to the pandemic. The polls were scheduled to be held in April, but the government announced a one-month lockdown to control the spread of the virus. The elections were postponed to June, but the situation improved, and the polls were held.

India hitting US ‘very hard’ on trade, says Trump

WASHINGTON

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his US counterpart Donald J. Trump are likely to have one-on-one talks on the sidelines of the upcoming G-20 Summit in Osaka, Japan, in June, according to a senior official from the US administration. This is likely to be the third such meeting between the two leaders since the US President had invited Modi to the US for a ‘great rally’ in Colorado on September 22, 2019. The two leaders also met on the sidelines of the World Economic Forum in Davos on January 22, 2020. On the second day of his US visit, Modi had gone to New York to address the UN General Assembly.

Trump, in a tweet on Saturday, conveyed his impression about India’s US trade deficit, which has jumped to a record high of over US $55 billion in the fiscal year 2018-19. India’s US trade deficit is over US $55 billion, the US President said.

Trump said: “India is hitting US ‘very hard’ on trade, very unfair trade deals, and the US has a massive US $51 billion trade surplus with India.” He added: “It’s been a very big advantage to us. It’s been very good for us. But we want to get a fair trade deal. We are ready to do it, and we get far better deals than we get from China.”

Trump’s remarks came after he had tweeted on Saturday that Indian goods and services are “tremendously unfair” to the US.

India has been a top export destination of the US. American companies have also made considerable investments in India.

Trump had also said that he had been trying to get a trade deal with India “for a long time.”

The US President also tweeted that he had asked “our very capable negotiators” to look into getting a deal with India on “intellectual property and digital services.” He also mentioned in the tweet that he had asked India to reduce the “tremendously unfair” US $51 billion trade deficit.

Trump’s comments came as India’s trade deficit with the US touched a record high of US $55.3 billion in the fiscal year 2018-19, registering a rise of 38.56 per cent from the previous year’s US $39 billion.

India’s trade deficit with the US was US $43.9 billion in fiscal year 2017-18, US $32.3 billion in fiscal year 2016-17 and US $25 billion in fiscal year 2015-16.

India’s trade deficit with the US had been increasing consistently since fiscal year 2009-10.

India’s exports to the US had grown at a rate of 3.88 per cent to US $37.9 billion in fiscal year 2018-19, while imports from the US had grown at a rate of 41.87 per cent to US $93.2 billion in fiscal year 2018-19.

The US as a destination for India’s exports has been increasing consistently since fiscal year 2014-15, when it had occupied the fifth position in the list of India’s major export destinations.

On the imports side, the US had been India’s largest destination for imports since fiscal year 2002-03.

Nithiin has been waiting for this big break to have any success for the last couple of years, especially after his last film tanked. He kept pushing all hopes on Bheeshma and was waiting before committing to the film. Lord willing if this film grosses Venky Kudumula and Nithiin another hit.

Bheeshma is a basic romantic love story with a strong undercurrent of organisational and political dramas. It is a film that stands out over using chemicals in farming. Bheeshma Organic and Field Science are rival companies and its fight romantic love story with a Techno-comedy director Venky Kudumula and Nithiin.
