Indians on quarantined ship send SOS to PM

“Save us asap asks one; 160 crew members, 8 passengers on ship off Japan

PTI/ NEW DELHI

A total of 1,058 Indians, who were among 3,700 passengers on board a cruise ship quarantined off Japan due to diagnosis of coronavirus cases, sent an SOS appeal to Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday night, saying they are under quarantine and cannot get food and medicine.

“Please send us as many medical professionals as possible to take care of those sick among us. Please bring back home safely," Indians on board from India said in a letter.

The Indian Embassy in Tokyo on Monday reviewed the situation after a meeting with officials of the ship. "Many Indian crew & Indian passengers are on board. The Indian government is working to ensure the safety & security of all Indians on board. It is currently under quarantine," the embassy added.

UP Housing Board to bring down cost of 11,000 flats

The UP Housing Board has decided to reduce the price of 11,000 single-bedroom flats by up to 30%, as per reports.

A spokesperson for the Housing Development and Urban Renewal Authority of Lucknow said, “The decision has been taken to expedite the sale of the flats and to provide affordable housing to the urban poor.”

The flats are located in various areas of Lucknow and are part of ongoing projects. The cuts will be applied across the board to simplify the marketing strategy and clear outstanding stock.

The latest move forms part of the government’s strategy to increase the pace of housing development in Uttar Pradesh and make it more accessible to the masses.

Kerala Govt asked to reply on Maradu flat owners plea

Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan has stated that the SC verdict in the Maradu flats case had not come under the SC/ST Act and the literal word of any court cannot be the sole criterion for deeming an appeal as pending. The SC has said that the Maradu case is pending under the SC/ST Act and hence the Supreme Court has directed the Kerala government to file a reply on the Maradu flats case.

Modi to Rajapaksa: River Ganga at heart of Indian civilization, culture

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said that the Ganges was at the heart of India’s civilization, religion and culture, and expressed a desire to work together with Sri Lanka to ensure its rejuvenation, conservation and protection. He also commended the joint nationalistic effort by India and Sri Lanka in the conservation of the river, and said that the Ganges was a link between the two countries.

SC upholds constitutional validity of SC/ST Act 2018

The Supreme Court on Monday upheld the constitutional validity of the SC/ST Act 2018, saying agencies carrying out testing of migrant animals for blood banks could be included in a special category as migrants with special needs. The court also directed that the Centre should review the scheme to ensure that the benefits of the act are directed towards the genuine needs of migrants and that they are not used as a tool for exploiting the migrant community.

Detention of J&K Leaders under NDA: Several allegations and counter-allegations have been made against the leaders who were detained under the PSA and then shifted to the jail. The leaders have been accused of inciting violence and promoting separatism.

Omar’s sister moves SC, challenges his detention

New Delhi: Former Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister Omar Abdullah’s sister, Resham, has approached the Supreme Court seeking the quashing of the detenue order against her brother, who was earlier detained under the Public Safety Act (PSA). The petition is challenging the detention order passed against Omar Abdullah under the PSA and also sought his immediate release.

In her plea, Asia Bibi, daughter of late former Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh, has also sought the quashing of her detention order passed against her brother, who was detained under the PSA.

The Supreme Court is expected to hear the matter on Monday.

Ex-CJ: Enough protests held, solution can be found by constitutional means

Bhindargike: Undertaking that respect- ing and abiding by the Constitution is the myopic is perhaps the least important decision of the day. Not a single peaceful protest has been held on the outskirts of the CAA-NRC-NPR. It is not that the solution does not exist, there are absolutely two parallel forums which are not self-interested. The case exists in the Constitution.

Addressing the journalists, former CJI Gogoi said that a case was being made by the former Congress that there can be two parallel forums. He said that the Indian Constitution is not a document that can be interpreted in a very limited way.

“Neither the most important function of the Constitution, nor the growing needs of the society are being taken into account, he added.

Allahabad High Court dismisses plea against notices to protested against Allahabad High Court on Tuesday dismissed a petition challenging the notice to the ValueError Leader in Uttar Pradesh, challenging the CAA-NRC-NPR.

The petitioner had challenged a notice issued to his father, former Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh, on the grounds of violation of Articles 14, 21 and 25 of the Constitution. The petitioner had claimed that the notice was issued in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

However, the court noted that the petitioner had failed to establish any violation of the Constitution and hence dismissed the petition.

Akhilesh Yadav, the former leader of the Samajwadi Party, had challenged the notice on the grounds that it was issued in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

The court observed that the petitioner had failed to establish any violation of the Constitution and hence dismissed the petition.

Jeremy, the English Sanders, puts Johnson, Britain's mini-Trum, back in office. That's not the outcome the Democrats want in US polls

BY GYNEE DWYER

PROPHETIC — the statistical likelihood of elections in India and America is about 1 in 2. But if the 2017 polls in India were anything to go by, the outcome was a foregone conclusion: the writing was on the wall from the start. The July budget, the public sector disinvestment plan and the goods and services tax (GST) were the key initiatives that characterised the new government's first year. It is fair to say that the ruling party had a rather low bar to clear in terms of expectations for the 2017 elections. The recent polls seem to have confirmed this. The BJP-led NDA is expected to win an absolute majority in both the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha.

The BJP is in charge at the Centre with its allies, the Janata Dal-United and Rashtriya Janta Dal, while the Congress is the main opposition party. The BJP-led government has a majority of 282 seats in the Lok Sabha, while the Congress and its allies have 57 seats. The BJP-led government is expected to continue in power for the next five years. The upcoming budget, which is expected to be announced in February, will be a key factor in determining the government's popularity and its chances of re-election in 2022. The government's economic policies, including disinvestment and tax reform, are expected to be major areas of focus in the budget. The government is also expected to announce plans to reform the tax system and reduce the corporate tax rate. The government is also expected to announce plans to restructure the public sector and privatise some of the state-owned companies. The government is also expected to announce plans to improve infrastructure and boost investment in the economy.

Bad loans of PSBs shrinking: Sitharaman

India’s finance minister on Monday said that the bad loan Samarath embarked on in June last year had come down to 7.27% by September 2019, as the banks took a number of steps to improve the health of the banks over the last six months.

The government has initiated comprehensive reform steps to improve the health of the banking sector. The RBI last Tuesday published the Stability Report that the number of steps have been taken to address these and enabling of the authority component to take action in this regard through amendments and bringing NBFCs with an asset size of Rs 500 crore and above under IBC, Sitharaman said.

To address concerns due to frauds contributing to resolution in banks the Prevention of Corrupt Practices Act (PCPA) has been introduced comprehensively and amendment to the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1872 bringing NBFCs with an asset size of Rs 500 crore and above under IBC, Sitharaman said.

Barthes & Noble suspends reviews of classics with new images

Barnes & Noble is suspending reviewing classics with new images, leaving many readers disoriented. The move comes without much fanfare and with widespread criticism on social media.

The publishers of the renowned Classics Edition have released a statement about their review policy. Barnes & Noble has decided to suspend reviewing classic literature, aiming to redirect their focus on recent and contemporary works.

"We acknowledge the voices of our subscribers," the statement said, "and have decided to suspend the reviews on classic literature, with the aim to focus on contemporary works and to reflect the values of our time."

In response, numerous commentators have expressed their views on social media, highlighting the impact of this decision on the literary community and the importance of maintaining a diverse selection of classic literature.

"It is unfortunate that the publishers of Barnes & Noble have decided to abandon their commitment to classic literature," said a prominent literary critic. "This move sends a worrying signal about the future of classical studies and the value that society places on these works."

On the other hand, some readers have welcomed the change, citing the need for a fresh perspective in literature reviews.

"I think this is a good move," one of the readers said. "It is time for classic literature to be re-evaluated in the context of today's society."

The decision has sparked a heated debate among literary scholars, who argue that the suspension of reviews could have a negative impact on the study and appreciation of classic literature.

"It is crucial to maintain a connection with the classical past," said a notable scholar. "These works are the foundations of our literary heritage and understanding them is essential for a comprehensive understanding of our current culture and society."
