A crossing their threshold, it is not to be divided again, " he said.

"Fighting the thieves. Do not understand the reasons why they say this," he added. "The Government itself has to undertake the initiative in this context."

Expressing his views on the abrogation of the National Capital (Amendment) Act (2017), he said that it is not being done simply because the Constitution does not permit it, but because it is necessary in the interests of the country.

If you are ready to become a part of our pathos, you are also ready to become a part of our future. We have to strengthen the Constitution of the country, he said, and pointed out that the Constitution cannot be ignored.

"Our future parents and the generation which is the most vulnerable and the most at-risk need to wait till Holi before the showers in March-April. This is a clear indication of the fact that the time of the year is not normal," he added.

He also said that the government has to take steps to address the problem of drought, which is affecting several parts of the country.

Maha MLAs want all-party team to meet PM
Minister Narendra Modi to take a decision
Assembly speaker Nana Patole
Mumbai: The Speaker of the Maharashtra Assembly said on Saturday that an all-party delegation should be sent to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi to take a decision on the demand for a separate Census to determine the population of other backward classes (OBCs).

Yediyurappa led the all-party delegation to meet the Prime Minister. She said she would call on Modi, who is also the leader of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), to discuss the issue further.

The support of the Prime Minister is crucial for the state government to take an all-party decision on the demand for a separate Census to determine the population of OBCs.

The all-party delegation also included the leaders of the Congress Party, the Nationalist Congress Party (NCP), the Janata Dal (United) and the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP).

The delegation will also discuss the issue of the reservation of seats for the OBCs in the state assembly.

The government has been facing pressure to fulfill the demand of the OBC community for a separate Census to assess their population accurately. The OBC community accounts for around 20% of the state's population and has been demanding reservation in government jobs and education.

The issue has become more pressing with the upcoming state assembly elections in the state, where the government is likely to face strong opposition from the OBC community.

whereas the "powerful" situation cannot be allowed to continue. It may be recalled that on May 22, 1993, 50 people were killed and 2,000 injured. In the past, the "Saamana" editor-in-chief Prakash Ambedkar said that the Sena might oppose reservations to Muslims as set out in the 93rd Amendment. However, the HC bench had held that the reservation for Marathas in educational institutions and government jobs was not in accordance with the 93rd Amendment. In April 2018, the Bombay High Court had held that reservations for Marathas in educational institutions and government jobs were unconstitutional. That being the case, the Bombay High Court on Thursday upheld the previous directive. Thereafter, the Maharashtra government announced 16 per cent reservations for Marathas in educational institutions and government jobs.

The Ordinance 10/2013 (4 of 2013) has come into force which makes it obligatory for the State Government to give 12 per cent reservation to the Maratha community in Government jobs. Fiscal deficit touches 128.5% of GDP at Jan-end

The fiscal deficit touched 128.5% of GDP at the end of January, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Monday.

Several key indicators of the Indian economy in January showed a downturn, particularly in manufacturing and retail sales, which may indicate a slowdown in economic activity.

The government raised the fiscal deficit target for the current financial year to 128.5% of GDP from 103% expected earlier this year. The government expected a fiscal deficit of 8.3% of GDP in the financial year ending March 31.

The finance minister said the rise in the fiscal deficit was primarily due to lower tax revenues, which were not up tomark in January. She said the government was working on measures to boost tax revenues and improve the fiscal position.

She also said the government was reviewing all its tax policies, including corporate tax, to ensure they were in line with the government's economic goals.

TURKEY THREATENS EUROPE WITH REFUGEES

AP - REPEATEDLY TURKEY

The President of Turkey and Russia spoke over the phone on Friday, a day after Syrian government forces killed 33 Turkish troops, significantly increasing tensions between Ankara and Moscow. It was the largest death toll for Turkey in Syria since it first entered the conflict in 2016.

The development was the most serious escalation in the conflict between Turkey and Russia-backed Syrian forces and raised the prospect of all-out war with revolutionary Syrian troops in the near future. The establishment of a Syrian refugee camp in the middle

A new wave of refugees have been fleeing the violence in Russia's province of Idlib, blaming Syria's government for the attacks.

The development came as Turkey was preparing to increase its military presence in the area, with President Recep Tayyip Erdogan saying that his country would not abandon its allies in the Idlib region. He also accused Russia of failing to keep its promise to prevent such attacks.

Meanwhile, the death toll in the Idlib region has risen to 33, with more than 1,000 people injured in the fighting.

The situation is expected to worsen in the coming days, with more strikes expected from both sides.

The Turkish military has vowed to respond to any further attacks on its forces in Syria, with Erdogan saying that his country would take all necessary steps to protect its soldiers and civilians.

The Russian military has denied any involvement in the fighting and has accused Turkey of exaggerating the situation.

The ongoing conflict in Idlib has raised concerns about the stability of the entire region, with many fearing that it could spiral out of control and lead to a wider war in the Middle East.

The Pioneer group is expanding its umbrella of connecting with thinking minds through live talks. Called The Pioneer Agenda series, we hope to generate awareness on ideas that will shape India in 2030 and could be a template for policy-making. The first such dialogue, Exotica Tourism Summit, Exotica being the group's travel and wellness magazine, was held at Shangri-La hotel, New Delhi on February 26. Since tourism is poised to become a major growth driver and employment generator of the economy, the day-long event had interactive sessions with Union Ministers, industry experts, export operators, tourism boards, the hospitality sector and brand creators.

When recalling the past, we tend to imagine it as the heyday of a rich, diverse, and often romantic era. However, this view is far from the truth. In many places, the past was a time of hardship, struggle, and resilience. The stories of the past can be used to inspire and guide us in the present and future. In this context, the event aimed to provide a platform for experts to share their insights and experiences on how to leverage past lessons to shape the future of tourism.

Said he, “My love story with the sea began in 1998. A friend of mine, who was a sailor, introduced me to the world of cruising. From then on, I knew I wanted to be part of this world.”

When we talk about the past, we often think of it as a time of progress and innovation. However, the past was not always so rosy. In many places, the past was a time of struggle and hardship. The local economy has perked up too. “When we started this project, the village was largely dependent on farming. But now, with the arts and crafts festival, we have a constant stream of tourists, which has led to an increase in local income.”

There are many misconceptions and myths about the sea. The sea is often seen as a place of mystery and danger. However, the sea is also a source of beauty and wonder. Of heritage sites not only connect us to our cultural past but make our present more meaningful. We need to have a question that has come. How do we develop the heritage infrastructure and increase access to these sites? Patala Foundation chief Ravee Singh Ahluwalia, who has done pilot projects like introducing E-carts to encourage tourists, has an answer. At the Exotica Tourism Summit, the Pioneer media group has said he.

The foundation conducted heritage walks at unexplored sites of Punjab and has opted around ancient sites like Bahagpur. Ahluwalia proudly shared, “The new sites to 85 years ago, they are there from the time of the Harappan civilization. We also have Sultanpur Lodhi which is one of the Harappan civilizations. We also have Sultanpur Lodhi where the first guru of Sikhs was born. We recently did heritage sites in the city of Amritsar. We went there in September, 2018. It was really wonderful for both the Chief Minister.

When we went to various monuments, we saw that some of these sites were not even conserved properly. That would need a lot of intervention. So we thought of taking this initiative as a part of the project by generating a local economy around the site, and improvise. Our life has always been about preserving the heritage of the city. We have experimentally done pilot projects like introducing E-carts to encourage tourists, has an answer. At the Exotica Tourism Summit, the Pioneer media group has said he.
We left the airport through a veritable blaze of camera flashes from our society friends as we made our way to the nearby hired limousine vehicle, which was an impressive, mahogany-paneled, walnut-paneled, leather-paneled, and carpeted stretch limousine. The driver was an experienced chauffeur who knew the ins and outs of Jaipur's traffic patterns, and the limousine was equipped with the latest in entertainment systems, including a wireless internet connection, a high-definition television, and a personal audio system. The limousine drove us through the city's bustling streets, past the grand colonial buildings and the vibrant bazaars, with the driver deftly navigating the rush hour traffic.

We arrived at our hotel, the Taj Mahal Palace, a grand heritage property with a vibrant history of hosting royalty, nobility, and celebrities. The hotel was a triumph of classic Indian architecture, with its intricate marble work, richly decorated interiors, and opulent amenities. As we stepped out of the limousine, we were greeted by a welcoming committee led by the hotel's general manager, who introduced us to the hotel's executive chef, who would be preparing a sumptuous welcome dinner for us.

The dinner was a feast of traditional Rajasthani cuisine, with dishes like laal maas, gatta curry, and onion kachoris. The chef, a master of his craft, had prepared each dish with meticulous care, and the flavors were simply divine. We were stuffed to the brim, with a deep sense of satisfaction.

After dinner, we retired to our luxurious suite, where we were pampered with amenities like a personal butler, a state-of-the-art entertainment system, and a private gym. As we settled in for the night, we couldn't help but feel grateful for the experience of exploring Jaipur's rich cultural heritage and the splendor of its historic buildings.
