Monda evening will be a crucial day for both Sanhit and Delhi in its efforts to steel the Rajput River in a crucial and serious manner. The Congress party is leading the charge, with the opposition being in a battle to keep their control over the region.

A campaign has been launched to win the region, with the Congress and the AAP leading the charge. The AAP has been in power for the last five years and is trying to hold onto their gains.

The Congress party has been working hard to win back the region, with their candidate Sanhit being a strong contender.

The election results will be announced on Tuesday, and it will be interesting to see which party emerges as the winner.

Meanwhile, the situation on the ground continues to worsen. The river levels have risen significantly, and there are fears of flooding.

In other news, the Indian Railways have announced that all trains are running on time, despite the flooding. The railway service has been declared as 'normal' by the Indian Railways, and all trains are running as scheduled.

The news comes as a relief to the millions of passengers who were stranded due to the flooding. The Indian Railways have been working round the clock to ensure that all trains are running on time. The government has also declared a state of emergency in the affected areas.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has also announced that "all possible help will be provided to those affected by the floods." The government has announced a Rs. 500 crore relief package for the affected areas.

Jahkar daces Sukhbir to clear air regarding his bonding with Dera chief

Punjab Congress president Dushyant Chautala on Sunday accused former chief minister Sukhbir Singh Badal of having a “close” relationship with the Dera Sacha Sauda chief Gurmeet Ram Raonlas Gill, and was also seeking a Lokpal investigation into the issue.

The Congress chief had alleged the issue was brought to the Surface of the Constitution "because of his personal benefit, the media reports, or the party" and said he was "very worried about the whole situation".

Sukhbir Singh Badal, who joined the party in August 2007, is the son of the late former chief minister Parkash Singh Badal.

The issue was first thrown up in 2017 when the Punjab Assembly had passed a resolution to suspend the MLA forｍ for 18 days for alleged anti-national activities.

A number of incidents related to Dera and the Badals had also come to light. This included reports of the Badals being involved in money laundering, and the Dera's involvement in the real estate business.

The investigation had been ordered by the government and was being conducted by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the Income Tax Department (ITD).

A number of properties and financial transactions were being examined.

Jahkar daces Sukhbir to clear air regarding his bonding with Dera chief

President of the Punjab Congress, Dushyant Chautala, said on Sunday that his party was closely looking into the alleged relationship between Sukhbir Singh Badal and Dera chief Gurmeet Ram R. Singh.

He added that while the Congress was investigating the issue, it was also important to ensure that the party did not lose its identity.

Chaudhary Creation, a retail chain, has been named in a number of cases related to money laundering and other financial irregularities.

Dushyant Chautala also said that the Congress was looking into the matter and would take appropriate action as soon as the investigation was completed.

He added that the party was committed to maintaining its identity and would not allow anyone to compromise it.

"We are closely looking into the matter and will take appropriate action as soon as the investigation is completed," he said.

The president also said that the Congress would ensure that no one compromised the party's identity.

Hong Kong leader says virus situation critical, out of control

Police pulled pellets with bottles in Frankfurt clashes, 39 held

Berlin: German police officers said Sunday that after they had to break up a protest in the eastern city of Dresden, 39 protesters have been arrested.

The violence erupted Sunday in Dresden, a city of about 520,000 people in eastern Germany, where around 1,500 demonstrators had gathered to protest against the government’s lockdown measures to curb the spread of coronavirus.

Police said in a statement that the protesters had violated the government’s lockdown measures and that they had used tear gas to disperse the crowd.

At least nine people were injured, including a police officer who was hit by a stone.

Germany has recorded more than 2.5 million confirmed cases of COVID-19 and more than 92,000 deaths since the pandemic began in early 2020.

The German government has imposed strict lockdown measures to curb the spread of the virus, including widespread restrictions on social interactions, the closure of non-essential businesses and schools, and the requirement to wear masks in public spaces.

Police said they were still investigating the incident and that more arrests were possible.

On Sunday, police in Dresden said they had arrested nine people for violating the lockdown measures and that they had used tear gas to disperse the crowd.

The violence comes amid a growing public backlash against the government’s lockdown measures, which have been widely criticized for their economic impact and their impact on personal freedoms.

The German government has faced criticism for its handling of the pandemic, with some experts saying its lockdown measures have been too strict and others saying they have been too lenient.

CHINA'S AMBITIOUS BELT AND ROAD PROJECTS, INCLUDING THE CPC
Surgings attacks by Baloch separatists increase risks: Report

India to store crude oil in US

India plans to store its crude oil in US strategic petroleum reserves (SPR) in a bid to ensure energy security but also to hedge against a potential rise in oil prices. The plan is aimed at providing an option to India, which is the third-largest oil importer globally, to buy crude oil in the US market when prices are cheaper. The project will be implemented through a joint venture with the US government. The joint venture will be responsible for managing the storage facility.

The move is expected to provide India with flexibility in managing its energy security, particularly as it buys oil from different countries (such as Russia, the Middle East, and Latin America) to ensure a steady supply. The joint venture will be responsible for storing the oil in the US SPR, a move that will help in managing the volatility in oil prices.

India, according to the proposal, will invest $50 million in the joint venture and will have 29% of the equity, while the US government will hold 71% equity in the joint venture.

The joint venture will be responsible for the construction and operation of the storage facility, as well as managing the storage and handling of the crude oil. The storage facility will be located in the US Gulf Coast region, with the exact location to be determined by the joint venture.

The project is expected to be completed by 2023, with the joint venture responsible for managing the storage facility. The COVID-19 pandemic has brought a new way of living and economic change. This has affected the real estate sector, with people moving to smaller, more affordable homes to save on costs and to limit exposure to the virus. The trend towards downsizing and remote work has become more popular, leading to a shift in the real estate market. With the increase in remote work, home offices have become essential, and this has led to a greater demand for homes with dedicated spaces for work. This has further emphasized the importance of energy efficiency in homes, as people are now more conscious of their energy consumption. The trend towards downsizing and remote work has also led to a greater demand for homes with more outdoor spaces, as people are now more conscious of their health and well-being.
