Scindia shuns inertia, joins parivar

Jyotiraditya hits out at Cong in patting shot, says country secure in PM Modi's hands

DEEPAL KUMAR VARDHAN NEW DELHI

Shaking off his 18-year-long Congress legacy, Jyotiraditya Scindia, the Scindia Group’s elder son, a Congress leader turned Independent in Madhya Pradesh, has announced that he will be part of the “parivar” (family) as he joined the “very democratic” BJP, the party his grandfather, Madhya Pradesh’s former chief minister, Madhavrao Scindia had led before it fell to the “very undemocratic” INC.

The party announced him as one of the candidates from Madhya Pradesh for the upcoming Lok Sabha elections.

Nopadon Guda, an Independent MP from the Indian National Congress, who was in the Congress for 14 years, in 2018, from Guna, could not win with the new voters. Guna went back to the BJP in 2019, but Scindia’s party lost it to Congress. And that was the party's win in the 1999 election. When Rahul's government was formed in 2019, Scindia was perched on the enduring presence. He was said to be a political finisher.

But in the evening, when the lights of the party could not create the same power, the Congress leader’s party could not compare with the party’s government. So, Scindia was said to be thinking about taking a political finisher.

Central panel picked to pick two candidates for the March 20 elections. They are free to pick two seats in the State, a senior party leader said. The names of the candidates of the Congress Party (Guna), Pradeep Singh, both sitting Rajya Sabha members, were also figited in the list. The party’s panel of NEC (National Executive Committee) may have an exercise in the last of its kind. The task of the panel was to decide on the candidate for the Lok Sabha election.

On December 13, 2018, he resigned from the Congress and joined the BJP. It was the only way to secure the future of the party, and it was the only way to secure his future. So, he was securing his future by choosing the BJP.

DEEPAL KUMAR VARDHAN NEW DELHI

Rahul says, Jyotiraditya was the only chief who could end the movement. When the Congress chose to step down, he became the only chief who could stop the movement. Scindia used to assist the Congress in the Congress party for many years by putting in the Prime Minister’s name.

Scindia’s exit from Congress is not a sudden exit. Scindia has been a part of the party for a long time, and he was the only chief who could stop the movement. His exit was being awaited by the Congress.

The coronavirus, which is currently spreading across the world, has led to a significant number of deaths and cases. The virus has caused widespread panic and uncertainty, and the situation is expected to continue for some time. The virus is estimated to have infected over 11 million people worldwide, with over 650,000 deaths reported so far.

The United States, Brazil, and India are the countries with the highest number of cases. The virus has had a significant impact on global economies and societies, with many businesses closing and restrictions being imposed to control the spread.

Investors and businesses are concerned about the ongoing impact of the virus on global markets. Although there have been some positive signs, such as a decline in new infections in certain areas, there are still concerns about the long-term effects of the pandemic.

Governments around the world have been implementing measures to curb the spread of the virus, including lockdowns, social distancing, and vaccination campaigns. The effectiveness of these measures has been mixed, and there are still concerns about the rate of vaccination and the potential for variants to emerge.

The situation is expected to continue for some time, and the world will need to adapt to a new normal. The pandemic has highlighted the importance of preparedness and resilience, and there are ongoing efforts to address the challenges it has presented.

CM walks out of HP Assembly
CM says it did so in 'frustration over Scindia’s exit

The opposition Congress on Wednesday walked out from the Himachal Pradesh Assembly during the Budget session, following the chief minister’s reply on pay anomalies of outsource employees.

The Chief Minister informed the House, "Recruitment and promotion rules do not apply for outsourced employees as they are not Government employees. They are employees of service providers with whose agreements the Department has been made."

The Himachal Pradesh Government has promised to regularise them during its tenure of five years, but the outsource employees do not have monthly salary slips, the chief minister added.

Himachal Pradesh Government has promised to regularise them during its tenure of five years, but the outsource employees do not have monthly salary slips, the chief minister added.

Replying to it, Education Minister Suresh Bhardwaj said the present Congress Government had nothing to add regarding the outsource employees.

He added that the previous Congress Government when the chief minister held the post had walked out from the House on the same issue during the Budget session in the State Assembly, thus making the chief minister reach a conclusion that the issue of outsource employees is an internal matter of the government.

Since 2017, Thakur said, the staff of the House was frustrated by the latest occurrences of outsource employees.

There was a complaint of pay anomalies of outsource employees.

On being assured that the state government will ensure that the outsource employees are not exploited, the HP speaker said the issue has been raised in the past.

The Chief Minister, however, said the opposition was "frustrated" by the latest developments regarding the outsource employees.

The Congress legislators had walked out from the House when the chief minister held the previous Congress Government responsible for exploitation of outsourced employees.

To that, Thakur informed that during his tenure, the Congress Government did nothing to regularise outsourced employees.

"We have been made mandatory that the outsourced employees be provided maternity leave. It has also been made mandatory that the outsourced employees be provided monthly salary slips, the chief minister added.

He said the previous Congress Government did nothing to regularise them during its tenure of five years, but promised to do so eight days before the last Assembly elections in 2017.

Flight of fancy

Aerial mobility may be a solution to urban overcongestion but we should stop paying money in ill-conceived ideas

While planning for the Allied invasion of Europe in World War II, experts realized they had to continue testing actual-size models in a wind tunnel. Such testing could be expensive, but once the ground was clear, they weren’t as effective as plain-Jane Sherman tanks. This brings us to the idea of flying cars. Over the years, many firms and individuals have come up with feasible windshield-welding, see-through, ride-on roofs. But a flying car that can drive on the ground and still fly is a turbulent reality. It will need four wheels. And because they need to carry a human, rather be capable of carrying four people. The end product cannot be too small. At large commercial size, an aerodynamic design and a cutting-edge propulsion system will be required. But even then the flying cars have to be road legal. After all, it’s legal to drive on roads that are road legal. These cars, however, are expected to have some sort of prohibitive safety requirements, such as the ability to take off and land in a controlled manner, as well as the ability to maintain a controlled flight path. It’s important to note that these cars will not be able to fly very far or very high. In general, they are expected to be able to travel at speeds of up to 100 miles per hour and have a ceiling of about 500 feet. The capabilities of these cars will depend on the specific design and technology used. But it’s clear that flying cars have the potential to revolutionize urban transportation, making it more efficient and convenient for people in the future.

Tribute match hanging in the balance

For Spanish football,

A tribute match in memory of former Valencia CF player Francisco Gabilondo was scheduled to be held on Sunday, but the game has been postponed due to a positive coronavirus test among the players. The match was going to be played at the Mestalla Stadium and was expected to be attended by around 6,000 fans.

Tribute match was to be held in the presence of several former players and officials of Valencia CF. The game was being held as a tribute to Francisco Gabilondo, who passed away last year.

The decision to postpone the match was taken after a positive coronavirus test was reported among the players. The Spanish Football Federation (RFEF) has confirmed that the game has been postponed and a new date will be announced later.

No fans allowed in Indian Open

The Badminton Association of India (BAI) has decided not to allow any spectators to attend the upcoming India Open tournament due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

The tournament, scheduled to be held from 24-29 March 2020, is part of the BWF World Tour 300 series and was going to be held at the KD Singh Stadium in New Delhi.

BAI officials have stated that the decision was taken after careful consideration and in line with the guidelines issued by the Indian government.

The tournament, which was going to host some of the top players in the world, was expected to attract a large number of spectators.

However, the BAI has decided to forgo the tournament proceedings to ensure the safety of all those involved.

The tournament was going to be held as planned at the KD Singh Stadium in New Delhi, but without any spectators.

Many top players such as Saina Nehwal, PV Sindhu, and Carolina Marin had already registered their interest in participating in the tournament.

The BAI has also announced that the tournament will be held as a precautionary measure and that any other major events held in India will also be held without spectators.

The BAI has stated that the decision was taken in consultation with the Indian government and the Badminton World Federation (BWF).

The Indian Open has been held annually since 2014 and is one of the most prestigious tournaments in the country.

The Indian Open has produced some of the best performances in recent years, with some of the top players in the world competing for the title.

Despite the lack of spectators, the tournament is expected to attract a lot of media attention and will be broadcast live on various channels.

The BAI has also announced that all the necessary precautions will be taken to ensure the safety of all those involved.
