GOVT, PRIVATE OFFICES CAN OPEN FROM TODAY

Although GIHS has been a major push for social and health reforms, its main focus is on improving the quality of life for people in the country. However, it appears that the government is currently taking a different approach, focusing on the opening of private offices and the creation of new jobs in the hospitality sector. This decision is likely to have a significant impact on the country's economy, as it will create new opportunities for people who have been affected by the pandemic. However, it is important to ensure that these new jobs are safe and offer fair compensation to workers. The government should also consider the potential environmental impact of opening new offices and hospitality services.

Mango growers find lockdown sour

The nationwide lockdown due to Covid-19 has not proved to be costly for mango farmers in the state. But with no major tourist locations and local port- lation, unseasonal rains, relocation of mango market from Gaddi to Hyderabad, the medium to large size mangoes are hardly selling. Offers are being given by the mango growers to the local retailers.

Hyderabad: Mangoes both in town and in rural areas of Telangana are not selling well due to lockdown and the mango market in the Gaddi is just two km away. It has to be transitioned to something else, officials said. mango market in the Gaddi is just two km away. It has to be transitioned to something else, officials said.

For about a week of the clamping of the lockdown, the above about the facts of the thousands of migrants on the roads connecting several rural Telangana districts. Villagers were allowing them to cross their place but they were not taking their pains which they consider as family members but could not take them past their towns which they passed during the last one month and they were offering food uninterruptedly for the migrant families and taking care of them in their place. Every day on an average, the charity groups spread across the state government to provide medical assistance instantly. The division bench suggested to the contractors at the check-post where they were stopped by the authorities. The migrants started to grow more in the thousands of families. A decision was taken and the families of migrant workers began to do the same thing. The migration began, initially with the sending of migrants to their home states such as Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh. The migrants began to grow more and more and many were travelling from states likeChhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Bihar, and almost a similar number from the other states. The migrants are working round the clock packing their belongings. The contractors are also seen running from pillar to post to get a pass from the collectors. The tens and hundreds of migrant workers are ready to pay the bribes. The workers were not sitting any at the district collectorate and a link was tagged to the concerned officials for the unfamilial clouds to clear. They had hoped that the contractors could provide them in place, to continue their back-breaking job. They had also hoped that the contractors on whom they had relied upon would take their pains to provide them food and better living conditions. But all this seems and almost a similar number says that as a family, the kids were not even allowed to meet each other, and look at the wistful eyes. Social distancing meant nothing to the kids, and being curious, like all children are, they were also interacting with each other, the elders stopped trying to dissuade them. Raji and Sonu are three children from Maharashtra whose fate.

PETA India urges Assam govt to ban cruel methods for killing male chicks

PETA India

PETA India has urged the Assam government to implement the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (PCP) Act, 1960, over the killing of millions of male chicks in the state. The NGO has raised concerns about the suffering of these birds, which are killed for their feathers, eggs, and meat.

The Issue

PETA India has learned that millions of male chicks are killed in Assam for their feathers, eggs, and meat. These birds are subjected to cruel methods of killing, including being plunged into liquid nitrogen, electrocution, and being clubbed to death.

The Call

PETA India is calling on the Assam government to immediately ban the killing of male chicks and ensure they receive humane care and treatment. The NGO has written to the chief minister and the minister of animal resources development, demanding action to prevent the cruelty.

The Need for Action

Male chicks are killed in large numbers for their feathers, eggs, and meat. This cruel practice causes immense suffering to the birds and highlights a lack of regulation and enforcement of existing laws. PETA India is urging the government to take immediate action to protect these animals.

There have been several cases of rape survivors turning hostile during trial, mostly due to social stigma and family pressure. However, justice is now being delivered despite such hiccups, thanks to the increased use of DNA evidence.

SHALINI SAKSENA and MUSHA HAMSHI tell you more

Every fourth rape victim across the country in 2019 was a minor, the latest National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data states. There were a mere 14 per cent minors among the registered cases, and of these, only 3.7 per cent were below six years, 6.0 per cent between six and 12 years and 4.3 per cent below 12 years. A 2018 report by the National Human Rights Commission found that in 2017, 32,559 rape cases were registered in the country, with an average of 89 rapes daily. In 2018, 51.9 per cent rape victims were below 18 years, 18 per cent above 30 and 0.2 per cent below six years, 18 per cent above 30 and 45 and below 60 years and 0.2 per cent above 60 years.

Chandra Suman, Child Rights Lawyer says that forensic DNA testing is an appreciable step. However, the report itself may be an indicator that the collection of DNA samples from rape survivors is still inadequate.

According to him, there is nothing much about the collection of DNA samples from rape survivors. A point to keep in mind is that that one must not mistake investigating with conviction. "Conviction without investigation is not possible," he says.

The police ask the survivor to give a sample through such tests in order to earn their trust in the society. It can be because of the possibility to prove their innocence. But, even if the DNA test is done, the sample remains unauthentic and unreliable because of the absence of corroborative evidence and the absence of direct evidence. In such circumstances, the sample needs to be properly collected, handled and stored in the forensic laboratories. The police/forensic science laboratories need to be trained in the proper collection and handling of forensic DNA material is evident in police reluctance and handling of forensic DNA material is evident in police reluctance in the collection of samples when a suspect is caught and it matches, the sample is even better is that while initially DNA samples are collected from the literature and save valuable time by not questioning the witness in the sample. Here the investigative agency can move an application before the court providing the sample. Here the investigative agency can move an application before the court providing the sample.

Dr Indrajit Khandekar, a known forensic scientist and consultant and associate professor, Department of Forensic Medicine and Toxicology, Kasturba Hospital, Sevagram, says that "DNA evidence quickly, it will be ignoring the best forensic science laboratory. DNA evidence is used to track, not to prove a case. DNA evidence is used to track, not to prove a case. DNA evidence is used to track, not to prove a case. DNA evidence is used to track, not to prove a case. DNA evidence is used to track, not to prove a case." Khandekar tells you that the significant rise in DNA testing in India can be all tied to forensic science laboratories. Interestingly, the company had conducted the DNA tests for the conviction of the accused. The company had conducted the DNA tests for the conviction of the accused. The company had conducted the DNA tests for the conviction of the accused. The company had conducted the DNA tests for the conviction of the accused. The concept as such is based on the understanding that the symbolic imagery has a certain profoundness to it. It induces a state of concentration which, in itself, is depending on the specific situation and the psychological state of the individual. By using such imagery, one can achieve a certain level of self-awareness and personal growth. This can be applied to various situations, such as meditation, relaxation, or even treatment of certain psychological conditions.

In conclusion, the use of symbolic imagery in contextual meditation can provide a powerful tool for self-discovery and personal growth. It is important to choose the right imagery and to practice regularly in order to experience its full benefits.
It is the passion that is going to help us all sail through this storm, says GAURI CHAUDHARI, as she studies the market trends, lessons for and adaptability by the brands in the wake of Covid-19 pandemic.

Covid-19 has helped companies to unlock at their products and portfolios. Those who stay agile and go beyond the lockdown-induced approach to marketing and branding will be the ones who profit. It is crucial for any upcoming brand to ensure its growth stays on track and not be derailed by other companies going on a spree. The Covid-19 pandemic has taught the world the importance of expense and ensure portfolio and shared fit and quality, which, if not launched, it most strengthen the mother brand. It is a new brand, it should enhance the portfolio and leverage channel strength.

PACKAGING AND PROCESS

Covid-19 has increased for single- use packaging. So, reusable have to wait for a while. US National Health care set up with the help of national companies. Coca-Cola says nine out of 10 products will be returned in three days but only for a card. Would that make companies fast track and process in the face of consumer demand? There is a good chance that consumers will want goods that are packed in virus-unfriendly material.

Some brands have been Covid-19 situation to recalibrate their packs and socially relevant CCI guidelines. Will India it is made of. Will those who were busy promoting packed with virus-unfriendly material.

DAHI WADA
Continuing the conversation with us, Siddiqui mentions Dahi Wada, which is a regular dish consumed during the season of Ramzan. A street special mostly, it is a must-have, especially when breaking the fast. Make with gram flour (besan), fritters dipped in spicy yogurt, it’s garnished with chilies and served cold.

DAHI WADA RECIPE

WHAT YOU NEED?
- Urud Daal (Split Skinned Black Gram Lentils)
- Moong Dal (Split Yellow Moong Lentils)
- Yogurt
- Tamarind Chutney
- Mint Cilantro Chutney

HOW TO COOK?
- Wash and soak the urad dal overnight and grind to a fine paste by adding very little water. Beat the batter very well till light and fluffy. Add salt, baking powder and beat well again.
- Pre-heat oil in a deep frying pan, place a plastic sheet in your palm. Wet the plastic sheet and place a little batter and shape like a big lemon sized ball.
- Flatten the top of the ball with wet fingers and drop slowly into the hot oil. Deep fry on medium heat for sometime and then fry on low heat till golden brown. Remove these deep-fried vadas into a bowl of water and let them cool for 15-20 minutes. Keep them aside. Finish making vadas with the remaining batter and put them in water like you did for the earlier batch.
- Pass the yoghurt through a sieve to ensure that there are no lumps. Add in the sugar, salt and mix well.

SEMILYA JINGA FRY

WHAT YOU NEED:
- Prawns: 16 medium
- Vermicelli, crushed as required
- Garlic paste: 1 tsp
- Cumin powder: ½ tsp

HOW TO MAKE:
- Shell and deven the prawns keeping the tails intact. Make a slit on each prawn at one third distances from the head, bring the tail part and slide it till oil. Take all the prawns in a bowl. Add salt, garlic paste, cumin powder. Kashmiri red-chilli paste, leemom lemon juice and mix. Add half an egg and mix.
- Roll the marinated prawns in crushed vermicelli so that they are well coated. Keep in the refrigerator for about half an hour.
- Heat sufficient oil in a Kadai on medium heat. Slide the prawns one by one into the hot oil and deep fry till golden brown. Drain and place on an absorbent paper.
- Serve hot.

NALLI NIHARI

INGREDIENTS:
- 1 kg mutton, (8-10 pieces)
- Ghee/crushed butter: 4 tbsp
- 2 medium onions, finely sliced
- Ginger paste: 1 tbsp
- Garlic paste: 1 tsp
- Salt to taste
- Coriander powder: 2 tbsp
- Turmeric powder: ½ tsp
- Bengal gram flour: 3 tbsp
- Garam masala: 3 tbsp
- Lime juice: 1 tbsp
- Kashmiri red-chilli paste

METHOD FOR NIHARI:-
- Heat Ghee (you can use oil as well but ghee makes it tastier) in a deep bottom stock pot. Once the ghee is hot, add the sliced onions and fry till they start to turn brown.
- Add mutton pieces, ginger paste, garlic paste, coriander powder, turmeric powder and salt. Mix well to coat the mutton in ghee and spices. Sauté for 5 minutes.
- Add the nutri masala and 6 cups of water. Mix well, cover and cook on very low heat for about 4 hours until the meat is tender. Keep checking in between. The way to know that the meat is cooked is when it breaks easily with a wooden spoon.
- Dissolve wheat flour in half cup of water such that there are no lumps. Slowly add it to the gravy. Stir to mix it well in the gravy and let it simmer for another 10-15 mins till the gravy thickens.
- Sprinkle some lime juice and garnish with ginger strips, and fresh coriander leaves. Serve hot. (With Shrimla)

HYD KHICHDI AND KHATTA

WHAT DO YOU NEED?
- Curry leaves: 2 springs
- Ghee/clarified butter: 1 tsp spoon.
- Red chilli: 3 numbers.
- Coriander seeds: 1 tsp
- Mustard seeds: 1 tsp
- Onion sliced: 1 number
- Green cardamoms: 5-6
- Fennel seeds: 2 tsp
- Black peppercorns: 8-10
- Cumin powder: ½ tsp
- Grated nutmeg: 1/4 tsp
- Black cardamoms: 2
- Salt to taste
- Cinnamon stick: 1
- Turmeric powder: 1/2 tsp
- Coriander powder: 2 tsp
- Rooftop: 1 number
- Urad Dal (Split Skinned Moong Lentils)
- Sesame seeds: 100 gms
- Sesame seeds: 100 gms
- Mint Cilantro Chutney
- Mint Cilantro Chutney
- Tamarind juice: 1 cup
- Lime juice: 1 tbsp
- Garlic paste: 1 tsp
- Salt: to taste
- Coriander powder: 2 tbsp
- Turmeric powder: 1/2 tsp
- Bengal gram flour: 3 tbsp
- Garam masala: 3 tbsp
- Lime juice: 1 tsp
- Kashmiri red-chilli paste

METHOD FOR NIHARI:-
- Heat Ghee (you can use oil as well but ghee makes it tastier) in a deep bottom stock pot. Once the ghee is hot, add the sliced onions and fry till they start to turn brown.
- Add mutton pieces, ginger paste, garlic paste, coriander powder, turmeric powder and salt. Mix well to coat the mutton in ghee and spices. Sauté for 5 minutes.
- Add the nutri masala and 6 cups of water. Mix well, cover and cook on very low heat for about 4 hours until the meat is tender. Keep checking in between. The way to know that the meat is cooked is when it breaks easily with a wooden spoon.
- Dissolve wheat flour in half cup of water such that there are no lumps. Slowly add it to the gravy. Stir to mix it well in the gravy and let it simmer for another 10-15 mins till the gravy thickens.
- Sprinkle some lime juice and garnish with ginger strips, and fresh coriander leaves. Serve hot. (With Shrimla)

MENT FOR GARAM MASALA:-
- Cumin seeds: 1 tbsp
- Fenugreek seeds: 2 tbsp
- Dry ginger: 1 tsp
- Green cardamoms: 5-6
- Black cardamoms: 2
- Cloves: 4-5

HOW TO MAKE?
- Heat a pan and add mustard seeds, cumin seeds, red chilly, ginger garlic paste, curry leaves, chopped coriander, mix it.
- Pour this into the mixture and add salt, mix well and serve it.

WHAT DO YOU NEED?
- Mustard seeds: 1 tsp
- Coriander seeds: 1 tsp
- Red chilli: 3 numbers.
- Baking powder: 1/2 tsp
- Salt: to taste
- Water: 1/2 cup

Very timid, curious guy…

I was born in Piduguralla in Guntur district of Telangana. I had a dedicated cousin for sports. I was brought up in cricket, volleyball, and badminton. As a kid, I got myself into a private school that focused on getting children ready for the professional world. From the age of eight, I used to be interested in cricket, I used to watch average movies, but whenever I used to have fun watching movies, I used to be interested in cricket. I was a very timid but curious kid.

We met outside the campus for the first time, and we became best friends. He is a great person to strike a conversation with, in terms of playing games and having a great time. We used to do a lot in the Old City in Saidabad. We used to be interested in cricket, football, and cricket. He is a very timid but curious kid.

Notorious thing I’ve done…

I once stole 2 Rs from my mother’s mangoes which I thought I had a right to. I thought I had a right to a snack. I stole 2 Rs from my mother’s mangoes which I thought I had a right to. I thought I had a right to a snack. I was a very timid but curious kid.

Was amazed by movies from childhood…

We used to have DD at home. Every Sunday, the entire family would watch movies at home. I was moved by many of those performances by Chiranjeevi garu. I was always into sports back then. Schools and college folks often used to happen in terms of playing games and having a great time. We used to do a lot in the Old City in Saidabad. We used to be interested in cricket, football, and cricket. He is a very timid but curious kid.

Wanting to be a superstar, cricketer and an auto driver…

Growing up I wanted to be many things. I wanted to be a superstar, a cricket player, and a cricketer. I was always interested in sports. I watched cricket, football, and cricket. I was a very timid but curious kid.

People who have a background have it a little easier because of the added advantage they have in terms of exposure and accessibility. For us it took a lot of hard work and dedication to build a stage and creating those opportunities was a struggle.

Making short films…

I used to write and make my own short films with the help of my friends during my MA. My education has helped me and that was a big advantage. As a kid, I was always very curious and I have always been curious about the things that I used to do. I used to make a lot of short films, and make contents etc. They helped me hone my skills. When I wanted to be an actor, I felt people should see in a different way.

When people thanked me for my work…

Going to Sandalwood and getting my handprint in the cement in Lonavala. It was the happiest moment of my life.

Stereotyping in Telugu dialect…

I’m not a good actor, but I’m not a bad actor. I’m not a good actor, but I’m not a bad actor. I’m not a good actor, but I’m not a bad actor. I’m not a good actor, but I’m not a bad actor. I’m not a good actor, but I’m not a bad actor.

Five films in just six months…

In my career, I have worked with many talented actors and actresses. I have worked with Prabhas, Chiranjeevi, and Vijay. I do nothing. I believe in the art and the craft.

Actor Priyadarshi has won many hearts with his ‘boy next door’ roles that have gelled so well with youngsters that they feel like he is a part of the gang. From kids to the elderly, there is none who Priyadarshi has failed to impress with his acting in Telugu cinema. The 31-year-old actor rose to fame after playing Kaushik in Pelli Chupulu and received accolades from many a superstar in the industry, including Megastar Chiranjeevi. With a dialect of his own, he impressed people across both Telugu states and established a name for himself within a short period. Coming from a non-filmi background and having had his share of hiccups during his budding days to reaching to where he is today in the entertainment industry is not everyone’s cup of tea. A staunch believer of the saying ‘Hard work always pays off’, Priyadarshi speaks to THE PIONEER about his childhood, entry into the industry, marrying his best friend and more.

Although I was not getting a release on the screen, I understood that if I keep working hard, people will recognize me. I know that patience will be rewarded one day. I worked in an films before my first film was released. I did nothing. I believe in the art and the craft.

Despite being a small-town actor, he has been blessed with several offers right from his debut. From small roles in major Telugu films to leading roles in independent films, Priyadarshi has come a long way. With his hard work and dedication, he has earned a place in the hearts of many. His upcoming projects include Pelli Choopulu, Vakeel Saab, and another one in which he plays the lead role. He is currently working on two more films, one in Telugu and one in Tamil. The actor is all set to make his mark in the industry with his talent and hard work.
