5 martyred trying to save civilians

Colonel, Major, J&K Police SI lose lives; 2 Pak terrorists slain, 3 escape in Kupwara

S H O T 12

RAIPUR, MAY 4, 2020. PAGES 12-13

Chief of Police, Chhindgarh Sunil Pardwar said a senior official of the state police on Monday paid tribute to them as they were still on duty to save civilians from being caught in enemy snarls when the heavy shelling started from the Pakistan-backed terrorists from across the border.

A martyrdom in the service of the country was why they were still on the job. As a soldier or police officer, he would have been amongst the first to safeguard the innocent civilians.

The Chief of Police paid his last respects to the martyred police personnel.

The encounter continued for three days, during which 14 police personnel were martyred and 22 injured in the cross-border firing.

"Despite heavy shelling from across the border, our soldiers and officers of the state police continued to serve with indomitable spirit,

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.

The Chhindgarh Police is working closely with the Army in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

The police and Army have a joint operation in this area to prevent the terrorists from entering the country.

In a letter addressed to the Chief Minister of the state, the Chief of Police thanked him for his support and cooperation.
Haryana committed to ensure stranded people reach their homes: CM

HIGHLIGHTS

- Marriages related to social distancing, and the maximum number of guests shall not be more than 50.
- Transportation services, including buses, shall continue to operate.
- Telemedicine services under the Universal Service Obligation Scheme shall be continued.
- Foreign tourists are included in the definition for the people stranded at borders.

Collection on Punjab toll plazas to resume from May 4

- Punjab Administration has announced the resumption of collection on toll plazas from May 4.
- Transportation services, including buses, shall continue to operate.
- Telemedicine services under the Universal Service Obligation Scheme shall be continued.
- Foreign tourists are included in the definition for the people stranded at borders.

UT residents get relief from restrictions

- Home Affairs order, dated May 6, 2020, wherein movement was permitted only for those who were within 10 km of their house town.
- Central Government has permitted the resumption of movement within 10 km of house town.
- Transportation services, including buses, shall continue to operate.
- Telemedicine services under the Universal Service Obligation Scheme shall be continued.
- Foreign tourists are included in the definition for the people stranded at borders.

CS issues Sof for inter-state movement of stranded people in adjoining Sates

- Teams brought in stranded people in adjoining 4 states for two consecutive days
- Border check posts in adjoining states are being monitored.
- Restrictions in adjoining states are being monitored.
- Inter-state movement of stranded people is being allowed.

U-146 students from Kharar moved to Punjab for better education

- NHRC has directed the government to transfer the students to Punjab for better education.
- Transportation services, including buses, shall continue to operate.
- Telemedicine services under the Universal Service Obligation Scheme shall be continued.
- Foreign tourists are included in the definition for the people stranded at borders.

6.44 lakh registered to go from Punjab

- NHRC has directed the government to transfer the students to Punjab for better education.
- Transportation services, including buses, shall continue to operate.
- Telemedicine services under the Universal Service Obligation Scheme shall be continued.
- Foreign tourists are included in the definition for the people stranded at borders.
Govt offices in C’garh to resume working today

STAFF REPORTER
RAIPUR

Except at the newly-developed Ananta Seva Kendra and containment zones in Sairam and Mantad of Raipur district, government offices in Chhattisgarh will resume work from June 1 amid being hit due to Covid-19.

Chief Administration: Department of the states on Saturday issued an order in this regard. The order is also effective for all government offices of Boards, Corporations and Commissions.

The administration will prescribe the forms of social and physical distancing that will have to be followed by the officers and staff working in the government offices.

C Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel has urged the Prime Minister Narendra Modi to also include police personnel as well as employees and officials associated with the health sector under the insurance scheme of the Prime Minister’s Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Yojana.

In a letter, Baghel has congratulated the Prime Minister and also thanked him for taking the lead in the country’s fight against the Covid-19 pandemic.

The Centre has announced an insurance scheme of Rs 50 lakh for health workers who have been working in the state during the period of crisis.

The letter says that various departmental doctors are not being provided medical kit, proper personal protective equipment (PPE) kit and face shields.

The letter said: "In the light of the detection of ‘health worker’ in the ordinance for the purpose of taking necessary action for protection of the community, the Chhattisgarh government has instructed that police personnel, officials, employees of municipal bodies and district administration and all affiliated with it to be treated as health workers under the insurance scheme while other employees associated with the health sector should be considered under the insurance scheme, according to the ordinance," the letter said.

In case of symptoms of Covid-19, the Health and Family Welfare Department made rigorous efforts to prevent and control the virus. An incident of attack on health workers also took place in the state.

The letter said that various departmental doctors are not being provided medical kit, proper PPE kit and face shields.

On their return, it is hereby requested to the District Collector and Chief Medical Officer of Chhattisgarh to immediately send the workers back to their homes.

On the occasion of thefeatures of Covid-19, the Health and Family Welfare Department must be told immediately. If the departmental doctors are not sent back to their homes, the local government doctors can be avoided.

In the letter to all the District Collectors, the Chief Medical Officer of the respective districts, the letter says: "If the signature pad of the departmental workers is changing, the signature should be clearly obvious without any deviation in any case."
COVID-19 OUTBREAK

Cancer patients at higher risk of mortality

Disability rights organisations protest AIIMS director’s order

Director, AIIMS, Rishikesh, had threatened employees, including faculty, with compulsory retirement if they are unable to perform duties due to physical or mental disability.

Ministry of Science and Technology (MST) is likely to join Bengaluru. Other DBT laboratories in Pune, Indore and Rishikesh.

Biotechnology (DBT) is also likely to join

The Ministry has also reitéred the provision of the Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 (PwDA). The Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment has also coincided with the incident has understandably full strength since the abrogation of the Article 370.

The sequence of events in an encounter with terrorists has dead before decamping with their automatic weapons. Moreover, the focus will be

Cancer patients fit the category of persons with disabilities, but rather compared with mortality rates of 10 per cent and colorectal cancers, the mortality rate for patients suffering from diabetes, due to Physical or mental disability, which interfere with duties, will be compulsorily retired. The order also extends to the Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 (PwDA).

Dr Singh also said that the terminology of digital literacy, CSCs has also started in a

In its communication to the Union Home Ministry, the Home Ministry has said that the number of COVID-19 patients in the territory was

The number of COVID-19 patients in the territory was

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.

The sequence of events in an encounter with terrorists has dead before decamping with their automatic weapons. Moreover, the focus will be

Cancer patients fit the category of persons with disabilities, but rather compared with mortality rates of 10 per cent and colorectal cancers, the mortality rate for patients suffering from diabetes, due to Physical or mental disability, which interfere with duties, will be compulsorily retired. The order also extends to the Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 (PwDA).

Dr Singh also said that the terminology of digital literacy, CSCs has also started in a

In its communication to the Union Home Ministry, the Home Ministry has said that the number of COVID-19 patients in the territory was

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.

The number of COVID-19 patients in the territory was

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.

While many attempts were thwarted determined attempts to launch pads across the Line of Control, including the recent attack on the Uri Border Post.
AERIAL SALUTE TO CORONA WARRIORS

Petals showered in Tamil Nadu: Kerala

While the Centre and State's main concern is to contain the surge in cases, the Tamil Nadu government had showered petals of respect on the police personnel who are working as a part of the "corona warriors" as a mark of gratitude for their continuous efforts. The petals were offered at the death spots of the personnel who lost their lives due to COVID-19. The gesture was an attempt to pay tribute to the bravehearts who have sacrificed their lives in the fight against the pandemic.

Lawyer's tryout with loving hands in quarantine

At the Centre and State's main concern is to contain the surge in cases, the Tamil Nadu government had showered petals of respect on the police personnel who are working as a part of the "corona warriors" as a mark of gratitude for their continuous efforts. The petals were offered at the death spots of the personnel who lost their lives due to COVID-19. The gesture was an attempt to pay tribute to the bravehearts who have sacrificed their lives in the fight against the pandemic.

Local's hold suicidal ‘regret rally’ after thrashing Howrah cop

A man who was arrested on charges of inciting to commit suicide was later found dead in a hospital in Kolkata. The incident took place in a crowded area where a large number of people were gathered. The police said that the man was taken to the hospital where he was declared dead on arrival.

Did’s nephew slams Centre for wasting public money

Did, who is a popular cartoonist in India, has criticized the Centre for its recent decision to establish a new channel to broadcast its anti-coronavirus campaign. He has called the move a waste of public money and has urged the government to instead focus on providing essential goods and services to the public during the ongoing pandemic.

Two more deaths in Dhaka, total cases 550

The latest update from the Dhaka Medical College Hospital (DMCH) shows that two more people have died due to COVID-19, bringing the total number of deaths in the city to 11. The hospital said that the two victims were residents of the city's southwestern and eastern districts respectively. The hospital also reported that the number of active cases in the city has now reached 550, with 545 of them being local transmissions and 5 being imported cases. The government has urged citizens to follow the necessary protocols to prevent the spread of the virus.
The requisitioning of the armed forces in Corona operations is premature and not in conscience with the principle of last resort. It may endanger the fighting ability of the sword arm.
During an outbreak, the scientific community has an obligation to learn more about how to shape the public health response and for proper evaluation of new interventions being tested.
Russia reports 10,633 new cases, highest in a day

By AP

Sidelined by pandemic, Trump campaign turns to digital shows

White House coordinator calls lockdown protests ‘diabolically stupid’

ThestreamingportofTrumpcamaigns are seen as crucial to ning in just six months because it has in September to try to

kall

a for-profit nursing home.

’ve never been seen before.

Faced with 19,000

onger 300,000 deaths.

S Korea says security forces kill 18 militants in Sinai

Egypt says security forces kill 18 militants in Sinai

by AP

Israel court hears peti-

ion challenging Netanyahu’s Govt

On the 31 st of March, the Israel court heard a petition challenging Netanyahu’s government in which Attorney General Avichai Mandelblit submitted a petition to the High Court of Justice for an ex parte order.

The petition, which was submitted by the Attorney General, seeks to suspend the government’s decision to extend the state of emergency due to the coronavirus pandemic.

The petition argues that the government’s decision to extend the state of emergency is illegal and that it violates the rights of citizens to freedom of movement and association.

The petition also cites the Supreme Court’s decision in 2002, which ruled that the government cannot extend the state of emergency for more than three months without the approval of the Knesset.

The petition is expected to be heard in the High Court of Justice in the coming weeks.

Related Articles

- Israel court hears petition challenging Netanyahu’s Govt
- Egypt says security forces kill 18 militants in Sinai
- Israel court hears petition challenging Netanyahu’s Govt
- Egypt says security forces kill 18 militants in Sinai

Debate continues on lockdown protests in the US

By AP

Trump called lockdown protests ‘diabolically stupid’ as he defended his administration’s response to the coronavirus pandemic.

In a speech to the American Legislative Exchange Council in Washington, Trump said the protests were ‘diabolically stupid’ and ‘simply unacceptable.’

Trump’s comments came after he met with governors and other officials to discuss the ongoing protests.

The protests have been sparked by concerns about the economic impact of the pandemic and have grown in size in recent days.

‘These protests are a sad and shameful reflection of a nation that is losing its way,’ Trump said. ‘They are a disgrace to our country and our people.’

Trump’s comments were met with criticism from some officials, who said the protests were a danger to public health and safety.

‘The president is right that these protests are a shameful reflection of a country losing its way,’ said Dr. Anthony Fauci, the nation’s top infectious disease expert.

Fauci said the protests were ‘dangerous and stupid’ and that they were ‘not in the best interest of the nation.’

‘These protests are a disgrace and a danger to our country and our people,’ he said. ‘They are a shameful reflection of a nation losing its way.’
More shops expected to re-open but confusion reigns: Retailers

COVID-19 may hit India's foreign currency earnings from tea exports: Experts

National General Secretaries ofAOIF and the Copper Industry Group have said that the lockdown period till May 17, 2020, will have a great impact on the overall tea business in India. According to AMRG, around 90 per cent of the tea grown in India is sold in foreign markets.

The impact has been severe because retail businesses with small suppliers, such as those in rural areas, have been affected. Value fashion and lifestyle retailing activities limited only to mini-marts, mini-stores, and in the initial months only 20 to 25 per cent of the outlays were spent, said Aggarwal.

The impact on the tea industry will not only be on the tea grown by small suppliers but also on the tea grown by large suppliers and small.

Impact has been pronounced in the travel and mobility sector

The full-force of the pandemic is being felt in the travel, tourism and mobility sector as the travel is completely shut due to restrictions and the lockdown.

South Asia, a region known for its vibrant culture and rich history, has been hit hardest by the coronavirus pandemic. The region’s economies are projected to contract by 4.5% in 2020, according to the World Bank.

The pandemic has had a significant impact on the travel and tourism industry, which is one of the largest employers in the region. The industry has seen a sharp decline in demand, with most hotels, restaurants, and tour operators reporting a nearly complete shutdown.

The pandemic has also had a major impact on the aviation industry, with airlines facing a sharp decline in revenue and many going bankrupt. The International Air Transport Association predicts that airlines will lose $843 billion in 2020.

The economic impact of the pandemic has been felt across the region, with governments implementing strict lockdowns and travel restrictions to contain the spread of the virus. However, these measures have had a severe impact on the economies of the region, with tourism-dependent countries seeing a sharp decline in income and jobs.

In conclusion, the COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on the travel and tourism industry in South Asia, with a projected decline in demand and revenue of 4.5% in 2020.

Auto industry may cut R&D spending: Deloitte

The deloitte study found that 95% of the respondents are planning to cut their R&D spending. The study also found that 75% of the respondents are planning to cut their production by more than 20%.

Exit Unprofitable segments due to Coronavirus pandemic

The automotive industry is facing a challenging period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.

Auto manufacturers are facing a sharp decline in sales and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.

The automotive industry is facing a challenging period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.

The deloitte study found that 95% of the respondents are planning to cut their R&D spending. The study also found that 75% of the respondents are planning to cut their production by more than 20%.

The automotive industry is facing a challenging period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.

The automotive industry is facing a challenging period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.

The deloitte study found that 95% of the respondents are planning to cut their R&D spending. The study also found that 75% of the respondents are planning to cut their production by more than 20%.

The automotive industry is facing a challenging period due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The industry is facing a sharp decline in demand and revenue, with many companies reporting a loss of over 80%.
Working from home has become the norm, and I’ve had a daily schedule. Before the lockdown, I had changed our routine drastically because we had undergone a major transformation due to the current situation posed by the global Coronavirus pandemic. The reality is that new normal working around technology has become a key component for all of us to achieve productivity. However, work from home purely depends on the changed and flexible schedule.

Considering the uncertainty learned in the past and the current times, I am aligned to it with many permutations and combinations. Here are some points which are helping me navigate and connect my business and personal transactions through the lockdown phase, easily.

Optimize your daily task list
I like to plan as much as I can, so organizing and planning my task list is necessary. This is followed by a schedule with the management team, connecting with our dealer partners and budgeting. Additionally, I work closely with our team to refresh our business awareness, among others. We are utilizing this time to evaluate, conceptualize and prepare for the changes that will ensure we are essential in our customer engagement and approach, especially post lockdown. I have found it useful and worthwhile to make a place to work in my home during the lockdown as it supports consistency and discipline while also assuring productivity.

Be the changing wheel
Everything around us will be redressed after COVID-19. Abandon the rule of digital and adaptation of the existing set up or change of the times would have to be taken into consideration. It is essential to utilise the current period effectively to write the new norms for the business.

We understand and engage more and engage with our customers despite challenges and should be open to adapting the changing norm and take informed decisions keeping them in mind. The focus is on evaluating the existing set up of processes and always be ready with your hands and heart.

The box of memories

W indy nights, the busy streets, the loud sounds of music, food stalls that were bustling and crowded, the people, the culture, the chaos of the metros. I have found it useful and worthwhile to engage with your family and friends, on Netflix. The film covers Jimmy’s eccentric optimist who isn’t quite what she seems. India. It is an enjoyable movie that will leave you feeling entertained and a bit of a low.

The film took me back to my childhood days when other kids and I would spend our weekends at cinema halls, watching movies and eating snacks. Those were the days when we would spend our weekends at cinema halls, watch movies and eat snacks. Those were the days when we were not worried about the outcomes or commentary. We simply loved the movies and enjoyed our time at the theatre. The film was a reminder of the simple pleasures of life and the joy of watching a good movie.

The Box of Memories

ONE COULD ALSO CONSIDER COLLABORATING WITH LOCAL AND COMMUNITY INITIATIVES, HELPING IN NEED OF SUPPORT DURING THE LOCKDOWN TO NOT ONLY BE CONCLUSIVE TOWARDS PERSONAL GROWTH BUT ALSO SPREAD POSITIVITY AROUND

The box of memories

JINHO JEONG talks about how actor IRRFAN KHAN’S The Lunchbox captured the emotions and sentiments of childhood aptly

W hilst two great Hollywood actors return this week, one of them brings back memories of home. Irrfan Khan played the lead in a film by the same name — The Lunchbox. Irrfan’s film, like many other office goers in the city of Mumbai, tells a story of food cooked and delivered to his office by the famous dabbawalas. For him, it is an everyday, monotone meal, packed by a food stall which he looks forward to. The food is the same, and the only change is the choice of the menu. His food is a part of his daily routine.

The plot of the film is simple, a boy delivers the wrong lunchbox of food to the wrong person. However, the boy and his father are not the only ones to be haunted. The generation gap between Irrfan’s character and his father is the main antagonist. The film is a heartwarming story of a boy who finds a new friend in his father, and together they embark on a journey to find the lunchbox.

Irrfan’s performance is outstanding, and the chemistry between him and his co-actor, Minnie Driver, is excellent. The film is a must-watch for anyone who loves a good story and boba. The Lunchbox is a heartwarming tale of friendship, love, and family, and it is a perfect watch for a quiet evening at home. The film is a heartwarming story of a boy who finds a new friend in his father, and together they embark on a journey to find the lunchbox.

The Box of Memories

Four to five months ago, I was watching a movie on Netflix when I came across a film called The Lunchbox. It was a heartwarming story of a boy who finds a new friend in his father, and together they embark on a journey to find the lunchbox.

Irrfan Khan’s performance in the film is outstanding, and the chemistry between him and his co-actor, Minnie Driver, is excellent. The film is a must-watch for anyone who loves a good story and boba. The Lunchbox is a heartwarming tale of friendship, love, and family, and it is a perfect watch for a quiet evening at home.
As people stay at home, nature is flourishing in their absence, alertly. This is the time to introspect, change our habits and continue our lock down as described in this conversation.

From the warm weather brings a kinder face to Ladakh, the land of high altitude, mountainous regions and extreme cold weather. This is the time when inhabitants of this region are also planning to start planting for summer. People are preparing to ensure that their work and the lives of those associated with it are not hampered.

One of the most significant changes that started filtering in from the winter season was that people had learnt about the spread of novel coronaviruses.

A mountainous region, Ladakh, India, is one of the regions where COVID-19 has not yet touched.

At-home orders, the itch to get installed an irrigation system, moved last summer from New York to the front lawns. It helps to get off of social media. “It gives you a separate life,” said Hollie Niblett, who has a degree in horticulture. “It’s a great way to relax, for sure.”

The real challenge for us, Niblett, is the current time when this virus entered our lives. During the winter season, the exposure was to prepare better times and to be energetic for the days that our community faces in the winter season. People are working from home and taking care of their plants.

“Don’t give up yet. We should not give up yet. We need to continue our fight to save our own lives and help others,” Niblett said.

Along with my family, I am working at home. I enjoy being with my family and having the opportunity to work from home.

I am a farmer and I harvest the vegetables that we grow in our garden. I have a lot of tomatoes, cucumbers, and zucchini. I also have a lot of herbs and spices.

The virus scare could even risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs, and upper risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs. It is crucial to deny the fact that the main culprit is the accumulation of dirt and dust in the environment.

The home-grown attitude got back to World War II, when millions of people cultivated their own food to avoid potential food shortages and maintain economic stability.

A woman from the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, grows 50 to 60 varieties of vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

In Britain and Germany, many people have been cultivating a plot in the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

From the warm weather brings a kinder face to Ladakh, the land of high altitude, mountainous regions and extreme cold weather. This is the time when inhabitants of this region are also planning to start planting for summer. People are preparing to ensure that their work and the lives of those associated with it are not hampered.

A mountainous region, Ladakh, India, is one of the regions where COVID-19 has not yet touched.

At-home orders, the itch to get installed an irrigation system, moved last summer from New York to the front lawns. It helps to get off of social media. “It gives you a separate life,” said Hollie Niblett, who has a degree in horticulture. “It’s a great way to relax, for sure.”

The real challenge for us, Niblett, is the current time when this virus entered our lives. During the winter season, the exposure was to prepare better times and to be energetic for the days that our community faces in the winter season. People are working from home and taking care of their plants.

“Don’t give up yet. We should not give up yet. We need to continue our fight to save our own lives and help others,” Niblett said.

Along with my family, I am working at home. I enjoy being with my family and having the opportunity to work from home.

I am a farmer and I harvest the vegetables that we grow in our garden. I have a lot of tomatoes, cucumbers, and zucchini. I also have a lot of herbs and spices.

The virus scare could even risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs, and upper risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs. It is crucial to deny the fact that the main culprit is the accumulation of dirt and dust in the environment.

The home-grown attitude got back to World War II, when millions of people cultivated their own food to avoid potential food shortages and maintain economic stability.

A woman from the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

In Britain and Germany, many people have been cultivating a plot in the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

From the warm weather brings a kinder face to Ladakh, the land of high altitude, mountainous regions and extreme cold weather. This is the time when inhabitants of this region are also planning to start planting for summer. People are preparing to ensure that their work and the lives of those associated with it are not hampered.

A mountainous region, Ladakh, India, is one of the regions where COVID-19 has not yet touched.

At-home orders, the itch to get installed an irrigation system, moved last summer from New York to the front lawns. It helps to get off of social media. “It gives you a separate life,” said Hollie Niblett, who has a degree in horticulture. “It’s a great way to relax, for sure.”

The real challenge for us, Niblett, is the current time when this virus entered our lives. During the winter season, the exposure was to prepare better times and to be energetic for the days that our community faces in the winter season. People are working from home and taking care of their plants.

“Don’t give up yet. We should not give up yet. We need to continue our fight to save our own lives and help others,” Niblett said.

Along with my family, I am working at home. I enjoy being with my family and having the opportunity to work from home.

I am a farmer and I harvest the vegetables that we grow in our garden. I have a lot of tomatoes, cucumbers, and zucchini. I also have a lot of herbs and spices.

The virus scare could even risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs, and upper risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs. It is crucial to deny the fact that the main culprit is the accumulation of dirt and dust in the environment.

The home-grown attitude got back to World War II, when millions of people cultivated their own food to avoid potential food shortages and maintain economic stability.

A woman from the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

In Britain and Germany, many people have been cultivating a plot in the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

From the warm weather brings a kinder face to Ladakh, the land of high altitude, mountainous regions and extreme cold weather. This is the time when inhabitants of this region are also planning to start planting for summer. People are preparing to ensure that their work and the lives of those associated with it are not hampered.

A mountainous region, Ladakh, India, is one of the regions where COVID-19 has not yet touched.

At-home orders, the itch to get installed an irrigation system, moved last summer from New York to the front lawns. It helps to get off of social media. “It gives you a separate life,” said Hollie Niblett, who has a degree in horticulture. “It’s a great way to relax, for sure.”

The real challenge for us, Niblett, is the current time when this virus entered our lives. During the winter season, the exposure was to prepare better times and to be energetic for the days that our community faces in the winter season. People are working from home and taking care of their plants.

“Don’t give up yet. We should not give up yet. We need to continue our fight to save our own lives and help others,” Niblett said.

Along with my family, I am working at home. I enjoy being with my family and having the opportunity to work from home.

I am a farmer and I harvest the vegetables that we grow in our garden. I have a lot of tomatoes, cucumbers, and zucchini. I also have a lot of herbs and spices.

The virus scare could even risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs, and upper risk the crowds buying starter seeds or buying trees and shrubs. It is crucial to deny the fact that the main culprit is the accumulation of dirt and dust in the environment.

The home-grown attitude got back to World War II, when millions of people cultivated their own food to avoid potential food shortages and maintain economic stability.

A woman from the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

In Britain and Germany, many people have been cultivating a plot in the United Kingdom community garden for the past eight years, growing organic vegetables and fruits. She said, “I am growing crops here to help others. I am trying to produce more food for the community.”

From the warm weather brings a kinder face to Ladakh, the land of high altitude, mountainous regions and extreme cold weather. This is the time when inhabitants of this region are also planning to start planting for summer. People are preparing to ensure that their work and the lives of those associated with it are not hampered.

A mountainous region, Ladakh, India, is one of the regions where COVID-19 has not yet touched.

At-home orders, the itch to get installed an irrigation system, moved last summer from New York to the front lawns. It helps to get off of social media. “It gives you a separate life,” said Hollie Niblett, who has a degree in horticulture. “It’s a great way to relax, for sure.”

The real challenge for us, Niblett, is the current time when this virus entered our lives. During the winter season, the exposure was to prepare better times and to be energetic for the days that our community faces in the winter season. People are working from home and taking care of their plants.

“Don’t give up yet. We should not give up yet. We need to continue our fight to save our own lives and help others,” Niblett said.

Along with my family, I am working at home. I enjoy being with my family and having the opportunity to work from home.

I am a farmer and I harvest the vegetables that we grow in our garden. I have a lot of tomatoes, cucumbers, and zucchini. I also have a lot of herbs and spices.
Thought of facing Lee took my sleep: Rohit

Sweat and saliva aren’t big requirements in white-ball cricket: Unadkat

“White ball won’t be a problem as a whole. Even in ODIs, you will be using two new balls 25 overs each. Reverse swing has never been a big factor in white-ball cricket. From now on, new balls don’t require any sort of saliva or slobber as white ball is concerned.” Unadkat told PTI during an interaction.

The Ranji Trophy-winning Saurashtra captain and the man behind that is the game of white ball requires little or no sweat or saliva for using. “White lacquer remains shiny even if you don’t rub it on your trousers while red ball, the red lacquer and the red leather demands that we shine it more with saliva and water to get the shine and swing. That’s the reason, he feels, it becomes a concern, a big factor for bowlers and can be started even before one gets to the first-class game.”

“If we are starting with white-ball conditions, we will surely have the advantage as salivettes and sweat are not a factor here as it would be in red-ball cricket.”

Unadkat also says that a prolonged break does mean that he will not be a big factor for red-ball cricketers as there are always certain precautions that will be mandatory.

“When Rohit is there today, it is because of 535 innings. One good thing about Rohit is that he always kept Rohit in the talk, even if he was part of the team, he was always part of the group. He never lost the contact with us,” Gambhir said.

“You can talk about the selection committee and team management, but if you do not have the backing of your captain or team, it is all useless. Everything is in the hands of the captain of the team. Rohit Sharma has been our face for a good period of time, I do not think any player has been given such support.”