CONG CALLS MEET ON MIGRANTS’ PLIGHT, CHANGES IN LABOUR LAWS

The Congress has called a meeting of its leader of the opposition parties on Friday to discuss the plight of migrant workers brought to cities across the country by the coronavirus-induced lockdown, which began on March 25, and confirmed their participation, they said. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has categorically said there was no lockdown in India, just as Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Shah said there was no migrant workers crisis.

Addressing the Congress leaders and opposition partners on Tuesday, Congress President Rahul Gandhi said the Congress is categorically against the lockdown, which has crippled the economy completely, and is working day and night to help the workers.

Lakshminarayana has raised 20 questions such as why there were no arrests in the incident. The woman in her social media account has been slapped with Section 41 (A) of the CrPC (notice of appearance before police officer) and 120-B r/w 34 (criminal conspiracy), a preliminary investigation into the gas leak- age incident.

The officials also sealed one of the LG Polymers' lawyers' offices on the completion of NGT inquiry. However, the Supreme Court rejected this argument.

The LG Polymers argued that the NGT cannot take up a case as the NIA had registered a fresh case. It said the apex court would not be the body to look into the matter.

Some headlines also touch on issues related to economic activities, such as the closure of businesses and the resulting economic impact.

Overall, the headlines reflect the ongoing challenges and changes brought about by the pandemic, as well as the efforts being made to address these challenges.
A bravely rising, China has been continuously devoting to its global political influence in the wake of Covid-19, and India in its Prime Minister, Narendra Modi, has been devoting to the development of a Covid-19 vaccine, which was supposed to be a joint project with the US. But later, it was revealed that the vaccine was developed in the US.

As an agent for the anti-Coronavirus vaccine, China has taken a leadership role in the development of vaccines, which has been applauded by the international community. The Chinese government has already started the production of the vaccine and is expected to be available in the near future.

However, there are many challenges to be faced in the production of the vaccine. Firstly, the production capacity is limited, and it will take some time to ramp up the production. Secondly, the distribution of the vaccine is also a concern, as it needs to be stored at low temperatures.

Despite these challenges, the Chinese government is working hard to overcome them and ensure the timely delivery of the vaccine to the people. The government has already allocated a large sum of money for the vaccine, and the vaccine production units are working around the clock to meet the demand.

In conclusion, the Chinese government's efforts in the anti-Coronavirus vaccine show its commitment to the global health community. The vaccine is expected to be a game-changer in the battle against Covid-19, and its success will be a testament to the leadership of China in the global health arena.
