Aarey forest stays, car shed goes

Metro car shed will now be located at Kanjurmarg, additional 200 acre at Aarey colony to declare as forest, announces Mahaa CM

Maha Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray on Sunday took over the investigation into the gangrape and murder of a 23-year-old woman in Thane and directed an FIR under Indian Penal Code (IPC) Section 376A (rape of a woman by a person in a consensual relationship) against a man who was booked under similar sections in an earlier case.

He further explained that 800 acre at Aarey Colony at present. “We will now add another 800 acres to the earlier 800 acre and make it a total of 1600 acre as forest area in Aarey Colony. The State Government has invested a huge amount in the Aarey area and will ensure that the Aarey forest is cordoned off,” said Uddhav Thackeray.

Addressing the people gathered at Aarey Metro car shed project site from Goregaon and lodha at Kanjurmarg, the new CM said, “We will now shift the car shed project to Kanjurmarg. The project proposal was approved by the previous government. We will now implement the project. Aarey forest is the lungs of Mumbai and we will ensure that it remains so.”

He also said that he would take the initiative to remove the Aarey Metro car shed project from the list of projects approved under the Aarey Metro project.

“Instead, the car shed project will be shifted to Kanjurmarg. It will be implemented as per the plan,” Thackeray added.

The decision comes in the wake of the decision taken by the previous government to declare an additional 200 acre of Aarey Colony as forest, thus setting off a political row over the project.

PM speaks on Covid vaccination

The government plans to roll out Covid-19 vaccines, he said that it is anticipated that supplies of vaccines would be available in limited quantities in the coming weeks. In a large country like India, it is critical to prepare the(should be) delivered based on the demand in the market, the government is planning to supply vaccines, and as the situation improves, costs of Covid-19 vaccines will come down. Therefore, the government is highlighting the need for massive awareness about the importance of following Covid-19 protocols to curb the spread of the disease.

The key is to maintain a balance between the two, he said, adding that the government is considering various measures to ensure that the vaccine is available to more people in the coming weeks. The government is also working on improving the infrastructure to handle the vaccination drive and increase the capacity of hospitals and vaccination centers.

BJP sees signs of K'taka CM over graft

Main focus on her, former CM, of India's largest scanner maker

The country's largest scanner maker, Exim Corp., has appointed former CM of India's largest scanner maker, Nitin Gadkari, as its managing director and CEO, following the ouster of the company's chief executive officer, R K Yadav, in January. Exim Corp., which makes scanners used in various industries, has appointed Gadkari as its MD and CEO, replacing Yadav, who had been in charge of the company since 2016.

Gadkari, a veteran politician and former minister of road transport and highways, is expected to bring in new energy and focus to Exim Corp., which has been facing challenges in recent years. The company, which has a long history of making scanners and other equipment, has been facing competition from foreign companies in the domestic market.

With Gadkari at the helm, Exim Corp. is expected to focus on expanding its market share and increasing its export business. The company has been looking to diversify its product line and enter new segments to boost its revenue. Gadkari's experience in the field of transportation and infrastructure will be an added advantage for the company, which makes scanners used in automobile workshops, road transport, and other sectors.

Gadkari's appointment comes at a time when the company is looking to strengthen its position in the domestic market and expand its presence abroad. The company has been making efforts to improve its R&D capabilities and develop new products to stay ahead of the competition.

Exim Corp. has a strong presence in India and has partnerships with major companies across the world. The company has been actively participating in international exhibitions and trade shows to promote its products and build its brand.

With Gadkari at the helm, Exim Corp. is expected to make a strong push for growth and expansion. The company has a strong track record and is well-positioned to take on the challenges of the future.

Prevention vs cure
Govt, IMA clash on Ayush COVID protocols; doctors say evidence merely anecdotal and a placebo, not clinically proven

The Ayush system of medicine should be a part of the country’s health policy.

The practice of Ayurveda with Ayurvedic herbs has a strong tradition in India, and its proponents believe that it can help prevent and treat many health conditions. However, the effectiveness of Ayurveda has been a subject of debate, with some experts arguing that it is based on anecdotal evidence and lack of scientific validation. In the context of the COVID-19 pandemic, there has been a lot of controversy around the use of Ayush protocols, with doctors and medical professionals expressing concerns about their effectiveness and safety. The government has been promoting Ayush protocols as an alternative to conventional medicine, but some doctors have criticized this approach, saying that it is not based on robust scientific evidence and may delay the adoption of more effective treatments.

In this article, the author argues that Ayurveda should be included as a part of the country’s health policy, but also cautions that its effectiveness needs to be scientifically validated. He notes that the government has been promoting Ayush protocols as a way to complement conventional medicine, but this may not be the best approach, as it may divert attention and resources away from more effective treatments. The author calls for a more evidence-based approach to Ayurveda, where its effectiveness is scientifically validated before it is promoted as a part of the country’s health policy.

In conclusion, the author argues that Ayurveda has a strong tradition in India, and it can be a valuable tool for preventing and treating health conditions. However, its effectiveness needs to be scientifically validated before it is promoted as a part of the country’s health policy. The government should take a more evidence-based approach, where Ayurveda is promoted only after its effectiveness is scientifically validated.

Generating revenue in 2016-17 digital payments compared to 2015-16 in the previous year. The increase in revenue was 9.8% which was expected due to the launch of various governmental schemes that have helped in the overall economy and the massive job loss and revenue loss jobs. Therefore, to improve the situation in the future, the government has launched various schemes. All schemes include digital payments. This can be attributed to the study note and digital payments rush sharply.

Digital payments soar manifold in 5 years to FY20: RBI

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has reported that the digital payments system in the country has grown rapidly over the past five years. According to RBI data, the number of digital transactions in the country increased from 1.75 billion in 2015-16 to 12.8 billion in 2020-21. This represents a 745% increase in digital transactions over the past five years. The report attributes this growth to various factors, including the government’s Digital India initiative, which aims to make the country a hub for digital technologies.

The report also highlights the increasing usage of digital payments among different age groups and income levels. It notes that digital payments are becoming more popular among both rural and urban populations, and among all income groups. The report suggests that the use of digital payments is expected to continue to grow in the future, driven by factors such as increasing internet penetration, rising mobile phone ownership, and increasing awareness about the benefits of digital payments.

Overall, the report presents a positive outlook for the digital payments system in India, with the potential to transform the way people conduct transactions and improve the overall financial landscape of the country. However, the report also highlights the need for continued efforts to address issues such as digital exclusion, financial literacy, and security concerns to ensure the sustainable and inclusive growth of the digital payments ecosystem.

Mobile operators’ revenues to improve in Q2 on more recharges, reverse migration: Analysts

Revenue for mobile operators are expected to improve in the quarter ending September, with Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel expected to do well. Bharti Airtel has reported strong Q1 results with a revenue increase of 5.5% and a net profit increase of 19.4% year-over-year.

The report attributes this growth to various factors, including the increasing usage of smartphones, the proliferation of mobile data services, and the government’s efforts to increase internet penetration. The report notes that the number of smartphone users in India has grown significantly over the past few years, with the number of internet users reaching over 500 million.

However, the report also highlights the need for continued efforts to address issues such as digital exclusion, financial literacy, and security concerns to ensure the sustainable and inclusive growth of the digital payments ecosystem.

Here are some ways in which conversational AI can bring about a digital revolution in the healthcare sector and elevate the citizen-to-government engagement. By KarthikVala

The novel Coronavirus has triggered a large-scale attention across the globe. However, it also brought an effective and efficient way to handle the pandemic, that is, contact tracing. This helped the governments in maintaining data privacy and secure health and distance. The solution needs to be customized to cater to the audi-tence being spoken in its different parts of the country, and across the world. Various government and health organisations have a huge responsibility here of keeping the public informed and updated. We need to focus on providing support on the next steps to tackle infection, and other lockdowns raise on a large scale.

The village lies in a semiarid region, with a large percentage of its population living in extreme poverty. Many children in the village have to work as domestic help in nearby cities, often at a young age. This has led to a generation of young minds who are trying to keep alive the values of their ancestors. One such young mind was 12-year-old Saloni, who, just 15 when she launched the agitation and the media campaign, has, undoubtedly, inspired generations of women towards fresh ideas and knowledge. The women watching this change, not only the change in the agitation itself but also the change in the society around them. It was welcomed with mud and stones, but the story of the resistance against the barrier of the child beggars stalking the street had just begun. As the protests went on for five days against the Government of India for violating the rights of small children, they were supported by people from all walks of life.

On the third and the last day of the fast, the physical strength of Saloni and her friends came to meet and promised to fast till the next day. Other children at Maitrakul also joined the agitation, showing the determination towards the cause of the issue of child beggars since then she kept her fast without any rest. For three months.
