The hidden potential of Mission Karayogu

With time, administrators acquire a rich and diverse repertoire and this enables them to quickly draw upon near-similar experiences and make faster and better decisions.

Without the right theory, administrators are unable to explain what they are doing and why this approach works (or not). Hence, they do not have a toolbox to choose from for solving any problem. Instead, they use their intuition to guess what the right approach might be or what might work based on their own personal experiences. This can result in making the wrong decision. The key learning is that administrators need to have a toolbox that contains a variety of tools that they can use for solving problems. This toolbox should be developed by administrators themselves based on their own personal experiences and the experiences of others.

Also, administrators are often asked to make decisions under time constraints and this can lead to making decisions that are not in the best interest of the organization. This is because administrators are often asked to make decisions quickly and this can lead to making decisions that are not well thought out. The key learning is that administrators need to be given enough time to make decisions and this time should be used to gather as much information as possible and to thoroughly analyze the situation before making a decision.

services, officials told

The Chief Minister instructed authorities to be vigilant and to make best use of 104 call-centres in respective districts and virtual wireline to file information on the testing facilities, availability of beds, test results and Covid hospitals. He also instructed the officials to ensure that the helpline is working without any interruptions. With regard to home quarantine, Dr Reddy said, “The guidance will be given to every patient who is in home isolation and ANMs should be in touch with patients and provide proper medical services on their demand.”

In all, 30,482 beds were set up in the state, 17,586 were allocated to the private sector.

The TDP leaders further informed that the YSRCP has reduced the allocation of beds in Balasore, Kaharagpur and Rayanapadu, Rajahmundry, and the people living on sea shores are instructed not to go fishing while the sea will be rough. The fishermen are instructed not to venture into the sea for fishing and the sea will be knee-deep in rain water. They also instructed the officials to lay special focus on the PBCRs and to ensure that the helpline is made more effective.

Director of the Mineral Management, SA Reddy informed that they will inspect the coal mining areas in the next 15 days based on their standard and services. The results announced and registered for polycet exam will be life-style problems, late marriage, imbalance in nutrition and development and to help those who constructed toilets and compound walls for the Jagan’s regime was cut-followed by 29.0% and 10.3% of the ST and SC communities respectively, which is coordinated and managed by the ICMR at select hospitals.

In a major setback to the Congress, two senior leaders from the party have joined the ruling TRS. One of the leaders is a former Minister in TRS, T Srinivas Reddy, and the other is a former member of KCR's party. The leaders defected from Congress after the party's poor performance in the recent elections.

Congress leaders on Friday were addressing a press conference in Hyderabad, where they accused Harish Rao of lying about the party's work in the region. They said that Harish Rao is a liar and has been spreading false propaganda.

With the Dalit leader’s death, Son of India would either be the beneficiary of a sympathy wave or stand forlorn. Will LJP survive?

As one of the tallest Dalit leaders of a post-Mandal era, Paswan had been a key force in building a national party like the Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), a brand new force under Mayawati, but he had Bihar. And the unfailing loyalty of his voters, who never deserted him and returned him with record votes, were his special assets, making him a core regional vote. He had negotiated the trust vote of his party, even meaning that he would deliver. It was this solidarity of command that kept him going, through the cross-jumps he made, disregarding ideology to stay on the side of power, either fragmented or combined, especially when it suited him. This is the legacy he has left behind.

Sebi asked listed cos to disclose forensic audit info to investors

In order to address the growing need for transparency, information, market discipline, and investor protection, Sebi has asked listed companies to make available their reports, if any, on financial fraud in a time-bound manner. The move, which is likely to push corporate houses to disclose details of the fraud, has been welcomed by investors who feel the details are necessary to assess the credibility of a company. The move looks forward to working with the Sebi team towards making the process easier and transparent. In addition, Sebi has also mandated that, if any of the listed companies are found to have access to specially sanctioned Reserve Bank of India programmes in the last five years, it will seek to access the information on these programmes. The Sebi officer told reporters that the move will help corporate houses to be more accountable and transparent in their operations.

RBI to conduct on-tap TLTRO worth Rs 1 lakh crore

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Thursday announced its decision to conduct on-tap Term Loan Against Residential Property (TLTRO) worth Rs 1 lakh crore with the aim of providing liquidity support to the housing sector.

The scheme will be conducted on a two-stage basis.

In the first stage, banks will be allowed to create a pool of eligible assets, which includes residential property loans. These assets will be transferred to a special purpose vehicle (SPV) set up by the RBI, which will then issue bonds to raise funds in the market.

In the second stage, banks will be allowed to draw down funds from the bonds issued in the first stage.

The scheme will be open to all banks, including public sector banks, private sector banks, and foreign banks, and will be available for a period of five years.

The RBI said the scheme will be conducted in two phases, with the first phase being open for applications from October 18 to November 30, and the second phase being open for applications from December 1 to December 31.

The RBI also announced a set of guidelines for the scheme, which includes a maximum loan-to-value ratio of 85%, a minimum maturity of 15 years, and a maximum interest rate of 10%.

The scheme aims to provide liquidity support to the housing sector at a time when the demand for home loans has weakened due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

#MentalHealthMatters: FIGHTING BACK HARD WITH RESILIENCE

Battling the blues

Some recognised for her screen roles, Shama Sikander has never shied away from talking about mental health. Starring mental health issues can make them feel like an outsider or expose them to ridicule. However, she feels it’s important to share her experience with others as it can make a difference.

"It was brave of actress Saba Saudagar to talk about her depression. I didn’t know how to anymore, while trying harder to push away the waves and deciding to fight. She was one of the film personalities who’s looking for recognition and acceptance. I could see a change!"

Nandini Rai and the catatonics days

Two long years of waking up every day with depression, isn’t it? It’s heart-rending to be taken for a ride by the same illness every single day. The 2022 world Mental Health Day aims to raise awareness about mental illnesses and support those affected by them.

"I have personally experienced depression, was suffering from it for quite some time. However, I recovered with the help of medicines and therapy."

Let’s talk about it!

"I don’t watch HORROR FILMS"

Actor Subbaraju who is currently enjoying the success of Nishabdham, speaks to K RAMYA SREE about the film, how he likes to spend his free time and more...

"I can’t work under anyone. For me, when I’m doing something, it should be done well. In Nishabdham, I got only one day, so I had to do it perfectly."

Saba’s mission of finding relief

It’s a story of actor Saba Saudagar to wake up every morning with heavy mind, learn even if she didn’t know how to anymore, while trying harder to push away the waves and deciding to fight. She was one of the film personalities who’s looking for recognition and acceptance. She shares, “I have come from a different era as we are taught to treat it because of the stigma attached. We must fight this deeply rooted stigma. And a start with talking about our battles and making it a healthy conversation."

"It’s important to talk about your feelings and emotions. That one person’s story could inspire millions."

"I don’t watch horror films but also a mental health advocate and a CRT practitioner who has high regard for mental health communications. She appreciates her fans for being supportive and understanding."

"I am a loner, I like to spend my time with and are not into social gatherings."

"As a mental health advocate and a CRT practitioner who has high regard for mental health communications. She appreciates her fans for being supportive and understanding."

"If not acting, what would Subbaraju be doing now? I just want to spend time with my family and loved ones."

Pant has vastly improved his off-side game: Lara

While batting into the maximum, Lara was impressed with Rishabh Pant’s ability to handle the off-side play, which he believes will add dimension to Pant’s game and make him an even more dangerous batsman in days to come.

“23-year-old Pant has far more experience of off-side play than he had when he joined Delhi Capitals in the IPL. In the previous game with influential spin bowler Yuzvendra Chahal, Pant faced a lot of problems but the way he played off-side in the subsequent game against Delhi Capitals, he looked like an improved player in the off-side area,” Lara wrote in his column for the Times of India.

Lara added: “While batting on the off-side, Pant could look at the previous game when he failed to score against Chahal. In that game, Pant was dismissed by Chahal in the 15th over. The next day, Pant batted in the 16th over and faced only three deliveries. Pant’s performance underlined that he has improved his off-side area.”
