BHUBANESWAR: The State has been witnessing a rise in the daily Covid-19 cases after liberalisation of the restrictions that has led to large congregations in markets and other public places. Dahiya assures 4th Oly medal for India

Neeraj qualifies for javelin final; Lovlina clinches bronze; Indian women hockey to fight for bronze

m avi}$ Dahiya's charge into the final assured India of a fourth Olympic medal as wrestlers sent the country's hopes soaring, while javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra turned on the style to script history in qualification itself on a day when most things went spec-tacularly well for the contin-gent, except for the heartbreak in hockey and boxing.

While Dahiya will fight for Gold on Thursday, Chopra will stake his claim for India's maiden track-and-field Olympic medal on Saturday.

The Rani Rampal-led women hockey team lost 1-2 to Argentina in the semifinals but stayed in the hunt for a medal. The courageous bunch, which has exceeded all expectations by coming this far, will play Great Britain on Friday for a Bronze medal.

The Indians fought valiantly and gave Argentina a run for their money by taking the lead in the second minute through a penalty corner conversion by Gurjit Kaur.

But the Las Leonas bounced back strongly with skipper Maria Barrionuevo's (18th, 36th minutes) twin strikes from penalty corners to secure the hard-fought win.

On Thursday, the men's hockey team will eye a Bronze

In the boxing ring Lovlina Borgohain (69kg) signed off with a bronze medal after her showdown against reigning world champion Busenaz Surmeneli of Turkey ended in a crushing 0-5 loss.

Borgohain became the third Indian boxer to fetch a Games medal after Vijender Singh (2008) and M C Mary Kom (2012).

The Panipat lad Neeraj Chopra etched his name in history books in the qualification round itself when he became the first javelin thrower to qualify for the Olympic finals and also the first to top the charts with an impressive 86.65m effort. But it was another 23-year-old, Dahiya, who emerged as the undisputed star of the day. The son of a farmer from

Haryana's Nahri village, who is competing in his maiden Olympic Games in the 57kg category, first outclassed Colombia's Tigreros Urbano (13-2) in his opener and then outwitted Bulgaria's Georgi Valentinov Vangelov (14-4).

In his semi-final clash against Kazakhstan's Nurislam Sanayev, he conceded the lead but bounced back like a seasoned professional to march into the finals, becoming only the second wrestler after dou-

Uguev of Russia to whom he lost in the 2019 World Championship semi-finals. "I had no business conceding that much lead against finals On the golf course, Aditi Ashok got off to a brilliant start, Sanayev. I am not happy with it," the usually reticent Dahiya told PTI after his impressive performance. "I still have some unfinished business to do. I came with a target here and that is not complete yet (winning Gold)."

Others in medal contention are Deepak Punia (86kg) and Anshu Malik medal playoffs, Malik has made the repechage round after European champion Irina Kurachikina, who beat her in the opening round, made the India's other entrant in the field, Diksha Dagar (76), however, had a rough start in her maiden Olympics as she had five bogeys and no birdies to lie at the tied 56th spot.

Lparties on Wednesday said the responsibility for the Parliament logjam lies squarely with the Centre and urged it to respect Parliamentary democracy by accepting their demand for a discussion on the Pegasus controversy and farmers' issues

Issuing a joint statement, 18 leaders from 14 parties said it is unfortunate that the Centre has "unleashed a misleading campaign to malign the combined Opposition" and blaming it for the continued disruption of Parliament proceedings.

The joint statement comes day after the Opposition leaders met over breakfast hosted by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and drove on bicycles to Parliament in protest. "The responsibility for the doorsteps of the Government, which remains arrogant and obdurate and refuses to accept the Opposition's demand for an informed debate in both the Houses," read the statement. The Opp parties stand firm and united on their demand for a discussion on Pegasus issue in both the Houses, replied to by the Home Minister, as this has national security dimensions," it said.

Earlier, a group of seven Opposition parties led by for-mer NDA ally Shiromani Akali Dal submitted a memorandum to President Ram Nath Kovind urging him to direct the Govt to allow a full-fledged discussion in both the Houses on a range of issues they have been protesting ever since the Monsoon session started.

Rajya Sabha Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu on Wednesday suspended six TMC MPs for the day for carrying placards while protesting along with other Opposition MPs over the Pegasus spying

Soon after the Rajya Sabha assembled for the day, slogan-shouting TMC and other Opposition MPs trooped into the Well of the House, some holding placards, to demand a discussion on the issue of Israeli-made Pegasus spyware allegedly being used to snoop on Opposition leaders, Government critics and journalists. The Chairman first asked members to go back to their seats and then threatened to invoke rule 255 against those holding placards. As the members refused to budge, he ordered that those "not obeying the Chair and raising placards shall leave the House under rule 255. He, however, did not name anyone and said Rajya Sabha Secretariat will give the list. Later a Parliamentary Bulletin identified the six MPs suspended for the day as Dola Sen, Md. Nadimul Haque, Abir Ranjan Biswas, Shanta Chhetri, Arpita Ghosh and Mausam

Lawyers of high profile cases too among new list

Aday before the Supreme Court is set to hear the Pegasus phone tapping case, a new list of phone numbers were out on Wednesday, including the old phone numbers in the name of former Supreme Court Judge Arun Mishra, Registrars of Supreme Court, and lawyers of the many high-profile accused.

As per the report published by The Wire portal, Justice Arun Mishra, who is currently National Human Commission Chairperson, confirmed that the number was with him dur-ing 2013-2014 and he is not using the number now.

The presence on the list of a number associated with a sitting judge was mentioned on the day The Wire began running its stories. Having now spoken to him on the record, we can confirm that a Rajasthan mobile number formerly registered in the name of Justice Arun Mishra, who retired from the Supreme Court in September 2020, was added to the database in 2019. A confidential source with access to BSNL records said that the number in question was registered in the name of Justice Mishra from September 8, 2010, to September 19, 2018," the report said.

The Wire further reported that Justice Mishra said, "The number +9194XXXXXXX is not with me since 2013-2014. I don't use this number."

Phone numbers of NK Gandhi and TI Rajput, who worked in the crucial "writ" section of the SC's registry vere also in the list o by the Pegasus Spyware. The numbers of two junior court employees, Tapan Kumar Chakraborty and Manay Sharma, who were dismissed from service by then CJI Ranjan Gogoi "for tampering with an order" in a contempt of court case against Anil Ambani of the Reliance ADAG group, were also on the list.

Former Attorney General Mukul Rohatgi's junior lawyer M Thangathurai's phone number was also on the list of targets for tapping. Thangathurai and Rohatgi both expressed surprise when informed by The Wire about the number's inclusion.

Phone numbers of lawyers of Christian Michel, Nirav Modi, Mehul Choksi also figured in the Pegasus tapping list.

HITTING THE BULLSEYE Pension for former lawmakers is a hurtful decision

BISWARAJ PATNAIK

Of late, there is quite some hue and cry about pension and perks given to former Indian lawmakers mainly because they keep making laws for getting fatter salary and benefits every now and then.

Even the LAD funds scheme needs to be scrapped as there are allegations of the public money being abused and eaten up by unscrupulous MPs who constitute the majority. The Indians are now inspired by the Swedish political practices and culture. A May 2019 article by Claudia a card to use the public trans-Wallin published in the Mail & portation. Only the Prime Guardian makes clear how Swedish lawmakers, members of the executive and the judiciary are treated publicly: Sweden does not offer luxury or privileges to its politicians.

Without official cars or private drivers, Swedish ministers and MPs travel in crowded buses and trains, just like the citizens they represent. Without any right to parliamentary immunity, they can be tried in a court of law like any other person. With no private secretaries at the door, their bare-bones parliamentary offices are as small as 8 metre square. The ordinary Swedish citizen too is conscious of the citizen's rights as well

"I'm the one who pays the politicians," says Joakim Holm, an ordinary Swedish citizen, adding, "And I see no reason to give them a life of luxury." Politicians, who dare to spend public money on taxi journeys instead of riding the train, end up on news headlines. Even the Speaker of Parliament receives They work from home.

Minister has the right to use a car from the security forces on a permanent basis. Swedish parliamentarians live in tiny apartments in the capital, where they wash and iron their own clothes in communal laundries.

This may seem meagre for such eminent people, but it actually is much better than it used to be. Until the end of the 1980s, all parliamentarians slept on sofa beds in their own

No Swedish in public life earns a multi-digit salary which is considered obscene and horribly vulgar. The take-home pay of a member of the Riksdag (Parliament) is about two times more than that of an elementary school teacher. At the municipal level, any desire to work in politics could be seen by their counterparts outside Sweden as a case for requiring psychological assessment: Swedish Councillors do not even earn a salary, nor do they have the right to an office.

Sweden's experience subverts the unhinged concept that politicians should be accorded reverential treatment worthy of a higher caste, consisting of ladies and gentlemen who are more illustrious than the average citizen and therefore deserving of an almost divine right to benefits and privileges that those living below the political Olympus could never

Sweden treats its government officials and political representatives as ordinary citizens. Formal titles of addresses have been abolished since the 1960s. Everyone is called simply 'you' and not 'Sir or Your Excellency or Your Honour'. According to the Swedish values system, nobody is above the ordinary citizen. The Swedish Ministers, including the PM, pushing shopping trolleys in supermarkets of Stockholm is common sight. The Stockholm Mayor is often seen standing in a queue at a bus-stop. The Parliament Speaker travelling in underground train goes invariably unnoticed. Sweden is undoubtedly a safer and less violent country than India. There, politicians and wealthy citizens alike do not travel in bulletproof cars. Politicians, who remain in touch with the dayto-day realities and pains of citizens, get elected. Politicians are not allowed to place their personal interests in any manner. Political power can be exercised only within the boundaries of decency. Even the judges of courts have no right to official cars, private secretaries or perks.

In Sweden, those in authority must be held accountable and all information has to be made freely available to the public. Swedish openness is reflected in the very transparency of political power, which is governed and monitored by the oldest transparency law in the world. Political corruption at any level is a rare phenomenon.

In 1766, the Swedish ordinary people's access to Government documents became a Constitutional right for citizens. That got enshrined in a special chapter of the Swedish Freedom of the Press Act. It's possible to trace the expenditure of Ministers, representatives and judges; to read the Prime Minister's income tax declaration; to check the expenses of the National Police Commissioner or the Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces; to keep abreast with how public agencies are spending tax money; and to monitor the actions, motions and official decisions made by any of the kingdom's authorities. One of the most emblematic political scandals of the country took place in the 1990s. Deputy Prime Minister Mona Sahlin bought a bar of chocolate, nappies and some other personal items with a over 100 years, Sweden transformed itself from an impoverished, agricultural society into one of the wealthiest, most socially just and least corrupt countries in the world, only because no public official is above the lowest-wrung ordinary citizen. India citizens went on fighting for the human right to information between 1948 and 2005.

Despite India having been signatory to the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1948, the successive Indian Governments never gave citizens the right to know what was happening and how in the Government systems to keep citizens happy and without being robbed.

Över the years in India, a number of public interest litigation cases challenging the validity of pension benefits to Members of Parliament have come up before the Supreme Court. But the court finally sided with the lawmakers, saying salary, pension, allowances and such other issues are within the jurisdiction of the executive and not challengeable.

From May 2009, former MPs. irrespective of the lengths of tenure, keep taking a pension of Rs 20,000 per month. Those who have enjoyed the royal life for more than five years receive an additional Rs 1,500 per month for every year they have been in Parliament. These former MPs can travel free in AC first class of any train when travelling alone and in AC second class with a companion, both for free. On the demise of an ex-MP, their spouse or dependent receives a family pension which is half the pension to which the ex-MP was entitled.

Sea trials of desi built INS Vikrant starts

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Tn a major milestone, ⊥the sea trials of the indigenously designed and built aircraft carrier INS Vikrant on Wednesday commenced. India has now joined the select group of countries including US, Russia, UK and France having the expertise to design and build the highly complex aircraft carriers.

Once it passes the sea trials, INS Vikrant is likely to be inducted into the Navy by the end of next year. The Navy on Wednesday described it as a "proud and historic day" and said India has joined a select group of countries having niche capability in this field of ship-

INS Vikrant is the largest and most complex warship to be built within the country. The 40,000-tonne aircraft carrier set off on its maiden sea trials, 50 played a major role in the 1971 war. It was built at a cost of more than Rs 23, 000 crores by the public sector Cochin Shipyard.

Once the extensive sea trials are over, the aircraft carrier will be put through the stringent aviation trials before induction into service. "It is a proud and historic day for India as the reincarnated Vikrant (IAC) sails for her maiden sea trials todav in the 50th year of her illustrious predecessor's key role in the victory in the 1971 war," Indian Navy Commander Vivek is around 262 metres long and 62 metres wide. In June, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh reviewed the construction of the aircraft carrier that will be able to accommodate up to 30 fighter jets and helicopters.

The warship will have a fleet of Mig-29K fighter jets and Ka-31 helicopters.

There are 14 decks in all, including five in the superstructure. The ship has over 2,300 compartments, designed for a crew of around 1,700 people, including specialised cabins to accommodate women officers.

It received over ₹785.77 crore in donations above ₹20,000 from 5576 donations including electoral trusts, individuals and corporate. received by the BJP is five times more than what Congress got during the same period and more than three times the aggregate of ₹228.035 crore declared by the INC, NCP, CPI, CPM and AITC.

Interestingly, BJP declared a donation of Rs 4.80 lakhs from Amravati Municipal Corporation. No details of address, bank name, PAN etc. have been provided by the party against this donation, the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR), a nongovernment organization that released the data, said. Mamata speaks to Modi about Bengal floods

With already three lakh people having been displaced due to floods and weather office forecasting more rains in the coming days Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday accused the central agencies for creating man-made flood in her State and wrote a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking respite from the present situation.

The Chief Minister who also had a telephonic talk with the Prime Minister earlier on the day and told him how faulty maintenance and erroneous decisions taken by the centrally controlled Damodar Valley Corporation had left flooded large parts of southern Bengal.

Besides Banerjee lodging a verbal complaint with the Prime Minister she also wrote a letter to him about what she called "grave man-made flood situation" in South Bengal districts adding how the DVC authorities had released "unprecedented" volume of water from its dams at Panchet, Maithon and Tenughat.

While sources said that the DVC had released 5.98 lakh cusec of water in last four-five days Baneriee on Wednesday told newsmen that "the DVC had announced leaving of 54,000 cusecs of water ... but they have released 2 lakh cusecs of water without informing us... every year wehave to face this problem for no fault of ours and lakhs of our people get affected and thousands of hectares of land get inundated causing losses

In her letter to the Prime Minister she wrote "The entire flood protection system managed through different dams including state barrages both on West Bengal and Jharkhand side are very old. Due toyears of siltation and lack of proper maintenance the water holding capacity has reduced,"

She said "we have been complaining against this practice for years but nothing has been done as a result of which the State is suffering." A tweet from the Prime Minister's office later said that he had assured of all support to Bengal. Banerjee had called up Modi after conducting survey of the flood-hit areas.

She visited the worst-hit in Amta and Udainarainpur in Howrah district. At least 15 people have died, and around three lakh displaced after heavy rain lashed parts of south Bengal.

Meanwhile rejecting the Chief Minister's allegations that arbitrary decision of the DVC was responsible for the Bengal floods the Corporation authorities said that "Blaming DVC for flood is unjustified as the DVC only implements the decision of the committee on water regulations. State government's consent is taken before the discharge of water and DVC issues warning to district administrations."

BJP creating atmosphere of terror among Brahmins in UP: Satish Chandra Mishra

 $B_{\text{tary}}^{\text{SP national general secretary}}$ Chandra Mishra has said that BJP is creating an atmosphere of panic in the State. There is constant oppression of Brahmins and Dalits. Many Brahmins have been murdered in the last four and a half years. This society is constantly being targeted. He was addressing an enlightened class seminar at Habib Garden, Maris Road Aligarh. He also targeted SP along with BJP on the issues of Shri Ram temple donation, unemployment, crime, development. Satish Mishra has been holding an enlightened conference across the State since July 23, the first phase of which has started from Ayodhya and the second from Banke Bihari. Under the second phase, he came to Aligarh from Agra. From here he left for Bareilly.

Satish Mishra said that the purpose of this seminar is to remind the enlightened society that it should not be afraid, but should compete. He said that the BSP is with Brahmins in this contest like it was in 2007. The question asked, why has the condition of Brahmins in Uttar Pradesh become worse today. First BJP harassed the people of Dalit society. There have been many incidents of burning, raping daughters. In Hathras case, the body of the daughter was not even given to the parents. He said that not only in Uttar Pradesh, but wherever BJP is in power, the situation is same. After his government came to power in Uttar Pradesh, the Brahmin community is being targeted. Five youths were burnt in Pratapgarh, who were later declared criminals.

Similar tales happened in Rae Bareli, Bundelkhand, Jhansi. Encounters of many people were done like this, while the Supreme Court has called the encounter wrong. In Ballia, criminals were saved openly under the patronage of the MLA. A boy working in Apple company was shot dead in Kanpur. A young Brahmin boy was killed in Lucknow. There were three such cases in the capital. In Kanpur, a report has been filed against dozens of Brahmins in the guise of a person. Strong Brahmins are being harassed. There are hundreds of tales to count. He narrated the story of Khushi Dubey, a sixteen-and-a-half-year-old girl from Kanpur. National General Secretary said that the thinking of BJP is not different from SP for Brahmins. Neeraj Mishra was assassinated in Kannauj during the SP regime.

He reminded that Brahmins constitute 13 percent of the population in the state. There are more than three crore Brahmins. Now the time has come that Brahmins are not divided. If the votes of other societies are mixed with that of Brahmins and Dalits, then the number reaches 45 to 50 percent. In such a situation, the Brahmin community can repeat the situation of 2007. They will have full respect if BSP government is formed. In 2007, there were 15 MLC Brahmins in the BSP government, the Legislative Council president was also from this class. 35 others had the status of Ministers of State. Five thousand public prosecutors belonged to this community, whose honorarium was increased ten-fold. He has been kept as the leader in the Lok Sabha till date.

Satish Mishra, while attacking the law and order, said that according to the National Crime Records Bureau, a woman is being raped every two hours in the state. Regarding development, he said that no government has done more work than BSP. Bank on the banks of river Sarvu in Ayodhya, bank on the banks of Ganga in Banaras, sew-erage system at Allahabad.

PAPER WITH PASSION

The right way?

Kerala is reporting quite a high number of COVID cases but the reasons are genuine or a couple of months now, the focus of pandemic watchers was on Kerala and the State has consistently reported the highest share of nationwide, fresh COVID-19 cases. Even on Tuesday, the State's numbers went past 23,500, the highest single-day count recorded by any State in the last eight weeks and grabbing a 56 per cent share in the national figure. The current test positivity rate in the State stands at 11.8 per cent. However, when it comes to the more alarming issue of the R-number — it indicates how many persons one COVID-19 patient can infect — Kerala has company. Eight States and Union Territories returned the reproduction — number of 1.2, meaning that one patient is infecting more than one person. Nine other States have an R-number of 1. The greater the ability to infect fresh persons, the greater is the transmissibility of the virus. The number of cases does not give the real picture. The R-number does that job. The more dangerous the variant, like the Delta Plus variant, the faster the transmissibility. Contract tracing will show the speed of transmission. The combination of testing and contact tracing alone can show if the case trajectory is reaching a problematic level in a region in the country. It is high time the Government accords testing and contact tracing as much primacy as vaccination. The jabs, it must be noted, do not necessarily stop new infections but only mellows their intensity.

Unfortunately, except Kerala, no other State or Union Territory is doing extensive testing and neither the national COVID task force nor the Union Health Ministry has insisted on it as yet. It is in this context that the Kerala example should be emulated by the rest of India. The latest sero survey has recorded low seropositivity of 44 per cent for Kerala as against the national average of 68 per cent. That means the majority of the State's population has remained protected from the virus. Considering that a majority of Kerala's population is urban, the achievement is all the more impressive. Secondly, the State conducts the most COVID-19 tests daily, the figure hovering around 1.4 lakh. A record 1.96 lakh tests were conducted on July 28. The State Government concentrates the testing in localities with high positivity. As a result, there is a high incidence of positive cases. In the absence of heavy testing, it cannot be said that other States reporting fewer fresh cases are safer. Thirdly, reports suggest the Delta variant entered Kerala later than the rest of India and that could explain the current surge in cases. Kerala has also managed to keep the fatality rate far lower than the national average despite the high number of daily cases. As of Tuesday, 39.9 per cent of the State's population is vaccinated. The Kerala model will be complete if the R-number is brought down, contract tracing is increased and localised lockdowns are brought back into force.

People flout social distancing norms at a weekly market, in Mumbai

The middle path

The Govt and the Opposition would do well to sit together and thrash out their differences

he continued disruption of Parliament is not unexpected. The scale and implications of the Pegasus snooping scandal are so overwhelming that it would have been naive to hope that the Opposition will not use it as a handle to corner the Government. The relations between the Opposition and the ruling BJP have steadily worsened over the alleged misuse of Central probe agencies. The last nail has been the fact that several Opposition leaders are on the list of those whose phones may have been compromised by Pegasus infections. Still, one would have expected that the two sides would find a middle path and Parliament will dutifully take up its legislative business. But sadly, neither side is ready to blink and the country has to witness yet another round of Parliament logjam, the type of which has become routine over the years. From the Opposition's point of view, the demand for a debate on the scandal is justified. After all, Parliament is the right forum where such an issue that poses a grave threat to India's democracy, should be discussed and debated even if the Government were to altogether reject the demand for a probe into the matter.

However, the Government feels that it owes no such favour to the Opposition because it allegedly wants to use the scandal as an opportunity to unite with an eye on the upcoming Assembly polls and presidential elections next year, and the Lok Sabha polls in 2024. Amid such distrust, it will be futile to hope for resumption of Parliament proceedings any sooner, though strategically the Opposition may agree to debate on issues like inflation, fuel price hike and the economic situation — issues that could help it corner the Government. The Pegasus scandal has become a glue to unite the Opposition and those wanting to uproot the Modi Government are working overtime to bring the Opposition on one platform. The unprecedented Opposition unity has emboldened them to stick to the path of confrontation, something which the Government can afford only at the cost of making people further sceptical about the very purpose of the existence of our democratic institutions. It's time both the ruling dispensation and the Opposition leaders sit down and find a middle path to restore the dignity and relevance of the legislature as one of the strongest pillars of our democratic institutions.

India tells Pak to vacate all its areas

Pakistan has coercively been occupying areas in Gilgit-Baltistan that belong to India since the princely State's accession to India in 1947

ndia has rejected the "cosmetic exercise" of the recent elections in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir. Traditionally, the ruling party in Pakistan wins elections in PoK and the incumbent ruling party, Tehreek-e-Insaaf, won these elections. India lodged a strong protest with Pakistan last week, saying that such exercises can neither hide illegal occupation of the areas of the then princely State of Jammu and Kashmir by Pakistan, comprising about 35 per cent of its total area, nor the grave human rights violations, exploitation and denial of freedom to people in these occupied areas. India has called on Pakistan to vacate all the Indian areas under its illegal occupation since 1947, on which it has no locus standi. By virtue of accession of the ruler of the then princely State Maharaja Hari Singh to India in 1947, sovereignty of the whole erstwhile State lies wholly and solely with India.

The time appears to have come for Pakistan to introspect deeply and reflect on its illegal actions in these illegally occupied parts of now Union Territories of J&K and Ladakh. Steeped in abject poverty and backwardness, this illegally occupied area is still considered to be the most neglected area in South Asia. Despite violent protests by people at every stage, Pakistan has illegally, forcefully and through underhand means changed frontiers and composition of these areas beyond recognition. After illegally occupying the areas following an aggression on the then princely State, Pakistan established an administrative structure in the occupied area named as Azad Jammu and Kashmir Government. Even though with a nominal legislature, the Government there continues to be under strict control of Pakistan Government.

During the late 1970s, Pakistan started to take steps to bifurcate the subsequently extended occupied area in two parts, one it had already named as Azad J&K and the other as Northern Areas, comprising Gilgit-Baltistan, which it had deemed to be a separate geographical entity to be administered ederally by Pakistan. Pakistan again changed the status of Northern Areas on May 21, 2018, when it promulgated the Gilgit-Baltistan Order replacing its earlier 'empowerment and self-government' order of 2009. Under the new Gilgit-Baltistan Council were given to the Assembly. But the Council was retained as advisory body for federal functions with regard to the Northern Areas. Thus legislative powers on key subjects are vested in the Prime Minister of Pakistan and not in the elected Assembly.

There were protests against this order not only in the area, but at many places in Pakistan. This reform package was seen as a precursor to attempts by Pakistan to make this area as its fifth province as also to change its demographic composition.

This perception was confirmed when last year Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan announced that the territory will be given provisional provincial status. Again in violation of international law and sovereignty of India and amid strong protests by people in PoK, Pakistan permitted China to run the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor project which passes through this Gilgit-Baltistan territory. Even the UN Economic and Social Commission for Asia Pacific in its report in May 2017 stated that the CPEC project could create geo-political tensions with India and lead to further instability in the region. Though reportedly prepared at the request of the Chinese Government, the could be far more dangerous. report also pointed out concerns former IIS officer and producabout its social and environmental safeguards. Provision of provisional provincial status to Northern Areas by Pakistan appears to be an attempt to lend legal cover to the much-criticised CPEC project which runs through Gilgit-Baltistan, an Indian territory.

India has already strongly protested against this yet another severe illegality of Pakistan. Last week, the Indian MEA rejected a reference to CPEC in a recent Pakistan-China joint statement. It said that the CPEC lies in Indian territory illegally occupied by Pakistan and that India resolutely opposes it. With regard to reference to J&K in the joint statement, the MEA spokesperson said that the UTs of J&K and Ladakh are an integral and inalienable part of India. Obviously, if Pakistan still chooses to continue with its illegal actions and material changes in J&K and Ladakh under its illegal occupation, that will mean continued violation of sovereignty and territorial integrity of India. This will lead to more instability in the region. For overall development, India desires peace with Pakistan, but Pakistan's action could lead to one more war over Jammu and Kashmir which

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INDIAN WOMEN MAKE US PROUD

Sir — The brilliant performance put up by Indian women athletes sets them apart at the Tokyo Olympics. Although India's total medal tally is modest, the contributions of women athletes is commendable. The silver by Saikhom Mirabai Chanu in weightlifting, a bronze by badminton star Sindhu, a bronze by Lovlina Borgohain in boxing and the women's hockey team's spectacular performance which enabled them to enter the semifinals, all these show that women athletes of India have a bright future in international sports events.

When we think about the social discrimination and gender inequality that women face in India, theirs is indeed great achievement. It must be understood that of the 15 Olympic medals that India has won since 2000, women have won seven. Considering that India ranks 112 out of 153 countries in the Global Gender Gap Index 2020, women's achievement is so great. Given the fact that women in general and professional women in particular face gender discrimination and prejudice in India, their achievement is tremendous when compared with that of men. Indian women's achievement at the Tokyo Olympics is certainly an inspiration for prospective women athletes in the country and for women in general who want to prove their expertise in different fields.

CREATE JOBS FOR A BETTER FUTURE

Sir — Candidates at job interviews after the lockdown will have an additional challenge at hand. It could be a fresher graduating out of a college or people at different stages of their career seeking a job either for better prospects or as a fallout of unfortunate job loss due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The first challenge is that there may be fewer jobs for them to grab. Too many candidates may be chasing too few jobs. How does a candidate stand apart in such a situation?

Apart from evaluating candidates for their fitness for the job, the companies

Slum children need special care

holistic approach is to be taken in case of street children and there must be a concrete scheme for the uplift of children as help will not come from heaven as in Slumdog Millionaire. We want to protect the children from COVID-19 but what is the use if they die of hunger instead unless timely help is not given. The family cannot even apply for a ration card as they do not have any residence proof or any identity documents. The Government has plenty of schemes for slum redevelopment, but most of these are on paper. Importantly, sanitation is not on the agenda. Clean atmosphere and are going to evaluate them on how thev coped with the uncertainties posed by the pandemic. In one way, this is actually a great opportunity for both candidates and companies. Companies will look for in the candidates the ability to adapt to uncertain conditions. Candidates can stand apart from others if they prove that they can think and act differently in such uncertainties. Facing pay cuts, job losses and rising costs, many people grit their teeth and made the most of an extremely rough year. This, then, is as good as it gets. It is time to create more jobs opportunities. MR Jayanthi | Mumbai

The way things are, there is no collective vision; no rules either. Nearly 60 per cent live in slums in most of the metro cities, but a good chunk of the municipal corporation's agenda is devoted to gardens, roads, parking and so on; the slums don't feature. In our lopsided system of political representation, slum dwellers have been relegated to a vote bank. They are patronised, and encouraged to live in deprivation. Poor sanitation and environment, contaminated drinking water and crowded conditions all make the matter worse. Everyone is talking about Swachh Bharat, but how many toilets have been constructed in slums under this project? The politicians always look at how many votes they can garner in an area. They don't look at problems like housing or their poor living environment. Even yearly allotment of funds to MPs or MLAs can help out the cause of

FIRST COLUMN AN INNOVATIVE INSTITUTION

SWIFT bridges financial inequalities by offering financial services to the underprivileged

GOBHANU SASANKAR KORISEPATI

n Indian student has developed an innovative microfinance concept for women, inspired by Bangladesh's Grameen Bank the world's largest microfinance institution — which made banking more accessible to the poor. SWIFT- Sustaining Women in Financial Turmoil — was formed in September 2020, when its founder, Gobhanu Korisepati, launched a microfinance social business platform. He spent over three months in an internship with Grameen Bank to learn the logistics. SWIFT was founded to bridge financial inequalities in India by making financial services accessible to the underprivileged. The need was felt because he witnessed the complexities accompanying traditional loans such as mandatory collateral and proof of income firsthand and found that financial services tend to discriminate against the poor directly. The institution is based on an adapted version of micro-finance that best targets women who lack access to financial services. It brings women financial stability and human dignity by providing them micro-loans to start their entrepreneurial adventures. A loan can change the life of any individual, especially for a woman coming from an underprivileged background. To date, SWIFT has loaned to over 1000 women, working with a focus on sectors such as agriculture, clothing, and food services. The largest loan SWIFT has lent individually is worth ₹20,000. The borrower is a young woman, Magali, and the loan helped her buy wholesale fabric, thread, elastic, yarn, and maintain her sewing machine. The loan was unique as it was aimed at reaching vulnerable populations in an isolated region. SWIFT's many loans are targeted to help the women who need it the most, and they have been successful in lending over ₹19 lakh so far. Another borrower from SWIFT is Meela, a rural farmer who aspired to be an entrepreneur, and the loan provided the perfect opportunity to do so. Meela has a family of three and a monthly household income under the poverty line. By providing her a loan, SWIFT helped her buy seeds and fertilizers to increase agricultural production. SWIFT currently selects the needy based on criteria that are constantly being adapted to fit the best interests of Indian women.

The criteria currently considered are based on the community impact a loan would have: how many people the loan can positively affect and risk evaluation factors, loan duration, and repayment schedule. It is important to note that SWIFT does not charge any interest on the loans as its goal is only to better the livelihoods of the borrowers and their communities. When asked how SWIFT has raised funds, Gobhanu says that SWIFT is fortunate enough to have gained a following on social media platforms and its website (swiftmfi.org), which primarily allocates its funding addition to local fundraisers such as bake-sales and charity games. What makes SWIFT unique from other charities is that it is run directly by children. A few months after founding SWIFT, Gobhanu sought out help and was overwhelmed by the support of youth he could find online. Today the SWIFT team consists of over 20 high school students who donate their time and efforts to make the world a better place. SWIFT is also currently inculcating the habit of microfinancing throughout schools as the organization believes that financial literacy is a fundamental step for India's development. Gobhanu savs that his vision is for SWIFT to reach developing and developed nations worldwide, not just India. In the coming years, he hopes to create a sustainable student-run organization that works to create equality of opportunity for marginalized com-

Youth and radicalism: Search for cannon fodder

The so-called movement for Khalistan checks all the necessary boxes to be an 'ideal' issue for agencies like Pakistan's ISI to attack India

illiam Faulkner's observa-tion that "the past is never dead, it is not even the past' holds for issues that enemies of India exploit to fuel unrest. The resurgence of the talk surrounding 'Khalistan' indicates how those interested in harming India never stop sowing seeds of discontent.

For any strife to continually 'catch the fancy' of the people, it has to appear personal and immediate. Such issues can find easy access in India with many societal, caste, religious, and sectarian fault lines. The abundance of youth is a bonus for those looking to take advantage. The radicalisation of youth to be used as cannon fodder is commonplace across strife-driven regions like in Syria where the social unrest originated from college campuses. The JNU protest is another illustration where sloganeering against a fee hike soon transformed into a demonstration of whatever was the 'flavour of the month

The so-called movement for Khalistan checks all the necessary boxes to be an 'ideal' issue for agencies like Pakistan's ISI to attack India. It is well-documented that ISI pumped monetary and arms resources and provided a haven for extremists who propagated the demand for a separate State

In the last few years, long-standing issues like left-wing extremism or Islamist terror are being called out or are past their sell-by date. The significant churn in the United States and Australia, and the United Kingdom against Chinese influence in college campuses has shaken things up. The crackdown by Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed Bin Salman in 2017 on Islamist terrorists unleashed significant changes in how Jihadist terror operated across the globe. Vowing to galvanise an Islamic military coalition that aimed to counter "terrorism and extremism," Mohammed bin Salman led a series of high-level meetings of an alliance of Muslim nations against terrorism funding and the day-to-day disruption of al-Qaida, the Islamic State, and like-minded jihadists. In this atmosphere, global entities that benefit from strife, such as the military-industrial complexes, need to fan new issues to survive.

One of the reasons why Khalistan is a red-flag issue unlike ever before is the global support that has come its way in the recent oast, with significant ramifications. In a recent Club House chat, a young person of Indian origin based in Europe and dedicated to the Khalistan cause claimed that the movement aimed at the physical separation of Punjab from the Indian union in less than two generations. The support for the separatist elements of the Khalistan movement, especially amongst the second-generation Punjabi youth based in Canada, the United Kingdom, and the United States, has gained momentum as it ostensibly seeks to correct a historical wrong. However, the danger has increased manifold due to a suc-

KHALISTAN WAS NEVER A DOMESTIC ISSUE, AND THE SOONER THE AVERAGE INDIAN REALISES THAT IT HAS THE POTENTIAL TO CHANGE THE WORLD, THE FASTER WE CAN COUNTER IT. THE REASON THAT WE CANNOT TAKE ALL OF THIS TO BE AN OVERSTRETCHING OF ONE'S IMAGINATION IS STARING US IN THE FORM OF A SIMPLE FACT — THE WORLD HAS cessful shift in the perspective. The anti-Sikh pogrom of 1984 is not attributed to Congress but the 'Indian State.' As a result, the Khalistan issue now targets the

a 'revolt' as the only way out. This status transition is strategically designed and it would be foolish to think otherwise. It is similar to the Israel-Palestine issue and the desire of vested parties to replicate the model where a narrative would constantly stoke fires of how the Indian state has unleashed a flurry of horrors upon the ordinary citizens of Punjab. The narrative-building machinery is also in place, with socio-cultural events such as literary jaunts with authors and think tanks disseminating ideas and information to that end.

Indian government and propagates

One can see how global concepts such as critical race theory, a 40-year-old idea that believes racial division to be a social construct instead of a personal bias, arepromogulated locally. The ongoing farmers' protest is a testimony to the same, where a broad idea - farmers opposing the three laws - has been rejigged to make it region-spe cific - how the state has primarily targeted the farmer of Punjab.

The Khalistan issue is also being pitched as a shared narrative at a global level, claiming to echo the sentiments of the Sikh community, even though the citizens of Punjab rejected the very idea of a separate State. The local view is routinely, and even vehemently, dismissed on public platforms and social media by radicalised elements based outside of India. While Indians wave off the issue as bunkum or pointless wishful thinking of a handful of wavered NRI youth, global media picks on that point of view and furthers it. The physical or virtual protests also have many Pakistan-sponsored implants disguised as Sikhs. The cycle is then completed when such news is peddled for domestic consumption as the local view that an authoritarian government has suppressed.

The propagators of Khalistan are quick to portray Prime Minister Narendra Modi as the all-powerful fascist responsible for the subjugation of Punjab, even though the actions of the current Indian government tell a completely different story. In 2018, a Delhi court awarded the first death penalty to two persons in the 1984 anti-Sikh riots in the cases that were probed and re-opened by the Special Investigation Team (SIT) set up by the Modi government in 2015. In 1994, the two had gotten away due to lack of evidence, and their conviction became possible only due to the evidence provided by the BJP state government.

The Knalistan Issue is a testing ground for other pan-India strifes that can be used against the country. It is in tandem with a 2016 Pakistan Senate recommendation to the then Nawaz Sharif government to play up caste and religion issues in India to curb India's global influence. A 13-member committee of the Senate, Pakistan's equivalent to the Rajya Sabha, asked the government to talk about 'Dalits, unhappy Muslims, and encourage those opposing Prime Minister Narendra Modi' to destabilise India. It also made some tactical recommendations to "hire International lobbyists and strategic communication firms and reactivate Pakistani community living abroad to change the global narra-

The narrative-building efforts to push Khalistan or any exploitable local fault line to the forefront as a global agenda cannot be ignored or undermined. One is reminded of how the US attack on Iraq in 2002 also resulted from a complex narrative-building exercise. India's stature as a geopolitical player on the global stage has only increased in the recent past. Whether it is Asia or the Indian Ocean Region, India's significance is now key to shaping the world as it has also emerged as a natural counter balance to China. This reality does not suit traditional foes such as China and Pakistan and their new supporters, namely, Turkey and Iran.

Rest assured, any narrative that thwarts India would be ready to pick for them. Khalistan was never a domestic issue, but its play has only increased, and the sooner the average Indian realises it has the potential to change the world, the faster we can counter it. The reason that we cannot take all of this to be an overstretching of one's imagination is staring us in the form of a simple fact - the world has shifted from 'conventional warfare' to the unconventional. While we might not comprehend the severity of unconventional warfare, it surely is at play around the world by those interested in it.

Maldives and Indian relationship

There have been a few untoward incidents that led to the Maldivians harbouring anti-India sentiments aldives and India are having a relationship Crisis owing to media articles and social media posts attacking the dignity of the Indian High Commission office in that country. The Indian High commission wrote a letter to the ministry of external affairs that was shared with the Maldivian local media. The commission complained letter about the malicious and increasingly personal attacks that may damage the bilateral relations between India and the Maldives

The Maldivian Democratic Party (MDP) released a statement that empathised with Indian diplomats and termed the attacks as derogatory. The MDP blamedthe whole drama on a local newspaper, Dhiyares, and its owner, Ahmed Azaan.

(The writer is retired Senior Professor, International Trade and Member, Vivekananda

International Foundation, New Delhi. The views expressed are personal.)

The MDP believes that the anti-India campaign run by Azaan is a well-funded, tailor-made, and intricately choreographed political campaign to bring ties between the Maldives and its closest ally, India, to breaking point.

The reason for the 'India out' campaign was the military presence in the Maldives, which according to the locals, is a threat. The 'India out' campaign started in 2020 and spread across social media like a wildfire. The co-founder of the Dhiyares media, Shifxan Ahmed, clarified that they had only one issue - about the Indian military presence. It is not the first time that an anti-India campaign had reared its ugly head. Back in 2013, when the Progressive Party of Maldives (PPM) was in power, international relations between India and Maldives took a hit. PPM, led by Abdulla Yameen Abdul Gayoom, had tilted towards the Chinese. To please the Chinese, the Yameen government indulged in anti-India slogans and policies.

Researcher Dr. Gulbin Sultana, an analyst at Manohar Parrikar Institute for Defence Studies and Analysis (IDSA), shares the same sentiment about the anti-India rhetoric of 2013. But even if the Yameen government had a biased that favoured the Chinese, they engaged in an India-first policy as well. There have been a few untoward incidents that led to the Maldivians harbouringanti-India sentiments. The first incident was when India gifted two Dhruv Advanced Light Helicopters (ALF) in 2010 and 2015. These helicopters were to be operated by Indian officers and to be used for ocean search and rescue operations, airlifting patients across the islands, and Maritime weather surveillance. They were based in Addu atoll and at Hanimaadhoo but the pro-China stance of the Yameen government let it interpret them as proof of the Indian military's growing presence in the Maldives. In 2016, when the agitation reached its peak, the India to take back their choppers and the defence personnel. The Indian refusal to take back the choppers added fuel to the fire. In 2018, Ibrahim Mohamed Solih came to power and scrapped agreements that proscribed the use of choppers and he extended the stay of Indian personnel stay in the Maldives. olih's friendly stance towards India and its choppers again fuelled anti-India sentiments in the Maldives.

The Maldivian government believed in keeping terms of contracts about defence, sovereignty, and national security secret. Some groups of people interpreted this secrecy as a threat to democracy. The domestic players in the Maldives opposed agreements with India because of this lack Yameen government requested of transparency. According to Maldivian law, any agreement has to be tabled in Parliament and needs parliamentary approval. It is only after the approval the government can engage in bilateral treaties. But the Solih government, in the name of national security, does not share any data with Parliament. The idea of keeping everything under wraps in the name of national security angers the people and fuels protests.

The second incident was the signing of Sifvaru-Uthuru Thilafalhu (UTF) harbour project agreement between India and the Maldives in 2021, under which India will be developing a Maldives National Defence Force Coast Guard Harbour. This project was initiated under the Yameen government. The dockyard is an atoll located near Malè, the capital of the Maldives. The Indian motive behind signing this agreement was the growing presence of the Chinese in the Indian Ocean region. This agreement would satisfy the strategic interests of both India and the Maldives. But in 2019, when the Solih government came to power, media suspicion began to grow, owing to Solih's inclination towards India about the UTF project. The Maldivian government has repeatedly clarified that they would not allow any military presence on their land, be it Indian, Chinese, or anyone else. The Maldives has repeatedly asked India not to interfere in its domestic politics.

After the threats to blast the Indian high commission in the Maldives, appropriate security measures have now been taken.

British navy group: Hijackers have left vessel off UAE coast

AP ■ FUJAIRAH (UAE)

The hijackers who captured a vessel off the coast of the United Arab Emirates in the Gulf of Oman left the targeted ship on Wednesday, the British navy reported, ending a ship seizure that revived fears of an escalation in Mideast waters.

The incident, described by the British military's United Kingdom Maritime Trade Operations the night before as a "potential hijack," ended with as much mystery as it began.

While the details of who briefly impounded the asphalt tanker and why remain unclear, the seizure once again reveals a region on edge as Iran and the United States seek to broker a resolution to their standoff over Tehran's tattered 2015 nuclear deal with world powers.

Over the past years, the rising tensions have played out in the waters of the Persian Gulf, where just last week a drone attack on an oil tanker linked to an Israeli billionaire off the coast of Oman killed two crew members. The West blamed Iran for the raid, which marked the first known fatal assault in the yearslong shadow war targeting vessels in Mideast waters. Iran denied involvement.

Late on Tuesday, intruders boarded a Panama-flagged asphalt tanker called Asphalt Princess sailing off the coast of Fujairah, authorities said. The official news agency of Oman's military said it received reports that the Asphalt Princess had been hijacked and dispatched Royal Air Force maritime patrol aircraft and naval vessels "to contribute to securing international waters?

Possible signs of trouble began to emerge that evening when six oil tankers off the coast of Fujairah announced around the same time via their Automatic Identification System trackers that they were not under command," according to MarineTraffic.com. That typically means a vessel has lost power and can no longer steer.

Satellite-tracking data for the Asphalt Princess had showed it gradually heading toward Iranian waters off the port of Jask early Wednesday, according to MarineTraffic.com. Hours later, however, it stopped and changed course toward Oman, just before the British navy group declared the hijackers had departed and the vessel was now "safe."

RBI's MPC begins deliberations

LIKELY TO MAINTAIN STATUS QUO ON INTEREST RATE

⊤he RBI's rate-setting panel MPC began its three-day deliberations on Wednesday to finalise the bi-monthly monetary policy amid expectations that it may opt for status quo on interest rate on account of inflationary concerns.

Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das will unveil the resolution of the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) on Headed by the RBI Governor, the six-member MPC also includes three external members.

Experts are of the view that the RBI may prefer to wait and watch for some more time before taking any major action on the monetary policy front as the central bank's focus is on managing inflation as well supporting economic growth.

The central bank had left the benchmark interest rate unchanged at 4 per cent at the June policy meet. It was for the

M Govinda Rao, chief economic advisor of Brickwork Ratings, said the MPC has kept key policy rates unchanged since May 2020, after having brought them down to a record low of 4 per cent from 5.15 per cent through two rate cuts (75 bps in March 2020 and 40 bps in May 2020), to assuage the economic consequences of the Covid-19

Moreover, the MPC has continued with the accommodative policy stance after changing it from neutral in June 2019. "We expect the RBI MPC to hold the repo rate at 4 per cent and continue to be accommodating to support the nascent recovery, in the upcoming MPC. We also expect it to sound a cautionary note and emphasise the need to closely monitor the situation,"

3-tier GST, capping highest slab at 18%

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Industry chamber PHDCCI on Wednesday called for a 3tier GST rate structure, with the highest slab at 18 per cent, to help boost consumption and reduce evasion.

Under the Goods and Services Tax (GST), a four-rate structure that exempts or imposes a low rate of tax 5 per cent on essential items and top rate of 28 per cent is levied. The other slabs of tax are 12 and 18 per cent. Besides, a 3 per cent rate is applied on gold, silver and processed diamonds.

PHDCCI President Sanjay Aggarwal said an ideal GST rate structure would be to have two to three slabs of GST rates.

"We suggest the lowest rate at 5 per cent, a moderate rate of 12 per cent, by clubbing the category of 12 and 18 per cent, and the highest rate of 18 per cent for luxury and sin goods only," he said.

"The government is presently holding stakeholder consultations with State Governments, central ministries, technical institutions, etc. To explore the development of freight smart cities in the country," Goyal said. Replying to a question on Open Network for

Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Som Parkash said it is an initiative aiming at promoting open networks for all aspects of the exchange of goods and services over digital or electronic networks.

"ONDC is expected to make e-commerce more inclusive and accessible for consumers. Consumers can potentially discover any seller, product or service by using any compatible application or platform, thus increasing freedom of choice for consumers," Parkash said.

ONDC will enable the consumers to match demand with the nearest available supply, he added. "This would also give consumers the liberty to choose their preferred local businesses. Thus, ONDC would standardise operations, promote inclusion of local suppliers, drive efficiencies in logistics and lead to enhancement of value for consumers, the minister said.

REMOTE WORKING — BOON OR BANE?

Anand Dorairaj talks about how 'workations' may lend a fun element to your job ot long before the global pandemic hit us — reappraising the way we think about work and leisure — the prospect of working from home, even if it were only fortnightly, was an exciting proposition. The benefits of skipping the endless commute to the workplace, attending meetings while virtually donning your favourite pair of pyjamas, and aligning your tasks around your chores or sleep cycle, would always outdo the regularly inconvenient humdrum of life otherwise.

But COVID altered our lives and beliefs in so many unexpected ways. The novelty of working from home started to fade away in a matter of a few months after offices were shut. The makeshift work desks at different corners of homes eventually blurred the personal-professional boundary, triggering overwhelming sentiments of 'living at work', burnouts and 'Zoom fatigue', resulting in monotony, lethargy and reduced productivity levels.

The sustained monotony of work-

The sustained monotony of working from home has also proved to be detrimental to mental health, particularly impacting professionals who have been living away from families. However, since large companies are looking at the remote working structure as a more permanent solution for its obvious pros and considering how the third wave of COVID-19 is just around the corner, as per experts, we may have to find ways to mix things up and make working from home a sustainable and agreeable process.

The solution — A 'workation' Experts swear by the mantra of rotating your workspace, so your day feels more varied. Initially, professionals tried to mix things up depending on the amount of space at their disposal. But as they ran out of options, a few took it to the next level by hiring a space in the outdoors — to work!

And that's how the term

'workation' was coined. Workation = work + vacation. It's combining business with leisure. It's attending Zoom calls against the enviable backdrop of a waterfall. It's scheduling emails while sunbathing at a beach. It's creating campaigns while sipping a cup of hot cocoa at a rustic cafe somewhere in the hills. It's hitting targets while hitting the roads.

A workation allows you to take your office along with you on your vacation. When you work from the hills or beaches, you integrate the elements of leisure into it, giving yourself time to unwind and rejuvenate whilst delivering on your daily targets. The idea of taking a road trip to a nearby destination — to relocate for a few weeks or even months — has proven to do wonders for your productivity, boosting motivation and striking a perfect work-life balance.

Smart marketing by the travel and hospitality sector

With the workation fad doing the rounds, hotels and homestays near metro cities have introduced 'Workation Packages' to cash in on the trend. They have bolstered their infrastructure to offer the best remote working experience — contactless check-ins, high-speed internet (even on the beaches and open spaces), comfortable work desks, in-room dining services, and babysitting services for kids. They are training their staff rigorously on the COVID SOPs to ensure compliance with all social distancing and safety measures. To promote longer workations, they are rolling out lucrative offers with slashed tariffs on long-term rentals and extended stays.

The workation-readiness isn't limited to the hospitality sector. The travel industry, which was equally affected by the pandemic (if not more), is all geared up to facilitate safe commute to workations, which are usually in smaller towns located a few hundred kilometres away from densely populated urban spaces. The safety benefits and convenience offered by car rentals coupled with the charm of a classic road trip after months of confinement is what's making car rentals the preferred choice of travel among workationers. After all, who does not want to be pampered by a doorstep pickup and drop, with a chauffeur-dri-

'A BREATH OF FRESH AIR'

Actor AAHANA KUMRA shares how the teleplay, Sir Sir Sarla is a story replete with love and nostalgia. By TEAM VIVA

For Aahana Kumra, shooting for Zee Theatre's Sir Sir Sarla was an immensely rewarding experience. She remarks, "The wonderful thing is that during the shoot, I did not lose the flow I experienced on stage while performing a play live. Thankfully the director just let us be and didn't ask us to give multiple retakes. The whole experience turned out to be enjoyable."

Aahana attended the first screening of the play at the writer, director and actor Makarand Deshpande's house and shares, "Spending time at Mac sir's place was a nice way to relive the shoot especially because we have not been able to perform the play on stage for a live audience due to the pandemic."

Sir Sir Sarla explores the story of Professor Paleker.

Sir Sir Sarla explores the story of Professor Palekar and his student Sarla – the pretty, innocent young girl who seems smitten by her mentor – and Phanidhar who shares a love-hate relationship with the professor. The play dwells upon the bond between the students and their professor, which faces many vicissitudes. Secrets are revealed, accusations are hurled, and the three lives remain interwoven for many years to come. The narrative is very unique and also relatable, says Aahana. "Even though we were travelling extensively with the play before the pandemic, it took me a long time to understand Sarla. Then in cities like Lucknow and Bareilly, I actually met people who were like Keshav and Sarla. They would come to meet me after the show and say that this was their story. That was such a revelation and as an artiste, I began to feel there was an added responsibility to portray Sarla in a real and organic way because so many women saw themselves in her," she adds.

With time and experience, the play's theme began to make more and more sense to her. As she says, "In a world full of hate and anxiety, this play is like a breath of fresh air. It really transports you to a place replete with love and nostalgia."

Sir Sir Sarla is written and stage directed by Makarand, and stars him alongside Aahana, Sanjay Dadhich and Anjum Sharma. Its filming director is Suman Mukhopadhyay. Watch the play on DishTV D2H Rangmanch Active.

As a first-time mom-to-be last year, my ideas of a postpartum body were all driven by the hundreds of articles on 'how to bounce back' on the internet. But the reality of what a postpartum body looks (and feels) like hit me like a deer caught in headlights. It was not only opposite to all the miraculous flat belly pictures that I saw of women at just three months postpartum but no one was talking about how regressive it was to put societal pressure on women to bounce back when their bodies had to completely change to create a universe.

It was time to change the dialogue. But if I had to, I needed to be first empowered with the knowledge of what really changed in my post-baby body. I chose to do this by getting certified as a pre-post-natal specialist so that I could share the post-baby body changes no one tells you about.

First, yes, we must have the doctors' permission before starting exercise post-delivery but it should not be interpreted to mean that you can or should start lifting weights immediately, run or take part in intense cardio. It should ideally be light walking and rehabilitative exercises to restore strength and function to the deep core stability system (focussing on transverse abdominal (TA) and pelvic floor muscles) under the guidance of a postnatal specialist. Unlike popular belief, our body is not miraculously ready to resume exercising once the doctor gives the go-ahead at the four or six weeks check-up.

Second, post-baby urinary incontinence is a real thing and the life quality of one out of three new moms will be affected due to it. And Kegels (exercises where you pretend you have to pee and then hold it) aren't enough. It's normal to pee when you laugh, cough, sneeze,

Shh! Secrets revealed

jump and run postpartum, but you don't have to live with it. Your pelvic floor needs to be able to lengthen, relax and contract — not just contract. If the pelvic floor is always in a contracted state, the muscles become shortened, tightened, and sometimes weak. And it doesn't help in the recovery process. Thus Kegels alone are not the answer. Instead, practising proper activation and release of these muscles with the technique of connection breath/ diaphragmatic breathing is the key.

Most probably you have a condition called Diastasis recti which is the partial or complete separation of the rectus abdominis, or 'six-pack' muscles, which meet at the midline of your stomach. Diastasis recti is very common during and following pregnancy. This is because the uterus stretches the muscles in the abdomen to accommodate your growing baby. Diastasis recti is what we popularly see externally as the post-baby belly.

Don't get disheartened with the flat

Don't get disheartened with the flat belly before and after pictures of women on social media within weeks of child-birth. Every woman's body is different and so is their recovery time. It can take anywhere from six weeks, six months to even a few years before you see improvements. What we need to understand is the reason behind it. If left untreated, diastasis recti can potentially lead to poor core stabilisation, pelvic floor dysfunction, and back or pelvic pain. And of course, the external effect is the post-baby belly.

Crunches, planks, leg lifts, and bicycles can cause an increase in intraabdominal pressure and worsen diastasis recti or ab separation. The first step instead is rehabilitating the deep core with movements such as the dead bug, open book, clamshell and heel slides.

We made an entire universe and popped it out too. So, will we be able to rebuild our 'pre-pregnancy strength'? We may actually exceed it in ways we can't even imagine.

The key is to lay a strong foundation with a strong core post-pregnancy. Our body goes through a lot of changes through pregnancy and regaining physical strength, post-birth, is tough but at the same time, there is a newfound appreciation for the body and what it is capable of.

It's not going to be easy but we need to stay on track, be patient and show grace to our body and celebrate every small win.

'I think indie cinema works like the R&D department for the business of cinema. You see, in mainstream commercial films, there is huge money involved so it is naturally a profit-making venture. If cinematic excellence is not supported by the big production houses, the sensibility will not change in the business as well as among the larger section of the audience.'

'OTT is definitely an addiction. You won't go to a movie theatre or watch TV for 24 hours. But your phone is there with you all the time. Unfortunately, because of the pandemic situation, we are kind of becoming loners. Whereas earlier we would socialise, that is not happening so regularly now. So we want entertainment and are stuck on our phones.'

Dahiya on Wednesday became only the second Indian wrestler to qualify for the title clash at the Olympic Games, when he sensationally turned around the 57kg semifinal bout by pinning Kazakhstan's Nurislam Sanayev but Deepak Punia was left to fight for Bronze medal after he lost his semifinal, here on Wednesday.

Before Dahiya, Sushil Kumar was the only Indian to make the Gold medal bout at the 2012 Olympics in London where he had settled for a Silver. The fourth seeded Dahiya trailed 2-9 after Sanayev effected a few 'fitley' (leg lace) but as the clocked ticked away, Dahiya regrouped and got hold of his rival with a double leg attack that resulted in a 'victory by fall'.

He got hold of Sanayev with a double leg attack and then gripped him tightly with the Kazakhstan wrestler's back on the mat and finished the bout with a mighty 'pin'.

A dominant Dahiya had won both his previous contests on technical superiority en route the final.

Dahiya outclassed Colombia's Tigreros Urbano (13-2) in his opener and then outwitted Bulgaria's Georgi Valentinov Vangelov (14-4).

It was hardly a contest as Taylor effected one move after another to win by technical superiority in the first period

Deepak could make only one move on counter attack but the American did not give the Indian any chance to convert that into points.

Anshu Malik, on the other hand, lost her opening 57kg bout to European champion Irina Kurachikina but since the Belarus wrestler has reached the final, the 19-year old Indian has got a second chance to be in medal round.

She will now compete in the repechage round on Thursday and if she wins, she will also fight for Bronze.

Dahiya will now be only the fifth Indian wrestler to win an Olympic medal. KD Jadhav had become India's first wrestler and also the first individual Olympic medallist when he won a Bronze during the 1952 Helsinki Games.

After that, Sushil Kumar enhanced wrestling's profile by winning a Bronze at 2008 Beijing Games and bettered the colour of the medal by claiming a historic Silver in 2012 at London Olympics that made him India's only athlete with two individual Ólympic medals for nine years.

The feat then has now been matched by shuttler PV Sindhu.In the same 2012 Olympics, Yogeshwar Dutt won a Bronze.

Tokyo: A brave Indian women's hockey team put up a gritty performance but it was not enough to secure a maiden Olympic final berth as it lost 1-2 to world No 2 Argentina in a hard-fought semifinal on Wednesday.

Neeraj Chopra became the first Indian javelin thrower to enter the finals of the Olympic Games with a stunning throw of 86.65m in his opening attempt that put him on top of the qualification round on Wednesday.

The 23-year-old kept India's hopes of an elusive Olympic medal from athletics alive by earning a direct entry into the finals to be held on Saturday as he sent the spear well past the qualifying mark of 83.50m in his first attempt. However, Shivpal Singh, failed to make the final cut with a below-par best throw of 76.40m, which he came up in his first attempt, to finish a lowly 12th in the Group B qualification which featured 16 athletes. Competing in his first Olympics, Chopra took just a few seconds to make the final round. He topped the Group A contest as well as the two qualifications rounds and left the javelin arena after his first throw.

"I am at my first Olympic Games, and I feel very good. In warmup my performance wasn't so good, but then (in the qualifying round) my first throw had a good angle, and was a perfect throw," Chopra said after his event.

Chopra is, however, under no illusion that the final will be a totally different contest where the world's best will go for podium finish.

"It will be a different feeling (in the finals), since it is my Tokyo: Medal contender Olympics. Physically we (all) train hard, and are ready, but I also need to prepare mentally.

"I will need to focus on the throw, and try to repeat this (performance) with a higher score," said the youngster who came into the Olympics with the fourth best throw (88.07m) this year.

Chopra's performance on Saturday will go down as one of the best performances by an Indian in the Olympics, as he finished ahead of Gold medal favourite and 2017 world champion Johannes Vetter of Germany.

Vetter, who had earlier said that Chopra will find it tough to beat him in the Olympics, struggled in his first two throws before crossing the automatic qualification mark with a 85.64m final throw. The 28-year-old towering

German, who came into the Olympics after having seven monster throws of over 90m between April and June, was lying at a dangerous seventh position after his first two throws but eventually qualified for the final at second overall behind Chopra. Pakistan's Arshad Nadeem, who had won a Bronze medal when Chopra clinched Gold in the 2018 Asian Games in Indonesia. topped Group B to earn an noon session for the loss of two wickets, after scoring 61 in the first session. The pitch had enough for the pacers in the first hour of play with the ball swinging and seaming around. With India going in with four pacers, Shardul Thakur came into the side but the one spinner picked was Ravindra

Jadeja, who didn't bowl in the first session. Dropping premier spinner R Ashwin was a big call as he had been well prepared for the series opener with his preparation including a county game.

Earlier at tea, Joe Root and Jonny Bairstow frustrated Indian bowlers with solid Test match batting in challenging conditions before Mohammed Shami broke their 72-run stand by dismissing the latter to leave England at 138 for four at tea on day one.

Like the first session, Indian pacers beat the batsmen regularly but Root (52 batting off 91 played with grit and patience to break their threatening stand by having Bairstow leg before at the stroke of tea. Shami got one to jag back in and India reviewed the umpire's decision successfully. England scored 77 runs in 25.2 overs bowled in the afternoon sessions for the loss of two wickets. India had their tail up early on in the session when Shami had Dom Sibley caught at short mid-wicket in the third over post lunch. Shami made Sibley fall into a trap set for him with a full ball on his pads which the England opener flicked it straight to K L Rahul, leaving the hosts at 66 for three.

Bairstow joined Root in the middle and they ended up batting the rest of the session.

While the Indian pacers kept asking questions with the ball constantly moving around, Root seemed to find answers more often that not. He played with soft hands and close to his body, and was quick to latch on to the loose balls.
