Vaccine makers liable for damages

No indemnity for manufactures in Govt's vaccine purchase deals

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Government has refused to give in to the request of Indian companies, particularly the Serum Institute of India (SII) which had publicly sought protection against all lawsuits for vaccines in case of any report of health risk or complication following inoculation of jab against Covid-19.

The purchase order executed by the Government with the vaccine makers stipulates that the companies will have to inform the Government authorities immediately in case of reports of any health risks or complications arising from the vaccine. It reads "Company shall be liable for all adversities as per CDSCO/ Drugs and Cosmetics Act/DCGI policy/approval."

Last month, Adar Poonawalla, CEO of SII whose Covishield vaccine has been given emergency use authorisation (EUA), had said that manufacturers needed protection against all lawsuits for vaccines, especially during the pandemic. Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech also has been given EUA to supply Covaxin which initially the Government had said was being kept as a "backup plan".

Medics during the launch of a first-of-its-kind Splicehealth Genome Sequencing Laboratory for all positive samples from international travellers at the airport in New Delhi on Thursday

Vaccine makers need to be protected against liability for serious adverse reactions to their shots during a pandemic scenario, Poonawalla had said. The Pune-headquartered company head during a virtual panel discussion on the challenges to vaccine development last month had also shared that he planned to propose this to the Government.

This is because such issues could potentially increase fear of getting vaccinated and also works to "bankrupt" or "distract" the companies making them, according to him.

"We need to have the Government indemnify manufacturers, especially vaccine manufacturers, against all lawsuits. In fact, COVAX and other countries have already started talking about that," he said during Carnegie India's Global Technology Summit.

On Thursday too at an event, Poonawalla asserted that the lawsuit against the firms will hit the vaccine supply.

However, the Government seems to not be keen to take up their request. "Indian vaccine makers will be held liable for any complications or adverse effects that arise from the administration of their jabs. The Government has not accepted their demand that they be indemnified against mishaps," said sources in the Union Health Ministry.

"The Government can act: the US, for example, has in fact invoked a law, to say that during a pandemic — and this is especially important only during a pandemic — to indemnify vaccine manufacturers against lawsuits for severe adverse effects or any other frivolous claims which may come about. Because, that adds to the fear and also will bankrupt vaccine manufacturers or distract them if they have to just all day just fight lawsuits and explain to the media what is happening," Poonawalla had said.

Exercise, enough sleep must for vaccine efficacy: Experts

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Depression, stress and loneliness can weaken the body's immune system, and lower the effectiveness of certain vaccines, like those against the Covid-19, scientists have said and suggested simple interventions, including exercise and getting a good night's sleep in the 24 hours before vaccination to maximise the jabs' initial effectiveness.

The researchers in their report accepted for publication in the journal Perspectives on Psychological Science noted that even though rigorous testing has shown that the Covid-19 vaccines approved for distribution in the US are highly effective at producing a robust immune response, not everyone will immediately gain their full benefit.

Environmental factors, as well as an individual's genetics and physical and mental health, can weaken the body's immune system, slowing the response to a vaccine, they said.

"In addition to the physical toll of Covid-19, the pandemic has an equally troubling mental health component, causing anxiety and depression, among many other related problems," said Annelise Madison, a researcher at the Ohio State University in the United States.

"Emotional stressors like these can affect a person's immune system, impairing their ability to ward off infections," said Madison, lead author on the paper.

The report sheds light on vaccine efficacy and how health behaviours and emotional stressors can alter the body's ability to develop an immune response.

Vaccines work by challenging the immune system. Within hours of a vaccination, there is an innate, general immune response on the cellular level as the body begins to recognise a potential biological threat.

BKU president recuses self from SC's farm panel

Farmers stage a protest against Centre's farm reform laws at Ghazipur border in New Delhi on Thursday

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

After farmers' unions raised doubts over the composition of the committee by the Supreme Court, insisting that its members have been in favour of the three laws in the past, Bharatiya Kisan Union president and former MP Bhupinder Singh Mann recused himself from the SC-appointed committee saying he doesn't wish to "compromise farmers' interests".

According to sources, the SC-appointed committee members were scheduled to meet on Zoom on Thursday evening. The matter will now go back to the court for further orders.

"I am recusing myself from the committee and I will always stand with my farmers and Punjab," Mann said in an unsigned statement tweeted by the BKU.

While staying the implementation of the three contentious farm laws until further orders, the Supreme Court appointed a four-member committee to resolve the deadlock.

The committee comprised Anil Ghanwat, president of Shetkari Sangathan, Pramod Kumar Joshi, director for South Asia, International Food Policy Research Institute, and agriculture economist Ashok Gulati, apart from Mann.

Mann was one of the few farm union leaders to have come out in support of the Centre's new farm laws.

Trump makes history, 1st US Prez to be impeached twice

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

Donald Trump became the first president in US history to be impeached twice when 10 of his fellow Republican Congressmen joined Democrats in the House of Representatives to charge him with inciting an unprecedented insurrection at the US Capitol last week.

In a bipartisan vote, the Democratic-controlled House on Wednesday impeached Trump by 232 to 197 votes, exactly one week after pro-Trump rioters forced lawmakers to flee from the very chamber in which they cast ballots during the fourth presidential impeachment in US history.

Ten Republicans, including the House's No. 3 Republican, Liz Cheney, joined all Democrats to impeach 74-year-old Trump for "incitement of insurrection" for his actions on January 6, when he delivered a speech inciting his supporters to storm the US Capitol. The violence temporarily halted the counting of Electoral College votes and resulted in the deaths of five individuals, including a police officer.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi displays the signed article of impeachment against President Donald Trump in an engrossment ceremony before transmission to the Senate for trial on Capitol Hill in Washington on Wednesday

Trump will now face a trial in the Senate, where if convicted he could face being barred from ever holding office again. The Senate is adjourned till January 19, a day before the inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden as the 46th President of the United States. All four Indian-American Democratic House members — Ami Bera, Ro Khanna, Raja Krishnamoorthi and Pramila Jayapal — voted in favour of the impeachment.

The House went ahead with the move after Vice President Mike Pence on Tuesday refused to invoke the 25th Amendment to remove Trump from office.

Ivory seized, 2 smugglers held in Sambalpur

PNS ■ SAMBALPUR

A Special Task Force (STF) team of the State Crime Branch on Thursday arrested two smugglers and seized two elephant tusks from their possession following a raid at a place under the Ainthapalli police station in Sambalpur district.

The accused were identified as Hrusikesh Kumbhar, a resident of Dipapali village under the Ulunda PS in Subarnapur district, and Gopal Krishna Budak of Keutibahal village under the Charnal PS in Sambalpur district. Based on reliable information, the STF team conducted the raid near Bareipalli Chhak to bust a wildlife smuggling racket in the district.

As the accused duo failed to produce any documents in support of possession of the tusks, they were arrested.

A case was registered in this connection under Sections 379/411 IPC r/w. 51 of Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972 and the arrested were later forwarded to a local court. The seized tusks would be sent to the Wildlife Institute of India, Dehradun, for chemical examination, the STF stated.

Can give befitting reply to any 'superpower': Rajnath

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Striking a tough posture against China, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Thursday said India is always in favour of peace but its soldiers are capable of giving a befitting reply to any "superpower" hurts the country's pride. His stern remarks came against the backdrop of the ongoing face-off between India and China in eastern Ladakh.

Underlining the point that India is a peace-loving country and does not want conflict, Rajnath, however, said, "We don't want war and we are in favour of protecting everyone's security but I want to say this in clear terms that if any superpower wants to hurt our pride then our soldiers are capable of giving them a befitting reply."

Making this point, he also reiterated that India has always maintained that it wants peace and friendly ties with its neighbours.

"It always wanted peace and friendly ties with its neighbours because it's in our blood and culture," he said at the fifth

Armed Forces Veterans' Day at the Headquarters Training Command of the Indian Air Force in Bengaluru

On the ongoing tension at the border, Rajnath said the Indian soldiers displayed exemplary courage and patience and if that can be narrated then every Indian will feel proud.

He hailed the Indian soldiers who showed extraordinary courage in "eliminating terrorists on the Pakistani soil". Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) General Bipin Rawat was present on the occasion.

The Defence Minister's observations came at a time when several rounds of military and diplomatic-level talks between India and China have so far failed to break the logjam.

The Corps Commanders of the two armies have met eight times in the last few months to find ways to disengage and de-escalate. Similarly, the diplomatic-level talks are also on but no headway was made.

At present, more than one lakh troops from both sides are facing each other at the 1,700-km long Line of Actual Control (LAC) in Ladakh. The Indian Army has ensured that its troops now manning the border in temperature dipping to minus 30 degrees are adequately provided with winter clothing and prefabricated heated huts to withstand the cold.

15K health workers wont' take Covid shots

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Around 15,000 health workers would not take anti-Covid-19 shots but would participate in the drive for vaccinating people by wearing black badges.

If the State Government does not listen to demands for restructuring of cadre rules and revision of posts, a 'boycott syringe' stir would be launched from February 1, said the Bahumukhi Swasthyakarmi Sangha at a Press conference here on Thursday. "Though for the last 10 years, we have requested the Health Department for designation and cadre change, our pleas have fallen on deaf ears," said the Sangha. "We will administer the vaccine to people to make the State coronavirus-free but would not take the shot ourselves. We will wear black badges from January 15. If the Government does not fulfil our demands, we will embark on a stir from February 1," said Sangha leaders.

World's oldest known cave art is 45,500 yrs old

New Delhi: Archaeologists have discovered the world's oldest known cave art — a life-sized picture of a wild pig that was painted at least 45,500 years ago in Indonesia. The cave painting uncovered in South Sulawesi consists of a figurative depiction of a warty pig, a wild boar that is endemic to this Indonesian island.

The finding, published on Wednesday in the journal Science Advances, also represents some of the earliest archaeological evidence for modern humans in the region.

"The Sulawesi warty pig painting we found in the limestone cave of Leang Tedongge is now the earliest known representational work of art in the world, as far as we are aware. The cave is in a valley that is enclosed by steep limestone cliffs, and is only accessible by a narrow cave passage in the dry season, as the valley floor is completely flooded in the wet season," said Professor Adam Brumm from Griffith

University in Australia.

He noted that the isolated Bugis community living in this hidden valley claim it had never before been visited by Westerners.

The researchers noted that the Sulawesi warty pig painting, dated to at least 45,500 years ago, is part of a rock art panel located above a high ledge along the rear wall of Leang Tedongge.

"It shows a pig with a short crest of upright hairs and a pair of horn-like facial warts in front of the eyes, a characteristic feature of adult male Sulawesi warty pigs," Brumm said.

"Painted using red ochre pigment, the pig appears to be observing a fight or social interaction between two other warty pigs," he added.

The previously oldest dated rock art 'scene' at least 43,900 years old, was a depiction of hybrid human-animal beings hunting Sulawesi warty pigs and dwarf bovids.

It was discovered by the same research team at a nearby limestone cave site.

Basran Burhan, an Indonesian archaeologist and Griffith University PhD student, who led the survey, said that humans have hunted Sulawesi warty pigs for tens of thousands of years.

"These pigs were the most commonly portrayed animal in the ice age rock art of the island, suggesting they have long been valued both as food and a focus of creative thinking and artistic expression," Burhan added.

The team sampled the art for Uranium-series dating, a technique to determine the age of calcium carbonate materials.

"Rock art produced in limestone caves can sometimes be dated using Uranium-series analysis of calcium carbonate deposits ('cave popcorn') that form naturally on the cave wall surface used as a 'canvas' for the art," said Professor Maxime Aubert from Griffith

University.

It was this mineral deposit that, after careful removal by Aubert, yielded an age of 45,500 years, indicating that the rock art scene had been painted sometime prior to this. A second Sulawesi warty pig image, from Leang Balangajia, another cave in the region, was dated to 32,000 years ago.

The scientists have now dated multiple examples of early rock art in Sulawesi, including depictions of animals and narrative scenes that are outstanding both for the quality of their execution and rarity worldwide.

"We have found and documented many rock art images in Sulawesi that still await scientific dating," said study co-author Adhi Agus Oktaviana, a researcher from Indonesia's leading archaeological research centre ARKENAS.

"We expect the early rock art of this island to yield even more significant discoveries," Oktaviana added. PTI

222 new +ve in State

DAY'S HIGHEST 28 CASES IN ANGUL

210 RECOVER; TOTAL RECOVERIES 3,28,832

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

Of the new cases, 127 were reported from quarantine while 95 were local contact cases. Angul district recorded the day's highest 28 cases followed by Sundargarh with 24 and Jharsuguda 23. # Consultants rule roost in Works Dept

Question mark on Secy, EIC, Road CE's efficiency

SAROJ MISHRA
BHUBANESWAR

The State Government had appointed an IAS officer in place of an engineer as Secretary to streamline the functioning of the Works Department, which is responsible for construction, repair and maintenance of buildings, roads, bridges and other related structures financed from the State and capital budget allocations.

But the move to appoint an IAS officer has so far been utterly disappointing and yielded no concrete result. Instead, the functioning of the department has gone from bad to worse. Reliable sources said that all the wings of the Works Department like e-procurement, Road and Buildings, World Bank projects, Research and Development and Quality Control, though having a number of experienced engineers and other officials, have virtually become defunct. These works have been outsourced to consulting agencies at huge costs to the State exchequer.

To improve the functioning of the department hordes of Additional Secretaries, Deputy Secretaries and Under Secretaries have been brought on deputation from the BDA and the BMC by the Secretary and have been rehabilitated to conceal the authorities shortcomings. It is no surprise that the consulting agencies are virtually dictating the terms and running the day today affairs of the department. The Engineer-in-Chief has raised many eyebrows for having his own team of consultants, who are being sanctioned crores of rupees from various divisions for preparing unnecessary Detailed Project Reports (DPRs). The Chief Minister's vision to make the projects like the beautification of Grand Road, Puri Jagannath Temple, the Lingaraj Temple, Cuttack SCB Medical College Hospital and other projects world class has failed.

For an example, take the Lingaraj Temple beautification drive. The road from Samantrapur to the entrance of the temple speaks volumes how world class the road construction has been. The road is full of pot holes and the commuters are having great difficulty in negotiating it. This has raised question marks on the efficiency of the Roads Chief Engineer, who has spent his entire career in administration and has no field experience.

Besides, the Lingaraj Temple road, the R and B road from Cuttack, Puri, Khordha and Jatni connecting Bhubaneswar are in a very bad shape and developed huge potholes. The commuters have a nightmarish experience negotiating them despite the Semi Dense Bituminous Carpeting (SDBC). So, the concerned Chief Engineer has to depend on consultants for day-to-day activities.

So crores of rupees of false bills are being submitted in guise of road development, road widening, renewal coating SDBC and road furnishing in all the divisions across the State and crores of rupees is being siphoned off from the State exchequer by some persons who are having licence but are not professional contractors.

Expelled BJD leader Jiban joins BJP

PNS BHUBANESWAR

Former Baleswar MLA Jiban Pradip Dash, who was expelled from the BJD, joined the BJP on Thursday. It was a homecoming for Dash, he said as he had begun his political career in the BJP before coming to the BJD fold later.

Dash got inducted in the BJP in the presence of Union Minister Pratap Chandra Sarangi. "I joined the party without putting forward any condition. I will work for the party as directed by its high command," said Dash.

Notably, BJD supremo Naveen Patnaik had expelled Dash from the party in November last for allegedly indulging in anti-party activities two days after the Baleswar Assembly by-election. There was a rift between Dash and Baleswar district BJD president Rabintra Jena over selection of the party nominee for the by-poll. As Dash was not given ticket, he continued to remain absent from campaigning for the candidate announced by the party. Dash had been elected to the Assembly as a BJP candidate in 2000 and as BJD nominee in 2009 and 2014. In 2019, he lost to BJP's Madan Mohan Dutta, whose death necessitated the by-election.

'Naveen taking credit for Central schemes'

LoP criticises separate stages at Indravati event

PNS BHUBANESWAR

Leader of Opposition (LoP) in the State Assembly and BJP's Bhawanipatna MLA Pradipta Naik on Thursday skipped the inauguration of the Indravati Lift Canal project by Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik in Kalahandi.

Later, he criticised the setting of separate stages for the Chief Minister and other leaders for the mega event and termed it as a sign of the BJD Government's "feudal policy". "A separate special stage was erected for the Chief Minister while another stage was constructed for other leaders. Then, why did we undergo Covid-19 tests? Even after being diagnosed Covid negative, we were not allowed to share the stage with the Chief Minister in the mega event. This is a clear sign of feudal system in a democracy.

I condemn it," Naik said. He further alleged that despite being undertaken with 90 per cent of Central funds, the State Government is claiming sole credit for the projects.

3 held for stealing CCTV batteries

PNS BHUBANESWAR

The Commissionerate police on Thursday arrested three persons involved in stealing batteries of CCTV cameras installed at different locations here. The cops also seized 26 batteries worth lakhs of rupees from their possession.

Sources said that during the lockdowns, two of the arrested identified as Raja and Chandan impersonating them as technicians had gone to different places, where CCTVs have been installed, on the pretext of carrying out repair work and stolen the batteries. On Thursday, when the two came by an auto-rickshaw to loot another CCTV battery.

Odisha to have new Industrial Policy soon

To improve what State offers today as incentive, support

PNS BHUBANESWAR

Principal Secretary, Industries Hemant Sharma on Wednesday said that in terms of infrastructure, policy framework, incentive structure and governance, the State of Odisha compares well with other competing States.

Addressing a webinar on topic, 'Investment Opportunities in Electronics System Design & Manufacturing (ESDM) Sector in Odisha,' organised jointly by the Government of Odisha and the FICCI Odisha State Council, Sharma said that a new policy would be launched soon that will further improve what the State offers today in terms of incentive and support. "Odisha boasts of the best skills ecosystem in the region. Also, IPICOL's investment facilitation mechanism is the best in the country.

It was awarded by the Government of India last year in this regard. From concept to commissioning, Odisha provides best facilitation, not only in the region, but in the country as a whole," Sharma said.

Speaking at the event, Officer on Special Duty, Industries Department, OIEPO, Sanjeeb Kumar Mishra said that Odisha had been the harbinger of soft power in the country. "Even though the State has been seeing a constant growth in the GDP and CAGR numbers, we know that we need more growth and more investments," he said.

Mishra further added that more than investments, the State needs more employment generating sectors. "We need to create more jobs," he noted.

Electronics and Information Technology Department Secretary Manoj Kumar Mishra made a detailed presentation on ESDM sector scenario and associated policies. "The State is majorly known for its mining and metallurgy sector but in the last couple of years, our focus has been on job creation in the white-collar sectors.

Therefore, activities are being churned out and a lot of policies are being fine-tuned to attract industry," he said. IPI-COL MD Nitin B Jawale made a presentation on the overall industrial scenario in the State.

U Sammilani holds Fakir Mohan birth anniv

DAV students also pay tributes

PNS BHUBANESWAR

On the occasion of the 178th birth anniversary of legendary writer Vyasakabi Fakir Mohan Senapati, the statue of the poet at Vani Vihar was garlanded by members of the Utkal Sammilani on Thursday. Later, a memorial meeting was held at Nuagaon presided over by Utkal Sammilani president Basant Kumar Tripathy in secretary Radhanath Praharaj's presence.

The speakers recalled the contributions of the founder of Utkal Sammilani and said the poet's novels immensely enriched Odia literature.

They lamented that though Fakir Mohan's 'Chha Man Atha Guntha' is high-quality novel like Premchand's 'Gidan', it has not got the due recognition at national level which is unfortunate. Satyajit Nayak offered a vote of thanks. Among others, Prof Kashinath Rath, Trinath Samantray, Pathani Jena, Jugal Kishore Nayak, Bharat Kumar Jena were present. Utkal Sammilani Mancheswar Branch president Dillip Dashsharma also paid tributes to the iconic poet and garlanded his statue.

Presiding over a function, Dashsharma said Fakir Mohan's writings should reach the students through internet. Among others, joint secretary Sidharth Shankar Gadnayak, Basanti Tripathy, Maheshwar Biswal, Amrut Swain, Smarranjan Mohanty, Akshay Kumar Sathi, Niranjana Patra were present.

The teachers and staffs of the DAV Public School Chandrasekharpur offered floral tributes to the poet. Activities like chorus, quiz and role enactment were organised on virtual platform by the students to manifest the greatness of the trendsetter author.

Car catches fire on city flyover

PNS BHUBANESWAR

In yet another such incident in the city, a car caught fire on the flyover near Fire Station Chhak on Thursday. Fortunately, three occupants of the vehicle escaped unhurt.

Smoke started emanating from the bonnet of the car while the vehicle was in motion, following which the driver parked the car on roadside while all the occupants alighted.

Moments later, fire broke out in the car. The vehicle was severely damaged in the fire. The car was being taken from Master Canteen to a garage at Khandagiri for repairing while the fire emerged probably due to an electrical short circuit.

On being informed, Fire Services personnel reached the spot and doused the flames.

Youth held for duping kidney patients of crores

Cops seek three-day remand

PNS BHUBANESWAR

The Commissionerate police have arrested a youth from Bhubaneswar for allegedly duping crores of rupees from kidney patients on the pretext of arranging donors. The youth Himanshu Bhusan Nanda is a resident of Nuapatna in Pattamundai of Kendrapada district and was staying in the Uttara area of the capital city, police said.

He was arrested in connection with a case registered in 2019. As per the complaint, Nanda had duped one Pratap Chandra Mishra of the Nayapalli area of Rs 5.50 lakh on the pretext of arranging a kidney for him.

Later, police produced him before court and appealed for a three-day remand of the accused for interrogation. After knowing Nanda's arrest, one Lily Sahu residing in Laxmisagar area lodged similar complaint against him at the Laxmisagar police station on Wednesday. As per the complaint, the accused has taken Rs

1.19 lakh from the woman, a native of Angul district, by assuring to arrange a kidney donor for her.

From preliminary investigation, it is found that the kinglypin was running the racket from a shop 'Sai Home Interior' at Gudia Pokhari Chhak here. His agents inform him about patients seeking kidney donors. As court's permission is required for kidney transplantation, the accused charges such gullible people huge amount of money on the pretext of getting them the court approval letter.

Later, he prepared and gave a fake court approval letter to the victims and took lakhs of rupees in return. In many cases, the patient reportedly die after failing to avail a kidney.

Police said Nanda has duped many such people of over Rs 10 crore through this racket.

To boost development works State targets to spend ₹50K cr in 3 months

TATHYA BHUBANESWAR

In order to boost the economy, the Odisha Government plans to spend at least Rs 50,000 crore in three months of this Financial Year to speed up development process in the State, which will be done in a well monitored process.

While fiscal performance by December 30 was moderate, and spending by various administrative departments was comparatively less, so speeding up the spending on programme expenditure and infrastructure development is on cards. The Annual Budget Estimate envisaged total expenditure of Rs 1,56,498 crore, while total spending by December 30 was Rs 75,321 crore. Accordingly, Rs 49,679 crore will be spent in January, February and March, 2021.

While from April to December, the State was facing Covid-19 pandemic, spending had slowed down due to shutdown and lockdown. Due to the pandemic, the State economy suffered a lot. As the situation has improved, expenditure in programmes will be scaled up to a great extent. For programme expenditure Rs 80,729 crore has been allocated out of which Rs 31,254 crore has been spent till December 30, which is only 39 per cent.

According to sources, the departments will be able to spend a total of Rs 60,000 crore on programme expenditure by March 31 as during last nine months spending was not encouraging. So far as Revenue Receipts are concerned it has been budgeted that the State will receive Rs 1,25,000 lakh crore during 2020-21.

However, total Revenue Receipts by December 30 was Rs 67,923 crore and by March 31, it is expected that Rs 32,105 crore will be received. Odisha is receiving much less Central transfers though it was estimated that the Central transfer will be to the tune of Rs 68,300 crore by December 30. The State has received only Rs 33,872 crore on this count making a less 19.5 per cent of the receipts.

SOCIAL CANVAS

Majority of farmers in India are landless

MANAS JENA

Deprived of many Govt sops

(SCs), 13.06 per cent for Scheduled Tribes (STs), 45.68 per cent for Other Backward Class (OBCs) and 32.03 per cent for others out of total 92.369 million hectares distributed among 20.06 per cent SC households, 11.89 per cent ST households, 44.82 per cent OBC households and 23.23 per cent for others.

It further says that the average area of land owned per household was 0.272 hectare for SCs, 0.603 hectare for OBCs, 0.650 hectare for STs and 0.816 hectare for others. Within the social groups, only 0.03 per cent of SCs and STs, 0.23 per cent of OBCs and 0.55 per cent have large holding of more than 10 hectare of land where as marginal and small holding of all social groups together constitute 85 per cent and medium and semi-medium constitute about 7 per cent only. The highest proportion of households belongs to the marginal and small holding and the lowest proportion of 0.24 per cent households belongs to the large holding which is common across all social groups.

Land ownership has a strong link with agriculture production and the data shows still agriculture sector of India is mostly dominated by small and marginal holding owned farmers living in rural India, who are the real cultivators.

These farmers mostly belong to the marginalized social groups. The section of farmers mostly cultivates their own land and also takes up sharecropping to sustain. But unfortunately most of the input subsidies for land development, purchasing agricultural appliances, fertilizer, pesticide, low interest credit, insurance, compensation against loss and damage are availed by the land owning rich farmers.

Sale of agriculture produce of a major section of small farmers has been a major problem and they have been deprived of getting fair MSP and a host of other benefits available for rich farmers. So also the problem of storage of surplus produces persists.

With increase in input cost and wage rate in non-agriculture sectors it has been increasingly difficult for the small holding farmers to continue self-employment in agriculture. During last few years a majority of distressed farmers those who committed suicide in Odisha were sharecroppers and small and marginal farmers. So in the near future it may not be economically viable to become self-employed in agriculture with small holding. The increase in huge subsidies to the farmers will have a wider ramification over public spending and lead to increase in direct tax burden on all section of people. The continuation of a vast section of people in traditional agriculture sector symbolizes the features of a backward economy and subsistence living.

It is a fact that the backwardness of Odisha and a vast majority of the marginalized sections' underdevelopment lies with overdependence on agriculture sector in the absence of adequate avenues in non agricultural sector such as manufacturing, industry, mining, tourism, communication, service, health, education, banking, finance, insurance etc as there is limited scope for employment in the sector. The traditional agriculture system needs to be changed but still it has been continuing with its feudal character which is quite exploitative based on caste based social hegemonies in rural areas.

Most of the land owning caste belongs to the socially dominant groups whereas a vast majority of agricultural labourers and sharecroppers, small and marginal farmers are from SC, ST and OBC communities. These sections of people are over represented in agriculture but underrepresented in non-agriculture sectors.

They continue to suffer in agriculture with low wage and without any type of social security during old age. Underdeveloped agriculture sector has failed to provide employment throughout the year which is a major cause of distress seasonal migration of agricultural labourers. The inhuman suffering and plight of migrant labourers is known to everyone but nothing has been done to change their misery and continued unending suffering.

The so-called farmer movements never demand for increase in wage of agricultural labourers and for any kind of benefit for them to improve their social and economic condition and quality of life as they continue to live without homestead land and basic amenities for life such as housing and drinking water. Rather many farmer leaders blame the increase in agriculture wage as a cause of agriculture distress in States such as Odisha.

A majority of agricultural labourers belong to Dalit communities who are still untouchables in rural villages and deprived of human dignity and continue to face all kinds of social humiliation and atrocities in the hands of land owning dominant castes. Social prestige of Dalit agricultural labourers has never been an issue being addressed in farmers movement. Though these sections of rural Dalit labourers are the real cultivators since generations, they suffer apathy and exploitation of feudal economic system.

It is expected that the farmer movement now underway in Delhi must take into its fold interest of all sections of people engaged in agriculture and not just the benefit of rich farmers.

It is also time to look into the future of agriculture sector without self-glorification of farmer along with use of science and technology in agriculture to increase production not just for domestic consumption but also for global market with competitive trade and above all quality employment for upcoming rural youths.

Cops target snatchers as farmers receive dues

Forces deployed at banks in Sambalpur

NIMAI CHARAN SAHU ■ SAMBALPUR

Police are active and alert in front of different banks to prevent snatching incidents. By this time, most of the farmers have sold their paddy in the market yards of the district. As per the decision of the Government, money is directly deposited in the bank accounts of the farmers instead of giving them cash to avoid fraudulent practices. Hence, farmers are coming to the banks, withdrawing money. So they could easily fall prey to the unscrupulous elements who wait for such opportunities. "It is seen that most of people come from banks with money in hand and count it outside. When snatchers see them in this condition, they rob them of their hard earned money," said Sambalpur SP B Gangadhar. "Knowing innocent act of farmers, we have decided to deploy police in front of banks where farmers have accounts or Kissan Credit Cards.

Police Commissionerate Red Cross annual general body meets today

Give & serve motto of Police Red Cross

face a common question like how many times I have donated blood. This is obvious as many donors keep record for receiving awards from different organizations as highest donor.

Even if I am donating blood in every 3 to 4 months, till date I do not know how many times I have donated.

As a blood donor till date I have not received any award, because I am happy to give and in return don't expect any award in return. I ask them a counter question.

Have you ever visited to any religious places like temples, churches or mosques? If yes, then do you count the number of coconuts or bananas you donate in the temple, or number of candles you donate in the church or number of blankets you donate in mosques? And I am sure, it will be very difficult to answer. The question is if I don't remember that why should I remember the number of times I donated blood?

For me donating blood is as heavenly as donating anything to Almighty and I prefer not to keep any record for this service to mankind through which I indirectly serve God. Similarly, once you are a member of the Red Cross, you should be happy to give or serve without expecting anything in return. After formation of the Police Commissionerate in Bhubaneswar and Cuttack city in January 2008, in the same year in the month of October the Indian Red Cross Society (IRCS), the Police Commissionerate regional branch started.

The then Police Commissioner Bijaya Kumar Sharma and the then Honorary Secretary of IRCS, Odisha State Branch (OSB) Rabiratra Das had a key role to build this branch. As a Police Red Cross it is the first Branch in India. This branch maintains its goodwill till today.

This organisation believes in giving and serving. This unit of Red Cross is happy to serve every year and do the programmes like blood donation camp, plantation drive, free health check-up camp, police-public friendship, marathon and awareness programmes. After that the Police Commissionerate Red Cross is happy to give financial assistances to the needy. If we will discuss about the year 2020, the Police Commissionerate Red Cross has done a noble thing in the field of voluntary blood donation. In the year 2020 the whole world was sick.

There was a great fear of Corona virus all around the world. In India, specifically in Odisha, from March 22nd week everything was stopped and everybody spent their livelihood as a home prisoner. To escape from Corona disease many norms like social distancing and wearing of masks were made compulsory. During that time, it was very difficult to organise any voluntary blood donation camp, and on the other hand, blood was required for normal patients and plasma was required for Covid patients.

But the Police Commissionerate took this as a challenge and organized 108 camps and collected 4,043 units of blood which were donated to different blood banks of Cuttack and Bhubaneswar.

This organisation also donated more than 100 units of plasma for Covid patients. Further, today this Red Cross will give 104 awards to different organisation and individuals. Recently in the month of

October 2020, the Indian Red Cross Society, national headquarters, organised the Annual General Body Meeting (AGM). The Odisha State Red Cross Branch got first prize in fund raising and membership for the years 2016-17, 2017-18 and 2018-19 and for voluntary blood donation for the years 2016-17 and 2017-18. Gujarat got the first prize for the year 2018-19 in voluntary blood donation. If we will analyse these awards then we will be able to know how Odisha State Red Cross is happy to receive but not to give.

Investigation trade-off CBI raids 14 locations, 4 of its own officials

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The CBI on Thursday conducted searches at 14 locations including Delhi, Ghaziabad, Noida, Gurgaon, Meerut and Kanpur on the premises of four of its own officials, including two Deputy Superintendents of Police, an Inspector and a Steno besides private persons, including advocates, on allegations of compromising the investigation of certain cases on "extraneous pecuniary considerations".

In Ghaziabad, the searches were conducted at the CBI's premier training academy. The four CBI personnel, including two DSPs were booked for allegedly receiving bribes to compromise investigation against companies accused of bank fraud.

While the agency did not give out much details about the case in which its own personnel are under probe, sources said the accused personnel are being investigated for allegedly taking huge amounts of bribe from the accused companies in bank fraud cases being probed by the CBI.

The CBI officials booked by the agency are DSPs R K Rishi and R K Sangwan, Inspector Kapil Dhankad and Steno Samir Kumar Singh, they said.

The searches led to an embarrassing situation for the agency as it had to even search the premises of Rishi, who is posted in the CBI Academy, Ghaziabad where the Central anti-corruption agency trains and prepares its officers for future roles in the organisation.

In addition to CBI officers, cadets from foreign countries are also trained at the state-of-the-art academy in Ghaziabad.

Meanwhile, in a separate development the CBI conducted searches in an ongoing investigation of two separate cases which led to recovery of incriminating documents including alleged fake/forged ST certificates.

It was alleged in the first case that the accused Ramesh

Chand Meena, son of Chiranjil Lal obtained job for the post of Lower Division Clerk in Employees Provident Fund Organisation on July 24, 1985 at the strength of alleged fake/forged ST certificate purportedly issued by Sub Divisional Magistrate, Hindaun, Sawai Madhopur. However, the accused was allegedly hailing from Mathura (UP). It was further alleged that he was promoted to the post of Account Officer/Enforcement Officer after his joining by using benefits of the said ST certificate, the agency said.

In the second case, it was alleged that the accused Ramesh Chand Meena, son of Govind Ram got a job with MTNL under ST quota on the basis of an alleged forged/fake certificate purportedly issued by Sub Divisional Magistrate, Deeg (Rajasthan). However, he was allegedly a native of Hathras (UP).

It was further alleged that the accused joined MTNL and was appointed as Junior Telecom Officer (JTO) through departmental examination under ST Category. He retired as Senior Manager (Telephone) on July 31, 2018 from MTNL, New Delhi. It was also alleged that the accused had managed to get allotment of a DDA Flat under the benefits of ST quota in the year 1987.

Investigation in both the cases is continuing, it added.

Owaisi helped BJP in 2020 Bihar Assembly poll, claims Maharaj

Will do the same in upcoming UP, Bengal polls

DEEPAK UPRETI ■ NEW DELHI

Notwithstanding the denial of Union Minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi, BJP MP from Unnao, Sakshi Maharaj, has created a political controversy by claiming that All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM) leader Asaduddin Owaisi had helped the BJP in the 2020 Bihar Assembly elections and that he would do the same in the coming elections in West Bengal and Uttar Pradesh.

Owaisi had contested the Bihar elections winning five assembly seats in the Muslim majority areas, denying advantage to the RJD-led opposition against BJP-JDU-VIP combination that won the assembly poll.

The outspoken Unnao MP said as in Bihar, AIMIM's decision to contest the Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal elections will help the BJP register victory in both the States.

Opposition parties, including the Congress, had long alleged that AIMIM has been playing the role of 'BJP's B team'. The BJP MP's comments have apparently confirmed the suspicion and the charges leveled by the opposition against the Owaisi and the BJP.

"Khuda unko taakat de" (May God give him strength), said Sakshi Maharaj adding "he helped us in Bihar and will help us (BJP) in Uttar Pradesh panchayat and Assembly polls and also in West Bengal," he said at Kannauj while on way to the National Capital.

Owaisi had earlier denied the charges of collusion with the BJP and made his intent of contesting Assembly poll in Bengal and UP quite clear. He had said that the opposition should "look within" to find reasons for its electoral defeats instead of blaming his party for it.

The AIMIM is presently all set to contest the upcoming panchayat polls in UP in alliance with the Suheldev Bhartiya Samaj Party.

Asked about the BJP MP's admission of AIMIM tactically helping BJP, Union Minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi denied saying "tired and fatigued people are not helping BJP win as the party is scoring victories on its own strength".

Owaisi's party had recently contested Hyderabad Municipal elections and emerged as the third largest party winning 44 seats with TRS leading with 55, BJP second with 48 and Congress winning only two seats.

Polio drops plan delayed due to mega Covid jab drive

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

As the country gears up to launch the mega anti-Covid-jab drive for health workers on January 16, children in the age group of 0-5 years will have to wait to get their share of polio drops with the Government rescheduling the polio immunisation programme from earlier January 17 to January 31 across India.

"The massive country-wide COVID-19 vaccination drive will be rolled out by the Prime Minister from January 16. This would be the world's largest immunisation exercise. Therefore, it has been decided by the Health Ministry in consultation with the office of the President of India to reschedule the Polio vaccination day, also known as the National Immunisation Day (NID) or 'Polio Ravivar' to 31st January," the Ministry said in the statement.

The decision is in keeping with the stated policy of the Union Health Ministry to ensure that COVID management and vaccination services as well as non-Covid essential health services proceed in tandem without adversely impacting each other, said the Union Health Ministry in a statement here on Thursday.

The President will launch the Polio National Immunisation Day on 30th January by administering Polio drops to some children at the Rashtrapati Bhawan at 11:45 am, the statement said.

Review policy of ban on supply of poultry from other States, Centre asks States

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Centre has asked States to review policy of banning supply of poultry and poultry products from other States as there is no scientific report available that infection of Avian Influenza or bird flu virus spread through processed products as this would add to the negative impact on the poultry industry.

"Further, there is no scientific report available. Consumption of well-cooked chicken and eggs does not pose any risk to humans," the ministry of animal husbandry and dairying said in its latest advisory to state governments urging state to review policy of banning supply of poultry products from other states amid scare of bird flu or avian influenza in 12 states across the country.

"Additional cases of avian influenza among crows have been confirmed in Dangs district of Gujarat. After successfully finishing the culling operations, Maharashtra and Uttarakhand, Uttar Pradesh, Kerala, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Haryana and Gujarat so far. Singh said: "Hope the decision to lift the ban on Ghazipur mandi will send a positive message throughout the country. I urged them to take precautions and not to panic."

He said the Centre had issued an advisory in October 2020 on bird flu and also set up control room. "Had the advisory been followed, there would not have been panic in Delhi or other states," the minister said. Singh said he had a meeting with Delhi Deputy Chief Minister earlier in the day.

"There was positive discussion. Three mayors were also there in the video conference. The Delhi government has taken decision to open the Ghazipur poultry mandi," Singh said, adding that it was decided that the MCDs will also take back their direction issued on banning sale of chicken and eggs in hotels and restaurants.

Madhya Pradesh have completed sanitization activities. In Haryana, samples from four poultry farms have been confirmed to be positive for avian influenza (H5N8). The farms are: Maharaja poultry farm in Khatauli; Tara poultry farm, Batur and Singla poultry farm in Mauli village of Panchkula district of Haryana, the ministry said.

The ministry of animal husbandry and dairying has also requested Ministry of Civil Aviation to allow uninterrupted transportation of samples for expeditious testing of Avian Influenza in designated laboratories.

Meanwhile, Minister of Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying Giriraj Singh on Thursday said the Delhi government's decision to open Ghazipur poultry market will send a positive message throughout the country, even as it asked states to ensure that all precautions are taken to curb the spread of bird flu. Bird flu outbreak has been confirmed in Delhi, Maharashtra

Annual adaptation cost to climate change for developing countries at $70 billion

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Annual adaptation costs in developing countries, including India, to the climate change are estimated at USD70 billion, but the figure could reach up to USD 300 billion in 2030, and whopping USD 500 billion in 2050.

However, while almost three-quarters of nations have some adaptation plans in place, most of them face financial and implementation fall "far short" of what is needed, said a UN report here, even as it called for stepping up public and private finance for adaptation on an urgent basis.

Though cumulative investment for climate change mitigation and adaptation projects under the four funds—the Global Environment Facility (GEF), the Green Climate Fund (GCF), the Adaptation Fund, and the International Climate Initiative (IKI)—stands at USD 94 billion, only USD 12 billion was spent on nature-based solutions, a tiny fraction of total adaptation and conservation finance, it added.

"Though countries have made progress in planning for climate change adaptation, significant gaps remain in financing such initiatives and bringing them the stage where they bring real protection against climate change impacts such as droughts, floods and sea-level rise," said the United Nations environment report.

Released on Thursday by the UN Environment Programme (UNEP), the 2020 Adaptation Gap Report, pointed out that as temperatures rise and climate change impacts intensify, nations must urgently step up action to adapt to the new climate reality or face serious costs, damages and losses.

"The hard truth is that climate change is upon us," Inger Andersen, UNEP Executive Director, said in a news release announcing the findings.

"Its impacts will intensify and hit vulnerable countries and communities the hardest, even if we meet the Paris Agreement goals of holding global warming this century to well below 2 degrees Celsius and pursuing 1.5 degree Celsius."

Annual adaptation costs in developing countries are estimated at USD70 billion, but the figure could reach up to USD300 billion in 2030, and USD 500 billion in 2050. Almost three-quarters of nations have some adaptation plans in place, but financing and implementation fall "far short" of what is needed, said the report.

Adaptation is a key pillar of the Paris Agreement on Climate Change. It aims to reduce countries' and communities' vulnerability to climate change by increasing their ability to absorb impacts.

The UNEP report also underscored the importance of nature-based solutions as low-cost options that reduce climate risks, restore and protect biodiversity, and bring benefits for communities and economies.

The UNEP has now urged all nations to pursue the efforts outlined in its December 2020 Emissions Gap Report, which called for a green pandemic recovery and updated Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) that include new net-zero commitments.

"However, the world must also plan for, finance and implement climate change adaptation to support those nations least responsible for climate change but most at risk," the UN agency said adding that "while the COVID-19 pandemic is expected to hit the ability of countries to adapt to climate change, investing in adaptation is a sound economic decision."

India airs concern over violence in Afghanistan

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India on Thursday described the targeted killing of journalists and civil society members in Afghanistan as an attempt to suppress freedom of expression and pitched for an "immediate and comprehensive" ceasefire to lay the ground for a meaningful peace process in the country.

Expressing deep concern over the killings, External Affairs Ministry Spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said India stands with the people of Afghanistan in their journey towards peace and these attacks are contrary to the spirit of the peace process and should immediately stop. Asked about National Security Adviser Ajit Doval's two-day visit to Afghanistan, Srivastava said at a media briefing that his discussions with Afghan leaders focused on bilateral relations and the Afghan peace process.

Doval called on President Ashraf Ghani, and held talks with Afghan peace negotiator Abdullah Abdullah, Afghan National Security Adviser Hamdullah Mohib, Foreign Minister Mohammad Haneef Atmar and former president Hamid Karzai.

"In the past few weeks, we have received inputs of several attacks on journalists and civil society activists in Afghanistan. The targeted

Addressing the thousands who had turned up to welcome him, Rahul Gandhi said that watching the taming of bulls was like 'experiencing Tamil culture and history in action.'

The Congress in its election manifestos in 2009 and 2014 had assured the people that if voted back to power, the party would ban once and for ever the jallikattu sports.

Jammu school education directorate to set up digital studio for teachers to deliver online lectures

Jammu: The Directorate of School Education (DSE) will set up a digital studio in Jammu division for teachers to deliver online lectures, a senior official said on Thursday.

The Union Ministry of Education has sanctioned establishment of the digital studio under the Samagra Shiksha scheme, Director of School Education in Jammu Anuradha Gupta said.

"While the directorate will set up the studio very soon, various measures to improve quality of education through digital interventions need to be put in place for making learning more efficient and effective," she said.

"Delivering best online lectures through a control room at the studio shall soon be made possible. Besides, keeping in view the National Education Policy 2020 for art-integrated learning and holistic development of school children, they need to be exposed to art, culture, sports and other activities which are now perceived to be part of curriculum," she said.

The directorate will also launch an official YouTube channel -- 'shiksha darpan' -- to broadcast video content and e-magazine 'shiksha patrika' for written content contributed by students, teachers and other stakeholders.

As information technology-enabled platforms are increasingly becoming an important medium of information dissemination and will continue to be so in the post-COVID-19 scenario, the Directorate of School Education intends to use various social media platforms to reach out to students, their parents, staff members and other stakeholders in an effective manner and provide them a platform to showcase their talent, she said. PTI

Scanning laptop, hard disk of expelled BJP leader held for sexual abuse of children: Police

Jalaun (UP): Police are looking into the laptop, DVD and hard disc recovered from an expelled BJP office-bearer who was arrested on charges of sexually exploiting two children, an official said on Thursday.

Police said they have recovered several video clips in which Ram Bihari Rathore, who was removed from the post of the Konch BJP vice-president after his arrest on Wednesday, is allegedly seen sexually exploiting children. Some 15 to 20 videos have so far been found from the seized laptop, DVD and hard disc, in which the accused is seen exploiting young children, Konch SHO Imran Khan said on Thursday.

The SHO said Rathore used to lure young children by giving them money and made their obscene videos to blackmail them. He used to threaten and exploit them sexually, the SHO said, adding that teams of the cyber-crime cell are looking into the matter in detail.

To a question, Khan said it would be premature to link this case with the Irrigation Department junior engineer, who was arrested in November last year for alleged sexual exploitation of children and selling their videos and photographs of nefarious acts on dark net to paedophiles across the globe.

The arrested junior engineer, a resident of Chitrakoot district, is alleged to have victimised about 50 children in the age group of 5-16 years in the districts of Chitrakoot, Banda and Hamirpur.

According to police, they had seized a laptop, hard disc, sex toys, eight mobile phones, Rs 8 lakh in cash and other digital evidence carrying huge amount of child sexual abuse material from the engineer. PTI

Cabinet expansion: Take up grievances with BJP high command, says Yediyurappa

Bengaluru: Amid simmering discontent post His cabinet expansion, Karnataka Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Thursday asked such sulking BJP leaders to take up the matter with the national leadership and urged them to refrain from making any remarks affecting the party.

The chief minister had expanded his cabinet on Wednesday after much deliberations and the exercise already saw some aspirants who could not make it publicly air their displeasure.

"If the BJP MLAs have any objection they can go to Delhi, meet our national leaders and give them all the information and complaints they have. I won't object to that but I ask them not to damage the party's reputation by talking ill," Yediyurappa told reporters in Bengaluru.

Noting that the central leaders will take a call on their complaints, he said the seniors in the party are aware of the facts.

Later, speaking to reporters in Davangere, he insisted he could do what was within his limits, on the matter and warned those speaking ill about him. PTI

Yediyurappa, however, did not respond to queries on the non-induction of Rajarajeshwari Nagar MLA Munirathna, a former Congress man who joined the saffron party, despite the former's promise to induct him in his council of ministers.

Yediyurappa on Wednesday expanded his 17-month-old government by inducting seven new Ministers and dropping Excise Minister H Nagesh.

The other aspirants-- Basanagouda Patil, M P Renukacharya, Sathish Reddy, Thippa Reddy, S A Ramadass and A H Vishwanath, who could not make it have been quite vocal in expressing their displeasure.

Yatnal in particular has been critical of the chief minister and even alleged his family of 'hijacking' the party.

He had requested Prime Minister Narendra Modi to end dynastic politics from Yediyurappa's family in Karnataka, which has a chief minister, an MP (B Y Raghavendra) and a BJP state vice president (B Y Vijayendra).

The CM has made those who are black-mailing him as Ministers. PTI

UP woman goes missing, cops lodge case against man under anti-conversion law

Goa: Police have lodged a case against a Karnataka man for allegedly kidnapping a 19-year-old woman after befriending her, hiding his religious identity, police said on Thursday.

A missing report was lodged by the woman's father on January 5 after she did not return home from college, Station House Officer, Chiluatal police station, Neeraj Kumar Rai said.

"During an investigation and with the help of call records of the woman's mobile phone, it was found that she used to frequently talk to the man whose name in the Truecaller app was mentioned as Mehboob and the location as Karnataka," he said.

A case was lodged against the man on January 11, following which a three-member police team was sent to Karnataka to trace the man and the kidnapped woman, Rai said.

On the basis of these inputs, the woman's father lodged an FIR against the man and accused him of allegedly kidnapping his daughter and hiding his Muslim identity, he said.

The woman's father, who is a retired Army man, has mentioned in the FIR that last year the man had befriended his daughter through social media and wooed her on the pretext of providing a job.

Police said that everything would be clear once the accused and the kidnapped woman are traced.

The case was lodged under sections 366 (kidnapping, abduction or inducing woman to compel her into marriage) and 363 (kidnapping) of the Indian Penal Code, besides the new anti-conversion law of the Uttar Pradesh government, the SHO said. PTI

Is Bihar entering a phase of Jungle Raj 2.0?

Patna: While the police in Patna are facing criticism over the sensational murder of an Indigo state head, a section of people in Bihar are apprehensive that they might be entering into a phase of 'Jungle Raj 2.0'.

Indigo airlines station manager, Rupesh Kumar Singh (40), was allegedly shot dead by criminals near the Shastri Nagar police station area in Patna on Tuesday.

The murder of the Indigo state head brings back the fearful memories of Airtel GM's murder at Bahadurpur Gumbi in Patna in 2005, the kidnapping of Bharat Singh and a series of criminal acts which took place during the Lalu Prasad-Rabri Devi regime between 1990 and 2005. The high crime rate during that period even led to the downfall of the RJD in 2005.

Now, the Nitish Kumar government is facing similar criticism over the growing crime graph in the state ever since he returned as Bihar Chief Minister for a seventh time in November 2020.

In a bid to bring down the crime graph, the Nitish Kumar government had started operation 'Ganga Snaan' during 2005-2007 when several notorious criminals were silently eliminated by the police or were put behind bars. On may recall the famous encounter of dreaded gangster Amresh Singh in Khagaria, or the killing of gangster Guddu Sharma in an encounter in Delhi. Many of Bihar's most notorious gangsters, such as Surajbhan Singh, Anant Singh and Mohamad Sahabuddin, were put behind bars during that period.

It was a secret operation carried out by the Bihar police and the STF to eliminate the criminals, when the government had given a free hand to the police. Hence, there are no official records of the encounters that took place during that period.

Sources say that due to the impact of the operation, Nitish Kumar managed to attain the image of 'Sushashan Babu' in Bihar. Now the question is whether the Nitish Kumar government would again adopt a similar modus operandi to check the rising crime graph in the state.

The Chief Minister, who also holds the home portfolio, is under immense pressure following the murder of Rupesh Singh. The leaders of his alliance partner BJP in particular are making aggressive statements to corner the CM.

Janardan Sigrwal, BJP MP

from Maharajganj, said: "Killers of Rupesh Singh should be hanged at the busy chowks of the city in broad daylight. If any amendment is required to do this, the government should proceed with it. Criminals cannot be allowed to be let off. In the case of Rupesh Singh, Patna police have to expose the planner."

Earlier, Nitin Naveen, BJP MLA from Bankipur, had asked the Bihar government to endorse the Uttar Pradesh model of encounter.

Union Minister R.K. Singh said that the Bihar government should suspend callous police officers who have failed to control law and order in Patna.

RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav has already said that Nitish Kumar has failed to control the law and order situation in Bihar and should resign from his post or give the home port-

Wild buffalo kills man in Assam, angry mob sets forest office on fire

Guwahati: An irate mob on Thursday set a forest department office on fire after a wild buffalo killed a young man in Biswanath district in northern Assam bordering Arunachal Pradesh, officials said.

According to the police, hundreds of locals, including women, turned violent after Jayanta Das, a villager, was killed by a wild buffalo at Muttackgaon in Biswanath district. Accusing the forest officials of not taking adequate steps to prevent wild animals from entering into the human habitations and villages from the nearby forests, the angry villagers set on fire the office of the Central Range of the Biswanath Wildlife Division.

"A wild buffalo came to the Biswanath Ghat early on Thursday morning and tried to attack the villagers. We immediately informed the forest officials, but they reached the spot after the buffalo had attacked and killed Das," Prashanta Sharma, an eyewitness, told the media.

Go, India!

As the last Test of the Australia tour gets underway today, here's hoping that Team India will vanquish its demons Courage and heroism are not restricted to the battlefield; there are times when these prized characteristics spill onto the cricket field too, among other unlikely arenas. Just as the valiant Indian cricket team showed with a great win in the face of adversity in Melbourne, especially coming as it did after the humiliation at Adelaide when India's vaunted batting line-up was bowled out for a truly embarrassing 36. And though we didn't register a win in the Sydney Test, India fought tooth and nail, battled pain and a hostile Australian bowling attack to prevent the hosts from moving up in the Border-Gavaskar Trophy series that's currently tied 1-1. "...This one is a tough one to swallow. Our bowlers were superb but..." Australian skipper Tim Paine said after the match. By the time you read this, the Brisbane Test — the last Test of the series, an ultimate decider that will test the resilience, composure and physical fitness of the players — would have got underway. Australia need a win to regain the trophy but a draw will suffice for India to retain it for another couple of years. So what's in store for the Indian cricket fan? Of course, time alone will deliver the result but one thing we can be confident of: That the Indian players will leave nothing to chance to win this one and, will not only perform the best their bodies and spirit allow but hopefully go beyond, into the realm of the surreal. The Indian team's hotel may have turned into a mini hospital but the players, as well as members of the Indian diaspora, are walking with a lot of pride at their team's showing, especially since the time the atmosphere was soured by racist chants and abuses from a section of the spectators.

The injuries to key players are a clear and present threat. The list of prominent players who are nursing their wounds comprises pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah, Ravichandran Ashwin, Mohammed Shami, Ravindra Jadeja and Hanuma Vihari. Till late on Thursday, Team India had delayed naming the playing XI and there was word that the names would be announced only in the morning, just ahead of the beginning of the Test, thus giving the injured players the maximum time to recuperate and allowing them to take the field after assessing their condition. Notably, Ajinkya Rahane has been performing consistently in his new role after skipper Virat Kohli returned to India on paternity leave to be at the side of his wife Anushka Sharma for the delivery of their first child. Rahane was pushed into a leadership position he did not necessarily want but one where he has since been conducting himself brilliantly. Most importantly, all of India's players have dealt with the emotional deprivation of the 'bubble' well, steering clear of breaking it no matter what the temptations. They have battled it all in the ongoing Test series, within themselves and with the world outside: Issues with facilities, racial slurs, losing key players at crucial junctures, injury after injury, issues with bubble life for multiple months et al. Irrespective of the result, therefore, Team India can return with their heads held high. Meanwhile, Australian skipper Tim Paine urged the home fans to refrain from causing "any trouble". Gabba has been a fortress for the Aussies where they haven't lost a game since 1987-88.

Virushka set the bar

The star couple has politely asked the paparazzi not to take pictures of their newborn daughter

One of the most photographed couples in the country, cricketer Virat Kohli and actor Anushka Sharma have laid down the rules for the paparazzi and asked the pesky photographers, who often cross the line between the demands of "profession" and intrusion of privacy, to stay away from their newborn child. On Wednesday, in a sweetly-worded note, they urged the paparazzi to refrain from taking pictures of their baby girl. Anushka and Virat sent a note to the paparazzi fraternity in Mumbai, which read: "Hi, thank you for all the love that you have given us all these years. We are happy to celebrate this momentous occasion with you. As parents, we have a simple request to make to you. We want to protect the privacy of our child and we need your help and support."

The couple clearly established that they will ensure that the paparazzi get the content featuring both the stars but requested them to steer clear of their child. "While we will always ensure that you get all the content you need featuring us, we would request you to kindly not take or carry any content that has our child. We know that you will understand where we are coming from and we thank you for the same." To their credit, the paps agreed to leave the child alone, in turn winning the appreciation of veteran actor Raveena Tandon who took the opportunity to thank them for respecting her wishes too when she was trying to protect her children, who were minors at the time. By reaching out to the paparazzi, Virushka, as the couple is popularly known, have shown the celebrity world how it is done because the relationship between famous people and the paparazzi has been tumultuous, to say the least. While most of the time the celebrities are fine with photographers clicking them as it increases their visibility, like every other human they, too, cherish their private moments and don't want them splashed on the front pages of tabloids and on websites.

Fame, they say, has a price but most A-listers don't want their children to pay the price for their parents' celebrity status. But there are always exceptions to the rule. Like Saif Ali Khan and Shah Rukh Khan don't have any issues with pictures of Taimur and AbRam being splashed all over the media and the internet. Even though the older children of both the actors were almost never photographed when they were growing up, both the fathers seem to have no reservation where these latest additions to the family are concerned, thanks to the changing times, one can suppose. As a result, Taimur and AbRam have become social media influencers at such a tender age, as have Aaradhya Bachchan, Misha Kapoor and Inaaya Naumi Kemmu. How these star kids will deal with the pressure of the paparazzi always following them, or maybe the lack of attention once they grow up, only time will tell. At the moment, they are obviously too young to be aware of the repeated violation of their privacy and the danger it entails to their well-being. After all, we live in a country where the five-year-old daughter of a cricketer got a rape threat just because her father was not performing well on the field. It is well that Virushka have decided to keep their private life private for the safety of their child. In fact, many celebrities around the world guard their children zealously from photographers and there have been instances where the paparazzi have been sued for crossing the line. A case in point is Hollywood actor George Clooney, who sued a pap and his publication for climbing over the walls of his villa and clicking photos of his child. Traditionally, the paparazzi are looked down upon as being a thorn in the side of celebrities. However, they alone cannot be blamed for what they do because the public has created a demand for such pictures. If people did not get voyeuristic pleasure out of the candid photos of celebrities and their families, the demand for such pics would not exist and publications would stop paying hefty sums to intrusive photographers.

Green star over Bengal

As Mamata Banerjee's domain West Bengal is Asaduddin Owaisi's next election stop, the State can expect explosive electioneering

PRAFULL GORADIA

Asaduddin Owaisi is a politician with blue blood, which has turned crimson by barristry, a surname imported from Arabia and the leadership of a century-old party founded by Nawab Mahmood Nawaz Khan. In 1944, Razakar leader Qasim Rizvi was selected as the party's leader, to also become the extra military force of the Nizam of Hyderabad.

In 1957, Rizvi was exiled to Pakistan but, before departing, he handed over the Majlis-e-Ittehadul-Muslimeen (MIM) to his right-hand man, Janab Abdul Wahid Owaisi. His son Sultan Salahuddin took over the party in 1975, and it was inherited by his illustrious son Asaduddin. The party headquarters are based in an impressive building, called Dar-us-Salam, near the famed Charminar.

Asaduddin inherited a single Lok Sabha seat, the Hyderabad city constituency. It is to his credit that the MIM is today an all-India name. It now threatens to bite off some Assembly seats in Bengal. Owaisi means "little wolf" in Arabic and, therefore, he is likely to hunt voraciously. By a stroke of coincidence, he was fielded against me in a television channel's programme. Our debate was on a communal controversy. The anchor asked for his comments first, to which I reacted that Owaisi's views might be coloured by those prevailing in a neighbouring country. His counter-reaction was explosive.

Thus, West Bengal can expect explosive electioneering. Mamata Didi too will not let Owaisi go quietly. She must know that for Muslim voters, there are no insiders or outsiders. Languages, other than Urdu, are unimportant. The sacred thread of Islam binds them all. Muslims are mominis; the others, however neighbourly, are "different". Hindu arguments do not cut ice with Muslims. The main fight between Didi and Janab will be in the eastern districts of West Bengal.

I imagine that the Hyderabad appeal will be: "Come and vote for me, because I shall do everything for you. I have no loyalty other than towards the bandas of Allah the Merciful, whereas my opposition has other communities too to cater to. My party will be exclusively for you while the opposing kitchen will have to cook vegetarian as well as non-vegetarian; 'niraamishi' as well as 'saamishi'."

The result of their secular duality has been the Tareekh-e-Intekhab, or the history of elections in India: Flatter the Muslim, occasionally frighten him with a riot and then protect him, going back to flattery. In the eyes of Allah the Merciful, he may be a momin but in the view of the vote harvester, he is a tiger in a circus cage; the only group being that he is too sparingly fed to attack. Jawaharlal Nehru once said that he was a Hindu only by accident; he was a Muslim by culture and an Englishman by upbringing. He, therefore, knew how to make a Muslim tick. And tick he had to, for the Congress was dominated by the Patelites. Nehru had to build his own support base. Muslims, traumatised by Partition, were his first choice. Reputedly, they voted nearly 90 per cent whereas, in the early elections, the rest of the voters polled not more than 45 per cent. The net result was that one Muslim voter was worth two Hindus.

With the passage of time, things have changed; more Hindus go to the polling booth now. Late Syed Shahabuddin once wrote in a national daily that for his community, if there were a choice between development and identity, it would go for identity. In Nehru's days, by electing him, the Muslim love for identity won. Although they were poor, India was a wonderful country. Lately, Hindu candidates are winning more because their community votes more. India has, therefore, become an "insecure" country.

For all these reasons, the Muslim clusters, wherever they be, are in search of new heroes; the parties of old ones appear to be folding up. One such superhero is Asaduddin, literally the lion of religion. Didi's straight reply would be that Muslims alone cannot form a Government; they are too few. They have to combine with others and only then can they win a majority. Go back to the days and years of Babu Jagjivan Ram, who ended up as the Deputy Prime Minister. Never in his political career did he publicly discuss his caste. Had he done so, he might have got a maximum of 18 per cent votes. Wherefrom would he have gathered a minimum of another 33 per cent? The same will be the problem with Owaisi. Can he form a Government in West Bengal? Therefore, why waste your vote on such a party? As soon as the election is over, he would pack his achkan in a suitcase and take a flight to Hyderabad, bidding goodbye to the Bengalis and promising to see them in the next election. By all means, give him a bhand/kulhad of tea, but don't waste your vote. I have neither an achkan nor suitcase, nor any flight to catch. Therefore, vote for me. It is undeniable that the umamah has given some votes in Bihar to Owaisi and elected five MLAs. It remains to be seen what these MIM MLAs do in Bengal.

MAMATA MUST KNOW THAT FOR MUSLIM VOTERS, THERE ARE NO INSIDERS OR OUTSIDERS. THE MAIN FIGHT BETWEEN DIDI AND JANAB WILL BE IN THE EASTERN DISTRICTS OF WEST BENGAL.

After, say, one or two elections, in the event of an ascending path, whether Owaisi and his party could pose a threat to the integrity of the country, has to be seen. After all, we should not forget Partition. Soon after August 1947, HS Suhrawardy, former Premier of undivided Bengal, wrote to Chaudhry Khaliqzaman in UP that the strategy for the Muslims staying behind in India should be to gather in clusters or mega ghettos. Incidentally, Khaliqzaman became the president of the Muslim League in Pakistan after MA Jinnah passed away. This advice might imply that if several clusters gathered together, in due course, more partitions could be engineered. The Government of India should discourage cluster formations from now on.

There is one consolation that Owaisi hails from a land of dreamers, like Nizam Mir Osman Ali. He had Ali Yavar Jung, then Secretary (Constitutional Affairs), give the view that the Portuguese considered Marmagoa to be a dead-weight and would be willing to sell it at a reasonable price. The idea of buying Goa was too attractive to be dissipated by realism. When the World War ended, the prospects of success brightened. On Hyderabad's side, the prime mover was Sir Mirza Ismail with Sir Walter Monckton as a close second.

The parleys in Lisbon had become known in India. Once India gained Independence, it was unlikely to acquiesce for long to Portugal's rule over Goa, just as it rejected Hyderabad's claim to independence. Still less would it permit Hyderabad's transit rights over land or air space. If only Hyderabad had a port like Marmagoa, it would add enormously to its political and economic importance.

The meeting between the Portuguese and Hyderabad negotiators, on November 1, 1947, was attended by Portuguese Prime Minister Salazar, Sir Alexander Roger and Antonio Bastroff Silva. In bitter retrospect, the devoted Hyderabad writer Zubeida Yazdani made two points. One was about Mir Osman Ali Khan's "megalomaniac notions" which caused him "to lose the balance of his mind". Her other grievance was that "the Nizam depended too strongly on the Muslim League for the achievement of his goal", an independent Muslim State in the south of India.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Make affordable EVs

Sir — It refers to the editorial 'Welcome, Tesla' (January 14). Indeed, it is a positive move for the automobile industry in the country not only from the Electric Vehicle (EV) and environment perspective but also from the point of view of auto ancillary and suppliers chain.

Though it would be too early to predict Tesla's future in India, if it remains confined to its research and development unit in Bengaluru, it may not serve the purpose we want it for the country.

Needless to mention that cost is one of the most critical parameters for Indian buyers and before launching an India-specific product, Tesla had better conduct a thorough market research to arrive at an acceptable price point; otherwise this entire exercise will be futile. India's commitment to environment is second to none and Indian buyers will happily accept green cars. But even after factoring in the Government's tax incentives to set up an industry here, products have to be economically viable for Indian buyers.

Resume normal services of Mumbai local trains

The Maharashtra Government should allow resumption of the Mumbai local train services for all categories of commuters without further delay. The local train services are the city's lifeline and Mumbaiers rely on these for their daily commute.

It seems that Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray is least bothered about the difficulties facing the citizens while they go to their workplaces, offices, schools and so on. Even the famous dabbawalas who deliver lunchboxes to people, use local train services. We all have suffered a lot due to the Coronavirus pandemic and subsequent lockdown but citizens have rendered their full cooperation to the Government in the fight against the pandemic. It is the responsibility of the State Government to take care of citizens now and take a decision in the larger public interest.

However, after its initial shutdown in March 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the suburban train services have been partially resumed. As of now, the suburban railway system is open only for certain categories of commuters, including those providing essential services, lawyers and women. Railway officials claim that they have not received any directives from the State Government regarding the opening of services for general public. Any further delay in allowing the full-scale operation of suburban trains will prove counterproductive to the image of the ruling Maha Vikas Aghadi Government and a setback to the popularity of Thackeray.

COVID threat persists

Sir — It was indeed a welcome sight to see the excitement and joy of movie buffs returning to cinema halls in Kerala after many months since the theatres stopped screening movies due to the pandemic. The crowd really welcomed, celebrated and enjoyed Tamil actor Vijay's movie 'Master' which is the first to hit the silver screen after several months.

But what gives the real jitters is the way the crowd behaved at the theatres. They completely forgot COVID-related precautions and, at many places, social distancing went for a toss as fans arrived in huge numbers and had all sorts of celebration inside and outside the cinema halls. Many persons were not even wearing masks. We must not forget that we are still fighting the contagion and there is no way to keep it at bay other than taking precautions and wearing masks. The vaccination drive has not yet started.

Improve bank services

Sir — The Union Government and Reserve Bank of India (RBI) should take note of the malpractices by banks with respect to credit card payments.

Banks are levying extraordinary interest rates on credit card payments. Many banks also don't send credit card statements and any shortfall in payment attracts heavy penalty. The penalty imposed for over-the-limit use of credit cards should not be allowed. Instead, banks can refuse payment on reaching the limit. It is ridiculous that an over-payment of just ₹100 may attract a heavy penalty of ₹500 plus the GST.

The Centre and the RBI should bring necessary amendments to make uniform rules with respect to credit cards, including interest rate and penalties. These malpractices by the banks will eventually spoil the image of the Government and also have an adverse effect on customers' faith in the banking system.

There has to be some equity

The UN has failed to acknowledge the rise of atrocities against Hindus, Buddhists and Sikhs. Till this selectivity exists, the world can never truly foster a culture of peace, says KOUL JALALI

In yet another incident of human rights violations 11 Hazara coal miners in Baluchistan province of Pakistan were abducted by terrorists and killed recently. The Islamic State claimed responsibility for this heinous act and the relatives of the miners have refused to bury them till their demands for justice are met. The Hazaras are a Persian-speaking ethnic group whose homeland is Hazarajat in Central Afghanistan. In Pakistan they live mostly in Baluchistan and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa provinces. They are Shia Muslims and in Pakistan they are suspected of loyalty towards Iran.

These latest atrocities have again drawn the attention of the global community towards the persistent killings of Hazaras and have been condemned widely. There have been protests at many places in Pakistan. Because of their somewhat Mongolian features the Hazaras are easily identifiable and in recent years thousands of them have been murdered in Pakistan. However nobody has been ever punished for these persistent ruthless crimes.

Atrocities against the minorities in Pakistan began soon after the country came into existence in 1947 but got intensified once Islamisation started there under General Zia-ul-Haq. Initially, persecution was mostly confined to the Hindus, Sikhs, Buddhists, Jains and Christians. But later these rights violations got extended to the Shias, Ahmadiyyas, Sufis, Hazaras, Seraikis and other similar sects and groups living in different parts of Pakistan.

These persecutions assume the form of abductions, murders, mass murders, bombings, suicide bombings, forcible conversions to Islam, extrajudicial killings, threats of violence and killings on allegations of blasphemy that are mostly based on personal vendettas and religious bias. The motivating force behind atrocities against these minorities almost in all cases is faith. Whereas the Ahmadiyyas have been declared heretics long back, there is a deep religious divide between the majority Sunni population and the Shia minority.

The worst is that attacks on and desecration of places of worship of minorities have turned into recurring incidents. For instance, on December 31, 2020 a Hindu temple including the Samadhi of a religious leader in Karak District of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province were set on fire by a mob led by some clerics and supporters of radical Islamist Jamiat Ulema-e-Islam party (Fazal ur Rehman group). According to the police, 100 people including seven leading clerics were arrested. India lodged a strong protest against this act and sought strict action against the perpetrators of the crime.

This heinous incident draws attention to the Nehru-Liaquat Agreement arrived at between the then Prime Minister of India Jawaharlal Nehru and the then Prime Minister of Pakistan Liaquat Ali Khan in New Delhi in April, 1950. The Partition had resulted in exchange of populations between the two countries. Under the agreement, among other matters, minority rights in both the nations were confirmed and both the States set up their minority commissions. But seeing the plight of the minorities in Pakistan, it is obvious that the minority commissions have not worked.

Rejecting the Opposition's criticism of the Citizenship Amendment Bill in the Indian Parliament in December 2019, Union Home Minister Amit Shah clearly stated that the pact has failed. He said that had the spirit of the agreement been followed by Pakistan there would have been no need to bring the Bill.

In any case, the obvious fact cannot be contended that after the Partition the population of Hindus, Sikhs, Buddhists, Jains and Christians who lived in areas which later became a part of Pakistan has dwindled drastically whereas the population of Muslims who lived in areas which later became a part of the Indian Union has grown exponentially. The reasons for this are not far to seek. While in India rights and security of the minorities have been continuously and effectively safeguarded, Pakistan has persistently contravened the provisions of the Nehru-Liaquat Agreement through consistent neglect and persecution of members of minority communities. This is despite the fact that the Nehru-Liaquat Agreement required each country to ensure that its minorities enjoyed complete equality of citizenship with others and received treatment identical to that available to other nationals of their country.

In another such incident trampling on the rights of the minorities, ignoring the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) resolution, the Pakistani Government decided to transfer the management of the Kartarpur Sahib Gurudwara to a non-Sikh body. India strongly protested and the incident has been resented all over the world. In a speech at the UN session on 'Culture of Peace' in December 2020, the First Secretary to India's Permanent Mission to the UN agreed with the fact that anti-Semitism, Islamophobia and anti-Christian acts need to be condemned but stated that UN resolutions on such important issues speak only of three Abrahamic religions Judaism, Christianity and Islam. He said that the august body has failed to acknowledge the rise of hatred and violence against Hindus, Buddhists and Sikhs and referred to the shattering of the iconic Bamyan Buddhas by the Taliban in 2001 and the killing of 25 Sikh worshippers in a terrorist bomb attack on a Gurudwara in Kabul in March 2020. He said that in such resolutions these religions also need to be added to the list because till this selectivity exists, the world can never truly foster a culture of peace.

Make cyberspace safe for kids

Online harassment can take a serious toll on their mental health. The words, pictures, video clips or any form of data stored on the internet stay forever, haunting the victim

ROBIN RATNAKAR DAVID

The nationwide lockdown necessitated by the pandemic forced people to work from home. Schools and colleges, too, shifted to remote and online functioning. While this protected children/teenagers from exposure to the Coronavirus, migration of classrooms to remote learning environments increased the time they spend online, both for education and entertainment purposes. Prolonged online presence during the lockdown exposed minors to unsupervised interaction with strangers and third parties. Consequently, within a few months of the lockdown in India, the Bois Locker Room scandal broke out on social media where a group of teenagers accessed photos of women and girls from social media pages. The group posted lewd comments on the photographs on an Instagram group and issued rape threats to women/girls who demanded action against them. Fortunately, Delhi Police and its Cyber Cell took action against the group under the Penal Code and Cyber laws.

Cyberbullying, cyberstalking, online impersonation, catfishing, doxing, trolling, revenge porn, sexting, grooming and sexual exploitation are some common forms of online harassment. According to a study published by Child Rights and You, 9.2 per cent of 630 adolescents surveyed in Delhi-NCR experienced cyberbullying and half of them did not report this to either their teachers, parents or guardians. Further, it found that children aged 13-18 years, who use the internet for more than three hours in a day, are more prone to risks. Online harassment can take a serious toll on their mental health. The words, pictures, video clips or any form of data stored on the internet stay forever, haunting the victim. This spreads fast and cannot be erased or forgotten.

In October 2020, the Delhi High Court (HC) while directing Google, YouTube and Facebook to remove objectionable material posted by a woman's former schoolmate without her consent, also ordered the police to use the protocols and resources available with the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) and other agencies to identify people sharing/viewing the offensive content in India and take action against them. The victim said that in 2012, as a 16-year-old, she was emotionally blackmailed by the accused into sending him intimate photographs. He threatened to commit suicide if she did not comply with his demands. The harassment continued until 2017 in the UK where the Magistrate Court held him guilty of stalking and physically assaulting her. The court passed orders restraining the accused from contacting the victim by any means and banned him from entering the city of Bath for two years. In late 2019, the victim found that the accused had posted her intimate pictures on various social media platforms such as Twitter, Instagram, YouTube and so on and reported the matter to the Cyber Crime Cell in Delhi. The cyber police registered cases against the accused under Sections 67 and 67A of the Information Technology Act. The victim also sent notices to Google and social media networks, Twitter, Facebook, YouTube and Instagram urging them to remove her photographs. However, the URLs/webpages were not removed. The court acknowledged that the offending images had been widely distributed and that they were being uploaded by several people other than the accused. The court ordered the police to identify the people sharing the images.

According to the UNICEF, a child goes online for the first time in his/her life every half a second. The digital world provides easier access to child sex offenders in search of prey/potential victims and also enable them to share information about victims with perpetrators of sexual crimes. Recent surveys reveal that at least one in four adolescents have seen a morphed image or video of themselves and, a half of them have not reported it to the police.

“YOUNGER CHILDREN ARE LESS LIKELY TO UNDERSTAND THAT THEY HAVE BEEN SUBJECTED TO ONLINE HARASSMENT AND KNOW THAT THEY MUST SEEK HELP. THE LACK OF SUPPORT NETWORKS IN SCHOOLS AND THE INCREASE IN THE TIME SPENT ONLINE, TOO, ARE REASONS FOR THE SPIKE IN CYBER CRIMES AGAINST CHILDREN DURING THE PANDEMIC”

In 2019, Facebook published that it had removed 11.6 million posts related to child nudity and sexual exploitation from its webpages and 7,54,000 from Instagram. For the first time, Facebook published figures related to self-harm and suicide revealing that it had removed 2.5 million posts related to suicide and self-harm and 8,45,000 from Instagram. Among the users of the internet, children are highly likely to be exposed to violence since they have fewer opportunities than adults to leave the house and access help, according to a report published by the WHO on June 17, 2020. Smaller children are less likely to understand that they have been subjected to online harassment and know that they must seek help. The lack of support networks in schools and the increase in the time spent online, too, are reasons for the spike in cyber crimes against children during the pandemic.

Laws: The substantive equality approach adopted by India and expressed in Article 15(3) of the Constitution empowers the State to make special provisions for children. Article 39 provides that the State shall direct its policy towards securing children and ensure that they are not abused and their childhood and youth are protected against exploitation. It further emphasises the need to provide facilities for them to develop in a healthy manner and in conditions of freedom and dignity.

The international instrument, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, adopted by the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) prescribes a set of standards to be followed by all parties to secure the best interests of children. States are required to undertake all appropriate national, bilateral and multilateral measures to prevent inducement or coercion of a minor to engage in any unlawful sexual activity, the exploitative use of children in prostitution or other unlawful sexual conduct and the exploitative use of children in pornographic performances and material. The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, 2012, is a gender-neutral law that came into force exclusively to protect children from sexual assault, harassment and pornography. The POCSO Act recognises the fact that minors are vulnerable to repeated abuse and at risk of secondary victimisation during the justice delivery process and hence, emphasised on the need for the establishment of special courts for them. Sections 13, 14 and 15 of the Act, particularly address the crime of using a minor for pornographic purposes and punishes any person who stores or possesses pornographic material in any form involving a child.

Human rights begin at birth, as envisaged in Article 1 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, "All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights." Human and child rights are inalienable ones, which means that no State-run entity or the State itself cannot deprive children of their rights. The 1989 Convention on the Rights of the Child and the legislations that were promulgated in the member States have often been misconstrued as rights of children based on their needs. But these rights are independent in a true sense and recognise children as independent citizens with a voice.

Keeping children safe: Child rights are congruent with the obligations imposed on the State and caregivers and their accountability. Schools, parents and guardians must ensure that the online safety of children is not compromised and they don't befriend strangers online. The police, who are responsible for law enforcement must keep a watch out for offenders in cyberspaces and must strive to keep it safe for children. Schools and caregivers must ensure that safety and security of children are of paramount importance. They must train children to report suspicious accounts. Electronic devices must be used under the supervision of a trusted adult, and the privacy settings of the devices must be checked regularly to keep minors away from online predators.

Children must be encouraged to take screenshots of any content that makes them feel uneasy and report it to the parents/authorities to take it down from the internet. They must be made aware by their parents/guardians that sharing of personal information such as location, phone numbers, date of birth and addresses must not be done. Children must be encouraged to seek help in times of distress. Parents and caregivers must assure minors that they are not alone and that the adults in their life are always available to address their worries and concerns.

The Ministry of Women and Child Development has launched a toll-free 24-hour telephonic helpline service 1098, which operates in regional languages to reach out to children in distress across India. A trained contact officer answers the calls on the helpline and forwards the message to a field partner on the ground. The field partner sends a member to the rescue of the child within an hour or two from the time they receive the call and ensures the safety of the child.

Overexposure to the internet during the pandemic had resulted in the extension of child helpline services to children using the internet to ensure their online safety and psychological well-being. Schools and caregivers must take the responsibility to make children aware about the toll-free child helpline service. Counselling facilities, too, must be made available for children who have been subjected to online harassment and bullying.

The Govt must clean up the mess

The demonstrating farmers have inadvertently pushed the ecosystem to its limits and the condition is only deteriorating day by day

KOTA SRIRAJ

In a healthy and vibrant democracy, people participate politically not only during but between elections by means of protests and sit-ins. These demonstrations usually play a vital role in influencing public opinion and altering the Government's viewpoint, which eventually has a bearing on policymaking and its implementation.

India being the largest democracy is home to a variety of protests that take place across the nation every now and then for one reason or the other. The ongoing farmers' protest against the three contentious farm-laws is one such instance, where lakhs of cultivators have laid siege at Delhi's borders for the last 50 days. Their determination to make their voice heard forced the Government to come to the negotiation table.

Besides, the Supreme Court, too, has stayed the new legislation and has constituted an expert committee to comprehensively examine the three laws. However, the farmers are not satisfied and are adamant on their demand for the repeal of the laws and a legal guarantee on the Minimum Support Price (MSP).

However, amid all the attempts to reach a viable solution, the environment and the health of the protesters are suffering collateral damage. Inadequate sanitation facilities to cater to the needs of the sea of protesters, are not only causing a health crisis but also compromising the well-being of the ecosystem. It is having a cascading impact on the ambient environment of the region that suddenly finds itself subjected to mounting piles of garbage and unplanned disposal of sewage.

This rapid deterioration of the local ecosystem is evident from the fact that a large number of scavenging birds can be seen hovering and circling in the sky in search of food. The flora and fauna of the region are under extreme pressure due to the sudden rise in human population and an increase in the waste and sewage generated. The demonstrating farmers have inadvertently pushed the ecosystem to its limits and the condition is only deteriorating day-by-day.

Spurred by the worsening situation on ground zero, the Jan Swasthya Abhiyaan (JSA) conducted a study that revealed that three out of five protesters or nearly 57.7 per cent have no option except to defecate in the open. This may eventually result in an outbreak of an epidemic if the authorities don't rectify the situation soon.

In the backdrop of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the situation at the protest site is alarming as social distancing and other protocols are not being followed. Even the apex court enquired from the Government regarding the steps that are being taken to prevent the area from becoming a COVID-19 hotspot. Now, the pathetic sanitary conditions in the area are adding to the woes of the farmers and the worries of the authorities.

The protest sites at Singhu, Tikri, Shahjahanpur, Palwal and Gazipur are facing an enormous human and vehicular influx. The air quality is fast deteriorating in these areas due to the cumulative effect of vehicular exhaust, smoke from open kitchens and bonfires lit by the farmers to protect themselves from the biting cold. As the deadlock between the growers and the Government continues, respite for the environment is nowhere in sight. The survey also noted that more than 50 per cent of the respondents said that sewage water stagnation is becoming a major problem.

The plight of the farmers who have travelled long distances to participate in the protests is deplorable, to say the least. According to the farmers, over 60 of them have died during the protests including those who have committed suicide. A few others succumbed to the cold.

The condition of women at the protest site is worse. They are actually forgoing food and water for long stretches in order to avoid going to the toilets that are poorly provisioned. Ironically, such a situation exists in a democracy where the right to protest is as sacrosanct as the freedom of speech.

At a time when our economy is facing a serious crisis due to the contagion, the ongoing protest is adding to the country's problems. According to the Associated Chambers of Commerce and Industry of India (ASSOCHAM) the economies of Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, Haryana, Jammu and Kashmir are bearing a daily loss of ₹3,500 crore due to the demonstrations.

Given that the stakes are so high, the Government must provide better facilities to the cultivators and create a conducive environment on the ground so that neither the protesters nor the ecosystem remain at the receiving end. It should focus not only on resolving the deadlock but must give equal weightage to finding solutions to some of the pressing sanitation and environment-related issues at the protest sites.

First and foremost, effective, clean and adequate toilet facilities must be provided to the farmers at these locations. However, the Government should bear in mind that the toilets provided or installed for the farmers should not have a poster or picture of any political party or a particular leader. For instance, the toilets supplied by the a particular party were left unused by the farmers as they bore its advertisement. This annoyed the already miffed farmers further as they have been trying to keep all politicians out of their protest. The objective of the Government should be to keep the environment clean and not to promote a party or a leader.

Similarly, garbage collection must be stepped up and the huge amounts of stagnant sewage water must be cleared with immediate effect before it starts polluting the groundwater.

The protesters themselves can take the lead and help the Government in cleaning up the protest sites and curtailing the damage to the environment. At the end of the day, the farmers are a simple and hardworking community that is close to nature. Their dedication to the environment is second to none.

A TRAVESTY OF JUSTICE

Globally, only six countries executed more people than the US last year: China, Iran, Egypt, Iraq, Somalia and North Korea. In Europe, Belarus is the only State to retain the death penalty. Russia imposed a moratorium in the 1990s. The federal execution of a woman who was mentally ill was the act of a morally bankrupt administration.

Biden hopes Senate will conduct Trump's impeachment among critical issues

Washington: Terming last week's violence at the US Capitol a planned criminal act, President-elect Joe Biden has expressed hope that the Senate will be able to conduct the impeachment trial of Donald Trump while working on other critical issues after a House of Representatives vote made him the first American president ever to be impeached twice.

The House voted 232 to 197 on Wednesday to impeach Trump.

Ten Republican lawmakers joined the Democrats to impeach Trump for "incitement of insurrection" exactly one week after rioters stormed the US Capitol as the House certified Biden's election victory, making him the first American president to be impeached twice.

Trump was impeached the first time in December 2019 for abuse of power and obstruction of Congress for his attempt to pressure Ukraine to investigate Biden's family.

Biden, a Democrat, alleged on Wednesday that the violence was carried out by political extremists and domestic terrorists, who were incited by Trump.

"This criminal attack was planned and coordinated. It was carried out by political extremists and domestic terrorists, who were incited to this violence by President Trump. It was an armed insurrection against the United States of America. And those responsible must be held accountable," Biden said in a statement after the House of Representatives impeached Trump, a Republican.

The violence on January 6 temporarily halted the counting of Electoral College votes to certify Biden's win in the November 3 election and resulted in the deaths of five individuals, including a police officer.

"Last week, we saw an unprecedented assault on our democracy. It was unlike anything we have witnessed in the 244-year history of our nation," he said.

Windows and doors were destroyed. Offices ransacked. A Capitol Hill police officer was murdered. Another lost his life a few days later. Four other people died in the senseless mayhem of that day, said the next American president.

Biden said that the members of the House of Representatives exercised the power granted to them under the US Constitution and voted to impeach and hold the president accountable.

"It was a bipartisan vote cast by members who followed the Constitution and their conscience. The process continues to the Senate," he said.

"This nation also remains in the grip of a deadly virus and a reeling economy. I hope that the Senate leadership will find a way to deal with their Constitutional responsibilities on impeachment while also working on the other urgent business of this nation," Biden said.

"From confirmations to key posts such as Secretaries for Homeland Security, State, Defense, Treasury, and Director of National Intelligence, to getting our vaccine program on track, and to getting our economy going again. Too many of our fellow Americans have suffered for too long over the past year to delay this urgent work," he said.

"I have often said that there is nothing we can't do, if we do it together. And it has never been more critical for us to stand together as a nation than right now. So we must remember who we are as Americans and what we stand for and believe. It's time for us to be what at our best we have always been," Biden said.

Vice President-elect Kamala Harris said the storming of the Capitol Hill by supporters of Trump last week marked an inflection point for America.

"Last week, of course, marked an inflection point for our country. I was horrified. As I know you all were by the attack on our Capitol, on our nation's Capital," Harris said at a virtual finance event for the Presidential Inaugural Committee. Harris said the President-elect Biden called it an attack on democracy.

"It was an attack on the rule of law itself. And one of the lessons I hope that all of us take away from it is that our democracy is only as strong as our willingness to fight for it, our ideals are only as strong as our willingness to make them real," she said hours after Trump's impeachment.

"At that time, that meant certifying the results of this election, and to send a message, strong and clear that we will not be deterred, that our democracy will not be derailed. My hope is that the bipartisan spirit, the patriotic spirit that prevailed that night, will mark the beginning of a new era for our country," Harris said.

She said that the American people had been through difficult moments like wars, depressions and great upheavals before. PTI

Capitol investigators try to sort real tips from noise

AP ■ WASHINGTON

Potential threats and leads are pouring in to law enforcement agencies nationwide after the insurrection at the US Capitol. The challenge is now figuring out what's real and what's just noise.

Investigators are combing through a mountain of online posts, street surveillance and other intelligence, including information that suggests mobs could try to storm the Capitol again and threats to kill some members of Congress.

Security is being tightened from coast to coast. Thousands of National Guard troops are guarding the Capitol ahead of President-elect Joe Biden's inauguration.

Governors and lawmakers are stepping up protections at statehouses after an FBI bulletin this week warned of threats to legislative sessions and other inaugural ceremonies.

A primary concern is the safety of members of Congress, particularly when they are travelling through airports, according to two U.S. Officials briefed on the matter.

The FBI and other federal authorities use their substantial resources to prepare. But smaller local police departments lack the staff to hunt down every tip.

They must rely heavily on state and federal assessments to inform their work, and that information sometimes slips through the cracks — which apparently happened last week.

A day before the deadly attack on the Capitol, the FBI sent an intelligence bulletin warning of potential violence to other agencies, including the Capitol Police.

But officials either did not receive it or ignored it — and instead prepared for a free-speech protest, not a riot. It took nearly two hours for reinforcements to arrive to help disperse the mob. Five people died, including a Capitol officer.

"There are some grammar schools that are better protected than the Capitol," said Brian Higgins, a professor at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice in New York and the former chief of a northern New Jersey police force.

Since last week, the FBI has opened 170 case files and received more than 100,000 pieces of digital media. The threats have ranged in specificity and complexity, according to officials briefed on them, making it difficult for authorities to determine which could be credible.

UN watchdog confirms another Iranian breach of nuclear deal

Berlin: The United Nations' atomic watchdog agency confirmed on Thursday that Iran has informed it that the country has begun installing equipment for the production of uranium metal, which would be another violation of the landmark nuclear deal with world powers.

Iran maintains its plans to conduct research and development on uranium metal production are part of its "declared aim to design an improved type of fuel," the Vienna-based International Atomic Energy Agency said.

Uranium metal can also be used for a nuclear bomb, however, and research on its production is specifically prohibited in the so-called Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action signed with world powers in 2015.

The ultimate goal of the deal is to prevent Iran from developing a nuclear bomb, something Iran insists it does not want to do. Iran now has enough enriched uranium to make a bomb, but nowhere near the amount it had before the nuclear deal was signed.

IAEA inspectors visited the Isfahan plant where Iran has said it plans to conduct the research on Jan. 10, and officials were informed by Tehran on Jan. 13 that "modification and installation of the relevant equipment for the mentioned R&D activities have been already started," the agency said.

13 WHO scientists arrive in Wuhan to probe Covid origins; 2 barred after testing positive

Beijing/Wuhan: Thirteen international experts of the WHO arrived in Wuhan on Thursday for the long-awaited probe into the origins of the deadly coronavirus pandemic, while two others did not board the flight from Singapore to the central Chinese city after they tested positive for COVID-19 antibodies.

"The international team of 13 scientists examining the origins of the virus that causes #COVID19 arrived in Wuhan, #China, today. The experts will begin their work immediately during the 2 weeks quarantine protocol for international travellers," the World Health Organisation said in a tweet.

"Two scientists are still in #Singapore completing tests for #COVID19. All team members had multiple negative PCR and antibody tests for COVID-19 in their home countries prior to travelling," it said.

"They were tested again in #Singapore and were all negative

12 police officials dismissed for negligence in protecting Hindu temple from vandalism in Pak

Peshawar: The Khyber Pakhtunkhwa provincial government in Pakistan has dismissed 12 police officials following an enquiry report that found them guilty of "negligence" in protecting a Hindu temple in the province, which was torched by a mob led by members of a radical Islamist party.

The government also forfeited one-year service of 33 police officials in connection with the incident.

The temple in Terri village in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa's Karak district was attacked on December 30 by the mob after members of the Hindu community received permission from local authorities to renovate its decades-old building. The mob demolished the newly constructed work alongside the old structure. Deputy Inspector General of Police, Kohat Region, Tayyab Hafeez Cheema had appointed Superintendent of Police (Investigation Wing) Zahir Shah as enquiry officer to probe the incident and submit its report within a week's time.

Shah conducted the probe against 73 police officials and recommended to dismiss 12 of them from service on charges of negligence and irresponsibility in the discharge of their official duties.

"Keeping in view of the available record and facts on file, perusal of enquiry papers and the recommendations of the Enquiry Officers, they are found guilty of the charges. They show cowardice, negligence, and irresponsibility in the discharge of their official obligations.

They failed to protect the Hindu Temple which caused disrepute for the Police department in the eyes of the general public," the report said. PTI

Vaccines and masks: Biden plan aims to break pandemic cycle

Wilmington (US): A coronavirus action plan being unveiled by President-elect Joe Biden centers on a mass vaccination campaign and closer coordination among all levels of government.

The Biden plan comes as a divided nation remains caught in the grip of the pandemic's most dangerous wave yet. So far, more than 380,000 Americans have died.

Biden hopes his multidimensional strategy, expected to be detailed in a Thursday evening speech, will put the country on the path to recovery by the end of his first 100 days. "It's going to be hard," Biden said Monday after he got his second vaccine shot.

"It's not going to be easy. But we can get it done." A more disciplined focus on vaccination is the new and widely anticipated game-changing element, but that's far from the whole story.

Biden is asking Americans to override their sense of pandemic fatigue and recommit to wearing masks, practicing social distancing, and avoiding indoor gatherings, particularly larger ones. AP

Europe's rights court accepts Ukraine case against Russia

Moscow: Europe's top human rights court agreed on Thursday to look into Ukraine's complaint against alleged human rights violations in the Russia-annexed Crimean Peninsula.

The Strasbourg-based European Court of Human Rights, or ECHR, concluded that Ukraine's case against Russia is backed by sufficient evidence and decided to start looking into the case. It wasn't clear when the court would deliver a verdict. Ukraine has argued in its complaint that Russia was responsible for a variety of human rights violations in the Black Sea peninsula. Russia's 2014 annexation of Crimea hasn't been

Lawyer, others arrested by Hong Kong national security unit

Hong Kong: Hong Kong police on Thursday said they arrested 11 people on suspicion of assisting offenders who are believed to be the 12 Hong Kong activists detained at sea by mainland Chinese authorities while attempting to flee the city last year.

District counselor and lawyer Daniel Wong Kwok-tung posted on his Facebook page early Thursday that national security officers had arrived at his home. He was later taken to his office, where police conducted a search.

Wong, a member of the Democratic Party, is known for providing legal assistance to hundreds of activists arrested during antigovernment protests in 2019.

The fresh wave of arrests comes a week after 55 activists were apprehended in the largest move against Hong Kong democracy movement since Beijing imposed a new national security law last June to quell dissent in the semi-autonomous Chinese territory.

The clampdown has intensified concerns that Beijing is asserting more control over the city and breaking its promise of Hong Kong maintaining separate civil rights and political systems for 50 years from the handover from Britain control in 1997.

Police said in an emailed statement that those arrested Thursday were eight men and three women aged 18 to 72. The identities of those arrested were not revealed.

Local media reports said those arrested are suspected of helping the 12 Hong Kong activists who were detained at sea by mainland Chinese authorities while attempting to sail to Taiwan last August.

Some of the fugitives were wanted in Hong Kong for offenses related to the 2019 protests.

Last month, 10 of the activists detained at sea were sentenced to prison in Shenzhen for illegally crossing the border, with sentences ranging between seven months to three years. The two other detainees, who are minors, were handed over to Hong Kong and could face further charges in the city for absconding, authorities said. AP

Search expands for victims of Indonesian plane crash

Jakarta: An aerial search for victims and wreckage from a crashed Indonesian plane expanded on Thursday as divers continued combing the debris-littered seabed looking for the cockpit voice recorder from the lost Sriwijaya Air jet.

The Boeing 737-500 disappeared Saturday minutes after taking off from Jakarta with 62 people aboard. The other black box containing flight data was recovered Tuesday, and search personnel have also recovered plane parts and human remains from the Java Sea.

The aerial search is being expanded to coastal areas of the Thousand Island chain "because plane debris and victims may be carried away by sea currents," said Rasman, search and rescue mission coordinator for the National Search and Rescue Agency, who uses one name.

Navy officials have said the two black boxes were buried in seabed mud under tons of wreckage between Lancang and Laki islands in the Thousand Island chain north of Jakarta. At least 268 divers were deployed on Thursday, almost double the previous figure.

Rescuers increased to 4,100 personnel, supported by 13 helicopters, 55 ships and 18 raft boats.

Bangladesh: Fire destroys hundreds of homes in Rohingya refugee camp

Dhaka: A fire raged through a sprawling Rohingya refugee camp in southern Bangladesh on Thursday, destroying hundreds of homes, officials said. No casualties were reported.

The UNHCR said more than 550 homes sheltering about 3,500 people as well as 150 shops were either totally or partially destroyed in the fire.

The fire broke out early Thursday in Nayapara Camp in Cox's Bazar district, where more than 1 million Rohingya refugees from Myanmar are staying. Nayapara is an old camp that was started decades ago.

Mohammed Shamsud Douza, a senior refugee official, said firefighters took two hours to bring the blaze under control. No serious injuries were reported, and the cause of the fire was not immediately known.

A video showed many refugees searching through charred corrugated iron sheets for valuables. "This is another devastating blow for the Rohingya people who have endured unendurable hardship for years," Save the Children's country director in Bangladesh, Onno van Manen, said in a statement. AP

Wholesale inflation moderates to 1.22%

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The wholesale price-based inflation moderated to 1.22 per cent in December as prices of kitchen staples onion and potato eased, as per a government data released on Thursday.

The Wholesale Price Index (WPI) inflation was 1.55 per cent in November 2020, and 2.76 per cent in December 2019.

"The rate of inflation based on WPI Food Index decreased from 4.27 per cent in November 2020, to 0.92 per cent in December 2020," as per the data released by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade.

The rate of price rise on wholesale basis in the vegetables basket declined to (-) 13.2 per cent in December, as against 12.24 per cent inflation in the preceding month.

The data showed onion prices contracted by 54.69 per cent in December, as against a decline of 7.58 per cent in November. The inflation in potato eased to 37.75 per cent in December from 115.12 per cent in November. According to the data, rate of inflation in cereals, paddy, wheat and pulses, also eased in December over the previous month. The wholesale prices of fruits were however higher in December compared to November. While inflation in food prices eased, the rate of price rise in manufactured goods rose to 4.24 per cent in December. It was 2.97 per cent in November. Manufactured products, include food products, beverages, textiles, chemicals, pharmaceuticals and cement.

The WPI-based inflation in fuel and power segment too increased marginally during the month under review.

It is to be noted that retail inflation too had dropped sharply to 4.59 per cent in December, mainly due to declining food prices.

Commenting on the data, Aditi Nayar, Principal Economist, ICRA Limited said WPI inflation recorded a pull-back in December 2020, driven by a disinflation in primary food items and lower inflation for primary non-food articles, even as core inflation spiked to a 24-month high of 4.2 per cent, injecting concern regarding the trajectory of the WPI going forward. "The sharp 1.5 per cent rise in the core-index in month-on-month terms, partly reflects higher commodity and metal prices, as well as a rise in pricing power, in line with the revival in global demand with the COVID-19 vaccines roll out," she said.

The surge in the core-WPI inflation has completely doused any lingering hope that the dip in the December 2020, CPI inflation would be adequate for rate easing to recommence in the upcoming policy review, she added.

Sensex, Nifty dart up to record highs; TCS stands tall amid IT selloff

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Equity benchmark Sensex resumed its record-setting streak on Thursday after a day's pause as gains in index major TCS offset profit-booking in the IT pack following strong results by Infosys and Wipro. A broad upmove in global equities and a recovering rupee further propped up the bourses, traders said.

Recovering from a shaky start, the 30-share BSE Sensex gained momentum during the day to end at its new lifetime high of 49,584.16, up 91.84 points or 0.19 per cent.

Similarly, the broader NSE Nifty rose 30.75 points or 0.21 per cent to finish at a record 14,595.60.

TCS topped the Sensex gainer's chart, spurring 2.89 per cent, followed by IndusInd Bank, L&T, ITC, Reliance Industries, HUL and Sun Pharma.

On the other hand, HCL Tech, Axis Bank, Asian Paints, UltraTech Cement, Infosys and Tech Mahindra were among the laggards, declining up to 2.63 per cent. Infosys on Wednesday posted a 16.6 per cent rise in consolidated net profit at Rs 5,197 crore for the December 2020 quarter, and increased its revenue growth guidance for FY21 to 4.5-5 per cent on the back of large project wins and strong deal pipeline. Wipro posted an about 21 per cent jump in consolidated net profit at Rs 2,968 crore for the December 2020 quarter, and said the demand environment is improving steadily. Domestic equities witnessed a brisk recovery from the day's low mainly led by a rebound in FMCG and pharma stocks, said Binod Modi, Head-Strategy at Reliance Securities.

IT index has been the most surprising as profit-booking was visible in many IT stocks despite strong Q3 numbers and upbeat guidance shared by the managements, he added. "We believe underlying strength of the market remains intact and any correction in the market is likely to be bought out. Sustained recovery in key economic data for Dec'20, better-than-expected Q3.

Trump admin announces final rule that will raise prevailing wage rates for H-1B workers

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

The Trump administration has announced a final rule that will significantly raise the minimum wages the employers in the US must pay to foreign workers on visa programmes like the H-1B as part of the efforts to protect American workers from being undercut by cheaper labour from abroad.

Days before the exit of the administration of President Donald Trump, the US Department of Labor said that the final rule would help protect the wages and job opportunities of American workers by reforming the wage methodology it uses to set prevailing wage rates to prevent potential abuses of its Permanent Employment Certification, H-1B, H-1B1 and E-3 Visa foreign worker programmes. The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in speciality occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise. The technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China. The final rule will improve the accuracy of prevailing wages paid to foreign workers by bringing them in line.

Aahana to make her podcast debut

Actor AHANA KUMRA is all set to make her podcast debut. She will narrate a story on the audio web series titled MnM Talkies.

"I have recently started working on this podcast, which is produced and directed by Mantra," said Aahana, about the audio story called I Hear You, which tells the story of a detective named Priyamvada Parmar.

"I am entering the voicing industry and I think Mantra is the best person to hold my hand through this. Am excited to enter the new phase of my life. This is a new chapter and I am happy to begin 2021 with this," she added.

'I have had a lot of second seasons this year. It's been interesting to revisit them and experience

how they might have changed as people. Reprising a character for a new season is like meeting an old friend — you basically know them and understand how they are wired, but they are not exactly who they were when you met them last.'

—Rasika Dugal

Bollywood actor PREITY ZINTA teased fans saying lots of exciting news was coming up in the year ahead. She asked fans to take a guess.

The Los Angeles-based actor shared a throwback photo where she poses with a cricket bat. "This is definitely the year of new beginnings. Lots of exciting and interesting news coming up. Any guess folks? Watch this space for more.... till then keep guessing aur bolo kya?," she captioned the image.

Reacting to her post, netizens started speculating about what new beginning the actor was referring to.

Shakira sells rights of her songs

Singer SHAKIRA has become the latest artiste to sell publishing rights of all her songs. The Grammy winner's catalogue includes 145 songs.

Shakira's catalogue includes hits like Hips don't lie, Whenever, wherever, She wolf and Waka waka (This time for Africa), and the Board of Hipgnosis Songs Fund Limited, a UK-based investment company, has acquired 100 per cent of her music publishing rights.

In the year 2020, the world has seen people shifting from offline to online for many life requirements. The year somewhat became the watershed moment for various digital platforms like Video OTT, Edutech, Pharma, Fintech etc., which saw an unexpected surge in numbers. As a country, we are brilliant at adapting to change, look at how we embraced fintech & edu-tech both so important for our survival. The adaptation which was slowly happening in 2019 got expedited due to the spread of pandemic and the followed lockdown.

The most significant need for the bottom of our social pyramid has always been 'roti, kapda aur makaani' or succinctly put, education (read knowledge) and financial stability, even more so when pandemic was reaping havoc.

Today, learning is the fastest-changing landscape with a virtual race among various organisations to deliver knowledge and up-skilling content through latest and complex technologies. However, this approach may only work well for the metros of India with upwardly mobile TG. If we consider the TG living in tier two, three and four towns and villages, the requirement might be very different. Bharat makes up the most significant part of Indian digital users accessing the internet on mobile devices. The real issue is not the availability of high-quality content and implementation of complex/fancy tech to deliver it to TG but the ease with which the TG can consume the content on devices. To summarise, the key challenges would be:

- Increased screen time on low-end devices with battery challenges.
- Patchy internet to be able to watch videos seamlessly.
- Not truly vernacular.
- Cost of content and hence the high subscription.

NEED OF THE HOUR

What is more relevant and need to be made available to young India is a platform/medium which will make it spontaneous for people to access decent quality content (even if it is non-exclusive) effortlessly with minimal tech and underlying infrastructural requirements. It is only then, we will be able to see the next billion users using digital learning platforms to learn and get empowered to achieve their learning goals.

AUDIO IS THE ANSWER

Audio is the only way to provide all of the above without compromising the quality of learning except for a few specific subjects requiring live/visual session for better understanding. Audio will democratise the learning ecosystem from every aspect. It will allow the masses to acquire knowledge and learn the subjects of their interest without paying beyond their financial capacities

FUTURE OF KNOWLEDGE

In the fast-changing landscape of education, we shall soon see audio taking over traditional and video learning to educate young India or compulsive buying of high-end devices/data packs.

NOT SHOOTING IN THE DARK

Looking at the global trend from the biggest audio markets — US and China, audio will take over as most preferred media by masses across India.

For instance, in the US, Spotify has spent $400mn to acquire Gimlet, Anchor and Parcast to acquire podcasting capabilities. Apple acquired Scout FM in Sep 2020. Simultaneously, in China audio platforms like Ximalaya FM, Lizhi FM (US IPO), DeDao is serving more than 500mn users. De Dao, another Chinese audio content platform, contracts high-profile experts to record podcasts teaching topics in their field. Listeners navigate a marketplace of audio courses and subscribe to the ones they believe will get them (or their children) an "edge" There are various courses like workplace communication, investing, accent reduction, Chinese history and many more.

Last year the company had served seven million customers, and none of the content was free. Audio courses drive more than 50 per cent revenue for Ximalaya FM and QingTingFM. Screen-based learning competes with distractions like Facebook and Netflix for users' attention. By making audio their primary learning consumption mode, people can fit courses into busy lives and easily allow for a habit.

FUTURE TRENDS IN KNOWLEDGE AND AUDIO

India is the youngest country with 850mn people below the age of 35 years. For this young population, the most significant need is education and financial security. To get better economic opportunities, people need to up-skill, but being engaged in the daily job they have limited time to learn and up-skill themselves.

For example, Uber driver or Swiggy delivery person work eight to 10 hours a day and have no time to learn and upgrade themselves. While their hands and eyes are engaged, they can leverage their ears to boost their skills by converting their non-learning time into learning time.

Audio has its merit over other mediums without imbibing the negatives of respective mediums like video and print. It provides various benefits to the user, some important ones are as follows:

- Reduces screen time without reducing learning.
- Passive listening provides for more extended content consumption throughout the day.
- Creation and consumption of content are both much easier in audio format.
- Minimal hardware and connectivity required.

YEAR 2021 WILL BE A YEAR OF AUDIO PROVIDING FOR:

Reduction in screen time: Students would not sit in front of screen for long hours to gain knowledge. Parents & teachers both have been concerned with excess screen time for their kids.

Easy access to knowledge in local languages: Users across India will be able to get easy access to the best of educators, that too in their local language.

Offline to online classes: Local and small-time educators will reach millions and teach them in their local language. Thanks to the ease of content creation with audio.

Up-skill with one click: Small courses targeted to unlocking better financial opportunity will become a trend.

User convenience and ease: People will not migrate to larger cities to gain or share knowledge, creation of content and consumption as both are much easier in audio format.

We shall soon see audio taking over traditional and video learning and will have a much larger mass appeal and usage to educate young India users this year.

A great drive

At the conclusion of The Pioneer's leg of Hyundai's 'Great India Drive,' a word of thanks to the all new Hyundai i20

This is not about our adventures in and around Bhopal visiting some tremendous historical sites at the heart of India and then discovering that Madhya Pradesh's capital has some of India's finest museums and collections of artifacts. But this is about the car we took there, the third-generation Hyundai i20 and a sort-of re-evaluation of the car. I owned a first-generation i20 and it was a superb drive but it was never asked to do what we made this little car do, driving close to 2,000 kilometres over six days, a total of nearly 36 hours of drive time.

Usually, a little hatchback like the i20 is not the ideal car for a long road trip, with luggage and for those like us trying to document the journey. Not only did the car surprise me with its spaciousness, it was more impressive in the way it tackled the roads. Now, the roads, both, those run by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) and the state government in Madhya Pradesh are excellent but during one of our days exploring historical sites near Bhopal, a local friend advised us to see Gayaspur and Satdhari, the former an ancient temple carved into a hill and the latter a collection of ancient Buddhist Stupas. The problem is that the sun was setting and to get from point A to B in short order didn't mean just driving quickly, (we also visited Heliodorus' Pillar inside the town to Vidisha) but also depending on Google Maps.

Now, I love Google Maps and I sometimes wonder how on earth we managed before Brin and Page did their thing. That said, on this particular day and possibly for one of the first times, it was asked to plot a route between these three sites. And it did so not with any aplomb. It plotted a route through the narrowest alleys of Vidisha, which despite being the Chief Minister's constituency, has some really narrow passages inside town and like elsewhere in small towns of India nobody follows any rules. And to make matters worse after Vidisha, for a long time we were on a love road constructed under the Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana, which suddenly ended. One minute tarmac, next minute a path which wasn't really a road but where tractors went. It was barely in between the fields, in fact, the mustard and rice crops on either side of this path often had the odd group of plants growing between the ruts. And it was rutted and wet. It was not a path that you would want to take a small SUV-shaped vehicle let alone a hatchback. But somehow, this i20 with its dual-clutch gearbox, an automatic gearbox isn't the ideal way to go through such paths, but it made it, and not once did I hear the heartbreaking 'clank' of the car bottoming out. Again, there was never a struggle for grip in muddy and rutted roads, other than maybe once or twice but within a second or two, the traction control kicked in and the car effortlessly lifted itself out.

I believe that 99.9 per cent of the i20's in this generation that will be sold in India over the next four-five years will never be able to do what this particular car has seen and done in the past week. And it did these in the crowded roads of Vidisha, the narrow lanes of the old city in Bhopal, the broad boulevards of the new city, the state highways with some crazy drivers and the most entitled people in India, wrong-side motorcyclists and tractor drivers, as well as in some brilliant highways. A big shout-out to NHAI for the brilliant NH46 between Bhopal and Gwalior, which other than the bypass at Guna was one of the best highways I have driven on in India.

The i20 did all this and averaged 15.4 kilometres per litre, which with a extremely smooth dual-clutch box and the 120PS 1-litre Turbo was impressive. This engine could be a bit thirsty in the city but it was impressive because it delivered all this power, with economy and comfort. More importantly, it did so without complaining even once. I liked this car when I drove it in Delhi for the first time, but after this past week I love it now. It is in my opinion the finest mass-produced hatchback ever sold in India. Because it doesn't pretend to be something it is not with its body style and delivers everything and more. Impressive.

Strongly opinionated about my choices: Mithila

Actor Mithila Palkar says she is aware that she has the freedom to make her own choices, adding that she is strongly opinionated about the choices she makes.

These are traits that helped her relate to her character of Masha in the forthcoming film Tribhanga: Tedhi Medhi Crazy, says Mithila, although she doesn't think she is similar to Masha at all.

"The choices that Masha made were the ones that I would never make, but having said that I won't judge her for that because I know where she came from and why she made those choices," Mithila said.

The actor continued: "I think the one thing that binds us together is that whatever decisions we take, we are going to be judged for some of them. I feel we both are aware that we have the freedom to make a choice and are very strongly opinionated about the choices that we make — whether or not they fit in anybody else's build or is in sync with anyone else's ideas, principles or values."

"We know that it's a choice that is going to make us happy and we've taken this call being very self-aware of what may or may not happen. I think that is the one thing that binds us together but otherwise I don't think there is anything similar. She is quite peaceful actually and a quiet person to herself. I am quite the opposite of that — (I am) loud," she added.

The film, written and directed by Renuka Shahane, also features Tanvi Azmi and Kajol. It is a family drama about three distinct women, and their unconventional life choices.

(The film releases on Netflix on January 15.)

There is no need to be a master in the kitchen or an expert pastry chef to create a tasty and appetizing dish. Most of the time, the best cakes are also the simplest to prepare. Kick start a brand new year with some delectable breakfast options that are light and nutritious. Lavazza India shares new recipes:

Treccia with ginseng coffee
Aromatic, fragrant and very tasty. The braid with ginseng coffee is a sweet bread with a single large 5-ply braid. For this special recipe, use Lavazza ginseng coffee, the perfect soluble preparation for a healthy and energizing breakfast.

Ingredients:

- ◆ Flour: 700 gm
- ◆ Water: 300 gm
- ◆ Brewer's yeast: 1 stick
- ◆ Honey: 50 gm
- ◆ Ginseng coffee: 30 gm
- ◆ Coarse ground coffee: 4 gm
- ◆ Butter: 80 gm
- ◆ Salt: 11 gm
- ◆ Yolk: 1
- ◆ Milk to taste

Preparation:

Dissolve the coffee and sugar in 100 gm of hot water. Proceed with the dough by adding to the flour, water with coffee, brewer's yeast, honey and salt. Mix all the ingredients until the liquid is absorbed, then add some butter. Work the dough with your hands until it is uniform and smooth. Let it rise for about one hour.

How to make a bread braid

Once risen, separate the dough into five equal parts to get a large braid. Now we need to weave! Those who manage to braid their hair can also follow the same procedure with bread dough. Take the outermost yolk and milk. Another half an hour of leavening, a final brush and you are ready for the final touch: sprinkle the coffee powder along the entire length of the braid. Bake at 180 degrees for about 40 minutes.

Coffee pancakes

Do you want to surprise your family or friends with a tasty and original breakfast? The pancakes at the cafe are the perfect sweet, as light and nutritious. Of Anglo-Saxon origin, the golden pancakes have also entered Italian homes for some years. In the classic American breakfast, pancakes are prepared with maple syrup or fresh fruit.

Ingredients:

- ◆ Lavazza coffee: 150 ml
- ◆ Eggs: 2
- ◆ Milk: 150 ml
- ◆ Flour: 150 gm
- ◆ Sugar: 50 gm
- ◆ Salt: 1 pinch
- ◆ Butter to taste

Preparation:

First of all: prepare the coffee with the mocha and, once ready, pour it into a container and let it cool. At this point, take the eggs, separate the yolks and egg whites in two different containers. In the one that contains the egg yolks pour the sugar and with a whisk try to mix well until you get a uniform cream. Then add the flour, milk, and coffee, salt and continue mixing.

Beat the egg whites until stiff and pour them into the mixture you just made. Combine everything thoroughly, taking care to mix from the bottom up to prevent the egg whites from falling apart. Cover the container with a cloth or cling film and let it rest for at least 30 minutes in the refrigerator.

To cook the pancakes, take a medium-small non-stick pan: melt a knob of butter and pour the mixture a little at a time with the help of a ladle. Bake these yummy pancakes on both sides until they turn a golden colour. Place three or four stacked pancakes on the plate and add icing sugar, dark chocolate flakes, whipped cream, jams or honey to taste.

Plumcake without eggs

Most of the time, the best cakes are also the simplest to prepare, such as egg-free coffee plumcakes. Greedy, healthy and genuine. Ideal for a light and nutritious breakfast or snack.

Ingredients

- ◆ Flour: 250 gm
- ◆ Potato starch: 50 gm
- ◆ Sugar: 120 gm
- ◆ Milk: 300 ml
- ◆ 300 ml Milk
- ◆ Crema-e-Gusto Espresso coffee: 1 cup
- ◆ Dark chocolate: 60 gm
- ◆ Baking powder for cakes: 1 sachet

Preparation

Prepare the coffee and pour it into a cup. Turn on the oven bringing the temperature to 180 static.

In a bowl, combine the flour, yeast, starch and sugar and mix with the help of a spoon. Now heat the milk and add the coffee. At this point, combine the liquid and solid ingredients. Mix everything with the electric mixer until the dough is smooth and homogeneous. Then add the chocolate flakes to the mixture, incorporating it with a spatula.

Grease the loaf pan. In order not to get your fingers dirty, take a card and grab the butter. Spread the fat all over the inner surface of the pan, being careful not to miss any areas. Continue like this until you have greased the entire pan. Now sprinkle the pan with a little flour and shake off the excess. If you are unfamiliar with flour and butter, you can always use parchment paper. Then, pour the dough into it.

It's time to bake! You have already preheated the oven to 180 static, right? Perfect. Now let the coffee plumcake cook for about 30 minutes. Remember to do the toothpick test to check its cooking. It is a simple and fool proof method to understand if a cake is cooked to the right point or not. After the necessary cooking time, before enjoying your delicious masterpiece, let it cool. # Bruised India face temperament test

PTI ■ BRISBANE

After denting the ego of mighty Australians with their bruised and battered bodies in a Sydney epic, Ajinkya Rahane's wounded India will take no prisoners in a 'winners take all' fourth Test, starting Friday on the liveliest of tracks in the series.

Australia need a win to regain Border-Gavaskar Trophy but a draw will be enough for India to retain it for another couple of years.

There are times when the human body responds differently to the adrenaline rush and the likes of Ravichandran Ashwin, Rishabh Pant and Hanuma Vihari have given their million fans a reason to believe in their gumption that was on display in Sydney.

Jasprit Bumrah played with an abdominal strain and didn't want to come out even though the experience was painful and Ravindra Jadeja with a broken thumb was ready to do what Malcolm Marshall did with a fractured wrist three decades back.

They battled against everybody — the racist ones in the galleries, the abusive one behind the stumps and those lethal ones with the shiny red nut that broke a few bones but could not shake the steely resolve of the Indians.

The new India that Virat Kohli so raved about is now ready to battle a whole new set of adversaries at a venue where Australia hasn't lost a Test since 1988.

There won't be a Jadeja and Bumrah and on one of the most difficult tracks, it couldn't have gotten more worse for India. And insult to injury is Mayank Agarwal being hit on the forearm in the nets and Ashwin battling back spasms.

"We will take a call tomorrow. The medical team is working with all the injured players. If Bumrah is fit, he plays, if he is not fit, he doesn't play," batting coach Vikram Rathour said at the pre-match conference.

Indian players chat during warm-up session on the eve of fourth Test against Australia at the Gabba

For Tim Paine, the series-decider couldn't have been played at the better venue than the bouncy Woolloongabba or Gabba for fans around the world.

"From a distance it looks like it always does," you could gauge the confidence in Paine's voice even as he gave the news of young Will Pucovski's shoulder injury ruling him out of playing even.

"We love playing here, and one of the main reasons is because that wicket. This is a good place to come and play, because I don't have to go and look at it, I know what is going to be like," he said and it was like warning to Indian team that looks more like a second string A team save three senior batsmen.

But Ajinkya Rahane will still smile, Cheteshwar Pujara will be uncomplaining and trust Rohit Sharma to still go for the pull shot if Pat Cummins digs one short.

There will be no Vihari in Sydney but he has set a different bench-mark for the 'walking wounded' and expect Rishabh Pant to play another blinder in the only way he can.

The combination has all gone for a toss and Rahane would only understand that discretion is the better part of valour.

India might just want to use the option of playing only four bowlers instead of a regular five in order to take the game deep with their batting.

If Agarwal is available, expect him to go in at number three after Rohit and Shubman Gill with Pujara and Rahane coming a notch down.

There is an option of playing Prithvi Shaw or Wriddhiman Saha in place of Ravindra Jadeja but off-spin all-rounder Washington Sundar's name is also doing the rounds.

It's the bowling attack that India will be worried about. Navdeep Saini and Mohammed Siraj with just three Tests in their kitty and Shardul Thakur, who bowled all of 10 balls in his debut Test two years back, do not exactly inspire confidence.

While Rathour kept cards close to his chest, it's more about trying to deny opposition psychological advantage by playing the guessing game on Bumrah when world knows that his participation is highly unlikely.

That too against a batting line-up where three of the top four batsmen respond to the name of David Warner, Marnus Labuschagne and Steve Smith.

The second and third batters have shown what they can do with Indian attack and Warner is not known to fail in too many innings.

'Overworked' Bumrah should be given a breather during Eng series: Gambhir

New Delhi: Former opener Gautam Gambhir believes the Indian team management needs to take good care of its pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah and if required, the right-arm pacer should be given a break during the upcoming home series against England.

On the road for nearly five months since this year's IPL, Bumrah has finally succumbed to the rigours of non-stop international cricket as he has been ruled out of the series-deciding fourth and final Test against Australia after suffering an abdominal strain during the preceding match in Sydney.

And Gambhir feels it would be unfair to force Bumrah to play in all the matches against England, starting February 5.

"... You got to look after him (Bumrah) as well, because he is going to be the leader of the attack for a very long time, so him being fit is very important,"

"So when India plays England in the 4-Test match series... I know, yes, Mohd Shami is unfit, Ishant Sharma is unfit, Umesh Yadav is unfit but you can't afford to play Jasprit Bumrah in all the 4 Test matches, it will be very unfair on him," he added.

Gambhir, however, feels Bumrah will be more menacing in Indian conditions. "See again, he (Bumrah) hasn't played a Test match in India till now, Has he? He hasn't. So, I'm sure the Indian team management has looked after Jasprit Bumrah reasonably well. They have actually used him in places like England, South Africa and Australia, where he has got to be even more threatening.

"I'm not saying he is not going to be threatening in India. He is going to be even more threatening in India, where wickets can get low and slow and he can reverse the ball really well," he said.

The former cricketer-turned-politician said Bumrah is a quality and dangerous bowler, who is threat for any batsmen at any given time of a match.

Bess' fifer puts Eng in control

AFP ■ GALLE

Off-spinner Dom Bess claimed five wickets to help bowl out Sri Lanka for 135 and give England the advantage on day one of a Test that took 10 months to start on Thursday.

Bess, who returned figures of 5-30, combined with paceman Stuart Broad, who took three wickets, as Sri Lanka were all out in two sessions as the two-Test series resumed in Galle after the original tour was aborted over the coronavirus in March.

England lost their openers early but skipper Joe Root, on 66, and Jonny Bairstow, on 47, steered the tourists to 127 for two at close of play. They still trail Sri Lanka by eight runs.

The batting duo put on an unbeaten partnership of 110 after Dom Sibley, for four, and Zak Crawley, for nine, fell to Lasith Embuldeniya's left-arm spin.

Root, who successfully reviewed an lbw call in his favour after being given out by the on-field umpire on 20, reached his 50th fifty in 98 Tests. He has 17 centuries.

Bess though remained the hero of the day with his second five-wicket haul in his 11th Test as the venue witnessed its lowest first-innings score, well below Sri Lanka's 181 against Pakistan in 2000.

Sri Lanka suffered a pre-match jolt when skipper Dimuth Karunaratne was ruled out of the first of the two Tests with a fractured thumb.

Stand-in-captain Dinesh Chandimal scored 28 and put up some resistance in a 56-run stand with Angelo Mathews, who made 27 on his return from a hamstring injury.

Broad struck twice in an over to send back opener Lahiru Thirimanne, who had scored four, and Kusal Mendis for nought — his fourth straight duck — to spell early trouble for the hosts.

Spin was introduced in the 11th over and Bess, with his second ball, got Kusal Perera for 20 when the batsman top-edged a reverse sweep to England captain Joe Root at first slip.

Sri Lanka had slumped to 25 for three but Mathews and Chandimal stood firm till lunch.

Broad came back in the second session to break the stand as he got Mathews caught at slip and Chandimal, who survived a dropped catch by debutant Dan Lawrence before lunch on 22, departed two balls later off Jack Leach.

Mathews, whose hamstring injury kept him out of the 2-0 Test series defeat in South Africa, went past 6,000 Test runs during his knock before Bess soon ran through the middle and lower order.

In reply, the tourists slipped to 17 for two after Sibley was caught at first slip and Crawley also back in the pavilion inside nine overs.

Root and Bairstow then batted cautiously to bring up England's best partnership for all wickets at the venue.

AFP ■ LONDON

Jose Mourinho slammed Tottenham's "avoidable" mistakes and lack of killer instinct after Fulham's Ivan Cavaleiro rescued a 1-1 draw on Wednesday.

Harry Kane had put the hosts ahead in the first half at the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium, but Cavaleiro struck in the closing stages to level Mourinho frustrated.

Tottenham have won just two of their last eight league matches and sit in sixth place.

A win against third bottom Fulham would have taken them into third place above Manchester City, who made it four successive league victories

Spurs held at home by Fulham

when Phil Foden earned a 1-0 win over Brighton earlier on Wednesday.

Whether Spurs — six points behind leaders Manchester United — will be regarded as title contenders for much longer must be in doubt after this sloppy display.

Once more we concede a goal that is completely avoidable. You have to keep a clean sheet, not make mistakes. The markers are there. There wasn't even an advantage in terms of numbers," Mourinho said.

"We have lots of opportunities to kill off matches. In other cases especially away we are winning but then don't have that ambition to get the goal and kill the game.

"There are things that are individual mistakes. We have had results and we should avoid these results."

Cavaleiro's leveller was a suitably dramatic end to the feud between Mourinho and Fulham manager Scott Parker, triggered when Aston Villa's coronavirus outbreak meant Spurs' scheduled trip to Villa Park on Wednesday was postponed.

Instead, Tottenham's game against Fulham — originally called off in December because of Covid cases in the Cottagers squad — was moved on Monday to help ease a potential fixture pile-up for Mourinho's team.

Parker said it was "scandalous" for his team to be forced to play at such short notice.

Mourinho hit back, saying he would only feel sorry for Fulham if they played a weakened team.

So he would have noted with interest that Fulham named a strong team with nine of the 11 that played their last Premier League game on Boxing

Day. But it was Parker who had the last laugh and he said: "I'm very proud of this team for what we've been through. There's a lot of talk around, everyone assumes about what happened. I know what we've been through the last two weeks.

"This game was supposed to be scheduled 16 days ago — for 10 days some of these boys were locked up in their houses (self isolating). "We had players out there who had one day's training. What pleased me most was a desire and a real quality at times."

Bayern suffer shock German Cup exit

AFP ■ KIEL

Bayern Munich were knocked out of the German Cup on Wednesday as second division Holstein Kiel won a nail-biting penalty shoot-out 6-5 after the second round tie finished 2-2 after extra-time.

This is the first time holders Bayern have been knocked out of the cup by a non-Bundesliga club since losing to then fourth-tier Magdeburg in 2000/01.

After Bayern midfielder Marc Roca was the first player to miss with his team's sixth penalty, Kiel's former

Bremen forward Fin Bartels converted the winning spot-kick to spark wild celebrations.

The upset means this is the first time European champions Bayern have been eliminated from a cup competition since head coach Hansi Flick took charge in November 2019.

Bayern were 2-1 up thanks to goals by Serge Gnabry and Leroy Sane, either side of a superb Bartels strike, before a last-gasp header by Kiel captain Hauke Wahl on 95 minutes took the game to extra time, then penalties.

Bayern fielded a near-full strength side with only top-scoring striker Robert Lewandowski and centre-back Jerome Boateng rested.

Ter Stegan saves Barca in shootout

AFP ■ CORDOBA

Marc-Andre ter Stegan's heroics ensured Barcelona edged past Real Sociedad on penalties on Wednesday to reach the Spanish Super Cup final, without the injured Lionel Messi.

Messi was watching on as Ter Stegan did his best to fill the void in Cordoba, the goalkeeper immense both in the shoot-out and during normal time, which had finished 1-1.

Frenkie de Jong's header was cancelled out by a penalty from Mikel Oyarzabal, who then missed in the shoot-out, one of two crucial saves made by Ter Stegan before 21-year-old Riqui Puig hit the winning shot.

"I wasn't down to take one but we needed one more taker and I stepped forward," said Puig.

Barca advance to meet either Real Madrid or Athletic Bilbao in the final on Sunday, when Messi is expected to be available again, although coach Ronald Koeman was cautious at full-time.

"We have to wait," he said. Koeman's team have a mountain to climb in La Liga's title race but they are improving, now nine games unbeaten and with a trophy in their grasp.

India's campaign ends in Thailand

PTI ■ BANGKOK

Star India shuttler Saina Nehwal was knocked out of the Yonex Thailand Open Super 1000 event after losing the women's singles second round to Thailand's Busanan Ongbamrunphan here on Thursday.

In a battle of attrition, Saina managed to grab the opening game but ran out of steam in the end, losing 23-21, 14-21, 16-21 in a match that clocked 68 minutes. It was Saina's fourth straight loss to the world number 12 Busanan.

In the men's singles, former world number one Kidambi Srikanth was forced to give a walkover to his eighth seeded Malaysian opponent Lee Zii Jia after pulling up his right calf muscle.

Indian men's doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty also bowed out of the competition after suffering a 19-21, 17-21 defeat against second seeded Indonesian combination of Mohammad Ahsan and Hendra Setiawan.

Later, Satwik and his mixed doubles partner Ashwini Ponnappa went down 12-21, 17-21 to Hong Kong pairing of Chang Tak Ching and Ng Wing Yung to draw curtains on India's campaign.

Pochettino wins 1st trophy as manager

AFP ■ LENS

Neymar scored on his return to action for Paris Saint-Germain as they beat arch rivals Marseille 2-1 to win this season's Champions Trophy.

The Brazilian rolled home an 85th minute penalty to put PSG two goals ahead following Mauro Icardi's first-half opener to give new coach Mauricio Pochettino the first trophy of his reign in the French capital, and managerial career.

The Champions Trophy is the French equivalent of a Super Cup, usually contested at the start of the season by the league champions and French Cup winners.

With PSG winning both last season, Marseille had been selected as their opponents as the Ligue 1 runners-up.

Hopes were high for a feisty tussle in Lens after Marseille's league win at PSG in September ended with five red cards and Neymar accusing Marseille centre-back Alvaro Gonzalez of racism in the aftermath.

However it was a largely tame encounter in northern France, with the most noteworthy incident being substitute Neymar's goalscoring return after a month away.

The 28-year-old hadn't featured for the French champions since being stretchered off with an ankle injury during a 1-0 defeat to current league leaders Lyon on December 13.

Icardi thought he had given PSG the lead with a 22nd minute tap-in, only to have the goal ruled out for offside after Kylian Mbappe strayed past Marseille's back line to collect Leandro Paredes' defence-splitting pass.

Seven minutes later it was Mbappe's turn to have a goal chalked off when he started his run too early to connect with a long pass from his captain Marquinhos.

Icardi finally put dominant PSG ahead six minutes before the break with a goal typical of his poacher's style, first meeting Angel Di Maria's raking long ball with a close-range header that Steven Mandanda pushed onto the post.

The Argentine was quickest to follow up as the ball dribbled back out from the goal, and he tapped in his second goal as many games since returning from injury.

He almost doubled his side's lead in first half stoppage time when he hit a left-footed strike back off the crossbar.

Neymar returned to action in the 65th minute and was immediately targeted by Gonzalez, the Argentine fouling the superstar attacker several times in what looked like a continuation of the pair's spat.

However it was Neymar who had the last laugh when he stepped up to score the decisive second goal for PSG from the penalty spot after Icardi was brought down by Marseille's substitute keeper Yohann Pele.

Dimitri Payet pulled one back for Marseille with a minute remaining but it was too little too late for Andre Villas-Boas' side.
