Govt offers to suspend farm laws for 18 months

Centre promises to form joint body to look into demands; unwilling to accept proposal, farmer leaders to revert after internal consultation; next talks on Jan 22

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

In a major climb down, the Centre has proposed that the three controversial farm laws will be kept in abeyance for a minimum of 18 months and it will form a joint committee to look into other pending demands of the agitating farmers, including repeal and legal guarantee to minimum support price (MSP).

The Government proposed these initiatives in the 10th meeting between the Government and agitating farmers. But farmer leaders did not immediately accept the proposal and said they will revert after their internal consultation on Thursday.

The farmers wanted a complete withdrawal of the laws as a mere suspension of the laws for some period of time will not bring about any change, farmer leaders said on Wednesday after the 10th round of talks concluded. The next round of meetings will be held on January 22.

After the meeting which lasted for five hours, including two breaks, Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar said the Government has proposed to suspend the implementation of the three laws for 1.5 years, during which period a joint committee of represen-

During the talks the farmers' unions said they will discuss the Government's proposal in detail and will come for dialogue on January 22. The Minister said the talks were held in a cordial atmosphere despite some "naram-garam" moments (softening and hardening of the stand) and farmers remained adamant on their demand for the repeal of the laws. "I feel that talks are progressing in the right direction and there is a possibility of finding a resolution on January 22," Tomar said. After the meeting, Bharatiya Kisan Union (Ugrahan) president Joginder Singh Ugrahan said, "The Government proposed to suspend the farm laws for one and a half years. We rejected the proposal but since it has come from the Government, we will meet tomorrow and deliberate over it."

SC irked at bias charge against panel members

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Wednesday expressed strong displeasure over the aspersions cast by some farmers' unions on members of the court-appointed committee to resolve the impasse over new farm laws, saying no adjudicating authority has been given to the panel of experts who are "brilliant minds in the field of agriculture".

The top court said that it has serious reservations that committee members were called names and branded, which has "become a cultural

Parley again today as unions adamant on rally on Delhi's Outer Ring Road on R-Day

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The Delhi Police has suggested farmers' unions to hold their proposed "Tractor rally" on January 26 on the Kundli-Manesar-Palwal Expressway, instead of Delhi's busy Outer Ring Road. However, farmers did not agree to the suggestion. Sources said a meeting will be held again on Thursday with farmers regarding the routes for their tractor rally. A meeting will be held on Thursday again to dig out a solution," said the sources.

Current jabs no panacea for future Covid strains: Study

Some coronaviruses may evolve to escape recognition by immune system

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Just when the newly-developed vaccines against Covid-19 had given some hopes to the world battling the pandemic, a new study pointed out that current vaccines may not work against future strain of the virus.

It also said that some coronaviruses — the family of viruses which includes the one causing Covid-19 — can evolve to escape recognition by the host immune system.

The study, published in the journal eLife, noted that if the novel coronavirus SARS-CoV-2 which causes Covid-19 evolves in the same way as other pathogens, current vaccines against the virus may become outdated, requiring new ones to be made to match future strains.

"Some coronaviruses are known to reinfect humans, but it is not clear to what extent, this is due to our immune memory fading or antigenic drift," said first author of the study Kathryn Kistler from the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in the US.

Currently, at least 8 countries, including India, have begun or granted approval for vaccinating their people against the virus. "We wanted to investigate whether there is any evidence of coronaviruses related to SARS-CoV-2 evolving to evade our immune responses," Kistler said.

When a person is infected by a virus, or vaccinated against it, cells part of their body's immune system produce antibodies that can recognise and bind to unique proteins on the virus' surface known as antigens.

In order to provide immunity against the virus, the immune system relies on being able to "remember" the antigens that relate to a specific virus, the scientists explained.

However, they said in some viruses, such as the seasonal flu, the antigens are likely to change and evolve in a process called antigenic drift, and the immune system may no longer respond to reinfection.

In the current study, the scientists looked at the four seasonal human coronaviruses (HCoV) which are related to SARS-CoV-2 but typically cause milder symptoms, such as the common cold.

HCoVs, the scientists said, have been circulating in the human population for 20-60 years, meaning their antigens may have faced pressure to evolve against the human immune system.

A medic vaccinates a health worker with Covishield vaccine during a countrywide inoculation drive against Covid-19 at Thane Civil Hospital on Wednesday

Vaccination drive fails to gain momentum, Govt concerned

Only 7.86L healthcare staff vaccinated till 5th day of jab drive

ARCHANA JYOTI ■ NEW DELHI

The anti-Covid-19 vaccination drive has failed to pick up the expected pace even after the fifth day when just 1,12,007 healthcare workers received the jab on Wednesday.

A total 7.86 lakh healthcare workers have been vaccinated since January 16 when the anti-Covid jab programme was launched with much fanfare in the country. The Government fears that with such a pace, it will take years to inoculate an estimated 3 crore healthcare and frontline workers that it plans to cover in the first phase.

"On Wednesday, 1,12,007 beneficiaries were vaccinated till 6 pm across 20 States and Union Territories," said Additional Secretary Manohar Agnani at a press conference here. He, however, said that the final report for the day will be complied by late in the night.

Ten cases of adverse events following immunisation (AEFI) — four in Delhi, two in Karnataka, and one each in Uttarakhand, Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan and West Bengal — have required hospitalisation so far, Agnani said.

"Three people were hospitalised after vaccination in Uttarakhand, Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan. All of them have been discharged. Four beneficiaries in Delhi were hospitalised after vaccination. Among them, one is under observation at Rajiv Gandhi Hospital, while three have been discharged. In Karnataka, one was discharged and one is under observation and in West Bengal, one is under observation," said the official.

"There has been no case of serious/severe adverse event attributable to Covid-19 vaccination till date," the official added.

Democracy has prevailed," newly inaugurated US President Joe Biden said on Wednesday in his maiden speech as he called on Americans "to defend the truth and defeat the lies".

Speaking shortly after taking oath as the 46th President of the United States, 78-year-old Biden also pledged to repair America's global alliances, which suffered during his predecessor Donald Trump's four-year regime. "This is America's day... Democracy has prevailed," Biden said, apparently referring to Trump's efforts to deny him victory in the November 3 election won by him. "With unity we can do great things," he said referring to the challenges ahead of him from fighting the coronavirus to addressing racial injustice.

"Unity is the path forward," he asserted, laying out his vision to defeat the pandemic, build back better, and unify and heal the nation. Hours after being sworn in as the 46th US president, Biden

Now, devotees can enter Puri temple sans Covid report

SAROJ KUMAR MISHRA ■ PURI

Devotees can enter the Jagannath Temple here without Covid-19 negative certificates from Thursday. An estimated 30, pilgrims are already waiting in hotels and lodges here without Covid-free certificates to get a chance of temple entry. # Govt directs pvt schools to reduce fees

Relaxation to be made in seven slabs

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

In a big relief for students and parents, the State Government has directed all aided and unaided private schools to reduce fees in view of the Covid-19 pandemic. It is to be noted that parents' associations across the State had been demanding reduction of school fees since long following closure of all educational institutions due to the pandemic.

As per a notification issued by the School and Mass Education Department on Tuesday, the relaxation in school fees would be made in seven slabs: 7.5% for the fees ranging between Rs 6,001 and Rs 12,000 per annum, 12% for fees between Rs 12,001 and Rs 24,000, 15% for fees between Rs 24,001 between Rs 48,000, 20% for fees between Rs 48,001 and Rs 72,000, 25% for fees between Rs 72,001 and Rs 1 lakh and 26% for fees remaining above Rs 1 lakh. Besides, the schools cannot charge students for food and transport. Regarding hostel fees, a 30%-waiver would be given. Last year, parents' association's MD Mustaq and Prahallad Rout had filed PILs in the Orissa High Court seeking waiver of fees of private schools due to the pandemic. While the State Government had claimed that it had no power to regulate fees fixed by the private schools, the association argued that the resolution issued by the department concerned on September 23, 1996, which is still in vogue, gives the Government the power to regulate fees being charged by the schools.

HITTING THE BULL'S EYE

Indiscreet media puts critical issues below cricket

BISWARAJ PATNAIK

India snatched a victory over Australia against odds' is news just fit to occupy sports page or some prominent space below critical news that has to do with the quality of life of the common folks. But in India, cricket steals all top space. Issues like farmers' agitation, corona vaccines and WhatsApp slapping coercive rules are relegated to obscure zones of front or following pages. This very viewpoint is likely to enrage countless people, mostly young, as they are cricket-crazy without ever realising just once that leading nations on the living planet place this colonial game at the seventh place among the ten most popular games in the world: soccer, badminton, field hockey, volleyball, basketball, tennis, cricket, table tennis.

But it is an established truth that the lazy, unemployed, directionless youths of India with all the free times at hand have found the decisive limited-overs cricket shows great fun.

Test series used to come and go; but after the World Cup was instituted, Indians kicked all other delightful, health-boosting, community games out of the scene for good. Thus, kabaddi, volleyball and countless inexpensive, gear- or gadget-less sports religiously played by boys and girls, men and women to keep them together and bound have been losing respect since at least three decades. Hockey, fortunately, is the only one among the classical games that sprung back to prominence only in pockets of India, most significantly in Odisha. It is now robustly played and promoted in this eastern State in a manner that most developed nations envy.

Today, Bhubaneswar is known as the most exciting hockey capital of the world. The steel city of Rourkela is coming up with the biggest hockey stadium of India as hockey runs in the systems of the youths there, mostly from the aboriginal tribal communities.

Cricket-crazy Indians are enormous in number. No wonder, huge cricket stadiums get filled instantly when decisive limited-over matches are played. Routinely therefore, corporates from all over the globe have found it easy to place commercial ads during cricket seasons in India and the cricket controlling outfit called the BCCI easily scoops incalculable amounts of money from all quarters - against ticket sales, as well as innumerable global corporates buying ad spaces and time on television and installing physical displays.

Consequently, cricketers, mostly school or university dropouts, have turned millionaires by having a share in the loot. There, of course, is no reason why anyone should blame the cricket players for making money.

But that they are considered demigods is pure sacrilege. The Government has no control over the money making, splurging, siphoning or misappropriating huge wealth involved in the most popular game of India.

Incidentally, the controlling body BCCI, still a Madras-based non-profit organisation expected only to do social work is using all sorts of tricks to keep money for itself after paying off the promised dues to players. Because of the wagonloads of money the game makes for the BCCI, even political stalwarts like Sharad Pawar too fight elections to bear office at the stinking rich outfit.

Corporate giants, fixers, crooks and rascals masquerading as saints have grabbed positions of authority only to have a great time.

The BCCI, an NGO, is the richest or the second richest sports organisation in the world today. They donate nothing for the poor or the disadvantaged even after left with piles of money after spending generously for the promotion of cricket in the country or elsewhere.

So, all the beautiful, culturally-linked games of India are only part of history today. Sensible parents who grew up amid the folk games of yore do not seem to suffer at the loss. If prodded or pecked, they say, without remorse, 'today's children are smart and omniscient because of the smartphone and internet; and they are doing what's good for them.'

Thus, cricket killed all other games in India including soccer and volleyball. Cricketing heroes, therefore, became filthy rich, the majority of them heartlessly greedy. Late Dhyanchand, the unforgettable hockey wizard, on whose birthday India observes the National Sports Day, was ignored when it came to bestowing upon a sports legend the Bharat Ratna, the highest civilian award specifically meant for exemplary contribution and sacrifice in enriching the life and culture of India. Sports were never in the domain of consideration for Bharat Ratna.

The Congress-led UPA Government, imagining a Bharat Ratna given to a cricket master would garner all youth votes to ensure election victories, modified the hitherto non-negotiable parameters and yardsticks for the most coveted award to accommodate Sachin Tendulkar as the recipient.

Sachin by then had been in news as an import tax evader. By persuading BJP leaders, he got a tax waiver for importing a free Ferrari car gifted by the FIAT company only because he was then the automobile giant's brand ambassador for the 'Palio S10' model in India.

A PIL, with the Delhi High Court yielded results and the tax waiver by the executive was set aside. Eventually, the FIAT company cleared the dues and dropped Tendulkar. Around that time, Sachin was earning billions from cricket and more from commercial endorsements. They also made him an Air Force officer and subsequently a Rajya Sabha member who wasted public money for he hardly attended sessions.

Similarly, when Dhoni became a big player and minted money like he could never have dreamed, he too never donated respectfully for any worthy cause. Only last year when the corona pandemic moved even street-level ordinary people to donate for the distressed, Dhoni coughed out only a meagre one lakh rupee.

Movie stars earning much less gave away crores of rupees to help the distressed and the helpless millions. Countless nondescript traders, pensioners and small business people did donate generously. But the cricket community, by and large, displayed monumental greed and callousness and remained smug. The recent test series victory in Australia has Indians going crazy with joy. They make stories of how most wonderful the Indian cricket team is. The media too, obviously run by similar cricket-mad people, have given the mundane cricket victory most space. Leading dailies, known for scruples and discretion, have shockingly carried the cricket story so boldly as to offend any sensible Indian.

Disturbing issues like the threat of tractor-driven agitation by farmers, the related Supreme Court rulings, the corona vaccine dilemma, the private school fees fixation and the questionable as well as coercive new WhatsApp rules have not been given proper space and time despite the fact that they affect the lives of the common folks. Thus, the mainstream media has gone insane.

The social media, though, is much more restrained and their coverage is a lot more sensible with contentious and critical issues occupying big space. Cricket occupies space down below, and rightly so.

Locals allege political link behind murder

Sahoo succumbed to the bullet injuries on the spot. Later, Ganjam Superintendent of Police Brijesh Kumar Rai rushed to the spot along with other senior police officials to the spot. It is suspected that the incident was fallout of old enmity. However locals alleged that it's a well-planned murder. As the panchayat elections are round the corner, Sahoo might have been eliminated.

Sahoo was the Block Chairman between 2007 and 2012 and continued to be active in politics. Hence, a murder conspiracy might have been hatched against him to settle political scores, alleged a local. "It is not yet clear whether it's a political murder or a case of business rivalry.

We have already got some evidence against the miscreants. We will nab them soon," said a police official. Notably, Sahu had a construction material business. The incident has triggered tension in the area.

Postcard signature drive in Brahmapur begins

KRUSHNA CHANDRA PANDA ■ BRAHMAPUR

Two days after a human chain rally conducted by the Forum for Development in the city for establishment of a domestic and cargo airport at Brahmapur, the Joint Action Committee (JAC) as scheduled earlier started its first phase of postcard signature campaign in front of the Khallikote Autonomous College here on Tuesday for onward transmission to the State CM. Hundreds of students, teachers and public signed the postcard voluntarily justifying the demand for a domestic and cargo airport at Brahmapur soon. The campaign received tremendous response from the public, claimed convener of JAC Rajendra Panda. The JAC consisting of members from two socio-cultural organizations, namely, the Manav Adhikar Suraksha Manch and the Ganjam Zilla Vikash Manch organised the drive in which the Ganjam Zilla Vikash Manch president and convener of JAC Rajendra Kumar Panda and MASM convener lawyer Abani Kumar Gaya were present and led the campaign. Mention may be made here that, earlier the JAC in its meeting held on last Sunday threatened to go for "Brahmapur Bandh" if the Government does not consider its proposal for establishment of an airport in the city at the earliest.

The JAC had expressed its unhappiness over the lackadaisical attitude of both the Union and State Governments towards the long standing and genuine demand of the people of Ganjam district in general and silk city in particular, despite agitations and protests by the public over the years. As per the CDP approved by the BDA, an 8sq km land has reportedly been identified and kept reserved at Sithalapalli under Lakshmipur Mouza on the outskirts of Brahmapur which can be used for establishment of a domestic airport, sources said. # We can build healthy environment if we like

SUBHANARAYAN SATAPATHY

Naturalist David Attenborough says, "People must feel that the natural world is important and valuable and beautiful and wonderful and an amazement and a pleasure." Yes, people feel it when they realize the natural resources surrounding us are protecting us, giving us every opportunity to live and enjoy. We know that natural resources are used to make food, fuel and raw materials.

All of the food that people eat comes from plants or animals. Natural resources such as coal, natural gas and oil provide heat, light and power. Today, about 80 percent of the world's energy consumption is sustained by the extraction of fossil fuels, which consists of oil, coal and gas.

Another nonrenewable resource that is exploited by humans is subsoil minerals such as precious metals that are mainly used in the production of industrial commodities. Think how we can live without natural resources and energy which have been generated from these resources. Rather than protecting and preserving the natural environment and its resources, people are extracting it more and more day by day. Still nature has no objection. Though nature sustained but we should not forget that it is impossible to live here in absence nature.

If we expand our township by cutting down forests, curtailing natural establishments, then our living span will be limited and one day our existence from the world will definitely disappear. If we continue the process, we should understand that we are devastating our residence. If we give attention towards preservation of natural resources, then existence of human and other creatures on world will be long. It should be remembered that the patience of nature is not its weakness rather it is our drawback that we are moving towards an artificial world.

Nature's preservation or protection is not a symbolic or emotional challenge but it was our traditional practice since time immemorial. So comparatively planting of trees shall be more than cutting of trees. There should be limited consumption of natural resources and rather they should be preserved for future for emergency use.

We are responsible for incidence of natural disasters like cyclone, earthquake and flood. But we do not stop over exploiting natural resources that leads to these crisis. Rally, awareness, orientation, capacity building are a part of protection of natural resources. Repeatedly, Blue, White, Green revolution should be undertaken with participation of community by forming and strengthening the Self Help Groups, Farmers Interest Groups, Common Interest Groups thereby conserving the environment.

Goal on environment protection of sustainable development is one of the mandates of every nation. Natural environment can be protected and preserved if the community formulates its protection plan with their involvement and participation at each level. Now people came out of lockdown and shutdown imposed to protect from the infections of Coronavirus. At that time, people experienced pure oxygen, water, air and environment which are healthy for all living beings. In present unlock process, again society is turning towards a polluted environment.

Then what did we learn from the pandemic? We can construct a world with full of natural resources for healthy living. We can make or mar. Truly, David Attenborough also says "It seems to me that the natural world is the greatest source of excitement; the greatest source of visual beauty; the greatest source of intellectual interest. It is the greatest source of so much in life that makes life worth living."

PM releases ₹2,691 cr to 6.1L to help build houses

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Stressing that ownership frights were being given to women, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday released a financial assistance of around ₹2,691 crore to 6.1 lakh beneficiaries in Uttar Pradesh under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Gramin (PMAY-G).

“Owning a house gives confidence,” the Prime Minister said and pointed out that under the scheme two crore houses have been built in the rural areas.

Referring to the progress of housing scheme in UP, he said “this shows UP Government is active” and under BJP Government “UP ko nayi pehchaan aur nayi udaan mili hai”.

Assembly polls are due in UP, electorally the most important State in the country, next year with the political scene already heating up. BJP President JP Nadda is on a two-day tour of the state from Thursday.

Modi said expressways in the state would be speeded up and completed soon.

The Modi-Government has promised ‘housing for all’ by 2022 under PMAY scheme.

Union Rural Development Minister Narendra Tomar and

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Adityanath were also present at the launch, which was held via video conference.

The assistance would include the release of a first installment to 5.30 lakh beneficiaries, and a second installment to 80,000 beneficiaries who have already availed the first installment under PMAY-G.

“In the past few years, around 2 crore houses have been built in rural areas alone,” Modi said during the launch. “Under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, keys of 1.25 crore houses have been handed over to people. Around ₹1.50 lakh crore has been given by the Central Government alone, to build these houses,” he said.

The Prime Minister compared these figures with that of the Opposition’s, and said that people of Uttar Pradesh will never forgive the previous Governments for their wrong policies.

“I am talking about Uttarakhnd Pradesh especially, the poor didn’t believe that the Government can help them in constructing a house,” he added. “The previous Awaas schemes, the kind of houses built under them were not hidden from anyone.”

The Prime Minister said under the housing scheme his government has made special emphasis on giving ownership of houses to women.

PMAY-G is an extension of the Indira Awas, which was launched by the Congress Government in the 1980s. It gave ₹70,000 as cash incentives to rural families in need of pucca homes.

Modi’s PMAY has increased the amount to Rs 1.2 lakh per house in plain areas and ₹1.3 lakh in hilly or remote areas. Each house needs to be at least 270 sqft in size.

Popularly known as the “housing for all” mission, through the scheme, the government aims to subsidise the construction of 2.95 crore rural houses and 1.2 urban houses by 2022. So far, 1.26 crore houses have been built across the country under the scheme, according to a release by the Prime Minister’s Office.

Leakage of secret military operations treason: Congress

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Congress on Wednesday upped the ante on Centre and journalist Arnab Goswami for his explosive WhatsApp chats saying the leakage of secret military operations was treason and those who were party to the act deserved no mercy and must be punished.

Led by former Defence Minister AK Antony, the Congress demanded an enquiry to determine the source of the leak and whether the leak compromised the Balakot operations. Antony was joined by former home minister Sushil Kumar Shinde, former external affairs minister Salman Khurshid and Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Ghulam Nabi Azad

The attack on Centre and Goswami comes a day after former party chief Rahul Gandhi termed the leakage a criminal act and action to be taken with utmost importance. Rahul’s sibling and party general secretary Priyanka Gandhi too took to social media to express her disappointment the way Government is handling the current defence related leakage and said how can the Modi government remain a mute spectator in this criminal act when lives of nation’s brave soldiers were lost in the Pulwama attack.

Expressing his shock on Goswami’s remarks to ex-BARC chief Partho Dasgupta three days before the IAF strike in Balakot that “something big is going to happen”, Antony said leaking official secret is a crime but leaking information on military operations was an anti national act and those involved must be punished.

Antony also said only four to five civilians in the top echelons of the government had the Balakot strike information and “someone from among them has leaked it.”

“Having worked with the military people I am sure no one from the military could ever leak such information,” the former defence minister said.

“One of the top five civilians in the government is suspect. It has to be enquired immediately on war footing as to who that person is. Whoever is responsible for the leakage must be punished for treason and this journalist who was in possession of sensitive military operations he has to be punished. The Government must order a proper enquiry. Whoever is responsible, whoever is party to the leakage of this sensitive military operation deserves no mercy. He has to be punished,” said Antony.

Shinde said that “leaking of official secret is a criminal act but leaking of official secret about military operation, a national security matter, that too sensitive military operations especially a military strike is treason, anti national.”

It is not just criminal action it is anti national activity, said Antony. He said only three or four or five ministers and officials could have known of the operation.

Army urges veterans not to put on uniform, medals during political rallies

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

In the backdrop of some veterans attending the ongoing farmers agitation in Army uniform, the Army has issued an advisory asking them not put on uniform or medals in political rallies. The advisory also said donning the uniform or medals in against the rules.

The advisory was issued recently to the Kendriya Sainik Board wherein various sections of the Army Act were enumerated to urge the veterans to refrain from attending the political functions in uniform. The caution was sent out after some veterans attended the agitation at the Singhu and Tikri borders of the national capital, sources said here on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the local commanders were also sensitising the serving troops especially from Punjab about the ongoing agitation and instructed that they cannot be part of any protest while in service.

This step was taken after some video clips surfaced showing some serving jawans raising banners and protesting in the farmers’ rallies some parts of north India. Officials also said the erring soldiers will be dealt with as per rules. These incidents took place when the soldiers had gone

As regards veterans, they said the Army uniform can only be worn during official functions and not while attending a public gathering or protests.

New petrol pumps to be at least 50 m away from water bodies, says CPCB

ARCHANA JYOTI ■ NEW DELHI

Almost a year after directing Oil companies to ensure fuel stations are at least 50 metres away from schools, hospitals and residential areas, the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) has now asked them to maintain similar distance from water bodies too. The move is aimed at protecting the water bodies from getting any possible contamination due to seepage of diesel or petrol, if any.

The draft guidelines come in the backdrop of opposition by residents and environmentalists in Haryana over the Government’s plan to allot 15,000 square metres of forest land in Chakkarpur village to Indian Oil Corporation to set up a fuel station, which they alleged would contaminate a nearby water channel in the fragile area.

The CPCB draft guidelines said that all the surface water bodies irrespective of utility shall be protected from any possible contamination. “These include lakes, ponds, streams, rivers, wetland, sea and any other. Retail outlets shall not be located within a distance of 50 metres from the nearest point of water bodies. In case of streams and rivers, the distance shall be considered from flood plain.”

As a preventive measure, retail outlets coming within 50 meter to 100 metre from the nearest point of surface water body shall have secondary containment by way of double walled tanks or concrete protection walls so as to minimise groundwater soil contamination, said the guidelines which have been posted on the CPCB website for comments and suggestions by February 2, 2021.

It further said that ground water quality monitoring of retail outlets within 100 meter from the nearest point of surface water bodies shall be conducted by the OMCs once in every quarter.

Last year, an expert committee comprising members from IIT Kanpur, National Environmental Engineering Research Institute (NEERI), The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI), Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas and CPCB had framed the guidelines for setting up of new petrol pumps in the country. It had prohibited setting up petrol pumps close to the schools, hospitals and residences citing health hazards.

The expert committee was set up on the directions of the NGT which is seized of a plea seeking a cap on the number of petrol pumps so as to avoid their adverse effects on the environment.

As per the guidelines, “Retail outlets shall not be located within a radial distance of 50 meters from schools, hospitals (10 beds and above) and residential areas designated as per local laws. In case of constraints in providing 50 meters distance, the retail outlet shall implement additional safety measures as prescribed by PESO (Petroleum and Explosives Safety Organisation).

“In no case, the distance between new retail outlets from schools, hospitals and residential areas shall be less than 30 meters. No high tension line shall pass over the retail outlet,” the CPCB guidelines said.

‘Goli maro...’ slogan raised at Suvendu’s rally

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ CHANDANNAGAR/HOOGLHY

The frightening “Goli maro ...” (shoot them) has traveled out of Delhi and continues to ride the poll bound air of Bengal with both the Trinamool Congress and the BJP mimicking the hate rhetoric coined by a Union Minister an year ago.

A Suvendu Adhikari-led saffron rally in Hooghly district picked up on Wednesday from where the TMC workers left in South Kolkata a day before calling upon the listeners to shoot down the traitors.

Even as the BJP supporters that walked the triumphant road show that ended at Circus Ground at Chandannagar shouted “Desh ke Gaddaron ko Goli Maaro Salon ko” (shoot the traitors)” Suresh Sahoo the local BJP leader who led the slogan said “there is nothing wrong in the slogan as it was intended at persuading the army to shoot down the people who conspires against our motherland.”

His superior leader and State BJP spokesperson Samik Bhattacharya however politely dissociated the party from such slogans saying “the BJP never supports such things,” only to quickly tell between the “Goli Maro...” of TMC and BJP.

“Though the BJP does not promote such kind of slogans which might have been given in the heat of the moment ...

but this slogan cannot be equated with the one raised by the TMC leaders as our supporters were shouting the slogan condemning the people who are involved in anti-national activities whereas there slogan was aimed at the people who have left the Trinamool to join the BJP ... this indicates provocation of violence.”

On Tuesday another rally of the Bengal ruling party led by senior leaders like Arup Biswas and Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay both Ministers shouted “Bangal ke gaddaron ko Goli maro salon ko (shoot the traitors of Bengal).”

Much like Bhattacharya his TMC counterpart too distanced his party from such “avoidable coinages” but added “the BJP is doing the same thing today after teaching the TMC the moral conduct yesterday,” asking “who are they asking the so-called army to shoot ... aren’t they asking the Indian citizens to be shot down ... is this the kind of political change they are planning to bring in Bengal.”

Meanwhile, Adhikari who led his fourth consecutive “house-full” road show on Wednesday once again challenged Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee to compete from Nandigram as she earlier promised saying “let me tell you madam (Banerjee)! I personally undertake to ensure your defeat at Nandigram irrespective of whosoever contests from BJP against you.”

Hailing Prime Minister Narendra Modi as the “strongest Prime Minister with a definite vision ... who has taken bold steps which many Governments would not take for years,” Adhikari said “on the other hand TMC has been reduced to a private limited company with the Chief Minister as its Chairperson, her nephew (Abhishek Banerjee) as its Managing Director and an outsourced company (read the one of Prashant Kishore) as its electoral advisor.”

Saying that he could not take decisions despite holding three ministerial posts in the Trinamool Government the former Bengal minister said that “in that party there is only one post and rest are lamp posts and I too was one of them.”

Attacking the junior

Banerjee he said “the Tolabaz (extortionist) nephew has to explain why he appointed Vinay Mishra as the vice president of TMC Yuva (party youth wing)” adding how Mishra — currently at large — is being frantically looked for by the CBI in cow, coal and sand smuggling cases.

“There is one step for the CBI before it reaches the door steps of the ‘nephew’ ... it has only to arrest Vinay Mishra,” he said.

Attacking the Chief Minister for mimicking the Central schemes and implementing them in Bengal by changing their names, Adhikari said “this Government talks of providing jobs whereas it has gobbled up three Departments ending more than 5.5 lakh jobs... in lieu of which she has created 25,000 contractual workers only.”

Another TMC MLA joins BJP

PNS ■ KOLKATA

There was more erosion in the Trinamool banks with party’s MLA from Shantipur, Arindam Bhattacharya joining the saffron party in Delhi.

Bhattacharya who joined the BJP in presence of party’s Bengal observer Kailash Vijaybargiya said the “Mamata Banerjee Government has done nothing for Bengal in the past several years of its rule... There is no industrialization, no future vision ... we could not work for the party or the people as eligible people were not given responsibilities and only corrupt and sidekicks were decorated with higher posts.”

Bhattacharya had won the Shantipur seat in Nadia district as a Congress candidate with Left support but changed over to the TMC though he would not resign after that. On Wednesday he joined the BJP.

On whether more people will join the saffron outfit in the coming days, Vijabargiya said “indeed there are many of them who are coming to us ... and will join the party when our Home Minister Amit Shah will visit Bengal on January 30 and 31.”

Incidentally at least two ministers and three MLAs of the ruling party had been speaking incoherently, sources said. Last week Vijayavargiya claimed that over 40 more were ready to jump ship.

Trouble continues for ‘Tandav’ with more FIRs

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

Amid protests by the Opposition BJP, the Mumbai Police registered an FIR against the team members of web serial “Tandav”, including Bollywood actor Saif Ali Khan, serial director Ali Abbas Zafar and others.

A day after the BJP’s spokesperson Ram Kadam and his supporters staged a protest march to the Ghatkopar police station in north-east Mumbai and lodged a complaint, the police lodged an FIR against the team members of “Tandav” which is currently being shown on the OTT platform Amazon Prime Video.

The “Tandav” members have been booked under sections 153-A (promoting enmity between different groups under religion, race et) 295-A (Deliberate and mischievous acts intended to outrage religious feelings) and 505 (2) (statements creating or promoting enmity, hatred or ill-feelings between classes) of IPC.

Apart from Saif and director Ali Zafar, the others who have been named are the web serial’s producer Himanshu Mehra, writer Gaurav Solanki, Amazon’s top officials like Aparna Purohit and Amit Agarwal.

The registration of an FIR by the Ghatkopar police coincided with the arrival of a Uttar Pradesh Police team to investigate the complaints against the web series.

Maharashtra Home Minister Anil Deshmukh

assured the visiting team that action would be taken in the “Tandav” matter.

Earlier on Sunday, the Ministry of Information & Broadcasting had sought an explanation from the Amazon Prime Video on the controversial portions in the web serial.

On its part, the “Tandav” team tendered an apology saying: “The web series ‘Tandav’ is a work of fiction and any resemblance to acts and persons and events is purely coincidental. The cast and crew did not have any intention to offend the sentiments of any individual, caste, community, race, religion or religious beliefs or insult or outrage any institution, political party or person, living or dead.”

Mumbai Metro to get its first ‘driverless’ train on Jan 27

Operation to start in May

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

Mumbai Metro, which expects the first indigenously-manufactured driverless train from the Bharat Earth Movers Ltd (BEML) in the metropolis on January 27, plans to roll out the metro passenger services on Metro Metro-II A and VII in May this year.

Announcing this, Maharashtra’s Urban Development Minister Eknath Shinde said, “After seven years, Mumbai is ready to welcome the new metro and Mumbaiers are curious about its “first look”. This metro train will be tested on different fronts once it arrives in Mumbai. After that, we plan to introduce Metro in passenger service from May, 2021”.

The first phase of coaches running on Metro Two A and Seven will leave Bangalore on January 22 for Mumbai and arrive at Charkop Metro Car Shed by January 27. “After that, the trial runs of this metro will start in the next two months with the necessary technical and other tests. We are planning to start these metro passenger services from May 2021,” Shinde said.

The construction of metro lines and stations, which is being carried out through MMRDA, is in the final stages. The construction of the Metro train running on this route has been entrusted to BEML and this is the first indigenously built Metro train to be ready to arrive in Mumbai. “Under the guidance of Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray, work on metro projects has been accelerated,” the Minister said.

Hydroelectric Power Project, the Lt Governor said that Jammu & Kashmir was deprived of this mega project for so long because the previous regimes were scared to move ahead due to Pakistan’s threats of going to International court for arbitration, and making representation in the World Bank.

He also observed, “now J&K is witnessing unprecedented growth and development in every sector; we are unlocking J&K’s potential to be self-reliant in the energy sector within a short span of time”.

Highlighting the key features of the mega project, the Lt Governor said that apart from making J&K energy sufficient, the project will create 4,000 jobs in J&K, directly & indirectly, and will contribute to overall socio-economic development of the UT. In addition, the Kwar project (540 MW) has been decided to be taken up. This will result in an investment of ₹4,264 crore and create more than 2000 jobs in the UT, he added.

CHINESE VILLAGE IN DISPUTED REGION

Clarify ground situation in Arunachal: Sena

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

Shiv Sena’s Rajya Sabha member Priyanka Chaturvedi on Wednesday asked the Centre several pertinent questions regarding the Chinese occupation of Indian territory, including whether India had given up its claim on the land occupied by China and what was the extent of the Beijing-occupied land recovered by the Narendra Modi Government ever since it came to power in 2014.

Alluding to media reports — based on the satellite images available in public domain — about the construction of new settlements by China in Indian Territory of Arunachal Pradesh during the past one year, Priyanka shot off identical letters to Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, seeking answers to several questions regarding the Chinese troops’ occupation in the Indian territory.

Among other things, Priyanka asked as to “how much of our land at present has been illegally occupied by China since 1947 onwards as per GoI records the chronology of occupation of these parcels of lands”.

“What is the change in the status quo since 2014? Have we recovered any land illegally occupied by China or have we given up claim on them as justified by cabinet ministers and leaders? What is the Government of India doing to recover these occupied territories and have we lost any new territory since 2014?”, the Sena MP asked.

Priyanka wanted to know as to what was stopping India from seeking accountability from China, “considering that the current government came on the plank of prioritising nationalism & border security”.

“I look forward to your response considering the urgency and sensitivity of an issue of national importance that impacts every citizen of the nation”, she stated in her identical letters to the Defence Minister and External Affairs Minister.

“China has been stepping up expansionism in the borderlands while our government is not even willing to call China out by name. The area where these villages have come up may be disputed, but international law forbids unilateral change of the status quo in such disputed territories,” she said.

“China’s construction of a village is just the latest example of how it is encroaching on areas inside India. China has no land claim in this occupied region that can be backed by international law,” Priyanka stated.

“However now by constructing villages that were uninhabited but strategically important areas, it is seeking to challenge the international law. The construction of this village is a violation of a key part of multiple agreements reached by China with India that asked the two sides to strictly respect and observe the line of actual control and work together to maintain peace and tranquillity in the border areas,” Priyanka wrote in her letter.

“The intrusion by China, as reported in the past one year based on satellite images, has been in Depsang Plains, Pangong Tso, Galwan Valley, Gogra Hot Springs, Dibang Valley, Chushul, Demchok, Chumar,” she said.

Tiger triggers panic in UP village; forest dept teams deployed

PTI ■ SHAHJAHANPUR (UP)

The presence of a tiger in a village here was confirmed on Wednesday after the big cat and its cubs were seen in CCTV camera footage from the area, triggering a panic among locals.

Residents of Nagla Ibrahim village in Tilhar tehsil of the district had reported spotting a tiger and its cubs in the village about a week ago, Divisional Forest Officer Adarsh ??Kumar said.

After the reports, the forest department installed CCTV cameras around the village, and their footage has confirmed the presence of the big cat, he said. The official said movement in the area around Nagla Ibrahim village has been restricted, and farmers have also been stopped from going to the fields.

Skiing resort of Gulmarg converted into a canvas by budding artists

MOHIT KANDHARI ■ JAMMU

The Skiing resort of Gulmarg in Kashmir valley has been turned into a big canvas by the budding artists assembled there to create “ice sculptures” and other art forms. Braving sub zero temperature conditions these artists have already started working on different themes to give shape to their imagination.

To facilitate these artists the Department of Tourism has come forward to ensure they get a stimulating environment during the four day long competition. The department has also kept ready large ice blocks for the participants to ensure they are able to carve out the shape as per their chosen themes.

In the competition over 30 participants drawn from various districts of the Kashmir valley, both amateur and professional sculptures, are participating. On Wednesday Director Tourism, Kashmir Nisar Wani flagged off the participants from TRC, Srinagar. The special camp was organised to attract tourists and promote the rich cultural heritage of Jammu & Kashmir.

Evangelist Paul Dhinakaran comes under Income Tax scanner as 28 premises raided

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

A day after three archbishops of the Catholic Church called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi at New Delhi, sleuths from the Department of Income Tax knocked on the doors of the palatial residence of Paul Dhinakaran, head of the Jesus Calls ministry and India’s leading evangelist at Chennai and 27 other establishments owned by him across the State.

The premises that were raided include the Karunya Institute of Technology and Science at Coimbatore and Prayer Towers across the State. According to sources in the department, the raids were following specific inputs about large scale evasion of tax and non-disclosure of funds received from sources abroad for religious conversion.

Paul Dhinakaran is the son of late DGS Dhinakaran, founder of the Jesus Calls Ministry which has specialized in massive religious conversion using state-of-the-art methods. Prayer Intercessors manning the Prayer Towers across the globe will pray for customers who join various prayer schemes launched by the Jesus Calls Ministry. All satellite television channels in regional languages air programmes featuring the miracles happening across the world for customers joining the prayer schemes paying hefty amount.

The Prime Minister had on Tuesday had a meeting with a team of cardinals of the Catholic Church that included Baselios Cleemis Catholics who once said that the Christian minorities were not safe under the Modi regime. The Church is reportedly upset over the growth of the ministry launched by the Dhinakarans which has poached thousands of its own believers.

In the run up to the 2019 Lok Sabha election, Paul Dhinakaran created a sensation all over Tamil Nadu with his prayer meetings where he emphasized the need to vote out the ruling regime. “Present leaders who are known to everybody shall be quietened in 2019 by the Lord.

Young leaders with forward looking principles and plans for progress shall be placed in authority in the nation in 2019. Young leaders would come to the rulership and leadership of the nation,” Paul had said in these prayer meetings.

NCP to form front with like-minded parties for Goa polls: Pawar

PTI ■ PANAJI

NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday said his party intends to fight the 2022 Goa Legislative Assembly elections in alliance with the Congress and other like-minded parties.

Speaking to reporters in Panaji, Pawar said the NCP wants to fight the Goa Legislative Assembly elections “as a front” along with other parties to provide an alternative to the BJP.

“In Goa, we want to contest the election in alliance with the Congress and other like-minded parties, but we are yet to start dialogues with other political outfits,” the NCP chief said. Pawar met the local NCP leadership including the party’s state unit president Jose Philip D’Souza and Churchill Alemao, the party’s lone MLA in the Assembly.

Senior party leader Prafulla Patel has been authorised to hold dialogues with other parties to form a front for the state Assembly elections, the NCP chief said.

Let the leaders lead

Like elsewhere, prominent personalities of India should get the shots so that the common citizen feels reassured

When the virologists in different countries developed vaccines for Coronavirus, there was a sense of relief and jubilation globally and people could not wait for the inoculation drives to begin. However, that euphoria turned into fear, distrust and vaccine hesitancy when side-effects and deaths began to be reported in nations like Norway, the UK, the US, and so on. In India, too, two people died after getting vaccinated on January 16 but, after the post-mortem reports came in, the Government declared that the deaths were in no way related to the COVID-19 jab, but to cardiopulmonary disease. Of course, the sceptics will take this statement with a pinch of salt. However, even if we were to attribute these deaths in India to the vaccines, we must not let such incidents cloud our vision. If one were to look at the larger picture, the number of infections and deaths globally due to the pandemic till now is 96,700,231 and 2,067,913, respectively. In India, the number of infections has been 10,596,442 and the casualties have touched the 152,754-mark. As compared to this, of the 6,31,417 healthcare workers who have been vaccinated so far across 11,660 sessions in India, only nine adverse events requiring hospitalisation were reported. So, just 0.18 per cent minor adverse events have been reported and only 0.002 per cent of them needed to be hospitalised. According to the Health Ministry, this figure is in fact the lowest, so far as we know, in the world. So, it does not take a genius to understand that the advantages of getting the jab far outweigh the disadvantages. Plus, in such huge vaccination drives as the world is undertaking right now, adverse effects and some casualties are to be expected, particularly among the old, infirm and people with allergies. But the fact remains that globally, scientists and Governments are responding very quickly and, apart from the strong adverse event surveillance, they are being flexible and vigilant to finding out the causes and issuing directives on who can safely take the vaccine and who cannot. For instance, Norway has adjusted its advice on who should be administered the vaccine by giving individual doctors the discretion to make this decision.

In India too, Bharat Biotech, the company that developed Covaxin, is warning people with weak immunity and other medical conditions to consult a doctor before getting inoculated and, if possible, to avoid it altogether. However, till now the other vaccine that is also being used, AstraZeneca's Covishield, has seen a good response. Though India is battling vaccine hesitancy even among healthcare workers, the Centre plans to press on with the inoculation drive. This is because the Government realises that pandemics can be contained only when people become resistant to the disease-causing pathogen. There are two ways to acquire herd immunity: One, on exposure to the pathogen, people develop antibodies and immune response in the body and; second, the body develops antibodies when the vaccine is administered. Allowing the natural spread of a disease to generate herd immunity is not desirable as it comes at the cost of avoidable morbidity and mortality. With mass vaccination against COVID-19, the Government is determined to protect the people. We must help it in every way possible. We are a big country, and rolling out vaccines to 1.3 billion people is not an easy task. But we are a very determined country that successfully eradicated smallpox and polio. We have the resources and the experience. With the hard work of those leading and implementing the campaign and with the support of people, we are bound to succeed in our gigantic vaccination drive. However, if the Government truly wants the people to embrace the immunisation drive, prominent leaders of the country should get the shots like they did in other nations, so that the common citizen can feel reassured. The leaders of the country need to lead from the front and not let the common man feel like the proverbial guinea pig.

What's in a name?

Rather than quibbling over Netaji's birth anniversary, the Governments should have celebrated the event together

On the face of it, one would consider it a matter of great national pride and patriotism, though a little belated, that the Union Government has decided to celebrate the birth anniversary of one of India's greatest nationalist icons who worked hard in the quest for the nation's Independence, Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, on January 23 as 'Parakram Diwas'. However, the political controversy the announcement has kicked off is quite unnecessary and unsavoury, to put it mildly. There are allegations and counter-charges that the decision has been taken to usurp the legacy of the revolutionary leader, who was actually born in Cuttack, Bengal Presidency, British India. While the Mamata Banerjee-led Trinamool Congress (TMC) Government in West Bengal and the NDA Government at the Centre are in tandem on the issue of celebrating Netaji's birth anniversary, the bone of contention is the nomenclature the event should have: The Centre wants to call it 'Parakram Diwas' while the TMC and the All India Forward Bloc — which was founded by Netaji and emerged as a faction within the Indian National Congress in 1939 — demand that the day be celebrated as 'Desh Prem Diwas'. Both the parties are also angry that they were not consulted when the decision was being taken. The Culture Ministry recently issued a notification stating that in order to "honour and remember Netaji's indomitable spirit and selfless service to the nation", the Government has decided to celebrate his birthday every year as 'Parakram Diwas'. But the TMC leaders are sticking to their guns that it should continue to be called 'Desh Prem Diwas' (the State-level celebrations have been held at Darjeeling since 2014) and that January 23 should be declared a national holiday as Netaji was a national leader and the head of the Azad Hind Fauj, and "these two aspects are not clearly reflected" in the name 'Parakram Diwas'.

With West Bengal Assembly elections on the cards, and especially when it comes to Netaji's birth anniversary, no party wants to let the opportunity to lure the voters slip from its hands. The State is expected to go to the polls in the first half of this year with the BJP hoping to wrest power from the TMC after emerging as the second-biggest party in Bengal in the 2019 general elections. The regional party's leaders have gone so far as to claim that it was a "stunt" by the NDA Government keeping in mind the upcoming Assembly poll in West Bengal, and "not a mark of respect" to Netaji. The family members of Netaji also put their weight behind 'Desh Prem Diwas', saying that the name would have been more appropriate "but we're happy with the announcement". Hectic preparations have already commenced for the 125th birth anniversary of Netaji in Kolkata, both by the State Government and the Centre. While the TMC Government has planned a massive procession in Kolkata, the Centre is also making preparations for a grand event at the Victoria Memorial Hall, where Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to be present. Petroleum Minister Dharmendra Pradhan will participate in a programme in Cuttack, Odisha, where Bose was born. Another programme will be held in Hariपुरa village in Gujarat's Surat district where Bose was elected the president of the Indian National Congress in 1938. But the bottom line remains that the true respect and honest tributes to Netaji had been if both the Governments had joined hands to celebrate the 125th birth anniversary of one of India's greatest sons who strove to free India from the iron clutches of the British Empire.

The usual suspects

The SC-appointed panel to talk to farmers comprises a neo-con economist, a seed terrorist and a policy sahib, which has given rise to mistrust

As 2021 began, the Supreme Court (SC) appears to have got a taste for drama as it pitched a "biased committee" against the revolutionary, but peaceful, farmers camping on Delhi's borders. Why biased? Because all the four original members had unequivocally supported the farm "reforms". But the apex court believes that they will remain neutral; and Chief Justice of India SA Bobde orally observing that if a person on a panel has expressed views on the matter, it should not become ground for his disqualification from a committee and that "committee members are not judges; they can change their views". Meanwhile, Bhupinder Singh Mann rejected the SC's offer to be part of the committee and said he stands with Punjab. The three remaining members, who pledge to be "non-partisan", have only added to the mistrust of farmers because the media may see them as honourable but, to farmers, they are simply a neo-con economist, a known seed terrorist and a policy sahib.

Let us go back to the start of this mess. After repeated failure of talks between the NDA Government and the farmers, petitions were filed in the SC which gave them a patient ear and even admonished the Centre for its "handling of the issue". There was some jubilation when farmers were teased by names such as "P Sainath" to be included in the committee. But the celebration was short-lived; it was as if the SC was testing the waters before delivering the master-stroke: Four pro-Big Ag names were invited to the committee. They being men of the law, we can't expect the judges to understand much about agriculture but whoever advised them, has put the integrity of India's top court in quagmire. Mann's polite refusal provides grist for this fact. Recently, committee member Anil Ghanwat has expressed fears that the farmers may not even participate in the proceedings.

How unbiased are the three remaining members — Ashok Gulati, Anil Ghanwat and Pramod Kumar Joshi? With a demonstrated history of promoting and advocating for Big Ag and US-style liberalisation, the apple doesn't fall far from the tree. Ashok Gulati, our neo-con economist, despite having worked in the Government for decades, is notorious as the poster child for Big Ag in India. His policy recommendations are hailed by the industry and vehemently opposed by farmers, whether on GM crops or farm-gate liberalisation. His economic models, to many farmers, are allied to the US industry interests and not to the welfare of Indian farmers and consumers. Gulati's models are a disservice to Gandhi's bread labour. Some would go so far as to say that his economic schizophrenia is so advanced for what he called the "1991 moment" for Indian agriculture, has turned out to be the biggest farmers' revolution in the history of our world.

Next we move to 'policy sahib' — Pramod K Joshi, who is the director for South Asia, International Food Policy Research Institute. Without going too much into details about his personal views, the organisation he represents is heavily funded by the Big Ag corporations and allies. The Syngenta Foundation (Switzerland), The Rockefeller Foundation (United States), CropLife International (Belgium), Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (United States), Cornell University (United States), the US Department of Agriculture (United States), KPMG East Africa and Alliance for a Green Revolution in Africa (AGRA) are some of the biggies to generously donate to his kitty and push a global agenda through this organisation in countries like India. Farmers are curious as to why did the SC's advisors think of this international body? Does India have a dearth of swadeshi agriculturists or agrarian policy experts? Why the swerve from Aatmanirbhar Bharat on policy matters? This name in the committee exposes the invisible hand behind the farm "reforms".

Finally, we move to alleged 'seed terrorist' Anil Ghanwat, who is the president of Shetkari Sangathana (SS). It didn't take illegal seeds from China to reach the US or India in May 2020 for any member of the cotton seed industry to understand the term "seed terrorism". India has been an area of operation for many such illegal seed schemes which want to destroy India's native seeds, public health and seed industry by using criminal means. 'Seed terrorists' smuggle and peddle unapproved foreign seeds on India's soils and fields. They claim that it's good for the farmers but actually, as the past year has shown, sound the death-knell for Indian biodiversity and public health as these seeds can be a gateway for getting new pests or plant diseases into the country. In a bid to protect our biodiversity, the Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh's (RSS) own Bharatiya Kisan Sangh has led a campaign in Maharashtra against this hazardous contamination and to curb the illegal spread of HT Bt Cotton. Keep in mind that COVID entered the country using humans as a gateway; similarly, the American pink bollworm and fall armyworm have mysteriously entered India. We don't know what new disease could be in store next?

A note on the history of the organisation: SS founder Sharad Joshi, a farmer leader for few, was a pariah in the national farmers' resistance movement. His stance on the World Trade Organisation (WTO), inclusion of agriculture into the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and the Dunkel Draft alienated him from the farmers who resisted this takeover in the late 90s. His obsession for "technology" and "progress" was only meretricious. His Frankenstein still lives eating into the profits and health of maize to oilseed farmers.

Following the same tradition, the SS has openly violated the Environment Protection Act, National Biodiversity Act and various other criminally punishable legislations by illegally planting and peddling an unapproved genetically modified organism (GMO) HT Bt Cotton in Maharashtra. This HT Bt cotton is a herbicide tolerant (HT) cotton variety that is unapproved by the Genetic Engineering Appraisal Committee (GEAC). The SC's technical committee on GM crops had also a few years ago put a moratorium on HT crops due to bio-safety issues. Despite this, Ghanwat's organisation has been unabashedly part of a criminal conspiracy to contaminate our native cotton seeds and biodiversity. Last year alone, he caused a damage of over ₹400 crore to the legal seed businesses, from Maharashtra to Telangana. Due to such fly-by-night operators, the legal cotton businesses are finding their seed lots contaminated by this unapproved variety and, in fact, many seed companies have been taken to court and their licenses suspended, yet Ghanwat's SS proliferates. They continue to do irreversible damage to our environment and health. The seed officials have booked various members for some of these offences, yet the ring leader — instead of being reprimanded — has been elevated to a power position.

The judiciary is an independent pillar of Indian democracy, and in no way should it be under pressure to echo the will of the Government of the day. For, if they acquiesce, Indian democracy will be dented. By appointing a committee without consultation, the SC may also have committed the same mistake as the Government. The CJI, if he wants the farmers and people to restore their faith in the judiciary, should disband the committee for now and evaluate the members' profile. People like Ghanwat and his organisation who openly defy the rule of law, should be punished, not honoured.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Kudos, Team India!

Sir — What Team India pulled off in Oz — a Test series win — is no mean feat. It was a glorious victory in the game of uncertainties, the memory of which will be long cherished. Watching a bunch of plucky Indian youngsters playing so well against the world's best team in a match that otherwise looked like being a David and Goliath contest was an uplifting experience.

The absolutely stunning victory at Gabba is sweeter because it was achieved in a Test cricket that showcases skills, subtleties and sophistication more than any other format and it was clinched by exceptionally talented boys hailing from disparate and diverse backgrounds from across the country. For the legions of Indian cricket fans, India lifting the coveted Border-Gavaskar Trophy was a fairytale ending.

For most Indians, cricket is an absolute religion. The bouncers and racial slurs and other tricks tried by the host could not make up for what it lacked to snatch a victory from a resurgent and exuberant Indian team.

Shun politics, stand united against China

This refers to the editorial 'Remove Chinese hamlet' (January 20). With China changing the status quo by constructing a village five km inside the disputed territory in Arunachal Pradesh, the ongoing tension between the two superpowers is going to escalate.

It appears that the Communist regime is hell-bent on strengthening and extending its territorial claims in violation of the international agreements and multiple treaties. The Chinese side doesn't respect the McMahon line, the demarcation between Tibet and India's Northeast, and constructs structures in the areas claimed by it. The development came as the Chinese and Indian troops are locked in a bitter standoff in eastern Ladakh since May 5 last year and multiple rounds of military and diplomatic-level talks failed to achieve any breakthrough.

The recent development has given yet another opportunity to the Opposition to take on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the NDA Government. It is disheartening that at a time when President Xi Jinping-led China is undertaking such misadventures, we as a nation are

India's jabs gain repute

Sir — We should feel proud that the vaccines developed in India have been tagged as the least risky across the world. This is indeed a great achievement and a testimony to the expertise we possess in the sector.

With all these titles, our vaccines are gaining a huge demand and the MEA is receiving requests for the export of these vaccines. It is a welcome move by India to supply the life-saving vials to six countries. India is supplying it to the nations who need it the most like Bhutan, Maldives, Bangladesh, Nepal, Myanmar and Seychelles. It is also considering the applications by three other nations and these too are in the final stages of approval. This step will help develop international cooperation and take India's diplomatic relations to a new high and, as Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, we are indeed honoured to have this opportunity to serve the world during the COVID pandemic.

Public holiday policy

Sir — It is a welcome move by the Supreme Court to seek the response of the Union Government on policy framework for declaring public holidays. A PIL complained that the Centre and State Governments arbitrarily notify public holidays.

It is true that the Governments declare public holidays on their whims and fancies to appease a section of population or vote bank. This is because in the absence of any guidelines or policy regarding the declaration of public holidays, the Governments use the opportunity to consolidate their vote banks.

At a time when we need to work diligently and incessantly with full devotion, increasing the number of holidays will decrease our productivity and output. It will make the Government employees lethargic and would give rise to a dilly-dally approach towards work. The need of the hour is that the Union Government should frame a national policy for declaring public holidays.

A risky business

Share redemption is like a double-edged sword. The very advantage associated with it can backfire and become a major disadvantage

HIMA BINDU KOTA

The recent announcement by the Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL), pertaining to its share buyback worth over ₹1,046 crore as it looked to return surplus cash to bondholders — the biggest being the Centre — is perfectly in tune with the Government’s efforts to raise funds for containing the rising fiscal deficit. The company’s Board approved repurchase of the ₹6.97 crore dividend, which is about 1.55 per cent of the total paid-up capital, at a price of ₹150 per share. The Indian markets may see similar announcements by other Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs) like Coal India Limited, National Thermal Power Corporation Ltd and National Mineral Development Corporation in days to come. GAIL has also declared an interim dividend of ₹2.50 per share for the coming year. This share buyback forms a part of the target set by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman for raising ₹2.1 lakh crore from the disinvestment of PSUs in 2020-21. Share redemption is the process by which companies buy their own dividends which are traded on the bourses at the market value, and in addition to its stock, is a preferred way to repay cash to the shareholders. Paying dividends to bondholders is an expensive affair as it increases the cost of equity. Therefore, paying off shareowners through buybacks is less expensive and reduces the overall cost of the capital. Since 2016 through 2018, it was one of the most favoured ways of returning excess cash to bondholders. In 2018, Indian stock markets witnessed bond repurchases worth ₹54,600 crore. This run was somewhat stalled in 2019 by the Government’s decision to tax these transactions. As many as 70 companies announced share buybacks to the tune of ₹35,460 crore in the first half of 2019. In the 2020 Budget, however, the new tax regime made share buybacks lucrative once again.

There are several reasons why firms buy back shares. First, to consolidate their stake as diverse and numerous policyholders or owners make it difficult for the company to take an undisputed decision, as numerous stakeholders with voting rights indulge in a power tussle. By redeeming shares, companies increase their voting rights and exercise more control over governance. For instance, OYO’s share buyback from Sequoia and Lightspeed in 2019 increased the stake of Chief Executive Officer Ritesh Agarwal from a meagre 10 per cent to 30 per cent, increasing his say in decision-making. Second, by redeeming its shares, a firm sends positive signals about its future prospects and growth potential. A company may also believe that the current stock price is undervalued and takes it as a good opportunity to increase its bondholding keeping in mind future prospects. This is known as the signaling effect. Third, share repurchase is one of the best uses for any idle cash reserve companies might have, especially when there are not enough chances to invest the excess money.

However, share redemption is like a double-edged sword. The very advantage associated with it can backfire and become its disadvantage. While competing in a high growth industry, buyback may not be considered a positive step as it may give an impression that the firm does not have enough avenues to invest its idle cash reserve. Long-term investors respond to such share buybacks by selling their shares. For instance, IBM’s buyback announcements between 1995 and 2000 made investors apprehensive about the company’s ability to bring out new products and services. Further, share repurchase is not an isolated event and has to be always viewed in conjunction with other performance parameters. For instance, it will not send a positive signal about the future growth potential to the investors if profitability is declining or the financial outcomes are showing otherwise.

Basically, there are three ways in which companies buy back their shares. Open market repurchase is the most common buyback mechanism in which firms announce redemption of a certain number of bonds through a Press release but do not give details of price, timing and execution of the deal. In fixed-price tender offers, companies invite shareholders to sell their dividends to the firm at a fixed price, generally at a premium rate to the prevailing market price, within a given time frame. While in auction-based tender offers, firms disclose their willingness to pay a premium and seek tenders from owners for certain portion of shares. It is the responsibility of the shareholders to respond to the company about the quantity of shares to be sold within a specified time period. Studies on the impact of share buyback have found that share redemption boosts operating performance due to an increase in earnings per share, return on equity and return on assets, rise in stock prices and shareholders’ value. But negative effects of share repurchase on the stock prices of the firms have been reported, too. Although buybacks bring a positive sentiment to the bourses, their attraction for firms and shareholders depend on factors that are unique to each case. The management has to decide the proper use of its funds — either to reinvest in its business or return cash to the shareholders — creating a balance between future growth and stockholder’s value creation.

Don’t be an anti-vaxxer

There have been minor adverse events across India since the vaccination drive began on Jan 16. However, surveillance has been strong and will remain so in future, too

VM KATOCH

Vaccines go a long way in managing, controlling, eliminating deadly, sometimes debilitating infectious diseases. Smallpox was the first example of a dreaded disease, with a mortality rate as high as 30 per cent, being eradicated by a vaccine. But it was a long journey from the development of the vaccine to the elimination of the disease. Edward Jenner, an English physician, was the first to demonstrate the effect of a vaccine in 1796.

The World Health Organisation (WHO) initiated a campaign to eradicate smallpox in 1959, but despite their best efforts, smallpox was still widespread in 1966, causing regular outbreaks in multiple countries. Then in 1967 efforts were intensified and scientists came up with a higher quality freeze-dried vaccine, bifurcated needle and a stringent surveillance system. India achieved the target of eradication of smallpox in 1975 after a very intense vaccination and containment campaign. So, it took almost 200 years, when on May 8, 1980, the 33rd World Health Assembly officially declared the world free of the disease.

Smallpox is not the only example. Over the years, vaccines emerged as a powerful tool to protect populations against various disease-causing organisms. Our scientists have developed vaccines that provide complete or partial protection against diseases such as plague, cholera, rabies, polio, measles, rotavirus and influenza among others.

When COVID-19 hit the world last year, scientists across the globe came together to develop an effective vaccine against it. Interestingly, within 10 months of decoding the virus’ genome sequence, many vaccines were not only developed but tested for their safety and efficacy. With vaccines we have achieved an important milestone in our fight against COVID. It is a matter of pride that two vaccines have become available in India. One has been fully made in India and the other has been developed in partnership and manufactured in the country. Till now, India had been trying to slow the spread of the infection and control the number of Coronavirus cases without a vaccine through conventional and known approaches like using masks, social distancing, hand hygiene, detection of cases, isolation, contact tracing and testing. Progress in medical management through modern as well as traditional medicine systems has also contributed to prevention and improved treatment outcomes in the country.

While all these methods will remain relevant till the virus is defeated, building the immune capacity of individuals and the population through vaccination can prove to be another highly effective shield against COVID. We are at an important juncture in our fight against the Coronavirus. On January 16, the Government rolled out the vaccines across the country. Its plan to inoculate 30 crore people in the first phase of the vaccination drive is an ambitious one, especially when the vaccine has to be given in two doses, at an interval of four-six weeks.

To execute this drive effectively, the Government has recruited an army of vaccinators, on-ground staff, experts to keep a watch on the adverse events that have been reported from many places, specialists to address these adverse events in the shortest possible time and data specialists to analyse the large amount of data the nationwide vaccine drive would generate. It has also created the physical infrastructure for the storage and transportation of the vaccine.

This sounds like the Government had to do too much in too short a time. But times have changed and viruses are becoming smarter. With humans travelling across the world, viruses too are travelling to all nooks and corners of the globe. As a result, an endemic turns into an epidemic and an epidemic turns into a pandemic in a blink of an eye. As we all know, this is what happened with the Coronavirus too. So, the fight in these times is not only against viruses, but also against time. Especially where the COVID-19 is concerned.

A new strain with the potential to spread faster has appeared in the UK, and several other countries, including India. There are many pockets in the country which are still not exposed to the virus. We don’t know how the virus is going to behave in the coming months. It can come back in small waves, then spread to newer areas and we may also see another severe wave. Hence, we need to put in practice all the lessons we have learnt during past vaccination drives. From redesigning a vaccine campaign, to recalibrating it to address various issues that arise after its launch, to the redevelopment of a vaccine itself to address the mutation in the virus, the vaccination process may need to be changed according to the demands of time. For example, the first polio vaccine the Salk, which was developed in the early 1950s, was an injectable one. It brought a significant drop in the number of polio cases. Later, in the 1960s the oral poliovirus vaccine was developed. It had a live attenuated virus.

Apart from aspects related to science, for a vaccine campaign to achieve its target, it may have to overcome various social and political challenges as well. Every time, we introduce a new vaccine there is vaccine hesitancy. People have a lot of concerns — some of them are genuine while some arise out of rumours and misconceptions about how the vaccine can affect their health. There are many historical examples of such lack of communication or miscommunication becoming barriers in India which could be overcome by establishing good connection with people and their leaders. Hence, peoples’ concerns should be identified, addressed as fast as possible by sharing scientific facts with them and in the language, they can understand. Providing complete information in an effective way, maintaining the confidence of people in information from authorised Government sources as well as the mainstream media is as important as the logistics of providing vaccines with highest standards of quality. This was done effectively in the past and hopefully it will be done so now too, especially as there is already a lot of reluctance across the country to take the shots after a few adverse incidents. However, the fact remains that only nine adverse events following immunisation that required hospitalisation have been recorded so far in India.

Second, adverse event surveillance after the vaccination has been strong so far. It will continue to remain so as the drive goes forward. Besides, real-time analysis of the reports as well as data generated from the various vaccine sites across the country will be important to further ensure the safety and efficacy of the vaccine as we go into the mass vaccination phase.

Whether it is smallpox or polio, we were able to eradicate the disease with a targeted approach. First, implement it at a wider scale. Slowly, identify the problematic areas. There could be places where the disease prevalence could be higher than the rest of the country, target that area. Then there could be pockets where people would be more hesitant to vaccines, target that area with clear communication strategies. Communicate with the community, the local leaders, address their concern. After some time, the country could face yet another wave of COVID, or issues of mutant variant(s) may emerge. We need a robust disease surveillance mechanism to handle any such situation and contain the outbreak before it spreads.

Pandemics can be contained only when people become resistant to the disease-causing pathogen. There are two ways to acquire herd immunity—one, on exposure to the pathogen people develop antibodies and immune response in the body and second, the body develops antibodies when we give the vaccine. Allowing the natural spread of disease to generate herd immunity is not desirable as this comes at the cost of avoidable morbidity and mortality. With mass vaccination against COVID-19, the Government is determined to protect the people. We must help it in every way by getting rid of our vaccine hesitancy.

A legendary feat by incredible Indians

Our netas, scientists, technocrats and babus must learn from the tremendous performance of the cricket team and herald a new era of excellence in all walks of life

VK BAHUGUNA

On Tuesday the Indian cricket team scripted an incredible Test victory which will be remembered for a long time in the annals of the cricketing world’s history. The Australians were proud of the mighty, world-class fast bowling attacks of Pat Cummins, Mitchell Starc and Josh Hazlewood. All their former players and commentators overrated their overall capabilities to win and had almost written off this Indian team and predicted a complete whitewash.

However, they were stunned by the emerging talent of this underrated and inexperienced new breed of Indian cricketers. It is well-known that the Australians are masters of the nasty tactics of sledging. The despi-cable practice was invented by Fay Allen (nee Thomas) whereby some players seek to gain an advantage by insulting or verbally intimidating the opposing player. The purpose is to try to weaken the opponent’s concentration, thereby causing them to make mistakes or underperform. However, the Australians were torn to pieces by the Indian batters and bowlers in the last three Test matches.

The dubious records created by Indian cricketers in Adelaide in the first Test by scoring their lowest-ever 36 Test runs in an inning must have hurt the boys a lot. The team changed tack after this humiliating defeat and rose from the ashes and won the second Test after India XI captain Virat Kohli left for home on paternity leave.

The stand-in captain Ajankya Rahane, his colleague Cheteshwar Pujara and other second-line cricketers have shown the world that they cannot be taken lightly anymore. There is an old saying: “Sometimes you have to die inside in order to rise from your own ashes and believe in yourself and love yourself to become a new person.” The Indian team did just that by winning the second Test with style. Full credit goes to Rahane for his gutsy match-winning century and farsighted leadership.

The story of this Border-Gavaskar Trophy is something like this only. All the Australian experts and former cricketers had written off the Indian team by predicting a four-zero whitewash. All of them had forgotten that the trophy is still with India and times have changed. The Australian bowlers, with their short-pitched bodyline bowling reminded one of the bodyline tactics of England’s cricket team for their Ashes Tour of Australia in 1932-33, in order to control the skills of the awesome Don Bradman.

The way India had batted in the second Test at Melbourne and the way Jadeja had launched a counter-attack with great courage and with an excellent exhibition of technique lower down the batting order, gave sufficient hints to Australian players that no matter what happened to them earlier in the Test, the Indians were determined to undo that ignominious defeat.

This was proved with sufficient firepower by our so far “second-string bowlers” who gave it back to the Australians and won India the second Test and created a scare in the Australian camp in the third and fourth Test.

The way the Sydney Test was turned into a draw by the stubborn batting of an injured Hanuma Vihari and Ravichandran Ashwin, aided by Pujara and skipper Rahane, is the stuff of legends. They had taken several blows from the rising bouncers and short-pitched balls of Australian pacers, who left no stone unturned to intimidate the Indians.

In fact they were caught in their own game and the Indians resolutely defended and batted the whole day to deny the home team a victory. This solid batting by injured Indians will be remembered for a long time by both the teams and the cricketing world.

However, the victory in the series clincher fourth Test outclassed the Australians by all means, in all the fields of the game. The second-string bowlers showed the Australians that they too, were top quality players and matched their rivals on all fronts of the game. The batsmen, led by a gritty Pujara who exhibited an unparalleled determination to guard his wicket, laid the foundation for others to complete the unprecedented task of snatching victory from Australia.

This Test series will be noted for the emergence of the young and dashing Shubman Gill as an elegant and technically-competent batsman who, if handled carefully, will be one of the batting superstars of the game along with an aggressive Pant.

On his part Pant, too, played positively and handled the bowlers with contempt and confidently scored runs in all directions with his determined and aggressive batting. He shattered the confidence of Australian bowlers and their Captain, too. This Test also revealed the makings of a world-class batting and pace bowler in Shardul Thakur, who will in all probability find himself in the same league as the great Kapil Dev in the future.

One of the major finds of this tour is Washington Sunder the dashing Tamil Nadu opener who destroyed Aussie bowling with his Vivian Richard-like shots apart from being an outstanding wicket taking, off-spinner who has proved that it will be difficult to ignore him in all formats of the game now.

The Indian captain also showed great sportsmanship by gifting a signed jersey to Australian bowler Lyon for completing 100 Tests.

Going forward, this emergence of youngsters on the international scene will result in a tough time for selectors who will be spoilt for choice now. Plus opposing teams will be in awe as India has an excellent bench strength in all areas of the game.

However, the actions of one of India’s former heroes, Rahul Dravid in shaping this new Indian team under his tutelage as the coach of India’s ‘A’ squad cannot be ignored. There was a resilience in this team that ‘The Wall’ himself would have been proud of. India’s ‘Young Turks’ lifting the Border-Gavaskar Trophy is more than a redemption story; this is more than a coming-of-age story, this is an epic, a story for the ages. The Indian cricket team’s determination is a story for the ages.

When India won the 2011 World Cup at the Wankhede Stadium they got an open-top bus ride through the city of Mumbai. However, this is not possible now due to the pandemic. But just because this team cannot get one right now, it does not mean they don’t deserve the same honour.

If Indian society shows this type of dedication in other spheres of life, there is no reason why we cannot scale new heights and become a developed country sooner rather than later.

Our political class, scientists, technocrats and the bureaucracy must learn from this tremendous performance of the Indian cricket team and herald a new era of excellence in all walks of life. After all, history is always written by the victor-

FINAL HOURS OF HIS PRESIDENCY

Trump pardons ex-strategist Steve Bannon, 73 others

Washington: Outgoing President Donald Trump has pardoned his former political strategist Steve Bannon, one of the key architects of his 2016 electoral victory, as he issued a wave of pardons using the final hours of his presidency to grant clemency to 143 people.

The record 73 pardons and 70 commutations came in addition to the dozens of similar actions that Trump took after he lost the November 3 presidential elections to Joe Biden of the Democratic Party.

Biden, 78, will be sworn in as the 46th President of the United States on Wednesday.

The White House in a statement issued on Wednesday said that Trump granted a full pardon to Bannon, who was in charge of the final months of his 2016 presidential campaign.

Bannon was indicted in August when New York federal prosecutors charged him and three others with defrauding donors of more than a million dollars as part of an online fundraising campaign purportedly aimed at supporting Trump's border wall.

President Donald Trump and first lady Melania Trump board Air Force One at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., on Wednesday AP

The White House in its statement said Bannon has been an important leader in the conservative movement and is known for his political acumen.

Besides Bannon, other pardon recipients included Elliott Broidy, a former top fundraiser for Trump's campaign who pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy relating to a secret lobbying campaign to influence the Trump administration on behalf of a foreign billionaire in exchange for millions of dollars, and Ken Kurson, a friend of Trump's son-in-law Jared Kushner who was charged last October with cyberstalking during a heated divorce.

Trump also granted a full pardon to rapper Lil Wayne who had pleaded guilty to a gun possession charge in Miami.

Another rapper, Kodak Black, received a commutation after he pleaded guilty to a weapons charge.

Brett Berish of Sovereign Brands, who supports a pardon for Wayne, whose real name is Dwayne Michael Carter, described him as "trustworthy, kind-hearted and generous," the White House said.

Wayne has "exhibited this generosity through commitment to a variety of charities, including donations to research hospitals and a host of foodbanks," it said.

He also pardoned former Republican Congressman P Rick Renzi of Arizona. In 2013, Renzi was convicted of extortion, bribery, insurance fraud, money laundering, and racketeering. He was sentenced to two years in Federal prison, two years of supervised release, and paid a $25,000 fine. PTI

Bomb threat at US SC ahead of oath ceremony

Washington: A bomb threat was made to the US Supreme Court on Wednesday ahead of the inauguration of Joe Biden as president, but nothing was found by security personnel, the court said.

"The court received a bomb threat, the building and grounds were checked out, and the building is not being evacuated," said high court spokeswoman Kathleen Arberg. AFP

Trump skips Biden's inauguration ceremony

Washington: Donald Trump on Wednesday skipped his successor Joe Biden's inauguration and exited the White House for the last time as US president, saying he had "an amazing four years" and hoping that it would not be a "long goodbye."

Trump left the White House on the Marine One presidential helicopter along with his wife Melania, hours before Biden's inauguration.

Following a short helicopter flight to Joint Base Andrews in Maryland, he received a sendoff ceremony with a red carpet, military band, a 21-gun salute and crowd of about 200 guests in attendance.

He then boarded a final flight on Air Force One to begin his post-presidential life at his palatial Mar-a-Lago golf club in Palm Beach.

Trump, 74, had already announced that he will not attend the inauguration of Biden as President and Kamala Harris as the Vice President. He thus became the first president to skip his successor's inauguration since Andrew Johnson in 1869.

Trump also did not extend an invitation to President-elect Biden and Vice President-elect Kamala Harris.

The meeting between sitting presidents and vice presidents and their successors is a time-honoured tradition that represents the peaceful transfer of power.

Walking down a red carpet rolled out for the departing leader, Trump and Melania both wearing black posed for a picture. PTI

Biden: From being one of the youngest senators to oldest Prez

Washington: Joe Biden, known as a peoples' person, a reformer, an unifier and a healer, rose remarkably from humble beginnings to become the oldest American president in US history on Wednesday, reaching the pinnacle of his political career spanning nearly five decades.

The 78-year-old six-term Democratic senator, who triumphed over Republican President Donald Trump in the November 3 presidential election, ran twice unsuccessfully for president - in 1988 and 2008.

The presidential dreams that the veteran leader from Delaware had harboured since childhood seemed all but over for a third time until he won

South Carolina's Democratic Party primary on February 29 last year, forcing most rivals out of the race and making one of the most dramatic comebacks in American political history.

Biden, who has spent five decades in Washington and served two terms in the White House as former president Barack Obama's vice president, capitalised on that experience to portray himself as a tested leader and a better alternative to Trump.

While accepting the Democratic nomination in August, Biden pledged to restore the "soul of America," and be an "ally of the light, not the darkness."

Biden defeated 74-year-old Trump in the bitterly fought presidential election, becoming the oldest person ever to occupy the White House.

In his victory speech, Biden pledged to unite the country as he called it 'a time to heal in America.'

"I sought this office to restore the soul of America, to rebuild the backbone of this nation, the middle class and to make America respected around the world again, and to unite us here at home," he said.

Biden has a strong track record of being an ardent advocate of a strong India-US relationship both as a Senator from Delaware for over three decades and then as deputy of President Obama for eight years.

During his presidential campaign, Biden had said that India and the US were natural partners.

From playing a key role in the passage of India-US civil nuclear deal during a Republican administration to setting up the goal of a $500 billion in bilateral trade, Biden has strong ties with the Indian leadership across the aisle and has a large number of Indian-Americans within his close circuit. PTI

Kamala: The inspiring story of many firsts

Washington: First-time Senator Kamala Harris, popularly called the "female Obama", created history by becoming the first woman, first Black and first Indian-American vice president of the United States.

In a historic speech after her victory in November, Harris remembered her late mother Shyamala Gopalan, a cancer researcher and civil rights activist from India, saying she had prepared her for this big day in her political career.

She also said that while she may be the first woman to occupy the vice president's office, she would not be the last.

Harris, 56, is known for many firsts. She has been a county district attorney; the district attorney for San Francisco — the first woman, first African-American and first Indian-origin to be elected to the position.

She has several firsts in her role as vice president also: the first woman, the first African-American woman, the first Indian-American and the first Asian-American.

Biden's immigration Bill proposes to eliminate per country cap, to benefit Indian IT professionals

Washington: Joe Biden, hours after being sworn in as the 46th President, will send a comprehensive immigration bill to Congress which among other things proposes to eliminate the per country cap for employment-based green cards, a move that would benefit hundreds and thousands of Indian IT professionals in the US, whose current wait period for legal permanent residency runs into several decades.

Called the US Citizenship Act of 2021, the legislation modernises the immigration system, according to an incoming White House official.

It prioritises keeping families together, grows the country's economy, responsibly manages the border with smart investments, addresses the root causes of migration from Central America, and also ensures that the US remains a refuge for those fleeing persecution, said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Describing this as a common-sense approach to solving immigration challenges, focusing on what works, the US Citizenship Act 2021 creates a roadmap to citizenship for a population that lives and works in the United States.

January 1, 2021 is the cut-off date for those undocumented workers. Two-thirds of undocumented immigrants have been in the US for 10 years or longer.

It provides an immediate pathway to green cards for individuals who meet certain criteria as they were dreamers or have been recipients of the Temporary Protected Status (TPS), or are farm workers and meet certain criteria.

They can apply for citizenship three years later. For those who don't meet those qualifications, there will be another path to citizenship, where they would be in an interim status for five years. PTI

McConnell: Trump provoked Capitol siege, mob was fed lies

Washington: Senate Republican leader Mitch McConnell on Tuesday explicitly blamed President Donald Trump for the deadly riot at the Capitol, saying the mob was "fed lies" and the president and others "provoked" those intent on overturning Democrat Joe Biden's election.

Ahead of Trump's historic second impeachment trial, McConnell's remarks were his most severe and public rebuke of the outgoing president. The GOP leader is setting a tone as Republicans weigh whether to convict Trump on the impeachment charge that will soon be sent over from the House: "incitement of insurrection."

"The mob was fed lies," McConnell said. "They were provoked by the president and other powerful people, and they tried to use fear and violence to stop a specific proceeding of the first branch of the federal government which they did not like." AP

Popular Thai politician charged with defaming monarchy

Bangkok: Thai officials on Wednesday filed criminal charges against a popular former politician, accusing him of defaming the monarchy by broadcasting criticism of government efforts to secure supplies of coronavirus vaccines.

The action against Thanathorn Juangroongruangkit came just a day after Prime Minister Prayuth Chan-ocha told reporters that his government will prosecute anyone who shares false information about coronavirus vaccines.

Thanathorn, former leader of the dissolved Future Forward Party, accused the government of acting too slowly in procuring the vaccines.

He also pointed out that the government's main contract for vaccine supply was made with a Thai company owned by the royal palace. The government and the company deny any wrongdoing.

"What Thanathorn said is not true at all. The monarchy has nothing to do with the vaccines and they are not in the position to respond to him in the public," said Thosaphol Pengsom, a vice minister attached to the prime minister's office.

Vice Minister of Digital Economy and Society Newin Chochaiyathip said at a news conference that anyone who shares Thanathorn's broadcast or distorted information about vaccines and monarchy judged to be distorted would be prosecuted.

Thanathorn's office said he had no immediate comment. The government has increasingly used the law against defaming the monarchy to

Pandemic, surging food prices leave many in Asia hungry: UN

United Nations: United Nations agencies are warning that more than 350 million people in the Asia-Pacific region are going hungry as the coronavirus pandemic destroys jobs and pushes food prices higher.

The report issued Wednesday by four agencies says the pandemic is making it difficult for 1.9 billion people to afford healthy diets. It follows an earlier report that forecast that in a worst case scenario that 828 million people might suffer from acute hunger because of the crisis.

The latest estimate is that nearly 688 million people globally are undernourished, more than half of them in Asia. The largest share is in South Asian countries like Afghanistan, where four in 10 people are malnourished.

The report is mostly based on data up to 2019, before the pandemic struck. But it also estimates that an additional 140 million people were likely to have fallen into extreme poverty in 2020 due to the impact of virus outbreaks and lockdowns. AP

UK virus strain detected in at least 60 countries: WHO

AFP ■ GENEVA

The UK coronavirus strain has been detected in at least 60 countries, the World Health Organization said Wednesday, 10 more than a week ago.

With the global death count now well past two million, and new variants of the virus causing deep concern, countries across the world are grappling with how to slow infections until vaccines become widely available.

The South African strain, which like the UK one is believed to be more infectious, has now been reported in 23 countries and territories, the WHO also announced in its weekly update.

It added that the number of new deaths climbed to a record high of 93,000 over the previous seven days, with 4.7 million new cases reported over the same period.

The arrival of mass vaccination campaigns in the US and Europe had brought hope that the end of the pandemic was in sight; the European Union said Tuesday it was aiming to inoculate 70 percent of its adult population before the end of August.

But many EU countries -- and other nations including India and Russia -- have struggled to get their inoculation programmes off the ground.

The United States remains home to the world's worst outbreak in overall numbers, and US President-elect Joe Biden made clear he would be taking no chances following his inauguration on Wednesday.

Around the Globe

Cairo: A "tragic" shipwreck in the Mediterranean Sea off Libya's coast killed at least 43 migrants bound for Europe, the UN migration agency said Wednesday. The International Organisation for Migration said the shipwreck that took place a day earlier was the first maritime disaster in 2021 involving migrants seeking better lives in Europe.

Cairo: Armed men opened fire overnight, trying to storm the residence of a provincial governor in Sudan's restive Darfur region but were repelled by guards, officials said Wednesday.

Mexico City: Thefts of oxygen mounted as Mexico reported its highest daily death toll since the coronavirus pandemic began, with 1,584 deaths confirmed Tuesday. There was also a near-record one-day rise in new virus cases of 18,894.

Moscow: Chechnya's Kremlin-backed leader said Wednesday that his forces have killed six suspected militants, including a warlord accused of organizing a 2011 suicide attack at a Moscow airport.

Madrid: Madrid's emergency services say rescue teams, firefighters and police are working in a central area of the Spanish capital following an explosion that witnesses described as "extremely loud."

Athens (Greece): Lawmakers in Greece are set Wednesday to approve legislation to extend the country's territorial waters along its western coastline from six to 12 nautical miles. Opposition parties say they will vote with the center-right government or abstain in the vote.

Sensex, Nifty soar to record highs

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Equity benchmarks galloped to lifetime highs on Wednesday, in lockstep with global markets which surged ahead of US President-elect Joe Biden's inauguration amid expectations of fresh stimulus by the incoming administration. Rallying for the second straight day, the 30-share BSE Sensex advanced by 393.83 or 0.80 per cent to close at its fresh record of 49,792.12.

The broader NSE Nifty jumped 123.55 points or 0.85 per cent to settle at a lifetime high of 14,644.70.

₹ gains for 2nd day; settles 12p higher at 73.05/$

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Rising for the second session on the trot, the rupee finished 12 paise higher at 73.05 against the US dollar on Wednesday amid a rally in domestic equities and a weak greenback overseas.

At the interbank forex market, the rupee opened at 73.11, and hit an intra-day high of 73.05 and a low of 73.14.

It finally closed at 73.05, higher by 12 paise over its last close.

On Tuesday, the rupee had settled at 73.17 against the American currency.

Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, slipped 0.07 per cent to 90.43.

On the domestic equity market front, the BSE Sensex ended 393.83 points or 0.80 per cent higher at 49,792.12, while the broader NSE Nifty advanced 123.55 points or 0.85 per cent to 14,644.70.

Foreign institutional investors remained net buyers in the capital market as they purchased shares worth ₹257.55 crore on Tuesday, according to provisional exchange data.

World stocks advanced on Wednesday after US Treasury Secretary nominee Janet Yellen called for a hefty stimulus to protect the US economy.

Biden, who will be sworn into office on Wednesday, has laid out a $1.9 trillion stimulus package proposal to boost the economy.

Among Sensex stocks, Maruti rose the most by 2.75 per cent, followed by Tech Mahindra (2.67 per cent), Mahindra & Mahindra (1.98 per cent) and Asian Paints (1.98 per cent).

Heavyweights Reliance Industries, Infosys, HDFC and TCS accounted for the lion's share of the gains.

Among losers, Power Grid dropped 1.75 per cent, NTPC 1.35 per cent, HDFC Bank 0.83 per cent and ITC 0.59 per cent.

"An optimistic western market aided the Indian market to touch lifetime highs with new buying in segments like auto, IT and PSU Bank. So far, the Q3 results are better than forecasted and this has led to continued buying across sectors.

"Ahead of Joe Biden's inauguration as President, the US market is on an upbeat mood with high expectations of a big US stimulus," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Sector-wise, BSE auto, energy, IT and teck indices climbed up to 2.18 per cent, while utilities, FMCG and telecom ended in the red.

In the broader markets, the BSE midcap and smallcap gauges jumped as much as 1.08 per cent. On the global markets front, Australia's S&P/ASX 200 rose 0.4 per cent and South Korea's Kospi by 0.6 per cent while Hong Kong's Hang Seng added 0.7 per cent.

Japanese market, however, dropped 0.4 per cent due to fresh Covid-19 concerns.

European bourses were trading in the green in early deals. The rupee gained for the second straight day and closed 12 paise higher at 73.05 against the US dollar.

Brent crude futures, the global oil benchmark, rose 0.70 per cent to $56.29 per barrel. Foreign institutional investors were net buyers in the capital market as they purchased shares worth ₹257.55 crore on Tuesday, according to provisional exchange data.

Working on addressing misinformation on user policy update: WhatsApp

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

A day after India asked it to withdraw changes to its privacy policy, WhatsApp on Wednesday said the proposed change does not expand its ability to share user data with Facebook and that it is open to answering questions on the issue.

The Indian Government on Tuesday posed 14 questions to WhatsApp on its "invasive" changes in Terms of Service and Privacy Policy.

"We wish to reinforce that this update does not expand our ability to share data with Facebook. Our aim is to provide transparency and new options available to engage with businesses so they can serve their customers and grow," a WhatsApp spokesperson said.

The spokesperson added that WhatsApp will always protect personal messages with end-to-end encryption, so that neither WhatsApp nor Facebook can see them.

"We are working to address misinformation and remain available to answer any questions," the spokesperson further stated.

In a strongly worded letter to WhatsApp CEO Will Cathcart, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has said the proposed changes to the WhatsApp Terms of Service and Privacy Policy, without giving users an option to opt-out, "raise grave concerns regarding the implications for the choice and autonomy of Indian citizens".

The letter noted that with over 400 million users in India, the changes will have a disproportionate impact on the country's citizens, it said.

It has also asked WhatsApp to provide details of the services provided by it in India, categories of data collected and permissions and consents sought. It has also asked WhatsApp to withdraw the proposed changes and reconsider its approach to information privacy, freedom of choice and data security.

Weak reform implementation, financial sector woes could lower India's medium-term growth: Fitch

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Fitch Ratings on Wednesday said India's medium-term growth potential is at around 6.5 per cent but weak implementation of reforms, combined with continued financial sector problems, could lower its potential. It said the revival of the reform agenda is among the Indian Government's policy responses to the Covid-19 pandemic shock.

"If implemented effectively, we believe these reforms may help to support India's medium-term growth and partially offset downside pressures to investment from renewed asset-quality challenges in the financial sector and damaged corporate balance sheets," Fitch said.

It said the planned farm sector reforms aim to enhance efficiency, by giving farmers more flexibility over where to sell their produce by stripping out middle men and has the potential to improve farmers' income and reduce consumer prices.

"But, implementation risks are significant and the Supreme Court in mid-January suspended the relevant laws to facilitate a review and airing of farmer grievances," Fitch Ratings said. It added that segments of the farm lobby have protested for months, apparently over fears that the reform could result in abolition of minimum support prices, although the government has said this will not happen.

Further, the labour market reforms aim at improving worker access to social security (in the large unorganised sector), strengthen occupational safety requirements, speed up the resolution of labour disputes and ease migrant workers' ability to move between states.

Flipkart-Aditya Birla Fashion deal gets CCI nod

New Delhi: Competition Commission of India on Wednesday said it has approved the acquisition of 7.8 per cent minority stake in Aditya Birla Fashion by Flipkart Investments Private Ltd (FIPL). Aditya Birla Fashion had in October last year approved plans to raise ₹1,500 crore by issuing a 7.8 per cent stake on a preferential basis to Walmart-owned Flipkart Group.

"Commission approves acquisition of a 7.8 per cent minority stake in Aditya Birla Fashion and Retail Ltd by Flipkart Investments Private Ltd," the regulator said in a tweet.

With this infusion, Flipkart Group will own a 7.8 per cent equity stake in ABFRL on a fully diluted basis. The promoter and promoter group companies of ABFRL will hold about 55.13 per cent upon completion of the issuance, ABFRL said in a regulatory filing earlier.

Indian insurers prepared to withstand economic downturn: Moody's

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Indian insurance firms are geared to withstand the economic downturn, as premium growth in general insurance segment will remain in positive territory and life premiums will stay broadly flat despite the weakening economy, Moody's Investors Service on Wednesday said.

"Although the economic slowdown has had an adverse impact on Indian insurers, with general insurance growth slowing to 2.5 per cent and life insurers' new business premiums falling by 1.7 per cent in the nine months to December 2020, we expect general insurance premium growth to remain in positive territory," Moody's VP and senior analyst Mohammed Ali Londe said.

This premium growth will be driven by strong demand for health and protection coverage, he added. In the nine months ended December 2020, health premiums grew by 13.7 per cent, helped by rising consumer awareness of these products during coronavirus pandemic and regulatory actions that enabled insurers to offer protection against the virus.

"We expect health premiums to continue growing strongly into 2021, when we anticipate that India's GDP growth will rebound to 10.8 per cent, leading to a gradual normalisation of economic activity," the agency said.

The growth prospects for general insurance are particularly positive, with the country's general insurance penetration rate standing at just 0.9 per cent. This is less than half the rate for China (2 per cent), which in turn lags behind developed markets such as the US (8.5 per cent), the report said. According to Moody's, insurers in the country have also responded to the crisis by rapidly developing appropriate products and improving their digital offerings.

"This has led to an increase in sales of health and protection policies, which we expect will drive further growth in the future," it noted.

The report said some Indian insurers' solvency remains inadequate due to weak profitability, resulting from the intense competition in the market.

‘B’wood doesn’t understand my worth’

Singer NEHA BHASIN has lately been concentrating on an independent music career lately. She feels Bollywood probably does not understand her worth as an artiste.

“I do not want to sing a random song just because it is of a Bollywood film. I do not want to sing something if my heart is not in it. Having said that, I think so far all the songs I sang are massive hits because they are some of the great compositions and lyrically good. I think Bollywood probably does not understand my worth, it never did. I really made peace with that,” Neha said.

Neha started her journey as a singer with the Channel [V] all-girls pop band Viva before going solo.

‘I could do all this because I was not associated with any political party. Otherwise I would have had to ask 100 questions before doing a job like this. Since it was my decision to connect with people and help them, I was able to reach out. Whatever I did, was not about caste or religion. I have been connecting with people a lot over the past year.’

—Sonu Sood

Actor KUNAAL ROY KAPUR doesn’t like malice when it comes to feedback about his acting. He adds that he is up for constructive criticism from the audience.

“I try to make the best of the opportunities that come my way. I don’t know whether I am overrated or underrated. I just want to act and get better with each performance. I feel there are many areas where I can improve and there are many genres I would like to explore,” Kapur said.

The actor is currently seen in the Kajol-starrer OT-released film Tribhanga: Tedhi Medhi Crazy.

Emma on being pregnant

Actor EMMA ROBERTS says her close friends helped her through her pregnancy during the COVID pandemic.

“I feel so lucky because literally four of my close girlfriends were pregnant or have had a baby that year,” Roberts said.

“So, I have had such a nice support group of other women that either were ahead of me in their pregnancy or on their second baby. I felt so lucky that I had people to text at all hours of the day and night. It’s been so nice to have other women to talk to that are going through that. If I was the only one pregnant during this pandemic in isolation, then I would have felt even more isolated,” she said, in an episode of The Drew Barrymore Show.

Shilpa, Amit reunite for new single

Singer Shilpa Rao has joined hands with composer Amit Trivedi on a new single. The new song titled Rusvaaiyaan, has been composed by Amit, and sung by Shilpa and Shahid Mallya.

“There are many shades of love. We have seen in the history of music, people make song for lovers when they unite, the anticipation, the realisation the first time you see someone. But the other side of love is also kind of sweet pain that it brings, sometimes it doesn’t work out and even if love brings you unhappiness or separation, love is still love and all shades of love have their own glory,” said Shilpa.

“With Rusvaaiyaan, we are celebrating love in the form of pain that it brings to lovers, and all we trying to put out through the song is that we are all in this together so, even if you feel isolated, we are with you. I hope the song brings hope to people and they can keep having faith in love,” she added.

In the non-film space, Shilpa and Amit had earlier collaborated on an upbeat track, Raavan. The duo had earlier worked together in films such as Lootera and English Vinglish.

The very first poster of the forthcoming film, Madam Chief Minister — where a woman held up a broom like a sword and the tagline at the bottom read, “Untouchable, Unstoppable,” — raised hackles. Actor Richa Chadha, the lead, who plays a Dalit woman, was accused of stereotyping the community. Despite retracting the poster and the actor issuing an apology, Nawab Satpal Tanwar, the reported founder of Akhil Bhartiya Bhim Sena, has been continuously making and uploading videos on social media platforms to instigate violence against the actor and her film. If that was not enough, he even issued death threats and is now offering a reward to anyone who can chop off her tongue. The outrageous act is certainly driven by an agenda to grab eyeballs riding on the coat tails of the popular industry — something which has become the highway to popularity for many.

But Richa, is her nonchalant self as she says, “I don’t want to amplify anybody. Let them watch this film and then we can talk about it.” Certainly, she doesn’t seem to be intimidated.

THE GRIM REALITY

Actor RICHA CHADHA says that her forthcoming film, Madam Chief Minister, highlights the pertinent issue of caste-based discrimination. By AYUSHI SHARMA

The Bhim Army, a Dalit party with national presence, has condemned this threat and said that it is not to be confused with Tomar’s Bhim Sena. Actor Swara Bhasker also tweeted in support of Chadha, “This is absolutely shameful and to be condemned in no uncertain terms. You can have ideological issues and problems with a film but this is criminal intimidation and incitement to violence. Ambedkarites, Dalit feminists and just sane people, stand up and call this out!”

The film highlights the pertinent issue of caste-based discrimination. It is the story of a woman from an oppressed community, who defies all odds to scale new heights of political success in Uttar Pradesh.

This is the first time Richa plays a political character on screen. She tells us that she has played every role with the same amount of love and zeal and this one is no different.

“Everything I play means something to me and it should convey something to the audience. So, a political character was no different but this one is quite close to my heart simply because she is a woman from a backward community. I wanted to ensure that I play her to the best of my ability. I have worked very hard for this,” says the actor, who was last seen in the biopic, Shakela.

“This character is inspired from several real life anecdotes and is not focussed on any one particular leader. My director, Subhash Kapoor, was a political journalist. He met a lot of people and gathered the stories. I think such real life stories are important, especially when you are making a film. It is based on interactions with many leaders. It’s everything that we have seen and read about Indian politics, how MLAs behave before and after the election results are announced. So these are some elements of the film,” adds she.

In a country like India, where dissent, criticism and negative remarks are not looked upon kindly by the government, can a film like this voice the drawbacks about Indian government without facing challenges? She says, “I don’t think this film passes a comment against the Indian or any other government. It’s definitely a comment on the ugly reality of gender politics and caste-based discrimination.”

Richa feels that in India, the caste system is found in many forms despite there being several laws prohibiting it. There are limits on interaction and behaviour with people from another social status.

“I thought it only happens in slums and places that are removed from modern civilisation but that’s not the case. When you read about the suicide of Rohith Vemula or the case of Pooja, a medical student and how she was bullied by her own medical practitioners, you realise that the reality is different. I don’t know how we are ignoring such things. I hope that this film initiates some kind of a conversation. I learnt a lot about my own self and privilege while working on this,” she says.

Let’s hope India breaks the shackles of prejudice, discrimination and violence, and the country moves towards the heaven of freedom for all.

(The film releases on January 22. It also stars Manav Kaul, Saurabh Shukla, Akshay Oberoi and others.)

FOR HIM

Printed polo t-shirts:

There’s nothing quite like the quintessential polo t-shirt. It’s classic, yet simple and suits every occasion. You can also spice up your basic polo t-shirts by adding micro prints like micro-checks, fine stripes and geometric patterns or foliage and paisley prints for casual and evening wear.

Classic denims: Possibly the most versatile bottom wear, denim jeans are a smart and non-fussy piece of clothing. Remember, the most important rule while shopping for denims is that it must fit you well. The versatile garment can be paired with both formal and casual apparel.

Printed hoodies: A hoodie might not be the most fashion forward item in your wardrobe, but a printed one will completely change the game! For a contemporary urban outfit, consider pairing a hoodie with a solid coloured bomber jacket or pair it with a long coat for a semi-formal look.

Monotone joggers: They have become the most preferred option for streetwear as it remains stylish and provides optimum comfort, be it indoors or outdoors. Style your pair of bottoms effortlessly with a graphic t-shirt and black Vans to go for that carefree look.

Grey pastel trousers: Be it a casual outing with friends or a conference at your workplace, a pair of grey pastel trousers can always work! Wear them with a teal coloured blazer and a printed t-shirt to complete that casual yet classy look.

Geometric print shorts: Slip into a pair of comfortable geometric print shorts this year to embrace the work-from-home culture. Pair it with your favourite casual t-shirts and espadrilles. To complete the look, pair with a brown or black hat.

Colorful sneakers: Sneakers have now become a staple in everybody’s wardrobes. However, the shade-card has drastically changed from monotone and become less rigid. This year has seen a wide array of styles in shoes, especially in its colour mix, and the trend will continue in 2021 as well.

Earthy fragrances: An earthy fragrance adds a great sense of depth and warmth with natural elements coming to life through the senses. Dab a woody or a pine-scented perfume. Remember to choose one that is not too overwhelming.

INMAS and CRPF launch bike ambulance

Central Reserve Police Force and CDRDO's Institute of Nuclear Medicine and Allied Sciences (INMAS) launched a bike ambulance RAKSHITA at CRPF Headquarters in New Delhi. Dr. A.P. Maheshwari, DG CRPF and Dr. A.K. Singh, DS & DG (LS), DRDO unveiled the bike ambulance developed by INMAS in collaboration with CRPF for golden hour life saving aid and evacuation.

DG CRPF expressed his gratitude to the team for their unrelenting efforts put in developing the bike ambulance and commended their tireless dedication and professional efficiency.

While expressing his deepest gratitude to DG CRPF for working together, giving regular inputs throughout the journey of the development of this life saving bike and entrusting INMAS with this innovation, Dr. A K promised to co-operate perpetually with CRPF for further improvements in 'Rakshita bike'.

In its endeavour to provide internal security to the nation, CRPF is deployed across the country. Most of these deployments are in remote and inhospitable areas like LWE affected areas, North East etc. where evacuation of sick or battle injured personnel becomes a challenge. Often, late evacuation results in loss of precious lives of the bravehearts. To mitigate this, in 2018 CRPF approached INMAS with the idea of developing an ambulance on motor bikes which is frequently used by CRPF for patrolling in these theaters. INMAS promptly put up a team of scientists and experts to make the idea a reality. The team developed a prototype and improved it with the feedback from CRPF personnel deployed in disturbed areas.

Carefully custom built to the needs of emergency evacuation, 'Rakshita' is built on a Royal Enfield Classic 350CC and comes with quick fit in and fit out casualty evacuation seat (CSE) that has customised design reclining, hand immobiliser and harness jacket, physiological parameter measuring equipment with monitoring capability and auto warning system for driver, dashboard mounted LCD for measuring vital parameters, air splint medical and oxygen kit, saline and oxygen administration on the move, adjustable footrest and hand and foot strap for safety among others. 21 bike ambulances were inducted into CRPF recently.
