It is an attempt to create a vacuum in the minds of the protesters in the current deadlock between the government and the farmers. The All India Farmers’ Association (AIFWA) has already announced that it will not participate in the farmer’s protest on the 72nd Republic Day, and Kejriwal congratulated the farmers and said that the Ashoka Pillar will be unveiled on the occasion of the 72nd Republic Day.

Govt dedicated to farmers’ welfare despite misperceptions: Prez

The President said the policies were to reform the initial stages for the reform process to move forward. In the current stage, he said, the Government was committed to the welfare of farmers.

The Election Commission had already begun running the CRPF bus and a huge deployment of security personnel was being made to ensure a peaceful polling process.

But India approved five reservations for its citizens in the areas of arts, culture, and sports, and allowed them to work up to age 65.

The condition was similar for Indian soldiers in the ROF, and doctors and other medical personnel were being trained to handle any situation that might arise.

The comments by the Home Ministry suggest that the Government is committed to finding a peaceful resolution to the conflict.

However, the decision to ban exports of khat is not an easy one, as it could lead to a shortage of the drug in India and increased prices.

The arrest of two Chinese soldiers on Indian soil is a serious issue, and the Indian Army is expected to take action to protect its sovereignty.

T he Republic Day is all about pomp, show and glory. Primarily, it showcases India’s military might and its tanks, missiles, torpedoes, submarines, fighter jets and, of course, its men. The event related to the nation’s growth is accentuated by tableau displaying the rich cultural heritage, diversity, its values, principles, the Government’s initiatives and schemes, achievements and road ahead. However, the 72nd Republic Day, which is being celebrated in the midst of a raging pandemic, will not be the same. It will be a low-key affair marked by several firsts and many first-time misses. First and foremost, there will be no chief guest, making it the first R-Day parade in over 50 years without the presence of the most distinguished visitor. It is also going to be a bit distant. British Prime Minister Boris Johnson had been invited as the chief guest but he had to cancel his visit in the backdrop of the ongoing COVID-19 crisis. Second, due to COVID restrictions the route of the parade, which begins at Rajpath, has been halved short of ten kilometers. Among the other firsts will be the participation of the country’s first woman pilot, First Lieutenant Bhawana Kanthi, and a ferry with the newly-inducted Rafale jets that will be part of the parade. The first batch of Rafale jets, which will be based at Ambala, will be flown in a group of four and will be part of the national parade. The upgraded Sukhoi weapon system will showcase India’s strength in the parade, led by the only woman commander from the Army. In another first, Lt. Prachi Shrivastava will fly the IAF’s indigenous Tejas Light Combat Aircraft. It will also display the tradition and related to the ancient temple town. On the other hand, the Republic Day — which will be celebrated with patriotism — will be marked by the farmers’ rally on readOnly inside the Capital.

Not a one-day wonder

Srishti becoming the Uttarakhand CM for a day is symbolic but let’s see to respect women all other days, too

D uring the Republic Day, Srishti became the Uttarakhand Chief Minister. It was a first for the state with many firsts to her credit — the first woman, first coloured person and the first Asian-American to reach that office — 50-year-old Hardwar-born Srishti Pratap Singh, a former US ambassador to Bangladesh, who is now the ministerial resident of any State, albeit for only a day, without winning any election or being a member of any political party.

An initiative by the Uttarakhand Child Right Commission, as January 24 is celebrated as the National Girl Child Day since 2000, Srishti held meetings with the State’s top bureaucrats and asked the officials to take steps for checking the exploitation of youth, especially from the rural areas, and expressed concern over the growing instances of drug peddling in the state. She also instructed the officials to clamp down on the sale of tobacco products within a 500 meters radius from educational institutions. Talking about the mindset comparisons with Anil Kapoor-starer Kalai, a confident-looking Srishti, whose father is a shopkeeper, said: “He (Anil Kapoor) was a real-life hero. Here, I become a real-life hero, and I wish to continue on this path for all the girls and women in the state.”

Of course, the development is largely symbolic and seemingly aimed at wooing the State’s women voters. It reminds one of seeking the blessings of very young girls to mark the simple day of January 20 towards the end of her Harris tenure. But why stop the definition at one day only? Why not make the girl child the main focus of any State, albeit for only a day, without winning any election or being a member of any political party?

F ormer United States President Donald Trump might not be able to control his impulses, his first term in office, and his second, due to COVID restrictions the route of the parade, which begins at Rajpath, has been halved short of ten kilometers. Among the other firsts will be the participation of the country’s first woman pilot, First Lieutenant Bhawana Kanthi, and a ferry with the newly-inducted Rafale jets that will be part of the national parade. P & S: P P S’s sights in West Bengal

Sir — The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is playing a dirty and divisive election game for West Bengal. It is evident from the target-group distribution in the states. The party claims to be a pro-poor one and wants to salvage itself with this trick. As a result, the party leaders are trying to gain sympathy for the poor, thereby misleading them. The State can even be played into the wedge that the BJP has created. It has been so far trying to win votes by creating a false and misleading narrative of the government. The scenario is the same in the youth, the women and the elderly.

More allocation must be furnished for Indian health insurance to protect the large and the population so that every citizen faces some type of risk. In this aspect, health care must be taken as a priority. We have to do more for several years and ensure that a minimum of Rs. 15,000 per person is required. It is a must for our health and wellbeing.

From the health perspective, the government must ensure that there is a decent arrangement for medical and health insurance. There must be a provision to provide for minimum medical care and health insurance. The government has to take measures to ensure that the health care is available to everyone.
EU weighs response to Navalny arrest, protest crackdown

Braunau, EU – European Union foreign and security policy chief Josep Borrell on Saturday accused Moscow of using Navalny’s high-profile arrest as a “tool of intimidation” to “deter” its critics.

Borrell said his comments were also in response to recent protests against President Vladimir Putin’s government, including a mass rally outside the Russian embassy in Brussels.

Navalny, the country’s most prominent opposition leader, was sentenced to 3.5 years in prison on Friday for allegedly violating the terms of his 2014 suspended sentence for fraud.

Borrell said the EU had “not changed our position” on Navalny, who leads the country’s biggest opposition bloc, and that it would continue to support him “in our fight for democracy.”

“Navalny is a symbol of the people who have taken to the streets to support him and to defend their rights,” Borrell said.

Navalny, 44, was arrested at Moscow’s Sheremetyevo airport on January 17 when he returned from Germany after being treated for poisoning with the nerve agent Novichok.

He was detained following an Interpol warrant issued by the Russian government. Interpol said Navalny was wanted for questioning on his return to Russia.

Biden, Macron vow to strengthen US-France ties in first phone call Paris, US – President Joe Biden and French counterpart Emmanuel Macron, the two leaders who previously sparred over climate and Covid-19 policies and tensions between the US and its European allies, vowed to strengthen ties on their first phone call on Friday.

Biden (left) and Macron (right) met at the G7 summit in June 2021, their first face-to-face meeting since the US president took office in January.

The US president said he and Macron had a long-standing relationship and praised his French counterpart's work in the fight against the Covid-19 pandemic.

Macron thanked Biden for his support during the pandemic and said he was looking forward to working closely with him on a range of issues, including climate change and global security.

The two leaders also discussed the situation in Afghanistan and the war in Syria, as well as the need to work together to address the challenges posed by China and Russia.

Biden said he was committed to maintaining a strong alliance with France and had been impressed with Macron's leadership and his commitment to the values that America and France share.

The company had recently been approached for an order to stay the proceedings of the case and allow them to continue with the arbitration proceedings.

WE, THE PEOPLE

The Republic Day march makes for a visual treat. But is that still relevant and important? Experts speak. By CHAHAK MITTAL

Devdutt Pattanaik, Author and Illustrator:

It is a modern-day designed to construct the idea of a nation-state, but as the flag is a modern symbol and standing up while singing National Anthem is a ritual. Through rituals and symbols we create ideas that create organizations such as life and nation. They help bind people together, grant pride and identity to a group. These are not a natural phenomenon but cultural myths, i.e. people’s truths. It is what humans desire to establish a community.

Harish Iyer, Gay Rights Activist:

Today, the idea of a Republic has translated, rather warped into our ordinary life. It is an extraordinarily historical way. With the immense number of people who have taken part in the Kisan Rally, it is particularity designed to create a dream feeling. Third sexuality, non-society etc.,
how twoBBBB

Ambidkar, I feel, that over the years, the meaning of Republic also lost the powerful values enshrined in our Constitution. But whatever be the ideals, the people, the political parties, the diverse people, the diverse people together with compassion, like non-being. How incredible it is? What an experience of freedom, dissent, diversity, respect and equality that our generations form post-independence have experienced?

Maya Sharma, Queer Activist:

And the experience of freedom, dissent, diversity, respect and equality that our generation form post-independence have experienced?

RIP PANKAJ TRIPATHI

I know people love me: Pankaj

PANKAJ TRIPATHI surprises you by saying he doesn’t quite understand what it means to be a star. However, he gets to know that people love him through social media reaction.

“Nothing has changed. I don’t have an idea if I am a star. And I don’t know what it’s like to be a star. I don’t have an idea about stardom. I used to work with honesty and I am doing it with sincerity still now,” Pankaj said.

“I know people love me. I get to know about it through social media. Sometimes I feel that the love of the audience is like a fixed deposit with me and I have to give them back interest with so much, the responsibility and trust increases,” he added.

I still remember meeting this kid (Varun Dhawan) in good times. Long hair, big dreams in his eyes and a swag that was waiting to explode on celluloid! A few years later he was my Assistant on Mubarak (My Name is Khan). When he faced the camera for me for the first time, I developed an immediately protective feeling of love and care for him... And that feeling today came alive in abundance as I saw him walk with his loved one around the holy fire of trust and commitment...”

REPUBLIC DAY PARADE IN Delhi has always been a visual treat. But beyond appearances, what does the idea of celebrating this day hold out for people besides institutionalising a large part of the populace in the capital? Does it still have some importance among the citizens of India or is it merely a public holiday for them? We might find the truth in the work done by those clearing the road or children selling them at traffic signal points.

We all remember the Republic Day parade from one another. We all define equality in ways, we perceive it. The idea of equality too is different for every body. Hence, this Republic Day, let’s to remember that equality is the key for a society to perform well and excel. It might be different in various sections of the society, including the most marginalised ones. After all, it’s our unity. Hence, this Republic Day, let’s
