Bengal poll: LF, Cong clinch deal for 77 seats

A day after failing to clinch a seat-sharing deal in either West Bengal or Assam, and Congress on Monday announced a seat-sharing arrangement in the state where it is the biggest opposition party.

Another senior Congress leader from the state, Pijush Kurotri, also said the LF would not contest anywhere where the Congress could not win.

The Left had won about 75 per cent of the seats in the state in 2001 and the Congress had won about 5 per cent.

Bengal countryside may not vote for TMC

The TMC-led state government has been trying to win the support of farmers in the countryside, which is critical to its prospects of winning the state assembly election in March.

But farmers in the state, and particularly in the north, have not been impressed by the government's efforts to win them over.

"Here, farmers are not interested in voting for any party. The TMC is a party of urban dwellers and the countryside is not interested in what the TMC is doing," said Pramod Ranjan, a farmer from the north of the state.

"We are not interested in what the TMC is doing. We are interested in what our leaders are doing. Our leaders are not doing anything for us," said another farmer.

Happy new R-Day!

Being celebrated in the midst of a raging pandemic, this year’s parade will register many firsts.

The Republic Day is all about pomp, show and glory. Primarily, it showcases India’s military strength and its feats, rockets, torpedoes, submarines, and helicopters. Among the other firsts will be the participation of the country’s first woman fighter pilot, Flight Lieutenant Bhawana Kanth, and a flier with the newly-inducted Tejas that will be part of different formations during the 72nd R-Day parade. The armed forces will take part in the R-Day parade. Reportedly, this is only the first time a female fighter pilot has been selected to participate in the R-Day parade. The armed forces will take part as the part of national parade. The upgraded Shikara weapon system will showcase India’s strength in the parade, led by the only woman combatant commander from the armed forces—Captain Tania Shergill from the Indian Navy. It will also display the culture and tradition of the ancient temple town.

On the other hand, the Republic Day—which is celebrated with patriotism and fervor—will be marked by the farmers’ rally at 10:30 a.m. (local time) in New Delhi in front of the historic Red Fort. The farmers’ leaders plan to call off the agitation on the condition that the Centre withdraws the recently passed farm laws, and the laws be re-drafted. As farmers have already spent more than three months on the streets of India demanding the repeal of laws, the Centre has no other option but to listen to their demands. According to reports, Prime Minister Narendra Modi and other officials will address the farmers at the Red Fort. The Arvind Kejriwal government will also provide additional security to the farmers’ rally.

FARMERS’ PROTESTS: The Centre’s failure to implement the demands of the farmers has led to a nationwide strike on Republic Day. The farmers have been protesting against the three farm laws—Market Yard Law, Agriculture Produce Market Committee Act and Other Agricultural Produce Bills—since November 2020. The farmers have been demanding the repeal of these laws, alleging that they will lead to the exploitation of farmers by big corporate entities and multinational companies. The farmers have also been demanding the withdrawal of the proposed farm laws, which they say will lead to the dismantling of the Minimum Support Price (MSP) system, leading to a decrease in the farmers’ income and the quality of their produce.

The farmers’ rally on Republic Day is expected to draw a large crowd, with several thousands of farmers expected to participate. The rally will start at 10:30 a.m. and will proceed towards the historic Red Fort, where the Prime Minister will address the farmers. The rally will continue for around three hours, with the farmers demanding the repeal of the three farm laws. The farmers have also threatened to continue their protest if their demands are not met.

Washington: The House has voted to bring the impeachment charge against Donald Trump to the Senate, setting the stage for a trial, a growing number of Republican senators said on Monday, preparing for a debate that may determine the future of the US Capital.

Trump is the first former president to face impeachment in the US Capital, setting the stage for a trial that could determine the future of the country. The vote was 232-197, with 10 Republicans voting to remove the charge.

The House's decision came after a second vote on the impeachment charge, which was approved by a majority of the chamber. The charge includes allegations of inciting a riot at the US Capitol on January 6, which resulted in the deaths of five people.

Trump's lawyers have said they will appeal the decision, and some Republicans have expressed concerns about the process.

WE, THE PEOPLE

The Republic Day march makes for a visual treat. But is that still relevant and important? Experts speak. By CHAHAK MITTAL.

The idea of Republic Day has translated, rather slightly, into our ordinary lives as an extraordinarily instrumental! With a greater number of people supporting and voting for the Kisan Rally, the farmers and their quest for land and justice is perhaps the most important moment. It’s like a dream found lost, and several others, how to our daughters and sons of the land, for this emergence of a ‘Republic’ that was conceived by our founding fathers and mothers, and the Prime Minister, I feel, that the year, the meaning of Republic also justifies the powerful values it represents.

The Harrassment of the LGBTQIA+ community should have a very strong voice from the red carpet. The gay parade, the pride, the T.M.A. C.A. laws, and diversity politics — these should bring people together, companies like never before. How incredible it is. What an experience of freedom, the diversity, respect and acceptance. It shows how far the LGBTQIA+ community has come.

The idea of Republic Day is an idea that has been post-independent India is experiencing.

The people of India, the idea behind Republic Day, the idea of Constitution all our ages, the idea of the people of India, the idea of a democracy, the idea of a free country, the idea of a free will, the idea of a free choice.

PANKAJ TRIPATHI SURPRISES YOU BY SAYING HE DOESN’T QUITE UNDERSTAND WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A STAR. HOWEVER, HE GETS TO KNOW THAT PEOPLE LOVE HIM THROUGH SOCIAL MEDIA REACTIONS.

“I don’t have a plan that I want to be a star. I don’t have an idea about standards I used to work with honesty and I am doing it with sincerity,” Pankaj said.

“I will not love people. I got to know about it through social media. Sometimes I feel that the love of the audience is a fixed deposit with me and I will not give back with interest the responsibility that is imposed on me,” he added.

I still remember meeting this kid (Varun Dhawan) in goal. Long halc, big dreams in his eyes and a swag that was waiting to explode on celluloid! A few years later he was my Assistant on MNSK (My Name Is Khan). When he faced the camera for the first time, I developed an immediately protective feeling of love and care for him... And that feeling today came alive in abundance as I saw him walk with his beloved ones around the holy fire of trust and commitment... — Karan Johar

Theatres are safe

Actor SHARAD KELKAR questions if people are partying big time, why they hesitate to return to cinema halls?

Actor Sharad Kelkar is surprised that the audience is still reluctant to return to the cinema theatres, although among others of the hospitality and entertainment industries have started to open up post-COVID lockdown.

People have started going to pubs, coffee shops, restaurants, and even go to places like Fashion Week. So, why is it that the audience is not coming to the cinema? I don’t know why they are not going to the theatre.

Theatres are much safer and also give 100% safety. Even the scientists are regularly cleaned and sanitised. This is one of the most消毒了 we have, and it depends upon the audience. If you ever invite me to a party, you can also go to the theatre. he added.

I have heard about how the pandemic and lockdowns have affected him, the actor said, “I work a lot as a worldlier in my friend circle. I am active and live to run around all the time. This pandemic taught me patience. Sitting at home doing nothing was a new experience for me for the first time in the last 14 years that I started working. Not going out to work and not meeting people I normally deal with a little depressing but ultimately I understood that in life you need to be a little patient!”
