China's bid to open new front in Sikkim foiled

Minor clash at Naku La on Jan 20, confirms Indian Army, but China claims no scuffle took place

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

When India and China were preparing for talks last week to defuse tension at the border in Ladakh, the People's Liberation Army (PLA) troops tried to breach the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in Sikkim leading to a minor face-off when Indian Army intercepted the Chinese. Soldiers from both armies were injured. The situation was brought under control following the intervention of local commanders.

China on Monday, however, denied that such an incident ever took place. The Indian Army, on the other hand, confirmed the incident and said, "We have received several queries regarding a face-off between Indian Army and PLA troops in the Sikkim sector. It is clarified that there was a minor face-off at the Naku La area of North Sikkim on January 20 and the same was resolved by local commanders as per established protocols. Media is requested to refrain from overplaying or exaggerating reports which are factually incorrect."

Sources said the injuries were insignificant and minor in nature and roughly about 20 PLA soldiers and four Indians were injured in the melee. The fracas took place when the Chinese patrol tried to enter Indian territory, they added. The Naku La is located at a height of more than 13,000 feet.

The latest stand-off took place at a time when the Corps Commanders of the two armies were getting ready for the talks on Sunday. The talks lasted more than 16 hours at the Chushul-Moldo border meeting point in Eastern Ladakh. However, there was no tangible breakthrough in the parleys.

The joint statement released here on Monday said the two sides had a candid and in-depth exchange of views on disengagement along the LAC.

The two sides agreed that the ninth round of meeting was positive, practical and constructive, which further enhanced mutual trust and understanding. The two sides agreed to push for an early disengagement of the frontline troops.

Talking about the latest face-off, an official said, such an incident had also taken place last year on May 9 at Naku La when tension was building up at the LAC in Eastern Ladakh. Mountain pass is known as La in the Tibetan language. Even then, the troops from both sides exchanged blows after jostling each other. The intervention of local commanders prevented the situation from escalating.

Chinese Foreign Ministry Spokesman Zhao Lijian told a daily briefing in Beijing on Monday that he had "no information to offer" on the reports of clashes.

He also said the Chinese troops are committed to maintaining peace at the border and urged India to meet China halfway and refrain from any unilateral actions that may exacerbate the border situation.

The Chinese army mouth-piece The Global Times termed the incident as fake news and said there is no record of this incident in the Chinese PLA front line patrol logs.

In recent days, the focus of the military's top leaders on both sides has been on the ninth round of Corps Commander-level talks, not a new border clash, and the two sides have not been involved in such clashes mentioned by the Indian media, it said.

There have been minor frictions between the frontline forces of the two countries, but if there had been friction involving casualties, it is impossible for them not to be recorded in the Chinese patrol logs.

As regards the Corps Commander-level dialogue, the Indian delegation was headed by 14 Corps chief Lt General PK Menon while Major General Liu Lin led the Chinese team.

The statement said the two countries also agreed to follow the important consensus of their state leaders, maintain the good momentum of dialogue and negotiation, and hold the 10th round of the Corps Commander-level meeting at an early date to jointly advance de-escalation.

The two sides agreed to continue their effective efforts in ensuring the restraint of the frontline troops, stabilise and control the situation along the LAC in the Western Sector of the China-India border, and jointly maintain peace and tranquility.

India honours Galwan hero martyr Col Santosh Babu with Mahavir Chakra award

Veer Chakra to be conferred on 5 martyred soldiers

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Colonel B Santosh Babu, who along with 19 other Army personnel, was martyred in a brawl with the Chinese troops in the Galwan valley last year, will be awarded the Mahavir Chakra posthumously on the occasion of Republic Day this year. This medal is the second highest wartime gallantry medal.

Veer Chakra, the third highest wartime gallantry medal, was conferred on five other soldiers. All these soldiers had died with Babu, the commanding officer of the 16 Bihar Regiment, in the bloody clashes on June 15 in Eastern Ladakh.

The Chinese used nailed batons and iron rods to attack the Indian Army team. More than 35 Chinese soldiers were also killed in the free for all. However, China is yet to announce the number of casualties on its side.

The Veer Chakra awardees include Naib Subedar Nudaram Soren, Havaldar K Palani, Havaldar Tejinder Singh, Naik Deepak Singh and Naik Gurtej Singh.

Opp plans to force repeal of farm laws in Budget Session

NEW DELHI: Opposition parties are likely to meet on Thursday to strategise plans to corner the Government in the Budget Session and force it to repeal the farm laws. Sources said leaders of various political parties, including the erstwhile NDA partner SAD, have got in touch to make a joint effort to repeal the three laws in the forthcoming Budget Session beginning on January 29.

The main aim of the Opposition parties is to force the Government to repeal the law as it cannot be suspended since the laws came into force with the President of India's assent. Sources in the Congress and a couple of political parties confirmed that the Parliamentary floor leaders will meet to deliberate upon a strategy for the session on Thursday.

Punish rumour-mongers, fear has hit vaccination: Centre to States

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Putting the blame on "misinformation" for sluggish vaccination drive that started on January 16, the Centre has asked the States to take penal action against those engaged in rumour-mongering.

In a communication to Chief Secretaries of all States and UTs, Union Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla also emphasised that the National Regulatory Authority in the country has found that the two vaccines — Covishield, manufactured by the Serum Institute of India, and Covaxin, developed and manufactured by the Bharat Biotech Limited — were safe and immunogenic.

The Central Government, in close collaboration with the State Governments and UT administrations, has launched the inoculation drive of Covid-19 vaccination from January 16 across the country with the two vaccines.

"I would like to strongly emphasise that the National Regulatory Authority in the country has found both the vaccines safe and immunogenic. However, it has been reported that unfounded and misleading rumours are circulating on social and other media, creating doubt about the safety and efficacy of these vaccines.

"Such kind of rumour mongering, particularly by vested interests, can create unwarranted doubts among people at large, and there is, therefore, a need to check all such kinds of unfounded scare mongering relating to the safety and immunogenicity of the vaccines," the communication said.

Urging the States and UTs to put in place an appropriate mechanism to check the spread of such ill-informed rumours, Bhalla asked the chief secretaries to direct all the State authorities to take necessary measures to counter the spread of all such kind of "false information" about Covid-19 vaccines as well as promptly disseminate factual messages.

Govt OK's Green Tax on older vehicles to push their phase out

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Centre is all set to impose "Green Tax" on older vehicles in an effort to reduce pollution by phasing out unfit and polluting vehicles.

While commercial vehicles older than eight years could be charged Green Tax at the time of renewal of fitness certificate at the rate of 10 to 25 per cent of road tax, personal vehicles may be charged Green Tax at the time of renewal of Registration Certification after 15 years. The proposal approved by Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari will now go to the States for consultation before it is notified.

Hybrids, electric vehicles, and those using cleaner fuels like CNG, ethanol, LPG will be exempted from green tax. Similarly, vehicles used in farming, such as tractor, harvester, tiller too will be exempted.

Public transport vehicles will be charged lower green tax, and higher green tax (50% of Road Tax) will be slapped on vehicles registered in highly polluted cities.

Covid-19: 18,442 vaccinated in State so far

60% target achieved

PNS ■ RANCHI

At least 18,422 people have been administered the Covishield vaccine in Jharkhand so far, helping the state achieve 60 per cent of its vaccination target, figures compiled by the National Health Mission (NHM) revealed on Monday.

As many as 30,831 people were registered for the vaccination at various centres across the State, but more than 12,000 of them did not turn up at the vaccination centre to get the Covishield shots, NHM stated in a report released on Monday night.

At least five districts — Ranchi, Ramgarh, Palamu, Giridih and Bokaro have achieved more than 70 per cent of their respective vaccination targets in Jharkhand so far. Palamu led in terms of vaccination by administering Covishield shots to 79 per cent of the 13,21 beneficiaries there. Of the 1,924 beneficiaries registered for vaccination in Ranchi, 1,342 got the shots — the highest among the 24 districts in the State.

On Monday, the Government vaccinated as many as 3616 of the 6740 people registered for vaccination, thereby achieving 54 per cent of its target on the day, NHM stated in a separate report. Ranchi achieved 91 per cent of its vaccination target on the day by administering However, doctors said that no major cases of adverse effects following immunization were reported in the state and the ones who complained of side effects gradually attained stability. The vaccination programme began in Jharkhand on January 16 and 3200 people were vaccinated on the day at 48 centres across the tribal State.

Meanwhile, as many as 74 people were found infected by the Covid-19 virus in Jharkhand on the day and 122 patients recovered. As per government data, the number of active cases of infection dropped to 772 on the day.

Ranchi accounted for 43 of the 74 cases reported in Jharkhand, while East Singhbhum reported seven cases. No other district reported a double-digit-spoke in cases on the day. However, a patient in Ranchi died during treatment, taking the Covid toll in Jharkhand up at 1,064.

SNMMCH running sans radiologist

PANKAJ KUMAR ■ DHANBAD

The largest Government-run hospital in Dhanbad, SNMMCH is running sans a radiologist.

The most surprising is fact that the department still is functioning in contradiction to drive against X-ray clinics functioning without a radiologist taken up by the district administration.

The department is being looked after by a junior level doctor who holds only a diploma. Yet another fact that has come to fore is that when the patients admitted in indoor wards of the hospital require x-ray or have to take an ultrasound are being referred to private clinics run on PPP mode from SNMMCH.

Patients complain that the PPP mode x-ray clinics charge much high cost than what is

Hospital superintendent Dr AK Choudhary said, "We have written to state government for posting a full time radiologist but still await his posting here."

Choudhary accepted that the unavailability of a radiologist has adversely affected the functioning of the department here.

It's worth mentioning that newly installed X-ray machines and ultrasound machines remain partially operative due to unavailability of a radiologist.

Skilling India: Improving employability of youth from low-income families

PNS ■ RANCHI

Manoj is a suburban boy who had to take up family responsibilities very early on in his life, when he had to quit his education mid-way in order to support his ailing mother. Having not completed graduation, it was very difficult for him to find a fulfilling job.

He started working as a delivery agent. But he was losing confidence at his workplace with every passing day. When customers or colleagues used to speak in English, he didn't know how to respond to them. He was worried about talking to strangers as well. It was during this time that he learnt about The/Nudge Foundation's Future Perfect program from his friends.

At Future Perfect, he built his spoken English and communication skills and gradually became confident to speak in front of people. He is still working on and improving his English, but the fear of speaking up in English has gone entirely. This also helped him in preparing for interviews, and other important career skills.

Manoj now works at a Barista outlet in Bengaluru and earns Rs. 18,000 per month along with incentives! He has also started saving his income and has recently invested in a life insurance scheme. He can confidently say that his quality of life has changed after undergoing the Future Perfect program.

There are 364 million youth in India between the ages of 15 and 29 years. Over 80% of this youth population is believed to be unemployable.

The scale of this challenge with youth employability is bigger in India than in any other country in the world today.

The/Nudge Centre for Skill Development & Entrepreneurship (CSDE) started working towards improving youth employability and the quality of life for youth in 2015 with its flagship program - Gurukul, a 90-day fully residential training program for underprivileged youth - aimed at job and life-readiness. The Gurukul are located in Bangalore and Delhi, have benefitted more than 6000 youth from over 10 Indian states, enabling them to specialize in livelihoods such as BPO, Retail, Plumbing, Electrician, Beauty and achieving 100% placements.

With the intention of increasing the scale and providing quality education to underprivileged youth in every nook and corner of the country, The/Nudge CSDE launched the Future Perfect program in 2019. /Future Perfect is currently delivered online. It incorporates all the learnings from Gurukul, and adapts it to the online medium. It may have been born out of the needs of the pandemic situation, but has been developed for the needs of the future. It is aimed at making youth employable for various job roles in the service sector by providing training in spoken English, 21st century skills (critical thinking, creativity, team work, emotional development), interview preparation, career awareness & other essential workplace skills.

/Future Perfect is a 260 hour program delivered through online and offline platforms with a focus on experiential & project based learning. Students learn through activities, mini projects and group assignments. The program has very early on adopted gamification techniques to drive higher engagement, retention and learning outcomes among the students.

The prime focus of the program is on youth between the age of 18-29 years from rural & semi-urban, low-income families, whose primary source of income is agriculture or daily wage work. /Future Perfect is currently serving students from operational across 10+ states, impacting 10,000 youth a year and is planning to increase its scale to 25,000 youth a year in the next few years.

"I am more confident now and I can express my thoughts clearly in English. I can't thank my trainer and the /Future Perfect team enough for being a part of my journey," says Soniya, one of the /Future Perfect students, who received a 30% salary increase from her previous employer after she completed the program.

180 million youth will enter India's workforce in the next 15 years. With a massive skill deficit of 400 million people by 2022, we are facing a simultaneous opportunity and challenge. Skilling and employability programs are highly essential to bridge the gap between talent and employment, hand-holding youth from a demographic inertia to a demographic dividend.

We Praise the Mother on 26 Jan

N.SIVASANKARAN & NITIN MADAN KULKARNI ■
Jamshedpur/Ranchi

This article aims to reflect the application of Vande Mataram for Indians on this Republic Day. Though we are not completely free from the evil of Covid 19, we are almost at the end of the struggle for freedom from the pandemic.

We praise the Mother (India) for providing us with the courage, wisdom, and strength to withstand the physical, social, and economic struggles caused by COVID 19. We praise the Mother for offering us the positive attitude in meeting the new normal produced by COVID 19.

We praise the Mother for providing us with the efforts of thousands and thousands of great thought leaders who in the role of teachers and professors enlightened the young minds of the nation through their knowledge, innovative teaching pedagogy, tireless efforts, and adorable sacrifices during this unexpected and unexplored virus era. The Indian Teachers deserve to receive a "Big Big Thank You" message from their students as they had quickly adopted to the online education mode which was nightmare for most of them in the pre-covid days. They are our unsung leaders of Covid19 era in Education.

We praise the Mother for offering us with the service of thousands and thousands of HealthDepartment Staff, Doctors, nurses, and other medical staff who had exhibited their noble nature through their service before self-attitude, quick responses in treating patients, kindness in handling the psychological problems of the nation. Some of them were dead and almost all of them had sacrificed their personal time and space to handle the increased demand made by the crisis. The Indian Healthcare Professionals deserve a "Very Special Thank You" message from all the fellow citizens of Mother India. They are our unsung leaders of Covid19 era in Healthcare and Social Service.

We praise the Mother for providing us with the patronage of thousands and thousands of kindhearted and generous individuals and socially responsible business entities who were kind enough to feed the have nots who got severely affected by the lockdowns. The country would not have moved forward without the efforts of the charity (beautiful) minds. These special individuals and organizations deserve a "Thankssomuch" message from all the human beings as they are our unsung leaders of Covid19 era in Benevolence.

We praise the Mother for providing us with the assistance of thousands of staff members of Army, Police, Security firms, Banks, Insurance companies, Public Utilities, Medical Shops, Print and electronic media and other entities dealing with the essential goods and services. These committed individuals and concerns deserve a "Special Thanks" as they are our unsung leaders of Covid19 era in Essential Services.

Finally, we praise the Mother for providing us with the unconditional love, support, sacrifices and dedication of the millions and millions of Indian Mothers who were working almost twice in the lockdowns in comparison to their pre-covid days. These Mothers of the Mother India are the source of inspiration to all the fellow citizens as every field worker in Covid 19 battleground fought the war with the hope that "There is a Mother at home for taking care of their absence".

We Praise the Mother for being present with us as a Patient, Kind, Knowledgeable, Courageous, Sweet and Rational superpower in overcoming the ill effects of the Pandemic. We Salute you Mother for Everything. VandeMataram.

Centre denies TMC claim of 'wrong' Bose portrait

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Centre on Monday refuted the claim that the portrait of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose unveiled by President Ram Nath Kovind in 'Rashtrapati Bhavan' was "fake" and that of Bengali actor Prosenjit Chatterjee, who had played the role of Bose in a film.

This is yet another controversy over which BJP and TMC have clashed with each other as the latter charged the former with showing disrespect to 'Netaji'.

Termining the debate as "fake", the Central Government clarified that the portrait of Netaji in 'Rashtrapati Bhavan' is based on an original photo of the freedom fighter. "Shows how the entire debate is fake and based on poor research," the Government said.

President Kovind on January 23 unveiled a portrait of Bose at the Rashtrapati Bhavan to mark the beginning of celebrations to commemorate the freedom fighter's 125th birth anniversary.

TMC MP Mahua Moitra, however, claimed on Twitter that there was a mix-up and that the portrait unveiled by the President was not of Netaji but of actor Prosenjit.

Actor Prosenjit played Bose in a 2019 Bengali film Gumnaami, which deals with the freedom fighter's death mystery.

The 'Gumnaami Baba', who lived in an out-house of 'Ram-Bhawan' at Faizabad, UP, since 1983, died in 1985, without anyone, outside his close followers, ever seeing him.

It is claimed by some that he was Netaji himself living in anonymity. After his death, bundles of The Pioneer daily, besides other things, were also reportedly recovered from his mysterious dwelling.

The TMC MP not only attacked the Central government over the alleged faux pas but also had a dig at the President. The TMC MP tweeted, "After donating ₹5 lakh to the Ram temple the President honours Netaji by unveiling a portrait of Prosenjit, the actor who played him in biopic, God Save India (because this government certainly can't)," Moitra said.

According to an official statement, the portrait of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose was unveiled at the 'Rashtrapati Bhavan' to mark the beginning of year-long celebrations to commemorate his 125th birth anniversary.

The Government has decided to observe January 23 as "Parakram Divas" to commemorate the birth anniversary of Bose, who was born on this day in 1897.

BJP sources said the photo was provided by Netaji's family to famous Padma Shri award-winning artist Paresh Maity, who painted the portrait. "The photo does not resemble Prosenjit at all. It is an unnecessary controversy," the sources said.

Chandra Kumar Bose, Netaji's grand-nephew and a member of the BJP, also posted on the micro-blogging site that the portrait was based on the leader's original photograph.

In fact, Prosenjit also himself tweeted to put the controversy to rest: "Would like to congratulate Paresh Maity for the wonderful piece of art in remembrance of our National hero Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose. As an Actor, I'm elated that people thought, that the painting resembles my character in Gumnaami."

TMC MP Moitra has since deleted her tweet.

Govt dedicated to farmers' welfare despite misapprehensions: Prez

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

President Ram Nath Kovind on Monday paid tributes to farmers saying every Indian is grateful to them for ensuring food security in our vast and populous country, and gave the assurance that the Government is devoted to farmers' welfare.

"Every Indian salutes our farmers, who have made our vast and populous country self-reliant in food-grains and dairy products. Despite adversities of nature, numerous other challenges and the COVID-19 pandemic, our farmers sustained the agricultural production," he said in his address on the eve of the 72nd Republic Day.

"A grateful nation is fully committed to the welfare of our farmers. Just as our hardworking farmers ensure food security for the country, the brave soldiers of the armed forces ensure security of our national boundaries amid severest conditions," Kovind said.

The comments by the President come against the backdrop of the ongoing agitation by farmers against three new farm laws.

The President said the path to reforms in the initial stages may cause misapprehensions, but the government is devoted to farmers' welfare.

"Economic reforms have continued apace and have been supplemented by long-pending reforms in the areas of labour and agriculture through legislation. The path to reform at the initial stages may cause misapprehensions.

However, it is beyond doubt that the government remains singularly devoted to farmers' welfare," he said.

Kovind said the country's farmers, soldiers and scientists deserve special appreciation and the entire nation is grateful to them.

"From space to the farms, from educational institutions to hospitals, the community of scientists has enriched our life and work. Our scientists have been working day and night for decoding the Coronavirus and they have succeeded in developing the vaccine in record time. With this accomplishment, our scientists have added a glorious chapter of contribution to the well-being of humanity.

Modi lauds children's role in raising awareness about handwashing during Covid

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday lauded the contribution of children in raising awareness about handwashing during the Covid-19 pandemic, and said that a programme tastes success if they become part of it. In an interaction with the 'Pradhan Mantri Rashtriya Bal Puraskar' awardees via video conferencing, Modi praised the winners and said they should never stop working and stay humble all the time.

Thirty-two children have been chosen for the Pradhan Mantri Bal Puraskar this year for displaying valour, exceptional abilities and outstanding accomplishments in various fields, including arts, culture, archery and swimming.

Modi asked them to work for the country, urging them to think of what they can do as the nation approaches the 75th year of its Independence. The Prime Minister also asked them to read biographies and said it will keep inspiring them. Union Minister Smriti Irani also interacted with the children.

Jyoti Kumari, 16, cycled to her native place Darbhanga district in Bihar from Gurgaon in Haryana covering around 1,200 km with her father on the rear carrier amid the nationwide lockdown in May last year. She has been awarded for her bravery. "During the COVID-19 lockdown, she traversed 1,200 kms from Sikandarpur in Bihar to reach home," the citation issued for her by the Women and Child Development Ministry said.

The attack car was being driven by suicide bomber Adil Ahmed Dar with about 200 kgs of explosives inside. The CRPF said Lal, after passing of few vehicles of the cavalcade, noticed this car "running alongside the convoy and trying to enter between the convoy vehicles." The brave official "signalled and chased the car to stop but could not match its speed." "Ultimately, finding no other option, he fired towards the suspicious car to stop but the car rammed into a nearby running CRPF bus and a huge blast took place," the force said. The massive blast killed a total of 40 CRPF personnel, 39 on the bus and Lal, it said.

The Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF), the lead force for anti-Naxal operations and counter-terrorist operations in Jammu and Kashmir, also led the gallantry medals tally with a total 69 medals (1 PPMG and 68 PMG) followed by 52 earned by the JK Police, 20 by the Border Security Force, 17 by the Delhi Police and 13 by Maharashtra Police and others. Two personnel of the Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) force, tasked to guard the Line of Actual Control with China, have also been given the police medal for gallantry.

Successful conduct of polls during pandemic extraordinary feat of our democracy: Kovind

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

President Ram Nath Kovind on Monday termed the successful conduct of elections during pandemic an extraordinary achievement of our democracy and said that the right to vote must be respected, noting that people around the world have struggled a lot to earn this right.

Addressing through virtual mode an event to celebrate the 11th National Voters' Day, Kovind said even in America, one of the leading democracies in the world, people had to undertake decades of struggle to get this right. In Britain, women got the right to vote after a long fight, he said.

The condition was similar in India before Independence.

But after India earned its freedom, anyone of 21 years of age and above were allowed to vote which was later reduced to 18, he said. "We should always respect the valuable right to vote. The right to vote is not a simple right. People around the world have struggled a lot for this. Since Independence, our Constitution has given equal voting rights to all citizens without any discrimination on the basis of merit, religion, race, caste," Kovind said.

For his part, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad defended the Electronic Voting Machine, describing it as an instrument designed to empower the ordinary Indian. "We can have difference of opinion on the use of electronic voting machine. But can we deny that the EVM is an instrument which has given power to nearly all the political formations of India in different parts, in varying degree," he asked. Opposition leaders including Jairam Ramesh of Congress and Derek O'Brien of the Trinamool Congress were present when Prasad made these remarks.

Some parties have on multiple occasions questioned the reliability of the EVMs. The Election Commission has all along maintained that the machines are tamper-proof. Prasad also launched the e-EPIC programme and distributed e-EPICs and Elector Photo Identity Cards to five new voters. Three publications were also launched by Prasad.

The electronic version of the voters' photo identity card can be stored on mobile phones and downloaded on personal computers.

Chief Election Commissioner Sunil Arora said that the mock trials for remote voting facility for electors would begin soon. A research project on remote voting using cutting-edge technology has already begun, he revealed.

Modi's silence on Chinese intrusion lifts enemy's spirits: Rahul

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Congress on Monday lashed out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi stating that his alleged silence over the Chinese encroachment in the country's border, was increasing the enemy's spirits.

Taking to Twitter, former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi stated that China is expanding its occupation into the Indian territory, while the Prime Minister has not said the word 'China' for months. Slamming PM Modi, the Congress leader said, "Mr 56-inch" who had promised to never compromise the border security, could start by saying the word 'China'.

Congress chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala also attacked the Prime Minister, stating that his alleged silence over the Chinese encroachment in the country's border, was increasing the enemy's spirits. He called on the government to come to clear the situation along the border and to take the nation in confidence.

Historical mistake corrected on Dec 6, 1992: Javadekar on Ram temple

Happy new R-Day!

Being celebrated in the midst of a raging pandemic, this year's parade will register many firsts

The Republic Day is all about pomp, show and gaiety. Primarily, it showcases India's military might and features its tanks, missiles, torpedoes, submarines, fighter jets and, of course, its men. The event related to the nation's prowess is accentuated by tableaux displaying the rich cultural heritage, diversity, its values, principles, the Government's initiatives and schemes, milestones achieved and the road ahead. However, the 72nd Republic Day, which is being celebrated in the midst of a raging pandemic, will not be the same. It will be a low-key affair marked by several firsts and many first-time misses. First and foremost, there will be no chief guest, making it the first R-Day parade in over 50 years without the presence of the most important guest; thus making it a bit insipid. British Prime Minister Boris Johnson had been invited as the chief guest but he had to cancel his visit in the backdrop of the outbreak of a new COVID strain at home. Before this, India didn't have a chief guest for the R-Day parade in 1952, 1953 and in 1966. Second, due to COVID restrictions the route of the parade, which begins at the Rashtrapati Bhavan, has been cut short and it will this year conclude at the National Stadium (India Gate) instead of the Red Fort as every year. The soldiers marching down Rajpath would wear masks, as will the spectators. Further, there will be no gravity-defying stunts by the motorcycle-borne men and the size of the marching contingents has been reduced from the regular 144 to 96. The veterans' parade has also been cancelled this year due to the pandemic. All this has been done to ensure that the social distancing protocol is adhered to. Even the number of spectators has been brought down to 25,000 from 1.25 lakh last year.

The tableau of the Union Territory of Ladakh will participate in the parade for the first time, featuring the Indian Astronomical Observatory, located at Hanle near Leh, one of the world's highest sites for optical, infrared and gamma-ray telescopes. Among the other firsts will be the participation of the country's first woman fighter pilot, Flight Lieutenant Bhawana Kanth, and a flypast with the newly-inducted Rafale jets that will be part of different formations during the flypast. In yet another first, at least 122 soldiers of the Bangladesh Armed Forces will take part in the R-Day parade. Reportedly, this is only the third time since Independence that a foreign military contingent has been invited to be part of the national parade. The upgraded Schilika weapon system will showcase India's strength in the parade, led by the only woman contingent commander from the Army. In another first, Uttar Pradesh's tableau will showcase a replica of the Ram Temple in Ayodhya. It will also display the culture and tradition related to the ancient temple town. On the other hand, the Republic Day — which is celebrated with patriotism and fervour — will be marred by the farmers' tractor rally on restricted routes inside the Capital.

Not a one-day wonder

Srishti becoming the Uttarakhand CM for a day is symbolic but let's learn to respect women all other days, too

Days after Kamala Harris assumed charge as the United States Vice-President with many firsts to her credit — the first woman, first coloured person and the first Asian-American to reach that office — 20-year-old Haridwar student Srishti Goswami has become probably the first Indian to take over the chief ministerial reins of any State, albeit for only a day, without winning any election or without being a member of any legislature. Following an initiative by the Uttarakhand State Child Rights Commission, as January 24 is celebrated as the National Girl Child Day since 2008, Srishti held meetings with the State's top bureaucrats and asked the officials to take steps for checking the migration of youth, especially from the rural areas, and expressed concern over the growing instances of drug peddling in the State. She also instructed the officials to clamp a ban on the sale of tobacco products within a 500m radius from educational institutes. Talking about the inevitable comparisons with Anil Kapoor-starrer Nayak, a confident-looking Srishti, whose father is a shopkeeper, said: "He (Anil Kapoor) was a real-life nayak. Here, I became a real-life nayak, and I wish to continue on this path by entering politics at some stage."

Of course, the development is largely symbolic and seemingly aimed at wooing the State's women voters. It reminds one of seeking the blessings of very young girls to mark the single day of kanya puja towards the end of Navratras. But why stop the deifying at only one day? What's really needed is that we, as a people, treat the fair gender fairly and as an absolute equal. The skewed gender ratio needs to be balanced and improved. Women may be empowered by educating them, not exposing them to discrimination and harassment and trusting them with responsibilities. Give them what they deserve rather than giving them something in charity. There are varied ways to empower women other than symbolically making them the Chief Minister. Though it was done in a noble spirit, the trustees are not authorised to be the owners of a trust. People's representatives had better work for what they are chosen for rather than making attention-grabbing short-sighted moves. Gimmicks don't work anymore. Only performance counts.

In the footsteps of Donald Trump

Under him, America abdicated its role as the beacon of democratic norms. Trumpism may be on the wane there but it is alive and flourishing in India

DEEPAK SINHA

Former United States President Donald Trump's blatant disregard for all norms of civilised behaviour, his overt racism combined with an outsized ego and the propensity to lie — 21 per day during his term as per The Washington Post — are well known. Yet, despite this, or the 400,000 pandemic deaths directly attributable to his lack of leadership, or his futile and rather ludicrous attempts to overturn the election results, he still continues to enjoy the support of approximately 34 per cent of the population as per the latest Gallup Poll.

This is indeed intriguing, and while much of it can be attributed to racism, bigotry and illiteracy, it was his sophisticated use of the media, especially social media, that was probably the game-changer. Unfortunately, while his brash and uncouth ways may have made him a laughing stock internationally, it also made for a very dangerous and unstable world, in which America had abdicated its role as the beacon of democratic norms and human decency. Worse, he became the poster boy for a cohort of other tinpot dictators and autocrats globally, suddenly free to do as they pleased, with little fear of retribution.

"If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it," said Joseph Goebbels, Hitler's Minister for Propaganda. However, he did add a caveat: "The lie can be maintained only for such time as the State can shield the people from the political, economic and/or military consequences of the lie. It thus becomes vitally important for the State to use all of its powers to repress dissent, for the truth is the mortal enemy of the lie and thus, by extension, the truth is the greatest enemy of the State." It's something every autocrat and dictator instinctively understands.

While swatting flies with a sledgehammer has its advantages, there are those who have understood and utilised the concept of "Zohnerism" to their benefit. The term, coined by journalist James Glassman, refers to "the use of true facts to lead a scientifically and mathematically ignorant public to a false conclusion".

It is derived from the experiment conducted in 1997 by Nathan Zohner, a 14-year-old student, who gathered petitions to ban "DHMO", or Dihydrogen Monoxide, as the basis of his science project, titled "How Gullible Are We?" The experiment involved calling for a cohort of other tinpot dictators and autocrats globally, suddenly free to do as they pleased, with little fear of retribution. It's something every autocrat and dictator instinctively understands.

While swatting flies with a sledgehammer has its advantages, there are those who have understood and utilised the concept of "Zohnerism" to their benefit. The term, coined by journalist James Glassman, refers to "the use of true facts to lead a scientifically and mathematically ignorant public to a false conclusion".

After what we have witnessed during his presidency, it would be fair to say that the American democracy, despite its deep roots stretching back 244 years, has survived a direct assault on its very foundation by Trump and his acolytes by a hair's breadth. Thanks, in no small measure, to the strength of its democratic institutions and the upstanding character of the people who run these. An outstanding example, but not the only one, being that of former Vice-President Mike Pence, who did not let his unswerving support and loyalty to President Trump get in the way of doing the right thing, despite intense pressure to subvert the constitutional process. The other institution that deserves accolades, surviving with its dignity and reputation intact, was the judiciary. Trump had expected that having appointed a total of 200 Federal Judges with lifetime tenures, including two to the Supreme Court, they would remain beholden to him and act in a manner to support his agenda. He was, therefore, understandably shocked and disappointed when nearly all of his 60-plus challenges to the election results were summarily rejected by the courts, including two by the Supreme Court.

While Trumpism may be on the decline in America, it is alive and flourishing here in India. Make no mistake, the current dispensation — while more circumspect and less colourful — has been just as damaging for our democracy. Our secular traditions are in tatters, empathetic behaviour forgotten and democratic institutions have all but crumbled, lacking even a shred of credibility. A vast majority of our media have become willing handmaidens of the Government. The military is being incrementally politicised and even our final bulwark, the judiciary, especially the apex court, is perceived to be functioning in tandem with the Government. Worst of all, we have no Opposition leadership worth the name, debilitated by the cancer of dynastic ambition.

Yet, hope springs eternal. After all, we have just witnessed a young untested Indian cricket team rise like a phoenix from the ashes of its worst defeat. Despite being deprived of its charismatic leader, another stepped up from the shadows, doing the impossible and leading the team to victory. Similarly, we too should shun fear and do the right thing; the rest will follow.

BJP'S POLL GIMMICK IN WEST BENGAL

Sir — The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is playing dirty politics in West Bengal. The party and its leaders are trying to gain sympathy of voters by portaying that they are the only ones who really respect the great Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and his ideology. The visit of the BJP leaders to West Bengal on the 125th birth anniversary of Bose on January 23 was only a political stunt with an eye on the forthcoming Assembly elections. The BJP is reminded of such great leaders only at the time of elections.

The ruling party leaders are trying to fool the people but the voters of West Bengal are wise enough not to fall into their trap. The people have realised that the BJP leaders can go up to any extent just for the sake of winning the elections. The State can even be plunged into widespread violence for the sake of politics. The BJP will gain votes by creating a law and order situation. It is high time that the BJP concentrated on the real issues confronting the State and its people rather than showing off its bogus image. West Bengal is grappling with poverty, unemployment, illiteracy and several other problems besides COVID. Both the Centre and the State Government must focus on the real issues troubling the people and not on poll gimmicks.

FARMERS HAVE NO OPTION

Sir — India is all set to witness a majestic march past at the Rajpath and a mammoth tractor rally by the farmers in Delhi on the Republic Day. The farmers' rally will attract wide attention. The farmers have reiterated that repeal of the laws is the only acceptable proposition for withdrawal of the agitation. In fact, the offer of the Government to put the laws on hold for 18 months itself is illogical as the Supreme Court has already stayed their implementation until further orders. However, the court can withdraw the stay soon, and the laws will come into force immediately. Faced with such vagueness, farmers fear

Congress faces Hobson's choice

This refers to the editorial 'Missing cohesion' (January 25). Now it's clear that the tenure of the Congress party's interim president Sonia Gandhi will be longer than that of its last full-time president. The fervid desire of Sonia Gandhi to see her son Rahul, a reluctant politician, at the helm of affairs of the grand old party — and the idea to build the party as an alternative to the mighty Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) at the national level is nothing but a joke.

Now, instead of working upon the electoral challenges of the Assembly polls over the next five months, the rank and file of the Congress will be mulling over the direction the party should take in its leadership choices. For a section of the party's workers, the fear of past factionalism in the party makes the Gandhi family an effective glue to bind various factions together and maintain overall discipline.

Even if that comes at the cost of the party being accused of being captive to dynastic politics, the lack of alternative leadership still makes Rahul Gandhi a formidable choice. However, its inability to find an adept leadership is not only pushing the party into irrelevance but also causing a huge void in the Opposition space — giving a free run to the ruling BJP Government at the Centre.

that a decision to retreat after accepting the offer could prove costly for them eventually.

An argument advanced against giving legal status to the Minimum Support Price (MSP) is that it would put a heavy burden on the national exchequer. It runs counter to the repeated assertions that farmers are free to sell their produce anywhere in the country. Here, wouldn't the envisioned higher prices for agricultural produce in the market — being 'opened up' now — reduce the dependence on the MSP and lessen the burden on the Budget? Farmers have deciphered the intentions and the arguments.

TAKE THE JAB FOR HERD IMMUNITY

Sir — In 2020, all the countries including India faced an unprecedented challenge in the form of the COVID-19 pandemic. In some countries like the UK and the US, Coronavirus is still rearing its ugly head and hospitals are looking like war zones. It will take some more time for all the countries to recover from the unwelcome guest's impact. At this juncture, the decision to supply millions of COVID-19 vaccines free of cost from India to multiple countries like Bhutan, Nepal, Maldives, Myanmar, Seychelles, Mauritius, Brazil, Morocco and so on is really laudable. The UK, Dominica, South Africa, Kenya, Nigeria, Saudi Arabia and the UAE are some other countries interested in COVID-19 vaccines from India as these vaccines are safe and cost-effective without compromising on safety standards.

India is clearly upstaging China in the COVID vaccines' supply. India is planning to vaccinate its 300 million people, almost the population of the US. Indians should dismiss all their apprehensions in taking vaccine jabs. We must come forward to make the inoculation drive successful.

WAKE UP AND SMELL THE COFFEE

The Congress is at a 'historic low.' It will sit in Opposition again if CWC polls are not held soon

KALYANI SHANKAR

Will the Gandhi family continue to control the over 136-year-old Congress Party? Will it shrink further? This are the questions bothering not just Congress leaders but also millions of party workers and supporters. The party is in the grip of a serious leadership crisis that is symptomatic of a larger malaise. Now it has reached a stage where some senior Congress leaders are questioning the dynasty openly. For instance, last August, 23 Congress leaders, including the Leader of the Opposition in the Rajya Sabha, Ghulam Nabi Azad, his deputy Anand Sharma and some former Congress Chief Ministers, had written a letter to interim party chief Sonia Gandhi demanding a "full time" leadership, dissolution of power to State units and revamping the Congress Working Committee (CWC) in line with the party's constitution. Though Sonia managed to douse the fire then, the dissent continues, as was confirmed in last week's CWC meeting, where there was a public spat between the 'old guard' and the Gandhis. The leaders realise that just Modi-bashing or the past glory of the party are not enough to get the Congress back in power. Added to that, are concerns over talented leaders leaving the party for greener pastures. For instance, a young leader like Jyotiraditya Scindia, who was close to Congress scion Rahul Gandhi, left the party to join the BJP.

If the Congress is serious about revival, it has to introspect. With the dynasts unable to get the party back to power for two consecutive terms, the family and consequently the party, has become weak. As for the leadership crisis, Sonia has had her innings. Rahul has failed twice and the Priyanka Gandhi Vadra magic has not worked in Uttar Pradesh. Above all, the Gandhis want to continue in power, so there's no possibility of fresh blood leading the grand old party.

So, in order to cure the sickness in the Congress, one has to diagnose the root cause first. While the AK Antony Committee was set up in 2014 for this purpose, the findings of the report were never even discussed in the party. After its loss in 2019, the party didn't even bother to go through the motions of setting up a committee. Then, there is the lack of a smooth generational change in the organisation. While Sonia was able to install her son as the party chief and induct her daughter as general secretary, she could not check the party's erosion or build trust in the apprehensive old guard. When Rahul took complete charge between 2013 and 2019, his evident discomfort with the seniors and the latter's animosity against 'Team Rahul' was very evident. This must change.

Plus, the party must go back to grassroots politics and prepare the cadre, which will work during the elections. This is vital as the Congress has lost contact with the people. Also, there is a need for decentralisation of authority in order to empower State and district-level leaders and give up Delhi-centric functioning. The party must also develop second-rung leaders. There was a time when the States had strong Chief Ministers, and the presidents of various Pradesh Congress Committees (PCCs) wielded power. In such a situation, if the party lost in a region, then accountability could be fixed. That is not the case anymore. Also, in a coalition era, the Congress needs to redefine itself and befriend regional parties. The Gandhis need to change the way they have run the Congress in the last decade or so. They need to create a new narrative to attract voters and redefine the party's ideology. If the Gandhis do not wake up now, the party will deteriorate further. As Azad said, the party is at a "historic low." It will continue to sit in the Opposition for the next 50 years if elections to the CWC and key organisational posts are not held. The Congress must wake up and smell the coffee.

Fraternity must to preserve Indian unity

Kinship not only acts as the binding element between unity and equality, it gives birth to new rights which facilitate the constitutional goal of an egalitarian society

ROBIN DAVID

The Indian Constitution came into effect on January 26, 1950 and the Constituent Assembly first met on December 9, 1946 to draft it in the Constitution Hall, now known as the Central Hall of the Parliament. The Constituent Assembly firmly resolved to mould the dreams and aspirations of Indians after the freedom struggle.

Historical background: Since the beginning, the Constitution makers were transparent and knew their purpose and direction. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru while moving the Objectives Resolution in the Constituent Assembly said: "Laws are made of words but this Resolution is something higher than the law." He urged the members of the Assembly to treat the Objectives Resolution as a declaration, an undertaking and a pledge to achieve what they promised the people of India and the yet unborn citizens: A Constitution to call their own.

The Objective Resolution declared India as an independent, sovereign, republic. Pandit Nehru said: "India is bound to be sovereign, it is bound to be independent, and it is bound to be a republic." Clearly, the Constituent Assembly's intention was to end the monarchical system. The debates and deliberations in the House led to the Objective Resolution taking the form of the Preamble of the Constitution. However, the 'Mountbatten plan' divided India into two new dominions on June 3, 1947, causing political changes to the Constituent Assembly. Thus, the Resolution needed amendment to factor in the changed political context.

On August 29, 1947, the Constituent Assembly formed the Drafting Committee, of which BR Ambedkar was the convener. The Drafting Committee rendered meaning and form to the Preamble and incorporated other matters in the body of the Constitution. It took two years, 11 months and 17 days to complete the historic task of drafting the Constitution of India.

Preamble: Ambedkar's new preamble defined the essential features of the Indian State and its socio-political objectives. While drafting the Constitution, the makers imagined an egalitarian society built on the values and the spirit embodied in the Resolution. Pandit Thakur Das Bhargava, a member of the Constituent Assembly, said: "The Preamble is the most precious part of the Constitution. It is the soul of the Constitution. It is the key to the Constitution. It is a jewel set in the Constitution. It is a proper yardstick with which one can measure the worth of the Constitution."

The trinity of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity: The egalitarian society the founding fathers envisioned, rests on four pillars established in the Preamble: The pillars of Justice, Liberty, Equality and Fraternity. However, the word 'Fraternity' is mentioned in the Constitution only once. Also "Fraternity" and has not occupied much space in judicial discourse by the Supreme Court compared to Justice, Liberty and Equality. The French Revolution inspired the Drafting Committee to adopt the trinitarian concept of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity preceded by Justice. The French were the first to raise the slogan, "Liberty! Equality! Fraternity!" against oppression by the State, to demand political participation and to promote brotherhood. Of the three revolutionary slogans, fraternité, called for unity and solidarity, to be bound as citizens of one nation. In his concluding remarks on November 25, 1949, Ambedkar said: "We must make our political democracy a social democracy as well. Political democracy cannot last unless there lies at the base of it social democracy. What does social democracy mean? It means a way of life which recognises liberty, equality and fraternity as the principles of life."

Ambedkar asserted that the principles of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity are to be treated as a trinity and not as separate and mutually exclusive items. They must be seen as enforcing elements that cannot be divorced from each other. He said: "They form a union of trinity in the sense that to divorce one from the other is to defeat the very purpose of democracy. Liberty cannot be divorced from equality, equality cannot be divorced from liberty. Nor can liberty and equality be divorced from fraternity. Without equality, liberty would produce the supremacy of the few over the many. Equality without liberty would kill individual initiative. Without fraternity, liberty would produce the supremacy of the few over the many. Equality without liberty would kill individual initiative. Without fraternity, liberty and equality could not become a natural course of things. It would require a constable to enforce them."

FRATERNITY MUST BE SEEN IN THE LAWS AND ENACTMENTS BY PARLIAMENT AND THE LEGISLATURE. FRATERNITY MUST PERCOLATE INTO PEOPLE'S LIVES TO UPHOLD A SENSE OF BROTHERHOOD THAT THE CONSTITUTION MAKERS ENVISIONED FOR INDIA. THE IDEALS OF LIBERTY, EQUALITY AND FRATERNITY ARE COEXISTENT, INTERDEPENDENT AND INSEPARABLE

The writer is Advocate, Supreme Court of India, and partner, Dua Associates. The views expressed are personal.

Ambedkar pointed to the existing social and economic inequality in Indian society and the significance of the ideals of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity to eliminate those inequalities. On October 17, 1949, Acharya Kripalani applauded the inclusion of Fraternity in the Preamble. "Again I come to the great doctrine of fraternity, which is allied with democracy. It means that we are sons of the same God, as the religious would say, but as the mystic would say, that there is one life pulsating through us all, or as the Holy Bible says, 'We are one of another'. There can be no fraternity without this."

Courts on fraternity: The Bombay High Court in the Indian National Mines Overmen vs Western Coalfields Limited case, challenging the compulsory deduction of ₹50 from the salary/wages of its employees for transfer to the Prime Minister's National Relief Fund cited the explanation given by Ambedkar on Fraternity. The court said that "fraternity means a sense of common brotherhood of all Indians. In a country like ours with disruptive forces of regionalism, communalism and linguism, it is necessary to emphasise and re-emphasise that the unity and integrity of India can be preserved only by a spirit of brotherhood. India has one common citizenship and every citizen should feel that s/he is Indian first, irrespective of other basis. In this view, any measure at bringing about equality should be welcome." The court relied on 'Fraternity' in the Preamble and Ambedkar's speech on obligations imposed under the Fundamental Duties chapter, which do not otherwise have any legal sanction.

In the Prathvi Raj Chauhan vs Union of India case, addressing the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, Justice Ravindra Bhat of the Supreme Court said that fraternity holds a crucial a place in the scheme of our nation's consciousness and polity. However, he said that 'Fraternity' is one of the lesser explored areas in the Constitutional discourse of the judiciary. The court observed that, "The Fraternity assumed by the Preamble is not a declaration of a ritual handshake or cordiality between communities that are diverse and have occupied different spaces: It is far more."

While evaluating the constitutional validity of the appointment of local tribals as special police officers in Maoist-hit regions of Chhattisgarh in the Nandini Sundar vs State of Chhattisgarh case, the apex court stressed on the importance of fraternity. It said, "Our Constitution posits that unless we secure... conditions of social, economic and political justice for all who live in India, we would not have achieved human dignity for our citizens, nor would we be able to promote fraternity among groups of them. Policies that run counter to that essential truth destroy national unity and integrity." The court said that the Constitution casts a positive obligation on the State to take necessary steps to protect the fundamental rights of all citizens. The State is obliged to secure conditions where dignity of its citizens is protected to enable all to live in conditions of fraternity. Fraternity not only acts as the binding element between unity and equality, it gives birth to new rights which facilitate the constitutional goal of an egalitarian society. The right to live with dignity and respect, free from oppression and untouchability. The fundamental rights granted in the Constitution are structured on the principles liberty, equality, and fraternity. These ideals are inscribed in the Constitution's Preamble. The Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948, which is contemporaneous with the Indian Constitution, recognises inherent dignity and the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family. This is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world.

Thus, the Constitutional value of 'Fraternity' must be palpably seen in the actions of the State and Constitutional functionaries. Fraternity must be seen in the laws and enactments by Parliament and the Legislature. Fraternity must percolate into people's lives to uphold a sense of brotherhood that the Constitution makers envisioned for India. The ideals of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity are coexistent, interdependent and inseparable.

Heal sick healthcare sector with booster shot in Budget

If the Govt truly seeks to involve private capital, the Union Budget must relax unrealistic price restrictions and nix outdated rules

Now when the Union Budget 2021-22 is around the corner, in the midst of one of the worst public health emergencies faced by humanity in recent memory, it is high time for the healthcare industry to articulate its concerns and expectations. Only a well-formulated and balanced annual financial statement with adequate allocation and focus on all critical segments, as well as on secondary aspects, can prepare the country to improve its health services and meet the challenges of inoculating such a large population as ours.

Need to address poor spending on healthcare: There is an urgent need to raise the allocation on health as a proportion of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The gap is so large and the population so underserved that this would have to be done for several years in succession to alleviate the situation.

The forthcoming financial statement should focus on significantly higher allocations for Research & Development (R&D) in biotechnology, epidemiology and pharmaceuticals including vaccines and in building healthcare infrastructure. The ongoing pandemic reiterates the need for increased public spending on healthcare which is still in the range of 1.3 per cent of the GDP, far lower than what has been stated and promised.

More allocation must for infrastructure and skill development: It is another key area that the Government should prioritise. India has less than a bed and a doctor per 1,000 population, far lower than the World Health Organisation's (WHO's) standards. We need to invest in setting up an increased number of medical colleges with requisite infrastructure while giving due importance to key departments which play a significant role in preventing infections in hospital environments, apart from the operating rooms and Intensive Care Units (ICUs). There is also a pressing need to contain the problem of antibiotic and antimicrobial resistance for getting the desired improvement in overall outcomes. If the Centre truly seeks to involve private capital it must relax unrealistic price restrictions and do away with outdated rules. One initiative that can be taken is to ask the medical and pharmaceutical companies to direct their Corporate Social Responsibility funds for development of healthcare infrastructure and capacity building. Expansion of digital healthcare must be the focus of the Union Budget: The country needs connected healthcare — a digital ecosystem where real-time data from top Government and private hospitals and diagnostic centres flows into a data centre that tracks, monitors and predicts changes in disease patterns, so that timely action can be initiated to obviate the expensive follow-on treatment. In this context, the National Digital Health Mission is a step in the right direction. It needs to be strengthened and investments are required to be made to create the infrastructure and capacity for collecting and analysing data.

Need to expand the ambit of medical insurance: The annual financial statement 2021 also needs to ensure that medical insurance is extended as much as possible to drive the idea of universal healthcare in the country. Treatments like dental procedures, mental healthcare and homecare for the sick need to be included as part of health insurance policies.

Therefore, the Union Budget must be a well-thought out document from the healthcare sector's perspective and the allocation of 1.6 per cent of the GDP in the previous Budget must be improved under all circumstances.

Celebrity activism is a misnomer in Pakistan. MeToo exposed sexual coercion by media moguls who controlled women's careers and revealed how power of the perpetrator are drivers of sex crimes. Moreover, it is only possible to get justice for the offence in the formal workplace. The exclusion of students and informal workers from protection is a travesty. (Dawn editorial)

TCS once again becomes most valued domestic firm

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Country's largest software exporter Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) on Monday surpassed Reliance Industries Ltd to become the country's most valued firm by market capitalisation.

In another milestone, TCS also emerged as the most valued IT company in the world as its market valuation went past that of Accenture.

During the close of trade, the market valuation of TCS was at ₹12,34,609.62 crore while that of Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL) stood at ₹12,29,661.32 crore on the BSE.

TCS dipped 0.40 per cent to close at ₹3,290.20 after gaining 1.26 per cent to its one-year high of ₹3,345.25 during the day.

Shares of RIL declined 5.36 per cent to close at ₹1,939.70 on the BSE after its earnings failed to cheer investors.

In March last year also, TCS had reclaimed the status of the country's most valued firm by market valuation.

So far this month, TCS shares have gained nearly 13 per cent on the BSE.

Multinational tech firm Accenture's market capitalisation was at USD 168.44 billion as of Friday close on the NYSE. As of Monday, TCS valuation in dollar terms was at USD 169.26 billion. Tech giant SAP's market valuation was at USD 155.50 billion and that of IBM was at USD 105.69 billion.

Lung cancer in never-smokers

Most of us tend to believe that not smoking a cigarette will insure us against lung cancer. Unfortunately, this is not true. A growing number of non-smokers in India are reporting lung cancer today. What's worse is the fact that the disease in non-smokers shows more subtle symptoms that are often difficult to diagnose initially. Non-smokers also tend to write off the possibility of contracting this disease as they believe they do not run its risk.

While it is true that smoking tobacco is the most significant risk factor for lung cancer, not all people who get the disease have smoked. The American Cancer Society estimates that around 20 per cent of people who die from lung cancer in the US every year have never consumed tobacco in any form. While we do not have any such consolidated estimates for India, Oncologists are reporting a clear trend of rising disease incidence among non-smokers.

Interestingly, it has been observed that lung cancers in smokers and non-smokers are different on genetic and molecular levels. In fact, a bulk of the non-smokers who report lung cancer are women. A number of factors can trigger lung cancer in non-smokers; these include exposure to carcinogens in some form or certain gene changes. Non-smoking lung cancer patients are also found to be relatively younger.

Lung cancers in smoking and non-smoking individuals not only get triggered differently but also tend to develop differently. Lung adenocarcinomas which are a type of non-small cell lung cancer are the most common type of cancers found in non-smoking people. Most commonly, adenocarcinomas tend to grow in the outer regions of the lungs unlike small cell cancers and squamous cell cancers which grow near the airways.

While most lung cancers are treated in a similar way, Oncologists are now developing a deeper understanding of the genetic differences and triggers of different types of cancers. Patients with genetic cancer triggers such as EGFR mutation and ALK (anaplastic lymphoma kinase) gene rearrangements respond better to a different line of treatment than chemotherapy. Most commonly, these gene mutations are responsible for triggering cancers in non-smokers.

Never ignore these symptoms: As mentioned above lung cancers in non-smokers are often different as compare to the disease type in smokers. This is why sometimes, the disease manifests differently in these two sub categories of patients. People who do not smoke may present with more subtle symptoms such as shortness of breath, fatigue, pain in the back along with cough. Sometimes, these symptoms may initially be taken for any other condition, delaying the disease diagnosis and treatment.

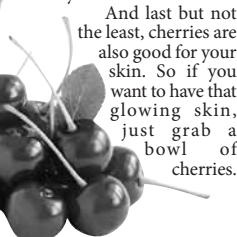

Whether you smoke or not, it is important not to take any aberration in the respiratory health lightly. Always report to the doctor if you experience the following symptoms:

- A cough that lasts more than 2 weeks
- Shortness of breath
- Chronic fatigue or malaise accompanied by respiratory distress
- Experiencing pain while breathing
- Recurrent chest infections.

WARMFOODS

CHERRY: If one wants to go for both health and taste, then cherry is here to their rescue. They are high in antioxidants and anti-inflammatory compounds, which may reduce chronic disease risk and promote overall health. It can also help relieve exercise-induced muscle pain, damage, and inflammation.

Increasing your intake of nutrient-dense fruits like cherries is a tasty way to protect your heart. Many studies show that diets rich in fruits are associated with a reduced risk of heart disease.

LISTEN TO ORAL CALL

Dental health is not considered as significant as mental health, in fact it is not a primary concern at all for many. DR TANVI PARKAR tells you why maintaining dental hygiene is just as important as overall hygiene

The stress and anxiety related to the infection coupled with the mental fatigue of calibrating oneself to the new normal, has made people realise the importance of mental wellness. To add to these, news of celebrities breathing their last owing to mental illness, has put this issue in the limelight. As we browse along the myriad of discourses on wellbeing, we quickly can realise that dental health is not considered as significant as mental health, in fact dental health is not a primary concern at all.

Oral cavity is one of the most important parts of our bodies that dentists dedicate five years of their lives learning. The fact that they spend most of their curricular time (even more by post-graduates), on such a small part of the body, itself, makes it so significant. Sadly, this seems to be a trivial subject for many. Maybe they feel that dentists shall only talk about brushing twice a day which is covered by a toothpaste as it is, so what's more to it?? The relevance of dental health and why it should be a part of workplace wellbeing programme is what is discussed in the article.

Some of the significant aspects of oral cavity and dental health are as follows:

Functions of oral cavity: The oral cavity and its components have various functions like chewing food, enabling us to pronounce words, and giving shape and form to the face.

Oral manifestations of systemic diseases: A lot of systemic diseases have oral manifestations. These include diabetes, certain infections, gastrointestinal problems as well as nutritional deficiencies.

Entry to the digestive system: The oral cavity is the portal to the digestive system. It is here that food is tasted and enjoyed, masticated with the teeth and mixed with saliva to form a bolus — an ingestible and digestible form of food that enters the oesophagus. It is also in the mouth that the food is mixed with digestible enzymes from the saliva for easy digestion.

Workplace grooming and halitosis: We are supposed to meet a lot of people for work related matters. These could be bosses, co-workers, clients, and other people. It is expected that we are well groomed and follow etiquetteduring our meetings. One of the important aspects of this is oral hygiene. It is not necessary that we must go for a celebrity level smile design, however, it is pertinent that we do not show the food that's stuck in our teeth while we are talking or smiling. Halitosis or bad breath is also one of the concerns and a huge turn off whileinteracting socially.

Significance of oral health in COVID-19 situation:

Nasopharynx and oropharynx: The oral cavity is an entrance to the respiratory tract and maintaining good oral hygiene can prevent COVID-19 infection.

Saliva and oral mucosa: The oral mucosa and salivary glands are lined with ACE2 (angiotensin converting enzyme 2) receptors, which are used by SARS-CoV-2 virus to enter epithelial cells. In addition, SARS-CoV RNA can be detected in saliva before lung lesions appear. This may explain the presence of asymptomatic infections. Thus, the potential infectivity of saliva alone must not be ignored.

Xerostomia and dysgeusia: The inflammation caused by the viral infection leads to reduced salivary secretions and dry mouth.

Alteration in the quantity and composition of saliva also leads to loss or altered taste.

Mask mouth: Wearing mask for prolonged duration results in decreased salivation or dry mouth that results in cavities, gum disease and sour breath.

Loss of teeth in long haulers: A phenomenon where idiopathic bone loss and falling out of teeth have been reported by few people who have been experiencing COVID-19 symptoms for a very long time. Although a thorough research and more evidence is required to substantiate this phenomenon, it is speculated that the infection caused inflammation that could attack the gums and mouth, which might be able to trigger tooth loss.

As we can observe from the above, oral care plays a vital role in the overall health or a person. This has become crucial in the pandemic times. Dental treatments are currently not covered in most insurance programmes in the country. Ergo, oral health needs to be an important aspect of workplace wellness since education, awareness and early detection are key to good outcomes. As the famous saying goes, "Dentistry is not expensive, neglect is!", we must ensure that we always maintain good oral hygiene. In conclusion, we must provide equal attention to dental health as we provide to mental health in the workplace.

LET THE SKIN DO THE TALKING

Following a proper skincare routine is important. DR AJAY RANA shares tips that will help you get healthy and glowing skin

Almost one month into the New Year, it is high time to make a routine for your skin and make sure you follow it. Morning is the best time to start taking care of your skin. Your skin is fresh from a goodnight's sleep and you should make sure to prepare it up before you begin your day. Everyday our face faces a lot of dust, sun rays, UV rays, pollution, hence, having a proper skincare routine in the morning is of utmost importance.

Here are a few tips to make your skin glowing this year:

Cleanse with water: Cleansing your face with water is the first and the foremost step for the glowing skin. Our face needs the right amount of water so that all the dryness from the night is removed.

Use a toner: The next big step is to use a toner. Toning your face is very important. A good toner helps to remove any remaining bits of oil and dirt left behind by a cleanser. It also shrinks the pores. Toners prevent the skin from producing excess oil.

Serum: After you are done using a toner, get ready to use a serum. The serum is specifically made to handle all your skin problems. Take a few drops of the serum and warm it up by rubbing it in between your palms. Apply the serum on the skin, starting from the nose, and work your way outwards. Leave it on for two-three minutes to absorb into the skin.

Always remove your makeup: It is very important to remove the makeup, no matter where you are, before you go to bed, or if you have been wearing it for a very long time. It is important that you give time to your skin to breathe. Use a good water makeup cleanser, and remove all the layers.

Skincare routines are incomplete without the use of a moisturiser: Moisturise your skin with a dermatologist-recommended moisturiser as often as you can based on your skin type.

Clean the makeup brushes regularly: It is important to clean your makeup brushes to avoid a buildup of makeup residue and bacteria. Use a shampoo and conditioner to clean your brushes, as you do with your hair. Cleaning brushes helps to smooth and even apply makeup every time.

Apply sunscreen: Don't forget to use sunscreen before you head out. Wear a good sunscreen with SPF of 40 or higher and try to avoid the sun as much as possible.

Lip moisturiser: Using a lip moisturiser would be a good idea. During the winter season, our lips tend to get really dry, because of which we sometimes develop the habit of licking our lips. This can lead to dermatitis around the mouth. In order to avoid this, even using a basic moisturizer like Vaseline would help.

Take multivitamins and antioxidants: Not getting enough sun causes a dip in your Vitamin D levels, so adding Vitamin C and D to the supplements, in addition to omega fatty acid supplements. Avoid taking sugar and alcohol.

Motion sickness or infections can result in nausea. While it is not painful, it is definitely uncomfortable. ROSHANI DEVI shares remedies that can help relieve it Nausea can happen because of several reasons. If one has taken pills on an empty stomach, motion sickness and infections are the most common triggers for nausea.

Here are a few tips that can help.

While eating ginger is synonymous to catching cold, there is lot more that this herb can do. Experts believe that compounds in ginger may work in a similar way to anti-nausea medication. In fact, several studies agree that ginger is effective at reducing nausea in various situations.

Control your breathing. Taking slow, deep breaths can also help reduce nausea.

Certain spices like fennel powder, cinnamon and cumin extract also helps reducing nausea.

Fennel powder may reduce menstrual symptoms, including nausea, and help women experience shorter periods. Cinnamon may reduce the severity of nausea that women experience during menstruation. Cumin extract may help improve symptoms such as abdominal pain, nausea, constipation and diarrhea in individuals suffering from IBS.

Making good choices is key

SWAMI MUKUNDANANDA tells you how behavioural momentum helps you change your life for the better Life presents us with an array of choices. We select our thoughts, priorities, emotions, and behaviours. Regardless of how good or bad we may presently be, we can always choose to make our future better. Regrettably, we also have the option of choosing to make our future worse. Nowadays, there is no dearth of advertisements promising you an annual income of two crores, if you simply spend two hours daily on the internet; a weight loss of twenty kilos by wearing a special belt; and perfection in meditation if you take initiation in a particular mantra. Surprisingly, people are willing to get duped into believing these alluring marketing lines.

The problem is that our human nature wants quick fixes-excellence without toil, and perfection without practice. But life mastery and enlightenment are not cheap bargains. They are achieved through sacrifice, dedication, and perseverance.

The good news is that the level of difficulty does not remain the same throughout the journey. In fact, every incremental step becomes easier than the previous one. Social scientists have discovered a concept called behavioural momentum.

We are familiar with the momentum of solid objects. You may have had the experience of pushing someone's car. When the engine does not turn on with the ignition switch, passengers get out of the car and begin pushing it. Initially, your every muscle gets exerted to overcome the vehicle's static inertia. But slowly, the movement begins and then keeps picking speed. When the driver sees the car has gathered enough momentum, she releases the clutch, to engage the engine with a jerk and kick start it.

This is an illustration of the momentum of physical objects.

Interestingly, the same phenomenon applies to human behaviour as well. As you strive to improve yourself, the velocity of your self-transformation keeps speeding up. The reason is that any learned behaviour becomes easier with every repetition, until it finally becomes a habit.

Slowly, the choices, which we keep repeating, grow onto us and become a part of us. That is why it is said: "First we make choices and then the choices make us." Now, if our choices are harmful, the momentum will build up in the wrong direction and work to our detriment. But if we keep repeating good choices, the impetus will develop in the beneficial direction and will work to our advantage.

This explains why the most difficult part of any behavioural modification is the initial phase. It is when our brain is breaking the neural pathways of old habits and establishing circuitry for new ones. Once the behavioural momentum builds up, we reach the auto mode and enjoy the ride, because progress in life has almost reached the automatic level.

In his latest book, 7 Divine Laws to Awaken Your Best Self, he discusses the most important divine laws of life. What are these laws? How can our life be enriched by their knowledge and application? This joyous journey is accomplished through the seven chapters of the book.

I know people love me: Pankaj

PANKAJ TRIPATHI surprises you by saying he doesn't quite understand what it means to be a star. However, he gets to know that people love him through social media reactions.

"Nothing has changed. I don't have an idea if I am a star and I don't know what it's like to be a star. I don't have an idea about stardom. I used to work with honesty and I am doing it with sincerity till now," Pankaj said.

"I know people love me. I get to know about it through social media. Sometimes I feel that the love of the audience is like a fixed deposit with me and I have to give them back with interest. So, the responsibility and trust increases," he added.

'I still remember meeting this kid (Varun Dhawan) in Goa! Long hair, big dreams in his eyes and a swag that was waiting to explode on celluloid! A few years later he was my Assistant on MNK! (My Name Is Khan). When he faced the camera for me for the first time, I developed an immediately protective feeling of love and care for him... And that feeling today came alive in abundance as I saw him walk with his loved one around the holy fire of trust and commitment...'

"For almost a year now, in some or the other way, we've all been in rough waters. For me, the best way to beat the stress is to occasionally draw out the 'boat' pose or the Naukasana. It can row you out of many issues that your body maybe undergoing. #MondayMotivation," she said.

I miss dressing up: Kim

American reality TV star KIM KARDASHIAN strikes a stylish pose in a new snapshot she has posted on social media, though she says she misses dressing up.

In the picture she posted in the early hours of Monday, according to India time, Kim is seen stepping out of her car. Colour-coordinated with the all-black power wheels, Kim is dressed in all-black, too. She wears a front-open black leather jacket that falls way below her knees, with a black leather off-shoulder short dress that has a cross embroidered on the torso.

The 40-year-old celebrity adds to her minimalist no-makeup look with the caption she writes on the picture: "I miss dressing up."

WE, THE PEOPLE

The Republic Day march makes for a visual treat. But is that still relevant and important? Experts speak. By CHAHAK MITTAL

Magnificent marches by the regiments of the Indian Army, Navy, Air Force, Police and Paramilitary forces, display of the Indian Defence prowess, latest missiles, aircrafts, weapon systems, colourful tableaux showcasing the beauty of different states of India — the Republic Day parade in Delhi has always been a visual treat. But beyond appearances, what does the idea of celebrating this day holds out for people besides inconveniencing a large part of the populace in the capital? Does it still have some importance among the citizens of India or is it merely a public holiday for them? We might find the tricolour at a roadside vendor's shop or children selling them at traffic signals only to be trampled upon later.

We speak to experts from various fields to know how the idea of Republic Day has changed over the years and what it means now.

Devdutt Pattanaik, Author and Illustrator:

It is a modern-day ritual designed to construct the idea of a nation-state. Just as the flag is a modern-day symbol and standing up while singing National Anthem is a ritual. Through rituals and symbols were constructed ideas that create organisations such as tribe and nation. They help bind people together, grant pride and identity to a people. These are not a natural phenomenon but cultural myths, i.e. people's truths. It is what humans do to establish a community.

Maya Sharma, Queer Activist:

Today, the idea of Republic has translated, rather seeped, into our ordinary lives in an extraordinarily historical way. With a massive number of people supporting and joining the Kisan Rally, it's a proud, uplifting moment. It's like a dream finding feet. I, and several others, bow to our daughters and sons of the soil for this emergence of a 'Republic' that was conceived by our founding mothers and fathers and Dr Bhim Rao Ambedkar. I feel, that over the years, the meaning of Republic also lost the powerful values enshrined in our Constitution. But whatever be the odds, GST, VAW, CAA laws and divisive politics — these have brought people together with compassion like never before. How incredible it is. What an experience of freedom, dissent, diversity, respect and equity that our generation born post-Independence is experiencing!

We, the people of India, this January 26, 2021, resolve to give to ourselves the values of Constitution all over again.

Harish Iyer, Gay Rights Activist:

The idea of republic is basically an oath to the Constitution, which strives to see all of us as equals. The truth is that we are distinct and completely different from one another. We all define equality in the ways we perceive it. The idea of equality too is different for everybody. Hence, this Republic Day, it's time to remember that equality is the key for a society to perform well and excel. It might be different for various sections of the society, including the marginalised one. After the historic verdict by the Supreme Court, decriminalising Section 377, a lot changed and I think now, the LGBTQIA+ community is very much a part of the Republic.

Dr Bhuvan Lall, Author:

As a biographer of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, over the years, I have observed that the respect he gained from ordinary Indians, most of whom were born post-1947, is incredible. This Republic Day, we need to remember that people like him and our Armed Forces in difficult terrains and inhospitable weather conditions, continuously defending and standing up for the biggest democracy in the world. Jai Hind!

As India witnesses more and more game developers going mainstream, along with a thrust on creating a new gaming ecosystem in the country, the British Academy of Film and Television Arts (BAFTA) has taken up the cudgels to find and nurture talent in the field of gaming.

Driven by smartphones, the online gaming industry in India is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 40 per cent to $2.8 billion by 2022, up from $1.1 billion in 2019, according to a Deloitte India report that came out last week.

India is one of the top five mobile gaming markets in the world, with a 13 per cent share of global game sessions. The online gaming industry in India is expected to add 40 million online gamers during the 2020-22 period.

According to Jodie Azhar, winner of the 2016 BAFTA Breakthrough Initiative and currently games director at Teazelcat Games, the biggest challenge is to make right connections with the people who can help you get your games onto various online platforms where people can buy it, and help you market it to the audience that will be interested in your games.

"I think that's where organisations like BAFTA can really help because they have such a wide network, both in the video games industry as well as film and TV. It is really interesting to see the merging industries and making those connections, to help you develop games and get it in front of people who want to play it," Azhar said.

The applications for 'BAFTA Breakthrough India', supported by Netflix, are currently open and the entry window has been extended to February 8.

As part of the initiative, a jury of the British and Indian industry experts will select five talents from across India to take part in the year-long mentoring and guidance programme.

Talent search

BAFTA set to push Indians to create world-class games

"Game developers from India should apply right now as it is a brilliant initiative. People who have worked on AAA games, who have worked on independent projects, they all have a wealth of knowledge and by being part of BAFTA through this initiative, you get access to that knowledge," she elaborated.

AAA (or Triple-A) video games are to the gaming world what blockbusters are for the film industry. Just like blockbusters, they usually involve huge teams working for months to years to make a finished product, employed by a big studio.

According to Azhar, they are for 12 months, and full voting BAFTA membership.

The chosen talent will also connect with and learn from some of the best in the British and Indian creative industries, share their expertise with peers around the world, gain access to opportunities beyond geographical borders, and be promoted as BAFTA Breakthrough artists globally.

Charu Desodt, games producer and 2014 Breakthrough Brit said, "Being named a BAFTA Breakthrough in 2014 was a career highlight for me. People recognise the BAFTA name and, in turn, it makes people pay more attention to you and your artistic vision."

The BAFTA Breakthrough initiative has been running in the UK since 2013, China since 2019 and launched in the US and India in 2020, supporting over 160 emerging talents to date.

'Theatres are safe'

Actor SHARAD KELKAR questions that if people are partying big time, why are they hesitant to return to cinema halls?

Actor Sharad Kelkar is surprised that the audience is still hesitant to return to the cinema theatres, although other areas of the hospitality and entertainment industry have started to open up, post-COVID lockdown.

"People have started going to pubs, coffee shops, restaurants, weddings and even to places like Goa on vacation. People are partying big time, so I don't know why they are not going to the theatres," Sharad said.

"Theatres are much safer, and also there is 50 per cent occupancy. Theaters are regularly cleaned and sanitised. This is one of the biggest industries we have, and it is dependent upon the audience. So I'd request everyone that if you can party, you can also go to the theatre," he added.

Quizzed about how the pandemic and lockdown have affected him, the actor said: "I am known as a workaholic in my friend circle. I am active and love to run around all the time. This pandemic taught me patience. Sitting at home doing nothing was a new experience for me for the first time in the last 18 years that I started working. Not going out to work and not meeting people was initially a little depressing but ultimately I understood that in life you need to be a little patient!"

Sharad, who impressed all playing Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj in Ajay Devgn's blockbuster film Tanhaji: The Unsung Warrior last year, reveals he had rejected historical roles for almost 15 years of his acting career.

"I have been getting offers for historical shows right from my initial years when I started doing TV, due to my voice, height and physical structure. But I was always afraid of doing it. There was a fear of having to wear a lot of costumes, which I thought would be tedious. So I almost avoided historical roles for 15 years," he said.

About Tanhaji and his role in the film, he said: "I never knew a historical film would give me so much appreciation and establishment in the industry. So, I proved myself wrong!"

On the work front, Sharad turns narrator for the forthcoming animated series, The Legend Of Hanuman. He will also feature in the Ajay Devgn-starrer Bhuj: The Pride Of India and the forthcoming web series The Family Man 2.

Chelsea sack Lampard

AFP ■ LONDON

Chelsea sacked manager Frank Lampard on Monday after 18 months in charge, with former Paris Saint-Germain boss Thomas Tuchel reportedly set to replace him at Stamford Bridge.

Sunday's 3-1 FA Cup fourth-round win against Championship side Luton was not enough to save Lampard, whose team have slumped to ninth place in the Premier League.

Chelsea said it had been a "very difficult decision" to part ways with the 42-year-old, who replaced Maurizio Sarri in July 2019.

"We are grateful to Frank for what he has achieved in his time as head coach of the club," Chelsea said in a statement.

"However, recent results and performances have not met the club's expectations, leaving the club mid-table without any clear path to sustained improvement."

The club's Russian owner Roman Abramovich said:

"This was a very difficult decision for the club, not least because I have an excellent personal relationship with Frank and I have the utmost respect for him."

"He is a man of great integrity and has the highest of work ethics. However, under current circumstances we believe it is best to change managers."

Former PSG boss Tuchel, who was abruptly sacked by the French champions in December, is in line to take over, reports said.

Chelsea are struggling in ninth place in the Premier League table, 11 points behind leaders Manchester United.

They have lost five of their past eight Premier League matches after a good start to the season.

Lampard signed a three-year deal in 2019 and despite a transfer ban, led them to the FA Cup final and a fourth-place finish in his first managerial campaign at Stamford Bridge.

But a huge outlay of around £220 million on new players including Ben Chilwell and German attackers Kai Havertz and Timo Werner has failed to translate into improved results.

Lampard's points-per-game average of 1.67 is the fourth-lowest of any permanent Chelsea manager in the Premier League.

Tuchel only became available a month ago when he left PSG, less than five months after taking them to the Champions League final, which they lost to Bayern

Munich.

The 47-year-old German won back-to-back league titles with PSG, but that was not enough to satisfy the club's Qatari owners, who replaced him with former Tottenham manager Mauricio Pochettino.

Prior to PSG, Tuchel impressed at Borussia Dortmund, having started his managerial career with Augsburg and then Mainz.

Lampard is Chelsea's record goalscorer and won three Premier League titles during his glittering playing career at Stamford Bridge, as well as the Champions and Europa Leagues and other domestic honours.

His first managerial posting was at Championship club Derby. In his one season in charge, they reached the Championship play-off final, where they lost to Aston Villa.

Lampard then became the 10th full-time manager appointed by Abramovich since the billionaire bought the club in 2003.

"He is an important icon of this great club and his status here remains undiminished," said Abramovich. "He will always be warmly welcomed back at Stamford Bridge."
