Farmers dispute autopsy report, refuse to cremate

2nd post-mortem to be conducted,
promises SP of
Luckhimpur Kheri

PREETAM SRIVASTAVA ■ LUCKNOW

Upset over the inaction of the police in arresting Union Minister Ajay Mishra's son, who is accused of mowing down four farmers, the family of a 19-year-old farmer, who died in Luckhimpur Kheri during a protest on Sunday, has refused to cremate the body until they are provided the autopsy report which has not been made public.

They alleged that the post-mortem report has been falsified. Meanwhile Luckhimpur Kheri SP Vijay Dhul promised that a second autopsy will be conducted in Bahraich.

Lovepreet Singh and three other farmers were among the nine killed in Sunday's violence during a protest against Ajay Mishra's visit. Four farmers were allegedly run over by a car in the convoy.

"My son was crushed under a car. There has been no action against the person responsible. The administration is trying to cover up. He had left home saying he was heading out for a good cause," said Lovepreet's father.

Lovepreet's body has been kept in a casket and the entire family is waiting for the autops sy report. "When he was taken to the hospital, he called and said, 'Please come quickly'."

"When we reached the hospital, he was no more," said his distraught father.

Farmers allege that the car which mowed down Lovepreet was being driven by the Minister's son, Ashish Mishra.

"When my son fell down Teni's (Union Minister Ajay Teni Mishra) son shot him. We should get justice for this. They have even falsified the post mortem report. We should get justice for that," his father asserted.

Sources said the autopsy report did not mention injuries due to bullet wounds on any of the deceased farmers.

A senior doctor, who is part of the post-mortem panel at the Luckhimpur district hospital, told some media persons that the causes of death in the autopsy reports include multiple fractures after being run over by a heavy object (like a vehicle) and injuries suffered due to assault.

While the autopsy report has not been made public by the authorities yet, the families of the deceased said they will keep protesting until the reports are out.

In the meantime, farmers' leader Rakesh Tikait claimed that their protest would not end after Monday's agreement. In a tweet on Tuesday night, he said that they will again start their protest if the accused Minister was not sacked and that his son is not arrested.

After day-long detention, AICC general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and several other Congress leaders were arrested on Tuesday for trying to march towards Luckhimpur Kheri even as the Opposition parties in Delhi discussed an action plan to corner the Yogi Government over the violence in which four farmers were crushed to death on Sunday.

Besides Priyanka, State Congress president Ajay Kumar Lallu, Congress MP Deepender Hooda, national secretary Dheeraj Gurjar, Youth Congress national president BV Srinivas, party MLC Deepak Singh were taken into preventive custody.

It'll shake soul: Varun tweets video of SUV
ploughing through

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Siding with the farmers on the violent accident that led to eight deaths in Uttar Pradesh's Luckhimpur district, BJP MP Varun Gandhi on Tuesday tweeted a viral video that appears to show farmers being run over by an SUV.

Varun is the only BJP leader who has been publicly backing the farmers, demanding and advocating their respectful treatment and has taken a position away from the official BJP line on the issue.

"This video will shake anyone's soul," the BJP leader wrote and appealed for "immediate arrests".

"In Luckhimpur, the video that shows cars running over farmers will shake anyone's soul. Police should take note of this video and identify the owners of the car, those sitting in the car and others involved to make immediate arrests," the BJP MP from UP's Pilibhit said in a tweet in Hindi.

The viral video — which has been shared by many in the Opposition — is yet to be verified by the police.

No arrests have been made in the Luckhimpur violence which has now become a national issue with all Opposition parties criticising the ruling BJP over the handling of the case.

Union Minister of State for Home Ajay Kumar Mishra's son Ashish Mishra is the only person named in the murder case. He has denied he was at the spot and claimed that he was attending a wrestling programme away from the place of the incident.

Every 7th Indian youth suffered with depression during Covid-19: UnicefJust 41% of them felt it's good to get support for mental health problems

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Around 14 per cent of 15 to 24-year-olds in India, or 1 in 7, have often felt depressed, but the situation got worse for them during the ongoing Covid-19 crisis. And yet just 41 per cent were willing to take support, compared to an average of 83 per cent surveyed from 21 countries, according to UNICEF report on mental health "The States of the World's Children 2021" released by Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on Tuesday here.

"Fear. Loneliness. Grief. As the coronavirus pandemic descended on the world in 2019, these powerful emotions enveloped the lives of many millions of children, young people and families," the report said. "In the early days especially, many experts feared they would persist, damaging the mental health of a generation. In truth, it will be years before we can really assess the impact of Covid-19 on our mental health."

The survey, carried out for UNICEF by Gallup in 21 countries, India was the only country in the first half of 2021, found that Indian youth are less willing to share their feelings of lowness.

"A median of 83 per cent of young people (15 to 24 years old) agreed it was better to deal with mental health problems by sharing experiences with others and seeking support; by contrast, only 15 per cent felt such problems were personal and should be dealt with on one's own," it said. "Among the 21 countries, India was the only exception, with only 41 per cent of young people supporting the sharing option."

Releasing the report, Minister Mandaviya said, "Mental health has widely been discussed in our Sanatan culture and spirituality. The mutual development of mind and body has been explained in our texts. A healthy mind resides in a healthy body. We are very happy that today UNICEF has released a global report on the mental health of children."

He added as the trend of nuclear family instead of joint family has increased in our society, mental health problems have become frequent in children. "Today parents are not able to give enough time to their child, so we need to talk about mental health," he said.

Mandaviya further said, "To build a better and developed society, it is necessary to keep monitoring the mental health of children from time to time. For this, arrangements will also have to be made for better mental health of teachers in schools. Because, children trust their teachers the most".

vehicles to attract fine

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Centre on Tuesday announced that the renewal of registration of vehicles over 15 years old is all set to be a very expensive affair from April 2022. The Centre announced to hike the renewal fees of such vehicles by eight times and introduced a penalty clause for the delay.

The renewal registration of a 15-year-old car will cost ₹5,000 compared to the existing ₹600. The charges for registration renewal of old bikes would be ₹1,000 compared to the current ₹300.

For a 15-year-old or more bus or truck, the owner will have to pay a fee of ₹12,500 compared to the current rate of ₹1,500, said a notification by the Road Transport and

Further, any delay in renewing the registration of private vehicles would attract a penalty of ₹300 per month and ₹500 for commercial vehicles, and commercial vehicles would have to pay a daily penalty of ₹50. Owners of private vehicles need to get the registration renewed every five years after 15 years. And once a commercial vehicle attains eight years, fitness certificate renewal becomes mandatory every year.

The prime aim of this new fee is to discourage people from keeping their old vehicles. "The Government also intend to do away with the manual system of a fitness test, as this can be manipulated or rigged," a MoRTH official said.

Delhi Govt resends
doorstep scheme
file to LG for nod

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) Government in Delhi on Tuesday again sent the file on the proposal of doorstep delivery of ration scheme to Lieutenant Governor Anil Bijal for his approval.

The development came after the Delhi High Court on September 27 allowed the City Government to stop supplying food grains to fair price shops for those who have chosen doorstep delivery option over the physical collection. The scheme has been stalled due to differences between the Delhi Government and the Centre.

Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal said, "Lieutenant Governor should approve the implementation of the decision of the Delhi Cabinet so that the people of Delhi can get the doorstep delivery of ration soon. The Delhi High Court has cleared the way for the implementation of the doorstep delivery scheme and the Delhi Government will sincerely follow the directions given by the High Court regarding the promotion of the scheme."

Kejriwal said he hopes the LG will give his approval.

Earlier, the CM had said, "People are asking if pizza, burger, smartphone and clothes can be home delivered then why cannot the poor citizens of Delhi get their share of ration home delivered?"

He blasted ration mafia claiming the entire doorstep delivery scheme will be instrumental in disbanding it.

PMAY has made 3 crore poor

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday claimed that during his tenure around 3 crore poor families of the country have become "lakhpati" because they got their own house under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY), 80 per cent of which is owned by women.

"My friends, who lived in a slum, did not have a pucca roof, such three crore families have got the opportunity to become lakhpati. Under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, about 3 crore houses have been built in the country; you can guess the cost of them now. These people can claim themselves as lakhpati," the PM said here after inaugurating three days 'Azadi 75 - New Urban

Taliban shoot 13
Hazaras; rights group condemns

AP ■ CAIRO

Taliban forces unlawfully killed 13 ethnic Hazaras, most of them Afghan soldiers who had surrendered to the insurgents, a prominent rights group said on Tuesday.

The killings took place in the village of Kahor in Daykundi province in central Afghanistan on August 30, according to an investigation by Amnesty International. Eleven of the victims were members of the Afghan national security forces and two were civilians, among them a 17-year-old girl.

The reported killings took place about two weeks after the Taliban took control of Afghanistan in a blitz campaign, culminating in their takeover of Kabul. At the time, Taliban leaders sought to reassure Afghans that they had changed from their previous harsh rule of the country in the late 1990s.

The world has been watching whether the Taliban would live up to their initial promises of tolerance and inclusiveness toward women and ethnic minorities, among them the Shiite Hazaras.

DECISION ON CONTROL OVER ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

SC to set up Bench to hear Delhi Govt's plea

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Tuesday said it would set up a three-judge Bench to hear the AAP Government's plea on the contentious issue of who should control administrative services in Delhi. The plea arises out of a 2019 split verdict. On February 14, 2019, a two-judge Bench of Justices AK Sikri and Ashok Bhushan, both retired since, recommended to the Chief Justice of India that a three-judge Bench be set up to finally decide the issue of control of services in the national Capital in view of its split verdict.

Justice Bhushan had ruled that the Delhi Government has no power at all over administrative services. Justice Sikri, however, made a distinction. He said the transfer or posting of officers in top echelons of the bureaucracy (Joint Director and above) can only be done by the Central Government and the view of the Lieutenant-Governor would prevail in case of a difference of opinion for matters relating to other bureaucrats.

"We have to constitute a Bench after the Dussehra vacation. The plea would be listed after Diwali break," a Bench of Chief Justice NV Ramana and Justices Surya Kant and Hima Kohli told senior advocate Rahul Mehra who mentioned the Delhi Government's plea for urgent listing and hearing. Following a five-judge Constitution Bench judgment, police, land and public order were to be under the control of the Centre and the rest of the subjects, including the services, should remain under the Delhi Government, Mehra said.

"It is the matter pertaining to the issue of services which find mention in Entry 41 of list II of the Constitution. The two-judge Bench expressed divergent views and the matter was before a three-judge Bench. Since the entire administrative control vests currently with the Centre, it is an important issue and impedes on the ability of the Delhi Government to govern and implement its policy," the counsel for the Delhi Government added.

Earlier, the top court, which was hearing pleas on six matters pertaining to a long-running conflict between the Centre and the Delhi Government, had given a unanimous order on the remaining five issues except the control over services.

Taliban shoot 13...

However, Taliban actions so far, such as renewed restrictions on women and the appointment of an all-male Government, have been met with dismay by the international community.

Hazaras make up around 9 per cent of Afghanistan's 36 million people. They are often targeted because they are Shiite Muslims in a Sunni-majority country.

Callamard, said that "these cold-blooded executions (of the Hazaras) are further proof that the Taliban are committing the same horrific abuses they were notorious for during their previous rule of Afghanistan."

Taliban spokespersons Zabihullah Mujahid and Bilal Karimi did not respond to calls from The Associated Press seeking comment.

The rights group said Sadiqullah Abed, the Taliban-appointed chief of police for Daykundi, denied any killings had happened and only said that a member of the Taliban had been wounded in an attack in the province.

The Taliban took control of Daykundi province on Aug. 14, according to the Amnesty report, and an estimated 34 former soldiers sought safety in Khidir district. The soldiers, who had government military equipment and weaponry with them, agreed to surrender to the Taliban.

Mohammad Azim Sedaqat, who led the group's surrender, arranged to decommission the weapons in the presence of Taliban members.

On August 30, an estimated 300 Taliban fighters arrived in a convoy close to Dahani Qul village, where the security forces members were staying, some with family members, according to Amnesty's report.

As the security forces attempted to leave the area with their families, Taliban fighters caught up with them and opened fire on the crowd, killing a 17-year-old girl named Masuma. One soldier fired back, killing a Taliban fighter and wounding another.

Delhi Congress slams UP Govt for detaining Priyanka

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi Congress accused the Centre and the Uttar Pradesh Government of "violating" all democratic norms by detaining Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi for over 30 hours to prevent her from visiting the family members of the farmers who were murdered at Lakhimpur Kheri.

Delhi Pradesh Congress Committee president Anil Kumar said that the party organised demonstrations at BJP offices in all the 14 districts on Tuesday to protest against the murderous attacks on the farmers.

He said that Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal was "Kissan Virodhi", as his sympathy to the farmers' cause was a merely bogus as the AAP Government validated the black anti-farmer laws at a special session of the Delhi Assembly.

Addressing the media, Congress former MLA Anil Bhardwaj said that even Chief Ministers of Congress-ruled States, Punjab and Chhattisgarh were also prevented from visiting Lakhimpur Kheri, which was a gross violation of the rights of a citizen.

Bhardwaj said that CM Arvind had launched the "Kissan Mitra" scheme with much fanfare but just six farmers benefited from it, which exposed the hollowness of the whole process.

MoU approved between DPCC, IIT- Kanpur

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The Delhi Cabinet on Tuesday approved the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between IIT-Kanpur and the Delhi Pollution Control Committee (DPCC) on "Real-Time Source Apportionment and Forecasting for Advance Air Pollution Management in Delhi." With this agreement, the national Capital will get accurate information about real-time sources of air pollution. The Delhi Government will also allocate funds to the tune of ₹12.7 crore for this project.

"This will go a long way in identifying and resolving various factors causing Delhi's pollution," Arvind Kejriwal, Chief Minister of Delhi said during cabinet meeting. "A forecast will be issued for air pollution management in Delhi."

While the technology to collect real-time source apportionment of pollution has not been implemented yet in any other city of country, the low cost unmanned spatial monitoring network for hotspots and critical areas will be carried out.

The detailed proposal was submitted by Professor Mukesh Sharma, IIT-Kanpur. A team of IIT-Kanpur, IIT-Delhi, The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI), and IISER Mohali will execute the study in the national Capital.

This new slab notification comes with the vehicle scrapping policy as announced in this year's annual budget which provides for fitness test after 20 years for personal vehicles, while commercial vehicles would require it after the completion of 15 years. As per MoRTH research, old vehicles are estimated to cause 10-12 times more pollution than the latest vehicles.

To contain vehicle-related pollution, the Government had earlier announced to impose green tax on old polluting vehicles. While vehicles like strong hybrids, electric vehicles and those running on alternative fuels like CNG, ethanol and LPG will be exempted.

Every 7th Indian youth suffered depression...

Sharing his experience, the minister said that he as the health minister faced mental pressure during the second wave.

He continued saying, "People's problems shook me. After that I started doing yoga and cycling in the morning. It is my request to all that you also examine the problems of your mind and work for its betterment. Spend enough time at home with your children. Talk to them in a friendly atmosphere." The report noted that as the Covid-19 Pandemic heads into its third year, the impact on children and young people's mental health continues to weigh heavily. Through the pandemic, children have had limited access to support from social services due to lockdown measures. The disruption to routines, education, recreation, as well as concern for family income and health, is leaving many young people feeling afraid, angry, and concerned for their future. A recent WHO report provides evidence about the same. India is the most depressed country in the world, leaving the USA and China behind. The maximum cases of anxiety, schizophrenia, depression and bipolar disorders were found in India, with most cases going unreported.

Priyanka arrested...

Raut hit out at the BJP saying why is Priyanka in jail while the accused son of the BJP Minister still roaming free. Their alliance partner in Maharashtra, NCP supremo Sharad Pawar termed the Lakhimpur Kheri incident similar to the unfortunate Jallianwala Bagh.

AICC sources said a delegation of Opposition parties can visit Lakhimpur Kheri and the talks are underway.

"Many topics have been discussed. The incident that happened in Uttar Pradesh yesterday is a matter of concern. The arrest of Priyanka... Detaining her illegally, all these things that happened are wrong. If democracy has to be saved, everyone should come together," Raut told mediapersons after the meeting.

Asked if a delegation of Opposition parties would visit Lakhimpur Kheri in UP, he said, "That has been discussed."

The Shiv Sena MP said there is a need for a joint Opposition against the oppression meted out by the Government in Uttar Pradesh.

Meanwhile a Trinamool Congress delegation comprising MPs Kakoli Ghosh, Sushmita Sen, Dola Sen and Pratima Mandal is said to have met the families of the deceased farmers with Sushmita alleging that not only were farmers run over on Sunday leading to deaths of four, shots were also fired.

Mishra has claimed that "anti-social elements" have infiltrated the farmers' movement.

On the report that he has dropped "BJP" word from his twitter bio, the BJP MP from Pilibhit said, "I never had that on my twitter."

Varun has demanded a Supreme Court -monitored probe into the Lakhimpur incident. The farmers' protest against three-Central farm laws allowing selling farmers produce outside the Mandis has gained national attention less than six months ahead of the high-stake State election battle in UP. On Sunday, the farmers, who had assembled to protest against the BJP, said the violence in Lakhimpur Kheri district started after their car mowed down the protesters.

Four of the dead were farmers, allegedly knocked down by vehicles driven by BJP workers travelling to welcome Uttar Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya to an event in the area.

The others were BJP workers and their driver who were allegedly pulled out of the vehicles and lynched. Two cars were set on fire.

Tikait also said that the second autopsy of the farmer in Bahraich should be done by outside doctors or else they will not go ahead with the cremation. He said that next action will be taken by the farmers after they receive a postmortem report. Officials from the district administration reached the house of the grieving family in Bahraich and urged them to conduct the last rites of the victim. However, the family has demanded that another post-mortem be carried out, to ascertain the cause of Singh's was there where politicians went and roads were constructed only on the recommendations of the ruling Government politicians. But now things have changed," the PM said. The PM also gave the UP Government a target to lit at least 2 diwas during the Deepawali festival in all the 9 lakh PM awas. "During the Deepawali festival this year Ayodhya will light 7.50 lakh diwas but it is my wish that along with Ayodhya, all the 9 lakh PM Awas beneficiaries should also light at least 2 diwas on their doorstep during the festival," he said.

"I am also happy that in the houses being given under this scheme more than 80 per cent of the houses are in the name of women or they are joint owners," he said. He used this opportunity to lash out at the previous Samajwadi Party Government saying, "Before 2017, Centre had sanctioned 18,000 PM Awas in the State, but the then State Government did not even construct 18 houses. But our Government led by Yogi Adityanath did a commendable job by constructing 9 lakh PM Awas and another 14 lakh are under construction. People should know who had worked for the people." Meanwhile, confirming Mishra's presence on the scene, sources quoted a senior police officer saying, "Ashish Mishra did not expect such a crowd and tried to escape, resulting in the incident."

Tejinder Virk, an injured protester presently under medical treatment at Delhi's Medanta Hospital, also told some media persons that Union Minister Ajay Thakur's son had been part of the convoy of cars that allegedly mowed down at least three farmers on Sunday.

CM Yogi Adityanath who was on the stage, nodded his head in affirmative. The PM said UP is the land of Lord Ram, Krishna, and Buddha and it is the commitment of the BJP Govt to develop it as desired by the people.

42 squadrons only after 10-15 years: IAF Chief

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Despite its depleting number of fighter jets, the IAF will be able to have the sanctioned 42 squadrons only after the next 10-15 years even though it has, of late, inducted several new planes, IAF chief V R Chaudhary said here on Tuesday.

Sounding this note of caution in the backdrop of ever present threat of a two-front war simultaneously with China and Pakistan, he also said the IAF will manage to have 35 squadrons only in the coming ten years. One squadron has 18 to 20 jets and the IAF, at present, has only 30 odd squadrons of fighter jets.

On the present situation at the Line of Control (LAC) in Eastern Ladakh, Chaudhary said China has built three airfields in that region on its side. However, it remains to be seen as to how their fighter jets will take off from high altitude.

The IAF Chief said his force is ready to meet any challenge while addressing the annual press conference ahead of the 89th anniversary of the IAF on October 8. The newly appointed chief also said new infrastructure created by the Chinese side on will not affect India's combat readiness.

Elaborating on the depleting fighter jets strength, Chaudhary said remaining four squadrons the ageing MIG-21 will be phased in the next four to five years. "We will not be able to do so in the next 10-15 years," he said when asked to give a time line to boost the dwindling strength.

The IAF should have around 35 fighter squadrons by the next decade as he talked about the phasing out of old aircraft and induction of new ones.

Listing out some of the steps taken to address the issue of dipping number of squadrons, Chaudhary said the IAF has placed an order for 83 indigenously designed and built Tejas light combat aircraft (LCA).

Moreover, the IAF has received proposals from several leading aircraft manufacturers for the 114-medium combat aircraft. India had issued the Request for Information (RFI) some time back and the proposals are now getting scrutinised.

The nearly ten billion dollar proposed deal will see the aircraft getting manufactured within the country with fifth generation capabilities, IAF chief said adding strike capability has become more potent with the induction of Rafale jets and various weapon systems.

Coming to the situation on the LAC in Eastern Ladakh, he said new airbases and other infrastructure created by the Chinese side in the region will not affect his force's combat readiness.

Chaudhary said China continued its deployment at three airbases in the Tibet region. However, he said the building of airfields and other infrastructure by China will

No two-finger test done, says IAF Chief on Coimbatore rape case

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Assuring necessary disciplinary action against the guilty in the alleged rape case of an IAF officer in Coimbatore recently, IAF Chief V R Chaudhary on Tuesday said no 'two-finger test' was conducted on the woman. She had alleged a fellow IAF officer had molested her.

Cautioning that rules of the IAF in such incidents are "very strict," the IAF chief also said punitive action will be taken based on the report of a high-level inquiry into the case.

"Let me assure you that the Air Force law is very strict on any such incidents. The two-finger test that you have mentioned is misreported."

I can confirm to you that this test was not done and we are well aware of the rules," Chaudhary said. He was replying to a question on allegations by the victim that she was subjected to the outlawed test at a medical facility of the IAF.

A Flight Lieutenant was arrested by the Tamil Nadu Police for allegedly sexually assaulting the 28-year-old woman officer on September 10 in an Air Force academy.

The woman officer levelled serious charges against IAF authorities, including subjecting her to the banned finger test and also forcing her to withdraw the complaint against the officer.

A local court in Coimbatore last week directed the police to hand over the case to the IAF. The woman officer had asked for a police investigation, alleging pressure and intimidation from her superiors.

Following the court order, the accused official was handed over by the police to the IAF for a court-martial.

not impact India's military preparedness and suggested that the Chinese military has the disadvantage of high altitude in the region. "That is a weak area for them," he noted.

Asked about security threats emanating from close ties between Islamabad and Beijing, he said there was nothing to worry about the partnership, but flagged concerns over the possibility of western technology reaching China from Pakistan.

On the contentious issue of proposed theatre commands as the IAF has reservations about this issue, Chaudhary said his force is fully committed to the theatreisation concept to best utilise India's military resources.

Chirag, his uncle get new party names, symbols

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Election Commission (EC) on Tuesday allotted new party names and symbols to Chirag Paswan and his uncle Pashupati Kumar Paras, days after the poll panel barred Lok Janshakti Party (LJP) factions from using the party name and symbol.

In separate letters to Paswan and Paras, the EC announced that the Lok Janshakti Party faction led by Chirag Paswan will be called LJP (Ram Vilas) and have the symbol of a helicopter, while the Pashupati Kumar Paras faction will be called Rashtriya Lok Janshakti Party and will have the symbol of a sewing machine.

"Having considered the request, the Commission has allotted the name Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) for your group and has allotted the helicopter as the symbol to be allotted to the candidate set up, if any, by your group in the current by-election," read a directive issued by the EC to Chirag.

In another order issued to Paras, the EC said, "Having considered your request, the Commission has allotted the name Rashtriya Lok Janshakti Party for your group and has allotted the symbol 'Sewing Machine' to be allotted to the candidate set up, if any, by your group in the current by-election."

The names and symbols have been allotted to both the parties to contest the upcoming bypolls to two assembly seats in Bihar. The elections will be held on October 30.

In an interim order on October 2, the EC had asked Paswan and Paras to choose interim names and symbols for the bye-polls by 1 pm on Monday. It had barred both the factions from using the name of LJP or its symbol 'bungalow', till the dispute is resolved. It also directed both the factions to submit documents supporting their claim to represent the party by November 5. The poll body has yet to pass an order on which faction to retain the original LJP symbol.

Both Chirag and his uncle Paras had a few months back parted ways amid a dispute over the running of the party and are fighting for the right to use the LJP name and its symbol. In June, the Lok Janshakti Party had plunged into a crisis after five of its six Lok Sabha MPs rebelled against Chirag. The rebel MPs had told Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla that they have chosen Paras as the party's leader in Parliament. The development, effectively a coup against Chirag, came less than a year after his father and former Union Minister Ram Vilas Paswan died in October. He was the founder of the Lok Janshakti Party.

After Birla named Paras as the leader of the Lok Janshakti Party in the Lok Sabha, Chirag had approached the Delhi High Court challenging the move.

The LJP was formed by former Union Minister Ram Vilas Paswan in 2000. Paswan, a heavyweight leader in Bihar politics, passed away in October 2020.

Zuckerberg loses $7 billion in hours after FB, Insta, WhatsApp suffer global outage

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

After hours of global outage, the services of Facebook, Instagram and WhatsApp resumed on Tuesday. But it took over 6 to 7 hours for Facebook to resolve the issue that the company claimed arose due to a "faulty configuration change".

Downdetector.com, a website that tracks outages, stated in a post that the Facebook outage has become the largest in its history with over 10.6 million reports from all over the world. The interesting part about the glitch was how it made Facebook servers, including the servers for Facebook.com, vanish from the internet.

The personal wealth of Facebook co-founder and CEO Mark Zuckerberg also fell by nearly $7 billion in a few hours, following a selloff that sent the social-media giant's stock plummeting about five percent on Monday. Zuckerberg, apologised for the disruption of services. In a statement, he said,"Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp and Messenger are coming back online now. Sorry for the disruption today — I know how much you rely on our services to stay connected with the people you care about."

Taking to Twitter early on Tuesday, WhatsApp said: "Apologies to everyone who hasn't been able to use WhatsApp today. We're starting to slowly and carefully get WhatsApp working again. Thank you so much for your patience. We will continue to keep you updated when we have more information to share."

Facebook blamed a faulty configuration change for this outage that prevented the company's 3.5 billion users from accessing its social media and messaging services.

The social media app, photo and video sharing app, and messaging app had crashed on Monday evening. As per DownDetector, , 40 per cent of users were unable to download the WhatsApp. 30 per cent had trouble in sending messages and 22 per cent had problems with the web version.

According to reports, along with the drop in stocks of Facebook, Mark Zuckerberg's worth has fallen by nearly $19 billion since September 13, 2021, due to a whistleblower and outage.

According to Forbes real-time billionaires list, Zuckerberg is currently in the sixth position, losing to Bill Gates and Larry Ellison, and has a total net worth of $116.8 billion.

NHA revises health benefit package

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The National Health Authority (NHA), the apex body for implementing Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB PM-JAY) has revised the Health Benefit Package (HBP) Master under the scheme. In the revised version of Health Benefit Package, rates of some health packages have been increased by 20 per cent to 400 per cent under PM-JAY.

Around 400 procedure rates have been revised and one new additional medical management package related to black fungus has also been added. The revised package is expected to be rolled out from next month.

Mansukh Mandaviya, Union Minister of Health said "The revised packages for oncology will enhance cancer care for the beneficiaries in the country. Addition of new packages related to black fungus will be a huge relief to the beneficiaries. I am sure that the rationalised HBP will further improve the uptake of schemes in private hospitals leading to reduced Out-of-Pocket Expenditure for the beneficiaries."

Dr RS Sharma, CEO, National Health Authority

NHA undertakes rate revision in following categories

*Radiation oncology procedures, Medical Management procedures like procedure for dengue, acute febrile illness etc., Surgical package treatment for black fungus, Other procedures like Right/left heart catheterization, PDA closure, A r t h r o d e s i s , Cholecystectomy, appen-dectomy etc.

*Under medical management procedures, rates for ICU with ventilator has been revised by 100 per cent, rates for ICU without ventilator by 136 percent, rates for HDU has been revised by 22 percent while prices for routine ward has been revised by 17 percent.

(NHA) assured that NHA constantly works on the feedback received from stakeholders for rationalization of health benefit package master. Since the inception of the AB PM-JAY scheme, new packages have been added to cover more disease conditions and regular rates of the packages are being revised to provide better healthcare services.

"These changes are necessitated to ensure effective implementation of the scheme and will be made in the Transaction Management System (TMS) to ensure that there are no challenges in portability. State Health Agencies (SHAs) currently implementing any of the previous versions of HBP can now accept and implement the latest version of HBP 2.2."

Currently, Ayushman Bharat PM-JAY has 1669 treatment procedures out of which 1080 are surgical, 588 medical and one unspecified package.

In 2018, the scheme was launched with the HBP 1.0 with a total of 1,393 packages. The scheme aims to provide free and cashless healthcare services up to Rs 5 lacs per family per year to over 10.74 crore poor and vulnerable families (over 53 crore beneficiaries) as per Socio-Economic Caste Census (SECC)-2011 database.

LAKHIMPUR KHERI INCIDENT

BJP crushed democracy under Min’s wheels: TMC

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

The Trinamool Congress has once again slammed the BJP for unleashing a “reign of terror in India,” perpetrating incidents like the one that took place at Lakhimpur Kheri in Uttar Pradesh where protesting farmers were crushed to death under the wheels of a vehicle allegedly being driven by a Union Minister’s son.

Question Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s “sense of justice,” TMC MP Dr Kakoli Ghoshdastidar on Tuesday asked “I heard the Prime Minister was visiting Lucknow ... the same State where this barbaric incident has taken place ... but he would not visit the families of the victims ... what message is he leaving for the people not of this place or this State but for the people of this country... is this the kind of democracy that the BJP Government has given us?”

Hitting out at the Yogi Adityanath Government for stopping theopposition leaders from visiting the place of occurrence, Ghoshdastidar on Tuesday said “there is no democracy in UP ... there is no democracy in places run by the BJP... Otherwise protesting farmers would not have been crushed under the wheels of a minister’s vehicle ...Do you call it a democracy ... do such things happen in a democracy?” Another TMC leader said, “By killing the farmers the Government has sent a strong message to the protesters who would raise a voice against the BJP ... the message is simple and clear ... there is no place for opposition in India ... all who will protest will meet a similar fate.”

Dr Ghosdastidar and her Lok Sabha colleague Dola Sen on Tuesday visited the Lakhimpur on Tuesday. While they were stopped from visiting the area on Monday they were allowed to visit the place on Tuesday leading the Left to question the “camaraderie between the two parties.”

Attacking the Yogi Government apparently for attesting Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra the TMC leader said that “in UP the police dances to the tune of the political bosses ... they are not arresting the culprits but people who are protesting ...

UP Police burying itself in ignorance, ineptitude: Chidambaram

New Delhi: Congress leader and former Union minister P. Chidambaram has slammed the Uttar Pradesh police following party General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra's arrest on her way to Lakhimpur Kheri, saying the force is burying itself in ignorance and ineptitude.

"The sections of law under which Priyanka Vadra has been reportedly charged are laughable. S.151 CrPC contains no offence at all. It is a provision for arrest for a period not exceeding 24 hours. No person can be 'charged' under S. 151.S. 107 & 116 of IPC related to abetment. You must say who she abetted. You must say what crime she abetted. Abetment cannot be in the vacuum," Chidambaram said.

"When she was arrested at 4.30 a.m. on Monday, she was abetting nobody and she was abetting no crime. In fact, the arresting police officer mentioned only S.151 CrPC and no other provision of law and no other crime. The Uttar Pradesh police is burying itself under ignorance and ineptitude," he added.

Priyanka Gandhi has been formally arrested after a case was registered against her at the Hargaon police station in Sitapur under various sections of the Indian Penal Code, including disobeying prohibitory orders and abetment.

Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, who won the Bhawanipore seat in a by-election, will take oath as a member of State Assembly along with two other party MLAs on October 7.

This was revealed in a Raj Bhawan tweet that said “Governor WB Shri Jagdeep Dhankhar would administer oath/affirmation to the elected members to the WBLA viz., Mamata Banerjee, Jakir Hussein and Amirul Islam at the premises of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly (WBLA) on 7 October, 2021 at 11:45 hours.”

Banerjee had won the Bhawanipore seat by a record margin of 58,835 votes. She needed to win the election to remain Chief Minister as she had earlier been defeated from Nandigram by Opposition leader Suwendu Adhikari in the April-May Assembly elections.

While Hossain won the Jangipur seat by a whopping margin of 92,480 votes Islam won from Samsragnj by a margin of 26,379 votes.

this is the kind of democracy we have in UP”

Offering apology for the UP Government's acts Bengal BJP leader Dilip Ghosh said that “no Government will want commotion and disturbance ...it is a simple rule that during a heated situation political opposition is shut out from visiting a particular area ... What does Mamata Banerjee do in Bengal ... here we are not even allowed to move out of our houses ... whenever we go out for a small programme a number of cases are slapped against us.”

Comparison in social media: Indira arrested in Oct, so is Priyanka

IANs ■ NEW DELHI/SITAPUR

Congress General Secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra being detained in the wee hours of October 4 and finally arrested on Tuesday could be a defining moment of Indian politics, claim Congress leaders as the coincidence is that Indira Gandhi too was arrested on October 4 in 1977.

Comparisons are on in social media whether this arrest could change the Congress fortunes as after Indira Gandhi's arrest and later in the election in 1980 the Congress returned with a thumping majority.

From her detention Priyanka said, "Modiji, Namaskar... Maine suna hai ki azadi ka amrit mahotsav manane aap Lucknow aa rahe hain, mein aap se pooch na chahti hun ki aapne ye video dekha hai, aapki sarkar ke ek mantri ke bete ne kisano ko kuchal diya, is video ko dekhiye aur desh ko bataiye ke is mantri ko barkhast kyun nahi kiya gaya aur is ladke ko giraftar kyun nahi kia gaya. (I have heard that you are coming to Lucknow to celebrate 'Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav'. I want to ask you that have you seen the video. The son of one of your cabinet ministers has crushed the farmers. Watch this video and tell the country why hasn't the minister been dismissed and why hasn't this boy been arrested)."

Indira Gandhi was going to meet victims of Belchi and Priyanka Gandhi was also trying to meet the families of the victims of Lakhimpur Kheri but was not allowed.

Indira Gandhi was arrested along with four others, K.D. Malaviya, H.R. Gokhale, P.C. Sethi and D.P. Chattopadhyaya. Indira Gandhi at that time had said that her arrest was political. "I have tried to serve our people and our country to the best of my ability. No matter what the charge or charges now made against me, this arrest is a political one. It is to prevent me from going to the people," Indira Gandhi was quoted as saying.

At that time Indira Gandhi was an opposition leader and had lost the general election post the emergency but was not as weak as the Congress is now.

Amravati: In a bid to ensure access to menstrual hygiene for adolescent girls and young women, the Andhra Pradesh Government has launched a program under which branded sanitary napkins will be provided free of cost to girl students of Government educational institutions.

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy on Tuesday launched 'Swechha' program to tackle the stigma attached to menstruation, prioritize female personal hygiene, and encourage a healthy dialogue of information.

"One should not shy away from talking about menstruation. We need to create more awareness among female students and educate them on safe practices," the Chief Minister observed on the occasion.

The State Government will provide quality branded sanitary napkins to female students at government educational institutions, free of cost. Ten sanitary napkins will be given every month to about 10 lakh adolescent girls studying from 7-12 grades in all government schools and intermediate colleges across the state.

MID-SEA DRUG BUST CASE

4 more sent to NCB custody till Oct 11, total arrests mount to 12

T N RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

A city court on Tuesday sent four more arrested in the mid-sea drug bust to the custody of the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) till October 11, even as the total number of persons in the sensational case mounted to 12.

A day after a city court remanded Bollywood superstar Shah Rukh Khan's eldest son Aryan Khan and seven others in its custody till October 7, the NCB produced before four more accused --Abdul Qadir Sheikh (30),Shreyas Nair (23), Manish Darya (26) and Avin Sahu (30) before Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate R. M. Nerlikar, who sent them to the NCB's custody till Monday next.

The new four arrests were made in the case late on Monday and Tuesday, of them, the name had cropped up during the questioning of two arrested accused Aryan and Arbaaz Merchantt. The NCB suspects that the drugs used at the rave party held on a Goa-bound cruise ship on Saturday night might have been bought by the youngsters using crypto-currency.

Meanwhile, informed sources in the federal anti-agency said that the NCB had arrested four persons linked to M/s Namas'cray Experience Private Limited, which organised a rave party on board the Goa-bound Cordelia Cruises' Empress ship. All the newly arrested persons are from New Delhi.. However, there was no official word as yet from the NCB.

Like the earlier accused, the current four accused have been booked under sections 8(c) (produce, manufacture, possess, sell or purchase of drugs) and 27 (punishment for consumption of any narcotics or drugs) and 27 A ( punishment for financing illicit traffic and harbouring offenders) of the Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act (NDPS).

In his order sending four newly arrested accused in the case to the NCB's custody till October 11, Additional CMM Nerlikar noted: "Considering the submissions and nature of offence, I am of the view that thorough investigation be carried out of the accused custody. I remand them to NCB's custody till October 11".

Rejecting the plea for a shorter duration of custody, the Additional CMM said: "The submissions made by both parties and the quantity alleged contraband seized from the accused, I am of the view that legal investigation is required to be carried out to go to root of case for the NCB authorities".

Twenty-three-year-old Aryan and seven others were initially detained on Saturday night and later arrested on Sunday, after the NCB officials busted a rave party and seized 13 grams of cocaine, 5 grams of MD (Mephedrone), 21 grams of Charas, 22 pills of MDMA (Ecstasy) and Rs 1.33 lakh in cash from Goa-bound Cordelia Cruises' Empress ship, off the Mumbai coast here.

In his order extending the NCB custody of Aryan and two others ----Arbaaz Seth Merchantt and Munmun Dhamecha --till October 7, Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Nerlikar had observed in his order: "For the circumstances presented to me, it seems that the co-accused possess intermediate contraband and the present accused (Khan) accompanied them. Investigation is of prime importance. It will be essential for the Prosecution and accused to prove is innocent".

The five others arrested along with Aryan, Arbaaz and Munmun were sent to the NCB custody till October 7 late in the evening on Monday.

In a related development, the NCB is looking into the role of Kashiff Khan, managing director of FTV India, in the mid-sea drug bust case. FTV India had hired the services from Namas'cray Experience Private Limited to organise the event on board Cordelia Cruises' Empress ship.

At the hearing held on Monday, Additional Solicitor General (ASG) Anil Singh --while rooting for the accused till October 11, had said: "There is incriminating material found through WhatsApp chats with drug peddlers. Raids are going on now. Shocking incriminating material in WhatsApp shows international drug trafficking."

He also cited judgements passed by the Bombay High Court judgments holding that all offences under the NDPS Act --- under which Aryan and other accused have been booked, non-bailable.

"Ultimately, the person may not be found with commercial quantity but then custody is required to find out the chain or links...Where is the financing made, who is the source, all this needs to be found out. So we are only asking for a few more days of custody," the ASG had averred.

"Taking drugs has become very common. College going kids are taking. Regular students may get influenced due to the high profile persons taking drugs. Hence, we are trying to curb the menace. All three should be sent to NCB custody," the ASG had told the court.

However, Aryan's lawyer Satish Maneshinde had argued that no drugs were found or seized from his client. He told the court that Aryan was a "special invitee" by the organisers - and he cannot be held responsible for the seizure.

Presenting the argument from his client's point of view, Maneshinde said: "The panchama does not indicate anything seized from me except my mobile. My friend was arrested because he had 6 gms of charas, with which I was not connected."

"Upon further interrogation, they have downloaded my WhatsApp chats. While I was abroad, they claim that my chats indicate international drug trafficking. The entire period of my stay abroad, I have not been involved in any trafficking, supply or distribution".

"As of now, in 48 hours, nothing has been found against me. Any prayer for further custody may be rejected. Whatever they had to interrogate with me, they have. I have cooperated, and they also were nice to me. I showed my good conduct. Did not delete anything," Maneshinde had argued.

Telangana CM KCR demands caste census, increase in SC quota

IANs ■ HYDERABAD

Telangana Chief Minister K. Chandrasekhar Rao on Tuesday urged the Centre to enhance the reservation quota of Scheduled Castes and also undertake a caste census.

Speaking in the Assembly, he demanded that the Centre should increase the SC quota beyond the existing 15 per cent in view of changed dynamics.

Replying to debate on Dalit Bandhu scheme launched by his government, he said that the population of SCs has increased since the enactment to provide them 15 per cent reservation.

KCR, as Rao is popularly known, pointed out that contrary to general perception that Dalits are only 15 per cent of the total population in Telangana, statistics show that they are 17.53 per cent.

He said in some districts, Dalits are more than 20 per cent of the population. Mancheril district has the highest population of Dalits at 25.64 per cent. He said out of 1.03 crore families in Telangana, nearly 18 lakh are Dalits.

The Chief Minister also urged the Centre to undertake caste census. He announced that the Assembly will pass a resolution in this regard and send it to the Centre.

KCR backed the suggestion of All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM) leader Akbaruddin Owaisi for caste census and wondered why the Centre was not coming forward to undertake this.

"All kinds of nonsense is spoken in the absence of statistics. Unless you have the facts and figures, you can't make the proper plans for upliftment of any section," he said.

KCR also pointed out that unlike other countries, India has no national identity card. "Even our neighbouring country Myanmar has issued identity cards. With great difficulty, we had Aadhaar but for some strange reasons, even this is not accepted as a national identity card," he said.

The Chief Minister also underlined the need for categorization of SC reservation.

LC DEFRAUD CASE

Canara Bank’s ex-chief manager sent to 5 years in jail, 3 others get 3-yr RI

T N RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

A Pune-based Special CBI Court on Tuesday sentenced a former chief manager of Canara Bank to five years' rigorous imprisonment and three others company employees of two private companies to three years of rigorous imprisonment for allegedly defrauding the Bank by way of discounting of 246 bills against Letters of Credit (LCs) issued by it.

The CBI court handed out five-years rigorous imprisonment to S R Hegde, then Chief Manager, Canara Bank, Deccan Gymkhana Branch, and imposed a fine of Rs 1 lakh on him.

The court sentenced Ganesh Kolhe and Ganesh Gaikwad, then Account Assistants M/s. Varron Aluminium Pvt. Ltd. & M/s. Varron Auto Comp Pvt. Ltd., to undergo three years' rigorous Imprisonment. It imposed a fine of Rs. 1.5 lakh on Kolhe, while the judge levied a fine of Rs 1 lakh on Gaikwad.

The CBI sentenced Manoj S. Salvi, Proprietor of M/s. Ratna Metal Mart to three years' rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs. one lakh on him.. The Court also imposed a fine of Rs. one crore each on M/s. Varron Aluminium Pvt. Ltd., Pune and M/s. Varron Auto Comp Pvt. Ltd., Pune (both accused in the case).

The CBI had registered the case had on February 23,2017 registered a complaint lodged by the Bank of India in the matter of discounting 246 bills against Letter of Credit (LC) issued by Canara Bank, Deccan Gymkhana Branch, Pune to the tune of Rs.300 crore (approx.).

The Prosecution's case was that the accused hatched conspiracy and in pursuance of the conspiracy, the Managing Director of both the companies, M/s. VAPL & M/s. VACPL had a fraudulent Letter of Credit (LC) issued on February 29,2016 through the then Chief Manager of Canara Bank, Deccan Gymkhana Branch, Pune.

As part of the conspiracy, 246 forged bills were allegedly submitted in the Bank of India and got the same discounted fraudulently in the name of the other co-accused companies. The money received from these fraudulent transactions were again allegedly transferred to the accounts of M/s. Varron Group of companies and also dishonestly/fraudulently utilized for reducing their earlier liabilities with State Bank of India.

After the investigation, the CBI had filed a charge-sheet against the accused in the Court of Special Judge, CBI Cases, Pune. The Trial Court found the accused guilty and convicted them.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Confusion

There needs to be more clarity from the Supreme Court on people's right to protest

The ongoing farmers' protest demanding repeal of the three agricultural laws may see the Supreme Court lay down the parameters for people to exercise their right to protest. Justice AM Khanwilkar, hearing a petition of a farmers' organisation seeking permission to sit on a 'satyagraha' at Jantar Mantar in Delhi, asked how can there be a protest when the matter is sub judice. He meant that no reason for protest exists because the court had already stayed the three controversial laws and the Government has also assured that it will not give effect to it. Is the judge implying that people cannot exercise their right to protest when their challenge of the constitutionality of a law is being heard by the court? The second issue is that the protest is against the executive that brought in the farm laws and the demand is for repeal, while the petition is before the judiciary, which is an altogether separate constitutional body. A former Chief Justice of India, Justice SA Bobde, while hearing a PIL for suspending the farmers' protests, had said: "We clarify that this court will not interfere with the protest in question. Indeed, the right to protest is part of a fundamental right and can, as a matter of fact, be exercised subject to public order." That the court refused to interfere with the protests when it was hearing a case about the farm protests shows that the issue of sub judice was not in the frame of the court's thought or reasoning at that time.

Secondly, the court also clarified whether the right to protest was part of a fundamental right. Thirdly, the court clarified that the reasonable restriction on that right is that it should be peaceful. Fourthly, in February 2020, in a case related to Delhi's Shaheen Bagh protests that lasted quite some time, the Supreme Court said: "...the law is facing constitutional challenge before this court but that by itself will not take away the right to protest of the persons who feel aggrieved by the legislation." That was the clearest ruling by the court on the sub judice question. It is only now that the matter has been aired by the court in the farmers' protest case. Since the court wants to frame legal questions on the issue, it is pertinent to note that questioning whether a group wanting the court to check the validity of the farm laws can simultaneously protest on the same issue will lead to the interpretation that the right to protest is mutually exclusive from the right to challenge the constitutionality of a law. While awaiting the court's indulgence, it must be pointed out that the farmers' protest is for total repeal of the laws and nothing else. That means the surest way to deal with the farmers' petition is to subject the constitutionality of the three farm laws to judicial scrutiny.

Cough, cough!

It's that time of the year again when Delhi suffocates due to smog and pollution

Dilli ki sardi is infamous; yes, for its biting cold but especially for the pollution and smog that hang heavy in the air. After what seems like a respite from the COVID-19 pandemic, the Capital might again be headed for its annual date with the much-dreaded winter spell of smog and all the accompanying ailments. According to a March 2021 report by a Swiss organisation, IQAir, Delhi happens to be the world's most polluted Capital city and the 10th most polluted city overall. Smoke from paraali (paddy stubble) burning in the NCR as well as harmful fumes and particles trapped in air only worsen the conditions. With little means to expel the toxic elements, Delhiites are forced to gasp for breath. Despite the severity of the situation, no significant progress has been made for decades. The brief implementation of the "odd-even" rule by the AAP Government, which the Supreme Court correctly tagged as a "half-baked solution", was never a practical solution in the long run. Also, the monthly efficacy report of the "first" smog tower installed in Delhi's Connaught Place area is due later this month.

In view of the prevailing situation, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal has announced a 10-point "winter action plan" to make the air "breathable" this winter. It includes decomposer for paraali as an alternative to burning, keeping a check on construction and demolition sites under the anti-dust campaign, levying a hefty fine on burning waste, ban on crackers, likely installation of more smog towers and setting up India's first e-waste park for safe recycling and disposal. The next few weeks will foretell what all these measures end up in. Meanwhile, playing his old tune, Kejriwal alleges that the Central and the Governments of the neighbouring States did not take efficient steps against stubble burning which leads to air pollution in Delhi but the question remains did he equip Delhi enough? Kejriwal's basket of promises to woo Punjab voters ahead of the Assembly polls also did not mention anything about paraali. It's a question worth pondering that if he makes successful inroads into Punjab, would he deal with the situation there as sternly? He had said that the Pusa Decomposer was a perfect foil to stubble burning and hoped that "2020 would be the last year to suffer from air pollution"; now how that works out is to be breathed!

Attestation parades: Good, bad and ugly

The parade at Happy Valley was strictly apolitical and secular. In contrast, the event at the Artillery Centre, Deolali, celebrated a single religion

ASHOK K MEHTA

In the salubrious climes of Shillong, I am attending the attestation and passing out parade of the 192nd batch of recruits and veterans' reunion in Happy Valley where 58 Gorkha Training Centre is nestled among pine conifers and gentle slopes luxuriating in grass. Rain can be a spoilsport as Cherrapunji, the world's biggest recipient of rain, is just around the corner. Luckily, the parade was blessed with sunshine as 256 recruits passed through an archway of khukris to turn into Riflemen, who will join their battalions in East Ladakh to Arunachal Pradesh and Tangdhar to Thiruvananthapuram. Young Gorkhas performed drill with Omega precision, pride and pageantry, watched over by Colonels of the two Regiments — 5 GR and 8 GR and veterans from India and Nepal. Swearing on the Gita, recruits from Nepal and India took the oath pledging allegiance to security and integrity of India by obeying orders from their officers and commanders as authorised by the President of India even if it involved sacrificing their lives. The foundational structure of the oath is the Constitution of India although the word 'Constitution' does not figure. What appears in the oath is 'vidhan' (legislation), not 'samvidhan'. Wonder why?

On commissioning, officers take the same oath at military academies. Army chief MM Naravane, on taking over, said "the Army will be guided by the Constitution", implying its insulation from ideas and vision of political parties, especially the ruling establishment. Pointed deviations from the military's ethics and ethos have occurred through directions of political leadership. This infringement of military values is markedly visible since the BJP came to power with its vision of turning India into a Hindu Rashtra with a military that follows its tenets. The BJP has won over the majority of the military which acknowledges the impressive emphasis by the BJP on defence and national security even if the Government will not walk the talk on funding for modernisation. The Congress by contrast was a laggard on defence reforms and transforming the archaic military structures.

In Shillong, the flavour at the attestation parade and associated ceremonies was strictly apolitical and secular. In the commentary accompanying the parade during the carriage of the Gita through the rank and file of recruits was this memorable passage: "We respect equally the temple, mosque and Church. In one hand is the Gita and in the other, the Quran." These words and deeds were quite the opposite of the attestation parade of recruits at the Artillery Centre, Deolali, recently. Artillery is a mixed-class all-India regiment where soldiers are drawn from all faiths.

At this parade, surprisingly, aarti was recited on the parade, with recruits and soldiers clapping in unison. On a prominent boulder on the parade ground was enshrined the symbol 'Om'. Together, aarti and 'Om' celebrate a single religion, smacking of majoritarianism. This was the first time ever that aarti was sung on an official parade, attracting adverse comments on social media.

In Shillong, too, the aarti was sung but in its proper place, the temple, representing the faith of the single class regiment of Gorkhas from India and Nepal. Owing to the shortage of Indian-domiciled Gorkhas, some regiments are now recruiting Kumaonis and Garhwals till the Indian-domiciled Gorkhas can fill up their quota of vacancies. The only deviation in Shillong from regimental traditions was the introduction of 'Bharat Mata ki jai' as the decisive chant ending all formal functions even after the national anthem.

The BJP has managed to infiltrate majoritarianism and Hindutva into the military. The Hindu-ised version of the procedure followed at the Artillery attestation parade could be a trial balloon to codify aarti in other mixed-class regiments of the Army. This must have had the backing of the military establishment. So far, neither the MoD nor Army Headquarters has commented on this serious breach of Army rules and procedures for attestation parades. It is a crafty method to influence faith and religion at the very inception of a soldier's military career and is bound to disturb the secular traditions of the Army.

The Gorkha attestation parade combines every four years the reunion of veterans and their families from India and Nepal. Reunions are a perfect stimulus for bonding between the old and new. Regimental traditions, ethics and habits are therefore preserved. Regimental spirit is the strongest elixir. While Gorkhas are relaxed about religion and many are janjatis, they practise their religion and faith in the battalion mandir. Their officers are from across India: Sikhs, Hindus, Muslims, Parsis and Gorkhas. A Sikh or Parsi Commanding Officer will lead the mandir parade every Sunday. The mandir along with the religious teacher will accompany the unit into battle.

The Artillery's attestation parade focused on Hindu religious rites in a mixed-faith unit on parade, setting a bad precedent for all-India mixed-class regiments.

While the military is on the threshold of path-breaking defence reforms, its leadership must not permit the creep of practices and procedures that will undermine its professional, secular and apolitical virtues. Politicisation will weaken the operational capacity and jointness of the Army, which is the sword arm of the nation. Discard the Deolali model; take the Shillong way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

APEX COURT QUESTIONS FARMERS

Sir — We were baffled as to why the Supreme Court made the observations on the farmers' protests that it made. With all due respect, the riposte to its poser 'What is their protest for when the farm laws are stayed?' is that it is to persuade the Government to repeal the farm laws — 'repeal' being the operative word. We need to draw a distinction between 'staying the implementation of a law' and 'repeal of a law'. And, the two words 'stay' and 'repeal' are not interchangeable.

The farmers are not okay merely with suspending the laws for 18 months or the 'delay' in implementing the laws. The 'stay' won't make the laws any better. It is erroneous to say that the laws are not in place at the moment when they are just on hold. Sadly, recently the Supreme Court accused the farmers of 'strangling' the city with their protests. In a democratic setup, people are quite within their rights to protest against the laws enacted by Parliament. The only condition that can be set is that the protest should be peaceful and non-violent. The mere fact that a matter is sub judice before a court cannot strip the people of their right to protest which the country's top court itself declared a fundamental right.

BREATHING NOT SO HEALTHY

Sir — Air pollution levels in India are alarmingly high. Though all attention is generally focused on pollution levels in Delhi and the National Capital Region (NCR) for obvious reasons, statistics have shown that most cities in India have crossed the threshold limit imposed by the World Health Organisation (WHO). Particularly the particle pollution, or the particulate matter pollution (PM), is a cause for worry. India has exceeded the WHO's standard threshold of PM<sub>2.5</sub> long ago. India is not the only country in harm's way; almost all leading countries of the world are struggling to keep their air clean. Smaller nations, too, are struggling badly. Transport sector is one of the biggest contributors of air pollution in India.

DC cashed on Dhoni's slow knock

The hit-and-run game of T20 cricket is meant for going after the bowlers. Somehow, Dhoni chose the wrong way and started defending as though he was playing a Test match. Dhoni lost his wonted form from the 2019 World Cup semi-final against New Zealand in England. Even in the IPL, he was run out at a crucial moment against Mumbai Indians a couple of years back and gave away the match on a platter. The former Indian captain has slowed down a lot and become a challenge for his own side.

In Monday's match against the Chennai Super Kings, Axar Patel and Ravichandran Ashwin of the Delhi Capitals bowled in tandem and curtailed the CSK to just 136 runs. Delhi Capitals chased the target rather slowly and dragged the match to the last over even against such a small target. Shimron Hetmyer saved the day for the DC by smashing 28 runs off 18 deliveries and earned the victory with just two balls to spare. Delhi Capitals topped the tables thanks to its balance of spin and fast bowling. In the last match against Mumbai Indians, both Shreyas Iyer and Ashwin combined well to achieve an emphatic win over the defending champions. In all, it has been smooth sailing for the Delhi Capitals in the IPL this season with 10 wins so far.

MR Jayanthi | Mumbai

However, kneejerk reactions like banning old vehicles or firecrackers for a short period will not suffice. Basic pollution levels are to be consistently tackled throughout the year. Apart from transport, industry and energy, household pollution and agricultural pollution are indeed grave to be ignored. All the State Governments should address these throughout the year. Fuel consumption has to be regulated. The consumers are driven by logistics and economy — the Central and the State Governments should address these issues and save the habitat before it's too late.

DIRTY POLITICS BEHIND NEET

Sir — Tamil Nadu CM MK Stalin is reported to have written to 12 non-BJP CMs seeking their support to fight against the National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET) for medical admissions so that the students from rural areas and marginalised sections do not find it hard to obtain admissions. The statistics released reveal that nearly 16 lakh students from Tamil Nadu have written NEET. Further, there has been no demand for the repeal of NEET from other States, including the 12 non-BJP States. Except for Tamil Nadu, there were no reports of NEET-induced deaths from other States. Even in Tamil Nadu, almost all students have reckoned with the reality of NEET, as could be seen from the number of candidates who appeared for NEET this year.

Since it is the political leaders who cry foul about the NEET and not the candidates, one cannot but adduce motives. And this assumes significance as most of the engineering and medical colleges are owned by the political leaders. The fact that the NEET mode of test will tilt the scales of admissions whereby colleges will be deprived of income from 'other sources' seems to be the sole reason for this demand for repeal from the political leaders. Therefore, the fight against NEET is politically motivated.

20 YRS OF NATIONAL REAWAKENING

Modi era: The tectonic shift in Indian politics and governance

VIJENDER GUPTA

Born poor but rising to become Prime Minister of India, Narendra Modi's life journey defines the power of Indian democracy. It was not mere chance that propelled Modi to the highest office but the consequence of years of hard work, service and sacrifices that prepared him for the long journey ahead. On October 7, he would complete 20 years as an elected head of government. The two decades of the Modi era stand out for the tectonic shift they have brought about in Indian politics and governance. As Chief Minister of Gujarat, he faced innumerable challenges but tackled them with steely determination and compassionate zeal. The first was the devastation caused by the earthquake in Gujarat. He took that as an opportunity to lay the foundation to transform Gujarat into a world-class investment destination. During his tenure as CM, Modi introduced governance reforms focused on deepening inclusion and enhancing accessibility through technology. Under the 'SWAGAT' initiative, he would interact with people once a month to resolve their issues. He would be joined by senior officers through video conferencing to ensure quick resolution of people's grievances. The programme was recognized by the UN as one of the best initiatives to enable people to reach the government through technology. After assuming prime ministership, Modi launched a multi-purpose and multi-modal platform PRAGATI (Pro-Active Governance And Timely Implementation). In each session, PM reviews the status of projects and schemes to resolve any lacunae.

As CM, he began spending three days every year in villages where literacy rates were low and encouraged people to send girls to school. The push for girl child's education was further supported by his move to build separate toilets for girls in school on a massive scale. He launched the Jyotigram Yojna to push for a complete overhaul of the power sector in Gujarat. He set the target of 1000 days for 100 per cent electrification in all villages. In 2006, Gujarat was declared the first state to achieve 100 per cent village electrification. Post 2014, PM Modi found a bigger canvas to implement his vision for social transformation, making 'Jan Andolan' an integral part of his governance model. From Swachh Bharat Mission to India's fight against Covid-19, his unique style of connecting with the masses is prevalent in all his flagship schemes and initiatives. On every front, Narendra Modi has walked the talk, both as the CM and now as the PM. From the time he took oath as the CM, he shunned politics of divisiveness and spoke of development for all. If Vibrant Gujarat Summit catapulted Gujarat as a cynosure of global investors, 'Make in India' affirmed India's position in the global supply chain. During the pandemic, India displayed its rising prowess as it expanded its manufacturing capabilities to produce and export PPE kits, N95 masks and even came to the world's rescue exporting essential medical supplies to those in need. In a post-pandemic world, global chains are being restructured and India finds itself in a sweet spot, having a government that is primarily focused on creating a conducive environment for manufacturing sector to flourish. As CM of Gujarat, Narendra Modi spent considerable amount of time in understanding the gaps within the system as well as the ground realities. He deep dived into every aspect of governance, only to bring out the most innovative, technology driven, holistic solution to overcome years of inertia that impeded progress. He put in practice more than a decade of learning as he took office at the Centre. It is his 'tapasya' of 20 years that is leading to a national reawakening to see India's rise as a global powerhouse.

Exposing Pak's role in Taliban takeover

RAKESH K SINGH

The ISI provided refugee cards to Pakistani citizens of Pashtun origin and facilitated their recruitment in the Afghan national defence forces

The swift takeover of Afghanistan by Taliban was a culmination of cunning and conspiratorial moves by Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI), outsmarting the American leadership on the one hand and planting its jihadi cohorts in the ranks of the Afghan national defence forces on the other, without an inkling of its designs to the allied forces or the Afghan government.

In 2001, when the first edition of Taliban was ousted in Afghanistan post 9/11, the US forces did not have their boots on the ground immediately. Their only option was to conduct air strikes but it needed domination on the ground to capture and control the territory. So, the US entered into an agreement with anti-Taliban groups who would capture the ground and hand it over to the American forces.

From its bases in the CIS countries, the US air force conducted airstrikes at Taliban bases situated across the territories controlled by the anti-Taiban forces. The latter would then capture and hand over these aerially attacked areas to the Americans.

The anti-Taliban forces had a pre-condition: Hand over power in Afghanistan to the military grouping once the American objectives, including killing Al Qaeda boss Osama bin Laden, were achieved.

However, the US put a rider that power cannot be shared or handed over to an armed group but can only be done in a democratic manner. The US ensured that Hamid Karzai was made President of Afghanistan in 2004.

To enter the governance mechanism put in place by the US, the armed groups formed political fronts that were headed by the insurgents. However, the US did not accept the insurgents as the leaders and put Karzai at the helm of affairs. All the insurgent groups opposed to Taliban accepted the leadership of Karzai who was from the royal lineage of Afghanistan with historical influence in the erstwhile Ottoman Empire.

For capturing Taliban-controlled territories, the anti-Taliban groups told the US that they do not have enough fighters to capture all of Afghanistan and sought recruitment to ramp up their strength. But the US could not have allowed recruitment of fighters.

At this stage, a second agreement between the US and such groups was reached for the raising of an armed force. Such insurgent groups were also allowed to join the officially raised armed forces and also recruit soldiers. The training support and weapons supplies were to come from the US.

Between 2003 and 2005, the scheme of raising the armed forces continued and a one-lakh-strong force was formed. The anti-Taliban groups then told their US partners that this number was not enough as the Taliban too had a similar number of fighters. They wanted the Afghan national armed force to be doubled.

However, every insurgent group opposing Taliban had an area of specific influence and one lakh more candidates were not available for recruitment. These groups could manage to recruit 50,000 men to join the ranks of the Afghan national defence force. This resulted in the Force's strength reaching 1.5 lakh.

THE ISI'S MOVE ENSURED FREE TRAINING AND WEAPONS TO ITS MEN DEPLOYED IN THE AFGHAN REGULAR FORCE WAITING FOR THE FINAL MESSAGE FROM THE ISI TO ACT ON ITS DESIGNS. AT LEAST 50,000 SUCH PAKISTANI MEN WERE PLANTED IN THE TALIBAN. THESE MEN WERE TRAINED IN THE US AND ALLIED COUNTRIES, INCLUDING INDIA

The Afghan government then allowed recruitment of another 50,000 men from areas other than those under the control of the insurgent groups backing the Kabul government, saying the move will boost employment. The US acquiesced.

During 2005 and 2010, the Afghanistan government held recruitment camps in the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa region of Pakistan populated by the Afghan refugees.

The idea was that the candidates from this region would have knowledge of the area and serve to contain the Taliban there. However, no background checks were made and recruitments were based on vetting by respective leaders of the various tribes they belonged to.

"In the process, the then Afghan government committed two mistakes, one being recruitment from an area in Pakistan and the other being lack of background checks of the candidates. Due to these two faults, the ISI got a breathing space for manipulation," said counter-terrorism expert and an Afghanistan watcher Ajmal Sohail.

The ISI fabricated and provided refugee cards to Pakistani citizens of Pashtun origin and facilitated their recruitment in the Afghan national defence forces. The ISI move ensured free training and weapons to its men deployed in the Afghan regular force waiting for the final message from the ISI to act on its designs. At least 50,000 such Pakistani men were planted in the Taliban. These men were trained in the US and allied countries including India where they were exposed to the military training infrastructure, Sohail further said.

To register their presence, the Pakistanis on the rolls of the Afghan army conducted drone strikes on the fellow Afghan army men which was widely known as Green Beret attacks. This continued for two-three years between 2010 and 2014. Subsequently, the American forces identified the game plan of ISI and stopped such attacks, he said.

The ISI-Pakistan army combine also launched operations against Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) that was opposed to it. This pressured the TTP cadres to flee to Afghanistan where they were targeted by the ISI's plants in the Afghan national defence forces. These 50,000 Pakistanis became influential in strategic planning.

Now, the ISI launched yet another propaganda warfare claiming that the Afghan army, being a blue-eyed boy of the international community, may attack the Pakistan army. The Pakistani propaganda gained credence and was aimed at strengthening the Taliban in the area.

The Afghan army again requested for recruitment of another one lakh personnel in its ranks for which the US agreed. By this time, the Afghan army had become both complacent and corrupt, experts said. The US provided the funding and weapons but the recruitments never took place. So, out of the three-lakh-strong Afghan army, 50,000 men were planted by the ISI and another one lakh was never recruited. Out of the remaining 1.5 lakh Afghan army, a significant number of them were compromised by ISI's men in the Afghan army ranks, they said, adding this was the reason for Afghan forces melting quickly in the face of Taliban onslaught in August.

Having created a significant threshold of strength, the Taliban launched aggression early last year before the talks for the peace deal with the US began. The direct negotiations between the US and the Taliban led the Pakistan government to declare that it will not recognize the outcome of the talks.

Subsequently, tripartite meetings between the US, Pakistan, and Taliban were held in Doha for negotiations on the contours of the troops' withdrawal. Since the US had decided to withdraw its troops from Afghanistan, it was cornered and signaled an end of India's influence in Kabul. As part of the deal with the Taliban, the US would hand over bases to whichever side between the Taliban and Afghan national army wins.

"The ISI machinations for 10-15 years ensured both weapons and resources to the Taliban besides men trained by the US and its allies in its ranks. These factors helped the Taliban in capturing territory rapidly within a matter of just 10 days as against the Pentagon estimate of Kabul falling to the Taliban in 18 months," Sohail said.

In this backdrop, calls by American lawmakers for a US Congress report on the nexus between Pakistani agencies and Taliban leading to the fall of Kabul to the hardline group is more than timely.

The 'grand old party' is now on ventilator?

The Gandhi siblings bet on the wrong horses; the result is that there is more confusion and chaos in the party

Years ago, a visionary Congress leader predicted that the ordinary party worker would save the party for their survival when they find their leaders ineffective. It looks as if that moment has come now. The party is gasping for breath, and it needs oxygen from solid leadership, but that is what is lacking. So, the worker has to substitute with small doses.

However, the idea that a party that is barely breathing can be suddenly ready to take on the ruling BJP at the next general election is almost short of a miracle. There are too many ifs and buts, but it is possible with strong leadership. What is important is also to save Congress from itself. Congressmen often say that Congress can be defeated only by congressmen.

KALYANI SHANKAR

(The writer is a senior journalist. The views expressed are personal.)

Suffering from factionalism and erosion, the Grand Old Party is now on a ventilator. It is unable to function without the Gandhi family or with them. The vacuum at the top has encouraged the regional satraps to question the national leadership. The party has not been able to raise its head since the 2014 defeat. The southern states stood with her when the Indira Gandhi-led Congress was decisively defeated in the 1977 Lok Sabha polls. Even the south has deserted the party now. Currently, the party is in power only in three states -- Chhattisgarh, Punjab and Rajasthan. It is a coalition partner in the governments of Jharkhand and Maharashtra. The brutal truth is that the party is absurdly out of touch with the new political landscape. Worse, instead of looking forward, it is looking backwards. It is trying to be everyone's party while actually, it is no one's party. Leadership crisis is also now manifest in a battle of generational change.

That brings us to the question of whether the Grand Old Party will survive with so much drama happening in the Congress-ruled states. In all three, the Gandhi siblings have encouraged rebels against incumbent chief ministers with their own favourites.

Punjab is a classic example. This was one state where the party could have won easily. Punjab chief minister Amarinder Singh has been shown the door unceremoniously, leading to instability in the state.

The doomsayers predict that the party will disappear from the political scene sooner than later. However, Congress may not die so soon. If there is a congressman in every village, even the last of them, the party will live with diminished status.

That does not mean that the party is not facing an implosion. Ironically, the threat to Congress is now from Congress rebels and not from the ruling BJP. What has added to the problems of Congress is defections and desertions by influential leaders like Jyotiraditya Scindia, Jitin Prasada, and Sushmita Dev -- all of them from Team Rahul. Rahul's judgment of men and matters has completely gone wrong. His experiments to restructure the party also have gone awry. The Gandhi siblings bet on the wrong horses; the result is there is more confusion and chaos in the party.

Given these circumstances, a revival of the Congress is going to be not smooth. But there can still be room for Congress as a national party. This would be when it can find its ideological moorings, draw inspiration from its past, move in step with the millennials, and find an acceptable narrative. For all these, good leadership is needed. Sonia Gandhi could bring the party to power twice in 2004 and 2009 but she has almost retired. The Gandhi siblings have not shown their vote-catching capacity. They want to emulate their grandmother Indira Gandhi without her leadership qualities.

The Gandhis know the problem but do not have a strategy to counter BJP. They have been told they only have to sit tight, and power will automatically come to them as there is no other alternative. The change has to come from within. The family has to consult others before making any decisions. After all, there are top policy-making bodies like the Congress Working Committee which could meet more often. Senior leaders are either dumped or fading away. Starting February next year, assembly elections will be held in 16 states over two years. Of the 16 states, BJP has a direct stake in nine and alliance governments in three. The Congress has three and TRS one. The assembly elections would set the pitch for the 2024 Lok Sabha battle. Congress is the only other horse in the race for national power, never mind how distant.

Macron wants G20 to pressure Taliban to give girls a future

AP ■ PARIS

French President Emmanuel Macron said on Tuesday he wants the Group of 20 major economic powers to set conditions for recognising the Taliban, including ensuring women's and girl's rights.

So far under the Taliban, young Afghan girls have been allowed to return to primary school but older girls have been barred from going to high school and most women have not been allowed to return to work.

Macron said on France-Inter radio that global powers should tell the Taliban: "You must absolutely give young girls in your country a future, and that is one of the things that we will look at before recognising you."

He said that allowing all girls back to school is one of his concerns.

Macron also told France-Inter radio that he would raise the issue at the upcoming G20 summit in Rome later this month. Among other conditions for recognition, he said, should be that the Taliban allow continued humanitarian operations, and condemn and refuse to cooperate with "Islamist terrorist groups" in the region.

Macron said it shouldn't be only Western powers setting such conditions, but they should also "convince regional powers, powers that don't necessarily have the same values as we do on all issues, to act together."

At a meeting on the sidelines of the U.N. General Assembly last month, G20 powers discussed sending a unified message to the Taliban before granting it global legitimacy.

Chinese military activity near Taiwan provocative & destabilising: US

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

Declaring that America's commitment to Taiwan was "rock-solid", the US has told China that it will continue to watch very closely the "provocative" and "destabilising" Chinese military activities near the self-ruled island.

Taiwan's Defence Ministry said 56 Chinese warplanes made incursions into its air defence identification zone on Monday, the highest number since the island began publicly reporting such activities last year.

China views Taiwan as a breakaway province. However, democratic Taiwan sees itself as a sovereign state. Beijing has not ruled out the possible use of force to achieve unification with Taiwan.

Responding to questions on the issue of Chinese warplanes frequently entering Taiwan's air defence zone, White House Press Secretary Jen Psaki told reporters at her daily news conference on Monday that, "We remain concerned by the People's Republic of China's provocative military activity near Taiwan, which is destabilising risk miscalculations and undermines regional peace and stability."

"We urge Beijing to cease its military, diplomatic, and economic pressure and coercion against Taiwan, and we have an abiding interest in peace and stability across the Taiwan Strait," she said.

"That's why we will continue to assist Taiwan in maintaining a sufficient self-defence capability. We maintain our commitments, as outlined in the three communiques, Taiwan Relations Act, and the Six Assurances," she said.

America's commitment to Taiwan is "rock-solid and contributes to the maintenance of peace and stability across the Taiwan Strait and within the region," Psaki said.

"We have been clear, privately and publicly, about our concern about the PRC's pressure and coercion toward Taiwan, and we will continue to watch the situation very closely," she said.

Meanwhile, State Department Spokesperson Ned Price told reporters that the US is very concerned by China's provocative military activity near Taiwan.

"This activity is destabilising. It risks miscalculations and undermines regional peace and stability. We strongly urge Beijing to cease its military, diplomatic, and economic pressure and coercion against Taiwan," he said.

"Our commitment to Taiwan is rock solid. It contributes to the maintenance of peace and stability across the Taiwan Strait and within the region, and we'll continue to stand with friends and allies to advance our shared prosperity, security, and values. We will do that as we continue to deepen our ties with Taiwan," Price said.

Some analysts say the increased military flights could be seen as a warning to Taiwan's president Tsai Ing-wen ahead of the island's National Day on October 10.

China's Ministry of Foreign Affairs responded to the US statement by criticising what it described as "irresponsible remarks."

"The relevant remarks from the United States have seriously undermined the One-China Principle," ministry spokeswoman Hua Chunying was quoted as saying in a press release on Monday night.

French report: 330,000 children victims of church sex abuse

AP ■ PARIS

A major French report released Tuesday found that an estimated 330,000 children were victims of sex abuse within France's Catholic Church over the past 70 years, in France's first major reckoning with the devastating phenomenon.

The president of the commission that issued the report, Jean-Marc Sauve, said the estimate, based on scientific research, includes abuses committed by priests and others clerics as well as by non-religious people involved in the church. He said about 80 per cent are male victims.

"The consequences are very serious," Sauve said. "About 60 per cent of men and women who were sexually abused encounter major problems in their sentimental or sexual life."

The 2,500-page document prepared by an independent commission comes as the Catholic Church in France, like in other countries, seeks to face up to shameful secrets that were long covered up.

The report says an estimated 3,000 child abusers — two-thirds of them priests — worked in the church during that period. Sauve said the overall figure of victims includes an estimated 216,000 people abused by priests and other clerics.

Olivier Savignac, head of victims association "Parler et Revivre" (Speak out and Live again), who contributed to the probe, told The Associated Press that the high ratio of victims per abuser is particularly "terrifying for French society, for the Catholic Church." The commission worked for 2 1/2 years, listening to victims and witnesses and studying church, court, police and press archives starting from the 1950s. A hotline launched at the beginning of the probe received 6,500 calls from alleged victims or people who said they knew a victim.

Sauve denounced the church's attitude until the beginning of the 2000s as "a deep, cruel indifference toward victims." They were "not believed or not heard" and sometimes suspected of being "in part responsible" for what happened, he deplored.

Russian film crew blasts off to make 1st movie in space

AP ■ MOSCOW

A Russian actor and a film director rocketed to space Tuesday on a mission to make the world's first movie in orbit, a project the Kremlin said will help burnish the nation's space glory.

Actor Yulia Peresild and director Klim Shipenko blasted off for the International Space Station in a Russian Soyuz spacecraft together with cosmonaut Anton Shkaplerov, a veteran of three space missions. Their Soyuz MS-19 lifted off as scheduled at 1:55 p.m. (0855 GMT) from the Russian space launch facility in Baikonur, Kazakhstan and arrived at the station after about 3½ hours.

Shkaplerov took manual controls to smoothly dock the spacecraft at the space outpost after a glitch in an automatic docking system.

The trio reported they were feeling fine and spacecraft systems were functioning normally. Peresild and Klimenko are to film segments of a new movie titled "Challenge," in which a surgeon played by Peresild rushes to the space station to save a crew member who suffers a heart condition.

UK urged to tackle 'dirty money' after leaked Pandora papers

London: Britain's Conservative Government is facing calls to tighten the country's defenses against "dirty money" after a massive leak of offshore data showed how London, in particular, is the destination of choice for some of the world's richest and most powerful people to conceal their cash.

The cache of almost 12 million files, which has been dubbed the "Pandora Papers," was published Sunday by the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists and its media partners, including Britain's Guardian newspaper and the BBC.

The U.K. and London specifically are prominent in the data dump, with the documents showing how wealthy people around the world reportedly set up offshore companies to buy property and avoid taxes.

Foreign individuals identified as beneficiaries of these types of offshore accounts in London include Jordanian King Abdullah II, Azerbaijan's President Ilham Aliyev and associates of Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan. Abdullah has denied any impropriety and Khan tweeted that his government would investigate anyone mentioned and take appropriate action if wrongdoing is found. Aliyev hasn't commented.

Though the purchases are legal under British law, the latest revelations highlight the complicated — and often anonymous — financial practices wealthy individuals use to avoid tax, far removed from the everyday experience of most of the British population. AP

Biden lifts abortion referral ban on family planning clinics

Washington: The Biden administration on Monday reversed a ban on abortion referrals by family planning clinics, lifting a Trump-era restriction as political and legal battles over abortion grow sharper from Texas to the US Supreme Court.

The Department of Health and Human Services said its new regulation will restore the federal family planning program to the way it ran under the Obama administration, when clinics were able to refer women seeking abortions to a provider. The goal is to "strengthen and restore" services, said HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra.

Groups representing the clinics said they hope the Biden administration action will lead some 1,300 local facilities that left in protest over Trump's policies to return, helping to stabilise a longstanding program shaken by the coronavirus pandemic on top of ideological battles.

"I have heard that almost everywhere in the country people have made the decision that conditions will be good for them to return to the program," Clare Coleman, president of the umbrella group National Family Planning and Reproductive Health Association, said in an interview.

"My sense is that people have been waiting for the rule,"

Planned Parenthood, the biggest service provider, said on Twitter its health centres look forward to returning. But the group criticised part of the Biden administration rule that allows individual clinicians who object to abortion not to provide referrals. AP

Blinken meets Macron as US seeks to heal rift with France

AP ■ PARIS

French President Emmanuel Macron and U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken met Tuesday to explore potential cooperation in the Indo-Pacific and other areas as the Biden administration moved to repair damage caused to relations by excluding France from a new security initiative.

A senior U.S. State Department official said the two discussed possible joint projects that could be announced by Macron and President Joe Biden when they meet later this month in Europe at a date and specific venue that has yet to be decided.

The official didn't elaborate on what those projects might be, but said they would likely involve the Indo-Pacific and Western efforts to blunt China's growing there and elsewhere, NATO and other trans-Atlantic objectives involving the European Union, and counterterrorism cooperation in Africa's Sahel region.

The official said Macron and Blinken had agreed to use the spat as an opportunity to "deepen and strengthen coordination" and characterized the talks as "very productive," while allowing that "a lot of hard work remains ahead."

The official spoke to reporters on condition of anonymity to discuss the closed-door talks between Macron and Blinken at the Elysee Palace that hadn't appeared on Blinken's official schedule for the day.

2,700-year-old toilet found in Jerusalem was a rare luxury

JERUSALEM: Israeli archaeologists have found a rare ancient toilet in Jerusalem dating back more than 2,700 years, when private bathrooms were a luxury in the holy city, authorities said Tuesday.

The Israeli Antiquities Authority said the smooth, carved limestone toilet was found in a rectangular cabin that was part of a sprawling mansion overlooking what is now the Old City. It was designed for comfortable sitting, with a deep septic tank dug underneath.

"A private toilet cubicle was very rare in antiquity, and only a few were found to date," said Yaakov Billig, the director of the excavation.

"Only the rich could afford toilets," he said, adding that a famed rabbi once suggested that to be wealthy is "to have a toilet next to his table."

Animal bones and pottery found in the septic tank could shed light on the lifestyle and diet of people living at that time, as well as ancient diseases, the antiquities authority said.

The archaeologists found stone capitals and columns from the era, and said there was evidence of a nearby garden with orchards and aquatic plants — more evidence that those living there were quite wealthy. AP

Moody's upgrades India's outlook to stable

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

International ratings agency Moody's on Tuesday upgraded India's rating outlook to 'stable' from 'negative', saying a recovery is underway in Asia's third-largest economy and growth this fiscal will surpass the pre-pandemic rate.

Moody's Investors Service however kept India's sovereign rating at 'Baa3' - which is the lowest investment grade, just a notch above junk status. The change in the rating outlook to 'stable' from 'negative', which was assigned in November 2019, reflected receding downside risks to the economy and financial system.

"An economic recovery is underway with activity picking up and broadening across sectors," Moody's said.

Following a deep contraction of 7.3 per cent in fiscal 2020 (ended March 2021), Moody's expects India's real GDP to surpass 2019 levels this fiscal year (April 2021 to March 2022), rebounding to a growth rate of 9.3 per cent, followed by 7.9 per cent in the next financial year. "Downside risks to growth from subsequent coronavirus infection waves are mitigated by rising vaccination rates and more selective use of restrictions on economic activity, as seen during the second wave," it noted.

The US-based rating firm had in 2020 lowered India's rating from 'Baa2' with a 'negative' outlook, saying there would be challenges in policy implementation amid low growth and deteriorating fiscal position. In a statement on Tuesday, Moody's said "the decision to change the outlook to stable reflects Moody's view that the downside risks from negative feedback between the real economy and financial system are receding."

With higher capital cushions and greater liquidity, banks and non-bank financial institutions pose much lesser risk to the sovereign than Moody's previously anticipated.

"And while risks stemming from a high debt burden and weak debt affordability remain, Moody's expects that the economic environment will allow for a gradual reduction of the general government fiscal deficit over the next few years, preventing further deterioration of the sovereign credit profile," it added.

It further said that solvency in the financial system has strengthened, improving credit conditions which Moody's expects to be sustained as policy settings normalise.

In addition, banks have strengthened their capital positions, pointing to a stronger outlook for credit growth to support the economy.

Looking ahead, Moody's expects real GDP growth to average around 6 per cent over the medium term, reflecting a rebound in activity as conditions normalise.

Govt mulling to broaden PLI scheme to attract gaming device makers: Meity official

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The government is looking to widen the production-linked incentive scheme and provide other possible incentives to attract gaming device manufacturers, a senior IT and electronics ministry official said Tuesday.

Ministry of Electronics and IT joint secretary Saurabh Gaur in an online IMAI roundtable discussion said steps are also being taken with the support of the information and broadcasting ministry and culture ministry to promote the gaming ecosystem in the country.

"Gaming consoles are very popular elsewhere. Tablets and laptops are other sources. We will see the emergence of gaming consoles.

We would want to promote manufacturing of these consoles in India also through incentives schemes and also through certain other specific measures - especially tariff or non-tariff," he said.

According to an IMAI-

Redseer report released at the virtual meeting, mobile gaming dominates the Indian gaming sector, contributing more than 90 per cent to the USD 1.6 billion gaming market at present and is expected to further grow to generate USD 3.9 billion value by 2025.

Venture capitalists and private equity investors have recognised the Indian gaming market and have invested USD 1 billion in the last six months.

The report through various data sources estimates that there are around 400 million gamers in India of which 230 million are estimated to be hardcore gamers. Gaur said gaming device manufacturing fits well within the electronics manufacturing ecosystem and Indian can meet the global needs with the complete ecosystem developing in the country.

"Lot of gaming is going to be immersive in nature. AR/VR content is going to increase. A lot of innovation is happening in that system.

Outlook for Indian road logistics sector remains stable: ICRA

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

ICRA Ratings on Tuesday said the outlook for the Indian road logistics sector continues to remain stable, supported by improved economic recovery in September quarter, increased pace of vaccination and decline in fresh Covid-19 cases from June onwards.

Improved economic activities in second quarter of the ongoing fiscal year will spur growth momentum for the road logistics sector in the second half of the year, ICRA said.

The sector witnessed moderation in freight volumes sequentially across different segments (road, rail and sea) in June quarter as the resurgence of Covid-19 cases by the end of 2020-21 stalled the economic recovery that was visible across most sectors during the second half of 2020-21, ICRA said in a statement.

Given the impact of the second wave on most end-user industries, freight movement was affected.

gards, slipping up to 1.36 per cent. The market breadth was in favour of the bulls, with 20 of the 30 index components closing in the green.

GST systems to periodically check monthly return filing compliance for e-way bill blocking

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

GST systems will periodically check status of monthly returns filed and taxes paid by businesses since August and block generation of e-way bill in case of non-compliance, GSTN has said. GST Network, the company that handles the technology backbone for goods and services tax, said the blocking of the electronic way bill generation facility has now resumed on the e-way bill portal for all the taxpayers.

"Going forward, from the tax period August 2021 onwards, the system will periodically check the status of returns filed in form GSTR-3B or the statements filed in Form GST CMP-08 as per the regular procedure followed before pandemic, and block the generation of EWBs (e-way bill) as per rule," it said. Last year, the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) had suspended the blocking of electronic way (e-way) bill generation for non-filers to give them compliance relief during the Covid-19 pandemic.

In August this year, GSTN in advisory to taxpayers had said that the government has decided to resume the blocking of e-way bill generation facility on the EWB portal, for all the taxpayers from August 15 onwards.

Connect kids with Nature

Smartphones, laptops, tablets, personal computers, video games and so on, our life is surrounded by technology and our children are using it everywhere be it at home or at school. Kids today spend most of their time in front of the screens, surfing on the net or playing games online. The rising real estate prices have resulted in most of the families preferring to live in apartments or floors. These generally have no green area for the family to dwell in. The children can only access the community parks and public green areas for any outdoor activities. With the ongoing pandemic, families including kids are generally confined in their homes with the majority of them having no direct access to nature. Consequently their senses narrow, both physiologically and psychologically. Kids not wanting to spend time outdoors has raised concerns and panic and this crisis has been referred to as "Nature deficit disorder." Children having this disorder have behavioural problems, parental fear, have a weak bond with the parents as they spend very less time with them, have health problems like obesity and eyesight issues. Uncontrolled browsing online by kids can be harmful for their development as they are exposed to contents they are not matured enough to understand like pornography etc. Besides, overuse of these devices adversely affects the quantity and quality of sleep of the child. It is observed that in later ages 20 per cent have a higher risk of anxiety disorder and 40% face mood disorders. Going outdoors is highly beneficial for kids. Studies show that spending time with nature and in the green makes kids happier, attentive, less anxious, and they tend to be smarter than kids who stay indoors.

Pros:

Boosts Confidence

Playing indoors reduces confidence as the kids are not open to the outside life. Letting your kids to move freely in nature will put them in situations to interact with outdoor environments. These movements may happen anywhere, in a park, in one's backyard or anywhere nearby. It allows the kid to choose his environment and spot for interaction helping him or her to become more confident.

♦ Stimulates Creativity and Imagination

As outdoor settings help the kids to move freely, they get to interact with different means of nature allowing them to think, branch out and interpret in their own way. This helps in the development of their creativity and imagination. It allows the kids to see the world in their own new perspective.

Nature is an open-ended learning laboratory and kids whenever they are out in the greens, they become scientists who love to experience the sights, fragrance, sounds, and textures of the outdoors. They watch the leaves falling from the trees, earthworms wriggle through the soil, birds chirping, play with soil, build mud houses, plant seeds, click pictures of trees and Though today's generation is engaged overtime with technology, it is important for parents to indulge their kids in outdoor environments. It is not only beneficial for their health but also plays a vital role in their overall development.

Interacting with nature allows children to learn by doing and experimenting with ideas. Amidst nature, children think, question, and interpret, subsequently helping develop analytical minds in them.

Builds sense of Responsibility

As parents we should happily allow the kids to be with nature. Nature has a lot to teach. For example, when kids plant a sapling they soon realise that if they don't water the plant it will die. This sense of responsibility of taking care of the plant and subsequently watching it grow, makes them think and use it in other ways of life.

Health benefits

Nature is healing in itself. The fresh air when outside amidst nature is so uplifting not only for physical health but for the soul too. An active physical activity helps burn more calories and helps build strong and fit bodies. Exposure to sunlight means children absorb vitamin D which has many positive benefits, including having a strong immune system. When outdoors, children can run, jump, hop, skip, climb, roll, and shout, which relaxes, and reduces tension, anxiety, and restlessness.

Environment Awareness

Contact with nature is a crucial part of sustainability education in early childhood. This helps children develop an appreciation for the Earth and all its inhabitants. In order to raise future adults who are passionate about protecting the environment and preserving our planet, they must first develop a deep love for it. The only way to enable children to grow comfortable in nature is to open the door and let them out to explore the awe of the green natural world.

Parents need to help their child to reconnect with nature, indulge in a nature walk, or merely watch the greens through the windows as every bit helps.

Poems for young adults

The modern publishing industry is full of iconic writers who are engineers. The last two decades have seen many techies churning out Young Adult fiction and transforming the reading culture in the country. Ashwini Rath, the writer of Rising Petals, is one such techies who have entered the literary world. But going off the trend, he didn't write much famous chick-lit romantic fiction instead he started his writing career with a poetry book.

The poet's note gives insight into his mind and what propelled him to write this work. He talks about the anxiety of individuals and society as a whole with the overwhelming transformation of the world, engulfed by regressive thoughts and oppression of various forms. Reading his poems further with his note in mind gives almost a sufi zest to the experience.

Rath writes in a free-style Haiku or Senryu format - short poetry about nature and human foibles - sans its technicalities, leaving the readers with food for thought.

The poems don't specifically talk about a single event but convey an emotion that makes the reader attach it or relate it to their own personal experiences, hence making his work have a unique impact on every reader.

Many of the poems in this edition can be interpreted as having political connotations if seen from a critical lens.

However, he has shied away from being explicit on his thoughts about globalisation, nationalism, religious dogma, capitalism and more and has used abstract poetry to guard himself - saying something about those issues and not saying it simultaneously.

It will be rewarding to find him being bolder in his upcoming works with his thoughts not curtailed by poetry but coming out more unapologetically - provided that they meant to.

Outside of the literary world, he is a tech-entrepreneur active in the Information Technology industry. His other published work is an academic book, Cloud Computing - Facing the Reality.

Neesham, Coulter-Nile blow away Royals

PTI ■ SHARJAH

Jimmy Neesham and Nathan Coulter-Nile bowled exceptionally well to keep Mumbai Indians alive and kicking as they outclassed Rajasthan Royals by eight wickets in a low-scoring Indian Premier League match, here on Tuesday.

New Zealander Neesham (3/12) and Aussie Coulter-Nile (4/14) snapped seven wickets for only 26 runs in eight overs between them to choke Rajasthan for a meagre 90 for 9. The five-time champions then knocked off the runs in 8.2 overs to go up to 12 points and more importantly improve their net run-rate to -0.048. This was also the biggest victory for MI in terms of balls left (70).

Ishan Kishan (50 not out) got some much-needed confidence during the short chase as MI knocked Royals out of IPL from the league stage itself yet again as they flattered to deceive.

The Royals did not have many quality Indian players except Yashasvi Jaiswal. Kishan, who has endured wretched form during the better part of the UAE leg, hit five fours and three sixes. Fittingly, he finished it with a maximum.

MI will now meet Sunrisers Hyderabad on Friday, another must-win game but they would also want Kolkata Knight Riders (12 points, NRR +0.294) to lose their last match against Royals on Thursday.

In case KKR win and move up to 14 points, MI on the last day would know how much they require to get past Shah Rukh Khan-owned team's net run-rate.

On the day, Neesham and Coulter-Nile hit the ideal length on a tacky strip as they choked Royals to the lowest T20 total by any team batting first at Sharjah.

Rohit Sharma was spot-on in deciding to bowl first and Neesham (3/12), playing his first game of the UAE leg, took the pace off his deliveries on a Sharjah track where the ball wasn't coming onto the bat.

Coulter-Nile (4-0-14-4) was equally effective with his change-ups and hitting the hard-lengths more often than not en route one of his best IPL spells. Neesham and Coulter-Nile cumulatively gave away only 26 runs between them in eight overs and also got a whopping seven wickets, which threw Royals out of contest.

Jasprit Bumrah (2/14) was menacing as ever with crucial wickets as it was one of MI's closest to perfect bowling performance.

Royals were blown away in a space of four overs as they slumped from 41 for 1 in the last over of Powerplay to 50 for 5 by the time the first 10 was about to end. There was no looking back for MI from that position.

The in-form Sanju Samson (3) tried to slash hard without reaching to the pitch of the delivery as Jayant Yadav at point took a diving catch. ## Sam Curran ruled out of T20 World Cup

PTI ■ LONDON

All-rounder Sam Curran has been ruled out of the ICC T20 World Cup with a lower back injury, which he sustained during an Indian Premier League game for Chennai Super Kings, the England & Wales Cricket Board said on Tuesday.

He will fly back to the UK in the next couple of days and will have further scans and a full review later this week by the ECB's medical team.

"Curran complained of back pain after Chennai Super Kings Indian Premier League fixture on Saturday against Rajasthan Royals," the ECB stated.

DINESH KARTHIK TO LEAD TN IN MUSHTAQ ALI TROPHY

Chennai: Dinesh Karthik will lead the Tamil Nadu team in the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy T20 tournament to be played in Lucknow. The team picked by the State Senior Selection Committee of the Tamil Nadu Cricket Association features a few players who shone in the recent TNPL like B Sai Sudharshan and P Saravana

Kumar. Out of favour India all-rounder Vijay Shankar has been named Dinesh Karthik's deputy in the squad, which also includes left-arm pacer T Natarajan, who has not featured in the second phase of the IPL in the UAE after he tested positive for Covid-19, and all-rounder MS Washington Sundar, who is recovering from an injury.

Hockey India withdraws from 2022

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India on Tuesday pulled out of next year's Birmingham Commonwealth Games' hockey competition, citing COVID-19 concerns and UK's discriminatory quarantine rules for travellers from the country, a day after England's withdrawal from the junior men's World Cup in Bhubaneswar over similar reasons.

Hockey India President Gyanandro Ningombam communicated the federation's decision to Indian Olympic Association (IOA) President Narinder Batra in a letter.

Hockey India reasoned that there is only a 32-day window available between the Birmingham Games (July 28-August 8) and the Hangzhou Asian Games (September 10-25). HI said it can't risk sending its players to the UK, which has been one of the worst affected by the coronavirus pandemic. "You will appreciate that the Asian games is the Continental qualification event for the 2024 Paris Olympic Games and keeping the priority of the Asian Games in mind, Hockey India can not risk any members of the Indian teams contracting COVID-19 during the Commonwealth Games," Ningombam wrote.

"Therefore, Hockey India will not be sending its men and women teams to Commonwealth Games 2022 and are informing you in advance to kindly notify the Organisers to identify reserve teams." The possibility of this withdrawal arose a few weeks back when the IOA President said that HI had indicated to him that it was more keen on players being in top form for the Asian Games which is a qualifier for the 2024 Paris Olympics. Sources in the sports ministry had stated that efforts would be made to persuade HI to send second-string teams instead of pulling out altogether. The UK recently refused to recognise India's COVID-19 vaccination certificates and imposed a 10-day hard quarantine on travellers from the country even if they were fully vaccinated.

The discrimination was prominently mentioned in Ningombam's letter to the IOA President, who has issued instructions for co-ordination with the sport's world governing body FIH for the details of the reserve teams.

Batra heads the FIH as well.

Chess Champion Carlsen adds one more feather to his cap

PRAVIN THIPSAY

World Chess Champion and World No 1 Magnus Carlsen added one more feather to his cap when he won the two-week Meltwater Champions Chess Tour that ended on October 4.

The Tour was organised in various legs and leagues with accumulation of cumulative points on the basis of performance in each part of it. The tour gave exposure to several talented youngsters to match their wits against the topmost legends from the International Chess.

Wesley So of the USA created a flutter by defeating Mangus Carlsen on some occasions but the latter still topped the score board from the start till the end.

Here is an interesting game from the tour ( Carlsen M vs Vachier Lagrave.

1.e4 c5 2.Nf3 d6 3.d4 cxd4 4.Nxd4 Nf6 5.Nc3 Nc6 6.h3 e5 7.Nxc6!?

[Carlsen tries a "Patzer's idea" as Fischer would call it. In fact, Fischer often did the same!] This this capture isn't in keeping with principles of modern Chess as it strengthens Black centre and allows back the 'd5' square. Such a capture can be justified positionally only if White can break the Black's central pawn mass with f2-f4, before Black is able to get d6-d5. Let's see how the games progresses now.]

7...bxc6 8.Bc4 [White 'd5' wants to keep ...d6-d5 under check.] [8.f4!? looks like a strategic follow up but the complications starting with 8...Be7! 9.fxe5 Nd7! 10.Qg4 Nxex5 could expose the serious weaknesses in White's camp.] 8...Be7 9.0-0 0-0 10.b3

[10.f4 looks like the established strategic way of playing against Black's Central Pawn mass, but Carlsen's moves and plans always remain a mystery to the Chess world. 10...Qb6+ 11.Kh1 exf4 12.Bxf4 Qxb2 13.Qd3 Qb4 14.e5 could have been a logical follow-up of 10.f4.] 10...Nd7 11.Na4 Nf6 12.Nc3 Nd7 [Black is offering a draw indirectly.] 13.Ba3!? [13.f4 or; 13.Bb2 looked more obvious.] 13...Nb6! 14.Bd3 d5 [looks good but the Soviet school might have preferred] [14...f5!] 15.Bxe7 Qxe7

[The opening hasn't been a success for the world champion. Black seems to have all the trumps.] 16.Re1?! d4 17.Nb1 c5 18.Nd2 Be6 19.Qe2 f6? [An unnecessary 'safeguarding' move which loses time. Black had two better and very interesting options.] [19...a5! In style of Capablanca or Reti, or even; 19...Rfc8 intending an eventual ...c5-c4 sacrifice.] 20.Rec1 Rac8 [20...a5! was still called for.

The wise lessons of Masters in the past shouldn't be disregarded. Unfortunately, Black follows the modern trend of discarding the old strategy as 'out of fashion', only to find himself in trouble very soon.] 21.c3 Qf7?! [Black is on the wrong track, he fails to sense that opening of 'c' file is likely to change the path of the game from static to dynamic.] 22.Rc2!

a5 [Too late and also after placing the wrong Rook at 'c8'.] [22...c4? fails to the following pretty variation. 23.bxc4 Nxc4? 24.cxd4 Nxex2 25.d5! Rxc2 26.Bxc2 Bxd5? 27.exd5 Qxd5 28.Rd1 Rdx2 29.Bb3!] 23.Rac1 a4 24.cxd4 axb3 25.Nxb3! [This unexpected recapture must have come as a surprise as Black now fails to judge the tactical element in the position.] 25...cxd4?? [This 'Positional' move meets with a stunning and unbelievable refutation.

Over a hundred years ago, German Grandmaster Richard Teichmann opined "Chess is 99% tactics" and the Chess playing engines seem to support it. The world seems to be getting back to Paul Morphy's 'Golden era of Chess.']. [25...c4! would have maintained equilibrium.] 26.Nc5! Rc7 [26...Bd7 wouldn't have halted White's offensive. For example, 27.a4! Kh8 (27...Rxc5?! 28.Rxc5 Nxa4 29.Rc7 winning more material.) 28.a5 Na8 29.Nxd7 Qxd7 30.a6 h6 31.Rb1 Rb8 32.Rcb2 with fatal penetration at 'b7'.] 27.Nxe6! [White has a 'Bad' Bishop, Black has a 'Powerful' 'Protected Passed Pawn'. What more could you want? But Carlsen proves all strategic concepts wrong as now it is the initiative which decides the outcome!] 27...Rxc2 28.Qxc2 [This wins very convincingly but surprisingly World Champion misses the simple] [28.Bxc2! Rc8! 29.Rb1 Qxe6 30.Bb3 Rc4 (30...Nc4 31.Rc1) 31.a4!] 28...Qxe6

[The position seems to be fine for Black except the position of the misplaced Knight. Had the Knight been on 'c3', Black might have been better here. But Znesko-Borovsky's "Knights need Pawn-support" becomes the deciding factor now.] 29.a4 Ra8?! XabcDEFGHY 8r++-+k+! 7+-+--zpp+ 6-sn+qzp+-& 5+-+--zp+-% 4P++zpp+-+ $ 3+-+L+-+P# 2-+Q+-zPP+ 1+-+tR+-+mK-! xabcdefghy [29...Rc8 30.Qb2 Rxc1+ 31.Qxc1 Qc8 32.Qb1 Qc3 33.Qb5 h6 34.Bf1 would have been a lesser evil but that, too,wouldn't have changed the outcome.] 30.a5! Rxa5 31.Qc7! [The finale takes place in style of Paul Morphy, unexpected and elegant! Black can't save the unsupported Knight.] 31...h5 [31...Ra8 32.Rc6 Rc8 (32...Qb3 33.Rxb6 Qxd3 34.Rb7 is similar to the game.) 33.Rxe6 Rxc7 34.Rxb6] 32.Rc6 Qb3 33.Rxb6! [White doesn't even halt to retreat the Bishop.] 33...Ra1+ 34.Kh2 Qxd3 35.Rb7-1-0

[The game emphasises on the importance of the concept of 'safety of King' which is wrongly considered 'out of fashion' by some 'modern' players. Carlsen's "Tactical judgement" reigns supreme as it clearly prevailed over his 'anti-positional' play such as permitting protected passed pawn to opponent, using Bishop as a blockader and surrendering central superiority to his opponent. A remarkable game indeed!]

season, tried to pull a short ball that came late and took the edge into keeper's hands.

Neesham's induction in place of Krunal Pandya, who has been a regular feature for a good five years now, proved to be a master-stroke as he didn't give enough pace to manoeuvre and also bowled wicket-to wicket, not experimenting much.

Evin Lewis (24 off 19 balls) once again started in rollicking fashion but the course of Royals innings was changed when talented Yashasvi Jaiswal (12) failed to ride the bounce off a Coulter-Nile delivery to be caught behind.

Once Bumrah got rid of Lewis with an angular delivery, rest of the Royals batters fell like a pack of cards.
