Amid continued tension at the border in Ladakh in the west, China has stepped up its military presence in the east, including Arunachal Pradesh. It has also built infrastructure close to the Line of Actual Control (LAC) besides enhancing the intensity of its military drills.

Not willing to take any chances, India has taken adequate measures and correspondingly firmed up contingency plans to deal with any threat in that sector, Eastern Command chief Lt General Manoj Pande said on Tuesday.

Giving a sense of the situation in the sensitive eastern sector, Pande said the Chinese army has stepped its annual training exercises in their depth Moreover, additional troops deployed by China in the east after the Ladakh stand off last year remain there, he

The Eastern Command chief also noted China is setting up dwelling units or hamlets close to the hamlet and said the "dual-use" of these villages was a matter of concern.

Given the increased

Chinese activities on its side of the LAC, the Indian Army has increased surveillance along the border using satellites, long-range unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV) and other hitech intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance (ISR) systems, Pande said.

The Eastern Command chief also said the focus is on honing the surveillance capabilities using niche technologies, including modern aerial platforms, a superior network of radars, hi-tech night vision systems, and modern commu-

PANCHES TO STRENGTHEN DEMOCRACY

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi on Tuesday emphasized the need to empower the villages' elected representatives Sarpanches and Panches — to strengthen democracy at the grassroots level.

Calling upon the elected representatives in the villages to accelerate the pace of development works, the Chief Minister made it clear, "You arrange the labour force and the onus of arranging finances is with me." At the same time, the Chief form clubs in the villages in the name of Shaheed-e-Azam Bhagat Singh so as to undertake youth-centric initiatives.

The Chief Minister, carrying forward his agenda of rural transformation in order to ensure overall development of villages, on Tuesday visited various villages of Chamkaur Sahib constituency for the sec-ond day in a row and distrib-uted cheques worth Rs 27 crore for the development works in the 63 villages of Morinda

Channi, addressing the gatherings at Datarpur, Kalaran, Sarhana, Lutheri, Arnauli, Kainauri, Dhanauri and Dhangrali villages, said that the ponds located in all villages of the constituency would be developed based on the Thapar model. "Walking these ponds. The water from the ponds would be used for irrigation in the fields," he Underscoring the need to impart quality education to the children of the State as Punjab Government's top priority, Channi said that special 'Science and Medical Blocks' would be set up in all High and Senior Secondary Schools of the constituency. "Punjabi is our mother tongue; and under no circumstances, it will be neglected," he added.

The Chief Minister announced that the development works related to the widening of all the link roads, construction of streets, drains, sewage system, community centres, renovation of cremation grounds, SC Dharamshalas, sprucing up the dispensaries, opening of gyms in villages, cleanliness of ponds, upgradation of Schools and colleges would be undertaken with a missionary zeal.

The Chief Minister also announced plans to construct a 100 bedded hospital at Sri Chamkaur Sahib, and the work for this state of the art hospital has already commenced.

Underlining the need for world class healthcare facilities, the Chief Minister informed that the proposal to set up a world class Trauma Center at Morinda has been accepted and the construction work would be started soon.

The Chief Minister further divulged that the buildings of all the veterinary hospitals in the constituency would be upgraded and availability of doctors would be ensured.

BSF'S EXTENDED JURISDICTION

Punjab urges Centre to immediately withdraw decision to save land locked States from investors' migration

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Standing at the front against the Union Government's decision to extend BSF jurisdiction in Punjab, the state's Technical Education and Industrial Training Minister Rana Gurjeet Singh on Tuesday said that the border state has been ignored while granting special package of incentives to neighbouring states like Himachal Pradesh for capital investment subsidy; and now, the extension of BSF Jurisdiction from 15 km to 50 km is yet another jolt to

"It has created a panic and a sense of insecurity in investors. How will the investor go to the 25,000 square km border belt (out of a total of 50,000) which is under the jurisdiction of the Security Force," Rana Gurjeet asked, adding that even the adjoining industrial units of homegrown industries would consider shifting to safer places. Lashing out at the Modi Government for step-motherly treatment with the agrarian state, Rana Gurjeet said: "On the other side, jurisdiction has been cut short by 20 km in five northeastern states of Manipur, Mizoram, Tripura, Nagaland, and Meghalaya where it has had jurisdiction

"In Gujarat, it has been curtailed from 80 to 50 kms. There should be a level playground and such imbalance would even hit trade, commerce, and industry in the land-locked states, besides creating tiffs between the Central and State agencies," he added.

Rana Gurjeet argued that Punjab has already lost its economic face due to saturated yields of wheat and rice, while no breakthrough in the diversification of crops, food processing for value addition, horticulture, and forestry is taking place.

"Continuously depleting water table will make us a desert state. Agriculture sector of Punjab needs to be strengthened. Punjab is a major producer of Basmati Rice and quality vegetables. It is the need of the hour that export of the Basmati Rice should be allowed from this zone and vegetable processing units established so as to enable the farmers to make their produce profitably viable," he stressed The Minister said that the agriculture sector, especially in the border area, is already under stress, and the extension of the BSF jurisdiction will further add to their difficulties.

"There is a dire need to reconsider the jurisdiction issue in concurrence with the State and grant special incentives at par with the North Eastern States," he said.

He added that the first step in this direction would be to constitute a 'Western Border States Advisory Council;, having Chief Ministers or Governor of the states as members under the chairmanship of Union Home Minister on the pattern of North East Council to deliberate the issue of creating of a dedicated Corpus Fund pooled through a mandatory contribution from all the Union Ministries in the Union

The Minister assured that he would request Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi to convene a one-day session of the Vidhan Sabha to pass a resolution and to take up the matter with the Union Government to reconsider the BSF jurisdiction extension and lead a delegation of all the stakeholders for a meeting with Prime Minister of India.

Mapping for new stadiums to be done as per needs of sports talent in the State, says Haryana CM

Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar on Tuesday said that mapping would be done for new stadiums and sports talent would be groomed region wise as per their choice of sport in the State.

"India is one of the youngest countries in the world, considering which, the State Government is making every possible effort to work to inspire about 75 lakh youths in the age group of 18 to 35 in Haryana," the Chief Minister said while interacting with the representatives of BJP Sports Cell, who came to meet him at his residence here.

NIA likely to take over Kashmir Hindu migrant labourers' killings probe

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) is likely to take over probes into the recent killings of Hindu migrant labourers and minority school teachers as also a local non-Muslim businessman in Kashmir Valley to unravel the possible larger conspiracy by Pakistan-sponsored Islamist terror groups.

Discussions are underway in the Union Home Ministry to entrust the four cases of recent civilian killings in Srinagar including the broad daylight murder of Kashmiri Pandit and pharma dealer ML Bindroo, street vendor Virendra Paswan of Bihar, and school teachers Supinder Kaur and Deepak Chand besides two more migrant labourers killed in

The NIA is mandated to probe terror crimes of inter-State or international ramifications and the recent of killings in the Valley are being assessed by the Intelligence community as a reoriented terror tactic of the masterminds in Pakistan's Inter-

Services Intelligence (ISI) and its terror cohorts like the Lashkar-e-Tayabba and Jaishe-Mohammad among others. The NIA is already investigating a number of terrorrelated cases in the Valley as also the drone attack at the Jammu airbase. The frequency and the pattern of the terror hits on minorities and migrant labourers is part of a modulated shift in the ever-evolving terror tactics by Pakistan and the NIA probe would help unravel the grand conspiracy behind such targeted killings, sources

The recent surge in the targeted killings in the Valley was thoroughly discussed in the National Security Strategy Conference held here on Monday.

The Conference chaired by Union Home Minister Amit

He said, there is a need to put these invaluable genetic resources to use for the economic growth of the region in particular and to the nation in general, through biotechnological interventions. He was speaking after his visit to the Institute of Bio-resources and Sustainable Development (IBSD), Imphal.

In fact, the Government has already started taking initiative in this direction by supporting various projects on a pilot basis. Recently, strawberry cultivation with sustainable agro-technological interven-tions using high-quality plant-ing material in farmers' fields in Meghalaya was demonstrated jointly at Bio-Resources Development Centre, Shillong and Institute of Horticulture Technology, Mandira, Assam. Similarly, about 50 tissue-culture raised plantlets of elite varieties of strawberry are proposed to be distributed to the farmers in Manipur.

following his exit as a Union Minister, the singer-turnedpolitician had changed his tune and accused Modi of not only trusting enough Bengalis but also others like BJP MP from Bengal SS Ahluwalia.

"During my stint of seven-eight years in Delhi, I have come to know that the Prime Minister either does not have faith in Bengalis or is not able to establish harmony somewhere," Supriyo had said.

"Why only me? There are even senior people than me. Ahluwaliaji came from the Congress he is a senior leader or, those people who are winning from Bengal and going there are not being trusted there is a lack of harmony somewhere, "thus spoke the former BJP MP then.

CPM rebuilding image, party structure in Kerala

It is springtime for the CPI(M) in Kerala. The party is all set to emerge as the undisputed leader in the State as more and more Congress leaders ditch their parent organisation and cast the lot with the Marxists. The resignation of P V Balachandran, former chief of Wayanad District Congress Committee, had shocked the Grand Old Party despite the fact that the former does not command any following in the region. Wayanad parliamentary constituency is represented by Rahul Gandhi, former AICC President.

The surprising element in these defections are that unlike in the rest of the country, leader who ditch the Congress join the CPI(M) with the full knowledge that they would be on probation for years in the new camp and may not make it as big in the near future.

Army chief visits forward areas along LoC

MOHIT KANDHARI ■ JAMMU

Indian Army Chief General Manoj Mukund Naravane on Tuesday took a first hand assessment of the ongoing counter terrorist operations going on in the Nar Khas forest area of Mendhar tehsil in Poonch. Senior army officers of the Nagrota based 16 corps headquarters briefed him about the present situation and ongoing counter infiltration operations in the region. Elite para commandos of the Indian army are also preparing for the offen-sive to flush out the terrorists holding on in the thickly forested area for the last nine days.

Meanwhile, local villagers in the nearby forward villages were strictly directed to remain indoors on Tuesday. These announcements were made via loudspeakers fitted atop mosques in the area to prevent movement of civilians in the forested area where operations are currently going on to flush out the heavily armed terrorists.

The ongoing operation is turning out to be one of the longest counter terrorist operations in recent history

In January 2009, the Indian Army had called off a similar operation on the ninth day in Bhati Dhar area of Poonch. Three Indian soldiers were killed in action while four terrorists were reportedly neutralised during the operations. The army, however, could not retrieve the dead bodies of the terrorists.

"General MM Naravane COAS (Chief of Army Staff) visited forward areas of WhiteKnight Corps & undertook a first-hand assessment of the situation along the Line of Control. COAS was briefed by commanders on the ground about the present situation & ongoing counter-infiltration operations," the Additional Directorate General of Public Information (ADGPI) of the Indian Army tweeted. So far, eight people, including a mother-son duo, have been detained for questioning in connection with providing logistic support to the terrorists. Security experts equipped and better trained than regular infiltrators.

Sharing his observations with regard to the ongoing operations in Poonch, Retired Brigadier Anil Gupta told The Pioneer, the terrorists hiding in the area are well versed with the topography and have been present in the area for a long time. Brigadier Gupta also claimed the role of the Pakistan army regulars in this operation cannot be ruled out. He said due to active involvement in the Eastern sector the counter infiltration grid in the region was possibly compromised which led to the infiltration of a large group of infiltrators. He, however, maintained it is not appropriate to peculate on the actual numbers of the terrorists holding on in the thickly forested area of Poonch.

So far nine Indian soldiers have sacrificed their lives in the ongoing operations since October 11, 2021.

Hyderabad: Hitting out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi for keeping "quiet" on the rising fuel prices and Chinese "intrusion" in Indian territory, AIMIM president Asaduddin Owaisi here alleged that Modi is afraid of talking about China.

The Hyderabad MP also said targeted civilian killings was going on in Kashmir due to failure of the BJP-led Central

Don't vote for JD(S): Siddaramaiah to minority community

PTI ■ VIJAYAPURA (K'TAKA)

Senior Congress leader Siddaramaiah on Tuesday urged the voters from the minority community not to cast even a single vote to the Sindagi bypolls, as voting for the regional party means voting for the BJP.

The leader of opposition in the state assembly accused the JD(S) of deliberately fielding minority community candidates in both the constituencies to help the BJP.

"Though JD(S) has fielded its candidates, the straight fight is between the Congress and BJP. JD(S) has not fielded a candidate with an intention to win. They have fielded to help the BJP. I'm not saying this, people are saying this," Siddaramaiah

Addressing the campaign meeting at Sindagi constituency here, he said, Congress is always the target for JD(S), and pointed out that during the Basavakalyan bypolls held earlier this year, too the regional party fielded a Muslim candidate, who got about 8,000 votes, which resulted in Congress' loss.

"Making Congress to lose is their (JDS) intention. But I know people are not dumb as they think... Minority community voters know and understand their intention.....I pray to minority community voters, that if you vote for JD(S), it is like voting for BJP. So don't cast a single vote for JD(S)," he added.

The JD(S) has fielded 33-year-old post graduate Naziya Shakeel Ahmed Angadi from Sindagi and 35-year-old B.E, M.Tech (CSE) graduate Nivaz Shaikh Hangal.

Congress during the 2018 assembly polls too had accused the JD(S) of being the "Bteam" of BIP. Bypolls will be held on October 30, while counting of votes will take place on November 2. The by-elections have been necessitated as the seats fell vacant following the death of Sindagi JD(S) legislator M C from Hangal.

Schoolteacher sentenced to 10 years' RI under POCSO Act

Chennai: Holding that a four year-old child can not be expected to give cogent evidence with regard to the sexual assault on her, the Madras High Court has set aside a trial court order acquitting a school teacher in 6, 2020, the trial court judge Puducherry charged with the ed him 10 years' Rigorous Imprisonment and also imposed a fine of ₹10,000.

Justice P Velmurugan passed the conviction order recently after setting aside an order of the lower court, which had acquitted Earlam Periera.

Earlier, Puducherry Public Prosecutor D Bharatha Chakravarthy (since elevated to the post of High Court judge and expected to assume office on October 20) submitted that the victim being a child, who was only aged about four years at the time of occurrence of the incident in March 2018, cannot speak about the occurrence in all the stages by parrot version and it could not be expected from her that she should remember all the incidents and the acts of the accused.

She may forget something and the mother, to whom the victim stated about the sexual assault committed by the accused, may remember those

"Therefore, for the said reason we cannot throw away the evidence of the victim child, who in fact was subjected to sexual assault by the accused," he con-

By his order dated October acquitted the accused, who was Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, on the main ground that the evidence of the parents of the victim child were not consistent, cogent and trustworthy and medical evidence also did not support the case of the prosecution. The trial court judge had come to the conclusion that based on their evidence, conviction cannot be recorded against the accused and the prosecution had failed to prove its case beyond all reasonable doubts.

Reversing the trial judge order, Justice Velmurugan held that the finding of the trial court was completely erroneous. In cases of aggravated sexual assault on a child, who was only studying UKG at the time, the support of medical evidence was not always a necessity and the evidence of the sole victim would suffice to record conviction. Rejecting the contention that the mother had falsely implicated the accused in the case due to previous enmity, the judge said that without any strong reason, no mother would go to the extent of making allegations of this nature by using her own child.

Turning down another contention that there was enormous delay in lodging the complaint, the judge said that no mother immediately after the occurrence. Naturally, the mother would think about the future of the child and the reputation of the family. In cases like this, the delay was not fatal to the case of the prosecution. As stated earlier, since the victim child was only four years old, one cannot expect her to speak everything, even if she did not understand what was happening to her.

When she felt pain in her private parts, she complained the same to her mother and the mother explained the same to the police.

In this case, there was no eye-witness. She also stated that the accused used to keep her on his lap and insert his fingers into her private parts. In cases like this, mere delay in filing the FIR was not fatal to the case of the prosecution and also the reason for the delay, though specifically not given, one cannot expect the family members of the victim child would rush to the police immediately soon after the occurrence.

Over 12 crore Covid vax jabs given in UP

Lucknow: Uttar Pradesh crossed yet another milestone in Covid vaccination on Monday by taking the tally of jabs administered so far to above 12 crore doses and in the process became the first Indian state to achieve this

Chief Secretary (Information) Navneet Sehgal told newsmen in Lucknow, "The State has so far provided vaccines in excess of 12.01 crore by Monday. Of these, over 9.32 crore people have received the first dose whereas over 2.69 core people have been fully vaccinated against Covid-19. The State's success in controlling the pandemic can be gauged from the fact that no new infection was reported from as many as 71 districts of Uttar Pradesh."

Signaling control over the deadly coronavirus, out of over 1.27 lakh samples tested only 12 positive cases were confirmed in four districts in the last 24 hours. The daily cases have declined by over 99 per cent from the peak capped at 38,055 on April 24. Consequently, the state, pushing the Covid graph southwards, has maintained the daily Covid test positivity rate (TPR) — the number of positive cases against the total tests done — at 0.01 per cent, the lowest in the country.

Sigh of relief

A majority of unvaccinated children developing COVID-19 antibodies comes as hope he results of the third serosurvey conducted in Haryana are comforting. Antibodies against SARSCoV-2 were found among 76.3 per cent of the State's population. This is a steep rise from a mere 14.8 per cent in October 2020 and eight per cent last August. A sero-positivity of 81.6 per cent was found in vaccinated people and 75.5 per cent in non-vaccinated. In urban Haryana, antibodies were found in 78.1 per cent of the people; in the rural areas the percentage is 75.1. The best news, however, relates to children. The survey found a sero-positivity rate of 69.8 per cent in children aged 6-9 years and 73.2 per cent in adolescents aged 10-17 years. This is the first time when children were included in the survey. It is also established for the first time that over 70 per cent of nonvaccinated children have COVID-19 antibodies. The news comes as a relief when children remain the only segment of the population who have not been vaccinated even though the country is close to giving nearly 100 crore jabs. The vaccines for children are still undergoing human trials. The decision to re-open schools after a gap of a year hinges on this very issue and some States have reluctantly agreed to re-open schools in stages. There still is a hesitancy among parents to send their wards to school. A few other States are planning to begin classes in November. School managements are ensuring that the teaching and non-teaching staff are fully vaccinated and safety protocols are in place to minimise the risk of infection.

Recent surveys from abroad have justified the fears of infection among children. A study by teams from hospitals in MIT and Harvard has conclusively proved that infants, children and adolescents are equally capable of replicating the COVID-19 virus. Examining COVID-19 positive children, they found that the levels of infection are highest early in the illness in both symptomatic and asymptomatic patients. Overall, the viral load did not correlate with the severity of the disease in the kids even though they could infect other people. However, several studies have stated that very few children have symptoms and they are at low risk of contracting the illness. In this context, the Haryana serosurvey on children is a reassuring one. Based on the Haryana survey results, it can safely be assumed that one can go slow with the vaccination of healthy children and instead focus on fully covering the vulnerable population the elderly, and adults and children with co-morbidities. Even though a couple of vaccines have received the emergency use authorisation (EUA), it is unclear when the vaccines for children below 18 will be available in the country. The chief of the national COVID-19 task force, VK Paul, has said that a final decision will depend on the scientific rationale for vaccinating kids and the availability of sufficient doses for them.

Snow-covered mountains after fresh snowfall, in Shimla

The International Olympic Committee does not heed protests against the Beijing Olympics

■he flame of the 2022 Winter Olympics reaches Beijing in a day or two but China has more cause for concern than celebration. A swarm of protests follows the flame, lit at the birthplace of the ancient Olympics in southern Greece on Monday, calling for a global boycott of the Games on account of alleged human rights violations by the Chinese Government. The ceremony of lighting the torch in Greece was marred by protests, as three activists managed to sneak into the venue holding a Tibetan flag and a banner reading 'No genocide games'. The protests were growing in tenor all through the year. Human rights watch groups in the US and Europe launched a campaign to boycott the games because China allegedly continues to harass Tibetans, strip Uighur Muslims in Xinjiang of their religious and cultural identities, punish pro-democracy agitators in Hong Kong, and intimidate Taiwan. The possibility of the US boycotting the games is remote but efforts are on to at least have a diplomatic boycott by that country.

This is not the first time that China is facing flak in the run-up to an international sporting event. It lost the bid for the 2000 Olympic games in 1993 because of the bloody crackdown on student agitators in Tiananmen Square in 1989. China had hoped to resurrect its international image by hosting the games but that was not to be. It never faced a worse insult globally. It subsequently bid for the 2008 games. To show a democratic face to the world, China came up with several concessions to impress the Olympic committee. They included extending press freedom for foreign journalists in China, allowing them to travel across the country without having to apply for permission. However, the protests continued as China refused to acknowledge any wrong-doing. The Communist Party of China, which routinely ignores all human rights charges, would do well to realise turning a deaf ear would not make the problem go away. Evidence of Chinese high-handedness in Tibet and Xinjiang keeps leaking out of the two regions despite State censorship. Those who manage to escape from the mainland bring sordid tales with them. It comes as a small relief for China that the International Olympic Committee is not interested in taking up the boycott call only because it feels the games are neutral and should not be politicised.

More in our history than the 1971 war -

The Indian military's habit of not fully recording war diaries has provided opportunity to individuals to fiddle with and fabricate events

ifty years of the 1971 India-Pakistan war is being commemorated with great verve and gusto by recalling the geostrategy, tac-tics and heroics of the great Indian victory — one in 1000 years where the gains on the battlefield were frittered away across the negotiating table. The war corrected the geographical incongruity of Pakistan split into two entities separated by 1000 miles. The late politician and writer, Jaswant Singh, called the victory geography's revenge over history when use of force resulted in the birth of a new country Bangladesh, formerly East Pakistan. It was the 20th century's last decisive war though it could not settle the root cause of India-Pakistan enmity - not J&K but inimical behaviour of the Pakistan Army.

In the previous century, except for the World Wars, there is no clear example of a decisive interstate war. But intra-state conflicts produced outcomes. The stamping out of Khalistan movement was a rare success for India. So was the Taliban's first take-over of Afghanistan. Peaceful separation of Czechoslovakia into Czech Republic and Slovakia was a unique event. In the 21st century also, a number of internal conflicts were resolved by use of force defeat of LTTE in Sri Lanka and the recent re-conquest of Afghanistan by the Taliban. Another genre of military success without the use of military force was 'fait accompli operations' like the Russian occupation of Crimea, Chinese seizure of islands in the South China Sea and the Chinese intrusions into East Ladakh. In the space between war and no-peace is grey-zone operations, (HERE IS THE CHANGE) which is the defender's dilemma. And now, with the advent of cyber war and artificial intelligence, thinkers and practitioners of war and conflict have much to mull over. While the nature and character of war have changed, the principles of war are more or less the same, technology being the consistent key driver of shaping their outcomes flicts are not replicable. Take the war for Bangladesh. The ten months available for preparation, obtaining air superiority and assistance of Mukti Bahini are some conditions that cannot be recreated. Neither can the political cover provided by USSR through its use of veto which brought India time to ensure the war did not end in cessation of hostilities as Pakistan wished but ended on Indian terms of a full and complete surrender. The talking point of the war was whether Dacca was nominated as the final objective of the war. It is clear from study of various historical accounts that Dacca was initially not the ultimate objective but a less ambitious mission was assigned to the Eastern Army. Improvisation and innovation by both sides played a big part in the war. Maj Gen Nazir Husain Shah, GOC 16 Pakistan Infantry Division and an alumni of Fort Leavenworth USA, used to split a single battalion into two even as portraying a broad front was also practised

I would like to see during commemoration events greater emphasis on recalling Infantryled epic battles of Pirguni, Hilli, Sylhet and Akhaura to name a few. The roadblock at Pirgunj by 2/5 Gorkha Rifles (FF), for example, turned the flank of Pakistan 16 Infantry Division fighting fortress defence at Hilli by crossing the Karatoya river. It was the first turning movement south towards Bogra and Dacca and divided Pakistan's 16 Infantry Division. Similarly, 4/5 Gorkha Rifles (FF) conducted India's first heliborne operations and while reduced to half a battalion in combat, took the surrender of two Pakistani Brigades on 15 December, one clear day in advance of the Dacca surrender. They had earlier carried out the first silent 'khukuri' attack at Atgram though the British Gurkhas claimed the honour earlier in Indonesia. These short and sharp battles hastened the termination of war confirming Infantry as the queen of battle. It would be more useful to invite officers who took part in these actions rather than have the post-1971 war generation of officers to pontificate on lessons and dialectics of deterrence.

India must cherish the 1971 victory against Pakistan but focus on small-unit actions that will be relevant to future external wars. The limited war in Kargil was another classic demonstration of Infantry-led small unit battles that evicted intruding Pakistani forces across the LoC. It is a pity that war histories on 1962 and IPKF Sri Planning Staff, currently the Lanka, though chronicled, Integrated Defence Staff. The have not been released for political reasons. The Indian military's bad habit of not fully and faithfully recording war diaries has provided opportunity to individual participants in wars to fiddle with and fabricate events to enhance their personal heroics. The media in general and social media in particular, without verifying factuals, have contributed to this.

Biographies and autobiographies are especially culpable as they embellish the record of units and individuals beyond what is recorded in regimental history. And where there is no official regimental history, some writers have gone to town enhancing their stature. All write-ups about past wars must be vetted by MoD historical section and a certification obtained from the authors that they have not used material which is not in official records. The Government has fudged events in East Ladakh, pretending the PLA intrusions have not altered the LAC. Even so, the 1971 success on the battlefield is India's big redeemer and greatest victory.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE MONSOON'S MOOD SWINGS

Sir — The Indian monsoon is nature's gift to us. It is what gives us sustenance; it is inseparable from Indian civilisation. Still over the last few years, it has become erratic to the extent of venting nature's fury and causing widespread devastation. Its onset, occurrence and withdrawal have come to acquire a frightening dimension. Visuals have shown how this year's southwest monsoon has taken the shape of a 'natural' disaster. The stunning collapse of a house in one unbroken piece into flood water has become the defining image of the destruction caused by the deluge in Kerala and other parts of the country.

The floods recurring year after year add a new urgency to the restoration of the monsoon to what it was before it assumed the proportions of a 'natural' disaster. The protection of mountains that serve as natural life givers in its wider sense will more than halve the problem. Deforestation, mining, construction and cultivation of cash crops that are ecologically unsustainable and explain much of the change in the monsoons must end; political parties and governments must free themselves from the hold of lobbies of various kinds towards this end. The governments should discontinue the practice of relaxing rules pertaining to environmental clearance in the name of ease of doing business. It is a basic fact that economic growth at the cost of ecology spells disaster.

FINDING FENI IN GOA'S MUSEUM Sir — India's first museum dedicated to alcohol has opened its doors to spirit enthusiasts in Goa. The museum, All About Alcohol is a place to rejoice in North Goa's Candolim village. The museum houses hundreds of artefacts linked to Feni -Goa's very own and a popular alcoholic drink — including large, traditional glass vats in which the local cashew-based alcohol used to be stored centuries ago. The idea behind the museum was to make the world aware of Goa's rich heritage, especially the story of Feni. The answer to whether there is another alcohol museum in the world is absolutely no.

FIRST COLUMN THE NEXT BIG THING IN JOURNALISM

Journalism has seen a sea change because of technological adoptions over time the use of artificial intelligence (AI) in the field of journalism, often dubbed as a race with the machine, is getting eventually apparent. Recently, certain international news media organizations have tapped the power of AI to cover and report on the recent blast at a mosque in Kandahar city of Afghanistan that killed 37 people. Al tools are used to measure and report that the nation is grappling with insecurity and unrest. These news media organizations have been actively engaged in automating tasks essential for journalistic production. Al has come in handy to detect, extract and verify data essential for news stories and graphics. Such tools are being used for sorting, selecting and prioritizing the filters in the journalistic process of news stories. The use of Al is comparatively new. Its efficacy in reporting and disseminating conflicting news stories is established. It has the ability to build and update data visualizations in real time. The tools can be beneficial for the reporters in conflict zones in which the machine makes easy to source through footage from war zones. Human rights activists have started resorting to source the footage required for documenting human rights violations. Hence, Al tools are intensifying the level of activism in real time. During the time of the pandemic, Al tools provided potential aids for journalists in disseminating useful information to the citizens. When thousands of journalists were infected with the virus, the importance of AI tools in gathering, sorting, verifying and disseminating information went up substantially. Al tools are systematically programmed to identify fake news, helping journalists file correct and unbiased news stories. It can also debunk fake news flooded in social media platforms. Al thus protects the spirit of news values and ethical responsibility of journalists. The field of journalism has witnessed sea changes because of technological adoptions from time to time. All these raise the pros and cons of using Al tools in journalism. Augmenting reporting has become a major area of journalism. Al in journalism has brought numerous benefits. These tools have comparatively made easy for investigative journalists to save time and money. This has further strengthened the process and format of storytelling. Automation has facilitated reporting from local to international stories. Data journalism is transforming to the next level. Al robots are turning into news reporters. All these are becoming viable because of algorithms, databases and machine learning. There are fair chances for errors and biases to creep into the newsrooms. A small or a hyperlocal media organization which might not be equipped with minimum resources to adopt AI tools may see newspersons falling prey to the machines. Journalists need to be trained and transformed for the best utilization of technologies. The fear of machine replacing the human is still there. However, any technology including AI is not going to replace journalists; however, this new technology can be a friendly assistant or a buddy. With the advent of new technological tools, all from reporters to editors will be re-oriented to deliver more credible and value-added contents to their target audience. Moreover, the issue of digital divide in newsrooms is there across the globe. Newsrooms in western countries are better positioned than the rest of the world in exploiting the Al tools in storytelling. The emergence of innovation and adoption of newer technologies in any profession has become obligatory. The profession of journalism is no exception to it. The production, distribution and consumption of news will be considerably driven by Al tools in the days to come. Digital literacy is the need of the hour on the part of the journalists across the competitive globe.

Setting up 'bad banks' for the good

In India, Government-sponsored bad bank has never been tried, though there are several asset reconstruction companies functioning sub-optimally ndia's first-ever government-spon-sored "Bad Bank" is now closer to reality. Following the Finance Minister's announcement in the Union Budget earlier this year, a National Asset Reconstruction Company (NARCL) has been set up to acquire fully provisioned stressed assets worth about 2 lakh crore from various commercial banks in different phases, about a quarter of the total.

Another entity called India Debt Resolution Company Ltd (IDRCL) will then sell these stressed assets in the market to pay back to the banks. Public Sector Banks (PSBs) will have almost half the total shares of both (51 and 49 percent respectively), in which the private sector will also be stakeholders. The initial investment would be around ₹6,000

NARCL will buy the buy distressed assets at a discount from the banks by paying 15 percent cash; for the balance 85 percent, they will issue security receipts like debentures, bonds, etc., to the banks. Last month the government had cleared the proposal to provide ₹30,600 crore to the NARCL as a guarantee for the security receipts to be invoked in case the sale results in a loss to cover the same, but the guarantee will not be valid beyond five years to build in some incentive to accelerate the process of resolution; the guarantee fee to be paid by NARCL will also increase gradually. Since guarantees constitute contingent liability for the government, there would be no immediate fiscal impact or cash outgo for the Centre.

Inherited as a legacy from the past, partly as a fallout of the economic meltdown of 2008 and partly because of crony capitalism which forced many PSBs to give loans without proper assessment of profitability of the relevant project proposals due to which many of these projects either could not materialise or were unable to generate enough income to pay back the loans, the NPAs started mounting. Since 2016, when the RBI tightened the controls on banks and forced them to clean their balance sheets, the NPAs had to be written off or recognised in their balance sheets. This eroded their capital base making them unable to lend afresh, and their profitability was seriously affected.

To keep such banks — mostly PSBs — in business, the government had to recapitalise them from time to time with public finds. Things took a turn for the worse when since 2017 when the economy had started slowing, and the pandemic then delivered the death blow. As per S&P Global Ratings estimate, stressed assets of Indian banks including restructured loans will reach 11-12 percent in 2021-22, up from 8.7 percent at the end of the last fiscal, one of the highest in the world, comparable to Russia or Greece. By taking over the stressed assets and paying the banks which will provide them fresh capital, the bad bank will help the commercial banks to recover a part of their bad loans.

This is a most welcome and a long overdue proposal to resolve the stressed asset problem of banks, private as well as public.
The existing acts, viz., the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) 2016 and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Securitisation and Enforcement of Security Interest (SARFAESI) Act 2002, have proved inadequate for insolvency resolution and to address the problem of NPAs of banks. The SARFAESI Act which enables registration and regulation of Asset Reconstruction Companies (ARCs) by the RBI allows the banks to auction the residential and commercial properties of borrowers to recover outstanding dues. It applies where the borrowing entity is left with neither any revenue source nor an opportunity to resurrect the business, and where no substantial assets are also lying with the guarantors, while a resolution plan under the IBC is intended to put the debtor back on its feet, not simply for recovering the dues of its creditors. As the Supreme Court had said in a case, "the primary focus of the legislation (IBC) is to ensure revival and continuance of the corporate debtor by protecting the corporate debtor from its own management and from a corporate death by liquidation."

About 4,541 corporates have so far been admitted into the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP), only 1,745 CIRPs have completed the process, either yielding resolution plans or ending up with liquidation. IBC, now five years old and which was suspended during the Covid crisis, is due for an overhaul, including prepack for the MSMEs which could later be extended to other companies, allowing a debt resolution mechanism outside the IBC. The existing processes need additional support from other mechanisms, and this is where the band bank fits in.

Bad bank is not a new idea they have been in existence since the 1980s, but the East Asian currency crisis and the 2008 subprime crisis made many countries to set up bad banks, including the US, Sweden, Finland, Belgium, Malaysia, South Korea, China or Indonesia, but in India the idea of government sponsored bad bank has never been tried earlier, though there are several private Asset Reconstruction Companies which are functioning sub-optimally.

This is another major institumust de given the credit for it. Whether it will work or not, only time can tell. While it has met with success in many countries, in China they have been struggling, and the collapse of Evergrande is likely to worsen the situation further. In any case, ARCs cannot be a permanent mechanism, indeed it has a sunset clause allowing it to be wound up within five to eight

Banking reform has been one major focus area of the government which came up with a 4-R strategy - recognition, resolution, recapitalisation and reforms. After recognition, quantification of NPAs started in a planned manner and banks slowly started recovering their dues. In 2018, just two out of 21 public sector banks were profitable. But in 2021, only two banks (Punjab & Sind Bank and Central Bank) reported losses. As part of the reforms, the government has merged many smaller PSBs with larger ones, and now their total number is stands at 12.

There are several problems, apart from finding potential buy-ers from the stressed assets of banks. Valuation of the assets is one, which will determine the loss. In fact, there has been some criticism that the government is actually guaranteeing the losses of private enterprises and that the PSBs, being shareholders of both NARCL and IDRCL, will in effect be buying their own stressed assets. So far, the Indian experience has preferred resolution via IBC tional reform and the Government over the private ARCs, which nave a low capital requirement of only ₹100 crore.

The regulatory environment for the ARCs which has remained practically static ever since they had emerged in the 2000s also needs an overhaul. Stressed assets will not disappear anytime soon, and we need to enable such institutions to help absorb the stressed assets. Economy cannot grow without an adequate supply of credit and creating a level playing field for all.

Meanwhile, he will continue to make decisions with his sister Priyanka Gandhi and impose their favorites on the Party in powerful positions as they have done with Punjab leader Navjot Sidhu and elsewhere. They will also have a free hand in distributing tickets in the upcoming elections.

Sonia has announced that she is a 'full-time and hands-on' president, but this will be tougher than it was for her in 1998 or 2004. Then, she was much younger and had reasonably good political remain on the 'grey list' of the FATF till the global money laundering and terror financing watchdog meets for its next session in April 2022, according to a media report on Tuesday.

Paris-based Financial Action Task Force (FATF) will be in session for three days from October 19-21 and it is expected that Tuesday's session may be informed that Pakistan is still short of meeting the FATF criterion, according to a report in The News International reported from the French capital.

The report, quoting sources in German media house Deutsche Welle, said the global body's decision on putting Pakistan off the 'grey list' may be taken in the next session slated for April 2022.

The FATF in June retained Pakistan on its 'grey list' for failing to check money laundering, leading to terror financing, and asked Islamabad to investigate and prosecute senior leaders and commanders of

It also asked Pakistan to work to address its strategically-important deficiencies.

Russia hits another Mali asks Islamic High record of daily coronavirus deaths

MOSCOW: Russia registered another daily record of coronavirus deaths Tuesday as rapidly surging infection rates raised pressure on the country's health care system and prompted the government to suggest declaring a nonworking week.

The government task force reported 1,015 coronavirus deaths over the past 24 hours, the highest number since the start of the pandemic. That brought the total death toll to 225,325 — by far the highest in Europe. It also registered 33,740 new infections over the past

Amid a spike in infections and deaths, Deputy Prime Minister Tatyana Ĝolikova suggested introducing a weeklong nonworking period starting Oct. 30 that includes an extended public holiday. She said the Cabinet will ask President Vladimir Putin to authorize the

The daily coronavirus mortality numbers have been surging for weeks and topped 1,000 for the first time over the weekend amid sluggish vaccination rates, lax public attitude toward taking precuations and the government's reluctance to toughen restrictions. Russia boasted about becoming the first country in the world to authorize a coronavirus vaccine in August 2020 even though it was only tested on a few dozen of people at the time, proudly naming the shot Sputnik V after the world's first satellite to underline the country's scientific achievements.

Council to dialogue with al-Qaida

BAMAKO: Mali's Government has asked the country's Islamic High Council to begin a dialogue with al-Qaida-linked groups in a new effort to address a nearly decade-long insecurity crisis. It is not clear when the dialogue will begin, but the council will lead discussions with Malian jihadist leaders Iyad Ag Ghaly and Amadou Kouffa of the al-Qaida-linked group known as JNIM, the council said.

Mohamed spokesman for the council, told The Associated Press on Tuesday that he was asked by the government last week to launch discussions. He said they are working with their representatives in the country's north. "The only directive we have received is to negotiate only with the Malians," he said. 'The other jihadists we consider invaders.'

He also said the subject of Shariah law is not "taboo. Everything is negotiable."

Mali's minister of religious affairs and worship, Mamadou Koné, confirmed that the government asked the council to lead discussions with the two

This is not the first time the Malian government has asked the council to open dialogue with jihadist groups. Earlier this year, the council reached a cease-fire agreement between an al-Qaida-linked group and local fighters in a village in the Niono circle in central Mali. The jihadists granted freedom of movement to the villagers, and peaceful cohabitation with the army and local armed groups, in exchange for comoulsory veiling of women, collection of taxes and traditional justice.

Mali has been fighting growing insecurity since 2012, when al-Qaida-linked groups took over parts of the north. Despite a French-led military operation that forced many rebels from their northern strongholds in 2013, insurgents quickly regrouped and have been advancing year after year toward the south of the country, where the Malian capital is located.

Crowds outside Myanmar's prisons greet freed detainees

BANGKOK: Crowds gathered Tuesday outside prisons around Myanmar, waiting for at least a glimpse of friends and relatives who were being freed under an amnesty for people arrested for protesting against military rule.

The head of the armyinstalled government, Senior Gen. Min Aung Hlaing, announced the amnesty covering more than 5,600 people on Monday. State television said it included 1,316 convicts who would be freed from prisons around the country and 4,320 others pending trial whose charges would be suspended.

The announcement came three days after the Association of Southeast Asian Nations delivered a rare snub by declining to invite Min Aung Hlaing to an upcoming summit, even though Myanmar is part of the 10-member bloc.

The move reflected ASEAN's frustration with the continued stalling of a visit to the country by its special envoy, who was appointed as part of an initiative to find a way out of the violent crisis that has gripped Myanmar since the army overthrew Aung San Suu Kyi's elected government in The government had refused to grant the request of the special envoy, Brunei Second Foreign Minister Erywan Yusof, to meet with Suu Kyi. She has been detained since the military takeover and is being tried on several charges that her supporters say are politically motivated. AP

UN atomic agency head to visit Iran as nuke talks uncertain

WASHINGTON: The head of the U.N.'s atomic watchdog plans to visit Iran before the end of next month amid questions about whether Iran will return to negotiations aimed at reviving the languishing 2015 nuclear deal. International Atomic Energy Agency chief Rafael Grossi said Tuesday he intends to visit Tehran "soon" to discuss and hopefully resolve specific concerns about Iran's nuclear program. Iran is in violation of several aspects of the 2015 deal that the IAEA is charged with monitoring and has suspended some elements of other cooperation with the watchdog.

On a visit to Washington, Grossi told reporters that he expects to go to Iran before the next meeting of the IAEA board of governors in late November. Some countries are pushing for the board to condemn Iran's nuclear activity, including violations of the nuclear deal known as the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action or JCPOA.

Grossi, who met on Monday with Secretary of State Antony Blinken, would not predict whether the IAEA board would take such action, saying it will likely depend on what Iran does in the mean-

North Korea tests possible submarine missile amid tensions

SEOUL: North Korea on Tuesday fired at least one ballistic missile, which South Korea's military said was likely designed to be launched from a submarine, in what is possibly the most significant demonstration of the North's military might since U.S. President Joe Biden took office.

The launch of the missile into the sea came hours after the U.S. reaffirmed an offer to resume talks on North Korea's nuclear weapons program. It underscored how North Korea has continued to expand its military capabilities during the pause in diplomacy.

South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff said in a statement it detected that North Korea fired one short-range missile it believed was a submarinelaunched ballistic missile from waters near the eastern port of Sinpo, and that the South Korean and U.S. militaries were closely analyzing the launch.

The South Korean military said the launch was made at sea, but it didn't say whether it was fired from a vessel underwater or another launch platform above the sea's surface. Japan's military said its initial analysis suggested that North Korea fired two ballistic missiles. Prime Minister Fumio Kishida said officials were examining whether they were submarine-launched. Kishida interrupted a campaign trip ahead of Japanese legislative elections later this month and returned to Tokyo because of the launch. He ordered his government to start revising the country's national security strategy to adapt to growing North Korean threats, including the possible development of the ability to pre-emptively strike North Korean military targets.

'We cannot overlook North Korea's recent development in missile technology and its impact on the security of Japan and in the region," he

Japanese Defense Minister Nobuo Kishi said one of the North Korean missiles reached a maximum altitude of 50 kilometers (30 miles) and flew on "an irregular trajectory" while traveling as far as 600 kilometers (360 miles).

Jan. 6 panel plans contempt vote as Trump sues over probe

WASHINGTON: A House committee tasked with investigating the Jan. 6 Capitol insurrection is moving swiftly Tuesday to hold at least one of Donald Trump's allies in contempt as the former president is pushing back on the probe in a new lawsuit.

Trump is aggressively trying to block the committee's work by directing former White House aide Steve Bannon not to answer questions in the probe while also suing the panel to try to prevent Congress from obtaining former White House documents. But lawmakers on the House committee say they will not back down as they gather facts and testimony about the attack involving Trump's supporters that left dozens of police officers injured, sent lawmakers running for their lives and interrupted the certification of Joe Biden's victory.

Taliban recruit women cadres to counter its anti-women image

RAKESH K SINGH ■ NEW DELHI

The Taliban have recruited women cadres in its fold to raise a women's wing with the twin agenda of projecting itself as pro-women and countering its anti-women image through these women who have graduated from Quranic schools.

On Monday, as many as 31 women students participated in a graduation party after these students of Dar Al-Hifaz and Muflihun Quranic School in Kabul passed out from these schools

Dar al-Hifaz and Muflihun School of Quran Education celebrated the first graduation of more than 30 female students of this school in the section of interpretation and translation of the Holy Quran in the presence of a number of Islamic scholars besides parents of the passing out students in Kabul. Founder of Afghanistan Republican Salvation Front and counter terrorism analyst of Afghan origin, Dr Ajmal Sohail said, "The Taliban has decided to launch the women wing of the movement comprising graduates of the Quranic schools who would be assigned to take part at the Ministry for promoting righteousness and preventing evil." The women graduates in Islamic interpretation will also counter feminism alongside promoting radical Islamic mindset in the Afghan society.

"The women wing of the Taliban will be assigned task to educate Taliban-inspired radical Islamists of Central Asia and Asia Pacific," said Dr Sohail who is based in Germany. The Taliban move to form a women wing is to expand the base of radical ideologies pursued by the outfit in Afghan and spread such mindsets in the region to create a pool of like minded Muslims in the entire region for gaining clout as well as legitimacy. The move is part of the larger project of the Barre Saghir movement being run by the Al Qaeda in the Indian subcontinent to rope in likeminded clerics and students to perpetuate the radical ideology of Taliban.

Taliban agree to new polio vaccination across Afghanistan appeared aimed at showing

Istanbul: agencies are gearing up to vaccinate all of Afghanistan's children under 5 against polio for the first time since 2018, after the Taliban agreed to the campaign, the World Health Organization

For the past three years, the Taliban barred U.N.-organized vaccination teams from doing door-to-door campaigns in parts of Afghanistan under their control, apparently out of suspicion they could be spies for the government or the West. Because of the ban and ongoing fighting, some 3.3 million children over the past three years have not been vaccinated.

The Taliban's reported agreement now, after becoming the rulers of Afghanistan, they are willing to cooperate with international agencies. The longtime militant insurgent force has been trying to win the world's recognition of its new government and reopen the door for international aid to rescue the crumbling economy. The Taliban leadership did not confirm its agreement, and Taliban officials did not immediately respond to requests for comment. But WHO and the U.N.

Children's agency UNICEF said in a statement Monday that they welcomed the decision by the Taliban leadership house-to-house polio vaccinations across the country.

The improvement in the coal stock situation assumes significance in view of the ongoing shortage of the dry fuel at thermal power plants in the country.

The Central Electricity Authority monitors coal stock situation of 135 thermal power plants with cumulative generation capacity of over 165 GW.

The data also showed that the number of power plants with zero days of coal has come down to 13 as of Monday with cumulative installed generation capacity of 11,710 MW, compared to 15 with 15,290

MW capacity a week back.

The number of the plants with one day of coal stock has increased to 28 with 34,795 MW capacity as on October 18, compared to 27 with 35,360 MW capacity on October 11.

The number of plants with two days of coal decreased to 18 (with 27,490 MW capacity) from 20 (22,755 MW) a week ago. ECO RECOVERY TO DRIVE CREDIT GROWTH

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

 $M^{oody's}$ Investors Service on Tuesday raised the outlook for the Indian banking system to 'stable' from 'negative citing moderate deterioration of asset quality since the onset of the pandemic and likely pick-up in credit growth with economic recovery.

Moody's expects India's economy to continue to recover in the next 12-18 months, with GDP growing 9.3 per cent in the fiscal year ending March 2022 and 7.9 per cent in the following year.

"The pick-up in economic activity will drive credit growth, which we expect to be 10-13 per cent annually. Weak corporate financials and funding constraints at finance companies have been key negative factors for banks but these risks have receded," Moody's said in its 'Banking system outlook - India' report.

The quality of corporate loans has improved, indicating that banks have recognized and provisioned for all legacy problem loans in this segment. quality of retail loans has deteriorated, but to a limited degree because large-scale job losses have not occurred.

"We have revised the outlook for the Indian banking system to stable from negative The deterioration of asset quality since the onset of the coronavirus pandemic has been moderate, and an improving operating environment will support asset quality. Declining credit costs as a result of improving asset quality will lead to improvements in profitability," Moody's said.

The rating agency assumes that the government will provide a very high level of support for rated public sector banks, given their strong links to the government.

Earlier this month. Moody's had raised India's sovereign rating outlook to 'stable' from 'negative'. It also affirmed sovereign rating at 'Baa3'.

Duty relief on fuel expected to brighten festive mood in country IANS ■ NEW DELHI

Consumers could expect relief from the surging

Petrol and diesel prices have already reached historic high levels across the country and have risen on most days for past one month, burning a larger hole in consumers' pockets. Sources said that ₹2-3 per litre cut in excise duty on petrol and diesel might be announced as a shield to of auto fuels. The announcement may be made ahead of Diwali to sweeten the festivities for consumers who have bore the brunt of rising fuel prices with petrol rates increasing by ₹ 30 per litre since January 1 while diesel prices rose close to ₹26 per litre.

The lack of policies and practices that validate and support the LGBTQIA+ youth and the failure in implementing existing safeguards puts them at a physical and psychological risk, restricting their potential to excel in their education, says AACHAL JAIN n today's time, schools are pri-oritizing equality and have been working on providing an environment where all the children can learn, thrive, and succeed. The teacher's role can be instrumental or integral in ensuring that LGBTQIA+ students get an equal opportunity to grow and learn in a safe environment, by supporting and advocating for them. Based on research, about 96 per cent of the LGBTQIA+ students believe that at least one adult in their educational institution extends support, understanding and reassurance.

The lack of policies and practices that validate and support the LGBTQIA+ youth and the failure in implementing existing safeguards means that these students will con-tinue to face bullying, exclusion, and discrimination during the most impressionable years of their growing up. This puts them at a physical and psychological risk thereby restricting their potential to excel in their education. Hence, it is important to highlight the guidelines around the importance of inclusive schools that support the rights of the LGBTQIA+ community.

Develop curriculum to promote inclusivity

Developing lessons that eliminate bias and inculcate positive representations of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer/Questioning, Intersex, Agender/Aromantic/Asexual individuals in history and events is one way educators may build a positive classroom atmosphere. Featuring unisex or gender-neutral names could be another! Normalise con-cians in the classroom. LGBTQIA+ students in schools with an inclusive curriculum can relate to adverse school experiences and strengthen their sense of belonging to the school community

Focus on the emotional well-

Efforts to develop and understand school protective factors and their impact on LGBTQIA+ students have often encountered institutional challenges. Formative research on the role of protective factors such as school networking, supportive educators, anti-bullying strategies has shown promising ways to improve the LGBTQIA+ community's health and well-being.

Develop a positive environment Supportive educators are a lifeline for LGBTQIA+ children, and school is frequently the only place where they can connect with peers and adults who can mitigate rejection and provide acceptance. As John Dewey has shared "Schools are a reflection of our society", it is crucial that schools take active steps to create a safe and supportive learning environment. This can be done versations about queer scientists, historical figures or mathematiin simple ways like putting up "safe space" signs or rainbow flags in the tudes among the others.

Conduct programmes to build

Sex education is a common area to start when it comes to teaching the students about sexual orientation and gender identity and encouraging inclusion of LGBTQIA+ individuals and families. At the moment, sex education programmes seldom, if ever, include sexual orientation and gender identity, and when they do, the content is often misleading and extremely negative. Therefore, this space needs attention of all stakeholders to implement LGBTQIA+ inclusive sex education. We may also need to look into legal aspects when working on this.

Promote student support

Pride clubs and similar student groups for LGBTQIA+ students are particularly essential platforms for linking students with supportive adults. An increasing amount of evidence shows that having a Gay-Straight Alliance (GSA) on campus has a long and healthy impact on the student's health, welfare, and academic achievement. Studentled GSAs can assist schools in combating LGBTQIA+ student harassment, foster dialogue about diversity and acceptance to create a thriving safe space for queer and trans youth at school.

Provide training to staff and Schools must ensure that the staff is competent and confident in their ability to implement learning opportunities such as cultural skills training and safety training to increase awareness of issues affecting LGBTQIA+ students and develop effective strategies to improve their educational experience. Schools must also examine their policies around bullying, discrimination and exclusion highlighting the need for the staff to respond to all forms of abuse. Schools must also ensure that vocational training involves LGBTQIA+ students with different and overlapping identities, as this can truly help make a dif-

e recently celebrated the 26th anniversary of the launch of internet services in India. In the past 26 years, our country has touched many digital technology dimensions. IndiaStack is one among them, which is vital for overall digital devel opment. It is a combination of several digital technology projects to provide a robust digital infrastructure to the country. Even today, it has solved many complex problems of the country. IndiaStack's mantra is to promote paperless, non-attendance, non-currency service, and transaction processes.

Stack is a commonly used word in Information Technology, including compatible technologies that create software, web apps, or mobile apps. The stack requires the operating system, server, programming language, database, and other related technical aspects to be consistent. The Government of India has developed IndiaStack for the entire country, providing various facilities and services including identification, verification, and payment. The basic services currently available are Aadhaar Authentication, Aadhaar e-KYC Electronic Signature, DigiLocker, UPI, and Digital Consent (currently under development). Its services have enabled our country to emerge as a leader in fintech. It is the only stack to be launched that is named after a country, and which has a proper combination of governance, technology, and regulators.

Fintech came into being in 2009 with the setting up of two institutions - the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI), and the Unique Identity Authority of India (UIDAI). În 2012, UIDAI facilitated consumer verification for businesspeople by enablin e-organisation of the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology also ensured digital verification of documents and certificates by providing DigiLocker services to the general public. Thanks to this development, it has now become unnecessary to carry physical documents. All these services are part of the IndiaStack Scheme of the Government of

Because of the services included in it, the direct benefits of the schemes reached the general public. Farmers, senior citizens, or BPL families, everyone gets 100% allowance, pension, and other benefits directly to their accounts. Now, people in remote areas can conduct financial transactions from their mobile phones with the help of the UPI app. We no longer have to sign many documents at government offices; Aadhaar's one-time password leads to quick verification. At the same time, fast and better disposal of services has begun. The use of IndiaStack has also facilitated the rapid and convenient collection of Indian taxes.

The Government is engaged in providing a more significant and efficient structure to the digital revolution.

IndiaStack is not as closed a system as China, where the country-made apps alone are promoted. It also does not follow economic principles such as laissez-faire as in the United States, where only a few companies have more market dominance in the open market. It is a robust, integrated, and open platform that can be used by Government, private, businesspeople, and people of all walks. In the next phase of the digital revolution, the Government is working on the appropriate, effective, and controlled use of personal data. It has also planned to use artificial intelligence and blockchain technologies for Civil Services.

Internet, new playground for gen Z

The generation Z, also termed for more than three-quarters ▲ as Centennials, are the generation of the people born between 1997 and 2012. One unique thing about it is that we basically grew up on the internet. Anything our parents say they would do on pen and paper, we say, "There's an app for it."

Some elders say that we might be spoiled or spoon fed but we are just working in a more efficient way. A few decades into the past, one might have to go through an entire dictionary to find the meaning of one word, but not today. With Google today, we can find the meaning of any word, or in that case, the answer to any logical questions we may have, at the tap of a few buttons.

We love to meet and interact with people face-to-face, who doesn't? Well to meet people, we don't have to mandatorily be in the same location. With apps like Zoom, Skype, Facetime, imo, Google Duo right at our fingertips we can meet anyone, anywhere and at any time.

One cooler thing that we have is that we can purchase basically anything without having to go in-store waiting in long queues.

Groceries, clothes, stationary, food, furniture, you name it! You can buy anything you wished only with the click of a few buttons. Gen Z also accounts

(77%) of digital buyers with estimates to reach 85% (over 55M) by 2025. The oldest people in our generation are now scratching the surface of adulthood. Gen Z is coming, to become a part of the multi-generational workspace. It is a bit evident that there will probably be a vast involvement of technology in it. If our new ways and perspectives are dealt with in the right way, powerful forces of innovation and introduction of new skills and abilities will be brought to the Technology and the exposure to social media platforms at such an early age has influenced our lives immensely. If channeled in the right way, it can be vastly beneficial, if not, it will have its disadvantages. We are, without a doubt, the most potential laden generation of all time. But as Franklin D Roosevelt once said, "Great power involves great responsibility."

Like every other generation before us, the hope of humanity regarding advancement lies with us. With our whole lives ahead of us, we should look up with optimism because given time, opportunity and information, virtually everything is pos-

"Happy to bowl. Just one thing — have to keep them to a low total. We have pressure from the first game, not this game," said Oman skipper Zeeshan Maqsood at the toss.

DOUBTING WARNER AN ABSOLUTE NO-NO: MAXWELL Abu Dhabi: Doubting David Warner "is an absolute no-no," says Australia all-rounder Glenn Maxwell who is confident that the out-of-form opener will turn things around in the T20 $\,$ World Cup. Warner has been woefully out-of-form with his IPL franchise Sunrisers Hyderabad removing him from captaincy in May before dropping him from the playing XI for the second time this year during the second leg. He scored 0 and 2 in the two games he played for Sunrisers in the UAE which was followed by a first-ball duck for Australia in the warm up match against New Zealand on Monday. "If you ever doubt Davey, it's an absolute no-no," Maxwell was quoted a saying by 'ESPNCricinfo." You know he's going to turn it around. He's a superstar of all three formats. He's made so many runs. He's going to go down as one of the greats of the game." Warner heads into the World Cup having not played an international match in the shortest format for over a year but despite that he has the backing of his teammates including white-ball skipper Aaron Finch.

LOVE HAVING DHONI IN DRESSING ROOM AS HE BRINGS SENSE OF CALM: KL RAHUL

Dubai: Picking Mahendra Singh Dhoni's brain is on KL Rahul's checklist for the next few weeks as he wants to utilise every bit of advice from Team India's mentor, who, according to the opener, always instils a sense of calm into the dressing room. Rahul, who is all set to open with Rohit Sharma in the T20 World Cup where India will start against Pakistan on Sunday, said that there couldn't have been a better "mentor" than Dhoni in what promises to be a tough journey. "Obviously, MS Dhoni (being) back with the team feels amazing because we have played under him and we have looked towards him as a mentor even when he was our captain," Rahul, who scored a fine half-century in the warm-up game against England, said during a Clubhouse session on 10 years of Red Bull Campus Cricket.

WILL PROBABLY BOWL IN NEXT WARM-UP MATCH AGAINST INDIA, SAYS STOINIS

Dubai: Australia all-rounder Marcus Stoinis has said that his hamstring is on the path of recovery and he will probably bowl in the next warm-up match against India on Wednesday. Stoinis, who opted out of Australia's T20 tours of the West Indies and Bangladesh, suffered an untimely hamstring injury in the IPL 2021. He spent three weeks on the sidelines, returning as a batter in Delĥi Capital's season-ending loss to Kolkata in the playoffs. The all-rounder scored 28 from 23 balls in Australia's three-wicket win over New Zealand on Monday in a warm-up match in Abu Dhabi, but he didn't bowl. "The hammy is good and it's tracking pretty well. It feels like it's on the right track and it's ready to go. I'll probably bowl in that next game," Stoinis was quoted as saying by cricket.com.au.

India's chances, feels Kapil Dev

egendary cricketer Kapil Dev Lhas opined that all-rounder Hardik Pandya not bowling will not impact Team India's chances at the ICC T20 World Cup. However, he added that it will affect the "combination and the options" for Virat Kohli.

Kapil's comments came after Hardik refrained from bowling in India's warm-up match against England, which the Men-in-Blue won on Monday. Kohli used five full-time bowling options and they conceded 188 runs. Hardik (12* off 10 balls) played as a specialist bats-

"An all-rounder always makes a massive difference to a team. Hardik not bowling will not impact India's chances, but it will make a difference in terms of Kohli's options. If an allrounder is available for both, it enhances the captain's ability to rotate bowlers and gives him the extra option to fall back on," Kapil Dev told Sportskeeda.

"In Hardik's case, India should be okay given the talent in the team, but him bowling even two overs will obviously lend more flexibility," he added.

Indian women's football team faces Swedish top tier side in friendly match today

PTI ■ STOCKHOLM

With three recent interna-tional wins under its belt, a confident Indian women's football team will take on Swedish top tier league side Hammarby IF in a friendly match here on Wednesday.

This is the first of the two friendlies the Indian team will play in the Scandinavian country.

The team played four matches against UAE (4-1), Tunisia (0-1), Bahrain (5-0) and Chinese Taipei (1-0) as part of preparations for next year's women's AFC Asian Cup.

"It's a big challenge for us in Sweden, but the girls are motivated to give their best in every game," said goalkeeper Aditi Chauhan on the eve of the match. "It's often about who wants more on the pitch, and our girls are certainly pumped up after the results that we have had recently," she added. The Indian team under Swedish coach Thomas Dennerby scored 10 goals in the four international friendly games while conceding only one to register three wins and one loss. "These games have been very helpful for the team. They helped us reflect on the team and individual performances. These matches ĥelped us look at our strengths and weaknesses," another player Dalima Chhibber said.

"As a team, we are focused on building up to the AFC Women's Asian Cup next year, and competitive matches like these help us plan for the areas where we need to improve." Chhibber said that the team is working hard to adapt to the philosophy that coach Dennerby is trying to

I have spent lot of nights at Gurdwaras and ate the langar food and at times stayed in Mandirs where I have survived on prasad. Some places where I have no option, I stay at budget hotels to cut costs. But this is my passion and I can't ask for money from anyone," said Mayure, who hails from a small town Buldana, which is 50 kms from Ajanta, Ellora Caves. Mayure, who won several

SAFF Championships title not a 'special success'

Aim is to qualify for 2023 Asian Cup: Coach

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India winning the SAFF Championships for an eighth time is not a "special success" as the country is dominant in the South Asian region and the bigger aim is to do well in the 2023 Asian Cup qualification, national football team head coach Igor Stimac said on Wednesday. India won the regional tournament after beating Nepal 3-0 in the final in Male on Saturday to hand Stimac his first trophy as in-charge of the team.

"I don't consider it (the SAFF title) as a special success because it is normal that India wins when it goes to SAFF but it demonstrates that we are very dominant in this competition and we can progress in our game a lot more," Stimac said at a virtual interaction. He, however, admitted that his team was under a lot of "result pressure" after drawing Bangladesh (1-1) and Sri Lanka (0-0) in the first two round-robin league matches

The results had put India in danger of going out of reckoning for the final. India then beat Nepal 1-0 and hosts Maldives 3-1 in must-win matches before outplaying the Himalayan country 3-0 in the summit clash to stamp their author-"It was obviously a difficult situation we found after the first two matches but they looked bad only because of the results. There was no big difference in approach, the numbers and statistics, we had enough shoots, scoring chances, movement and energy by players.

"We scored sometimes and didn't score sometimes and that made the difference. So, we had a lot of results pressure on our shoulders but we dealt with it the way it should be and in the end we won the trophy which was really important." Stimac was speaking from Bengaluru after his return from Maldives and he is leaving for Dubai Tuesday night with the U-23 national team, which he has taken charge of for the 2022 Asian U-23 Championships qualifiers in the UAE from October 25 to 31.
