'Humiliated' Captain resigns

Cong's last-ditch effort to negate anti-incumbency; Amarinder to 'explore options'

the Assembly polls in the State, Congress changed Punjab Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh conceding that it was the best political alternative to dent the growing anti-incumbency against the two-time Chief Minister.

It was clear that the political script written by the Congress high command was unpalatable to the Punjab Chief Minister who submitted his resignation to Governor Banwarilal Purohit soon after 4pm before the meeting of Congress Legislature Party (CLP) to elect a new leader.

Citing continued humiliation by the Congress leadership over the past two months, Capt Amarinder made it clear that he would explore and exercise his future options when the time comes, "There is always an option, and I will use that option when the time comes. At the moment I am still in the Congress," he said after submitting his resignation. "I was humiliated three times by the Congress leader-

high command) do not have confidence in me and did not think I could handle my job. But I felt humiliated at the manner in which they handled the whole affair," he told reporters at the gate of the Raj Bhavan after giving his resignation letter to the Governor.

"Let them appoint who they trust," he remarked, taking a dig at the party leadership.

Out but not defeated, a visibly agitated Capt Amarinder Singh on Saturday declared that he will stay in politics and had his options open, while making it clear that he would never accent an "inca would never accept an "inca-pable" Navjot Singh Sidhu as the Chief Minister.

Minutes after handing over his and his Council of Minister's resignation to the Governor, Capt Amarinder hit out at the party high command for humiliating him time and

Capt Amarinder claimed that he had fulfilled his duty given to him, serving Punjab as the Chief Minister for nine and half years, including five years of his previous term (2002-2007). "I worked as strongly as I can for my Punjab and the people and would continue to do so. I am not going to bog down. I have completed my this task. Now I will take over the next," he added

Keeping the cards close to his chest, Capt Amarinder refused to disclose what he had planned for his future.

Earlier in the day, Amarinder had convened a meeting of Ministers and MLAs supporting him at his official residence here at 2 pm. However, apart from a handful of his close allies in the cabinet and among MLAs, not many attended the meeting.

Amarinder had led the Congress to a stunning victory in the 2017 Assembly polls, following 10 years of Akali rule in the State. The Congress had mustered a brute majority of 80 in the 117-member Assembly. Continued on Page 2

The political script in Punjab has an uncanny similarity with the one in BJP ruled Gujarat where not only the Chief Minister but the entire Cabinet was replaced to give the Government a brand new look ahead of the elections.

Centre cautions States on Covid as schools open

As schools reopen gradually in various States, the Centre on Saturday asked the respective authorities to monrespective authorities to monitor any rising Covid infection trends among children and strengthen the public health response infrastructure, including medical oxygen plants, ICU, and hospital facilities and essential medicine stocking.

The suggestions come amid fear of a third Covid-19 wave as at least 70 districts in 15 States have become a cause of concern in terms of rising Covid-19 cases.

At a review meeting with States on Saturday, the Government noted that around 34 of these districts have a positivity rate exceeding 10 per cent, and in 36 districts the rate hovers between 5 and 10 per-cent. Cabinet Secretary Rajeev Gauba, who chaired the meeting, said there was no room for complacency and called for strict enforcement of Covid appropriate behaviour, especially in the wake of upcoming festivities.

He asked the States to implement intensive containment and active surveillance in clusters reporting high cases and not delay the imposition of restrictions, increase testing As 3rd wave fear lurking, States told to monitor rise of Covid among kids while maintaining RT-PCR ratio and promptly commission pressure swing adsorption plants, oxygen cylinders, concentrators and ventilators.

"States were also told to undertake regular reviews for priority implementation of emergency response package II to ensure preparedness with enough headroom, monitor infection spread in children considering that few States have opened schools, monitor breakthrough infections postvaccination and analyse the emerging evidence, monitor mutations including sending sufficient samples for genome sequencing," the Government said in a statement here.

PNS NEW DELHI

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Saturday received water from 115 countries of seven continents for offering in the construction of the Ram temple in Ayodhya. He termed it "innovative thinking" and underlined the message of "Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam".

He made these remarks at his residence here after receiving the water from rivers, streams, and oceans from these 115 countries. Shree Ram Janmabhoomi Teertha Kshetra general secretary Champat Rai and Ambassadors and High Commissioners from several countries including Denmark, Fiji and Nigeria were present on the occasion.

n a blow to the saffron clan, Asansol BJP MP and former on Saturday quit the party and joined the Trinamool Congress little more than two months after he was stripped of his ministerial status after which he had vowed to quit politics.

Supriyo joined the TMC in the presence of the party's national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee and its Rajya Sabha leader Derek O'Brien.

While the State BJP called it an "act of revenge", the Asansol MP said there is no vengeance in his mind and that he left his earlier party just because he was "feeling stagnated" and the "space for work was increasingly getting narrower.... Whopping 80 cr Covid vaccines administered India has administered 80 Lcrore Covid-19 vaccine doses so far, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya said on Saturday. A day ago, India administered the highest ever single-day vaccinations with 2.5 crore doses given in 24 hours, which Mandaviya had described as a golden chapter in world history. In the meantime, India reported 35,662 new Covid-19 cases and 281 deaths in the last 24 hours. 33,798 got recovered in the same duration.

Kerala recorded 23,260 Covid cases and 131 deaths in the past 24 hours.

The countrywide vaccination drive against the coron-avirus was rolled out on January 16 with healthcare workers getting inoculated in the first phase.
"Standing tall against

Covid-19. India administers 80 crore vaccine doses. Congratulations to the nation on this momentous feat, Mandaviya tweeted using the hashtag "Worlds Largest Vaccination Drive". India took 85 days to touch the 10-crore vaccination mark, 45 more days to cross the 20-crore mark and 29 more days to reach the 30-crore mark, according to the Ministry.

HOME THEATRE

Engaging and interesting

BELL BOTTOM Amazon Prime *ing: Akshay Kumar, Lara Dutta, Vaani Kapoor, Huma Qureshi, Dolly Ahluwalia Rated: 6/10

⊣his movie released in theatres last month and all those who missed watching it in the cinema hall can now see it on the OTT platform in the safety of their homes. The film in 15 days of its theatrical released earned collected ₹26.50 crore at the BO. Directed by Ranjit M Tewari, Bell Bottom is based on true a event — hijacking of a plane that was first taken to Amritsar to Lahore to then Dubai. It is definitely an interesting and an engaging watch especially for those who read about the hijackings that were taking place in the 70s ans mid-80s.

Tewari has done his best to bring the era alive by reacreating the backdrop and even give it the a retro effect. Since bellbottoms were very much in fashion back then, probably that is how the title came up.

Of coure, the younger generation would cringe in horror at the style but then the movie is not about fashion but about India giving a befitting reply to our nemesis -

And any film where we come out looking heroes is a must watch. The fact there were instances where we didn't pander to their whims and fancies says a lot about the leadership even then.

At the helm is Akshay Kumar. off late, the actor has everything going for him. Whatever project that he does and has done appear to have been verycarefully thought off. Probably that is why he is able to pull off the roles that he has done — be it Padman, Laxmii or Mission Mangal.

As a desk clerk with RAW and the go to person when a hijack takes place, he has given a great performance even though there was instances where he over-steps. Everyone knows that in bureaucracy this is a no-no. But one can give this slight missif given how he outwits Pakistan.

Akshay Kumar does these kind of roles to perfection and that is what makes watching Bell Bottom interesting till the last frame. He has redefined what a hero is for sure.

A specialy mention for Dolly Ahluwalia. Though her role is small, she has done a great job to play mother to Akshay Kumar. Lara Dutta as Late Prime Minister Indira Gandhi may not look like her but does a good job as well. Overall, the movie is engaging to watch till the end with a twist that none saw it

Yes, there are two witches! The bad witch is the good one as compared to the older one. This older one eats kids and is all bones and candy! She has been sleeping for years

There is something very creepy and scary when it comes to films that have kids with horror as its genre. The kids are sweet, cute and somewhat innocent; they get lured in by the witch and wham! Now they are trapped in the evil house forever.

Sounds familiar? Nightsbooks, one can say is a modern twist to the Hansel and Gretel tale. However, there is nothing scary for the adults who love horror and scary movies. Strange, weird and even creepy would be some of the words to describe this

'TELEVISION CONNECTS TO ITS AUDIENCE ON A DAILY BASIS'

Vivian Dsena says the pandemic has been a great educator. These tough times have made us compassionate and health conscious. It has also helped in understanding the importance of staying close to your loved

"I think one of the essential lessons from these times is getting an understanding of our true friends and well-wishers. Social distancing is not just applicable to save do the same with people, who do not mean good to us," he says the actor who is in talks for a comeback soon. His last show was Shakti — Astitva Ke Ehsaas Ki. He continues "TV is growing in different directions. It's not about saas-bahu anymore. They are experimenting with new genres, stories and also exploring different concepts and presentations. OTT can't be compared with TV because it comes in seasons, while TV is for daily viewing, hence these daily soaps. The audience is completely different, so is the reach. Yes a lot of people have smartphones these days, but more people have TV that came much before mobile phones. Television connects to its audience on a daily basis, for some the medium is a part of their daily regime." Like any other child, the actor too has grown up watching TV. "I watched a lot of cartoons. I have grown up watching Aladdin, Tom and Jerry, Dexter's Laboratory. I also enjoyed watching Alif Laila," adds Vivian, who never imagined that one day he would be an actor himself Unlike what many might say, he believes people still enjoy watching TV. The actor also shares how wonderful it feels to be working on a medium that takes you closer to the masses. "People belonging to different strata of the society watch TV, so when they see actors and the shows. Being recognised and loved by people from all walks of life is a different feeling altogether.

Whenever I step out rickshaw puller, people working on the work or asking for help on the streets, those working in medical and general stores recognise me much like those stepping out of big cars or running to catch a bus or hire a taxi for office. This connection with all kinds of people makes working on TV worthwhile. I think that's the real reward," he concludes.

'Doing comedy is not easy'

SAPNA SIKARWAR who is all set to enter the sitcom Happu Ki Ultan Paltan is going to play a pivotal role. She speaks with SHALINI SAKSENA about her induction in comedy among other things

■ What is your role?

My role is of a very sweet wife who likes dressing up and doing make-up. Talking about my nature in the show, I it a lot. But it is not always smooth sailing, I do lose my temper at times, sometimes I am quite stubborn and get upset as well. I do not judge people and am a very broad-minded person, which obviously doesn't mean that I don't respect people.

■ What is the best part of Bimlesh?

She might be very stubborn and grumpy at times but in the end she cares about her husband, who she loves the most.

■ What was the attraction of playing the character?

To be honest, in real life I am a very moody person but I don't get angry or fight with people like Bimlesh does. Otherwise, Bimlesh's character describes me well and that is what attracted me. Moreover, it was the director's trust in me that I would fit the role and when you work with a particular production for a long time they know who can pull off the character well. It is definitely a very challenging role but I was finalised because I gave my 100 per cent to it.

■ Happy Ki Ultan Pultan is an iconic show. What would you say is the reason for its success?

It is because people can relate well to the show, it is very realistic.

■ How is Bimlesh different from what you did in FIR, May I Come In Madam and Excuse me Madam?

In FIR I had played many characters and in May I Come In Madam I was playing a housewife's role, who was very possessive, insecure and doubted her husband. In Bimlesh, it is totally the opposite, I don't doubt my husband or isn't insecure about things. I trust him and love him.

Since childhood I was very fond of acting, I always loved dancing and aced it and I also sing pretty well. My family also kind of psyched me and said I am a good actor and that is when I thought I should give it a try. Comedy was also something which interested me and that is why I have been doing back to back comedy roles.

■ You have done a lot of comedy shows. Has that been a conscious decision?

When I worked for FIR, I played so many roles and as far as I know, to win vour audience's heart is tough but when you do it makes you the happiest. It is a very big thing for every actor of course. I have made a place in my audience's heart with my work. They love me in comedy and like my timing. That is one thing which has always motivated me and that's why I am constantly doing comedy roles.

■ What are the challenges that come with doing a comedy genre?

People who do daily soaps work hard, and people who do comedy also work hard. But I think comedy is quite tough because if you are not good with the timing, people would also not enjoy it. It is all in the timing, which is not very easy and not everyone can do it.

PRIYANKA LALWANI LOVES BEING ON STAGE

Jamai Raja actress Priyanka Lalwani enjoys acting, but says that being on stage and hosting a show have a special place in her heart. "From corporate events to wedding events to fashion shows to interviews, you name it and I've probably done it all," she said.

Asked which one she prefers — anchoring or acting, she said, "It's like asking a parent to choose between their kids who is your favourite. I love both because while I'm on stage, I get to be myself and I can do my own thing. When I'm in front of the camera, I get to be the character that I am playing." The Spotlight 2 actress didn't take any formal training in anchoring. "In my early modelling days, I was offered to host a sangeet event and I was like why not. I remember taking my mom along with me. Since then there is no looking back. But it does require some different skills, most important is that you have to be impromptu unlike acting where a script is given. There are no retakes in anchoring," she said.

Over the years, she has learnt that it's very important to be patient and not rush through things when she is speaking on stage.

"Be calm and always smile on," she suggested.

Talking about her favourite anchor on TV, she shared, "Since the time I was a kid I used to really look up to Vishal Malhotra and never missed any of his shows on Disney. I have really admired Ambika Anand. I have grown up watching her on NDTV Good Times. I wanted to do what she did. I wanted to travel and do shows like she did. And some way or the other, I am doing that.

Apart from them, I really admire Ellen DeGeneres, Jimmy Fallon, Maniesh Paul and Raghav Juyal.'

SHEENA BAJAJ LIKES GETTING PHOTOGRAPHED

Actor Sheena Bajaj recently did a photoshoot and the photographer is none other than her own sister, Riya Bajaj. The latter is a professional and her brand is called Riya Bajaj Photography. Sheena shares her experience and why it is essential to click new images every time.

"Riva shoots with film stars and many other celebrities. She is quite good at her job. All my life, I had only shot with her and dad. I trust her skill and she knows me better than anyone else," says the actor, known for her show "Best of Luck Nikki".

Sheena shot about three looks because she doesn't enjoy draining herself in one day. And, if she wants more, then she can "Riya has got a lot of

I don't like continuously clicking pictures and doing photoshoots but since I am on Instagram and I have to maintain my profile, connect with my fans, do brand promotions and all of that, I do photo shoots every few months. I have to keep upgrading myself... In fact, I think actors should get photo shoots done every four to five months, it helps. But at the same

Non-fulfillment of poll promises, dominant babudom, inaccessibility, perception of being soft on the Badals, have emerged as the major grounds that led to the downfall of Patiala Royal Capt Amarinder Singh. After bringing the Congress party back to the throne with a thumping majority in the Punjab Vidhan Sabha with 78 seats in the 117member assembly, Capt Amarinder was forced to resign from the Chief Minister's post with election just about four months away. NON-FULFILLMENT OF PRE-POLL PROMISES

Putting Badals behind bars for their alleged involvement in sacrilege and related firing incidents, arresting the "big fish" of drugs mafia and eliminating drug menace, pro-viding cheap electricity and cancelling power purchase agreements with the private companies, farm loan waiver, providing jobs, among others — the Congress party returned to power in 2017, after a decade-long Akali-BJP rule, with these tall promises. But the non-fulfillment of the same put Capt Amarinder in

His own men revolted against him when the Congress Government failed to make any headway in ful-filling any of its poll promises. The leaders, especially MLAs, had apprehensions of facing the electorate who elected them on these promises.

What all were the murboisterous voices when even after four years, the Congress Government could not nail those guilty of sacrilege. The Punjab and Haryana High Court's adverse order in the Kotkapura police firing case in April this year proved to be the last nail in the coffin.

Several leaders — including Cabinet Ministers Sukhjinder Randhawa, Charamnjit Singh Channi, and even the then Punjab Congress president Sunil Jakhar questioned Capt Amarinder and his Government for not handling the investigations properly. Navjot Singh Sidhu, who had been staying away from the limelight after quitting the Cabinet in 2019 following a reshuffle in which he was divested of his portfolio, slammed Capt Amarinder for the same hinting at "fixedmatch" with the Badals.

Another major issue is the report of STF on drugs not being made public. It was submitted to the High Court by the STF chief three years ago in an envelope, which has not been opened yet. The

By evening, the Congress party was abuzz with speculations with a section believing that a Jat Sikh and Hindu combination would lead the party to the polls, scheduled to be held early next year. His appointment could also be like a face-saving after making Capt Amarinder a scapegoat for the Congress' "non-performance and non-fulfillment of poll promises, and also giving a real Congressman his due.

Jakhar, who had lost 2017 assembly polls even as the Congress returned to power with a thumping majority, had playing a significant role as the opposition MLA during the Akali-BJP's 10-year-regime.

Son of former Lok Sabha Speaker Balram Jakhar, 67-yearold Jakhar has been a three-time MLA from Abohar constituency (2002-2017) and has also represented Gurdaspur Lok Sabha constituency when he won the byelection necessitated by the death of the sitting MP Vinod Khanna in 2017.

Besides, this would be for the first time after the reorganization of Punjab in 1966 that there would be a Hindu Chief Minister. Ram Kishan was the last Hindu Chief Minister for a two-year tenure from 1964 to 1966 before the President's Rule was imposed for the smooth creation of Haryana.

had engineered Jakhar's elevation to Punjab Congress president's post after he lost 2-017 polls. One time a close Capt Amarinder loyalist, Jakhar never hesitated to speak against him.

A section also believed that Sidhu may project himself for the Chief Minister's role as Jakhar is not a sitting MLA. But that is most unlikely.

Sukhjinder Randhawa, currently the Jails and Cooperation Minister, is known as Congress' Majha brigade along with Tript Bajwa and others. One time Capt Amarinder's close confidant, Randhawa is a three-time Congress MLA and has been elected in 2002, 2007 and 2017. His father Santokh Singh Randhawa was twice state Congress president.

He was among the four Ministers who had opened a front against Capt Amarinder. Always pushing for action against the Badals in sacrilege cases and Bikram Majithia in drugs cases, Randhawa had even tendered his resignation in one of the Cabinet meeting after the High Court's adverse order on Kotkapura firing incident.

Another name that is doing

Capt Amarinder Singh, who resigned as Punjab CM, speaking to Reporters at Raj Bhavan after tendering his resignation to the rounds is that of Fatehgarh Sahib MLA Kuljit Singh Nagra, a strong Rahul Gandhi loyalist who was recently appointed one of the four Punjab Congress working president.

However, the final decision on deciding the next Chief Minister would be taken by the party high command that has authorizes the Congress chief Sonia Gandhi to take the deci-

During the CLP meeting on Saturday, held in the presence of two central observers — Ajay Maken and Harish Chaudhary, two resolutions were passed one appreciating the outgoing Chief Minister and another authorizing Congress president to select his incumbent.

The first resolution was passed to appreciate the outgoing CLP leader — who headed the Punjab Government with utmost ability, gave good governance to the state, faced and handled the challenges, said AICC general secretary-incharge of Punjab Harish Rawat. In the second resolution, Punjab CLP authorized Congress president to select its next leader. "We will inform about the next CLP leader once it is conveyed to us by the CP," Rawat said.

Only two Congress MLAs, including Capt Amarinder Singh, skipped the Congress Legislative Party meeting.

PERCEPTION OF PLAYING FIXED MATCH WITH BADALS

There was a strong resentment against Capt Amarinder over non-action against the Badals in the police firing after the Bargari sacrilege incident. The party leaders have been complaining that there is a perception gaining ground that Capt Amarinder was playing a fixed match with the former Chief Minister's family the revelation of which was made by Sidhu ahead of 2019 Lok Sabha polls in Bathinda. Despite repeated efforts, he could not counter the prevailing perception that he was soft on the Badals.

DOMINANT BUREAUCRACY

Mincing now words, the party leaders, at various forums, alleged that the government is being run by babus and despite being in power, they were being treated as Capt Amarinder's repeated instructions to respect the Congress MLAs, the issue remained. Right from the first year of the government, the party cadres have alleged that the bureaucrats were running the government and the political leaders were ignored.

CAPT'S INACCESSIBILITY

Capt Amarinder's inaccessibility - not only with the people but his own party men has cost him dear.

The inaccessibility tag made him unpopular. In con-trast, his predecessor Parkash Singh Badal used to hold sangat darshan (public audience). In fact, the former Congress Chief Minister Beant Singh too used to hold open durbars. His own party leaders were also not able to meet him.

In fact, Congress MLAs were asked to meet his OSDs or the Chief Principal Secretary if they have to get any work done or discuss with the Chief Minister.

He also faced the same charge in his previous tenure

Expressing displeasure with the party high command over the turn of events that forced him to tender his resignation, Capt Amarinder said that he had already asked the party chief Sonia Gandhi to relieve" him but the high command asked him to con-expected and as per the traditions of Congress, MLAs authorised party president Sonia Gandhi to pick a new CLP leader (Chief Minister) with a resolution to this effect being passed unanimously in a meeting of the hurriedly convened "emergency" meeting.

Central observer Ajay Maken said 78 of 80 party MLAs were present in the meeting. He said another resolution praising and thanking Capt Amarinder for his contribution towards Puniab and the Congress was also unanimously passed at the meeting. "We expect that the party will continue to get guidance from Amarinder Singh," he said.

Amongst the top contenders in the race for becoming the interim Chief Minister till the elections, former State Congress chief Sunil Jakhar tops the list. A staunch loyalist of Capt Amarinder till recent months, he changed track when he sensed the brewing resentment against the CM amongst the MLAs and silently became neutral. He was replaced by Navjot Singh Sidhu two months ago in July. If Jakhar is chosen, Congress would go with both-- a lat Sikh and a Hindu -- into the polls, bringing in the caste and community equation in the Sikh majority State.

Disruptions of proceedings contempt of House: Naidu

In a first of its kind observa-tion by any presiding officer of the legislatures in the country and in the context of rising disruptions, Rajya Sabha Chairman M Venkaiah Naidu on Saturday unequivocally held that disruptions of proceedings amount to contempt of the House and disruptors can't claim it as their privilege to do

Delivering the second Ram Jethmalani Memorial Lecture on "Is disruption of parliamentary proceedings an MP's privilege and/or a facet of parlia-mentary democracy?" Naidu spoke at length on the intentions of various rules and other provisions requiring high standards of behaviour of MPs in the House and the scheme of privileges and argued that disruptions negate the objective of effective performance by individual members and of the House collectively.

Speaking on disruptions the Parliament, Naidu informed that the productivity of Rajya Sabha is being quantified since 1978 and during the first 19 years till 1996, the productivity of the House has been over 100% and has begun to decline since then. While the House clocked annual productivity of over 100% during 16 of these 19 years, it was so only in two years in 1998 and 2009 during the next 24 years and not even once in the last 12 years.

The Chairman further said that the productivity of Rajya Sabha during 2004-14 has been about 78% and it declined to about 65% since then. Of the 11 sessions that Shri Naidu presided over, four of them clocked low productivity of 6.80%, 27.30%, 28.90% and 29.55% and during the year 2018, the Rajya Sabha recorded the lowest ever productivity of 35.75% under the impact of disruptions, he stated. During the last monsoon session (254th), the Rajya Sabha lost more than 70% of the scheduled time including over 76% of the valuable Question Hour time, the Chairman into being in 1952, only 10 suspended for misconduct inside the House during the first 57 years while 18 were also suspended in the last 11 years in the including

Since the Rajya Sabha came

Giving this information, Naidu noted that these suspensions do not reflect the gravity of the situation since such actions were not taken on all occasions for various rea-

Seeking to answer in the negative, if disruption can be claimed as a privilege by MPs, Chairman Naidu argued that the Rules of the House, the Code of Conduct, the detailed Parliamentary Etiquette to be complied with by the Members of Rajya Sabha were clearly aimed at ensuring a high standard of behavior of members inside the House befitting the solemnity of proceedings of the House while the scheme of privileges granted to the Members are intended to enable effective performance of the Members individually and of the House collectively.

He asserted that accordingly, disruptions negate the principle of effective functioning of the House besides being against the wishes of the peo-

Earlier in his speech, Naidu described Jethmalani as a rebel and radical thinker who brought innovation to legal inquiry and opened new vistas of interpretation and opportunities in every major case he a r g u e d during his 77 year long and successful career as a leading "Birthdays come and go

Unforgettable moment: Modi on 2.50 cr shots on his b'day

Panaji: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said it was an unforgettable and emotional moment for him as over 2.50 crore Covid-19 vaccine doses were administered in the country on his 71st birthday.

"With your efforts, India has created a world record of administering over 2.5 crore vaccines in a single day, a feat not even the most powerful nations have been able to achieve," PM Modi said during an interaction via video link with healthcare workers and beneficiaries in Goa.

"We saw how the nation kept looking at CoWIN dashboard yesterday. Over 15 lakh vaccinations per hour, over 26,000 vaccinations every minute took place yesterday. Over 425 people were administered vaccines each second,"

PM Modi said he appreciates all doctors, medical staff, and people in administration in the country for this effort. The huge effort and skilled manpower needed to accomplish this task show the might of India, he added.

Taliban trying to sell leftover US weapons to overcome fin crisis

RAKESH K SINGH ■ NEW DELHI

 $F^{\text{acing financial crunch,}}_{\text{Taliban is negotiating with}}$ African countries to supply leftover American weapons. In lieu of the weapons, the outfit is seeking payments in diamonds to trade the same through white channels in the international markets.

The African diamonds are globally reputed to be of high quality and the Taliban is aiming to offset the financial crisis amid pending recognition of its regime from the international market and a drought staring Afghanistan.

The crisis is such that the Taliban has started selling off seized properties of the political and ideological opponents. A number of such properties have already been sold off to the Pakistanis based in Kandahar. Several properties in other cities are also on the block said, "Taliban is essentially a terrorist or an insurgent organization that has been involved in drugs trade and smuggling of antiques and has also relied on funding from the Sheikhs of the Gulf countries. But such funds cannot sustain a government at the helm in Kabul. Running a government is an altogether different ballgame than operating a guerilla organization. Having realized the constraints of governance, the Taliban is already amplifying messages of an inclusive government and respect of human rights, all of which are aimed at seeking recognition for its regime and subsequently gaining access to international funding."

Courts can summon persons not accused only after cogent proof: SC

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court has said that courts can exercise their power to proceed against persons not accused but appearing to have committed an offence only when there is "strong and cogent evidence" against such individuals and not in a "casual and cavalier manner".

Under Section 319 of Code of Criminal Procedure (CrPC), when during the course of inquiry or trial of offence, it appears from the evidence that any person, who has not been made an accused, has comcan proceed against such individual for the offence which he appears to have committed.

A bench of justices K M Joseph and P S Narasimha while dealing with a criminal case said, "This is yet another case where summons issued purporting to invoke power under Section 319 of the CrPC has brought the newly summoned person to this court."

It said that the test as laid down by the constitution bench of this court for invoking power under Section 319 CrPC inter alia includes the principle that only when strong and cogent evidence occurs against a person from the evidence the power under Section 319 CrPC should be exercised.

"The power cannot be exercised in a casual and cavalier manner. The test to be applied, as laid down by this court, is one which is more than prima facie case which is applied at the time of framing of charges," the bench said in its September 13 order.

the 2014 constitution bench verdict in Hardeep Singh versus State of Punjab and others which dealt with the issue of applicability of Section 319 CrpC and said it will all depend upon the evidence which is tendered in a given case as to whether there is a strong ground to proceed against an individual, who has not been made accused.

Taliban replace Ministry for women

Afghanistan's new rulers set up a Ministry for 'propagation of virtue and the prevention of vice' in building that once housed Women's Affairs Ministry fghanistan's new Taliban Arulers set up a Ministry for the "propagation of virtue and the prevention of vice" in the building that once housed the Women's Affairs Ministry, escorting out World Bank staffers on Saturday as part of the forced move.

It's the latest troubling sign that the Taliban are restricting women's rights as they settle into Government, just a month since they overran the capital of Kabul. In their first period of rule in the 1990s, the Taliban had denied girls and women the right to education and barred them from public life.

Separately, three explosions targeted Taliban vehicles in the eastern provincial capital of Jalalabad on Saturday, killing three people and wounding 20, witnesses said. There was no immediate claim of responsibility, but Islamic State (ISIS) terrorists, headquartered in the area, are enemies of the Taliban.

The Taliban are facing major economic and security problems as they attempt to govern, and a growing chal-lenge by ISIS insurgents would further stretch their resources. In Kabul, a new sign was up outside the women's affairs Ministry, announcing it was now the "Ministry for Preaching and Guidance and the Propagation of Virtue and the Prevention of Vice.'

Staff of the World Bank's $100 million Women's Economic Empowerment and Development Programme, which was run out of the Women's Affairs Ministry, were escorted off the grounds Saturday, said programme member Sharif Akhtar, who was among those being removed.

Mabouba Suraj, who heads the Afghan Women's Network, said she was astounded by the flurry of orders released by the Taliban-run government

restricting women and girls. Meanwhile, the Talibanrun education ministry asked boys from grades 7-12 back to school Saturday along with their male teachers but there was no mention of girls in those grades returning to school. Previously, the Taliban's minister of higher education minister, had said girls would be given equal access to education, albeit in gender-segre-

"It is becoming really, really troublesome. ... Is this the stage where the girls are going to be forgotten? Suraj said. "I know they don't believe in giving explanations, but explanations are very impor-

Suraj speculated that the contradictory statements perhaps reflect divisions within the Taliban as they seek to consolidate their power, with the more pragmatic within the movement losing out to hard-liners among them, at least for now.

Statements from the Taliban leadership often reflect a willingness to engage with the world, open public spaces to women and girls and protect Afghanistan's minorities. But orders to its rank and file on the ground are contradictory. Instead restrictions, particularly on women, have been imple-

Suraj, an Afghan American who returned to Afghanistan in 2003 to promote women's rights and education, said many of her fellow activists have left the country.

She said she stayed in an effort to engage with the Taliban and find a middle ground, but until now has not been able to get the Taliban leadership to meet with activists who have remained in the country to talk with women about the way forward.

"We have to talk. We have to find a middle ground," she said. Also on Saturday, an international flight by Pakistan's national carrier left Kabul's airport with 322 passengers on board and a flight by Iran's Mahan Air departed with 187 passengers on board, an airport official said.

The official, who spoke on condition of anonymity because he wasn't authorised to speak to the media, said the two flights departed on Saturday morning. The identities and nationalities of those on board were not immediate-

The international flights were the latest to depart Kabul in the past week as technical teams from Qatar and Turkey have worked to get the airport up to standard for international commercial aircraft.

Fearful US residents in Afghanistan hiding out from Taliban

Kabul: Every night in yet another house in Afghanistan's capital, a US green card-holding couple from California take turns sleeping, with one always awake to watch over their three young children so they can flee if they hear the footsteps of the Taliban.

They've moved seven times in two weeks, relying on relatives to take them in and feed them. Their days are an uncomfortable mix of fear and boredom, restricted to a couple of rooms where they read, watch TV and play "The Telephone Game" in which they whisper secrets and pass them on, a diversion for the children that has the added benefit of keeping them quiet.

All of it goes on during the anybody who can help them get out. A US State Department official contacted them several days ago to tell them they were being assigned a case worker, but they haven't heard a word since. They've also been talking to an international rescue organisation.

"We are scared and keep hiding ourselves more and more," the mother said in a text message to The Associated Press. "Whenever we feel breathless, I pray."

Through messages, emails and phone conversations with loved ones and rescue groups, AP has pieced together what day-to-day life has been like for some of those left behind after the US military's chaotic withdrawal — that includes US citizens, permanent US resident green-card holders and visa applicants who aided US troops during the 20-year war. Those contacted by AP — who are not being identified for their own safety - described a fearful, furtive existence of hiding in houses for weeks, keeping the lights off at night, moving from place to place, and donning baggy clothing and burqas to avoid detection if they absolutely must venture out.

All say they are scared the ruling Taliban will find them, throw them in jail, perhaps even kill them because they are Americans or had worked for the US government. And they are concerned that the Biden administration's promised efforts to get them out have

When the phone rang in an apartment in Kabul a few weeks ago, the US green card holder who answered — a ing family — was hopeful it was the US State Department finally responding to his pleas to get him and his parents on a flight out. Instead, it was the Taliban. "We won't hurt you. Let's meet. Nothing will happen," the caller said, according to the truck driver's brother, who lives with him in Texas and spoke to him afterwards. The call included a few ominous words: "We know where you

That was enough to send the man fleeing from the Kabul apartment where he had been staying with his mother, his two teenage brothers and his father, who was in particular danger because he had worked for years for a US contractor over-

American intelligence officials have warned that al-Qaida or the Islamic State group could regenerate in Afghanistan and pose a threat to the United States in one year to two years.

The US Military has said it can conduct counterterrorism surveillance and, if necessary, strikes in Afghanistan from "over the horizon" — meaning from assets based in other countries. But they have made it clear that surveillance flights from bases in the Persian Gulf are long and provide limited time in the air over Afghanistan. So they have talked about seeking basing agreements, overflight rights and increased intelligence-sharing with nations closer to Afghanistan, including some neighbours.

France recalls envoy protesting Australia-US submarine deal United States on Friday to

AP CANBERRA

 $F^{\text{rance's ambassador to}}_{\text{Australia}} \text{ described}$ Saturday as a "huge mistake" Australia's surprise cancellation of a major submarine contract in favour of a US deal, delivering a final protest as the envoy was recalled from the country in an unprecedented show of anger among the allies.

Jean-Pierre Thebault delivered his comments as he left his residence in the pandemic locked down capital of Canberra.

"This has been a huge mistake, a very, very bad handling of the partnership," Thebault said, explaining that the arms agreement between Paris and Canberra was supposed to be based "on trust, mutual understanding and sincerity."

Paris recalled its ambassadors to Australia and the protest a deal among the United States, Australia and Britain to supply Australia with a fleet of at least eight nuclear-power submarines. Thebault flew out of Australia on a flight to Doha, Qatar, around 17 hours after the announcement from Paris. The US deal scraps a 90 billion Australian dollar ($66 billion) contract with French majority state-owned Naval Group, signed in 2016, to build 12 conventional diesel-electric submarines. "I would like to be able to run into a time machine and be in a situation where we don't end up in such an incredible, clumsy, inadequate, un-Australian situation," the French ambassador added.

Australian Foreign Minister Marise Payne's office earlier had issued a statement responding to the diplomat's recall and noting Canberra's "regret" over its ally's withdrawal of its representative. "Australia" understands France's deep disappointment with our decision, which was taken in accordance with our clear and communicated national security interests," the statement said. It added that Australia values its relationship with France and looked forward to future engagements together.

Payne and Defence Minister Peter Dutton are currently in the United States for annual talks with their US counterparts and their first with President Joe Biden's administration.

Before he was recalled, French envoy Thebault said on Friday he found out about the US submarine deal: "Like everybody, thanks to the

North Korea expanding uranium enrichment plant

Seoul: Recent satellite images shows North Korea is expanding a uranium enrichment plant at its main Yongbyon nuclear complex, a sign that it's intent on boosting the production of bomb materials, experts say.

The assessment comes after North Korea recently raised tensions by performing its first missile tests in six months amid long-dormant nuclear disarmament diplomacy with the United States.

The expansion of the enrichment plant probably indicates that North Korea plans to increase its production of weapons-grade uranium at the Yongbyon site by as much as 25 percent," Jeffrey Lewis and two other experts at Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey said in a report.

The report said satellite images taken by Maxar shows construction in an area adjoining the uranium enrichment plant at Yongbyon.

It said a satellite image taken on Sept 1 shows North Korea cleared trees and prepared the ground for construction and that a construction excavator is also visible.

The report said a second image taken on Sept 14 showed a wall erected to enclose the area, work on a foundation and panels removed from the side of the enrichment building to provide access to the newly enclosed area.

"The new area is approximately 1,000 square meters, enough space to house 1,000 additional centrifuges," the report said. "The addition of 1,000 new centrifuges would increase the plant's capacity to produce highly enriched uranium by 25 per cent."

Cryptocurrency Hyper Fund under Govt scanner

¬he Government is keeping a close eye on cryptocurrency floating in the market based out of the country folowing alert that agencies responsible to check financial fraud are watching a company called Hyper Fund.

Sources said Hyper Fund, a DEFI by Hyper Tech Group has come under the radar recently. The Group claims to have launched the Hyper Fund to provide a decentralized financial infrastructure. Hyper Fund was announced in mid-

As per the company website it is led by Ryan Xu, however, with the Multi-Level Marketing (MLM) model Hyper Fund has been luring investors with higher returns and such offerings, a common practice under Ponzi Schemes, that got the authorities alerted in the first place.

According to sources, complaints against such Funds have started pouring in several states. In India, the RBI, Union Finance Ministry and SEBI had warned people against cryptocurrency trading. The RBI is planning to launch India's official digital currency-E Rupee soon.

Bopanna and Ramkumar crack in must-win doubles match, India lose 1-3 to Finland

Ramanathan blew their chances in the must-win doubles match as India lost the World Group I tie 1-3 to hosts Finland in the Davis Cup, here on Saturday.

Captain Rohit Rajpal changed the doubles combination by pairing Bopanna with Ramkumar instead of lefthanded Divij Sharan but they lost the crucial match 6-7(2) 6-7(2) to Henri Kontinen and Harri Heliovaara in one hour and 38 minutes.

Coming into the match down 0-2, Indians needed to win the doubles to stay alive

Prajnesh later beat Patrik Niklas-Salminen in the dead fourth rubber 6-3 7-5, while the fifth match was not played.

India will now have to compete in the Play-offs next year to keep their place in the World Group I.

Heliovaara was considered the most vulnerable of all four players on the court but he raised his game by several notches and created a huge impact on the outcome of the match with his fearless approach. The Indian, on the contrary, fumbled even when they had advantage as they up points in the eight game of the second set but squandered the chances.

After doing all the hard work, the Indians cracked at crucial junctures

Bopanna said the fact that the Finnish players have played together at a higher level made a difference to the

"We were playing first time together at this level. In close points it did make a difference. But we played a great match, (considering) we were playing for the first time together," said the 40-year-old.

Bopanna also backed the captain's call in changing the combination saying, he and Ramkumar were the right pair for today's match.

He also said that India needs to do well in singles matches if the team has to win ties in Davis Cup.

"Four points are from singles matches, that's where we need to focus. It's been six years that an Indian singles player has beaten a higherranked player in Davis Čup.

"We need to have good structure back home, good junior system. Cricket does well because there is a fantastic structure, so every sport needs something like that. You can't do it on your own.

ernment has to come together," he said.

In the opening set, at 3-3, the Indian pair attacked the serve of Heliovaara, going 30all but the home player served Bopanna on the second point

The Federation and the gov- big on the next two points to ensure the set stays on serve.

Eventually the opening set went to tie-breaker. Heliovaara found a stunning service return winner off to get the mini break and also held his serve as Finland took a 4-1 lead.

Then came Ramkumar's double fault and a volley error at the net that gave Finland players five set points. They converted the second when Ramkumar could not return Kontinen's serve.

A forehand winner by Ramkumar at 30-all in the second game of the second set, set up the first break chance for India and they converted when Kontinen could not return Bopanna's backhand.

However, the big-serving Bopanna dropped his own serve in the next game when he made consecutive unforced

Bopanna' serve again came under attack but he managed to hold after going down to deuce points from 40-15 as India led 4-3.

In the next game, the Indians went up 40-0 on Heliovaara's serve but blew away all three breakpoints and later one more to let the rivals hold for a 4-4 scoreline.

Another tie-breaker followed. Helovaara pulled of a sensational forehand winner at 5-2 to get to first match point and it was all over for India when Ramkumar could not return the ball in the

Neither the New Zealand board nor their government has shared the nature of the threat with the Pakistan government, security officials or the Pakistan Cricket Board.

A clearly upset interior minister, Sheikh Rasheed Ahmed, said on Saturday that there was no threat to the New Zealand team and they just made up an excuse to leave for home as they didn't want to play the series.

New Zealand had arrived in Pakistan on September 11 for a white-ball series after 18 years and were scheduled to play three ODIs and five

If streaming services are looking at making profits in India, they should adapt to regional realities, start thinking creatively and take a leaf out of what has worked globally, writes AJAYYA KUMAR

he Covid-19 induced lockdown might have given a shot in the arm for streaming services, but making substantial profits in the Indian market still remains an elusive dream for most of them. In the financial year 2020, Netflix India recorded a revenue of Rs 924 Crore and managed to eke out a marginal profit of Rs 9 crore. The streaming giant's over all profits globally for the same year stood at a whopping $2.8 billion.

Disney+Hotstar in India, on the other hand, recorded revenue to the tune of Rs 1629 Crore with losses amounting to Rs 362 crore. Hotstar is currently India's largest streaming platform with a subscriber base of 300 million.

According to an analysis by Media Partners Asia, India's online video market is projected to grow at a CAGR of 26 per cent over 2020-25 to reach US$4.5 billion. Another report by Boston Consulting Group notes that the OTT video streaming market alone in India is set to touch US$5 billion by 2023. And for a share of this pie contend not just Netflix, Amazon Prime, and Disney+Hotstar, but around 30 streaming platforms including AltBalaji, Zee5, SonyLiv, MXPlayer, ManoramaMax, Neestream, and so on.

The right revenue model still remains an enigma, thanks to the uniqueness of the Indian market. There are no proven models in the Indian media industry to show that subscription-led growth is if at all possible. Be it the newspapers or entertainment channels, the advertisement brings in the lion's share of the revenue. While Netflix and Amazon Prime banks entirely on subscriber revenue, Disney+Hotstar which has a base of both paid and unpaid subscribers see its share of ad revenue coming in through the advertisements shown to the unpaid subscribers. While it is yet to be cracked which of these models would ultimately work, there are few things streaming platforms could work on meanwhile.

EXPLORE THE UNEXPLORED

On June 1, 2021, a review of the Malayalam Movie 'Joji', starring Fahadh Fazil and directed by Dileesh Pothan, appeared in The New Yorker magazine. This wasn't the first time the international magazine reviewed an Indian movie. In fact, on April 15 it had published Richard Brody's take on Duvidha, the 1973 film by Mani Kaul. But Joji was different. For one it was a regional language movie. And rarely has international media recognised non-Hindi movies, probably with the exception of the works of Satyajit Ray, as Indian movies. To take a review seriously or not is one thing. But to me, it was the beginning of a change; Undeniably the world is starting to take note of Indian regional content, especially from the South. Now, this is a moment to be seized; not only by the language movie industry but also by the OTT players that are looking to turn profitable in the Indian market.

If Joji premiered on Amazon Prime, The Great Indian Kitchen, yet another Malayalam movie that garnered critical acclaim from across the world, made its first appearance on Neestream, a regional OTT platform. The movie later became available on Amazon Prime too. Nayattu and Jagame Thandhiram streaming on Netflix, C U Soon, Kuruthi and Karnan streaming on Amazon Prime and Netrikann streaming on Disney+Hotstar are some of the notable movies from regional productions that premiered on international OTT platforms during the pandemic season. Some of the other notable Malayalam films currently streaming include Aarkkariyam and Santhoshathinte Onnam Rahasyam, while the Tamil movie industry came together to produce the anthology Navarasa now running on

Meanwhile what particularly stands out is the glaring absence of any noteworthy productions from the behemoth that is Bollywood. Clearly, it is the regional language movies that have helped the streaming platforms to offer a diverse range of content and cash in on the subscription surge during the pandemic. This is a signboard. The first step towards profitability for OTT platforms is to spot the industries that are nimble, agile, dynamic and quick to adapt to the changing socio-economic circumstances. But the efforts shouldn't stop at simply sourcing the content. Given the diversity of movie industries in India, streaming platforms are looking at a cornucopia of possibilities.

Let's start from the South. Given the high literacy rates in the Southern states, OTT platforms are looking at a large market for their English and international content. While The New Yorker might have reviewed Joji this year, what is to be noted is that there already exists an international audience for Malayalam movies and a Malayali audience for international movies, thanks to IFFK and various other film festivals.

Then there is the large Indian diaspora outside the country. According to a report by the United Nations, India has the world's largest diaspora population — 18 million — living outside the country. A large part of them is Malayalis, Tamils, and Punjabis. In other words, by exploring regional content, streaming platforms would be striking a goldmine.

OFFER MORE DIVERSITY, LEARN FROM WHAT HAS WORKED INTERNATIONALLY

Streaming services in India should take a leaf out of what has worked internationally for their global counterparts.

According to news reports, French show Lupin streamed on Netflix held the number one spot in countries like Brazil, Argentina, Germany, Italy and Spain and the number two spot in the US. This only means one thing — out there, there seems to be a genuine and ever-increasing demand for premium non-Anglophone content. In this sense, India is a goldmine for streaming services with its linguistic diversity.

But linguistic diversity alone doesn't serve the purpose. Barring a handful of shows or movies, Indian content has not been able to create much of a ripple in the international arena, owing to the relatively poor quality of the content.

Now here is something to consider. One of the features that have set Netflix a class apart from its competitors globally is its huge investment in original content. Reports suggest that in 2019 about 85% of its new spending was set apart for original content, more than any of its competitors dared to. In India too Netflix has taken a lead by setting up its first global post-production facility in Mumbai.

Producing original content of all hues and (Indian) languages with strict quality checks for a pan-Indian and international audience could work magic for Indian streaming services. Keep experimenting and do not hesitate to disrupt your own revenue/content models if need be. Because now this is a bus that OTT platforms cannot afford to miss.

ROPE IN THE STALWARTS

What streaming platforms should further aim is to bring traditional producers into their folds. If the initial focus of OTT platforms was to license existing content, the pandemic has changed their course of action to producing original content and premiering movies. But there is still a large section of producers who are wary of these platforms. These traditional producers have been deciding the ways of the industry for a long time. Many of them are actors and even superstars controlling production, distribution, and the overall dynamics of the industry. Alienating them or even appearing as a threat to their business would in no way bode well for the new-age players.

But if streaming platforms could come up with ways to accommodate them and make a business model around it, it would be a winwin for all. OTT services so far have more or less been working with the new crop of movie makers from the regional cinema and have been able to successfully give shape to new movie aesthetics and language. Roping in the traditional players would be the cherry on top and will help attract a wider segment of the audience. For example, consider streaming services tying up with AMMA, the Association of Malayalam Movie Artists. Such a partnership would mean that now the streaming services would get to enjoy the benefits of the clout wielded by the stalwarts of the industry, while the industry reaps the benefits of being in alliance with platforms that are international, sophisticated, and professional. If streaming services this way get a dip at the massive pool of talent, for artists and technicians it would mean more work even during crisis times like the pandemic and therefore more stability.

Such partnerships would also help to usher in a world where theatres do not view OTT platforms as a threat. It would open up a new world of complementary existence where theatres would still benefit from the rush during the initial release and for sustained viewing and wider reach, there would be the OTTs. And no doubt, the ultimate winner would be the movie itself which would get the grand release it deserves without worrying about 'running' days being cut short as new movies come in.

In a nutshell, being creative in the ways it associates with the movie industry and its stakeholders should be the way forward for OTT services.

EXPERIMENT WITH DYNAMIC CONTENT While all that is said about static of

While all that is said about static content, what still remains unchartered territory for streaming services is dynamic content. Exploring live content like music concerts and stand-up comedy will help the OTT players further their reach and bring in a new audience who have been deprived of live shows during the pandemic. It is in fact surprising that such programmes are still largely hosted on video communication platforms like Zoom given that the pandemic has been the perfect opportunity for the Netflixes and Amazon Primes of the world to experiment with it

If you are further looking to expand your reach, ever thought of news and the popularity of news programmes in India? Sure, there may be regulatory issues for OTT channels to broadcast news as of now. But, learn from the radio. In India, All India Radio holds the right to broadcast news and current affairs programmes, and private broadcasting stations are prohibited from airing the same. But several FM stations have found workarounds in the form of programmes that are satirical takes on current affairs or other fun variations which are essentially not news programmes, but yet manage to pass on the news to the audience. To sum it up, be creative. If OTT platforms could come up with shows similar to that of 'Last Week Tonight with John Oliver' it is bound to capture the attention of a huge section of the audience.

There is also a growing audience for art and science content. Although streaming services have covered this to an extent, to make it a more balanced mix would be a welcome move.

All that said and done, ultimately the success and profitability of OTT platforms would depend on how well they can gel with our lifestyles. Movies and theatres succeeded by doing the same, by being our oases of entertainment and our weekly escape from reality. Streaming services should pull all stops to replicate the same and leave no stone unturned in this journey.

TAMING THE DRAGON

Unravelling the many aspects of China's statecraft, Blinkers Off serves as an important tool in understanding that the threat Beijing poses is multi-dimensional, and response to it should also be the same, writes MAJ. GEN. DHRUV C KATOCH (Retd)

he transformation of China under the Fourth Generation's leadership has indeed been incredible. China sees itself as taking the lead in world affairs by the middle of this century and towards this end, it seeks to establish the country's primacy in the Asia-Pacific region while primacy in the Asia-Pacific region while concurrently moving towards establishing Chinese leadership of the international order. In Asia, Delhi is Beijing's only economic and geo-strategic rival. No surprise then, that Beijing's policy towards Delhi will continue to be shaped by its desire to achieve pre-eminence in the region.

If successful, what will China's international leadership look like? It would certainly aim at a different world order, in which Chinese interests remain paramount. That, of course, is an objective which all nations strive for. In the case of China, however, it perceives itself as the 'Middle Kingdom', and the 'centre of the universe', around which all other nations revolve. Here, competition would most certainly lead to confrontation. While the Chinese would, in all probability, seek to avoid war with the US, though this does not include proxy wars, they may seek a limited military engagement with India, when they feel that they have the capacity to achieve a decisive result in their favour. That makes a future war scenario with India a certainty, though not so with

In China's world view, they would aim at forcing the US to not just accept, but respect China's authority as the global leader and refrain from harming Chinese interests. The consequences of Chinese success in strategic competition could be severe for the United States and disastrous for India. So what should India and the international communities do, to remain relevant in the world stage?

This book, Blinkers off: How Will the World Counter China (Pentagon Press), authored by senior journalist Gaurie Dwivedi, gives a perspective on a counter strategy. It rests on a fundamental premise that unlike the Cold War, where America was able to take on erstwhile USSR on its own due to its economic and political might, Washington now needs partners to address the challenge of an autocratic and rising China. It presents a 360 degree perspective on building deterrence against an expansionist Beijing which poses a threat not just to India and the United States, but the present world order.

Divided into four segments, Dwivedi documents China's rise as it spread its tentacles from Asia to Europe to Africa and makes a case that Beijing's "clong term waiting game" was to topple the very institutions of the liberal world that aided its growth. From the WTO to the WHO to the UNHRC; Dwivedi highlights specific instances when China was successful in 'gaming the system'.

Though written prior to the developments in Afghanistan, Blinkers Off sug-gests that the world has now firmly tilted towards a bipolar scenario, with China forming a nexus with other authoritarian and likeminded nations like Pakistan, Iran and Russia. The present security climate in Kabul seems to be testimony to the altered geo-political outlook that Dwivedi mentions to be the primary driver for building strong deterrence. Failure to create them would see China further building on its strengths, continuing its wolf warrior diplomacy and pushing the pedal on its hegemonic agenda. This would adversely impact not just India and Asia, but will destabilise the world. For it to be effective, Dwivedi says, the deterrence must encompass both military and nonmilitary aspects of engagement with China. İt also highlights the role India will play in any such global endeavour. Non-military challenges like trade, technology, and information are highlighted as key domains for any potential clash with China, since these may not elicit a sharp response from India, US and others due to the non conventional nature of warfare. Even before the pandemic, the book points out instances when China used such domains to further its global political and military objective.

where China has gained clout on the back of its large infrastructure investments; Blinkers Off suggests a more active maritime and economic role by India. Enhanced utilisation of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands beyond the present focus on reconnaissance, larger investments in its naval capabilities and identifying opportunities for collaboration are some of the recommendations for India to counter China's enhanced influence. To provide an alternative for the BRI investments in the Indian Ocean Region, which India, due to its geo-political and geo-economic potential is expected to con-tribute significantly. In the Indo-Pacific, funding to the smaller nations.

By combining useful insights with vivid language, Dwivedi has presented a case for global cooperation against China and identified newer age dimensions of warfare. Perhaps most interesting is the warfare. Perhaps most interesting is the argument that India could leverage its trade deficit against China since it has been following the same template against other economies. It is the nature of India's trade with China, where it predominantly exports raw materials, needs to undergo a change, rather than the fact that New Delhi is a net importer.

Unravelling the many aspects of China's statecraft, Blinkers Off serves as an important tool in understanding that the threat Beijing poses is multi dimensional, and response to it should also be the same. It is hence a must read for those dealing with foreign policy in the government of India, to all in the Indian military fraternity, the think tanks, the educational institutes as also to all China watchers in the lay public.

VULTURES OF PARADISE

Atulya Misra Rupa, ₹495

A story of greed, love and sacrifice narrated in the backdrop of a crippling human tragedy. Acclaimed author Atulya Misra tells a gripping and powerful story that traverses numerous cultures and geographies. The story follows the life of Neha, who, at first, is driven by blind ambition. The heights she achieves in business dissipate once she starts spiralling in the opposite direction. Just when she appears to be an abysmal failure in the eyes of everyone, Neha creates a corporation to counter the biggest threat to the planet—the human propensity to consume endlessly and create more and more waste. Her enterprise becomes so large and successful that it becomes a danger to the very people who created it. Humanity has

Becoming a National Champion

Swimming Against the Tide: True Story of Para Swimmer by Madhavi Latha Prathigudupu is a true story of an extraordinary sportsperson who challenged her circumstances and physical disability to overcome the odds to emerge as a winner. An edited extract any of my friends suggested that I try my luck in Paralympics. LI learned from the Internet that Dr Dabas was the head of Para Swimming Federation of India. His contact number was also available on Google. So I contacted him and expressed my wish. He informed me that he used to frequently visit Chennai for some work and promised to let me know when he would plan his next visit.

After a few months, I contacted him again. He told me that he was about to call and inform me about his forthcoming visit to Chennai. I thought it would be great if I arranged a get-together with all our well-wishers when he would visit Chennai: I needed a venue for the same. So I requested Gita, the head of corporate affairs at my work, for her permission to arrange the meeting in our office. She accepted my request and also agreed to make all the arrangements, including to provide refreshments.

I invited all our well-wishers and the people who had approached me after reading the article in The Hindu; Anand, Dr Karthik (who was my pool mate), Mr Narsa Reddy, Father Antony Samy, Dr Rema Devi, Ms Uthira and Sai were also there. Dr Dabas attended the meeting and explained his efforts to promote para swimming in India through a nice presentation. We then explained our contributions so far and elaborated on our plans to create and increase awareness on hydrotherapy/swimming in Tamil Nadu. The guests also shared their experiences in supporting our efforts. Dr Dabas suggested us to form Tamil Nadu State-level Paralympic Swimming Association and send the participants for the forthcoming nationals to be held in Kolhapur, Maharashtra.

We took Dr Dabas to the Andhra Club pool. Our swimmers exhibited how we practised swimming and sought his guidance to improve our skills. He gave his valuable suggestions to us and appreciated our efforts. We also introduced our coach Gopi to him. I had a discussion with Anand, Preetha, Dr Rema Devi, Ms Uthira, Sai and other well-wishers. We started the Paralympic Swimming Association of Tamil Nadu informally, with Dr Rema Devi as president, Ms Uthira as vice-president, Preetha as treasurer, myself as the general secretary, Sai as joint secretary, Dr Ponraj as medical direc-tor and Anand as technical director. With great efforts, we convinced Rema Devi aunty to be our president. They treat us like their children so we all thought their guidance would help us in taking this initiative forward successfully. Mr Narsa Reddy accepted to be our patron. We started to practise swimming vigorously. We tried hard to find more people to train but ended up with only four swimmers: Uthira aunty, Venkatesh, Jyothi and myself.

We all went to Kolhapur along with our coach Gopi. At that time, I was feeling a little under the weather as my stomach was upset. I consulted a doctor and took the prescribed medicines. My friends asked me to reconsider my participation but I didn't want to lose the opportunity. Our transit time from Chennai to Kolhapur by train was almost 2 days, with a 10-hour layover at Bengaluru. During the layover, we had to wait at the railway station itself. We were all very tired by the time we reached Kolhapur.

Local organizers told us that they could not make the arrangements as planned, as they did not receive the promised funds from the sponsors. We decided to find an accessible hotel for our stay, as we were not comfortable with their stop-gap arrangements.

By the time we reached there, I started to feel better. It was the 11th National Para Swimming Championship, and our team won eight medals. Venkatesh and I won the championship in our respective categories. It was an amazing moment in my life — winning three gold medals (50-m freestyle, breaststroke and backstroke) and becoming a national champion at the age of 40+ years. It was an unbelievable achievement even for me. My joy knew no bounds.

There, I could see persons with different types of disabilities to swim with ease. When I saw blind swimmers maintaining a straight line in the pool, I was very surprised. If I close my eyes for a few seconds, I cannot maintain the line of direction in the pool. I was unable to understand how they managed to do it.

We noticed that there were very few participants from South India in the championship. I thought that it might be due to the general notion that these sports are dangerous for persons with disabilities. In my experience, when I tried to encourage participation of children with disabilities, often their parents were reluctant as they thought that swimming was risky for their children. If I tried to convince them by giving my example, they would respond saying that it was possible for me because I was a superwoman and it may not be the case for their kids. As I drive, swim, work for an MNC etc., they thought that I had some extraordinary skills.

Dr Dabas put up the proposal to host the next nationals to various states; I strongly wanted to accept his offer with three aims. First, to create more awareness in South India. Second, to give confidence to the parents of children with disabilities, officials, and the general public. Parents because, I hoped that by seeing the participation of persons with different types of disabilities and different levels of abilities, they would understand the benefits of hydrotherapy and participation in sports. Also, if the concerned officials understood the benefits and the possibility, then the persons with disabilities would get more support. Finally the third, to conduct championships at par with other Olympic sports events. I observed an inferior feeling and sympathy towards adaptive sporting ing it like any other sporting event. Anand also agreed with my views, events among the public instead of treat-and we thought of discussing with our association members. On the way back, our coach told us that IITM had a pool with international standards, and if we requested accommodation there, it would be easy to host the event in Chennai. After coming back to Chennai, we called for a meeting with all our members. We all knew that it was going to be a very challenging task. In the meeting, we decided to first register our association officially, and soon thereafter started that process. Dr Rema Devi, with the support of her husband, arranged for an office address and to fulfil all the statutory requirements to register the association and for its functioning.

Also, after coming back to Chennai, we got a lot of media coverage on our achievements in the championship. I gave so many interviews. Everyone wanted to take a video or a photograph of me while swimming for an article. It gave me an opportunity to create more awareness about hydrotherapy/para swimming. Till then, I was the one to reach out to the media, schools and colleges. But now, they started to approach me. It made my job to create more awareness much easier. These articles reached a wider audience, and I received a few invitations from outside Chennai.

At that time, I got an opportunity to give a talk at IITM. I felt very happy. I was looking for an opportunity to connect with them so I could request them to allow us to host the national championship in their pool. My talk was received very well, and I got a standing ovation. Later, I came to know that their pool was under renovation. All my hopes were shattered.

After my talk, many professors wrote to the director of IITM, Professor Bhaskar Ramamurthi, to incorporate the suggestions I gave in my talk to make their pool accessible; he responded to their suggestions positively. The concerned staff from IITM were in touch with me. Later, I connected them with Dr Hutzler for his guidance on the accessible swimming pool, whom I met at a conference in Coimbatore.

Challenges before US in post-Taliban Af

With great power comes great responsibility. This age-old maxim is a pertinent poser before the American defence and strategic dispensation in a post-Taliban Afghanistan. Americans call their humanitarian and democratic zeal in Afghanistan part of their super cop and regulator stature imbued with yeomanly and philanthropic verve. Undeniably, there is an iota of valueladen foreign policy analysis premised upon what transpires in the larger global polity and the regional dynamics of South Asia. One can also cite, as an attendant strategic constraint, America's failure to justify the long war, as far as the American presence in Afghanistan after September 11 is concerned. President Joe Biden arranged for the American withdrawal from the twilight zone's battle stations but it is not his personal decision. The decision to make the exit had already been taken by President Donald Trump where-in, a deal was struck with the marauding Taliban that Afghanistan will not be deftly utilised as a springboard for terror attacks on the American homeland. President Biden has merely walked the talk as he persisted with the White House's decision to evacuate the American interests from Afghanistan as the culmination of a mission.

The question that we need to ponder over is that is it the kosher time to leave Afghanistan? And, are the detractors correct when they contend that when the United States of America could not neutralise the Taliban in a two decade-long "Long Occupation" and the attendant "Long War", could they have made a difference in the political and security scenario after the Kabul's state forces collapsed without waging any major semblance of aggression and resistance

Now, in the aftermath of the IS Kohorasan machinated casualties of American marines at the Kabul Airport, will Washington carry out a mission as they had done in 2014 in Iraq as the power vacuum there had been surreptitiously occupied by the Islamic State and its novae dictum of territorial dominance. One opinion contends that the US could have negotiated with the Taliban in Qatar and also continued to aid and abet the battle in the twilight zone of Afghanistan. American presence was required as it was hugely successful in diminishing the influence and the advent of the nefarious Islamic State (ISIS). American interests could have stayed on till the menace of the Taliban was completely eradicated. With the Pakistan strategic depth in the west of the contested Durand line, it was difficult for the US to topple the Talibani juggernaut. The excruciatingly high pace of a week within which the Mullah Baradar's men overtook the entire nation was not adequately forecasted by the American think tanks and the American Fourth Estate. The US denomination was expecting the fall of the Taliban in two to three months but the mind boggling one sidedness of the long war's culmination left even the most hardened analysts flummoxed by the high riding military spectacle of the Taliban vis-a-vis the defence strivings forwarded by the NATO aided and US backed ANSF

Now, as the Taliban have emerged triumphant in Kabul and beyond the capital, what one can eke out for the role-play of the Americans? Though it would be too far-fetched to compare the American withdrawal with the dirty war, that is, the American intervention in Vietnam, still, the American resolve has not been so quintessentially steely and stealthy as was expected when the outcome of the American nay-saying is there to be witnessed and captioned by all and sundry. America would either have to rebalance its ties with the Islamic Republic of Pakistan in the light of Prime Minister Imran Khan shamelessly wishing for the Taliban's ascendance along with his ISI chief's hobnobbing with the Taliban. As Pakistan has always enjoyed the status of a frontline state for the US, one can witness a re-run of the eighties and nineties when the Americans seldom quizzed Pakistan about their efforts in propping up the Taliban's fervid

The US will have its task cut out as the New Delhi dispensation will point at the new camaraderie which has been spawned between the Taliban and Chinese President Xi Jinping. Since the last couple of years, a few Taliban negotiators have visited Beijing and it appears as the wreath of China-Taliban nexus rolls out, the Taliban have promised China of not letting Afghanistan turn a springboard for anti-China forces. The Taliban's promissory note contends that Taliban will not let ETIM (East Turkistan Islamic Movement) foment insidious acts of separatism and insurgency in the turbulent province of Xinxiang in China and also the Taliban have expressed a desire to invite the OBOR and BRI initiative akin to the CPEC in Pakistan in order to take up the mantle of development and growth in Afghanistan. America can be assaulted with terror attacks as its widely believed that the Taliban have well delineated linkages with al-Qaeda which can utilise the Afghani space as a platform and rostrum for planning and executing ministrations against the American homeland as they had done twenty odd years back at the World Trade Towers behemoth as posited by the American Secretary of State, Anthony Blinken. President Biden too dished out heady rhetoric when he vowed to avenge the death of American marines at the Kabul Airport as he declared, "We will not be inactive. The perpetrators of the American casualties will be dealt with assiduously, with alacrity and immediately". C Rajamohan astutely declares and analyses in the Foreign Policy magazine that, "The withdrawal of all US troops from Afghanistan is likely to accelerate current trends in India's relations with the US, China, and Russia: greater cooperation with Washington, deeper conflicts with Beijing, and wider fissures in the traditional strategic partnership with Moscow. Reinforcing these structural shifts — and their mirror image are Pakistan's changing relations with the US, China, and Russia.

Thus, it is bound to witness a splurge in the context of systemic and structural modifications as far as India and the US are concerned. The proximity of the Indian State of Kashmir to Kabul and the rekindled Pakistan's ambition might bring the White House and New Delhi closer to each other as it's the very own dictum of the US, GWOT, (Global War on Terror), which is bound to take a new violent turn in the near future.

Also, the American strategy of containing terrorism originating from Rawalpindi might too become much more hoarse and strident leading to a further wedge in the relationship between Islamabad and Washington. The White House needs to realise that India will be impacted by the jehad from Taliban-occupied Afghanistan, though the Taliban have promised otherwise. The million dollar pertinent question is how can a terror group be venerated and relied upon when the US too has listed several of the members of the Taliban Government as terrorists. Can the Americans trust a nation whose cabinet ministers ride in SUVs and carry guns in meetings in the Presidential house with the heady rolls of bullets hanging afire. It brings us back to the strivings of Jaswant Singh during the Indian passenger plane's hijacking to Kandahar.

The same game returns akin to the classical great game but it is very apparent that if the terror factory and enterprise goes awry in Afghanistan, then the US might have to rethink on a "re-surge" of intervention in order to stem a conflagration in South Asia. And is it a mission unaccomplished, as far as, the reconstruction and nation building responsibilities of the US go?

Abraham Accords for peace in West Asia a misnomer

Establishing normal ties among the nations is a positive development in international relations. However, the Abraham Accords do not promise any hope for normalcy between Israel and the rest of West Asia. The central point here is the establishment of the Palestinian state. The great peacemakers and the global governance institutions are mute spectators to one of the oldest boiling points of West Asia — Palestine. Unless the issue of a permanent Palestine is addressed, the Abraham Accords will simply turn into a footnote for sure

MAKHAN SAIKIA

The historic Abraham Accords completed one year this week. Hopes and fears, as expected, have continued in the West Asian region since then. The agreement has heralded no credible peace so far. But the pact has marked a fundamental shift in Arab-Israel relations. Of course, the Donald Trump Administration then, amid all the chaos, had brought three warring nations — Israel, the United Arab Emirates (UAE) and Bahrain — to the negotiation table.

Foreign policy experts across the globe are divided on the reasons for the signing of the Abraham Accords. This agreement, signed on September 15, 2020, by Israel, the UAE and Bahrain, and mediated by the US, has paved the way for normalisation of relations among three nations in West Asia. It was indeed an unprecedented move initiated by the Trump Administration. Basically, this 12-point agreement highlights the much-needed peace to be brought in among these rival nations in the region. In fact, the name "Abraham" was accorded to the treaty to honour the patriarch of three most significant monotheistic religions on this earth - Islam, Christianity and Judaism. Known as the "Father of Faith", Abraham can well be regarded as the unifier of all the three religions as they all draw their origin from him only.

While signing the agreement, the UAE and Bahrain pledged to normalise relations with Israel. Interestingly, within a week of the signing of the accords, the two other Muslim nations from the African continent Sudan and Morocco followed suit. What was surprising was that the issue of Palestine was nowhere pegged to the accords by the signatories. Precisely, the unrest in Palestine has been the hornets' nest for decades now for which Israel has turned out to be the arch enemy of many of these Arab nations in the region. Another striking point was to the agreement did not demand more critical concessions like the end of Israeli annexation of more territories or most importantly, the final establishment of a Palestinian state in the region. Truly, all these could have been set as preconditions for signing the historic pact.

It clearly shows how the parties to the pact and its high-profile mediator, Trump, were trying to push the vexed issues to the background. And, thus the understanding among all the three rival nations of West Asia seemed more like a business deal than a historic diplomatic milestone. Further, the international community must note here that the last year's deal demanded that Israel refrain from de jure annexation of territories in the most contested region. But then who could stop Israel today? Everyone knows how outgoing Israeli Prime Minister larger goal to establish the legitimacy of the state of Israel. And for all practical purposes, he received full support of the Trump Administration. This accords, in fact, helped Netanyahu get some important benefits like: first, he proved himself as a world statesman among his voters and sympathisers when he was facing serious allegations of corruption back home; second, he managed to make peace with the Arabs during his reign, but not with the Palestinians; and finally, he was cleverly diverting the attention of the Israeli public from the mismanagement of the Covid crisis by his office. In all, Netanyahu tried to enhance his image and pushed back the Palestinian cause much farther. All the signatories to the

Abraham Accords are still enemies. But then why such rival nations wanted to come to the negotiation another milestone in global peace and diplomacy? Many experts say that some of the Gulf States like the UAE, having a global ambition, rightly see business opportunities in the normalisation of relations with Israel. It seems Washington has already promised Abu Dhabi advanced weapons like the F-35 stealth fighter and the EA-18 G Growler electronic warfare aircraft. All these were once inconceivable for the UAE, and these armouries are needed both to demonstrate regional leadership and possibly to effectively counter Iran, its potential enemy on the other side of the Gulf. And the interesting point is that both Israel and the US are equally suspicious of the role of Iran like the way it is perceived by the Emiratis and Bahrain. Till 1969, Iran used to claim intervention, both for long-term

business interest and for achieving

Bahrain as a part of its territory. lishing normal ties among the Therefore, even today, the restive Shia majority of Bahrain is regarded as the fifth column of Iran by the successive rulers of the country. The UAE and Bahrain can easily explore business opportunities in Israel, particularly in its most advanced high-tech sector. On the other hand, these two Gulf states can easily attract millions of Israeli tourists who are avid holiday

Another significant impact of the deal is that Iran is now fully surrounded by all its enemies in the region — the Sunni regimes accompanied by an all-powerful Israel. This agreement has added pressure both to the clerics and to the political leadership of Iran. Besides the tough economic sanctions of Washington, Teheran is now facing a strong strategic pain. Clearly, once again Palestinians who have been waiting for a homeland are feeling betrayed by the accords. This agreement breaks the decades-long understanding among the Arab nations that the normal ties with Israel could be established only when an independent Palestinian state would be formed. Sadly, since 2020, Israel is coming closer to major nations of West Asia and Africa while continuing its occupation both in the West Bank and in the East Jerusalem. Moreover, the accords have enhanced the status of Israel in the West Asian region. In a sense, it has clearly put an end to its isolation among the Arab nations. And definitely, America is celebrating after offering Israel a golden opportunity to establish its identity among the most powerful Gulf States of the

Today, West Asia is trembling as paradigm shift is happening faster than expected. Stable peace still eludes West Asia. And the question is how far? Probably, chaos in this part of Asia is a never-ending process. Frankly speaking, estabnations is a positive development in international relations, but when it comes to Abraham Accords, it could be a misnomer to say so. Nowhere does it promises any hope for normalcy between Israel and the rest of West Asia. The central point here is the establishment of the Palestinian state. And it is not happening and may not come to reality soon. This agreement was a great victory for Trump, the crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and the de facto ruler of the Emiratis Mohammed bin Zayed, Crown Prince of Saudi Arabia Mohammed bin Salman, and then Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu. In fact, all of them needed the accords more than anyone else.

Today, the Joe Biden Administration is fully supportive of normalisation of relations between Israel and the rest of the Arab nations. But unfortunately, his regime is not able to offer the same inducements to Naftali Bennett, the new Prime Minister of Israel. And the situation in West Asia has remained the same as every single day new wounds are appearing both in West Bank and in East Jerusalem. The Palestinians are crying foul over the occupation of their land. The great peacemakers and the global governance institutions are mute spectators to one of the oldest boiling points of West Asia, i.e. Palestine. Finally, unless the Israeli occupation ends and the issue of a permanent Palestine is addressed, the Abraham Accords will simply turn into a footnote for sure.

uman beings enjoy the exclusive privilege to guide their action by choice and discrimination. But choice action carries equal probability of use and misuse. And there are no free lunches in life. You have to bear with the consequences of the choices you make and the actions thereto — good or bad — will depend on their intent and quality. This binds us into a cause-effect chain, which sets the premise on which the theory of Karma works. Things happening at the moment are a culmination of doings and undoings in the past. How you negotiate the present, defines the way the future may unfold, and which could stretch on even to the next birth. Your indwelling discriminatory ability though empowers you to weigh the options in hand and make reasoned choices, but this privilege doesn't play out involuntarily. You need to consciously invoke it for due diligence before you take any call, which needs being on full alert, which we seldom

Truth remains, that we often end up making inappropriate choices. Why? For the answer, a look into the construct and chemistry of mind becomes imperative. There are three functional dimensions of mind - Buddhi, Ahamkara, and Manasa. Buddhi offers the faculty of discriminate intelligence, intrinsic to which is a sense of dispassion. Applying which, the mind evaluates, unbiasedly makes right judgment, and directs Manasa to accordingly act upon.

Ahamkara brings in the sense of 'I' in a being, which wilfully makes choices, commits to the tasks undertaken and owns up all actions on our part. The way Ahamkara wills is how the ordinary mind works.

Manasa working from the front, drives through sense aided functionalities of mind. It is supposed to gather outer-field data, relay it to Buddhi for due diligence; and then act upon as guided. Also, it puts into action desires projected by Karmic imprints carried over from the past, or under external influence. And, if ever Ahamkara unmindfully wills to take things on face value, ignoring the necessity to invoke Buddhi, Manasa could also act upon instinctive judgement.

About mind, let me add here that it is just an instrument, which can't act on its own. Just like earth mass, which lends ground to the seed sown to grow into a plant, the mind gets fuelled into action by indwelling thought-seeds (Karmic carryover from the past). These imprints, varying from person-to-person, involuntarily build individual-specific belief patterns, which holds the key to our inherent desire trends, habits & attitudes, as well as virtues and attributes. That defines the way the mind works. As the mind gets going, it also picks up and responds to inputs drawn out of environmental influences. Mind does also carry the potential to absorb fresh educational inputs consciously fed into it. Now, the mind first excites desire trends in accordance with the callings of inlaid thought seeds. Desires, in turn, excite thoughts, which when gravitate, following further processing in the mind, get translated into action.

Now, coming back to the three operative tools of mind again, they are supposed to work in perfect coordination with each other, as an inseparable unitary mechanism. If applied as mandated, the mind comes out with its optimum best. But, at the end of the day, it is Ahamkara's prerogative to take the final call. The paradox, however, is more often, ahamkara identifies itself with the inherent desire trends and then pursues it passionately as its end game. It also gets caught by the tempting influences of the seeming world, and makes it its dream destination. In both cases, taking things on the face value, ahamkara doesn't feel the necessity of invoking buddhi for due diligence, often leading to undesirable ends.

We, therefore, need to train our mind to follow its usual design, with special focus on ahamkara. The irony, however, is that caught up in the usual mills of life, our habit tendencies trap ahamkara into its fold, which proves limiting. So, the challenge before us is to remain alert enough to use our choice option in order to ensure that ahamkara turns into a resolve to come out with one's best. In that case, it will transgress the limits of habit tendencies, and use other two dimensions of mind optimally.

A person faced with a serious challenge came seeking guidance the other day. His inflated ego was in evidence, as Jupiter was placed adverse to both Sun and Mars. When advised to turn his ego into a resolve that could lead him to his targeted destination, it was difficult for him to digest. I had to explain it in detail to make him understand.
