Modi praises Yogi's development efforts

With foundation stone for Raja Mahendra Pratap varsity in Aligarh, PM sounds bugle for UP 2022 polls

PNS ■ ALIGARH

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday laid the foundation stone for the Raja Mahendra Pratap Singh State University and reviewed the progress of work on the Aligarh node of Uttar Pradesh defense corridor, calling it a "big day" and sounding the bugle for the 2022 State Assembly polls. Locks manufactured in Aligarh used to secure houses and now the defence equipment made in Aligarh will secure the nation's borders, he said. In his 40-minute address, apart from introducing the youth to Raja Mahendra Pratap Singh, Modi also highlighted the importance of Aligarh. Praising the work of Yogi Adityanath, he said the Chief

PM Narendra Modi during foundation stone laying of the Raja Mahendra Pratap Singh University in Aligarh on Tuesday PTI

Minister has created an environment of investment in UP, wooing a large number of investors to the State. He said the Yogi Government has given a new identity to the locks and hardware industry of Aligarh. Industries and SMEs will get special benefits from this, and in the next few years ₹900 crore will be invested, he said. UP defense corridor is bringing huge investment and employment opportunities. This happens when the necessary environment for investment is created, the PM added. Calling it a big day for UP, Modi said Aligarh, which was known to manufacture locks for securing houses will now play an important role in securing the boundaries of India by manufacturing defence equipment. He said India will not only become self-reliant in defence but will also become a major exporter in the sector.

Vax efficacy negates need for booster dose: Scientists

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Some countries may have started offering booster doses as an option to counter virulent Delta variant of Covid-19, but an international group of scientists has rejected the idea of giving booster dose to combat Delta variant of Covid-19, asserting that vaccine efficacy against the severe virus is so high that booster doses for the general population are "not appropriate" at this stage in the pandemic.

The World Health Organization (WHO) also has disfavoured the idea of giving third doses to all stating that it may be necessary for the most at-risk populations. "But for now, we do not want to see widespread use of boosters for healthy people who are fully vaccinated," the WHO has said.

Published in the Lancet journal, the review by the scientists, including from the WHO and two from the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), summarises the currently available evidence from randomised controlled trials and observational studies published in peer-reviewed journals and pre-print servers and asserts that the benefits of the first shots are clear.

It added that vaccination had 95 per cent efficacy against severe disease both from the Delta variant and from the Alpha variant, and over 80 per cent efficacy at protecting against any infection from these variants.

Although vaccines are less effective against asymptomatic disease or against transmission than against severe disease, the unvaccinated minority are still the major drivers of transmission, the scientists argued in the review published on Monday.

The observation comes even as the US is currently reviewing evidence for booster doses for Americans and many other countries including Israel, Italy, France and Russia who have already rolled out the third dose of Covid jabs.

India too has been contemplating giving booster dose to the vaccinated people having low antibody levels.

"The move is being contemplated as over 20 per cent of the inoculated population has failed to develop antibodies against SARS-CoV2," Director of Bhubaneswar-based Institute of Life Sciences (ILS) Dr Ajay Parida had recently indicated.

However, lead author Ana-Maria Heno-Restrepo from the WHO in the review in the Lancet noted that taken as a whole, the currently available studies do not provide credible evidence of substantially declining protection against severe disease, which is the primary goal of vaccination.

"Even if some gain can ultimately be obtained from boosting, it will not outweigh the benefits of providing initial protection to the unvaccinated," said the lead author.

Last week, Pascal Soriot, CEO of AstraZeneca, also said a third dose of vaccines against Covid-19 may not be needed for everyone.

The WHO has, meanwhile, called for an extension of a global moratorium on Covid-19 booster doses, with an aim to enable every country to vaccinate at least 40 per cent of its population.

According to the WHO, globally 5.5 billion vaccine doses have been administered, but 80 per cent have been administered in high-and upper-middle income countries.

"The vaccines that are currently available are safe, effective, and save lives. Although the idea of further reducing the number of Covid-19 cases by enhancing immunity in vaccinated people is appealing, any decision to do so should be evidence-based and consider the benefits and risks for individuals and society.

"These high-stakes decisions should be based on robust evidence and international scientific discussion," added co-author Soumya Swaminathan, WHO chief scientist.

153 Af media outlets stop op after Taliban recapture

New restrictions, eco stress may shut down more media houses

ANI ■ KABUL

After the fall of the Republic of Afghanistan, 153 media outlets have stopped their activities in 20 provinces, local media reported citing the organisations supporting free media in the troubled country.

According to officials at the organisations, these outlets include radio, print and TV channels and both economic problems and restrictions are reportedly the main reasons for not being able to operate anymore. Tolo News reported on Tuesday.

The officials said if the media's financial crisis is not solved and restrictions against them are not addressed, more outlets are likely to cease operating in the country.

"If the organisations supporting media do not pay attention to media outlets, soon we will witness the closing of the remaining outlets in the country," Tolo News quoted Hujatullah Mujadadi, the deputy head of the Afghanistan Federation of Journalists as saying.

"The continuation of this trend has created concerns. We urge international organisations to take immediate action to address this problem. Otherwise, soon it will be the end of press freedom and other human and civil liberties," Tolo News quoted Masroor Lutfi, representative of the Afghanistan National Journalists' Union as saying.

The organisations supporting free media in Afghanistan said economic problems are serious, and operating under restrictions creates big challenges for media in Afghanistan.

The Taliban, however, has said they will try to create a safe environment for media and journalists to continue their jobs.

Yogi's 'abba jaan' upsets ally JD(U)

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Janata Dal (U), a key ally of the Modi Government, is toeing a different political theme is evident again as its president Rajiv Ranjan Singh 'Lalan' on Tuesday frowned at the "abba jaan" remarks of Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, saying, political parties should maintain "restraint" in their comments and that the country belongs to everyone, be it Hindus, Muslims, Christians or any other community.

The JD(U) recently decided to send its senior leader KC Tyagi to a rally being organised in Jind on September 25 by INLD chief Om Prakash Chautala, seen as part of the effort for forming a non-BJP, non-Congress front.

The JD(U) has also decided to "strongly fight" the upcoming Assembly polls in Uttar Pradesh and Manipur. The JD(U) has, earlier, been quite unhappy with the BJP that it had led its six of the seven MLAs in Arunachal Pradesh to the saffron fold in

JD(U)'s new national president and MP, Rajiv Ranjan Singh, alias Lalan Singh

December 2020.

The party is likely to organise its national executive meeting in UP in November and its office-bearer's meeting in Manipur as it works to galvanise its organisational machinery in the two States.

Prior to this, the BJP ally has also been putting pressure on the Modi Government to agree to conduct an OBC census in the country.

"Terms like 'unity in diversity' are used for our country. The country belongs to all. No remarks should be made that harm the country," Singh, a confidant of Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, told reporters when asked for his reaction to the BJP leader's comments.

Covid pushed 31 mn more into extreme poverty in 2020: Study

'90% of advanced economies to regain pre-Covid per capita income by 2022'

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

As the Covid-19 pandemic-induced lockdowns wreaked havoc on the economy and livelihoods, an additional 31 million people were pushed into extreme poverty in 2020 compared to 2019, according to a report that highlighted stark disparities caused by the crisis worldwide.

The annual Goalkeepers Report, co-authored by Bill Gates and Melinda French Gates for their foundation, however, noted that while 90 per cent of advanced economies will regain pre-pandemic per capita income levels by next year, only a third of low and middle income economies are expected to do so. Hence, there is a need for investment in local partners to strengthen the capacity of researchers and manufacturers in lower-income countries to create the vaccines and medicines they need, the report said.

"(The past year) has reinforced our belief that progress is possible but not inevitable," wrote the co-chairs. "If we can expand upon the best of what we've seen these past 18 months, we can finally put the pandemic behind us and once again accelerate progress in addressing fundamental issues like health, hunger, and climate change," they wrote.

The Goalkeepers Report

follows a similar study by Azim Premji University that talked about lockdown impact on India, saying that around 23 crore Indians have been pushed into poverty during the last one year. It said the rural poverty rate increased by 15 percentage points and the urban poverty rate by 20 points in India.

The report co-authored by Bill Gates and Melinda French Gates also highlighted the disproportionate economic impact that the pandemic has had on women globally.

TMC nominates Sushmita, DMK names Somu for RS

DMK also picks Rajeshkumar for Upper House polls

SAUGAR SENGUPTA/PNS ■ KOLKATA/CHENNAI

The Trinamool Congress (TMC) has nominated former Assam Congress leader Sushmita Dev for the upcoming Rajya Sabha elections. She is being nominated for the seat vacated by former TMC Rajya Sabha member Dr Manas Bhuniya, who is presently a Minister in the Mamata Banerjee Cabinet.

Sushmita Dev is the daughter of late Congress leader and Union Minister from Silchar Santosh Mohan Dev. She recently left her former party to join the Trinamool Congress. The election for the Rajya Sabha seat is slated to be held on October 4.

Dev's nomination to the Rajya Sabha is part of TMC supremo Mamata's north-eastern plans. According to sources, the Bengal Chief Minister who is trying to make inroads into Assam politics by appropriating the Muslim and Bengali-speaking votes in that State will in all probability use Dev for the purpose.

"We are extremely pleased to nominate @SushmitaDevAITC to the Upper House of Parliament. @MamataOfficial's vision to empower women and ensure their maximum participation in politics shall help our society to achieve much more!" the party tweeted. Dev, who was one of the national spokespersons of the grand old party and its women's wing chief, switched over to the Mamata Banerjee-led camp last month.

Meanwhile, Tamil Nadu's ruling DMK has announced Dr Kanimozhi Somu and KRN Rajeshkumar as the party's candidates for the Rajya Sabha elections scheduled for October 4.

76% decline in coal power projects since Paris pact to tackle climate

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

There has been a 76 per cent reduction in proposed coal power pipelines since the Paris Agreement was signed in 2015. After assessing the global pipeline of new coal projects, a new report has said the decline indicates the end of new coal construction, which is welcome news for tackling climate change.

The report by climate change think tank E3G comes ahead of the UN High-level Dialogue on Energy in November where countries will advance their individual and collective commitments to "no new coal projects" and also asking richer countries to provide support to countries in pivoting towards a coal-free future.

Coal is the single largest contributor to climate change. According to a recent UN report (IPCC), the use of coal needs to fall 79 per cent by 2030 on 2019 levels to meet the pledges countries signed up to in the Paris Agreement.

China alone accounts for 55 per cent of the global total, followed by India — which is home to 7 per cent (21GW) of the global pipeline — Vietnam, Indonesia, Turkey, and Bangladesh. The report pointed out that action by these six countries could remove 82 per cent of the remaining global pipeline.

This leaves 44 countries without a pre-construction pipeline, and in a position to commit to "no new coal", joining 40 countries that have made this commitment since 2015. Together, they can respond to Guterres' call for "no new coal by 2021".

The remaining pipeline is thinly spread across 31 countries, 16 of which are only one project away from embracing a future without coal.

These countries could follow global momentum and regional peers in ending their pursuit of new coal-fired power generation.

If China follows East Asian neighbours Japan and South Korea in ending overseas coal finance, it would facilitate the cancellation of over 40GW of pipeline projects across 20 countries, said the report.

Political twist given to my appeal: Captain

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

Under attack over his appeal to farmers to ‘move farmers’ protest out of Punjab, Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Tuesday said that his appeal to the protesting farmers to shift their agitation out of the State has been “misunderstood” and given a “political twist”.

Terming as unfortunate the “political twist” given by the farmers to his appeal, Capt Amarinder said that the stir is damaging the interests of Punjab and its people, and not the Adanis or Jio who have minimal presence in Punjab.

“It is unfortunate that the farmers agitating against the black farm laws have given a political twist to my remarks instead of understanding the pain and misery caused to the people on account of their protests in the state, which are quite uncalled for, given my Government’s continued support to them,” said Capt Amarinder while reacting to the Samyukt Kisan Morcha’s criticism of his remarks on the issue.

The Chief Minister lamented that despite his Government’s unequivocal support to their cause, the farmers had misinterpreted his appeal and had, instead, tried to link it with the upcoming Assembly polls in Punjab. “Congress government, as well as the people of Punjab, have always stood with the farmers on the issue of the farm laws, and it is sad that they are now suffering due to the continued protests of the farming community across the State,” he added.

Asserting that there was no question of trying to split the farmers of Punjab and Haryana, all of whom were equal victims of the apathy of the BJP-led Governments at the Centre and in the neighbouring State, Capt Amarinder said: “My government, in contrast, has not only firmly supported the farmers’ fight against the Farm Laws but had even brought in amendment Bills in the Vidhan Sabha to mitigate their adverse impact...Those Bills had, unfortunately, not been forwarded by the Governor to the President for assent.”

Pointing out that the farmers’ fight was against the BJP, which was solely responsible for thrusting the anti-farmer legislations on Punjab and other states, Capt Amarinder said that inconveniencing the people of Punjab was not justified in the circumstances.

He rejected the Morcha’s claims that there was no paralysis of the Government in Punjab due to the farmers’ protests, pointing out that it was not the Adanis or the Ambanis whose interests were being hurt by such protests but the common people of the state, as well as its economy.

The Adanis’ assets in Punjab were a minuscule 0.8 percent of their total assets, and the presence of the Reliance Group stood at a nominal 0.1 percent, the Chief Minister observed, adding that the losses caused to these industries due to the farmers’ unrest in the State were too minor to be of any serious concern to them. “It is the people of Punjab who are suffering due to the disruption of services as a result of the protests,” he said.

“Continued protests in Punjab will push industry out of the state, which would have a severe impact on the economy, which the Government is still trying to revive from the crisis into which the previous SAD-BJP Government had pushed it, said the Chief Minister.

Already, the situation was becoming serious on the grain storage and procurement front due to the agitation, with lifting of the stocks by the FCI and state agencies getting obstructed, he said. “With the wheat stocks having already completed four years of storage, the unused capacity is was getting ruined, while also resulting in financial burden on the public exchequer due to payment of guaranteed charges to the silo owners as per agreements of hiring,” said Captain Amarinder, disclosing that the stocks lying in the FCI Adani silo at Moga alone was worth Rs 480 crore.

All the movement of wheat stocks from FCI Adani silo, Moga and FCI silo, Kotkapura is halted due to the ongoing farmers protest against the farm laws, whereas, 1,60,855 MT of wheat stocks of previous crop years stored in the Adani silo, Moga by FCI needs to be liquidated on priority, as deterioration of these stocks may lead to losses to the Public exchequer. The value of stocks in Moga Adani silos is approximately Rs 480 crores.

Further, pointed out the Chief Minister, construction of silos awarded by FCI in the State was getting delayed as farmer unions were not allowing JCBs and trucks to enter the construction sites. This was a serious cause of concern since the GoI/FCI had already announced that from RMS 2024-25 onwards, procurement of wheat in the central pool will only be done as per the available covered or scientific storage capacity.

What is further likely to damage the state’s interests is reports of silo concessionaires or parties also considering to shut down the projects being set up in Punjab, he added.

“If things continue in this manner, we will lose out on investment, revenue and employment opportunities,” the Chief Minister warned, adding that this would lead to serious paralysis of the government in Punjab.

The farmers could not possibly want to lead Punjab and its people back into the depths of despair from which his government had barely managed to pull them out over the past four and a half years, said Capt Amarinder, once again urging the farmers to discontinue their protests in Punjab, which was not even remotely responsible for their plight.

Buses in Punjab to be back on roads after a week, strike postponed

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

After staying off road for more than a week, Punjab’s government buses will be back on road from Wednesday after the protesting contractual and outsourced employees of the state transport undertakings (STUs), including Pepsu Road Transport Corporation (PRTC), Punjab Roadways and the Punbus, decided to postpone their strike till September 29.

The protestors, during a detailed meeting with the political adviser to the Chief Minister Capt Sandeep Sandhu besides other officials, were promised 30 per cent increase in their salaries along with five percent hike every year. In addition, they were also assured to take the final call regarding their regularisation within a week’s time.

Taking note of the Government’s assurances, the protesting employees have, as of now, decided to suspend their ongoing strike while setting a 14-day deadline for the State Government to fulfil the assurances.

“They were demanding eight days, but we have given them 14 days. In case they fail to issue a notification in these 14 days, we will resume our ‘chakka jam’ on the fifteenth day,” said Punjab Roadways, Punbus, and PRTC Contract Workers’ Union’s state president Resham Singh Gill.

No less than 8200 roadways employees were agitating against the State Government since September 6, demanding regularisation of their services and increase in fleet size from around 2,500 buses at present to at least 10,000 and measures to check transport mafia.

Due to the ongoing strike, the general public is facing a lot of inconvenience. At the same time, the Government is also facing a loss of crores of rupees every day as out of 1,100 buses of PRTC, only 300 buses are playing on their route. Among the protestors are the workshop staff, advance ticket bookers, drivers, and conductors in large numbers. “The Government has assured a 30 percent hike in salary for the contractual and outsourced employees, along with five percent annual hike. They have assured that the notification in this regard will be issued by September 15,” said Gill.

For 2022 polls, Punjab to have 24,689 polling booths, 37,576 VVPATs

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

For 2022 Punjab Assembly Elections, the State poll panel has decided to set up as many as 24,689 polling booths in the State; a rise from existing number of 23,211, after rationalization and due to continuing COVID-19 pandemic.

Announcing this during an informal interaction with the media, the state Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Dr S Karuna Raju on Tuesday said that due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the limit of voters falling in a polling booth has been reduced from existing 1,400 to 1,200 which has led to an enhancement in the number of polling booths across the State. Dr Raju said that the Election Commission of India (ECI) has given its concurrence to arrange additional EVMs (electronic voting machines) required for the ensuing Assembly Election in Punjab. “10,500 Control Units (CU) and 21,100 VVPATs are being transported from different districts of Madhya Pradesh to various districts of Punjab,” he said, adding that with the addition of these machines, the office of Punjab CEO will have 45,316 Ballot Units (BU), 34,942 Controlling Units (CU) and 37,576 VVPAT machines.

The Chief Electoral Officer asserted that the EVMs are being transported duly adopting the Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) set by the ECI. “District-wise nodal officers are picking up these machines from Madhya Pradesh in GPS-fitted special transport containers under tight security after proper scanning,” he said. He said that in 10 districts of Punjab — Pathankot, Gurdaspur, Tarn Taran, Kapurthala, Jalandhar, Ludhiana, Ferozepur, Sri Muktsar Sahib, Mansa, and Amritsar, the EVM-VVPAT have safely reached the district headquarters and in rest of the districts, these machines will be reached within two days.

“The first level checking

(FLC) of these machines will be undertaken in the presence of representatives of Recognised National and state political parties in prescribed time as per the stipulated SOP. Warehouses have been set up across the State in which multi-tier security arrangements have been made along with installation of the CCTV cameras,” said Dr Raju. He said that amidst the prevailing pandemic, precautions are also being implemented strictly. All efforts are being made to ensure smooth, transparent, peaceful and hassle free elections in the state, he added.

President on a four-day visit to Himachal; to address special Assembly session

PNS ■ SHIMLA

President Ram Nath Kovind will be on a four-day visit to Himachal Pradesh from Thursday and will stay at a private hotel here instead of The Retreat at Chharabra, where he normally stays.

He will stay at Cecil hotel at Chaura Maidan as four staff members of The Retreat -- the President’s residence at Chharabra on the outskirts of Shimla had tested positive for COVID-19 on Saturday.

“The President would address the special session of the State Assembly on Friday at 11 am to mark the golden jubilee of Himachal Pradesh’s statehood,” said Assembly Speaker Vipin Singh Parmar while talking to the media-persons here.

Kovind will be the third President to address the Himachal Assembly. Then Presidents APJ Abdul Kalam and Pranab Mukherjee had addressed the State Assembly in 2003 and 2013, respectively, Parmar said.

All those who will come in close contact with the President will have to carry a COVID-19 RT-PCR negative report even if they have been fully vaccinated against the Coronavirus, he added.

Besides sitting MLAs, all the former MLAs including former Chief Ministers Shanta Kumar and Prem Kumar Dhupal have been invited to attend the special session on Thursday. Ninety-three former MLAs, including Kumar and Dhupal, have given their consent to attend the special session. MPs and former MPs from the hill state will also attend the session.

Parmar said that a group photo of the President with the current and former legislators will also be taken as a memory at the Assembly.

According to the schedule, the President will reach Annadale Helipad on September 16 at 12 noon via Chandigarh from Palam Airport, Delhi. Subsequently, he will reach Cecil hotel at Chaura Maidan here at around 12.25 pm.

Haryana Govt to hire consultancy firm to chalk out revenue generating projects

NISHU MAHAJAN ■ CHANDIGARH

In a bid to boost revenue of civic bodies in the state, the Manohar Lal Khattar Government in Haryana has decided to chalk out a comprehensive plan of revenue generating projects for municipalities.

For this, the State Government will rope in a consultancy firm which will prepare an integrated plan for utilization of all vacant lands in municipal councils and municipal committees.

The municipalities have been under focus of the State Government during the COVID-19 crisis as they are struggling to increase revenues while facing budget shortfalls. There are 11 municipal corporations, 19 municipal councils and 58 municipal committees in Haryana, as on January 2021.

The State Government has constituted a high-level committee under Additional Director (Admn) Urban Local Bodies, Haryana to finalize the process for hiring a consulting firm by the end of this month.

“In a bid to identify the relevant revenue streams for municipalities and prepare a detailed project in this regard, the State Government has decided to hire a consultancy firm,” said a senior officer of Haryana Government while talking to The Pioneer.

The officer said that the consultancy firm would be entrusted with the task to prepare a database of all vacant lands of municipal councils and municipal committees in Haryana, providing suggestions for income generating projects on these vacant municipal lands in order to boost the revenue of the civic bodies. They would also prepare proposal documents for commercially viable projects to be set up on vacant municipal lands in the state, he said.

“The government is exploring various options in terms of revenue generating projects like housing, PPP (public-private partnership) infrastructure or tourism projects among others,” the officers said.

Apart from State Government’s funding, the primary revenue sources for municipalities are service fees, fines, taxes, and assets such as buildings and properties.

“The State Government aims at improved governance and faster delivery of services of civic bodies besides augmenting the revenue generation,” the officer added.

Earlier in June this year, the State Government had released a policy, under which people, who have shops or houses on lease or rent from the municipalities for over 20 years, can become owners of the property by paying a price below the collector rate.

The move was aimed at earning revenue for the municipalities and also, providing a relief to long-term tenants of residential properties and retail stores on municipal land in Haryana.

Sonipat District Admn holds talks with farmers’ representatives

PNS ■ CHANDIGARH

During the meeting, Siwach said that the cooperation of the farmers is expected so as to comply with the directions of the Supreme Court national highway no-44 where the farmers are protesting against the three central farm laws for over nine months.

An official spokesman of Haryana Government on Tuesday said that in compliance of these orders, the Deputy Commissioner of Sonipat, Lalit Siwach held a meeting with the farmers’ representatives in Sonipat. The officers of the District Administration and police were also present in the meeting. The Deputy Commissioner informed the farmers that while taking up a writ petition, the Supreme Court has ordered that the farmers protesting on Kundli-Singhu border in Sonipat district on national highway no-44 to give way to common man and shift to one side of the road

During the meeting, Siwach said that the cooperation of the farmers is expected so as to comply with the directions of the Supreme Court. The Deputy Commissioner also said that the construction work of national highway-44 under the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has also been blocked for a long time due to the farmers’ protest which is causing inconvenience to the people.

With the completion of the construction work of the national highway, the general public will be at ease. In such a situation, if the farmers give way on one side of the road, then the construction of the national highway will be completed soon, he informed.

On the request of the Deputy Commissioner, the farmers’ representatives have assured to give a positive reply in this matter, the spokesman added.

Trains to chug in mountains soon: CM

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

The Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami has said that the Rishikesh- Karnprayag rail project is a major gift of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to the people of Uttarakhand and the day is not far when the dream of rail in mountains would get fulfilled. He said that the ambitious rail project would have a positive impact on the economy of the state.

The CM held a review of the Rishikesh- Karnprayag rail project in a meeting with the officers of Rail Vikas Nigam on Tuesday. Directing the officers of Nigam to expedite the pace of the work, Dhami said that appreciable work is being done on the project with better coordination and it needs to be maintained. He assured that the state government would provide every possible support in the project.

The chief project manager of the project Himanshu Badoni said that after Rishikesh the majority of the project work would be underground.

He informed that the land acquisition process has been completed and 12 stations and 17 tunnels are being built on the project. He said that the Nigam has set a target to complete the project by March 2024. Badoni informed that to finish the project in time, work at many places is being undertaken simultaneously. He claimed that the cooperation of the State Government is being received for the project. Informing about the social welfare works being undertaken by the Rail Vikas Nigam, Badoni said that a 52 bed hospital is coming up at Srinagar. He said that the area of the rail project would be developed as horticulture and honey belt and for it plantation activity at a large scale is being undertaken. MCD to send 5,000 bills to non-residential property owners

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

The Municipal Corporation of Dehradun (MCD) has prepared about 5,000 bills to recover the revenue from the non-residential property owners in the city who have failed to deposit tax in the past two years. In the last two years, the corporation had set the target of collecting the revenue of Rs 50 crore as property tax but it could not be achieved due to the Covid-19 pandemic. As per the official sources, the registration of the properties increased in the last financial year but it still could not help the corporation to achieve the set target of the property tax as most of them were residential properties and many even converted their commercial establishments to residential properties owing to the loss during the pandemic.

The municipal tax superintendent Dharmesh Painuly said that the tax section has prepared about 5,000 bills to send to the owners of commercial establishments including the buildings of government, non-government and aided organisations out of which, about 1,400 bills have already been sent to the owners. "As per the orders of the mayor Sunil Uniyal 'Gama', we are trying to maximise the recovery of property tax this year. Since the amount paid by non-residential taxpayers is more, we are currently focussing on them to maximise our revenue collection," stated Painuly. He said that there is over Rs 12 crore pending property tax by non-residential property owners in the past two years. Talking about the camps organised by the corporation to increase the tax collection from September 1, Painuly said that MCD is receiving a great response from the public for organising camps. He informed that the corporation has collected the revenue of about Rs 40 lakh through seven camps and the total property tax collection is about Rs 4.50 crore.

He said that MCD has also decided to organise more camps for property tax submission till September 27 to make it accessible for locals. Three camps will be organised at Chakshahnagar on September 15, 21, 23, two camps will be held at Defence Colony on September 20 and 22 while the remaining will be held at Panditwari and Ballpur on September 24, 25 and 27 respectively, informed Painuly.

Will do anything to start the Char Dham Yatra: Godiyal

Congress holds a day-long Dharna outside U'khand Vidhan Sabha

PNS ■ DEHRADUN

The Pradesh Congress Committee (PCC) president Ganesh Godiyal has said that the Congress party has committed itself to get the Char Dham Yatra started. Godiyal along with other leaders of Uttarakhand Congress attended a Dharna outside the Vidhan Sabha on Tuesday. The protest was organised by the party to demand commencement of the Char Dham Yatra. Addressing the Dharna, Godiyal said that the Congress party has decided to do everything from organising protest meetings, hitting the roads and to going to the Jail to start the Yatra. Exhorting the Congress workers to overthrow the BJP government the PCC president said that anti people policies of the state government has made life tough for the people of the state. He said that the prices are soaring and the unemployment is at all time high so the BJP government has no right to continue in the power.

The vice president of Uttarakhand Congress and chairman of the manifesto committee of the party, Surya Kant Dhasmana said that the Char Dham Yatra which is often referred to as life line of Uttarakhand has failed to start this year due to careless approach and incompetency of the BJP government of the state. He said that it was the responsibility of the government to make arrangements of screening, testing, vaccination, setting up temporary hospitals, medicines and doctors for the Yatra when the intensity of the second wave of pandemic of Covid-19 decreased.

Dhasmana said that by making these arrangements the state government would have satisfied the High Court (HC). He claimed that the government deliberately didn't make any arrangements which forced the HC to intervene and suspend the Yatra. Launching an attack on the government, the Congress leader said that the state government has failed to provide the details of arrangements made by it till date due to which the five lakh families which are dependent on Yatra are facing extreme economic hardships. The Congress leaders on the occasion said that only two months are left for this year's Yatra and if it is not started soon then those associated with Yatra would be ruined. Former ministers Hira Singh Bisht, Matbar Singh Kandari, Mantri Prasad Naithani, former MLAs Vikram Singh Negi, Rajkumar, Congress leaders N S Bindra, Satpal Brahmchari, Rajiv Jain and others also addressed the Dharna.

PM to visit US for Quad summit

FIRST IN-PERSON MEET

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Signaling the growing importance of the Quad combine, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will visit the US next week to participate in the first in-person summit of the four nation grouping including the US, India, Japan and Australia. He will also address the United Nations (UN) General Assembly session.

Modi will also hold summit level talks with President Joe Biden, who is hosting the Quad meeting of the Heads of State. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi would be participating, along with Prime Minister Scott Morrison of Australia, Prime Minister Yoshihide Suga of Japan and President Joseph R Biden of USA, in the Leaders' Summit of the Quadrilateral Framework in Washington DC, USA, on September 24," the ministry of external affairs(MEA)announced here on Tuesday.

The agenda of the Quad summit will see the leaders taking stock of the progress made since their first virtual summit on March 12 and discuss regional issues of shared interest. "As part of their ongoing efforts to contain the COVID-19 pandemic, they will review the Quad Vaccine initiative which was announced in March this year," the MEA said.

The four leaders are also likely to discuss the situation in Afghanistan and ensuring a free and open Indo-Pacific. The navies of the four nations have so far carried two Malabar series of exercises including one last year and one this year. The latest drill was conducted in the Western Pacific while the exercise last year was conducted off the Indian coast.

China has all along opposed the formation of Quad and claims the naval exercises will lead to the militarization of the Indo-Pacific where it is now flexing its maritime muscle.

Modi will be visiting the US for the first time since Biden assumed office early this year. Besides the Quad summit and bilateral talks with the US, Modi will also address the 76th session of the UN General Assembly in New York the next day. Modi is also expected to hold bilateral talks with Australian Prime Minister Scott Morrison.

The Modi-Biden bilateral meeting is expected to take place at the White House on September 23. Both leaders have spoken virtually on multiple occasions after Biden became president in January.

The last time Modi visited the US was in September 2019 when he and the then US president Donald Trump addressed the Howdy-Modi event in Houston.

This will be Modi's first foreign visit in nearly six months and his second since the outbreak of the pandemic coronavirus. In March, Modi travelled to Bangladesh to attend events organised to mark the birth centenary of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman and 50 years of the war of liberation of that country.

The US is hosting the in-person summit of the leaders of Quad to boost practical cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region as well as to send a strong signal about Washington's commitment to the grouping.

Shah praises PM for speaking in Hindi at international forums

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday cited Prime Minister Narendra Modi's example of speaking only in Hindi at all international forums to call for shedding the hesitation over speaking the language. At the same time, he also maintained that Hindi is a friend of India's regional languages and all of them should be promoted and encouraged.

He praised Prime Minister Narendra Modi, saying, "If PM can speak Hindi internationally, what are we embarrassed about? Gone are the days when speaking Hindi was a matter of concern".

Addressing a function on the occasion of Hindi Diwas, Shah also appealed to parents to communicate with their children at home in their mother tongue even if they study in English medium schools. Otherwise, the children will be cut off from their roots, he said.

"Hindi has no difference with any regional language. Hindi is the 'Sakhi' (friend) of all Indian regional languages," he said.

Shah said all Indian regional languages complement and complete Hindi and all regional languages must be promoted and encouraged.

Since 2014, more MPs are speaking in their own regional language in

The Union Home and Cooperation Minister, Amit Shah, addresses at the Hindi Divas Samaroh 2021, in New Delhi on September 14

Parliament and they are being translated verbatim to English and Hindi, he said and added that this has helped people's representatives to highlight the problems of their respective areas in the highest forum.

The home minister said people should not only be 'Atma Nirbhar' (self-reliant) in producing goods but also for languages. He cited Prime Minister Narendra Modi's example of speaking only in Hindi at all international forums to convey his thoughts. The PM and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh also extended their wishes on the occasion.

Referring to the New Education Policy (NEP) envisaged by Modi, Shah said it has provisions for promotion of regional and Hindi languages.

BJP unleashing violence in Tripura, says Sitaram Yechury

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Former Tripura Chief Minister and CPI(M) leader Manik Sarkar on Tuesday alleged that he was prevented from visiting the State and his constituency by the ruling BJP multiple times.

Addressing the media here along with the party general secretary Sitram Yechury, Sarkar accused the BJP Government of unleashing political violence in Tripura.

"In Tripura, the Constitution of India doesn't work. CPI(M) MLAs, including me, aren't allowed to visit their constituency. In the 42 months that the BJP has been in power, I have been stalled 15 times from visiting various parts of the state and my Constituency," alleged Sarkar, who was Chief Minister from 1998 to 2018.

The two Left leaders claimed that there is a "huge discontent" against the BJP government in Tripura. "The CPI(M) is spearheading efforts to galvanise people's protest. They (BJP) do not want to allow this process and are unleashing violence?" Yechury alleged. A few days ago, in his letter to the Prime Minister, Yechury had alleged that the party's offices in Tripura were attacked by 'mobs of BJP men' in a 'pre-planned fashion' on September 8.

In the letter, Yechury has alleged the "impunity" with which the attackers operated shows the "connivance of the state government".

Not going to reopen decision on grant of reservation in promotion to SCs, STs: SC

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Tuesday said it would not reopen its decision on granting reservation in promotions to Scheduled Castes (SCs) and Scheduled Tribes (STs) as it was for the States to decide how they implement it.

Taking up various pleas pertaining to alleged hurdles in granting reservation in promotions to SCs and STs in various States, a three-judge Bench headed by Justice Nageswara Rao directed the Advocate on Records of State Governments to identify issues peculiar to them and submit those within two weeks.

"We are making it very clear that we are not going to reopen Nagraj or Jarnail Singh (cases) because the idea was only to decide these cases in accordance with the law laid down by the court," said the bench, also comprising Justices Sanjiv Khanna and B R Gavai.

The top court noted that in its earlier order, the state governments were directed to finalise the issues which are peculiar to them so that court can proceed in the matter.

The issues framed by the Attorney General K K Venugopal and the ones circulated by others are enhancing the scope of cases, it said.

"We are not willing to do that. There are certain issues which are already decided in Nagraj that also we are not going to take up. We are very clear that we are not going to permit any arguments for reopening of cases or arguing that law laid down from Indira Sahney is wrong because the very scope of these cases is to apply the law as laid down by this court," the court said.

SC asks AIIMS to give age determination report of girl recovered by police

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Tuesday directed the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) to give by September 17 its report on determining the age of a girl who went missing from Gorakhpur in UP since July 8 and was later recovered by Delhi Police earlier this month.

The apex court observed that further steps will be taken in the matter depending on the age determination report of the girl, who according to her mother is aged around 15-16 years while in Aadhaar her age is mentioned as 13.

A Bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar also permitted two lawyers assisting senior advocate K V Viswanathan, who was nominated by the top court to appear for the girl as she was not represented before it through a counsel, to interact with her.

"We direct the concerned authority of AIIMS, Delhi to ensure that age determination report is given before the next date of hearing which we schedule on September 17," said the bench, also comprising justices Dinesh Maheshwari and C T Ravikumar.

The top court had on September 7 handed over the investigation of the case lodged in Uttar Pradesh, after the girl was missing from Gorakhpur, to Delhi Police which recently recovered her and arrested the alleged abductor.

During the hearing on Tuesday, Viswanathan said that he has seen the two status reports and also the suggestions of Additional Solicitor General (ASG) R S Suri, who is appearing for Delhi Police, and the counsel appearing for the girl's mother.

He said age of the girl has to be determined as the report says pregnancy was detected but ultrasound does not show pregnancy.

SC dismisses plea seeking ex-gratia for family of deceased lawyers

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Tuesday dismissed a plea seeking directions to the Centre and others to pay ₹50 lakh ex-gratia to kin of advocates who have died within 60 years whether due to Covid-19 or other reasons, saying life of lawyers cannot be said to be "more precious" than others.

Observing that it cannot encourage filing of "bogus" public interest litigation (PIL) by lawyers, a bench headed by Justice D Y Chandrachud said the plea is a "public interest litigation" and not a single relevant ground has been raised in it.

The bench, also comprising Justices Vikram Nath and B V Nagarathna, said several people have died due to Covid-19 in the country and there is already a judgement passed by the apex court dealing with framing of guidelines for disbursement of compensation to kin of those who have died as a result of coronavirus.

"Are other people of the society not important," the bench told advocate Pradeep Kumar Yadav, who had filed the petition.

"This is a publicity interest litigation and just because you are in black coat does not mean your life is more precious than others," the bench observed, adding, "We must not encourage lawyers to file bogus PILs."

The top court, which observed that "cut-copy-paste" has been done in the plea, said it would not happen that lawyers will file PIL like this to demand compensation and the court will allow it.

It said several people have died of COVID-19 and lawyers cannot be an exception.

Yadav requested the bench that he will withdraw the plea and file it with better grounds.

The bench, however, dismissed the petition with a cost of Rs 10,000 payable to the Supreme Court Bar Association within a week.

Akhilesh asks BJP to pick bulldozer as poll symbol

Lucknow: Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav on Tuesday challenged Prime Minister Narendra Modi's claim about the crime situation in Uttar Pradesh, asking him to check data of the Home Department and other central agencies.

At a function after laying the stone of Raja Mahendra Pratap Singh State University in Aligarh, PM Modi earlier in the day said UP was run by gangsters and mafias before 2017. The Samajwadi Party (SP) was ruling the State then.

In a scathing attack at the BJP, Yadav told reporters at a press conference here that it is good to set up a university but the party "runs the best training centre of telling lies".

He asked the BJP to pick

"bulldozer" as its election symbol, referring to the alleged demolition of houses of some Ayodhya residents.

Yadav also asked Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath to get his eyesight tested, replying to the CM's assertion that the Opposition leader lacked vision.

Yadav told reporters that the UP Government is not working according to the law and warned officials that his party is preparing a list of those who violated the law, stressing that they won't be spared once his party's Government comes to power.

When his attention was drawn to the PM's comment over the law and order, Yadav said, "He should ask for the data of the Home Department or Dial 100 to see who is increasing the crime."

He asked the PM to go through the NCRB report and also see which state has been served maximum notices by the National Human Rights Commission.

Yadav said the PM should also ask the Uttar Pradesh CM who are the top 10 mafia in the state.

All are aware how the CM withdrew cases against himself, he said. He also accused the ruling party of failing to honour its own leaders, referring to the foundation laying of a university after former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee in Lucknow in 2019 and asked about its status.

Priyanka slams UP Govt over crimes against women

New Delhi: Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra on Tuesday attacked Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath over the issue of crimes against women in the State and alleged that he was the champion of "anti-women mindset".

Her attack on Adityanath came as on this day, last year, the horrific Hathras incident took place in which a young Dalit woman was raped by four men. The woman died on September 29 at Delhi's Safdarjung Hospital during treatment.

A year ago from today, a horrific incident of rape had happened in Hathras and instead of providing justice and security to the family, the Uttar Pradesh Government had threatened the family and also snatched away their right to give their daughter an honourable funeral," Priyanka Gandhi said in a tweet in Hindi.

Government officials and BJP leaders had made statements to the effect that there was "no rape" and the energy of the entire Government machinery was spent on character assassination of the victim, the Congress general secretary alleged.

How can you even expect sensitivity from the head of a Government that has such a horrible stance on crimes against women, Priyanka Gandhi asked.

Anyway, the Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh is the champion of anti-women mindset. He has said that 'women should not be independent,' she claimed.

The victim was cremated in the dead of the night near her home on September 30. Her family alleged they were forced by the local police to hurriedly conduct her last rites.

DEFAMATION CASES

Maha Min slaps ₹100 crore notice against Somaiya

Court issues process against him in another case

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

In a double whammy for BJP leader and former MP Kirit Somaiya, Maharashtra Transport Minister Anil Parab of the Shiv Sena on Tuesday slapped a ₹100 crore defamation notice against him for making "false" and "reckless" allegations against the Sena leader, while a Mumbai court issued a process against him under section 500 of IPC for allegedly defaming NGO Earth. Reacting to several allegations made by Somaiya on twitter over the past few months, Parab — in a notice issued through his lawyer Sushma Singh — said that the BJP's former MP had, through his official Twitter handle, allegedly been carrying out a "defamatory, malicious and mala fide" campaign against him. Among other things, Somaiya had alleged that Parab owned two illegal resorts in "No Development Zone" of Murud sea shore at Dapoli in Ratnagiri district in coastal Konkan region, his secretary Bajarang Kharmate owned 40 benami properties in Pune and Sangli districts in western Maharashtra, and he owned an illegal office at Mahad land at Bandra in north-west Mumbai.

Parab said that in the event of Somaiya's failure to comply with his demands in the next 72 hours, he would launch civil and criminal proceedings, including claims of damages amounting to ₹100 crore against the former BJP MP.

Meanwhile, in another case registered by NGO Earth against, Metropolitan Magistrate, 25th Court, Mazgaon Sewree P 1 Mokashi ordered issuance of process against Somaiya under Somaiya under Section 500 of the IPC vide Section 204 (a) of the Cr PC.

In his order, the Metropolitan Magistrate Mokashi said: "It is also prima facie proved by the words spoken by accused Kirit Somaiya were such that, it had harmed the reputation of the NGO Earth".

The court summoned Somaiya to appear before it on September 22 and October 5. Somaiya had among other things alleged that Maharashtra Housing Minister Jitendra Ahwad was using NGO Earth to collect money from developers. The complainant told the court that Somaiya had published posts and articles regarding a matter which is sub judice before the Court along with these posts and articles containing false, derogatory and defamatory statements about the NGO Earth (complainant), "which has lowered down the image of the NGO Earth (complainant) in the society".

Panaji: Senior BJP leaders, including former Maharashtra CM Devendra Fadnavis, would be arriving in Goa on September 20 to discuss the ruling party's strategy for the 2022 Assembly elections, Chief Minister Pramod Sawant said on Tuesday.

Fadnavis, who will be leading a BJP team, has been appointed the election in-charge of Goa, where polls are slated in early 2022. Sawant told mediapersons here that he met Fadnavis in Mumbai earlier in the day.

Union Minister for Culture and Tourism G Kishan Reddy and Minister of State for Railways and Textiles Darshana Jardosh have been appointed as co-in-charge for the state polls.

Sawant said the team, comprising Fadnavis, Reddy and Jardosh, would be arriving in the state on September 20 to decide the BJP's strategy for the elections. Fadnavis' vast experience in handling elections will be beneficial for the BJP in Goa, he said.

Last year, the BJP had appointed the former Maharashtra CM as its in-charge for the Bihar assembly elections.

Bengal gets 4th AG in 10 years

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ KOLKATA

Bengal on Tuesday got its fourth Advocate General in a decade Soumendranath Mukherjee was appointed the State's fourth AG in the place of Kishore Dutta who resigned earlier on the day citing "personal reasons".

The first three AGs in Mamata Banerjee regime were Barristers Anindya Mitra, Jayanta Mitra and Bimal Mukherjee following which Dutta a senior counsel took charge in 2017.

Reacting to his resignation BJP MP Arjun Singh said that "this TMC Government puts so much pressure on the AGs to do act in illegal way that no senior advocate one's salt can continue on the job... though Kishore Dutta tried to please Mamata Banerjee even he failed to do so... now there is a new incumbent".

Hitting back TMC Rajiya Sabha MP Sukhendu Shekhar Roy wondered "why three Principal Advisors to the Prime Minister was and why we had three RBI Governors in so short span of a time... the BJP should look into its own issues before pointing fingers at others."

Why change CM if Guj was on path of progress? asks Sena

Mumbai: The Shiv Sena on Tuesday said the sudden change of guard in Gandhinagar, where first-time BJP MLA Bhupendra Patel has been appointed the new Chief Minister, reflected the style of functioning generally associated with the Congress and claimed the move shows the 'balloon' of Gujarat's development model has burst.

An editorial in Sena mouthpiece 'Saamana' said the people of Gujarat were extremely angry over the "collapse" of healthcare system during the second wave of Covid-19, when Vijay Rupani was the Chief Minister, and the BJP also realized that the influential Patidar community, to which Patel belongs, is miffed with the party, leading to the change at the top in the adjoining state.

"The same thing takes place in the Congress and we have to call it democracy," quipped the Sena, a former BJP ally which now shares power with the Congress and the NCP in Maharashtra.

With the sudden leadership change, the editorial claimed the "balloon" of Gujarat's model of development, governance and democracy has now burst.

Patel was not even made a minister in the last four years, but he was directly made the chief minister.

If Gujarat was truly on path of progress, then why did the BJP change its Chief Minister overnight?" the Marathi daily sought to know.

Amid the cacophony of 'vikas' (development), if leadership is suddenly changed, people raise doubts, it said.

"Is this the Gujarat model where Prime Minister Narendra Modi will actually have to call the shots by keeping Patel at the forefront ahead of the state polls (due in December next year)?" the editorial asked.

Patel is a staunch supporter of former Gujarat chief minister Anandiben Patel while Rupani had the backing of Union Home Minister Amit Shah, and this would make the coming days 'chaotic as well as interesting," the publication said.

"Replacing Rupani with Patel was a facile act. The BJP is convinced that it would face a backlash due to unemployment, closure of major factories, including carmaker Ford's plant near Ahmedabad," it said.

Gujarat's healthcare system "collapsed" during the second wave of Covid-19 and people are extremely angry over it, the editorial claimed, adding the closure of Ford plant has led to around 40,000 people losing their livelihood.

OBC quota in Maha local bodies: Thane BJP to hold protest

Thane: The Thane unit of the BJP said it would hold taluka-level protests on Wednesday against the Maharashtra Government's 'failure' to protect OBC quota in local bodies.

The OBC quota was struck down by the Supreme Court, which had said reservation could not exceed 50 per cent of the total seats in local bodies.

Addressing a press conference here, Thane BJP chief and MLC Niranjan Davkhare and local MLA Sanjay Kelkar said the Uddhav Thackeray government's lack of efforts led to the legal setback.

The two leaders said the BJP wanted the MVA government to collect empirical data on Other Backward Classes as soon as possible and take every step to restore the quota.

Owaisi upset over hints that he likes the Taliban

Patna: AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi on Tuesday took umbrage over "suspensions" that he had a soft corner for the Taliban and dared the Narendra Modi Government at the Centre to declare the militant group a "terrorist organisation".

Addressing a Press conference here, the firebrand Hyderabad MP also demanded that the Government, given the fact that India currently headed the UN committee on sanctions, give an assurance that none of the Taliban leaders will be delisted from the list of terrorists. "Why do you raise suspicions (shaq) over me with regard to Taliban? Was it Asaduddin Owaisi who had handed over jailed terrorists to secure the release of passengers of the hijacked plane in Kandahar", said Owaisi in response to questions about some BJP leaders having dubbed him as a man of "Talibani soch (mindset)".

Owaisi said he has made his stance clear about the Taliban on the floor of Parliament but his words of caution were not heeded.

"During the debate on CAA, I had requested the government to consider making the Act religion-neutral, warning them of a possible takeover by the Taliban. But for that strategic blunder, we would have been in a position to grant safe asylum to Tajiks, Uzbeks, and members of other minority tribes", said Owaisi.

He also said that the Taliban takeover would "strengthen Pakistan and China" while giving India a lot to worry about which was regrettable since India had invested a lot in Afghanistan. "The country had spent Rs 35,000 crore in Afghanistan. Thousands of its youngsters have been provided education on our soil. We had so much at stake in that rugged country which lies en route to the Chabahar port in Iran we were developing", Owaisi lamented.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Humane touch

The SC correctly favours suicide by COVID-19 patients to be treated as medical deaths

Continuing to keep a watchful eye on the rehabilitation of those devastated by COVID-19, the Supreme Court on Monday asked the Centre to consider suicides by COVID-19 patients as COVID-19 deaths so that their families can get compensation. Only extreme suffering from the infection could have led to the patients dying by suicide, the court reasoned. The Bench of Justices MR Shah and AS Bopanna made the remarks while examining the Centre's guidelines for issuing COVID-19 death certificates and payment of compensation. The guidelines do not consider deaths due to poisoning, suicide, murder and accident as COVID-19 deaths even if the infection was an accompanying condition. The court was satisfied when the Government said it would re-examine the matter. The court's proposal is certainly a humane gesture but both the Government and the judiciary should first consider the issue in its totality because of the implications involved. To cut to the chase, any suicide is the result of the victim being forced into taking the step due to extremely frustrating and depressing circumstances. The suicide leaves the family members without a bread winner if the victim was the only person employed and, in dire straits, if they were poor and disadvantaged. Technically speaking, it will be a challenge for the Government to prove that the suicide of a COVID-19 positive patient was owing to the infection and not any other reason. Secondly, several frustrating and compelling factors, as dangerous as COVID-19, force people to commit suicide.

Any Government policy to compensate only families of COVID-19 positive patients committing suicide may be seen to be discriminating against suicides for other, equally terrible reasons. Thirdly, the Government and the courts will need to sensitise the people who continue to think that suicide is merely a crime and which colours their attitude towards the victims. Suicide is a crime under the archaic Section 309 of the Indian Penal Code. The section was not repealed even though its scope was reduced by the Mental Healthcare Act, 2017, that said anyone who attempts suicide is presumed "to have severe stress and shall not be tried and punished" and calls on the Government to "provide care, treatment and rehabilitation" of the person in order "to reduce the risk of recurrence" of such an attempt. The humanitarian aspect of the law needs to be popularised to blunt indifference to circumstances that lead to suicides and encourage rehabilitation of survivors or families of victims. Thousands of farmers commit suicide in India because of bankruptcy, indebtedness and crop failure. There is a compensation plan in place for them though farmers who do not hold title to their land, like women farmers in most cases, are not yet eligible for compensation. A rational approach to the matter is perhaps hidden in the question of whether a healthy farmer who committed suicide because he became indebted after failing to save his crop during the COVID-19 lockdown would be eligible for compensation as well.

Quad unity

Biden's 'shift of focus to China' must show at the Quad Summit if he means business at all

The Quadrilateral Security Dialogue (Quad) was formed with an aim to contain China's growing influence in Asia and ensure territorial integrity in the Indo-Pacific region. After US President Joe Biden quit the unresolved Afghan war in order to "shift focus to China", the dialogue becomes way more important to him than ever. Hence, he is all set to host the first ever in-person Quad Summit at the White House in Washington on September 24 which shall be attended by the leaders of all four member countries — the US, India, Japan and Australia. The dialogue shall focus on areas such as combating COVID-19, addressing the climate crisis, partnering on emerging technologies and cyberspace, and promoting a free and open Indo-Pacific. Biden has received multiple setbacks because of his soft stance lately, and this Summit could actually help rescue his lost relevance. A virtual meeting of the Quad leaders was also held in March this year, and the members pledged to work closely on COVID-19 vaccines and ensure a free and open Indo-Pacific. Quad is, by all means, the need of the hour for the US, the Quad and the Asean countries, and it is high time that Biden realises what Trump had learned back in 2017. Trump helped revitalise Quad and had called Nato "obsolete" because of its little relevance now. At the inaugural two-plus-two ministerial dialogue with Australia held on Saturday, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said that Nato was a "cold war term" while Quad looks to the future. The North Atlantic Treaty Organisation's primary objective was to deal with the USSR and its main constituent Russia, which is economically in a battered state today, while China is economically as well as militarily the toughest rival. On the other side, Beijing's aggressive behaviour towards Taiwan and other surrounding countries and its dominance in international waters is a grave concern. The Taiwan issue is likely to be on the agenda, and it should be. Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian lashed out at the upcoming Quad Summit and said, "The relevant countries should abandon the obsolete Cold War mentality and narrow-minded geopolitical rivalry and view correctly and respect people's aspiration in the region." Biden needs to show that he means business. The rising instances of global terror after the developments in Afghanistan and maritime security in the Indo-Pacific must be discussed by the leaders.

Joe Biden slips with his soldiers

The POTUS, who managed five draft deferments from going to Vietnam, is again found wanting in his treatment of the US soldier in Afghanistan

BHOPIINDER SINGH

Joe Biden is the 46th President of the United States, but not one of the 29 who served in the military, in some capacity. He had managed five draft deferments from going to Vietnam and equivocated on the Vietnam War per se, whilst politically opposing Richard Nixon's conduct of war. This flip-flop of positions was visible in Biden asserting that he was against authorising the Iraq War in 2002 as he was supposedly "against it from the moment it started", whilst contradicting himself with his vote for the Authorisation for Use of Military Force (AUMF) for the invasion, as the Chair of the Senate Relations Committee. Later, a chance duel against a decidedly racist, sexist and xenophobic Donald Trump (who clownishly and dangerously sought to usurp the imagery of the US military) ensured that Biden was sworn in as POTUS and, therefore, Commander-in-Chief of its Armed Forces. Clearly for many Veterans who traditionally supported the more rightwing Republican Party, Biden was the better of the two bad choices.

For a persistently combat-engaged nation with approximately 19 million Veterans as per the Department of Veteran Affairs, representing nearly 10 per cent of the total US adult population — the opinion of the 'Uninformed' fraternity matters. Biden frequently invoked the memory of his late son in his presidential campaign, Beau Biden, who served and rose to the rank of Major in the Judge Advocate General's Corps. Beau tenanted Iraq from 2008 to 2009 and received a Bronze Star for his services. Biden's "sacred obligation" campaign towards military families entreated that sentiment, "As parents of a service member who was deployed to Iraq, Vice-President Joe Biden and (Dr) Jill Biden understand that it's not just military members who sign up to serve our nation, their families do too." Meanwhile the ham-handed approach of Trump, including upsetting the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Mark Milley, as also respected Veterans like Generals James Mattis and HR McMaster, swung the mood in favour of Biden — aided immeasurably by Trump's guffaws and derelictions.

Today, over eight months as the POTUS, Biden has taken one substantial decision in the militaristic realm, ie, withdrawal of US troops from Afghanistan and his consequential approval ratings have plummeted. While ending the 20-year war in Afghanistan was much sought after, the unheroically defeated and hurried manner (with the casualty from the ISIL-K attack) in which they withdrew has diminished the image and perceptions of the US military, externally and internally. Comparisons of a Vietnam redux are inevitable and odious, and it is only the Veteran who will pay that ignominious price and humiliation over time. Despair is magnified by the unfiltered reality of having amateurly underestimated the speed of collapse, the obvious lack of an operational plan and the embarrassment of having to take permission from the 'enemy', ie, Taliban, to 'evict safely'. Unlike the militarily uninitiated and unconcerned politicians, the US soldier will suffer the additional and unimaginable moral injury in the know of what it has left behind in terms of allies (interpreters, drivers and support staff), and the sure fate that awaits them. The chaotic and mismanaged departure has left the uniformed fraternity pained, frustrated and shamed, and the blame is coming understandably on the POTUS.

“WHILE ENDING THE 20-YEAR WAR IN AFGHANISTAN WAS MUCH SOUGHT AFTER, THE UNHEROICALLY DEFEATED AND HURRIED MANNER IN WHICH THEY WITHDREW HAS DIMINISHED THE IMAGE AND PERCEPTIONS OF THE US MILITARY

Seemingly, Biden cannot seem to get much right with the 'uninformed' sentiments as he was seen disrespectfully checking his watch as casket after casket appeared during the somber "dignified transfer" ceremony for the 13 fallen US troops who were killed at the Kabul airport.

Many also commented on the inappropriateness of the President repeatedly invoking his late son's name, instead of that of those who had actually fallen under his watch. Many family members of the fallen soldiers refused to meet the President, while some others who did so, did some plain-speaking to his face. The mother of one called Biden "a dementia-ridden piece of crap who doesn't even know he's in the White House". Importantly, it is not a partisan divide as many of these families have equally slammed Donald Trump's ill-timed opportunism in politicising the soldiers' deaths, with many calling it "without honour", "disgusting" and "gross".

Trump with his patent cat-tiness has sought to spin grieving families predatorially into dangerous territory — insincere and qualified as his support always is, only to those who back him politically, and smearing those who don't, like the Gold Star family of Captain Humayun Khan. The political tooling of the military is increasingly irresistible in democracies across the world with unwarranted usurpation of the narrative, parading and milking of raw emotions towards electoral harvest — even mature democracies like the US are prone to it.

In an unavoidably comparative sense, most Veterans know that the Commander-in-Chief requires selfless devotion to constitutionality, restraint, depth of character and principled leadership — and, therefore, they may still back Biden over Trump, but the recent handling of Afghanistan has led to the rightful questioning of Biden beyond partisanship. In the world of professional 'uniform', winning a "just war" is important and, if not that, then going down fighting with valour and dignity is the only other option — in Afghanistan, neither of the two was achieved, and the slip is clearly showing for Biden amongst the fraternity. He must be put to question, beyond partisan preferences.

BOOK LAUNCH PROVED COSTLY

Sir — During a pandemic, a certain amount of restraint is expected of everyone. Indian cricket team coach Ravi Shastri, along with the batting coach, fielding coach and physio contracted Coronavirus in England when the team was in the midst of a Test series and on the cusp of creating history. Shastri's book — Stargazing: The Players in My Life — has been hitting the headlines with its extracts being published in the media. But was it so important to release a book at a function where outsiders were allowed, and most of them did not adhere to personal protection, is the moot question?

It is said that no prior permission was sought from the BCCI by Shastri. The entire Indian team, too, was present at the book release in London on August 31, two days before the fifth Test at Manchester. The hugely anticipated fifth Test was called off. Obviously, Shastri knows he is not answerable to anybody, let alone the board. After all this, the Indian team's image has taken a beating. This comes at a time when the team seemed to have hit a purple patch.

UNREASONABLY NEET

Sir — The Tamil Nadu Government has passed the Anti-NEET Bill, 2021, in the Assembly to ban NEET exams in the State. The decision to pass the Bill was taken in the wake of the suicide by death of a medical aspirant. With the passing of the Bill, students would get admission to UG medical degree courses based on the qualifying HSC or class 12 marks. TN has been in strong opposition to NEET since its recommendation in 2013. The TN Government's move to ban the exam raises questions about its suitability for admission to medical courses.

Strong arguments have been put forward against the need of conducting the exam. NEET is an assault on the autonomy of private, unaided institutions. It is an example of over-centralisation of education and violates the rights of

'Oscar Anna' bids final adieu

With the passing away of Oscar Fernandes, the nation has lost a highly respected politician, a veteran parliamentarian and a Congress stalwart who made significant contributions to Indian politics over the last few decades. Fernandes became a close confidant of Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi after the demise of Rajiv Gandhi and remained a disciplined party man throughout his political life. The veteran leader was a five-term member of the Lok Sabha and four served four terms in the Rajya Sabha. From being a municipal councillor in the early days to serving as Union Minister from 2004 to 2009, holding a number of portfolios such as Statistics and Programme Implementation, NRI Affairs, Youth and Sports Affairs and Labour and Employment, he climbed up in the Congress hierarchy. After the late Ananth Kumar, if a leader from Karnataka could make a name in Delhi, it was Oscar Fernandes. He was a multi-talented personality with varied interests, he was a yoga enthusiast since childhood who had a penchant for playing mouth organ, harmonium, keyboard and tabla. People in all coastal districts of Karnataka had always seen him with great esteem and addressed him as 'Oscar Anna'. He has left an indelible mark in Indian politics and will be fondly remembered for his contribution. When such committed politicians depart, national polity becomes poorer. Rest in peace, Oscar Anna.

unaided, private and minority institutions. As most of the institutions are in cities and the fees are very high, poor students from rural areas face disadvantage. Considering all these facts, it is of great importance to arrive at a decision whether the imposition of NEET is fair. If all State Governments conduct admission to medical courses in fair and transparent ways, the imposition of NEET would be unreasonable.

INUNDATED BY HEAVY RAINS

Sir — The schools in Odisha are closed for two days amid downpour; there is record rainfall in Puri and Bhubaneswar. The Odisha Government has shut down schools in 12 districts for two days as rain continues to lash the State for the third day due to a deep depression over the Bay of Bengal. The deep depression after crossing the coast has moved west-northwest and is now lying as a depression over north coastal parts of Odisha and adjoining BoB. The system will continue to move west-northwest towards Chhattisgarh in the next 24 hours and over southern parts of Madhya Pradesh and adjoining Maharashtra in the subsequent 24 hours.

Heavy rainfall is expected during this period over these States till September 15. Slight breather is foreseen between September 16 and 19 as of now. The rainfall deficiency for Odisha will drop back to normal range from a whopping 30 per cent or even more till August. Some of the districts will possibly shift to surplus for the season. Heavy rainfall over the State will continue for 24 hours and reduce thereafter. It is indeed good news but the damage caused by rains has given the State Government sleepless nights.

SUPER-SPREADERS OF EDUCATION, NOT VIRUS

Life seems to be otherwise going normal but educational institutions still face restrictions

through Right to Education may be lost. A group of 56 renowned academicians, doctors including epidemiologists and other experts have urged state chief minister to reopen schools and colleges. The signatories include Dr Chandrakant Lahariya, epidemiologist and public health expert, Professor Suneela Garg of the Lancet Covid-19 Commission, Dr Naveen Thacker of the International Paediatric Association, and Shaneen Mistri, Teach For India CEO Shaheen Mistri. The letter says, "There is an urgent need to bring children back to school. Since younger children are least at risk, we urge you to permit primary schools to open first, in line with Indian Council of medical Research (ICMR) recommendations, and then higher classes. Vaccination is not a prerequisite for reopening schools."

The purpose of vaccination is to prevent severe illness and death, and children are at relatively low risk of severe or fatal COVID-19. It is well known that the lack of education for students, particularly girls, affects the health and livelihood of next generation. These are extreme costs. Government and task forces must strike a balance of risks and such balance is overwhelmingly in favour of opening schools. NK Arora, senior member of the National COVID-19 task force said in a recent interview, "There are 44 crore children in India, out of which 12 crore are in the 12-17 age group... Based on Indian and global data, the risk of severe disease and death are rare in children. However, children can spread infection. Adults have almost 15 times higher risk of death and severe disease compared with children below 18 years. So, if adults around them at home or at school are vaccinated, it will form a protective ring around them. There will be limited virus and disease transmission in that condition. I strongly feel that parents should send their kids to school without waiting for Covid-19 vaccine for two reasons; one, their risk of developing a severe disease is rare; second going to school is important for their cognitive, physical and mental development." The Ministry of Home Affairs says the pandemic situation is stable. Experts justify arguing that if earlier prediction of India witnessing a rise of four-five lakh cases daily in a third wave was true, it would have happened by now. But it has not happened. On the contrary, our big cities are witnessing normal life with no substantial increase in cases, the reason being that on an average, over 67 per cent of our population have antibodies against the virus and the pace of vaccination is increasing every passing day. That is a good enough reason to consider reopening schools even if in a phased manner.

Caste in UP polls: A case of Brahmins

Reported persecution of Brahmins is believed to be the new mantra of UP politics with all major parties out to woo this small but influential section

Political parties, gearing up for the Assembly elections in Uttar Pradesh, are looking for new political strategies that could bring them back to power. Caste and religion are the two basic fundamentals on which this election would be contested and the parties are planning their strategies around these planks. In this melee, the biggest casualty is development as no political party is talking about it. "Sadak, pani, bijli" is no longer an issue for them, but caste and religion are.

Just a few months back the opposition parties were tearing apart the Yogi Government for its failure to prevent deaths of people in the second wave of COVID-19. Then there were issues of poor law and order and lack of governance which the opposition claimed will prove detrimental for the ruling BJP. We were expecting protests across the state, almost every day, highlighting people's issues. We were expecting the opposition would come up with a vision and project itself as an alternative to the BJP; nothing of that sort has happened so far.

For the last one month, dengue and viral fever have been raging in western Uttar Pradesh where over 100 children have died so far. Senior leaders have criticized the government by issuing statements through tweets but none of the top opposition leaders has visited the affected region. Opposition leaders of substance merely shared their agonies through press notes.

The shades of what we can expect in the elections have started emanating when Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) claimed that it will start its Tiranga Yatra after 'darshan of Ram Lalla' in Ayodhya. Samajwadi Party national president Akhilesh Yadav has started hopping from one temple to another while in an attempt to invigorate Muslims, Asaduddin Owaisi, President of the All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM), has raised the issue of the razing of a mosque in Barabanki. He even targeted the Samajwadi Party saying why it did not protest.

The Bharatiya Janata Party, on the other hand, is silently working on its Hindutva agenda. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has declared a 10 sq. km.-area around the Krishna Janmashtami around Mathura-Vrindavan as pilgrimage area thus prohibiting sale of liquor and meat in 22 wards of Mathura city. The Deepotsava in Ayodhya would be a grand affair this year. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is likely to attend the program when the government will attempt to break the Guinness record by lighting over seven lakh diyas.

Then there is caste which is the fulcrum of elections in Uttar Pradesh since the Mandal days. The emergence of smaller caste parties that have influence in small pockets has changed poll dynamics. The big parties are too eager to align with them realizing that all small gains can catapult them into power. This is evident the way Bharatiya Janata Party is trying to woo Apna Dal, a Kurmi based party and Nishad party, that has influence among Nishads - the boating community.

Akhilesh Yadav too has shown his willingness to align with smaller parties as he has publicly claimed that Samajwadi Party will not forge an alliance with big parties but his party's doors are always open for smaller parties. He has already declared an alliance with Mahan Dal and is also in touch with Om Prakash Rajbhar, an OBC leader whose Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party, is an alliance with AIMIM but he is looking for greener pasture.

Castes like Sahus, Kashyaps, Sainis, Kushwahas, Mauriyas, Shakyas, Pals, Dhangars, Gaderiyas, Kumhars, Nishads, and Mallas are much in "demand". The BJP in 2017 had also expanded its reach among Other Backward Castes (OBCs), by allying with Om Prakash Rajbhar's Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party (SBSP) and the Nishad Party in 2019. The SBSP, however, broke off ties after the 2019 Lok Sabha elections despite Rajbhar being made a cabinet minister in the Yogi Government and his son and other supporters given chairmanships of state-run corporations.

On the other hand, Samajwadi Party is focussing on Kurmis, Mauriyas, Sainis, Sahus, Kashyaps, and other such. There is a feeling in Samajwadi Party that it might give more tickets to non-Yadav OBCs in the coming elections.

The search for caste alliance is not limited to backward or Other Backward Caste (OBC) only even the upper caste, particularly Brahmins are now much in demand. Persecution of Brahmins is believed to be the new mantra of UP politics as Bahujan Samaj Party and the Samajwadi Party have declared that if their parties return to power, they will order a probe into the atrocities being committed against Brahmins during the Yogi Raj.

At the concluding session of the BSP's Prabudh Sammelan, Mayawati declared that if she was voted to power, a Commission would be set up to enquire into atrocities and injustice done to Brahmins by the BJP government. She even claimed that injustice was also done during Akhilesh Yadav's regime and her party will work to restore the "samman" of the Brahmins.

Remember, this is the same Mayawati whose party had coined the slogan "Tilak tarazu aur talwar, inkomaarojutteychar" (Beat Brahmins, Vaishyas, and Thakurs with slippers). Such is her compulsion to appease Brahmins that she did not hesitate to go for identity politics when she accepted a trishul, conch shell, and a silver elephant, the election symbol of the party, as gifts during a Prabudh Sammelan from party leaders.

The Brahmins, who constitute around 10 percent of the vote share in Uttar Pradesh, have suddenly become very important in Uttar Pradesh. Not only opposition, even the ruling BJP has started looking for Brahmin icons to appease this politically important community. This was probably the first time when a ruling party celebrated the birth anniversary of Govind Ballabh Pant, a Chief Minister of an opposition party. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath himself laid a wreath on the statue of the former Chief Minister.

Why are the political parties giving so much attention to this vote bank in UP? First, the Brahmins make up a significant size of the electorate, and secondly, their strong socio-political history helps in influencing opinions during elections. Thirdly, though Brahmins largely remain with BJP, they do not hesitate to switch sides.

The Brahmins can influence 104 assembly seats out of 403 seats. According to the Lokniti-CSDS survey data, more than half of the Brahmin electorate always voted for the BJP till 2004. However, the community's support for the BJP fell below 40 percent in the 2007 assembly elections when Mayawati's BSP won the majority. It stated that way till equations changed in the 2014 Lok Sabha elections when the BJP got almost 72 percent of the Brahmin votes. The trend was repeated in the 2017 assembly and the 2019 Lok Sabha elections when the party got 80 percent and 82 percent of Brahmin votes, respectively. After these three elections, Brahmin votes are to the BJP what Yadav votes are for the SP and Jatav votes are for the BSP.

Birthday bashes and the personality cult of leaders

Narendra Modi is aware of how important image-building is for a politician

Who does not want a birthday bash, particularly politicians? It has been in vogue for many years, particularly among the famous and populist leaders. There are dedicated birthday functions for Jawaharlal Nehru, Mahatma Gandhi, Indira Gandhi, B R Ambedkar, and so on.

It is normal practice for supporters to greet their leaders with flowers and cakes. The bigger the cake they get, the better the leader is pleased with his courtiers. RJD chief Lalu Prasad Yadav celebrates his birthday with secular cakes. On his 55th birthday, the cake was shaped like a church, masjid, and temple. Late Tamil Nadu Chief Minister Jayalalitha once cut a cake in the shape of parliament, revealing her ambition for a national role.

Mayawati uses her birthday for crowdfunding and gets enormous amounts for her party on January 16. Samajwadi Party patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav was presented an 81-kilo "laddoo" when he turned 80 in November 2019. On Narendra Modi's birthday in 2019, a Surat bakery baked a 700-foot-long cake. In Delhi, BJP MPs cut a 370 kg cake to celebrate the revocation of Article 370.

The BJP too has found novel ways of celebrating birthday events. For instance, the silver jubilee function of the party held in Mumbai in 2005 had BJP leader Atal Bihari Vajpayee emerging from a vast lotus built for the occasion at the Shivaji stadium.

The BJP plans to celebrate Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 71st birthday as a mega event. A flurry of events is scheduled from September 17 (his birthday) till October 7 (when he became Gujarat Chief Minister 20 years ago). Last year, there were no grand birthday celebrations when Modi turned 70 because of the pandemic.

In the past, his birthday was marked as "Seva Saptah".

The drive this year has been widened as "Seva our Samarpan Abhiyan" in tribute to his service and dedication. This period will also include the birth anniversaries of Mahatma Gandhi (October 2) and Deen Dayal Upadhyay (September 25).

The campaign will focus on how Modi had handled the aftermath of the Bhuj earthquake and how he managed to create brands such as the Gujarat Model and Vibrant Gujarat. Five crore 'Thank You Modiji' postcards will be mailed directly to him as a token of gratitude. Fourteen ration bags with Modi's picture will be distributed. Videos and documentaries will be shown projecting Modi as the messiah of the poor.

The Covid-19 pandemic is not yet over. Then why these gala functions?

Internationally, Modi has much to be pleased about. Morning Consult, a US research firm has recently given Modi the highest approval rating of 70 per cent among global leaders. He led the chart that tracked 12 other leaders. Japan's Yoshihide Suga was at the bottom.

No doubt the opposition, which is looking for an issue, has criticised this mega programme when people still suffer from Covid-19. They point out that mishandling the pandemic is one of the significant failures of the Modi government, particularly the second wave, which took everyone unawares. The economy is down, and there is massive unemployment, inflation and price rise. So, what is there to rejoice, they ask.

Modi is aware of how important image-building is for a politician. Elections are scheduled in half a dozen states, including UP, early next year. The party's election machinery has already been activated. The birthday celebrations will give a boost to the party cadres and prepare them to face the elections.

Further, they are intended to make Modi a cult figure, through BJP's parent organisation, RSS, is against such culture. Many regional leaders practice personality cults, including Mamata Banerjee, Mayawati, Kejriwal, Lalu Prasad Yadav, and others who have their own fiefdoms.

These little tinpot dictators coexist in a democracy with their personality cults, which is indeed a paradox.

Modi is presently in the mid-term of his second stint. Despite fulfilling most of the RSS-BJP core agenda like revoking Article 370 and building of Ram Mandir at Ayodhya, Covid-19 has unexpectedly ruined the BJP's plans for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. His courtiers argue what is wrong with using the birthday as an occasion to project Modi as pro-poor. They contend that one should not grudge Modi his birthday bashes. After all, it is now clear that Modi is BJP and BJP is Modi and damage to one will damage the other. Birthday bashes are indeed a show of strength.

Donors pledge $1.2 bn for helping Afghans

PTI ■ UNITED NATIONS/GENEVA

The international community has announced over $1.2 billion in aid for the Afghanistan humanitarian crisis, with UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres underlining the importance to engage with the Taliban to ensure continued humanitarian assistance in the country and address other concerns including terrorism, human rights and the nature of the Government.

The United Nations on Monday convened a high-level ministerial event in Geneva on the humanitarian situation in Afghanistan to highlight the acute needs in the country and underscore the urgent funding support and actions required by international partners to support the people of Afghanistan.

UN agencies and non-governmental partners launched a flash appeal seeking $606 million for the remainder of the year to bring vital relief to 11 million people in the war-torn nation.

In his closing remarks to the meeting, Under-Secretary-General for Humanitarian Affairs and Emergency Relief Coordinator Martin Griffiths said more than $1.2 billion in humanitarian and development aid has been announced by “very generous member States” for the Afghanistan humanitarian crisis. This includes funding for the flash appeal as well as for the regional response.

“This conference has fully met my expectations in relation to the solidarity with the people of Afghanistan,” Guterres said at a Press conference.

“Considering the flash appeal, considering the support to neighbouring countries and other programmes that several countries mentioned, today we already heard clearly more than $1 billion of pledges. It is impossible, as I said, to say how much of these will be for the flash appeal; but in any case, it represents a quantum leap in relation to the financial commitment of the international community towards the Afghan people,” he said.

The UN chief emphasised that “it is impossible to provide” humanitarian assistance inside Afghanistan “without engaging with the de facto authorities of the country.”

“It is very important to engage with the Taliban at the present moment for all aspects that concern the international community, be it about terrorism, be it about human rights, be it about drugs, be it about the nature of the Government, our attitude is to engage,” he said.

FM says Taliban Govt won’t allow attacks on others

AP ■ KABUL

The Foreign Minister in Afghanistan’s new Taliban-run Cabinet on Tuesday said the Government remains committed to its promises not to allow militants to use its territory to attack others.

The first Press conference by Amir Khan Muttaqi since the Taliban formed an interim Government a week ago comes as governments around the world — and many Afghans at home — are searching for indications on how it will rule Afghanistan after sweeping out the US-backed Government and taking over Kabul a month ago.

The US and its allies have pushed the Taliban not to repeat its harsh rule of the 1990s, when it monopolised power and imposed its harsh interpretation of Islamic law, including severe restrictions on women and minorities.

Mottaqi gave little sign whether the Taliban will bend to the international pressure. He would not give say how long the interim Government would be in place or whether it would eventually be opened up to other factions, minorities or women.

He repeatedly insisted other countries must not interfere in Afghanistan’s internal issues, including in response to a question on whether elections would eventually be held.

Mottaqi, a longtime Taliban negotiator, did make the first confirmation by a member of the new Government of its commitment to the Taliban deal last year with the United States that opened the way for the American withdrawal from Afghanistan.

China slams upcoming Quad summit

PTI ■ BEIJING

China on Tuesday hit out at the upcoming first-ever Quad summit to be hosted by US President Joe Biden, saying the formation of “exclusive cliques” targeting other countries runs counter to the trend of the times and is “doomed to fail”.

President Biden would host the first in-person Quad summit on September 24 in Washington which will be attended by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Prime Minister Scott Morrison of Australia and Japanese premier Yoshihide Suga.

Asked for his comment on the upcoming Quad summit, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian told a media briefing here that cooperation between the countries should not target third parties.

“It is China’s consistent belief that any regional cooperation mechanism should follow the trend of peace and development, and help promote mutual trust and cooperation among regional countries rather than target a third party or undermine its interests,” Zhao said.

“Forming closed and exclusive ‘cliques’ targeting other countries runs counter to the trend of the times and deviates from the expectation of regional countries. It thus wins no support and is doomed to fail,” he said. China is not only a major engine of economic growth in the Asia-Pacific, but also a staunch defender of regional peace and stability, he said.

“China’s development is a force for world peace and a boon for regional prosperity and development. Relevant countries should discard the outdated zero-sum mentality and narrow-minded geopolitical perception, view China’s development correctly and respect people’s aspiration in the region and do more that is conducive to solidarity and cooperation of regional countries,” he said.

Qatar won’t take responsibility for Kabul airport without clear Taliban agreement

AFP ■ DOHA

Qatar warned Tuesday it would not take responsibility for Kabul airport without “clear” agreements with all involved, including the Taliban, about its operations.

Doha has become a key broker in Afghanistan following last month’s withdrawal of US forces, helping evacuate thousands of foreigners and Afghans, engaging the new Taliban rulers and supporting operations at Kabul airport.

“We need to make sure that everything is addressed very clearly otherwise... we are not able to take any responsibility of the airport (if) all these things are not addressed,” Foreign Minister Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al-Thani said at a press briefing.

“Right now the status is still (under) negotiation.”

Since the US pullout, Qatar Airways planes have made several trips to Kabul, flying in aid and Doha’s representatives and ferrying out foreign passport holders.

The two-decade US intervention in Afghanistan ended with the hurried airlift of more than 120,000 people from Kabul as the Taliban returned to power.

Modi, Biden to address UNGA in person next week

PTI ■ UNITED NATIONS

Prime Minister Narendra Modi and US President Joe Biden will address the UN General Debate in-person next week, as over 100 heads of state and Government arrive in New York to attend the annual high-level General Assembly session, which had gone virtual in 2020 due to the Covid-19.

Modi will address world leaders from the iconic UN General Assembly hall on the morning of September 25, a day after he participates in the Quad Leaders’ Summit in Washington DC hosted by Biden on September 24.

Modi, Biden, Australian Prime Minister Scott Morrison and his Japanese counterpart Yoshihide Suga will participate in the Leaders’ Summit of the Quadrilateral Framework in Washington and “review progress made since their first virtual Summit on 12 March 2021 and discuss regional issues of shared interest,” the Ministry of External Affairs said in a statement.

Modi will address the General Debate of the 76th Session of the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) on September 25. “The theme for this year’s General Debate is ‘Building Resilience through hope to recover from Covid-19, rebuild sustainably, respond to the needs of the planet, respect the rights of people, and revitalise the United Nations,’” the MEA statement said.

As per the second provisional list of speakers for the General Assembly, about 109 heads of state and government will address the General Debate in person.

India voices disappointment over ‘unwarranted remarks’ by UN human rights chief on J&K

PTI ■ UNITED NATIONS/GENEVA

India on Tuesday expressed disappointment over “unwarranted remarks” made by the UN human rights chief on Jammu & Kashmir, saying her comments do not reflect the ground reality and any shortcomings in upholding human rights must be addressed in an impartial manner and anchored in non-interference in a country’s internal affairs.

“We take note of references to India in the oral update by the High Commissioner and express our disappointment over her unwarranted remarks on the Union Territory of Jammu & Kashmir, which do not reflect the ground reality,” Secretary (West) in the Ministry of External Affairs Reenat Sandhu said on Tuesday while delivering India’s statement under the General Debate on Oral Update of the High Commissioner at the 48th

Session of the Human Rights Council. Sandhu said India’s approach to global promotion and protection of human rights is based on “our own experience as a pluralistic and inclusive society and vibrant democracy.”

She said India believes that promotion and protection of human rights are best pursued through dialogue, consultation among States and through provision of technical assistance and capacity building.

“Any shortcomings in upholding human rights must be addressed in a transparent and impartial manner, anchored in respect for national sovereignty and non-interference in internal affairs of States,” she said.

UN high commissioner for human rights Michelle Bachelet on Monday described as “worrying” India’s use of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act as well as “frequent” temporary communication blackouts in J&K.

Japan, America, South Korea urge North Korea to return to arms talks

Senior diplomats from Japan, the United States and South Korea urged North Korea on Tuesday to return to talks over its missile and nuclear development, a day after it announced it successfully tested new long-range cruise missiles, indicating an advancement of its military capabilities.

The three-way meeting in Tokyo was attended by US Special Representative for North Korea Policy Sung Kim, South Korea’s Special Representative for Korean Peninsula Peace and Security Affairs Noh Kyu-duk and Japanese Director-General for Asian and Oceanian Affairs Takehiro Funakoshi.

US Envoy Kim said the three countries were open to diplomacy with North Korea “to make tangible progress that increases the security of the United States and our allies.”

Putin slams presence of foreign troops in Syria

Damascus: Russian President Vladimir Putin criticised the presence of foreign troops in Syria, saying they are there against the will of the Syrian Government and are blocking the consolidation of the war-torn country.

Putin was referring to hundreds of US troops stationed in eastern Syria and working with Kurdish-led fighters in battling the militant Islamic State group, as well as Turkish forces.

Speaking during a meeting with his Syrian counterpart Bashar Assad, he said the presence of the foreigners is illegal because they don't have permission from the United Nations or Syria's Govt. AP

Israel PM in first official trip to Egypt in over a decade

AP ■ CAIRO

The leaders of Egypt and Israel have met as part of the first official trip to Egypt by an Israeli Prime Minister in over a decade, and rising tensions in the Gaza Strip at the top of their agenda.

Gaza is sandwiched between Israel and Egypt, and both countries have enforced a border blockade of the territory to varying degrees since 2007 when the Islamic militant group Hamas took control there.

The meeting between Egyptian President Abdel Fattah el-Sissi and Israeli Prime Minister Naftali Bennett on Monday signalled a warming in a relationship that had security-focused but somewhat cool under Bennett's predecessor, Israeli hard-liner Benjamin Netanyahu.

El-Sissi and Bennett met in the Red Sea resort town of Sharm el-Sheikh, according to an official statement from the Egyptian presidency. Egypt's state television showed both leaders sitting side by side in front of both of national flags, with the Israeli army's chief of staff and Egypt's foreign minister and the head of its intelligence service also in attendance.

It was the first official visit by an Israeli premier since 2010, when then Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak hosted a summit with Netanyahu, Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas and US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton.

UK to roll out Covid booster jabs for over-50s

PTI ■ LONDON

The British Government will be accepting an expert panel's recommendation and begin the rollout of booster vaccine shots across England for over-50s from next week, UK Health Secretary Sajid Javid told Parliament on Tuesday.

Tabling the government's winter strategy to tackle Covid-19, Javid told the House of Commons that the National Health Service (NHS) in England is preparing for the rollout following the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation's (JCVI) recommendation earlier.

Wales has also accepted the JCVI advice, with other devolved regions of the UK —

Scotland and Northern Ireland — also expected to follow.

“I can confirm that I have accepted the JCVI's advice and that the NHS is preparing to offer booster doses from next week,” said Javid.

“There's evidence that the protection offered by Covid-19 vaccines reduces over time, particularly older people who are at greater risk, so booster doses are an important way of keeping the virus under control for the long-term,” he said.

Among the other announcements for the government's winter strategy of “living with the virus” without the need to resort to further full lockdowns, Javid also outlined a “Plan B” of contingency measures, including working from home and face coverings.

Nicholas, now tropical storm, may cause flash floods

Houston: Hurricane Nicholas, now a tropical storm, made landfall along the Texas coast on Tuesday, bringing the threat of up to 20 inches of rainfall to parts of the Gulf Coast, including the same area hit by Hurricane Harvey in 2017 and storm-battered Louisiana. The storm could also cause life-threatening flash floods across the deep south.

Nicholas touched down on the eastern part of the Matagorda Peninsula and is now about 30 miles (50 kilometers) south southwest of Houston, Texas, with maximum winds of 70 mph (110 kph), according to the National Hurricane Center in Miami.

Council's Fri meet to mull fuel under GST

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The GST Council might on Friday consider taxing petrol, diesel and other petroleum products under the single national GST regime, a move that may require huge compromises by both central and state governments on the revenues they collect from taxing these products.

The Council, which comprises central and state finance ministers, in its meeting scheduled in Lucknow on Friday, is also likely to consider extending the time for duty relief on Covid-19 essentials, according to sources in the know of the development.

GST is being thought to be a solution for the problem of near-record high petrol and diesel rates in the country, as it would end the cascading effect of tax on tax (state VAT being levied not just on the cost of production but also on the excise duty charged by the Centre on such output).

In June, the Kerala High Court, based on a writ petition, had asked the GST Council to decide on bringing petrol and diesel within the goods and services tax (GST) ambit. The sources said bringing petrol and diesel within GST would be placed before the Council for discussion in the light of the court asking the Council to do so. When a national GST subsumed central taxes such as excise duty and state levies like VAT on July 1, 2017, five petroleum goods – petrol, diesel, ATF, natural gas and crude oil – were kept out of its purview for the time being. This is because both central and state government finances relied heavily on taxes on these products. Since GST is a consumption-based tax, bringing petroleum products under the regime would have mean states where these products are sold get the revenue and not ones that currently derive the most benefit out of them because of they being the production centre.

WPI inflation rises to 11.39 pc in Aug on costlier mfg goods; food prices soften

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The wholesale price-based inflation rose marginally to 11.39 per cent in August, mainly due to costlier manufactured goods, even as food prices softened.

Snapping the two-month easing trend, WPI inflation rose in August and remained in double-digit for the fifth consecutive month.

In July 2021, WPI inflation was 11.16 per cent, while in August 2020 it was 0.41 per cent. “The high rate of inflation in August 2021 is primarily due to rise in prices of non-food articles, mineral oils; crude petroleum and natural gas; manufactured products like basic metals; food products; textiles; chemicals and chemical products etc as compared the corresponding month of the previous year,” the Commerce and Industry Ministry said in a statement.

Inflation in food articles eased for the fourth straight month, recording (-) 1.29 per cent in August, against zero per cent in July, even as onion and pulses prices spiked.

Inflation in onions was high at 62.78 per cent, while that in pulses was 9.41 per cent. In vegetables it was (-) 13.30 per cent in August.

Inflation in crude petroleum and natural gas was 40.03 per cent in August. In manufactured products, inflation stood at 11.39 per cent in August, against 11.20 per cent in July. The manufactured goods inflation has remained in double digit for the fourth month in a row.

The RBI, which mainly takes into account retail inflation, in its monetary policy last month kept interest rates unchanged at record lows. It projected CPI or retail inflation at 5.7 per cent during 2021-22, up from its earlier projection of 5.1 per cent.

₹ closes flat 73.68 against $ as price rise concerns cap gains

Mumbai:The rupee pared its early gains to close flat at 73.68 against the US currency on Tuesday due to inflationary concerns and a muted trend in domestic equities.

The US dollar regaining strength ahead of the release of US inflation data and high crude oil prices also restricted gains in the rupee, analysts said. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local currency opened higher at 73.62 and touched an intra-day high of 73.57.

India needs $8 trillion new greenfield assets to be $5 trn economy by FY27: Report

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India will need USD 8 trillion (around ₹ 588 lakh crore) of gross capital formation or new greenfield assets to become a USD 5 trillion (around ₹368 lakh crore) economy by FY2027, a report said.

The report by Deloitte said despite the Covid-19 disruption, FDI inflow into the country provides necessary optimism and display underlying strengths of the Indian economy.

In FY2020-21, FDI inflows (including equity, re-invested earnings, and capital) amounted to a record USD 81.72 billion, 10 per cent higher than the previous financial year, it said.

While India remains a favoured foreign direct investment (FDI) destination, the country must enact more reforms to ensure FDI flows not only continue but also play a meaningful role in attaining the USD 5 trillion economy target, the report compiled based on the survey response of 1,200 business leaders of multinational corporations in the US, the UK, Japan and Singapore said.

It found that India remains an attractive destination for investments, scoring highly for its skilled workforce and prospects for economic growth.

It also suggested that the country must continue to enact reforms and initiatives that drive improvement, building confidence in and enhancing the competitiveness of India's economy.

While these inflows were driven primarily by the services sector, a more proportionate contribution to gross capital formation and the increase in exports can be achieved through greater FDI in manufacturing, it said, adding, average FDI from FY15 to FY21 in manufacturing was USD 8.6 billion compared to about USD 25 billion for services.

“Our analysis shows that India will require at least USD 8 trillion of cumulative gross capital formation to grow into a USD 5 trillion economy, assuming we are on the fastest growth track. Based on past trends, our research suggests India needs approximately USD 400 billion of foreign capital cumulatively over the next six years,” it said.

India for early start of FTA review with ASEAN bloc

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India and the 10-member ASEAN bloc should strive to announce the review of the free trade agreement (FTA) between them before the year-end, Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Anupriya Patel suggested on Tuesday.

The issue came up for discussion during the 18th ASEAN-India Economic Ministers Consultations.

The ASEAN-India Trade in Goods Agreement was signed on August 13, 2009. It came into force on January 1, 2010.

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) members are -- Indonesia, Thailand, Singapore, Malaysia, the Philippines, Vietnam, Myanmar, Cambodia, Brunei and Laos.

Patel resolved to complete the scoping process expeditiously to make the agreement trade facilitative, user-friendly with contemporary and streamlined customs and regulatory procedures, the commerce ministry said in a statement.

She stated that the trade arrangement has to be reciprocal, mutually beneficial and should balance the aspirations of all the partners.

Patel emphasised on the need for securing the FTA provisions to prevent misuse of preferential treatment and also highlighted the non-tariff measures faced by Indian exporters in accessing ASEAN market, especially in agriculture and auto sectors.

Markets eke out slim gains; Nifty closes at new high

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Equity indices resumed their climb on Tuesday after a day's pause following gains in IT, bank and engineering stocks amid a muted trend overseas.

The 30-share BSE Sensex ended 69.33 points or 0.12 per cent higher at 58,247.09. The broader NSE Nifty advanced 24.70 points or 0.14 per cent to its fresh closing record of 17,380.

IndusInd Bank topped the Sensex gainers chart with a jump of 4.07 per cent, followed by HCL Tech, Kotak Bank, Bajaj Auto, Tech Mahindra, L&T, Titan and TCS.

In contrast, HDFC, Nestle India, UltraTech Cement, HUL, Tata Steel, Bajaj Finserv and Bajaj Finance were among the prominent laggards, shedding up to 1.07 per cent.

“Despite a bullish opening, domestic indices closed flat with a positive bias amid mixed sentiments among global peers. India's retail inflation softened to 5.3 per cent in August, staying within RBI's comfort zone, which was led by lower food inflation.

“However, the wholesale price inflation accelerated to 11.39 per cent, snapping the two-month easing trend owing to non-food articles. Global markets traded cautiously ahead of the US consumer price index to be released today,” said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Tata Steel commissions India's first plant for CO2 capture from blast furnace gas Jamshedpur:Tata Steel on Tuesday commissioned a 5-tonne per day (TPD) carbon capture plant at its Jamshedpur Works, making it the country's first steel company to adopt such a carbon capture technology that extracts CO2 directly from the blast furnace gas.Tata Steel will reuse the captured CO2 on site to promote circular carbon economy.

This carbon capture and utilisation (CCU) facility uses amine-based technology and makes the captured carbon available for onsite reuse. The depleted CO2 gas is sent back to the gas network with increased calorific value. This project has been executed with technological support from Carbon Clean, a global leader in low-cost CO2 capture technology. The CCU plant was inaugurated by T.V. Narendran, CEO and MD, Tata Steel, in the presence of company officials and other dignitaries. “In alignment with the Tata group's pioneering values, we have taken this strategic step in our journey towards decarbonisation. We will continue our quest to remain an industry leader in sustainability by setting new benchmarks for a better tomorrow,” Narendran said. “The operational experience gathered from this 5 TPD CO2 capture plant will give us the required data and confidence to establish larger carbon capture plants in future. As a next step, we aim to establish scaled up facilities of CO2 capture integrated with utilisation avenues,” he added.

Cement production falls 12 pc in June qtr as lockdowns impact demand: Report

New Delhi:Cement production declined 12 per cent to 82 million tonne in April-June 2021-22 compared to the previous quarter as Covid-induced lockdowns in various states impacted demand, a report by Icra said. However, year-on-year, the output was 54 per cent higher helped by a lower base on account of nationwide lockdown in April 2020, the rating agency said.

“The production in 4M FY2022 (April-July) is lower by 2 per cent compared to pre-COVID levels (4M FY2020),” it said. Though Icra expects total production in the country to go up by 12 per cent in the current fiscal year supported by factors like pent-up demand, rural housing demand and pick-up in infrastructure activity.

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Finance Ministry has permitted 11 states to borrow an additional amount of ₹ 15,721 crore after these states achieved the capital expenditure target set for the June quarter.

These states are Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Haryana, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Nagaland, Rajasthan and Uttarakhand.

“11 states.... Have achieved the target set by the Ministry of Finance for the capital expenditure in the 1st Quarter of 2021-22. As an incentive, these States have been granted permission by the Department of Expenditure to borrow an additional amount of ₹15,721 crore,” the Ministry said in a Accordingly, out of the net borrowing ceiling (NBC) of 4 per cent of GSDP for the states for 2021-22, 0.50 per cent of GSDP was earmarked for incremental capital expenditure to be incurred by the States during 2021-22.

Communication is key

Communication plays a vital role in our lives. Be it within the family, within friends, or in public dealing, the role of the way and manner of communicating is very important. Corporate working is no exception. The emergence of new technologies and the power of digital platforms have made companies realise the significance to maintain the integrity of corporate communication, and allow stakeholders and shareholders to view its existence positively.

Corporate communication can take many forms, depending on the target audience. An organisation's communication strategy usually consists of written text like internal and external reports, announcements, website text, promotional materials, emails, notes, press releases, speeches, conferences, interviews and videos. Corporate communication techniques and management functions are intertwined to bring benefits to the organization and achieve desired goals.

Courses

With increased competition, the companies are much concerned about maintaining an impeccable image. Corporate image conveys everything about a company through visual communication, product advertising etc. and also strongly influences the company's identity. Graphic Design is an emerging creative career in India with ample of job and growth opportunities where one creates and designs visual concepts for the company.

A big number of colleges offer these courses. Besides, a degree in journalism & mass communication can help one get an easier access into this sector. The Indian Institute of Management has an Executive Program in Communication strategies for corporate leaders. Many private institutions provide short term courses for public relations managers, business and workplace communication, writing skills etc. Students may choose to specialize in various fields like advertising, public relations, internal communications, investor relations, crisis management, brand management and event management.

Scope and job prospects

For fresh grads in corporate communication, scope is not restricted to a specific industry. If communication is your strength and you have an ability to understand the intricacies then a career awaits. There are good job opportunities for budding individuals like business spokespersons, marketing specialists, technical copywriters, public speaking trainers, publicity managers, campaign directors, social media handlers, HR, Digital Marketing Specialists, Event Managers, or media planners.

One can work as communication specialist in private companies, Public Administration, Non-Profit Organisations, Government & Corporate Affairs, MNCs, or Ministry (MIB).

Essential skills requisite

✦ Corporate Communications is rapidly gaining ground. To proclaim information, both internally and externally, or to market their products and services companies require expert professionals who have effective communication skills.

✦ A Company's reputation is intangible but it is a powerful asset that attracts sizable talent, builds consumer loyalty, allows businesses to influence stakeholders belief and positively impact premium customers. One needs to have an Inherent Interest in Current Affairs and Trending Stories.

✦ The Pandemic has changed the world. Old ideas, pitch and approaches to the business world just won't cut in.

Multitaskers can have a bright scope in this sector.

✦ One should have good interpersonal skills, have passion for public speaking, have leadership quality and ability to motivate colleagues and others, has an in-depth understanding of social media, possesses analytical skills and has an ability to successfully organize events, then one is already on course for a career in corporate communications.

Pandemic affect

The ongoing pandemic has been a rare and perhaps most uncertain period for corporate communication. Besides the forced lockdowns and subsequent global slowdowns, the executives face information disorders. The companies realized the importance of a crisis-response team in an emergency situation, which needs to monitor the situation constantly, be transparent and regularly update the communication chain. Particularly the need to timely inform the employees about the prevailing situation and the policy changes. Importantly they need to be motivated to get over the anxiety of uncertainty. Communication with customers should focus on empathy rather than trying to sell them products or services. Companies need to rethink advertising and promotion strategies to be more in line with the current times. The communication needs to be transparent with shareholders and stakeholders. When dealing with uncertainty one needs to keep honest communication going without having the fear of doing something wrong. As Charles Darwin has said, "It is not the strongest of the species that survive, nor the most intelligent, but the one most responsive to change."

Curbing tech giants monopoly

The monopoly war has become prevalent in tech companies. PRABHAT SINHA shares how the Government is curbing the monopoly of these companies

During the ongoing COVID 19 pandemic, big IT companies like Google, Amazon, Apple, Facebook, and Microsoft have accelerated their activities of business expansion and gaining a monopoly. As a result, governments in several major countries, including the US and India have started amending old laws and enacting new laws to curb the monopoly of these companies.

The monopoly war has become very prevalent in tech companies. Google, funded Apple and other mobile manufacturing companies, carriers, and browsers to put its search engines and other apps as the default apps. This led to fewer consumers of other search engines and a drastic surge of Google's search engine subscribers. There are also allegations that Google and Apple have teamed up to outplay competition like Nokia and BlackBerry. Most apps are now downloaded from Google's Play Store or Apple's App Store, for which Google and Apple charge up to 30 percent commission from App Manufacturers.

Leading E-commerce companies like Amazon & Flipkart continue to have a different game of monopoly in India. These companies are controlling their operations and product prices by promoting selected vendors on their platforms. The Delhi Vyapar Mahasangh, an organization of retailers, had filed a complaint to the Competition Commission of India (CCI) accusing Amazon and Flipkart of trying to end competition by using wrong means. After which the CCI had directed the Director-General for Preliminary Inquiry of the allegations. Amazon and Flipkart also approached the Karnataka High Court and the Supreme Court to avoid these investigations but could not find any relief. Microsoft is known for ruining its competitors since the success of Windows as an operating system. A successful browser named Netscape was made incompatible and Internet Explorer was promoted to swipe the business.

Similarly, whether it is search engine business or cloud computing, or social media, Microsoft never shied away from using unethical tactics to derail competitors in every business line they are into. As a result, Microsoft has already been prosecuted for antitrust in 2001 as well.

Major cases of antitrust have taken place in the past and hard steps have also been taken. In 1911, John D. Rockefeller's company Standard Oil was split into 34 parts for an antitrust violation. Realizing the urgency of the occasion, the US Congress passed five new antitrust bills in June 2021 - the American Innovation and Choice Act, The Platform Competition and Opportunity Act, The Ending Platform Monopoly Act, the Access act, The Merger Filing Fee Modernization Act. The European Union has proposed two bills to control anti-competition and illegal content in December 2020 itself.

In India, MRTP Act 1969 - Monopolistic and Restrictive Trade Practice Act was already in practice since 1969. However the rule was too old to control the antitrust after the 90s globalization, so the Competition Act was passed in 2002 under which the Competition Commission of India was constituted in 2009. New IT law - Intermediary guidelines and digital media ethics code 2021 and amendment into Consumer protection (e-commerce) Act 2020 are the few major steps to curb the tech giants and protect the interest of consumers.

AI platform to find vaccine targets

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Amity University and Baylor College of Medicine (BCM-Houston, US) researchers have developed a powerful Artificial Intelligence (AI) platform to find clinically important vaccine targets and epitopes that could transform vaccine discovery process for deadly infectious diseases like COVID-19 and Chagas disease.

The results of this study have been published in UK based journal Scientific Reports, and PubMed, titled Identification of Vaccine Targets in Pathogens and Design of a Vaccine Using Computational Approaches by Dr Kamal Rawal, scientist, Associate Professor and Project Director, Amity Institute of Biotechnology, Amity University.

Dr Peter Hotez, (Dean, National School of Tropical Medicine, Baylor College of Medicine), Dr Maria Elena

Bottazzi (Co-Dean, National School of Tropical Medicine, BCM) and Dr Ulrich Strych (Associate Professor, BCM) are senior co-authors.

According to Dr Rawal, "The key innovation is using artificial intelligence to combine several hundred parameters to mine several thousand proteins and genes to reach to the right targets and design vaccine using these proteins."

Researchers tested this platform on several known experimental vaccine targets including those that are already available in the market.

The team have long standing interest in neglected diseases of poverty so they opted to analyse the whole genome and proteome. These are a set of all protein sequences in a cell of an important pathogen which is popularly known as Trypanosoma cruzi or as (T. cruzi).

BE A FORENSIC EXPERT

The study of forensic science is used everywhere around the world to enforce criminal laws and regulations. A career in this field can be lucrative, says DR RANA SINGH

The work of the forensic experts captivated us. Many people are drawn towards human anatomy and study of forensic science. The study of forensic science also known as criminalistics is used everywhere around the world to enforce criminal laws and regulations to protect public health and to resolve civil disputes. India has 37 States and seven central forensic science labs, 29 fingerprint bureaus, several regional forensic science labs and district mobile forensic units. We also have an advanced Centre for DNA Fingerprinting and Diagnostics and the Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology and Central Forensic Science Laboratory which facilitates DNA profiling. The country also has private sectors at several places providing opportunities in this field. Even with so many opportunities in the field of criminalistics in India, there are only 0.33 forensic scientists per 0.1 million population. The need for forensic scientists is immense. Here are the opportunities in this field. Crime Scene Investigator: Students wanting to have a career in this field should at least have a bachelor's degree, mostly a master's degree is preferable. One should have a degree in the field of science and criminal justice. The role of a Crime Scene Investigator (CSI) is to conduct analysis, help in investigating crime scenes, work with body parts and many more. Forensic Ballistics Expert: A ballistic expert is basically a firearm examiner who is trained in criminal justice. The duty of a ballistic expert is to collect and analyse evidence on live ammunition, bullet fragments, firearms and other tools associated with it. Another work of a ballistic expert is finding out the point of origin of fire rounds, examining if a gun was fired recently, identifying the type of bullet and more. Students wanting to pursue a career in this field should hold a bachelor degree in forensic science and have knowledge in Maths, Physics and

Students wanting to pursue a career as a polygraph examiner should have a degree in psychology, law enforcement or criminal justice. The work includes conducting lie detector examinations and working with investigators

Chemistry. A background in human anatomy and biology is compulsory. Forensic DNA Analyst: A DNA analyst plays a vital role in the field of Forensic Science. The work of the DNA analyst is to examine the samples of victims, suspects, and various people as it helps in identifying whether the given person was present at the crime scene or not; DNA results are more accurate than fingerprint testing. A career in this field should be taken by students who are passionate and determined. Students should have at least a four-year degree having educational qualification in one of the streams. The fields that one can gain qualification in order to become a DNA analyst is biology, criminalistics, biochemistry, genetics and chemistry. Lie Detector Examiner: Students wanting to pursue a career as a polygraph examiner should have a degree in psychology, law enforcement or criminal justice. The work of a lie detector examiner includes conducting lie detector examinations, working with investigators, testifying in court and many more. Digital Forensic Expert: To become a digital forensics expert, students should have a bachelor's degree in one of these courses like computer engineering, applied mathematics, cybersecurity information technology, and many others. To have a superior position in this field a master's degree is required. Due to an increase in cases in cybercrimes, there is a great demand for digital forensics experts. The work of digital forensics includes analysing information in investigations and solving crimes related to computers. As the career scope of criminalistics is vast, the students can get employed in hospitals, institutes, forensic labs, pharmaceutical MNC's and Government and private agencies. There are endless opportunities for those who wish to have their forensic practice and forensic service office. The writer is VC, Sanskriti University

July 24, 2021 was an incredible day for India at the Tokyo Olympics. She celebrated hoer first medal as Mirabhai Chalu bagged silver in weightlifting. Around 5,000 years back, a distressed Arjun in the middle of the Kurukshetra battlefield, unable to bear his thoughts, driven by grief, decided not to fight even if he was attacked by the enemy. He was terrified thinking about the outcome of the war by fighting his own kith and kin. He expressed his internal dilemma and mental distress and collapsed in the middle of the battlefield. He then surrendered to his friend Krishna for guidance. Bhagavan Krishna then became his Guru as Arjun awakened to discipleship. Thus followed the wisdom of Bhagavadgita. Bhagavan Krishna told Arjun that it is the fundamental duty of a human being to perform his duties. It is also important that those duties be performed with the right attitude, following Dharma. Krishna reminded Arjun that as a warrior, it was his duty and nature to fight the war. Bhagavan Krishna also explained the nature of action (karma) to be performed and the approach to the result. The right attitude while performing duties is when we do it sincerely with maximum effort, without pondering over the result. Tokyo Olympics this year has seen the emotional breakdown of many of its biggest star athletes. It was the fear of failure at the game that brought internal turmoil to the participants. Many athletes withdrew at the last minute, overwhelmed by stress. When the time to perform came, they lost self-confidence and lacked courage. Let us look at an example from Mahabharat. Abhimanyu is one of the key personalities known for his competence, fearlessness and wisdom. He knew his death was certain the moment he set out to penetrate the chakravyuh. But his confidence, courage and commitment were so strong that he was not ready to give up. What was his motivation? To fight for what is right, irrespective of whether he had the might to do it alone. We may come across many situations in our life that are beyond our control. In such circumstances, we often create a chakravyuh in our own minds, with negative thoughts and tendencies. Many times, it is our response to these situations that makes the problem worse.

Instead of overthinking, we can always try to plan and control our response to these adverse situations. We should remember that we have the option of fighting like Abhimanyu without losing our inner strength rather than running away from the circumstances. We should face every challenge with confidence rather than fear, like the brave Abhimanyu. The real Kurukshetra war does not happen externally, it happens internally, in our minds. We must realise this and change our attitude towards the situations we face, instead of trying to change the external factors that contribute to it. Satguru Mata Amritanandamayi Devi, (Ammam) says: "The Gita is not teaching us to worship a God who resides up in the sky on a golden throne, nor to strive to get into heaven after we die. It teaches us to experience peace and happiness. The Gita helps us to realise our true self." The Olympic creed says: The most important thing in the Olympic Games is not to win but to take part. The essential thing is not to have conquered but to have fought well. This is an important life lesson for us all. Sometimes we stumble, and get wounded, heartbroken or scared as well. Only if we win over our inner conflicts and challenges, can we bag a gold medal in the Olympics of life.

Malinga retires from all forms of cricket

PTI ■ COLOMBO

Sri Lanka pace veteran Lasith Malinga on Tuesday announced his retirement from all forms of cricket after terrorising the world's best batsmen for over a decade and a half with his toe-crushing yorkers delivered from a low and distinct sling-arm action.

A white ball legend in his own right and one of the greatest T20 bowlers, the 38-year-old was captain of Sri Lanka's 2014 T20 World Cup winning team. He posted a message on his social media account announcing his decision.

"Hanging up my T20 shoes and retiring from all forms of cricket!"

Thankful to all those who supported me in my journey, and looking forward to sharing my experience with young cricketers in the years to come," Malinga tweeted.

"I want to give 100 per cent rest to my T20 bowling shoes. While my shoes will rest, my love for the game will never ask for rest," a smiling Malinga added in the video.

Malinga last played a T20I match for Sri Lanka in March 2020 against West Indies in Pallekele.

Malinga, who took a total of 546 wickets across all formats for Sri Lanka, had already retired from Test cricket in 2011 and after that from ODIs as well but continued to play T20Is for the national side.

He wasn't named in Sri Lanka's squad for upcoming World Cup.

Last year, he had expressed his desire to lead Sri Lanka in the T20 World Cup, which was originally scheduled to be held in Australia in October-November 2020 but will be held next month after a COVID-forced postponement.

"I am looking forward to help youngsters and guide them in the coming years," he said as he thanked his national team and all the franchises that he has played for, including IPL team Mumbai Indians.

Malinga, who has played a staggering 122 IPL matches, has 170 wickets to his credit, the highest in the cash-rich league, with the best bowling figures of 5/13.

He picked up 107 wickets in 84 T20 Internationals, 338 scalps in 226 ODIs and 101 wickets in 30 Tests.

He was the first bowler to bag 100 T20I wickets and finishes fourth in the highest wicket-taker category in the list behind Dwayne Bravo, Imran Tahir and Sunil Narine.

The Sri Lanka pacer had also announced his retirement from franchise cricket in January this year after being released by Mumbai Indians.

Malinga, one of the best T20 bowlers of all time, was a key figure in the teams he played for in the Indian Premier League, the Big Bash League, the Caribbean Premier League and other franchise tournaments.

During his 12-year stint at Mumbai Indians, he was part of MI's four of the five IPL title triumphs but had opted out of the 2020 tournament due to personal reasons at a time when his father was not keeping well.

"The experience that I have gained through the past 17 years will no longer be needed in the field since I have decided to retire from T20I cricket marking my retirement from all formats of cricket," said Malinga in a video on his YouTube channel.

He added, "But I will be continuously supporting the younger generations who strive to uplift the spirit of the game and I will always be there with all who love the game."

A fearsome pacer known for his menacing yorkers, the leading wicket-taker in T20I also has two T20I hat-tricks to his name.

Malinga also picked up three hat-tricks in ODI cricket, with his performance against South Africa in the 2007 World Cup in West Indies etched in history.

"Today is a very special day for me," he said.

"I want to thank each and everyone who supported me throughout my T20 journey. I want to thank the Sri Lankan cricket board and team members. And Mumbai Indians cricket team, especially the team owners and officials."

"I would also like to thank the team members and staff at Melbourne Stars, Kent, Rangpur Riders, Kayana Warriors, Maratha Arabians and Montero Tigers. When I played with you all, I got many experiences through my cricketing journey."

Ulsan - Kawasaki rivalry headlines Asian Champions League

AP ■ SEOUL

Japan and South Korea may have wobbled in World Cup qualification earlier this month but their clubs are dominant in Asian competition. Between them, the two two countries have won 10 of the last 15 Asian Champions League titles and also provide seven teams in the Round of 16 of the 2021 tournament.

The eastern zone of the competition starts the knockout stage Tuesday with a clash between two of the title favorites: defending champion Ulsan Horang-i and Japanese champion Kawasaki Frontale.

"I came to Ulsan because I want to win titles," Ulsan midfielder Valeri Qazaishvili told the Asian Football Confederation's website.

"I've heard a lot about Kawasaki and I know they're a very good team who play good football," Qazaishvili said.

"It's a huge advantage for us to have this match at home in Korea with our fans behind us; to play at home is always special."

Both teams are top of their domestic leagues. When the Asian Champions League group stage finished in May, Kawasaki was way out in front at the top of the J League but one win from the last five games has left the club just one point clear and out of the Levain Cup.

"We really wanted to win in the cup game and progress to the next stage so it is a painful feeling," coach Toru Oniki said.

"We have no time to think about that as we have to look forward to a tough game in Ulsan against the champion Ulsan and that gives us a chance to put the cup exit behind us."

The other two meetings between clubs from Japan and South Korea feature Nagoya Grampus hosting Daegu FC and Pohang Steelers, three-time Asian champion, traveling to Cerezo Osaka. Korea's Jeonbuk will host BG Pathum United of Thailand.

In the western zone, Tractor of Iran asked the Asian Football Confederation for its game with Al-Nassr of Riyadh to be postponed.

The team is struggling to put together the required 18-man roster as it has been hit by injuries and an outbreak of COVID-19.

Covid situation had us petrified: McCullum

PTI ■ DUBAI

Kolkata Knight Riders head coach Brendon McCullum says they were "paralysed a little bit by fear" when coronavirus struck the first half of the IPL in India.

It was KKR spinner Varun Chakravarthy and seamer Sandeep Warrier, who first tested positive for COVID-19 in May in the middle of the League, which was eventually postponed. The Purple and Gold brigade led by England white-ball skipper Eoin Morgan had an underwhelming first half. They are languishing at the seventh spot but McCullum is hopeful for a strong showing when action resumes from September 19 in the UAE.

"In regards to the tournament which is upcoming (second half of the IPL phase), we can end it right. We can take the game on and we're in a situation where we need things to go our way," McCullum was quoted as saying by the KKR website.

E-bidding for new IPL teams planned on October 17

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The BCCI is planning to have an e-bidding for the two new IPL teams on October 17 and the bids to buy the sides can be made till October 5. "The Board is planning to have the bidding on 17th October and it will be an e-bidding," sources in the know of things told PTI on Tuesday. The BCCI had on August 31 invited bids to own an IPL franchise with "Invitation to Tender" available for purchase till October 5.

"The Governing Council of the IPL invites bids to acquire the right to own and operate 1

(one) of the 2 (two) new teams proposed to be introduced to take part in the Indian Premier League from the IPL 2022 season, through a tender process," the BCCI had said in a statement.

"Any interested party wishing to submit a bid is required to purchase the ITT."

"However, only those satisfying the eligibility criteria set out in the ITT and subject to the other terms and conditions set out therein, shall be eligible to bid. It is clarified that merely purchasing this ITT does not entitle any person to bid," the cricket body had said.

"We need to hit the ground running, challenge one another privately, support one another publicly and try and get the best out of one another in the next 4-5 weeks. Who knows where we can go with this."

"There were sometimes throughout the season when I just felt we were being paralysed a little bit by fear," he added.

The virus had wreaked havoc in India at that time, claiming thousands of lives.

The 39-year-old former New Zealand skipper, who started his IPL journey as a player with KKR, is hopeful the team will be able to get rid of the angst that had been built in the first phase of the league.

"I wasn't able to free the guys up enough to understand that and that's sort of a challenge for me. But it is also a good challenge for the guys as well that they need to push the envelope of their own thinking as well."

"Hopefully we will be able to strip away a bit of the angst which had built up in the first part of the season, just go out there and try and enjoy ourselves."

"That's the ambition that I have got for the franchise and hence why I am unapologetic and unrelenting in my belief that we need to play a braver style of play," he said. Talking about his coaching style, McCullum said, "When we left India (after IPL was called off due to Covid), I think everyone understood me as a coach on how I want our team to play."

Indian women's team has improved since T20 WC defeat: Mandhana

PTI ■ BRISBANE

Indian women's cricket team opener Smriti Mandhana says her side has improved "massively" since the World T20 final defeat to Australia last year and will be "extra competitive" during the upcoming series here which also features its first day-night Test outing.

India and Australia are set to lock horns in a multi-format series comprising three ODIs, the day-night Test and three T20s, starting on September 21. The Test will be played from September 30 to October 3 in Canberra.

The last time the two sides met was at the women's T20 World Cup final at the MCG last year where the hosts had hammered India by 85 runs to lift the trophy.

"The team has grown massively (since the T20 World Cup)," Mandhana told 'The Scoop' podcast.

The Indian squad finished its 14-day hard hotel quarantine on Monday.

"COVID was a big break after the T20 World Cup and a lot of girls had a chance to go back and understand more about their games, where they lack as an individual and come back stronger."

The stylish southpaw said that after the COVID-19 enforced break, the Indian team is slowly getting back into the rhythm of playing cricket.

"The whole team has worked on their fitness and skills...We are

Pele recovering, set to leave intensive care: Daughter

IANIS ■ RIO DE JANEIRO

The eldest daughter of Brazilian football legend Pele has said that her father is expected to move out of intensive care this week as he recovers from surgery to remove a tumour from his colon. The 80-year-old underwent the procedure at Sao Paulo's Albert Einstein hospital on September 4 after the tumour was found during routine tests. "He is doing well post-surgery, he is not in pain and is in a good mood (annoyed that he can only eat jello but will persevere!). He will move into a regular room in the next day or two and then go home," Kely said in a post on Tuesday morning (IST). Kely said the three-time World Cup winner has been buoyed by the support of fans from around the world and praised the work of doctors. "He is strong and stubborn and with the support and care of the brilliant team at Einstein and all of the love, energy and light that the world is sending, he will get through this," she added.

Lee takes joint first position with Mithali

PTI ■ DUBAI

India skipper Mithali Raj was on Tuesday joined at the top by South Africa opener Lizelle Lee, whose unbeaten 91 in the opening match against the West Indies helped her take joint-first position in the latest ICC women's ODI rankings.

While Mithali, who retains her number one spot, is now tied in first place with Lee at 762 rating points, with Australia's Alyssa Healy in third place, India opener Smriti Mandhana also held on to her ninth spot.

Lee, who first seized the top position in June 2018 and again reached the summit in March this year, scored 18 runs in the second match, which also counted towards this week's rankings update.

Veteran Indian pacer Jhulan Goswami and senior spinner Poonam Yadav remained static on fifth and ninth respectively among bowlers, while Deepti Sharma maintained her fifth spot in the all-rounders' list.

still getting into a rhythm of playing matches continuously but the last five, six months we have been playing cricket and now we are getting back into the match

Indian teen star Shafali Verma held on to her top rank in the T20 rankings with 759 points, ahead of Australian Beth Mooney (744) and India T20 vice-captain Mandhana (716).

There was no movement for Sharma (sixth) and Yadav (eighth) in the T20 bowling rankings with the former also retaining her fourth spot in the all-rounders' list.

In T20 rankings for bowlers, England's Sarah Glenn has moved up a slot to second position while New Zealand off-spinner Leigh Kasperuk (up seven places to 15th) and all-rounder Jess Kerr (up eight places to 58th) have also moved up the table.

Olympic bronze medal is just the beginning: Shamsher

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Forward Shamsher Singh on Monday said winning the Olympic bronze medal was just ticking off one box in the new beginning for the Indian men's hockey team, which aspires to be the world number one side.

The men's hockey team produced an inspiring performance at the Tokyo Games, where it edged out Germany 5-4 to claim a bronze medal, the country's first in the sport in 41 years.

"We still have a lot of targets to achieve as a team. We have ticked off the target of winning an Olympic medal but we have been striving to be the best side in the world in the last few years," Shamsher was quoted as saying in a Hockey India release.

"We are going to give everything we have in every match we play in the future, especially in big tournaments such as the FIH Hockey Pro League. We are confident that if we keep improving match by match, then one day we will surely be the world number 1 team," he added.

Shamsher said the Tokyo Olympics will always hold a special place "in my heart."

"I am so lucky to be part of an Olympic bronze medal-winning team at such an early stage of my career. I also know that this is just the beginning for us as a team."

"We have the belief that we can do even better in the future and we are going to work towards our goals in the upcoming years."

Yuriy Sedykh, hammer throw world record holder, dies at 66

AP ■ MOSCOW

Yuriy Sedykh, a two-time Olympic champion in the hammer throw whose world record from 1986 still stands, has died. He was 66.

The Russian track and field federation said Sedykh died early Tuesday following a heart attack. "Deeply mourn the loss of Yuriy Sedykh," World Athletics senior vice president and pole vault great Sergei Bubka wrote on Twitter. "For me, Yuriy was a friend, a wise mentor." Sedykh won gold at the 1976 and 1980 Olympics, but missed the 1984 Los Angeles Games because of a Soviet boycott. He returned to win a silver medal at the 1988 Seoul Olympics and won a world title in 1991.

Sedykh threw a world record 86.74 meters at the European Championships in Stuttgart, Germany, a mark which still stands. At this year's Tokyo Olympics, all 12 finalists in the men's hammer were born after Sedykh set the record.

Sedykh made his huge throw at a time when track and field was starting to realize the scale of performance-enhancing drug use.

Former Moscow anti-doping laboratory director Grigory Rodchenkov wrote in a book last year that Sedykh was "a huge steroid abuser" who benefited from a Soviet cover-up. Rodchenkov said one of Sedykh's samples contained such large traces of the steroid stanozolol that it contaminated laboratory equipment.

Sedykh denied doping. In a 2015 interview with Russian newspaper Sport Express, Sedykh said athletes' big throws in the 1980s were because of better coaching and the Soviet Union's intensive talent scouting program.

After retiring, Sedykh worked in France as a physical education teacher. He was married to another Soviet world record holder, shot putter Natalya Lisovskaya. Their daughter Alexia won hammer gold for France at the 2010 Youth Olympics.

South Africa interested in hosting FIFA's Club World Cup

AP ■ CAPE TOWN

South Africa is interested in hosting FIFA's Club World Cup in December after Japan withdrew because of COVID-19, South African Football Association president Danny Jordaan.

Jordaan told The Associated Press he would meet with FIFA secretary general Fatma Samoura in Lagos, Nigeria this week to get more details on what kind of bid South Africa must present to the world body to host the seven-team men's tournament. The Club World Cup will feature European champion Chelsea and the other five continental club competition winners. The league champion from the host country also gets a place.

Japan withdrew last week amid fears the tournament would cause a rise in infections in a country that has just staged the Summer Olympics and Paralympics.

FIFA has yet to comment on the alternative host, with Saudi Arabia also keen to step in. An extended 24-team Club World Cup was due to debut this year in China but it was shelved because the pandemic required the rescheduling of national team competitions in June and FIFA was unable to raise the necessary funding for the planned quadrennial event. So the seven-team format was extended for another year.

The South African Football Association must get government approval to hold the tournament and meetings with the sports minister were also planned, Jordaan said.
