ECONOMY REMAINS A WOYIRY

Sir — With India now in its 75th year of independence, the body that serves a critical function — the Union budget — has been in the headlines for the past few weeks. The financial year 2022-23 has been a challenging one for the country, with inflation and unemployment rates high. India’s GDP growth rate has declined from 7.8% in 2018-19 to 6.8% in 2019-20, and then further to 6.1% in 2020-21.

At the same time, the country has been grappling with the pandemic, which has had a significant impact on the economy. The lockdowns and restrictions imposed to curb the spread of the virus have hit the industry and services sectors. Despite the gradual放松 of lockdowns, the economy has struggled to recover.

The government’s efforts to boost the economy have been lauded, but there is a need to focus on long-term strategies to ensure sustainable growth. The focus on infrastructure development, digital economy, and renewable energy can help in creating jobs and boosting economic growth.

In conclusion, India’s economy remains a work in progress, and the government needs to continue its efforts to stabilize the economy and create job opportunities. The people of India are hopeful that the government will continue to work towards a better future for all.

Yours sincerely,

Russian shelling across the border and cross-border attacks on civilian targets, authorities said, coming at a time when fighting is at its fiercest in Ukraine's Luhansk and Donetsk regions, which Moscow-backed separatists control.

According to Russia's defense ministry, Ukrainian state security service and Ukrainian media reports, which cannot be independently verified, Russia has been shelling residential areas of cities close to the border.

However, on Monday, Russian President Vladimir Putin said Russia is ready to continue negotiations with Ukraine, but that Ukraine should first withdraw its troops from the border regions.

The Ukrainian government has accused Russia of threatening to invade its soil, while the United Nations has called for a ceasefire.

In Kyiv, Ukraine's military forces have been stepping up their defense preparations as tensions escalate.

Ukrainian officials have also announced plans for a vote to join the European Union, a move that would further strain relations with Russia.

In the meantime, the situation on the ground remains tense, with reports of shelling and artillery strikes continuing to be heard.

As the situation unfolds, the world watches anxiously for signs of a potential de-escalation or a return to a period of relative calm.

However, the Ukrainian authorities have expressed concerns about the safety of the population, and have urged international support for their efforts to defend their country.

Lviv was later down a Soviet-era monument on Tuesday, at the end of the Red Army's victory over Nazi Germany, amid ongoing war tensions.

The monument was pulled down after a crowd of protesters took to the streets, marking the 81st anniversary of the victory.

The monument, built in 1937, was one of the few survivors of a network of such monuments in Ukraine, which were often destroyed or defaced during the Soviet era.

According to the organizers, the monument was taken down to highlight the importance of remembering the victims of the war and to honor those who fought for freedom.

On Monday, the Ukrainian government announced plans to remove all monuments to the Soviet Union from the country.

Elsewhere, Russian forces have continued to advance in eastern Ukraine, with reports of shelling and clashes between Ukrainian and Russian forces.

The situation has led to an increase in tensions between the two countries, with the potential for a full-scale conflict still hanging over the region.

As the crisis deepens, the international community is calling for a peaceful resolution and for all sides to refrain from resorting to violence.

Sales of luxury homes in Jan-Jun across 7 cities surpass demand in full 2021

Sales of luxury homes, priced above Rs 80 lakhs per square feet, in seven cities across the country during January-June this year witnessed a decline of 41.5 per cent compared to the corresponding period of 2021, as per Anarock data.

The seven cities are Mumbai, Kolkata,Ahmedabad,Hyderabad,Chennai,Coimbatore and Pune.

A total of 4,179 units were sold in these seven cities during January-June this year, compared with 7,036 units sold in the same period last year.

The decline has been sharp for luxury sales in cities like Mumbai, which saw 2,00,000 units sold in the Jan-Jun period this year as against 3,22,000 units sold in the same period last year.

The share of luxury homes in the overall housing market in these seven cities during January-June 2022 fell to 4.5 per cent from 6.6 per cent in the same period last year.

According to Raghav Bhat, senior director at Anarock, who is holding the charge of general secretary at the Indian Property Managers Alliance, the pandemic has triggered a rethinking of urban living, with a greater emphasis on open spaces and natural environments.

"Current micro-markets are witnessing a shift towards more green, open and communal spaces as the key factor influencing decision-making," Bhat said.

The group – led by Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) – is carrying out a study in the districts of East Godavari and Nalgonda in the state of Andhra Pradesh under the National Land Use Planning (NLUP) program. The study aims at the crop diversification of the region, which is a major beneficiary of the National Mission on Edible Oil Seeds and Oils (NMEOSO).

Robert, Assistant Director General - NMEOSO, said the field trial has yielded positive results.

"The oil palm cultivation will not only help in increasing the edible oil production, but also helps in environment-friendly cultivation of oil palm," he said.

The collaboration will bring new opportunities for Telangana's agricultural sector, which is already a leading diversified agribusiness company in India.

"India is a net importer of palm oil. The oil palm cultivation will not only help in increasing the edible oil production, but also helps in environment-friendly cultivation of oil palm," he said.

LIC Housing Finance

Fin hiker reduces lending rates by 0.50 per cent

LIC Housing Finance Limited (LIC HFL) on Monday announced that it has reduced its lending rates by 0.50 per cent, following the RBI's latest policy announcement.

With this move, the housing finance company becomes the first lender to cut its lending rates in the current financial year, following the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) monetary policy announcement on June 8.

"Following the latest policy announcement by Reserve Bank of India (RBI), LIC Housing Finance Limited (LIC HFL) has decided to pass on the benefit of lower interest rates to its customers," the company said in a statement.

With the latest rate cut, LIC HFL's prime lending rate (PLR), which stands at 8.25 per cent, will reduce by 0.50 per cent to 7.75 per cent effective from today. The company said this move is in line with its commitment to provide flexible and competitive solutions to meet the housing needs of its customers.

The lender also repeated its commitment to continue to pass on the benefit of lower interest rates as and when the RBI sets the new interest rates on home loans.

"LIC Housing Finance has always remained committed to provide affordable housing solutions to its customers and has been consistently passing on the benefit of RBI's lower interest rates," the statement said.

The move comes against the backdrop of growing demand for affordable housing in India, with the government's National Mission on Affordable Housing (NMAH) and the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) schemes aimed at providing homes to low-income groups.

"This move is in line with our commitment to provide flexible and competitive solutions to meet the housing needs of our customers," the statement said.

The decision to cut its lending rates is in line with the government's efforts to make housing more affordable and accessible to the masses, it said.

LIC HFL's move is expected to provide relief to homebuyers, who have been facing higher interest rates in recent months. The company's decision to pass on the benefit of lower interest rates will help reduce the burden on homebuyers and make home ownership more affordable.

The lender has a significant presence in the affordable housing sector and has been actively participating in the government's initiatives to promote housing. It is one of the leading housing finance companies in India and has been consistently providing affordable housing solutions to its customers.
