Job, price rise, LAC to heat up Winter Session

EWS quota, women reservation Bill, collegium system also in Opp basket

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Ahead of the Winter Session of Parliament beginning Wednesday, the Opposition parties on Tuesday demanded discussion on a slew of key issues, including unemployment, price rise, quota for the EWS sections, and situation at the Sino-India border in the all-party meeting called by the Central Government. The issues are set to be raised by the Opposition during the Winter Session.

In the meeting, the Biju Janata Dal (BJD) pitched for the passage of the long-pending women's reservation Bill in the Winter Session. The one-third reservation for women in the Lok Sabha and State legislatures was also raised by the TMC, the JD(U) and the SAD parties in the Business Advisory Committee meeting called by Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla.

The session would proceed amid the key poll outcomes of Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD), Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh Assembly polls.

dicted a big majority for the BJP in Gujarat and a dead heat in Himachal Pradesh where most pollsters gave an edge to the ruling party over the Congress. The session which had to be delayed by a month due to the Gujarat election schedule would witness the Government introducing 16 Bills during 17 sittings of the session.

Leaders from more than 30 parties attended the all-party meeting to discuss the legislative agenda and the issues likely that would be taken up during the Winter Session of Parliament.

The meeting was chaired by Union Minister and Deputy leader of the BJP in the Lok Sabha Rajnath Singh. Leader of the House in the Rajya Sabha Piyush Goyal and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi were also present.

Talking to reporters after the meeting, Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said, "There are so many issues before the country, such as unemployment and price rise, and the Government owes an answer to the people."

'Morally wrong': Ukraine slams India's oil import from Russia

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

A day after External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar defended India's decision to buy oil from Russia during the ongoing Ukraine conflict, the Ukraine Foreign Minister on Tuesday said it is "morally inappropriate."

Ukraine's Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba also said, "The opportunity for India to buy Russian oil at a cheap price comes from the fact that Ukrainians are suffering from Russian aggression and dying every day."

Making this assertion in an interview to a private television channel, the Ukrainian Minister said, "If you benefit because of our suffering, it would be good to see more of your help addressed to us."

Jaishankar on Monday said India's decision to buy oil from Russia was largely driven by market forces adding the European Union (EU) has bought more oil from Russia than India during the last few months, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said.

Jaishankar's assertion came during his talks with visiting German counterpart Annalena Baerbock. "The European Unions from February to November have imported more fossil fuel from Russia than the next 10 countries combined. The oil import in the European Union is six times what India has imported, gas is infinite times because we don't import it," he said.

Addressing a joint Press meet with the German Minister after talks, Jaishankar also said, "I would urge you to look at these figures. There is a website called 'Russia Fossil Fuel Tracker' it would give you country-by-country data of who is really importing what and I suspect that might be very very helpful."

Jaishankar also said there is a finite amount of energy resources and Europe cannot make choices to prioritise its energy needs while asking India to do something else.

On economic ties, he said India's trade with Russia is at a very small level- $12-13 billion, in comparison to European countries. "We have also given Russians a set of products... I don't think people should read more into it other than the legitimate expectations of any trading country to increase its trade," he said.

Responding to this assertion by Jaishankar, Kuleba said "It is not enough to point fingers at the European Union and say, Oh, they are doing the same thing."

According to Kuleba, India's decision to import cheap Russian oil needs to be seen through the prism of human suffering in Ukraine.

Maha-K'taka border crisis escalates

Fadanvis to take up matter with Bommai, to speak with Shah

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

The vexed Maharashtra-Karnataka boundary row sparked minor violence in the border city of Belagavi on Tuesday, prompting Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis to take the matter with the southern State Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and announced that he would speak to Union Home Minister Amit Shah in this regard.

A day ahead of the start of the Winter Session of Parliament in New Delhi, the Maharashtra-Karnataka border row escalated in Belagavi as "Karnataka Rakshana Vedike" (KRV) stopped trucks bearing Maharashtra registration numbers and smeared them with black ink and hurled stones at one of the trucks damaging it extensively.

While Fadnavis asked Bommai to initiate action against those behind Tuesday's violence in Belagavi, NCP chief Sharad Pawar warned the Karnataka Chief Minister that if the violence did not stop within 48 hours, then Maharashtra — which had hitherto been maintaining "restraint" — would have no alternative but to "take a different stand in the matter".

Pawar also said he would visit the affected areas in Karnataka if the Bommai dispensation did not restore normalcy in the border areas in the next two days.

Following the incidents of violence, two Maharashtra Ministers, Chandrakant Patil and Shambhuraj Desai, cancelled their scheduled visit to Belagavi.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka Police detained as many as 100 KRV and Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti (MES), an organisation fighting for the inclusion of the Marathi-speaking villages in the border areas, as a precautionary measure.

Taking serious cognisance of the incidents in Belagavi, Maharashtra's Deputy Chief Minister Fadnavis spoke to the Karnataka Chief Minister and asked the latter to restore normalcy in the border city.

Interacting with media persons in Mumbai, Fadnavis said, "I spoke to the Karnataka Chief Minister and expressed my displeasure and concern over the incidents in Belagavi." I asked him to initiate action against the miscreants behind the incidents."

Woman gang-raped in Heads of Depts bldg

Accused let off as no FIR lodged

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

A young woman job aspirant was allegedly gang-raped by two employees of the Health Department on Sunday night in the Heads of Departments building here. However, no FIR has been lodged in this connection yet by the victim.

Reports said the woman from Sambalpur district was lured on the promise of providing employment. When she came, the accused duo took her to a room and raped her at night. The woman later managed to flee and informed the security guard, who refused to help her. She then informed about her ordeal to a few other employees working at the Heads of Departments building.

After getting information, the department's higher-ups informed the Commissionerate police. The cops reached the spot and picked up the accused clerk and driver on Monday morning for questioning. The duo was even then in inebriated conditions. However, they were released after sometime as the woman did not want to lodge an FIR.

Meanwhile, taking the matter seriously, the Health Department authorities have placed the clerk under suspension and recommended action against the driver.

Commissioner of Police Saumendra Priyadarshi said no written complaint was lodged by the rape victim.

State's scenario will change when I speak'

I have exclusive evidence, won't spare anyone:

Archana

SAROJ MISHRA ■ BHUBANESWAR

Honey-trapper Archana Nag, who was taken to the Capital Hospital here on Tuesday for medical tests before being taken on remand by the Enforcement Directorate (ED), made some sensational statements before the media.

"I have 'exclusive' evidence and I am waiting for right time. I won't spare anyone. I was waiting for the ED to reveal the truth and I will fully cooperate in the probe. I am ready for probe by any investigating agency," said Archana.

Whether any political leaders or Ministers, she would expose everyone for her present plight, she claimed.

She said, "I have been trapped and I need sufficient time to prove all allegations against me 'wrong'. When I will speak, the scenario of the entire State will be changed. I need only 30 minutes for this."

"I am not a terrorist. The way I was arrested and my family was harassed by the Commissionerate police, it's all a conspiracy against me," she said.

When asked why her business associate Shradhanjali Behera made allegation against her, she said, "Let her come to the front first. If she has courage, let her give proof against me or let her clarify whether she dragged me in the case out of pressure."

Without naming anyone, Archana claimed that she was trapped by two persons. She also demanded that Shradhanjali's call details be examined.

Earlier in the day, Archana's architect Ranjit Behera appeared before the ED. The ED summoned Behera, who had planned and designed the palatial house of Archana, for questioning in Archana's money laundering case.

On Monday, the ED had grilled contractor Pabitra Patra, who had constructed Archana's house in Bhubaneswar, for over 12 hours.

Notably, Archana was produced on Monday before a court here, which allowed the ED to take her on a seven-day remand.

Cyclone Mandous impact

Night temp to rise in State

Light rains predicted in some parts

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

A possible formation of 'Cyclone Mandous' over the Bay of Bengal would lead to a rise in the minimum temperatures in Odisha, said the Regional Office of the IMD here on Tuesday.

There would be no large change in minimum temperature during next three days. The night temperature would rise by 2 to 3 degree Celsius in subsequent two days at many places in the districts.

Under influence of the possible cyclonic storm over the Bay of Bengal, southern parts of the State are likely to receive rainfall.

"Light rain very likely to occur at one or two places over the districts of Malkangiri, Koraput, Rayagada, Nabarangpur, Kalahandi, Kandhamal, Ganjam and Gajapati. Dry weather is very likely to prevail over the rest districts of Odisha during December 10 to 11," the Bhubaneswar MeT stated.

A well-marked low pressure area lies over southeast Bay of Bengal. It is likely to move west-northwestwards and concentrate into a depression over southeast Bay of Bengal by evening.

Thereafter, it is likely to continue to move west-northwestwards, intensify further gradually into a cyclonic storm around December 7 evening and reach southwest Bay of Bengal off north Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and adjoining south Andhra Pradesh coasts by December morning.

The system would have no direct impact over Odisha, the IMD said.

State of affairs in 5T school Classroom door used as blackboard during exam

PNS ■ JAJPUR

Claims of upgrading schools under the State Government's 5T transformation programme seem to have fallen flat after a video went viral of a teacher writing examination questions on the classroom door in the absence of a blackboard in one such school in Jajpur district.

The sorry state of affairs was reported from the Hingula Government High School near Antia village under Dharmagarh block, which had been upgraded under the 5T initiative in November last year. In the clip doing rounds, questions were being written on the door of Class-V of the school. Students, when asked, said this has been a regular affair for them.

The issue came to the fore during the exams of Classes I-VIII in the school on Monday. While students arrived as per the scheduled timings, they could not take the exams as question papers were not given to them. They were only given answer sheets. When the news spread, parents, guardians and members of the school management committee reached the spot and questioned the irregularity.

While a heated exchange between Headmistress Saraswati Panda and the management committee members ensued, a guardian, Debendra Maharana alleged that the exam was delayed as the school lacked basic infrastructure. "Around 500 students including mine study in this school. But the entire building does even have a blackboard. At last, questions had to be written on the classroom door," he stated.

A teacher, Shatrughan Barik, when asked, confessed that the classroom door was used for writing questions.

Interestingly, the school is located only about 10 km from the block headquarters.

ICAR-CIWA celebrates Agri Edu Day

Importance of 'nutrigarden' stressed

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

The Agricultural Education Day was celebrated by the ICAR-Central Institute for Women in Agriculture (ICAR-CIWA), Bhubaneswar on December 3 by involving school students at the Government Nodal High School, CRP, Baramunda here. The celebration was organised to commemorate the birth anniversary of Dr Rajendra Prasad, the first President of India.

ICAR-CIWA Director Dr Sabita Mishra highlighted the contribution of Dr Prasad to the agricultural education system of India and stressed on the need for promoting agricultural education among students as well as farmers for agricultural prosperity of the country.

An awareness talk on the importance of 'nutrigarden' in tackling malnutrition was delivered by ICAR-CIWA Principal Scientist Dr Jyoti Nayak. She urged the students to abstain from intake of junk food and stressed upon the importance of balanced diet in maintaining a healthy life.

Senior Scientist DrTanuja S delivered a talk on the health benefits from consumption of fish. Leaflets on the nutritional importance of green leafy vegetables, milk, egg and fish were distributed among students.

School Headmistress Kalpana Muduli was presented with vegetable seed kits to initiate establishment of a 'nutrigarden' in the school premises.

Puri mutt offers 821 dishes to Lord Krishna

On Byanjan Dwadasi

SAROJ KUMAR MISHRA ■ PURI

Breaking its last year's record, the Mata Mutt here prepared a grand menu comprising as many as 821 delicacies for offering to Sri Krishna on Monday.

To mark Byanjan Dwadasi, which is famous for foods in Hindu calendar, the mutt hosted guests and invitees after offering the dishes to the Lord. Last year, the mutt had prepared 701 items.

Subal Maharaj, seer of Mata Mutt, situated at GaurVihar in the city said, "Due to Covid lockdown in 2020, we had squeezed the menu to 151 items only. We have been adding more items every year to the menu."

The elongated food chart is a part of the Hindu tradition which dates back to the Mahabharata age, said the seer.

Tourism and Culture Minister Aswini Patra was among the guests this year to relish the foods.

The menu hosted to guests included 21 varieties of rice, 126 curries, 15 Payas, 50 green leafs and 161 chutnys, besides a slew of vegetable fries, cakes, chocolates and sweetmeats etc.

As many as 20 stoves were used to cook the items and women devotees were engaged in the cooking. For preparing such a long menu, the women disciples had started cooking a day before.

An epic has it that Goddess Yasoda on the very day fed her son Sri Krishna with a variety of delicacies, preparing them in own hand, when her daughter in-law Rukmini (wife of Sri Krishna) was on a maternal tour. So to celebrate the great occasion, various mutts and monasteries prepare delicacies for offering on the day. The mutts belonging to the Vaishnavite cult celebrate the occasion as Food Day with utmost devotion and gaiety.

Thinkers' Club's 51st webinar

'Sweeping reforms needed in Indian elections'

PNS ■ BHUBANESWAR

A virtual meeting of the "Thinkers' Club" was held on Saturday on the theme 'unbiased and unobstructed election is a prelude to a transparent democracy.'

The chief speaker of the meet was former senior advisor to the office of the Election Commissioner, Bhagaban Prakash. He discussed various points from his experience with the office of the EC.

According to him, if a person is standing from two constituencies gets elected from both the places, he resigns from one of the constituencies. A byelection is held to seat he vacates. But the whole process of election involves colossal wastage of money which is a mockery of democracy. The colossal money wasted, and the manhour lost is not replaceable. This flaw is inbuilt in the constitution to manipulate the situation by the party in power, he said.

The people with criminal record and punished for immorality should be barred from contesting elections. It is a pity that, around 70% parliamentarians are with criminal record. A candidate should not stand from more than one constituency at a time. The donations to the political parties should be through banks and their entire receipts should be subject to audit. There should be minimum qualification prescribed for contesting elections. There should be also a retirement age for the politicians, said Prakash.

Former Chief Secretary of Odisha, Sahadeb Sahoo quoted from a survey report of the Institute of Media Studies. The survey revealed that, for a candidate for the parliament, Rs 100 crore is spent in every election. This amount is a colossal loss to the nation. The amount is also much more than the limit fixed by the EC. There is a loophole in the People's Representation Act, which does not restrict the amount spent by the party for the candidates in the election, Sahoo lamented.

The meeting was followed with live discussion by Professor Umashankar Misra, Engineer Nanda Nandan Das, former Collector Devaraj Senapati, administrator of the Forest Department Pandab Behera, former VC Shiba Prasad Adhikari, Dr Braja Nayak, Nimai Swain among others.

The meeting ended with vote of thanks by president of club, Barada Prasanna Das.

In the beginning of the meeting, condolence was observed in the memory of the 1st voter of the independent India, Late Sham Sharan Nevi, who voted for 36 times and passed away last month.

Old man killed by elephant in Balangir

While playing music to drive away jumbos

SUDHIR MISHRA ■ BALANGIR

In an unexpected development, an old farmer who was guarding his paddy was killed on Monday night by one of a herd of 10 elephants near Khaiguda village of Kultapada panchayat under the Deogaon police station in Balangir district. The deceased was identified as Machha Mahananda (64) of Khaiguda village.

As per reports, the herd of elephants was moving in the area for last few days. The old man was drumming a local music instrument to drive away the jumbos. Suddenly, the elephants appeared and one of them attacked him and leaving him dead on the spot.

"Getting information, we went to the spot; and as per the rules, 10 per cent of the total compensation money was paid to the deceased's family," said Balangir Forest Range Officer Keshab Kishore Nayak.

According to official sources, till today, 18 human beings have died due to attacks by elephants in the district since 2009-10.

Balangir DFO Nitish Kumar said, "It (the old man's death) was an unfortunate incident. We request the people not to disturb the movement of elephants. Adequate compensation will be given for the property or crop damages as per law. The Forest Department is working round the clock to avoid such type of untoward incidents."

On December 3, 125 Gaja Sathis engaged by the Forest Department were given training to track the movement of elephants and ensure that the elephants are provided a safe passage and make Balangir district a zero-man-to-animal conflict zone in the State, he said.

In Subarnapur 7 held for Rs 52L loan by pledging fake gold

PNS ■ SONEPUR

Police have arrested seven persons, including a jeweller, for allegedly duping the Bank of Baroda of Rs 52 lakh by pledging fake gold ornaments.

The accused were identified as Ishwar Saraf, his son Surendra Saraf, Anjan Sa, Hajaru Sahu, Doctor Seth, Ramchandra Bania and Jayanarayan Maharana. They were nabbed on the basis of a complaint filed by a Manager of the bank, said Subarnapur SP Amaresh Kumar Panda on Tuesday. Panda said 65 fake gold loans amounting to Rs 52.83 lakh were availed by 11 scamsters between 2019 and 2021 and seven among them have been arrested. "The accused goldsmith arranged a fake certificate for the fraudsters based on which the loan was approved," he said.

Ishwar Saraf had earlier cheated Sonepur UCO Bank of Rs 19 lakh by depositing fake gold, he further said.

Police are also investigating the involvement of any bank officials in the racket.

'Climate change, environment burning issues'

Roundtable held in FM Varsity

UBACHAK MOHANTY ■ BALESWAR

A roundtable meeting was held in the Fakir Mohan University campus on the subject 'Environment and tribes' ahead of a State level meeting at Koraput on the subject between December 21 and 23.

Several speakers deliberating on the topic expressed their views lauding the role of the tribals in protecting the environment.

Attending the meeting as chief guest, Vice Chancellor of the university Prof Santosh Kumar Tripathy opined that climate change and protection of environment are the burning issues and the globe would witness a catastrophe if they were not addressed.

Stating the issue as paramount to society, he said that all have to come forward to protect the environment, however tiny the efforts may be.

"In the university campus we should use glass for drinking water instead of plastic bottles. We can tackle the menace of plastic to some extent by stopping the use of plastic wherever possible," observed Prof Tripathy.

The meeting was convened by environmentalist Sudarshan Das and was presided over by Prof Surjendu Kumar Dey, Professor, Environmental Science Department of the FM University. Several speakers, including PG Council Chairman Prof Munesh Chandra Adhikari and Prasant Das etc expressing their concern over the climate change and its adverse impact, underscored the role of tribals in protecting the environment and globe.

A 10-member team of the university was selected who would be attending 13th edition of the Environment Congress to be held at Koraput.

'Plastic-Free Picnic Challenge' ropes in youths

To spare forests, waterbodies from plastic in picnic season

AJIT PANDA ■ NUAPADA

The #Youth4WaterIndia campaign launched a 'Plastic-Free Picnic Challenge' among youths of the State on Monday to mark the World Soil Day.

"The campaign, conceived by youths and partners associated with the campaign, will urge upon youths going to forests and water bodies for picnic this season not to use single-use plastics and clean up the sites of all the non-biodegradable wastes after their picnic party is over," informed Odisha's water man, who is also the co-founder of the #Youth4Water campaign, Ranjan Panda.

"We want to reach out to thousands of youths with messages of conservation of our natural spots," said State Programme Director, WaterAid India, Anurag Gupta. WaterAid is a partner of the campaign.

Other partners of the campaign are the Sattvic Soul Foundation, Odisha Paryavaran Sanrakshan Abhiyan, Radio Bulbul, Ceiba

Green Solutions, Educo, Foundation for Ecological Security (FES), Rotary Club of Sambalpur Greater, Odisha Local, NYKS and Biswaparibaar.

"During the 28 days of the #Plastic Free Picnic Challenge campaign we will take up several innovative ways of raising awareness in as many locations as possible. We are sure this will pave the way for a long-term drive in which more and more partners will participate," said Panda, who also convenes Water Initiatives, a network of several organizations and individuals working on water, environment and climate change for more than three decades now.

Panda further informed that the "Youth4Water" campaign was flagged off at the 3rd Odisha River Conference organised by the Water Initiatives and partner organisations at Baripada in March 2019. "It has now reached out to thousands of youths directly and lakhs of them through online platforms. We have now decided to call this campaign "Youth4WaterIndia" as partners from other States have also shown interest to join this initiative," said Panda further, seeking everyone's support.

12 get lifer in B'swar murder case

PNS ■ BALESWAR

Additional Sessions Judge Sanjeev Ranjan Samanta on Tuesday convicted 12 accused in a murder case and sentenced them to life imprisonment besides slapping penalty of Rs 50,000 each, in default of another two years' jail term.

The convicted included Ajay Palei, Akshay Palei, Dambarudhar Das, Kati Mahalik, Digbijay Barik, Satyaprakash Jena, Sk Sarfuddin, Harekrushna

Majhi, Kiran Das, Ranjan Majhi, Niranjan Majhi and Sk Jubir Box. Another accused was acquitted. On March 3, 2017, the convicts made an attack on Jayant Das and Satyaranjan Das when they were in a saloon of village Gabagaon due to previous rivalry. Jayant succumbed to the injuries while Satyaranjan recovered after medical treatment. The accused were tried under Sections 302/307 and 120(b), 34 of IPC and 25 and 27 of the Arms Act.

‘Af shouldn’t be safe haven for terrorists’

India pitches for collective efforts to combat terror in India-Central Asia NSAs’ meet

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

India and Central Asian countries on Tuesday cautioned that Afghanistan must not become a safe haven for terrorist activities and called for collective action to combat challenges like terror financing, radicalization and use of terror proxies for cross-border terrorism.

National Security Advisor (NSA) Ajit Doval said monetary resources are the “lifeblood” of terrorism and countering it should be a priority.

This appeal was made here at the first meeting of the National Security Advisors (NSA) of India and Central Asia hosted by Doval. The high-profile conclave also emphasized the need for respecting Afghanistan’s sovereignty, unity and territory and urged non-interference in its internal affairs. Doval said the meeting was taking place at a time of “great churn,” in international relations.

The NSAs of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan and Uzbekistan are attending the conclave while Turkmenistan is being represented by its ambassador to India.

Addressing the meet focusing on combating terrorism in the region and situation in Afghanistan, Doval pitched for giving greater priority by countries of the region to counter terror financing, saying monetary resources are the “lifeblood” of terrorism.

Doval also said all United Nations(UN) member states should refrain from providing any form of support to entities or persons involved in terrorist acts and fulfill the obligations enshrined in relevant counter-terror conventions. He described Central Asia as India’s “extended neighbourhood”, and said New Delhi accords “highest priority” to this region.

“Afghanistan is an important issue concerning all of us. India’s concerns and objectives with regard to immediate priorities and the way forward are similar to those of many of us around the table,” he said.

Doval said connectivity with Central Asian countries remained a key priority for India and that New Delhi stands ready to cooperate, invest and build connectivity in the region.

“While expanding connectivity, it is important to ensure that connectivity initiatives are consultative, transparent and participatory, with respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity of all countries,” he said, seen as an oblique reference to China’s Belt and Road Initiative (BRI).

Doval hosted the conclave with a focus on evolving a common framework to deal with challenges of terrorism in the region including Afghanistan and ways to bolster overall security cooperation in sync with a decision taken at the first India-Central Asia summit in January.

He said the meeting is taking place at a time of “great churn” in international relations and uncertainty about the future, noting a peaceful, secure and prosperous Central Asia is in “our common interest”.

“Today’s meeting, therefore, assumes importance as it provides us an opportunity to discuss matters which require greater cooperation and coordination amongst the regional countries,” he said

A joint communique said the officials agreed that the expansion of terrorist propaganda, recruitment and fund-raising efforts have serious security implications for the region, and therefore, a collective and coordinated response is essential.

“The misuse of new and emerging technologies, arms and drugs trafficking, using terrorist proxies for cross-border terrorism, abuse of cyber space to spread disinformation and unmanned aerial systems present new challenges in counterterrorism efforts and call for collective action,” it said.

The mentioning of cross-border terrorism is seen as a reference to Pakistan’s support to various terror groups which have been targeting India. The meeting also strongly called for an early adoption of the UN Comprehensive Convention on International Terrorism to effectively deal with the menace.

It also reiterated that greater connectivity could be a force multiplier for enhancing trade and commerce as well as for ensuring closer interactions between India and Central Asian countries. Doval also referred to the first India-Central Asia virtual summit in January that was hosted by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

“Your presence is a testimony to our cohesiveness and it will enrich the discussions. Central Asia is our extended neighbourhood with which we have civilisational linkages and we accord highest priority to this region,” Doval said.

HC nod for rare 33-week pregnancy termination

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

In a rare instance, the Delhi High Court on Tuesday allowed termination of a 33-week pregnancy by saying that the “ultimate decision” in matters of abortion ought to recognise a woman’s choice to give birth and the possibility of dignified life of the unborn child.

Justice Prathiba M Singh observed that while the right of a pregnant woman to terminate her pregnancy has been the subject matter of debate across the world, India recognises the choice of a woman in its law.

In the present case, the petitioner, a 26 year old married woman, sought to terminate her 33-week pregnancy after she found out that the foetus was suffering from certain cerebral abnormalities. Normally, termination is not allowed after 24 weeks of pregnancy.

The petitioner had said during her ultrasounds till the 16th week of gestation period, no abnormalities were found in the foetus but on November 12, an abnormality was observed in the foetus. The court clarified that prior to undergoing termination, the informed consent of the petitioner would be taken and she would undergo the procedure at her own risk.

The judge, while permitting the woman to immediately undergo medical termination of pregnancy, noted that the medical board unfortunately did not give a “categorical opinion” on the degree of handicap or the quality of the life of the foetus after birth and thus opined that “such unpredictability ought to weigh in favour of the woman seeking termination of pregnancy”.

“In conclusion, the court holds that the ultimate decision in such cases ought to recognise the choice of the mother as also the possibility of a dignified life of the unborn child..This court holds that medical termination of pregnancy ought to be permitted in the present case,” the court ruled.

“The right of a pregnant woman to terminate her pregnancy or abort her foetus has been the subject matter of debate across the world. This right gives the woman the ultimate choice as to whether she wants to give birth to the child present case, it was able to gauge the mental trauma affecting the parents as well as their economic and social condition, and the petitioner was taking an informed decision to terminate her pregnancy after weighing all factors. “The court comes to the conclusion that the mother’s choice is being made in a bonafide manner”, it added while allowing the petitioner to undergo medical termination of pregnancy immediately at LNJP, GTB or any other approved medical facility of her choice as per law.

The woman represented by advocate Anwesh Madhukar and Prachi Nirwan had approached the High Court last week after the GTB Hospital declined her request for termination of pregnancy on the premise that the process required judicial intervention since the current gestational age of the petitioner was beyond the permissible limit, that is, 24 weeks as per the amended Medical Termination of Pregnancy Act which came into effect from September 24, 2021.

Cong calls for like-minded Opp parties’ meet to mull Winter Session strategy

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Congress president and Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha M Mallikarjun Kharge has convened a meeting of all the ‘like-minded’ Opposition parties on Wednesday before the Winter Session of the Parliament begins.

Party sources said that Kharge has requested almost all the opposition leaders to be part of the meeting which will formulate a strategy to take on the Modi government in both the Houses of Parliament.

Representatives of SP, TMC, Shiv Sena, RJD, DMK, JDU and few others have confirmed their participation in the meeting which will happen at 9.45 am just before the Session begins at 11 am. They have been briefed to raise the common issues like economic condition, unemployment, border and security issues, attack on constitutional freedom, sale of certain government establishments and few other agenda which are likely to be discussed in the meeting to be chaired by Kharge.

Meanwhile, accusing the Centre of having “betrayed” the farmers, the All India Kisan Congress wrote to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, highlighting the “plight” of the tillers and reiterating the demand of legal guarantee for MSP for all crops.

The Congress’ unit for farmers also reiterated the demand for dismissal of Union Minister of State for Home Ajay Mishra Teni over the Lakhimpur Kheri violence, release of “innocent” farmers imprisoned in the case, withdrawal of “fake cases” registered against farmers in various states during the farmers’ agitation and compensation to families of the deceased farmers.

How long can Christian Michel be kept in custody, asks SC

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court said on Tuesday just because Christian Michel James, an alleged middleman in the AgustaWestland chopper scam, is a foreign national, how long can he be kept in custody and does his not being an Indian justify “complete deprivation” of his liberty.

James is a United Kingdom national and was extradited from Dubai in 2018.

A Bench of Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha said, ordinarily, if the accused had been an Indian national, the court would have been willing to grant him bail, especially if he had spent more than four years in custody for the offences the maximum punishment for which is five years.

“Merely because he is a foreign national, how long can we keep him? Can that justify complete deprivation of his liberty? Had he been an Indian national, the court would have been willing to grant him bail,” the Bench told Additional Solicitor General SV Rau, appearing for probe agencies CBI and the ED.

The bench said what is worrying the court is the complexity of trial as there are over 250 witnesses in the case and the co-accused government officials have been granted bail for want of sanction for prosecution. “It’s an important issue for consideration, especially the construct between the treaty and the statute (Extradition Act, 1962).

CBI to question K Kavitha in Delhi Excise Policy case on Dec 11

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The CBI has issued a fresh notice to TRS MLC K Kavitha for questioning on December 11 at her Hyderabad residence in connection with the Delhi Excise Policy scam case.

The move comes after Kavitha expressed her inability to appear before the agency on Monday (December 5) and told the agency that she was available for recording her statement from December 11 to 15 (except December 13).

In response to the first notice issued on December 2, Kavitha had said she went through the contents of the FIR copy as well as the complaint available on the website in connection with the case and her name did not figure anywhere in any manner whatsoever.

The fresh notice issued by the agency states, “...CBI team will visit your residence at 1100 hrs on December 11, 2022 for your examination and recording of your statement in connection with investigation of aforesaid (Delhi Excise scam) case. Kindly confirm your availability on the said date and time at your residential address at Hyderabad...”

Kavitha, in a statement on Monday, had said she informed the authorities that they can meet her at her Hyderabad residence.

“I am a law-abiding citizen and will cooperate with the investigation. I will meet you on any of the above said dates to cooperate with the investigation. It is made clear that this is without prejudice to my legal rights available under law,” she had said.

The CBI has already filed a charge sheet against seven individuals in connection with the excise scam.

“Further investigation is continuing to investigate the role of FIR named accused and other persons on various allegations including conspiracies with other licensees, money trails, cartelization and larger conspiracies in the formulation and implementation of the Excise Policy,” the CBI had said after filing the charge sheet late last month.

The Enforcement

Directorate that is probing a connected money laundering case has alleged, “...Vijay Nair, on behalf of leaders of AAP has at least received kickbacks to the tune of Rs 100 crore from a group, called south group (controlled by Sarath Reddy, Ms K Kavitha, Magunta Srinivasulu Reddy) by various persons including Amit Arora.”

Officials identified Kavitha as the daughter of Telangana CM K Chandrashekhar Rao.

CBI arrests Railway DCE for taking bribe, seizes ₹2.51 cr

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The CBI has recovered cash to the tune of ₹1.38 crore cash and ₹1.13 crore in bank accounts of Deputy Chief Engineer of Railways, Arun Kumar Mittal, who was arrested for allegedly taking a bribe from a contractor.

Immediately after Mittal’s arrest last week, the CBI had seized ₹38 lakh cash and about ₹1 crore was recovered during searches at his premises. Kumar was posted as Deputy Chief Engineer (Construction), Northern Railway, Lucknow.

Out of the ₹1.13 crore recovered from the bank accounts of the accused and his family members, majority of the amount was allegedly deposited in cash in various bank accounts, the CBI said. A case was registered on a complaint against Mittal on the allegations of demanding bribes from the complainant in lieu of passing the bills of his firm engaged in project work at Charbagh, Lucknow. The arrested accused was produced on December 2 before the Competent Court, Lucknow which remanded him to CBI custody.

‘Most Asian countries fail global biodiversity target’

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Most countries in Asia have failed to achieve a global minimum target of protecting at least 17% of land by 2020, according to a study based on data from 40 countries.

Under the current trends, the outlook for achieving the UN Global Biodiversity Framework’s 2030 target to protect at least 30 per cent of land is bleak, with Asia set to miss this by an even greater margin, the researchers said in a study published in the journal Communications Biology.

To counter the global biodiversity crisis, at the 2010 UN Convention on Biological Diversity, almost 200 countries pledged to protect at least 17 per cent of their terrestrial environments by 2020 (known as Aichi Target).

To investigate whether they achieved this, researchers from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge in the UK, with collaborators in Asia, analysed data from official reports submitted to the World Database on Protected Areas.

In particular, very few countries in West and Central Asia achieved the target. Overall, Asia was the most underperforming continent, with just 13.2 per cent of land being designated as a terrestrial protected area in 2020 — compared with a global average of 15.2 per cent protection, the researchers said.

Asian countries also tended to have a slower year-on-year increase in the amount of land protected for conservation, at just 0.4 per cent per year on average, the study said.

For 241 highly at-risk mammal species across Asia, on average 84 per cent of their ranges fell outside protected areas, the researchers said.

They calculated that almost all Asian countries will fail to meet the 2030 target unless their rate of establishing protected areas increases by up to six times faster. Under the current trajectory, Asia would only achieve 18% coverage by 2030 — far below the target of 30 per cent protection.

The outlook was worse for West and South Asia, projected to achieve 11 per cent and 10 per cent coverage respectively by 2030.

“Asia is a challenging continent for setting targets for protected areas, since areas of high biodiversity typically conflict with dense human populations and rapid economic growth,” said study lead author Mohammed Farhadinia.

DCGI OK’s 1st ‘Made-in-India’ TB kit

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

With Mylab’s PathoDetect kit patients can with a single test know their active TB infection as well as drug resistance to 2 most common drugs - Isoniazid and Rifampicin - so that they take treatment that will actually work.

The first ‘Made in India’ kit recently approved by the DCGI, TB expert panel under the ICMR has been developed by Mylab. The kit is a RT-PCR based kit for accurate detection and will be used with Mylab Compact device systems – which will allow completely automated testing of multiple samples within 2 hours.

This will be instrumental in supporting the Prime Minister’s vision to eliminate TB by 2025 from India, said Hasnukh Rawal, the MD of Mylab.

He explained that the device will help address several problems simultaneously. It can not only do multiple tests at one time but also does not need highly technical people which we are already short of to handle samples and reagents, he added.

The kit has been approved after rigorous and large scale field trials and recommended by the TB Expert Committee under ICMR.

“Multicentre evaluation study and field feasibility testing studies were carried out for the “PathoDetect MTB RIF and INH drug resistance kits” & Compact device systems. The centres of trials included the most reputed TB research centres of India, which evaluated the performance of the kit against the currently used diagnostic assays for Tuberculosis,” said Rawal.

He further said, “There is a huge problem of resistance to drugs when it comes to TB. Until now, India had to conduct 2 tests: one to detect TB first and to check drug resistance – that against only one drug (Rifampicin). But with Mylab’s PathoDetect” kit, the test pattern will be changed.”

Also, the test kits have been designed to work in ambient temperatures compared to existing PCR options which need 2-8 degree cold storage. Mylab Compact” device systems do not require special infrastructure for operations and feasibility studies done on mobile vans in rural areas indicate them to be very robust.

TMC SPOKESPERSON SAKET GOKHALE ARRESTED BY GUJARAT POLICE FOR TWEET AGAINST MODI, ALLEGED FAKE NEWS

Didi cries vendetta, TMC calls it super emergency

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Trinamool Congress (TMC) national spokesperson Saket Gokhale was being interrogated on Tuesday after he was detained by the Gujarat Police from Rajasthan late at night. The TMC leader was arrested allegedly for writing fake news as also for tweeting against Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Morbi, where a bridge collapse killed over 130 people in October. The TMC has called the arrest of Saket Gokhale by the Gujarat Police an act of vindictiveness. Hours after the Gujarat Police arrested Gokhale at Jaipur Airport Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday called the arrest a result of the "BJP's vindictive attitude."

While her party's Rajya Sabha MP Shantanu Sen said, the arrest itself proved that there was a "super emergency going on in India," Banerjee said the act was "very bad and sad." Banerjee who was on a swift trip of Rajasthan —where she visited the Brahama Temple at Pushkar and the shrine of Khwaja Moinudding Chhisti at Ajmer Sharif — said "I heard about his arrest ...

Saket Gokhale is a bright man and is very popular in the social media ... he has been arrested for no wrong. "It is very bad and sad ... I condemn this vindictive attitude ... he was arrested because he tweeted against the Prime Minister," on Morbi bridge collapse incident. Gokhale had allegedly written fake news on the Morbi incident and later went on to write that the Prime Minister's visit to Morbi cost more than the compensation provided to the kin of the victims of Morbi.

"The party has been trying to contact him since midnight ... but the police have confiscated his mobile and he is thus incommunicado," Sen adding, the Chief Minister had directed TMC Rajya Sabha Leader Derek O' Brien to proceed to Ahmedabad to inquire into the matter and arrange for any legal help for the arrested leader. "Anyone who speaks the truth against the BJP and its government is arrested and sent to jail," Sen said while Bengal Minister Sobhandeb

Chatopadhaya said how "about 450 journalists all over the country are languishing in various jails of the country."

The BJP was prompt to hit back showing how a number of opposition people and journalists had either been arrested or served with notices by the police for writing against the Mamata Banerjee Government.

"Gujarat is not Bengal ... if someone has been arrested for writing untrue stories about the Prime Minister and action has been taken by the police ... if he is to be found innocent he will be released but how about Bengal where every journalist gets a notice or the police knock at his door in the midnight for doing stories on the government."

CBI court discharges former IGNOU, PTU V-Cs in graft case

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

After a protracted legal battle of nearly 10 years, former IGNOU Vice-Chancellor VN Rajasekharan Pillai has come out clear after a special CBI court here discharged him in a corruption case, officials said on Tuesday.

Former Vice Chancellor of Punjab Technical University Rajneesh Arora and Joint Registrar RPS Bedi were also discharged from the case related to alleged corruption and forgery in allowing the university to run certain courses through distant mode from the academic year 2007.

"Criminal prosecution has been sought of very high-level dignitaries but the CBI just presented the charge sheet without bothering to see whether the ingredients of the alleged offences are present in this case," Special Judge Naresh Kumar Laka noted.

The CBI, which started the probe in 2011 with a preliminary enquiry, filed an FIR followed by a charge sheet against Pillai, Arora and Bedi under charges of criminal conspiracy, forgery and provisions of the Prevention of Corruption Act, the officials said.

The central agency had alleged that the University Grants Commission, All India Council for Technical Education and Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) had signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on May 10, 2007, which stipulated to set up an expert committee to visit the particular institution to verify the norms and standards of education before approving recognition.

The decision to approve was to be decided on the basis of the expert committee's report, observations of the joint committee and finally by the Distance Education Council (DEC), which is the primary authority of IGNOU for that purpose, they said. The CBI alleged that Pillai violated the MoU and "unilaterally" gave permission to Punjab Technical University to run certain courses through distant mode.

The court rejected the charge that Pillai misused his official position, as one of the relied documents in the CBI charge sheet having an expert opinion on the MoU, said it was not binding and also AICTE had not ratified the document.

Besides, the court agreed with Pillai that the MoU was to facilitate cordial functioning of three bodies—UGC, AICTE and IGNOU—having some overlapping functions "without losing their own statutory power".

"As per established principles of the rule of law, a private agreement can never supersede the statutory provisions which are enacted by the legislatures i.E. Parliament of India or the State Legislative Body," it said.

The court said according to the charge sheet, the CBI alleged that the three caused undue benefit to Punjab Technical University by granting recognition, which it did not deserve.

SP MLA livestreams UP Assembly proceedings, asked to leave House

PNS ■ LUCKNOW

Samajwadi Party MLA Atul Spradhan on Tuesday livestreamed proceedings of the Uttar Pradesh Assembly via Facebook while protesting in the Well, drawing the ire of the Speaker who asked him to leave the House and suspended him for the entire session.

Speaker Satish Mahana said it had come to his notice that a member went live on Facebook while the Samajwadi Party MLAs were protesting in the well of the House over alleged irregularities and police atrocities during the voting in the bypoll to the Rampur assembly seat.

The speaker later said he had verified that it was SP MLA Atul Pradhan, who was asked to leave the House for the entire session. While the Sardhana MLA immediately left the House, the SP members requested the speaker to review his decision as the first-time legislator was not aware of the assembly rules.Holding that "ignorance of law is not an excuse", the speaker said: "Pradhan will not be allowed in the House." However, on being insisted, the speaker allowed him to attend the proceedings after 1 pm on Tuesday.

Earlier in the day, as soon as the House assembled at 11 am, the Samajwadi Party members raised the issue of alleged police high-handedness in Rampur on Monday. SP MLA Manoj Pandey alleged that the police entered the homes of people and beat them up.

The SP MLAs entered the well of the House and raised slogans denouncing the government. The SP had given notice under rule 56 of the House seeking adjournment of the proceedings to discuss the Rampur issue.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Suresh Khanna denied the charges levelled by the opposition members and claimed that no wrong was committed and polling in Rampur remained peaceful.

Mahana said he was ready to allow the opposition to raise this issue as per rules. He asked opposition members to restore order and go back to their seats. However, the opposition refused to relent, forcing him to adjourn the proceedings of the House for 20 minutes.

3 hurt in yet another blast in West Bengal

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ KOLKATA

It is exploding bombs in Bengal. Barely four days after the Bhupatinagar blast that left three persons dead and an unspecified number of victims injured three persons including a woman and two children were severely injured at Ramnagar area of Basirhat sub-division in North 24 Parganas district some 50 miles north of Kolkata.

The incident happened on Tuesday forenoon when a child brought home a round-shaped object taking it to be a ball ...

the ball-like object that the child found in the fields exploded inside the kitchen of his house injuring another child and his mother, sources said. All have been admitted to the Basirhat district hospital, police said.

The incident occurred four days after the blast at Bhupatinagar in East Midnpore district where a Trinamool Congress leader's house literally caved in after a stockpile of explosive went off while the victims were allegedly making bombs. While Bengal Opposition Leader Suwendu Adhikari wrote to Union Home Minister Amit Shah seeking an NIA investigation into the Bhupatinagar incident, a Public Interest Litigation petition too was filed in Calcutta High Court demanding a similar order.

About a dozen people have lost their lives and tens of them have received grave injuries in bomb blasts and gun fights in the past little more than a month in Bengal. Such incidents were likely to go up at next year's panchayat elections draw nearer, experts say.

UDF demands judicial probe into Vizhinjam violence

PTI ■ THIRUVANANTHAPURAM

The Opposition UDF on Tuesday made a scathing attack against the Kerala government, alleging that it adopted a "hostile attitude" towards the fishermen protesting against the construction of Vizhinjam port and demanded a judicial probe into the recent violent incidents in connection with the anti-seaport stir. The investigation should bring out the real truth and not cover up the facts, they said during a discussion in the state Assembly on the adjournment motion on the Vizhinjam issue.

The opposition front made it clear that they were not demanding that the construction of the upcoming port be stopped.But, development should be brought through consensus and not through confrontation, Congress legislator M Vincent, who moved the motion, said. The Left government was not keen to reach out to the fishermen community and address their woes despite the latter approaching the authorities with their concerns several times, he alleged.

He accused the state government of viewing the agitators with a "hostile attitude" and charged that some cabinet ministers had called them "terrorists" and "anti-nationals". The Kovalam MLA also alleged that there was a deliberate attempt by the police to provoke the fishermen community and thus create issues in the region.

Several people were arrested without any reason and a case was registered even against the Archbishop, he said, adding that a pregnant woman was summoned to the police station in the name of interrogation.

Giriraj lauds Lalu’s daughter for donating her kidney Patna: RJD president Lalu Prasad's daughter Rohini Acharya, who donated a kidney to her father, has earned the praise of Union minister Giriraj Singh, one of the most strident opponents of the former Bihar chief minister.

Singh, who represents the Begusarai Lok Sabha seat of the state, expressed his sentiments on Twitter, sharing a picture of Acharya fast asleep on her hospital bed after the surgery in Singapore. "Beti ho to Rohini Acharya jaisi (Rohini Acharya is the kind of daughter one should have)," Singh tweeted in Hindi, adding that the Singapore-based daughter of Prasad, in her early 40s, "shall serve as an example for the future generations".

Babri demolition anniversary: Little extra security, but just another day in Ayodhya

PTI ■ AYODHYA (UP)

It was business as usual in the pilgrim city on Tuesday, the day that marked the 30th anniversary of the Babri mosque demolition.

In a break from the curfew-like situation on some past occasions, life remained normal in the city with schools, colleges, offices and public institutions remaining open. Police, however, remain on alert.

Like any other day, local people were seen queuing at the Ram temple complex for a 'darshan' while traffic remained heavy during morning rush hour.

Unlike in the past, the Vishwa Hindu Parishad is not celebrating any 'Shaurya Diwas' (bravery day) and there are no plans by the Muslim community to observe a Black Day. With the Supreme Court judgement in 2019 ending the Ram Janmabhoomi land dispute, people from both the communities appear to be yearning for peace.

In past years, Ayodhya used to be turned into a fortress ahead of the Babri mosque demolition anniversary. Not this time, though.

Senior Superintendent of Police, Ayodhya, Muniraj G said "routine arrangements" have been made in the city as precautionary measures.

"We are also continuously monitoring social media platforms, while hotels are also being checked," Muniraj G, who was recently appointed as the SSP of Ayohdya, tol reporters.

Lakhimpur Kheri killings: Charges framed against Ashish Mishra, 12 others for murder, criminal conspiracy

PTI ■ LAKHIMPUR KHERI (UP)

A court here on Tuesday framed charges against Union minister Ajay Kumar Mishra's son Ashish and 12 others for murder, criminal conspiracy and related offences in the case of mowing down of protesting farmers in October 2021 in Lakhimpur Kheri, paving the way for the start of the trial.

Additional District Judge Sunil Kumar Verma has now fixed the next hearing on December 16, District Government Counsel (Criminal) Arvind Tripathi told PTI.

Tripathi said that 13 accused, including Ashish Mishra, have been charged under IPC sections 147 and 148 related to rioting, 149 (unlawful assembly), 302 (murder), 307 (attempt to murder), 326 (voluntarily causing grievous hurt by dangerous weapons or means), 427 (mischief) and 120B (punishment for criminal conspiracy), and section 177 of Motor Vehicle Act.Ashish Mishra, son of Union Minister of State for Home Ajay Kumar Mishra, is the main accused in the case. The other 12 accused are Ankit Das, Nandan Singh Bisht, Latif Kale, Satyam alias Satya Prakash Tripathi, Shekhar Bharti, Sumit Jaiswal, Ashish Pandey, Lavkush Rana, Shishu Pal, Ullas Kumar alias Mohit Trivedi, Rinku Rana and Dharmendra Banjara. All of them are in jail.

The 14th accused, Virendra Shukla, who is out on bail, has been charged under section 201 of IPC which is related to causing the disappearance of evidence of an offence or giving false information to screen the offender.

The primary object of framing of charge is to tell the accused person precisely about what the prosecution intends to prove against him. Charges under various sections of the Arms Act were also framed against Ashish Mishra, Ankit Das, Nandan Singh Bisht, Satyam alias Satya Prakash Tripathi, Latif Kale and Sumit Jaiswal, Tripathi said.

On October 3, 2021, eight people were killed in Tikunia in Lakhimpur Kheri during violence that erupted when farmers were protesting against Uttar Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya's visit to the area.

Two girls of Lapierre-funded home to represent India in Special Olympics

PTI ■ ULUBERIA (WB)

As newborns, Priyanka and Rani brought despair to their parents but a home for children with special needs in West Bengal's Howrah, set up with funds provided by French author Dominique Lapierre, helped them to qualify for the Indian handball team that will participate in the 2023 Berlin Special Olympic Games.

They secured their berths in the team at the national coaching camp held at Sonapat in Haryana in October, their coach Tamal Chatterjee told PTI.

Besides their physical challenges, they also have a disadvantaged family background.

Born to an autorickshaw driver father and housewife mother of Hatgacha village in Howrah, Priyanka was admit-proved her mettle in handball, said Johnmary Barui, the director of Asha Bhavan Centre which runs the CCI Home said.

With the help of an intervention programme for overall development, Priyanka is now fully independent in her daily life and also helps her roommates, Barui said. Lapierre was a regular visitor to the CCI

Home for CWSN Girls. He would also interact with the girls, Barui said, adding that the famous French author helped with funds in setting up the institute.

Priyanka's teammate Rani was born to hearing-impaired parents. She was rescued from Howrah station by Childline as a runaway child when she was very young and was sent to Asha Bhavan Centre. Rani, now 13, is a student of class 8 at Karat Beria High School. She has a 75 per cent intellectual disability and her IQ level is as low as 44, Barui said.

Noticing her love for sports, she was introduced to various sports under the supervision of coach Chatterjee and later she excelled in handball. Priyanka and Rani told PTI, through an interpreter, in sign language that they are excited to participate in the special olympics, scheduled to be held from June 17 to 25 next year.

"I want to win a gold medal for India in handball," Priyanka said. Rani said, "I will try to give my best in the special olympics and practicing very hard for it."

Coach Chatterjee said Rani is a talented striker while Priyanka is good at throwing and snatching the ball from opponents. Both of them can grip the ball very well, which is very essential in handball, he said. Barui said the other children of the special home are excited after learning that Priyanka and Rani were selected to play in the special olympics. "Now, they have become a role model for the other kids at the home," he added.

Mohammad Mohiuddin, the chief of UNICEF in West Bengal, said that after learning about the achievements of Priyanka and Rani in handball, they enquired about duo and decided to motivate other children using them as examples.

They were featured in a UNICEF film on child sportspersons who made significant achievements, because of their outstanding feats.

PAPER WITH PASSION

On expected lines

Exit polls have not thrown up any surprises, BJP and AAP are winners and Cong a big loser

The results of exit polls for the Assembly elections in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh and of the Municipal Corporation of Delhi are on expected lines. Most reports and experts were suggesting that the Bharatiya Janata Party would increase its tally of 99 out of 182 seats in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's home state, overcoming 27 years of anti-incumbency and even the bad press that the saffron party got after the Morbi mishap. The average of nine exit polls for the BJP in Gujarat is 132, whereas for the Congress it is 38 and the Aam Aadmi Party, eight. In the Himalayan state too, where the electorate prefers to change the state government every five years, the BJP was seen as a party that wasn't leaving any stone unturned. A video went viral in which no less a person than the PM was heard trying to coax a rebel party candidate to withdraw his candidature. Exit polls show a tough contest in Himachal, which has 68 Assembly seats, the BJP's average being 35 and the Congress' 30, while AAP is unlikely to open its account. Only Aaj Tak-Axis My India, which gave 30-40 seats to the Congress and 24-34 to the BJP, has thrown up the possibility of the grand old party coming back to power in the hill state. For the MCD election, there were four exit polls, all of which gave a comfortable majority to AAP, the average being 154. The BJP's average was 84 and the Congress' six.

If exit polls are correct on the whole, they highlight a few facts. First, the BJP's election machine is unrivaled. The party's detractors may accuse it of having amassed wealth and using law-enforcement agencies like the Central Bureau of Investigation and the Enforcement Directorate to further its electoral ends, but it would be wrong to deny the magnitude of effort put in by its cadre and that of the RSS. They don't leave anything to chance; they are not deterred or daunted by events like the Morbi bridge collapse or the incidence of rebels everywhere; they just don't give up. The Congress, on the other hand, is just not willing, able, or both to take up the challenge that it faces today—the existential challenge against Modi's BJP. Rahul Gandhi is busy uniting the country, even as his own party is withering away. His sister, Priyanka Vadra, did work in Himachal, but not as much as her party leaders in the state wanted her to. What was once seen as a low-hanging fruit for the GOP seems to have become an apple of discord. The AAP looks like a winner. It appears to be winning the MCD election; for 15 years, the local bodies (there were three MCDs till recently) were under the BJP. Typically, the saffron party did everything to win the MCD election—from a high-profile campaign involving its stalwarts to the use of Satyendra Jain's video clips—but to little avail. Its performance in the two other states, however, compensates for the loss. The GOP, however, has no such compensation.

Urban Voter's apathy

Low urban turnout in the recent elections reflects disenchantment of city dwellers with political system

After a high decibel campaign in three states of Gujarat, Himachal, and Delhi, it was a damp squib response by the voters, especially in urban areas. Not many came out to vote, especially in the urban areas where the voter turnout was abysmally low. Even the election commission acknowledges the fact that despite so many efforts the voter's interest in the elections was rather low. In Shimla, the turnout was dismal, 10 percentage points lower than Himachal's average of 75.6%. The trend of lower voter turnout in the urban areas was also seen in Gujarat as well. The urban turnout in the first phase in Gujarat was also lower than in 2017. In Delhi's local polls, the same trend was visible in the affluent constituencies of Delhi. The voter turnout of voters has decreased since independence. In the 50s, 60s, and 70s, the urban voters were more active than the rural ones but gradually the rural voters took over and the urban voters started keeping away from the polling booths.

Many factors have contributed to the low voter turnout in general and urban voter turnout in particular. The notion that rich people do not care about elections is largely true and this is reflected in the voting pattern in affluent neighborhoods. In villages, voting is largely a group activity and people vote decisively to effect a change or maintain the status quo. Besides, rural elected bodies are more alive in rural areas than urban ones. Besides, the political parties work harder in rural areas. Group mobilisation is difficult in cities where localities are not based on castes or a particular community. Besides, rural voters need political favours more than their urban counterparts as the rural infrastructure is still evolving whereas the urban voters do not need the government services that ardently and take them for granted. However the most worrisome is the general disenchantment of voters with the political system. Perhaps people are tired of hollow promises and antics of politicians who take voters for granted. The paradigm of two India's is visible in voting pattern also, though there is nothing wrong in high voter turnout in rural areas, and more so on lower-income rural poor. But the disconnect between city middle-classes and elections is still a trend which must be checked as it would mean caring for one at the cost of another.

Digital Education for Digital India

“Technology will not replace great teachers but technology in the hands of the great teachers can be transformational” – George Couros

Technology is one of the keywords of our world, yet it is also one of the most confused forms of elite and systematic knowledge. The usage of this term has changed immensely since the 20th century, and with time it has continued to evolve, thereby helping in improving not only the productivity of business enterprises and individuals but has also played an important role in developing human civilization.

There is no denying the fact that technology has brought a revolution in many operational fields - be it gadgets or faster modes of communication or even the education sector. The outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic has resulted in tremendous change in the traditional educational system, wherein the concept of online classes and usage of laptops has replaced the traditional way of teaching in classrooms and through books. Digital education in India which was the sole source of learning for students in the country during the pandemic. Today, with the click of a button, students have immediate access and privilege to quality information available worldwide. They can gain practical and technical knowledge. Innovative audio-video features can enhance their cognitive level, the study materials can be downloaded and saved for future reference. Teachers too can coordinate with students through electronic (e) classrooms and impart knowledge and share their ideas and resources and utilise the resources available on the internet for their various project work, research, etc.

It is often said, technology will become the wings that will allow the educational world to fly farther and faster than ever before. Online learning has changed our perception of education, making the education sector improve over time and adding to the comfort factor in our lives. The Government of India has announced several initiatives as part of its education campaign with the aim of benefitting the students belonging to different strata of society. The Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD) initiated DIKSHA- Digital Infrastructure for Knowledge Sharing as part of PM eVidya, under the Atma Nirbhar Bharat programme which is the “One Nation; One digital platform” aiming to bring together the efforts of online, digital and on-air educational modes towards education. It is a national platform for schools across India, containing quizzes and courses for teachers and students. Similarly, many other technology-based initiatives such as Vidyadaan, SWAYAM, e Pathshala, Shiksha Vani and many more under this platform have brought a sea change in the lives of the people of the nation.

These initiatives by the government are the powerful repository of educational resources that can be accessed by students, teachers, researchers and parents anytime as per their convenience. The best part about these portals is that they are user friendly and are available in different languages - English, Hindi, Urdu and Sanskrit making them powerhouse of knowledge which is useful on pan India basis as people speaking different languages can make use of them and improve their learnings and capabilities to become informed and better human beings. The users can download the relevant educational material from these portals/ platforms and use them later as per their convenience. Broadcasting through radio also helps students living in remote areas to access knowledge. DTH channel with sign languages - DAISY is also available for hearing impaired students. These latest technological advancements in the field of education have put India on a high pedestal.

India plays a significant role in the global education industry and in the coming years is expected to become one of the largest global talent providers. However, the need of the hour is to ensure that our students get a high-quality education coupled with hands-on practical experience. Our curriculums need to be skill-focused, more personalised and up to date.

Digital agility through digital education is the need of the hour. For digital education to be successful, the teachers should be imparted sufficient and efficient training so that they become comfortable in these new age modes of education. This, along with well-equipped infrastructure and internet connections should be made available in the remotest areas of the country to derive true benefits of this mode of education. Electronic gadgets and technology at affordable cost should be made available for the weaker sections of the society, making digital learning cost-effective and giving equal opportunities to everyone. Through this mode, learning can be made more interactive and engaging between the learner and the teacher. Digital education will immensely help in addressing India's vast cultural and language diversity.

India is favourably placed to reap the benefits of digitalisation of education that can change 'how and what' we learn and will certainly help in bridging the gap in interaction between the teacher and the student in near future. However, to be useful, digital education should complement the traditional mode of physical education and should not be at its cost. The benefits of physical education can't be undermined as personal touch and interaction also play a great role in the children's development. Both these modes should supplement each other. Only then will the country be able to reap the true benefits of Digital education by dramatically improving the learning capacity of the students and leading India to the path of glory.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CONTROVERSY OVER COLLEGIUM

Sir — The English language print media, through its editorials and write-ups, is supporting the dictatorial attitude of the Supreme Court of India over Collegium and cursing the Union Govt. on the logical dissent on the appointment of judges in the higher judiciary. Anyone who claims to be transparent and righteous must respect the people who think otherwise about the attitude of the SC judges. The virtues of anyone or the institution must follow the scrutiny of the people affected by it, not at all by self-righteous claims.

The support to the SC judges by the large section of the media seems because of their hate towards the present Union Govt and the political party heading the state. But we must remember the SC judges too like other individuals are not supernatural human beings. Rather the judges entering through the corrupt collegium are most likely not because of their talent but due to the favour granted by the collegium. No institution should be free from criticism and responsibility. Supreme Court judges are enjoying ultimate power without responsibility. The present setup of the SC is not only harmful to justice in Bharat but is also making governance difficult at every step.

RAGGING IN MEDICAL COLLEGES

Sir — Ragging in (life-saving, constructive) Medical colleges (of India) sounds contradictory and inhuman. Tomorrow's medical doctors should practice saving lives, not harming lives by ragging. All people of the modern era know that ragging is jungle law-oriented domination, sadism, and devilish nature. Parents of poor and middle-class families toil hard to send money to their children to pay expensive medical or college fees and hostel fees. Incidents of hurting and troubling others, money snatching, sound horrible, uncivilized, and surprising. Any form of ragging should be immediately stopped.

To help the helpless (juniors or anyone), the administration must urgently place extra helpers in any hostel or college

Iran bows to women power

Iran finally has scrapped its morality police after more than three months of protests triggered by the arrest of Mahsa Amini for allegedly violating the country's female dress code. Women who have been over the past couple of months led the most powerful and sustained street protests since the Islamic revolution of 1978-79. In Iran, over the years the strictness of mandatory rules on women's dress code has been enforced and for these strict rules the people, mostly women, were suffering. The protests in Iran have been led by women and young people demanding the end of clerical rule and social freedom, in which protesters chanted women's life, freedom made to tear off their Hijabs, burn them in street bonfires, and cut their hair in a symbolic act of defiance.

This has created the first major confession to authoritarian clerical rule to scrap the morality police and made the Iranian government declare that Hijab is a matter of personal choice. The women in Iran were not against the wearing of Hijab but were against the brutalities of the Morality police. 300 people were killed in protests, 14000 people were arrested and even 30 security forces were killed. Four people have been sentenced to death on the charge of enmity against God in connection with the recent anti-government protests in Iran. Kudos to the extraordinary courage of Iranian young people especially women who have been leading their protests and made the Iranian government bow down.

where ragging incidents are rising. In medical or other fields, ragging must be nullified immediately with innovative, friendly, and compassionate steps. If you punish raggers they will turn more vengeful and devilish. Educating students that only welcome parties, helping nature, happy development management, joyful success solutions, enjoy life constructively are the civilized and suitable (Panchatantra) to humans of any era. Please focus on gaining expertise in the medical field to help humanity. Not harm humanity.

INDIAN TEAM DISAPPOINTS AGAIN

Sir — Team India's track record in recent times is going for a toss as we could not finish off the opposition clinically as we lack the killer instinct in such competitive games. Winning is a habit and we lacked the will to win close games. Indian cricket has died a thousand deaths at Mirpur as we allowed the last two too long and thus lost the initiative. We did not have a single bowler who could take just one wicket. When we form a team we can witness the likes and dislikes of the captain and the coach thereby missing out on a balanced team for all formats of the game. The entire team including the coach and also the captain should be sacked and the team should be rebuilt from scratch.

High time we stop resting on our laurels and ICC rankings. It is just the magical figures that count for Indian selectors and we come straight to assess our team from IPL performances. The team is unsettled. Chopping and choosing the team combination is causing a lot of uncertainties in the team and bowling looks so weak and unsure. Batting is just good in patches and neither the experienced nor the new players are contributing to the score. Even in the past, we depended more on all-rounders to repair the damages and the trend continues. Playing a positive game of cricket and an aim to win matches can prove to be a tonic for this ill-fated Indian Team.

EMOTIONS SPOIL LIFE GOAL; AIM SENSIBLY

Lord Krishna counsels a realistic and sensible approach

AJIT KUMAR BISHNOI

Lord Krishna guides in the Bhagavad-Geeta, when He states, “In the bonafide Sankhya philosophy, these five causes have been stated for success in all actions.” (18.13) These are, “The place of action, the doer, many different kinds of instruments, many different efforts and the providence.” (18.14) The Lord states further, “Whatever action is begun by a man by body, speech and mind, these five are the causes of them.” (18.15) Lord Krishna summarises, “This being the case, still, who on account of immature intelligence thinks himself as the only doer, he is foolish; he does not understand.” (18.16)

Are we being foolish? Are we aiming too big or too small? Are we being realistic and sensible in setting our goals? Let us see if we are. There should be a fair assessment of the following. What are our abilities? Connected with this is our potential. An example will help us understand. Suppose there is a girl. Unfortunately, she is not pretty. On top of it she has tendency of becoming obese. Should she plan to enter the glamour world? No, she must focus on something to do with intelligence, if she is sharp in studies. Next come resources. What is available to us? Suppose there is a boy from a poor family, focus on getting a good job to begin his professional life. On the other hand, a boy from a rich family can plan to become a businessman. He should study and specialise in management from the best institutions.

The third criterion must be circumstances and opportunities available. A boy born to a yogi couple can think of becoming a yogi himself, blessed as he is. He has a tremendous start for making good spiritual progress in the present life. The fourth yardstick must be ‘yukta cheshta’ (appropriate efforts), as instructed by Lord Krishna in verse #6.17. Too much is counterproductive like a student appearing for an important exam studying all night. Too little is sick because all of us are expected to help ourselves as much as possible.

What does the Bhagavad-Geeta teach us in this connection? What did Lord Krishna promise Arjuna? In verse #2.37, He told Arjuna that if victorious he will enjoy the earth and if slain will achieve heaven. God did not even mention liberation because Arjuna was not an advanced devotee; he was just thinking of getting started, as he expressed in the verse #6.38. Lord clarified that a yogi, which Arjuna was not, achieves perfection due to practice of many births. (6.45) The creation works on the karmaphala principle, and mostly what we bring from our previous births come to fruition in the present life. Therefore, it is futile to imagine that we can achieve almost anything by our present efforts. This is not the way the creation works. For the present life, He counsels a realistic and sensible approach, when He states, “Be satisfied with any benefit, which comes of its own accord due to acts done earlier.” (4.22)

If we continue to harbour unrealistic desires, we will only get frustrated and waste a valuable human life. This is a materialistic way of thinking, in which God and His rules are ignored. One violates the ‘maryada’ (limit) of thinking and goes very far from reality. Lord Krishna has clearly warned that we have right in action, not ever in pre-determining fruits. (2.47) ‘Ahankar’ (ego) prompts it and should be shunned. We will be well served.

Amrit Mahotsav: Saga to tell untold stories

Yesterday was the death anniversary of Ambedkar, which gave us the opportunity to remember the unsung heroes of India

The dawn of the historic 76th Independence Day has marked the beginning of the era of ‘Amrit Kaal’. The valorous saga of struggle against the British Raj and subsequently earned freedom is the outcome of the immeasurable sacrifices of unsung heroes.

Amrit Mahotsav is celebrated to mark the 75th Birthday of the sage in mythology. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has conceptualized ‘Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav’ by drawing a similar parallel to Independent India’s 75th year journey. The ever-increasing public participation in Amrit Mahotsav events further pushes for the amalgamation of everything that aids in strengthening the political, social, and economic uplift of a value-driven India.

After the birth of Independent India, the pages of history remained knowingly and unknowingly skewed to celebrate specific Ideas and ideals that have shaped the India we breathe in today. The political aspiration and increasing groves of nepotism had hugely hampered the cause for crediting recognition to builders of the Nation. This opaque idealism towards their contribution might have been addressed in the short-term agenda of the then decision makers, but it became a sentimental hurt for many for a long time.

One such tallest nation builder, Dr Bhimrao Ambedkar, had a similar fate as the subsequent regimes didn’t heed the wholesomeness of Ambedkar’s deed and the subsequent psychological undercurrent among his well-wishers and followers. It is a crystal clear fact that it took 34 years to posthumously award him Bharat Ratna, similar is the fate of the installation of his portrait in the Central Hall, a place where he drafted the Constitution of India. The echo of Ambedkar in the Central Hall was an echo of social, political and economic justice for newly budding independent India. The journey for installing a life-size portrait in Parliament’s Central Hall is very heartening commentary for every fellow Ambedkarite.

A brief account of the record tells a grim picture of the happenings. As Dr Ambedkar breathed last on December 6, 1956, then onwards demand for installation for the Central Hall portrait was raised by his followers.

Despite the need, Jawaharlal Nehru rejected the demand for Dr. Ambedkar’s portraits, and Moti Lal Nehru’s portrait was installed on 30 March 1957. J.L. Nehru’s intentions and deep-rooted superiority complex visibly come out in his remark dated July 23, 1957 on the portrait demand of Prantiya Jataw Sabha, Gwalior, wherein he says: “So far as Dr Ambedkar’s portrait is concerned, I would have no objection to its being put up in the library or somewhere else provided it is relatively small or otherwise good.”

Later, the same demand was declined again by the then Jawaharlal Nehru Portrait

THE LIFE-SIZE PORTRAIT, MADE BY ARTIST ZEBAMAMROHAWI AND DONATED BY ‘THE BR AMBEDKAR VICHAR MANCH’, WAS UNVEILED BY PRIME MINISTER VPSINGH ON APRIL 12, 1990, AS PART OF THE CENTENARY YEAR CELEBRATION OF AMBEDKAR’S BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

(The author is Minister of State for Culture & Parliamentary Affairs, and Lok Sabha MP from Bikaner)

Parliamentary Committee on August 26, 1965, citing the unavailability of vacant panels in the central Hall. Ironically, the same unavailability turned to availability on May 5, 1966, when the Central Hall witnessed Pt Jawaharlal Nehru’s portrait.

It was time when the nation was marking the 75th birth anniversary of Dr Ambedkar. This eager demand for a central hall portrait was pacified by issuing a mere 15th paisa commemorative stamp. This indifferent attitude of the Congress government’s insensitivity towards the aspiration of Dr Ambedkar’s followers further intensified their demand.

Diluting from the core idea, Dr Ambedkar’s bronze statue, received from Dr Baba Saheb Memorial Committee, was installed at Iron Gate No. 3 on 2nd April 1967. The Then Prime Minister Smt. Indira Gandhi did not attend the statue unveiling ceremony.

Meanwhile, on November 19, 1987, the portrait of Indira Gandhi was installed in the Central Hall. At this stage, the demand for duly recognizing Baba Saheb’s portrait gets further impetus, and more and more Dalit MPs call the attention of Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi to confer him Bharat Ratna and Central Hall portrait. Under this pressure, the Rajiv Gandhi-led government consented to the portrait installation, and then Lok Sabha Speaker Balram Jakhar installed the central Hall portrait on August 9, 1989, which the B.R. Ambedkar Vichar Manch donated. These dynamics made it clear that this step resulted from compulsion and not by choice. It is ironic to learn that the installed portrait of Dr Ambedkar was withdrawn by succumbing to the ill-will agenda of congress leaders.

The portrait was removed from the Central Hall and found its new home in the Parliament museum along with other freedom fighters. This whole episode made a severe dent in the feelings of fans and followers of Baba Saheb. Many ambedkariate associations and Dalit MPs protested against this unruly gesture of the congress government. Atal Bihari Vajpayee, a reasoned voice of opposition, was a keen observant figure of the whole portrait dynamics.

The widely held precedent that the Central Hall portrait can be displayed only for the person whose portrait/statue/ bust not already installed in Parliament estate was contravened for the Nehru family by subsequent congress regimes. It was ironic that despite these exceptions, the same precedent was argued during the consideration and delaying of Ambedkar’s Central Hall portrait.

The awakened conscience of the followers of Dr. Ambedkar remained fully intact to check the long-drawn insensitivity of the congress-led dispensation. It was in 1989 that VP Singh’s government, externally supported by BJR, came to power, and Atal Bihari Vajpayee proposed to address this long pending grievance. A genuinely justified decision showed a path of light to the dark-ridden aspirations of fellow Ambedkarite, with the return of Dr Ambedkar’s Portrait in the Central Hall.

The life-size portrait, made by artist Zeba Amrohawi and donated by ‘The BR Ambedkar Vichar Manch’, was unveiled by prime minister VP Singh on April 12, 1990, as part of the centenary year celebration of Ambedkar’s birth anniversary.

Notably, the earlier regimes’ exhibited biases and insensitivities in recognizing the founding father’s significant contribution compelled us to reflect on the time scale for much-needed course correction. It carries a mammoth task to unearth the harsh realities as an outcome of indifference to the aspirations of a downtrodden section of society. The phenomenon of duly recognizing effort and sacrifices is a gesture that presents a better understanding of our past and adds dimensions to rational reasoning for bringing out the best in the future generation.

The ongoing ‘Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav’ is a righteous initiative of the Modi Government to express our sincere gratitude to the noble souls and all stakeholders whose unaccounted and undivided efforts are fulfilling the aspiration of the masses, enabling them to realize their full potential. It is a journey of building a value-driven India for nurturing upcoming generations. This festive occasion has brought up the spirit of independence alive again on a massive scale. Today on the death anniversary of Baba Saheb, let’s seize the opportunity by crediting due recognition to the unsung heroes of India by bringing out their hitherto untold stories. Let the spirit of ‘Amrit Mahotsav’ take everyone to scale new heights for the Nation.

How to check cheque bounce? Don’t issue cheques

With the advancement of technology of digital transfer, there is no reason to accept cheque as a payment instrument at all

As there is a large number of pending cases relating to cheque bounces in Maharashtra, Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat, and Rajasthan, the Supreme Court in May 22 has directed to constitute special courts in these states with retired judges.

Before the introduction of Section 138 of Negotiable Instruments Act in 1989, bouncing of cheque for want of funds was not straightaway a criminal offence. It was considered only as a civil dispute. There was a possibility to invoke Section 420 of Indian Penal Code to treat the cheque bounce as cheating. But in such cases, the beneficiary of the cheque had to prove the intention of the issuer of the cheque to cheat him. But after introduction of Section 138 of NI Act, if the cheque has been issued for clearance of liability and if the cheque is returned for insufficient balance in the account, it becomes a criminal offence. Of course, there are procedural aspects as to the need to give notice to pay, etc. This was made to enhance the acceptability of cheques in the country.

S KALYANASUNDARAM

Now it is reported that many suggestions were made at a high-level meeting recently called by the Government to deal with the high incidence of cheque bounce cases and the government is contemplating to introduce some of the suggestions.

One suggestion is to dip into other accounts of a cheque issuer in case of insufficient balance in one account which results in return of cheque. It is strange that the suggestion has been made without understanding the legal relationship between a banker and a customer. Banks open and operate accounts for customers as per the contract between the bank and the customer and it is subject to various provisions of Indian Contract Act.

Bankers cannot be made a party in the dispute between the drawer and payee of a cheque. The banker is there to execute the order of the drawer as the contract is between the banker and its customer. Making the banker help the beneficiary of a cheque will be patently illegal.

Banks can debit a customers’ account only as per mandate and not otherwise. There is Section 31 of NI Act which states as follows: Liability of drawee of cheque — The drawee of a cheque having sufficient funds of the drawer in his hands properly applicable to the payment of such cheque must pay the cheque when duly required so to do, and, in default of such payment, must compensate the drawer for any loss or damage caused by such default.

The Government is looking at another suggestion that is to prohibit opening of new accounts to offenders of cheque bounce cases. It is possible to implement this suggestion just with an administrative order from Reserve Bank of India. But the judiciary may look into such direction as discrimination as until an offence is proved and the person is convicted.

The issuer of the cheque bounce case cannot be considered as a person who has committed the offence until convicted by the court.

Yet another suggestion is to treat the cheque bounce similar to loan default and to inform credit information companies for necessary downgrade of score.

Industry body PHDCCI has suggested to the Finance Ministry to take measures like compulsory suspension of bank withdrawals for a few days to make cheque issuers accountable for their action in cheque bounce cases. Again patently it is illegal to stop operation in bank accounts for such a reason. Operations in bank accounts can be stopped only when there is a court order like Garnishee order, or where there is attachment order from Income Tax department, etc. Or there can be a banker’s general lien over the balance.

The industry body has also suggested enacting a law that from the date of dishonouring of cheque, the dispute between the two parties must be settled within 90 days through mediation. Enacting such a law may be easier. But how to implement the time line? Even in mediation there is scope to drag the case endlessly.

The best way to check cheque bounce cases is to reduce the incidence of issue of cheque. With the advancement of technology of digital funds transfer, there is no reason to accept cheque as a payment instrument at all. We may even remove the penal provision under Section 138. This penal provision was introduced when online transfers were not possible.

Now there is no necessity to continue the same and to provide an avenue for a number of criminal cases. If someone is still accepting a cheque as a medium for payment, it should be their funeral. Let them understand the risk and let them take that risk. Let them not be allowed to strain the already overburdened judiciary.

Russian airfield hit day after drone strikes on bases

AP ■■ KYIV

A fire that broke out at an airport in Russia's southern Kursk region that borders Ukraine was the result of a drone attack, the regional governor said Tuesday, a day after Moscow blamed Kyiv for drone strikes on two air bases deep inside Russia and launched a new wave of missile strikes on Ukrainian territory.

Kursk Governor Roman Starovoy said in a Telegram post that the drone attack ignited an oil reservoir in the area of Kursk airport and the blaze was being contained by crews at the scene.

Ukrainian officials have not formally confirmed carrying out the drone attacks, maintaining their apparent policy of deliberate ambiguity as they have done in the past when it comes to high-profile attacks on Russian targets.

Presidential adviser Mikhail Podolyak taunted Moscow in comments on Twitter.

"If something is launched into other countries' airspace, sooner or later unknown flying objects will return to the point of departure," Podolyak wrote. "The earth is round."

The unprecedented attacks in Russia - more than 500 km (300 miles) from the border with Ukraine - threatened a major escalation of the nine-month war. One of the airfields houses bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons.

The attacks also exposed the vulnerability of some of Russia's most strategic military sites, raising questions about the effectiveness of their air defenses.

Russia's Defence Ministry said three Russian servicemen were killed and four others wounded by debris, and that two aircraft were slightly damaged.

The ministry didn't say where the drones had originated. But Russian military bloggers said they likely were launched by Ukrainian scouts, and argued that the strikes had inflicted serious reputational damage on Moscow.

The attacks on the Engels base in the Saratov region on the Volga River and the Dyagilevo base in the Ryazan region in western Russia were part of Ukraine's efforts to curtail Russia's long-range bomber force, the ministry said.

The Engels base hosts Tu-95 and Tu-160 nuclear-capable strategic bombers that have been involved in strikes on Ukraine. Dyagilevo houses tanker aircraft used for mid-air refuelling.

In a daily intelligence update on the war in Ukraine, Britain's Defence Ministry said

Russia was likely to consider the base attacks as "some of the most strategically significant failures of force protection since its invasion of Ukraine".

It said the bombers would likely be dispersed to other airfields.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said that Russian authorities will "take the necessary measures" to enhance protection of key facilities in view of the latest Ukrainian attacks.

Speaking in a conference call with reporters Tuesday, Peskov said "the Ukrainian regime's course for continuation of such terror attacks poses a threat."

Peskov reaffirmed that Russia sees no prospects for peace talks now, adding that "the Russian Federation must achieve its stated goals."

EU, Western Balkans to boost partnership amid Ukraine war

AP ■■ TIRANA (ALBANIA)

EU leaders and their Western Balkan counterparts gathered Tuesday for talks aimed at boosting their partnership as Russia's war in Ukraine threatens to reshape the geopolitical balance in the region.

The EU wants to use the one-day summit in Albania's capital to tell leaders from Albania, Bosnia, Kosovo, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Serbia that they have futures within the wealthy economic bloc and give them concrete signs, rather than just promises, that they will join one day.

Since Russia invaded Ukraine in February, the EU's top diplomat, Josep Borrell, has been repeating that stepping up the bloc's engagement with the six nations is more crucial than ever to maintaining Europe's security.

As Europe's relationship with Russia deteriorates further because of the war, tensions have also mounted in the Balkans and the EU wants to avoid other flashpoints close to its borders.

"In the Western Balkans, several crises are looming, and partners feel the immediate damaging impact of Russia's aggression against Ukraine," Borrell said last month. "The shockwaves of this war are hitting the Western Balkans. To counter that, we are stepping up our engagement as the Western Balkans remain our geostrategic priority - the closest and most important geostrategic priority."

According to a draft of the declaration to be adopted at the summit, the EU will repeat "its full and unequivocal commitment to the European Union membership perspective of the Western Balkans" and call for an acceleration of accession talks with the incumbents.

In return, the EU expects full solidarity from its Western Balkans partners and wants them fully aligned with its foreign policies.

That particular point has been problematic with Serbia, whose president, Aleksandar Vucic, claims he wants to take Serbia into the European Union but has cultivated ties with Russia.

Although Serbia's representatives voted in favor of various U.N. Resolutions condemning Russia's invasion of Ukraine, Vucic has refused to explicitly condemn Moscow. His country has not joined Western sanctions against Russia over the war.

Although the progress of the six nations toward EU membership had stalled recently, there has been some progress over the past few months.

This summer, the EU started membership negotiations with Albania and North Macedonia following years of delays. And Bosnia moved a small step closer on its path to joining the powerful economic bloc when the commission advised member countries in October to grant it candidate status despite continuing criticism of the way the nation is run.

Kosovo has only started the first step, with the signing of a Stabilization and Association Agreement. It said it would apply for candidate status later this month.

Among the concrete measures to be adopted in Tirana, a deal involving telecommunications operators that will bring down data roaming charges will be announced. Discussions will also focus on the negative effects for energy and food security from Russia's war in Ukraine. European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen has already announced financial support to help countries in the Western Balkans cope with shortages and higher prices.

The EU last admitted a new member - Croatia, which is also part of the Balkans - in 2013. Before that, Bulgaria and Romania joined in 2007. With the withdrawal of the United Kingdom in 2021, the EU now has 27 member nations.

Latvia revokes licence of independent Russian TV channel

AP ■■ TALLINN

Latvia has revoked the license of an independent Russian TV channel exiled in the Baltic country for, among other things, voicing support for the Russian military and including Crimea in its map of Russia, media authorities said on Tuesday.

The decision by the Latvian National Electronic Mass Media Council was based on number of recent violations by TV Rain and the license was revoked on the grounds of a threat to national security and public order.

The region's main news agency, Baltic News Service, said the decision will take effect on Thursday when not only TV Rain's broadcasts but also its programs on YouTube will be blocked in Latvia.

TV Rain was earlier fined by the Latvian media watchdog for failing to ensure proper translation of its broadcasts into Latvian, the Baltic country's only official language.

On Friday, Latvia's state security service started a probe into statements made by TV Rain on suspicion that it was supporting Russia and its military currently waging a war in Ukraine.

Latvia's decision was triggered by a TV Rain programme in which the anchor invited Russian soldiers and their families watching it to share their stories with the channel and promised to offer help.

The host offered an apology, saying he wasn't promising material assistance to Russian troops on the front line in Ukraine, but the channel quickly fired him and apologized.

The incident came on top of earlier tensions with the Latvian authorities, who issued a reprimand over the channel depicting the Moscow-annexed Crimea as part of Russia on maps and referring to the Russian military as "our army."

TV Rain owner Natalya Sindeyeva said in an interview that she hasn't decided on the next steps yet.

First delivery of South Korean heavy weapons comes to Poland

AP ■■ GDYNIA

Polish President Andrzej Duda and the country's defense minister on Tuesday took delivery of a first shipment of tanks and howitzers from South Korea, hailing the swift implementation of a deal signed in the summer in the face of the war in neighboring Ukraine.

Duda and Mariusz Blaszczak were in the Polish Navy port of Gdynia, on the Baltic coast, to mark the arrival by sea of the first 10 Black Panther K2 tanks, along with 24 Thunder K9 howitzers, from a $5.8 billion deal with Seoul.

They stressed that South Korea responded quickly to the need by Poland, a European Union nation, to urgently increase its deterrence and defense potential as Russia is fighting a war in Ukraine, just across Poland's eastern border.

Korean government and defense industry officials were also present.

"This is the future, this is the real strengthening of Poland's security," Duda said, standing before the tanks and the howitzers.

"In order to stop aggression, to stop the enemy, it is necessary for the army to have this modern equipment," he added. More deliveries are planned through 2025.

Poland is purchasing hundreds of K2 Black Panther tanks made by Hyundai Rotem and of K9 Thunder howitzers made by Hanhwa Defense. The deal includes training, logistics and ammunition.

The conservative government in Warsaw is also buying Korean FA-50 fighter jets, a light training and combat aircraft made jointly by Korea Aerospace and Lockheed Martin, for some USD 3 billion.

Poland is also seeking a technology transfer so it can launch production domestically.

Hungary vetoes EU Ukraine aid, deepening rift with Brussels

AP ■■ BRUSSELS

A rift between the European Union and member state Hungary deepened Tuesday when Budapest vetoed an 18-billion euro ($18.93 billion) financial aid package to Kyiv, exacerbating a dispute over the rule of law in the country and Prime Minister Viktor Orban's outlook over Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

EU finance ministers also postponed any decision to punish Hungary by withholding billions of euros for failing to implement solid rule-of-law reforms.

Instead of ensuring unanimous support for aid to Ukraine, Hungary's veto made sure that the EU's other 26 member states would need work out a more complicated technical plan to make sure aid can keep flowing to Kyiv in the new year.

"In the end agreement was found on formulations that allow a flexible and quick way to deploy funds to Ukraine without fundamentally changing the way the EU manages its funds. I say agreement, but in the reality that agreement was minus one," said Tuomas Saarenheimo, the chairman of the EU Council Economic and Financial Committee.

Many nations see Orban's evasive tactics as a thinly veiled attempt to blackmail the EU into releasing billions in regular funding and pandemic recovery cash that has been held up.

The EU's 27 nations have until Dec. 19 to make a decision, and EU leaders meet for a two-day summit next week, increasing chances that the issues would still need to be grappled with at a later date.

EU nations have been mulling for years now whether to punish Orban for what he calls his brand of "illiberal democracy" but what is seen by many others as unfit for the EU's traditional sense of Western democratic liberalism.

On top of that, Orban has also angered the bloc's officials with his repeated criticism of EU sanctions targeting Russia for its war in Ukraine.

The EU's executive branch proposed that the bloc suspend around 7.5 billion euros ($7.5 billion) in regular funding to Hungary over concerns about democratic backsliding and the possible mismanagement of EU money. The Commission also wants to put conditions on Hungary's pandemic recovery plan worth 5.8 billion euros and insists Budapest implement 27 "super milestones" on democratic reforms to unlock the funding.

Russia unleashes missiles but Ukraine says most shot down

AP ■■ KYIV

Russia unleashed what Ukrainian authorities called the latest "massive missile attack" across their country, striking homes and buildings, killing civilians, and disrupting electrical power and water supplies in areas - notably in the Black Sea port city of Odesa. Ukraine's air force claimed it shot down more than 60 of the 70 missiles fired.

Hours earlier, explosions rocked two air bases deep inside Russia, and the Defense Ministry in Moscow said it had shot down two Ukrainian drones attacking the sites, and that three Russian servicemen were killed by falling debris and four others were wounded.

The attacks at the bases in the Saratov region on the Volga River and the Dyagilevo base in the Ryazan region in western Russia raised the threat of a dangerous escalation in the war.

Kyiv had not commented on the explosions at the Russian bases.

Russian President Vladimir Putin, meanwhile, drove a car across a bridge linking his country to the Crimean Peninsula following its repair from a truck bombing in October that had embarrassed Moscow.

Russia responded to the bridge attack by firing waves of missiles at Ukrainian infrastructure targets in the weeks that followed, and Monday's onslaught was just the latest round of retaliatory strikes. Russia is seeking to disable Ukraine's energy supplies and infrastructure as winter approaches - part of a new strategy in its nine-month war.

Defiant as ever, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy praised his military forces and the technicians who snapped into action to repair the damage.

"Air defense shot down most of the missiles," he said in brief comments on social media. "Power engineers have already started to restore electricity. Our people never give up."

Ukraine's air force said early indications showed Russian forces fired 38 cruise missiles from carriers in the Caspian Sea and from the southern Russian region of Rostov. Another 22 Kalibr cruise missiles were fired from its Black Sea fleet, and kong-range bombers, fighter jets and guided missiles were also involved, it said.

"In total, more than 60 invaders' missiles were shot down!" the air force said on its Telegram channel.

Ukraine's electricity provider, Ukrenergo, lashed out at Russia over "the eighth massive missile attack by a terrorist country," saying its facilities had been hit, triggering blackouts. It urged residents to stay in shelters as its crews tried to repair the damage.

In the capital of Kyiv, scores of people quickly filled the central Zoloti Vorota metro station after the warnings, and many checked their phones for updates. There were no immediate signs of whether the city or the surrounding region was hit.

Air raid sirens sounded across the country. Ukrainian media reported explosions in several parts of the country south of Kyiv, including Cherkasy, Kryvyi Rih and Odesa. Officials said water, electricity and central heating was cut to many parts of Odesa.

"The enemy is again attacking the territory of Ukraine with missiles!" Kyrylo Tymoshenko, the deputy head of the Ukrainian president's office, wrote on Telegram.

Tymoshenko said two people were killed and three others injured - including a 22-month-old child - in the village of Novosofiyivka in the southern Zaporizhzhia region.

In neighboring Moldova, the Interior Ministry said on its Facebook page that border patrol officers had found a rocket in an orchard near the northern city of Briceni near Ukraine.

Emergency services, including a bomb squad. Were sent to the scene. Controls in the vicinity have also been tightened, the ministry said. It was not immediately clear when the rocket may have landed or who fired it.

Moldovan Prime Minister Natalia Gavrilita stopped short of saying when the missile might have fallen but cautioned that "a new wave of missile attacks is taking place in Ukraine, which has direct consequences for our country." She warned that Moldova could suffer further power outages in the new Russian strikes.

Russia's Defense Ministry said the attack on its bases were part of Ukraine's efforts to curtail operations of Russia's long-range bomber force.

The Engels air base in the Saratov region houses nuclear-capable bombers and was the first time since the start of the conflict that such a facility was attacked. It's located over 600 kilometers (more than 370 miles) east of the border with Ukraine.

The Dyagilevo air base, which houses flight tankers used to refuel other planes in the air, is located about 500 kilometers (over 300 miles) northwest of the Ukrainian border.

The Russian Defense Ministry said four other servicemen were injured and two aircraft were lightly damaged by the drones' debris.

The ministry didn't say ement official responsible for the project.

Putin had inaugurated the bridge in a highly symbolic move after the annexation of Crimea in 2014.

Zelenskyy's office said three rocket strikes hit his hometown of Rih Krivyy Rih in south-central Ukraine, killing a factory worker and injuring three others. In the northeastern region of Kharkiv, a person was killed in strikes by S-300 missiles on civilian infrastructure in the town of Kupiansk, it said.

The war that began with Russia's invasion of Ukraine on Feb. 24 has displaced millions from their homes, killed and injured tens of thousands of people and shaken the world economy - notably through the fallout on the prices and availability of food, fertilizer and fuel that are key exports from Ukraine and Russia.

Western countries Monday imposed a $60-per-barrel price cap and a ban on some types of Russian oil, part of new measures aimed at stepping up pressure on Moscow over the war.

The move has prompted a rejection from the Kremlin and also criticism from Zelenskyy - whose government wants the cap to be half as high.

Russian Deputy Prime Minister Alexander Novak, who is in charge of energy issues, warned in televised comments Sunday that Russia won't sell its oil to countries that try to apply the price cap.

"We will only sell oil and oil products to the countries that will work with us on market terms, even if we have to reduce output to some extent," Novak said hours before the price cap took effect.

The 27-country European bloc also imposed an embargo on Russian oil shipped by sea.

Russia, the world's No. 2 oil producer, relies on oil and gas to underpin its economy, which has already come under sweeping international sanctions over the war.

In recent weeks, Russia has been pounding Ukrainian infrastructure - including power plants - with military strikes and keeping an offensive going in the east, notably in and around the town of Bakhmut.

China reiterates ‘no 1st use’ nuke policy, blasts US report

AP ■ BEIJING

China strictly adheres to its policy of no first use of nuclear weapons "at any time and under any circumstances," its Defence Ministry said Tuesday in a scathing response to a US report alleging a major buildup in Beijing's nuclear capabilities.

The Pentagon last week released an annual China security report that warned Beijing would likely have 1,500 nuclear warheads by 2035, and that it has provided no clarity on how it plans to use them.

That report "distorts China's national defence policy and military strategy, makes groundless speculation about China's military development and grossly interferes in China's internal affairs on the issue of Taiwan," ministry spokesperson Tan Kefei said in a statement.

Tan accused the US of being the "biggest troublemaker and destroyer of world peace and stability," and repeated that Beijing has never renounced the use of force to conquer self-governing Taiwan, a US ally that China considers part of its territory.

Tan did not directly address the report's allegations about a Chinese nuclear buildup, but blamed the US for raising nuclear tensions, particularly with its plan to help Australia build a fleet of submarines powered by US nuclear technology, which the French president has described as a "confrontation with China."

Australia has said it will not seek to arm the submarines with nuclear weapons. Tan also accused the US of having the world's largest nuclear arsenal, although that title is actually held by Russia, a close Chinese military, economic and diplomatic partner.

As of 2022, Russia possesses a total of 5,977 nuclear warheads compared to 5,428 in the US inventory, according to the Federation of American Scientists, China currently has 350 nuclear warheads, according to the federation.

China has long adhered to what it calls a purely defensive national security strategy, including a claim that it will never be the first to use nuclear weapons in a conflict. That stance has frequently been challenged at home and abroad, particularly if it comes to a confrontation over Taiwan.

"What needs to be emphasized is that China firmly pursues the nuclear strategy of self-defense and defense, always adheres to the policy of no first use of nuclear weapons at any time and under any circumstances, and maintains its nuclear force at the minimum level required for national security," Tan said in the statement, which was posted on the ministry's website.

His remarks came days after US Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin said the US is at a pivotal point with China and will need military strength to ensure that American values, not Beijing's, set global norms in the 21st century.

Austin's speech Saturday at the Reagan National Defence Forum capped a week in which the Pentagon was squarely focused on China's rise and what that might mean for America's position in the world.

China "is the only country with both the will and, increasingly, the power to reshape its region and the international order to suit its authoritarian preferences," Austin said. "So let me be clear: We will not let that happen."

North Korea fires artillery again over South Korea's drills

AP ■ SEOUL

North Korea on Tuesday fired a barrage of artillery rounds into waters near rival South Korea for the second consecutive day in a tit-for-tat for ongoing U.S.-South Korea live-fire drills in an inland border region.

South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff said it detected North Korea firing around 90 artillery rounds from the eastern coastal town of Kosong around 10 am and another 10 rounds from the nearby town of Kumgang around 6 pm.

It said the shells landed in the northern side of a maritime buffer zone the Koreans established in 2018 to reduce border tensions.

The South said it communicated verbal warnings to North Korea and urged it to abide by the military agreement.

The South Korean assessments were slightly different from details announced by North Korea's military, which said it fired 82 shells from multiple rocket launchers.

An unidentified spokesperson of the North Korean People's Army's General Staff said the firings were meant as a warning against "enemy side" artillery exercises in a region near the inter-Korean land border.

The spokesperson said South Korea was being hypocritical in criticising North Korea for breaching the 2018 agreement, saying the South's unspecified past actions in violation of the agreement must be "calculated first."

"The (Korean People's Army) seriously warns the enemy side once again to stop at once the irritating military actions in the area close to the front," the spokesperson said. "Our military counteraction against the continued provocative actions of the enemies will be more offensive as the days go by."

North Korea also on Monday fired around 130 artillery rounds into waters inside the maritime buffer zones with South Korea, while accusing the South of raising unnecessary tension in front-line areas.

The latest North Korean military action has worsened animosity between the rivals, whose relations have sharply declined amid a prolonged pause in nuclear negotiations between Washington and Pyongyang.

The South Korean army had earlier issued a public notice about live-fire exercises involving multiple rocket launch systems and howitzers in two separate testing grounds in the Cheorwon region this week.

South Korea's Defence Ministry on Tuesday confirmed that the exercises, which began on Monday and continue through Wednesday, are part of combined training with U.S. Troops.

The ministry said that the exercises did not run against the 2018 inter-Korean military agreement, because they are being conducted outside the ground buffer zone set within 5 kilometers of the military demarcation line separating the Koreas.

"We sternly warn that North Korea will be solely responsible for any outcome produced by the North's unilateral and consistent violations" of the 2018 agreement, the ministry said in a statement.

North Korea's military said it ordered Monday's artillery fire after detecting dozens of South Korean projectiles flying southeast from the Cheorwon region.

South Korean lawmakers raise concerns over Chinese voters

AP ■ SEOUL

Members of South Korea's ruling conservative party have proposed a bill that would place tighter restrictions on the voting rights of foreign permanent residents in local elections, which they insist is necessary to protect the country's democracy from being undermined by Chinese voters.

Critics say the efforts to pass the bill could exacerbate racism and hatred toward Chinese people living in South Korea and would be a step back in an increasingly multicultural society that needs to embrace immigration to make up for an aging and shrinking population.

People Power Party lawmaker Kwon Seong-dong, a close ally of President Yoon Suk Yeol, said Tuesday it has become crucial to prevent the voting system from being exploited as a "maneuvering tool" by other governments.

Chinese Prez Xi to visit Saudi Arabia to blunt US influence

PTI ■ BEIJING

Chinese President Xi Jinping will make a three day-official visit to Saudi Arabia starting Wednesday during which he will attend the China-Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) meeting.

While there is no official announcement here about his visit, Saudi state media reported on Tuesday that President Xi will arrive in the Gulf Kingdom on Wednesday for a three-day visit to the world's largest oil producer.

The visit will include a bilateral summit chaired by Saudi King Salman and attended by Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, the kingdom's de facto ruler, according to the Saudi state media reports.

Xi will also attend a summit with rulers from the six-member GCC and talks convening leaders from elsewhere in the Middle East, the report said.

The GCC is a regional, intergovernmental, political, and economic union comprising Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates.

Xi's arrival coincides with heightened tensions between Saudi Arabia and the US over issues ranging from energy policy to regional security and human rights.

His visit also comes in the backdrop of assertions by US President Joe Biden that Washington will not cede the Middle East to Beijing.

"We will not walk away and leave a vacuum to be filled by China, Russia, or Iran... The US is not going anywhere," Biden told the assembled Arab leaders when he visited Riyadh in July.

The US and Saudi Arabia are still embroiled in a heated spat over oil production. In October, OPEC+ slashed output by two million barrels per day in an effort to "stabilise" prices. The decision was taken despite heavy US campaigning against it.

The Chinese president's visit, which comes as he faces mounting pressure at home over opposition to his "zero Covid" strategy, underscores China's desire to boost links in a region that is traditionally seen by Washington as falling under its sphere of influence, the Financial Times reported.

Officers to receive Congressional Gold Medals for Jan 6

AP ■ WASHINGTON

Top House and Senate leaders will present law enforcement officers who defended the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021, with Congressional Gold Medals on Tuesday, awarding them Congress's highest honour nearly two years after they fought with former President Donald Trump's supporters in a brutal and bloody attack.

To recognize the hundreds of officers who were at the Capitol on Jan. 6, the medals will be placed in four locations — at U.S. Capitol Police headquarters, the Metropolitan Police Department, the Capitol and the Smithsonian Institution. President Joe Biden said when he signed the legislation last year that a medal will be placed at the Smithsonian museum "so all visitors can understand what happened that day."

The ceremony in the Capitol Rotunda comes as Democrats, just weeks away from losing their House majority, race to finish a nearly 18-month investigation of the insurrection.

Democrats and two Republicans conducting the probe have vowed to uncover the details of the attack, which came as Trump tried to overturn his election defeat and encouraged his supporters to "fight like hell" in a rally just before the congressional certification.

Awarding the medals will be among House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's last ceremonial acts as she prepares to step down from leadership. When the bill passed the House more than a year ago, she said the law enforcement officers from across the city defended the Capitol because they were "the type of Americans who heard the call to serve and answered it, putting country above self."

"They enabled us to return to the Capitol," and certify Biden's presidency, she said then, "to that podium that night to show the world that our democracy had prevailed and that it had succeeded because of them."

Trump Organisation tax fraud trial in jury's hands

AP ■ NEW YORK

Jurors started deliberating Monday in the Trump Organization's criminal tax fraud trial, weighing charges that former President Donald Trump's company helped executives dodge personal income taxes on perks such as Manhattan apartments and luxury cars.

The deliberations follow a monthlong trial that featured testimony from seven witnesses, including longtime Trump Organization finance chief Allen Weisselberg and Senior Vice President and Controller Jeffrey McConney. An outside accountant who spent years preparing tax returns for Trump and the company also testified.

About 40 minutes into deliberations, jurors sent a note asking the judge to reread the elements of one of the charges, conspiracy to defraud in the fourth degree.

Iran officials sentence 5 to death for killing Basij officer

AP ■ CAIRO

Iranian authorities sentenced five people to death for allegedly killing an officer affiliated with Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard, state media said Tuesday. Eleven others received lengthy prison sentences.

The 13 men and three minors had been charged with killing Ruhollah Ajamian, an official from the Basij, a paramilitary volunteer branch of Iran's elite Revolutionary Guard, according to the report from IRNA, Iran's state news agency.

The five sentenced to death Monday were charged by Iran's Revolutionary Court, along with eight others. Three boys were charged by Iran's Criminal Court, according to the report. Iran's judiciary spokesman, Masoud Setayeshi, who is cited in the report, provided no evidence to support any of the accusations.

The alleged killing took place in Karaj, near Tehran, on Nov. 12 when the 16 encircled and attacked Ajamian with knives and stones, the report said. IRNA did not disclose the identities of the 16. It said their sentences can be appealed.

The sentences come amid months of anti-government demonstrations that have been violently suppressed by Iran's security forces.

Taliban allow high school graduation exams for Afghan girls

AP ■ ISLAMABAD

Afghan girls will be allowed to take their high school graduation exams this week, an official and documents from the Taliban government indicated Tuesday — even though they have been banned from classrooms since the former insurgents took over the country last year.

According to two documents from the Taliban ministry of education, obtained by The Associated Press, the decision applies to 31 out of Afghanistan's 34 provinces where the winter school break starts in late December.

Nepal polls: Rise of two new parties ends monopoly of traditional forces in Madhes region

PTI ■ KATHMANDU

The recently concluded election in Nepal has witnessed two new parties - Janamat Party and Nagarik Unmukti Party - entering into Parliament from the Terai or Madhes region, ending the monopoly of the two traditional parties in the southern plains bordering India.

In fact, the combined strength of both the traditional forces of Terai - Janata Samajwadi Party (JSP) led by Upendra Mahato and Lokatantrik Samajwadi Party (LSP) led by Mahantha Thakur — has been reduced by 50 per cent in the just concluded polls.

Five years ago, the two Terai-based parties had a combined strength of 33 in the House of Representatives. However, their combined strength has been reduced to just 16 seats, with the emergence of two new political parties in the region.

In the recent election, JSP has bagged seven seats under direct voting and it will get five more seats under proportionate voting. Similarly, LSP has won just 4 seats but it would not get any seat under proportionate voting as the party failed to get national recognition.

Political analyst Rajesh Ahiraj, who closely monitors Madhesi politics, said that corruption, communalism and provocative politics are the main factors that made these traditional Madhesi parties weaker and tarnished their image in the Terai region.

Fitch: India to grow at 7% this fiscal

India could be one of fastest-growing markets this year: Fitch Ratings

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Fitch Ratings on Tuesday retained India's economic growth forecast at 7 per cent for the current fiscal, saying India could be one of the fastest-growing emerging markets this year. It, however, cut the projections for the next two financial years, stating that even though the country is shielded to some extent from global economic shocks but is not impervious to global developments. In its December edition of the Global Economic Outlook, Fitch projected India's GDP to grow at 7 per cent in the current fiscal and slow to 6.2 per cent in 2023-24 and 6.9 per cent in 2024-25.

In September, Fitch had projected 7 per cent growth for the current fiscal, followed by 6.7 per cent in 2023-24 and 7.1 per cent growth in 2024-25.

Given the stronger-than-expected outturn, Fitch forecasts growth at 7 per cent in the financial year ending March 2023 (FY23).

"India is expected to record one of the fastest growth rates among emerging markets in our Fitch20 coverage this year," it said.

India is shielded to some extent from global economic shocks given the domestically focused nature of its economy, with consumption and investment making up the bulk of the country's GDP.

World Bank revises upwards India's GDP growth forecast to 6.9% for FY23

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The World Bank on Tuesday revised upwards its GDP growth forecast for India to 6.9 per cent for 2022-23, saying the economy was showing higher resilience to global shocks.

In its India Development Update, the World Bank said the revision was due to higher resilience of the Indian economy to global shocks and better-than-expected second quarter numbers.

India's economy grew at 6.3 per cent in September quarter 2022-23 as compared to 13.5 per cent in the preceding June quarter, mainly on account of contraction in output of manufacturing and mining sectors.

This is the first upgrade of India's growth forecast by any international agency amid the global turmoil.

In October, the World Bank had cut India's GDP growth forecast to 6.5 per cent from 7.5 per cent earlier. Now, it has upgraded the projection to 6.9 per cent for 2022-23 (April 2022-March 2023).

The report titled 'Navigating the Storm,' said while the deteriorating external environment will weigh on India's growth prospects, the economy is relatively well positioned to weather global spillovers compared to most other emerging markets.

Impact of a tightening global monetary policy cycle, slowing global growth and elevated commodity prices will mean that the Indian economy will experience lower growth in 2022-23 compared to 2021-22 (8.7 per cent), it said.

Despite these challenges, it said, the update expects India to register a strong GDP growth and remain one of the fastest growing major economies in the world, due to a robust domestic demand.

"The World Bank has revised its 2022-23 GDP forecast upward to 6.9 per cent from 6.5 per cent (in October 2022), considering a strong outturn in India in second quarter (July-September) of 2022-23 financial year," the India Development Update said.

Markets settle lower, Sensex falls for third day

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Benchmark indices ended the day in the negative territory on Tuesday amid weak global market trends and rising crude prices.

Falling for the third day running, the 30-share BSE benchmark ended 208.24 points or 0.33 per cent lower at 62,626.36. During the day, it tumbled 444.53 points or 0.70 per cent to 62,390.07.

The broader NSE Nifty declined 58.30 points or 0.31 per cent to end at 18,642.75.

"Bears kept pushing domestic indices lower amid unfavourable global cues, with significant selling in metal and IT stocks. The mood was dampened by renewed concerns over policy tightening by the Fed in response to strong economic data out of the US. However, while easing COVID curbs in China benefited the demand outlook, fresh sanctions on Russian oil further added volatility to global oil markets. Investors at home await the RBI policy meet tomorrow," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Among the Sensex pack, Tata Steel, Dr Reddy's, Infosys, State Bank of India, Bharti Airtel, ICICI Bank, IndusInd Bank, Tata Consultancy Services, Tech Mahindra, HCL Technologies and Maruti were the major laggards.

Hindustan Unilever, UltraTech Cement, Power Grid and Nestle were among the winners.

Rupee slumps 76 paise to close at 82.61 against US dollar

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The rupee declined by 76 paise to close at 82.61 against the US dollar on Tuesday due to heavy selling pressure in domestic equities and rising crude prices in the overseas markets.

In addition, investors remained concerned over continued foreign capital outflows ahead of the RBI's policy announcement on Wednesday, forex dealers said.

At the interbank foreign exchange market, the local unit opened weak at 81.94, then slipped further to end at 82.61, registering a fall of 76 paise. During the day, the local unit witnessed an intraday high of 81.94 and a low of 82.63.

In the previous session on Monday, the rupee had settled down by 52 paise at 81.85 against the dollar.

The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, slipped 0.05 per cent to 105.24.

Global oil benchmark Brent crude futures rose 0.64 per cent to USD 83.22 per barrel.

On the domestic equity market front, the 30-share BSE Sensex fell 208.24 points or 0.33 per cent to end at 62,626.36, while the broader NSE Nifty 58.30 declined points or 0.31 per cent to 18,642.75.

Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) were net sellers in the capital markets on Monday as they sold shares worth Rs 1,139.07 crore, according to exchange data.

The World Bank on Tuesday revised upwards its GDP growth forecast for India to 6.9 per cent for 2022-23, saying the economy was showing higher resilience to global shocks.

Sebi can relax rules for Govt for PSU disinvestment

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Capital markets regulator Sebi can relax regulatory norms for the Central Government in relation to strategic disinvestment of public sector undertakings (PSUs), according to a notification.

"The Board (Sebi) may after due consideration of the interest of the investors and the securities market and for the development of the securities market, relax the strict enforcement of any of the requirements of these regulations if an application is made by the Central Government in relation to its strategic disinvestment in a listed entity," Sebi said in a notification made public on Tuesday.

To give this effect, the regulator has amended LODR (Listing Obligations and disclosure Requirements) norms.

Earlier in September, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) had decided to dispense with a requirement for calculating open offer price with respect to the disinvestment of PSUs.

As per Sebi norms, one of the parameters prescribed to determine the open offer price of a frequently traded scrip is Volume-Weighted Average Market Price (VWAMP) for 60 trading days immediately preceding the date of the public announcement.

The board of Sebi approved amending the takeover regulations in the context of strategic disinvestment of PSUs and consideration payable under open offer.

"The market price of the PSU company undergoing strategic disinvestment becomes susceptible to... Periodic disclosures.

"Considering the unique nature of transaction and process involved in a PSU disinvestment spanning over a long period, such a requirement of determination of open offer price under the takeover regulations many a time acts as an impediment in fructifying such strategic disinvestment of PSUs," Sebi has said.

Against this backdrop, Sebi has decided to dispense with the requirement of calculating 60 days' VWAMP for the determination of open offer price in case of disinvestment of PSU companies wherein it results in its change in control, either by way of direct acquisition or indirect acquisition.

Adani among 3 Indian billionaires on Forbes Asia Heroes of Philanthropy list

PTI ■ SINGAPORE

Indian billionaires Gautam Adani, Shiv Nadar, and Ashok Soota, as well as Malaysian-Indian businessman Brahmam Vasudevan and his lawyer wife Shanthi Kandiah, were named in the 16th edition of Forbes Asia's Heroes of Philanthropy list released on Tuesday.

The unranked list "highlights leading altruists in the Asia-Pacific region who demonstrated a strong personal commitment to philanthropic causes," Forbes said in a press release.

Adani was listed for having pledged Rs 60,000 crores (USD 7.7 billion) when he turned 60 in June this year. The pledge makes him one of India's most generous philanthropists, the press release said.

The money will address healthcare, education, and skill development and will be channelled through the family's Adani Foundation, which was founded in 1996.

Each year, the foundation helps nearly 3.7 million people across India.

Self-made billionaire and philanthropist Shiv Nadar counts among the top donors in India, having channelled close to USD 1 billion of his wealth over a few decades to various social causes through the eponymous Shiv Nadar Foundation.

This year he donated Rs 11,600 crore (USD 142 million) to the foundation he established in 1994, intending to create an equitable, merit-based society by empowering individuals through education.

Nadar, who cofounded

HCL Technologies has helped set up educational institutions such as schools and universities via the foundation, which also promotes art and culture. He stepped down from executive roles at the IT services company in 2021.

Tech tycoon Ashok Soota has pledged Rs 600 crore (USD 75 million) to the medical research trust he founded in April 2021 for the study of ageing and neurological illnesses.

He started SKAN- Scientific Knowledge for Ageing and Neurological ailments-with a Rs 200 crore outlay, which he has since tripled.

Cut excise duty on CNG till gas included in GST: Parikh panel

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The Union Government should moderate the excise duty it levies on CNG till such time that the environment-friendly natural gas is included in the one-nation-one-tax GST regime, Kirit Parikh Committee has recommended.

Natural gas is currently outside the ambit of GST, and existing legacy taxes -- central excise duty, state VAT and central sales tax -- continue to be applicable on the fuel.

While the central government does not levy excise duty on natural gas when sold in gaseous form, it charges a 14 per cent tax on compressed natural gas (CNG). States levy VAT as high as 24.5 per cent on gas.

The Parikh Committee, which was formed to recommend fair price of gas to the end consumer and a 'market-oriented, transparent and reliable pricing regime', in its report to the Oil Ministry last week suggested that "gas should be brought under the GST regime".

"The committee recognise that this requires consensus among the states," it said.

"To obtain this, if need be the states may be compensated for five years for any loss in revenue. The process of getting the needed consensus should be initiated now."

Natural gas along with crude oil, petrol, diesel and ATF were kept out of the GST regime when the single rate of taxation for goods and services was rolled out on July 1, 2017.

Gas-producing states, such as Gujarat, feared a loss of revenue if VAT and other taxes were to get subsumed into the GST.

"Till the time the GST regime is implemented, Government may consider moderating the Central Excise duty rate on CNG to reduce the burden of higher natural gas costs on the consumers," the committee report said.

Fertiliser subsidy bill in FY'23 seen at ₹2.3-2.5 lakh cr; may fall 25pc in FY'24: FAI

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The government's fertiliser subsidy will rise to Rs 2.3-2.5 lakh crore in this fiscal but the bill may fall by 25 per cent in the 2023-24 financial year with moderation in global prices, according to industry body FAI.

Fertilisers Association of India (FAI) expressed concern that the fixed cost of urea has not been increased affecting the viability of urea plants. It also pointed out that the industry is running on a very thin margin, which is hampering new investments in this sector.

The industry body said there is sufficient availability of fertilisers, including urea and DAP, for the ongoing rabi (winter-sown) season.

"We estimate the fertiliser subsidy bill at Rs 2.3 lakh crore to Rs 2.5 lakh crore," FAI President K S Raju told reporters here late Monday.

This has helped insulate the farmers from the impact of a steep increase in the cost of all fertilisers due to sharp rise in international prices of fertilisers and raw materials, he added.

The fertiliser subsidy stood at Rs 1.62 lakh crore in the previous financial year.

FAI board member P S Gahlaut, who is MD of Indian Potash Ltd, said the subsidy bill in the next fiscal year could fall by around 25 per cent as the global prices have softened. However, he said a lot will depend on the future trends of global prices.

Global airline industry to post USD 6.9 bn loss in 2022: IATA

PTI ■ GENEVA

The global airline industry is projected to report a lower loss at USD 6.9 billion in 2022, mainly due to stronger passenger yields and cost control by carriers amid rising fuel prices, according to industry body IATA.

In June, the International Air Transport Association (IATA) projected the industry loss at USD 9.7 billion. In October 2021, it forecast a loss of USD 11.6 billion for this year.

On Tuesday, IATA said the global airline industry is expected to return to profitability in 2023 and post a small net profit of USD 4.7 billion.

After being significantly impacted by the coronavirus pandemic, the airline industry is on the recovery path.

In 2022, airline net loss is expected to be USD 6.9 billion.

This is significantly better than loss of USD 42 billion and USD 137.7 billion in 2021 and 2020, respectively, it said.

"We are on the right path... But still a long way to go," IATA Director General Willie Walsh said at a briefing here on Tuesday.

For 2022, IATA said the improved prospects stem largely from strengthened yields and strong cost control in the face of rising fuel prices.

"Passenger yields are expected to grow by 8.4 per cent (up from 5.6 per cent anticipated in June). Propelled by that strength, passenger revenues are expected to grow USD 438 billion (up from USD 239 billion in 2021)," it noted.

In the Asia Pacific region, airlines are projected to post a loss of USD 10 billion this year and the loss is expected to narrow to USD 6.6 billion in 2023.

The Asia Pacific region, IATA said, is critically held back by the impact of China's zero COVID policies on travel.

Gold falls ₹473, silver tumbles ₹1,241

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Gold price fell by Rs 473 to Rs 53,898 per 10 gram in the national capital on Tuesday amid weak global trends, according to HDFC Securities.

In the previous trade, the precious metal had touched Rs 54,371 per 10 gram.

Silver also tumbled by Rs 1,241 per kg to Rs 65,878 per kilogram.

In the international market, gold was trading lower at USD 1,770.75 per ounce while silver was down at USD 22.38 per ounce.

"Stronger-than-expected US services data on Monday renewed pressure on the US Fed to keep interest rates higher for a longer and triggered a slide in the yellow metal," said Dilip Parmar, Research Analyst at HDFC Securities.

India's thermal power generation rises by 16% in Nov

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India's thermal power generation registered a growth of 16.28 per cent at 87,687 MU (million units) in November this year as compared to 75,412 MU generated in the corresponding month of previous fiscal.

The overall generation of power in the country also increased by 14.63 per cent from 1,02,968 MU to 1,18,029 MU in the reporting month year-on-year.

Power utilities' despatch went up by 3.55 per cent to 62.34 million tonnes (MT) during November this year as compared to 60.20 MT in the year-ago month, the coal ministry said in a statement.

Meanwhile, the country's total coal output went up by 11.66 per cent to 75.87 MT last month over 67.94 MT in November last fiscal.

As per the latest figures of the coal ministry, Coal India Ltd (CIL) clocked a production growth of 12.82 per cent during November, whereas the output of Singareni Collieries Company Limited (SCCL) and captive mines/others registered a growth of 7.84 per cent and 6.87 per cent, respectively.

Of the top 37 coal producing mines, as many as 24 produced more than 100 per cent, while the output of five mines stood between 80 and 100 per cent.

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Ravinder Singh Dhillion, RCMD, PFC signed the MoU with Alok Kumar, Secretary, Ministry of Power in the presence of Ashish Upadhyaya, Special Secretary & FA, MoP, Ajay Tewari, Additional Secretary, MoP, Piyush Singh, Joint Secretary, MoP, Parminder Chopra, Director (Finance), PFC, and Rajiv Ranjan Jha, Director (Projects), PFC.

Established in 1986, PFC today is the largest government owned NBFC in India.

In 2021, it became the first CPSE to be accorded the prestigious Maharatna status in the financial space. PFC has been showing a strategic shift in its loan portfolio with focus on the Renewables space, setting itself as one of the largest funding agencies for renew-ables in the country.

Recently the company got its MoA changed to fund the infrastructure and logistics space as well. It is a key partner to Government of India for implementation of several schemes such as Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme (RDSS), Liquidity Infusion Scheme under Atmanirbhar Bharat, Late Payment Surcharge Rules (LPS), Independent Transmission Projects (ITPs) etc and has been one of the highest dividend paying companies.

NEYMAR THOUGHT WC OVER DUE TO ANKLE INJURY

AP ■ DOHA

Brazil superstar Neymar admitted he feared his participation in the Qatar World Cup could be over after he sustained an ankle injury in their opening match against Serbia.

The 30-year-old missed his side's last two group games before making a scoring return from the penalty spot in their 4-1 last-16 thrashing of South Korea on Monday.

"I was afraid of not being able to play in this World Cup again but I had all the support of my friends and family and I tried to find strength where I could not find it," said Neymar.

"I did not feel any pain in my ankle. I think my performance went very well and I'm very content, but that said I think we can always improve and that's what I will try to do."

Brazil coach Tite denied suggestions that he may have shown a lack of respect to his team's opponents after joining Richarlison in a celebratory dance on the touchline during the first period.

Roy Keane was among those who slammed the celebration but Tite insisted it had been pre-planned and was not aimed at mocking the South Koreans.

"I said (to Richarlison) if you show it to me I'll do it, but we have to be careful because various people will say it was disrespectful," said Tite.

"I didn't want it to be misinterpreted as anything less than a sense of happiness for the goal and for the result, and not that we were disrespecting our opponent which was not the case."

South Korea coach Paulo Bento

announced his departure from the role in the wake of his side's comprehensive defeat.

The 53-year-old, who took over in August 2018, said he had already made the decision to bow out after the tournament prior to travelling to Qatar.

"I have just announced to the players and to the president of the South Korean federation and this was a decision I had already taken since September that was set in stone.

"Today I have confirmed it and I have to thank them for everything they have done. They have given their very best and I have been very pleased and proud to have been their manager."

VINIcius JR IS CONFIDENT BRAZIL CAN REACH WORLD CUP FINAL

Brazil can power on to the 2022 World Cup final according to Real Madrid star Vinicius Junior.

The Samba Boys cruised in the quarter finals in Qatar on the back of a 4-1 win over South Korea in the last 16 in Doha.

Vincius Jr scored and laid on an assist for Lucas Paqueta as Brazil stormed into a 4-0 lead before half time at Stadium 974.

Up next for Brazil is a last eight meeting with Croatia, and Vini Jr is confident they can continue into the final stages of the tournament in the Middle East.

"I'm very happy with my game and the team's performance", as per reports Diario AS.

"In my last game I scored, but it was ruled out. Now I'm more relaxed.

"With the passing of the games it will become more difficult and against Croatia it will be a battle.

"We want to dance all the way to the final."

If Brazil can beat Croatia in the quarter finals, they will take on either Argentina or the Netherlands in the semi finals, in Lusail on December 13.

Based on the structure of the draw, France and Spain are their most likely final opponents, as Brazil aim for a first World Cup title since 2002.

Bento steps down as South Korea coach

AP ■ DOHA

Paulo Bento announced he would not be staying on as coach of South Korea after they were eliminated from the World Cup with a 4-1 defeat at the hands of Brazil on Monday.

"Now I need to think about the future, but I will not be with the Korea team. I am going to rest and then see," the 53-year-old former Portugal coach said after the loss in the last 16.

"I have just told the players and the president of the national federation.

"This is a decision which I took in September. It was set in stone and today I confirmed it. I have to thank them and am very proud to have been their manager."

Bento took over following the 2018 World Cup, succeeding Shin Tae-yong.

In Qatar, he led South Korea to the knockout round for the first time since 2010 with a last-gasp win over Portugal in their final group game.

"I believe we can be very proud of what we have done at this World Cup, and what we have done over the last four years to get here," said Bento, who coached his home country at the 2014 tournament in Brazil.

A Korean side captained by Son Heung-min got to Qatar by finishing second in their qualifying group behind Iran but their last-16 exit means they have still never won a World Cup knockout tie outside of their home country.

"I think we did really well in the group stage although I think we could have picked up more points as we should have beaten Ghana," Bento said.

"But I think we can be very proud and I am proud with what we have done over the last four years."

He added: "This has undoubtedly been one of the best groups of players I have had the opportunity to work with."

Spain shoot-out of WC

AP ■ DOHA

Spain coach Luis Enrique had claimed his players prepared by taking 1,000 penalties as homework but Pablo Sarabia, Carlos Soler and Sergio Busquets all missed from the spot and Madrid-born Hakimi dinked his home to the delight of Morocco's raucous support.

Walid Regragui's side will face Portugal or Switzerland in what is uncharted territory for them, with their previous best a last-16 exit in 1986.

Spain had been hoping they could repeat their 2010 World Cup triumph after reaching the semi-finals of Euro 2020, where they were also beaten on penalties by Italy.

The teams were closely matched through a nail-biting clash, with Spain having more of the ball but Morocco creating the better openings, few though they were.

Luis Enrique trialed his third right-back of the tournament in Marcos Llorente, and benched the team's top scorer Alvaro Morata for Marco Asensio, after the shock defeat by Japan.

Spain monopolised the ball, with Morocco's fans furiously whistling with their side out of possession.

With La Roja playing in a pale blue second strip, they resembled the away team on hostile territory.

Gavi, who at 18 years and 123 days old became the youngest player to start a World Cup knockout game since Brazil great Pele in 1958, rose to the occasion.

The Barcelona midfielder terrier was at his most intense, smashing into challenges left, right and centre, even diving to make one with his head.

Morocco goalkeeper Yassine Bounou tipped a Gavi strike on to the crossbar, though it would have been ruled offside, while Asensio drilled into the side-netting, although Spain created little.

Regragui's side sat deep defensively and threatened on the counter, with Unai Simon beating away a long range effort from Noussair Mazraoui.

Toothless Spain Sofiane Boufal, who bypassed Llorente like sand slipping through the Spaniard's fingers early on, carved the best chance of the half for Nayef Aguerd, who headed inches over.

Bounou pummelled away a Dani Olmo strike from an angle as the tension cranked up after the break.

Luis Enrique raged at Rodri for choosing the wrong option on the ball, and withdrew the dogged and muddled Gavi for Carlos Soler.

He threw Morata on too, giving Spain a focal point up top, but they struggled to supply him as Morocco sat deeper and deeper.

Another substitute, Nico Williams did find the Atletico Madrid striker on one occasion but the angle was too tight and he scraped a shot across the face of goal.

Bounou made a fine save from Olmo's free-kick as it almost snuck all the way through, with Spain finally creating stronger chances as the game frayed in the moments before extra-time.

Morocco responded in the additional period by finding stability and testing Simon, who made a fine save with his legs to deny Walid Cheddida after he broke in down Spain's left flank.

Despite heavy pressure by Spain in the final moments before penalties, they could not trouble the Sevilla goalkeeper again, with Pablo Sarabia clipping the outside of the post, although he might have been offside.

Having been sent on apparently for the shoot-out, Sarabia struck the post again from Spain's first penalty, after Abdelhamid Sabiri had sent Morocco ahead.

Bierhoff steps aside after Germany's exit

AP ■ DOHA

Germany's team director Oliver Bierhoff has stepped aside two years early after his country crashed out in the group stage for the second consecutive World Cup, the national association said on Monday.

The four-time World Cup winners had a poor campaign in Qatar, which included defeat against Japan in their opening game.

Bierhoff and the German Football Association (DFB) have agreed "to terminate his contract, which runs until 2024, early", the association said in a statement.

Former striker Bierhoff, who scored two goals in the Euro 1996 final when Germany last won the tournament, had worked for the body since 2004.

Bierhoff was an influential and very public figure alongside coaches Juergen Klinsmann, then Joachim Loew before Hansi Flick took over in 2021.

DFB president Bernd Neuendorf said in a statement that Bierhoff had "rendered great services to the (association)".

While the last few tournaments "fell short", he would still be remembered for "great moments", Neuendorf said, highlighting his work at the 2014 World Cup in Brazil, which Germany won.

"Even in turbulent times, he always pursued his goal and vision, and leaves a lasting mark on the DFB," he added.

The early exit for coach Flick's team has left Germany's once fearsome reputation in tatters.

Germany also crashed out four years ago in Russia, and went out in the last 16 in last year's European Championship.

Neuendorf and Flick have called for an overhaul of Germany's youth development system before the country hosts the 2024 European Championship.

Japan wins count for nothing after WC exit: Doan

AP ■ DOHA

Forward Ritsu Doan said Japan's historic World Cup wins over Germany and Spain counted for nothing after the Blue Samurai were eliminated by Croatia in the last 16 on Monday.

Japan missed out on a first-ever place in the quarter-finals after a 3-1 penalty shootout defeat to the Croatians, following a gruelling encounter that finished 1-1 after extra-time.

Japan beat both Germany and Spain in the group stage in Qatar but Doan took no consolation from his team's achievements.

"I expected someone to say that if we lost, but to be honest it doesn't mean anything," he said.

"No matter how well we fought today, we didn't change history."

Daizen Maeda gave Japan the lead late in the first half before Ivan Perisic levelled for Croatia 10 minutes after the break.

Japan struggled to create more chances but held for penalties, only for Croatia goalkeeper Dominik Livakovic to save their first two spot kicks.

Croatia's Marko Livaja hit the post to give Japan a reprieve but Livakovic saved Maya Yoshida's kick to give Mario Pasalic match point for the Europeans.

Pasalic buried his penalty to send Croatia through, leaving Japan coach Hajime Moriyasu to lament his players' failure to convert their spot-kicks.

"Penalties are a mix of luck and training," he said.

"Their goalkeeper was excellent but the Japanese players should have done better and that's something we need to work on in the future."

Japan were aiming to reach the quarter-finals for the first time, having lost in the last 16 at three previous World Cups.

The team arrived in Qatar with 19 Europe-based players in their squad and midfielder Wataru Endo said they would need more overseas experience to take the next step.

"We need to have more players playing with European clubs -- we need 20 or 30," he said.

"We can improve our quality and become a better team. We are improving but we weren't good enough to get to the quarter-finals."

AP ■ DOHA

After starting the World Cup in the shadows, Jordan Henderson has emerged as England's unsung hero ahead of their heavyweight quarter-final clash with France on Saturday.

While England captain Harry Kane and teenage sensation Jude Bellingham are expected to deliver the headline moments against France, Henderson will provide the foundation for his more high-profile team-mates to flourish at the Al Bayt Stadium.

Henderson has been a divisive figure among England fans, who have often preferred to see more glamorous options in the midfield engine room.

But critics of the Liverpool captain's international form have been forced to eat their words over the last two weeks.

Although Henderson was among the substitutes for England's opening two games in Qatar, Three Lions boss Gareth Southgate has turned to the midfielder in a move that continues to pay dividends.

Henderson earns respect with influential England role

With Declan Rice and Jude Bellingham struggling to impose themselves against the United States in the second Group B match, Southgate felt Henderson's vocal presence and wealth of experience would steady the ship.

The 32-year-old was sent on in the 69th minute and immediately made his presence felt, cajoling his team-mates to press higher and harder.

Although the United States match ended in a goalless stalemate, Henderson's leadership and work-rate had made enough of an impact to earn a place in the starting line-up for the final group match against Wales.

Henderson's role alongside Rice as twin pivots in front of the England defence gave Bellingham the freedom to express himself as Southgate's men cantered to a 3-0 victory over Wales.

It was a similar story in Sunday's 3-0 win against Senegal in last 16 as Bellingham took the spotlight with a masterful performance made possible by Henderson's selfless contribution.

Fittingly, Bellingham returned the favour by providing the assist for Henderson to put England ahead.

DO-OR-DIE GAME FOR INDIA

Big guns face heat as India meet Bangladesh in must-win 2nd ODI

PTI ■ MIRPUR

Trying to pick up pieces after a demoralising defeat, India's decorated top-order will be desperate to change the narrative and give a better account of itself against slow bowling in the do-or-die second ODI against Bangladesh here on Wednesday.

Having failed to take the last wicket when Bangladesh needed more than 50 runs, Indian bowlers could not deliver but there is no denying the fact that a star-studded batting line-up needs to show more responsibility.

The last time India played a bilateral series in Bangladesh was back in 2015 when under Mahendra Singh Dhoni, the team lost the three-match series 1-2 and the only win came in the dead third rubber.

History could repeat itself at the Sher-e-Bangla Stadium if spinners Shakib Al Hasan and Mehidy Hasan Miraj can once again keep the Indian batters under wraps between overs 11-40.

That was the real period of struggle for all Indian batters, save KL Rahul (73 off 70 balls) who was the best player on show in the opening game.

While there are still 10 months left for the ODI World Cup, it is not yet clear what exactly will be Indian team's approach.

The talks around adopting a "fearless approach" has been going on for some time but its implementation has only been sporadic. At times, adapting to conditions and reacting to situations has got more prominence.

The track at Mirpur wasn't exactly a batting beauty but it also didn't

Dhawan focusing on his sweeping skills

PTI ■ MIRPUR

Battling indifferent form, veteran India opener Shikhar Dhawan is working on his sweep shot and reverse hit as part of his preparation for the ODI World Cup at home later this year.

Having scored just one half-century in his last nine innings, the 37-year-old left-hander faces the heat in the build up to the ODI showpiece.

Shubman Gill, who is not part of the series in Bangladesh, has emerged as a strong contender to open alongside skipper Rohit Sharma in the World Cup.

Team India head coach Rahul Dravid had a special session with him ahead of the second ODI on Wednesday.

"It's good to practice more. These shots will come handy in these conditions. Even in the World Cup in India where spinners will make an impact, those shots will be helpful. I always enjoy playing them."

warrant a score of 186.

The erstwhile selection committee's decision to rest both Shubman Gill and Sanju Samson for this series has been equally baffling.

The logic given by the former chairman of selectors Chetan Sharma was that due to a short turnaround from New Zealand, they have picked a fresh bunch of players for the series.

Gill wasn't a part of T20 World Cup and also didn't play the T20 series in New Zealand (he was part of the squad though) and hence leaving him out was baffling.

One of the problems with the Indian top order players is that they are accelerating the run-rate but at the same time consuming way more dot deliveries than they should.

In the match against Bangladesh, dot balls worth more than 25 overs were consumed even as they batted for less than 42 overs.

If the eight overs that they couldn't bat is taken into account, the team missed out on scoring off almost 200 balls.

In modern-day cricket, when England is changing the rules of engagement across formats in every sense, the Indian team is taking one step forward and four backwards.

The idea of handing the gloves to KL Rahul wasn't about increasing flexibility in the team but to ensure that both Rahul and Dhawan could be fitted in the same playing XI, going into the World Cup.

Samson, one of the most flamboyant players, wasn't even picked for this series and Ishan Kishan, who scored a 93 in his last ODI series, despite being a specialist keeper-batter was benched.

Stokes hails 'special' win in Pakistan

AP ■ RAWALPINDI

Skipper Ben Stokes hailed England's nail-biting victory in the first Test against Pakistan as "one of the best" of his career -- particularly given the state of the lifeless Rawalpindi pitch.

With just minutes to spare in dying light after five days of enthralling cricket, England finally halted a heroic last stand by Pakistan's tailenders to win the first Test by 74 runs.

It was only the third time England have won a Test in Pakistan, although they haven't visited since 2005 because of security issues.

"To be able to get a result on this type of wicket is mind-blowing," Stokes said ahead of the second Test starting in Multan on Friday.

"I think it's probably one of the best. The effort that everyone has managed to put in this whole week is just incredible."

England have "Bazball" to thank for their victory -- the free-wheeling brand of cricket coined from the nickname of new head coach Brendon "Baz" McCullum, a New Zealander.

McCullum was an aggressive batter in his playing days -- he holds the record for the fastest individual Test century -- and under him, and skipper Stokes, the English have brought one-day cricket to the five-day game.

Records tumbled in Rawalpindi with England becoming the only team in history to score 500 runs on the first day of a Test -- courtesy of four individual centuries, another record.

Overall, some 1,768 runs were scored in the match -- the third-highest aggregate since Test cricket began.

Still, Pakistan did well to peg back England's daunting 657-run first-innings total to trail by just 78 runs.

England again turned on the fireworks in their second innings before a bold Stokes declaration left Pakistan seeking 343 runs for victory.

For a while, it looked as if the home team would do it -- but a devastating last session saw England shine as the light dimmed for a famous victory.

"We're pretty lost for words," said Stokes, who now has seven wins in the last eight Tests.

"I feel very honoured and feel a very privileged position to be able to lead these guys."

"Jimmy Anderson was saying he felt a bit emotional, so having a bloke with near enough 180 Test matches (176) feeling like that at the end of this is proof that we've achieved something very special."

Stokes suggested "Bazball" was here to stay.

"Test cricket is generally exciting when England are playing," he said. "That's what we set out to do from day one."

And he praised the fighting spirit of his players in dealing with a mystery virus that threatened the start of the first Test.

Youth will play pivotal role in making India a developed nation by 2047: Thakur

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Sports Minister Anurag Thakur says that the youth will play a pivotal role in making India a developed nation by 2047.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has set sight on India becoming a developed nation by 2047

"For the country to progress in Amritkal, the role of young volunteers will play a pivotal role in attaining honour Prime Minister's vision of India at 2047," the Sports Minister said on the occasion of International Volunteer Day on Monday.

"The Ministry of Youth and Sports Affairs along with its partners and stakeholders remain dedicated to promoting youth action and youth volunteerism in India."

"To optimally engage the constructive and creative energies of the youth, the department of youth affairs will pursue the twin objectives of personality building and nation building," he added.

Women's cricket: BCCI transfers head coach Powar to NCA; Kanitkar appointed batting coach

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

With only two months left for the Women's T20 World Cup, the BCCI on Tuesday shunted head coach Ramesh Powar to the National Cricket Academy as a part of its "restructuring module".

While no head coach was named, former India batter Hrishikesh Kanitkar, who has been a part of Indian men's pathway teams (A and U-19), has been appointed as the new batting coach ahead of the home series against Australia, starting December 9 in Mumbai.

"Ramesh Powar, former Head Coach of the senior women's team will join VVS Laxman, Head Cricket, National Cricket Academy and will switch to men's cricket as part of the restructuring module of the BCCI," the BCCI stated in a release. "The BCCI on Monday (Tuesday) announced the appointment of Hrishikesh Kanitkar as the Batting Coach of the Senior Women's cricket team. Mr. Kanitkar will join the team from the upcoming five-match T20I series against Australia starting 9th December in Mumbai," it further stated.

Prannoy eyes glory at maiden World Tour Finals

PTI ■ BANGKOK

Star Indian shuttler HS Prannoy will look to display fearless brand of badminton against the best in the business in his quest for glory on his maiden BWF World Tour Finals appearance, here from Wednesday.

With double Olympic medallist P V Sindhu skipping the event due to an injury, Prannoy will be the lone Indian at the year-ending tournament, which was moved from Guangzhou, China, due to the rise in COVID-19 infection cases.

One of the most consistent Indian players in the circuit this season, Prannoy has been clubbed in Group A along with Olympic champion Viktor Axelsen of Denmark, Japan's Kodai Naraoka and China's Lu Guang Zu.

"I am excited to start my BWF World Tour Finals campaign. It's my first time in the year-ending championships and I hope I can perform well," said the third-seeded Prannoy, who was recently conferred with the Arjuna award.

While Prannoy has got a decent draw and will fancy his chances of making it to the semifinals from the group stage, it will not be an easy task as he doesn't hold a good record against his group opponents.

Prannoy has a dismal 1-5 record against the world No. 1 Axelsen but he would take confidence from the fact that he had defeated the Dane in their last meeting last year in Indonesia Masters.

Against the 21-year-old new sensation Kodai Naraoka, Prannoy had suffered a defeat in their only meeting in Singapore Open in July.

Manisha wins BWF Female Para-Badminton Player of the Year award

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Young Indian shuttler Manisha Ramadass has claimed the BWF Female Para-Badminton Player of the Year award for her stellar run this season.

The Badminton World Federation (BWF) on Monday named Manisha as the winner after the 17-year-old won the gold in the World Championships in the SU5 section. Overall, she claimed 11 gold and five bronze medals in 2022. Other contenders in this section were India's Nithya Sre Sumathy and Manasi Joshi, Sarina Satomi, Giuliana Poveda Flores, and Pilar Jauregui.

Paralympic champion

Pramod Bhagat and Thomas Cup winner HS Prannoy, however, missed out on the prestigious award.

Bhagat, who claimed his fourth world championships singles gold this year, was among those short-listed for the BWF Male Para-Badminton Player of the Year but the award went to WH2 world champion and reigning Paralympic champion Daiki Kajiura, winner of 10 gold and four bronze medals overall. In the award for able-bodied shuttlers, Olympic champion Viktor Axelsen and Zheng Si Wei/Huang Ya Qiong's extraordinary dominance this season was honoured as they won the BWF Player of the Year Awards.

China's Lu Guang Zu too in his only meeting at French Open.

However, Prannoy is known to raise his game in big-ticket events and has been a revelation this year.

He played a stellar role in India's epic Thomas Cup win in May and also produced a runner-up finish at the Swiss Open Super 300, besides reaching the semifinals at the Indonesia Open Super 1000 and Malaysia Masters Super 500 event.

Handscomb hopeful of earning ticket for India tour

PTI ■ MELBOURNE

In-form batter Peter Handscomb is aware it will be difficult to find a spot in an "impressive" Australian Test squad but said he is still hoping to earn a place for the India tour with his "weight of numbers".

The 31-year-old, who last played red-ball cricket almost four years back, amassed 562 runs at 93.66 in this summer's Sheffield Shield. He notched a pair of fifties for the Prime Minister's XI against West Indies last month.

Handscomb will look to push his case when he leads a Cricket Australia XI against South Africa, starting in Brisbane on Friday.

"I'm thereabouts ... So the conversations (with Test selectors) are promising," Handscomb was quoted as saying by 'The West Australian'.

"But you've also got to look at the Test squad as well and there are guys that are in front of me and there are batters doing pretty impressive things."
