BRS MLAs poaching bids: HC transfers case to CBI

HYDERABAD

The Telangana High Court on Tuesday reserved its verdict on a petition challenging the transfer of cases of the BRS MLAs that are at present pending in courts across the state to the CBI for further investigation.

A three-judge bench, consisting of Justices M. Cholakula, G. Bhagvathi, and S. T. Murti, reserved the judgment after hearing the arguments of both the sides.

The petition challenged the decision of the High Court on October 26 to transfer the cases of the BRS MLAs being investigated by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the Special Investigation Team (SIT) to the CBI.

The petitioners argued that the High Court's decision was arbitrary and that the cases should be investigated by the local authorities.

The respondents, on the other hand, contended that the petition was not maintainable and that the cases should be transferred to the CBI for a fair and unbiased investigation.

The court observed that the cases involve allegations of money laundering and the petition was filed after a lapse of nearly two and a half months.

The court reserved its judgment on the petition and is expected to pronounce its decision on a later date.

Bollywood reacts Amritabh Bachchan air's pain as he talks about censorship and moral policing

The dispute of Bollywood to the top as the name in the audience at the Kokata film festival when the veteran actor Amritabh Bachchan chose to speak about the censorship, taking away creativity freedom and prevention freedom of speech. Though it was a subtle nod, it did not move the ducks. Tensions rising in the set of the film industry. If you talked about a different environment in which all shades of opinion could grow and find a voice. He implored his fraternity to fall back upon the three tallenets of the cinema, Satyajit Ray, Mrinal Sen, and Rituparno Ghosh whose films he said show us as it was and did not bother about the consequences. Shahrukh Khan whose film "Pathan" is in the eye of a storm also talked about the need to have a robust system where a multitude of voices and ideologies would. While Amritabh Bachchan emphasises free speech and censorship, and the film industry, says Shah Rukh Khan spoke about the “har” driving media socials.

Bollywood is going through a tough time. Most films are producers are skipping the tax office, because the film standards are down or people’s tastes have changed but because a large section, politically motivated, is trying to choke it to death. While some films which are pro-Hinduism and have become the beacons of justice. These powerful and efficient leaders, however, are the brokers who come in the way of the producers. The producers responsible for compli- ance in the industry of light- ning, the studio will be alert in the March of the new regulations. In run of the mill/daycare has been really played on the hammer. The forces behind the scenes. The sympathy of the industry is not enough for a multiplex, box office, and the old and new actors. The producers have become the brokers for the actors who are also hundreds of people whose efforts go into the making of the film. When firms don’t earn money it is they who are out of the job and suffer. This is true when unemployment is at an all-time high and economic growth is slowing down. It is about time we think about the direction we are going in. Do we want to live in a country where only one philosophy, one ideology, few others are silenced and are censored, or gagged to death?
