BJP stands with Muslims: PM

Brought law to end triple talaq, freed Muslim sisters: Modi

PNS LUCKNOW

Amid the ongoing controversy over hijab, Prime Minister Narendra Modi reached out to the Muslim women of Uttar Pradesh saying the BJP stands with every Muslim in the State which is reflected the way we got rid of

"Muslim sisters know our good intentions. We made a law against triple talaq and freed Muslim sisters from this malice," Modi said in Saharanpur on Thursday which will go to the polls on February

Saharanpur has around 35 per cent Muslim population and is home to Darul-Uloom Deoband, Asia's biggest seminary.

Realising the importance of the Prime Muslim votes, the Prime Minister wooed Muslims and talked about them for at least 10 minutes in his speech.

"Those dealing in vote banks are worried that now even Muslims are supporting Modi. They could not digest that some Muslim women were posting small reels on social media praising the BJP. They want Muslim women to be pushed back to the medieval age, but BJP and Yogi are committed to protecting Muslim women," Modi said.

He also talked about the scheme Yogi has had initiated for farmers saying the BJP Government has given more money to sugarcane farmers than what the previous gov-ernments had given in the last

The BJP Government is taking permanent measures to relieve sugarcane farmers as it has allowed them to make either sugar or ethanol as per market demand. UP farmers have produced ethanol worth ₹12,000 crore and this figure is bound to increase in coming years," the Prime Minister said.

Attacking the Samajwadi Party, the Prime Minister said this party is making hollow promises to the public. The party is only concerned about its family, not about the development of UP. "These people had talked about giving electricity to cities for 22 hours and

He said, "During its rule, the SP had promised to build 500 houses for poor in Saharanpur city but it actually built 200 houses. In comparison, Yogi Adityanath promised 31,000 houses and built 18,000 houses. This is the difference between SP and BJP."

Don't wear 'religious dress' in schools till court takes final call, HC tells students

PNS BENGALURU

The Karnataka High Court on Thursday asked students to avoid wearing any "religious dress " on campus-es of education till the court takes a final call on the hijab controversy. Posting the matter for Monday, the full court said educational institutions can resume classes

"Till the disposal of the matter, you people should not insist on wearing all these religious things," Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi said.

The three-judge bench of CJ Awasthi, Justices JM Khazi, and Krishna S Dixit, which was formed on Wednesday, said it wanted the matter to be resolved at the earliest but till that time peace and tranquillity is to be maintained. "We will pass an order. Let the schools and colleges start. But till the matter is resolved no student should insist on wearing a religious dress," he

When the petitioners' lawyer Devadatt Kamat told the court that such an order will amount to suspension of his client's constitutional rights under article 25, Chief Justice Awasthi said the arrangement is only for a few days till the matter is resolved and asked him to cooperate.

On Wednesday, Justice Dixit, who was hearing the case, referred the case to Justice Awasthi's consideration with a view that a large bench may look into the case.

The hijab row started in December end when a few students started coming to the Government pre-university college in Udupi wearing hijab.

To protest against it, some Hindu students turned up wearing saffron scarves. The row spread to other educational institutions in different parts of the State, and the protests took a violent turn at some place earlier this week, prompting the Government on Tuesday to declare three days holiday for the institutions.

The Election Commission said that many people were waiting to vote and about 60 per cent of the vote is likely to take place till the end.

Āfter a slow start in the first two hours till 9 am, when just eight per cent of the electorate had turned out, the momentum picked up as thousands of men and women made it to the polling stations after the sun peeped out to give a respite from the winter chill and fog. The electronic voting machines broke down in some places and were quickly set right.

Govt managed Covid-induced eco slump well, says Sitharaman

Congress rule was like 'dark age' in India, says FM

PNS NEW DELHI

Jinance Minister Nirmala Finance Minister Thursday claimed the Narendra Modi Government managed the financial crisis better than the UPA Government did in 2008 and said the Congress rule was like "dark age" in India.

"In 2008 financial crisis, Indian GDP took a hit of ₹2.21 lakh crore in terms of reduced gains. In the recent crisis, Indian GDP lost ₹9.57 lakh crore. Despite the disruption to the supply chain, inflation in 2020-21 was 6.2 per cent, whereas, in 2008-09, it was 9.1 per cent," she said while replying to the debate on Union Budget in the Lok Sabha,

"It means that despite the contraction in GDP and much larger loss to GDP we managed to keep the inflation lower than when India suffered a smaller crisis in 2008," the Finance minister said.

Sitharaman said the Indian economy was strong and pointed out that it grew faster than the US economy in the previous financial year. "The Indian economy is projected to grow at 9 per cent in the next financial year, the US is expected to grow at 4 per cent," she said.
"There was indeed Andha

Kal (dark age) in the country, but it was during the Congress rule. Rampant corruption, double-digit inflation, policy paralysis were part of the dark age under Congress rule," the Finance Minister said.

She pointed out under the Modi Government the current account is in surplus "But in 2008, during a much smaller crisis, the Indian economy was in a current account deficit," she said.

Sitharaman said, "44 unicorns have been identified in this country. They have created wealth. They showcase India's talent and innovation. This has happened between 2020 and 2021.

The Finance Minister noted that every village has been electrified in India, "Andh kaal" (time of darkness) prevailed during their (Congress) rule, whereas now every house has got electricity in every vil-

Hindus are not antagonistic towards anyone: Bhagwat

RSS chief was addressing a gathering during Sant Ramanucharya's millennium birth anniv celebration

Hyderabad: RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat on Wednesday said Hindus are so competent that nobody has strength to stand against them even as he stressed that the community is not antagonistic towards any-

He was addressing a gathering after attending the millennium birth anniversary celebrations of 11th century saint Sri Ramanujacharya.

"Samarthya hamare paas aisa hai ki hamare saamane khade rahne ki takat kisi ki nahi hain (Hindus are so competent that nobody has strength to stand against us)," Bhagwat said, adding that the Hindu society is not antagonistic towards anyone.

"We have sustained and thrived for centuries," he

Those who tried to destroy Hindus for 1,000 years are now fighting among themselves world over. The only reason that some people have a fear is because they have forgotten who they are, he said.

"They tried to eliminate us but it did not happen... Even today 'Sanatan' Dharmik life of Bharat can be seen here as it is. Despite so many atrocities, we have 'Matra Bhoomi' with us. We have plenty of resources, then why we are afraid? Because we forget ourselves. The reason for apparent weakness is that we have forgotten our holistic view towards life," he said.

Bhagwat further said, "In our country, despite after facing attacks and withstanding brute tyranny, we (Hindus) are still 80 per cent today. Those who are ruling the country and running political parties, most of them are Hindus. It is our country and even today our temples are there and temples are being built. What our traditions taught us is permanent."

He said national interest should be accorded first priority above the interests of self, family, creed, caste, language and other identities.

"Hindu hit yane rashtra hit' should be the first priority and that is the way we will be a strong and competent nation and then will shun any idea of weakness," Bhagwat said.

Though there is diversity of region, language, religion in the country, all are children of 'Bharat Mata' and this feeling has to be strengthened, he said, adding "We see oneness which has manifested itself in various forms. We appreciate diversity and don't see diversity as difference. We won't discriminate.'

According to Bhagwat, the entire world started talking of equality after the French Revolution, but in India the message of equality has been spoken of thousands of years ago and Ramanujacharya's message was also about equal-

He said saints at local levels have to come together monthly and discuss how to educate masses on noble living and same way, each family must sit together at least once a week to pray together, eat together and discuss the family and national values.

SC allows ED to rely on forensic auditors' report for chargesheet against Unitech ex-promoters

New Delhi: The Supreme Court Thursday granted permission to Enforcement Directorate to rely on the report of court-appointed forensic auditors in its charge sheet to be filed against Unitech's former promoters Sanjay Chandra, Ajay Chandra and others.

A bench of Justices D Y Chandrachud and M R Shah gave permission to the ED to rely on the Grant Thornton report with the probe agency saying it will make the case stronger against the Chandras.

Additional Solicitor General Madhavi Divan, appearing for the ED, submitted that the agency is going to file the charge sheet next week in the money laundering case lodged Chandras.

"This court has on October 6, 2021 refused to share the forensic auditors report with Chandra brothers and since now ED wants to rely upon the report, the agency is seeking court's permission and modification of the order," Divan

The bench said that it is granting the permission, clarifying that the earlier order will not preclude the ED from relying upon the forensic auditors

The bench also allowed realty firm Unitech's founder Ramesh Chandra to move the special PMLA court at Patiala House Court here to seek bail in a recent case registered against him by the ED.

The top court also allowed Sanjay and Ajay Chandra, cur-rently lodged in Mumbai jails, to have video conference meetings once every fortnight and said that their family members can talk to them as per the jail polling could not be held at this booth till 2:15 pm. Villagers say that in 2019, even after giving assurance of the road, even the coating work has not been done on the road, due to which the angry villagers have made up their mind not to vote and protested with the banner of no vote. So, very few voters cast their votes. Apart from this people also boycotted voting on the Kalyanpur booth of Baroli, where only 3 votes were cast till noon.

The voting started half an hour late in Khair constituency and on the other hand, more enthusiasm was seen among women in Muslim areas in the city, and they were found standing in long queues. According to data till 5 pm, a total of 57.25 per cent voting took place in Aligarh with 56 per cent in Iglas, 57.8 per cent in Khair, 58.68 per cent in Baroli, 57.2 per cent in Atrauli, 56.3 per cent in Charra, 57.8 per cent in Aligarh city, and 58 per cent in Kol. There was sluggishness in voting in the morning but by noon long queues were seen at the polling place. Complete polarization appeared in the city. The district has Khair, Baroli, Atrauli, Charra, Kol, and Iglas Assembly seats. Here 60 candidates are in the fray. Most of the candidates are in Atrauli and the city. The least number of candidates are in the Iglas Vidhan Sabha constituency, popularly known as Mini Chhaprauli.

Delhi Police marks its 75 years of service with Platinum Jubilee logo

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Marking its 75 years of existence, the Delhi Police on Thursday launched its 'Platinum Jubilee Logo' in a ceremony organized at Police Headquarters. The move of unveiling the logo is considered the beginning of a series of events this year to commemorate the platinum jubilee Year.

During the occasion, the Chief Guest, Amitabh Kant, CEO, Niti Aayog unveiled the Rakesh Asthana, the Delhi Police Commissioner recounted the glorious history of Delhi Police through these years in becoming a most professional force in the service of citizens.

Asthana emhasized that it has always learned and renovated itself in adapting to social change induced by economic and technological development and has never stopped learning to better its own standards and benchmarks.

Addressing the gathering, Kant said that 75 years in the life of a police force was a very unique occasion. "The evolution of Delhi city as the national capital is organically linked to that of Delhi Police and managing a city of over 3 crore population which is more than the combined population of 20 European nations is an extrasaid Kant. Stating that the crime is the biggest issue in any society for ease of living, Kant outlined the importance of professional police for economic development of the nation.

"Delhi Police is already seen as an efficient organization with its capabilities of security, crime control and fighting terror, along with an exemplary humane touch", he said, and its success lies in its "agility and adaptability" in a dynamically changing technological and security environment. All institutions of government need to share the vision of government to bring about faster changes induced by technology in today's world," said Kant.

The Niti Aayog CEO emphasized on data to drive changes and data driven competitiveness to achieve efficiencontrol and prevention.

'The challenges posed by repeat offenders can be solved with data driven analysis and technological applications. Delhi Police is data rich and can use this for predictive policing in crime and for intelligent traffic management," Kant

Police recover 12 stolen vehicles under 'op Khojbeen'

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The North district of the Delhi Police, under 'Operation Khojbeen', has recovered 12 stolen vehicles and nabbed 17 people since November last year in the national Capital.According to data shared by police, 36,782 vehicles have been checked or verified using 'Vehiscan App' till now under this operation. Whereas 617 vehicles found unattended or being plied without proper documents were impounded from November 1, 2021 till Wednesday. During this period, 12 stolen vehicles were recovered and 17 autolifters were nabbed.

As a result, a decline has been seen in the registration of motor vehicle theft cases from January 1 to February 9 and the work out percentage of the case has also been increased. In 2022, a total of 164 cases of motor vehicle theft were registered as compared to 235 in 2021. While in 2022, 10.36 per cent cases worked out and 7.66 per cent cases worked out last vear, the data stated.

According to Sagar Singh lsi, the Deputy Commissioner of Police (DCP), North district, in order to trace the stolen vehicles, operation Khoibeen was launched in north district on November 1, 2021. "It has been observed that many robbers, snatchers and auto-lifters have disclosed that they prefer to commit crime on stolen vehicles to evade their arrest. It has further been noticed that after committing crime, the criminals park the stolen or used vehicles at various parking lots or at isolated places," said the DCP.To begin with, proper record of all the parking sites in north district was obtained and it was found that there were 31 parking sites available in district – three MCD parking, five Delhi metro parking sites, one bus parking and 22 other parking lots, the DCP said.

The foot patrolling staff was directed to conduct search operation on regular basis in their area of jurisdiction, the DCP said. Some criminals also disclosed that before the theft of the targeted vehicle to be used in crime, they stole number plates of another vehicle with similar make and colour from another place. After this, they have a stolen motorcycle covered with fake number plates of another vehicle having same make and color which reduces their chance getting suspected by the police during checking or being apprehended, said the DCP. Normally people do not lodge FIR about the theft of number plates of their vehicle and file NCR in this regard. As a result, usual ly such data is not available with police staff picket checking.

Skywalk connecting Aimeri Gate with Metro's Yellow and Airport Line to open

The construction of this unique skywalk was a major engineering challenge including disruptions due to Covid-19

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

The work on a dedicated sky walk, being constructed by the DMRC in collaboration with Northern Railway for providing seamless connectivity between one of the busiest hubs of New Delhi Railway station and Metro stations of New Delhi on Yellow Line and Airport Express Line is almost over and the skywalk is going to be thrown open to the pub-

A senior DMRC official said that the newly constructed Skywalk is an extension of the foot over bridge (FOB) inside the Railway station and connects the Ajmeri Gate Side of the station with the New Delhi Metro stations of Yellow Line and Airport Line including the multilevel parking side across Bhavbhuti Marg through multiple entry and exit points.

The completion work of the skywalk was thoroughly inspected today by Dr Mangu Singh, Managing Director, Delhi Metro Rail Corporation in the presence of senior officials, he said, adding that apart from providing seamless connectivity, the skywalk will also help in streamlining the traffic flow on Ajmeri Gate side of the railway station. "The Skywalk has been provided with six escalators along with facilities such as CCTV surveillance cameras, toilets; ticketing counter, signage and a DMX controlled autonomous lighting system. The beautifully designed skywalk has integrated escalator & stairs reminiscent of Jantar Mantar comprising Agra Stone Cladding. The main bridge and arms branching to the entry/exits, escalators and underground line are approximately 242 metres in length," he said. The construction of this unique skywalk in a hub witnessing significant traffic was a major engineering challenge including the disruptions posed due to COVID-19 pandemic.

The structure had to be built above a functional underground Metro station with major traffic movement on Bhavbhuti Marg. Also, the bridge had to be connected to two pre-existing building structures at the far ends ensuring minimum inconvenience to other buildings nearby.

TRS MPs move Privilege Motion against PM over T formation remark

¬he Rajya Sabha witnessed The Rajya Sabila willed Thursday with Telangana Rashtra Samithi(TRS)members protesting against Prime Minister Narendra Modi's remarks on bifurcation of Andhra Pradesh. The agitated members also submitted a notice for privilege against Modi. They later walked out of the House.

Leader of Opposition M Mallikarjun Kharge also tried to raise the issue during the din

Chairman Harivansh, however, did not allow him to do so and urged the agitating members to let the house function. Some of them also trooped into the well.

The notice addressed to the Rajya Sabha chairman was submitted to the secretary general of the House on Thursday

The MPs of TRS who have signed the privilege notice are Keshava Rao, Joginipally Santosh Kumar, K R Suresh Reddy and B Lingaiah Yadav.

Thanks on the President's address, Modi in the Rajya Sabha on Tuesday had referred to the manner in which Telangana was formed.

'The shameless manner in which Andhra Pradesh was bifurcated. Mikes were shut, chillies were sprayed and there was no discussion. Was this manner right? Was it democracy," he had asked, noting that there is friction between Andhra Pradesh and Telangana even today.

Modi ji lauta de mere beete huye din, Cong leaders takes a swipe

Minister Narendra Modi for insulting Jawaharlal Nehru,

Taking a swipe at the "achche din" tagline of the BJP, Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury on Thursday said "Modiji lauta de mere beete huye din" as he described the Union Budget as "hawabazi"- a "zilch"- with no solution to unemployment, price rise, poverty and the four-fold increase in NPAs in the banking sector.

Participating in the discussion on the general budget in the Lok Sabha, Chowdhury said " this is a Capitalist budget" which has nothing for poor, backwards, middleclass and the farmers.

He said national survey says farmers' income in seven vears has come down to Rs 27 per day with 24 farmers committing suicide per day.

"Kisan kehte hain Modiji lauta de mere beete Huye din

he said it is because of Nehru and Congress policies that poor get free ration and programmes and policies like MNREGA and right to education and health are being followed. " Is it not socialism ", he asked as Congress president Sonia Gandhi was seen helping Chowdhury with more The Congress MP said

"non-performing assets had increased four times under the NDA government " and that that the "majority of consumables like lentils and oils" had seen a sharp price rise in last few years.

Lashing-out at the government for promising 400 'Vande Bharat", trains in three years, the Congress leader said the programme is "in cold storage" and "manufacturing has barely started".

Reeling out figures, Chowdhury said on January

2022, unemployment rate is 7.9 percent, price rise 12 percent, inflation 6 per cent and this apart 60 lakh industries shut down and four crore and sixty lakh people were brought down to poverty line, he said.

Govt to notify road safety standards soon, says Gadkari iving utmost priority to the Tvehicle safety standards, Union Roads & Transport Minister Nitin Gadkari on Thursday announced that very soon the Government will notify mandatory standards like crash testing of vehicles, seat belts, alarm detection for dozing drivers, etc, based on which a vehicle will be star rated just on lines of other machinery products happening world over including India. Addressing a Press Conference on 'Automobile Safety Ecosystem in India, Gadkari highlighted points to offer regarding the general safety of cars in India.

Elaborating on other safety systems under implementation Gadkari spoke about Electronic Stability Control, Advanced Emergency Braking Systems (AEBS), Transport of dangerous goods, ease of mobility for Divyangjan, Driver Drowsiness Attention Warning System (DDAW), Blind Spot Information System, Advanced Driver Assisting system and Lane Departure Warning System (LDWS)

Gadkari said the steps are being taken as still as many as 1.5 lakh people die every year in 5 lakh road accidents across the country and all the stakeholders of transport sector are aiming to reduce these fatalities by 50 per cent within next two

The Minister further said the Government has made it mandatory for automakers to provide three-point seat belts for all front-facing passengers applicable for the middle seat in the rear row of a car," the Union minister. "I have signed a file on Wednesday to make it mandatory for automakers to provide three-point seat belts for all the front facing passengers in a car," the road transport and highways minister said.

Presently, only the front seats and two rear seats in most cars produced in the country have three-point seat belts. However, the centre or middle rear seat in these cars come equipped with only a twopoint or lap seat belt, similar to the ones provided in aircraft Gadkari said there has to be zero tolerance for road accidents. Road safety is a very serious issue and there should be zero tolerance for road accidents, Gadkari emphasized on requirement of 4 additional airbags and 3-point seat belt for improving safety provisions.

There will also be an aim to have an independent agency (Bharat NCAP) give out ratings to automobiles in the country based on their safety features, the Minister said.

The Minister said a system is being proposed for star rating of the vehicle based on the standards and protocol, to improve upon the safety of the vehicle. He said this will enable take informed decisions.

The Minister emphasized on importance of reducing sound pollution and use of Electric vehicles. Gadkari said the need of the hour is to create mass awareness for road safety measures by information dissemination through media and peoples participation.

PM to address high-level segment of One Ocean Summit

PNS NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will address the highlevel segment of the One Ocean Summit on Friday. Heads of States, including Germany, United Kingdom, Japan, Canada and South Korea, will also participate and address the conclave. Giving details of the Prime Minister's schedule, the Prime Minister's Office(PMO)said, Modi will address the high-level segment of the One Ocean Summit at around 2:30 p.m. through a video message. The One Ocean Summit is being organised by France from February 9 to 11 in Brest, France, in cooperation with the United Nations and the World Bank. The PMO further said the objective of the summit is to mobilise the international community to take tangible action towards preserving and supporting healthy and sustainable ocean ecosystems.

Around 40 world leaders are due to make "ambitious and concrete commitments' towards combating illegal fishing, decarbonising shipping and reducing plastic pollution at the first high-level summit dedicated to the ocean.

The summit convened by French President Emmanuel Macron will also focus on efforts to improve governance of the high seas and coordinating international scientific

Manipur polls rescheduled; now on Feb 28, March 5

m he}$ Election Commission (EC) on Thursday rescheduled the dates for the twophase Assembly polls in Manipur which will now be held on February 28 and March 5. Earlier, the polls were to be held on February 27 and March 3. The decision to reschedule the first phase of polls comes after the demand by Christian groups to hold elections on any day other than Sunday. Recently, the EC had rescheduled the Punjab poll from February 14 to February 20 following demands and the state government and various political parties. In a statement, EC said the decision is based on inputs, representations, past precedent, logistics, ground situations and "all facts and cir-high level team of EC, headed Chief Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra visited Manipur on February 7-8 to take stock of the preparedness of the polls.

The All Manipur Christian Organisation (ÂMCO) had filed a petition before the poll panel, citing that Sunday is a day of prayer for the commu-On February 3, the Christian organisation had raised objections to the date for first phase of the elections scheduled to be held on February 27. Members of the body said that February 27 being a Sunday, is a day of worship for the Christian community which accounts for more than 41 per cent of the state's population, according to Census 2011.

On February 7, the members of the organisation staged a sit-in protest at many places in the state. The AMCO also warned of intensifying the agitation if the authorities do not fulfill their demand.

RTI reveals rent of Sonia's official house not paid for months, BJP takes a dig

PNS NEW DELHI

The Congress has failed to pay the dues for three bungalows, including 10 Janpath, an official residence of Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi, bungalow no. 26, Akbar Road (office of the Congress frontal wing Seva Dal), bungalow no. C-II/109, Chanakyapuri. This has been revealed in an RTI reply by the Ministry of Housing and Urban

In reply to an RTI filed by activist Suit Patel from Mithapur, Gujarat, the Ministry said the dues for 10, Janpath were last paid in September 2020 the monthly rent accounted for the same is Rs. 4610/only. For the 26, Akbar Road bungalow which is a type VIII property next to Congress' headquarters at 24, Akbar Road, the monthly rent for which is more than Rs. 12 lakh December 2012.

Bungalow Chanakyapuri which is used as a residence, occupied by Vincent George, personal secretary to Sonia Gandhi has been in possession of the Congress Party with a monthly rent of Rs. 5,07,911/-. Dues for the same has not been deposited since August 2013. The ministry's response to the RTI came on February 7. 2022.

Earlier in 2020, the Directorate of Estates, under the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, has resurrected a two-year-old proposal to evict the Congress from the four prime properties: 24 Akbar Road (which houses the All India Congress Committee headquarters since 1976), 26 Akbar Road (Congress' Seva Dal office), 5 Raisina Road (Indian Youth Congress office) and CII/109 Chanakyapuri. The directorate had first moved this proposal in 2018. The eviction proceedings had first been initiated by the government in January 2015. Spread across 5,181 square meters in New Delhi, 10

Janpath has remained the private residence of Sonia Gandhi since the time of Rajiv Gandhi's assassination in 1991. Reportedly, the property is Marg which is the official residence of the Prime Minister of India. The current Congress headquarters of the Congress party - 24, Akbar Road lies right behind this property possessed by Sonia Gandhi.

BJP's IT cell chief Amit Malviya on Thursday claimed that Sonia Gandhi has not paid house rent for the bungalow on Janpath for as long as one and a half years. The BJP leader took a dig at the Opposition leader and said that she was vocal about paying ticket charges for the migrant workers but didn't even pay her rent.

Amit Malviya took to his Twitter handle and shared a reply to an RTI application claiming that Congress leader Sonia Gandhi has defaulted rent for the past 1.5 years. Sharing details of the same on Twitter, Malviya took a dig at the Congress leader and her approach to the migrant workers' travel setup during the COVID-19 induced lockdown.

INTUC demands priority in coal supplies to CPP based industries

NEW DELHI

In the wake of developing coal crisis in Chhattisgarh due to SECL's (South Eastern Coal Fields Limited), a subsidiary of Coal India Limited (CIL), decision to supply coal outside the state, Sanjay Kumar Singh, National Secretary General, President, INTUC and Chattishgarh INTUC has asked the government to take cognizance of the matter and take appropriate measures to supply sufficient coal to industries based in coal producing states like Chhatisgarh.

Mr Singh has requested the PM in a letter to take requisite measures as the lack of coal supply to Captive Power Plants can lead to closure of several industrial units, creating a situation of wide scale unemployment thus leading to a massive social unrest in dif-

Mr Singh mentions in the letter that the coal produced by SECL is supplied to the industries of Chhattisgarh as well as to the ones established outside the state. Since the course of past one year, SECL is consistently declining the share of coal supplied to the industries situated in Chhattisgarh and has eventually increased the share of coal supply outside the state. This has given rise to existential crisis for several CPP based industrial units in the state.

constitutes Chhattisgarh around 18 per cent of the national coal reserves which means that 56 billion tonne coal is present in the state. More than 250 industrial units in Chhattisgarh are dependent on Captive Power Plants for their smooth business operations and require around 32 million tonne of coal annually which is around 19 per cent of total production of SECL. Presently CIL is unable to fulfill the coal requirements of CPP based industries in different states of Chattisgarh, Odisha, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Jharkhand despite producing sufficient coal annually.

Mr. Singh on behalf of INTUC has demanded the fulfillment of coal demands of industrial units in Chhattisgarh and other states on a priority basis by making appropriate arrangements of supply via both roadways and railways. He has also asked CIL to make necessary arrangements for coal supply to Non Power Sector at the earliest.

Along with this, Mr Singh has criticized the policies of the Central Government to supply coal to neighbouring countries of Nepal and Bhutan in the wake of severe coal crisis in the country. He also said that the country is producing sufficient amount of coal but due to wrong allocation policies of government a situation of loss of employment can arise in the near future.

Mr. Singh has warned the officials of massive agitation if the present scenario continues and said that the INTUC will block the coal traffic in different states for which the CIL administration will be solely responsible.

Tiger deaths rise to 127 in '21 from 106 in 20' PIONEER NEWS SERVICE trocution and poaching.

Government on I Thursday admitted in the Rajya Sabha that tiger deaths increased to 127 in 2021 compared to 106 deaths in 2020. It attributed various reasons for the increased mortality including old age.

Some Elders including Sushil Modi(BJP) and Jairam Ramesh (Congress) also expressed concern over poaching and increasing humananimal conflict.

Fielding questions on the issue in the house, Minister for Environment Bhupender Yadav said the number of tiger deaths in 2019 stood at 96. He said there are many reasons for the death of the feline like old age, infighting among tigers, elec-

As reported by states, the tiger mortality stood at 127 during 2021. Last year, the maximum 42 deaths were reported in Madhya Pradesh, followed by 27 in Maharashtra, 15 in Karnataka and nine deaths in Uttar Pradesh.

"The average life span of the tigers in the wild is generally 10-12 years and in natural ecosystem, factors like old age, diseases, internecine fights, electrocution, snaring, drowning, road, rail hits, among others, and a very high infant mortality observed in big cats, including tigers, account for majority of the tiger deaths,

Yadav said He said the government is making efforts to manage animal-human conflicts, and also poaching. The minister, however, maintained that the tiger population has doubled.

"...The tiger numbers increased as per the latest estimation done in 2018, with an estimated number of 2,967 (range 2603-3346) as compared to 2014 estimation of 2,226 (range 1945-2491). India is the largest tiger range country in the world and has now more than 75 per cent of the global tiger population," Yadav

The day-to-day management and implementation of the Wildlife (Protection) Act is done by the states, he said.

Jairam Ramesh drew the attention of the house to tigers now coming close to the outskirts of Bhopal thereby raising the danger of human-animal

Union Min's son granted bail in Lakhimpur case

Lucknow: The Allahabad High Court on Thursday granted bail to Ashish Mishra, the son of Union Minister Ajay Mishra Teni, in the Lakhimpur incident in which eight people including four farmers were killed. The Lucknow bench of the court had reserved its order on January 18 on Ashish Mishra's plea after concluding the hearing through videoconferencing.

On Thursday, Justice Rajeev Singh granted bail to him in the case. The counsel appearing on behalf of the Union minister's son had told the court that his client was innocent and there was no evidence against him that he incited the driver of a vehicle to crush the farmers.

Opposing the plea, Additional Advocate General V K Shahi had said that at the time of the incident, Ashish Mishra was in the car that mowed down the farmers.

After hearing the pleas, the bench of Justice Rajeev Singh had reserved its order. On October 3 last year, eight people were killed in Lakhimpur Kheri during violence that erupted when farmers were protesting against Uttar Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya's visit to the area.

Ashish Mishra is one of the accused in the incident. PTI

Hearing a public interest litigation seeking deployment of central forces for the upcoming elections to Bidhannagar, Sliguri Asansol, andChandannagar municipal corporations a Division Bench of Chief Justice Prakash Srivastava directed the SEC to consult the State Government officials regarding the requirement of central forces the polls.

However, in the same order the Court said that the SEC would personally liable to ensure that there was no violence in the polls. The Court reserved its order.

While elections to the four municipal corporations are scheduled to take place on February 12 the remaining 108 municipal boards are scheduled to go to polls on 27th of this month. Hurting students

Indian medical students pursuing courses in Chinese varsities are caught in a cleft stick

■ early 23,000 Indians studying medicine in Chinese universities find themselves caught between the devil and the deep blue sea. The students returned to India in 2020 as China shut down because of COVID-19. China is not issuing them visas to return, ostentatiously because of its strict pandemic policy but possibly because of its current border standoff with India. China has given these students an alternative, to complete their programme online. The frustrated students are willing to do even that but India's National Medical Commission has clarified that it does not recognise medical courses done only by online mode. The only option before the students is to request the Chinese for visas and hope to complete their programmes, already delayed for such a long time. They are not alone in this. Thousands of students from the Asean region — that comprises Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam — are in the same boat. The Chinese Foreign Ministry keeps repeating the statement that they will consider an arrangement to allow foreign students to return. But the 'when' is not known. The students have been receiving videos since last September — the beginning of the fall session when fresh admissions begin - showing their belongings, left behind in hostels, being dumped out to make room for the fresh batch of incom-to use unreliable VPN software to access apps for online classes. The students have since approached the Overseas Indian Affairs office, the Ministry of External Affairs, and written an open letter to the Prime Minister. On February 13 they, along with their families and supporters, are launching a national Twitter campaign to highlight their plight. The students indeed went to study in China knowing the risks involved. However, they could not have anticipated the outbreak of the pandemic or the fact that China may use them as pawns in its unilateral confrontation with India. How else can China justify its decision to allow the return of students from Mongolia, Singapore and Pakistan to resume classes while keeping silent about Indian students? The Chinese authorities certainly owe the Indian Government and the Indian students an explanation. Some websites have begun inviting applications from Indian students for medical seats in Chinese universities for the 2022 fall session. The advertisements do not refer to any of the problems already faced by thousands of stranded Indian students. That they have allowed universities to still advertise in India means they intend to proceed with online programme. The Government should launch a campaign through the MEA and NNCM to alert aspiring students to the impending danger and uncertainty if they seek admission to Chinese universities.

Prudent step

Delhi Govt's decision to regularise 700 DIB staff is a step in the right direction

elhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal recently announced the regularisation of 700 contractual Delhi Jal Board (DJB) employees. Correctly terming it "a landmark" and "first-of-its-kind step" which went against the nationwide trend of privatisation and lowering the number of permanent employees — the handover of Air India to the Tata Group is the most recent example — Kejriwal added that other State Governments will now be compelled to follow the trend set by the AAP dispensation in the national Capital. The Chief Minister said none of the past Governments in Delhi had regularised so many employees in one go. The Government was planning to regularise staff in every department of the Delhi Government, he added, but was quick to add the popular refrain that most of the powers with regard to administering the Capital lay with the Centre; so his hands were tied. The step is against conventional wisdom and common public perception that once employees are regularised, they do not work hard and become complacent and lazy. However, Kejriwal said that if the then no one could work as hard as them.

There is some grain of truth in his belief. One, the excellent performance of the education and healthcare sectors in Delhi, which were not too long ago creaking under the weight of infrastructural shortcomings and pressure arising out of high expectations, especially during the trying period when the COVID-19 pandemic was ravaging the nation in full force, was singularly the result of the hard, sincere work and honest intentions of school teachers, headmasters, principals, nurses, doctors and all other frontline workers. Two, most of the 700 DJB workers said on record that they were "very happy" with their regularised jobs and enhanced salary and other perks. The regularised employees will be able to enjoy perks and benefits such as medical facilities, Government accommodation, leave benefits and terminal dues such as gratuity, etc. They will also receive arrears from 2019. Now that the Government has taken care of us, we will work with even higher motivation to show that its decision wasn't wrong, was the popular refrain. Also, going by the record of, say, the MCD or the NDMC which utilise the services of a large number of contractual staff, most of them are 'ghost' workers, not seen in flesh!

Matters of hijab and choice may go too far

There's need to pay much closer attention to the current controversy since Karnataka of late is witnessing a reassertion of Hindu identity

he young college-going girls wearing black externals and screaming in protest at the Mahatma Gandhi Memorial College in Udupi district in Karnataka on February 8 had donned burgas and not hijabs. Comparatively very few women wear burqas, except in West Asia. If it were an essential religious practice for those following Islam, most Muslim women in the world would be termed non-believers, as laid down by Prophet Mohammad. Advocate Kamat, pleading before Justice Krishna S Dixit, was evidently confused. A hijab is much briefer than a burga and, like the latter, is defined as a medium of seclusion. Burqa is called a veil of seclusion of women when they are walking 'abroad', which probably meant taking a walk in an unfamiliar place, according to the Dictionary of Islam (Thomas Patrick Hughes; published by Rupa & Co, 1999). Be that as it may, the current hijab controversy that has erupted from Karnataka has all the makings of a civil confrontation. Students in huge numbers have taken to the streets with chants of "Jai Shri Ram". Police personnel and authorities are doing their best to pacify them, but the protesting students have raised a valid point. Educational institutions in a supposedly secular country are not places where open display of religiosity should be allowed. If the religious symbols of one bunch of students are to be tolerated in the name of freedom of choice and belief, there can be no grounds for denying the same right to those who demand wearing saffron scarves or tilaks on their foreheads. Advocate Kamat has been quick to jump to the defence of the hijab-sporting crowd by saying that wearing the garment is an "essential religious practice for those following Islam", but this again seeks to skirt the real issue. First, according to the advocate, do those Muslim women who do not wear a hijab automatically fall into the category of non-followers: However, more important is another issue. controversy. The latest row

What legal or constitutional right does a State that calls which is a southern Indian enforcement of religious obscurantism of some particular community. Some other States, Madhya Pradesh in particular, have been quick to join the issue by stating that students are required to follow the dress code laid down in educational institutions, irrespective of the traditions they might be following at their respective private spaces. Madhya Pradesh Education Minister Inder Singh Parmar has, in reaction to the Karnataka hijab row, stated that beginning next session, the State Government will issue rules and regulations related to the uniform dress seeking in demanding State

Religious, constitutional and legal arguments apart, the country's concerned citizens need to pay much closer attention to the current hijab has begun from Karnataka,

GIVEN THE CHANGED, AND CHANGING, POLITICAL MOOD IN THE COUNTRY, IT IS NOT INCONCEIVABLE THAT A RESPONSE FROM THE MAJORITY COMMUNITY WOULD SOON COME FORTH. WE MUST REFOCUS ATTENTION ON THE CRYING NEED FOR A UNIFORM CIVIL CODE

State, where attempts to stoke separatist sentiments have been under wav even before India attained Independence from British rule in 1947. Karnataka is also a State witnessing a reassertion of the Hindu identity in recent decades. The ultra-quick reactions by the sections of those who lost power in 2014 are a clear pointer to their involvement to stir up trouble in order to portray the country in a sordid light at the international fora. Shades of a larger conspiracy cannot be missed here.

If hijab, naqab and burga are a matter of 'choice', as many of their apologists are claiming on television panels and in newspaper columns, the urgency of some girls to wear it now and also make it a matter of political controversy must be questioned. Also, it is likely that the tale will not end here. There will be, in most probability, demands raised from certain quarters for permission to perform namaz in school and college premises, as these too would arguably comprise "essential religious practices". A backlash in the form of public pujas and aartis will not take long in manifesting. Next would be demands for a separate space for performing namaz". Would things stop there? Not likely; demands for separate halal counters in college canteens, backed by politicians, would soon be reverberating. This is not in the domain of imagination as even the US and some other western countries are combating such demands. Further along, demands for time off from class periods for mandatory praying would follow. Given the changed, and changing, political mood in the country, it is not inconceivable that a response from the majority community would soon come forth.

The current row also perhaps demonstrates that it is the apt moment for the country to refocus attention on the crying need for a uniform civil code, without which all talk of secularism will at best remain a shibboleth. India, indeed, remains a unique case of a country that swears by secularism it refuses to define.

LETTERS TO TH

NEW HOPE FOR COVID-19 PATIENTS

 Kudos to Glenmark Pharma, India, and Canadian SaNOzite for developing a nasal spray called 'FabiSpray' for the treatment of COVID-19 in high-risk adult patients in India. The Nitric Oxide Nasal Spray (NONS) has antimicrobial properties designed to kill the COVID-19 virus in the upper airways. It also prevents viruses from reaching the lungs. Several nasal sprays are already in use in many countries. Antiviral nasal sprays may be a potential option for treating COVID-19. Experts are of the opinion that FabiSpray is safe and well-tolerated in COVID-19 patients. Researchers say a nasal spray vaccine might be the most effective way to fight the virus. The idea is to defeat Coronavirus while it's still in the nose, before it has the chance to invade the lungs or the body further. The nasal vaccine, if proved effective, initiates antibody production from the nose, mouth and connected airways that can neutralise the virus before it enters the body. One advantage is it will not require trained personnel to administer vaccinations and these vaccines may not need refrigeration. Moreover, immunising populations with a nasal vaccine would be faster than using injections. Additionally, a nasal vaccine would likely appeal more, particularly to children, instead of shots and would alleviate the struggle for the components of injectable vaccines. Dr Krishna K Vepakomma | Hyderabad

CENTRE USING GUVS TO PULL STRINGS

Sir — That the Tamil Nadu Governor has returned the NEET Bill, which was enacted based on a policy decision and which was passed by a duly elected Government, did not seem to go well with the principles of democracy. It is clear that the Centre has been using Governors to exercise control over States where the BJP is not in power. The Tamil Nadu Governor's reasoning that the Bill "goes against the interests of rural students" cannot be accepted since NEET's admission data establishes that it places students from marginalised backgrounds, first-generation learners and State board-educated stu-

NEET opposition is eyewash

refers to the editorial, 'Flighty Course' (February 10) and the recent introduction of a Bill in Tamil Nadu Assembly to do away with the National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET), through which admissions are done in undergraduate courses in MBBS and dental courses. The Bill was sent to the Governor and returned for reconsideration. As the State Government is recalcitrant on its being passed by the Governor, it has been re-sent to him sans any changes. As pointed out in the editorial, the Bill was passed by UPA II, and supported by the DMK. NEET was introduced by the Modi dispensation in 2016 and all States except Tamil Nadu have adopted it without any hiccup.

The editorial has verily said that the excuses made by the State Government do not hold water as contrary to the latter's contention that the exam has proved to be a deterrent to the rural and economically backward students, it has proved a boon to these 'have-nots' as they escaped from having to pay a hefty, unaffordable capitation fee running into ₹1 crore. Also trying to project that unsuccessful students committed suicide is farcical as continued failure leads some students to take this extreme step. If anyone is against NEET, it would be the unscrupulous politicians who own these medical colleges and a few super affluent class students whose parents do not have any dearth of wherewithal dents at a significant disadvantage.

In fact, a global research suggests that standardised entrance tests do not make a student with measured and quantified pedagogics. Also, there are several surveys that indicate that school grades are a much better prognosticator of personality which, in turn, determines a student's success in life. Colleges in many western countries have dropped the standardised tests like the SAT and CAT. After all, what standardised tests end up measuring is social advantage — access to coaching classes, preparation guides, and so on.

LAKHIMPUR KHERI ACCUSED GETS BAIL Sir — Ashish Mishra, son of Union Minister Ajay Mishra Teni, and the prime accused in the mowing down of four farmers in Lakhimpur on October 3, following a protest by farmers, has been granted bail by the Allahabad High Court's Lucknow Bench just as the first phase of UP Assembly election kicks off. Mishra was arrested on October 9 last year by the Special Investigation Team (SIT) that was probing the incident. An FIR was registered against him and a few others over the incident but the UP Police did not move against him until the Supreme Court decided to take up the

His arrest came a day after the apex court expressed dissatisfaction with the Yogi Government over the action taken in the case. Eight people were killed on October 3, 2021, after violence erupted during a farmers' protest, claiming nine lives, ahead of a visit to Lakhimpur by UP Deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya. Four of the dead were farmers who were mowed down by a speeding SUV belonging to Ashish. A journalist covering the incident was also killed. The SIT probing the incident confirmed that there was a planned conspiracy to murder the protesting farmers.

The first on the block is an explicit display of love and strategic partnership in India's immediate neighborhood between Russia and China. For starters the Russia-China partnership has tracked a sinusoidal graph since the 1950s based on dominant narratives of the time. Today, it is a dynamic partnership driven primarily by economics and dominance in strategically important Indo Pacific region and Europe. The Xi Jingping-Vladimir Putin summit in Beijing last week underlines the growing need for having meaningful strategic forums for securing the future of nations. This comes at a time when thousands of Russian forces are waiting outside Ukraine's gates with several US soldiers also present in the same vicinity to add to the optics. France and Germany are proactively reaching out to Russia and US to douse the crisis which is driving markets and money around the globe. China meanwhile is looking at a reliable partner with close proximity to Europe and, which is, carefully insulated from US led power blocks. Russia is an ideal partner as it won't interfere with China's aggressionin South China sea or its stated objective of dominating relationships in the entire Asian, African continents and beyond. What tops up the friendship cake between China and Russia is that both share similar kinds of restrictive policies on new age digital trade issues and want to be the standards setting players, for new technology such as artificial intelligence, digital currency cyberspace, etc. That brings us back to where does India stand in the entire equation, and how does it move forward? Even though Indiahistorically has hadextreme close ties with Russia, which has been reiterated by the recent visit of President Putinto New Delhi, both cannot ignore each other's growing intimacy with their respective adversaries. India has gradually elevated its engagement with US to a strategic alliance level, even though they have been restricted to non-military deals. India is already getting tranches of S-400 ground to air missiles from Russia which could be a sore spot in future journeys with US.

Meanwhile, after getting the Chinese president to share a swing with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, relations between India and China have dropped to an al-time low with both armies engaged in a border standoff for over two years. The Indo China trade hasn't been impacted significantly, even though India understands that to have a substantive say on matters of Asia and the Indo-Pacific region it has to start building stronger alliances. The coming together of Russia and China on key global issues including perhaps climate change could be to India's disadvantage as far as finding its mojo on international forums is concerned. Meanwhile, it has to increasingly play a balancing game between US and Russia. To be fair both countries have kept India's long held positions on Kashmir and national sovereignty issues intact, in all their engagements at multilateral and plurilateral platforms. They havenot yet tried to arm twist India into choosing sides either. The art of firm but polite statecraft is not alien to India, which is the birthplace of Arthshastra, perhaps, the first comprehensive essay on diplomacy. A careful adjustment to modern day needs and certain sense of fluidity will fetch great rewards.

Thank you for your address, Mr President

The address, prepared by the Government, gives an opportunity to political parties in Parliament to arraign it for its acts of omission and commission s is customary, both Houses of Parliament will now present, separately their Motion of Thanks to the President conveying their deep gratitude for delivering an address to the joint session preceding the presentation of the Union Budget 2022-23. Under Article 87(1), an obligation is cast on the President to address both Houses assembled together and inform them of the causes of its summons at the commencement of the first session after each general election to the Lok Sabha and at the commencement of the first session each year. Discussions take place in both the Houses on the Motion of Thanks moved by a member and seconded by another member. The members who table the Motion of Thanks are chosen, as an established practice, by the Prime Minister as great importance is attached to the discussions which cover a very wide gamut of issues confronting the nation forming part of the Presidential Address or which, in the view of the Opposition, escaped inclusion.

The Presidential Address is known as the 'State of Union Address', a term which gained currency from the US Congress where the President comes to the House of Representatives and delivers the state of Union Address which is an occasion of pomp and ceremony and much more. The US President being the fount of executive power, delivers his own address and it was on one such occasion that President Kennedy made a glowing reference to the statesmanship of Nehru and how he was inspired by his world view.

In the USA, the practice was started by George Washington, the first President, discontinued by the second President Thomas Jefferson being 'too monarchical, and restarted by Woodrow Wilson in 1913. In England, the Address is delivered by the Monarch and is known as the 'Speech from the Throne'. The speech is prepared by the Council of Ministers and delivered to the members of Parliament assembled together in the House of Lords. In India, the practice owes its origin to the GoI Act 1919, under which, the Governor General addressed both the Houses of Parliament in 1921.

The President of India, as constitutional obligation, informs the members about the various Programmes and priorities of his Government in almost President sends back the speech to be read by him to his Council of Ministers for réconsideration, being a constitutional head. However, the Address prepared by the Government contains the current state of affairs of the nation and gives a great opportunity to the political parties in Parliament to arraign the Government for its acts of omission and commission. Adequate time is allocated for discussion so that all sides of the House participate in the debate. Usually, beginning from the First Lok Sabha till date, on an average,

The key speakers on the Motion of Thanks are chosen very advisedly by the political parties, especially the ruling party and the main opposition, the principal players in the tug of war. The dis-cussion on the Motion this year was initiated by Harish Dwivedi of BJP, a second term member representing Basti parliamentary constituency, UP, which is in election mode. His focus was on good governance given by Yogi Government under the leadership of the Prime Minister. Rahul Gandhi, the first speaker from the opposition, made a sharp stinging attack on the Government. He referred to the yawning gulf between the rich and the poor, the creation of monopolies and tremendous concentration of wealth by a few, destruction of informal sector, job losses and joblessness, weakening of link between the people and languages, weakening of institutions and ero-States', that is India. Chowdhury of the Congress, the PM at times yielded but made light hearted banter. The PM spoke at length demolishing the charges hurled at his Government and scorned at the conduct of principle opposition. The Motion of Thanks was discussed for over twelve hours from February 2-7. The tone and tenor, and the cut and thrust of the debate were punctuated by exchange of pillories and panegyrics between the treasury and the benches opposite. The lines of Shakespeare flashed across the mind, 'Well, whiles I am a beggar, I will rail/And say there is no sin but to be rich;/And being rich, my virtue then shall be/To say, there is no vice but beggary'. The amendments were rejected by the House and the Motion was adopted by voice vote. The Rajya Sabha debated the Motion simultaneously for almost eleven hours and the PM replied to the debates. There were thought-provoking speeches in Kharge, the Leader of Opposition, made blistering attack but created some uneasiness within his party speakers on the Motion as he consumed their time for speaking for an hour as against the allotted time of half an hour. Prof Ram Gopal Yadav, Samajwadi Party, said he supports the Motion as a salutary parliamentary custom but with a heavy heart. He alluded to the role of frontline workers during the pandemic and heaped praised on them but lamented that the Presidential Address prepared by the Mantri Parishad did not reflect the true state of the republic.

Manoj Jha of RJD underlined the need for making the Address non-partisan and 'a true-blue print of the conditions and direction of the country'. He recalled that Dr Rajendra Prasad, the first President of the republic had delivered the first Presidential Address on January 31, 1950. He also mentioned that this is a practice embedded in the GoI Act, 1919 and a British legacy and hinted that only broad-minded people can have an all-encompassing and fair approach.

In his speech of over one hour and twenty-six minutes, the PM, while explaining the policies and priorities of his Government touched in the Presidential address, mounted a virulent attack on the Congress and referred to the dithering of Nehru in the belated liberation of Goa. But, ending his speech, the PM quoted a hymn of the Rig Veda which counsels, 'talk together and work together in harently so incensed by the speech of the PM that they staged a walk out in protest. The Motion was carried by voice vote and adopted without Amendment. And yet, the need for 'talking together and working in harmony' by the PM is enthusing and imbued with hope. There is, of course, an imperative need for conversation between us, 'we, the People, who make it 'the Union of States' and a sovereign democratic republic.

Budget 2022: An outline for India's 'Techade'

The prime focus of the Government's outreach includes strengthening the startup ecosystem and a technological upgrade of agriculture

he past two years had gripped the entire world in the web of the mutating virus. Amidst the pandemic, uncertainty became the only certain aspect of people's lives. Even as the developed world was grappling with the challenge, India displayed steely determination in responding to the crisis through its scientific excellence and economic resilience in the form of Aatmanirbharta or self-reliance. The result of which has been that as of January 2022, 75 per cent of India is fully vaccinated and we are pegged as the fastest growing economy in the

Yes, it can be said with pride that when the world faltered, India persevered. A big driver of India's unhindered technology that it has deployed to sharpen governance at the grassroots. The Digital India nudge has been instrumental in building a reliable, accessible, and agile structure of direct cash transfers, database creation as well as ensuring a continuous feedback loop to account for the efficacy of Government schemes being implemented on the ground. So, when the Prime Minister pushes the button to transfer the 10th instalment of PM-KISAN, crediting over ₹20,900 crore to more than 10.09 crore farmers across India, one knows, that it is not a gimmick. This is the power of tech that has been able to eliminate leakages and middlemen while reaching the beneficiary at both scale and speed. The Budget 2022 further reaffirms the trust of the government in the power of technology to write India's growth story for the next 25 years, marking the "Amrit Kaal" or the period in the run-up to India completing 100 years since Independence. This approach toward deeper technological integration is in consonance with the aspirations of Indian youth, who see themselves as an integral part of a global community, not just adapting but driving change in the tech space.

The announcements on Digital Rupee using blockchain technology as well taxing of digital assets have been welcomed by the tech enthusiasts as a step forward in addressing the rapidly changing digital space. Further, FM's assurance that a 'Battery swapping' policy is on the cards has provided a sigh of relief to the EV sector, looking to replace ICE as the technology for a sustainable future. The Indian digital ecosystem is expanding on a massive scale. India has the cheapest data available and leads in data consumption. Not just that, it has the internet users. Adding to that, this year's budget gives out the timeline for the roll-out of 5G technology, giving further impetus to India's internet revolution emanating from the tier-2 and tier-3 cities. With optical fibre networks reaching all villages by the year 2025, it is expected that any kind of digital divide would soon be a thing of the past.

Another promising technological integration has been promised in the agriculture sector with the use of 'Kisan drones' for crop assessment, digitization of land records, and spraying of insecticides and nutrients on fields. This opens innumerable opportunities for both the drone industry as well as the agri-tech sector, creating a mutually benesecond-highest number of ficial ecosystem in terms of expansion of the market for technology companies and facilitating agricultural modernization

Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been the greatest cheerleader of the potential of Indian youth to think big. The prime focus of the government's outreach to India's young includes strengthening the startup ecosystem as well as imparting new-age skills. Speaking of the latter, to tap into the talent pool of India's animation, visual effects, gaming, and comics (AVGC) sector, Budget 2022 has announced the setting up of a task force to help leverage domestic capacity and to serve the extensive global demand. In a world gearing up to throw open their imagination to sector to generate jobs is immense.

On the startup front, the record of the Modi Government has been exceptional. As per the Economic Survey 2022, 14,000 new startups were recognized in the year 2021-22 from only 733 in 2016-17. It further states that 555 districts in India had at least one new startup, indicating widespread and inclusive growth of the ecosystem. Budget 2022 gives a further boost to entrepreneurship by extending the tax incentives to startups by one more year.

With the Budget 2022 clearly laying the intent, it can be confidently said that 'Techade of India' (as PM Modi had put it) is well on its way. The world is watching. 'Metaverse', the ability of the India must seize the day.

RBI keeps interest rate intact at record low

The Reserve Bank of India The Reserve Dank of Manager (RBI) on Thursday held its key lending rates steady at record low levels for the 10th straight meeting to support a durable recovery of the econ-omy from the COVID-19 pan-

RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) decided to hold the lending rate, or the repo rate, steady at 4 per cent, and the reverse repo, or the rate at which it absorbs excess cash from lenders, unchanged at 3.35 per cent.

The six-member MPC, which has been on pause since August 2020, voted unanimously to maintain the status quo on the repo rate and by a majority of 5-1 to retain the accommodative policy stance as long as necessary, he said.

"Monetary policy actions will be calibrated and well telegraphed," he said, indicating that there will not be any surprises.

sideration the outlook for inflation and growth, in particular the comfort provided by improving inflation outlook, the uncertainties related to Omicron and global spillovers, the MPC was of the view that continued policy support is warranted for a durable and broad-based recovery," he noted. While a status $\dot{q}uo$ on repo rate was expected, some economists had expected a hike in the reverse repo to realign it with short-term money market rates.

MPC continuing with the accommodative policy stance was one of the prime reasons Das cited for not hiking the reverse repo rate.

The decision comes days after Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman proposed to up spending to support the economy's world-beating recovery.

housing demand

 $R_{\rm consultants}$ and $R_{\rm consultants}$ on Thursday welcomed the RBI's decision to keep policy rates unchanged, saying the historical low interest on home loans will continue to drive demand for residential properties.

They also urged prospective homebuyers to enter the market. Housing demand increased by around 50-70 per cent during the last calendar year across 7-8 major cities on various factors such as low interest rates on home loans, offers-freebies by builders and stable property prices in the last

Reserve Bank forecasts 7.8% GDP growth for 2022-23

The Reserve Bank on Thursday pegged the economic growth rate for 2022-23 at 7.8 per cent, down from 9.2 per cent expected in 2021-22, in view of uncertainties on account of the pandemic and elevated global commodity prices.

The Reserve Bank's growth projection for next financial year is lower than 8-8.5 per cent projected by the Finance Ministry in the recent Economic Survey which was tabled in Parliament earlier in

Unveiling the bi-monthly policy, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said, "recovery in domestic economic activity is yet to be broad-based, as private consumption and contact-intensive services remain below prepandemic levels."

He observed that the announcements in the Union Budget 2022-23 on boosting public infrastructure through enhanced capital expenditure are expected to augment growth and crowd in private investment through large multiplier effects.

India, Australia hold talks on free trade pact ommerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal and his Australian counterpart Dan Tehan on Thursday held discussions on the proposed free trade agreement (FTA) which is aimed at promoting economic ties between the two countries. The Australian minister is here to advance negotiations on the proposed FTA, officially dubbed the Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement (CECA). "Had comprehensive talks over lunch with my good friend & Australian Trade Minister @DanTehanWannon in New Delhi. We had an engaging discussion on ways to further deepen India-Australia economic and trade ties," Goyal said in a tweet.

Markets dart up for third day as dovish RBI cheers bulls; metal, bank stocks shine

Equity benchmarks defied gravity for the third session on the trot on Thursday after the RBI left interest rates unchanged but retained its accommodative policy stance to support the post-pandemic economic recov-

A positive trend in global stocks also supported the domestic markets, traders said. Overcoming a wobbly start, the 30-share BSE Sensex settled 460.06 points or 0.79 per cent higher at 58,926.03. Likewise, the broader NSE Nifty jumped 142.05 points or 0.81 per cent to end at 17,605.85. Tata Steel was the top gainer in the Sensex pack, spurting 2.11 per cent, followed by Infosys, HDFC Bank, HDFC, Kotak Bank, M&M and PowerGrid. Only four stocks closed in the red -- Maruti, Ultratech Cement, Nestle India and Reliance Industries, dipping up to 1.64 per cent. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Thursday held its key lending rates steady at record low levels for the 10th straight meeting to support a durable recovery of the economy from the COVID-19 pandemic. The

Rupee slides by 10 paise to 74.94 as RBI maintains accommodative stance

PTI MUMBAI

Declining for a third day in a row, the rupee slid by 10 paise to close at 74.94 against the US currency on Thursday after the Reserve Bank of India kept key policy rates unchanged and said it will continue with the accommodative stance.

Market participant were expecting the RBI to hike the reverse repo rate to withdraw excess liquidity and change in its stance to 'neutral'. Experts also dubbed the RBI's inflation estimates for the current and the next financial year as 'optimistic'. At the interbank foreign exchange, the rupee opened at 74.90 against the American dollar, and later witnessed an intraday high of 74.88 and a low of 75.05 against the greenback.

RBI to soon come out with digital lending guidelines: DG Rajeshwar Rao

PTI ■ MUMBAI

The Reserve Bank of India ■ will soon come out with the guidelines on digital lending, Deputy Governor M Rajeshwar Rao said on Thursday.

In November last year, the working group on digital lending, including lending through online platforms and mobile apps, had submitted their recommendations. The central bank had sought comments on the recommendations from the public. The last date for which was December 31, 2021.

"RBI has received public comments, and we will frame the guidelines (on digital lending) based on those comments. The work is in progress, and soon it (guidelines) will be launched,' Rao told reporters during a call post the announcement of monetary policy. Speaking on the new umbrella entity for retail payments system, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das said there has been delay in finalising the name of the applicants.

On August 18, 2020, the RBI had released the framework for authorisation of pan-India umbrella entity for retail payments and invited applications.

Electric Vehicle giant Tesla recalls more vehicles as US agency increases scrutiny AP DETROIT

Tesla is recalling nearly 579,000 vehicles in the US because a "Boombox" function can play sounds over an external speaker and obscure audible warnings for pedestrians.

The recall is the fourth made public in the last two weeks as US safety regulators increase scrutiny of the nation's largest electric vehicle maker.

In two of the recalls, Tesla made decisions that violate federal motor vehicle safety standards, while the others are software errors. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration says on its website Thursday that the cars and SUVs have what Tesla calls a "Boombox" function that allows drivers to play sounds while the vehicles are moving.

Cautiously progressing to introduce CBDC: RBI Governor

PTI MUMBAI

 $D_{ ext{said}}^{ ext{ays}}$ after the government said the Reserve Bank will introduce a digital currency in 2022-23, Governor Shaktikanta Das on Thursday said the central bank does not want to rush and is carefully examining all aspects before introduction of the Central Bank Digital Currency (CBDC).

He, however, declined to give any timeline for the launch of the CBDC. In her Budget 2022-23 speech, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced that the RBI will introduce a digital currency in the next financial year beginning April 2022 to boost the digital economy and for more efficient currency management.

THE OATS HAVE IT

DR PAVITRA K gives a lowdown on all you need to know about the power ingredient ats, a well-known whole grain, have been gaining popularity and acceptance in our diets for quite some time. Being gluten-free and a rich source of vitamins, minerals, fibre and antioxidants, they are loaded with health benefits. Oats are well-suited for weight loss, controlling blood sugar levels and reducing the risk of heart disease. The key compound in oats is beta-glucan, a soluble fibre. It is known to control cholesterol levels, provides an increased feeling of fullness after eating and promotes the growth of healthy bacteria in the gut, thereby improving gut health.

Oats were introduced over 10,000 years ago in the ancient Greek world and were commonly eaten as porridge while also fed to livestock. As the human race progressed, so did Oats. Today, Oats are eaten in many different ways. Therefore, while consuming oats, we need to be aware of the various forms of oat grains, where each form is processed differently and is hence consumed differently. In order of least processed to the most processed; the types of oats include oat groats, steel-cut oats, rolled oats and portions from the oat kernels are removed, the grain is then cleaned and heat-treated to increase shelf life. Since this form of oats is closest to the whole grain, it takes a longer time to cook (around 30-45 minutes) with soaking required prior to cooking.

Oat groats: This is the least processed form of oats available for

Steel-cut oats: Each oat groat is cut into two-three pieces, generally using steel blades, to get steel-cut oats. Steelcut oats take less time to cook than oat groats — approximately 20 minutes. Steel-cut oats are coarse, chewy and have a nutty flavour.

Rolled oats: Also known as oldfashioned oats, rolled oats are basically oat groats that are lightly steamed and then rolled, flattened and dried to give them that particular shape and texture. Rolled oats have a softer texture and milder flavour when compared to steel-cut oats and cooking time is reduced considerably to around 10-15

Instant/quick-cooking oats: Oat groats are steamed for a longer time and flattened even thinner as compared to rolled oats, to make instant oats. Instant oats cook within a few minutes (approximately one-three minutes), to give a mushy texture.

It is important to remember oat groats and steel-cut oats have slightly tion times as compared to rolled and instant oats.

Choosing the right kind of oats: Before you purchase oats, please make sure of the points below:

Do you have a certain health condition, which requires you to consume grains of specific cooking time/diges-Do you have a certain recipe in mind that would need oats of a certain taste and texture? For example, overnight oats are best made with rolled oats; while instant oats may be tasty for an oats soup.

Are you experimenting with oats in your diet for the first time? If yes, then be sure of how to cook any oat type that you purchase. Additionally, make sure that the oats you purchase have no added refined sugar, artificial ingredients or preservatives, and is certified clean label. During the processing of oats, there is a possibility of oats dust generation. So, make sure you do not make end up buying more dust than grains. Some brands do ensure zero dust by cleaning and following a certain process so that you end up with grains in the package, rather than dust.

Suggestions to cook oats: Oats can be cooked according to the package instructions, or with added protein, (milk, yoghurt or a supplement) and some healthy fat (nut butter or nuts and seeds) along with some fresh, seasonal fruit. You could also start consuming Chocolate Granola with 100% Dark Chocolate to get some added taste and variety since Rolled Oats are a crucial ingredient in granola. To ensure you are eating the best, look for brands that are Clean Label and Wholegrain Certified. This assures you that the processes their products go through are top-notch.

If you love traditional Indian food, do explore the peppery Oats Pongal, a warm bowl of Oats Kanji, or a tasty Oats Poha. If you wish to add oats to your favourite dishes, you could add some well-cooked oat groats/steelcut oats to your bowl of soup or khichdi- for added fibre; or grind the rolled/instant oats to a fine powder and make delicious pancakes, dosas or chillas; also, you can use rolled oats (whole or powdered form) for baking cookies and cakes.

Summing up, it matters to purchase oats that are certified clean-label, true and healthy; and cooking them the right way is a good start. Healthy can be tasty too!.

Tt is important to fuel your body with nutritious foods when you work out regularly, as exercises need a lot of energy. Pre-workout meals create a great impact on our bodies. Especially when it comes to keeping you focused and energised during and after the workout and also helping in building and maintaining muscles and faster recovery.

Let us take a look at some of the best pre-workout food options to boost you through your workout session:

Black coffee

As black coffee contains caffeine that has awakening elements, it is known to enhance and prolong exercise performance. It also helps to enhance a person's physical performance. Also, boosts cognitive function and potentially increases the amount of fat burned.

When: 45-60 minutes before workout

Quantity: 200-300 mg

Peanut butter

As it contains around 30 essential minerals and vitamins, peanut butter is a great source of protein. It can boost your exercise performance significantly. You can take it as is or with a slice of bread to make it a combination of carbs and protein at once.

When: 10-20 minutes before hitting the gym Quantity: A spoonful

Oat meal

It is protein-packed, full of fibre, and low on fat food for sustained release of energy for a short or even a lengthy workout. Oat meal is considered very nutritious and filling, so it also helps in weight loss.

When: One to two hours before a workout Quantity: Half-one cup to eat or as a smoothie

Protein shake

It is incredibly helpful if you are looking to increase muscle mass. Protein shake also helps in reducing muscle damage and thus aiding recovery.

When: Between 30 minutes and two hours before a workout Quantity: 25-35 gm

It is one of the best go-to preworkout food preferably taken unsweetened as it is a great combination of carbohydrates and protein. For better results, combine yoghurt with fresh fruits. When: Between 30 minutes and one hour before a workout Quantity: two-three spoonfuls

Brown rice and chicken

This one is a classic pre-workout meal. Before a workout, carbohydrates, protein, and fats are needed. Brown rice and chicken combined with some veggies fulfil this nutrition for your body. Along with that, it's also rich in amino acids that are proven to source of slow-releasing energy. When: Two hours before the Quantity: 200-300 gm

Banana

Banana contains important nutrients such as potassium and carbohydrates that add up to exercise performance significantly. Bananas are a good choice for pre-workout as they provide the body with long-lasting energy without weighing it down or causing an upset stomach.

When: 15-20 minutes before workout

Quantity: One or two

Glucon-D

Glucon-D provides some of the very essential monosaccharides that are instant energy generators. It helps the human body to increase the blood sugar level which gets depleted with time as you invest energy into work.

When: 10-15 minutes before workout or even during the workout for instant energy.

Quantity: Two teaspoons in 100-200 ml water

When should you avoid

For physical activities like Yoga, it is important to stay empty stomach. Saucha, cleanliness of body, surroundings, and mind helps in a better workout.

Food for an evening workout

People who prefer evening workouts should have high carb meals for breakfast and lunch as these replenishes glycogen storage. They should avoid caffeine because this will cause disturbance in the sleep cycle and a good night's sleep is very important for muscle growth and recovery.

These pre-workout meals are very efficient in providing the required nutrition for muscle growth and recovery.

Although, one should always consult their fitness expert to design their diet chart including pre and post-workout meals as well as whole-day calorie intakes according to their body type and workout levels.

NOVAK DJOKOVIC NAMED IN THE INDIAN WELLS OPEN

IANS CALIFORNIA (USA)

rorld No. 1 and five-time Indian Wells champion Novak Djokovic along with the 2022 Australian Open champions Spain's Rafael Nadal and Australian Ashleigh Barty are included in the BNP Paribas Open tournament entry list. The event will be held from March 7-20 at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden in California, United States.

However, the organisers emphasised that the vaccinations will be required for the event, but made it clear that players' rules and proto-cols will be decided by the ATP in accordance with US Government

To facilitate the implementation of the venue's mandatory vaccination policy ahead of the 2022 tournament, the guidelines for the players are governed by the protocols established by their respective governing bodies, the WTA and ATP, as well as any restrictions established by the United States of America in regard to the vaccination status of international travellers entering the country," the organisers said in a the Australian Open 2022 as he was deported by the Australian government last month for not disclosing his Covid-19 vaccination status.

On the men's side, three-time champion Nadal (2007, 2009, 2013) will compete at the Indian Wells Tennis Garden for the first time since March 2019, as he was unable to participate in the 2021 tournament due to a foot injury. A powerpacked lineup of ATP Top-10 players will join Nadal is looking to put together a breakthrough performance in Tennis Paradise.

The 2021 US Open champion Djokovic failed to participate in and 2022 Australian Open finalist Daniil Medvedev (World No. 2), 2021 ATP Finals winner Alexander Zverev (World No. 3), and 2021 French Open finalist Stefanos Tsitsipas (World No. 4) will each be in search of their maiden title in the desert. Reigning BNP Paribas Open champion Cameron Norrie (World No. 13) will look to replicate his extraordinary 2021 title run, in which he won his first Masters 1000 crown.

On the women's side, Barty, the WTA World No. 1, will seek her first title in the desert after sitting out the tournament's 2021 edition in

Along with Barty, the 2021 BNP Paribas Open champion Paula Badosa (World No. 5) will attempt to continue her climb up the WTA rankings as she returns to the event just five months after her stunning championship performance in Joining her in the women's draw will be a trio of top-ranked contenders in search of their firstcareer Indian Wells singles victory: 2021 Madrid Open champion Aryna Sabalenka (World No. 2), 2021 French Open champion Barbora Krejcikova (World No. 3) and World No. 4 Karolina Pliskova.

SAI has established para centre: Thakur

The Sports Authority of India has established a para centre under its National Centre of Excellence Scheme at SAI regional centre in Gandhinagar, Sports Minister Anurag Thakur said in the Parliament on Thursday

Under the 'promotion of sports among persons with disabilities' vertical of the Khelo Îndia scheme, financial assistance is provided to support district and state level games to the concerned national sports federations, namely, Special Olympic Bharat, All India Sports Council of Deaf and Paralympics Committee of India. Further, under the talent search and development' vertical of the Khelo India Scheme, 29 para-athletes have been identified in four para-sports disciplines and are being provided with out of pocket allowance of Rs 10,000 per month.

In addition, the nodal body has also established a para centre at SAI's regional centre in Gandhinagar. The centre is operational in the disciplines of athletics, swimming, powerlifting and table tennis.

The selected athletes are provided support in the form of expert coaches, sports equipment, boarding and lodging, sports kit, competition exposure, educational expenses, medical/insurance and stipend as per the approved scheme norms.

Most of the other centres of SAI have also been made disabled friendly.

This ministry implements the Khelo India Scheme with the twin objectives of mass participation and promotion of excellence in sports under which various programmes have been launched under the different Khelo India verticals to realise the objective of broad-basing and promoting the

Chen, Kim soar to Olympic gold medals

AP ■ BEIJING

N athan Chen soared effort-lessly and nearly perfectly five times during his "Rocketman" performance.

When his skates touched down for the final time in a historic arena in Beijing, he was an Olympic gold medalist.

Up at Genting Snow Park, Chloe Kim nailed all five jumps on her first run through the Secret Garden Olympic halfpipe, enough for her to easily defend her Olympic title on Thursday.

It was the United States' best day yet at the Beijing Games. The United States also won gold in the Olympics' first mixed team aerials event, giving it a total of four gold medals and 10 overall.

Chen, whose parents immigrated from China, had a memorable free skate to finally put behind him the immense disappointment from four years ago, when a nightmarish short program in South Korea dashed his medal hopes.

Skating his "Rocketman" program set to the film score by Elton John, the 22-year-old Chen landed all five of his quads to leave no question he was the best in the question he was the best in the world. He finished with 332.60 points, three off his own world record and 22 ahead of silver medalist Yuma Kagiyama of Japan. Shoma Uno of Japan took bronze.

"It means the world. I'm just so happy," said Chen, who was relaxed and expressive throughout his routine.

Chen, who is from Salt Lake City, took off with an opening quad salchow. He effortlessly landed four more quads. He had a slight bobble on a late combination sequence.

When his scores were read, coach Rafael Arutyunyan raised Chen's left arm like a champi-

Prajnesh exits Bengaluru Open with second round defeat

ndia's singles challenge ended at the Bengaluru Open with the second round defeat of Prajnesh Gunneswaran against top seed Jiri Vesely, here on Thursday.

Prajnesh won the first set but eventually made exit with a 6-3 2-6 1-6 defeat that sent the Czech into the quarterfinals, where he will meet sixth seed Frenchman Enzo Couacaud who quelled the challenge of Max Purcell 6-4 3-6 6-

"I think I went wrong somewhere at the end of the second set as I committed too many mistakes which could have been avoided," Prajnesh said after the match.

The 28-year-old Vesley said, "I just wanted to be myself and play my natural game. Although his confidence was high after the first game just dropped."

Meanwhile, three Indian pairs bowed out of the doubles event with only the third seeded team of Saketh Myneni and Ramkumar Ramanathan advancing to the semifinals after getting a walkover from their opponents Steven Diez of Canada and Malek Jaziri of Tunisia.

In the other singles pre-quarterfinals, Cem Ilkel of Turkey made a superb comeback to down the big-serving Russian Evgeny Donskov 2-6 6-3 7-5 to set up a last eight showdown with Alexandre Muller of France, a 7-6 (4) 6-4 winner over Bulgarian Dimitar Kuzmanov in a match that lasted for three hours.

2020 champ Ruud wins first match on return from injury

IANS ■ BUENOS AIRES (ARGENTINA)

asper Ruud made a successful Creturn to action at Argentina Open following an ankle injury that forced his late withdrawal from the Australian Open. Playing his first match since the ATP Cup, the 23-year-old Norwegian defeated Roberto Carballes Baena, 7-6(2), 6-3, on Wednesday.

Ruud won his first ATP title as the eighth seed at the 2020 Argentina Open and enters this year as the World No. 8. The top seed extended his perfect record to 6-0 at the event with the win over Carballes Baena.

"It was a good start. First time playing on clay in six months, so everything is a bit new again," he said post-match. "Of course, I prefer to play on clay, but it takes some time to get used to the court and playing points. Now with six ATP titles to his name, including five in 2021, Ruud is attempting to back up his maiden trophy. (He did not play the 2021 Buenos Aires event, won by Diego Schwartzman, the second seed this year.)

"I feel, obviously, very good in Buenos Aires. I was a bit nervous coming back because it's the first time I have to defend a title," he said, before thanking the fans for "Everything is a bit different since two years ago. When I won here it was a surprise. I was young." Ruud will face Federico Coria in the quarter-finals, after the Argentine scored a comeback 4-6, 7-5, 6-4 victory over fifth seed Dusan Lajovic. Coria trailed 3-5 in the second set, but stormed back to win the final four games of the set in front of his home fans. In the decisive set, he used a run of 12 straight points to turn a 0-1 hole into a 3-1 lead from which he never looked back. The match featured nine breaks of serve, with five for Coria. Spain's former world No. 7 Fernando Verdasco came back for a set down to beat Brazilian Thiago Monteiro in the round of 16 on Wednesday. Verdasco, 38, prevailed 2-6, 6-3, 7-5 in two hours and 17 minutes on the outdoor clay of the Argentine Lawn Tennis Club. His next match will be a quarter-final on Friday against Italian Lorenzo Sonego, who defeated local favourite Sebastian Baez 6-3, 6-3 earlier on Wednesday.

The unseeded Spaniard will next face third seed Lorenzo Sonego, who was a 6-3, 6-3 winner over Argentina's Sebastian Baez in Wednesday's nightcap. The World No. 22 Italian steadied himself after a wild start to the match that featured four straight breaks of serve. From 2-2, Sonego would not be broken again, though he saved seven breakpoints in the second set-including two as he served out the match

The Netherlands women pull out of matches in India in India falling to less than five

IANS NEW DELHI

The Netherlands women's ■ hockey team has decided not to travel to India for their upcoming double-header in FIH Pro League against the Indian women's team at Bhubaneswar, Odisha, on February 19 and 20.

The Netherlands team has cited negative inter-continental travel advice received from KNHB (Royal Dutch Hockey Association) Committee and the NOC medical staff for their decision to cancel their travel to India for the matches, the Hockey India has informed in a release on Thursday. Hockey India has expressed surprise and disappointment over the Netherland women's team, the reigning World and Olympic champions, cancelling their travel plans. Commenting Netherlands' decision, Hockey India President Gyanendro Ningombam said, "Hockey India is quite surprised by the Netherlands' decision to cancel their trip to India for the doubleheader FIH Women's Hockey Pro League which was scheduled for 19th and 20th February in Bhubaneswar owing to the negative medical report given by the KNHB medical committee. Bengaluru look to cut gap on table-toppers Hyderabad

IANS BAMBOLIM (GOA)

A chance to close the gap on leaders Hyderabad FC will motivate Bengaluru FC when two teams lock horns in an 2021-22 Indian Super League match at the Athletic Stadium, here on Friday. Bengaluru are on a nine-game unbeaten run, having turned around a poor start to the season in some style to remain in third place having 23 points from 15 matches. A win against leaders Hyderabad will see them go level on points with their southern rivals, and that should keep Marco Pezzaiuoli's charges on their toes. Hyderabad failed to consolidate their lead at the top after a narrow defeat to ATK Mohun Bagan, leaving Kerala Blasters FC with a golden opportunity to reclaim pole position as they have two games in hand as compared to Hyderabad and Bengaluru. Kerala are placed second with 23 points from 13 outings. "We're looking at ourselves, because we're unbeaten in nine games. We've won our last few games, and we're in a better condition after quarantine. We got ten points from the last four games, which has been a good return," said Bengaluru FC head coach Pezzaouli. "They lost their last game, which is an important point, because it helps us spot some weaknesses. We need to be very compact. They are a very good team in transition, fast players in the offensive areas and Ogbeche is the man in the box, so we need to avoid counters," he said about Hyderabad.

The sub-plot to the encounter is also Bartholomew Ogbeche and Sunil Chhetri facing off. The two joint-highest goal scorers in ISL history will clash against each other as they battle to become the first player to reach the 50goal milestone in the competition. Both Chhetri and Ogbeche have scored 49 goals in the competition. Chhetri has scored 49 goals in 109 matches while Ogbeche has scored 49 goals in 71 matches. The game will also be a battle of some of the best-attacking fullbacks this season. Roshan Singh Naorem and Akash Mishra have been a revelation in attack this season. Cumulatively, they have been involved in 12 goals for their teams this season. Roshan has seven-goal contributions (1 goal plus 6 assists) in his 13 matches while Akash has five goal contributions in 15 matches this season (2 goals plus 3 assists). No defenders have been involved in more goals in ISL 21-22 than these two.

Salah back as Liverpool looks to trim City's lead

ENGLAND

Liverpool will look to trim the deficit to leader Manchester City back down to nine points with a home win over Leicester in the Premier League. And Mohamed Salah is back to help the Reds after returning from the African Cup of Nations, where he lost in the final to Senegal on penalties.

Salah might start on the bench at Anfield as Jurgen Klopp looks to ease his star player back in, but Sadio Mane the scorer of the clinching penalty in the African Cup final won't be involved at all.

Leicester is looking to bounce back from beating humbled by second-tier Nottingham Forest in the FA Cup on Sunday. In the other game, Arsenal can climb to fifth by winning away at Wolverhampton.

India eye whitewash as Dhawan returns to add more firepower

⊣he returning Shikhar Dhawan will add more firepower to a ruthless India, who are faced with the problem of plenty, as they eye a clean sweep of West Indies in an inconsequential third ODI here

Hosts India head into the final match of the series after having ticked almost all the boxes in the first two games, which they won comfortably fortably.

Senior opener Dhawan was among the four players, including a reserve bowler, who had tested positive for COVID-19 just four days ahead of the start of the ODI leg. But now that the southpaw is back, the Indian team could be forced to make few changes to its winning combination. In his absence, the team management opened with Ishan Kishan in the first game and the flamboyant Rishabh Pant in the second. After his side's 44-run win in the second game on Wednesday, India skipper Rohit Sharma made it clear that Dhawan will be back for the last match of the ODI series. "We will get Shikhar back for next game, and he needs some game time. It is not always the results. We wanted to try it one game," Rohit had said.

In all probability, all-rounder runs under their belt and end the ODI leg on a high.

It remains to be seen whether Shreyas Iyer, if available for selection, can make the playing XI or not.

The Indian bowlers dished out a clinical show in the two preceding matches, dismissing their opponents for 176 and 193, respectively.

And with the series sealed, the Indian team management can afford to make few changes and give opportunities to new players.

So, either left-arm orthodox spinner Kuldeep Yadav, who is making a comeback after recovering from an injury, or young leg-spinner Ravi Bishnoi could get a lookin. This means that either Yuzvendra Chahal or Washington Sundar could be rested to make way for one of their teammates.

Also, Madhya Pradesh pacer Avesh Khan has been waiting in the wings, and the team management might also give him a game.

taking four wickets in an excellent second game and Shardul Thakur also among the wickets, it is highly unlikely that the duo would be dropped. So if Avesh is included, probably Mohammed Siraj would have already conceded the series, would be looking to put up an improvised show with the bat and regain some lost ground.

The second ODI was the 11th time in the last 17 games that the West Indies have failed to bat their quota of 50 overs.

Their batters, including skipper Kieron Pollard and senior allrounder Jason Holder, must put a prize on their wickets. Apart from the duo of Pollard and Holder, the likes of Shai Hope, Brandon King and the swashbuckling Nicolas Pooran, would also be looking to dig deep and get some runs under their belt.

On the bowling front, West Indies did well to restrict India in the second ODI and would want to continue from where they left.

Pacers Kemar Roach, Alzarri Joseph and Odean Smith hit the right length, but the role of spinners Fabian Allen and Akeal Hosein is also crucial from the visitors' point

Someone else took credit for decisions I took in Australia: Rahane

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

He was a central figure in India's epic turn-around during the 2020-21 tour of Australia but stand-in captain of that series Ajinkya Rahane says "someone else took the credit" for decisions he made to resurrect the team after the nightmarish 36 all out in the Adelaide Test.

As regular captain Virat Kohli flew out of Australia, leaving in his wake the disappointment of the humiliating loss in the opener at Adelaide, Rahane took over the reins in the most difficult

What followed was one of the most incredible turnarounds seen in Test history as India rebounded to win the second match at the Melbourne Cricket Ground by eight wickets, with Rahane leading the fight-back with a magnificent hundred.

"I know what I've done there. I don't need to tell anyone. That's not my nature to go and take credit. Yes, there were some things that I took the decisions on the field or in the dressing room but someone else took the credit for it," Rahane said

"(What was) important for me was that we won the series. That was a historical series and for me, that was really special."

Rahane did not take any names but his comments could well be a veiled attack on the then head coach Ravi Shastri, who was widely acclaimed for the team's performance and dominated the media space for being the architect of the turnaround given that the dressing room resembled a hospital ward at one point.

In fact, Shastri became the voice of the team after those brilliant victories.

Rahane earned plaudits from the cricket fraternity for the manner in which he led the heavily depleted team in one of the most difficult situations, not just at the MCG but through the remainder of the four-match series.

India missed three front-line players at MCG, and continued to lose key players through the series to injuries but still emerged triumphant at the end

"After that, the reactions from people or those who took credit or what was said on the media, 'I did this' or 'This was my decision', or 'This was my call', it was for them to talk about," Rahane said.

'From my end, I knew what decisions I took on the field and what decisions I took on my

Australia makes 2 changes for Sri Lanka T20 opener

A ustralia has made two changes to the team which claimed its first Twenty20 World Cup in the United Arab Emirates in November for the first match of a five-game T20 series against Sri Lanka. With David Warner rested, the top run-scorer in the domestic T20 competition, Ben McDermott, will open the batting with captain Aaron Finch for Friday's match at the Sydney Cricket Ground. Josh Inglis comes in for Mitch Marsh and will play solely as a batsman while Matthew Wade is the Finch on Thursday endorsed Andrew McDonald as Justin Langer's permanent replacement and echoed the comments of his test counterpart Pat Cummins by saying the next coach must be "more collaborative.

McDonald, who has acted as an assistant to Langer since 2019, has the chance to audition for a permanent stay after being installed as interim head coach. Finch indicated that McDonald was the right fit for a permanent position beyond the Sri Lanka series. "That (the appointment of the next coach) is not my decision to make," Finch said.

"I've worked with him and we played together for a long time. He's very good at his job, but like everything that's gone before us, the players don't make those decisions."

The teams will play the second match at the SCG on Sunday, followed by the third game next Tuesday at Canberra's Manuka Oval. The final two games are set for the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Feb. 18

Pant wins 'Test Batting Award'

■Rishabh Pant won top 'Test batting' prize for his series-winning knock of 89 against Australia in Brisbane last year while New Zealand skipper Kane Williamson was adjudged 'Captain of the Year' at the 15th Annual ESPNcricinfo awards.

The Test bowling award went to Kyle Jamieson for his 5 for 31, which helped New Zealand become the first World Test champions. Pant steered India to an unlikely victory in the dying moments of play in the final Test, taking them to a 2-1 series win. Few would have predicted India to emerge victorious as they went into the match with a third-string side in the wake of numerous injuries to their first-choice players.

Williamson, who was up against Virat Kohli, Babar Azam and Aaron Finch for the award, won it for leading his side to the World Test Championship win and a runners-up place at the T20 World Cup. England fast bowler Ollie Robinson was named Debutant of the Year for his 37 wickets at 21.16 in eight Tests, which made him England's second highest wicket-taker in Tests in 2021. While England men's side had a largely forgettable year, they still managed to grab three awards.

2022 IPL Auction important in preparing our base for next 5-6 years: Sanju Samson

 $R_{\hbox{\scriptsize samson}}$ ajasthan Royals skipper Sanju Samson believes that the upcoming IPL 2022 mega auction is vastly important for them in order to build a base for the team for the next five to six years.

The Jaipur-based franchise, who won the inaugural edition of the league in 2008, head into the two-day auction in Bengaluru scheduled for February 12 and 13 with INR 62 crore in their purse. Rajasthan had retained Samson, young India opener Yashasvi Jaiswal and England wicketkeeper batter Jos Buttler in November last

"This auction is really important because we know we could very well be preparing our base for the next 5-6 years. So, we've made sure to track everyone and give the opportunity to as many players as possible during the trials. Our goal is to now target the ones we think align with our vision, can embrace our values, and help our team get back to the top," said Samson in a release.

Mega auctions of the IPL have, in the past, seen some incredible picks, ones that may not have been the absolute superstars to the common eye but were vital in the larger scheme of things, with diligent analytical backing

Kumar Sangakkara, currently serving as Director of Cricket in the side, feels that the above-mentioned factors could once again come to the fore, and provide the team with further clarity as they build for the potential with a view to the long-term.

"Our analytical assessments are detailed, right from the information we've collected on players to getting them integrated into a central database. We further filter the data, backed with a robust analytic process which enables us to arrive at the right metrics further refining our overall player identification process. It's really quite a comprehensive process." Ahead of the fifth mega auction in the history of IPL, Rajasthan have embraced several tools and technologies for monitoring and performance measurement pur-

Having lived out of suitcase for the past two months, which could potentially be life-changing, when Dhull finally met his parents, it was just a mere 30 minutes of reunion for the sleep-deprived captain of the World Cup winning India U-19 team.

Dhull arrived in Delhi early morning and went straight to his alma mater Bal Bhavan in West Delhi to meet the real journey into the men's world started with the flight that he took to Guwahati to join the Delhi Ranji Trophy squad. Having hardly slept since lifting that trophy in Antigua last week, Dhull has no complaints though. He knows it is only the start of his life as a professional cricketer.

"I have hardly slept the last few days but it is not something I can complain

What I have done till now is done, I need to focus on what lies in the immediate future," Dhull told PTI referring to his Ranji Trophy

Most of the World Cup winning squad members won't go on and play for India but Dhull showed in the Caribbean that he could move up the ladder and play at the highest level. He has set himself an 18-month target to play for India.

"That is my target but If I am not able to do that in the 18 month time frame, I will keep working hard till I attain my goal," said the soft-spoken cricketer.

The 19-year-old is third captain from Delhi to win the title after Virat Kohli and Unmukt Chand, who both had contrasting career graphs post their exploits in the U-19

Word Cup. He is inspired by Kohli and his achievements but there is also the story of Chand, who succumbed to pressure of expectations he set with his performance in the 2012 edition.

Does Dhull have fear of failure after a high he just experienced in the Caribbean? "The names you have taken (Kohli and Chand), I am not thinking on those lines. I want to remain humble and not think about the future too much. "Virat bhai shared his

"I got to know a lot from approaching my career from here on, the chat with him has helped me understand things I need to focus on going forward and things I need to avoid," he said referring to the conversation with Kohli on the eve of the World Cup final on Saturday.

Kohli had already played first-class cricket before he captained India to the World Cup title 14 years ago but Dhull has not even played red ball cricket at U-19 level as he was selected for the white ball assignments.

The switch from U-19 to first-class is a big one but Dhull believes it is something he can handle.

"I will have to change my mindset for the red ball game, preparation will be different. don't think it will be a lot different and tougher than a bit early on but and if you can see that initial period batting becomes easier. 'It is all about the mind-set from here on. Physically how fit you are. It is not one specific area, I will have to work on all my shots to become a better player," said Dhull when asked about areas of improvement. The skipper impressed many with his range of strokes, strike rotation and the tempo of his innings in the Caribbean where he overcame COVID-19 to take his team past the finishing line. The highlight of his cam-
