BHOPAL, SATURDAY JANUARY 29, 2022; PAGES 12 ₹1.50

BJP reposes faith in sitting MLAs in UP

Party announces 91 candidates, 13 Ministers in list

PNS LUCKNOW/DELH

Reposing faith in sitting leg-islators, the BJP on Friday released another list of 91 candidates for the upcoming Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections where it has given tickets to 13 Ministers and repeated its sitting MLA in Ayodhya.

In this list, majority of the names were from those constituencies where elections would be held in the fifth and sixth phases but names of candidates for Lucknow, where the elections will be held in the fourth phase, are still under wraps.

Similarly, the future of the Speaker of the Assembly, Hridaynarayan Dixit, hangs in balance as his name is also not there in the list.

The party dropped Co-Operative Affairs Minister Mukut Bihari Verma but gave ticket to his son Gaurav who will be contesting from his Kaiserganj seat in Bahraich.

Major seat holders are Sidharthnath Singh from Allahabad West, Chief Minister's media adviser Shalabmani Tripathi from Deoria Sadar seat, Nand Gopal Nandi from Prayagraj South, Amit Chauhan from Bikapur in Ayodhya and Ramchandra Yadav from Rudauli.

The BJP has allotted tickets to nine women candidates in the current list of candidates. The BJP women candidates in the new list are Sindhuja Mishra (Kunda), Neelam Karwariya (Meja), Aarti Kol (Karaon), Aarti Tiwari (Goshainganj), Saroj Sonkar (Balha), Anupama Jaiswal (Bahraich), A Neelam Sonkar (Lalganj), Manju Sonkar (Mehnagar) and Sunita Parishit Singh (Zamania).

Apart from this, the BJP has allotted tickets to Akhilesh Mishra from Azamgarh Sadar seat and Prateek Bhushan Singh from Gonda. The party has fielded Sinduja Mishra against Raghuraj Pratap Singh, alias Raja Bhaiya, in Kunda and despite Opposition gave ticket to Rajesh Gautam from Kadipur (R) seat of Sultanpur. The party, however, denied ticket to sitting MLA from Haidergarh Baijnath Rawat and instead fielded Dinesh Rawat. The BJP has fielded new faces from Barabanki Sadar (Arvind Maurya) and Awasthi from Sharad Ramnagar.

In Azamgarh, which is considered a stronghold of the BSP and the SP, the BJP has out of ten constituencies.

Party declared Satyendra Rai from Gopalpur, Akhilesh Mishra from Azamgarh Manoj Yadava from Nizamabad, Krishna Murari Vishwakarma from Didarganj former MP Neelam Sonkar from Lalganj, and Manju Saroj from Mehnagar.

Manju Saroj, was the can-didate of Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party in 2017 but lost the poll. She is now face of the BJP.

The BJP has not yet fielded anyone from Phulpur-Powar where the SP has given ticket to Ramakant Yadav, father of BJP MLA Arun Kant. Among the Ministers who got tickets are: Suresh Pasi from Jagdishpur of Sultanpur, Rajendra Pratap Singh Moti from Pratapgarh, Sidharth Nath Singh from Allahabad West, Nand Gopal Nandi, Allahabad south, Rmapati Shastri from Mankapur Gonda, Health Minister Jai Pratap Singh from Bansi in Siddharthnagar, Satish Dwivedi from Etwa in Siddharthnagar, Jai Prakash Nishad from Rudrapur in Deoria, Agriculture Minister Surya Pratap Shahi from Pathardeva in Deoria, and Upendra Tiwari from Phephna

BrahMos gets 1st export order from Philippines

India inks $375mn cruise missile deal

NEW DELHI

India on Friday entered the Iniche defence export market by inking a deal worth over 375 million dollars with the Philippines for BrahMos supersonic cruise missile. It is the first big export contract by India. The country hopes to cross the five billion dollar mark by 2025.

The Pioneer on January 14 had reported about the Government-to-Government deal between India and the Philippines for the missile system. While the Brahmos is a joint venture between India and Russia, the missile is indigenously designed and manufactured. The missile can be launched from land, air, sea and submarines.

Announcing the deal, Defence Ministry officials said here on Friday that BrahMos Aerospace Private Limited (BAPL) signed a contract with the Department of National Defence of the Republic of the Philippines for supply of shorebased anti-ship missile system. The contract is an important step forward for India's policy of promoting responsible Defence exports.

Though the Government did not specify the number of missiles to be supplied to the Philippines Navy, sources said at least three batteries will be sold. The signing ceremony took place in Manila.

Moreover, the range of the missile for export is about 300 km with the capability of carrying 200k warhead even though the Brahmos has the capability of hitting a target at more than 400 km, they said.

Indian ambassador to the Philippines Shambhu Kumaran said he was privileged to witness history in the making. "Signing of the Brahmos acquisition contract by Philippines Defence Secretary Delfin Lorenzana today marks a decisive step forward for Prime Minister's Mission Sagar and India's Indo-Pacific engagement," he tweet-

He thanked Lorenzana and Philippines Cabinet Secretary Teddy Locsin Jr for their active support to build stronger relations with India.

"Today we are one step closer to elevating ties between our democracies to a strategic partnership and our shared objective of a free and peaceful Indo-Pacific," Kumaran noted.

"It is also a moment of deep pride as India establishes itself as a source of hightechnology equipment and a trusted partner towards capability development of friendly nations," he added.

Reacting to BrahMos's export order, Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) chairman G Satheesh Reddy said, "Surface to air missile Akash, Astra, anti-tank missiles, radars, torpedoes gain the interest of various countries. More systems are being developed which have export potential.

Rebellion in Punjab forces Cong | Raj Babbar likely to | New coronavirus NeoCov's risk to review candidates for 6 seats

The rebellion is brewing within the Punjab Congress over the distribution of tickets. The party is facing revolt at no less than 15 seats out of the total 109 declared so far, forcreview its decision on at least five seats

The denial of party ticket has resulted in a massive resentment among the left out aspirants who have been demanding review, while many others have declared to contest as independents. In fact, its three sitting MLAs Rana Gurmeet Singh Sodhi (Guru Har Sahai), Fatehjung Singh Bajwa (Qadian), and Dr Harjot Kamal (Moga) have already parted ways with the party.

Prominent among the rebels include former MP Mohinder Singh Kaypee, former Minister Jagmohan Singh Kang, four-time Congress MLA from Samrala Amrik Singh Dhillon, Sunam halqa incharge Daman Thind Bajwa, singer-turned-politician Satwinder Bitti, Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi's younger brother Dr Manohar Singh, Cabinet Minister Rana Gurjit Singh's son Rana Inder Partap Singh, among others.

A day after Congress' fourtime legislator from Samrala Amrik Singh Dhillon filed his nomination papers as an independent, Channi's brother Dr Manohar Singh on Friday filed his nomination from Bassi Pathana Assembly seat as an independent candidate against the Congress nominee and sitting MLA Gurpreet Singh Babbar is expected to join the Samajwadi Party. Interestingly on Monday, The Congress named him as one of the 30 star campaigners of the party for the first phase of the UP polls.

Sources said Raj Babbar is in touch with SP supremo Akhilesh Yadav and can quit the Congress soon. Babbar, former cine star and native of Agra, began his political journey from Janata Dal in 1989. The actor subsequently switched allegiance to the SP and was elected to the Rajya Sabha in 1994. In the 1999 general election, he was elected to the Lok Sabha from Agra constituency and retained this seat in the 2004 Lok Sabha polls as well. However, he was suspended from the SP in February 2006 for his outbursts against the party. In October 5, 2008, he formally joined the Congress at a massive rally in Agra.

In the by-election to the Firozabad Lok Sabha seat held in November 2009, he emerged victorious on a Congress ticket. However, he suffered a setback by losing to the BJP in the 2014 and 2019 Lok Sabha elections from Ghaziabad and Fatehpur Sikri respectively. In the meantime, he was a member of the Rajya Sabha from March 2015 to November 2020. Most importantly, he served as the Uttar Pradesh Congress president from 2016 to humans needs clarity: WHO

It can cause more deaths, highlight researchers in China, others say virus not new fter Chinese researchers Assaid they have detected new type of coronavirus NeoCov" among bats in South Africa which can penetrate human cells in the same way as SARS-CoV-2, the WHO on Friday said that its potential needs further clarity.

Chinese researchers weighed in on the mortality rate stating that "one in every three infected persons dies", highlighting the higher death

However, according to the reports, the NeoCov virus is not new. Associated with the MERS-CoV virus, it was discovered in outbreaks in West Asian countries in 2012 and 2015 and is similar to the SARS-CoV-2, which causes coronavirus in humans. It has latent ability to mutate. "It is only one mutation away from becoming dangerous for humans," researchers said in a paper posted on preprint website bioRxiv, and not peer-reviewed yet.

However, according to the WHO, the question of whether the NeoCov coronavirus, recently discovered in bats in South Africa, poses a threat to humans requires further study.

'Whether the virus detected in the study will pose a risk for humans will require further study," said the health body.

The WHO added that it

"works closely" with the World Organisation for Animal Health (OIE), the Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO) and the UN Environment Program (UNEP) in order to "monitor and respond to the threat of emerging zoonotic viruses.'

Urged to open schools, Centre working on all options, advisory soon

PNS NEW DELHI

 $F_{\text{various quarters, particularly parents, the Union Health}$ Ministry is working on options for opening schools with Covid appropriate norms and may soon issue an advisory to States in this regard.

The Government is working on some model to open the schools due to increasing demands by parents. The Ministry has already asked its expert team to look into all the options for opening schools," sources in the Ministry said

There has been increased pressure on the Government from parents and schools to reopen education facilities as the number of Covid-19 cases

Territories have already announced the reopening of schools for Classes 10 to 12 with the condition that students between the age group 15 to 18 can attend offline classes only if they had had at least one dose of vaccination. All staff and students above 18 must be vaccinated with both doses. Various global agencies like UNICEF and World Bank too have called upon the Governments to take steps in this direction.

A three-judge bench headed by Justice Nageswara Rao said States are obligated to collect data on inadequacy of representation of SCs/STs.

The apex court said it cannot lay down any yardstick to determine the inadequacy of representation of SCs/STs and it for the states to do so.

The Centre had earlier told the bench that it is a fact of life that even after around 75 years if independence those belonging to SCs and STs have not been brought to the same level of merit as the forward classes. The apex court had reserved its verdict on October 26, 2021.

SC gives SpiceJet three weeks to resolve dispute with Swiss firm PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Friday granted three weeks to SpiceJet to resolve its financial dispute with Swiss firm Credit Suisse AG and stayed the Madras High Court order on its winding up, saying that it was a "serious matter" and the airlines cannot say it is a busy organisation and would

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

A t a time when the world is grappling with the highly transmissible Omicron variant of Covid-19, scientists at the Banaras Hindu University (BHU) have, in a first-of-itskind study, found that antiviral, anti-bacterial, and antiinflammatory properties in the fumes of Air Vaidya Herbal Dhoopa (AVHD), an ayurvedic formulation, could be effective in preventing air-borne infections in humans and home set-

Prepared by AIMIL Pharmaceuticals, 'Air Vaidya' contains phytochemicals from 19 medicinal ingredients such as Raal, Neem Patr, Vasa, Ajwain, Haldi, Lemon grass (lamajjaka), Vacha, Tulsi, Peeli Sarson, Safed Chandan, Ushir, Sudh Guggal, Nagarmotha, Mehendi, Tagar, Loban, Kapoor, Jigat and Cardamom husk, which are known for their potential therapeutic effects to combat the virus. Dr. KRC Reddy, Professor, Department of Rasa Shastra (Ayurveda), Institute of Medical Sciences, BHU, who led the research, said, "Though Dhoopan (fumigation), a medicinal therapy has been described in Ayurveda compendia for ages for its potency in anti-microbial, anti-fungal, anti-viral action, in the backdrop of rising Covid-19 cases, this is the first scientific study." Dr. Reddy explained,

"Participants were divided into two groups-intervention group (150 persons) and controlled group (100 persons). Since the Covid-19 virus generally enters through nose and mouth into the human body, medicinal fumigation therapy was given to the participants of the intervention group. They were asked to inhale 'Air Vaidya Herbal Dhoopa' (AVHD) fumes for ten minutes twice a day, while the control group was not given any such treat-"The results were encour-

SC verdict is 'tight slap'on MVA Govt's face: Maha BJP

Suspension purely Speaker's decision, says Govt

T N RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

The Supreme Court's verdict quashing the suspension of 12 Opposition MLAs from the Maharashtra Assembly last year evoked mix response on Friday, with the Opposition BJP terming the SC ruling as a 'tight slan' on the face of the 'tight slap' on the face of the MVA Government and the ruling Shiv Sena saying that the apex court had 'overstepped' the rights of the legislature in its order.

Soon after the Supreme Court quashed the suspension of its 12 MLAs as "unconstitutional" and "irrational," the BJP went to town, welcoming the apex court verdict and terming the ruling as a tight slap on the face of the MVA government.

"Satyameva Jayate! We welcome & thank the Hon SC for the historic decision of quashing the suspension of our 12 MLAs, who were fighting for the cause of OBCs in Maharashtra Legislative Assembly during the monsoon session.. I congratulate our BJP Maharashtra 12 MLAs for getting justice," former Chief Minister and current leader of the Opposition Devendra Fadnavis of the BJP tweeted.

"Since the beginning, we were saying that it was completely unconstitutional & gross misuse of power to suspend our MLAs for such a long period to create an artificial majority & that too for no valid reason & the Hon SC has upheld our stand. It was not only a question of 12 MLAs but of more than 50 lakh citizens in these 12 constituencies. Democracy Maharashtra BJP president Chandrakant Patil tweeted: "The suspension was not at all within the framework of the Constitution. It was not in accordance with the law, rather it was arbitrary. The court has also expressed the same opin-

"The State Government should realise that it is wrong to trample on the democratic values in such a manner. Now the question is what action the MVA Government will take against those who ordered unjust suspension," Patil wondered.

The Shiv Sena and NCP leaders refused to accept that the Supreme Court's decision was a 'setback' to the MVA Government since the decision was taken by the Speaker of the State Assembly and that the Legislature had the power to suspend the MLAs Maharashtra Legislature has the power to suspend MLAs... Or, for that matter the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha can suspend MPs, it is well within their powers," Sena MP and Chief Spokesperson Sanjay Raut said.

"I am surprised that the SC is going soft on 12 BJP MLAs who have been suspended for their alleged misbehaviour. The same SC is surprisingly not so considerate when it comes to 12 names nominated by the state cabinet to be appointed as MLCs. The Governor is sitting on the file for some political vendetta. The SC has overstepped on the rights of the legislators when it comes to suspension of 12 MLAs," Raut

It may be recalled that on July 5 12 MLAs were suspended after they created a ruckus over the OBC reservations issue and alleged that Speakerin-Chair Bhaskar Jadhav did not give them enough time to

The BJP MLAs, who were suspended from the Assembly for a year were Parag Alavani, Ram Satpute, Sanjay Kute, Ashish Shelar, Abhimanyu Bhatkalkar, Harish Pimpale, Jayakumar Rawal, Yogesh Sagar, Narayan Kuche and Kirtikumar Bhangdiya.

Reacting to the Supreme Court's ruling, Maharashtra minister and NCP's chief spokesperson Nawab Malik said: "The speaker of the legislative assembly will take a decision once the Supreme Court's written order is available. The decision to suspend 12 MLAs of BJP was taken by the speaker and not by the gov-

"The secretariat of the Maharashtra Assembly will study the SC decision after which the speaker will decide," Malik said

State NCP president and senior minister Jayant Patil said that the 12 BJP MLas came to be suspended for their "misbehaviour" with the then speaker. "The decision to suspend them was taken by the speaker and not the state government," he said. Now after the Supreme Court's verdict, the final decision will be taken once the written order is made available to the office of the speaker," he

"What happened on that day with the then speaker was so extreme that it led to the suspension of the MLAs for 12 months. Incidents had happened in the past as well when legislators were suspended for a longer period," he said.

Alluding Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari's failure to nominate 12 members to the Legislative Council from his quota based on the recommendation of the State Cabinet, Patil said: "Everything should happen as per the law. The state cabinet had recommended 12 names, but they are yet to be approved by the governor".

TN IAS officer to fight poll on BJP ticket from Amritsar

CHENNAI: Jagmohan Singh Raju, the celebrated IAS officer in Tamil Nadu, has quit the service and entered the electoral fray in Punjab as a BJP candidate. The BJP leadership had fielded him as party candidate constituency where he will fight against Navjot Singh Sidhu (Congress), Bikram Singh Majithia (SAD) and Jeevanjoth Kaur (AAP).

Raju, Chief Resident Commissioner of Tamil Nadu in New Delhi who has been holding the rank of additional chief secretary, had sought voluntary retirement from the IAS in a letter addressed to Chief Minister M K Stalin on January 25 and this was approved by the latter.

"Of late, the painful conditions in my home State, Punjab, have been weighing heavy on my conscience. As son of the soil, I am agonised at the lingering socio-economic stress and the sufferings of the unheard, youth and the underprivileged. At the same time, restraints of my service rules confine me from acting in solidarity with the causes espoused by my inner voice. My conscience and deep-rooted love for my home state has therefore to my service, return to Punjab and dedicate myself full-time in its service for the rest of my life," said Raju in his letter to chief minister Stalin.

1963 born Raju had almost two years of service in government before his superannuation. He was designated as chief secretary in 2016, thereby becoming the youngest IAS officer in India to hold the position. Described as the shining star among the country's IAS officers by his colleagues, Raju has been accorded international honours for the meritorious services rendered by him.

Mumbai court takes cognisance of ED's chargesheet against Anil Deshmukh, sons

Mumbai: A special court here on Friday took cognisance of charge-sheet filed by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) against former Maharashtra home minister Anil Deshmukh and his two sons in connection with a money laundering case.

Special Prevention of (PMLÁ) court judge, R N Rokade, issued process against the accused after taking cognisance of the charge sheet.

In December last year, the ED had filed the 7,000-page supplementary charge sheet in connection with the case. Besides Deshmukh, it had named named his two sons as accused in the case.

Prior to that, the probe agency had filed a charge sheet against 14 accused, including Deshmukh's private secretary (an additional collector-rank officer) Sanjeev Palande and personal assistant Kundan Shinde. Deshmukh was arrested by the ED on November 1 last year in connection with the case and is currently in judicial custody.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Missing classes

There is still no clarity from any quarter on whether it's okay to reopen schools

ne would have expected the Indian SARS-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium (Insacog) or the National COVID Task Force or the entire body of epidemiologists and virologists to at least now come up with a view on the reopening of schools. Unfortunately, their view eludes us. Schools remained closed for all of 2020 and most of 2021. They began to reopen in several States at the end of the second wave but closed down again when Omicron surfaced. Scientists predict that the current wave is subsiding fast, but they do not want to tell us if it is okay for children to return to school. Restrictions are being lifted but no State Government is willing to bell the 'school reopening' cat. Is there something we do not know but ought to know? Or is it that nobody wants to take the risk because nobody can say with confidence that the reopening will increase, or not increase, the risk of infection? The children and their parents are owed an explanation. For over 600 days, students have missed school, been kept away from classroom studies and subjected to forced home isolation and, for no fault of theirs, they are becoming victims of mental distress. We hear the usual from the scientists that children have a strong immune system that prevents them from catching infection easily. On the contrary, months of sitting isolated at home without exercise or physical activity may have dented their immunity.

There is no data on how children faced infection and no surveys on whether strict precautions in schools can ward off infection till they are vaccinated. To a large extent, the hesitation of the Government in reopening schools is justified because children are the only segment of the population without a vaccine. Those over 15 are getting their first dose now. Vaccines for children above two years of age will have to wait for a while longer, probably till early summer when five vaccines will be available to them — Cadila Healthcare's ZyCoV-D, Bharat Biotech's Covaxin, the Serum Institute's Covovax, Biological E's RBD and Johnson & Johnson's 26COV.2S vaccine. In the meanwhile, there should have been a national assessment of the fall in education reception, or knowledge absorption and in the standards among children, if any. The shortcomings of the online method of teaching are already in the public sphere. Students from poor families are suffering from not being able to afford digital devices or lacking electricity to run them. Parents are beginning to ask why education is not an "essential" service like economic activity is. They find it surprising that bars are the first to reopen, but not schools. They say it is naïve to suppose children are not exposed to the virus when adults in the family go out regularly for work. It is time for rationality, not emotions, to decide on the reopening of schools. There is no scientific reason to keep them closed, anyway.

Political leaders of myriad hues have turned elections into a joke in their lust for power

■ill the 1980s, June and July used to be months of activity in Kolkata's football maidans despite the monsoon. That was the period of inter-club player transfers as a prelude to the Calcutta League. Though neither Bengal nor India were anywhere near the top 10 teams in Asia, the transfers took place with decency and dignity. The Indian Soccer League has since robbed the Calcutta League and the player transfers of their importance. The elections to five State Assemblies, to be held in February 2022, bring to mind more or less a similar scenario. Ministers, Assembly's sitting members and the out-of-favour leaders have suddenly sprung to life and are animatedly defecting from their old party to new outfits for the lure of tickets and other benefits. In Uttar Pradesh, many Ministers and their hangers-on have jumped fences and crossed over to parties which offered to fulfil their demands. A leader in the BJP's UP Government suddenly got enlightened that his community, Dalits and Muslims were being ignored by the Government in power since 2017 and so he walked off to the rival camp.

On why he kept quiet for five long years before crossing over to another party, his explanation was that people had given him the mandate for five years and that period was over once the election was declared! While this Minister defected to the Samajwadi Party, a leader from the house of the SP bosses jumped ship and joined the Hindutva bandwagon, portraying it as 'secular and humane'. The Uttarakhand PCC president joined the BJP because he would not have made it to the list of party candidates in the GOP. These are not stray incidents but routine shows that play out before every election. The Aaya Rams and Gaya Rams are still around...in modern avatars. Though Rajiv Gandhi after becoming Prime Minister amended the Constitution in 1985 with a view to checking defections, our ingenious political leaders have designed new strategies to circumvent the anti-defection laws. Politics is degenerating into 'politricks' and has truly become the 'Great Indian Political Circus'. If the common man opts for "one nation, one election" as proposed by the Prime Minister, it is only to get rid of this political gymnastics. A senior and respected MP was heard saying the other day she was willing to step aside provided her son was accommodated in her place. Cry, my beloved country!!

Hindus as punching bags for centuries?

There are several mentions in historical recordings and scholarly papers to show that pre-Islamic religious edifices were razed to build mosques here is no doubt that Hindus have had the image of being soft and, therefore, a useful punching bag. It was overdue for a firm stand to be taken as was rightly done by TS Tirumurti, the Indian permanent representative to the United Nations, recently. Swami Vivekananda was palpably aware of the Hindu image having been tarnished and there being a Hindu phobia. Accorded a tumultuous welcome upon his return after making a great name for himself and his faith overseas, Swamiji gave a frank explanation for why there was Hindu phobia. Sir Sankaran Nair, a member of the Viceroy's Council, in his book called Gandhi and Anarchy (published by Tagore & Company; Madras, 1922), wrote: "For sheer brutality on women, I do not remember anything in history to match the Malabar rebellion. It broke out about the 20th of August (1921). Even by the 6th of September, the results were dreadful." Gandhiji's comment which he wrote in Young India of September 29, 1921: "We have forgotten the divine out of dying for our faiths without retaliation... The Hindus must have the courage and the faith to feel that they can protect their religion in spite of such fanatical eruptions." He warned the Government against excessive repression of the Moplahs. The ending of the revolt was a matter not only of urgency, but of simple humanity: "Be the Moplahs ever so bad, they deserve to be treated as human beings."

Amongst Swami Dayanand' successors, Shraddhananda was the most successful in implementing shuddhi. He was murdered in his sick bed. Gandhi's comment was: "I have called Abdul Rashid a brother and I repeat it. I do not even regard him as guilty of Swami's murder. Guilty indeed are those who excited feelings of hatred against one another.

The message of Vivekananda was clear that many problems have their roots in us. There is injure us unless we first injure ed his exhaustive survey of ourselves. One-fifth of the population in India has become Mohammedan. Whose fault is it? One of our historians says in ever-memorable language: "Why should these poor wretches starve and die of thirst when the perennial fountain of life is flowing by? The question is: What did we do for these people who forsook their own religion? Why should they become Mohammedan?"

To go back to Aurangzeb, over two centuries after the desecration, F Growse, the magistrate of the district in the 1870s, felt that of all the sacred places in India, none enjoys greater popularity than the capital of Braj, the holy city of Mathura. For nine months in the year, festival follows upon festival in rapid succession and the ghats and temples are daily thronged by new troops of way-worn pilgrims. So great is the sanctity of the spot that its panegyrists do not hesitate to declare that a single day spent in Mathura is more meritorious than a lifetime passed in Benares. All this celebrity is Brajbhoomi. He was so overwhelmed by the vandalism that visited the area repeatedly that he wrote feelingly, although his home was in faraway England. To quote: "Thanks to Muhammadan intolerance, there is not a single building of any antiquity either in the city itself or its environs. Its most famous temple, which was dedicated to Kesava Deva (Krishna), was destroyed in 1669, the 11th year of the reign of the iconoclast Aurangzeb. The mosque (idgah) erected on its ruins is a building of little architectural value.

Today, Balkrishna is worshipped in a little room which appears like a servant quarter adjoining the back of the idgah. Pathos can be experienced by any visitor, whether a devotee or otherwise. The mischief with masjids extends from Somnath in the west to Adina mosque on the Bangladesh border in the east. The Adina mosque is situated on National Hiighway No.34 near Gaur. On the wall outside, distinct remnants of Hindu deities are visible. One stone slab displays Ganesh by the side of his consort. Inside the mosque, the stone work is equally convincing that the original building was a temple. There has obviously been done a fair amount of work on this place of worship. Memoirs of Gaur and Pandua by M Abid Ali Khan, subsequently revised by HP Stapleton, prove this.

A more recent work of scholarship is entitled Mosque Architecture of Pre-Mughal Bengal by Dr Syed Mahmudul Hasan. Evidently, local legend as to who built the Adina mosque and why, appears to be incorrect. According to scholars, it was established by Sultan Sikandar Shah between 1366 and 1374 AD. There is a difference of opinion, especially between JH Ravenshaw and other scholars as to whether Gaur, the famous capital of medieval Bengal, was older or whether Hazrat Pandua, where Adina is located, flourished earlier. The significance of the controversy is about how much rubble from pre-Islamic edifices could have been used. Dr Hasan is impartial enough to quote various scholars at length, although he betrays some unhappiness at the allegation about the use of Hindu materials.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR THE MAHARAJA'S HOMECOMING

Sir — For the Tatas, the original owners of Air India, nothing can be greater delight than the homecoming of the debt-laden, yet the nation's prestigious, air carrier after nearly seven decades. Air India, which gave wings to the nation, was much more than a business venture to the country's biggest conglomerate. ('Air India lands up in Tatas' hands'; January 28). From the first operation from Karachi to Bombay in October 1932, with JRD Tata steering a Puss Moth aircraft, to seizing control of Air India 89 years later, the Tata Group has had a rollercoaster ride in Indian civil aviation history.

While normally aircraft head back to their original destinations after flying, perhaps for the first time in aviation history has an airline company itself headed back to its original roots. The skies of independent India had long witnessed the dominance of the country's flagship airliner, and perhaps they are eagerly waiting to welcome the beginning of a new era in India's aviation ecosystem. And the Maharaja, whose famous moustache was designed by Bobby Kooka, a close associate and friend of JRD Tata, is truly back with a bang.

INT'L HOLOCAUST REMEMBRANCE DAY Sir — We observe the International Holocaust Remembrance Day on January 27 every year to mark the liberation of Nazi Germany concentration camp, Auschwitz Birkenau, from the historical atrocities committed on Jews. This day reminds us of the crimes committed by Nazi Germany in concentration camps, leading to about 1.1 million deaths between 1940 and 1945. On this day, the qualities of tolerance, equality, free speech and human rights need to be inculcated in this world beset by a number of challenges and inequalities. As the holocaust memories fade in the mist of time, anti-Semitic, religious and racial intolerance are taking the centre stage.

Since the number of Holocaust survivors is showing a downward trend, the younger generation must be made aware

WHAT'S WRONG WITH INDIAN CRICKET? Sir — Cricket is like a game of chess and so every move counts in its shortest form. Having lost the Test series in a one-day fashion, we could have chalked out a strategy to avoid the mistakes committed in the longest form of the game. The

"Ghulam" for accepting it signifies the grand old party's deep decline. Azad's public affairs credentials are impeccable. He was the J&K CM in 2005, after Congress' CM Syed Mir Qasim in 1975. Also, he was Cabinet colleague to the party's who's-who of Indira Gandhi, Rajiv Gandhi, Narasimha Rao and Manmohan Singh

This Government has in the past honoured Congress stalwarts like Pranab Mukherjee and Tarun Gogoi, too. Terming the present conferment 'political' is not true. Even the Government's harshest critics, the Shiv Sena and TMC, endorse the honour to Azad. After being sidelined by his party since he is a G23 member, Azad is doing well by pulling crowds in his home State. He may be eving a new political innings in J&K. That he may align with the BJP is probably worrying the Congress. downfall. The ex-captain is enjoying his cricket just like it is an outing in the park. As the captain, he was sending flying kisses to the pavilion and now, as a player, he is doing a cradle celebration.

The batting standards have gone down considerably, which forced such a situation that the bowlers were put to test. In the event of a small total to defend, most of the time on the tour our strategy should be to dismiss the opposition early. We lost to South Africa 1-2 in Test matches and 0-3 in One-Day matches. As a result, we sacked certain star bowlers as scapegoats. How long can we bank on our home wins? What is wrong with Indian cricket? Thus India's T-20 ranking is by far the best, compared to Test (3rd) and ODI (4th) after the debacle in South Africa

www.dailypioneer.com

Foreign capital inflow will ease down the bond yield to some extent

SHSHANK SAURAV

■ nion budget 2022 is few days away and there are speculations around inclusion of India's sovereign bond in the global bond index. Sometime back RBI governor said that the process is on and it should happen in few months. Historically, India has remained averse to the foreign ownership in the country's debt. This policy choice was largely driven by our experience related to balance of payment situation in 1990s. Government opened up the corporate sector for foreign capital (via FDI/FIlroute) and even FPI limit in corporate bond was kept high but RBI continued to keep a conservative stand on sovereign bonds. Things have changed now and our foreign exchange reserve is enough to withstand the short-termvolatility caused by sudden capital outflow. The Covid pandemic has curtailed revenue generation on one hand while public spending has increased on the other. The Government has resorted to borrowing as other non-tax receipts (like disinvestment proceedsor asset monetisation schemes) are lagging behind the target. The GOI 10-year bond yield has touched two years high of 6.54 percent in January 2022. Economic growth is still under the shadows of pandemic and therefore government borrowing is unlikely to come down drastically. When economy revives and credit demand picks up, banks would not be showing the same appetite for the Government papers and it appears that yields are not going to ease in near term. A higher yield means more outflow on account of interest payment and thereby leaving less amount with government for infrastructure and asset creation.

Foreign capital inflow will ease down the bond yield to some extent. However, this inflow will cause appreciation of INR and it will be detrimental to the exporters. This exchange rate movement can be managed by the RBI with its market intervention policies. Despite of various concessions and incentives given by government, private investment is not picking up and government has to come forward for almost all major infrastructure projects. Domestic borrowing directly impacts the liquidity which has direct impact on demand/consumption and inflation.In our case, external borrowing should be used for growth purpose only and foreign capital should not be tapped just to finance the fiscal deficit. Country's risk perception determines the demand of the government papers by the buyers. Credit Default Swap spread isgenerally used to gauge the risk perception on the securities issued by the borrower. India's five-year sovereign CDS spread has consistently fallen (after reaching its peak in March' 20 due to Covid-related uncertainty) which means that credit perception has improved. India's sovereign credit rating has remained stable and downgrading by Moody's in June 2020 from Baa2 to Baa3 had invited severe criticism. Attractive vields on Indian bonds are remunerative to the foreign investors even if exchange rate risk is factored in and therefore demand of these securities is not a question which policy makers should worry about. There are certain areas which needs to be clarified by the RBI and finance ministry before this policy shift sees the light of the day. Though there is an overall ceiling of six percent and two percent of outstanding loans for central Government and state development loans respectively, operational process should be smooth. Taxation aspect (both interest receipt at periodic interval and capital gain) is important as any relaxation to the foreign investors would be detrimental to the domestic investors. A concession to the foreign investors while taxing the transaction in the hands of domestic investors would go against the principles of equity. This structural shift shows change of mindset and it is a welcome step but will need to be monitored cautiously post implementation.

Can Modi-Capt duo help BJP in Punjab?

Several Assembly polls have shown that Modi alone cannot be the face of BJP; it needs that extra zing, that extra person or an issue, to ride home he Enforcement Directorate's raids on the house and business premises of the relatives of Punjab chief minister Charanjit Singh Channi follows a set pattern being followed by the central agencies for a while now in poll-bound states.

"This will generate a lot of smoke, this smoke will remain visible for a while but it will have little or no adverse political consequences for those who have been targeted," a leader in Punjab quipped on the timing of the raids when elections have been announced and the electoral process has begun.

Those who are knee-deep into politics say that the ED or Income Tax raids or any raid by a central agency hardly benefits the BJP in the elections as the fire is extinguished by those affected by the raid the very next day by playing the victim card to the hilt. The smoke too clears in the next 3-4 days after the agencies give an account of the recoveries and the dust it generates settles down in a week.

So, BJP in Punjab will have to rely solely on the charisma of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the political guile of two-time chief minister Amarinder Singh, having a combined tenure of nine and a half years in the top job of the state. As we all know by now, Modi has a great influence when it comes to something like presidential type elections where he hardly has any political rivals and easily towers over others. It happened in 2014 and 2019 where the election was clearly Modi versus the rest. Obviously the combined "rest" was no match to Modi and the results hardly had any element of surprise. Not much has changed even in 2022 on this front.

However, at the same time, the Assembly elections in several states clearly showed that Modi alone cannot be the face of BJP and it has to get that extra zing, that extra person or an issue to ride home. Even in the home state of the Prime Minister, Gujarat, Congress did reasonably well despite the fact that Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah hailed from the same state. There were a string of losses in states all over the country, suggesting that local and regional leaders held on their own in their home turfs.

In Chandigarh Municipal Corporation elections, Modi was the only face of the BJP in the polls and the party ajorny at the civic body for five years. It's a different matter that through political machinations, it managed to get its "minority' Mayor elected, though the Aam Aadmi Party had two seats more than the BJP in

So in Punjab, it is unlikely that Modi will have a big influence in the voting process and outcome, whatever his supporters say. The only rally he was supposed to address before the polls were announced, in Ferozepur, had to be canceled after the much-publicized security

(The writer is Senior Resident Editor, The Pioneer, Chandigarh. The views expressed

As far as Amarinder Singh is concerned, many in the state, some even his supporters, now believe that for him, forming Punjab Lok Congress and aligning with BJP is not a serious shot at power but only an attempt to ensure that Congress which he feels humiliated him, is defeated. Also, many in his old party believe that Amarinder could well be waters with half a dozen MLAs in a possible hung Assembly.

Without getting into ifs and buts of what would happen after the polling, it is clear that BJP wants to have a roadmap of its own in the Sikh majority state in the near future. It was in alliance with the Shiromani Akali Dal for over two decades in the border state and used to contest 20 seats in the urban areas as a junior partner. The two parties complemented each other well-SAD, claiming to put across Sikh point of view while BJP the Hindu point of view in a state which was badly affected by militancy in the 1980s and early 1990s. The now repealed three agricultural laws changed the political dynamics of the state and no one either from the BJP or the SAD could envisage the consequences it would have on state politics before the bills were conceptualized and eventually passed. As Sikh farmers from the state gathered at Delhi borders in one of the most visible non-violent protests in decades, opposition to the farm laws became a sort of mass movement in Punjab which a party could neglect only at its peril. SAD took the initiative and parted ways with its partner BJP and withdrew its minister Harsimrat Kaur Badal from the Modi Cabinet.

with SAD, particularly, during the ten years of its rule (2007 to 20017), there were demands within BJP to test electoral waters independently. This chorus grew louder since 2014 when Modi emerged as a towering leader and BJP won several state elections and changed the political dynamics of the country. So, in 2022 it will be the first time in decades that BJP would be the big brother in the alliance with Congress turncoat and PLC chief Amarinder Singh and would contest 65 odd seats. If BJP manages a decent show and the definition of a decent outing would vary from one leader to the other, a new alignment could emerge in Punjab. But given the fact that BJP has been unable to grow in rural Punjab due to multiple factors, it looks like a long haul for the saffron party at present.

Many in the SAD believe that Amarinder Singh's PLC is only a one election wonder and they have little or no differences with BJP, more so when the reason for their differences-Farm Acts-no longer exists. So there would hardly be much surprise if the SAD is back in alliance with the BJP for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls and a soft understanding soon after the 2022 Assembly polls. In fact, none of the two parties-SAD and BJP-are making noises against each other in the there is hardly any difference of opinion amongst them. If BJP does reasonably well in assembly polls, it will then bargain for more seats in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls from SAD. That seems to be the refrain of some BJP leaders as well as an aging Captain Amarinder is no guarantee for their future political plans in the state and SAD completes the Hindu-Sikh political stereotype which helps BJP in rest of the country as well.

Solid waste management policy still suffers from niggles

Primary segregation is key to effective solid waste management, specifically recycling and composting

Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016 brought in by the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) and monitored by the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) are having limited success. Authorities right from the Ministry of Urban Development, CPCB, State pollution Control Boards, Municipalities, and Gram Panchayats have been accountable. Implementation is mainly by municipal authorities and gram panchayats as per rules. Segregation at source is the mainstay of the Rules as has been amply demonstrated by municipalities like Indore, making citizens and institutions responsible for primary segregation.

Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers, according to clause 7, has to ensure market development assistance and promotion of city compost with chemical fertilizers in the ratio of 3:4, but the ministry has done nothing to assist the municipalities and gram panchayats, where compost is being produced.

Similarly, the Ministry of Agriculture, as per clause 8, had to set up labs for checking the quality and propagation of compost on farmland, but it has done little. Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) hardly monitors State Pollution Control Boards for implementation. Even Delhi is not segregating waste as per rules right under the nose of CPCB. According to SWM Rules ferred to Greater Noida

2016, Clause 15 makes local authorities responsible for solid waste management. Except for municipalities like Indore, Ambikapur and a few others, no municipality is following the rules. Cities like Noida are finally working on different types of waste and segregation at doorsteps but implementation is insufficient even though City managers like Salil Yadav worked hard to implement and succeeded partially. He has been transAuthority (GNIDA) to implement in the planned township of Greater Noida

GNIDA was fined Rs 2 crore by National Green Tribunal in 2019 for not properly implementing SWM 2016 rules. Since then, it has taken action for empanelment of private agencies for bulk waste generators (apartments) and has empaneled more than 17 agencies in category 2 of its notification

Sources said three attempts were made by GNIDA to empanel vendors for colonies but due to unfavourable conditions such as unwillingness to pay or pay very little, harassment of sanitary workers and collectors, the attitude of residents, foiled the initiative.

A look at the implementation of apartments and colonies

Industrial Development like Jalvayu Vihar, AWHO, Gurjinder Vihar, Jaypee Greens, La Residentia, NHPC Employee colony, Greenwoods Society, Ansal Golf Links, Gaur City 1 & 2 throws up interesting facts.

Jaypee installed a composter machine in July 2021, in accordance with the SWM rules of GNIDA and Central Government, but the machine had not worked properly due to its vendor's inadequacies. Segregation at the residential level was patchy at best. A person from the machine maker explained that it is a proper aerobic composter and not a burning machine as used in many societies. Sources from GNIDA informed that Jaypee had been fined heavily on quite a few occasions as waste was not being processed and was picked by a company, K waste, which disposed of all wastes in landfills. Penalty amount could not be verified. La Resdentia was earlier a joint venture with Amrapali. After being fined by GNIDA they have bought the machine and are finalizing the vendor. In the case of Gaur City, a huge residential complex, segregation, and processing were

AWHO, similar to Jaypee Greens, has a very big aerobic composter and a proper structure allotted and one of the first to implement in 2019. It was inaugurated by Deputy CEO of GNIDA, but the machine is not working since September 2021. A source in the RWA office informed that a company was doing the composting till August 2021 but the Housekeeping committee and the company had their differences and so, the company was asked to wait till they try a new vendor from September 2021. But it has been months and neither the current vendor K Waste nor the current RWA committee has taken action to rectify the machine. The plant did not have any workers and no evidence of any waste management work was seen. GNIDA has not taken action against AWHO as per rules. The earlier company vas not available for comments.

In the case of AWHO, one RWA committee was the initiator and the committee which came later played the spoilsport and violator. GNIDA sources informed they have blacklisted certain vendors like SVM, who were throwing waste in landfills in Greater Noida or even transported it to Ghaziabad.

Russia: Won't start war over Ukraine tensions

 $R^{\text{ussia's top diplomat said}}_{\text{Friday that Moscow will}}$ not start a war in Ukraine but warned that it wouldn't allow the West to trample on its security interests, amid fears it is planning to invade its neighbor.

U.S. President Ioe Biden warned Ukraine's leader a day earlier that there is a "distinct possibility" that Russia could take military action against the former Soviet state in February.

"There won't be a war as far as it depends on the Russian Federation, we don't want a war," Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov said in a live interview with Russian radio stations. "But we won't let our interests be rudely trampled on and Tensions have soared in recent weeks, and United States and its NATO allies warily eyed a buildup of more than 100,000 Russian troops near Ukraine, worrying that Moscow was preparing to attack. Russia has repeatedly denied having any such plans, but has demanded that NATO promise Ukraine will never be allowed to join and that alliance roll back deployments of troops and military equipment in Eastern Europe. The U.S. and NATO formally rejected those demands this week, though Washington outlined areas where discussions are possible, offering hope that there could be a way to avoid war.Russia's official response to those proposals will come from President Vladimir Putin, but Kremlin has said there was "little ground for optimism."

Lavrov echoed that grim note Friday."While they say they won't change their positions, we won't change ours," he said. "I don't see any room for compromise here."Putin opened the weekly meeting of his Security Council on Friday, saying only that it would address foreign policy issues.

Later, in a video call with French President Emmanuel Macron, the Kremlin said he emphasized that U.S. and NATO failed to consider Russia's key demands: precluding NÁTO's expansion, stopping the deployment of alliance weapons near Russian borders and rolling back its forces from Eastern Europe. At the same time, Putin spoke in favor of continuing talks about a stalled peace agreement for eastern Ukraine, where Russia-backed rebels are fighting Ukrainian forces. Those talks are among Russia, Ukraine, France and Germany, and presidential envoys from four countries met in Paris on Wednesday and agreed to have another meeting in Berlin in two weeks.Following 2014 ouster of a Kremlin-friendly president in Kyiv, Moscow annexed Ukraine's Crimean Peninsula and began backing insurgency in country's eastern industrial heartland.

Earlier, Lavrov noted that U.S. suggested two sides could talk about limits on deployment of intermediate-range missiles, restrictions on military drills and rules to prevent accidents between warships and aircraft.

He said that Russia proposed discussing those issues years ago — but Washington and its allies never took them up on it until now. While he described U.S. offers as reasonable, he also emphasized that Russia's main concerns on NATO. He noted that international agreements say that security of one nation must not come at expense of others' and that he would send letters to ask his Western counterparts to address that obligation.

Biden says Russian invasion in February 'distinct possibility'

AP ■ MOSCOW

The White House says President Joe Biden warned Ukraine's president Thursday that there is a "distinct possibility" Russia could take military action against Ukraine in February. The Kremlin likewise sounded a grim note, saying it saw "little ground for optimism" in resolving the crisis after the U.S. this week again rejected Russia's main Russian officials said dialogue was still possible to end the crisis, but Biden again offered a stark warning amid growing concerns that Russian President Vladimir Putin will give the go-ahead for a further invasion of Ukrainian territory in the not-so-distant future.

The White House said Biden's comments to Ukraine's Volodymyr Zelenskyy in a phone call amplified concerns that administration officials have been making for some time. "President Biden said that there is a distinct possibility that Russians could invade Ukraine in February," White House National Security Council spokesperson Emily Horne said. "He has said this publicly and we have been warning about this for months. Tensions have soared in recent weeks, as United States and its NATO allies expressed concern that a buildup of about 100,000 Russian troops near Ukraine signaled that Moscow planned to invade its ex-Soviet neighbor. Russia denies having any such designs — and has laid out a series of demands it says will improve security in Europe. But as expected, the U.S. and Western alliance firmly rejected any concessions on Moścow's main points Wednesday, refusing to permanently ban Ukraine from joining NATO and saying allied deployments of troops and military equipment in Eastern Europe are nonnegotiable.

Japan to watch WHO probe of director's alleged racism, abuse

AP ■ TOKYO

Tapan's government said Friday it will watch the World Health Organization's investigation into staff complaints over racism and abuse by a top Japanese official at the agency but denied it inappropriately received sensitive vaccine information from him.

Meanwhile in Geneva, France's diplomatic mission said that if the allegations are proven to be true, the possible consequences include the termination of the WHO director's contract.

An investigation by the Associated Press this week found WHO staffers alleged that Dr. Takeshi Kasai, the U.N. health agency's top director in Western Pacific, engaged in unethical, racist and abusive behavior, undermining WHO's efforts to curb the coronavirus pandemic, according to an internal complaint filed last October.The complaints were also emailed to senior WHO leaders last week and describe a "toxic atmosphere" with "a culture of systemic bullying" at WHO's regional headquarters in the Philippines.

China says UN rights chief welcome in Xinjiang, but not for probe

China said on Friday United Nations human rights chief Michelle Bachelet is welcome to visit Xinjiang, where Beijing faces serious human rights allegations against Uygur Muslims, after Winter Olympic Games to promote cooperation and not an investigation based on "presumption of guilt".
Foreign Ministry

Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian said at a media briefing here that invitation was extended a long time ago and two sides have been maintaining communication."China welcomes Madam Bachelet to visit China, including Xinjiang," Zhao said.

"Our position is consistent and clear. The purpose of the visit is to promote exchange and cooperation, not investigation based on presumption of guilt. We oppose anyone using this for political manipulation to pressure China," he said.

The spokesman, however, skirted a direct answer when asked to comment on a media report stating China is also insisting Bachelet should not release her report on Xinjiang before February 4 Beijing Winter Olympics opening ceremony as demanded by US politicians."I can tell you Xinjiang enjoys economic prosperity and social order and people there are leading happy lives with their human rights fully protected," he said. China firmly opposes tactics of using Xinjiang to smear country by distorting facts, he said.

China has launched a diplomatic offensive to mobilise world leaders to attend February 4 opening ceremony of Winter Olympics as US, the EU and several western countries announced a boycott of event by their diplomats to highlight allegations of human rights violations in Xinjiang, including incarceration of over a million Uygur Muslims in

A host of world leaders including Russian President Vladimir Putin and Pakistan Prime Minister Imran Khan, besides UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres are due to attend opening ceremony to show solidarity with Beijing.

Russia nears 100,000 daily infections as omicron rages

AP ■ MOSCOW

 $R^{ussian \ authorities \ on \ Friday}_{reported \ over \ 98,000 \ new}$ confirmed coronavirus cases, but according to the Kremlin, the actual number is likely to be much higher as the highly contagious omicron variant continues to rage through the vast country.

Russia's state coronavirus task force on Friday registered 98,040 new infections tallied over the past 24 hours - another all-time high for the country that in recent weeks has faced its biggest surge of contagions in the pandemic. Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters Friday that "it is obvious that this number is higher and possibly much higher," because "many people don't get tested" and have no symptoms. Peskov noted that Russia's numbers are "so far lower than in Western European countries, than in the US, so one can't rule out that they will grow further".

The Kremlin spokesman also admitted that a lot of people in the presidential administration have gotten infected with the virus. "The vast majority continue to work from home after having isolated themselves," Peskov said. "This explosive contagiousness of the omicron, it demonstrates itself in full." Coronavirus infections in Russia started to soar nearly three weeks ago, with daily tallies of new cases spiking from about 15,000 on Jan 10 to almost 100,000 on

Scotland Yard seeks 'minimal reference' to some partygate events

PTI ■ LONDON

Scotland Yard on Friday said it has sought "minimal reference" to events it is investigating from a UK Cabinet Office inquiry, being led by top civil servant Sue Gray over so-called "partygate" scandal of alleged gatherings within government quarters that may have breached COVID lockdown rules in 2020-2021.Gray's inquiry report which poses a serious threat to British Prime Minister Boris Johnson's leadership, is said to be complete but there has been a delay since some of its findings were passed on to London's Metropolitan Police earlier this week, to probe "serious and flagrant" breaches of corona laws.

Who's who among some possible top Supreme Court contenders

AP ■ WASHINGTON

Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer's retirement gives President Joe Biden a chance to make his first nomination to high court. It's also a chance for Biden to fulfill a campaign promise to nominate the first Black woman to be a justice. Some things to know about the women seen as leading candidates:

KETANJI BROWN JACK-

Ketanji Brown Jackson has known Breyer for decades. A graduate of Harvard and Harvard Law school, she was a law clerk to Breyer from 1999 to 2000. She is comfortable enough with her former boss to have a little fun at his expense. In 2017, after Breyer accidentally brought his cellphone to court and it rang, Jackson introduced him at an event and pretended to get a call mid-introduction from Breyer's colleague, Justice Neil Gorsuch. After clerking for Breyer, Jackson was as a lawyer in private practice, worked as a public defender and served on U.S. Sentencing Commission. President Barack Obama nominated her to be a federal trial court judge in District of Columbia in 2013. Biden elevated her to U.S. Court of Appeals for District of Columbia Circuit, where she has served since June 2021.

Recently, Jackson was part of a three-judge panel that ruled against former President Donald Trump's effort to shield documents from House committee investigating Jan. 6, 2021, insurrection at Capitol. Jackson, 51, also has advantage of a connection to Republicans. She is related by marriage to former House Speaker Paul Rvan, R-Wis. Jackson's husband, Dr. Patrick Jackson, a surgeon, is the twin brother of Ryan's brother-in-law.

N Korea confirms missile tests as Kim visits munitions site AP ■ SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA

North Korea said Friday its two latest rounds of weapons tests this week were successful while vowing to bolster its nuclear "war deterrent" and speed up development of more powerful warheads.It appeared North Korean leader Kim Jong Un did not attend tests on Tuesday and Thursday, which were detected by militaries of neighbors South Korea and Japan. But Kim did inspect a munitions factory where workers pledged loyalty to their leader, who "smashes with his bold pluck challenges of U.S. imperialists and their vassal forces," state media said. North Korea has been ramping up its testing activity in recent months, including six rounds of weapons launches so far in 2022, demonstrating its military might amid pandemic-related difficulties and a prolonged freeze in nuclear diplomacy with the United States

Iraqi Army: Rockets hit Baghdad airport, damage two planes

AP ■ BAGHDAD

Six rockets struck Baghdad's international airport facility on Friday, damaging two commercial planes but causing no casualties, Iraq's military said in a statement.

The rockets fired in early morning landed on planes parked in a waiting area of Iraqi Airways, the country's national carrier, the statement said. One rocket punched a gaping hole in cockpit area of plane.

The attack marks an escalation of a series of rocket and drone strikes that have targeted U.S. and their allies as well as Iraqi government institutions since start of year. Most attacks targeting airport did not cause heavy damage or affect civilian areas of airport facility. The recent uptick followed second anniversary of U.S. strike that killed Iranian Gen. Qassim Soleimani and Iraqi militia commander Abu Mahdi al-Muhandis.

Ready for 'long overdue' pick of Black female justice: Biden

AP ■ WASHINGTON

President Joe Biden strongly affirmed Thursday that he will nominate the first Black woman to the U.S. Supreme Court, declaring such historic representation is "long overdue" and promising to announce his choice by the end of February.

In a White House ceremony marking a moment of national transition, Biden praised retiring Justice Stephen Breyer, who will have spent nearly 28 years on the high court by the time he leaves at the end of the term, as "a model public servant at a time of great division in this coun-

Report: Economy needs more hand-holding, fiscal correction can wait fiscal consolidation steps can throttle the nascent and uneven recovery of the Indian economy, a Wall Street brokerage has said the Budget should instead focus on boosting overall demand, from rural consumption in particular, and invest more in infrastructure.

The successive waves of the pandemic has made it more difficult to reduce government debt as a share of GDP in the medium-term, said Goldman Sachs in a pre-Budget note.

It thus pencilled in a gradual fiscal consolidation with FY23 falling by 50 basis points to 6.3 per cent from 6.8 per cent in FY22, and set a target of bringing it down to 4.5 per cent by FY26.

The brokerage believes that even though allocation for COVID related expenses will come down, the government will have to continue to focus on welfare spending and also expects capex to increase 12 per cent.

But the higher spending will most likely be financed by higher tax revenue in FY23 and deferred asset sales from the current year, helping reduce the deficit.

It also sees the general government fiscal deficit falling to 9.3 per cent of GDP in FY23 from 10.1 per cent in FY22 on the back of stronger nominal GDP growth.

If the Budget removes capital gains tax and withholding tax on foreign bond investments in the country, India will likely be included in the global bond index by Q4 of 2022 and this can help the country attract an additional USD 30 billion inflows in 2023, which again will lead to lower

Gross tax collections in the first eight months of FY22 rose to 70 per cent of budget estimates which is the highest in the last 10 years. Direct taxes have grown 66 per cent on-year, led by income and corporate tax growth while indirect taxes have grown 39 per cent driven by buoyant GST and excise duties on fuel prices.

The report expects gross tax revenue to overshoot budget estimates by about 1.1 per cent of GDP in FY22 and non-tax revenue to be higher by 0.1 per cent of GDP driven by increased dividends from the RBI and higher deferred pay-

Mumbai: Worried over rising incidence of cyber frauds, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Friday issued a public notice asking people to follow safe digital banking practices to prevent any possible financial loss.

Observing that unscrupulous elements are defrauding people by using innovative modus operandi, including social media techniques and mobile phone calls, the RBI urged the members of public to take all due precautions while carrying out digital financial transactions.

"... The Reserve Bank cautions members of public to be aware of fraudulent messages, spurious calls, unknown links, false notifications, unauthorised QR codes, etc. Promising help in securing concessions/ expediting response from banks and financial service providers in any manner," the central bank said. Sensex succumbs to late sell-off, ends 77 pts lower Mumbai: The BSE gauge Sensex dived nearly 900 points from the day's peak to finish Friday's highly volatile session 77 points lower at 57,200, triggered by a late sell-off mainly in banking and auto shares.

Starting off on a high note, the 30-share index soared to trade briefly above the key 58,000-level in afternoon trade. before plunging to a low of 57,119.28. After fighting bouts of volatility towards the fag-end of the session, the index finally closed 76.71 points or 0.13 per cent lower at 57,200.23.

Likewise, the NSE Nifty too swung between gains and losses before ending 8.20 points or 0.05 per cent down at 17,101.95.

The Sensex was pulled lower mainly by Maruti, Tech Mahindra, PowerGrid, ICICI Bank, Axis Bank and SBI -which suffered losses to the tune of 3 per cent.

Taxing beedi industry | Railway Mall Godam to impact tribals: SJM | Workers' gets recognition

The Swadeshi Jagaran Manch has said that taxing the beedi industry at par with sin tax levied on the cigarette manufacturers has internal security imperatives especially in the Naxal-hit States.

As many 95 lakh people including 85 lakh tribal women, mostly in Naxal-hit States are directly engaged in beedi rolling and the industry provides employment to another three-and-a-half crore more people, like those engaged in collection of tendu leaves.

"These women in the impoverished regions sustain their families through earnings at their homes generated from beedi rolling, essentially a cottage industry in which the raw materials are provided to the workers at their homes on a daily or weekly basis," SJM Co-convenor Dr Ashwini Mahajan Thursday

While in the long term winding up the industry could be a desirable option but not before providing sustainable alternate employment oppor-tunities to those engaged in the beedi industry, he said.

Stating that even the Bharativa Mazdoor Sangh, an affiliate of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, has backed handling of the beedi industry in right perspective, he said there is need to undertake scientific studies to ascertain the health hazards of smoking should not be based on narratives of certain lobbies like cigarette industry or NGOs backed by them.

'The issue of employment of women in mostly backward regions must be balanced with public health as women participation is maximum in the beedi industry," he said.

The beedi industry, unlike the cigarette industry, does not have lobbies to protect its interests, he said and justified his backing for the make in India cottage industry.

Even Home Ministry reports have suggested that there are foreign lobbies working against the beedi industry and thereby hitting local Indian interests. This has also led to cancellation of FCRA licences of certain NGOs," he said. Higher taxes on beedis also lead to increased smuggling of Chinese cigarettes, further adding to New Delhi's trade imbalance with Beijing. Higher taxes on beedis also lead to increased consumption of non-smoking products which pose a higher health risk to the consumers, he said, demanding reduction in the GST imposed on the beedis at the rate of 28 percent.

He also demanded that beedis should be kept out of the purview of the Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA) and backed innova tions to exploit export potential of the homegrown product.

he Union Ministry of Labour has considered the long pend-Ling demands of the Indian Railway Mall Godam Workers' Union by approving the registration of workers on the e-shram portal paving a way for recognition of the railways mall godam workers across India.

In view of this, the Indian Railway Mall Godam Workers Union held meetings with railway mall godam workers and their families at various places across India from January 26-28 to solve the problems and demands like all the Railway Good shed workers need to provide a fixed contract for "Wages", proper to "Wage Receipt" for preventing corruption, as per "Ayushman Bharat" all workers should have proper basic amenities like drinking water, proper restroom, canteen at railway shed, free medication for workers and their families, accidental insurance, rail pass etc besides Pension benefits and job replacement for their family member in case of any mishappening. Spokesman for the organisation Parimal Kanti Mondal said

Ministry of Labour has led our Mall Godam workers to a new direction in life by giving them the identity.

Chief Labour Commissioner DPS Negi encouraged the work done by the Mall Godam workers and their families.

Speaking Order

I have carefully examined the enquiry proceedings, and enquiry report. The enquiry report has been sent at your permanent home address through registered post on 23.09.2021. Inquiry proceedings were held on 06.01.2021, 15.02.2021 and 05.05.2021. But, CO did not attend enquiry on any of the said dates and also given ritten that he did not want to participate in any enquiry proceeding.

PW-1 - SSE/SIG/BTI (Gaurav Bansal), attended the enquiry on 13.06.2021 and confirmed that officially letter were issued to CO time to time to turn up on duty, but CO did not turn up. It is good and sufficient evidence. CO does not want to continue his service In Railway department, In this connection CO has been clearly written that have already sent my resignation consciously and I am not willing to return to duty again. The Charges leveled against CO remaining unauthorized absent from his duty in SF-5 no-83-Sig/Major/ROK-59 dated-04.09.2020 are fully proved.

Going through the available evidences and finding of enquiry report, it is conclude that CO has been clearly written in own handwriting that he has already sent his resignation consciously and not willing to return to duty again and also clear that he did not want to participate in inquiry proceeding. That is a sufficient evidence to take ex-part decision against CO. The charges leveled against CO in said SF-5 are fully proved.

♦Why and how did you decide to switch back to TV?

It was a no-brainer. The team explained the concept, that they had been researching for two years. The larger context of the show was to celebrate 75 years of Independence. When I read the script, I immediately wanted to be a part of it. It might sound really cliched, but main sach keh raha hun (I am being honest), it seemed God-sent.

I always wanted to be a part of something like that... a show which is a mix of history, knowledge, hope and everything worthwhile. It was ready-made and offered to me on a platter. I recognised that in some way or the other I would be contributing my bit. I want to do that through the films and shows that I take up.

The younger generation, unfortunately, is engrossed in consumerism. Research shows that grown-up adults spend about a quarter of their waking time on mobile. So, I wanted to come out with something unobserved, kept on the rack for the longest of time and dust it off to present it nicely and bring it out in a manner that we can take pride in our history. It really encapsulates that mood. It is full of hope, pride and what better time than 75 years of Independence to share these stories.

♦ Was there any particular incident that got your attention?

There were so many things. It is a 10-episode series and I really can't pinpoint one. Our history is so vast that we Massey reciprocates with has its significance and place. There are his customary warmth. so many people in the younger generation who are not aware of the many challenges we faced and overcame as a young country or the many hurdles that were thrown at us. Take our approach to Science in the 50s... Or the fact that we practised secularism with all our heart and soul... Or that we gave marginalised women the right to education and to vote. How did we overcome all of that? Despite all trials and tribulations, the way we liberalised our economy. How we are one of the largest democracies in the world. Despite the ups and downs, we are facing... these are the things that, I strongly feel, we need to take cognisance of, feel proud of and share with our people. When we are approaching this milestone, we can also think about what the coming 75 years would be like. How will we chart the future... depends on the present.

The show talks about history... of late, it has become a contentious issue. How have you tackled that?

History has always been a contentious issue. Our generation is seeing it for the first time. But these things have always existed. However, the history we are talking about is devoid of any tilt, tint, lineage or conformism. Yes, I agree that the public discourse, especially on social media, is marred by politicisation. We consciously tried to refrain from that. We had academicians and historians who worked diligently on the show. It was a conscious decision to understand and take pride in our identity as Indians first and share these highly significant stories. And the rest is up to the audience. We have cooked up the dish with fair diligence and honesty.

♦Anchoring and acting are two differ-

Acting for fiction is a completely different ball game. It is a make-believe world that you are trying to encapsulate your audience with and convince them of the story. But when I'm hosting a show, I'm sharing my privacy, opening the door for the audience to come in to also share my experiences. It's far more challenging and I enjoy that. People see me as an actor and here I'm sharing a piece of my heart, ideology, hope and belief. I am proud to be associated with the show as, I said, we tried to highlight the story and history of India and hope to inspire people who will shell out their valuable time and watch it.

♦You've dabbled in TV, OTT and films. Do you approach the roles differently in each? And does each help your growth as an actor?

I have never limited myself to the medium. I have always believed that I am a storyteller. I have also believed that I have a knack for being able to adapt to changing times, which everyone should. But my larger idea is to go out and tell stories. Till the time I am able to do that, I am sleeping soundly. When I am unable to do so, I will be facing another set of challenges.

What makes you take up any role or show?

It's a mix. The challenges that it puts out for me as an artiste, my belief in the story. I also strongly feel that, as a creative independent artiste, it's my responsibility to be in sync with current times. And as long as I tick off these boxes, I'll take up these stories. I think it is an amalgamation of things.

♦You have done a wide variety of roles — Mirzapur, Haseen Dilruba, Lootera ... what goes into making a character ent ball games. What are the points of that is believable? Is it by observing the

Can I cut you in? This set of questions, we can keep for another day. I join hands and apologise for this. We will sit and discuss this.

So, coming back to the show, were there any challenges during its shooting or content development?

As an actor, there were not many challenges. I can be so proudly indulgent and say that we had a great team of statisticians, data analysts, historians, technicians who made this show good. But there were challenges that every team goes through, whether it is fiction or non-fiction. And especially when you are dealing with a sensitive topic like history. And as you said, it is a contentious issue. You are actualy treading landmines. So, those were the set of challenges we faced but did manage to overcome smoothly. There were historical and factual challenges.

♦ Was there a lot of back and forth in the script?

That happens everywhere. It is like cooking a recipe. Mid-way you realise, haldi thodi kam pad gai hai. Thodi haldi daal den (The turmeric is a little less. We should add more of it). It is a part of storytelling. As long as you stay true to the idea of storytelling, without any indulgence or conformism, these are likely to happen. It happens everywhere. Even in journalism, when you have written a piece and are revising it... you edit a few words, add others. It is applicable everywhere.

♦What are the future projects that we see vou in?

Love Hostel will be out soon. I am doing the official remake of Forensic. There is also Mumbaikar with Santosh Sivan. I am filming for Black waiting to start Gaslight with Pavan Kriplani who is a dear friend.

■Your book is a fast-track programme for learning business valuation. Give us a brief as to how it will benefit this era of entrepreneurs

In today's start-up world, entrepreneurship is all about Capital, Capital, and Capital. It is difficult to build and survive without significant capital. Be it an old economy company or a new age start-up, an entrepre-neur needs to understand the value of what he/she is building.

The quintessence of successful investment is to understand if the market is ignoring anything and how the market is valuing, thus, making it essential to understand the worth of a company before investing.

□Fortunately, the current generation is trying to be more informed about healthy investing. However, due to the lack of prior knowledge, there's not much to start with.

What will you suggest to an aspiring investor (also an amateur) to begin with? Should they read books or just track the market mindfully, or both? Both, actually! Every investor needs to do a lot of reading. Even celebrated investors like Warren Buffet today spend most of their time reading and learning. Reading is a must, and they have to read books, news, companies and annual reports simultaneously and give equal importance to all.

They need to track the market too, to analyse what signals the market is giving, or if the market is behaving irrationally.

□When does the stock market become harmful, if at all? The stock market in the long term is not going to be harmful and will continue to grow. It becomes harmful when people start building expectations more than what the company can achieve.

When markets start pricing stocks for high growth rates, value growth duration and improvement in margins that are not achievable or not sustainable, it may all lead to a bust.

In bull markets, the stock markets start valuing stories. When stories fall short, the markets will punish them.

□Why, in your opinion, do schools not talk about real-life stuff like mental health, taxes, or investing? Very few business schools cover business/investment valuation in depth. There needs to be a significant time and depth required to teach and promote the understanding of the subject. It is very briefly touched upon and not explained in greater depth.

Similarly, teaching taxes requires a lot of time and schools can't cover them all in their course. And, so, specific courses and books play an integral part in enhancing knowledge in these subjects for people who really want to understand them.

NADAL, MEDVEDEV TO MEET IN AUSTRALIAN FINAL

afael Nadal is within one victory of a Radial is within one victory of a men's record 21st Grand Slam singles title.

The 35-year-old Spaniard advanced to the Australian Open final for the sixth time with a 6-3, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 win over seventhseeded Matteo Berrettini on Friday.

He'll have to beat U.S. Open champion Daniil Medvedev on Sunday to make history. And Medvedev is chasing a piece of history of his own after reeling off the last five games to defeat Stefanos Tsitispas -6 (5), 4-6, 6-4, 6-1 in a heated semifinal. He's aiming to be the first man in the Open era to win his second Grand Slam title at the next major tournament.

The second-seeded Medvedev has had an emotional and challenging run to backto-back Australian Open finals. He had to deal with a hostile crowd in his secondround win over Nick Kyrgios, had to save a match point and rally from two sets down to beat Felix Auger-Áliassime in a nearly five-hour quarterfinal win, and had to regain his composure after an angry outburst at the umpire on Friday.

He yelled at chair umpire Jaume Campistol after dropping serve in the second set, demanding that Tsitsipas be cautioned for receiving coaching from his father in the crowd. He took a five-minute break after dropping the set, took control late in the third set and then dominated the last five games after Tsitsipas was eventually cau-

ACT disappointment was a good learning experience: Reid

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Still smarting from the semi-final exit at the Asia Champions Trophy, Indian men's hockey team chief coach Graham Reid on Friday said the setback came as a reality check for the Tokyo Olympic bronze medal winners ahead of a busy calendar year.

Defending champions India were stunned 3-5 by Japan in the semifinal of the ACT in Dhaka last month.

'It's always difficult. You have to be put in situations. Everybody including myself hated that semifinal loss to Japan in ACT. No one likes to experience something like that. But sometimes you have to experience that to learn from it," Reid said in a virtual press conference. "The message after that tournament was 'Look this is what happens if we don't treat every single game with the utmost importance. I think it was really good learn-

forward: "This is just the beginning and not the end of the road" and the loss against Japan will act as reminder for them ahead of a busy year that includes FIH Pro league matches, Commonwealth Games and the Asian Games. "Straight after the Olympics I also said that 'This is not it, this is just the start' and that's has been our message from the moment we won the bronze medal in Tokyo. "...We have to take the best out of the opprtiunities from here," he said. India will start the year with back-to-back Pro League ties against South Africa and France in Potchefstroom from February 8 to 13. Olympic bronze medal-winning cap-tain Manpreet Singh will lead a 20-member Indian team in the double-leg contests in South Africa. The team will also have its veteran goalkeeper PR Sreejesh back besides getting two new faces -- young dragflicker Jugraj Singh and striker Abhishek. "We were able to do that in Bangladesh players who haven't had the opportunity for a while.

"We also needed to bring back some of the other players who haven't had a game since the Olympics. The other important message is that these will be very tough games, we are taking them pretty seriously so the team we picked is reflective of that," the coach said about the squad.

Talking about the two new players, Reid said: "Jugraj is quite a versatile player who can play in both midfield and defence. He is also very quick when he dragflicks. I am quite excited if we can get him little more consistent where he puts them. "Abhishek likes scoring goals, a prolific scorer. He is strong and young."

The Australian tactician is also impressed with the longevity and commitment of veteran goalkeeper Sreejesh.

Mavididi leads Montpellier's French Cup bid

AP PARIS

Having missed a chance of emulating his idol Thierry Henry by playing for Arsenal in the English Premier League, Stephy Mavididi is now making a name for himself in French soccer.

The 23-year-old forward is doing well with Montpellier and will be leading his side's bid to reach the French Cup quarterfinals away to Marseille on Saturday. Mavididi scored a superbly-taken winner in stoppage time last weekend as Montpellier beat Monaco 3-2 to move sixth in the league. He also played a part in the first goal against Monaco and scored the second. Last season, he grabbed nine league goals for Montpellier supporting firstchoice duo Andy Delort and Gaetan Laborde.

Since they both left Mavididi has thrived in the spotlight. He leads the club with eight league goals and is second in assists with three, behind silky playmaker Teji Savanier. Mavididi showed strong potential early on. He joined Arsenal's acad-

Just about a hour after Shastri's comment, BCCI secretary Jay Shah issued a statement, confirming the phased resumption of the tournament.

"The Board has decided to conduct the Ranji Trophy this season in two phases. In the first phase, we plan to complete all matches of the league stage while the knockouts will be held in June," Shah said in a statement

It is expected that the 38-team tournament will begin in the second week of February and the first phase will continue for about a month.

BCCI treasurer Arun Dhumal, after a meeting of the Board on Thursday, had said that the body intends to hold the tournament in "two phases".

This is because the BCCI is planning to start the IPL from March 27 and it will be practically impossible to hold the Ranji Trophy at a stretch.

Dhumal had said this after many state units and the BCCI brass held a meeting to discuss the way forward.

The meeting was also attended by BCCI president Sourav Ganguly and

The pandemic had played spoilsport last season as well when the BCCI could only organise two men's whiteball tournaments (Vijay Hazare Trophy and Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy).

The BCCI paid 50 per cent of the earlier match fee as compensation to all firstclass cricketers who endured financial losses due to Ranji's cancellation last year.

No change in ICC women's World Cup schedule nationwide as planned," she

The ICC women's ODI World Cup CEO Andrea Nelson on Friday asserted that there will be no change in the number of venues or scheduling of the event despite the recent spread of the COVID-19's Omicron variant in host country New Zealand.

The World Cup is scheduled to be held in New Zealand from March 4, with the hosts taking on West Indies in the tournament opener. However, New Zealand has seen a surge in COVID-19 cases restrictions.

"We have been in preparation to host the World Cup here in 2022 for quite a sometime, originally it was scheduled for 2021. We are well on track and 35 days away from the opening match in Tauranga and 66 days away from the final at the Hagley Oval in Christchurch.

"The first thing to say is that the tournament schedule is remaining as it is, and that involves moving around New Zealand," Nelson told a select group of reporters on a con-call on Friday morning.

"We are working with the ICC at a managed environment. But broadly speaking, the tournament will proceed

Afghanistan defeat Sri Lanka, set up semifinal clash banned by ICC for PTI ■ COOLIDGE (ANTIGUA)

A fghanistan sneaked into the Under-19 World Cup semifinals after edging out Sri Lanka by four runs, courtesy a sensational fightback, here.

The odds were heavily stacked against them when they posted just 134 on the board after Sri Lanka asked them to take first strike but Afghanistan produced a superb performance with the ball to bowl the island nation out for 130 in 46 overs.

A composed stay at the crease from Sri Lanka skipper Dunith Wellalage (34 off 61) looked like would pull his team over the line, but it was not meant to be.

Afghanistan will now face England in the first Super League semifinal on February

Put to bat, Afghanistan openers Nangeyalia Kharote and Bilal Sayedi looked solid for the opening 10 overs before Traveen Mathew struck with a wicked delivery that removed Sayedi.

Kharote departed in the very next over and when skipper Suliman Safi was trapped LBW after making just one, Afghanistan were reeling.

troubling the scoreboard, but fellow middle-order batter Abdul Hadi was able to steady the ship with a crucial 37-run knock. Vinjua Ranpul then helped clear-out the tail for Sri Lanka, ending with a five-wicket haul at the expense of just ten runs.

The Sri Lankan reply was shaky from the start. Opener Sadisha Rajapaksa went for a duck in the opening over, and his replacement Shevon Daniel went for just 2 after he was clean bowled by Bilal Sami. After 13 overs, they were in a worse position than

Their dreams of lifting a first U-19 World Cup trophy were fading fast. However, the eighth wicket partnership between captain Wellalage and Raveen de Silva looked like it might save the day, taking Sri Lanka from 43 runs for seven to 112.
