A JOLT TO THE BJP IN UTTAR PRADEH — The recent exit of Akhilesh Yadav, former Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh, from the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has sent shockwaves across the political landscape of the state. Akhilesh, who had previously been an active member of the party, decided to part ways with BJP, citing differences over certain policy decisions and the party’s approach towards OBC communities. This move has significantly weakened the BJP’s position in the state, as Akhilesh was considered to be a key ally in the party’s electoral strategy.

Campaign curbs will save lives

W ith the declaration of election dates for the five States, various parties have already been in the electoral race, aiming to gain support from the electorate. This “campaign” season is crucial for parties to promote their ideologies and gain the support of the voters. However, the recent spike in COVID-19 cases has led to the implementation of certain campaign curfews in these States. These curfews are aimed at limiting the spread of the virus, ensuring the safety of the voters and the candidates.

The decision to impose curfews has been met with mixed reactions. Some political parties have welcomed the move, arguing that it is necessary to protect the electorate and candidates from the virus. Others have expressed concerns, arguing that such curfews could limit the ability of parties to campaign effectively.

In the end, it is clear that the safety of the electorate and candidates must be prioritized. The recent spike in COVID-19 cases in the five States makes it necessary to impose curfews to limit the spread of the virus. It is hoped that these curfews will help to ensure that the election process is conducted in a safe and fair manner.
Kazakhstan: A quartet among thieves

Strangely, there's no reason for Russia's presence there

The questions about recent events in Kazakhstan are multi-fold. The Tatars live in the Kazakh steppes, and when they were kicked out last year, one can wonder why the Kazakhs would do this? Were they not part of the same nation? Or is there a deeper reason? Perhaps, it's a strategic move by the Kazakhs to weaken the Tatars?

The Tatars, however, are not just a part of the Kazakh society. The Kazakhs know that if they enter into a political battle, they will lose. But why did the Kazakhs go to war with the Tatars? Was it because they were afraid of the Tatars? Or is there a deeper reason?

World Bank retains India's economic growth forecast at 8.3% for 2021-22

The World Bank has retained India's economic growth forecast for the current fiscal at 8.3 per cent as the recovery is yet to become broad-based and sustainable. However, it has revised up the estimates of the national income released by the National Statistical Office (NSO) for the last quarter. The growth momentum is projected to grow at 8.2 per cent in 2021-22, 4.8 per cent in 2022-23 and 5.8 per cent in 2023-24. The report released on Thursday said that the 8.3 per cent growth forecast has been upgraded for 2022-23 and is expected to remain robust due to the resumption of improved performance, especially on account of faster vaccinations and sustained monsoons, in addition to a recovery in private consumption and investments. The report said that the outlook for the second wave of COVID-19 is uncertain, which has added to uncertainty for 2022-23.

World Bank’s India report

The World Bank has published its annual report on the state of the Indian economy. The report, titled “World Bank – India: November 2021,” highlights the progress made in recent years, including increased access to financial services, improved business environment, and strengthened social safety nets.

Key findings:

1. Growth prospects: The report projects India’s GDP growth to remain strong in 2022-23, led by the resumption of improved performance and sustained policies.
2. Vaccination drive: The rapid rollout of the vaccination program has been crucial in controlling the spread of COVID-19.
3. Financial inclusion: Access to financial services has expanded, particularly in rural areas.
4. Business environment: There has been an improvement in the business environment, with reduced regulatory burden.
5. Social safety nets: The government has strengthened social safety nets to protect the vulnerable during the pandemic.

Implications for policymakers:

- Fiscal stimulus: The government should maintain fiscal stimulus to support growth.
- Monetary policy: Central banks should maintain accommodative monetary policies.
- Financial inclusion: Prioritize further improvements in financial inclusion, especially in rural areas.
- Business reform: Further reforms to improve the business environment are needed.
- Social safety nets: Strengthen social safety nets to protect the vulnerable.

Oscars will have a host again, says ABC

The 2022 edition of the Academy Awards will have a host for the first time in 15 years, following the announcement that ABC Entertainment will continue to serve as the host of the annual Academy Awards ceremony. ABC’s current deal with the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences covers the 2022, 2024, and 2026 editions.

In a statement, ABC Entertainment President Craig Erwich said, “The Academy Awards have always been a standout event on television. By continuing the tradition of having a host, we can bring together the best of film and television, creating a celebration of excellence and showcasing the very best of Hollywood.”

The decision to add a host back to the Academy Awards comes after several years of hostless ceremonies, with Jimmy Kimmel being the last host of the show in 2019. The hostless format was introduced in 2015 and went on to become a running gag on the show, with the hostless format returning in 2017 and 2020.

Several names have been speculated as potential hosts, including Tina Fey, Steve Carell, andRIPTION BRIEF

India's Test triumph Down Under last year is one of greatest: Gavaskar

Bumrah takes five as India claim slight edge

India have secured a Test match in which their premier strike bowler took five wickets. It was a day when India's captaincy and their bowling attack were in full flow, dominating New Zealand throughout the match.

The Indian team has been impressive in the last few months, with their recent series against England showcasing their strength. In this particular match, they managed to secure a clear lead on the first day, setting up a strong position for the second day.

The batting line-up was led by Rohit Sharma and skipper Virat Kohli, who smashed centuries. The opening partnership of 155 runs set the stage for the rest of the innings. The Indian bowlers too were on song, especially Navdeep Saini and Navdeep Saini.

Navdeep Saini took five wickets on the day, including the crucial dismissals of Ross Taylor and Tim Southee. The New Zealand innings was bowled out for 202 in the first innings, while India finished on 218 for 3 at the end of the day.

Indian bowling took a firm grip on the game, with Saini and other pacers putting pressure on the New Zealand batters. The team's discipline and focus were evident, as they looked to take the game to the visitors.

With the second day looking promising, India are in a strong position to seal the Test match and continue their winning run. The team's consistency and experience will be crucial in the remaining days of the match.

Siddharta apologises for ‘rude joke’ on Saina

Akhilesh Thakur

Actor Siddharta Gupta, who is currently in the news for his controversial tweet about badminton star Saina Nehwal, has issued an apology. In a statement, he said, "I deeply regret the comments that I made. I was not aware of the sensitivity and importance that Saina Nehwal holds in the country. I fully accept my fault and I want to apologize to her and her fans. I am sorry for any offense that I may have caused."

Siddharta Gupta's tweet had triggered a backlash from the badminton community and the general public, who felt that it was inappropriate to make light of such a sensitive issue.

The National Commission for Women (NCW) had asked Siddharta to apologize and also advised him to stop his personal attacks and offensive comments.

Siddharta's apology was met with mixed reactions. While some people welcomed his efforts to rectify his mistake, others criticized him for not taking the issue seriously.

"He only said it and it is now apologize. I was surprised to see him Tweeting today," tweeted Siddharta. "He did not care about the consequences of his actions."

"I am glad that he has apologized," tweeted Saina Nehwal. "But I do not think that an apology is enough. He should also take responsibility for his actions and make sure that he does not repeat them in the future.

The incident has once again highlighted the importance of being mindful of one's words and actions, especially when it comes to sensitive issues like sports and women's rights.

"I accept my fault and apologize. I will make sure that I do not make similar mistakes in the future."
