BJP sacrifices CM post to stifle public sympathy for fallen Uddhav Thackeray

TN RAGHUNATHA MUMBAI

A fter playing a crucial role in the fall of the Uddhav Thackeray-led MVA Government in Maharashtra, in a astute political move, the BJP on Thursday stunned its political rivals by anointing rebel Shiv Sena Minister and Maratha leader Eknath Shinde as the Chief Minister and its own former Chief Minister and senior party leader Devendra Fadnavis, a Brahmin, as the Deputy Chief Minister.
A day after late Sena chief

Bal Thackeray's son Uddhav resigned as the Chief Minister after his once-trusted senior party colleague rebelled against him and reduced his Government into a "minority", 58-year-old Shinde staked a formal claim for late Balasaheb's legacy — by invoking the blessings of the late Sena chief during his swearingin ceremony as the CM and posting his old photo along with late Thackeray on his twitter handle.

Apart from invoking the blessings of late Thackeray, Shinde also invoked the name of late Thane district Shiv Sena chief Anand Dighe who was considered the Bal Thackeray

Shinde's reverence to Dighe should be seen in the light of the fact that Shinde, who was an autorickshaw driver in Thane, has come up through the Sena ranks from being a Shakha pramukh to a senior minister and now the CM.

Ironically enough, Shinde had earlier worked as a senior minister for five years in the Fadnavis' Cabinet till September-October 2019.

Shinde and Fadnavis were sworn into the office as the Chief Minister and Deputy Chief Minister respectively by Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari at a hurriedly called ceremony at Raj Bhavan in south Mumbai.

By making Shinde the CM instead of its own leader Fadnavis, the BJP wants to take away public sympathy from Uddhav who is being perceived as the victim of machinations of the BIP

Cong fears BJP may do a Maha in Jharkhand

DEEPAK KUMAR JHA

After the fall of the Uddhav-led alliance Government in Maharashtra, the Congress leadership now seems to be concerned about its coalition Government in Jharkhand. The Jharkhand Mukti Morcha (JMM) seems to be veering closer to the BJP with Chief Minister Hemant Soren calling on Home Minister Amit Shah in Delhi a couple of days ago and his party all set to support NDA nominee Droupadi Murmu in the Presidential election. Soren is already facing heat from Central probing agencies over allegations of allotting mining leases to himself and his family members.

While the senior party leaders of the JMM and the Congress maintained that the mandate of people of the State will be respected, a senior BJP functionary told The Pioneer

JMM getting that after Maharashtra the party will focus on Jharkhand. "Last year in July-August we tried to oust the alliance Government in Jharkhand, but could not succeed," the BJP functionary said.

The first sign of fissures in the JMM-Congress alliance began with the JMM rejecting Congress' demand for a Rajya Sabha seat and instead fielding its own candidate. This was followed by JMM's reluctance to back Opposition nominee Yashwant Sinha in the Presidential election.

Refusing that his party was planning to topple the Soren Government, Jharkhand BJP chief Deepak Prakash told The Pioneer, "We are not into such tactics. We are playing the role of a constructive Opposition only and in the interest of the people of the State. East Singhbhum district administration has issued an alert in view of the influx of the dengue virus across the district.

Sources went on to inform that suspected cases of Japanese encephalitis and dengue in the last 48 hours have prompted the health department to issue an alert for vector-borne diseases in the district.

An official said that the administration will launch a special drive to create awareness about dengue and that the Health Department will monitor the onset of the disease. The alert was issued by the East Singhbhum unit of the integrated diseases surveillance programme (IDSP) on Wednesday.

Dengue and viral fever are spreading across the steel city, with affected people continuing to pour into hospitals and nursing homes.

Behavioural change can help address plastic pollution - The ecosystem killer

By Auvi Mukherjee

The use of single-use plastic items would attract punitive action across India from July 1, putting the water, and soil, damaging the natural ecosystem. But why is it needed? For greater clarity and insight into the problem, it is significant to understand the true nature of plastics, the depth of its popularity, and the adverse effects of

We are surrounded by plastic, in the deepest oceans, the remotest valleys, the Arctic ice, and even in our very own bodies! Interestingly, plastics have also crept their way to Mars, left by the Curiosity Rover. We produce about 300 million tonnes of plastic in a year - a number that can nearly match the weight of the entire human population and is forecast to grow 60% by 2030 and treble by 2050, as per a Center for International Environmental Law report. According to the Union Environment Minister, Mr. Bhupender Yadav, India itself generates 3.5 million tonnes of plastic waste annually, a figure which has almost doubled over the last five years. Nature of plastics and its role in pollution

A plastic (plastikos-to mold) is an artificial polymer-natural or synthetic substance composed of macromolecules. Plastics are composed of varied elements including carbon, hydrogen, nitrogen, and oxygen. They have a diverse spectrum of properties and play vital roles in everyday life. Plastic is an obvious choice in every industry, as it is easy to manufacture, cheap, light, flexible, and durable as compared to other materials like glass, rubber, and metals. Although plastics have made considerable contributions in the fields of safety, electronics, medical devices, and packaging it comes with a great cost - the crippling burden of plastic pol-

About 91% of plastic waste is not recycled. Out of the 8.3 billion metric tonnes of plastic produced, 6.3 billion metric tonnes is plastic waste, according to Journal Science Advances. Plastic takes more than 400 years to degrade, out of which only 12% gets incinerated. The shocking increase in plastic pollution from the 1950s has left scientists appalled and environmentalists concerned. According to some reports, by 2050 the weight of plastics in landfills can be 35,000 times heavier than the Empire State Building.

Plastic wastes are nonbiodegradable, hazardous to the environment, a threat to human and animal health, and a major contributor to climate change. They are not organic, and cannot be decomposed by microorganisms, degrading the environment and causing the atrophy of soil for eternity. Moreover, they spread toxins and the production and decomposition of plastics come from planet-warming fuels that also contribute to air pollution and cause illnesses like hormone-related cancers, infertility, and neurodevelopment disorders. Plastics also pollute the oceans-threatening the survival of entire ecosystems and infiltrating life-giving foodchains. The bulk of plastic wastes ends up in landfills, as litter in natural environments which eventually finds its way into oceans.

Impact on animals and humans Plastics adversely affect millions of animals, birds, and marine life across the globe killing millions every year. Most animals suffer the tragic fate of entanglement or starvation. Approximately 700 species of animals, including endangered ones, are impacted by plastic pollution. Land animals including elephants, zebras, camels, and large mammals consume plastics which can be fatal and increase susceptibility to organ injuries, illnesses, and lower reproductive success. When it comes to marine pollution, UK government data suggests that over 1 lakh marine animals, turtles, and a million sea birds are killed by plastics annually. Plastic has been uncovered from every single exotic creature of the Mariana Trench. The most overwhelmingly affected organisms are marine life, bearing the brutal brunt of plastic pollution. As I write, 50,000 plastic bottles are being thrown away, along with a bulk of plastic bags and food wrappers. About 12 million tonnes of plastic are poured into the ocean every year, making up about 80% of ocean debris (Eunomia 2016 and IUCN 2020). Most marine animals ingest the plastics, which give them a sensation of being full and then pass away from starvation.

At sea, plastics are broken down by sunlight, wind, and wave action into microplastics, which are impossible to retrieve. From here on, it's almost game over. As per recent media reports, microplastics have been found in over 100 aquatic species, including fish, shrimps, and mussels, fated to land on our food plates and eventually end up in our digestive systems.

Tiny pieces of plastics have invaded everything - our bodies, foods, atmosphere, and water. According to research published in the Journal Environmental Science and Technology, on average, we approximately consume 50,000 microplastics in a year, not visible to the human eye. The report also discovered that an individual who consumes bottled water every day ingests a mammoth 90,000 particles of plastic in a year. The ingested plastic particles from fruits, seafood, and drinking water have the power to alter the gut microbiome, damage the immune system and cause metabolic dis-

Simple Solutions

Solutions for such a massive problem can never be simple. However, the simplest advice by experts is to avoid plastics as much as possible and dispose waste meticulously. Judicious use of plastics, educating consumers, adopting planet-friendly alternatives like wooden sticks, recycled paper, bamboo, and clay cutlery, and recycling wastes will go a long way in our war against plastics. More specifically, the best antidote to microplastics is preventing waste from entering water bodies by implementing improved waste management systems, refined recycling schemes, and better product designs.

Change is happening and we must all join the movement. Small lifestyle changes like drinking filtered water, steering clear of plastic packaging, and avoiding certain cosmetic products can go a long way toward a healthy life and environment.

India is heading towards a smarter, cleaner, and sustainable future by launching a series of green initiatives. The most notable is the ban on single-use plastics, which account for 50 percent of all plastic wastes. Repeated communication on the ill effects of indiscriminate plastic use and fines for littering will ensure the much-needed behavioral change. An actionable path has been laid out and it all starts with us taking responsibility and pride in the wonders of our nature which are threatened by plastic pollution. For if not us, then who? So the next time you think of throwing that plastic wrapper on the road; think again. It may just land up in your digestive system.

How did the earth originate? What was the basis of the creation of humans and other living beings? How did human life develop? The history of Mandro-Rajmahal hills is a witness to this," said Chief Minister Hemant Soren said during inauguration of the world class Fossils Park and Fossils Museum-cum-Auditorium at Mandro on Thursday. Despite bypoll setback, BJP popularity growing in Mandar: Sahu

PNS RANCHI

Facing a setback in bypolls since 2019 with more recently in Mandar where BJP candidate Gangotri Kujur lost to Congress candidate Shipli Neha Tirkey daughter of former MLA Bandhu Tirkey, the BJP today claimed that its support base in Mandar is growing day by day.

The State BJP leaders confidently claimed that BJP will get public support in the next byelection of the state. The leaders claimed that it is evident from increasing vote share of BJP candidates in the four by-elections held in the state since 2019. Rajya Sabha MP Aditya Sahu said in a press conference at the party office that the Mander by-electíon was held recently, BJP candidate vote share has gone up. In 2014, the BJP candidate got 54 thousand votes. In 2019, the BJP candidate polled 68 thousand votes. In the recent the BJP candidate polled 72 thousand votes. Considering the demographics here, this increasing vote percentage assumes importance as in such a situation, we hope that in the next election, lotus will bloom in Mandar.

In the Mandar assembly byelection, Congress candidate

Shilpa Neha Tirkey won by 23,517 votes. Shilpa got 95,062 votes, while BJP candidate Gangotri Kujur, who came second, got 1,545 votes. Over 61.25 per cent of about 3.5 lakh voters exercised their franchise in the election, held on June 23. The by-election was necessitated after the disqualification of Bandhu Tirkey as an MLA in the wake of his conviction in a corruption case.

Dumka, Bermo, Madhupur and Mandar seats have also belonged to the ruling parties. The vote percentage of BJP has increased in the by-elections as compared to 2019. In the next elections, only BJP will lead in these places. State Vice President and former MLA Gangotri Kujur and others were also present in the press conference.

Aditya Sahu said that no person contests elections in BJP. Collective leadership and each and every worker fights, works hard. BJP is a party of workers. The arrogant Bandhu Tirkey and the Congress party tricked the poor. He said that everyone knows what condition the ruling party has brought to the state in the last two-three years. Bandhu Tirkey was an MLA for two and a half years now. They should tell what schemes they could bring in their Mandar in so many years, who benefited them by putting

Hearing on PILs against Soren deferred to July 5

PNS RANCHI

Jharkhand High Court on Thursday extensively heard arguments on the merit of PILs 4290/2021 and 727/2022 against Chief Minister Hemant Soren and posted the matter for further hearing on Tuesday

he division bench of Chief Justice Dr. Ravi Ranjan and Justice Sujit Narayan Prasad started the hearing at 10.30 AM and continued till 4.30 PM.

The court deferred the hearing on the request of Kapil Sibal representing the state government. He said that the State government needs additional time to reply in detail to the allegations made by the petitioner Shiv Shankar Sharma. The court said it wants to complete the hearing as early as possible and it has given sufficient time to the petitioner and respondents to present their case.

The court rejected an interlocutory petition filed by a person who wanted the opportunity to represent his case before the High Court. The person said to be from Kolkata was represented by his lawyer Amitesh Baneriee who said that the name of his company has figured in the PIL hence an opportunity should be given to him. The court said that the concerned person is not a respondent in the PIL. Even if the court orders a CBI probe it will not be against any person or the company.

In 4290/2021 related to allegations against CM for laundering money through shell companing money through shell comp nies, petitioner's lawyer Rajiv Kumar said that the chief minister and his associates have amassed wealth and the same has been parked in shell companies. He further claimed that money was laundered through the liquor business and a powerful syndicate having political and bureaucratic backing is minting money. He said that CM's brother Basant Soren has a mining company and undue favour was extended to the said company named Grands Mining Pvt LLP He said that land in acres was allotted to a company being run by CM's family member whereas CM himself availed stone mining lease. The petitioner pointed out that CM got undue favour by misusing his office. Rajiv Kumar informed the court that a number of IAS officers are deeply involved in looting the State exchequer to an extent that Palamu DC gave a mining lease to his mother-in-law.

Kapil Sibal in his submission rejected the allegation as untrue and said that the petitioner has some ulterior motives. He said that no undue favour was extended to the company Sohrai Livestock in terms of grant of land for industrial purposes. In this company CM's wife and sister-in-law are directors. Sibal said that the company was granted land under due process of law and the government also withdrew the grant of land. The state government filed a detailed counter affidavit where it admitted that Grands Mining currently has five mining leases. But the company was never extended undue favour and even action was recommended for violating norms. Sibal said that the state government would file a case of perjury against the petitioner.

He said that the petitioner made allegations without having prima facie. About the shell companies, he claimed that even old and reputed companies have been mentioned in the list of shell companies. For example he referred to Anoop Tea Pvt Limited which according to him was established in 1969

IIT, ISM develops Smart Auto-Irrigation and Soil Monitoring System

MRITUANJAY KUMAR RANCHI

IIT (ISM), Dhanbad has researched and developed a new Smart Auto-Irrigation and Up-grade of Soil Monitoring System to motivate and engage to take up agriculture and farming for the distressed families of farmers affected by COVID-19. It was demonstrated at Krishi Vigyan Kendra (KVK), Dhanbad on Thursday by the IIT, (ISM) Dhanbad research team.

Scientist KVK, Dhanbad, Seema Singh informed that the farmers will be benefited by the new advanced system and the focus is on driving the new system and developing into a sustainable source of income. This project has been established at KVK, Dhanbad, she

HAC (Humanitarian Activities Committee) and IEEE SIGHT's (Special Interest Group on Humanitarian Technology) response to the current COVID-19 situation with an institute in selected developing Countries has been chosen to improve. IEEE (USA) led by Project Head, Professor, Rajeev Kumar Ranjan and Dr Dheeraj

Kumar from IIT (ISM) to empower the people of Dhanbad. "A research fund of US$ 4,995 has been provided this time to make Dhanbad's initiative a success. The project members are Pushkar Śrivastava, Sanal Roy, Om Kumar, Sachin Kumar and Shubham Kumar Kurrey. The project was ethically supported by Deputy Director, Dhiraj Kumar and Director, Rajiv Shekhar," she added.

'Old irrigation techniques lead to wastage of water. Dhanbad district is facing water shortage for a long time. It encourages people to take up farming in the area and move to the nearby metros for bet-ter opportunities. This project will help farmers or COVID-19 migrants who are less skilled in farming with a more efficient mode of irrigation. The proposed system is designed to remove unnecessary water runoff in agricultural land by using a sprinkler system. Using the sensor, the readings of temperature, wind speed, sunlight intensity, soil moisture, air humidity and pH are continuously monitored. Solar panels were used for power supply in the system which has made the project self-sufficient, thus it will be more sustainable," said Singh.

The Scientist further said that all this is easily managed by an Android Application developed by the students which will be available on Google Play Store with the name Agro-Pro 2.0. "The interface is designed to be minimal to use, with an easy-to-use interface where most tasks are automated that do not require human intervention. Migrant workers living in urban areas have skills that can be used adeptly in providing basic capacity to farmers and eliminating orthodox methods of irrigation practice," she added. Singh also said that the new system is cost effective and can be easily afforded by the farmer. Maintenance cost is also very less. "The system comes with a host of features, including but not limited to automatic irrigation, control via multi-language Android app, farmer-irrigation support, 24/7 monitoring. Although these are the current set of features, the proposed research ideas can be implemented with appropriate financial and administrative support from Government organizations," she added.

EC BEGINS REVISION OF ELECTORAL ROLLS IN J&K

Taking place after a gap of three years, the process is an indication that polls could be held in Valley

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

he Election Commission (EC) has begun the process of electoral rolls' revision in Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) after a gap of three years, in an indication that polls could be held in the Valley post its delimitation exercise. In a letter to the Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) of J&K, the EC has given a timeline to complete various activities before the final publication of the electoral rolls on October 31.

... In order to update the electoral rolls on the basis of the newly-delimited constituencies, so that all newly-eligible young electors can have the opportunity to get themselves enrolled, the exercise of Special Summary Revision with reference to the next qualifying date is required to be undertaken without further delay," the letter said.

"Consequent upon amendment in Section 14 of the Representation of the People Act by Election Laws (Amendment) Act, 2021, as notified vide the Gazette of India notification No. 67, dated 30 December after conclusion of the ongo-2021 and corresponding ing pre-revision activities," changes in the Registration of Electors Rule, 1960 notified on 17th June, 2022, four qualifying dates, namely, 1 January, 1 April, 1 July, and 1 October are available in the law. In view of the reason explained in the preceding paragraph, the Commission has decided to order SSR, 2022 with respect to October 1, 2022 which is the next qualifying date for preparation of electoral roll, reads the letter.

"Accordingly, Commission has directed to carry out the revision activity for Special Summary Revision of Photo Electoral Rolls w.r.t 01.10.2022 as the qualifying date in UT of J&K," it further states. The revision of electoral rolls couldn't be undertaken in J&K due to August 5, 2019 constitutional changes and delimitation exercise.

"I am directed to state that as per existing policy, revision of electoral rolls with reference to 1 January of the coming year as the qualifying date is done in later part of each year in all States/UTs (normally in the last quarter of a year) so that final publication of the electoral rolls could be made in the first week of January of the succeeding

"However, due to various administrative reasons, this annual revision of electoral roll could not be undertaken in Jammu and Kashmir after SSR, 2019. In the meantime, delimitation exercise of constituencies in the Union. Territory was also in progress and the finally delimited constituencies were notified by the Delimitation Commission on 05th May, 2022," the letter states. As per schedule announced by the ECI, the integrated draft electoral roll shall be published on September 01, 2019.

According to the poll-body, the claims and objections can be filed between September 01 to September 30 and they shall be disposed of by October 15. The final publication of electoral rolls shall be done on October 31, the schedule states.

Officials said the voters' list will keep getting updated as there are four cut-off dates in a year now when those turning 18 can enrol themselves as voters.

Earlier, those turning 18 on or before the first day of the year, could apply to become voters on January 1. Now, those turning 18 on or before January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1 can apply to become voters.

As per existing policy, the revision of electoral rolls with reference to January 1 of the coming year as the qualifying date is carried out in later part of each year in all states and union territories so that the final publication of the electoral rolls could be made in the first week of January of the succeeding year.

However, due to various reasons, the annual revision of electoral rolls could not be undertaken in Jammu and Kashmir after special summary revision, 2019.

In the meantime, an exercise to redraw the boundaries of constituencies in the UT was in progress and the finally delimitated segments were notified by the Delimitation Commission on May 5 this year.

Major hope for patients of pancreatic cancer

Scientists show it's possible to reverse key process that allows cancer cells to grow

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

In a discovery that may come as a boon for the patients of pancreatic cancer, scientists have shown it is possible to reverse a key process that allows pancreatic cancer cells to grow and spread around the body. These findings, published in Nature, show that a protein called GREM1 is key to regulating the type of cells found in pancreatic cancer – and manipulating its levels can both fuel and reverse the ability of these cells to change into a more aggressive subtype. Pancreatic cancer has a notoriously high mortality rate, with just seven per cent of patients surviving for five years or more. Every year, more than 10,000 people in the UK are diagnosed with the disease, with around 9,000 deaths. Scientists from the Institute of Cancer mini pancreases made in a laboratory, where they manipulated the level of the gremlin pro-

When the gene, and therefore the protein, was eliminated, tumours were rapidly converted into a more dangerous and invasive

In a matter of days, every tumour cell had been converted from the more harmless form into the more dangerous mesenchymal cancer cells. The absence of "gremlin" also meant the cancer was more likely to spread to other organs. In nine out of 10 gremlin-less mice, for example, cancer spread from the pancreas into the liver. In contrast, when the gremlin protein was working normally, the cancer spread in just 15 per cent of the laboratory animals. As well as curtailing Grem1 production, the scientists also boosted the concentration of the protein to far beyond the normal level and found this had a beneficial effect.

Gremlin therapy can 'reverse the fate' of dangerous cells

Writing in their study, published in Nature, the scientists said that in high quantities, the gremlin protein "caused almost complete" reversal of cells that had already morphed into the more dangerous guise.

Maha events shameful for Indian democracy: Cong

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Congress on Thursday accused the BJP Government of capturing power "unethically" by the use of money and muscle power, and condemned it for destablising democratically-elected Governments. In a statement, Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh said after coming to power at the Centre in 2014, the focus of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has been to capture power in the States and bring down the elected Governments rather than serve the people. "We strongly condemn the way BJP is destabilising both democratically-elected governments and democratically-installed Governments. This is not only an insult to democracy, but also an insult to the people who voted against the ideology of the BJP," he said in a statement. Through the naked display of money and muscle power, the BJP has undemocratically and unethically captured yet another State Government. Under the Modi-Shah duo, the BJP wants to capture power at any cost, either directly or through remote control. What happened in Maharashtra is shameful for Indian democracy," he said.

The party's statement comes on a day rebel Shiv Sena leader Eknath Shinde was sworn in as the chief minister of Maharashtra. In a move that stunned political pundits and potentially checkmated the Shiv Sena, BJP leader Devendra Fadnavis on Thursday announced that Shinde will be the next chief minister of Maharashtra

Ramesh further alleged that offices of the Governors and Speakers, and agencies like the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) are openly misused, adding that buying MLAs has become so commonplace that the Finance Minister blurted out the truth today, when she suggested imposition of GST on horse-trading. "The BJP can go to any extent to win elections - From misuse of Despite using all these tactics, if the voters reject them, then they start hatching conspiracies to topple elected governments," he said. The Congress leader said in 2016, the BJP brought down the Congress Government in Uttarakhand in a similar way, where due to Congress MLAs leaving the party, the Government elected for five years was reduced to a minority in four years.

In Arunachal the same year, 43 out of 44 Congress MLAs defected to the BJP-backed People's Party of Arunachal Pradesh under the leadership of Chief Minister Pema Khandu. In the 2017 Assembly elections in Manipur, the Congress party emerged as the single largest party by winning 28 out of 60 seats, he said, adding that the BJP had only 21 seats, but the Congress was not given a chance to prove its majority. A similar game happened in Bihar in 2017 when the BJP toppled the Grand Alliance Government that

CBI registers three cases PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The CBI has registered three separate cases of impersonation and cheating by some persons who posed as staffers of the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). In the first complaint, a public grievance dated April 29, 2021 forwarded by the PMO to the CBI, was received from the victim Ravikant Kharb of Faridabad regarding cheating by one Prince (real name not known) posing himself to be a PMO official.

Prince, who claimed to be a Personal Assistant in the PMO, misrepresented to Kharb that he can manage a Government job in the RBI in lieu of a consideration amount of Rs 3 lakh out of which Rs 25,000 was paid in advance to Prince by him. In the second case, one Dr Shiva Kumar of Kerala, impersonating as an PMO official was making calls to people from his mobile number 08075994461 claiming to be a Personal Advisor to the Prime Minister. The third case has been registered against an unknown accused following a complaint from Anil Kumar Sharma, Assistant Director, PMO. It said that one person claiming to be Rohit Yadav, Joint Secretary, PMO called Manoj Kumar Meena, IPS (2012-batch, AGMUT cadre) posted in Chandigarh and sought transfer of a police Constable. A probe shows that no such call was made by the official and the mobile number was also fake.

Patience of Kashmiri Pandits on dharna for past 50 days, wearing thin

MOHIT KANDHARI ■ JAMMU

 $P^{\text{atience of Kashmiri migrant}}_{\text{employees, sitting on a}}$ dharna for the last 50 days in support of their one point demand of relocation to the safer areas outside the Kashmir valley, is fast running thin.

Coupled with this the Union Territory administration is not leaving any stone unturned to pressurise these employees to resume their duties in the safer zones.

On June 29, the office of the Deputy Commissioner Srinagar directed one dozen Kashmiri employees to report to the office of the Camp Director, Panthachowk to ensure smooth conduct of the Amarnath yatra.

In addition several employees, especially teachers, have been served show cause notices explain the reasons behind unauthorised absence from duties for a long time. So far the majority of these employees have not resumed their duties. At the same time they are a worried lot as many of them have been handed over relieving orders by their superior officers while directing them to resume their duties.

These migrant employees have launched a peaceful agitation soon after Rahul Bhat, a Kashmiri migrant employee deployed in the Kashmir valley under Prime Minister's package, was shot dead in cold blood inside the office of Tehsildar Chadoora in the central Kashmir district of Budgam on May 12.

So far the initiatives announced by the Union territory administration have not by their school authorities to enthused these employees and they continue to hold their ground in support of their demand. These initiatives included a promotion scheme for the PM package employees, transfer to safer zones in the district headquarters, and adequate security cover across their transit camps

Even a high level meeting convened between the representatives of the Kashmiri migrant employees and the Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha failed to break the impasse last month.

In the last 50 days these migrant employees held several rounds of discussions with the visiting bureaucrats, police officers, local politicians, took out candle light marches in the heart of Srinagar city near Lal Chowk but no major headway was achieved.

As per rough estimates around 70 percent kashmiri migrant employees have already shifted to Jammu while rest of them have been camping inside their transit camps and not stepping out as they continue to live under the shadow of guns.

The employees sitting on a dharna in the office of Relief Commissioner (Migrants), in Jammu alleged the UT administration has so far failed to address their genuine demand. 'We have made it clear to the government that Kashmiri pandit employees are not going to become scapegoats. Unless the security situation is brought under control and a conducive atmosphere prevails the PM package employees should be attached with the office of Relief Commissioner, Jammu till further orders".

A kashmiri migrant employee while referring to the security scenario in the Kashmir valley claimed, "we are still living in fear in the valley.We hardly step out of the camps. The fear of targeted killings is looming large. There is no question of resuming duties under the prevailing circumstances".

Another employee sitting on a dharna in the office of Relief Commissioner said, "all those initiatives announced by the UT administration have failed to cut ice with the migrant employees". "We are only sticking to our one point demand of relocation to the safer areas outside the Kashmir valley. We don't want to serve in the Kashmir valley.

A teacher serving in the Baramulla said, "our families living in Jammu were suffering for a long time due to uncertainties in the Kashmir valley" It is for the same reason we are holding protest demonstrations in Jammu and demanding attachment with the office of Relief commissioner Jammu till the situation is brought under control

Call to annihilate Brahmins: Swamy seeks Governor Ravi's sanction to prosecute DMK leader

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

The controversy over the Call made by DMK spokesman R Rajiv Gandhi to Dravidians to subject the Brahmins to genocide took a curious turn on Thursday as Dr Subramanian Swamy, president, Virat Hindustan Sangham and former union minister for law and justice, writing to Governor R N Ravi seeking permission to prosecute the former.

Gandhi had made a speech on June 3 exhorting the Dravidians to annihilate the Brahmins as demanded by E V Ramasami Naicker, founder of the Dravidian movement. The DMK spokesman had reiterated the demand made by Naicker (addressed as Periyor by Dravidian activists) in the 1960s that there should be an ethnic cleansing of Tamil Nadu by finishing off the Brahmins.

This is a blatant violation of the Representation of People's Act (RPA) and the Election Commission of India should derecognise the DMK," Dr Swamy had asked the ECI in a letter he wrote to the Chief Election Commissioner. But his letter to Governor

Ravi seeking his sanction to prosecute the DMK leader for his controversial speech has evoked interest in Tamil Nadu. Though Gandhi is neither an elected member of assembly or parliament nor holding any position in Government, Dr Swamy chose to approach the Governor for permission to drag the DMK spokesman to court. The former union minister has sought the permission under Section 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code to against the State and for criminal conspiracy to commit such an offence.

"I have enclosed my criminal complaint that I intend to file against one R Rajiv Gandhi , the secretary and spokesperson of the DMK. For the filing of the said complaint your sanction is required under Section 196 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1973," said Dr Swamy in his letter to the Governor.

He further stated that the accused had committed various offences under the Indian Penal Code by publicly calling for the genocide of Brahmins in his June 3 speech. Dr Swamy pointed out that the Supreme Court in the Subramanian Swamy v Manmohan Singh case (2012) had expounded principles governing grant of Section 196 of the Cr PC states among other things that no Court shall take cognizance of the offence of any criminal conspiracy punishable under Section 120-B of the IPC other than a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable with death, imprisonment for life or rigorous imprisonment for a term of two years or upwards unless the State Government or the District Magistrate has consented in writing to the initiation of the proceedings.

The section 196 further states that the Central Government or State Government may, before according sanction may order a preliminary investigation by a police officer not being below the rank of Inspector in which case such police officer shall have the powers referred to in sub-section (3) of section 155.

Bahujan Samaj Party supre-mo Mayawati, on Thursday, held a meeting with senior office-bearers of all the divisions of the party and asked them to reach out to the people and tell them about the policies of the party.
She said that it was a cause of concern that public interest and public welfare were constantly being affected by the ongoing political instability, deadlock and money power games to overthrow the government in several states, including recently in Maharashtra.

Mayawati also said that the BSP had not taken the decision to support presidential candidate Draupadi Murmu under pressure from any individual or party, but had decided to back her as Murmu belonged to Scheduled Tribe and support to her was part of the policy of Bahujan Samaj Party.

This decision is neither in favour of National Democratic Alliance nor against United Progressive Alliance, she said and added that the UPA did not even discuss with the BSP while choosing its presidential candidate.

"The situation is deteriorating day by day due to wrong policies and arrogant attitude of the government. To divert the attention of the people from the current situation, the government is adopting an arrest, jail, demolish house policy by repressive methods, which is completely wrong," she said. Mayawati said instead of appeasement, hate elements should be dealt with strictly. She said it was wrong to demolish the house of any one community and send its members to jail. "This is constitutionally and humanly unfair. Strict action should be taken against those elements who promote enmity. There should be no discrimination in this," Mayawati said during the meeting.

Mayawati said there was unrest over recruitment in government jobs. "Now the youth are angry due to the recruitment of Agniveers on a temporary basis in the army," she added. She asked the government to reconsider the Agnipath scheme for shortterm recruitment in the Indian Army so that the future of the youth could be secured.

Meanwhile, Mayawati asked party workers to get fully involved in the prepara-tions for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls and upcoming civic body elections in the state. She asked them to work at the ground level. At the same time, she said that all BSP workers should try to add more and more people to the party.

Yogi asks youth to create jobs through MSMEs

Appreciating the skills of micro, small and medium enterprise (MSME) entrepreneurs and handicraft artisans, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, on Thursday, said that they were getting global recognition which reflected the commitment of the Government towards this sector.

"With the Government's encouragement, and the positive support from the bankers the MSMEs have flourished and as a result of this, the Government has brought down the unemployment rate from 18 per cent to 2.9 per cent in the state," Yogi asserted.

In a move towards transforming the lives of youths by making them self-reliant, the Yogi Adityanath Government dispensed Rs 16,000 crore as loan to as many as 1.90 lakh beneficiaries under the employment initiative of the state government at the MSME loan fair.

The beneficiaries of this loan fair were from various schemes including Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme, Chief Minister's Youth Self-Employment Scheme, and One District One Product (ODOP)

On this occasion, the chief minister inaugurated Common Facilitation Centres (CFCs) in Agra, Ambedkar Nagar, Sitapur, Azamgarh and Siddharthnagar districts for branding, packag-ing and marketing of ODOP products. The chief minister interacted with the operators of the CFCs and discussed their functioning and future action Along with that, Yogi also launched an annual loan scheme of Rs 2.95 lakh crore for the year 2022-23 at the same event. He also inaugurated the Amazon Digital Centre in Kanpur Nagar district, a unit to help small businessmen in setting up their businesses in the digital world. A memorandum of understanding (MoU) was signed between the Uttar Pradesh government and ecommerce company Amazon.

Samajwadi Party president Akhilesh Yadav, on Thursday, targeted the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party over waterlogging after the first monsoon showers, particular-ly in Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's native town Gorakhpur, saying it was the result of rampant corruption in the government.

While taking a jibe at Yogi Adityanath, Akhilesh Yadav shared pictures of waterlogging in Gorakhpur on Thursday on his twitter handle and wrote, "This is the punishment of lack of development under BJP's rule. BJP's scale of corruption: 'Jal Nagar' Gorakhpur. Gorakhpur tourism is inviting you to say: Swim for a few days

It may be mentioned here that every year UP faces floods during monsoon. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath had reviewed the flood management on Wednesday in a meeting with all the district magistrates. He had expressed satisfaction over the feedback from the officials but said that the flood management pro-gramme should be started in November-December instead of starting the work in June. He had instructed all the rescue teams including State Disaster Management Authority (SDMA), National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) and State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) to be on alert. Rebel turns king

After a series of twists and turns, Shinde is the Maharashtra CM and Fadnavis his deputy

Inen Uddhav Thackeray resigned as the Maharashtra Chief Minister immediately after the Supreme Court's refusal to stay a floor test in the Assembly on Wednesday, it looked like former Chief Minister and top Bharatiya Janata Party leader in the State Devendra Fadnavis was set to make a comeback. The rebel Shiv Sena leader, Eknath Shinde, was expected to be his deputy. But that was not to be; at a joint press conference with Shinde, Fadnavis himself announced that Shinde would occupy the high office. This was a big surprise for everyone — not just the BJP and Shiv Sena leaders but also the Thackeray camp and other anti-BJP politicians. There was some disappointment in the BJP camp that their leader Fadnavis — who had worked so hard to keep the pressure on the MVA Government and eventually ousted it could not become the CM. Fadnavis said that he would not be part of the Government. But the surprises of the day did not end with the press conference. While political commentators were analysing the ramifications of his not joining the State Government — Is he aspiring for a national role in the party? Will he manage the Government by remote control? — news came that he would indeed join the State Cabinet, as Deputy CM. Party president JP Nadda said, "The BJP's central leadership has decided that Devendra Fadnavis should become a part of the Government. So, made a personal request to him. The central leadership has said that Devendra Fadnvais should take charge as the Deputy CM of Maharashtra."

Finally, at 7.30 pm, Shinde was sworn in as the Chief Minister and Fadnavis as his deputy. Such are the twists and turns in Indian politics. By making Shinde the CM, the BJP top brass seems to be more interested in the longevity of its Government in Maharashtra, a leading industrial State, than in the benefits that come with the top office. Besides, they know that Shinde would be completely dependent on them for survival. As it is, he has crossed the Rubicon in Sena politics by snapping all ties with the Uddhav Thackeray family, which is often seen and presented as the heart and soul of the Shiv Sena. At present, perception is that while Shinde has the majority of Sena MLAs with him, the party rank and file is solidly behind Thackeray. But then there is often a chasm between perception and reality. Shinde and his followers have themselves risen through the ranks. In other words, Shinde and Co cannot be dismissed as nobodies, as leaders who are of no consequence without the backing of the Thackeray family. Ironically, Thackeray might have helped Shinde's case as the Chief Minister. In his response to the rebellion, he had asked the Shinde camp, "If I step down, can you guarantee another Sainik will be the Chief Minister?" Well, instead of the rebels, the BJP has answered that question.

Power shift

Israel is seeing a change of guard as Yair Lapid takes over as caretaker PM

he reins of power have not changed hands only in Maharashtra, and no longer does Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy remain the only high-profile head of a State who has appeared in popular television programmes. Quite a geographical distance away from India and Ukraine, the small but powerful country of Israel too is witnessing a shift in power. In the 10 years since he relinquished his job as a political chat show host to turn a full-time politician, Yair Lapid had dreamed of becoming Israel's Prime Minister. Now, as he prepares to take over in a caretaker capacity, he is sure to put his best foot forward to prove that he deserves the top job in the long term even as the country prepares to go to polls for the fifth time in less than four years. Meanwhile, former amateur boxer Lapid faces a stiff challenge from conservative Benjamin Netanyahu — Israel's longest-serving leader — whom he successfully knocked out of office in 2021 by forging an unlikely alliance between eight, ideologically diverse political parties. Of course, Netanyahu — seeking his sixth term in office — will seek to paint his bitter rival as weak on security, particularly when it comes to Iran and terrorism. The challenge for Lapid will be to prove that he can protect Israel from its enemies and promote domestic unity.

But how does the shift in Israel's domestic power equation impact India? Well, time will surely shed more light on this subject as the current fluid situation unfolds until a new Government is formed after polls due in October or November. However, here're a few pointers. India and Israel have an extensive and comprehensive economic, military and political relationship. India is the largest buyer of Israeli military equipment and Israel is the second-largest supplier of military equipment to India after Russia. From 1999 to 2009, military business between the nations was worth around $9 billion. Military and strategic ties between the two nations extend to intelligence-sharing on terror groups and joint military training. As of 2019, India was the third-largest Asian trade partner of Israel, and its tenth-largest trade partner overall, with bilateral trade, excluding military sales, clocking $5.53 billion. Needless to say, New Delhi shall be keenly watching the unfolding drama in Tel Aviv. So far, Israel has been an all-weather friend and hopefully that won't change.

Global 'mission' & democratic culture SARADINDU MUKHERJI

The recent street violence has put the focus back on the malignant influence of the Islamic ummah on large sections of Indian Muslim population n 1353, England had enacted the Statute of Praemunire to prohibit all appeals to authorities outside England involving cognisable cases before the local courts. History knows how Henry VIII (1509-1547) had made use of this legal measure to bring an end to papal control, establish the sovereignty of the English State, dissolve the monasteries and taking forward the process of reformation. These have important lessons for many cutting across national bound-

The ongoing display of street violence in many cities of India, the attack on railway carriages, blockades put up on the highways, coupled with incendiary statements and threats of physical violence against the spokespersons of the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party have once again brought to the surface the malignant influence of the Islamic ummah on large sections of the Indian population. The support extended by the "secularists", basically anti-Hindus, has further bolstered them. "Secularism", as it has been practised in India since the Khilafat days, and more rigorously after Independence/Partition, is known for its promotion and pampering of many absurdities, irredentism, extra-territorial loyalty and theologically sanctioned intolerance/destruction of the other". Those who foul-mouth "others" and threaten people with dire consequences in the name of alleged "blasphemy" must realise that what was easily achievable in the middle ages, long before the advent of enlightenment, liberalism, democratic system of governance, is not possible in 21st century India. Whether to stay cocooned in the primitive past or move forward with time as the rest of the civilised world is doing is for the respective societies to decide. It is true that certain political parties and State Governments have been partial to jihadi outfits and appear sympathetic to their atrocious religiopolitical objectives. True, these zealots were virtually let off for their lawless behaviour over the obscurantist elements have Citizenship Amendment Act, consolidated and rabid anti-2019. However, it is time to ponder the unacceptable conduct of people pushing forward with the objectives of the Islamic ummah. Khilafat was discarded by Kamal Pasha in Turkey but got a fresh lease of life because of Gandhi, leading to the genocide of Kerala Hindus (Moplahs, 1921). Subsequent emasculation of the Indian National Congress, leading to the Partition, marked the ultimate defeat of Hindus and a glorious victory for the Islamic ummah. While Pakistan carried out a systematic religio-ethnic cleansing of its Hindu, Buddhist, Sikhs population, India's "secular" leadership did not permit any exchange of population. Thus the basic issue remained unresolved.

The Hindus of Kashmir Valley turned into refugees in their own land. Certain constitutional provisions, gradual extension of Sachar Commission largesse, Sachar Minority Commission and the practice of neighing the

FOCUS ON CLEANER TECHNOLOGIES

Sir — The theme of the G7 Summit was to discuss the invasion of Ukraine, ways and means to stabilise energy markets and lessen dependence on Russian gas and oil. Close on the heels of the upcoming Nato Summit, the G7 has laid out the contours of strategic conversation around Ukraine. The announcement of Partnership for Global Infrastructure and Investment by US President Joe Biden to invest $600 billion by 2027 in poor and developing countries is aimed at providing an alternative to China's BRI, which is seen as imposing an untenable debt burden on developing countries.

PM Narendra Modi reminded the western countries of their promises made a decade ago of financing cleaner and green technologies to the poor and developing countries to the tune of $100 billion per year, which have fallen far short of the target. India's concern for greater investment in cleaner technologies is real as it has been able to achieve climate goals to a certain extent. By neither endorsing the Chinese President's GPI nor commenting on Biden's new initiative, India has rightly underlined its central role in the new thrust for the Indo Pacific by the western nations.

UDAIPUR MURDER IS CONDEMNABLE

Sir — In a horrific incident in Rajasthan's Udaipur district, two youth (Mohammed Gos and Riyaz Ansari) who posed as customers at a tailoring shop, allegedly beheaded tailor Kanhaiya Lal Teli days after he allegedly shared social media posts in support of Nupur Sharma. The assailants broke into his shop in daylight, stabbed him multiple times with a sword and then slashed his throat. Then the suspects posted a message on social media bragging about their misdeed. Lal had earlier complained about receiving death threats over his alleged social media post.

But the tailor himself was arrested and the matter was 'settled' after police-mediated sessions between him and the complainants. But the manner in which he was

would like to express my delight on the important step taken by our Government to forbid the use of single-use plastic products. It is the right step in the country's mission to save the environment as single-use plastic can harm animals that eat it out of the debris and these can ultimately lead to its accumulation in the human body over time. This leads to severe health problems such as obesity and cancer. The Government's move will create new jobs in the recycling industry and give its contribution in solving India's unemployment problem. It would also increase the demand for more sustainable products which would boost the country's overall economy.

This step would drastically reduce greenhouse gas emissions. It is also a pocket-friendly step as other alternatives are much cheaper. To ensure that the step is implemented properly, we need more social scientists like Mubarak Ahmad Khan who developed a carry bag from the jute plant that serves the same purpose as plastic polythene bags. Other alternatives for replacing single-use plastics are using platinum silicon for food packaging, which has the same properties as plastic. We can replace plastic food wraps with beeswaxcoated cloth as an alternative. Stainless steel and glass may be a replacement for plastic for food and beverage storage. These measures in India would go a long way in leading the fight to reverse climate change.

It's heartening that immediately after Lal's murder, Ajmer Dargah Deewan Zainul Abedin Ali Khan said Indian Muslims will never allow the Taliban mindset to spread in the country. The National Investigation Agency has already taken over the murder investigation and re-registered a case under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act.

SIMRANJIT SINGH MANN'S VICTORY

Sir — With his victory, SAD (Amritsar) president Simranjit Singh Mann in the Lok Sabha bypoll wrested the lone seat held by AAP. The bypoll was necessitated by the resignation of Bhagwant Mann since he took over as the Punjab Chief Minister. The bypoll victories do not indicate the mood of people or nation. Therefore, any attributions to Mann's victory or the opponent's defeat may be imaginary. A buoyed Mann has credited the victory to Khalistani militant Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale. He should have introspected before issuing such a controversial statement. If Bhindranwale's teaching could permeate such an influence, why was AAP brought to power instead of Bhindranwale was certainly not a patriot. He was a religious leader backed by Pakistan for the aim of carving out Khalistan. Indira Gandhi ordered Operation Blue Star to check separatist activities, which led to confrontation with the military in 1984. At the time, Bhindranwale was among those killed in Operation Blue Star. If Mann thinks that his victory is a victory for Khalistan's movement, he is living in a fool's paradise. YOGA NOW ACCESSIBLE TO ENTIRE HUMANKIND

Yoga seeks to unite human body with mind

n June 21 the world comes together to celebrate the aspirations of human spirit by hosting Yoga sessions. India, which gave birth to Yoga, is continuously playing a substantial role in making this ancient science of holistic well-being accessible to a large portion of the world's population, keeping in mind India's philosophy of Vasudaiva Kutumbakam, i.e. 'the entire world is one family.

Yoga is a discipline that seeks to accomplish the union of human body and mind towards the realisation of its infinite potential and elevating the human consciousness beyond the confines of individual mind and ego until it merges with all pervading Supreme Consciousness. The regular practice of various tenets of Yoga aids holistic well-being by improving physical, physiological, psychological, emotional and intellectual health.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on September 27, 2014, urged the United Nations General Assembly to take cognisance of the universal appeal of Yoga. This is how June 21 became the International Day of Yoga (IDY).

India has also succeeded in impressing upon the world that Yoga is integral to its ancient cultural heritage which goes back to 5,000 years. The proactive efforts by the Indian Government also led to Yoga's inclusion in the Unesco's representative list of intangible cultural heritage of humanity in December 2016.

Today, the knowledge and practice of Yoga has spread beyond the confines of East and South Asia. International Day of Yoga is now celebrated as a festival in almost all countries, by all creeds, race, caste, gender, and age groups making it the biggest global event for humanity's holistic health and wellbeing.

The word Yoga first finds mention in the ancient text of Rigveda which was composed during the Indus-Saraswati Valley Civilisation. It was then developed further by the sages. Raj Yoga (the Yoga of Mind Management) was arranged into a eight-limb treatise, Yoga Sutras, by Patanjali during the 2nd Century BC.

Srimad Bhagvad Gita, the most widely read scripture, discusses mainly four classical forms of Yoga—i.e., Jnana-yoga, Bhakti-yoga, Karmayoga, and Dhyana-yoga.

Although the Western World is interested in Yoga, its focus is mostly limited to the physical aspect of Yoga. However, in the last few decades, the US healthcare fraternity has been using Pranayama (regulated breathing techniques) and meditation in Yoga for treatment of the autism spectrum disorder. Various research articles in PubMEd and research done in India in collaboration with AIIMS, NIMHANS, etc., clearly show the efficacy of yoga in physical, mental and spiritual well-being.

India encourages the daily practice of Yoga among people. The effectiveness of Pranayama was manifest during the outbreak of Covid-19. Records show that millions of healthcare workers and Covid-19 patients in India made a lasting and faster recovery by practicing Yogasana, Pranavama, and meditation.

To increase awareness about Yoga and to encourage its practice among people, the Government has declared Yogasana as a competitive sport. India's efforts to establish it in Asian and Olympic Games are continuing. The Prime Minister has also announced two categories of awards, international and national, to honour individuals and organisations making outstanding contributions towards the promotion and development of Yoga.

Currently, about 1.25 lakh wellness centres teach Yoga across the country. In rural India, Gram Panchayats are continuously being sensitised about the regular practice of Yoga and the Yoga Protocols through various efforts. Prime Minister wrote letters to 2.5 lakh Gram Panchayat Pradhans to promote Yoga-related activities. The Practice of Yoga has also been introduced in uniformed services.

Sexist attitude, remarks must be challenged

VK KARTHIKA

Normalisation of sexist harassment must cease for gender equality; educational institutions should embrace gender sensitivity exual violence is widely equated with rape cases. The media spotlight brings spotlight on increasing crime rates, violence against women and safety of women. But sexist harassment, the most commonplace and everyday occurrence, is normalized.

Sexist harassment is consumed as something very normal. This normalcy is because of the patriarchal perspectives. There could be a fear factor too, for the victim might be unsure about raising voice. The act of sexist harassment for many simply means "a friendly gesture" or "a naïve joke." Thus, as rightly pointed out by Sheela Suryanarayanan, there is "an expensive silence" about sexist harassment.

Sexist violence begins from domestic spaces that formulate and foster different rules for women and men. This further gets reinstated at social institutions. Human minds are thought to be chastised by all kinds of biases when they become educated, on the premise that higher education institutions are considered as places that host healthy debates on social taboos to enable the youngsters to transcend boundaries of narrow mindedness, social inequalities and identity crises.

Sadly, gender discrimination and sexist violence creep into higher education institutions and contaminate all possibilities of establishing gender parity. Misogyny is palpable in all sectors while educational institutions are transforming into habitats of sexist ideologies that victimise women students, faculty, and non-teaching staff alike although the nature and gravity of vio-

An integral constituent of educational institutions is the student welfare office. When this office itself operates as an agency that endorses sexist notions either by visibly channelling or by metaphorically sanctioning them, it is important to underscore that everyone who consumes or disseminates such ideologies becomes a part of misogynistic propaganda.

Many of the educational institutions impose separate rules for the female students with regard to the dress, behaviour and their conduct on campus. Even during arts and sports festivals which allow the men students to be part of the festivities, the women can be a part of it until it is the time for them to get back to their hostels as there is a "gendered curfew" on campus. Authorities circulate notices that prescribe separate rules for women students and their men counterparts

However, sexism operates covertly through subtle references towards the character of the girl who violates the popular gender expectations of the authorities. If confronted about the unjust treatment and policing, the authorities always defend themselves using benevolent sexism, with the best intention to protect the womenfolk!

Recently the Dean of Students' Welfare of an Institution of Eminence in central India issued a pamphlet on dangers of drug "Drug and Death - Couple with No Divorce" topped the rest and the acknowledgment of the nuanced and metaphorical references to the wife and husband never to be divorced appears both compulsorily heterosexual and naïve, not to mention the valorised nature of the marital relationship as the ideal and the goal of all youthful relationships. This slogan is an allegory of the conservative reinforcement of the institution of marriage and propagating such ideas in a university campus where youth must engage in critical questioning of institutions that must be condemned. The pamphlet institutionalised the ritual of sexist harass-

To begin with, why is there a need to gender the drug-use and

'Heroine' being punned with 'heroin' and the appeal to be a 'hero' without the counterpart are all such supposedly 'powerful slogans' that disturbingly equate drugs with women. "Be a hero without heroin is an index of the masculine construction of heroism where the absence of the female counterpart adds to the glory of being a hero. Thinking in binaries, having a choice of either this or that, encourages irrationality. This is very evident in the immediate one that follows - Heroin will make you loose [sic] Heroine! Although it sounds apparently innocent and jocular, this slogan shows the sheer absence of gender sensitivity. Secondly, it normalises the prevalent gender stereotypes and patriarchal prejudices that exist around us. Women connoting drugs, inebriation and destruction being hailed as winning slogans is a reinforcement of unjust gender relations through not-so-veiled metaphors in the minds of the Benevolent sexism and 'concerns about protecting the rich cultural traditions of India' had been metaphorically showcased when the men students of another central university in northern India covered the university's walls with the picture of a 'caged bird' in which each bar of the cage represented 'faith', 'dignity', 'submission' and 'morality' with an inscription that cancelled any attempts of women to claim their human rights as 'evil' acts. In the same institute, women students were denied access to the library as the head of the institution believed that their presence unnecessarily invited boys to the library! The academic implications of this curfew had already been debated back in 2014.

Thus, the passive consumers of sexist ideology in fact indirectly or intently become its spokespersons later. A woman scholar from an structions evident in these docuinstitute of national importance ments? states: "In a recent sports event, our batch won the overall championship. One of the teammates, a boy, said that the girls should go and collect the trophy even though they did not partake in the match. When asked about the reason for this he said that it was a compensation for cheering them which came as an insult for all of us girls. Our gestures of solidarity were misread and our male friends considered us cheer girls".

Despite clearing the UGC

National Eligibility Test (NET) and securing a Master's and a B. Ed. Degree from two different central universities, a woman lecturer was reduced to her clothing by the management of College of Applied Sciences (CAS), Kodungalloor, Kerala. The lecturer refused to meet the management's condition of wearing a saree and had to resign. This incident resulted in the state's higher education department issuing a circular, in November 2021, that clarified that the teachers do not have to adhere to a particular dress

It is embarrassing to understand that the statutes of various Central Universities, IITs and NITs carry gendered language. The references in these documents to the principal administrators like the Vice Chancellor, Director, Deputy Director and Registrar have taken the personal pronoun 'he' with its variant possessive forms wherever required. Does it mean that there is a predominant assumption about a woman's incapability to assume positions of power? Or is it mandatory that a woman, if at all fortunate to be in an office, compromises with the male oriented linguistic con-

Sexist harassment and the pre vailing misogynistic sentiments around us certainly do have a negative impact on women's personal and professional development. Environment sector influence the success of several programmes of different Ministries. There is a mixed bag of assessment.

Soon after taking over the reign of administration the first thing the Ministry urgently needed was to ensure transparency in granting forest and environmental clearances. Transparency is the hallmark of corruption free governance. The Ministry apart from other steps had created a mechanism under the 'Parivesh' portal where all user agencies are supposed to apply online for environmental and forestry clearances. It has ensured transparency, accountability, and time bound performance and thus made the clearance process free from delay and red tape. Procedures were simplified for quick and professional examination of proposals. The changes ensured access of services to all sections of the people. While the poor people in the villages got quick clear-ances at the Regional offices/DFO levels for schools, police outpost, hospitals and other developmental works, the industries and other public utility sectors, necessary for infrastructure and development like water schemes, dams, electricity and mining, got timely clearances, which were earlier delayed for several years.

In a major reform, the Ministry in 2021 re-organized its regional offices by restructuring the manpower, besides constituting regional empowered committees so that interface with people and state governments improves for better governance and cut delays.

The Forest Survey of India recorded an 8021 square km increase in overall forest and tree cover amounting to one percent jump in forest and tree cover during 2015 to 2017. Similarly, the trend continued during 2019 to 2021 when the forest and tree cover in the country increased by 2261 square km, taking the country's forest and tree cover to 80.9 million hectares with 24.62 per cent of the geographic area. The tiger population in the country has witnessed a steady increase from 2226 in 2014 to 2967 in the latest assessment.

The Compensatory Afforestation and Management Authority (CAMPA) Amendment Bill was languishing for a long time. The govern-

48% Americans want Trump charged for 1/6, says survey

bout half of Americans believe former President Donald Trump should be charged with a crime for his role in the US Capitol attack on Jan. 6, 2021, a new poll shows. The survey from The Associated Press-NORC Center for Public Affairs Research finds that 48% of US adults say the former president should be charged with a crime for his role, while 31% say he should not be charged. An additional 20% say they don't know enough to have an opinion. Fifty-eight per cent say Trump bears a great deal or quite a bit of responsibility for what happened that day.

The poll was conducted after five public hearings by the House committee,investigating Jan. 6, which has sought to paint Trump's potential criminal culpability in the events that led to deadly insurrection. But it was taken before Tuesday's surprise hearing featuring former Trump White House aide Cassidy Hutchinson. Her explosive testimony provided the most compelling evidence yet that the former president could be linked to a federal crime, experts say.

Views on Trump's criminal liability break down predictably along party lines, with 86% of Democrats but only 10% of Republicans saying Trump should be charged with a crime. Among Republicans, 68% say he should not be charged and 21% say they don't know. Still, the fact that nearly half the country believes he should be prosecuted is a remarkable position for the former president, pointing to the difficulties he could face if he makes another run at the White House in 2024.

For Ella Metze, a South Carolina Democrat, Trump's culpability has been clear from the beginning, when he urged his supporters to march to the Capitol on the morning of Jan. 6 and "fight like hell." "It was meant to provoke violence because he kept encouraging them," the 86-year-old told The Chris Schloemer, a Texas independent, agreed Trump holds responsibility for egging on the crowd with his baseless claims of election fraud. But, the 61-year-old doesn't lay the blame solely on Trump. Schloemer feels Republicans in Congress have a hand in what happened that day, too: "I feel like people were afraid of Donald Trump, especially Republican politicians, and so they wouldn't rein him in, and I think that just emboldened him.'

And he's not alone. While views of Trump's role have not changed since December, Americans are somewhat more likely now than they were then to say Republicans in Congress were significantly responsible for the events of Jan. 6. Forty-six percent say that now, up slightly from 41% in December. An additional 21% say GOP lawmakers had some responsibility and 30% say they were not responsible. The change in the share saying Republicans in Congress have a large amount of responsibility was driven mostly by Democrats and early June, received high ratings for TV

banker from San Francisco, is one of the GOP voters who has tuned into the hearings and still believes Trump holds no responsibility for the events of that

The 83-year-old thinks the only people who should be charged are those who brought weapons to the Capitol, or anyone who got into the building and caused damage inside. Trump "absolutely shouldn't be charged with anything," she told AP.

Nonetheless, the committee plans to continue its congressional probe and present new evidence in the coming weeks to its many viewers, including the most important one: Attorney General Merrick Garland. Regardless of public opinion about Trump's likely criminal nvolvement, lawmakers continue to face a stark reality: While they can investigate Jan. 6 and issue subpoenas to gather information, only the Justice Department can bring criminal charges.

But there are clear signs in recent weeks that the Justice Department appears to be escalating its probe of pro-Trump efforts to overturn the 2020 election. Federal agents on Wednesday seized the cell phone of Trump lawyer John Eastman, who was the architect behind a plan to pressure then-Vice President Mike Pence into rejecting the electoral college results.

Last week, authorities searched the Virginia home of Jeffrey Clark, who was known at the Justice Department to champion Trump's false claims of election fraud. Agents also served subpoenas to the Republican Party chairmen of Arizona, Nevada and Georgia, three states that went for President Joe Biden and where Trump allies created slates of "alternate electors" intended to subvert the vote. And Republicans in two other states — Michigan and Pennsylvania — disclosed they had

Covid cases rising nearly everywhere in world: WHO

The number of new coronavirus cases rose by 18 per cent in the last week, with more than 4.1 million cases reported globally, according to the World Health Organisation.

The UN health agency said in its latest weekly report on the pandemic that the worldwide number of deaths remained relatively similar to the week before, at about 8,500. COVIDrelated deaths increased in three regions: the Middle East, Southeast Asia and the Americas. The biggest weekly rise in new COVID-19 cases was seen in the Middle East, where they increased by 47 per cent, according to the report released late Wednesday. Infections rose by about 32 per cent in Europe and Southeast Asia, and by about 14 per cent in the Americas, WHO said.

WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said cases were on the rise in 110 countries, mostly driven by the omicron variants BA.4 and BA.5. "This pandemic is changing, but it's not over," Tedros said this week during a press briefing. He said the ability to track COVID-19's genetic evolution was "under threat" as countries relaxed surveillance warning that would make it more difficult to catch emerging and potentially dangerous new variants

He called for countries to immunise their most vulnerable populations, including health workers and people over 60, saying that hundreds of millions remain unvaccinated and at risk of severe disease and death. Tedros said that while more than 1.2 billion COVID-19 vaccines have been administered globally, the average immunization rate in poor countries is about 13 per cent.

"If rich countries are vaccinating children from as young as six months old and planning to do further rounds of vaccination, it is incomprehensible to suggest that lowerincome countries should not vaccinate and boost their most at risk (people)," he said.

According to figures compiled by Oxfam and the People's Vaccine Alliance, fewer than half of the 2.1 billion vaccines promised to poorer countries by the Group of Seven large economies have been delivered. Earlier this month, the US authorised COVID-19 vaccines for infants and preschoolers, rolling out a national immunisation plan targeting 18 million of the youngest children.

Calls for Georgia chief to resign after Black man's shooting

AP ■ SAVANNAH (US)

Religious leaders and others in Savannah, Georgia's oldest city, called Wednesday for the police chief's resignation and a federal investigation into local officer-involved shootings, including one last week that left a Black man dead.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation said it is independently investigating Friday's fatal shooting of a man who officers spotted walking around midday in the middle of a street. The man, Saudi Arai Lee, 31, of Savannah, lived in the neighbourhood where the shooting occurred.

"Family after family are cryng because of sons or their daughters shot down by this police department and it must stop," Elder James Johnson, founder of the activist group Racial Justice Network, said at a news conference Wednesday.

"I don't know if it's the raining or a fear of a Black man, but seems like they shoot and ask questions later, and we cannot and will not tolerate this," he said.

Officers approached Lee to speak with him, the GBI said. The agency said Lee immediately showed them his wallet, saying it contained his weapons permit, and then lifted his shirt and removed a weapon from a holster. Authorities said a short chase followed and that Lee was shot by Savannah Police Officer Ernest Ferguson, who is white. Officials said emergency medical aid was rendered but Lee was later pronounced dead at a hos-

"Wow is this really happening?" asked Bonifacio Ilagan, a 70-year-old activist who was detained and severely tortured by counterinsurgency forces during the elder Marcos's rule. "For victims of martial law like me, this is a nightmare.'

Marching in the streets, the protesters displayed placards that read, "Never again to martial law" and "Reject Marcos-Duterte".

Such historical baggage and antagonism stand to hound Marcos Jr. During a six-year presidency beginning at a time of intense crises.

The Philippines has been among the countries worst-hit in Asia by the two-year coronavirus pandemic, after more than 60,000 deaths and extended lockdowns sent the economy to its worst recession since World War II and worsened poverty, unemployment and hunger.

As the pandemic was easing early this year, Russia's invasion of Ukraine sent global inflation soaring and sparked fears of food shortages.

Last week, Marcos Jr. Announced he would serve as secretary of agri-culture temporarily after he takes office to prepare for possible food supply emergencies.

He also inherits decades-old Muslim and communist insurgencies, crime, gaping inequality and political divisions inflamed by his election.

Congress last month proclaimed his landslide victory, as well as that of his running mate Sara Duterte, the daughter of the outgoing president, in the vice-presidential race. well. I want to do well because when the president does well, the country does well," he said after his congressional proclamation. Marcos Jr. Received more than 31 million votes and Sara Duterte more than 32 million of the more than 55 million votes cast in the May 9 election — massive victories that will provide them robust political capital as they face tremendous challenges as well as doubts arising from their fathers' reputations. It was the first majority presidential victory in the Philippines in decades.

Kong for 25th anniv of handover hinese leader Xi Jinping Carrived in Hong Kong on Thursday ahead of the 25th anniversary of the British handover and after a two-year transformation bringing the city more tightly under Communist Party control. It is Xi's first trip outside of mainland China in nearly 2 ½ years.

Supporters waving Chinese and Hong Kong flags chanted "Welcome, welcome! Warm welcome!" as Xi's train pulled into the train station.

Xi and his wife, Peng Liyuan, were welcomed by city leader Carrie Lam as they alighted the train. Xi waved at supporters who welcomed him on the platform, and later greeted John Lee, the city's incoming leader, and Leung Chun-ying, a former chief executive of the city, along with other officials.

"I'm very happy to be in Hong Kong," Xi said in a speech at the Hong Kong West Kowloon train station. "It's been five years since I last visited, and in the past five years I've been paying attention to and thinking about Hong Kong."

Under Xi's leadership, China has reshaped Hong Kong in the past two years, cracking down on protest and freedom of speech and introducing a more patriotic curriculum in schools. The changes have all but eliminated opposition voices and driven many to leave.

Hong Kong and nearby Macao are special administrative regions that are governed separately from the rest of China, known as the Chinese

"As long as we stick to the one country, two systems' framework, Hong Kong will certainly have a brighter future and will make new and bigger contributions to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese people," he said.

Later Thursday, Xi is expected to visit the Hong Kong Science Park before meeting with pro-Beijing politicians and tycoons, and then attend a closed-door banquet hosted by Lam, the outgoing chief executive, according to local newspaper South

China Morning Post. Both Xi and Peng are likely to spend Thursday night in the Chinese city of Shenzhen — 15 minutes away from Hong Kong by high-speed train and return to the city on Friday morning to attend the July 1 events. On Friday, Xi will attend a ceremony marking Hong Kong's return to Chinese rule on July 1, 1997 and officiate an inauguration ceremony for the new government led by incoming leader Lee.

Ahead of his arrival in Hong Kong, thousands of guests — including top officials, lawmakers and diplomats — checked in to quarantine hotels earlier this week and have been taking daily nucleic acid tests as part of coronavirus precautions.

ndirect negotiations between Iran and the US over Tehran's tattered nuclear deal with world powers ended Wednesday in Qatar after failing to make significant progress amid a growing crisis over the Islamic Republic's atomic program, diplomats

The Doha talks broke up after two days without any sign of a breakthrough, months after talks in Vienna among all of the deal's parties went on "pause."

In the time since, Iran shut off surveillance cameras of international inspectors and now has enough highenriched uranium to potentially fashion into at least one nuclear bomb if it chose.

And with Iran and the US blaming each other for the talks' failure, it remains unclear when — or if — there will be another round of negotiations. European Union mediator

Enrique Mora on Twitter

described as "intense" the two days of talks in Doha.

"Unfortunately, not yet the progress the EU team as coordinator had hoped-for," Mora wrote. "We will keep working with even greater urgency to bring back on track a key deal for non-proliferation and regional stability." Mora's comments came hours after the semiofficial Tasnim news agency, believed to be close to Iran's hard-line Revolutionary Guard, described the negotiations as finished hours before they ended and having "no effect on breaking the deadlock in the talks.

Tasnim claimed that the American position did not include "a guarantee for Iran benefiting economically from the deal," quoting what it described as unnamed "informed sources."

'Washington is seeking to revive the (deal) in order to limit Iran without economic achievement for our country, the Tasnim report claimed. A key sticking point has been American sanctions targeting

Russian forces leave Snake Island, keep up eastern assault

Russia on Thursday pulled back its forces from a strategically placed Black Sea island where they have faced relentless Ukrainian attacks, but kept up its push to encircle the last bulwark of Ukraine's resistance in the eastern province of Luhansk.

Russia's Defense Ministry said it withdrew its forces from the Zmiyinyy (Snake) Island off Ukraine's Black Sea port of Odesa in what it described as a "goodwill gesture." Ukraine's military said the Russians fled the island in two speedboats following a barrage of Ukrainian artillery and missile strikes. Russian Defense Ministry spokesman Lt. Gen. Igor Konashenkov insisted that the withdrawal was intended to demonstrate that "the Russian Federation wasn't hampering the United Nations' efforts to establish a humanitarian corridor for taking agricultural products from the territory of Ukraine and the West have accused Russian of blockading Ukrainian ports to prevent exports of grain, contributing to the global food crisis.

Russia has denied the accusations and charged that Ukraine needs to remove sea mines from the Black Sea to allow safe navigation.

Turkey has sought to broker a deal on unblocking grain exports from Ukraine, but the talks have dragged on without any sign of quick progress, with Kyiv voicing concern that Russia could use the deal to launch an attack on Odesa.

Russia took control of the island that sits along a busy shipping lane in the opening days of the war in apparent hope to use it as a staging ground for an attack on Odesa. The island came to epitomise the Ukrainian resistance to the Russian invasion, when Ukrainian troops there received a demand from a Russian warship to surrender or face bombardment. "Russian warship," the answer came back, "go (expletive) yourself." The Ukrainian defenders of the island were captured by the Russians but later freed as part of a prisoner exchange. After the island was taken, the Ukrainian military relentlessly bombarded a small Russian garrison and air defense assets stationed there.

In the east of Ukraine on Thursday, Moscow kept up its push to take control of the entire Donbas region.

It is focused on the city of Lysychansk, the last remaining Úkrainian stronghold in the Luhansk province. Russian troops and their separatist allies control 95% of Luhansk and about half of Donetsk, the two provinces that make up the mostly Russian-speaking practically all their forces to seize the city," Haidai said.

Speaking on a visit to Turkmenistan early Thursday, Russian President Vladimir Putin said his goals in Ukraine haven't changed since the start of the war. He said they were "the liberation of the Donbas, the protection of these people and the creation of conditions that would guarantee the security of Russia itself." He made no mention of his original stated goals to "demilitarise" and "de-Nazify" Ukraine.

He denied Russia had adjusted its strategy after failing to take Kyiv in the early stage of the conflict. "As you can see, the troops are moving vivors suffered severed limbs.

He asked for more modern artillery systems and other weapons and warned the NATO leaders they either had to provide Ukraine with the help it needed to defeat Russia or "face a delayed war between Russia and yourself."

On Thursday, Sweden announced plans to send more military support to Ukraine, including anti-tank weapons, support weapons and demining equipment that it says Kyiv had requested. "It is important that the support to Ukraine from the democratic countries in Europe is continuous and longterm," Defense Minister Peter Hultqvist said, according to the Swedish news agency TT.

Hultqvist didn't say when and how the equipment would be delivered . Sweden was invited at a NATO summit this week to join the Western military alliance.

Russia, shunned by the West, has been intent on bolstering ties elsewhere. On Thursday, Iranian state media said that Iran has proposed expanding financial exchanges with Russia as well as cooperating in the energy field within a framework independent of the Western financial exchange system, while both countries are under heavy sanctions.

UK to give more military support for Ukraine

 $T^{\text{he UK will provide anoth-}}_{\text{er 1 billion pounds of mil-}}$ itary support to Ukraine, British Prime Minister Boris Johnson announced at a NATO Leaders' Summit in Madrid on Thursday.

This latest funding has been dubbed a new phase in the international community's support to Ukraine. It will go towards capabilities including sophisticated air defence systems, uncrewed aerial vehicles, innovative new electronic warfare equipment and thousands of pieces of vital kit for Ukrainian soldiers.

"[Russian President] Putin's brutality continues to take Ukrainian lives and threaten peace and security across Europe," said Johnson.

"As Putin fails to make the gains he had anticipated and hoped for and the futility of this war becomes clear to all, his attacks against the Ukrainian people are increasingly barbaric. UK weapons, equipment and training are transforming Ukraine's defences against this onslaught. And we will continue to stand squarely behind the Ukrainian people to ensure Putin fails in Ukraine," he said.

Downing Street said the funding represents the first step in enabling Ukraine to go beyond their valiant defence against the illegal Russian invasion to mounting offensive operations against Russian ground forces in order to estore Ukrainian sovereignty.

The latest announcement brings the total UK military support since the outbreak of war to 2.3 billion pounds more than any country other than the United States. Support so far includes more than 5,000 NLAW antitank missiles made in Northern Ireland, long-range multiple launch rocket systems, artillery systems, including 155mm self propelled guns, and rapid design and production of short to medium range persistent loitering munitions by a UK start-up company.

Last week, the prime minister also announced the UK was offering a comprehensive new training programme to the Ukrainian Armed Forces, helping them build long-term endurance in the face of continuing Russian barbarism.

"Britain's commitment to Ukraine is real and constant and we will stand by them until Russia changes course. This military assistance will help them intensify their fight against Russian aggression and ensure they have the defence capabilities they need," said UK Defence Secretary Ben

Cryptocurrencies clear danger, Govt to finalise consulting paper: RBI

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has been flagging concerns about cryptocurrencies, which are seen as a highly speculative asset.

In the foreword to the 25th issue of the Financial Stability Report (FSR) released on Thursday, Das also said that as the financial system gets increasingly digitalised, cyber risks are growing and need special attention.

"We must be mindful of the emerging risks on the horizon. Cryptocurrencies are a clear danger. Anything that derives value based on make believe, without any underlying, is just speculation under a sophisticated name," Das said.

In recent weeks, cryptocurrencies, which are not back by any underlying value, have witnessed massive volatility amid global uncertainties.

RBI first come out with a circular regarding cryptocurrencies in 2018 and had barred entities regulated by it from dealing in such instruments. However, in early 2020,

Supreme Court struck down the circular.

While regulatory clarity is yet to emerge with respect to the cryptocurrency space in the country, the government is working to finalise a consultation paper on cryptocurrencies with inputs from various stakeholders and institutions, including the World Bank and the IMF.

In the foreword of the FSR, Das also said that while technology has supported the reach of the financial sector and its benefits must be fully harnessed, its potential to disrupt financial stability has to be guarded against.

As the financial system gets increasingly digitalised, cyber risks are growing and need spe-

The Indian financial system exhibits underlying robustness and resilience to withstand these shocks. "Our endeavour is to face all challenges, external and internal, with strength and innovative solutions for the Indian financial system," he added. A noteworthy feature of the current situation is the overall resilience of Indian financial institutions, which should stand the economy in good stead as it strengthens its prospects. This reflects a combination of good governance and risk management practices,

CIABC seeks removal of non-tariff measures by UK on Indian products

Writes to Union commerce & Industry Min

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE

With the trade negotiations between the India and UK gaining pace, the Confederation of Indian Alcoholic Beverage Companies (CIABC), a body of the Indian alcoholic beverage manufacturers, has written to the Union Minister for Commerce & Industry and the team negotiating FTA to ensure that United Tariff Measures (NTM) used by prevent Indian products from entering their

According to Vinod Giri, Director General, CIABC: "An FTA must ensure equal opportunities and level playing field for both sides, and no misuse by either side.

Unless UK agrees to remove minimum maturation requirement for Indian whisky which is used to block whisky from India, the largest producer of whisky in the world, the FTA will be a one-way affair with no benefit to Indiá."

CIABC maintains that the UK uses the condition of minimum 3 years maturity for whisky to unfairly protect its own industry. "India is a major whisky producing country and yet out of the 70 lakh cases of whisky exported from India every year, not even 10,000 make it to the UK. It is so because the condition of minimum 3 years maturity means 30% loss of the spirit due to evaporation which in turn makes Indian products just uncompetitive.

cal evidence in public domain which establishes that whisky matures 3-5 times faster in Indian climate and the effect of 3 years maturation in the UK can be achieved in just 6-9 months in India," Giri noted.

Giri further said it costs 50-75% more to produce a product in India compared to Scotland. "Capital costs 8-10% in India compared to just 2-3% in Scotland. Evaporation losscompared to 1-2% in Scotland due to difference in climate conditions.

If the cost difference is fundamental and beyond the control of industry then a level playing field must reflect that in tariff. We believe that the tariff should not go below 100% now and below 50% in foreseeable future," added.

The CIABC has also strongly argued against any preferential duty to scotch imported in bulk. It said that out of the total 2.7 crore litres of bulk scotch imported in during 2019-20, only 25% was for blending with Indian products and rest was used for ust repacking it in India as finished product.

"Any special concessions for scotch whisky imported in bulk on grounds it is used for blending with domestic products is an eyewash and cover for packing the same product in India," Giri said.

CIABC has also demanded that products under $5 per bottle of 750 ml should not be given duty concessions.

Economy on recovery path; inflationary pressure warrants careful handling of situation: RBI

Mumbai: The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Thursday said the Indian economy is well on the path of recovery even though inflationary pressures and geopolitical risks warrant careful handling and close monitoring of the situation.

The RBI's 25th Financial Stability Report (FSR) also said banks as well as non-banking financial institutions have sufficient capital buffers to withstand shocks.

"Notwithstanding the challenges from global spillovers, on the path of recovery, though inflationary pressures, external spillovers and geopolitical risks warrant careful handling and close monitoring," the report said. The report observed that the outlook for the global economy is shrouded by considerable uncertainty because of the war in Europe, front-loaded monetary policy normalisation by central banks in response to persistently high inflation and multiple waves of the coronavirus pandemic.

Regarding the banking sector, it said the Capital to Risk weighted Assets Ratio (CRAR) of Scheduled Commercial Banks (SCBs) rose to a new high of 16.7 per cent while their Gross Non Performing Assets (GNPA) ratio fell to a six-year low of 5.9 per cent in March

Macro stress tests for credit risk reveal that SCBs would be able to comply with the minimum capital requirements even under severe stress scenarios, it added.

Petra Kvitova has plenty of experience on the grass courts of Wimbledon. After all, she's a two-time champion at the All England Club.

But that doesn't mean everything is easy for her once she steps onto the green courts in southwest London.

She has spoken about being nervous when she comes to Wimbledon, and she showed some of those nerves on Thursday when she beat Ana Bogdan 6-1, 7-6 (5).

It was a straight-set victory, but the second set wasn't straightfor-

Kvitova was leading 5-1 when Bogdan started to reel off game after game. Then Kvitova had a match point while serving at 5-4, but failed to convert that chance and then the game itself, eventually leading to the tiebreaker.

"Especially a few games on my serve, it was really long games, and mentally very tough," the 25th-seeded Kvitova said. "I think maybe even this took some energy from my serve and I just couldn't make it.'

She still pulled it out in the end, like she has done so many times in the past at Wimbledon. She won her first title in 2011, and added the second in 2014. But she was attacked in her home in 2016 and suffered knife injuries to her playing left hand. She later had surgery and needed more than five months to

He has been acknowledged widely as the undisputed leader of the fast bowling group but come Friday, the challenge against Ben Stokes' side will be very different when he walks out for the toss at the Edgbaston.

While this arrangement is a stop-gap one, Indian cricket establishment might have an idea of what can be expected of Bumrah when the time comes for the next change in baton.

NEW TEMPLATE

The 3-0 demolition of New Zealand with three tricky chases completed in style has shown that England, under new coach Brendon McCullum, have deconstructed their style-sheet as far as Test matches are con-

Their batters are plundering opposition attack while there are lesser number of five-wicket hauls from the pacers if one goes by the statistics of the New Zealand series. It was Jack Leach, who had two five-wicket hauls and neither James Anderson nor Stuart Broad got their names on the various 'Honours' Board'.

The pitches have become a tad flatter, which is helping the batters and thus Bumrah, along with Shami and Mohammed Siraj will have an onerous task of tackling a batting line-up bubbling with confidence.

Joe Root, after relinquishing captaincy, has found the touch that had deserted him and Jonny Bairstow, with the confidence of IPL, has scored nearly 400 runs at a strike-rate of 120 plus, unheard of in Test matches.

TEAM COMBINATION

India will have to bat well and in absence of regular opening pair of Rohit and Rahul, who were fantastic during the four Tests played last year.

Coach Rahul Dravid expects a match-winning performance if not a hundred from Virat Kohli, who looked good in the practice game but the Test match will be a different beast altogether. The practice game against

Leicestershire was more of an extended net session and Indian teams, since Mahendra Singh Dhoni took over as captain, has hardly played official first-class games as a pre-cursor to the Test

James Anderson might be a month short of his 40th birthday but those magical wrists can still make the ball dart around and it will be a different experience for Shubman Gill or Shreyas Iyer.

Cheteshwar Pujara has scored a bagful of county runs but that psychological disadvantage of facing the very first ball of an innings, if he is asked to open, could clutter his mind.

Hanuma Vihari is a solid player but would need support from the other end, considering he has a defensive game.

It remains to be seen who will be India's bowling allrounder. Will it be Ravichandran Ashwin, who isn't an automatic choice in overseas conditions or Shardul Thakur, who hasn't done his chances any harm with some big-hearted efforts in SENA countries.

Edgbaston hasn't exactly been a happy hunting ground for India where they have lost most of their Test matches but as it often happens with new beginnings, a new captain can always try to buck the trend

Change in opposition doesn't change our approach: Ben Stokes

 $E^{\text{ngland skipper Ben Stokes says they know what it takes to} \\ \text{beat India but insisted it's more than just winning a game}$ since they are looking to reshape Test cricket with their style

Under Brendon McCullum's guidance and Stokes' aggressive captaincy, a 'new-look' England swept New Zealand 3-0 in their last series at home, just days back.

India are leading the series 2-1 and the 31-year-old allrounder expressed confidence of squaring the series.

We still obviously know that we need to win this game to draw the series. But you know as I said at the end of last week that, at the moment it is bigger than results, it is bigger than you know, what happens on the field, there is more to it. We obviously want to win every game we play but it is bigger than that," Stokes said on the eve of the rescheduled fifth Test.

The match was postponed last September owing to a COVID outbreak in the touring squad.

'I think what we managed to do over the last three weeks is just reshape Test cricket with the way we played

"We want people to enjoy us watching play. I think people are enjoying watching us play because they don't know what they are going to get because they don't know how it is going to turn out but they know how we are going to play. I have sort of likened it to the ODI thing we started after 2015 World Cup, everybody wanted to watch us play," he added.

Stokes begs to differ that India are a "step up" than New Zealand, saying the change in opposition won't alter their play-

"Well, we just beat the best team (New Zealand) in the world 3-0. India are obviously a completely different opposition, different dynamic of a team but we are concentrating on ourselves," Stokes said at the pre-match press conference at

We understand what we do well but we have also taken into account who we are playing against. Just because the opposition changes doesn't mean we change.'

Buttler replaces Morgan as white-ball captain

Tos Buttler said he had been given the "greatest honour" after being named as England's new white-ball captain in succession to "inspirational" World Cup-winning skipper Eoin

Buttler's appointment was confirmed by the England and Wales Cricket Board on Thursday, just two days after Morgan announced his retirement from international cricket.

Buttler has been a member of England's white-ball teams for over a decade, serving as Morgan's vice-captain since 2015.

The dynamic 31-year-old wicketkeeperbatsman has already led England 14 times across both ODI and T20 formats, including their most recent ODI against the Netherlands when Morgan was ruled out with a groin injury.

World Cup winner Buttler is set to take charge of 12 games in July, with T20 and ODI series against India and South Africa. But his first words on being named as skipper were to thank Morgan for his "outstanding leadership" in overseeing England's white-ball revival following their embarrassing first-round exit at the 2015 World Cup.

Thakur is a member of the Indian squad that will play England in the rescheduled fifth Test beginning here on Friday.

The 30-year-old said he loves bowling in English conditions. "I think England is a bowler's paradise, they say because the ball swings a lot and at times you end up taking a lot of wickets in one spell itself. So, I think England is one of my favourite places to play cricket and to bowl as well," Thakur said.

"(În) England there is lot of lateral movement and off the pitch moment, it is up to you how to you want to make use of that." Thakur, who is no mean with the bat, played a key role in the fourth Test at the Oval, slamming two crucial half-centuries and also took crucial wickets in both the innings. In the first innings he slammed a 36-ball 57, which helped India score 191. In the second innings, Thakur bettered his score, scoring a 72-ball 60.

Recalling his performance, Thakur said, "It was an important innings. Like I said before England could have got a big lead, but that got cut down and because of that we could stage a comeback in the third and the fourth innings.

"When you play such an innings, it motivates the teammates that we have got a good opportunity to make a comeback into the game. The good performance of teammates, it will reflect when you are bowling, it will also reflect in your fielding," he

The absence of international cricket's most prolific duo is just one of several concerns for captain Kaur ahead of the ODI series opener.

The Indians made a positive start to the tour of the island nation by winning the T20I series 2-1 but their performance was far from perfect and while the format will change, the regulars in the side would be keen to put up a dominant display against the lowly-ranked (ninth) Sri Lanka.

Harmanpreet Kaur, who begins her reign as a full-time skipper of the Indian women's team with the ODI series against Sri Lanka, is seeking drastic improvement in fitness and fielding from her teammates.

Khawaja, Green help Oz build lead in 1st Test

Usman Khawaja on Thursday praised Cameron Green for handling the Sri Lankan spinners with aplomb after the two batsmen helped Australia to a 101-run first innings lead on a weather-hit day two of the opening Test.

Replying to Sri Lanka's 212 all out on the opening day, the tourists reached 313 for eight when bad light stopped play.

It was a bonus to get any play at all after storms and ferocious winds had caused a stand to collapse, with no injuries, and delayed the start until the afternoon. Skipper Pat Cummins, on 26, and Nathan Lyon, on eight, were batting at close of play after the tourists dominated the two sessions on a turning pitch. The left-handed Khawaja

surgery in Germany PTI ■ NEW DELHI

KL undergoes successful

Cenior India opener and reg-Jular vice-captain KL Rahul has undergone a successful surgery for sports hernia in Germany and is expected to be out of competitive cricket for another couple of months.

Rahul, who was forced to opt out of the home T20I series against South Africa earlier this month, has over the years had recurrent lower abdominal related fitness issues, including groin strains and hamstring injuries.

"It's been a tough couple of weeks but the surgery was successful. I'm healing and recovering well. My road to recovery has begun. Thank you for your messages and prayers. See you soon," Rahul tweeted.

The 30-year-old has played 42 Tests, 42 ODIs and 56 T20Is for India in the last eight years. Once he is back in India, his rehabilitation would be monitored by the NCA Sports Science team headed by Dr Nitin Patel. Although it is difficult to put a timeline on his comeback, sources in the know of things believe that it could take another couple of months before Rahul dons the India 'Blues'
