Submit files on Arun Goel's Delhi man stabs parents, pick as EC, SC asks Centre grandma, sister to death

We want to see what prompted step to choose EC at short notice, SC tells AG PIONEER NEWS SERVICE

A sserting the need for independence of the Election Commission and its members, the Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the Centre to produce the original records related to the recent appointment of Arun Goel as Election Commissioner.

The Constitution Bench headed by Justice KM Joseph wanted to know whether there was any "hanky panky" and rejected Centre's objections in producing the original file, saying it wants to know whether everything was "hunky dory" in the appointment process as claimed by the five-judge Constitution bench rejected the objections put forth by Attorney General (AG) Ŕ Venkataramani over its insistence on going through the file while it was hearing the larger issue of appointment of Election Commissioners and Chief Election Commissioner.

The AG told the bench, also comprising Justices Ajay Rastogi, Aniruddha Bose, Hrishikesh Roy and CT Ravikumar, that the court is dealing with the larger issue of appointment of ECs and the CEC, and it cannot look at an individual case flagged by advocate Prashant Bhushan.

"I take serious objection to this and have my reservation to the court seeing the file amid the hearing of a Constitution bench," he contended.

Earlier on Monday, the Bench observed that the selection to Election Commission should be by a body headed by the Chief Justice of India. Bhushan argued that when the Bench started hearing a batch of pleas seeking a collegiumlike system for the appointment of ECs and the CEC last Thursday, the Government appointed Goel as an EC on November 19.

"We want to see what prompted the step. We want to see what the mechanism is. We will not treat it as an adversarial (move) and keep it for our record, but we want to know as you claim that everything is hunky dory. Since we were hearing the matter and appointment was made amid, this may be interlinked. You have time till tomorrow. Produce the documents," the court told the AG.

The Bench observed that Bhushan had told the court last Thursday that an interlocutory application has been filed seeking filling of one vacancy in the Election Commission and the next day the appoint-appeared on behalf of petitioner Anoop Baranwal and made his rejoinder submission, said after the court started hearing the matter, the Government hurriedly appointed an Election Commissioner.

Election "This Commissioner was, till Thursday, working as a secretary-level officer in the Government. Suddenly, he was given VRS on Friday and appointed as an Election Commissioner," Bhushan said. He added, they (Government) appointed someone in a single day and no one knows what process was followed and what safeguards were taken. Justice Joseph said, as far he recalls, it takes three months for a person to get voluntary retirement.

You need to produce before us the original file regarding the appointment of this officer. If there is no illegality, then you should not be afraid," Justice Joseph said. Venkataramani protested the way Bhushan flagged the issue of Goel's appointment amid the hearing of a larger matter and wanted the court to look into it. Justice Hrishikesh Roy his objection it looked like he was prejudging the mind of the court.

Justice Joseph told the Attorney General, "Please tell us whether you will produce the files or not unless you have an objection to that. If not, we will leave the matter at that and close the hearing." AG Venkataramani said the court need not travel that far and that he was only trying to satisfy himself whether it would be appropriate for the bench to look into the file of an isolated incident amid the hearing of a larger issue.

"If there is a need to show (the files) to the court, we will certainly show it. If any wrong has happened, I, as Attorney General, would myself bring to the notice of the court. It is my duty as the law officer. This court cannot look into an isolated incident just because it was flagged by someone. The post has been vacant since May," he said.

Justice Joseph said the court is only looking into the mechanism and see whether everything was according to the process. "If you feel you should not disclose the file, then let us know. You have time till tomorrow. If you are busy, you can ask someone to place the file before us," he

On November 19, Goel, a 1985-batch IAS officer of the Punjab cadre, was appointed as an Election Commissioner.

Drug addict was back from rehab centre recently

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

In a gruesome incident, a 25-year-old man, a drug addict who recently returned from a rehabilitation centre, killed all his family members in Southwest Delhi's Palam area.

The accused, identified as Keshav, allegedly stabbed his parents, sister, and grandmother to death over a dispute.

According to police, all four were found lying in a pool of blood. They have been identified as Dinesh Kumar (50), his wife Darshan Saini (40), mother Deewano Devi (75) and daughter Urvashi (18).

As Keshav went on the stabbing spree, the screams of his family members alerted some of their relatives, who live in the same building, and neighbours.

According to a police officer, they received information around 10.30 pm on Tuesday about a quarrel on the upper floor of a house in Palam. Deputy Commissioner of Police (southwest) Manoj C said when a police team reached there, it found four members of the family dead. The "caller" Kuldeep Saini

Aaditya meets Nitish, Tejashwi in bid to woo Biharis for BMC polls

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE

Chiv Sena (Uddhav) leader with party MP Priyanka Chaturvedi and Anil Desai, met Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar and his Deputy and RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav in Patna on Thursday.

Aaditya, who was on a one-day visit to Bihar, was accompanied by Tejashwi when they called on Kumar at his residence. Aaditva's decision to call on Kumar and Tejashwi is seen as a clever move to influence millions of Bihari voters resid ing in Mumbai and whose support will be crucial for Shiv Sena (Uddhav) in the upcoming BMC elections.

The BJP has already started a campaign to woo the North Indian voters.

Aaditya sought to distance himself from the strident "anti-migrant" stance that the Shiv Sena, founded by his late grandfather Bal Thackeray, has often been accused of.

Didn't invite Naik: Qatar on hate preacher's visit

Canards on Zakir's invite a bid to spoil bilateral ties, FIFA WC host tells India

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE

Qatar has clarified that it did not extend any official invitation to to India's fugitive Zakir Naik for the ongoing FIFA World Cup opening ceremony. Doha also said deliberate disinformation was being spread by third countries to damage relations between the two countries.

The reported denial came after India informed Qatar that Vice President Jagdeep Dhankar's visit for the World Cup inauguration on November 20 will be called off if Naik was invited for the Oatar reportedly informed India through official channels that no official invitation was extended to the Indian fugitive to witness the opening ceremony from the VVIP enclosure. Reports said Naik could have travelled to Qatar from Malaysia on a private visit.

In the first response by the Centre to Qatar's reported invitation to Naik, Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas Hardeep Singh Puri on Tuesday said he was sure India will take up the matter and would convey its views in the "strongest possible terms" to the concerned authorities.

Asked about Qatar reportedly inviting Naik to the FIFA World Cup, Puri said, "I have no knowledge of that". When asked if India will lodge a protest, he replied, "I am sure

India took it up and will take

Malaysian national and if he is

'You can ask me my views on Zakir Naik. My views and your views are the same on that," he said. Replying to a related question, Puri said, "We (India) have our views on him and I am sure they will be conveyed in the strongest possible terms to the concerned authorities.

A BJP spokesperson in Goa had also called for Indians to boycott the World Cup on the issue. Naik has been wanted by India since 2016 for alleged money laundering and inciting extremism through hate speeches in Malaysia. In March 2022, the Union Home Ministry declared Naik founded Íslamic Research Foundation (IRF) an unlawful association under the UAPA and banned it for five years.

Day 2 shocker! Japan vanquish Germany

A nother World Cup day, another World Cup shock. Substitutes Ritsu Doan and Takuma Asano scored late goals on Wednesday to give Japan a come-from-behind 2-1 victory over Germany at the World Cup. Both Doan and Asano play for German clubs.

Ilkay Gündogan had given four-time champion Germany the lead with a first-half penalty. But Doan, who plays for Freiburg, pounced on a rebound to equalise in the 76th minute after Germany goalkeeper Manuel Neuer blocked a shot from Takumi Minamino.

Then Asano, who plays for Bochum, sprinted clear of Nico Schlotterbeck and beat Neuer from a narrow angle in the 83rd minute of the first competitive meeting between the two nations.

Farmer leader Dallewal's fast unto death enters fifth day in Pb

CHANDIGARH/HOSHIARPUR

m harti}$  Kisan Union (Ekta Sidhupur) president Jagjit Singh Dallewal's fast unto death to press various demands of farmers entered its fifth day on Wednesday.

Dallewal began his fast on Saturday in Faridkot to press for enhanced compensation for land acquired for national highway projects, compensation for crop damage due to inclement weather and pest attack and rolling back of heavy fines imposed for stubble burn-

Speaking to reporters at the protest site in Faridkot earlier in the day, Dallewal said, "Even if I die, I appeal to farmers to carry out their protests in a peaceful manner.

He said his weight loss, fluctuation in blood pressure and low blood sugar level were not weighing on his mind at the moment. "I am not thinking about these things. We are here so that the government should issue a notification for the demands they had already accepted and meet some more demands such as rolling back of red entries and heavy fines for burning crop stubble," he

A medical team has been stationed at the protest site to monitor the farmer leader's

Doctors attending to Dallewal had earlier said that his blood sugar level was low. The district administration and senior police officials have been trying to persuade Dallewal to end his fast.

Dallewal also demanded that Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann apologise to farmers for his remarks against them. Mann had slammed the farmers' unions on Friday last for frequently blocking roads in Punjab as part of their protests. Hitting back, Dallewal had then said that if their sit-ins were wrong, then why did AAP leaders join the protests against the farm laws at the Delhi borders.

He had earlier accused the ruling Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) of acting like the BJP did during the farmers' stir against the farm laws.

Farmers were compelled to stage sit-ins on roads in Punjab after their protests outside the offices of deputy commissioners did not yield any positive response from the state government, he had said.

The farmers' protests over their demands entered its eighth day on Wednesday. The BKU (Ekta Sidhupur) is spearheading the protests in Amritsar, Mansa, Patiala, Faridkot and Bathinda in

Meanwhile, on the call of the Samyukt Kisan Morcha activists of various farmer organisations on Wednesday staged demonstration and burnt the effigies of Chief Minister Mann.

In Hoshiarpur district, activists of the Kisan Mazdoor Union-Garhdiwala led by their president Jujhar Singh and activists of the Pagri Sambhal Lehar led by their state convenor Satnam Singh Bagria staged a demonstration and burnt the effigies of the chief minister in front of the tehsil complex in Garhdiwwala and outside the Sugar Mill Mukerian, respectively.

They also raised slogans against the chief minister and the Punjab government.

At a few places in Haryana, including in Sonipat and Hisar, farmers burnt Bhagwant Mann's effigies over his recent remarks against farmers.

Haryana CM approves 900 MW power plant in Yamunanagar

PNS CHANDIGARH

900-megawatt power plant Awill be set up in Yamunanagar in Haryana as chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar has given approval to the proposal to set up another power plant here and soon its site selection and detailed project report (DPR) will be approved.

At present, Yamunanagar also has a thermal power plant.
An official statement on Wednesday said Haryana has continuously progressed in the power sector since it was carved out as a separate state in 1966, with an increase in the electricity availability from 343 megawatts at that time to 13,106.58 MW at present. It has become self-sufficient in terms of power availability in the state in the last eight years.

Many power reforms were carried out by the power corporations and the Haryana

Electricity Regulatory Commission (HERC), which was constituted in August 1998. "When Haryana was carved out as a separate state from then joint Punjab in 1966, at that time Haryana had an acute shortage of resources. It was a big challenge before the then governments to provide basic facilities like roads, electricity, and water to the public. But in 1970, electricity was brought to every village," it noted.

The statement said that Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar believes that all the previous governments have contributed to the development of the state, "but, the work done in the last eight years (under the BJP govt) overshadows the work done in the last 48 years (1966-2014)". In the field of power reforms, Haryana has taken a giant leap in these eight years, the statement said. Meanwhile, it added that in 1966, there were 20,190

tubewells used for agriculture in Haryana, which increased to over 6.64 lakh in 2022. "In 1966, there were only 9,749 industrial area electricity connections in the state, which have now increased to over 1.18 lakh in 2022.

"The per capita consumption of electricity was 48 units in 1966, which has now increased to about 1,805 units. Today, the number of electricity consumers is 73.82 lakh," the statement noted.

Under the state's 'Mhara Gaon-Jagmag Gaon Yojana' scheme, at present 5,681 villages, that is 84 percent of villages of the state, are being given 24-hour power supply in comparison to only 538 villages in October 2014, it added. Also, in October 2014, the recovery of electricity bills from rural areas was less than 50 percent, which has now increased to more than 90 perPunjab recorded 9,559 dengue cases, 16 deaths this year

No Maha village will go anywhere: Fadnavis on Bommai's remarks

Due to water crisis Maharashtra border villages wanted to merge with K'taka, CM had claimed

PTI ■ NAGPUR | MUMBAI

Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis on Wednesday said no village in Maharashtra has sought merger with Karnataka recently, and there is no question of any border village "going anywhere".

Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had claimed on Tuesday that some village panchayats in Jat taluka of Maharashtra's Sangli district had passed a resolution in the past seeking to merge with Karnataka when they were facing a severe water crisis.
The Karna

Karnataka Government had devised schemes to help them by providing water, and his Government was seriously considering the proposal of Jat villages, he said.
"These villages had introduced a resolution of the investment of the control of duced a resolution on the issue of water scarcity in 2012. Presently, none of the villages have introduced any resolution, Fadnavis told reporters in Nagpur. When he became Maharashtra Chief Ministra Maharashtra Chief Minister, his government entered into an agreement with Karnataka to sort out the water issue, he said.

A water supply scheme was chalked out for the Jat villages when Girish Mahajan was water resources minister in his cabinet, the BJP leader added. "We are now going to give approval to that scheme. Perhaps because of Covid, the previous (Uddhav Thackerayled) government could not approve it," Fadnavis added.

"Presently, none of the vilges have raised such demand (of merger with Karnataka). The demand is of 2012," he

"Not a single village of Maharashtra will go anywhere," Fadnavis stressed. Sudhir Mungantiwar, BJP leader and Maharashtra minister, blamed Iawaharlal Nehru for the longpending dispute.
"The dispute between Maharashtra and Karnataka is actually the gift of late prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru," he said without elaborating.

The case is now before the Supreme Court and any resolution passed by village panchayats would not affect the court's verdict, he told

"If resolutions are to be taken so seriously, then what about the villages in Karnataka which have passed resolutions seeking to join Maharashtra," he asked. Éarlier in the day, another Maharashtra Minister Shambhuraj Desai said the Karnataka Chief Minister's statements from both sides. On Monday, Bommai had said he had formed a formidable legal team of senior lawyers to deal with the border dispute when it comes up in the Supreme Court.

On Tuesday, the

Maharashtra government appointed Chandrakant Patil and Shambhuraj Desai as nodal ministers to coordinate with the state's legal team regarding the pending court case. Talking to reporters here, Desai said, "As Maharashtra has reconstituted its team to take forward the Karnataka border dispute in the Supreme Court, Bommai has come up with some ridiculous old demand. It should not be taken seriously.

The villages in Jat tehsil had reportedly passed a resolution more than a decade back to pressurise the then state government to address their demand of water supply from the Krishna river." There is no such official documentation or resolution available with the Maharashtra government,

'Aftab will cut me into pieces' Shraddha filed plaint in 2020

She withdrew complaint after cops visited their house, says Mumbai Police

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Call centre employee Shraddha Walkar had two years ago complained to police in Maharashtra that her live-in partner Aaftab Poonawala, who is accused of brutally murdering her, tried to kill her and she feared he would cut her into pieces and throw her away, an official said here on Wednesday. Based on her written complaint dated November 23, 2020, the personnel of Tulinj police station in Palghar district visited the place, where Walkar and Poonawala resided, twice and recorded her statement. Walkar then told the police that she had lodged the complaint "in a fit of rage" and the issues between her and Poonawala were resolved. She also warned Poonawala. In her complaint to Tulinj police in Palghar in November 2020, Walkar alleged that, "Poonawala has been abusing time had counselled them and me and beating me up."

"Today, he tried to kill me by suffocating me and he scares and blackmails me that he will kill me, cut me up in pieces and throw me anyway. It's been six months he has been hitting me. But I did not have the guts to go to police because he would threaten to kill me," Walkar said in the complaint.

"His parents are aware that he beats me and that he tried to kill me," she told the police.

Walkar also said in the letter that Poonawala's parents knew about them living together and they visited them on weekends. "I lived with him till date as we were supposed to get married anytime soon and had the blessing of his family. Henceforth, I am not willing to live with him so any kind of physical damage should be physical damage should be considered coming from him as he has been blackmailing me to kill me or hurt me where'

Talking to PTI, a top offi-cial of the Mira Bhayandar-Vasai Virar (MBVV) police commissionerate, said that after Walkar's complaint, police officials twice visited Regal Apartment, Vijay Viȟar Complex near ARC Bhavan in Vasai town, where the live-in partners resided, and recorded her statement, in which she said she was withdraw the case against Poonawala as the issues between them were resolved.

"Our officer counselled them properly and warned Aaftab too. He recorded Walkar's statement and closed the case," the official said.

Weeks after top Bengal BJP leadership declared that the Mamata Banerjee Government would not sustain beyond the month of December leading to speculations about central designs vis a vis Bengal cinestar-turned saffron politician Mithun Chakrabarty has said that atleast 21 TMC leaders including MLAs were in direct touch with him. Chakrabarty who was in Bengal to campaign for the BJP in several districts ahead of the next year's panchayat elections said: "not all the Trinamool men are corrupt and those who are not corrupt prefer to maintain silence in that party ... among these silent leaders atleast 21 are in direct touch with me ... take this hint and track them you will find why some people have started saying that TMC is on the verge of a big fall."

State BJP president

Sukanto Majumdar however, was quick to dispel "rumors" saying his party in the Centre had no intention to pull downthe TMC Government. "We will not topple the Government ... it will fall on its own ... we will come to power through democratic means and getting people's mandate," he said after Chakrabarty's "21-MLAs"remark.

Referring to the repeated allegations made by the Mamata Banerjee Government that the Centre was not clearing its funds Chakrabarty told a rally at Purulia on Thursday the powers be in the State were to blame for the fund crunch that the State was facing. Stopping short of naming the Chief Minister he said the Bengal Government was responsible for the alleged "slow-flow" of central funds for rural housing projects and MNREGA wages.

The central funds had dried up because the Bengal Government had not accounted for the previous grants, he said. The Mumbai mega star who extensively campaigned for the BJP in 2021 Assembly elections but failed to pierce the Mamata magic questioned why the Prime Minister Awaas Yojna would have to be renamed as Bangla Awaas Yojna particularly when the funds were being sent by the Centre. "PM Modi may be a BJP leader but he is the PM of every Indian ... so when the PMÁY scheme is being formulated by his Government there is no reason why the name of this scheme should be changed," he said.

Opposition parties on Wednesday accused the BJP government of weakening the Election Commission and raised doubts over the selection of poll panel members after the Supreme Court asked the Centre to produce the file on the recent appointment of Arun Goel as election commissioner.

The Congress, TMC, JD(U), RJD and the Left parties said the Election Commission should be above board to ensure free and fair polls, and some of them demanded that key appointments of the poll body be made by a special panel like in the case of the CBI Director.

Congress spokesperson and senior lawyer Abhishek Singhvi said the Centre should never object to showing appointment papers regarding Arun Goel to the apex court, especially since a Constitution bench is seized of the issue of appointment of EC members.

"Does the Centre have something to hide? Daal mein kya kuchh kaala hai? Yaa daal hi kaali hai?" Singhyi said. JD(U) secretary general K C Tyagi said the Supreme Court's remarks are very alarming and depict the state of affairs in the Election Commission. The Election Commission should be neu-

The JDU leader also said the Chief Justice of India should be taken into confidence while appointing ECs and must be part and parcel of the appointment process.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Neutrality needed

The SC has expressed its unhappiness over the appointment of CEC and other commissioners

The Supreme Court's remarks on the Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) and the specific reference of TN Seshan, the legendary CEC during 1990-96, are allusions to the widespread perception that the poll panel is being managed by the Government. The commission hasn't done much to dispel this perception. It is generally believed that it delayed the announcement of Assembly polls in Gujarat because Prime Minister Narendra Modi had to attend a few functions in the state, and its announcement would have forced their cancellation. Whatever may be the truth, it is undeniable that the apex court's remarks just fell short of calling the incumbent CEC and two commissioners unworthy of the offices they occupy. The five-judge Constitution Bench headed by Justice KM Joseph said that the "situation on the ground is alarming." The Bench included Justices Ajay Rastogi, Aniruddha Bose, Hrishikesh Roy, and CT Ravikumar. It said that the system should be such that the "best man" is selected as the CEC. It also slammed the Government for just paying "lip service" to the independence of Election Commissioners. The court told Attorney General R Venkataramani, "What is important is that we put a fairly good procedure so that apart from competence, someone of strong character is appointed as the CEC." The apex court was responding to four public interest litigations (PILs) urging it to issue directives to the Centre for setting up an impartial and independent selection panel to suggest names to the President for CEC and ECs.

On his part, Venkataramani said the situation has not become such that a judicial interference is required to regulate appointment of CEC and ECs. The court may intervene only if the aberrations in the selection are patently destructive of the independence of the commission or fundamental rights of citizens are impacted, he added. The Bench, however, was far from convinced. "You will have to take some steps," it said. It criticised the political class by saying that successive governments have "completely destroyed" the independence of the commission by ensuring no CEC got the full six-year term. Government supporters may grumble that such remarks are judicial overreach, but then it is the duty of the powers that be to ensure that Constitutional bodies like theEC are not only impartial but also appear to be impartial. If the commission is seen as favouring the party in power, it is the Government's duty to get rid of that impression. Elections are crucial for any democracy, and equally crucial is the neutrality of the people responsible for conducting elections. It is also in the interest of all politicians that institutions like the Election Commission remain neutral and independent. Power being a coquette, it flits around quicker than anyone can imagine. Those who are in power today may not be tomorrow; at that time, they bemoan the undermining of democratic institutions, as many Congress leaders do these days. The commission is one such institution.

Election time Gujarat

The BJP is ignoring AAP and Kejriwal like they don't exist and focusing only on Congress

he The Guiarat election is turning out to be guite exciting. The BJP sailed through 2017 even with its low performance though with slim margins. At that time only Congress was its only challenger and it was one to one fight. This time the entry of the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) has changed the election landscape. Interestingly enough the BJP is factoring in the presence of a third force, either deliberately or oblivious to its growing clout, especially in the cities. Though may not win as many seats as claimed by its leaders but would definitely make a difference especially where the winning margins would be narrow. Even the Prime Minister Narendra Modi has trained his guns on Congress saving it must not be considered a weak opponent, giving the impression that the fight is primarily between Congress and the BJP. AAP is does not figure in its scheme of things. The Prime Minister has served as Gujarat's chief minister for three terms, and knows the state and its people as back of his hand. He is harping upon the development and deliberately underplaying the emergence of Aam Admi Party. The prime minister understands that it is not easy this time in Gujarat given the long rule of the BJP in the state and not much to showcase in administration and development, more so after the Morbi bridge disaster so he is skillfully deflecting the attention to the congress misrule and playing victim card with ammunition generously provided by the Congress itself. He lashed out at Congress leader Madhusudan Mistry's recent "aukaat" jab and the old personal attacks on him, including "Maut ka saudagar" -- by Sonia Gandhi -- and "neech aadmi" and "chaiwala" -- by Mani Shankar Aiyar. But then these are rather old and have been used successfully but will they work this time remains to be seen.

But it is rather surprising or an astute move to ignore AAP which has you like it or not emerged as a potent force especially in the cities, the stronghold of the BJP. The BJP is trying to focus on the south Gujarat which has 35 seats. The BJP returned to power in the 2017 election with support from South Gujarat and this is where AAP is also trying to make inroads. Interestingly Congress which the BJP says is its opponent is silent and rather late. AAP, however, has gone all out in south Gujarat. Will the BJP strategy work, we will know soon.

Putin's endgame begins with Kherson

Russia's Ukraine expedition hasn't gone the way Putin wanted it. With the fall of Kherson, it may not be long before Russian soldiers retreat

n 30th September of this year, in defi-International Law, President Putin in a public display of bravado signed treaties absorbing the four occupied regions of Ukraine into Russia; Luhansk, Donetsk, Kherson, and Zaporizhzhia. In his speech at the ceremony, broadcast live, he stated that the people of those Regions were our citizens forever".

However, it has not quite turned out that way. Just four weeks later we witnessed a rather bizarre event, as General Sergei Surovikin, Commander of Russian Forces in Ukraine, reported on the ground situation in Kherson to General of the Army and Defence Minister, Sergei Shoigu on live TV. In this, he stated, "that it was impossible to supply the city of Kherson, and that its defense would be futile". He proposed a military retreat "in the near future" to the opposite bank of the Dnipro River. Shoigu agreed with his assessment and ordered him to "start with the withdrawal of troops and take all measures to ensure the safe transfer of personnel, weapons, and equipment across the Dnipro River.'

Without a doubt, this televised event was staged for the domestic audience, especially the repeated emphasis on the saving of lives. Conscription and the humongous casualties being suffered, one report suggests over a lakh killed and wounded, is not doing much for Putin's popularity. It may also have been an attempt by Putin, noticeably absent, to distance himself and blame the military. That would rankle the rank and file who are paying heavily for his initial miscalculations.

What is truly inexplicable, and militarily questionable, is for a division plus of elite Airborne Forces to abandon their positions without a fight. The adverse impact it must have had on their morale is not difficult to gauge. It is true that Kherson, located on the West Bank of the Dnipro River, has been cut off this was done to make availfrom Russian supply lines due to able highly trained forces to sites, but there are ways around that problem. Moreover, no people or government worth their salt, give up their own territory without a fight, especially if it is a vital communication hub. Just because we tend to do so, especially where the Chinese are concerned, does not make it a universal norm!

areas, if properly organised and planned, can pose all kinds of problems for the attacker, from causing immense casualties to delay and disruption of plans, even allowing own forces to wrest the initiative. After all, Russia's legendary defence of Leningrad for 900 days against the German Army finally put paid for Hitler's ambitions and broke the back of Nazi Germany. More recently, the three months it took the Russians to finally capture Mariupol must have greatly impacted their overall plans and curtailed their ambitions.

There are some suggestions, laughable one may add, that pulling out these troops without getting embroiled in battle has not allowed Ukraine to claim victory. Others have suggested that extensive damage to crossing reinforce ongoing offensive operations in the Donetsk Region. The latter seems unlikely as it would be at the cost of weakening the defensive perimeter, reportedly established east of the Dnipro River, guarding one of the major approaches leading into Crimea. There is absolutely no doubt that the loss of Crimea would be the death knell for the Putin Regime.

Then some suggest that while this has indeed been a tactical defeat, Russia is winning strategically. Protests within Western Europe against rising energy prices and inflation, because of the stoppage of Russian gas and oil supplies and sanctions against it, will result in increasing disunity within NATO and the EU. This, in turn, would adversely impact Ukraine as there would be a drastic reduction in the quantum of material and financial support being provided to it.

They are wrong on two counts. Firstly, Western Europe was staring down the barrel of Soviet guns for nearly fifty years following World War II. The feelings of vulnerability and fear have certainly not vanished overnight and the last thing they need is for Russia to sit on their doorstep once again. Such a possibility would be sufficient motivation to ensure unity. Secondly, Putin's ambitious attempts at reinvigorating the Russian Empire, however unrealistic that may be, has scared off much of Eastern Europe that sees itself in his crosshairs and made it a fickle and untrustworthy neighbour and trading partner for the West. One that most would wish to avoid having dealings with in the future, especially with Putin there. A shift away from Russian energy supplies is almost a given. Finally, one cannot help but ask the question as to why are we so keen to keep up relations with a receding power that can only hold us back. Of course, the chances are that the recent visit by the External Affairs Minister to Russia was not just about discussing our energy supplies but at the behest of the Americans who are keen to keep back channels open for dialogue with Russia. More so, since their influence and relationship with the Chinese are at quite a low point.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ARMY IS READY TO TAKE POK

Sir — Glad to read that Northern Army Commander Lt General Upendra Dwivedi made a statement on Tuesday, November 22 that the Indian Army is ready to execute orders like taking back Pakistan-occupied Kashmir.He said as far as the Indian Army is concerned, it will carry out any order given by the Government of India. Whenever such orders are given, the army will always be ready for it.

The fact of the matter is that the military is always ready to make sure that ceasefire understanding is never broken as it is in the interest of both nations, but if broken at any time, the Indian army will give Pakistan a fitting reply, on the ceasefire agreement between India and Pakistan. However, it is always the government which does not take a decision but keeps the pot boiling. It is about time that the government took a decision which would end the problem once and for all. In fact it would be in the best interest of the people of PoK that its uncertainty ends. With this, the Indian government must immediately give order to the Indian Army to take back PoK rather than being a mute spectator.

KERALA HC DOES THE RIGHT THING

Sir — The Kerala High Court has denied bail to a 31-year-old man who was charged under the POCSO Act for purportedly impregnating a 15- year old girl who he claims to be his wife. It is an explicit criminal offense where he abducted a minor girl from West Bengal and sexually assaulted her.

The main intent of the POCSO Act is to protect children's safety, and modesty and shield them from any kind of physical, psychological, and mental abuse and clearly states that a child is any individual below the age of 18 years. If this case was child sexual abuse on the cover of marriage, it should not be absolved as it ruins all forms of child rights. It is also terrible to hear that marriage is acting as his team and everyone in the t seems Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari has lost his " hoshyari". The Maharashtra Governor is often making controversial statements that are hurting not only Maharashtrians but all Indians. Now his excellency Governor of Maharashtra state talked indiscriminately about Chhatrapati Shiyaii Maharai. Shivaji is not the only idol of Maharashtra and is not only known as a hero of Maharashtra but known as a hero across the country. Koshyari has said that Shivaji was an icon of "older days" and referred to Baba saheb Ambedkar and Union minister Nitin Gadkari as new "icons " of the country. Earlier Koshyari invited ire over a remark about reformist icon Savitri Bai Phule and also said that Mumbai wouldn't be the country's financial capital if the Rajasthanis and Gujaratis communities were not in Mumbai. People in reputed positions should not talk loosely about the Great son of the soils. The person holding honourable positions should be cautious while speaking in public. The Governor of Maharashtra should understand that the ideals of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj never age and cannot be compared to any other great person in the world.

Another BJP leader Sudhanshu Trivedi has made a controversial statement that Shivaji has written five letters to Aurangazeb and apologized. BJP which is protesting Rahul Gandhi's controversial statements on Savarkar is maintaining a stoic silence on the comments made on Shivaji Maharaj by the Governor of Maharashtra and their parties spokesperson Sudhanshu Trivedi.BJP should spell out its stand on the comments made by his party men and the Governor of Maharashtra. ### A THRILLER OF A MATCH

Sir — It was a great thrill to watch the match between Argentina and Saudi Arabia in the FIFA World Cup tournament. Though Messi scored one goal within 10 minutes through a penalty and hoped to score many more, Saudi Arabia shattered his hopes by scoring two goals in less than ten minutes of the second half, much to the shock and disbelief of robust and unerring legislation to keep

The last 30 minutes of the game was fierce and terrific battle. Though Argentina strived hard and created many opportunities, it could not succeed, as the defence and goalkeeper of Saudi Arabia stood like a rock and effectively resisted every effort of the former. Nobody would have ever thought that Messi had to face such a crushing defeat, against Saudi Arabia, which is far behind in the FIFA ranking. While the game was a sumptuous feast for viewers all over the world, it will persist forever as a painful and shameful experience for Messi and his team, which remained unbeaten in the previous 36 matches.

Unlock potential of MSMEs with schemes-

The MSME sector does not need more laws and regulation but handholding and government support to play a vital role in nation building he importance of the MSME in the economic and social development of the country, especially for developing nations, has been established in various studies conducted by the international institutions. In India, the role of SME is proven by the fact that they contribute about 30 per cent of the GDP and 45 per cent of the total export. The MSME sector is the main source of providing employment opportunities in India about 12 crore people are employed, thus playing a significant role in promoting equitable and inclusive growth.

The government mission of promoting startup culture in the country also hinges on the growth and development of the MSME sector, thereby, encouraging innovation and creativity among the youth and budding entrepreneurs. Despite the role MSME plays in socio-economic development, this sector is unable to perform up to the immense potential and talent of Indian entrepreneurs.

The challenges faced by the sector have been discussed many times by the academicians and government, which include non-availability of adequate credit, regulatory issues, skill development technology upgradation and marketing the products, beside procurement of raw materials. Non-realization of dues /bills timely for goods and services provided from large firms has also been a matter of major concern for the sector.

Another serious challenge has been the non-availability of reliable data about the MSME. Though there are reported to be more than 70 million MSME in the country, the registration on the government portal has been only 11 million of them.

The government policy has been to make it voluntary for registration and despite the simplification of the process and online system designed, the registration of MSME is very less at 15 per cent. Existing approach may need to be revisited to ensure every MSME register, which is the basis on which any support or policy initiative can be designed and made effective for addressing the sector's challenges.

Fortunately, the government initiative for labor registration through the Ministry of Labour and farmer registration by the Ministry of agriculture has been quite successful. More than 90 million farmers registered after the announcement of the PM Kisan Samman Nidhi Yojna. These are all E-KYC authenticated and land details verified through land registration database.

Farmers' data is now very useful for the government to address some of their concerns. Even the Kisan Credit card scheme has a database of more than 50 million farmers. Thus, an appropriate incentive scheme, benefitting each one, can help and support the government in developing a reliable data base of the MSME sector. The other example is that of labour registration. The Ministry of

The registration exercise was taken THE NETWORK OF as a mission and every agency of the government provided the FIVE LAKH desired support. The incentive of Rs 20 provided by the Ministry to the CSCs for SERVICE CENTER every registration played a significant role in this. Thus, the MSME WHO SUPPORTED Ministry needs to organize the reg-

Beside every MSME shall be provided an MSME card like the Kisan credit card with three years cash credit limit (this will also help in addressing the liquidity issues). A digital identity for each MSME with a free domain name and a website can be other incentives.

The pension scheme designed for the MSME needs to be revisited and the limit of pension be enhanced to Rs 10,000 from the existing Rs 3000 (the existing scheme has been a non-starter for package and mission mode approach, all the MSME in the country can be registered on the Udyam Portal and sectoral intervention by the various Central Ministries and state governments can be designed and implemented effectively, more transparently and within a defined time frame. Once there is an API for account, PAN and e-KYC, a reliable database for the MSME in the country can be developed and made the stepping stone for sustainable growth and exploitation of sectors full potential in nation building.

With such a comprehensive

The issues faced by the MSME are quite similar to the ones faced by farmers. The MSME contribution to the nation's GDP is also significant. The MSME provides employment to a large section of the population and addresses the unemployment issues. The criticality of MSME in nation development can in no way be underestimated as compared to agriculture. Why is the requirement of MSME not supported as comprehensively as in the case of the farmers? One reason is that the collective bargaining power of MSME is not as strong as that of the farmers due to diversity in the activity and spread. The trader's organization CAIT needs to play a more effective role in enabling the sector to get government support.

There is a need to appreciate the role being played by the MSME in the country and reexamine the policy intervention. The approach to resolve the issue of untimely or nonpayment of dues of the MSME units by large companies or govern-ment agencies by enforcing the provisions of "the interest on delayed payment to small scale and ancillary industrial undertakings Act 1998' has not been much relevant in Indian Context. Similar provision has been made in the MSMED Act 2006. Even the requirement to mention the outstanding of the MSME in the annual account of the companies has not been able to solve the liquidity issues of the MSME.

There is a need to relook at the Factoring Act and free the sector from regulations which are hindering the growth and evolution of this intermediary who can to a great extent address the issues of liquidity of the MSME sector. There is a need to relook at the stamp duty provision for assignment of the debt. Making factors more flexible and incentivising them may be desirable as they can be an effective tool to enable to a large extent meet the liquidity concern of the MSME. Even the approach of including lending to MSME under priority sector and fix limit has very limited impact in resolving the issues of credit access to this sector.

The MSME sector does not need more laws and regulation but handholding and support in India. The inherent ability and talent of Indians to set up and build sustainable enterprises is widely recognized. Regulation should not impinge on innovation, flexibility and capability of this vast pool of resources, who are mainly youth, especially in small and medium towns and rural India. With digital India Initiatives, the approach to the MSME sector needs to redefine both at the Central and state level sectors, during the period between December 1, 2022, and November 30, 2023, from Jammu and Kashmir.

The diplomatic effort could be unique to exemplify India's concern for global issues where G20 definitely occupies a significant position for controlling the major part of the globe's wealth, resources and the clout in the course of economic and other actions. For Modi, it will be significant to establish brand India for which he has already decided on a lotus G20 logo. Could it be a revival of an era where Gamal Abdel Nasser, former Egyptian President, Marshal Tito, former Yogoslav president, and Jawaharlal minister, enjoyed a pivotal role in world politics?

The first spark was seen as Modi spoke in Bali, Indonesia, for a ceasefire in the Russia-Ukraine War in what is clearly an act of diplomatic grandstanding. Two months ago, Modi met Russian President Vladimir Putin and said something about this not being an "age of war" in what might be seen by some as an act of belling the cat. Has that set space for a possible Indian role?

The US has just at the nick of the G20 summit accepted India's right to access Russian oil. Is that a grand stand or just routine? The enthusiasm of the Indian diaspora is exhilarating. Heading a multilateral Nehru, first Indian prime organisation even for a for a country that has been in the forefront of many diplomatic activities, including during the pandemic.

Still Indian ceremonial ascendency at G20 has not made big news. Instead, the international media concentrated on the three-hour meeting of US President Joe Biden and Chinese President Xi Jinping to hash out some of the thorniest issues in their relationship, including tensions over Taiwan, the economy and return to climate negotiations. Biden and Xi made cautious promises to improve the relationship that is at its most acrid point in decades and he pledged his envoy to visit China soon. That has not taken away India, it is a new responsibil-period of one year means a lot the thunder out of Modi's move but it must have made him rethink that the media reach of India needs a lot to do and remains as vantage as that of Indira Gandhi, who despite her NAM-Pool move could not do much to widen the Indian news coverage beyond a point. These well could be the guiding mantras for Modi as he leads India's presidency in the club of elite

The next 200 G20 events in India would need a better glare to establish internationally an effort that the country would be making not only for itself but for a possible effort to mark Indian stamp on the global scenario. G20 Presidency is not merely a diplomatic meeting for ity and a measure of the world's trust in India. It needs a news system that can penetrate and make a mark. The minister for external affairs S Jaishankar would have to walk that extra mile.

That apart, Prime Minister Modi knows how to utilise an elite forum to give the best impressions. He has decided to widen the Indian ambit. India with G20 presidency will be inviting Bangladesh, Egypt, Mauritius, Netherlands, Nigeria, Oman, Singapore, Spain and the UAE as guest countries, as well as International Solar Alliance, Coalition for Disaster Infrastructure, and Asian Development Bank as guest international organisations. It will be a new dimension for the G20, which otherwise

keeps to a restricted norm. The Finance Ministry has allocated Rs 100 crore for hosting the G20, which will have a grand summit in September 2023. It will be spent on the meets, summit and security arrangements for the world dignitaries. The 200 meetings would be held across the country, starting from Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh, a sharp move for pronouncing that a ticklish problem has been solved.

Whatever, it will be an eventful 2023, which will be occupied with critical international functions as also prepare for eight state assembly elections. It will be a rich and action-packed prelude to India's 2024 general Lok Sabha elections.

Power outages in Ukrainian cities, Moldova after new strikes

punishing new barrage of Russian strikes on LUkrainian infrastructure on Wednesday caused power outages across large parts of the country as well as neighbouring Moldova, adding to damage to Ukraine's power network and misery for civilians as winter

Multiple regions reported attacks in quick succession. In several regions, authorities reported strikes on critical infrastructure. Officials in Kyiv said that three people were dead and nine wounded in the capital after a Russian strike hit a two-story building.

Russia has been pounding the power grid and other facilities with missiles and exploding drones for weeks. The new strikes piled further intense stress on an energy system that is being damaged faster than it can be repaired.

Before the latest barrage, President Volodymyr Zelenskyy had said that Russian strikes had already damaged around half of Ukraine's infrastructure.

Rolling power outages have become the horrid new normal for millions and the latest barrage affected water supplies,

Ukrainian officials believe Russian President Vladimir Putin is hoping that the misery of unheated and unlit homes in the cold and dark of winter will turn public opinion against a continuation of the war but say it's having the opposite effect, strengthening Ukrainian resolve. # Pope links plight of Ukrainians today to Stalin's 'genocide'

AP ■ VATICAN CITY

Pope Francis on Wednesday linked the suffering of Ukrainians now to the 1930s "genocide artificially caused by Stalin," when the Soviet leader was blamed for creating a manmade famine in the country believed to have killed more than 3 million people. Francis' linking of the plight of Ukrainian civilians today to those killed by starvation 90 years ago, and his willingness to call it a "genocide" and squarely blame Josef Stalin, marked a sharp escalation in papal rhetoric against Russia.

As of this year, only 17 countries have officially recognised the famine, known as the Holodomor, according to the Holodomor Museum in Kyiv.

In comments at the end of his weekly Wednesday general audience, Francis renewed calls for prayers for the "terrible suffering for the dear and martyred Ukrainian people."

He recalled that Saturday marks the 90th anniversary of the start of the famine, which Ukraine commemorates every fourth Saturday of November with a Day of Memory.

"Saturday begins the anniversary of the terrible genocide of the Holodomor, the extermination by starvation artificially caused by Stalin between 1932-1933," Francis said. "Let us pray for the victims of this genocide and let us pray for so many Ukrainians — children, women, elderly, babies — who today are suffering the martyrdom of aggression.

Academic opinion remains divided about whether the famine constitutes a "genocide," with the main question being whether Stalin intentionally wanted to kill Ukrainians as an attempt to quash an independence movement against the Soviet Union, or whether the famine was primarily the result of official incompetence along with natural conditions. Regardless, the "great famine" seeded lingering Ukrainian bit-terness toward Soviet Russian rule. The Vatican, in its 2004 Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church, lists Ukrainians along with Armenians and Jews as victims of 20th century genocides and said "Attempts to eliminate entire national, ethnic, religious or linguistic groups are crimes against God and humanity itself, and those responsible for such crimes must answer for them before jus-

Francis has repeatedly called for peace and an end to the war, has sent humanitarian aid to Ukraine and has called incessantly for prayers for the "martyred" Ukrainian people.

But he has generally declined to assign blame or even name Russia or President Vladimir Putin, and has repeated the Kremlin's complaints that NATO was "barking at its door' in its eastern expansion.

The Vatican has a tradition of not calling out aggressors, believing that behind-the-scenes diplomacy is more effective than public denunciation. The Holy See is also eager to maintain relations with the Russian Orthodox Church, which has strongly backed the Kremlin in the war.

According to the Holomodor Museum, 16 states in addition to Ukraine have recognized the famine as genocide: Australia, Ecuador, Estonia, Canada, Colombia, Georgia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, Poland, Portugal, the United States and

UK adds artillery rounds, helicopters to military aid to Ukraine

PTI ■ LONDON

An additional 10,000 artillery rounds will be provided by the UK to Ukraine in its conflict with Ben Wallace announced on Wednesday on a visit to

The UK government said the additional rounds will enhance Ukraine's defensive capability and come as the first delivery of Sea King helicopters arrives in Ukraine to provide key search and rescue capabilities. It follows Britain's Royal Navy providing a sixweek programme of Sea King training in the UK for 10 crews of the Armed Forces of Ukraine and associated engi-

"Our support for Ukraine is unwavering. These additional artillery rounds will help Ukraine to secure the land it has reclaimed from Russia in recent weeks," said

The additional military aid comes after British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak visited Kyiv at the weekend, where he announced a GBP 50 million package of defence aid.

That package included 125 anti-aircraft guns and technology to counter deadly Iranian-supplied drones, including dozens of radars and anti-drone electronic warfare capability.

Wallace is visiting Norway for a meeting of the Northern Group of defence ministers onboard the UK's aircraft carrier HMS Queen Elizabeth.

front of hundreds of spectators in a provincial sports stadium on Wednesday, signalling the religious extremist group's resumption of a brutal form of punishrule in the 1990s The office of the governor of Logar province, south of the capital of Kabul, invited "honourable scholars, mujahideen, elders, tribal leaders and local people" to the stadium in the town of Pul Alam in Logar. The invitations for the 9 am event were extended via social media.

Those being punished received between 21 and 39 lashes each, after being convicted in a local court of theft and adultery, said an official in the governor's office who spoke on condition of anonymity because he was not allowed to share details with the media.

The official said hundreds of people attended the lashings and that a ban was imposed on taking photos and video.

Such public lashings, as well as public executions and stonings for purported crimes, were common during the first period of Taliban rule, from 1996 until 2001 when the militants were driven out in a US-led invasion.

After a 20-year insurgency, the Taliban returned to power in August 2021, coinciding with the withdrawal of US and other foreign troops from the country.

In the immediate aftermath of their second takeover of the country, the Taliban promised to be more moderate and allow for women's and minority rights. Instead, they have restricted rights and freedoms, including a ban on girl's education beyond the sixth grade. The first confirmed public lashing since last year's Taliban takeover took place November 11, when 19 men and women received 39 lashes each for alleged theft, adultery and running away from

The resumption of the practice underscored the Taliban's intention of sticking to their strict interpretation of Islamic law, or Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan said on Wednesday he would carry out a land invasion into Kurdish areas in northern Syria. Turkey has launched a bar-

The attack at the Walmart came three days after a person opened fire at a gay nightclub in Colorado, killing five people and wounding 17. Earlier in the year, the country was shaken by the deaths of 21 when a gunman stormed an elementary school in Uvalde, Texas.

Kosinski said he couldn't say how the shooter died but that he didn't believe police fired shots.

The shooting had apparently stopped when police arrived at the store in Chesapeake, which is Virginia's second-largest city and lies next to the seaside communities of Norfolk and Virginia Beach.

Mike Kafka, a spokesman for Sentara Healthcare, said in a text message that five patients from the Walmart were being treated at Norfolk General Hospital. Their conditions weren't immediately available.

Walmart tweeted early Wednesday that it was "shocked at this tragic event."

US Sen. Mark Warner said in a tweet that he was "sickened by reports of yet another mass shooting, this time at a Walmart in Chesapeake."

State Sen. Louise Lucas echoed Warner's sentiment, tweeting that she was "absolutely heartbroken that America's latest mass shooting took place in a Walmart in my district.

UK top court rules against Scottish independence vote plan

AP ■ LONDON

The UK Supreme Court ruled on Wednesday that Scotland does not have the power to hold a new referendum on independence without the consent of the British government.

The judgment is a setback for the Scottish government's campaign to break away from the United Kingdom.

The top court ruled that the Scottish Parliament "does not have the power to legislate for a referendum on Scottish independence.'

Supreme Court President Robert Reed said the five justices were unanimous in the verdict, delivered six weeks after lawyers for the proindependence Scottish administration and the Conservative UK government argued their cases at hearings in London.

Scottish First Minister Nicola Sturgeon said she was disappointed but would 'respect" the judgment. But, she said on Twitter:

'A law that doesn't allow Scotland to choose our own future without Westminster consent exposes as myth any notion of the UK as a voluntary partnership and makes case for (independence)."

'Tax collection to exceed Budget estimate by ₹4L cr'

 $\mathbf{I}$ ndia's tax collection will exceed the budget estimate by nearly ₹4 lakh crore in the current fiscal on the back of buoyant income tax, customs duty and GST mop-up, Revenue Secretary Tarun Bajaj said on Wednesday.

In an interview to PTI, he said the growth in tax revenues will continue to be higher than the GDP growth, helped by formalisation of the economy and better compliance.

For this financial year ending March 2023, the tax collection target set in the Union Budget is around ₹27.50 lakh

Bajaj said the direct tax collection comprising personal and corporate taxes would be close to ₹17.50 lakh crore in the current fiscal. Mop up from indirect taxes (customs, excise and GST) would be close to ₹14

The total tax collection is expected to be about ₹31.50 lakh crore in 2022-23, he said. The Budget had pegged direct and indirect tax mop up at ₹14.20 lakh crore and ₹13.30

lakh crore for current fiscal, taking the total figure to ₹27.50

"We are using a lot of data. We have data from income tax and GST departments, and MCA (Ministry of Corporate Affairs). We are also getting data regarding high value expenditure. As part of the Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission, National Health Authority (NHA) has incorporated a Healthcare Professional Registry (HPR), a comprehensive repository of registered and verified practitioners of healthcare professionals, delivering modern as well as traditional healthcare services across India. This will enable digitisation and ease the process of buying and selling professional indemnity policies and push for HPR registration among healthcare professionals, said the circular.

Giroud equals Henry mark as World Cup holders France sink Australia

livier Giroud joined Thierry Henry as France's all-time lead-ing goalscorer with a brace as holders France recovered to beat Australia 4-1 and get their defence of the World Cup off to a winning start on

Australia took a shock lead at Al Janoub Stadium with the game just nine minutes old when Craig Goodwin

France, whose build-up to the tournament was marred by injuries, saw leftback Lucas Hernandez come off hurt in the move that led to that goal.

However, they recovered to equalise through Adrien Rabiot before Giroud put them ahead with an easy finish in the 32nd minute for his 50th international Kylian Mbappe got his name on the scoresheet in the second half and Giroud sealed the win to equal Henry's record tally of 51 goals for France.

The win leaves them top of Group D after rivals Denmark and Tunisia drew 0-0 in Doha earlier.

At the age of 36, veteran AC Milan striker Giroud, who has 115 caps, is the oldest player to score for France at a World Cup.

Yet he almost certainly would not have been playing here had Karim Benzema been fit.

Instead, the withdrawal of the Ballon d'Or winner with a thigh injury on the eve of the tournament has played into the hands of Giroud, who was a key player for coach Didier Deschamps in France's triumphant 2018 World Cup campaign but didn't score in Russia.

Germany lose against Japan

Another World Cup day, another World Cup shock. Substitutes Ritsu Doan and Takuma Asano scored late goals Wednesday to give Japan a come-from-behind 2-1 victory over Germany at the World Ćup. Both Doan and Asano play for German clubs.

Ilkay Gündogan had given four-time champion Germany the lead with a first-half penalty. But Doan, who plays for Freiburg, pounced on a rebound to equalize in the 76th minute after Germany goalkeeper Manuel Neuer blocked a shot from Takumi Minamino.

Then Asano, who plays for Bochum, sprinted clear of Nico Schlotterbeck and beat Neuer from a narrow angle in the 83rd minute of the first competitive meeting between the two nations.

The match was played a day after Argentina's 2-1 upset loss to Saudi Arabia.

Before Wednesday's game, Germany's players covered their mouths during the team photo in an apparent rebuke to FIFA following its decision to stop plans to wear armbands to protest discrimination in host nation Qatar.

Nancy Faeser, Germany's sports minister, attended the match at the Khalifa International Stadium and was sitting beside FIFA president Gianni Infantino while wearing the same "One Love" armband that FIFA had outlawed with its threats of consequences.

for much of the match with 24 attempts on goal compared to Japan's 11. Despite giving away the penalty, Japan goalkeeper Shuichi Gonda made a string of saves.

Germany next faces Spain on Sunday, while Japan takes on Costa Rica.

Germany's buildup was fraught by protests and political statements because of Qatar's human rights record and its treatment of migrant workers and members of the LGBTQ community. Germany was playing at the World Cup for the first time since its shocking groupstage exit as defending champion in 2018, while Japan is appearing in its seventh straight World Cup and is looking to reach the quarterfinals for the first time.

 $M_{ ext{0-0}}^{ ext{orocco}}$  held Croatia to a  $M_{ ext{0-0}}^{ ext{orocco}}$  draw in their opening game of the World Cup on Wednesday, producing a spirited display against the 2018 runners-up led by Luka Modric. Backed by Qatar's large Moroccan community at the Al Bayt Stadium, the Atlas Lions followed up north African rivals Tunisia's strong performance against dark horses Denmark a day earlier to frustrate Croatia.

Coach Zlatko Dalic had urged Croatia to exercise caution following Saudi Arabia's shock win over Argentina, a result Morocco captain Romain Saiss said had "opened the door" for the tournament's less-fancied

Morocco took the game to a Croatia side featuring four players who started the 2018 final but struggled to create genuine chances against a defence marshalled by the experienced Dejan Lovren.

Azzedine Ounahi strangely opted against shooting when well placed inside the Achraf Hakimi heavily involved down the right without exerting undue pressure on Croatia. Ivan Perisic fired just over from distance for Croatia after intercepting a dreadful pass from Selim Amallah, while goalkeeper Yassine Bounou blocked well with his legs to deny Nikola Vlasic from close range.

Modric, the former Ballon d'Or winner appearing at his fourth World Cup at the age of 37, then hammered over from the edge of the box.

Only once have Morocco gone beyond the group stage, in 1986, but they will rate their chances of advancing with games to come against an ageing Belgium team and Group F outsiders Canada. Croatia pushed for a late winner but found Morocco's defence in unforgiving mood as Walid Regragui's side secured a valuable and deserved point.

Ronaldo Man Utd partnership a dream, but nothing lasts - Bruno Fernandes thinks that Portugal will not be

The striker parted ways with the Premier League club by mutual consent on Tuesday and is searching for a new club, with Portugal due to kick off against Ghana on Thursday.

Along with Ronaldo's departure, Manchester United also issued a bulletin saying the club could be sold by owners the Glazer family.

Ronaldo, 37, had spoken in a controversial interview last week, where he lashed out at coach Erik ten Hag and the club itself, provoking his eventual departure. "I don't feel uncomfortable,

I don't have to pick a side. It was a dream come true to play with Cristiano at United but nothing lasts forever," Fernandes told a press conference on Wednesday.

Pep Guardiola said "I cannot be in a bottor". be in a better place" as he announced he had agreed a two-year contract extension that will keep him at the Premier League champions until 2025.

The former Barcelona and Bayern Munich manager, 51, has won nine major trophies, including four Premier League titles, since taking charge at City in "I am so pleased to be staying at Manchester City for another two years," said Guardiola in a club statement issued on Wednesday. "I can't say thank you enough to everyone at the club for trusting me. I am happy and comfortable, and I have everything I need to do my job as best as possible."

The Spaniard added: "I know the next chapter of this club will be amazing for the next decade. It happened over the last 10 years, and it will happen in the next 10 years because this club is so stable. "From day one I felt something special being here. I canbe in a better place."

On a tumultuous day for the English giants, it was ear-lier revealed that star player Cristiano Ronaldo has left the club with "immediate effect." Weeks of turbulence appeared to have come to an end when United announced Ronaldo's contract had been terminated by mutual agreement to bring to an end his second spell at Old Trafford.

That dramatic announcement was eclipsed just hours later by the news the US-based Glazer family could also be on their way out.

"The board will consider all including new investment into the club, a sale, or other transactions involving the company," United said in a statement. The Glazers have been unpopular with supporters ever since a £790 million ($934 million) leveraged takeover in 2005 burdened the club with huge debts. Frustration towards the Americans has only grown during a nineyear decline in results on the pitch since Alex Ferguson's retirement as manager in 2013.

The Red Devils have not won the Premier League title since Ferguson's final campaign in 2012/2013 and have failed to win any trophy since United currently sit fifth in the Premier League, 11 points behind leaders Arsenal.

'We will evaluate all options to ensure that we best Manchester United maximizes the significant growth opportunities available to the club today and in the future," added Avram and Joel Glazer, the club's executive co-chairmen and directors. The statement also recognised the need for investment in stadium redevelopment. Old Trafford remains the largest club stadium in England with a capacity of 74,000 but has not had a sig-nificant upgrade since 2006. News of the Glazers inviting investment comes just weeks after Liverpool's American owners, the Fenway Sports Group, indicated they were willing to sell.

Both United and Liverpool were involved in the failed European Super League (ESL) project that sought to create a US-style closed league format for Europe's elite clubs without the need to qualify or promotion and relegation.

I'VE MATURED AS LEADER, CAN TAKE TOUGH DECISIONS: DHAWAN

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

ithering and indecision is a thing of past for Shikhar Dhawan, who as the leader of the pack does not hesitate in taking decisions which individuals may despise but are beneficial for the Indian

The left-handed batter is getting ready to lead India in the three-match ODI series against New Zealand, starting

It won't be the first time that Dhawan will wear the captain's hat as he has led a second-string Indian team in the past and enjoyed good results against Sri Lanka (2-1), South Africa (2-1) and West Indies

The Delhi batter says his decision-making has improved over time, courtesy his presence of mind.

"As you play more, you get confident in the decisions you take. Earlier, there used to be instances where I would give an extra over to a bowler out of regard (for him). But now, as I have matured, even if someone is feeling bad, I will take a decision that will help the team," Dhawan told ESPNCricinfo.

Further talking about leadership skills, Dhawan said the key is to maintain balance and earn the players' faith. He is hardly seen feeling any pressure and keep the environment around him happy.

"When you play music on a string instrument, if the string is too loose, it won't sound right, or if it's too tight, it will break. So it is a question of creating a balance. (As a captain) creating that balance is very important.

You need to understand when to pull the string tight and when to leave it a bit loose. That is an art. It is a matter of timing. At this stage I also understand when to say things to the players and how much to

"If a bowler gets hit, it's important to know when to speak to him. I will not do it when they are hot in the head, but instead approach them later and speak with care. It also depends on the level you are

"If it is at the IPL, most players are mature, so you need to consider if you have to pull the string or not. At Ranji, you have to, at times, show firmness, because a youngster at that level is like a kaccha ghada (an unbaked clay pot), so you have to be firm to mould him. Finding that balance is the key," he explained his philoso-

The 36-year-old was recently handed the captaincy of IPL side Punjab Kings, which has been struggling to reach the play-offs.

In season 2018, 2019, 2020 and 2022 the side came close to making the play-offs but fell short of one or two wins.

"We can learn from our past and improve on our mistakes. Other than that, I won't dwell much on anything else and neither will I want my team to do that. There is no need of dragging back the past baghe insisted.

So how does he plan to make a difference there?

"I will make sure that the support staff and I create an environment where the players are comfortable. I want my boys to be themselves while also understanding their responsibilities. I want us to be relaxed but also focused.

"We are playing the IPL.

We are living our dream. And when you are living your dream, it should be full of happiness and not stress. With love you can conquer anything. The (IPL) trophy is not a challenge too far out of our reach," he And he feels he can be that India batter Suryakumar Yadav retained his top spot while all-rounder Hardik Pandya reached joint-50th position in the latest ICC men's T20I batting rankings released here on Wednesday.

Suryakumar consolidated his position at the top of the rankings after his stupendous 111 not out in the second T20I against New Zealand.

Suryakumar has gained 31 rating points from the series and his 890 points keep him 54 ahead of Pakistan's Mohammed Rizwan, who is placed second.

On the other hand, Hardik, who led India in the series against New Zealand, reached joint-50th among batters courtesy his unbeaten 30 in the final match.

Arshdeep says tricks of trade he learnt from Bhuvi is helping him

PTI NAPIER

Young India left-arm pacer Arshdeep Singh says the tricks of trade he has learnt from senior pros like Bhuvneshwar Kumar has helped him add variety in his bowling.

Arshdeep (4/37) registered careerbest T20I figures on Tuesday against New Zealand in the rain-affected third match of the series, which ended in a rare tie via Duckworth-Lewis

"I always try to learn from the senior bowlers in the team (on knuckle ball), just like I am learning the hard length from you and the knuckle ball from Bhuvi bhai (Bhuvneshwar Kumar) and yorkers from (Mohammed) Shami bhai," Arshdeep said in an interaction with Siraj on

"I always try to improve myself everyday and contribute for the team whenever needed and hope to step up and perform well.'

Arshdeep was on the verge of taking a hat-trick towards the close of

New Zealand innings, removing Daryl Mithcell and Ish Sodhi in the first two deliveries of the 19th over, but failed to achieve the feat in the end. New Zealand lost Adam Milne in the next ball but it was from a direct hit from Siraj from backward point.

"I even had a thought that I can take a hat-trick or a five-wicket haul. But you did make a run-out and gave a team hat-trick. The seniors advised me to bowl length and slower balls to deceive the opponent," Arshdeep

Siraj, who also registered career-best figures of 4/17 in Tuesday's match, said his plan to bowl hard lengths paid rich dividends for him.

"It feels great to perform like this for the country. I have been preparing myself for a long time to bowl hard length. It was not easy to bowl hard length here. My simple plan was to play hard length," Siraj said.

"Representing India is a different feeling altogether. My target in T20s is to pick up wickets but I always try to give less runs."
